ARBITRATION IS AGREED TO BY PACKERS AND THE BUTCHERS WHO ARE OUT

Strikers in North Fort Worth Receive the News Last Night and Have a Jollification, as It Is Considered a Victory for the Union—Are to Return to Work Friday Morning and All Matters in Dispute Will Be Taken Up by Board to Be Selected—Telegram Reporter Visits Swift Plant and Ascertains That But Few Men Are at Work, Many of Whom Are From the Office Force

"Have agreed to arbitrate entire matter. Men to be put to work as fast as possible without discrimination. Any one not having been re-employed within forty-five days can bring case before arbitrators. The arbitration board to consist of three practical packing house men, and begin arbitration when work is resumed. All mechanics, trades and teamsters indorse settlement and latter consider it a victory. Wire approval tonight sure."

The above telegram was received last night in North Fort Worth, signed by President Donnelly of the Butcher Workers' union and the entire locality was given over to jollification. The men applauded what they considered a victory, they shouted, cheered, sang songs. It was a rousing time.

As soon as the men could get together an answer to the above telegram was prepared, indorsing the settlement, and immediately sent to Chicago. The papers were called in and informed they were no longer required for duty, and the various committees which had been appointed were discharged from further service.

Under the plan of agreement the packing-house employees in this city will report for work tomorrow morning at the two plants in North Fort Worth. Those who do not get their positions back are to wait forty-five days and if then not at work they have the right to appeal to arbitration.

W. M. AYLOR TALKS OF IT
W. M. Aylor, one of the committee of the strikers, called at the office of The Telegram this morning and said: "I came to thank The Telegram for the very fair hand which it has taken in this strike. The union men of this city appreciate it, and while we do not want to draw unpleasant comparisons, we wish to say that we have discovered in this instance what newspapers are disposed to be fair, and the future will see the union men of this city to keep outsiders from committing acts which could be charged to the strikers. We consider it a magnificent victory."

TO SETTLE CONTROVERSY
CHICAGO, July 21.—The strike of packing house employees begun ten days ago, and which has demoralized the packing industry throughout the country, was settled here last night at a conference between representatives of the packers, the officials of the Meat Cutters' Union, and the representative of all the allied trades employed at the stock yards. The controversy will be submitted to a board of arbitration, both sides agreeing to abide by whatever decision this board may reach.

TO GO TO WORK
CHICAGO, July 21.—Forty thousand butcher workmen, who on July 17, paralyzed the meat industry of the country, at work the board of arbitration will pass morning. While they continue peacefully at work the board of arbitration will pass judgment upon the contentions of the laborers for higher wages and less arduous working conditions. In their decision the arbitrators will settle the issue of the great strike.

REPORTER VISITS
PACKING PLANTS
A Telegram representative, the first newspaper man to go through any of the packing houses since the commencement of the strike, now being adjusted, visited the local plants yesterday to gain an accurate idea of the conditions, conflicting claims having been made by the men and the officials of the company.

JAP AND THE BEAN-STALK

whetted their knives and went busily at the work. Altogether the plant presented the appearance of a sleeping city, with here and there a few workers. The entrance and exit of men made it difficult to learn accurately the number of men at work. Not over forty-five men were seen in the whole plant, however, in the regular round as conducted by the guide and it is possible that some of these may have been counted twice.

J. OGDEN ARMOUR GLAD OF SETTLEMENT

NEW YORK, July 21.—J. Ogden Armour, head of the Chicago packing company, who is in this city, expressed great pleasure that the butchers' strike had been settled. After a conversation by telephone with Manager Arthur Meeker in Chicago, Mr. Armour said: "I have not heard all the details yet, but you can say for me that I am glad that the strike is ended and that I hope matters will run smoothly from now on. I can not now, of course, say that the settlement will be permanent, as the men are likely to strike at any time, but I hope for the best."

SITUATION IS VERY GRAVE

FALL RIVER, July 21.—The Sentinels displayed by the cotton mill operatives of this city following their vote last night in favor of striking next Monday against a 12 1/2 per cent reduction in wages today seemed more bitter against the manufacturers than at any time in recent years. General sentiment seems to be one of sympathy for the operatives. The gravity of the situation is recognized and business men are blue.

By a vote of 1,510 to 296 the textile workers decided to strike on July 25 in all of the so-called union cotton mills of this city, where a 12 1/2 per cent reduction in wages has been announced to become operative next Monday. Thirty thousand employees are affected.

FOR WORLD'S FAIR

SHERMAN, Texas, July 21.—Dispatches sent out from the Texas convention. Folk far outnumbered with delegates, his only rival for nomination, Harry B. Hayes, president of the Jefferson Democratic Club of St. Louis, and the result of the convention was clearly defined.

World's fair building state that C. C. Mayhew of Sherman reports that $50 has been raised in Grayson county to supply the Texas exhibit with fruits. This is incorrect, the amount being $500—ten times as much as stated—$250 having already been subscribed in Sherman and lists are being circulated in Denison and Whitesboro. The committee in Denison expects to raise $250 without any trouble and Whitesboro assures $100. Other towns in the county are expected to follow suit and the total greatly swelled in order that Grayson county's varied products may be kept on exhibition in the most attractive and creditable manner possible.

INJURIES HAVE RESULTED IN DEATH

NEW YORK, July 21.—William G. Thompson, a prominent politician of Detroit, is dead at a private sanitarium in Yonkers, as the result of being knocked down by a boy bicycle scorching on April 12, last. He was reported to be dying last month, but rallied and when taken to Yonkers was considered on the road to recovery. Mr. Thompson was twice mayor of Detroit, state senator and always prominent in Michigan politics.

SUMMER NORMAL BOARD

AUSTIN, July 21.—The summer normal board of examiners convened in the capitol this morning and will remain in session thirty days.

PREMIUM FOR FIST SALE

WACO, Texas, July 20.—The Business Men's club of this city will offer premiums for the first bale of cotton in Waco's trade territory that is marketed here. The premiums will be worth working for, and it is expected that there will be returns in a short time. The cotton crop was planted early, and has had very favorable weather, and every indication points to a good cotton crop.

China is the largest purchaser of German needles. About fifty per cent of the needles exported from Germany are sent to China.

