LYON WANTS HEARST TO BE NOMINATED

The Honorable Cecil A. Tells About the Democratic Candidate

SAYS HEARST WOULD SAVE G. O. P. MONEY

Could Be Beaten Without Any Funds—His Hair Versus the Roosevelt Teeth

HOUSTON, Texas, April 7.—Hon. Cecil A. Lyon, state chairman of the republican party, who is in Houston much of the time at present as one of the receivers of the Kirby Lumber Company, is not in favor of Hearst for president, but he hopes he will be nominated by the democrats. In fact, Mr. Lyon said this morning that if Hearst's nomination were guaranteed he would give $10,000 to the campaign which brought about the nomination.

"The nomination of Hearst would save the republican campaign fund a lot of money," said Mr. Lyon. "If Hearst is nominated it clinches the election of President Roosevelt, hence my willingness to contribute to the campaign fund. I'd like to make some campaign speeches with Hearst running for president. All I'd want would be some life-like lithographs of the New York editor with his hair parted in the middle and plastered down over the forehead, such as is shown in his newspaper pictures. With these I'd go over into East Texas and show the boys along the Houston East and West Texas and the Texas and New Orleans railroad the kind of a man they were called on to vote for for president. I believe parts of East Texas would go republican on the strength of the way Hearst parts his hair."

Mr. Lyon was asked if Mr. Hearst's hair was a greater handicap than Mr. Roosevelt's teeth. He replied that Mr. Roosevelt could not help having teeth, while the way Mr. Hearst parted his hair was a matter of choice.

Mr. Lyon then admitted that he himself parted his hair in the middle—"but I am not running for president," he added.

GOOD ROADS MEETING

Advantages to Commerce in Improved Highways is Pointed Out

NEW ORLEANS, April 6.—Former Land Commissioner Killebrew of Tennessee made the principal address before the forenoon session of the Good Roads convention today. He pointed out with great force the advantages to commerce in improved highways and discussed the question of aid in the present movement. S. M. Clawson of Louisiana and M. A. Hayes of the Southern Railway were the other speakers for the forenoon session.

SWAYNE CASE GOES OVER

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The house committee on rules today decided on a program to have the case of Judge Swayne of Florida go over until December 13. The committee on judiciary will take additional testimony meanwhile.

MATWOOD, Ill.

April 7.—Sixty-three Indians, in a special car en route to Washington to see President Roosevelt, were smashed into by a mail train two miles west of here today during a fog. Three Indians were instantly killed, three fatally injured and twenty others more or less seriously hurt. The Indians who were not killed in the wreck, fled in a panic across the prairie.

The trains which collided were the Oregon express the fast mail on the Chicago and Northwestern railway. The express was run into by the mail train. Both trains were eastbound. Physicians promptly hurried to the scene as soon as possible. The injured were taken to Maywood and Chicago. All the victims of the wreck were Indians.

Chief White Horse, who was in charge of the Indians on the train, was fatally injured. The bodies of the Indians who had been killed outright were laid on the prairie beside the wreck. Chief White Horse being carried with them. He said he knew that death was near and he requested that he be placed near his dead companions. The chief was propped up and staidly while the physicians worked over his injuries. He smoked a pipe quietly and showed no signs of the pain he must have been suffering.

One by one the other injured Indians were slowly taken from the splintered cars and placed upon the ground near the chief and their dead comrades. Physicians hurried from one to another of the injured, administering to the wants of all, while arrangements were being made to take the red men to the nearest hospital.

STOLEN BOOTY OF BELL WAS EVEN MILLION

Career of the Noted Forger and Mail Pouch Thief Arrested at Tacoma

OPERATIONS COVERED THE WHOLE COUNTRY

Specific Charge on Which He Was Arrested Was Theft of a Mail Pouch

DENVER, Colo., April 7.—The News today says: Albert E. Bell, arrested in Tacoma, Wash., is one of the most noted forgers and mail pouch thieves with which the authorities have ever had to deal. As a result of his operations he has, it is estimated, secured nearly $1,000,000. He was arrested in Denver on October 2 by the secret service officers at St. Anthony's Hospital, where he had undergone an operation. On October 18 he was taken to Philadelphia to stand trial for a robbery in which $500,000 was taken. He left Denver in charge of Deputy United States Marshals Baker and Davis. On October 19 the party arrived at Philadelphia. When arrested at St. Anthony's Hospital his wife, who gave the name of Sharpe, was at his bedside and was also taken into custody. Bell was charged by the postal authorities with robbing the mails, and also by the American Bankers' Association with having raised and cashed checks and secured from the stolen mail pouches. The specific charge upon which the arrest was originally made was the stealing of a mail pouch containing $500,000 worth of negotiable paper at Philadelphia on the night of September 8.

Bell later admitted having arrived in this country from Crowne, England, last summer and enjoyed himself at Asbury Park, N. J., posing as a wealthy fruit speculator, and through the Sharpe woman obtained entrance to the best society, making the acquaintance of brokers, bankers and other Philadelphia men of many cities and numerous large interests. Soon after making these financial acquaintances Bell began to deposit different sums with his banker friends, and on September 10 deposited several checks payable to his order, drawn on different Philadelphia banks, and shortly after A. E. Hammond, believed to have been Bell, opened an account with the Lincoln Trust Company in St. Louis and not long after drew out the $2,500 on the account.

According to the criminal records Bell once served five years in the Auburn, N. J., state prison for stealing a mail pouch from the New York Central depot in Buffalo and tampering with the negotiable paper inclosed.

Just before leaving Denver Bell made what purported to be a complete confession of his operations. He admitted having gone into one of Chicago's largest and most influential banks and after a half hour's talk with the cashier persuaded him to give a practically carte blanche letter of credit without the deposit of even a single penny.

At the time of Bell's arrest local detectives had this to say of his record: "It was in 1894 that Bell was arrested in New York while endeavoring to cash a stolen draft for $1,200, and he went to the Elmira Reformatory on April 19. He was released seven months later, but on April 16, 1899, was again arrested in New York while trying to cash a $425 draft. This was one of the drafts taken from the pouch stolen at Buffalo. Bell admitted when he stole the pouch he was disguised as a railroad employe. Bell also served three years in the Missouri penitentiary at Jefferson City for the theft of a mail pouch at Kansas City."

GREAT LOSS OF WIVES

Mexican Bandits Raid Women and Take Three Wives Only

EL PASO, Tex., April 7.—Prospectors from the lower Sierra Madre mountains, in Mexico, southwest of El Paso, bring the story of a raid made by Juan Colorado and John Redhead upon Don Felipe, a noted bandit and his band pillaged the settlement, carrying away three of Elder Hiram Johnson's wives, one of whom is the favorite of his large household. A posse of Mexican rurales and a squad of Moros, who, as a vigilance committee, style themselves avenging angels, pursued the bandits for thirty-six hours, and finally surprised them in the fastnesses of the Sierra Madre mountains. A fight took place, in which two of the outlaws were wounded. The band fled, leaving the women. They had been kept two days in a cave, where a considerable amount of bullion treasure was found, which, it is believed, was stolen from a pack train recently.

The Telegram Reduces Rate to Ten Cents Per Week

On April 11 the price of The Telegram will be reduced from 15 cents a week, or 65 cents a month to 10 cents a week or 50 cents a month.

The present rate of 15 cents a week is not entirely consistent with the best metropolitan newspapers generally nowadays. High price for a newspaper means a limited circulation, no matter how good the paper may be.

A newspaper is a business proposition, just like a dry goods or a grocery store. That place which has a reputation for small profits and large sales is the one to draw the trade. The Telegram has tried to maintain a high rate of subscription, and, while it has been successful in doing so to a large extent, it has not increased its circle of daily readers in proportion to the facilities that have been installed. It was a part of the business program outlined some time ago that the subscription rate would be reduced to the popular price of 10 cents a week just as soon as The Telegram was well established in its new building and all of its new machinery installed and in good working order. The Telegram is now ready to adopt the methods of the successful business house of making large sales with small profits.

It is a much better business proposition for The Telegram to quickly increase its circulation, at a reduced price, so that the paper will go into practically every home in Fort Worth, Glenwood and North Fort Worth, than to slowly enlarge the list of daily readers at the high rate of 15 cents a week. It is an evident fact that the larger the circulation the less becomes the cost of producing each paper, while the returns to the advertiser, of course, increase in the same ratio that the circulation does.

Commencing with the issue of Monday, April 11, the rate of 10 cents per week will be effective. A corps of solicitors is already at work acquainting the people with the change in price. Today's Telegram will go into almost every home in the city of Fort Worth, in North Fort Worth and Glenwood, to tell the people of the change in rate. To all receiving this copy of The Telegram who are not already subscribers, an especial request is made that they give this sample copy due consideration as an applicant for their favor. Today's Telegram is a fair sample of the issues that will be put out every day. The reduction in price will not cause any reduction in news efficiency. In fact it will augment and stimulate the management to make the paper better day by day as new subscribers are added to the list.

Seven papers for 10 cents! Only a little over one cent each. Six week day papers and a Sunday morning issue that will range from 24 to 36 pages, containing full leased wire dispatch report, New York Herald features, and the famous comic pages that have made the Hearst papers so popular—all of this for the small sum of 10 cents a week. No one in Fort Worth can afford to do without a daily newspaper at that price. The Telegram reaches the home in the evening when people have time to read, when they are tired out after the day's work and the reading of a paper that carries all the Associated Press news of the same day and the gatherings in by the largest corps of reporters in Fort Worth of the threads of the day's happenings in the local field, becomes a pleasure and an interest.

The Telegram promises its readers a bigger paper, a better paper, than ever before at the reduced rate of 10 cents a week. The Telegram has taken its readers into its confidence before and has never failed them. It will not do so now.

THE SITUATION IS STILL IN DOUBT

Political Matters Have Not Yet Reached a Climax at Austin

AUSTIN, Texas, April 7.—The political situation under the capitol which was expected to reach a climax by the middle of the present week, is still one of doubt and uncertainty and politicians are still jumping sideways through the air, and guessing as they stride.

It was expected that Judge Wells, chairman of the state democratic executive committee, would issue his call for a meeting of the committee by this time, but it has not been done and judging from present indications the call is as far off as it was when Judge Wells visited Austin two months ago to advise with the leading politicians of the state as to the most auspicious time, and desirable place to convene it.

Judge Wells' delay is the subject of quite a good deal of comment, and is accounted for in various ways. A well known citizen of Texas said a few days ago that he was just waiting for the Hearst managers to visit and organize the state as far as possible in his interest and then the committee would be convened.

Following this another prominent politician said today that the chairman was delaying the call so as to give the Parker forces time in which to get in their work before he acted. These statements are of course paradoxical, both can not be true, and so far as any expression from Judge Wells is concerned, both may be untrue. One thing, however, is certain, the call has not been made, and everybody is "up in the air," speculating, theorizing, surmising, prognosticating and philosophizing, while the democratic chairman is pursuing the even tenor of his way as undisturbed as a piece of statuary.

Under the circumstances no man has the right to an opinion, for the reason there is positively nothing upon which to base it, but somehow the impression has crept into the minds of some that Dallas is to be the place, and April 18th the time when the committee will get together to save the country.

The spirit of procrastination which has caused so much talk about Judge Wells seems to be an infectious political complaint, and prospective candidate Colquitt seems to have caught the contagion. His candidacy for governor has been discussed by the press and people for months, and almost every day for more than a month he has been expected to make some kind of announcement, either to decline to make the race or declare himself a candidate, back his ears, as Captain Pruitt of Scurry county says, get in the middle of the lane and hump himself. Not a word, however, does he say, and even when his most intimate friends, those who are pressing him the hardest, and booming him the loudest are asked as to whether or not he is going to "come out," they only shrug their shoulders, suck their teeth and reply "don't know, hope he will."

