TWO OPINIONS EXPRESSED IN SAN ANTONIO

City Bacteriologist Campbell Says There Is No Fever

EXPERTS DECLARE DISEASE IS PRESENT

Analysis to Determine Which Is Right Is Now in Progress

NO NEW CASES ARE REPORTED TODAY

Total Number of Cases Since the Outbreak Is Eight With Three Deaths—Two Mail Clerks Contract Disease

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Oct. 23.—(Special.)—Experts report that there are four cases of yellow fever here. No deaths were reported today. The Daily Light maintains there is no yellow fever in the city, basing this claim on the authority of Dr. Campbell, city bacteriologist. An expert analysis is now in progress and this will determine the matter absolutely.

Four new cases were reported last night, making a total of eight, with three deaths. The new cases reported are those of Charles Durham, J. H. Palm, E. C. Engleking and Mrs. Bowsky. Durham is seriously ill. Mrs. Bowsky's case is not serious and Palm and Engleking are both recovering. Both of the latter are mail clerks and were on the Laredo run before they became ill. The statement that Miss Harrison of Columbus was ill with the disease at St. Mary's is an error. The patient is one of the teachers at that institution.

The citizens have largely gotten over the excitement which at first prevailed, and all are devoting their energies to preventing a spread of the disease and to wards improving the sanitary conditions of the city.

Southern Pacific trains now run through the city without stopping.

LAREDO IMPROVING LAREDO, Texas, Oct. 23.—Only twelve new cases were reported here yesterday, with one death. The conditions are now improving rapidly and it is believed the disease will be soon stamped out.

GALVESTON'S PRECAUTIONS GALVESTON, Texas, Oct. 23.—Galveston has established a quarantine against San Antonio. Preparations to put off all standing water within the city limits have been made and this precaution will be at once observed.

LONGVIEW QUARANTINES LONGVIEW, Texas, Oct. 23.—A quarantine against San Antonio has been established here. Two men sent here to work in place of Pacific express strikers, were sent south last night.

WACO TAKES ACTION WACO, Texas, Oct. 23.—At yesterday afternoon's meeting of the board of health, mentioned in The Telegram last night, it was decided to establish a strict quarantine against San Antonio.

SHREVEPORT FRIGHTENED SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 23.—A quarantine was placed yesterday against all passengers and baggage arriving from San Antonio and other points west of that place.

GEORGETOWN QUARANTINES GEORGETOWN, Tex., Oct. 23.—County Judge Wilcox and County Health Physician Thomas went to Redrock today at noon and declared quarantine against San Antonio, Laredo and all yellow fever infected points, and placed guards on all trains on the International and Great Northern, the Katy and the Houston and Texas Central railroads. No passengers from these points can enter Williamson.

PLOT TO KILL A RUSSIAN CONSUL

(By Associated Press.) CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 23.—In consequence of the discovery of a military plot to kill M. Boleflet, the Russian consul at Izkub, the government has rushed six battalions of troops thither from Koprulu and Perlepe.

Though the death of her husband, King Umberto, at the hands of a cowardly assassin, almost crushed her, Queen Margharita of Italy shows few traces of her great sorrow. She is now, as always, one of Italy's most beautiful women, and her friends say she has a heart of gold. Since she became a widow she spends considerable time with her aged mother, the Dowager Duchess of Genoa, who is shown sitting in the picture, while the Queen is standing. The picture was taken only a few weeks ago.

FIREMAN FILES A SUIT FOR DAMAGES

Driver of Austin Hose Wagon Wants $40,000 for Alleged Injuries Received While Hurrying to a Fire

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 23.—(Special.)—Jesse R. Wilson of this place has filed suit in the district court of Travis county against the Austin Dam and Suburban Railroad company for $40,000. Plaintiff alleges that he is the driver of Washington hose company, and in responding to a fire alarm he drove his wagon into an excavation made by the company and was hurled with so much force against the dash-board that he received injuries from which he is permanently disabled.

GALVESTON RICE RATES GALVESTON, Texas, Oct. 23.—(Special.)—In response to an application made by the Galveston Chamber of Commerce, presented by its secretary, J. H. Johnson, and other interested parties, the railroad commission has ordered that the circular

PLAN TO COLLECT THE STATISTICS OF TEXAS

It will be recalled that at the last meeting of the Texas Real Estate and Industrial Association held at Houston, September 17 and 18, at which there was a large attendance of the most influential real estate men of Texas, a resolution was passed providing for the advertising of Texas at the St. Louis World's Fair. State Secretary A. N. Evans of Fort Worth, who was appointed a committee of one to attend to the matter, has permitted no grass to grow under his feet and has finally perfected plans for a most comprehensive statistical history of Texas.

The final compilation and editing will be superintended by Talbot O. Bateman of this city, and the short time in which the work is to be completed will compel strenuous effort on the part of the district committees, and the fact that the most influential members of the Texas Real Estate and Industrial Association are pushing the enterprise, will insure a publication which will be of inestimable value in advertising the great state of Texas at the St. Louis World's Fair. It is estimated that the edition will run into hundreds of thousands of copies. In addition to the statistical history a correct history of Texas as a republic and a state will be published. For the investor and intended settler, and the Texas man desiring information about his state, the book will be of great value. The real estate association has undertaken a great work, one that will have its beneficial results. The literature to be distributed at St. Louis during the great exposition will be out of the ordinary and will cost the association several thousand dollars. The association will also send men to St. Louis to see that the literature is properly and judiciously distributed. It is understood that the names proposed to prepare the literature that is to be used will be secured by an assessment on each member of the association. Secretary Evans has been a warm and hearty supporter of the scheme adopted to advertise Texas at the World's Fair and has done much to bring about the matter. He will extend all the necessary assistance to the committees in the different districts and will also aid Chief Compiler Bateman in the preparation of the work.

