

PARKER IS NOMINEE

National Convention Remains in Session All Night and at a Few Minutes Before 6 O'clock Saturday Morning Selects the New Yorker as the Presidential Candidate On First Ballot—Roll Call Did Not Develop Enough to Assure Him the Nomination, but There Was a Stampede of Those States Which Had Cast a Complimentary Vote for Favorite Sons, and the Selection Was Made Unanimous By the Convention.

CLEVELAND, BRYAN, AND ALL DEMOCRATS SATISFIED WITH THE HEAD OF THE TICKET

ST. LOUIS, July 9.—A bulletin by the long distance telephone at 2:23 p. m. says: Senator Tillman of South Carolina and ex-Governor Thomas of Colorado are leading the opposition to the nomination of Judge Harmon of Ohio. Both these gentlemen are now on the floor of the convention, holding conferences with delegates whom they expect to influence.

2:28 p. m.—Chairman Clark has just arrived and will call the convention to order. Senator Easley occupies the chair last night, so that Mr. Clark might make the nomination speech of Senator Cockrell.

2:35 p. m.—The convention will adjourn until 8 p. m., so that the delegates may get closer together on the vice presidential nomination.

ST. LOUIS, July 9.—Judge Parker was nominated on the first ballot this morning after an all night session of the convention.

Chief Justice Alton B. Parker of New York state court of appeals, was nominated after fifteen minutes to six o'clock this morning for president of the United States by the democratic national convention. But one roll call was taken at once contrary states began to call for recognition and the ballot finally resulted in the unanimous vote for the New York statesman. The scene was dramatic in the extreme.

Darkness witnessed the gathering. Democratic hosts while broad daylight, the sun paling the electric light, witnessed the close. The convention was in session from 8 o'clock last night until nearly 6 o'clock this morning. During that time eight names were presented to the convention. Nominating and seconding speeches innumerable were made and as dawn appeared it became necessary to limit the seconding speeches to four minutes each.

Chiefs of Police Do Not Favor Having Beer Joints in Residence Portion

ST. LOUIS, July 9.—The news of Judge Parker's nomination was given him at 8:50 a. m., today by a correspondent of the Associated Press who found him climbing over the water after a morning swim.

"Well, Judge, you've got it," cried the reporter as the athletic figure of the judge appeared over the bow of the barge from which he had been diving.

"Is that so?" replied the judge, his ruddy face breaking into a cherry smile, in which satisfaction was undisguised.

He asked for details of the final vote and displayed the liveliest interest in every fact and figure, at the same time refraining from the slightest comment.

When asked if he would say anything in the matter of the nomination, he said: "No, I shall say nothing whatever upon the subject until I am formally notified of my nomination."

ARDMORE, I. T., July 9.—Den H. Colbert, United States marshal for the Southern district, has issued a circular letter to his field deputies, in which he instructs them to prohibit absolutely the sale of all kinds of pale drinks. This will exclude the sale of Sunbeam, El Fino, Longhorn, Vigorine and all other drinks used as substitutes for beer. Should his instructions be carried out to the letter it will be impossible to obtain cold drinks containing any per cent whatsoever of alcohol and will revert this class of trade to the buying of bitters and other patent medicines kept in drug stores.

The Central district of the Indian Territory has regulations under the administration of United States Marshal Pritchard equally severe against the sale of tin-top and the vigilance of his deputies has resulted in completely eliminating those drinks from the joints.

WILMINGTON, Del., July 9.—Judge George Gray, who was placed in nomination for president at St. Louis, is pleased with the nomination of Judge Parker.

"The nomination of Judge Parker," said Judge Gray today, "is one with which every democrat feels satisfied, safe, hopeful and in line with the best traditions of the party."

"I had the pleasure of meeting Judge Parker on a steamer while coming from Europe in 1895 and the impression he left on me was a very pleasant one, as that of a quiet, dignified, brainy man."

ST. LOUIS, July 9.—The news of the nomination of Judge Parker was communicated to President Roosevelt at 10:30 a. m.

NO LOW RATES FOR PYTHIAN CAMP IN LOUISVILLE

General Tiller Says the Railroads Are Not Treating the Knights Generously

The failure thus far of the Knights of Pythias of Texas to secure advantageous round trip rates to Louisville, Ky., for the national encampment August 15, will result in a very few Pythians of this state attending that gathering, said Brigadier General John H. Tiller of the Uniform Rank to The Telegram this morning.

Mr. Tiller regrets exceedingly that the Texas railroads have not shown a disposition to be more liberal in making a rate for the Louisville meeting. The rate announced is $23.35 for the round trip. This, the members believe, is too high and as a consequence very few Knights will take advantage of the reduction to go to Louisville.

Mr. Tiller has, during the past few days, received inquiries from Uniform Rank at El Paso, Big Springs, Terrell, Port Arthur, Palcatine, Paris, Houston and from several other points in the state asking what sort of a rate has been authorized. The information he receives from all these companies leads to the conclusion that the Knights have or will abandon their intention of going to Louisville.

ARBUCKLE MINES GIVE GOOD YIELD

Product Is Being Taken Out and Shipped via Santa Fe to Chicago

ARDMORE, I. T., July 9.—The Ardmore Mining and Smelting Company has a crew of a dozen or more men at work in their mines in the Arbuckle Mountains north of here. The product, as fast as taken from the mines, is being shipped to Chicago by the Santa Fe people. The railroad people have made assays of the ore and have sent mining experts into the field with a view of investigating the matter with reference to tonnage. In all probability a spur will be built to the mines, either from Ardmore or Davis.

TO VOTE TOMORROW ON THE IMPROVEMENT

Dr. John W. Gillon, pastor of the Broadway Baptist church, this morning stated that the congregation would vote on the proposition to build a new church after the Sunday morning services. The plans and specifications as submitted by the building committee will be presented at that time.

INJURED BY A FALL

SAN ANGELO, Texas, July 8.—Charles Dally Jr., 14 years old and a son of a prominent real estate dealer here, was thrown from his bicycle yesterday and, striking on his head, was severely injured. He was unconscious nearly all day and it is feared his injuries will result seriously.

TYPEWRITER THIEF GETS ANOTHER MACHINE

Enters the Draughton Business College and Carries Off One Typewriter, Leaving Many Others Untouched

Another typewriter thief occurred in this city last night, following upon the heels of the one reported exclusively in The Telegram two days ago. The burglary of last night occurred in the same building as the former theft, the machine taken being the property of the Nelson-Draughton Business College. The burglar effected an entrance into the business college by means of a rear door, which he left open on leaving the building.

