LONDON CHRONICLE'S DISPATCH The London Daily Chronicle has a cial dispatch from Chefoo to the fect that the Japanese landed troops unday at Yinkow and that Niuchwang was captured on Monday The Russians fell back to ld the railway. The Chronicle's dilitary expert comments on this as

Our only reason for uncertainty about the news is our ignorance as to how it could have reached Chefoo early enough to be telegraphed to us on Tuesday. We should have expected the wire to be cut and distance by sea from Niuchwang to Chefoo is 280 miles. Otherwise the news in itself is only what we have been expecting for some time, in fact, ever since the ice the bay broke up at the end of March Niuchwang was obviously the right place to strike if the forces there hold the place. Strong as it was, the natural importance of the position can not be overstated. Defendants' Lawyer Says That Federal Officials Were Not on the Square

NEW YORK, May 4.-At the preliminary hearing of John A. Fenson, the wealthy California land owner, before United States Commissioner Shields, Attorney Platt, for the defendant, has made serious charges against federal officials. Mr. Benson and Frederick A. Ferdinand Peck of the Windy City Acknowledges Merits of St. Louis Exposition

ST. LOUIS, May 4 .- "The St. Louis exposition is the greatest that has ever been held, and it is quite probable that It will remain the greatest for cen-turies," said Ferdinand W. Peck of Chicago at the Hotel Jefferson last

Mr. Peck is acknowledged to be one of the best authorities on expositions in the world. He was the first vice president of the Columbian Exposition at Chicago in 1893, commissioner general for the United States to the Paris exposition in 1900, and represented the state of Illinois at the Atlanta, Nashville and Omaha expositions. Mrs. Peck he attended the opening ceremonies last Saturday, and yesterday he spent the day looking over the fair and talking with exposition officials.

"That the fair is greater than the ones at Chicago and Paris is beyond question," said Mr. Peck. # CLOSE TO NATURE.

WHY SUNSHINE BRINGS REALTH.

VERYONE knows that the pure country air and a chance to see close to Nature in the fields and woods, is sure to improve animal spirits and bodily health. We are only civilized animal after all, and the present dwellers in the cities are compelled live in badly ventilated rooms or factories filled with the germs disease—of grip, consumption or catarrh. They are compelled to eat the lunch hastily, and, in fact, to run the human machine at all times improperly that they are constantly in danger of being sick. Sundilunch hastily, and, in fact, to run the human machine at all times improperly that they are constantly in danger of being sick. Sunding and good air are essential for good health. Nature provides the general destroyer, if we only find it, in a life in the open air and sunshine. It we are run down physically, if our blood has too many of the white blood corpuscles and not enough of the red corpuscles; if we look put and anaemic, or with pimples or hives appearing on the skin, it's a pretty sure warning that we need a little of nature's cure. For those who are confined indoors and need a strengthening tonic, a blood and bely builder, there is a remedy provided by Nature which is sure and affect the founder of the medicine was the discovery of Dr. R. V. Pierce, the founder of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. It was sold by druggists thirty-seven years ago or more and has become more popular than name of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Description. druggists thirty-seven years ago or more and has become more popular every year since, under the name of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery covery. Dr. Pierce receives quantities of grateful letters and testimo nials every day. It would take all of this newspaper's space to print those received in a single month. Here is a sample:

"About seven years ago my health failed, and I tried different doctors but they could not help me," writes Reuben S. Kleppinger, Esq. of Lahighton, Pa. (Box 673). "I was still getting worse. Had a cough, pain in chest, night-sweats, was weak and nervous. I decided to write to Da. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., and state my case. I received a prompt and careful reply, which I still have in my possession. The malady was a complicated one, involving the nasal and other air-passages. There was a catarrhal condition extending from head to the bronchis allungs. The use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Da. Sage's Catarrh Remedy was advised. I used about two dozen bottles of each, also some of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, and these remedies each, also some of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, and these remedies he done their work. Since that time I don't believe I have lost a day work on account of sickness. Am well and have been able to est est medicine has done me."

