DIPLOMATIC NOTE IS ADDRESSED TO THE RUSSIAN GOVERNMENT INQUIRING ABOUT THE SINKING OF THE KNIGHT COMMANDER, AND INSISTING UPON THE PROPER INDEMNITY TO THE OWNERS OF THE VESSEL AND AN APOLOGY FOR THE ATTACK UPON NEUTRAL COMMERCE

THE RIGHTS OF NEUTRAL POWERS TO BE FIXED

Cabinet Has Prepared to Back Up Diplomatic Demands Unless There Is Prompt Action by Russia to Reply Favorably Thereto—A Salute of the British Flag Will Be a Part of the Requirement—Reports From Tokio Say There Was No Contraband Aboard the Vessel—This Incident Completely Overshadows the Seizures in the Red Sea—Parliament Is Informed That England Regards the Sinking of the Steamer as a Violation of International Law

LONDON, July 27.—That the British government regards the sinking of the steamer Knight Commander as a breach of international law was confirmed by Premier Balfour in the house of commons this afternoon.

LONDON, July 27.—The British government is sending instructions to Sir Charles Hardinge, British ambassador to Russia, today to energetically protest against the sinking of the British steamer Knight Commander by the Russian Vladivostok squadron. Until the presentation of the note to the Russian government, great secrecy will be maintained regarding its contents, but it is known Premier Balfour and his colleagues have decided to demand that the fullest reparation be made by Russia or measures will be taken to follow up the diplomatic demands.

The British note that Sir Charles Hardinge will submit, will not mention the amount of indemnity Russia must pay the owner of the ship and British subjects having goods on board the vessel, but all that will be sought will be the establishment of a principle of indemnity and apology. A salute to the British flag must be conceded and future protection to neutral shipping assured.

The attitude of the British government is the result of a thorough consideration given to the reports from Sir Claude McDonald, British minister at Tokio, and an examination of international law authorities by legal experts.

The dispatches from Sir Claude McDonald confirm the reports that the Knight Commander had no contraband of war on board for Japan. The government and all British authorities, it is asserted, have no objection to sinking the vessel. It is felt in government circles the Knight Commander incident overshadows the Red Sea seizures which practically have been adjusted, but which have failed to settle the question of the rights of neutral commerce.

LONDON, July 27.—A lengthy meeting of the defense committee took place today under the presidency of Premier Balfour, at which the attorney general, Sir Robert Finlay, was present. The attorney general does not usually attend these meetings, but it is stated the question at issue between Russia and Great Britain was under discussion and that Sir Robert was called in to advise as to questions of international law involved.

THE JAP CASUALTIES

TOKIO, July 27.—The Japanese casualties before Ta Tche Kiao were 800.

PRIZE CREW ON MALACCA

ALGHERS, July 27.—The Peninsular and Oriental Steamship Company's steamer Malacca, which was seized in the Red Sea July 16 by the Russian volunteer fleet steamer St. Petersburg, arrived here with a prize crew on board.

THEY ARE ONLY MERCHANTMEN

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 27.—The Russian statement to the effect that the vessels of the volunteer fleet will hereafter not be permitted to operate for war purposes is regarded by the Turkish officials as settling the question of their passage through the Dardanelles. It is held that as they only have the status of merchantmen there is no reason to refuse them permission to traverse the straits as heretofore. The British cruiser Lancaster is still off the entrance to the Dardanelles.

THE AGRA DELAYED

ISLAND OF PERIM, July 27.—The British steamer City of Agra, last reported at Liverpool for Kurrachee, passed here today and signalled that she had been delayed by a Russian warship in the Red Sea.

RUSSIAN PRESS IS SIGNIFICANTLY SILENT

ST. PETERSBURG, July 27.—The Russian press has been significantly silent for two days past regarding complications over the acts of the Red Sea cruisers. Not a single word of comment appears in this morning's newspapers concerning the sinking of the British steamer Knight Commander, and there is no doubt the government has requested the papers to refrain from printing their views on the affair. The government deprecates the provocative attitude of the British press, and probably does not desire the Russian papers to add fuel to the flames.