WIVES OF VETERANS ARE NOT DESTITUTE

Misleading Statement Sent Out From Austin Apparently Without Basis

AUSTIN, Texas, April 7.—An article appeared some days ago in several state papers to the effect that the wives of the veterans who are living in the Confederate home were needy, and really suffering for the comforts of life. The article went on to say that many of them were living on the river and creek banks in rotten and weather-beaten tents that afforded little or no protection from wind or weather, and appealed to the Daughters of the Confederacy for help.

This appeal met a prompt response, and boxes of clothing and provisions have been sent and naturally found their way to the home.

This statement is not only misleading, but untrue in every respect. Superintendent J. Q. Chenoweth is authority for the statement that there are no wives of veterans living in the home now camped on the river or creeks, and never have been, and moreover, never will be for the reason that the home was designed and maintained entirely and exclusively for men.

The purpose in making this misleading and unjustifiable statement cannot be imagined. It is resulting in great inconvenience to the daughters all over the state, and an inconvenience to those in charge of the home.

One box was received yesterday and the superintendent having no use on earth for its contents, turned it over to Mrs. Val C. Giles, the home for old ladies. Colonel Chenoweth asks the daughters of Texas to give themselves no further concern about the matter, as the picture of distress drawn is entirely baseless.

CHINA READY TO HELP

At First Defeat of Russians Will Throw Her Lot With Japan

NEW YORK, April 7.—Reports are said to have reached an ambassador here, says a Herald dispatch from Berlin, to the effect that China is on the verge of throwing in her lot with Japan. The first defeat on land for Russia will, it is asserted, be the signal for a forward movement on the part of the Celestial empire. Japan, the correspondent adds, shows no anxiety for help, realizing that China's intervention may cause more embarrassment than profit.

STIGMATIZE BATHERS

New Jersey W. C. T. U. Use Pungent Adjectives to Describe Them

NEW YORK, April 7.—The mingling of sexes at the public bathing places has been declared by leading members of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of New Jersey to be "vile," "revolting" and "corrupt." These terms were applied during a discussion of the subject in the state convention at Newark. Resolutions adopted express sorrow at the situation and it is proposed by the backers of the movement to inaugurate a crusade against the practice at seaside resorts.

CHARGE BLAIR FORGED NAME

Amended Bill of Complaint Is Filed by Insurance Company in Suit

ST. LOUIS, April 7.—In an amended bill of complaint just filed, the Mutual Life Insurance Company which is contesting the payment of a $200,000 policy, charged that the late James L. Blair forged the name of his wife, Apolline M. Blair, to a deed of trust for $50,000.

Friends of the family say that this incident bears out the contention that Mrs. Blair was ignorant of the dire straits and pecuniary of her husband.

The amended bill, the filing of which was allowed by Judge Adams in the United States district court, contains corrections of inaccuracies and changes in paragraphs set out in the original complaint, and brings to light several phases of the noted case not heretofore made public. The bill was filed by McKelighan & Watts and F. H. Bacon, attorneys for the insurance company, and long before James L. Blair was dead.

One of the new and direct allegations made in the amended complaint is that, in the years 1899, 1900 and 1901 Blair embezzled and converted to his own use $200,000 which he held in trust for investment for Viola Brown, daughter of former Governor B. Gratz Brown.

Miss Brown recently stated to a representative of the Republic that if there was a shortage in the handling of her estate by James L. Blair, the amount has since been made good, and she has lost nothing.

The insurance company alleges that Blair made many false statements to secure the large policy. The company charges that at the time of making application for insurance, and long before James L. Blair was not a capitalist, as he claimed, but, on the contrary, was heavily involved and was insolvent and was habitually addicted to the use of opium, cocaine and other narcotic drugs.

In insuring Blair for so large a sum as $200,000, the company avers, that it was influenced by Blair's pretensions of moral probity, reputation for honesty, integrity, public spirit, philanthropy and pretended movements for civic and political reforms.

15,000 ARE BACK AT WORK

Bricklayers and Laborers Return After a Five-Week Strike

NEW YORK, April 7.—Bricklayers and laborers who will return to their work in New York today after a strike of five weeks duration, are estimated to have sacrificed wages aggregating one and one-half million of dollars. Nearly 15,000 workmen were involved and the whole trouble is still to be settled by arbitration pending which the men will not be asked to work overtime. There was much joy among the workers over the end of the strike, as fears had been growing of another disastrous season in the building trades like that of 1903. Large builders now express the belief that this will be the busiest season in the city's history.

WEIGHS AGAINST ALLIANCE

Russian Paper of Influence Can't See Good in Proposed Coalition

WOULD RATHER JOIN WITH AMERICA

Sees Germany the Common Enemy of This Country and Herself

ST. PETERSBURG, April 6.—The Russ, in an editorial, inveighs against that section of the Russian press which is proposing an alliance of Russia, Germany and France against what is termed the yellow and Anglo-Saxon peril, economic and political. "Why not," the editorial asks, "follow the example of France and England and boldly undertake to reconcile the differences which now seem hopelessly entangled? Then it would be shown how few they are and what benefit would come from an alliance between us and America against the more grave and common enemy, Germany. This may be the real coalition of the future."

DIE FROM POISONOUS GASES

ST. PETERSBURG, April 6.—The correspondent of the Vestnik states that many who were slightly wounded in the first bombardment of Port Arthur died as a result of poisonous gases emanating from the Japanese shells. He adds that it has been determined to evacuate the city hospital at Dalny, if that place is bombarded, because of the unwillingness to trust the humanity of the Japanese.

DECORATIONS GIVEN

ST. PETERSBURG, April 6.—Vice Admiral Stark received the order of St. Vladimir and Rear Admiral Prince Ukh Tomsky has been decorated with the order of St. Stanislaus in recognition of their able defense on the occasion of the Japanese torpedo boats' attack on Port Arthur February 8. The order of St. Stanislaus has been bestowed upon Captain Reitenstein for his able handling of the Vladivostok squadron.

SUNKEN SHIP RAISED

ST. PETERSBURG, April 6.—A special dispatch from Port Arthur says that the three Japanese fire ships which were sunk in the attempt to block the harbor have been raised and towed into the harbor, where they are being armed with rapid-fire guns.

JAPS LAND SUPPLIES

TOKIO, April 6.—A dispatch from Seoul, Korea, says the Japanese supply steamers safely entered the estuary of the Yalu river and landed cargoes at various points on the Korean shore. It is presumed here that the movement of these supply steamers is covered by the Russian fleet. It is also reported that the Russian forts erected upon the Chinese side of the Yalu river are evidently not effective. According to reliable Korean reports, the American mines at Ulsan and the English mines at Swendolen are safely guarded by detachment of Japanese troops.

NEW MINISTER TO JAPAN

SEOUL, Wednesday, April 6, 3 p. m.—Cho Min Heul, a former minister to the United States, has been appointed minister to Japan in place of Hyun Kong Un, who was appointed April 1, but who refused to accept the post.

M. Hayashi, Japanese minister to Korea, claims that the murder of three Japanese merchants in the province of Chung Chung was due to internal disorders.

It is also reported that the Tong-Hak rising in co-operation with disbanded Korean soldiers in the vicinity of Ping Yang are nothing but usual perennial disturbances and have no significance politically.

ASK NO INSTRUCTIONS

Hearst Men Don't Want the Kansas Delegation to Go to Convention Instructed

KANSAS CITY, April 7.—A special to the Star from Wichita, Kan., says: Before the democratic state convention which met here today naming delegates to the national convention at St. Louis was called to order, the delegates who sought in Kansas City, the William B. Hearst for president agreed not to ask for instructions if J. G. Johnson, national committee man for Kansas, and H. P. Farrelly, admitted Hearst men were named delegates at large to the national convention. The convention is to name twenty delegates with alternates to the national convention.

POKER FOR CLOTHES

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 7.—Lest the faculty learn of it, only whispers are heard about a new style of poker game that has of late obtained vogue among Yale students. They wager their clothes instead of money, and if a man is plucked he must needs beat retreat to his room in loaned pajamas. Those who claim to know say that freshmen of the York Street and Pierston Hall Colony are the principal ones who "sit in."

The usual rules of the great game are followed. In place of chips or money some body is minus his clothes. This may be an explanation of some odd sartorial make-ups seen of nights in the vicinity.

ATTEMPT ON LIFE OF THE SPANISH KING

Bomb Explodes Near Alfonso in Immense Crowd at Barcelona

TWO PEASANTS ONLY WERE THE INJURED

Only One Arrest Made for the Crime—Pope Sends His Congratulations

MADRID, April 7.—An official telegram from Barcelona states that Alfonso was leaving the exhibition a "petard" exploded, injuring two peasants. One arrest was made.

King Alfonso arrived at Barcelona yesterday for a fortnight visit at Catalonia. He was accompanied by Premier Maura and War Minister Linera and their numerous suites. The visit of the king to Barcelona, which is a hot bed of republicanism, caused the greatest disquiet in Spanish official quarters, as it was feared the republicans and socialists might vent on the king their hatred of the premier, whose strong measures dealing with the strike of the rioters made him very unpopular. As a preventative measure a large number of anarchists and other suspects were arrested last week, and a cruiser, three gunboats and a large force of gendarmes were sent to Barcelona.

The Spanish king was accorded a respectful reception at Barcelona and shortly after his arrival attended the te deum at the cathedral. The streets were decorated with flags and lined by enormous crowds of people. It is estimated there were 200,000 persons in the streets and the pressure became so great that cordons of troops and police repeatedly were broken by the people who were anxious to see their monarch and king thus separated from his attendants.

POPE CONGRATULATES ALFONSO

ROME, April 7.—The news of an attempt on the life of King Alfonso by the explosion of a bomb as he was leaving the exhibition at Barcelona produced the deepest impression here, especially among the members of the Spanish colony in Rome which are quite numerous. King Victor Emmanuel learned the news while presiding at a week conference with the cabinet ministers and he immediately personally telegraphed to the Spanish king his warmest congratulations on his escape. Papal secretary of state, Cardinal Merry Del Val, when informed of the attempt, hastened with the news to the pope, who exclaimed: "Poor misguided souls, there is no excuse for their crime." The pope instructed the papal secretary to telegraph the pontiff's congratulations to King Alfonso on his escape.

LONDON HEARS NO DETAILS

LONDON, April 7.—The Spanish embassy here has not received any information in regard to the attempt made upon the life of King Alfonso by the explosion of a bomb as he was leaving the exhibition at Barcelona produced the deepest impression here, especially among the members of the Spanish colony in Rome which are quite numerous. King Victor Emmanuel learned the news while presiding at a week conference with the cabinet ministers and he immediately personally telegraphed to the Spanish king his warmest congratulations on his escape. Papal secretary of state, Cardinal Merry Del Val, when informed of the attempt, hastened with the news to the pope, who exclaimed: "Poor misguided souls, there is no excuse for their crime." The pope instructed the papal secretary to telegraph the pontiff's congratulations to King Alfonso on his escape.

DETROIT, Mich.

April 7.—Rev. W. H. B. Urch, at the annual meeting of the Michigan council of the Brotherhood of St. Paul, which has just closed its sessions here, surprised his audience by advocating a system of benefit insurance for the churches. He said: "It will be a great day for Methodism and for her church societies when a system of benefit insurance is allied to her work of salvation."

"At present competition is too great. Members are lost to the church every day simply because they join the fraternal and secret societies for the insurance features, and becoming attached to the lodge work with its services and benefits, gradually fall away from their allegiance to the church. Everywhere the organizers of our societies go where they have cast into their teeth that there is no benefit feature to the church organizations, and they find it superfluous human work to show the average man wherein lies the benefits of spiritual gain unless there is an element of material gain to help it along."