TWO ARE NEARLY KILLED BY THE STREET CARS

Interurban Coach Hits Water Wagon, Seriously Injures the Driver and Kills One Horse—Deaf Man Is Hurt by Glenwood Car

At 7 o'clock last night and 8:30 this morning street car accidents took place in Fort Worth which nearly resulted in the deaths of two men. J. C. White was hit by a Glenwood car and seriously injured. Thomas N. Fuller's water wagon was struck this morning by an interurban car. One horse was killed and Fuller was knocked from his seat and seriously injured.

Interurban car No. 8, Motorman Mooring and Conductor Douglas, struck a water wagon driven by Thomas N. Fuller, at Front and Boaz streets, this morning at 8:30 o'clock. The shock of the impact hurled Fuller from his seat and he fell beneath the front wheels of his wagon, one wheel striking him in the abdomen but failing to pass completely over. He was able to extricate himself but had to be assisted to the sidewalk.

One horse was struck on the haunches with such force that it was knocked a considerable distance. It carried the tongue of the wagon with it, the twisted iron sheets by which the tongue was attached to the wagon, showing the terrific force with which the horse was hit. The horse's back was split and it died in a few minutes—even before an officer could arrive to put it out of its misery. The off horse also was injured, but not seriously. The car ran on some distance before the motorman was able to bring it to a standstill.

Both motorman and conductor hurried back to ascertain the amount of damage done and the conductor assisted by Richard Jones, a negro who witnessed the accident, helped Fuller to reach a fruit and notion stand nearby which is conducted by Mrs. J. F. Morris. The man's right leg was lacerated to the bone and his left arm was dislocated. He was bleeding at the mouth and it was thought that he sustained internal injuries, but after an examination by Dr. R. E. L. Miller it was announced that in all probability the man escaped the rupture of any blood vessels, although his body is considerably bruised. Fuller resides at 314 East Seventeenth street, only a few blocks from the scene of the accident, and he was removed to his home.

INJURED MAN'S ACCOUNT When seen there by a Telegram reporter he was resting easy. "I didn't hear either whistle or bell and had no idea there was a car near. I turned into Front street off of a road about seventy-five feet east of where I intended to cross the tracks and there was no car in sight then. I drove west on the north side of the tracks and then started to turn my team across the tracks. As I did so there was a crash and I went into the air. If the motorman had sounded the gong or whistle when approaching the crossing I am sure I would have heard the warning. That is about all I know in regard to the accident."

Richard Jones, a negro, was sitting in front of a saloon at the corner of Boaz and Front streets when the accident took place. "The car came down the hill going fully twenty-five miles an hour," he said. "The motorman evidently did not expect Fuller to turn across the track and I don't think he tapped his gong until he saw the gray horse—the one that was killed—swing around to cross. Then he rang his gong. But it was too late, the car was going at terrific speed. When I got to the wagon the car had gone on up the track some distance and Fuller was wriggling from under the left front wheel of his wagon. I helped him to the sidewalk and later on helped him to Mrs. Morris' home."

HEARD THE WHISTLE Mrs. Morris did not witness the accident but heard the whistle of the coming car. "It must have been about two blocks east of here," she said, "when I heard the whistle. The cars go by here at high speed and I saw Mr. Fuller wave by on his wagon and a moment later I saw the interurban car pass. It was going like an express train. It seemed hardly a second after the car passed my door when I heard a crash and knew that it had run into something. I ran to the door. The white horse was lying in a heap and the man, Mr. Fuller, was under the wagon. I didn't hear either gong or whistle except the one time I mentioned when the car must have been several blocks away."

William Capps, attorney for the traction company, said that he tapped his gong repeatedly in descending the hill. He saw the wagon driving west in the same direction in which he was going. Just before he got to the scene of the accident he saw the white horse across the tracks and then it was too late to avoid the accident.

"Now the law requires drivers to look both ways along a railroad track before attempting to cross. An examination of the wagon shows that the team must have been turned across the track just as the car came along because the car went partly past the wagon, indeed, passed the hubs of both wheels and struck the front wheel after passing the hub. As for the motorman not using the whistle, I wish to say this: I don't know yet whether he whistled on this occasion or not but the people are complaining that the whistle frightens their horses and therefore when the cars are in the city we depend more on the gong than on the whistle, in giving warnings to vehicle drivers."

An examination of the wagon shows that the car struck the front left wheel after passing the hub. From the way the tongue of the wagon was torn from its iron fastenings it is evident that the car was traveling at high speed.

AN ACCIDENT LAST NIGHT At 7:30 o'clock last night J. C. White, an aged man, who was hard of hearing, was struck by a Glenwood car at the point where the car turns near the Glenwood drug store.