RUSSIA IS WILLING TO RELEASE STEAMER IF A MISTAKE HAS BEEN MADE

Ambassador at Court of St. Petersburg Assures Lord Lansdowne That the Czar Has No Intention of Violating the Rights of Neutrals—Matter Is Being Investigated—Associated Press Is Assured That Russia Will Yield in the Malacca Case and Will Pay Damages—Great Britain is Sending a Squadron to the Red Sea, Where the Russian Patrol by Warships Continues

LONDON, July 21.—The Associated Press learns Count Benckendorff, Russian ambassador, had a conference with Foreign Secretary Lansdowne yesterday afternoon and made what may be considered to be a preliminary report on the British protest against the seizure of the steamer Malacca. He assured the foreign secretary his government had no intention of infringing on the rights of Great Britain or any other neutral power and if a mistake has been made in the seizure of the Malacca, unquestionably the steamer will immediately be restored and damages be paid.

The ambassador pointed out that it is unreasonable to suppose the Malacca has been seized without the commander of the St. Petersburg having good grounds to believe she had contraband of war on board. Unless this suspicion is effectually disproved the matter will have to go before a prize court, which procedure Great Britain herself follows. In the meantime Russia will make a full investigation in order to establish definitely the grounds on which the commander acted. The ambassador informed Lord Lansdowne he had telegraphed the British protest to St. Petersburg and said it will receive the immediate attention of the emperor of Great Britain.

Subsequently Count Benckendorff informed Lord Lansdowne that inquiries were at once begun and a prompt reply will be made. There is reason to believe Russian authorities are inclined to the conclusion that the commander of the St. Petersburg made a grave mistake in seizing the Malacca. This can be established by his reports, which have been telegraphed for, and if this opinion is confirmed orders will be telegraphed to release the Malacca.

WILL RELEASE THE VESSEL
ST. PETERSBURG, July 21.—The Associated Press has excellent reason in stating Russia will yield in the Malacca case and release the steamer in accordance with the British demand, and express regret at the decision.

NOISE OF NO EFFECT
ST. PETERSBURG, July 21.—The St. Petersburg Gazette, referring to the seizure of warships in the Red Sea by Russian warships says: "Whether or not the Red Sea cruisers can be brought to the Red Sea has nothing to do with the right of search and seizure. All this noise will have no effect."

NO FURTHER ANSWER
BERLIN, July 21.—No further answer has been given to the protest of the German government to Russia as a result of the seizure of the steamer Malacca.

JAPS DRIVEN BACK
CHIEFOU, July 21, 5 p. m.—A French priest living in Chiefo, who is a personal friend of and who is in communication with General Stoessel, received information today that the Japanese suffered severe loss north of Port Arthur recently and were driven back to Nagao Pass.

TWO KILLED IN A STREET DUEL IN TOWN OF MART

WACO, Texas, July 21.—In a street duel at Mart, in this county, last night, Edgar Persons, a white man, was killed by a negro, Jim Scott, and the negro was also killed.

The trouble came up at a negro dance to which two or three white men had gone. Only three shots were fired, the negro being hit in the back and Persons in the back of the head. It is supposed that the two persons did the shooting, though others are implicated.

The row became a general one and quite a number were knocked down in the melee, but none were seriously hurt. The trouble occurred at midnight and the white man disappeared. He was found this morning near the place, and the evidence was that he died soon after the shooting. The affair occasioned much excitement at Mart.

INDIANS IN CAMP MEETING

MUSKOGEE, I. T., July 21.—The full-blood Indians are having an old-fashioned camp meeting at Cusseta Square ground, near Okmulgee. This ground was originally dedicated to sacred uses, but in conformity to recent changes the roasting pits are smoking and sofka fermenting in the jars. Many white people are attending this meeting, and the services generally continue all through the night. Much shouting is indulged in.

CHARGED WITH SWINDLING

SAN ANTONIO, July 21.—Guadalupe Moya, a Mexican, was arrested by Constable Stevens charged with swindling in bringing an alleged fictitious damage suit against the International and Great Northern railroad for $15,000, for personal injuries. It is alleged that Moya was not injured in the railroad accident as the nation alleges.

THE INSURANCE CASES
SAN ANTONIO, Texas, July 21.—The proceedings in the anti-trust insurance case in Justice Umscheldt's court developed nothing new this morning. George C. Eichlitz, local agent, is on the stand.

FOLK WILL RID MISSOURI OF THE BOODLE ELEMENT

Joseph W. Folk, circuit attorney of St. Louis, was nominated for governor by the state democratic convention of Missouri at 3:35 o'clock this morning in Jefferson City.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., July 21.—After an all-night session, marked by intervals of disorder and commotion that could not be quelled by the gavel, the democratic state convention early today unanimously nominated Joseph W. Folk, circuit attorney of St. Louis, for governor and adopted a platform which promises to be a vigorous, unrelenting crusade against corruption and boodle in Missouri in the event of democratic supremacy at the polls.

"There are two things I am proud of, the aid and assistance the good citizen has given me and the intense hatred and malicious mouthings of corrupt enemies. The responsibility for the existence of corruption does not rest upon either party, but the democratic party has assumed responsibility for stamping it out and we want all good citizens of every political belief to aid us. The battle against boodle has only commenced in Missouri. If I am elected to a larger field of opportunity I propose to make Missouri the most unhealthy place in all the land for corruptionists to operate in. There is work to be done in this state for its moral, material and intellectual advancement, which you commissioned me to do. The commission is a sacred one and I will observe it as such. Here in your presence and in the presence of this great multitude I consecrate myself to the work you have assigned to me, and with His help and as long as God gives me life and strength to do it, I will combat things that dishonor and oppress."

Dear Sir:

"I took Peruna last summer when I was all run down, and had a headache and backache, and no ambition for anything. I now feel as well as I ever did in all my life, and all thanks is due to your excellent Peruna."—Bess F. Healy.

The symptoms of summer catarrh are quite unlike in different cases, but the most common ones are general lassitude, played-out, tired-out, run-down feelings, combined with more or less heavy, stupid, listless, mental condition. Relish for food and the ability to digest food seems to be lost.

Skin eruptions, sallow complexion, biliousness, coated tongue, fitful, irregular sleep, help to complete the picture which is so common at this season.

Peruna so exactly meets all these conditions that the demand is so great for this remedy at this season of the year that it is nearly impossible to supply it.

Pe-ru-na Contains No Narcotics.

One reason why Peruna has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotics of any kind. Peruna is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring the drug habit.