Market Quotations

NORTH FORT WORTH, July 9.—A fairly liberal run of cattle came in for the closing day of the week, eighteen cars or about 550 head were shipped in, with some reported. The bulk of offerings were medium steers. Very few cows were in and only one load of calves.

The usual Saturday dullness prevailed in the cattle yards, and the trade was a little slow opening. After the trade opened up, buyers seemed to have a place for the supply, and trading ruled steady with yesterday.

The supply of butcher stock was very light and what little business done, was mostly on odds and ends, that were held over and on a steady basis.

The hog market today was supplied with about 500 cars of the week, eighteen cars head. The quality was about like yesterday, and it was just a case of the first buyer to the yards getting the supply.

There was a good demand for the calf campaign, and whether it merely means the concentrated long interest was getting too much company and has shaken out the trailers.

LIVERPOOL, July 9.—The cotton market was steady, with spot cotton quoted at 6.25 for middling. Sales, 4,000 bales, of which 5,400 were American. Receipts, 5,600 bales, of which 1,400 were American.

TERRELL ELECTION LAW ENFORCE ALL OVER TEXAS UNIFORM DATE VERY QUIET IN FORT WORTH AND FOR THE FIRST TIME CARRIAGES OF CANDIDATES ARE NOT USED TO TAKE VOTERS TO THE POLLS.

Very Quiet in Fort Worth and for the First Time Carriages of Candidates Are Not Used to Take Voters to the Polls. List of Voting Places, Names of Judges and Clerks, and Number of Polls Paid in Each Ward.

With doubt the primary election today which is being conducted in this county is the quietest ever pulled off in Tarrant county. During the morning the voting booths which are scattered around over the city presented the appearance of quiet wayside inn resorts or the entrance of some small suburban commercial house, and not until the noon hour was there any movement of the polls worthy of attention.

Under the new Terrill election law the strictest rules are being enforced and many of the voters miss the convenience and pleasure of being whisked to the booths in the carriage of some candidate. Another noticeable feature is the absence of congested crowds of friends and supporters of the candidates, who under the old voting law, congregated around the places of voting, making it almost impossible for voters to gain access to the polls and cast their vote without interruption.

Below are the various precinct voting places with presiding judge, assistant judges and clerks shown: FIRST WARD. Precinct No. 1, 504 Rusk street. Presiding judge, R. C. Armstrong; assistant judges, C. McDougan, W. C. Prewitt, J. L. Miller.

SECOND WARD. Precinct No. 2, basement west wing of court house. Presiding judge, R. L. Waggoner; assistant judges, J. F. Waller and W. T. Shaw.

THIRD WARD. Precinct No. 3, in basement of east wing of court house. Presiding judge, J. H. Thrasher; assistant judges, Q. T. Moreland, Dr. George Jackson and W. J. Gilvin.

FOURTH WARD. Precinct No. 4, city hall. Presiding judge, J. H. Maddox; assistant judges, J. J. Nunnelly, B. A. Bonner and John T. Montgomery.

FIFTH WARD. Precinct No. 5, at 112 1/2 South Main street. Presiding judge, R. H. Tucker; assistant judges, L. J. Polk, C. S. Glasson and J. Mott Perry.

KARAOIS FALLE TO THE JAPS

ST. PETERSBURG, July 9.—The capture of Kai Chou by the Japanese, announced from Tokio, is not officially confirmed at the war office, but there is no disposition to question the probability of the report, as the latest advices received here made it plain the Japanese are advancing in force along the railroad against the Russian position.

CONFIRMS ATTEMPT OF TORPEDO BOATS

ST. PETERSBURG, July 9, 2:10 p. m.—Official reports from Lieutenant General Stoessel, commander of the Russian military forces at Port Arthur, dated July 7, confirm the reports of the attempt of four Japanese torpedo boat destroyers to enter the harbor of Port Arthur July 27, but do not confirm the Clefoo reports of heavy Japanese operations July 4 and July 5 against Port Arthur and do not mention the alleged sinking of a Russian guardship June 27 as reported from Tokio.

SETTLES CLAIM FOR KILLING OF ETZEL

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The Chinese government settled the claims arising out of the killing of Lewis Etzel, the newspaper correspondent, in a manner regarded by the state department as highly honorable and satisfactory.

THE BESEIGED ARE IN FINE SPIRITS

ST. PETERSBURG, July 9.—The war minister received a dispatch from General Sankui, general Kurapatkin's chief of staff, reporting a couple of unimportant affairs between frontier guards and small parties of Chinese bandits near Port Arthur and adding that the troops forming the garrison are in excellent spirits. Skirmishes occur daily. The Russians captured fifty Japanese scouts July 1, and the chief of police recently captured 210 head of cattle. There is an abundance of ammunition at Port Arthur, the dispatch adds.

RUSSIA FIGHTS TO PRESERVE HOLDINGS

ST. PETERSBURG, July 9.—M. Souvorin, manager of the Nove Vremya, in a leading article in that paper which is attracting much attention, declares that it is not Manchuria nor Korea for which Russia is fighting, but it is for her future position in the Far East, where covetous hands are stretched out by Japan, but by the United States and Great Britain which is the cause of the American and English sympathy for Japan.

INTANGIBLE ASSETS TO PAY TAX IN AUSTIN

AUSTIN, Texas, July 9.—City Tax Collector and Assessor Fred Stirling last evening received a letter from Ashby S. James, a lawyer here, asking the former to prepare at once a list of all corporations doing business in Texas that have a deposit in the state treasury as an indemnity for doing business in Texas that are delinquent in the payment of taxes. The supreme court has held that all such corporations are liable to taxation in Texas on such deposits, which has been characterized as intangible assets.

RAILWAY MAIL SERVICE. Taylor E. Lacy, John D. Williams and Thomas H. Foster of the Western and Texas Railway Co. have been preparing for the coming year.