"About two years ago I consulted a physician to try and get relief from a cold which had stopped up my head, and also settled on my lungs, caping catarrh in a very bad form, and also throat difficulties," writes justice Thomas E. Bourquin, 1808 Ogercher Road, Savannah, Ga. "He gave me some medicine, but one month's faithful use of same failed to do me any good, so I decided to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and bought a bottle. After using it a few days, my lungs began to heal, I did not cough nearly as much nights, slept much better, and in two weeks the cold, cough, catarrh and throat difficulty were all cured. I we certainly pleased with the results, and so wish to write you of it."

"In Allen street, in eight blocks of tenement houses, live ten the seven hundred and thirty-seven human beings.

"The features of this miserable street are:

"Darkness; Dampness; Disease; Death.

"The deaths are especially plentiful among the very young children.

"Of all the New York streets in which evil conditions destroy child life Allen street is the worst. It has a record for killing children under "The street is very narrow, and the Second avenue elevated rails running through it, filling it from house to house, roofs it in, making e it a dark, gloomy tunnel. "On the ground it is dark all day, the lamps are always lighted.

"Diseases of the eye, pneumonia, tuberculosis, the rickets and other troubles of ill-nourished children, are features of this street.

"Among the dirt, the din, the darkness, the dampness of this infernal death tunnel, children are supposed to 'play.'
"Do you wonder that they are deformed and sickly? Do you wonder that they die off before they reach the age of five.

"As well try to grow a flower in a cellar as to bring up children in that horrid street to which poverty and the city's culpable neglect condemn so many families."

Market

The cattle market today was liberally supplied with good killing stuff and with favorable influences trading ruled steady at Tuesday's quotations. Steers of good weight and quality sold with a top of $4.00, while the mem fed kinds landed around $3.30@ steers of 775 to 1,050 pounds at $3.60 All grades of cows generally sold teady, due partly to the scarcity of the choice fed kinds which were in 31.60 @ 2.25.

Calves sold strong with a top on straight car loads of choice light 12 00 @4.00. Bulls sold with an equal ivision between packers and specuators at unchanged prices.

On the local market today 1,150 hogs were yarded for the opening trade. and with reports of strong to high markets elsewhere trading on the morning market ruled fairly active, although the bulk of the sales were made on a spotted market. Chicago reported 24,000 hogs, with trading steady to strong, tops selling at $4.87 1/2, and the bulk at $4.60@4.75. Kansas City with 10,000 offered opened slow, closing strong at an advance of 21/2 to 5 cents over early opening.

Best heavy hogs of good quality sold oday on a steady market with the mixed, medium weights and quality hogs weak at 5 cents lower, the bulk of this class selling around $4.45@4.50. The extreme top for hogs of 220 to 270 nds was $4.60, pigs and lights at

The Mexican government has conceded to one of the numerous planatation comuch stations are in the United States.

The parties interested in the enterprise will invest an amount sufficient to cover cost of erecting the necessary buildings. The government is then to make an annual appropriation of $10,000 Mexican eurrency ($4,430,000) for its maintenance for five years during which time the institution will be under the control of the plantation company. At the expiration of that time the station becomes the property of the government.

CHINESE SAY THEY'RE NEUTRAL

ST. PETERSBURG, May 4.- The Chinese ministry, which, in consequence of ru-mors of the possibility that China might not remain neutral, applied to Pekin for information, and received a cablegram from the Pekin government and Viceroy Yuan Ki, which reads as follows:

In reply to your telegram of April 23, and with the object of putting a stop to the unfounded rumors, we request you to deny them, and we declare again in the most formal manner that China and the Chinese people will faithfully observe neutrality. You are also authorized to say that the central government has given rigorous orders to the local authorities that neutrality is to be strictly maintained, and that the most complete order will be preserved in the whole territory declared to be neutral. Moreover, we are able to guarantee that owing to measures we have taken, events like those of 1900 are impossible."