TWO NEW CASES REPORTED

NEW YORK, April 7.—Only two new cases of tubercular plague were reported in this city Tuesday, says a Herald dispatch from Lima, Peru. It is believed that the scourge will soon disappear because of the energetic measures taken by the government and the sanitary authorities of the municipality.

A PASTOR'S WIFE CURED OF PELVIC CATARRH

She Suffered for Years and Felt Her Case Was Hopeless—Cured by Pe-ru-na.

MRS. ANNA B. FLEHARTY, recent Superintendent of the W. O. T. U. headquarters, at Galesburg, Ill., was for ten years one of the leading women there. Her husband, when living, was first President of the Nebraska Wesleyan University, at Lincoln, Neb.

In a letter written from 401 Sixty-seventh street, W., Chicago, Ill., Mrs. Fleharty says the following in regard to Peruna:

"Having lived a very active life as wife and working partner of a busy minister, my health failed me a few years ago. I lost my husband about the same time, and gradually I seemed to lose health and spirit. My daughter is a confirmed invalid, and we both felt great need of an invigorator.

"One of my neighbors advised me to try Peruna. A bottle was immediately secured and a great change took place in my daughter's as well as in my own health. Our appetites improved very greatly, the digestion seemed much helped, and restful sleep soon improved us, so that we seemed like new women.

"I would not be without Peruna for ten times its cost."—Mrs. Anna B. Fleharty.

What used to be called female diseases by the medical profession is now called pelvic catarrh. It has been found by experience that catarrhal diseases of the pelvic organs are the cause of most cases of female diseases.

Dr. Hartman was among the first of America's great physicians to make this discovery. For forty years he has been treating diseases peculiar to women, and long ago he reached the conclusion that a woman entirely free from catarrhal affection of these organs would not be subject to female disease. He therefore began using Peruna for these cases and found it so admirably adapted to their permanent cure that Peruna has now become the most famous remedy for female diseases ever known. Everywhere the women are using it and praising it. Peruna is not a palliative simply; it cures by removing the cause of female disease.

Dr. Hartman has probably cured more women of female ailments than any other living physician. He makes these cures simply by using and recommending Peruna.

Mrs. Esther M. Milner, DeGraff, Ohio, writes:

"I was a terrible sufferer from female weakness and had the headache continually. I was not able to do my household work for myself and husband. I wrote you and described my condition as near as possible. You recommended Peruna. I took four bottles and was completely cured. I think Peruna a wonderful medicine."—Mrs. Esther M. Milner.

Congressman Thad. M. Mahon, of Chambersburg, Pa., writes:

"I take pleasure in commending your Peruna as a substantial tonic and a good catarrh remedy."—T. M. Mahon.

If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

P. C. Feeny, baggage-master at the Texas and Pacific passenger station, who has been seriously ill for some time, is again able to be about and will again be on duty soon. Mr. Feeny went to Mexico about a year ago in an effort to benefit his health, meeting with good results. Upon his return last month, however, he suffered an attack of erysipelas, which confined him to his home for some time.

H. Z. Duke of Dallas is in the city on a business trip.

Lieutenant Boyd, who is in charge of the navy recruiting station opened in this city, stated this morning that he had been notified that at the present time the navy was within 269 men of its total quota of enlisted men. Scarcity of officers, however, exists in the service. No recruits were secured at the office this morning. Several applications, however, are on file awaiting the consent of parents.

Professor Hogg was a visitor at the high school this morning, and he extended an invitation to all the pupils to be present at the graduation exercises of the Fort Worth medical college tonight.

The ladies of the Broadway Presbyterian church will give a musical and social in the parlors of their church tomorrow afternoon and night, for the benefit of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Missouri Avenue Methodist at the Besides an excellent program there will be refreshments and other forms of entertainment.

"Happy Hooligan" attracted considerable attention at the union station this morning, being made up in perfect imitation of the adventurous brother of Montmorency of comic supplement fame. The brother Montmorency with him, he stopped at the station was not to amuse people, however, at least that object was only an end to a means, as he was acting as an advertisement for a cigar company. Although Happy Hooligan does not have his brother Montmorency with him, he does have his wife with him. She is anything but a counterparty of her husband, or as her husband appears in public, being a quiet little woman with a pretty face and a kind heart. Together they are traveling through the state, Hooligan stopping at all the towns and she going through and meeting him in the larger cities.

The following officers were elected to fill vacancies at last night's meeting of the Woman's Union Label League: President, Mrs. J. B. Smalley; first vice president, Mrs. J. Deans; second vice president, Mrs. O. Johnson; financial secretary, Mrs. Holley. Mrs. Carl Lytle was chosen delegates to the Trades Assembly. It was decided to give a free entertainment in place of the regular meeting next Tuesday night, to which all in sympathy with the movement are invited. The following committees were appointed to arrange for the affair: Entertainment committee, Mesdames Deems, Shumacker, Redmond, Stewart and Peyster; reception committee, Mesdames Thompson, Holley, Conroy, Lytle, Redford and Stone. Mrs. Illies was appointed to act as master of ceremonies. The meeting last night was the best attended of any ever held by the league.

The ladies in charge of the art loan exhibition have been advised by the Polytechnic College that a furlough has been granted all pupils in the school to come to the city during the exhibition and attend it. The ladies find it impossible to make a canvass of the entire city and they ask all who have rare articles to send them to the library or to the home of Mrs. E. J. 2105. All articles sent in must be labeled with the name of the sender and should be accompanied by some historical data.

The Northern Texas Traction Company will put on a lot of extra cars this evening for Handley, starting at 8 o'clock. The season at the park is virtually opened.

Rev. J. B. French has returned from Galveston, where he was called to perform the marriage ceremony for C. F. W. W. Pfeiffer, engineer of Santa Fe, and Miss Clara Root, both of Galveston. Mr. and Mrs. Pfeiffer left in the manager's private car for a trip in the east.

BLOW OPEN SAFE.—The postoffice at Santa Anna was burglarized last night. The burglars entered the back door, where the tools used in forcing an entrance were left. Nitro glycerin was inserted in the joints of the safe door and the door was blown off. About $19 and a lot of postage stamps, value unknown, were secured. The work was evidently done by experts.

"FRUIT OF THE LOOM." Men and women of taste and judgment go into ecstasies over the wonderful patterns, textures and colors which are "the fruit of the loom." But there is one fruit of the loom they rarely consider, and that is the frail and faded woman, old before her time, because necessarily compels her to work under conditions, which send her more favored sister to bed and the doctor's care.

The diseases which weaken and torment women, may in almost all cases be cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

"I had female trouble for eight years," writes Mrs. L. J. Dennis, of 848 East College Street, Jacksonville, Ill. "Words cannot express what I suffered. I could not eat, sleep, or enjoy my profession and found none. Friends urged me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. When I commenced taking this medicine I weighed ninety-five pounds. Now I weigh one hundred and fifty-six pounds—more than I ever weighed before. I was so bad I would lie from day to day, and lose for days at a time. I was suffering. I had internal inflammation, a disagreeable drain, breaking-down pain, and such distress every month, but now I never have a pain—do all my own work and am a strong and healthy woman."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required.

WEATHER FORECAST

Heavy soaking rains were reported at the railroad dispatchers' office this morning as falling all along the line of the joint track extending north and south of the city. Several heavy showers fell locally this morning and more are expected late this evening, to be followed by clear and cooler weather. By morning the temperature will drop to about 40 degrees, but is not expected to fall low enough to be detrimental to the crops, which are in first-class condition throughout the state as a result of the recent rains.

WEEKLY CROP BULLETIN GALEVESTON, Texas, April 7.—The following is a general summary of the report for the week ending April 4, issued by the department of agriculture, Texas section:

WEATHER CONDITIONS The week opened quiet, cool, but temperature increased rapidly and the weather continued warm until the close of the week, when a change to cooler occurred. On the morning of March 28 light frost was quite general down to near the coast region. Tender vegetation was killed, but the damage was not great. High winds prevailed and caused some damage to crops on sandy soil. Rainfall occurred quite generally during the latter half of the week. The drouth which had continued for several months over the southern portion of the state was broken by from one to three inches of precipitation. The rainfall over the western and northwestern portions was much lighter, but generally sufficient to be very beneficial. Hail storms occurred over the northeastern counties and a few other localities, but did very little damage.

COTTON Cotton planting progressed nicely during the week, except in the southwestern portion, where the work was delayed on account of very dry conditions. In the ground. The rainfall of the latter part of the week has placed the ground in good condition for planting in all portions of the cotton belt and the work will now progress very fast. The early planted cotton is coming up nicely. In the northern and middle portions some of the cotton that was up was killed by the frost of the first of the week and will have to be replanted.

CORN The rainfall of the week will cause corn to germinate in the southwestern and western portions of the state. Good stands had already been secured in other sections. In the northern and middle portions the plants were nipped by the frost of the first of the week. This retarded growth, but did no serious damage to the crop. The fields are generally receiving their first cultivation.

WHEAT, RYE AND OATS In the eastern half of the state wheat, barley, rye and oats continue in very good condition. West of the 98th meridian small grain was badly damaged by the long drouth and, while a marked improvement will follow the recent rainfall, the yield will be much below the average. Fall wheat is beginning to head in the southern counties.

RICE Some rice has been sown, but conditions have been too dry to be favorable. In Brazoria and Jefferson counties, the crop has not come up well and in the latter county some re-sowing will probably be necessary. The early sown is reported in fine condition in Wharton county.

MISCELLANEOUS Stock is generally in good shape and conditions on the ranges will be very improved by the recent rainfall. Irish potatoes and gardens continue to do well. The fruit crop is in first-class condition. Sorghum and other forage crops are being sown.

INDICATIONS FOR SOUTHWEST Arkansas—Tonight and Friday showers; warmer in east portion tonight; colder Friday.

Oklahoma and Indian Territories—Tonight and Friday fair, colder. East Texas, North—Tonight fair in west, showers in east portion; colder west portion tonight; colder Friday.

East Texas, South—Tonight and Friday showers; cooler in west portion tonight; cooler Friday; fresh to brisk southerly to westerly winds on coast.

FORECAST The forecast for Texas east of the one hundredth meridian, issued at New Orleans, is as follows: North—Tonight and Friday fair in west; showers in east portion; colder in west portion tonight; colder Friday.

South—Tonight and Friday showers; colder in west portion tonight; cooler Friday.

WEATHER CONDITIONS Forecaster George Reeder issued the following statement of weather conditions this morning:

The Rock Mountain low has moved eastward and overlies the central portion of the country this morning, with two centers, one near Oklahoma City and the other near Omaha, Neb., both moving east. Light rains with thunderstorms occurred over the section of country where the influence of the storm area, extending from and including the northern portion of Texas, northward to the Missouri. The rain area will extend eastward tonight.

Clearing colder weather prevails over the Rock Mountain slope, moving southeast into Texas.

GEORGE REEDER, Official in Charge.

$7,500 GIVEN AWAY!

That is the value of presents to be distributed among the buyers of lots in

FAIRVIEW!

The Fairest Addition to North Fort Worth

THESE PRESENTS CONSIST OF

- 1 six room two-story house, worth..... $1,500
- 20 lots, worth $150 each..... 3,000
- 40 gifts in GOLD, $75 each..... 3,000
- Total..... $7,500

There are 61 gifts to be distributed among the purchasers of 300 lots. One person in every five will receive a gift of $75, $150 or $1,500. Every purchaser receives a certificate that entitles him to share in the distribution of gifts aggregating $7,500 in value. These will be given away absolutely free.

Lots are 50x140 feet each. Every lot fronts a 60-foot street, and runs back to a 20-foot alley. The price of these lots is only $150 each, payable $10 cash, remainder in monthly installments of $10. No interest, no taxes, for two years.

FAIRVIEW is the prettiest location surrounding North Fort Worth. It is a short distance northwest of the packing houses and the stock yards. The price is low for the value of the lots. Others near by and worth no more are selling at $200 to $400 apiece.