THE FLOOD WATER FALLS

KANSAS CITY, July 9.—Flood waters at Armourdale, Argentine and lower Kansas City, Kan., on the raging Kaw and the Manhattan half way across the Kansas line, have fallen steadily since last night and today continue to recede. The water in the Manhattan became stationary at midnight after rising steadily all day yesterday and then began to go down, eliminating the last danger of further damage at the mouth of the Kaw or along its course. The relief committee of Kansas City, Kan., which is caring for 5,000 or 6,000, decided to accept the aid offered by the war department and any voluntary contributions.

NO IMPROVEMENT IN FLOOD SITUATION

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Acting upon a report from General Bell, who investigated the conditions in Kansas City, Kan., growing out of the flood, Acting Secretary of War Oliver Dyer graphed General Bell to issue 10,000 tents and five days' rations for relief of flood sufferers. The supplies will be drawn from Fort Leavenworth. This has been the largest measure and will be followed by further relief if necessary.

GO HOME TO VOTE

AUSTIN, Texas, July 9.—The state house is almost emptied of its population today. Department chiefs and employees in large numbers who retain their citizenship in the counties from which they were elected or appointed to office, have yesterday or last night to cast their votes in the primaries today.

IN DALLAS

DALLAS, Texas, July 9.—Not very much interest is being taken in the election here. The state treasurer's, controller's and attorney general's race are exciting some interest. The Blanchett and Stevens contest is also being followed by the Dallas county. Schluter and Davidson are neck and neck in the attorney general's race. There is more interest in the national convention here than in the local primaries. No disorders.

AT AUSTIN

AUSTIN, Texas, July 9.—Today's primaries are quiet. A light vote was polled up to noon. The prospects are that Schluter will carry the attorney general's race, Robbins for treasurer, Stephen for controller, Lefevre for superintendent of instruction, Peeler and Kaufman for the legislature and Glascock for the senate.

AT HILLSBORO

HILLSBORO, Texas, July 9.—The primary election is passing quietly here today. A large vote is being polled. The race for county judge is between S. J. Smith and G. W. Frazier, with S. R. Boyd close up. At least that is the report here. The race for treasurer between J. C. Givens and J. H. Messimer is very close. Other races attract minor interest. This afternoon primary conventions are being held over the county to elect delegates to the county convention, which meets here on the 16th.

FIRES AND FALLS

CLEBURNE, Texas, July 9.—A man giving the name of William H. Gross, attempting to take his life this morning, turning a British bulldog on himself, the prostrate man, who said: "Take the picture out of my pocket and send it to my wife in Butalo, N. Y. I am shot through the heart." The ball went into the hollow. He was given a drink of stimulants. The man got up and may live.

STANDARD CUTS THE OIL PRICE

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 9.—Another cut was made today by the Standard Oil in the price of all grades of oil of 5 cents.

CURIOUS CONDENSATIONS

The Oroyo railroad, which now runs from Callao to the gold fields of Cerro de Pasco, is considered one of the wonders in the Peruvian world. Commencing in Callao it ascends the narrow valley of the Rimac, rising nearly 5,000 feet in the first 56 miles. Thence it goes through the highest gorge of the Sierras till it tunnels the Andes at an altitude of 15,645 feet, the highest point in the world where a piston rod is moved by steam. This elevation is reached in 78 miles.

DECATUR MAN IS HERE ON A VISIT

He Says Crop Conditions in Wise County Show Good Prospects. G. S. Smith, who is in the farming and stock raising business near Decatur, came in this morning over the Denver route to southern Texas. Mr. Smith is somewhat enthusiastic over the present conditions of his section of the country and says that notwithstanding the late rains and present hot weather agricultural conditions are good. Corn, he says, is in good shape, while all cereal and forage crops are doing well.

A VALUABLE DRESS TAKEN FROM BUGGY

The theft of a dress, valued at about $25, occurred yesterday afternoon from a carriage standing on Seventh street, between Main and Houston streets. The dress, which belonged to Mrs. Arthur Goets, was left by her in the carriage for a few moments while she entered the office of the Pacific Express Company to send away a package. She was away from the vehicle but a few moments, but upon her return the package containing the dress was missing. No one was noticed around the vehicle, and no trace of the thief has been found. Goets yesterday afternoon notified the police officials of the loss and the matter is under investigation.

TEXAS CATTLE VALUES

Reports from the range districts of this state indicate that tax assessors and county boards of equalization are up against the question of depreciation of cattle values this year in such a manner as to leave no doubt of the fact that there has been a very marked falling off. According to these reports the value of cattle for taxable purposes will average from $6 to $8 around, which is considerably less than the value of cattle for taxable purposes has been valued at heretofore.

Texas is the largest producer and owner of range cattle in the United States, and more cattle are to be found within the confines of her borders than within any other state. According to the last federal census report, Texas contained in 1900 about nine million cattle, but Texas cattlemen have always insisted that these figures were too high.

Placing the number of cattle actually in Texas at about 7,500,000, which is no doubt nearer the true number than the federal census figures, and the depreciation in taxable values on the Iowa ratio would result in a falling off that will aggregate about $35,000,000, but there are those who believe that the falling off in the taxable values of Texas live stock this year will not fall far short of $50,000,000.

It is intended to carry the cattle exhibit made at the San Antonio fair this fall to St. Louis, to be exhibited at the World's Fair. The annual exhibit at San Antonio in the past has been far superior to that assembled elsewhere in Texas, and it will no doubt show up well at St. Louis.

While cattle have depreciated in value to the extent indicated, it is a singular fact that there has been no depreciation in land values. This fact is pointed to by well posted cattlemen to indicate the certainty of market manipulation being responsible for existing conditions.

advancing shows that the conditions affecting the cattle industry are wholly unnatural and brought about through illegitimate methods, and the cry against the packers continues long and loud.

In some of the western counties the falling off in revenue from the depreciation in the taxable values of live stock will no doubt prove something of a serious matter, as in some of them live stock constitutes a very large asset in the taxation problem. But there is nothing that can be done except to view the situation as philosophically as possible.

NEGRO STATISTICS

Although four years have passed since the twelfth census was taken, the census bureau has but just issued the final bulletin showing the negro population of the United States. The number of negroes in the total area covered by the census of the continental United States, Alaska, Hawaii and Porto Rico, is 9,291,531, probably the largest aggregation of the race outside of Africa.

The report gives other interesting statistics. About 90 per cent of the negroes in the continental United States are in the southern states, three-tenths of them being in Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi. Over 77 per cent live in the country, as against 57 per cent of the whites.