An imperial ukase has been issued, ordering the seven merchant men purchased abroad during the last few months of the navy list, four of them as second class cruisers. There is reason to believe the cruisers will be sent at once to the Red Sea to replace the volunteer fleet steamers, the war status of which is in dispute.

The lack of press comment is noteworthy. Even while the British are calling for the most energetic action against Russia, some Russian papers calmly continue to dwell upon the advantages of the Russian-British understanding.

The Russian government has not received through the American embassy here any presentation on the subject of the sinking of the Knight Commander, the capture of the Ardivia, or other vessels having American goods on board. Great Britain gave notice of formal protest, but there is reason to believe the general right of a warship to sink neutral vessels, claimed to have contraband on board, is being discussed both here and in London, and the seriousness of such acts will be emphasized in a presentation of a specific case—that of the Knight Commander. It may be that there will be considerable delay on account of the lack of information upon which to make an issue, as both the British crew and the passengers of the Knight Commander, it is asserted here, will be held as witnesses on board the vessels forming the Vladivostok squadron.

RUSSIAN MOTHERS WIN THE VICTORY

BY JOHN VANDERCOOK
Staff Correspondence to Newspaper Enterprise Association.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 5.—Unless you are very clear headed, a long course of reading Russian history will produce a confused impression. There have been innumerable wars, in which as a general rule, Russia has failed altogether or only been partially successful, and yet the Russian empire has steadily expanded. Persistence in delving into the records of this remarkable people will convince you that the mothers of Russia have been the real conquerors.

It is the children they have brought into the world, in constantly increasing numbers, who have pressed the empire outward and brought Russia greatness.

Of the long line of czars, Russia has had only two really great rulers, Peter the Great and Catherine. Of great generals there are not half a dozen, and these have had their periods stained by their insane pride or blood thirstiness.

In battles on the sea, principally with Sweden, Russia has lost nine times out of ten, yet eventually Sweden was crowded into narrow limits while Russia expanded prodigiously. Peter the Great won one great pitched battle against the Swedes, the battle of Poltava, which is described as one of the decisive battles of the world, but this followed only after innumerable defeats and was the result of wearing them down by weight of numbers.

In the Napoleonic wars the Russians were invariably defeated when confronted with French troops, and eventually Napoleon's army of 600,000, the greatest of modern times, which he took to Moscow, and the interminable hordes of Cossacks who hovered on his flanks.

In the score of wars which Russia has fought against Turkey, the honors in many instances have been with the Turks, but the Russian is exceedingly so, and gradually, year by year, a Slavonic population encroached more and more upon the Black sea region until the whole north shore, originally Turkish, became entirely Russian.

But the Crimean war, though Russia had all the advantage of numbers, situation and climate, she could not keep Sevastopol safe from the English and French attacks and in the end had to sign a humiliating peace. Yet every result of the Crimean war which appeared to favor Turkey and the western powers was wiped out by slow Russian expansion. Even in the last Turkish war of 1879 the Russian in a campaign was anything but brilliant, and many of its features, and it is believed, were a failure but for the timely arrival of 40,000 Roumanian troops in aid of the Russians. Again Russia was humiliated by the congress of Berlin, but again, slowly but surely, Russia, by her immense and growing population, has absorbed the Balkans with final absorption.

But the Japanese war is the most distant which Russia has ever fought, and in it she will have none of the advantages now or later of the vicinity of congregated districts.

Between European Russia and Manchuria there is a space 6,000 miles long and 1,000 miles wide of practically uninhabited territory. Even the steppes west of the Urals, or nearly 400 miles in Europe, are almost uninhabited except by a few wandering Cossack tribes. If a suggestion of future events is to be found in the past movement of the Russian population this space will begin the slow process of colonizing the great Siberian wastes before natural expansion on the part of Russia will put her in the same position toward Manchuria which she is in today in reference to the Balkans.

It is therefore likely that overwhelming defeat in Manchuria will put back Russian ambitions in that quarter for perhaps a century, until by natural growth she will have a teeming population which will be pressing on the frontier.