A man named Flanagan, an eye witness to the affair, tells the story as follows: He was standing near the Glenwood drug store and saw the car approaching. Mr. White was ahead of the car, but could not be seen until the headlights flashed upon him. The motorman was driving the car at the ordinary speed around curves, and seeing the man ahead of him, rung his gong and called out to the man ahead of him. The car struck him and dragged him a short distance. He was badly injured and was carried to his home near by. Mr. Flanagan was positive that the headlight on the car was burning, that the motorman rung his gong, and that he cried to him.

The injuries to Mr. White may be very serious. He was run down on the track, the cause being that he was unable to hear the alarm that was sounded for him.

The car was being operated by George Geigow, a motorman who has been in the employ of the company for a long time. He is the son-in-law of the mayor of Arlington.

Mr. Flanagan says the car was not proceeding fast, and that no signal to stop was made by persons in the vicinity. A car was just ahead of it, and several stopped the first car and got aboard.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon Mr. White was in a precarious condition. He had not regained consciousness. His relatives have been notified that his condition is serious and out-of-town members of the family have been advised to come to his bedside.

HEARST PARTY AT ARDMORE

Four Thousand People Hear Speakers With the Excursion

ARDMORE, I. T., Oct. 23.—(Special.)—The Hearst party arrived here yesterday afternoon, as stated in The Telegram, at 2 o'clock and was met at the depot by about 4,000 people.

The guests were taken in carriages up Main street, led by the First regimental band, the First regiment of infantry of the Indian Territory, acting as military escort.

The weather was fine, the streets were crowded with people, hundreds of cotton wagons and other vehicles loaded with country produce were on the streets, and the spectacle was an attractive one.

No American girl has reached as high a position in the world as Lady Curzon of Kedleston, who was Miss Leiter of Chicago. As Vicerine of India she sat at her husband's side when Lord Curzon received the oath of allegiance of all the princes of India at the great Durbar, the most magnificent display of modern times. Lord Curzon has made a splendid Viceroy, but his popularity has been considerably increased by the tact and winning manners of his American wife, who is shortly expected to visit this country. The accompanying picture is her favorite one, which has so far only been owned by her most intimate friends.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 23.—The financial atmosphere of Pittsburgh seems to have been cleared and no further bank troubles are looked for. The official announcement by the Clearing House association that $2,500,000 has been raised, and that the fund would be increased to three millions to meet whatever emergency may arise, had the effect to allay all uncertainty. Government experts at work on the books of the two banks which suspended declare they have so far found

STEWART SAYS HE HAS NOT DECIDED

Tarrant County Representative Is in the City Today

Hon. Clarence Stewart, representative from this county to the legislature, is in the city today from his Grapevine home—not to see the circus, but to look after the sale of a bunch of mules. Mr. Stewart was asked by The Telegram if he would be a candidate for re-election to the legislature. He replied that he had not as yet made up his mind regarding it, but will do so in a short time.

"In case you decide to run again, what platform will you make the race upon?" was The Telegram's query.

"Of course I'll have to have a platform, if I enter the race," said Mr. Stewart.

LAND OFFICE IS ASKED TO HELP FIGHT SCABIES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The co-operation of the interior department and the land office has been requested by the bureau of animal industry in connection with the work of that bureau in the inspection of sheep and cattle for scabies, when these animals are held within or grazed upon lands belonging to the Indian agency reservations or upon allotted tribal lands. A circular letter will be issued for the instruction of all concerned.

The order requires that all agents or officers of the Indian service must submit cattle belonging to the government for the benefit of a tribe or to individual Indians, for inspection at all times when called upon by the inspectors of the bureau of animal industry.

Flocks and herds grazing on allotted or tribal lands under permits and approved leases must be submitted to inspection at such times as the inspectors see necessary. If found diseased the owner will be required to dip them, if so directed, or carry out such instructions as may be given by the inspectors so as to prevent the spread of the disease.

In case of any opposition, the offending parties shall suffer cancellation of their unexpired terms of their lease, or permit the forfeiture of their lease immediately and the removal of their cattle from the precincts of the Indian service control. All cattle entering upon a reservation shall be subjected to an inspection, if practicable, or as soon as possible thereafter.

It is believed at the interior department that with the hearty co-operation of the cattle owners the eradication of the disease will be materially hastened.

VICTIM IS MUCH ALIVE But It Has No Effect on the Murder Trial

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 23.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Knoxville, Tenn., says: For a third time Silas Hulin, the supposed victim of a murder, was "resurrected" and appeared alive and well in the court room last night as the chief witness in the habeas corpus proceedings brought to have Clarence Peake, who is under a sentence of eighteen years for the murder of Hulin, liberated.

The court, however, dismissed the petition holding in effect that Silas Hulin is dead to all intents and purposes, and that the court had no legal right to interfere with the conviction and judgment which had been properly secured. An appeal was passed to the supreme court. Two years ago Peake killed a man, who was identified as Hulin. He was tried and sentenced. In the meantime Hulin appeared, but the supreme court disregarded his presence and affirmed the sentence on its merits as tried below.

BIG CIRCUS DRAWS MANY TO THE CITY

Thousands of Visitors Witness
Gorgeous Parade and Attend Afternoon Performance—Bigger Than Ever

The long trains of Ringling Brothers' circus, which will give two performances in Fort Worth today, came in early this morning in four sections.