With 90 per cent in the southern states it appears that the race question is one which the north ought to let the southern people handle without interference. The northern people are so few of them that they are not in any way learned in regard to their habits, their customs, their crimes and their lack of social standing.

Eastern New Mexico, where it has been dry so long, has at last had good rains, sufficient to make the necessary grass and put an end to the distressing conditions that have prevailed so long out in that section.

It will no doubt cause Paul Morton many a pang for awhile to see all those fine big warships loaded with officers and men instead of consignments of through freight.

PLATFORM OF THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY ADOPTED AT ST. LOUIS NATIONAL CONVENTION

We, the delegates of the democratic party of the United States, in national convention assembled, declare our devotion to the essential principles of the democratic faith which bring us together in party communion.

Under the local self-government and national unity and prosperity were alike established. We underlay our independence, the structure of our free republic, and every democratic extension from Louisiana to California, and Texas to Oregon, which preserved faithfully in all the states the tie between taxation and representation.

FUNDAMENTAL PRINCIPLES The application of these fundamental principles to the living issues of the day constitutes the first step toward the assured peace, safety and progress of our nation. Freedom of the press, of conscience and of speech, equality before the law of all citizens, the right of jury trial, the freedom of the person defended by the writ of habeas corpus, liberty of personal contract untrammelled by summary laws, the supremacy of the civil over the military law, a well disciplined military, the separation of church and state, economy in expenditures, low taxes that labor may be lightly burdened, the prompt and sacred fulfillment of public and private obligations, fidelity to their just legal and friendly with all nations, entangling alliances with none, absolute acquiescence in the will of the majority, the vital principle of republics—these are the doctrines which democracy has established as precepts of the nation, and they should be constantly invoked, preached, resorted to and enforced.

CAPITAL AND LABOR We favor the amendment and administration of laws, giving labor and capital impartially their just legal rights. Capital and labor ought not to be enemies. Each is necessary to the other. Each has its rights, but the rights of labor are certainly no less "vested," no less "sacred" and no less inalienable than the rights of capital.

CONSTITUTIONAL GUARANTEE Constitutional guarantees are violated when any citizen is denied the right to labor, acquire and enjoy property or reside where his inclination may determine. Any denial thereof by individuals, organizations or governments should be summarily rebuked and punished.

WATERWAYS We favor liberal appropriations for the care and improvement of the waterways of the country. When any waterway like the Mississippi river is of sufficient importance to demand the aid of the government, such aid should be extended with a definite plan of continuous work until permanent improvement is secured.

ADMINISTRATION Large reduction can readily be made in the annual expenditures of the government without impairing the efficiency of any branch of the public service, and we shall insist upon the strictest economy and frugality compatible with efficient civil, military and naval administration, as a right of the people, too clear to deny or withhold.

GOVERNMENT CONTRACT WITH TRUSTS We condemn the action of the republican party in congress in refusing to prohibit an executive department from entering into contracts with convicted trusts or unlawful combinations in restraint of interstate trade. We believe that one of the best methods of procuring economy and honesty in the public service is to have public officials, from the occupants of the White House down to the lowest of them, return, as nearly as may be, to Jeffersonian simplicity of living.

EXECUTIVE USURPTION We favor the nomination and election of a president trained in the ways of the constitution, who shall set his face sternly against executive usurpation of legislative and judicial functions, whether that usurpation be ruled under the guise of the executive construction of laws, or whether it take refuge in the tyrant's plea of necessity or superior wisdom.

IMPERIALISM We favor the preservation, insofar as we can, of an open door for the world's commerce in the Orient without unnecessary entanglement in Oriental and European affairs, and without arbitrary, unlimited, responsible and absolute government anywhere within our jurisdiction. We oppose, as fervently as we can, Washington himself, an indefinite, irresponsible, discretionary and vague absorption of the territory of the United States by the American flag.

RECLAMATION OF ARID LANDS We congratulate our western citizens upon the passage of the measure known as the Newlands Irrigation act for the irrigation and reclamation of the arid lands of the west—a measure framed by a democrat, passed in the senate by a democrat, and passed in the house against the opposition of almost all the republican leaders by a vote, the majority of which was democratic. We call attention to this great democratic measure, broad and comprehensive in its scope, automatically throughout all time without further action of congress, until the reclamation of all the lands in the arid west capable of reclamation is accomplished, reserving the lands reclaimed for homeseekers in small lots, and rigidly guarding against land monopoly, as an evidence of the policy of domestic development contemplated by the democratic party, should it be placed in power.

ISTHMIAN CANAL The democracy, when entrusted with power, will construct the Panama canal speedily, honestly and economically, thereby giving to our people what great interests have always contended for—a great interoceanic canal—furnishing shorter and cheaper routes of transportation and broader and less trammelled trade relations with the other peoples of the world.

AMERICAN CITIZENSHIP We pledge ourselves to insist upon the just and lawful protection of our citizens at home and abroad and to use all proper measures to secure for them whether native born or naturalized, and without distinction of race or creed, the equal protection of laws and the enjoyment of all rights and privileges open to them under the covenants of our treaty of friendship and commerce, and in accordance with existing treaties the right of travel and sojourn is denied American citizens or recognition is withheld from American passports by any countries on the ground of race or creed, we favor the beginning of negotiations with the governments of such countries to secure by new treaties the removal of these unjust discriminations.

use all proper measures to secure for them whether native born or naturalized, and without distinction of race or creed, the equal protection of laws and the enjoyment of all rights and privileges open to them under the covenants of our treaty of friendship and commerce, and in accordance with existing treaties the right of travel and sojourn is denied American citizens or recognition is withheld from American passports by any countries on the ground of race or creed, we favor the beginning of negotiations with the governments of such countries to secure by new treaties the removal of these unjust discriminations.

ELECTION OF SENATORS We favor the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people.

STATEHOOD We favor statehood for Oklahoma and Indian Territory, statehood for Arizona, statehood for New Mexico and a territorial government for Porto Rico.

CONDEMNATION OF POLYGAMY We demand the extermination of polygamy within the jurisdiction of the United States, and the complete separation of church and state in political affairs.

MERCHANT MARINE We denounce the ship subsidy bill recently passed by the United States senate as an iniquitous appropriation of public funds for private purposes and a wasteful, illogical and useless attempt to overcome by subsidy the obstructions raised by republican legislation to the growth and development of American commerce on the seas.