Armour and Swift made Kansas City, St. Joseph and Omaha. The same men have invested millions of dollars in North Fort Worth, and are doing there what they did in the cities mentioned. Other packers are planning to come to Fort Worth. They gather in centers; where one goes, others follow, to hold their trade in that territory. When there are four or five packers doing business in Fort Worth, the price of these lots will be too high for the man of moderate means to get them. The man who buys now gets the profit of this advance.

George Mulkey has consented to act as trustee, and all moneys received from the sale of these lots will be put in his care, to guarantee the carrying out of all agreements.

TODAY'S MARKETS

NORTH FORT WORTH, April 7.—Cattle to the number of 850 were received and offered on the market today and, with the moderate supply and good conditions in the north, local trading ruled steady and active at Wednesday's prices. The general quality of steers was good, one small bunch of choice heavy fed steers, averaging 1,142 pounds, selling at $3.90, with the bulk of good fed stuff at $3.40@3.80.

All shee of desirable quality sold early at steady prices, the best heavy fed cows bringing $2.50@3, and the medium butcher stock at $2@2.50, and ordinary killing kinds and canners at $1.25@1.85.

Until the summer movement of grass cattle begins the supply of good fat cows will be scarce, as the feed lots are now pretty well thinned out of good butcher cows.

A moderate supply of 1,300 hogs were offered on the market today, and under normal conditions trading should have been on a steady basis, but with lower markets at other points, the local market showed a decline of 5c to 10c from yesterday, the bulk of the supply selling at a loss of about 5c. On the morning market nothing better than $4.35 hogs were brought, a few loads of best hogs being held or afternoon sale. At 2 o'clock one load of choice heavy territory hogs were sold for $5.10, which was 15c above the average price for good quality medium weight stuff. Texas hogs represented the bulk of the run and sold at $4.90@4.95, with a few loads of light hogs at $4.70@4.75.

A WAR INCIDENT

Even out of the foul and fetid waters of bloody war grows the white lily of compassion.

Over at Chemulpo, where the Russian squadron, after a gallant fight, was destroyed by the Japanese fleet, the latter have established a branch of the Red Cross Society for the benefit of the wounded Russians.

The stern autocracy of Russia has been touched by the humane treatment of its men and sent word through the French consul general that it would be glad to pay all the expenses of its subjects under Japanese treatment.

The Japanese authorities voiced their appreciation of Russia's kind offer, and while declining all compensation, said they would be pleased to receive any contribution to the treasury of the Red Cross Society.

The incident is significant. It proves that the serum of Christianity, inoculated into the veins of men, is working.

The humane spirit manifested in this incident may seem a feeble one compared with the rigor and cruelty of the war spirit, but it is the one hope of the future. The spirit that tenderly cares for the wounded foe will one day hesitate, and then refuse, to kill men at the command of a man.

It may be centuries before man's inhumanity to man will cease. But it will cease.

PERMANENT HEADQUARTERS

The members of the United Confederate Veterans will be surprised to learn that a movement is on foot to establish New Orleans as the permanent meeting place of the organization.

Several days ago one of the New Orleans organizations of Confederate Veterans passed resolutions favoring the selection of the Crescent City as the permanent seat of the annual reunion of Confederate Veterans, and in an interview in the Times-Democrat General Stephen D. Lee indorses the suggestion.

Speaking of this the New Orleans States says:

It is coming to be recognized that the proportions to which these annual meetings have grown have been such as to make it out of the question for them to be adequately entertained by the people of any small city, and New Orleans being the metropolis of the south, is able to do a better part in this direction than any other southern city.

These things being true, it would seem to be an appropriate time for New Orleans to take steps to extend a cordial invitation to the veterans to make this city their permanent capital.

What action the Texas members of the organization will take on the subject remains to be seen. Generally the veterans delight in going from one city to another, and the rivalry which has existed for the annual reunion has resulted in large funds for entertainment being raised by those who are successful.

able the patriotic and enthusiastic youth who compose the new organization will care to be fixed permanently at a meeting place. They are southern boys and they will have a desire to go from city to city each recurring year, that they may see more of the southland and become better acquainted with the people.

Houston has decided to adopt the referendum and hereafter all franchises must be submitted to a vote of the people. The first franchise to be submitted will be the water works extension, as the right now existing will soon expire.

The mother of Alton B. Parker says that she thrashed him when he was a boy, and that it is because of the corporal punishment of his boyhood days that he is such a good man.

It is said that Secretary John Hay has traced his family name and his discovered that it means "hedge." Is it not about time he had commenced to "hedge" a little, so as to help Teddy out?

Fort Worth people who visit the World's Fair will have cause to be proud of the exhibit from the public schools of this city. The children have done well in their work.

Mr. Watterson is evidently coming round all right. He has published a story of the life of Alton B. Parker in his editorial column.

The general opinion is that the Tazell election law is all right. If so we should be satisfied.

MUST BE PERSISTENTLY DONE

(Louisville Courier-Journal.) Mr. Andrew Van Bibber of Cincinnati is thus quoted:

"I have a friend in this city—an old schoolmate—who had only $12,000. For ten months he spent $14,000 a month in advertising, without profit. He made up his mind to let the tail go with the hide, and stuck to it with his last $2,000, and on that $2,000 his profits began, and he is now one of our solid citizens. What would have become of him if he had jacked that last $2,000 does not matter now. Very many advertisers dig a cellar and proceed no further with their building."

Advertising must be well done to pay well, and to be well done it must be persistently done. A mere venture of two is foolish. To make the desired impression the advertiser must hammer away and keep hammering away. Any blacksmith can tell you that.

BOTH MEN DIE IN PISTOL DUEL

FOLLOWING REPUBLICAN CONVENTION LIE IS PASSED WITH FATAL RESULTS

CHICAGO, April 7.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Huntington, W. Va., says: John McFarland, chief of police of North Fork, and J. A. Ballard, a lumber merchant and capitalist, are dead as a result of a pistol duel which followed the republican district convention at North Fork. The contest between William O. Dawson and Colonel Charles F. Teter for the gubernatorial nomination caused the duel. McFarland was an ardent supporter of Dawson and Ballard of Teter. They met on leaving the convention hall. The lie was passed and the shooting followed, each being killed.

STOMACH TROUBLE.

Stomach trouble is the most distressing affliction known to humanity, and takes on so many forms that it is often impossible for those without a medical education to decide from a patient's symptoms as to just what particular ailment is afflicting them.

They have indigestion, constipation, heartburn, yellow skin, coated tongue, bad taste in the mouth, liver trouble, and catarrh of the stomach.

Now all these symptoms mean simply that the stomach has grown weak, and is not properly digesting the food given it. The intensity of action in modern life, the nervous strain in business and society, and the improper mastication of the food all contribute their share towards bringing about this condition.

Many preparations have been offered to the public for the relief of those suffering from stomach trouble which aid temporarily only, for after a little the patient feels worse than before treatment. Within the last six months, however, there has been perfected a remedy for all these ailments, which absolutely reaches the seat of disease and positively cures any and all troubles of the stomach, bowels, lungs and throat.

SYNOPSIS.

Alleynne Edricson, who has spent his life in a monastery, leaves at the age of 29 to see the world. His brother, the Squire of Minstead, an arrogant, cruel man, refuses to allow him to enter the house. He saves Lady Maude, daughter of Sir Nigel Loring, a famous warrior, from his brother and is made a squire to Sir Nigel, who is about to go to France to take command of the White Company, a company of English archers, the invitation having been carried to him by Sam Aylward. Horrid John, a former brother at the monastery, joins the company. Alleynne falls in love with Maude, and she returns his love.

"Why, little coz," he whispered, "you are very eager to have your neck in a noose. By my soul! had you asked as much from our new ally Don Pedro, he had not balked you. Between friends, there is overmuch of the hangman in him, and too little of the prince. But indeed this White Company is a rough band and may take some handling ere you find yourself safe in your captivity."

"I doubt not that I shall bring them to some order," Sir Nigel answered. "But there are many faces here which are new to me, though others have been before me since first I waited upon my dear master, Sir Walter. I pray you to tell me, Sir John, who are these priests upon the dais?"

"The one is the archbishop of Bordeaux, Nigel, and the other the Bishop of Agen."

"And the dark knight with gray-streaked beard? By my troth, he seems to be a man of much wisdom and valor."

"He is Sir Wm. Fenton, who, with my unworthy self, is the chief counselor of the prince, he being high steward and I the seneschal of Aquitaine."

"And the knights upon the right, beside Don Pedro?"

"They are cavaliers of Spain who have followed him in his exile."

"And the knights upon this side?"

"They are all Englishmen, some of the household and others who, like yourself, are captains of companies."

Whilst Chandos had been conversing with the two knights a continuous stream of suitors had been ushered in, adventurers seeking to sell their swords, merchants clamoring over some grievance, a ship detained for the carriage of troops, or a tun of sweet wine which had the bottom knocked out by a troop of thirsty archers.

A few words from the prince disposed of each case, and, if the applicant liked not the judgment, a quick glance from the prince's dark eyes sent him to the door with the grievance all gone out of him.

The newcomer to whom this abrupt query had been addressed was a tall and exceedingly handsome cavalier who had just been ushered into the apartment. With stately steps and many profound bows, he advanced to the foot of the dais before replying to the prince's question.

"My powerful and illustrious master," he began, "Charles, king of Navarre, earl of Evreux, count of Champagne, who also writeth himself Overlord of Bearn, hereby sends his love and greetings to his dear cousin Edward, the prince of Wales, governor of Aquitaine, grand commander of—"

"Tush! tush! Don Martin!" interrupted the prince. "We already know our cousin's titles and style, and, certes, we know our own. To the point, man, and at once. Are the passes open to us, or does your master go back from his word pledged to me at Libourne no later than last Michaelmas?"

"It would ill become my gracious master, sire, to go back from promise given. He does but ask some delay and certain conditions and hostages—"

"Conditions! Hostages! Is he speaking to the prince of England or is it to the bourgeois provost of some half-captured town? Conditions, quotha? He may find much to mend in his own condition ere long. The passes are, then, closed to us?"

"Nay, sire—"

"They are open, then?"

"Nay, sire, if you would but—"

"Enough, enough, Don Martin," cried the prince. "It is a sorry sight to see so true a knight pleading in so false a cause. We know the doings of our cousin Charles. He sets his kingdom up to the best bidder, like some scullion farrier selling a gladdered horse. He is—" not his leave. I shall come close at the heels of this message without his leave, and bearing a key with me which shall open all that he may close."

He stooped and whispered to Sir Robt. Knolles and Sir Hugh Calverley, who smiled as men well pleased and hastened from the room.

"Our Cousin Charles has had experience of our friendship," the prince continued, "and now, by the saints! he shall feel a touch of our displeasure. I send now a message to our cousin Charles which his whole kingdom may read. Let him take heed lest worse befall him. Where is my Lord Chandos? Ha, Sir John, I commend this worthy knight to your care," and the herald of Navarre was conducted from the chamber by the old warrior.

"But I have tidings for you, my lords and leges," continued the prince. "Our brother of Lancaster is on his way for our capital with 400 lancers and as many archers to aid us in our venture. When he hath come, and when our fair consort is recovered her health, which I trust may be ere many weeks be past, we shall then join the army at Dax and set our banners to the breeze once more."

A buzz of joy at the prospect of immediate action rose up from the group of warriors. The prince smiled at the martial ardor.

"It will hearten you to know," he continued, "that I have sure advices that this Henry is a very valiant leader and that he has it in his power to make such a stand against us as promises to give us much honor and pleasure. Of his own people he hath brought together, as I learn, some 50,000, with 12,000 of the French free companies. It is certain, also, that the brave and worthy Bertrand de Guesclin hath ridden into France to the duke of Anjou, and purposes to take back with him great levies from Picardy and Brittany. We hold Bertrand in high esteem, for he has oft before been at great pains to furnish us with an honorable encounter. What think you of it, my worthy Captain? He took you at Cocherel, and, by my soul! you will have the chance now to pay that score."