The birth rate in Russia ranges from 25 per thousand up to as high as 50 per thousand in certain districts. That of England and America is slightly over 20, while in France and Australia it is as low as 28. The average Russian family is between five and six, while in America it is between three and four. Moreover, the Russians, in spite of their hard lives, limited diet and bitter climate, are unusually tall and sturdy, as compared with other races.

Japan and other nations may well take to heart the fact that the Slavonic peril is impermanent in the mothers of Russia and not in their czars and pro-consuls.

REFINERY OF SWIFT & CO. BURNS

Fire in the Chicago Packing House District Causes Great Excitement—Loss Is Heavy

CHICAGO, July 27.—A fire broke out among the packing houses in the stock yards today in the lard refinery of Swift & Co., and soon gained such headway that every available fire engine in the stock yards district was called out.

Rumors of incendiaries were rife. Examination, however, apparently showed the cause of the blaze to have been an overheated dynamo. The building is 150 by 250 feet, and three stories high. It was filled with tiers of lard, many of which exploded, spreading the burning grease in every direction.

Louis F. Swift was on the ground and directed the firemen in attempts to reach the dynamo. The firemen were hampered in going into action by the numbers of cattle and sheep which were being driven along Exchange avenue.

The fire threatened other buildings nearby, but the firemen managed to keep the streets from becoming too hot.

Thousands of strikers attempted to get near to the burning building, but as soon as the police arrived ropes were spread, blocking the streets three squares away. No crowds were allowed to pass through the streets in the vicinity.

The top story of the building was of wood construction, and burned like tinder. The contents of the building are said to be valued at $400,000.

STIRING SCENES IN CHICAGO STRIKE

CHICAGO, July 27.—Fire, tumult and picketing contributed to the stirring scenes at the stock yards today, when the packers and the yards went ahead slaughtering and are doing as much work as possible under the circumstances.

Convinced of the improvement of the situation the packers had sent word to the shippers to be somewhat more generous with consignments, and as a result the receipts of cattle, hogs and sheep were considerably larger than has been the rule during previous days of the strike. Stock yards teamsters joined the packing house employees today, and 700 drivers for the packing companies refused to go to work, the teamsters joint council having endorsed the vote of a strike and ordered the members of every other local union in Chicago to make no deliveries to the yards.

Kittle English, a foreman of the sewing department of Swift & Co., was mobbed and badly hurt by a crowd of girls who are strike sympathizers, on Halsted street. Fully a dozen girls took part in the attack. They beat the foreman with fists, tore her clothing and finally slashed her face with a knife. No arrests were made.

CONFINES HAULING TO HALSTED STREET

CHICAGO, July 27.—To minimize the danger of rioting should the packing companies attempt to deliver meat to local customers with non-union teamsters, Chief of Police O'Neill has given strict orders that all hauling shall be done on Halsted street. The chief declares all teamsters will be protected from violence, but to make this possible hauling must be confined to one street, which will be strongly patrolled.

The order calling out the packing house teamsters affects many other drivers as well. Those employed on the market and grocery delivery wagons, trucks, tallow and bone wagons, bakery, ice and express wagons are prohibited from handling meat from the packing plants.

While it is said to be the intention of the packers to ship practically all meat to outside points by rail and make no effort to take care of by-products, the strikers expect to shut off supplies of all kinds as far as possible.

Nine wagons loaded with meat were out today from the Schwartzschild & Sulzberger plant at the stock yards. The wagons had high sides and the lettering removed. High sides were placed on them and they were covered with tarpaulin as a disguise. They were escorted from the yards by a dozen policemen, who were relieved by another detail to guard them on the way to the north side of the city.

MANAGER H. A. JUDD TALKS OF SITUATION

H. A. Judd, general manager of the Armour plant here, said today that as far as the local plant was concerned, everything was moving along nicely. "We now have all the men we can use," said Manager Judd, "and with our present force are able to take care of the usual amount of business." Yesterday and today there was a good supply of cattle offered on the local market and as a large proportion of the supply consisted of good marketable stuff, sellers found no difficulty in disposing of the offering. In the offices of the two plants everything seems to be busy and the usual bulk of business seems to be transacted.