Thousands of women suffer from pelvic catarrh and catarrhal nervousness and don't know it. If you feel fagged out, begin at once taking Dr. Hartman's Peruna. It will relieve your catarrhal affliction and all your organs will be restored to health. Buy a bottle to-day, as it will immediately alleviate your case.

THREE SHOTS ARE FIRED AT NEGRO BY OFFICER

There was quite a bit of excitement in the neighborhood of The Telegram office about 1:15 today.

Charles Sanders, colored, ran past the guard in the city prison and made a dash for liberty. Three shots were fired by Officer Dillon, who was in pursuit.

The door of the prison was opened in order to remove the dishes and remains of the noon-day meal. The negro Sanders stood near the door and when it was opened dashed through and out into the yard.

Charles Dillon, prison guard, immediately gave chase and fired three times.

The negro ran across the city hall lawn, turned east on Eighth street, then ran north through the alley way back of The Telegram building. Near the end of the alley he was captured by another negro.

The shots attracted quite a crowd, who followed the prisoner back to the city hall. There he was put in a dark cell.

Sanders was arrested this morning by Officer Sebe Maddox as a theft suspect.

Just who should send it, and why, the judge is in doubt, and he is asking his friends to help him solve it. It is well known that Judge Milam is one of the most eligible of bachelors, and it is suggested by some that it is a hint that he should be a bread winner for one who will spread for him a table with the finest linen, and give him all the comforts of a home.

Mothers! Retain Your Youthful Figures.

To be beautiful is to be loved by all. If there lives the woman who is indifferent to this she is yet to be heard of. Yet from time immemorial society has recognized what they thought to be a detriment in the way of such a realization. The bearing of children has meant to them the marbling of physical beauty of figure, without which beauty of face would be of little account. Nothing could be more remote from truth than this; childbirth is purely a natural phenomenon, accompanied by pain, to be sure, but if properly managed is no more harmful in its effects upon the human form divine than any other natural function.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

is essential in the proper management of every case of labor; it relaxes and softens the abdominal muscles, thereby enabling them to sustain the stretching that they must undergo, and from this very fact it facilitates their return to normal proportions after childbirth, and it is obvious that pain must be greatly lessened from this very reason.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF IRON TRADE

There is a Disposition to Help Things Along With Cheerful Talk. NEW YORK, July 21.—There is in nearly all quarters a kindly disposition, says the Iron Age, to help an improvement in the iron trade along with cheerful talk, as there certainly are many inquiries and a good deal more of estimating on work than there has been. But there is little really reliable evidence that actual orders have increased materially.

WHITE MAN'S GOVERNMENT

The sentiment that this is a white man's government is a growing one all over the United States, the thinking men and conservative element even of the republican party recognizing the fact that there must be no division of the right to govern with an inferior race.

The policy of the present republican national administration in dealing with the negro problem is a most mistaken one. It is an established fact that the negro of the future can never be more politically in the South than he is today.

The declaration in the federal constitution that all men were born free and equal does not apply in the South, where it is a well established fact that all men were not born free and equal.

Information comes from Beaumont that John W. Gates is out of the proposed big South Texas rice combination. Perhaps there was not enough in the combination to measure up to Mr. Gates' idea of a respectable jackpot.

The newspapers are again disposing of both the Santa Fe and Katy lines of railway, but as yet none of the numerous transfers have been made to stick.

Why give all the credit for boll weevil extermination to the South American ants? Are there no United States ants?

loss of her slaves. Nine-tenths of the Southern population of today is glad the negro is free. But the South will never concede the point that this is other than a white man's government and will resist to the finish any attempt to return to conditions prevailing in the days of reconstruction.

Other nations talk and prate of the yellow peril that is to be feared some day from Asiatic quarters, but in the South we have a peril of more somber hue that will one day cause the most serious trouble unless there is a cessation of the effort to make a white man of the negro in Southern communities.

The rise and fall of the cattle industry for the past twenty-five years is well portrayed in the federal census figures. In 1880 the number of cattle in the United States other than milch cows, was about 21,000,000. Four years later the number had increased to 28,000,000.

Canada is said to be courting reciprocal trade relations with Mexico, and with true American enterprise, is trying to induce Mexico to grant a large subsidy for the establishment of a line of steamers to ply between Canadian and Mexican ports.

Austin is still at work on the project of having the dam across the Colorado river rebuilt, and if it is done it is to be hoped the new enterprise will prove of more real value than its predecessor.

The International and Great North ern railway offers $1000 each for the arrest and conviction of the bunch of train robbers that recently held up one of its trains near Palestine.

The republican party made the mistake of its life in not making Booker T. Washington Mr. Roosevelt's running mate. There was opportunity for a fine demonstration of consistency but perhaps consistency in regard to the negro problem is only intended to apply to the South.

East Texas fruit and truck growers are growing rich through the development of those industries in that section of the state. East Texas is coming to the front and becoming noted for something more substantial now than the birthplace of successful politicians.

Congressman Cooper should not contest the election of his victorious opponent, for such action always weakens the contestee to a very material extent.

A cotton warehouse scheme has been launched at Waco, which has for its object national organization to control the sale of the annual cotton crop. Daniel J. Sully is not believed to have any stock in this new cotton enterprise.

Some surprise is expressed that in the general packing horse strike Dallas was omitted. The explanation of the seeming phenomenon is that as a packing house center Dallas struck out when Armour and Swift came to this city.

The defeat of Mr. Arthur Lefevre for state superintendent of public instruction is something of a tribute to the political power of the Texas weekly press, which was largely arrayed against the gentleman.

President Roosevelt is reported to be resting very quietly at Oyster Bay, and after next November he will be prepared to enjoy a long term of enforced rest and pleasant recreation.

Attendance at the World's Fair at St. Louis is said to be picking up to some extent, and will no doubt become a great deal better when there is a breath of cooler weather.

Russian warships may be unable to do any business with Japan, but they are showing some ability to hold up English merchantmen in the Red sea.

The Gentleman From Indiana By Booth Tarkington

Several times they have made attempts on his life. A Miss Sherwood from the east comes to visit Judge Briscoe, one of the community's most influential men.

After supper he goes to Judge Briscoe's again and he and Miss Sherwood sit and talk in the garden. The night wears on and a storm blows up. Miss Sherwood is to leave the next day and the editor is unable to bear it any longer and tells her his love.

The storm increases in its fury and the editor leaves in the midst of it. In Judge Briscoe's house they are fearful for his safety. The storm increases in its fury and those at Judge Briscoe's grow more anxious.