2,500 SHELLS FIRED BY RUSSIANS PORT ARTHUR, May 4.-There have been no developments since the attack on Port Arthur May 3. During the bombardment the big guns of the Russian ships and batteries fired 2,500 shells, while the machine guns of the gunboat Giliak fired 3,000 shots. Novi Krai says it learns that Viceroy Yuan Shi Kai, and General Ma, are carrying on an active anti-Russian campaign and that the traveling orators are spreading false reports of the strength of the Japanese and the magnitude of their victories, and telling malignant stories of the Russian designs throughout Chinese towns and villages with the object of inciting the masses against Russia.

EDUCATING THE 'PINOS.

A writer in Leslie's Weekly gives a in the Philippines.

In the school rooms the American flag has replaced religious symbols. Instead of Spanish prayers, "mumbled without significance, the patriotic songs of the United States are sung.' Here is a fine bit of realism:

"The new American schoolmaster has corraled the little Filipinos washed them up, and marched them off to school. He has responded liberally to their appeals of "Gim me lapiz; gib me papel," and has been supplying pencils, paper, books and slates enough for millions. He has made a childhood for them by translating "Cinderella" and "Aladdin" into the Viscayan and Tagalog languages, for Filipina is yet without its story

"Oh, it is a proud day for the little fellows with their upturned faces when they learn to spell, with the assistance of a bamboo stick, "I see the national convention at St. Louis a c-a-t." Imagine a round, chubby face, the wiry black hair softened to down around the forehead, with two wondering brown eyes and a wee button of a nose, damp little fingers clamped around the cover of the book, a tiny body trembling with excitement, lisping 'the first syllables of desire to please, making a splendid failure of the whole attempt."

Interesting, beyond a doubt.

We are doing our duty by the children of the people whom we have benevolently assimilated.

We are of the Occident. Ours is the western mind with the western way of thinking. The Filipinos are of the Orient. And the Oriental mind is peculiar to itself.

Will educational methods make Americans out of these interesting and astute Filipino Children?

Never. How much has England, with its long persistency, changed the mental or moral nature of the Hindus? Not an iota. Let England remove its soldiery in the garrisons of India and within a single generation all traces of its occupancy of that country would

If we are educating the little Filipinos for ultimate independence, well and good. If we expect to conform the Oriental to the American type, we are doomed to failure.

NEW YORK, May 2 .- June 11 will see ound-up of fashionable society at Devon, Pa., when Miss Elsie Whelen becomes Mrs. Robert Geelet, making the second prominent marriage in the Whelen family. Miss Whelen's sister was married to Craig Biddle about a year ago and will return from Europe to be her sister's matron of onor. Miss Whelen and Robert Goelet have been as good as engaged since last summer, when their devotion was the talk of Newport. But they swore themselves black in the face there was nothing in it and Miss Elsie was carried off to Europe in the autumn to prove how easily they could live without each other. "Bobby" peaked and pined and Miss Elsie turned her back squarely on princelings and other European fry that sought to pay her their addresses, remaining true to her Bobby. As a result the engagement was announced immediately upon her return and once more New York and Philadelphia will join hands, but not in brotherly love, bien entendu.

It was to be presumed that Lady "Connie" Mackenzie would not marry in the regular way, and it is only to be wondered at that she did not sail up to the altar in her Tartan plaids or padded fencing jacket. The Scottish heiress is one of the most decidedly original characters in England today, and when she was over here year before last, visiting the late Mr. Whitney at Aiken and stopping at Palm Beach, she kept people guessing as to what she would do next. She was up at daybreak galloping over the country, she punched bags an hour before breakfast, fenced or shot for an hour afterward, then electrified all the Palm Beachers by her swimming. Not alone by the wonderful things she was able to do both under and over the water, but by her sturdy calves short, Lady "Connie" was a series of surprises, and upon seeing her one involuntarily exclaimed "Oh!" Mr. Whitney was a particular admirer of her's owng to her great love for horses, and when she was injured on the hunting field at Aiken, had her carried to the house and every care given her. Lady "Connie's" husband, Sir Edward Austin Stewart Richardson, captain of the Third battalion of the Black Watch, is a good bit of a sport himself.