As far as a settlement is concerned, Manager Judd says that the terms will be made at Chicago and that the local plant here will follow instructions from that place. He says further: "If instructions come from Chicago to put the union men to work, I will fire out every man in the plant who has no union card and simply following instructions from the parent plant, and there is nothing to be given out here."

THERE WAS VIOLENCE IN KANSAS CITY

KANSAS CITY, July 27.—Not until tonight will members of the allied trades in Kansas City vote upon the question of a sympathetic strike. J. A. Keeler, president of the Central Labor Union, called a special meeting of the various unions interested for this evening to consider the matter. Labor leaders assert the men only await an order to go out and one thousand will be affected.

The first real show of violence on the part of the strikers was displayed when Armour & Co. tried to take thirty negroes in a box car into their plant. The strikers learned the packers' intentions and when the car came in sight there was a mob of strikers and sympathizers on hand to greet the negroes. The mob forced the crew to stop the train and then made for the car. The negroes were pulled off and roughly handled, while a number jumped from the car and escaped. Several shots were fired, but no one was hurt, and when the police arrived the crowd had dispersed. No arrests were made.

At another point a number of strike-breakers, working at Swift and Schwartzschild & Sulzberger's plants were chased by strikers. Three men made a stand against the pursuers. One was hit on the head and rendered unconscious when the others were rescued by packing house guards.

At still another point two deported Cripple Creek miners, J. M. Harris and Charles Roberts, were mistaken for breakers and attacked. Harris was knocked down and kicked in the face, receiving several ugly wounds. Roberts escaped.

Following these disturbances an extra force of police was sent to the district. The strikers assert that twenty-five of their number who were re-employed yesterday, sought their old positions to learn actual conditions at different plants and to urge the strike breakers there to go out. Today each of the plants increased their forces, all reporting steady progress in every department.

STRIKERS ARE TO ESTABLISH COMMISSARY

The establishment of a commissary by the strikers was the only new feature in the strike situation at North Fort Worth yesterday evening and this morning.

From the leaders among the strikers it is learned that the plans have been completed for the commissary which will probably be opened tomorrow.

Under the present plans the commissary will be located on Main street, in the "Fair" building, where counters, etc., are already in place.

By means of the commissary the union will be able to take care of all its men, and the step is looked upon as showing a determination to fight to the end.

The greatest quietness prevailed throughout the North Side this morning. A slight disturbance occurred yesterday evening, conflicting stories of which are told.

A number of men state that the occurrence took place within a saloon, two men being engaged in the fight. On the other hand, at the saloon where the difficulty occurred the statement was made that a man was followed into the saloon, the fight ensuing.

The officers refuse to make any statement, saying they have not yet finished investigating the matter. No one has yet been found who can identify the parties engaged in the brawl.

Preparations for the ball at Hermann Park Friday night are still going on, a number of entertaining features including the high diving performance given at Lake Erie Park, having been secured free of charge to the strikers.

At the meeting held last night in Collier's grove speeches were delivered by C. W. Woodman, R. A. Masses, Jake Stine and others, the attendance being large.

No orders have been received by the men from headquarters today and the men are putting in their time as best they can, all, however, waiting patiently and feeling that their interests are being fully looked after at Chicago.

Officers of the stationary firemen report that their members have been called upon to go out and have responded, men walking out of the packing houses. Up until the present time no orders in regard to the teamsters has been issued.

WASHINGTON'S ELM HAS BEEN CUT DOWN

MORRISTOWN, N. J., July 27.—Washington's elm, a famous old tree which has stood at the corner of Elm and Morris streets for more than a century and three quarters, has been cut down. Washington had his headquarters here during the winter of 1779-80. At that time, tradition goes, there was talk of cutting down the tree, but on account of its beauty and the fact that it was the only one of its kind to be left standing. Since then it became famous as Washington's elm and has been protected ever since.