The Gascon warrior winced a little at the allusion, nor were his countrymen around him better pleased, for on the only occasion when they had encountered the arms of France without English aid they had met with a heavy defeat.

"There are some who say, sire," said the burly De Clisson, "that the score is already overpaid, for that without Gascon help Bertrand had not been taken at Auray, nor had King John been overborn at Poitiers."

"By heaven! but this is too much," cried an English nobleman. "Methinks that Gascony is too small a cork to crow so lustily."

"The smaller cock, my Lord Audley, may have the longer spur," remarked the Captal de Buch.

"May have its comb clipped if it make overmuch noise," broke in an Englishman.

"By our Lady of Rocamadour!" cried the Lord of Mucident, "this is more than I can abide. Sir John Charnell, you shall answer to me for those words!"

"Froely, my lord, and when you will," returned the Englishman, carelessly.

"My Lord de Clisson," cried Lord Audley, "you look somewhat fixedly in my direction. I should be right glad to go further into the matter with you."

"And you, my Lord of Pommeres," said Sir Nigel, pushing his way to the front, "it is in my mind that we might break a lance in gentle and honorable debate over the question."

For a moment a dozen challenges flashed backwards and forwards at this sudden bursting of the cloud which had lowered so long between the knights of the two nations. Furious and gesticulating the Gascons, white and cold and sneering the English, while the prince with a half smile glanced from one party to the other, like a man who loved to dwell upon a fiery scene, and yet dreaded least the mischief go so far that he might find it beyond his control.

"Friends, friends!" he cried at last, "this quarrel must go no further. The man shall answer to me, be he Gascon or English, who carries it beyond this room. I have overmuch need for your swords that you should turn them upon each other. Sir John Charnell, Lord Audley, you do not doubt the courage of our friends of Gascony?"

"Not I, sire," Lord Audley answered. "I have seen them fight too often not to know that they are very handy and valiant gentlemen."

"And so say I," quoth the other Englishman; "but, certes, there is no fear of our forgetting it while they have a tongue in their heads."

"Nay, Sir John," said the prince, reprovingly, "all peoples have their own use and customs. There are some who might call us cold and dull and silent. But you hear, my lords of Gascony, that these gentlemen had no thought to throw a slur upon your honor or your valor, so let all anger fade from your mind. Clisson, Captal de Pommeres, I have your word?"

"We are your subjects, sire," said the Gascon barons, though with no very good grace. "Your words are our law."

"Then shall we bury all cause of unkindness in a flagon of Malvoisie," said the prince, cheerily. "Ho, there! the doors of the banquet hall! Let the servers serve and the minstrels play, while we drain a cup to the brave days that are before us in the south!" He turned away, accompanied by the two monarchs, while the rest of the company, with many a compressed lip and menacing eye, filed slowly through the side door to the great chamber in which the royal tables were set forth.

CHAPTER XVI How Alleynne Won His Place in an Honorable Guild

Whilst the prince's council was sitting, Alleynne and Ford had remained in the outer hall, where they were soon surrounded by a noisy group of young Englishmen of their own rank, all eager to hear the latest news from England.

"How is it with the old man at Windsor?" asked one.

"The devil take your tongue, Wat!" shouted a tall young man. "The prince should take your head off for those words."

"Wat would miss it but little," said another. "It is as empty as a beggar's wallet."

"As empty as an English squire, coz," cried the first speaker. "What a devil has become of the maitre-destables and his servers? They have not put forth the trestles yet."

"Mon Dieu! If a man could eat himself into knighthood, Humphrey, you had been a banneret at the least," observed another.

"And if you could drink yourself in, old leather head, you had been first baron of the realm," cried the aggrieved Humphrey. "But how of England, my lads of Loring?"

"I take it," said Ford, "that it is much as it was when you were there last, perchance that there is a little less noise there."

"Ah, that is for your wit to discover."

"Par Dieu! here is a paladin come over, with the Hampshire mud still sticking to his shoes. He means that the noise is less for our being out of the country."

"They are very quick in these parts," said Ford, turning to Alleynne. "Here is pertness!" cried the other. "Sir, I honor your truthfulness," said Ford.

"Stint it, Humphrey," said the tall squire, with a burst of laughter. "You will have little credit from this gentleman, I perceive. Tongues are sharp in Hampshire, sir."

"And swords?"

"Hum! we may prove that. In two days' time is the vepres du tournoi, when we may see if your lance is as quick as your wit."

FAVORITISM THE CAUSE OF SUICIDE

Promotions of Young Officers in the Navy Responsible for at Least One Death

NEW YORK, April 7.—It was learned this morning at the Brooklyn navy yard from an officer who was an intimate friend of Lieutenant Commander Warburton, chief engineer of the battleship Maine, that the probable reason for Lieutenant Warburton's suicide was disappointed ambition, he having several times failed to secure promotion to which he seemed to be entitled, younger men in the service being advanced over his head.

Some months ago, while the engine frames of the Maine were being repaired at the local yard, Mr. Warburton was here for several weeks, and it is known that at that time he was expecting to be assigned to the New York as fleet engineer.

Figures. We have in our files today 397 letters from territory embracing 17 states, written by grateful patients who have been finally cured of Piles.

When Dr. Caldwell's (Laxative) Syrup Pepsin was formulated it was not with the intent that it would in any way prove effective as a Pile Cure, but as the remedy became more generally known and used its superior merit as a remedy for Piles became so certainly apparent that we were led to add to our guarantee as a cure for Constipation, Indigestion, Sick Headache and Stomach Trouble, the disagreeable and serious ailment of Piles.

To those suffering from any form of Piles we say: "Try Dr. Caldwell's (Laxative) Syrup Pepsin; read carefully our article in the Booklet on this special disease; follow directions and you will add your words of praise to those who have already expressed their delight and satisfaction from the use of this remedy. 50c and $1.00 at your druggists.

of the Pacific squadron," said this officer. "Instead of his getting the appointment I went to Lieutenant Commander Gage, who was a good many numbers his junior."

"Some of his friends interested prominent politicians in his behalf and tried to induce the department to change its decision. I believe that the secretary objected to sending a man to the Pacific station who would be able to remain there but a short time. Mr. Warburton would have been promoted commander before long, and would then have had to go on shore duty, as there are no engineering officers on any of the ships with a higher rank than that of lieutenant commander."

"A short time ago there was another chance for him, when the position of fleet engineer for the North Atlantic fleet became vacant by the promotion of the engineering officer on the Kearsarge. This promotion went to an officer who was several numbers Mr. Warburton's junior, so he was again disappointed. Just a few days ago the department appointed the engineering officer for the Wisconsin. This would have been Mr. Warburton's last chance to secure an assignment as fleet engineer, and his repeated failure to secure the desired promotion no doubt moved him to end his life."

This officer further says there is growing dissatisfaction among naval officers at the present system of promoting young officers over the heads of men who are capable and in every way fitted for higher positions, and that it is a matter of common talk in the service that several mysterious suicides of officers have been due to this very cause.

There is talk now, he says, of bringing the matter before President Roosevelt in a formal manner, urging upon the president the necessity of bringing about a reform in this system which is causing serious dissatisfaction in the service and is a menace to the efficiency of the navy.

REVOLUTION IN HAYTI

Movement Under Way to Overthrow President Nord Alexis

NEW YORK, April 7.—Discovery has been made, according to a dispatch received here from Kingston, Jamaica, that a plot is under way for a revolution in Hayti to overthrow General Nord Alexis, the president of that republic. It appears that there are two factions engaged, each headed by a general.

According to Professor Mosso people are able to live longer the more their nerves are enfeebled. The less robust a person is, he points out, the abler he is to resist the ravages of time and disease.

SOME CURIOS IN THE EXHIBITION AT THE LIBRARY

An Enumeration of the Very Rare Articles Which Are to Be Shown by the Ladies Arranging the Display

The people of Fort Worth are responding generously to the call for loans for the Loan Exhibition and up to the present time over two hundred curiosities have been secured.

Daily they come pouring in—old pictures, antique china, Indian war clubs, historic letters, in fact relics and heir looms of every description.

From Baltimore there comes a letter of George Washington, written during the Revolution, asking the people of Maryland to tender support to his starving army.

This letter is the property of a Mr. Morgan of Baltimore and has a varied and interesting history.

Another rather unique curiosity relating to Washington is a cup presented by the South Carolina Agricultural society to the general for raising the biggest breeding jack.

There will also be on exhibition a painting by the famous landscape painter, George Inness.

From Calvert, Texas, a rather out-of-the-way place, a genuine Van Dyke has been secured.

Mr. and Mrs. Kinney, the famous illustrators, who attracted so much attention as the illustrators of the book "Thrill of Lief the Lucky," will exhibit several of their original drawings.

THREE MORE CONVENTIONS MEET HERE

Fort Worth Continues to Hold the Distinction of Being the Leading Convention City of the State of Texas

Fort Worth continues to be the leading convention city in Texas. On the 20th and 21st of this month the people of this city will have the opportunity of entertaining delegates of three different state organizations—the Natives and Pioneers of the Republic of Texas, the Texas Veterans and the Daughters of the Republic.

The youngest "natives" of the republic of Texas are now 57 years of age, and there is no telling how old the eldest members are. All these will meet in Fort Worth to discuss reminiscences, incidents and to put into shape the items of unwritten history that may have been compiled through personal observation, tradition or otherwise, since the last meeting held in Waco, April 21, last.

The meeting April 29 is designed more than otherwise to partake of a social nature and to afford the members an opportunity to visit the Daughters of the Republic, who will also have their convention on that day in Fort Worth.

All persons who were born in Texas, or who emigrated to this state prior to the annexation of Texas to the United States, on the 24th day of December, 1845, are eligible to membership in the order of Natives and Pioneers of the Republic of Texas.

The Daughters of the Republic now have permanent and successful organization, with local chapters in different parts of the state, and are making their influence be felt to no inconsiderable degree, notably in the protection of the Alamo.

It is expected that there will be present a large number of members of this organization.

It has not yet been decided where these three associations will hold their sessions. This matter will be provided for in due time, says Captain Paddock.

HAD VALUABLES IN "BAGGY" TROUSERS

All Sorts of Things Hidden Away on Person of Houston Vagrant

HOUSTON, Texas, April 7.—Padded like a girl in front row of a chorus, a white man was led into police headquarters Tuesday night, docketed by Detective Smith and Lee for misdemeanor theft and searched. A white shirt, a ring and about a bushel of tobacco were taken from the sagggy places about a pair of very saggy trousers. The booty is alleged to have been taken from the store conducted by A. Levy, in the First ward. At the same time a watch and other valuables were lost.

The search was spectacular. Without coat, the man stood in the breeze looking like a transfer van or a walking store house. The end of a piece of white cloth protruded where strained connections gave promise of some discovery. Out came the tail, bosom and sleeves of a starched white shirt.

"Say, I always did wear pads," he ejaculated, as the article of clothing was held up in front of his eyes. The search continued. Down in his shoes was found a ring.

"Must a' slipped off my toe," explained the bum as he wriggled the bare ends of a dirty foot that showed through a place where a sock had once been placed. "I always did claim that an opal brings bad luck."

His single suspender was slipped from a sloping shoulder. The man stood trouserless, surrounded by drifts of tobacco in sack and plugs that had been stored around his legs and waist.

"Say, whatter you all searchin' me fer?" inquired the man. "Can't a man wear tobacco just to keep the moths out and not be arrested?"

Some day this week he will be escorted to the county road by an officer and set to work where the necessities of dress and the fables of fashion have less attraction than the quality of meals and the figures on a calendar.