The Newport people are all running up o see about their villas and to get their Italian gardens in order. Each one wants her poppies and peonies to be the best in the place, but Mrs. Burke-Roche still prides herself that hers are in the lead. Mrs. Trayers' Japanese tea house is the orly real novelty. The Newporters fairly wear themselves out looking after nov-And what of "Hey Rube?" Is the elties. Poor souls, how they do bore themselves, anyhow.

Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs has taken to wearing very girlish gowns of late and everyone wonders what it means. She and her husband are so entirely congental ments of Europe when they would people, and therefore, like the rest when he is in California and she in New York that people can not understand the return to juvenility. "Peppers and pumpkins! A widow moved in right next door, and this

Mr. Alonzo Larkins stared apprehensively out of his window as if he expected to see his newly arrived neighbor fitting up his porch steps in search of him with a lasso. Instead he really did see a small, inoffensive looking woman walking serenely from her doorway toward her own front lawn bearing a pot of pansies and a

"Oh, of course," he continued caustically, "wants to make a good impression first before she lets out at me! Well, ma'am, my heart is tough. But you are a neat little bundle," he added, with a slight change of tone; "trim as a sassafras whistle. That's rightlet that ruffled-y up pink contraption slide off your bead. Gum, what shiny brown hair! And look at the little curl bobbing over her off ear!"

Little Mrs. Bittersweet did not seem at all troubled by the orb Mr. Larkins deemed it expedient to keep focused upon her. She trotted around about her own business, paying little heed to the doings of her bachelor neighbor. The first time she met him plump and square she gave him a sweet, indifferent little neighborly "Good morning," which somehow excited his discontent and ire.

"Took about as much notice of me as she would of a brindle dog," he complained to himself; "in fact, not as much. She pets up al he old stray dogs and gives 'em Lies. What's the matter with me, I'd like to know."

He looked anxiously into the mirror as he brushed his hair. He saw therein a good looking and fairly good natured face, the chief defect of which was an expression tending toward self

"Now, ma'am," he observed decisively, addressing the absent widow.

THE WIDOW SAT ON THE EDGE OF HER

"you've got to see me and appreciate me. Then if you choose to take advantage of leap year privileges I don't really know as I'll run away."

Meantime Mrs. Bittersweet's attention had been directed to Mr. Larkins by her friend, Miss Podderly.

"He's the smartest man in Bibbville," said she, "and got everything in his house a woman's heart could wish, from gas ranges to teaspoons, not to mention scuds of blue and white ware saucepans. But seems like he's afraid ome woman 'll marry him in spite of himself. I guess he's too bashful to ask any one. But I believe in my heart you could overcome the difficulty, Po! ly, if you'd set your cap good and strong.

shrug, "I wish I had the opportunities you turn up your nose at so recklessly."

Mr. Larkins finally grew decidedly discontented and a little puzzled.

"I don't understand you, ma'am," he admitted in one of his mental apostrophes to the widow. "I have so far modified my views as to give you every opportunity to signify your wish to become Mrs. Larkins, and yet you're as cool and calm as a bale of snow. I'm not used to it, ma'am, and I wen't stand it. I'll give you three weeks more to get interested in me, and then I'll take and propose to you. That's about what I'll do."

When the allotted three weeks of grace had expired Mr. Larkins in desperation executed his threat and received a plump "No!" the result of Miss Podderly's champiouship and a streak of contrariness in the widow's disposition

He accepted the sentence with visible disappointment, but bore it with manly fortitude.