RECIPROcity We favor a liberal trade treaty with Canada.

MONROE DOCTRINE We favor the maintenance of the Monroe doctrine in its full integrity.

ARMY AND NAVY We favor the reduction of the army and of army expenditures to the point historically demonstrated to be safe and sufficient.

PENSIONS The democracy would secure the surviving soldiers and sailors and their dependents generous pensions, not by an arbitrary executive order, but by legislation which a grateful people stand ready to enact.

Our soldiers and sailors who defend with their lives the constitution and laws have a sacred interest in a just administration. They must therefore share with us the humiliation with which we have witnessed the exaltation of court favorites, without distinguished service, over the scarred heroes of many battles, or agrarianized by executive appropriations out of the treasuries of a prostrate people, in violation of the act of congress which fixes the compensation and allowances of the military officers.

QUIL SERVICE The democratic party stands committed to the principles of civil service reform, and we demand their honest, just and impartial enforcement.

SCHOOL AND RACE QUESTIONS The race question has brought countless woes to this country. The calm wisdom of the American people should see to it that it brings no more.

TRUSTS AND UNLAWFUL COMBINATIONS We recognize that the gigantic trusts and combinations designed to enable capital to secure more than its just share of the joint product of capital and labor, and which have been fostered and promoted under the republican rule, are a menace to beneficial competition and an obstacle to permanent business prosperity.

We demand an enlargement of the powers of the interstate commerce commission to the end that the traveling public and shippers of this country may have prompt and adequate relief for the abuses to which they are subjected in the matter of transportation. We demand a sweeping amendment of existing civil and criminal statutes against all such trusts, combinations and monopolies; and we demand the enactment of such further legislation as may be necessary to effectually suppress them.

Any trust or unlawful combination engaged in interstate commerce which is monopolizing any branch of business or production should not be permitted to transact business outside of the state of its origin. Whenever it shall be established in any court of competent jurisdiction that such monopolization exists such prohibition should be enforced through comprehensive laws to be enacted on the subject.

REPUBLICAN ADMINISTRATION The existing republican administration has been spasmodic, erratic, sensational, spectacular and arbitrary. It has made itself a satire upon the congress, the courts and upon the settled practices and usages of national and international law. It summoned the congress into hasty and extra session and early adjourned it, leaving behind in its flight unfinished calendars and unfinished tasks.

It withdrew from congress their customary duties of investigation which have heretofore made the representatives of the people and the states the terror of the evildoers.

It conducted a secretive investigation of its own and boasted of a few sample convictions, while it threw a broad coverlet over the bureau which had been their chosen field of operative abuses and kept in power the superior officers under whose administration the crimes had been committed.

It ordered assault upon some monopolies, but, paralyzed by its first victory, it flung out the flag of truce and cried out that it would not "run amuck"—leaving its future purposes belated by its vacillations.

At the End Of the Hunt

[Copyright, 1904, by Richard B. Shelton.]
The chase had led them over a new turned field, down a long slope where goldenrod and asters nodded in the September breeze, across an alder lined brook and up the slope on the other side. As they neared the crest of the rise Trenholme put his big black hunter beside Miss Carruthers' room.

"I imagine we'll turn back here," he called, nodding at a six rail fence just ahead. "Nonsense!" laughed the girl. "Not for that." "Look," he said. "Mrs. Calvert and the rest are riding north to find a gate. We'd better follow, I think."

The girl merely tossed her head and, touching the reins with her hunting crop, rode straight for the fence. "Great Scott!" cried Trenholme. "Don't try it. You'll—"

Miss Carruthers had reached the fence. He heard her clear voice call "Up, Dan!" to the roan and saw the horse respond with a beautiful spring. Up they went, clearing the top rider by the narrow margin, but there was soft ground on the other side. As the horse landed, Trenholme saw him suddenly sink to his knees, while Miss Carruthers was thrown over his head into the rowan beyond. Trenholme put the black over the fence, and before they had fairly landed he was out of the saddle assisting Miss Carruthers to her feet. His own horse meantime, reviving beautifully from the jump, was thundering across the field after the hunt.

"Are you hurt?" he asked anxiously. "Not a bit," she said, with a nervous laugh. "Thank you," as he handed her her hat and crop. "This comes of being wild and doesn't it?" And to cover her embarrassment she fell to brushing her skirt.

"You cleared it, anyway," he said. "If Dan hadn't lost his ankle, it would have been a magnificent jump. You should be proud of it." "She flashed a look of gratitude. "You're very generous," she said. "See! Dan's ankle is hurt. He limps badly!" Trenholme hitched the man's bridle to the fence.

"Let's sit under the tree over there and rest before we go back," he suggested. "You," said Miss Carruthers, contritely. "I've ruined your afternoon." Trenholme smiled. "On the contrary," he said, "you've made it." "You should be in at the death; you always are," said the girl. "I feel I've nicked a brush from you."

"Brushes are of relative value," said he. "Sometimes I'd risk my neck to be in at the finish. Just now I'd risk my neck not to be." Miss Carruthers flushed. "You're awfully kind to conceal your disappointment that way," she said. "The disappointment is a very happy one for me," he said. "I'm afraid I'd known how it would turn out if I shouldn't have had the moral courage to tell you not to try the fence."

They reached the oak and seated themselves in the mottled shadow, the girl with her back against the gnarled trunk and Trenholme stretched comfortably on the ground before her. "Listen!" he said suddenly. From the distance the cries of the pack came faintly; not the long, reverberating bay of the chase, but the short, staccato barks and yelps in confused chorus—the hubbub that told of the death.

"I wonder who's the lucky man," said Miss Carruthers. Trenholme laughed easily. "Well," he said, "taken all in all, I'm convinced that I am." He looked intently at Miss Carruthers, but at that moment her attention was centered on a bunch of neighboring goldenrod which she was idly filling with her ungloved hand. It was some time before she raised her eyes.

"If I thought you'd give me an absolution I should be tempted to make a confession," she said. "I'll give you absolution now," he said. "Therefore let the confession proceed." "Well," she said, turning to the goldenrod again, "it was simply contrition that made me try the fence. When I saw it first I was rather faint hearted. I fully intended to follow the search for the gate. Then, when you advised me not to try it, I was determined to take it." Trenholme's eyes sparkled with amusement, but his voice became suddenly grave.