He shivered. His name was spoken from within, and Horner came out on the steps with the two eminent surgeons, and the latter favored him with a few words which he did not understand.

Hartless' eyes were bandaged. The lawyer was speaking to him, and as Horner went awkwardly toward the cot Warren said something indicative of the sheriff's presence, and the hand on the sheet made a formless motion.

"Now, Mr. Hartless, if you please," said Barrett insinuatingly, "if you feel like telling us as much as you can about it."

He answered in a low, rather indistinct voice very deliberately, pausing before almost every word. It was easy work for the sleepy stenographer.

"I understand. I don't want to go off my head again before I finish. If it were only for myself I should tell you nothing, because if I am to leave I should like it better if no one were punished. But that's a bad community over there. They are everlastingly worrying our people. They're always being a bother to us, and it's time it was stopped for good."

Horner and Smith had started at the mention of the Crossroads, but they subdued their ejaculations, while Mr. Barrett looked as if he had known it, of course. The room was still, save for the dim voice and the soft transcriptions of the stenographic pen.

"I left Judge Briscoe's and went west on the pike to a big tree. It rained, and I stepped under the tree for shelter. There was a man on the other side of the fence—Bob Skillet. He was carrying his gun and hood—I suppose it was that—on his arm.

Living in a farm house near Taunton, Mass., is the last descendant of the Massachusetts Indians, Princess Pocawontanna of the Wampanoags. She is called Miss Mitchell by her neighbors. Her face, it is said, is of pure olive type so rarely seen, and although 67 years is in full possession of her mental and physical vigor.

Meredith went out on the steps and breathed the cool night air. A slender taint of drugs hung everywhere about the building, and the almost imperceptible permeation sickened him. It was deadly, he thought. To him it was imbued with a hideous portent of suffering.

Meredith went out on the steps and breathed the cool night air. A slender taint of drugs hung everywhere about the building, and the almost imperceptible permeation sickened him. It was deadly, he thought. To him it was imbued with a hideous portent of suffering.

Alas, he had found John Hartless. He had lost track of him as men sometimes do lose track of their best beloved, but it had always been a comfort to know that Hartless was somewhere, a comfort without which he could hardly have got along.

He remembered now hearing a man who had spent the day in Plattville on a business speak of him: "They've got a young fellow down there who'll be governor in a few years. He's a sort of dictator. Runs the party all over that part of the state to suit his own sweet will just by sheer personality."

He named the men slowly and carefully. Then he went on: "I think they gave up the notion of whipping. We all got into a bunch, and they couldn't get clear to shoot without hitting some of their own, and there was a lot of gouging and kicking. One fellow nearly got my left eye, and I tried to tear him apart, and he screamed a good deal. Once or twice I thought I might get away, but somebody hammered me over the head and face again, and I got dizzy, and then they all jumped away from me suddenly, and Bob Skillet stepped up and—and shot me. He waited for a flurry of lightning, and I was slow tumbling down. Some one else fired a shotgun, I think, I can't be sure, about the same time from the side. I tried to get up, but I couldn't, and then they got together for a consultation. The man I had hurt—I didn't recognize him—came and looked at me. He was nursing himself all over and groaned, and I laughed, I think; at any rate my arm was lying stretched out on the grass, and he stamped his heel into my hand, and after a little of that I quit feeling."

"I'm not quite clear about what happened afterward. They went away—not far, I think. There's an old shed, a cattle shelter, near there, and I think the storm drove them under it to wait for a slack. It seemed a long time. Sometimes I was conscious, sometimes I wasn't. I thought I might be drowned, but I suppose the rain was good for me. Then I remember being in motion, being dragged and carried a long way. They carried me up a steep, short slope and set me down near the top. I knew that was the railroad embankment, and I thought they meant to lay me across the track, but it didn't occur to them—they are not familiar with melodrama—and a long time after that I felt and heard a great banging and rattling under me and all about me, and it came to me that they had disposed of me by hoisting me into an empty freight car. The odd part of it was that the car wasn't empty, for there were two men already in it, and I knew them by what they said to me."

"They were the two shell men that cheated Hartley Bowlder, and they weren't vindictive. They even seemed to be trying to help me a little, though perhaps they were only stealing my clothes, and maybe they thought for them to do anything unpleasant would be superfluous. I could see that they thought I was done for and that they had been hiding in the car when I was put there. I asked them to try to call the trainmen for me, but they wouldn't listen or else I couldn't make myself understood. That's all. The rest is a blur. I haven't known anything more until those surgeons were here. Please tell me how long ago it happened. I shall not die, I think. There are a good many things I want to know about."

Meredith rose and left the room with a noiseless step. He went out to the stars again and looked to them to check the storm of rage and sorrow that buffeted his bosom. He understood lynching, now the thing was home to him, and his feeling was no inspiration of a fear lest the law miscarry. It was the itch to get his own hand on the rope.

Horner came out presently and whispered a long, broad, profound curse upon the men of the Crossroads, and Meredith's gratitude to him was keen. Barrett went away soon after, and Meredith had a strange, unreasonable desire to kick Barrett, possibly for his sergeant's sake. Warren Smith sat in the ward with the nurse and Gay, and the room was very quiet. It was a long vigil. They were only waiting.

At 5 o'clock he was still alive—just that, Smith came out to say. Meredith sent a telegram to Helen which would give Plattville the news that Hartless was found and was not yet gone from the ward. Horner left for the station to catch a train. There were things for him to do in Carlow. At noon Meredith sent a second telegram to Helen as barren of detail as the first. He was alive; was a little improved. But this telegram did not reach her, for she was on the way to Rouen, and half of the population of Carlow—at least so it seemed to the unhappy conductor of the accommodation—was with her.

NEW YORK, July 21.—Ignacio Calderon of Bolivia, who came here several months ago with a proposition to American bankers that they should take charge of $10,000,000 received by his country in settlement of the Acre dispute and form a syndicate to develop the Bolivian railroads, announces the contract has been closed with a French concern.

FIRE ESCAPES TO GO ON ALL SCHOOL BUILDINGS

City Engineer Hawley Is Instructed to Arrange for This Improvement in the City

The committee on public buildings of the city council has decided on a very important matter—one that will receive the hearty approval of the entire citizenship of Fort Worth.

Yesterday instructions were given City Engineer John Hawley by Alderman G. T. Morland of the above committee, to include in the repairs and new additions to the ward school buildings to be made at once, the placing on all school buildings of fire escapes.