"I'm sorry, ma'am," he said frankly, 'tearing sorry. I've taken more of a shine to you, somehow, than I ever did to any one, and I'd be good to you, you can bank on that. But if you can't like me you can't. There, now, madam; don't go and cry-don't. I wouldn't hart your feelings for forty farms." For the widow's heart all at once had smitten her sharply, and some subtle pathos in Mr. Larkins' simple acceptance of defeat caused her eyes to brim

"I'm so-oo-o sorry," she faltered, blushing and sobbing, "I"-"Don't mention it," implored Mr. Larkins. "Don't you be miserable or blue about it. But if you should-kind of change your mind, you know. ma'am, just let me know; won't you?"

Mr. Larkins dived headlong into his garden patch and hoed vigorously to distract his thoughts, and the widow sat down on the edge of her porch and swung her neat little foot dejectedly.

"I do believe I'm half witted," said she under her breath. "I dare say I've lost as good a man as I'll ever meet. and all because Henrietta Podderly told me to run after him. I needn't have run after him, but I could have thrown him away, and I ain't half as smart as I thought I was. I'm lonely and miserable, woo-oo-oo." Mrs. Bittersweet ran into her sitting room and cried as heartily as Mr. Larkins hoed.

After that she smiled sunnily whenever she met him. He smiled genially. The widow daily became more lonesome and more convinced that she had discarded a congenial spirit.

"He won't propose again in a hundred years," she bemoaned herself. "and no wonder, he don't want to risk another snub. He did tett me to let him know if I changed my mind. I hate to like fun, but"-

One golden afternoon when both were sitting in an unusually pensive mood upon Mrs. Bittersweet's porch the widow's heart suddenly prompted her to a little prospecting.

"Mr. Larkins," she said softly, "do you ever change your mind?" "No," returned Mr. Larkins plumply.

"Not without solid reason." "We-ell," she continued, holding her breath at her own boldness, "would you still like me to-er-er-be-be"-Her meaning rushed through Mr. Larkins like a streak of electricity. He sprang out of his lolling attitude at a "Polly, if you're asking me if I'd like you to be my wife, I say yes-yesyes. I didn't dare to ask you again, but you've a perfect right to ask me, even if I hadn't told you to, for it's leap-why, Polly, love, what's the matter? You're as pale as ashes. What is it, darling?" "Why, I've actually as good as asked you to marry me," gasped Polly, "just what I've always declared I'd die rather than do! Oh, well," as Alonzo's arm stole protectingly around her waist, "I guess I was excusable this time. But, Alonzo, listen. Don't you ever, the longest day you live, let Henrietta Podderly know I did it-will "Never!" vowed Alonzo, kissing her.

Water's Part In Colloquial Terms. "How many of our 'expressive expressions' are built around some reference to water!" said a writer. "Take a few brief examples for consideration. If we think a scheme isn't very strong or a statement decidedly weak, we invariably say 'it won't hold water.' Do we infer that more wisdom lurks in an individual's head than he is ordinarily given credit for, what' do we say? 'Still waters run deep.' When a person gets into some kind of difficulty, we say he is in 'hot water.'

"When a proposition of any kind is rejected, especially a proposal of marrlage, it is a case of having 'cold water thrown on our hopes.' Fortune has its 'tides,' and blessings or riches are 'rained' down on us. If a speaker exhausts his topic and still tries to talk, we say that he has 'about run dry.'

"Rumors are always termed 'afloat' and when a business enterprise goes down we call it 'swamped.' A man struggles to 'hold his head above water,' according to our colloquialisms. and when he doesn't know what plan to pursue in order to accomplish ce-tain ends it is said of him that he is 'all at sea.' An Organ Without Stops. There is a man living in an Eleventh street flat who has no music in his soul, and there is a man on the lower floor whose soul is full of it. The lower floor man not long ago added a four lung parlor organ to his lares and penates, and two healthy daughters of his began to practice on it. Several nights later a friend paid a visit to the first man, and as soon as he got inside the apartment he heard the parlor organ on the lower floor.