PROSPECTS GOOD FOR TRINITY UNIVERSITY

WAXAHACHIE, Texas, July 27.—Professor G. A. Landrum, who has been traveling through East Texas in the interest of Trinity University, came here yesterday to rest a few days. Professor Landrum says he met with hearty encouragement at every place he visited and he thinks the prospects for a large attendance at the opening of the fall term are exceedingly bright. Nearly every town he visited will send a number of students. Dr. A. E. Turner, the new president, will not return from Europe until about the last of August and will not reach Waxahachie until a few days before the beginning of the fall term. He went to Liverpool in June to deliver an address before the International Education Council.

Affair Took Place on the Veranda of the President's Summer Home at Sagamore Hill and Was Very Simple in All Its Details—Speaker Cannon Made the Address of Notification—Reply of President Is Given in Full

OYSTER BAY, July 27.—President Roosevelt was notified formally today of the convention was made on behalf of the national republican convention. The ceremony took place at his country home at Sagamore Hill, three miles from this village. In accordance with the wish of the president, the ceremony was made as simple as possible.

The formal notification of the action of the convention was made on behalf of the committee representing every state and territory in the United States by Joseph G. Cannon, speaker of the house of representatives. The wide veranda of the house at Sagamore Hill, extending almost entirely around the house, was decorated with American flags hung from pillar to pillar. At the conclusion of the informal reception the ceremony of notification began. While the members of the family had in the house as guests some of the distinguished visitors, many assembled on the veranda and a majority of those in attendance were gathered on the lawn facing the veranda.

When Speaker Cannon arose to deliver the speech of notification he was greeted with applause.

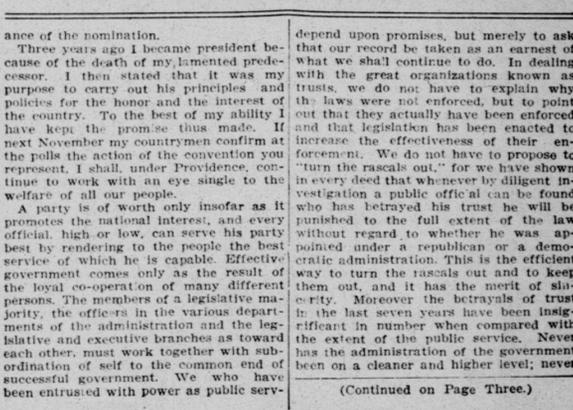

At the close of Cannon's address the president advanced to the veranda railing. Standing under a great feason of American flags, he delivered his address in response to the notification. As he faced the assemblage he was warmly applauded. His address follows:

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Notification Committee: I am deeply sensible of the high honor conferred upon me by the representatives of the republican party assembled in convention, and I accept the nomination for the presidency with solemn realization of the obligations I assume. I heartily approve the declaration of principles which the republican national convention has adopted, and at some future day I shall communicate to you, Mr. Chairman, more at length and in detail a formal written acceptance of the nomination.

Three years ago I became president because of the death of my lamented predecessor. I then stated that it was my purpose to carry out his principles and policies for the honor and the interest of the country. To the best of my ability I have kept the promise thus made. If next November my countrymen confirm at the polls the action of the convention you represent, I shall, under Providence, continue to work with an eye single to the welfare of all our people.

A party is of worth only insofar as it promotes the national interest, and every official, high or low, can serve his party best by rendering to the people the best service of which he is capable. Effective government comes only as the result of the loyal co-operation of many different persons. The members of a legislative majority, the officers in the various departments of the administration and the legislative and executive branches as toward each other, must work together with subordination of self to the common end of successful government. We who have been entrusted with power as public servants depend upon promises, but merely to ask that our record be taken as an earnest of what we shall continue to do. In dealing with the great organizations known as trusts, we do not have to explain why the laws were not enforced, but to point out that they actually have been enforced and that legislation has been enacted to increase the effectiveness of their enforcement. We do not have to propose to "turn the rascals out," for we have shown in every deed that when ever by diligent investigation a public official can be found who has betrayed his trust he will be punished to the full extent of the law without regard to whether he was appointed under a republican or a democratic administration. This is the efficient way to turn the rascals out and to keep them out, and it has the merit of sincerity. Moreover the betrayals of trust in the last seven years have been insignificant in number when compared with the extent of the public service. Never has the administration of the government been on a cleaner and higher level; never