SEEN AND HEARD AT THE CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 7.—An old song with new words has appeared in congressional circles. Mr. Sherman and Mr. Tawney, the sweetest tenors in public life, and leaders of the house chorus, have placed the music-loving public under obligations to themselves for having brought it out. The title is "Our Good Old Uncle Joe," and it goes to the tune of "I Smoked My Last Cigar."

We have with us a pleasant guest One whom we love to know; Of all the good souls the rarest, best, His friends call Uncle Joe.

Oh, he's a man to know, This same old Uncle Joe; Search high and low, The stars below, There's none like Uncle Joe.

This song was first rendered at a recent festive gathering at the residence of Representative Sibley of Pennsylvania, when he entertained in honor of ex-Speaker Henderson, Messrs. Tawney and Sherman made a decided hit in their rendering, particularly with the following:

He's a witty, wise and tactful man, His words do easy flow; He seldom bets a bob-fall flush, Our esteemed Uncle Joe. There were several stanzas of like heartfelt tribute, but enough has been given to convey an idea of the spirit of the tuneful lay.

Representative Griegs of Georgia is the greatest patriot of the American goober in congress. His average consumption is five or six small bags a day. But as the house has no peanut counter, the Georgian goes for his supply to a vendor in the senate restaurant. Every morning a page from the democratic cloak room appears with a handful of nickels and purchases peanuts enough to last Mr. Griegs during the afternoon and till the meeting of congress the next afternoon.

Representative Kittredge Haskins of Vermont is a lay reader in the Episcopal church at Brattleboro. He is also a lawyer, and on occasion is capable of employing emphatic language. Over at the senate there is a doorkeeper, A. J. Maxham, noted as a campaign singer, whose home is also in Brattleboro. When the rector of the little church at Brattleboro is unable to be present because of duties elsewhere, Colonel Haskins and Mr. Maxham practically run the church. Colonel Haskins preaches and Maxham sings. A story is told about a prolonged absence of the rector, which put upon Colonel Haskins unexpectedly the duty of conducting the Sunday service. He met Maxham, who said that he could not sing that Sunday. "Not sing!" exclaimed the colonel hotly. "Well, now, Maxham, if you don't sing, I'll be—"

Right here Colonel Haskins hesitated a moment, and, as a guilty look came into his eye, added: "If I'll preach." But Maxham agreed to sing, and there was no occasion for Colonel Haskins to explain that hiatus in his remark.

A good humored passage between Senators Depew and Carmack some days ago recalled an incident of Indiana politics many years back. Senator Depew had remarked that he was born and reared a democrat, but had changed after he grew older and wiser. Mr. Carmack retorted that he had once heard of another distinguished republican who had said the same thing, and that his democratic opponent had replied: "So Satan, as he trod the burning marl of hell, boasted that he, too, was once an angel of light."

Such was the reply that former Senator Turpie made to Oliver P. Morton. The exchange between Mr. Depew and Mr. Carmack was entirely good natured, but one can imagine the intense bitterness of tone and manner with which this retort was uttered by David M. Turpie.

Almost every day when the senate is in session, Mr. McNery of Louisiana, has a bill to introduce for some southern claimant. Saturday, just as Senator Allison was suavely getting under way with consideration of the district bill, the aged Louisiana senator stood up, waving a bit of paper in one hand and uttering some words that were inaudible. "I will yield with pleasure to the senator," said Mr. Allison, bowing low, for no other senator is more courteous than he. "I suppose it is something brief and will lead to no debate."

Mr. McNery also bowed low, and the bit of paper went flying to the clerk's desk in the hand of a small page. There was no debate, as Mr. McNery promised, but the bill proved, to Mr. Allison's consternation, to be a very long one, for the relief of co-owners of Cat Island down in the Gulf of Mexico. The reading occupied half an hour, during which Mr. Allison sat nervously in his chair. Then the senate passed the bill and Mr. McNery departed from the chamber smiling grimly at his coup on the republican leader.

Neither Did the Foreman Care to Show Permit to the Beast

CUBA, Kan., April 7.—John Rockhill, farmer, objected to a gang of telephone men setting poles in his pasture and was confronted with a legal-looking document which the foreman said entitled them to set poles anywhere. The old farmer turned a savage bull into the pasture. As the brute chased the telephone gang over the fence and out of the lot, Rockhill called after them: "Show him your paper! Show him your paper!" An injunction suit against Rockhill and his bull may be asked.

"Perhaps its because its too easy to shut them off."

WALKING STICKS IN FAVOR AGAIN

The cane is destined to regain its former popularity. In such correct form is the hand stick now regarded that "those who know" make the statement that an Easter boulevardier will not be in proper trim without a medium heavy cane. In the matter of selection a wide latitude is afforded, both curved and flat handles being in order. The most favored bodies include stained bamboo, Ceylon and malacca with antler crook. Heavy woods, as a rule, are eschewed for the current season. A feature of the stick redoubtable is that greater length is noticeable. The wearer of whatever size is expected to carry a longer cane than really fits him if he would be a la mode.

THE HABITS OF THE SAND CRAB

The Galveston Variety Work
Devastation on Fort Worth Team

The Sandcrab is a queer animal. While it appears at times to have only two feet, it travels several times faster than many bipeds and also, unlike most bipeds, can hop some. It has no eyes in the back of its head, but in front are eyes, called batting eyes, for the reason that they use only one kind of bat, but can deliver many kinds of goods with it. It has an assortment of arms. Some are right and some are left, and some are right to get the other fellow left. But it is the habits of the Sandcrab that distinguish it from other animals of its kind. It sometimes takes long journeys from home and insinuates itself into the good graces of kindhearted folks, but fails to tell of the many ways it uses its eyes and legs and hands. And after it has been warmed at the hearthstone of the aforesaid kind-hearted folks and has been taken to the place called Haines Park, where all other animals are wont to disport themselves, it falls upon the simple-minded folks and pecks the "japs" and delivers stinging blows, thereby causing much mental pain and anguish to a familiar domestic animal called the "rooster" that is often seen at this park.

The Sandcrab is divided into nine parts. Lullich of the first part can play ball some. He can make a "jap" think it is a ball and at the same time make the "Big Boss" think it is a strike.

The ball is the favorite toy of the Sandcrab. He can do most anything with it. But he likes best to hit it and send it to where the Johnson grass is not cut.

That part of the Sandcrab called Latham can turn this trick two times in four.

Conrad, who is that part of the Sandcrab called short, can also hit the ball two out of four times. And that is not all he can do. He can run like a scared chaparral and can get home before the "japs" have time to address their invitation.

But though the Sandcrabs can do all these things, they have not yet learned to steal without being caught. Latham promises to improve Boles, McMurray, Reitz, Patterson and a few other slick-footed "japs" will give him some more lessons.

The "japs," though acquainted with some other animals not acclimated, were not prepared for the native article, and when the usual drab and which caucus to decide what species of the genus baseballibus had come among them.

Tuller guessed easily the whereabouts of the Sandcrab's claws and pulled out two from Lullich. One was twice the length of the usual drab, and when Patterson plucked out one "just as easy," Tuller blew the whistle for a clear track and everybody got out of the way, while he cycloned home and out of danger.

The Sandcrabs, Latham, Gordon and Schaezke, traveled backward by attempting to go forward on a fly to Sullivan. Wise Sandcrabs should know when they can not fly.

When the Sandcrabs came out to play for the sixth time a funny thing happened. Aiken quit quick because of a misplaced effort to fly in the direction of Poindexter. Latham hit the ball and the Big Boss told him he might stay at his first playground. Brandt also got the chance to go to first on a nice tap on the ball, whereupon McMurray saw a chance to get in the game. He sent the ball to second and stopped Latham's little steal. Brandt got excited and in trying to find out what was taking place on second got a few feet farther away than even nice Sandcrabs are allowed to play and was nipped by the ball before he could step back to the base.

The Sandcrab is a nice animal, but he is queer. The score:

OPENING DAY OF THE WILD WEST FOR THE SEASON

After Wintering in This City, the Buckskin Bill Attraction Starts on a Tour

The streets along the line of the Buckskin Bill's historic wild west street parade this morning were packed with thousands of persons not only residents of the city, but hundreds of excursionists from the surrounding towns and from the country. The pageant was a few minutes late in leaving the show grounds, owing to the threatening weather, but the immense crowd took the delay patiently and passed the interval in good natured visiting and equipment, and proved a splendid advertisement for the afternoon show. "Buckskin Bill," the renowned scout, sitting on his historic Buckskin horse, led the cavalcade and with his immense retinue gave the people a genuine wild west parade, which will long be remembered.

The outside free exhibition just before the big show opening was witnessed by a crowd which jammed the capacious show lots, and stretched away into the streets adjoining. The high dive under ordinary conditions is a perilous exhibition, but as given today was certainly a marvelous display of nerve as well as athletic skill. The universal verdict of the thousands who saw it was that the free feature was worth seeing. The show opened promptly on time, 2 o'clock, and for a half hour the ticket takers were worked to the limit in admitting the surging crowd. Inside a corp of courteous ushered spectators seated the people, and when the gong sounded for the grand entrance the great arena was the center of a sea of expectant faces.

It was a great cosmopolitan gathering to enjoy an amusement treat, and such a show proved to be. Of course, where there were so many features, and such an array of acts, it was impossible in the opening show of the season to avoid a few delays, and some of the work showed a lack of finished rehearsal, but this would naturally be looked for in the first show. The Tantlinger team trap and bicycle shots, the Streater Zouave drill, the cavalry drills in troops, the rough riding, and bronco busting, the Cossacks' daredevil feats of horsemanship, and the petting show of Lone Star May were some of the features enjoyed by the great crowd. The threatening weather did not deter the immense crowd, and inside the show could have been comfortably enjoyed if the rain had been pouring, as the seats are all canopied with a specially prepared water proof canvas, which insures immunity from the weather. The show will be liberally patronized this evening, and no one who attends will regret having witnessed Buckskin Bill's Historic Wild West opening for the season of 1904. The show grounds are on East Front street, opposite the ball park. Trolley cars go direct to the lot.

One of the leading attractions with the Buckskin Bill wild west show, which appeared here this afternoon, is D. V. Tantlinger and his wife, the famous trap shooters. Mr. Tantlinger is one of the crack shots of this country, and his reputation extends from coast to coast. He uses the Winchester rifle altogether and shoots from both horse and bicycle while in motion. He is said to be the only man in the world who does rifle shooting from a bicycle while in motion. This is Mr. Tantlinger's third visit to Fort Worth. His first visit here several years ago was with this same show, he again visiting Fort Worth a year ago with the Frank James and Cole Younger show. With Mr. Tantlinger is his wife, who is as adept with the gun as is her husband. Both have been made recipients of a number of handsome guns from manufacturing companies in recognition of their ability as marksmen.
In his exhibition in shooting from a running horse Mr. Tantlinger employs an Indian, who gallops ahead and throws up the little rosin balls which are broken as fast as can be thrown by the Indian.

Tonight there is to be a double show for one price of admission. Della Pringle and her excellent stock company will present the good old melo-drama, "The Dangers of a Great City," and after that is over the amateur show will take place for a cash prize. There are already a number of local artists entered for the contest and any one wishing to try for the prize can leave the name at the box office of the opera house. Last night Miss Pringle and her company presented "The Mansion of Aching Hearts." The play was favorably received and Miss Pringle and her supporting company are fast gaining favor with theater goers. Friday night $15 in gold will be given away. There will be a matinee of "Thelma" Friday at 2:15.