"Fine toned instrument, that," he said, because he, too, had some music in his soul.

Many persons who shave themselves do-not understand this and wonder why they have sore faces. They blame the bay rum and change off to witch hazel or something lise. # A RUSSIAN FIELD HOSPITAL

When the Russian army is on a peace footing, the medical corps does not exist as a unit. Each fighting force has its physicians and hospital corps. In war the personnel of a medical corps attached to a regiment consists of one senior and four junior surgeons, one senior and twenty-four dressers, one apothecary dresser, one hospital sergeant and three orderlies. Stores for a field hospital containing sixteen cots are carried, and each dresser carries a knapsack filled with first-aid packages; thirty-two stretchers are provided. The medical transport consists of four one-horse carts for medical stores, one two-horse wagon with stretchers, etc., and four four-horse ambulances.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

"Doctors Said I Could Not Live, but Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey Cured Me In Three Months."

"I Had Hemorrhages and Was Reduced to a Skeleton, But Your Wonderful Remedy Built Me Up and I Gained 60 Pounds," Says Cora Riley, Coatesville, Pa.

"Four years ago I was a mere skeleton. I had been in poor health since childhood. The doctors told me it was consumption and that I could not get well. As winter appeached my cough became more severe and my condition so serious that I had a number of hemorrhages, and my weight was reduced to less than ninety pounds.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

The Great Consumption and Throat Cure, is used by over 9,000 doctors and hospitals exclusively as the one complete and perfect cure for consumption, coughs, celds, grip, bronchitis, asthma, pleurisy, pneumonia, catarrh and all diseases of throat and lungs; indigestion, dyspepsia and every form of stomach trouble; nervousness, malaria and all low fevers, and for all weakened, run-down diseased or wasting conditions of body, brain, Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey not only drives out disease germs, but builds up new tissues and renovates the entire system. It aids digestion, enriches the blood, stimulates circulation, tones up the heart, quiets the nerves, and nourishes and builds up the body so that it will throw off and prevent disease.

At the medical convention in Albany A LEAD-ING DOCTOR SAID: "I would rather have Duffy's Pure Mait Whiskey to cure consumption and diseases of the throat and lungs than all other medicines in the world." And the doctors present agreed with him unanimously.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is invaluable for tired-out, overworked, worried men, delicate, nervous women, and sickly children. It pro-motes health and long life, keeps the old young, and makes the young strong.

It is absolutely pure, contains no fusel oil, and is the only whiskey recognized by the Government as a medicine. This is a guarantee.

CAUTION.—When you ask for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. Unscrupulous dealers, mindful of the excellence of this preparation, will try to sell you cheap imitations and malt whiskey substitutes, which are put on the market for profit only and which, far from relieving the sick, are positively harmful. Demand "Duffy's" and be sure you get it. It is the only absolutely pure Malt Whiskey which contains medicinal, health-giving qualities. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is sold in sealed bottles only; never in flask or bulk. Look for the trade-mark, the "Gid Chemist," on the label, and be certain the seal over the cork is unbroken. Beware of refilled bottles.

Sold by all druggists and grocers, or direct, $1.00 a bottle. Medical booklet free. Luffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, New York.

Are Said to Have Refused to Allow Amputation to

Save Her Life

NEW YORK, May 4 .- Rather than pay to earn her own living, Adrian Molenski, a Pole living at Blissville, Long Island, it is said, steadily refused to have the arm of his 13-year-old daughter amputated, although assured by physicians that the girl could live only a few days without the operation. Finally, Dr. W. S. Lorenz, chief surgeon of St. John's hospital, in Long Island City, took the law in his own hands and removed the arm, just in time, he thinks, to save the child's life.