DALLAS LOSES ON THIS DIAMOND FIVE TIMES

Interesting Game Yesterday in Which the Visitors Failed to Come to the Scratch With Winning Ball

Fort Worth and Dallas met again yesterday on the diamond for the fifth successive time this season. Dallas failed to win a game on the local diamond. Yesterday's contest was one that would have delighted the heart of any fan. If the roster wished for a fine pitcher's battle, he had it, for both Christian and Clark pitched fine ball, although Christian was far ahead of Clark. Home wished for fine fielding there could have been no complaint whatever, as nearly every fielder seemed to be vying with the others in making the most startling catch. And if one wished to see a Garrioso finish again satisfaction was guaranteed.

The one lonely run that Dallas scored in the first inning looked very large to the Panthers for seven innings, but an opportune hit from Christian's bat evened that one in the eighth, and a second clean single by the left-handed pitcher sent Boles across the plate with the winning run in the tenth inning. Christian was easily the star of the game. But fairly sure, Dallas batters faced him during the ten innings, and only two of these succeeded in adding a hit to their batting averages. Ury made a clean double in the first inning, and Mickey scratched a little meekly hit in the ninth inning. Christian also averaged one strike-out an inning, as all the visitors except Anderson and Ury fanned the air at least once and Doyle, Melver and Clark each added two put-outs to his total. Besides that, if it had not been for Christian with his opportune hitting in the eighth and tenth innings, Fort Worth might not have scored at all.

Hubbard's injury to his thumb in the game Monday was bad enough to keep him out of the game yesterday. Tackaberry being called in to help out again. Beside Pointdexter had been called home on account of the sickness of his mother and Jackson had to go out in the field, and the team patched up thus, matters looked bad for the Fort Worth team, especially with the scrappy Dallas bunch anxious to even up for some past defeats.

Dallas started auspiciously in the very first inning, when Mott walked after Anderson had gone out, a stolen base put him on second and then Ury's long drive for two sacks put him over the plate with a score. Fort Worth tried hard to do something in the last half of the inning, but fortune deserted otherwise, however, and Clark added three strike-outs to his record for the first three men that faced him.

Dallas was only dangerous once more during the game, and that was in the fourth inning, when Disch gave Doyle a life by dropping his long fly. A sacrifice put the runner on second and a stolen base on third. Christian was equal to the occasion, however, and struck two batters retired on three strikes each.

Melver made a startling catch in center in the last half of the third that rebuffed Sullivan of a hit and Boles of a run. In the eighth inning Boles drove another grounder to shortstop, Reitz drove another one to the same place that was too hot for Fields to handle. Christian hit the first ball pitched over second and Reitz was on third before the ball could be fielded. With one out, Sullivan slammed a hard one between short and third, which looked like a hit, but Johnson knocked it down and managed to pick it up in time to throw the batter out. Reitz had tied the score, however. In the tenth Boles drew a base on balls and took second on Reitz' sacrifice. Christian again selected the first ball pitched and made another hit over third that scored the winning run. The score:

A VERY CLOSE CALL
"I stuck to my engine, although every joint ached and every nerve was racked with pain," writes C. W. Bellamy, a locomotive fireman, of Burlington, Iowa. "I was weak and pale, without any appetite and all run down. As I was about to give up, I got a bottle of Electric Bitters, and after taking it, I felt as well as I ever did in my life." Dallas Gets the Benefit of the Merchants Rates Which Are Now to Be Put on by Various Railroads of the State

MEETING IN HOUSTON
One City in the State Made Application for Reduced Figures on Certain Dates and General Passenger Agents Granted the Request

Dallas gets the merchants' rates as a result of the meeting yesterday at Houston of the general passenger agents of the state. That place applied for the rates and was the only city in the state that did. The matter was given due consideration by the passenger agents and it was finally agreed to authorize a one and one-fifth rate applicable on four different dates. This rate will be effective only when 200 tickets are sold for each event. The dates will be as follows: On August 1 to 8, return limit August 15; on August 15 to 22, return limit September 1; on August 29 to September 5, return limit September 15; on September 12 to 19, return limit September 29.