The first section of cars brought the commissary department and a big division of the canvas gang—the pioneers of the enormous enterprise, who come to prepare food and quarters for the several hundred employees to follow. The usual din about the Union Station was intensified by the puffing of going and coming locomotives, bringing in and switching the light-flo cars, and the sharp orders of the several chiefs to the stirring men and the noise of the unloading cars.

To an ordinary observer things looked to be hopelessly mixed up, but in fact the work proceeded with military precision.

The last section of the huge trains did not arrive until nearly daylight. It brought the "brains department," the executive officers and the performers. They came in Pullman cars, which were placed on the side track near the grounds, and the circus people rested until it was time to be up and preparing for the day's work.

The last car in this section is a palatial private coach, in which the Ringling Brothers and their families travel.

The big hippodrome tent is the largest ever made and will comfortably seat 14,000 people. The menagerie tent is almost as big, and four big canvases are required for the 675 horses carried by the show.

A herd of forty elephants, trudging deliberately to the show lots, was a sight of a lifetime, and transported the army of lucky small boys into a seventh heaven of delight. Little baby Boo, not yet seven months old, and the only baby elephant ever born and reared in this country, walked proudly alongside of her mother, Alice, the matron queen of the menagerie, and a swarthy Ceylonese fiercely guarded the little one from the candy and peanut offerings of admiringurchins.

The great street parade, for which Ringling Brothers are distinguished from all others because of novelty, variety of feature and the spice and span expression of people and things, is the most expensive and attractive of the kind ever organized.

The performance this afternoon was attended by an enormous crowd. The great tent was packed. Ringling Brothers have always had the best to offer in circus specialties. This season they have added a dramatic spectacle called Jerusalem and the Crusades. Twelve hundred characters are employed. Two hundred dancing girls and two hundred choristers. Two thousand costumes of historic pattern and radiant colors are used. The music was specially written for the production, and a huge 68-stop pipe organ supplements a circus band of 50 pieces. Ringling Brothers are the first to use stage scenery under canvas, and a stage many times larger than the greatest of theater stages is utilized for the changing incidents of this big spectacle. The story is told in three scenes. The first pictures the starting place of the Crusades. Here take place many of the pastimes that were favored in the early days of chivalry, and the procession of the valiant knights on their way to deliver the Holy City takes the place of the usual circus pageant. The second scene depicts the battles of Oriental life. The grand ballet is the feature of this scene. The curtain falls on the attack of the Christians upon the walls of Jerusalem, while revelry runs riot in the palace yard of the Emir.

Music and Drama

"Two Little Waifs," one of Lincoln J. Carter's best productions, will hold the boards at Greenwall's opera house Saturday, matinee and night, October 24. The play involves an intensely interesting story. The plot is built upon the old theme, but in a new and interesting garb, of mistaken identity which is treated in an original and pleasing manner.

The company is one of the best ever gotten together and harmonize splendidly in their portrayal of the different characters. The comedy element comes in for a share of the praise and there is a clever dialogue between Richard III and Plunk which is brought out in an amusing and quaint style.

The scenic effects of the play are especially of note, showing the Hudson river home, the change from twilight to darkness, with the setting sun, the rise of the moon, the river and the twinkling lights of the Jersey shore, and finally "The Little Church Around the Corner."

As laughter is the only true tonic of the soul which alone drives away care, and really rests the mind of every one, so those who are given to a "blues" should not fail to see Willard Simms, the peculiar comedian in the part of Sam Flinders, in that rollicking new musical farce, "Pickings from Puck," by Simms and Northrup, under the direction of Messrs. Ollie Mack and Joseph M. Galtes, which comes to Greenwall's opera house Monday night, October 26.

The complications which arise and as portrayed by Mr. Simms and the clever company of funny men and pretty chorus, should effectually banish dull care from the minds of every one of its beholders. If pretty costumes, gorgeous scenery and novel mechanical effects can aid in relieving its witty dialogue, ludicrous complications, new and popular songs with catchy musical numbers and exquisite dances more merry, then Messrs. Mack and Galtes will have reached the acme of irresistible and unqualified success.

LOU DILLON UP AGAINST HER RECORD

Marvelous Mare Will Endeavor to Lower Her Two Minute Mark at the Memphis Track This Afternoon

(By Associated Press.)

MEMPHIS, Oct. 23.—Lou Dillon, the trotting queen, is scheduled to go against her time this afternoon at 4 o'clock, on the local track. The magnificent performance of Dan Patch yesterday when he paced a mile in 1:56 1-4, establishing a new world's record, is regarded as an almost certain indication that Lou Dillon will equal her two-minute performance, and it is believed by many that a new record will be made.

Myron McHenry, Ed Geers, E. E. Smathers and other well known horsemen have expressed themselves confident the mare will lower the world's mark. The weather conditions are not so favorable today as yesterday. The temperature has dropped fifteen degrees and a stiff breeze is blowing from the south. Lou Dillon will be driven by Millard Sanders.

THE LATEST IN RAILROAD NEWS

THE WICHITA VALLEY EXTENSION

Morgan Jones, president of the Wichita Valley railroad, is in the city and held a conference with a prominent railroad contractor this morning. It is well known that Colonel Jones is arranging for an extension of the Valley road from Wichita Falls north into the territory, and from what is learned here the plans for the extension have been consummated and work will commence very soon. Where the terminus will be cannot be learned.