The child helped to support her parents by working in a jute mill up to ten days ago, when her right hand was crushed. The parents poulticed the hand and paid no further attention to it for three days, when it became so inflamed that they took the girl to the Flatbush hospital and applied for free treatment. The physicians found it a bad case of blood poisoning, and asked the parents' permission for the operation. This was refused in spite of pleadings and threats. Realizing that they could do nothing, the hospital authorities discharged the child.

The parents then took her to St. John's hospital and the same process was repeated. By this time gangrene had set in. The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children was appealed to, but the officers found threats did no good, and the circumstances were placed before District Attorney George A. Gregg. He agreed to stand back of them in anything they deemed necesaary to save the child's life, and Dr. Lorenz, accordingly performed the operation without further delay. The parents were enraged when they learned of it.

ELLIS COUNTY VISITED BY TOO MANY RAINS

WAXAHACHIE, Texas, May 4 .- A slow in began falling in this city yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock and continued until about night. At one time the down-pour was quite terrific and was accom-panied by some wind. Ellis county has een visited by several hard rains within the past ten days and farmers are getting behind with their work. Weeds and grass are growing rapidly and unless there is an early cessation of the rain a great many cotton fields will have to be plowed up and replanted. Farm work was well advanced until the rains began, and as a rule fields were perfectly clear of grass and weeds. Corn is growing rapidly and gives promise of an abundant crop. While cotton is suffering from too much rain wheat and oats are being geratly bene-sited. A large acreage of wheat and oats was sown in the county and the plant is in excellent condition. Wheat is heading and the indications are favorable for a large yield.

Several weeks ago the sister of Ischoppe, Mrs. James Heilman, died, and on her deathbed confessed to her husband that Weisheimer betrayed her when she was a young girl. Hellman told Tschoppe, and the latter went to Weisheimer's home late last night with a rifle and shot at Weishelmer as he was seated in his home the shot did not take effect. Weihelmer grabbed his pistol and fired several shots at Tschoppe. Tschoppe was arrested today and brought here. He says he will kill Weisheimer upon sight as soon as he

You will realize then why Schlitz beer is pure.

You wash a cooking utensil once. We wash a bottle four times, by machinery, before we fill it.

You use city water. We bore down 1400 feet to rock for ours.

You prepare food in the air of the room. We cool Schlitz beer in plate-glass rooms and filter all the air that touches it.

Then we filter the beer by machinery_filter it through white wood pulp.

Yet your methods are cleanly. Ours are cleanliness carried to extremes.

Then—for fear of a touch of impurity—we sterilize every bottle after it is sealed. We double the necessary cost of our brewing to give you a healthful beverage pure.

Frank Crane, chairman of the state committee, called the convention to order, and introduced the temporary chairman. The opening addresses criticised the democratic state and national leaders, and declared that if the republicans do their duty as they did in 1900, there can be but one result, the triumphant re-election of President Roosevelt. At the conclusion of the pening speeches, committees on resolutions and permanent organization were appointed, and a recess taken to permit the committees to draw up their reports The report of the committee on resolutions will vigorously commend the whole course of the Roosevelt administration and strongly indorse the president for renomination.

Anti-Hearst Democrats Trying Only for an Uninstructed Delegation Today

DES MOINES, Iowa, May 4.-The democratic state convention for the se lection of delegates at large and district delegates to the St. Louis convention is in session here-today. The outlook is for a close contest between the supporters and opponents of William R. Hearst. The Hearst people, recognizing the political importance of lowa, set to work early to organize the state and so thoroughly did they do their work that they obtained a victory for the time being at least over the conservative element by having an Life and the Affairs of the early date set for the state convention. The Hearst supporters in lowa are practically identical with those of Bryan, while the opponents include substantially all those who oppose Bryan and his ideas. The anti-Hearst people are not supporting any one for the presidential nomination, but are bending their energies solely to defeating the movement to have the state convention instruct for the New York of Texas that the ward buildings shall be newspaper man. Trustee Willam Capps, who introduced the letter asking for the choosing of patriotic names for the schools, stated this afternoon that the resolution called for the names of heroes only, and not for the battles or events in which they took a part, so that even if San Jacinto had been chosen it would probably have been found necessary to change it in order to conform with the action of the school