Alderman Morland, discussing the matter with The Telegram, said yesterday that there would be at least four escapes placed on the high school building, and as many as is deemed necessary and adequate for the proper safety of the pupils on the other ward school buildings.

On all two-story buildings there will be two or three escapes, so in the future should there be a fire, the children will have some means of saving themselves. In the past they have been subject to dangers from conflagrations.

SPORTING NOTES

CORSICANA, Texas, July 21.—An error by Corsicana and a little bunching of hits by the Panthers won the game for the Fort Worth team yesterday. The game was a pretty one and well worth seeing. The Fort Worth team was crippled by Hubbard injuring his thumb in the first inning.

Salm sprained his ankle while stealing, which helped the locals to some extent.

DALLAS DEFEATS PARIS

DALLAS, Texas, July 21.—Paris simply couldn't play ball well enough to defeat Dallas yesterday. The credits' field work was nothing exceptional, and the locals hit Zook so hard during the first of the game that the close was easy. Zook was wild in his delivery, hitting four batters. The score, 15 to 4, is sufficient to show that the game was a poor one.

SERIOUS CHARGE IS AGAINST HIM

COLORADO, Texas, July 20.—A. S. Edmondson of Big Springs is in the county jail in Colorado. He was brought here from Big Springs by Sheriff Baggett for safe keeping, being charged with attempted criminal assault on a small white child. Great indignation was aroused and to guard against a lynching it was thought best to move the prisoner to other parts. His bond was set at $4,000, and as Mr. Edmondson has some prominent and well-to-do relatives in this country it is presumed the bond will be made.

PYTHIANS TO HAVE BIG MEETING IN DALLAS

T. T. McDonald Has an Invitation to Attend With Others From Neighboring Towns

T. T. McDonald yesterday received a letter from George Walton of Dallas, who is chairman of the committee on "Out of Town Membership," which is a committee appointed by the different Knights of Pythias lodges of that city, for the purpose of having what is known as "The Big Night," or revival of Pythianism, asking that he, and as many others as possible, attend a meeting to be held there October 5.

The plan is to ask all Pythian lodges within a radius of 100 miles from Dallas to be present on the above occasion.

The Dallas lodge will, therefore, hold over all candidates for initiation, until October 5, at which time the rank of Page will be conferred on all of them at the same time, the ranks of Esquire and Knight to be conferred at a later date by the different lodges securing these candidates.

It is the intention to make this occasion the greatest in the history of Pythianism in the state, and to this end every effort is being made to bring hundreds of Knights to Dallas on October 5.

Reduced rates on railroads will be secured if possible. The matter of attending will come up before the Fort Worth lodges tonight.

CURIOUS PET IN UNION STATION

A Woman With an Armadillo Spends the Morning at the Texas and Pacific Depot

The Texas and Pacific passenger station is not exactly a menagerie, but from all appearances this morning it is rapidly developing into either a zoo or a Noah's ark.

A real live, frisky armadillo from old Mexico cut capers in the women's waiting room, much to the amusement of the bystanders.

Jennie, the matron, seemed to take a great fancy to the creature and took it all about the station, amid the screams of the more hysterical women.

The armadillo seemed to enjoy the circus immensely, and hopped and jumped about in a surprisingly hilarious manner.

The owner of the strange pet is a woman who lives in West Texas. She captured her pet in Mexico. She is proud of it and calls it "Curly" and the armadillo departed on the westbound Texas and Pacific.

Rackley of troop D, Twelfth United States cavalry, stationed at Fort Sam Houston. The employers found that almost as rapidly as the men stopped work here they were found in other positions in the suburbs or in Brooklyn.

RUSSELL HARDING WILL BE HEAD OF SYSTEM

Gould's Western Representative to Have Charge of the Acquired Properties

NEW YORK, July 21.—Russell Harding, now vice president and general manager of the Missouri Pacific Railroad, and George J. Gould's chief operative official in the southwest, probably will be chosen within a few days as active head of the consolidated Pere Marquette and Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton system, says the Herald. It is probable that Eugene Zimmerman of Cincinnati will continue as president of the company and that G. M. Cummings, vice president of the United States Guaranteed Trust Company, who is now vice president, will be made chairman of the board, allowing Mr. Harding to take the title of vice president and general manager. The title of the new office Mr. Harding will hold has not been definitely decided, and it is possible Mr. Zimmerman may give up the presidency of the company in his favor.

BROWNSVILLE TO HOUSTON

From South Texas comes a report that work on the St. Louis, Brownsville and Mexico road between Houston and Brownsville, will be commenced within the next six weeks, and that within twelve months trains will be running between the two points. It is understood that rush orders have been issued and the line north from Sinton to Columbia will be pushed as fast as is consistent.

The final survey of the line is now being completed. All the forces now on the Hidalgo branch are to be thrown onto the new route as soon as they complete their present work, which will be inside of six weeks. The work is to be pushed at both ends, and the present forces are to be materially augmented.

The distance from Sinton to Columbia is about 125 miles, but the construction will be much more difficult and costly than the Brownsville line, due mainly to the great number of bridges that will be necessary. In all there will be twenty.

At Columbia the road will connect with the Columbus, Tap, which reaches Houston and which is the property of the International and Great Northern.

With the completion of the link between Sinton and Columbia train service will at once be inaugurated out of Houston over the entire new line to the mouth of the Rio Grande. Headquarters will then be established at Houston.

When the line finally reaches Houston it is the intention to have the company push on into Mexico, and will likely touch Tampico and eventually reach the City of Mexico, giving the shortest route from St. Louis to the metropolis of the republic by at least 250 miles.

WORK OF TRACK LAYING

MUSKOGEE, I. T., July 21.—The Muskogee Union Railway is rushing the work of grading and track laying between here and Whitesboro, Texas. At least forty miles of the right of way is covered by grading outfits and more are being put on. The Midland Valley is also pushing the work west from here.

FOR A NEW BRIDGE

AUSTIN, Texas, July 21.—It was learned last evening that plans for the construction of a new and up-to-date steel bridge across the Colorado river by the International and Great Northern have been drawn and that the work will commence within several months, probably in October. The bridge will replace the old iron structure which now spans the Colorado about one mile from the city.

It was reported some time ago that a new bridge was to be constructed by the International here, but it seems that it is only recently that the company has finally decided to replace the present structure with a new one along modern lines.