SALE OF TICKETS DISCONTINUED

The railroads are beginning to order the discontinuance of the sale of tickets to San Antonio on account of the prevalence of yellow fever in the Alamo City. This morning City Passenger and Ticket Agent Fenelon of the Santa Fe received a telegram from General Passenger Agent W. E. Keenan at Galveston, instructing him to sell no more tickets to or through San Antonio until further orders.

CHEAP RATES TO DALLAS

The railroads are announcing cheap rates for the Baptist Misionary Association meeting in Dallas, October 27, and the Baptist missionary church conference to be held at the same place on the same date. The latter meeting will be held from October 27 to November 2.

NEW MEXICO ROAD

The Phelps-Dodge Company, it is reported from the West, will begin the construction of a railroad from Deming, N. M., north via the Members Valley and Santa Rita to valuable coal fields owned by that company south of Gallup in the near future.

SURVEYING NEAR ROSWELL

Information from Roswell, N. M., is that the surveying party running a line for the proposed extension of the Santa Fe-Central from Torrance to Roswell has reached a point within a mile or so of Roswell, and turned back to make a resurvey of the line will also hold a four days' session in Dallas, beginning November 3 to 6, inclusive. For all these religious occasions the Fort Worth and Denver City Railroad Company will sell round trip tickets at reduced rates.

MATHER GOES WITH FRISCO

Robert Mather, second vice president and general counsel of the Rock Island, has been made third vice president of the Frisco system. W. H. Lyford, vice president and general counsel of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois, who recently resigned, was elected general counsel for the Frisco. B. L. Winchell has been made vice president and general counsel of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois.

RAILROAD NOTES AND PERSONALS

Chas. D. Bowman, city ticket agent of the Cotton Belt at Tyler, is in the city to see the circus, of course. The many friends here of Mr. Bowman are extending him a hearty welcome today. He was formerly a citizen of Fort Worth and has a host of warm friends who are always glad to see him.

NEW MEXICO ROAD

The Phelps-Dodge Company, it is reported from the West, will begin the construction of a railroad from Deming, N. M., north via the Members Valley and Santa Rita to valuable coal fields owned by that company south of Gallup in the near future.

SURVEYING NEAR ROSWELL

Information from Roswell, N. M., is that the surveying party running a line for the proposed extension of the Santa Fe-Central from Torrance to Roswell has reached a point within a mile or so of Roswell, and turned back to make a resurvey of the line to Torrance. The right of way into Roswell has not yet been secured, and for this reason the company did not care to "let out" just where the road is to enter that place.

There is a well grounded report that the Santa Fe-Central Company is negotiating with the Santa Fe, which owns the Pecos Valley line, for track-swap arrangements over the Pecos Valley for an entrance into Roswell, in order that stations of the two lines may be consolidated and made into a joint agency at that point.

There is also a rumor that it is the intention of the Santa Fe-Central Company to eventually build on to a connection with the Texas and Pacific at some point on the Western division of the line. The general belief is that the capital back of this project is coming from the Gould system, which will probably control the new road when it is built, equipped and ready for operation.

MEXICAN RAILROAD EXTENSION

The Mexican and Great Eastern is the name of the reorganized Mexican and San Rafael railroad which runs from the City of Mexico to Apizaco, Mex., a distance of 110 kilometers. It is said the road is to be immediately extended southeast to the Isthmus of Tehuantepec.

A THOUGHTFUL MAN

M. M. Austin of Winchester, Ind., knew what to do in the hour of need. His wife had such an unusual case of stomach and liver trouble physicians could not help her. He thought of and tried Dr. King's New Life Pills and she got relief at once and was finally cured. Only 25c at W. J. Fisher's and Reeves' Pharmacy Drug Stores.

REFUGEES ARRIVE FROM THE SOUTH

Quite a number of refugees from the south part of the state arrived in Fort Worth and took quarters at the Delaware hotel. None of the parties have been exposed to the fever, but left their homes before the quarantine was established merely as a matter of precaution.

The party were J. Strauss and three members of the family, Col. J. N. Kearns and wife, and two servants, all of San Antonio. R. D. McHenry, Mrs. Robert E. Moss and son, and T. D. Cobb and wife of Lampasas. Mr. Cobb was seen and said that in his opinion there is no doubt as to yellow fever existing at San Antonio. He says the physicians of San Antonio do not agree with State Health Officer Tabor that the fever exists in the Alamo City. Mr. Cobb thinks that the disease is nothing more than dengue fever. The situation here says is not as serious as outsiders believe; that the people of San Antonio are going right ahead with the fair just as if nothing had happened.