BROKERS BIT ACTIVELY FOR SUIT OF CLOTHES

NEW YORK, May 4.—During the dull hour on the very dull Stock Exchange yesterday several of the older members, who were taking a nap, were startled by loud noise around the B. R. T. post. They rushed to the spot, thinking that there was some unexpected development in that stock. Instead of finding an active market, however, for B. R. T., they found the crowd actively bidding for a new suit of clothes, worn for the first time by W. B. Reilly, the specialist in the stock. The suit hung fire for a long time,

Zadkiel, the London Authority, Forecasts Probabilities for Thirty Days-When to Do Things and When Not to Zadkiel, the London astrologer, foreasts May as follows: Mars forms the quartile aspect with Saturn, from the fixed signs Taurus and Aquarius, on the 4th day, causing suffering in high places in England, Prussia and Russia. A very grave crisis has now to be faced by the ruler of Russia, and in all probability foreign warfare will be waged in order to overcome internal troubles. A sudden catastrophe is threatened at St. Petersburg! The king of Spain is in trouble or danger; he may meet with an accident in sport or on a journey. Ireland suffers from the presence of Mars in her ruling sign. Storms of a destructive kind sweep over Ireland, Sweden, Hamburg and Poland about the 4th and 11th instants. Eruptive fever stalks through Russia and Prussla, and may break out in Dublin. Jupiter in Aries preserves Old England from the worst evils prevalent on the continent; yet it will soon be difficult for our government to preserve peace when the other great powers are preparing for war. Towards the end of the month the east of Europe becomes disturbed again, and the Turks feel the heavy hand of Fate smiting them hard. The shipping trade of Great Britain benefits by the presence of Jupiter in the ninth house at the new moon of the 15th instant. I trust that this position of Jupiter will bring some advantageous treaty to a conclusion in the interests of peace and to secure prosperity to our country.

The United States will be disturbed

after the 14th day.

Well-Known Texas Ball Player Nearly Asphixiated at Cincinnati-Saved by Presence of Mind of 15-Year-old Girl

CINCINNATI, May 4.-A 15-year-old girl, Miss Mabel Biedebach, saved the life of Harry Steinfeldt, the Reds' crack third baseman, last night.

Steinfeldt, who arrived home yesterday morning from St. Louis, suffering from a severe attack of lumbago, was about to retire last evening in his room in the aristeeratic Biedebach hotel, on Walnut Hills, when he accidentally pulled down a chandelier, causing the gas to escape. Owing to his crippled condition "Steiny" failed in his effort to properly turn off the flow. cried for help. It was then that Mabel, the young daughter if Mrs. Biedebach, who conducts the hotel, proved herself a heroine. She heard Steinfeldt's cries and ran to his room, where she found him on his hands and knees trying to force himself out of the door, With rare presence of mind the young lady raised the ball player's head and with one mighty effort dragged his body to the hallway, a few feet away. Fortunately the ball player was conscious enough to assist Miss Biedebach in her herculean task, or he might have fallen unconscious before assistance reached him. The commotion aroused other guests of the hotel and in a short time a dozen friends were at the side of the unfortunate man. Gene Lutz, who resides at the hotel, with several others, assisted in getting Steinfeldt into another room. At a late hour last night he was pronounced out of danger. Dr. Ed

Walker is attending him. Ann Hill, a beautiful child of 5 years, Robert C. Ogden party, who return had only a short time before the mishap day from their visit to industrial left the room. She spent the afternoon in picking flowers and had presented a thusiastic over the experience of bouquet to Mr. Steinfeldt, "I hope dose trip. There was no doubt in the flowers make him well," she said to her parents. It was only a half an hour afterward that Steiny came so near meeting his death.

The condition of the hustling third baseman will not permit him to play for