WHITES TO HELP NEGROES IN A NEW ORDER

Fort Worthites Organize the Colored Woodmen of the World Supreme Lodge

The secretary of state at Austin has just granted a charter to parties in this city for the organization of a fraternal and insurance order entitled "Colored Woodmen of the World."

The organizers of this order are all white men and citizens of Fort Worth, as follows: J. Schmitt, C. Schmitt, J. E. Albright, C. W. Brewer, F. E. Albright and C. W. Borders.

Whether the W. O. W. will take any action in regard to this new organization has not been determined. James A. Todd, who is secretary of the W. O. W. of this city, said: "I did not know of this colored order until today. I understand, however, that a charter has been granted to white men in this city for the organization of an order called 'Colored Woodmen of the World.' I am not prepared to say whether they are infringing on our rights or not. We will look into the matter and if there is any infringement it will be taken into the courts. None of the men who are getting up this new order belong to the W. O. W."

J. E. ALBRIGHT TALKS The Telegram saw J. E. Albright, who is one of the promoters of this new scheme. "Yes," said Mr. Albright, "we have been granted a charter for the 'Colored Woodmen of the World.' Of course, we are not going to join the order ourselves, but we will simply run the 'business' end of it. The order will have supreme headquarters in this city and then we will establish branches in different southern cities, as we see fit."

"All but the supreme ruler," was the reply. "The white men will control the financial end of the order. The colored people will join it. It is just like any other company," continued Mr. Albright, "colored people are allowed to invest their money in white banks. This order is on the same principle, an entirely business scheme on our part."

Treasury Department. Office of Comptroller of the Currency. Washington, June 20, 1904.

Whereas, by satisfactory evidence presented to the undersigned, it has been made to appear that The State National Bank of Fort Worth, located in the city of Fort Worth, in the county of Tarrant, and state of Texas, has complied with all the provisions of the "Act of Congress to enable National Banking Associations to extend their corporate existence and for other purposes, approved July 12, 1882."

Now, therefore, I, Thomas P. Kane, deputy acting comptroller of the currency, do hereby certify that The State National Bank of Fort Worth, located in the city of Fort Worth, in the county of Tarrant, and state of Texas, is authorized to have succession for the period specified in its amended articles of association, namely, until close of business on June 20, 1924.

In testimony whereof witness my hand and seal of office this 20th day of June, 1904.

(Seal) T. P. KANE, Deputy and Acting Comptroller of the Currency. Ex. No. 2230. No. 3221.

GEISLEMAN GETS OUT ON BOND IN HOUSTON

HOUSTON, Texas, July 4.—The democratic county chairman, J. M. Geiselman, was released on $1,000 bond, pending a hearing of a writ of habeas corpus before the criminal district court. He was adjudged guilty of contempt of court in issuing the primary tickets without the name of E. H. Vasmor, a candidate for county judge, on them. There is no time to print additional tickets. It is a question if the primary does not go by default.

BETTER THAN SPANKING

Spanking does not cure children of urine difficulties. If it did there would be few children that would do it. There is a constitutional cause for this. Mrs. M. NO EXTENSION OF POLYTECHNIC LINE

General Passenger Agent Forbess Says Encampment Will Be a Big Thing

There has been a persistent report that the Northern Texas Traction Company contemplated extending the Polytechnic Heights line on to Handley, thus effecting the Interurban belt line.

General Passenger Agent Forbess said today that the Traction Company had been advised that more than 1,000 people were coming from Dallas Tuesday night to witness the sham battle to take place at Lake Erie between the six or eight companies of the National Guard which go into camp at Lake Erie Sunday morning, the camping equipment for which will arrive from Austin tomorrow.

From Dallas will come four companies, including the artillery, and in one in order to receive the benefits of a double track," said Mr. Haines, who added that an extension from Polytechnic had never been in contemplation.

Mr. Forbess said while he contemplated the encampment will be one of the greatest military gatherings ever held in North Texas.

The Law's Mistake

Timothy Beckford had lived for fifty years with an unspotted reputation, then he discovered that a lifetime spent in establishing a good character was not sufficient to save him from the force of circumstances. The chain of events that ruined him began with one of the most trifling importances, but that was not known till long afterward.

Beckford and his wife had no children, therefore they adopted a foundling, whom they called Edgar. When Edgar was twelve years old Mrs. Beckford died. After her death her husband clung to Edgar, of whom he was very fond, keeping the boy with him without ever permitting him to go about or mingle sufficiently with others of his own age. If Edgar was dissatisfied he did not show it, and people said what a pleasant arrangement for both. The man had a companion, the boy a home.

When Edgar was eighteen he suddenly disappeared. Beckford waited patiently for him to reappear, but he did not. People talked sub rosa that the boy must have been badly treated and had run away. Some intimated that Beckford must have had a motive for making away with him.

Then one day a lawyer appeared who had traced the foundling to Beckford's house and was looking for him to place in his hands a legacy. Edgar's father had died and on his deathbed had confessed that he had abandoned his son, but, dying, left him all he possessed. The lawyer was not satisfied at the story Beckford told as to the boy's disappearance and after eliciting information from the neighbors made up his mind that Beckford had murdered his adopted son. Finally he had Beckford arrested for the crime.

Beckford was a nervous man and on the trial contradicted himself so often that the jury believed him guilty. The police ransacked the house for evidence against him and among the boy's clothing found some articles on which there were stains. A chemist analyzed the stains and pronounced them human blood. This was not sufficient evidence to convict Beckford, but it was too much to warrant his acquittal. The result was a compromise. He was sent to the state penitentiary for twenty years.

His lawyer told him that he should have been acquitted and proposed to move for a new trial, but Beckford was discouraged.

After awhile the heirs-at-law of the property which had been left to Edgar got an order from the court pronouncing Edgar dead. Then their attorneys began proceedings to secure the estate for them.

One day a young man in sailor dress appeared at the house in which Beckford had lived. He said he was Edgar, and when they told him that his father by adoption had been sent to prison for his murder he was greatly distressed. He desired at once to secure his release and was told to consult the lawyer who had defended him.

But a new complication had arisen. If the sailor was Edgar the heirs-at-law to the property would not possess it. The consequence was they hastened themselves to gather proof that he was not Edgar. If a man accused of murder is not in a proper frame of mind to gather evidence of his innocence the faculties of one about to be deprived of money that he has counted on are certainly sharpened to gather evidence in his own behalf. The consequence was that the heirs-at-law convinced a jury that Edgar was a pretence. He, too, was sent to state prison and was confined in the penitentiary with Beckford. Then the heirs-at-law continued their efforts to get possession of the property.