PARKHURST ON DOWIE

Dowie's descent upon New York has given an opportunity for a broader view of the man and his methods. While he confined his operations to Chicago there was a certain limit to the means of ascertaining full details of the system he was following. The Chicago newspapers told some things, but the general public was not prepared to accept the statements of the newspapers and preachers of a single town as to the vile condition of this man. His advent to New York has brought men of national prominence to investigate him, and in an open letter Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst has said:

"I do not want to be presuming, but doubt if it is any more presumptive in me to come and try to clarify you than it is for you to come and try to clarify New York, and I don't know which of us has taken the heavier contract. I attended your service at Madison Square Garden last evening, and I went determined to enjoy it if I could and to be benefited by it and to go away and refute some of the charges that I had heard alleged against you. But it was of your behavior on the platform crushed all the sympathy I had with you. I never heard from a public speaker such a discharge of wrath and coarseness of language. I want to hear you preach the gospel and you preached the gospel in Zion City, but I was ashamed of you and almost ashamed to be in your audience. It was a long way below the standard even of the circus that I have attended in the same garden. The only consolation I could derive, it was so abominable and so far beyond the bounds of the respectability that even those in your congregation who did not know what Christianity is would have no idea that it had anything to do with what you were saying. Of course, the ridiculousness of the performance was only enhanced by the immensity of your pretensions. If you claimed to be an ordinary man there might be some hope for you even with what you call the 'rabble,' but the rabble is discriminating and can discriminate as keenly as the keenest between a prophet and a juggler, between an Elijah and a mountebank. I say this in no spirit of anger, but either your head is twisted or your heart infected, or you have blundered badly in your method. You cannot bully people into Zionism nor blacken them into the kingdom of heaven. I hope you will take this in the kindly spirit in which it is offered and that it will be blessed to you."

There is no one in this country who will doubt the sincerity of Dr. Parkhurst. Had he found good in Dowie, he would have proclaimed it. He may not have accepted the Zionist as an Elijah, but he would have commended good methods and good doctrine, that many might be moved to accept the faith, and by accepting, gain salvation. Dowie is a fakir pure and simple. He is operating a get rich quick concern and is doing it before the world. The law does not touch him and honest people look on and raise no hand against him. There should be some means of reaching him that his robbery of the ignorant, unsuspecting and the confiding might be stopped.

WARNER'S SAFE CURE

Which Drives Rheumatism Out of the Blood.

TEST YOUR KIDNEYS.

Let some morning urines stand twenty-four hours; if a reddish-brown sediment forms or if particles float about in it, or if it is the least cloudy or smoky, your kidneys are seriously affected and utterly unable to carry the waste matters out of the body; and if allowed to run on without treatment the uric acid will clog the blood and poison the whole system, causing inflammation of the bladder and urinary organs, backache, especially in the loins; indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation, rheumatic pains and swellings, torpid liver, nervousness, all manner of blood and skin eruptions, and, finally, a complete breakdown of the general health, with Bright's disease or diabetes and death. If you are already suffering from any of these diseases, your life is in grave danger, as the kidneys rarely put forth such outward symptoms until disease has secured a firm hold.

DISEASES OF WOMEN—Bearing-down sensation, fainting spells, painful periods and other female troubles are all undaunting symptoms of kidney disorders.

PERMANENTLY CURED.

"I caught a severe cold a couple of years ago, which developed into acute rheumatism, from which I suffered almost beyond endurance. For a year I went from doctor to doctor, and took quarts of horrible tasting medicine, but no relief—kept getting worse. A friend told me of Warner's Safe Cure, and I could not thank him enough, for four bottles completely cured me, and I have never had an ache or pain since."

The politician who has always believed that his party associates should be protected in acts which are crooked, and that the opposition should be exposed and punished, is receiving a shock in the recent utterances of Joseph W. Folk of Missouri. Mr. Folk is convinced that wrong is wrong, whether it comes in the garb of saint or sinner and he does not hesitate to say so. He addressed a gathering a few days ago during which he said:

"I am a democrat, but I do not believe a democratic lawbreaker is any better than a republican lawbreaker. Both are criminals. I believe in exposing and punishing democratic rascals the same as republican rascals. Officers are not elected to prosecute only political opponents, but to enforce the law impartially against all offenders, democrats or republicans. The cloak of democracy should be torn from him who tries to use it to hide his corruption. If wrong doing exists, the sooner it is discovered and stopped, the better for the party and the better for the state. Under no circumstances should our eyes be closed to corruption for fear that, by making a fuss about it, the party might be injured. I have no patience with such talk. The enforcement of law can not hurt any party unless the organization in some way is particularly criminal. It should not injure any organization to get rid of public plunderers."

Mr. Folk is eminently correct. The slogan, "turn the rascals out," means all classes of rascals. It should not be the cry of the democrats or the republicans, but should be that of the people, and its operation should be non-partisan. It has reference to all states as well as to the nation. Texas has not reached the grade of corruption which has been exposed in Missouri, Minnesota and Pennsylvania, but it will if the tendency of the times is not checked. The free pass habit, the free drinks, the free theater tickets, and other "courtesies" extended by the lobby to the legislators, is the first step.

Stop it before the second. Texas is democratic, and because of the brutal majority the democratic office-holders think there can be no change, but a democratic people will turn out democratic rascals, just as quick as any other kind. All rascals look alike to the honest man.

E. E. CURTIS, BARRAGE MASTER AT THE READING TERMINAL, PHILADELPHIA, WRITES HE WAS PERMANENTLY CURED.

"I caught a severe cold a couple of years ago, which developed into acute rheumatism, from which I suffered almost beyond endurance. For a year I went from doctor to doctor, and took quarts of horrible tasting medicine, but no relief—kept getting worse. A friend told me of Warner's Safe Cure, and I could not thank him enough, for four bottles completely cured me, and I have never had an ache or pain since."