EZRA KENDALL

"Jap Miller," the poem from which Ezra Kendall's new play, "The Vinegar Buyer," which comes to Greenwall's opera house Saturday matinee and night, April 9, was taken, owns a little store in Brooklyn, Ind. One of his townspeople went to Jap and asked him to save $10 for him. Jap took the money and in less than an hour everyone in the village knew it. The next day four or five men appeared with small sums of money and asked Jap to save it for them. Joe acquiesced, but was soon in the possession of about $120, and it began to worry him. He took the money from his cash drawer and hid it under the mattress of his bed at home. He had no safe. Jap began to feel a responsibility and remarked a number of times about the honor bestowed upon him. "I tell y' I appreciated it when y' made me mayor of Brooklyn, but when y' elected me banker I got to know what real responsibility was," he said. One afternoon one of Jap's banking customers came in and asked if he could draw a couple of dollars. "No," answered Jap. "It's funny I can't have the money when it belongs to me," declared the exasperated customer. "I kin loan y' a couple of dollars uv my own, but y' kaint have your money," insisted Jap. "Well, what's the difference, my money or your money?" "Kaint let y' have your money because kaint y' see its after 4 o'clock?"

MARIE FOUNTAIN THEATER CO

The Marie Fountain Theater Company will open a week's engagement at Greenwall's opera house commencing Monday night, April 11, with matinees Wednesday and Saturday, with the exception of Thursday night, when another attraction holds the boards. The opening play Monday night will be "For Baby's Sake." A change of bill at each performance and popular prices to prevail throughout the engagement. On Monday, the opening night, ladies are to be admitted free when accompanied by a person with a paid 30 cent ticket if purchased before 6 p. m. Monday.

The Houston Post, among other things, had the following to say of this company: "The Marie Fountain Theater Company last night played to a large audience. The specialties were excellent."

"HOITY TOITY"

If you don't believe that "Hoity Toity," that "mighty monarch of merry musical plays," as it has been aptly termed, and which is indisputably the most luxuriously extravagant of all Weber & Fields' many productions, contains more hearty laughs, more good, bright, snappy music, which encourages the art of whistling, and a chorus that is more sprightly, beautiful and gingersy than any other musical comedy that you can recall, just take a quiet tip and secure your seat for Thursday night, April 14, at the Greenwall opera house.

"A FRIEND OF THE FAMILY"

On Monday matinee and night, April 13, as a benefit tendered Treasurer Mitchell W. Greenwall, W. E. Gorman's furiously funny "A Friend of the Family," will be given a hearing at the Greenwall opera house.

The Fargo, N. D., Call had the following to say of the play and players: "A Friend of the Family" played to a good house last night at the opera house. The comedy is clean and full of bright and funny climaxes. The cast, headed by George W. Barnum and Alice Johnson, is uniformly good.

The people of the play get into all sorts of mix-ups and comical situations over a former sweetheart of Bartley Swift, who has married Swift's father-in-law. She comes to pay the family a visit and causes a great deal of confusion in Swift's household. Alice Johnson takes the role of Nancy Noyes, the dashing widow of Edmond Miller. She was repeatedly encored. George W. Barnum is in love with Aurelia Miller, is very handsome. Emil LaCroix as the count de Brissac, is also good.

Dr. Howard Co. Make a Special Price

The Dr. Howard Company have entered into an arrangement with H. T. Pangburn & Co.'s drug store, by which a special introductory offer will be made of 25 cents on the 50 cent size of their celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia.

This medicine is a new discovery for the cure of all diseases of the stomach and bowels. It not only gives quick relief, it makes permanent cures. So remarkably successful has Dr. Howard's specific been in curing constipation, dyspepsia and all forms of liver trouble, that H. T. Pangburn & Co. will return the price paid in every case where it does not give relief. The old-fashioned idea of dosing with mineral waters, cathartic pills or harsh purgatives will soon be a thing of the past. The best physicians are prescribing Dr. Howard's specific, both because it is so remarkable a medicine and on account of the small dose that is needed. It does not give relief.

I notice that when I sell a bottle they come back for more. I can honestly recommend it." 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold by H. T. Pangburn & Co.

MOTHER HAD NINE OF THE CHILDREN, BUT KIDNAPED THE OTHER TWO

Husband Caught the Trail in Time to Keep Her From Bagging the Entire Family

KANSAS CITY, April 7.—Mrs. Lena Schneider, Chicago, is believed to be entitled to the championship belt for maternal instinct. John and Lena Schneider did not get along well together, so they parted. Mrs. Schneider repairing to Chicago with nine of the children, while her husband remained here with the other two. But Mrs. Schneider longed for the two absent ones, came here and kidnaped them while her husband was at work. He caught the trail just in time to keep her from starting with them to rejoin the other nine. The train was held while the police took the youngsters from her.

RAILROAD RUMBLINGS

There has been much discussion during the past few days over the recent annual election of the directors and officers of the Fort Worth and Rio Grande division of the Frisco. As was noted yesterday, there was only one change made in the officers of that division—the retirement of L. B. Comer, the vice president, who was succeeded by H. M. Pickinger.

Mr. Comer is still an officer of the Red River, Texas and Southern, but as previously stated, he will be succeeded by Mr. Pickinger at a meeting to be held in May. All these changes do not mean that Mr. Comer is not to be connected with the Frisco system. It simply means that he will likely receive a promotion in the shape of a lucrative position, from what has been intimated in this city. It was learned late last evening that Mr. Comer is to be placed at the head of the live stock department of the Frisco system, a position of great importance. At present Zack Mulhall is general live stock agent of the Frisco. It is not known whether the prospective promotion of Mr. Comer means the displacement of Mr. Mulhall or not.

Mr. Comer has been called to St. Louis by the high officials of the Frisco. He will go to St. Louis in a few days. His going is believed by railroad people here to mean that something good is in store for Mr. Comer, who is conceded to be among the very best traffic men in the country. His friends in Texas, especially in Fort Worth, will be gratified to learn that he has been given an important position among the Frisco officials.

EXCESSIVE SWITCHING CHARGES
According to statements just made ten western railroads lost $1,250,000 during 1903 by paying excessive switching charges to industrial railroads. This statement is made in a report which has just been submitted to the executive officials of western lines by an expert to examine and report upon the system of switching in vogue in Chicago.

Although the report does not so state, it intimates that the excessive compensation paid the industrial roads amounts to rebates within the interpretation of the Elkins law. Several railroads, originally built to facilitate the business of manufacturing plants, are mentioned in the report. The report declares that although these roads were constructed first to facilitate the business of the manufacturing companies owning them, they are now able to compel the railroads to pay them as high as $25 a car merely switching from one track to another.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC SYSTEM
A dispatch from San Francisco says that it is announced from the office of Mr. Kruttschnitt that the position of assistant general manager of the Oregon Short Line, formerly held by E. E. Galvin, now general manager of the Oregon

Railroad and Navigation Company, has been abolished.

E. Buckingham is appointed general superintendent of this company, with headquarters at Salt Lake. His jurisdiction will extend over the Salt Lake division of the Southern Pacific and also that portion of the Union Pacific from Ogden to Green River.

J. L. Guder will become Mr. Buckingham's successor as superintendent of transportation on the Union Pacific's western division of the Rock Island. Previous to going with the Rock Island, Mr. Guder was assistant general superintendent of the Great Northern Railroad Company.

HAS NO JURISDICTION

The Texas railroad commission has decided that it has no jurisdiction in the matter of requiring the Texas and Pacific Railroad Company to reinstate its live stock interstate rate which was recently withdrawn. The Texas and Pacific advised the commission that it took out the interstate rate on live stock in order to prevent its cars going beyond its own line. The railroad made the statement to the commission that where it formerly required 5,000 cattle cars to handle the business, it now takes only 500 cars.

INTERNATIONAL CHANGES

S. B. Boughton, soliciting freight agent of the International and Great Northern railroad at Houston, has resigned to accept the local agency of the International at Italy.

H. M. Dubose, local agent at Italy, has been appointed to succeed Mr. Boughton. The change was made to suit the convenience of both parties. The change was effective yesterday.

WESTERN FREIGHT RATE TROUBLES

Western railroads have been unable to induce the Great Western to withdraw its targe tariffs, which roads maintains these tariffs because it claims it is obliged to do so for self-protection, so long as the Wisconsin Central maintains these tariffs.

A Chicago dispatch says: The western freight rate situation was further demoralized today by the Frisco's action in putting in a cut rate on cast iron pipe. The cut is from Birmingham to Fort Dodge, the new rate being $5, as against $7.50. Frisco officials stated, however, that the quotation of the rate is an error.

THE GEORGETOWN EXTENSION

The statement is now made that the extension of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas from Georgetown to Austin will be finished between May 1 and 15. The statement was made after a conference between the citizens' committee of Austin and President Henry Rouse.

The people of Austin are making elaborate preparations for celebrating the completion of the extension. The Katy management has agreed to turn over that part of the new line from Georgetown to Granger to the citizens of Austin to be used on that day as the committee may see fit. It is probable that an excursion will be planned.

The announcement has been made that the entire right of way for the extension

TWO MEN SEEK HONOR

Beveridge and Cousins Rivals for Chairmanship of Convention

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Iowa and Indiana will compete for the honor of the chairman of the republican national convention at Chicago in June. If the contest waxes as warm as it promises to do, and the friends of the two principal candidates for the honor—Senator Beveridge and Representative Cousins—continue their importunities to members of the national committee, it is suggested that in sheer desperation it may be decided to announce that no member of either house of congress will be considered for the honor. Friends of Beveridge insist that he should be recognized because of the yeoman service he has done in the senate and because he is a young man who can make a magnetic and masterful speech along orthodox republican lines.

Cousins is a great big, massive-headed, clear-complexioned, high tariff son of Iowa who has no patience with the "Iowa idea" and who believes that the greatest calamity that could befall the party now would be to persist in tariff revision agitation, and there are many who believe that nothing could be more salutary than a negative speech from the home of the lair where the revisionists thrive. Cousins has the vote, the facts and the personal force, and many members of the house approve of his name being put forward and will support him.

THE PANAMA STRIKE

No Prospect for an Early Settlement of the Difficulties

NEW YORK, April 7.—There seems to be no prospect of an early settlement of the strike on the Panama railroad, according to a Herald dispatch from Panama. Considerable inconvenience already has been caused to shippers.

In Panama bay about eight steamers are unable to load or unload their cargoes and more vessels are arriving every day.

Supplies which recently arrived from the warships are being handled by blue jackets.

NATURALIZATION BILL

New Requirements Proposed for Prospective Citizens

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The subject of naturalizations, fraudulent and otherwise, has been occupying the attention of the house committee on immigration and naturalization. A representative of the district attorney of the city of New York has been before the committee, of which Representative Robb of Missouri is a member, explaining the provisions of the Golden Bill. This bill was prepared under direction of the district attorney of New York, and has been passed upon by the attorney general. Fraudulent naturalization was not confined to New York state, the New York attorney said, but prevailed in all sections of the country. Members of the committee recalled that it has been practiced at St. Louis. Among the requirements of the proposed measure is one compelling the applicant for naturalization to first file a certificate stating his age, the country from whence he came, the name of the ship he came on, where he landed and other details, which will serve as identification, such certificate being first recorded on his landing.

UNPROFITABLE FEEDING

Intelligent stock raisers know that a certain amount of feed is necessary to keep an animal alive. They might feed that amount as long as it lives, and it would never gain a pound. There is no profit in that kind of feeding. The kind that pays is the kind that builds flesh rapidly. If it takes twenty pounds of food each day to keep a sheep alive, twenty-five pounds a day will make it gain flesh. It's the extra five that brings the profit. The first five pounds amounts to nothing, nor does the second or third or fourth five pounds.

It's the same way with advertising. You have to do a certain amount to overcome the resistance of the public.

You have to do a certain amount of advertising to make them wake up to the fact that you are in business at all. You have to pay a certain amount to keep your advertising alive. What you pay above that amount brings profit.

Some advertisers fail because they do not use enough space. They use barely enough or sometimes not quite enough to make the advertising self sustaining. A little bit more would make it profitable. It is better to advertise a little too much than not quite enough.—Charles Austin Bates.