Edgar managed to see and talk with Beckford, telling him that he had become restive at being kept so close and had been infatuated with a desire to go to sea. He knew that Beckford would not consent, so after resisting temptation as long as possible he had determined to go without so much as saying "goodby." He explained the blood on his clothing by saying that in cutting the models of ships—a favorite pastime with him—he had frequently cut himself.

Here were two men, both entirely innocent of the crime for which they were convicted, in state prison.

One day Beckford bethought himself that his wife had always kept the clothes in which the foundling had been dressed when taken from the asylum in an old trunk. Thinking they might help matters, he wrote his attorney to go to where he had left his household goods, open the trunk and examine the baby clothes. The attorney did so and found a shirt marked B. E. S. Mrs. Beckford had planned to it a description of the babe, mentioning a red diamond shaped spot under the left shoulder blade. When Beckford told Edgar this he showed the spot. The heir by will to the property was Benjamin Edward Sanford.

Here was proof enough. The claimant was what he claimed to be, and since he was the man supposed to have been murdered Beckford was innocent.

One would suppose that with this evidence at hand a few days at most would be sufficient to release Beckford. But his attorney was obliged to first prove that his adopted son was living. This took time, but when he had proved it he had also proved that Edgar was Benjamin Edward Sanford and the legal heir to a fortune. Then the governor was appealed to for a pardon in behalf of a man who was innocent, but legally convicted. This was soon accomplished, and Beckford was freed. In time Edgar got his property and, turning it over to his benefactor to manage, went to work in a shipyard and became a great shipbuilder.

SMALL BOY SAVES NEIGHBOR'S HOUSE

Erich Brann Drags a Garden Hose and Extinguishes a Fire

The house of A. Cohen at 613 East First street was saved from burning yesterday morning by the heroic work of little Erich Brann, aged 8 years, son of H. Brann of this city.

Some children in the Cohen yard, playing with matches, started the blaze, which for a time threatened to destroy the house. By some mistake in alarm the fire department went to East Third street, instead of to East First.

Little Erich Brann, who lives just across the street from the Cohen house, saw the fire and with great presence of mind secured a garden hose, dragged it to the Cohen residence and soon extinguished the blaze.

When the fire department arrived there was no work for them to do. Young Brann smiled proudly.

Chief Maddox was much amused over the affair and praised Young Brann highly.

Mr. Maddox said to The Telegram: "Yes, I have a new volunteer fireman on First street in the person of Erich Brann. If it hadn't been for him the Cohen house would certainly have burned."

The Arcade 1204-6 Main Street

Southwestern Telegraph and Telephone Company, was severely cut about the head and bruised by a fall from a pole in North Fort Worth yesterday afternoon. Dr. M. E. Gilmore attended the injured man, who was removed to his home, 415 West Third street.

The attendance on the session of the Tarrant county Summer Normal being held at Polytechnic Heights is quite large, there being present more than sixty teachers from various sections of the state. The normal will continue to and include July 28. Superintendent Moore said today that it was proving to be the most interesting session of the normal ever held.

Rev. R. R. Hamlin, pastor of the First Christian church, arrived home this morning from the big camp meeting at Seneca on the San Marcos river. He reports the biggest camp meeting in Texas, large attendance and several scores of conversions. Mr. Hamlin will occupy his pulpit at the First Christian church as usual tomorrow. The camp grounds down there have been leased for five years and permanent arrangements made for an annual camp meeting.

Sam Wilm, one of the big stockmen of Bosque county, was here yesterday with a shipment of cattle. He says his part of the state is in a flourishing condition, the season having been propitious in all the term implies. There has been plenty of rain, and all crops are looking and doing well. No boll weevils are reported in Bosque county, and farmers feel hopeful there will be none this year in that part of the state.

At the meeting of the Andrew Jackson Club, a political organization recently organized in this city, the members of which pledge themselves to vote as unit. It was decided to support no set of candidates in the elections of today. In the resolutions announcing this intention the club states that being yet in its infancy and having had no time to investigate the comparative merits of the candidates it would be both unwise and unjust to take any such action.

SMALL BOY AND A LOADED PISTOL ACCIDENT

Little Fellow Pulls the Trigger and His Sister Is Seriously Wounded

"I am going to shoot you!" This was the remark that the 8-year-old son of Z. T. Carey of 1184 East Thirteenth street made to his 14-year-old sister yesterday evening. As he said this he pointed a 22-caliber rifle at her and pulled the trigger. As is often the case, the gun proved to be loaded and the bullet entered the girl's left side just above the kidneys and came out below the right shoulder.

Both children were panic stricken, the boy surprised to find that the gun was loaded and the girl paralyzed with the fear of being shot.

Immediately after the shooting a physician was summoned and the wound was dressed. At present the doctors can not tell the seriousness of the wound. They think, however, that unless complications set in the child will recover.

DENVER TRAIN STRIKES A WAGON

At 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon an incoming Denver passenger train crashed into a farmer's wagon and completely demolished it. It could not be learned to whom the wagon belonged and only a meager account of the accident could be secured.

It appears that the mules hitched to the wagon, becoming frightened at the approaching train, turned and ran directly up the track. The rushing train struck the rear of the vehicle.

A man and his son were in the wagon, both of whom were thrown from the seat, but did not sustain serious injuries.

Tablequah, which used to be noted on the maps of all old geographies as the capital of Indian Territory, is a town now of about twenty-five hundred people, and the majority of its population are Cherokee Indians. The Cherokees are of all shades of complexions. Some coal-black negroes boast of being Cherokee Indians, but the prevailing color is a dusky brown, a little darker than that of a Japanese, or a yellow somewhat lighter than a mulatto.

Concerning a Vowel

[Copyright, 1904, by M. Wood.]

Mr. Mark Tirrell swung his horse into the bridge path that ran along one side of the avenue and to the unutterable surprise of Nancy, who was something of a loafer in the way of horse-flesh, he permitted her to drop into the gait he was wont to term "funereal." As a general thing, when they reached the bridge path in the gray of these early winter mornings Tirrell would say briskly, "Come, Nancy," touch her with the crop and they would go galloping smartly toward the reservoir in a fashion which made the occupants of the early cars turn about to catch another glimpse of them.