Chief Engineer Trammell of the company has made several trips to Austin recently and it is said his business had to do with the construction of the new bridge.

This company only recently acquired the property of the Austin Dam and Suburban railway, and with it some valuable terminal facilities, which makes the necessity for a new bridge all the more apparent.

AUSTIN SOLDIERS EXPECT TO ATTEND

State Capital Companies Trying to Arrange Rate to the St. Louis Fair

AUSTIN, Texas, July 20.—The two Austin military companies—the Governor's Cadets and Austin Rifles—are still cherishing the hope of attending the World's Fair. It is learned that a proposition was made to the railroads that if they would furnish a round trip rate of $10 per man the two companies would likely go. The matter was taken up with the railroads, and while some of them agreed, others thought it would have a general demoralizing effect upon the established rates to the World's Fair. It was learned from a prominent railroad representative that very likely the boys would be given the $17.15 rate and granted an extension of time. The soldier boys are considering this proposition and it is likely that an arrangement of this kind will be made whereby the boys will yet take their trip, which was promised them by the Texas World's Fair commission. Both of the Austin companies have already raised the money necessary for subsistence.

IT IS THE OLD STORY

MUSKOGEE, I. T., July 21.—An old man named H. M. Bates, who says he is from Missouri, was fleeced out of $66.65 by two confidence men here yesterday evening. It is the same old story of one of the men having a check for $500 and the bank was closed. Lillie Jefferson, a negro woman, related to the police this afternoon that she had been robbed in one of the depots here today, while waiting for a train. She claimed that a negro man forcibly took her purse away from here and ran away with it. Burglaries and holdups are of frequent occurrence, and it is almost impossible to catch the perpetrators.

ONE OF THE TOWNS

MUSKOGEE, I. T., July 21.—Purcell, I. T., has been designated by the department as one of the towns the Choctaw-Chickasaw towns payments will be made.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

ILLNESS OF MEN IN FLEET AT TRIESTE

United States Naval Officers and Seamen Are Down With Fever in Foreign Port

NEW YORK, July 20.—Considerable illness is reported among the officers and men of the American fleet, particularly aboard the flagship Kearsarge, says a Herald dispatch from Trieste. Lieutenant Clement of the Kearsarge and Ordinary Seaman James T. Foley of the Maine have typhoid fever and have been taken ashore to a hospital. Major Williams of the Maine corps, Lieutenant Hudgins, Ensign Timmons and Chaplain Isaacs, all of the Kearsarge, all are ill, but not seriously. Six other officers and men are under close observation because of the high temperatures they show. Ensign Timmons is being nursed on shore in a private sanitarium by his wife, who is a daughter of Senator Fairbanks. Lieutenant Hudgins, Captain Dion Williams, fleet officer; Lieutenant Commander Willets, fleet ensign, and two more sailors also have been taken on shore to the hospital, where they enjoy every care. Bad drinking water used at Athens is believed to have caused the sickness.

REQUIRES HUMANE TREATMENT FOR THE HORSE

Postoffice Department Will Make That a Part of the Star Route Contracts

An order has been issued by the second assistant postmaster general that in future contracts made for the carrying of mails by stages and on rural mail routes there must be a clause providing that the drivers must care for their horses and not mistreat them. Breaking of this clause is made ground for the annulment of the contract.

THE CROPS IN TEXAS

The following is the general summary of crop conditions in Texas, prepared by L. H. Murdock of Galveston, section director of the United States department of agriculture from reports from correspondents: Weather Conditions—The week was one of almost continuous sunshine and rather high winds. A good shower fell in Tarrant county on the 12th and moderate showers in the eastern coast counties at the close of the week, but practically no rainfall occurred in other localities. The need of rain is beginning to be felt in nearly all sections and crops are suffering from drought in the north central counties. The average temperature for the week was just about normal, but the first part of the week was unusually warm, temperatures of over 100 degrees being recorded in the western, central and northeastern divisions. Cotton—The dry weather has checked the growth of cotton and caused some shedding in all sections, but the plants continue to fruit nicely. The crop would be generally benefited by a good rain, but the only locality where it is really suffering from drought is in the north central counties. The fields are generally clean and many have been cultivated for the last time. The bolls have begun to open

EDWARD ATKINSON IN BRAD-STREETS—I call attention to a section which has been subjected to arrested development by the former existence of slavery and by the Indian titles to the land as yet not wholly removed. Hence the progress of this section has only been conspicuous during the last twenty years, or even fifteen as to a large portion of it. Let any one lay off on the map a section of about 200,000 square miles on each side of the Red river; in Northern Texas, taking in about one-quarter part, 70,000 square miles, of the state; in Oklahoma, 35,000 square miles; in Indian Territory, 22,000 square miles; in the southwest corner of Arkansas and the upper portion of Louisiana, 50,000 square miles, making 200,000 square miles in all. The length of this section from west to east, divided into parts by the Red river, would be between 500 and 600 miles. This section is now well supplied with railroads, but extensions and branches are being rapidly developed. This area of 200,000 square miles would be one-fifteenth part of the national domain. On one-tenth part of this area, or on 20,000 square miles, a crop of wheat equal to the entire import of the United Kingdom. The crops of that area would be produced at only sixteen bushels per acre. The crop of that area would be larger, and in this section, under a reasonably good system of agriculture, the average crop is nearer twenty than sixteen bushels per acre. This crop of wheat would not be produced in a cold climate subject to a long, dreary winter on a single crop system of extensive farming. It would become, and is becoming, the excess, cash, surplus or profit crop, in a system of intensive agriculture, alternating with cotton, Indian corn and other grain, with roots and vegetables of every kind, and with all the fruits of the temperate zone; also with hay and pasturage, the maize and the hay being converted with pasturage into meats, provisions, poultry and dairy products, in huge abundance. A large part of this area is rolling prairie from 1,000 to 1,500 feet above the level of the sea, free of malaria, never very hot in summer or very cold in winter, sheep thriving without shelter the year through. All this work is being done within easy haul of navigable streams, the Red river carrying large barges and steamers to New Orleans, whence the grain may be conveyed to Great Britain at the lowest charge, or at as low a charge as from any other port in this country. The land is there, the grain, the capital is abundant; public schools, from the kindergarten to the state university, are fully established. All that is needed to realize these crops is more and better facilities and more hands to develop the country.