Safe Cure is absolutely the only complete, permanent and safe home cure for rheumatism, diabetes, gall stones, uric acid, Bright's disease, and diseases of the kidneys, liver and bladder. Safe Cure is made entirely of herbs, contains no harmful drugs, is free from sediment, and pleasant to take. Possessed of a long and successful history, it is sold in leading hospitals for fifty years. Sold at all drug stores or direct, 50 cents and $1 a bottle.

A COLONEL FROM CONNECTICUT

[Copyright, 1913, by C. B. Lewis.]

"Colonel Israel Alexander Perkins, Connecticut, U. S. A.," was the way he was registered at the Near View House, Interlaken, Switzerland, and there was no mistaking his nationality. He not only looked American, but he spelled Connecticut in every movement. He was as much of a downright Yankee as the man who invented wooden nutmegs, and he had all the innocence and ingenuousness of the chap who sold the first dozen to confiding housewives.

Ever since landing in London the colonel had been telling a fish story. It was the same old story over and over, and he told it from five to twenty times a day, according to circumstances. He told it to men of all nationalities. It made no difference whether his listener could speak English or not. He told it in hotel reading rooms, at the table, on the train, on the boat, on the veranda.

Everybody thought him a liar, and it was singular that the European public stood it so long, but it was only after he reached Interlaken and had repeated his story for the twentieth time in two days that an Englishman who had bumped up against him at several resorts made up his mind that the thing had gone far enough.

He took half a dozen other tourists into his confidence, and as a result a certain Frenchman who was stopping at another resort was sent for. The news went around that M. d'Artazen, the famous duelist, was to arrive. He had killed seven different men on the field of honor. He was a man who had hated a liar and never hesitated to interrupt a man telling a tall story. Care was taken that Colonel Perkins should be thoroughly informed, and as gently as possible he was advised to hold on to his fish story during the duelist's stay. His answer was:

"That story ought to interest him, but if he don't want to hear it he needn't. I'm not forcing it on anybody."

D'Artazen arrived on a certain evening and had been previously coached as to the part he was to play. Colonel Perkins was introduced to him as soon as possible, and he spent about two minutes sizing the duelist up. Then he observed:

"General, if you have come here to fish you'll be disappointed. You can't get a bite once a week. If you want fishing as is fishing you'll go to the United States. Lord, but what fishing I've had in the Connecticut river! Just to give you an idea of how the shad bite there in April I'll tell you what I did one day. I went out by myself and caught 19,000 shad in ten hours with hook and line, and I must have had all of 19,000 bites that didn't look the fish. It took a span of big horses to draw my catch home. That's what you call fishing, though my record don't begin with some others."

That was the old, old story. The figures had not been decreased to 18,000 nor raised to 20,000. The fish had never been named as suckers or mullet, but always as shad. People had been obliged to swallow the story, tails and all, or call the colonel a liar, and they had swallowed and moved on. But the colonel's time had come at last. When he had finished his story the duelist observed:

"Sir, I have the great honor of calling you a liar!"

"A liar! Good lands, but what for?" exclaimed Perkins.

"Had you caught one fish per minute you could have caught only 600 in ten hours. It was utterly impossible. Ten men could not have done it. You took me for a fool and lied to me."

"But did you ever fish in the Connecticut river?"

"Never."

"Did you ever fish for shad?"

"Never."

"Then why call me a liar? Bring a notary public here and I'll make affidavit to what I said. I fished for ten hours and the fish numbered—"

"Sir, you insult me!" exclaimed the duelist as he arose.

"And he who insults me must fight. There is my card. Have you a friend here? Let us fight at sunrise."

"By gum, but what a peppery man!" said the colonel as the other withdrew. "Well, if he wants to fight I suppose I'll have to accommodate him. Indeed, I've got to fight because he didn't believe my story. I never tell a story that I ain't willing to back up. Will one of you fellows act as my second in the affair?"

The Englishman volunteered, but the conspiracy didn't call for a duel. The idea was to scare Colonel Israel Alexander Perkins back to his Connecticut river and his shad. He was told that he would be killed, no matter what the weapons, and was advised to call for his bill and seek a change of climate. Not only one man advised him thus, but half a dozen, but each and every one received the same reply:

"Sorry, sir, but I can't do it. The state of Connecticut would never forgive me, and I could never hope to catch another shad. The duel must go on. Under the circumstances I couldn't even accept an apology from the Frenchman."

When it was realized that the colonel was forcing things he was advised as the challenged party to choose swords, but he held out for revolvers and would not be persuaded. There might be a chance to load with blank cartridges, but they da-d not risk it. Colonel Perkins had a twinkle in his eye that meant solid shot when he stood up to aim.

There was nothing to do for D'Artazen but to run the risk or get out, and as he had no hankering after hot lead he packed up his grip and was miles away by sunrise. M. QUAD.

It is a good time for the newspapers of Texas to take up the anti-pass question. Is this a fable, or is it but slang?

Grayson county farmers have produced a good crop of corn, and they have a good stock of hogs on hand to fatten with the corn. This puts them in better condition than farmers in other parts of the state who have not raised plenty of swine to fatten on the corn, and it reduces, to some extent, the dependency of the farmers on the cotton crop.—Denison Herald.