There was no "Come, Nancy," this morning; no touch of the crop. Tirrell sat stilly in the saddle, gazing straight ahead—at nothing apparently. So Nancy poked along in her shuffling walk, her head thrust out and her ears laid back in a manner which on any ordinary occasion could not have failed to rouse Tirrell's ire.

It was a dull, cheerless morning. Low hanging clouds were in the sky, and through the bare branches of the elms the wind whistled a prophecy of snow. Tirrell smiled grimly. The morning corresponded with his mood.

Last night, when he had quarreled with Amy Linton, it had seemed to him that with very proper dignity he had offered able defense of a principle; this morning, as he mentally reviewed the affair, he stamped his whole course of action as asinine.

Miss Linton was not the sort of girl who flew into temper one moment and repented it the next. Her anger matured slowly and was deep rooted. Tirrell felt sure the end had come. No more jolly evenings with her before the library fire; no more rides with her in the crisp air of the winter mornings. He shut his teeth and threw back his head.

"Close ranks here," he growled to himself, and to the mare, "Come, Nancy." He struck her smartly with the crop. Nancy responded with a sideways spring which would have unseated a less experienced rider and galloped up the path at a pace that sent the blood surging to Tirrell's cheeks. But neither the pace of the mare nor the chill of the morning nor his own determination to forget the whole affair could drive Amy Linton from his mind.

He could see her standing, as she had last night, on the other side of the library table, her face white and her eyes flashing fire. He could hear her say again, "There is really nothing more to be said, Mr. Tirrell; good night," and he pictured her to himself as she swept from the room, her head poised proudly above the perfect shoulders.

Tirrell felt something tighten in his throat.

"Damn it!" he exploded and urged the mare into a breakneck run.

Tirrell was well out toward the reservoir and still riding recklessly when he saw a riderless horse galloping down the bridge path. He pulled Nancy up, and heading her in the opposite direction, he rode slowly along, awaiting the arrival of the other horse. As it came up he leaned from the saddle and grasped the bride of the runaway. The horse carried a sidesaddle, and there was a white star on the forehead that brought Tirrell's heart to his mouth. It was Miss Linton's horse.

He turned Nancy, and leading the other horse beside him, he rode up the bridge path again. They had gone but a short distance when he espied Amy Linton walking unconcernedly down the path. Tirrell heaved a sigh of genuine relief.

"I was afraid you were hurt," said he, dismounting.

"No," she said. "I was tightening the girth when he left rather unceremoniously. Stand still, Tony, you idiot!" she said to the horse.

"I—I'm glad I happened along," said Tirrell. He felt rather embarrassed.

"It was kind of you to catch him," she said.

Tirrell assisted her to mount.

"May I finish out the ride with you?" he asked.

Miss Linton's eyebrows were raised a trifle.

"If you wish," she said coldly.

"For awhile they galloped along in silence. Tirrell suddenly drew his horse nearer hers.

"Have you any idea where I was headed for?" he said in a low voice.

"I'm afraid I haven't," she said, still frigidly.

"You remember the little hill just past the reservoir," he pursued, "the one where we used to ride mornings and watch the sun sparkle the snow on the opposite slope?"

Miss Linton regarded him steadily for a moment.

"Yes," she said quietly.

"I was going out there," he said, "and I—er—felt—oh, hang it!—as if I were going to a grave," he blurted.

There was silence again. Then Miss Linton spoke, her head turned from him.

"I was going out there too. I—I think I felt much the same."

"Amy!" he cried and caught her hand in his. Her head was still turned from him, but the little ear nearest him was very red.

"I'm a brute," he asserted.

She laughed softly.

"You are," she averred, "but it's half the fight if you know it."

"I'm going to reform," he said. "I need you to help me through."

He felt her hand tremble in his.

"Let's ride this bridge path," he said, "oh, say a month from now, and let's change it a bit. Let's make that final 'e' in 'bridge' an 'a' and put it before the 'r'."

She turned her head toward him, her face flushed scarlet.

"Let's," she said simply.

The giant petrel of the Arctic regions will feed on food until it is so absolutely gorged as to be unable to rise off the ice in flight. Then it runs along the ice, if chased, spreading its wings out as sails. Before being captured, however, the petrel will suddenly stop and disgorge a quantity of semi-digested food, and then go off on a run again. If overtaken a second time it will repeat the performance, and when once it has got rid of its dinner flies away.

PREPARING CAMP FOR COMING TROOPS

Major Elliott and Detachment of the Fencibles Are at Lake Erie Getting Ready for the Encampment

Major Elliott and a detachment of the Fencibles went to Lake Erie this morning to lay out the camp for the gathering of the troops of the Third and Fourth regiments, which commences tomorrow.

The troops that will be present are one battalion each of the above regiments, including the D. C. Ernest Rifles and the Scurry Guards, Dallas; the Waxahachie Rifles, Waxahachie; Terrell Rifles, Terrell; the Fort Worth Fencibles, the Decatur, Cleburne and Wichita Falls Rifles of the Fourth regiment. The maneuvers will be under the direction of Lieutenant Colonel West of Fort Worth, assisted by Majors Roach of Dallas and Elliott of Fort Worth. It is also reported that a detachment from the Dallas Artillery will attend under the command of Lieutenant Scales. Captain H. C. Clements of the United States army's local recruiting office and General Luther R. Hare, retired, will conduct the inspection of the troops.

The troops will move into the camp Sunday morning, when the encampment begins officially.

In the evening at 6:30 o'clock a dress parade and review will be held on the parade ground, which gives ample room for the evolutions of a large body of

MELLEN COUNTY MELONS

WACO, Texas, July 9.—The watermelon crop in this section is specially fine this season, and the melons have been coming in some time. The melons were good almost from the first, and there has been a steady and growing demand for them. The local growers are beginning to supply the markets here pretty well, and there is not as much demand for outside melons as formerly. The earlier ones find some sale here, but the people do not seem to realize that melons have really come until they begin to ripen here, and there is not much demand for them until that time. They are larger, better flavored and finer generally than for some time.

That a person who has been often stung by bees becomes in time immune to the poison of the sting is asserted by Dr. H. F. Parker. He reports that when he first began to keep bees he was frequently stung and that each sting was attended with acute pain; but that as time went on the pain and swelling became less.