Closing Day Is Devoted to Finishing the Business Which Calls Them—The Officers Are Elected

The last day of the sheriff's convention was called to order promptly at 10 o'clock this morning by President Avant, who ordered the roll call of members, which showed that a goodly number were not the conviction that our judiciary needs to

The name of J. H. Willie, a deputy sheriff of Palo Pinto county, was accepted as a new member, also B. J. Brown of Clay county and L. P. Brannum of Orange county and Constable H. W. Fanning of Dallas.

The following were made honorary members of the association, on motion of S. P. Clark: Mrs. Dave Bratton, Mrs. R. J. Daggett, M. A. Spoons, M. E. Smith, Iby Dunlin, Miss Sallie Campbell, Mrs. E. L. Burk, Miss Louise Adkinson, Miss Maude Roark and Miss H. Lytle.

The report of the committee which had charge of raising funds to prosecute Cortez, the Mexican who murdered Sheriff Morris and Glover, reported its work and was discharged.

The executive committee reported that it had no report to make and asked to be relieved from further service.

"The speedy and adequate Punishment of Crime as a Preventive," was the topic of a paper read by Sheriff Turberville of Delta.

"The law, whose seat is the bosom of God, and whose voice is the harmony of the world," nowhere displays its majesty and magnanimity than when it sets forth the object in the punishment of crime. The penal code declares that under the law the object of punishment is the correction of the offender and the prevention of future offenses.

"How high, how noble, how pure, is the punitive arm of the law! How it rises above the average plane of individual punishment and proclaims its unity with God!

"The criminal law is not founded on a principle of vengeance; it does not punish that it may inflict suffering, but it uses evil as the means of preventing greater evil.

"My subject has to do with the last half of the purpose for which the law inflicts its penalties—the prevention of future offenses. If ever the maxim, 'An ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure,' is justified of its fruits, surely it must be so when the machinery of the law is operated to prevent the commission of crime. The trial of the average felony case costs the state many hundreds of dollars, to say nothing of the unrequited expense and annoyance which is imposed upon a host of innocent persons dragged into the courts in the capacity of jurors and witnesses. The law's tedious delays and the possible ultimate miscarriage of justice must also be borne in mind.

"It is then the part of wisdom and a patriotic duty as well for us, the state's most trusted servants of the law, to well and carefully consider every suggested means for the prevention of crime. Procrastination is not only the thief of opportunity, but in the minds of the average criminal, it steals away largely from the terrors of the law. My observation, I am sure, is that of all my brother officers, when I remind you that those crimes most frequently recur which in the past have had punishment doled out to them after long delays. In the manner and means of punishment, I am not unmindful that public sentiment is a force to be always reckoned with; but the machinery of the law ought to operate upon public sentiment as much as it is operated upon by public sentiment. Sometimes the visitation of the punishments of the courts needs to become aggressive rather than responsive and passive; as the tonic of the law needs occasionally to be administered to the courts for their tardy administration of justice, so also the momentum of the wheels of judicial procedure have need occasionally to arouse the dormant conscience of the community.

"We live in an age of marvelous progress. In almost every department of human endeavor rapidity has become the watchword. New and improved methods have displaced the old. The business man of today who would continue to employ the methods of transportation in use twenty-five years ago would not only subject himself to ridicule, but would soon become involved in bankruptcy. I am not a lawyer and have neither the ambition nor the capacity to make a study of the law, but my experience and observation as an officer of the law forces upon me which all men consider to have been become quickened by the spirit of the times.

"Punishments, in the main, are perhaps adequate in measure. We live in a human age, when the spirit of fraternity pervades all society. It has softened and melted human sympathies for the unfortunates, yet even the criminal classes; but the punishment, let it be what it may, in order to prevent the repetition of like offenses, must be reliable and speedy. The speedy punishment of crime as a sure preventive is well established by the criminal records of our state. Consider those crimes in our state manifest that the penalties of the law speedily and adequately punished—criminal assault, burglary and theft of live stock; how consumed in the trial of those cases. Precious little in my district in Northeast Texas. What sheriff presents has arrested a man for hog theft in the last twelve months? The most 'one-eyed negro does not dare to steal a pig. Theft of horses and cattle has almost disappeared from our records. Why? Because public sentiment has demanded a speedy infliction of an adequate punishment against these offenses. In the same proportion, other crimes will disappear, as it becomes more manifest that the penalties of the law speedily and surely await every transgressor. Let it be felt through every fiber of the body politic that no violator of the law will escape speedy and adequate punishment and a new era of peace will dawn upon our fair state.

What crimes today are most numerous? What classes of offenders is the time of the courts usually taken up with? In the attempted punishment of what crimes does the state expend the greatest treasure? I answer, in the punishment of those crimes wherein the penalties are long withheld by the technicalities, intricate processes and tedious delays of the courts. Homicide, the most prevalent crime with which we have to deal, is most tardily punished. If it could be felt that the awful thunders of the law would inevitably and speedily fall upon the head of him who takes his brother's life, not so frequently nor upon so slight provocation would men put to shame the fair name of Texas. Human life is still too cheap among us. When an awakened public sentiment demands of our judiciary that substantial justice be speedily done, relief will come. Over-nice and scrupulous adherence to the trifling technicalities will give way to just and liberal constructions of the statute's intentions, fair alike to the defendant and the state. Not so frequently, then, shall we hear of subsequent killings, growing out of the original homicide, upon the theory that the state can not, or will not, dispense the merited punishment. When those accused of murder shall be made to feel that an awful and speedy punishment awaits him who takes human life, except in actual self-defense, feuds that have dived in blood some of the fairest spots on Texas soil will give way.

"I would not be understood as laying all the blame for the tardy enforcement of the law's penalties against those crimes upon the judiciary. The public mind and sentiment deserve their share of the blame. The murderer usually has more sympathizers than the thief, and it is more difficult to procure the necessary evidence to obtain conviction for these crimes. Public sentiment has its standard of justification for the commission of these offenses, which is something quite apart from the law's standard of self-defense.

"But the future of administrative justice is radiant with the bow of promise. In every section of Texas crime is on the decrease. Many of my brother sheriffs in West Texas, I am informed, have converted their courts into schools for criminals and turned their armed constabulary into un-uniformed warriors against 'General Green.' While there is still something doing in the more populous districts of the state, even here the diminution of crime is being made manifest, and it is truly gratifying that I have not statistics at hand in confirmation of the statement.