If the Grayson county farmers, who have Grayson county hogs, will fatten them on Grayson county corn and send them to the Fort Worth market, the packers will take them.

People of this section have no need to grieve over the advent of a new enemy to the cotton crop. If the boll weevil succeeds in causing farmers to raise more feedstuffs and forage, more fruits and vegetables, more poultry and hogs and more of the other things which serve to make him independent of cotton, the little bug will prove a blessing in disguise.—Terrell Transcript.

WRONG DIAGNOSIS

Anthony Forbes found himself at twenty-three years of life. Possessing an income of $10,000 a year, quite enough to gratify all his wishes, there was nothing for him to accomplish. When therefore a medical specialist told him that a certain lump he had discovered on his person too near a vital part to be removed was of a malignant nature and would kill him within a period of from a few months to a few years, the only horror attending the announcement was the suffering involved. However, since there was as yet no pain, the young man determined to turn everything he had into cash and get all the enjoyment there was in it. This would serve a double purpose of giving him pleasure and diverting his mind.

THE GOVERNOR PROCLAIMS A GENERAL QUARANTINE

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 23.—(Special.)—Governor Lanham, 4s chief executive of the state, issued a proclamation at noon today declaring a general quarantine against San Antonio, commencing today and continuing until closed by orders.
All freight, baggage, express and mail matter shall be disinfected in a manner prescribed by the state health officer, and under supervision of an inspector appointed by him before it shall leave San Antonio, the expense of such disinfection to be paid by the shipper.
No person will be permitted to leave the city for points in Texas, and all railway ticket agents are prohibited from selling tickets for points in Texas and railway conductors are prohibited from carrying persons out of that city, but tickets can be sold and persons carried to points outside of the state.

respectfully suggest to county commissioners' court and to boards of trustees of independent school districts that such bonds offer an excellent investment for permanent county school funds. In a great many counties uninvested balances of such funds are lying idle, and I am of the opinion that boards of trustees having uninvested funds of independent school districts could find sales for them by making systematic inquiry of county judges concerning the investment of county funds. By this means not only may the bonds of the independent districts find the market they so much deserve upon their intrinsic merits, but the evil of a too prevalent failure to keep county funds fully invested might be cured.
On August 31, 1912, county treasurers reported to the department uninvested cash balances in permanent schools funds to the amount of $348,434.41, as yet nothing of other county funds that need to be advantageously invested.

CONFEDERATE PENSIONERS

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 23.—(Special.)—Captain Bolmes, chief clerk in the pension office of the comptroller's department, has finished sending out the amounts due Confederate pensioners for the quarter commencing October 1. The number of warrants sent out was 6,750, the total amount paid being $4,125. The warrants forwarded to M. J. Stewart, Ben Hur and A. Mays Jefferson, have been returned with "dead" endorsed on the envelope. Owing to the great age of the pensioners the death rate is very high, and other warrants will be returned in all probability endorsed in the same way.

PUBLIC LANDS FORFEITED

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 23.—(Special.)—J. J. Terrell, commissioner of the general land office, has given out a list of the public lands on which lessees have failed to make payments, for which reason lease contracts will be forfeited at 8 o'clock October 30, after which time the lands will be subject to sale.
These lands are situated in the following counties: Bandera, $20 acres; Brewster, 8,510; Brewster and Pecos, 18,240; Crockett, 3,390; Duval, 140; Ector, 410; Edwards, 5,120; Edwards and Kinney, 10,840; El Paso, 6,646; Gaines and Yoakum, 7,040; Hidalgo, 2,560; Jeff Davis, 1,240; Kerr, 640; Kinney, 160; Lynn, 640; Motley, 160; Midland, 640; Pecos, 8,320; Reeves, 12,024; Sutton, 16,640.
The total amount of land forfeited in the twenty-eight counties is 103,722 acres.

INDEPENDENT SCHOOL BONDS

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 23.—(Special.)—Discussing the investment of bonds issued by the independent school districts of the state, Arthur Lefevre, superintendent of public instruction, had this to say yesterday:
In view of the embarrassment felt by a number of independent school districts which have issued or are planning to issue bonds for the purpose of building school houses, under the present inability of the state board of education to purchase such bonds for the state permanent school fund, the following statement of the law governing the investment of the said fund and suggestion of an alternative way of finding sales for the said bonds, may be of service to important public interests.
The statute under which the state board of education may invest the state permanent school fund authorizes the purchase of the bonds of independent school districts only "in the event of the board of education being unable to invest all of the permanent public free school fund in bonds of the United States, the state of Texas and the bonds of the counties of the state." My own understanding of this statutory provision (the state superintendent is not a member of the board of education) is that when there are simultaneous offerings of bonds of both classes it is the duty of the board to prefer United States, state or county bonds to the bonds of independent school districts, if the offerings of bonds of the former description exceed in amount the uninvested balance on hand in the permanent school fund. For some time the board has had before it offers of county bonds in excess of such uninvested balances, and independent school districts have been and are confronted with a grave difficulty on account of the lack of demand for their new class of bonds, unfamiliar as they are to the general bond market. Under these circumstances, and believing that these bonds offer a thoroughly safe and desirable investment, I