Some of our advertisers could enlarge their space with profit.

THINGS TO EAT

Prices on fruits and spring vegetables remain steady. The recent rains have made both the supply and quality good. Eastern markets, however, are still offering high prices for strawberries, which makes them scarce and expensive here. Although warm weather is practically here, chickens remain high and scarce.

COTTON BELT IS OUT

It Withdraws from Memphis Because of Rate Contention

On account of a contention between the Cotton Belt management and the southwestern freight bureau over a satisfactory freight rate on commodities from competitive points to Memphis, the Cotton Belt has withdrawn from that city. The new order went into effect yesterday, and until further orders the Cotton Belt will route all passengers from Texas via Brinkley, Ark., over the Choctaw route, which will give passengers the same connection at Memphis as they formerly enjoyed. They will be landed in Memphis at 8 a. m. and 7:50 p. m. This change of route will necessitate passengers changing at Brinkley and the Choctaw use the same depot at Brinkley and the wait there is short.

It will not work a hardship on passengers and will be more than counterbalanced by the fact that all passengers will be landed at Memphis union depot, thereby avoiding transfer to any of its connecting lines. The Cotton Belt has heretofore used the Iron Mountain depot at Memphis, necessitating transfer. By this change the Rock Island system will be the beneficiaries. In addition to the business it will receive from the Cotton Belt, the Choctaw route is also handling much business that comes to it from the Frisco at Holdenville; the Katy at South McAlester; the Santa Fe at Ardmore and Oklahoma City; the Rock Island Southern line at El Reno, and the Fort Worth and Denver City at Amarillo.

COMMON SENSE VIEW OF GREAT UNION MOVEMENT

Sidney J. Kent, General Organizer, Addresses a Large Audience Last Night

JUDGMENT MUST BE USED WITH STRENGTH

A Careful and Conservative Speech on the Subject of Organized Labor

Sidney J. Kent, general organizer of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, gave a common sense view of the union movement to an audience of both union and non-union carpenters at the Labor Temple last night, the number present being almost equal to large audiences that have been in attendance at the joint union rallies being held in the city tri-weekly. A noticeable feature of the gathering last night was the large number of ladies present, who applauded to the echo when Mr. Kent bespoke immortality for the union, if for nothing else for the one fact alone that they had emancipated the women of the English mines, who were able to get on their feet in pulling cars because they were cheaper than mules.

MR. KENT'S ADDRESS
In part Mr. Kent said: "I have not visited your city since the spring of 1893, when I was on my way to Galveston to take part in the struggle for the eight-hour day there, and I am glad to see the immense improvement of the city, both in the way of things physical and in the splendid increase of unionism. Today I am glad to greet you as the banner carpenters' union of Texas, with an eight-hour day and a minimum scale the highest in the state."

"It now becomes your duty to use the greatest common sense and judgment in retaining what you have accomplished, for there is ever danger when success comes upon you and with power comes responsibility. "Before you learn to run the government you must learn to run yourself. Will power to control yourself is requisite to the governing of others. The day of winning fights by hip-hurrah is past. You should let good judgment rule. The time is now here when calm intelligence and judgment should rule your body."

"Trades unions are not foreign to American institutions. I wish you could all have been present with me to witness the last Labor Day parade in Philadelphia, the birthplace of American institutions, and could have seen proudly waving at the head of the thousands of marching workers the silken banner of the Carpenters' Union of Philadelphia, organized in 1735. That banner as it passed through the streets recalled to every one the days when those who feared for an ill effect on 'business' ousted the Continental congress from Independence Hall, then the town hall, and the little band of carpenters down the street threw open their doors to that band of patriots."

"When the ten-hour law was passed in 1849 and signed by President John Buren, people held up their hands in horror and said we would never be able to compete with other countries working so much longer. But what was the result? Within a few years four patents had been registered at Washington, doing far more work than have been done by all the workers toiling at their old hours. With 1849 a new era for the union man was ushered in and from that on he ceased to be a mere mass of muscle, but to be a thing of brains."

"Last Labor Day 3,000,000 men marched under the union banners in the various parts of the country—men enough to dictate the policy of the nation, would they but vote together. "Wherever you find civilization and enlightenment there you find unionism strongest. The United States stands first, Great Britain second, Australia and New Zealand third, Germany fourth, France fifth and Japan, as soon as she began to be civilized, began to organize. There is no labor movement in Spain, and practically none in Russia. The caste system still remains a system to a certain extent in Spain, while in Russia the commune system prevails."

TWO GREAT CAUSES OF GROWTH
"The two great causes for growth of the union movement are, first, the desire of the workmen to give their children better educations and more advantages than they themselves were able to attain. The second cause is the change in industrial conditions from the time when the old wagonmaker was journeyman, capitalist and middleman himself, to the present day, when he is merely a toiler in a prison-like factory."

therefore I will work longer for less money, and another with two children will work longer still, and so on. Labor should not be treated in this way like commodities, because back of the worker is his duty to the government and society to protect and care for his offspring.

"The union desires to treat the worker justly," he continued. "I am an agitator. Agitation has made this country as great as it is. The unrest of the people has caused the western country to be settled up. When the country gets so as to want to rest then it begins to decay. The carpenter is restless and is not being paid enough. While we are the greatest producers of wealth the world has ever seen, still the distribution is not just. The average wages paid the wage earner is $400 per year, while men like Morgan and Schwab, who do not produce anything but on the other hand manipulate schemes that to many appear rather detrimental than beneficial to the country, reach down into the produce of the country and take, one $30,000,000 and the other $175,000,000 in a single year. I do not believe every Pole should get the same, for some deserve more than others, but I do believe that the present inequality of distribution is dangerous."

"The day has come when men should be more than hewers of wood and drawers of water. Today workingmen everywhere are striving for knowledge, as attested by the 3,000,000 students in the correspondence schools, studying after their day's work to get that knowledge of which they were deprived in youth."

"Unionism stands for the raising of the standard of living, and when this standard is raised, the country is raised, and when the standard falls the country falls. For this reason we oppose the entrance of foreigners with a low standard of living into the country, not because they are Russians or Poles, but because they have a low standard and thus can live in their way upon less than the American workman with his standard."

Mr. Kent then closed with the statement that although men might object to the actions of some unions, yet all things are human, are liable to err, and that they could be adopted and after a full discussion of all measures presented the following were indorsed and given preference:

DEWY STONE CREATED ANY BAD FEELING

The Fact Remains, However, That Members of the Railway Unions Didn't Like His Ideas Favoring Open Shop

While members of the different railway unions who held a joint session yesterday afternoon disclaim that bad feeling was engendered by the remarks of Grand Chief Stone of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, who publicly gave utterance during his speech at the Tabernacle Monday night favoring the "open shop," the fact remains that the matter has been considered even by members of the order of which Mr. Stone is the head, who are of adverse opinion on the question.

The effort to prevent a breach was successfully manipulated by the members of the conference held yesterday, still there was considerable bad feeling over the statement of Chief Stone. It was thought at one time there would be an open rupture between the members of the unions and the State Federation of Labor, the latter being composed of labor unions which are strictly against the open shop. The matter was discussed by the conference and the conservative element was able to pour oil on the turbulent waters, thus causing a calm that at one time looked as if it would result in open revolt. Members of the conference say that the question was not seriously considered, but from individual members The Telegram learns that the question was debated at some length.

As a result it is likely that no official resolution of Chief Stone's remarks on the open shop will be taken by the Federation of Labor, notwithstanding the fact that the members who were in attendance on the meeting were very much displeased with the position held by Mr. Stone.

LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEES IN JOINT SESSION

The legislative committees of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, the Order of Railway Conductors, the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, the Order of Railway Telegraphers and the Texas Federation of Labor met in joint session in the Labor Temple yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. There was a large attendance of members of all the committees—more than 200 being present in the hall. The joint meeting was organized by the election of Walton Petzet of San Antonio, representing the State Federation of Labor, as chairman, and O. E. Petty of Austin, representing the Order of Railway Telegraphers, as secretary.

The legislation desired by the different organizations was taken up and fully discussed. The system of preferential legislation was adopted and after a full discussion of all measures presented the following were indorsed and given preference:

A law requiring all children between certain ages to attend school a reasonable number of months each year, and the establishment of a bureau of labor and such an amendment to the existing anti-trust law as will make clear that this law is not intended to punish labor organizations. Numerous other measures were discussed and referred to the joint labor legislative board, which will have charge of labor's interest at the next session of the legislature.

The recommendations of the last joint board that all labor organizations join in the creation of an efficient joint labor legislative board was concurred in and action taken which insures perfect unanimity of all branches of labor on all matters affecting state legislation. This board will consist of the legislative representatives chosen by the six organizations represented in the conference, and will very probably hold its first session and effect an organization today.

Resolutions were adopted as follows: Extending the thanks of the convention to those who have rendered assistance to labor at the last session of the legislature; to Hon. Chis Cailan of Bexar county, member of the legislature, for his efforts in behalf of labor legislation; thanking the members of the retiring state legislative board and commending their course during the last legislature; thanking the people of Fort Worth for their hospitality and the Trades Assembly for courtesies extended.

This is the first time in the history of Texas that all these branches of labor have ever met in joint session. Heretofore, each one of the different organizations has sought its own reforms and endeavored to secure legislation by its own efforts. Their action in getting together in this manner is looked on by labor representatives as a favorable indication that the time is rapidly approaching when labor will stand closer than it ever has before. Texas is the first state in the union to effect such a joint board.

Immediately after the adjournment of the conference the legislative committee of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen met and presented to their retiring chairman a beautiful gold ring, with the monogram of the order in gold, on black agate. Mr. Lawson was chairman of this board for several years and attended the sessions of the legislature for the past six years. During the last session he was chairman of the joint state board and probably has a wider acquaintance with the members of the Texas legislature than any other labor man in the state. Recently he was appointed inspector of safety appliances by the interstate commerce commission and has resigned his place on the committee.

The engineers are to meet again today to complete their business and elect their member of the joint board. The joint labor legislative board thus far constituted is: Representing the firemen, Joseph S. Myers of Fort Worth; representing the conductors, E. P. Curtis of Smithville; representing the trainmen, H. G. Wagner of Temple; representing the telegraphers, O. E. Petty of Austin; representing the Texas Federation of Labor, Walton Petzet of San Antonio.

NEW BANK IS TO OPEN HERE NEXT MONDAY MORNING

Western National Announces the Date for Commencement of Business in This City

Announcement was made this morning that the formal opening for business of the Western National bank of Fort Worth, located at Tenth and Main streets, will occur next Monday morning.

The spacious room to be occupied by the bank, at the northeast corner of the above named streets, is probably larger than the rooms occupied by any of the banks at present in operation, and will prove well adapted for the home of the financial institution. A unique feature of the bank will be the devotion of considerable space to a ladies' room, containing comfortable chairs, well equipped desks and every convenience where they can prepare their books, checks, etc., undisturbed and leaving to the hurrying masculine depositors the full use of the ordinary bank desks.

On the main street front of the building two deep bulk windows occupy the spaces to the side of the main entrance. Beginning at these windows and running back into the structure for a considerable distance will be the ladies' room upon one side, and the office of the president, W. H. Edleman, on the other. Running from the doorway at an angle to the edge of the fireproof vault, which occupies a position in the middle of the room to the rear of the center, will be the banking railing, of mahogany, containing the cashier's and teller's windows. South of the vault, a room will be fitted up for the use of the directors, while the space north of it will be used for the force of bookkeepers and other employes.

The room has been finished in a light tint of blue, which, together with the spaces to the side of the main entrance, of the lightest business rooms in the city. The walls of the vault, which is so placed as to have open space all around it, and thus preventing operations of burglars from adjoining premises, are twenty-eight inches in thickness and thoroughly fireproof. The safe within the vault is also thoroughly fire and burglar proof.