"In conclusion, my fellow sheriffs, let us at all times and on all occasions, in the treatment of prisoners and in the service of processes of the courts, remember that 'The criminal law is not founded on a principle of vengeance; it does not punish that it may inflict suffering. The humanity of the law feels and regrets every pain it causes, every hour of restraint it imposes, and more deeply still, every life it forfeits. But it uses evil as the means of preventing greater evil. This is its true and only main true object. It restrains the liberty of the few offenders that the many who do not offend may enjoy their liberty. It takes the life of the murderer that murders may not be committed. The law might open the jails and at once set free all persons accused of offenses, and it ought to do so if it could be made certain that the offender would hereafter be reformed. Because it punishes, not to satisfy any desire to inflict pain, but simply to prevent the repetition of offenses. When the guilty, therefore, are not speedily and adequately punished the law has failed in its purpose. The safety of the innocent is so far endangered. If the law from any cause suffers the guilty to escape, it becomes answerable to the augmented peril of society."

"The association was called on to make a voluntary contribution to the family of Deputy Sheriff Bough of Jackson county, who was killed in attempting to defend Sheriff Wharton of Jackson county, last year. The sum of $41.40 was raised.

The chairman was authorized to appoint a committee to draft resolutions in regard to pawn shops and report at the afternoon session. Russell of Grayson county, Johnson of Dallas county, Baker of Waco and Honea of Tarrant county were named.

The morning session was adjourned to 1:30 this afternoon, at which time officers and the next meeting place will be decided upon.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON SESSION There was little done at the afternoon session of the sheriffs yesterday, and after the convention was called to order by President Avant and Secretary J. R. Roll Johnson of Dallas and Lockhart, J. Clark of Fort Worth.

On the suggestion of Sheriff Saunders of Caldwell county, the sum of $30 was voted among the sheriffs to be used in purchasing a gold-headed cane for Sam Hopkins of Gonzales county. This act was in recognition of faithful and zealous work done in the prosecution of the Mexican murderer, Cortez, who killed Sheriffs Morris and Lovell.

There were some twenty-four honorary members admitted to membership. They were principally wives and daughters of sheriffs.

The following report was submitted by a committee appointed in the morning to draft resolutions regarding the relief of the crowded condition of county jails by lunatics and asking the state legislature to make an appropriation sufficient to provide additional rooms in the asylums for the incurable and curable insane.

"Whereas, Under existing conditions, persons charged with lunacy are confined in the county jails of our state in many instances months, and sometimes years, for the reason that there are no rooms allotted to the asylums, some of these unfortunates being termed incurable and epileptics; we, the sheriffs of Texas, who are charged with their care, enter our most solemn protest for the reason we know it to be inhuman, and that it is impossible to care for them as they should be cared for in the small spaces in the jails. Many of these unfortunates are women; some are delicate and refined; some are very young; some are very old. In many instances, some were, before losing their minds, good and worthy citizens.

"We believe if the people of this great state fully realized this existing evil they would, in one voice, say to their representatives in the legislature: 'Find some way to care for these lunatics.'

"In our opinion, the only way is the enlargement of or building new asylums.

"We think this resolution should be printed in our leading daily papers, and each sheriff should request his local paper to publish the same.

"The laws of the ancients upon this subject were more humane than ours of this Christian country, inasmuch as they put to death the class of unfortunates which was more merciful and a far nobler spectacle than incarcerating them in prisons, deprived of proper care and surrounded by vice and crime.

"We respectfully recommend that the secretary of this association be requested to mail a copy of this resolution to the secretary of the state executive committee of the democratic party, with instructions to him to submit the same to the state convention for its consideration, as we are of the opinion that this measure should be made a platform demand.

"Signed by Ben E. Cabell, Sterling P. Clark, Thomas M. Stell and Archie R. Anderson, committee."

Sterling P. Clark offered the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

"Whereas, This body has for years endeavored, with all means at its command, to get our state legislature to make a proper and sufficient appropriation to convert their courts into schools for youthful criminals; and

"Whereas, Like all important necessary undertakings, the people must be educated to understand the great necessity for this school; and

"Whereas, Much good has already been done for this noble cause by our body, yet much more is required; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we hereby renew our faith, fealty and energies for the accomplishment of this object, and pledge ourselves to use every honorable endeavor to have this school established. Our legislative committee is hereby instructed to work unceasingly in their best judgment for the accomplishment of this school at the earliest moment possible.

"STERLING P. CLARK." When the above resolutions had been discussed and finally adopted the convention adjourned for the day.

At 3:30 the sheriffs and their wives families were taken to the stock yards district and shown through the plants of Armour and Swift, and later given a spread at the Stock Yards Exchange.

Last evening a large number of the sheriffs and tax collectors and their wives attended the benefit ball at Lake Erie and enjoyed the occasion.

Some of the sheriffs, in fact a large number of them, assembled at Eagle Hall, where the tax collector, an officer, M. A. Spoons acted as toastmaster.

Among those who made responses to toasts were Former Sheriff John Bickett of Milan county, Sheriff Goddolph of Coleman county, President Avant, Vice President S. Sparks and Robert Barker of San Antonio, Mayor Highsmith of Mineral Wells, John P. Kirk of Austin, M. A. Spoons and H. A. Judd of Fort Worth.

Music for the occasion was furnished by the Copeland orchestra.

THE TAX COLLECTORS The tax collectors had an interesting session yesterday and the principal feature was the address by Judge W. D. Williams of Fort Worth, his topic being the intangible tax measure, its application and effects.

A committee on resolution was named as follows: J. K. Winston of Tarrant county, J. L. Martin of Upshur, M. D. Plumblee of Parker county, R. Van Brown of Collin county and H. H. Jacoby of Dallas county.

In the afternoon the resolutions committee reported the following, which explains itself:

1. That section 10 of chapter 102 of the general laws of the Twenty-fifth legislature be amended so to provide that the collector of taxes shall be entitled to a fee of $1.10 per mile one way from each person from whom he may collect where there is no elvy made; where there is a levy made the present fees and mileage to apply.

2. That the bond required of collectors be reduced to one-half the amount of tax rolls.

3. That the law be so amended as to require the assessor to make a separate mathematical poll roll, giving the street and postoffice address of each person on said roll.

4. To provide that where property is sold for taxes the owner thereof shall have the right to redeem said property at any time within the date of sale by paying double the amount of taxes, all interest and costs.

The report of the committee was adopted.