MISSOURI PACIFIC'S NEW LINE
If present plans are carried out the Missouri Pacific Railroad Company will have a new direct line from St. Louis via Joplin, Mo., to Texas. This line is now being surveyed from Joplin to Muskogee, where it will get its connection in the Muskogee Union, a Missouri Pacific line now under construction from that point to Gainesville, Texas. The new road will be in direct competition with its old rival, the Katy, and will run through a fertile agricultural country and tap the new oil and mineral belt in the territory.

NEW SANTA FE MAP
The Santa Fe system will soon issue a new edition of its new map. Upon it will be shown the Santa Fe's connection with the National lines of Mexico at Laredo and Eagle Pass. In the past the Santa Fe's maps have only shown the connection with the Mexican Central.

The Santa Fe's connection with the National lines of the merger system at Laredo by means of the Santa Fe to Cameron, Texas, the San Antonio and Aransas Pass to Alice, Texas, and the Texas-Mexican to Laredo. The connection with the International at Eagle Pass is made by means of the Santa Fe to Rosenberg, Texas, and the Southern Pacific to Laredo.

INCREASES ITS STOCK
The Southern Pacific Company has taken action to increase its stock $10,000,000. The stock will be preferred, the holders of which will be entitled to no dividends for the next five years. In the event of dissolution the holders of this preferred stock shall have the right to have their shares redeemed at par value before any distribution of the assets is made. The signers are Vice President Cornish and the following directors: Winslow S. Pierce, Maxwell H. Schiff, D. O. Mills, James Speyer, Charles H. Tweed, H. E. Huntington and A. K. Vandewater.

The decision was reached at the annual meeting to issue $10,000,000 of additional capital stock, but the manner of issuance was left with the directors, who, by a resolution, decided to issue only $40,000,000 now, and the remaining $60,000,000 as the directors see fit.

PAY ROCKEFELLER EVERY CENT
The re-organization plan of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company will become operative, it is understood, as soon as the Standard Oil Company has realized on the plan which the re-organization committee has been working on since December, 1903, bonds to the extent of $15,000,000 are authorized and common stock to the amount of $6,200,000 is to be used.

It is further understood that the bond issue is about ready to be made and will be $37,000,000 instead of $45,000,000. The company reserving $8,000,000 of capital authorized issue for additional capital and future requirements of the company. The Rockefeller-Gould combination had advanced $12,951,200 cash to the company, and this entire amount must be paid before the mortgage is recorded, whereby the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company regains title to its properties.

VENTILATION OF PASSENGER CARS
Officials of railroads are very much interested in the question of ventilation of passenger cars. The following is being conducted by the boards of health in certain large cities with the object of securing better ventilation for street cars, St. Louis, Boston, Chicago, New York, Brooklyn and Baltimore are among the cities struggling with the problem. For twenty years the Pullman company has sought for a perfect system of ventilation; for ten years the Pennsylvania railroad has maintained an experimental laboratory at Altoona with the same end in view, while systems have been proposed and devices patented almost without number in an effort to solve the problem satisfactorily.

"It seems not improbable that if a vote of the traveling public were to be taken as to the most needed improvement in passenger cars," says Dr. C. B. Dudley, chemist of the Pennsylvania system, "a large majority would name better ventilation. It is fair, in justice to the railroad companies, to say that this problem is not ignored by them. They know that passenger coaches are not properly ventilated."

THE KATY EARNINGS
For the year ending June 30 the Missouri, Kansas and Texas earned about 5 per cent upon its $13,000,000 of preferred stock, after charging liberal betterments into operating expenses. The company, however, will not consider dividend payments this year, as its new construction work is not yet completed. For three years the Katy has been building into Oklahoma and the Indian Territory under the name of Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma. This extension is about completed and the Katy is now a system of about 3,000 miles. The extensions were all built from the proceeds of the sale of bonds made three years ago, and the stock representing the new mileage has all gone into the treasury of the parent company. The Missouri, Kansas and Texas is now in as strong a position as any railroad in the southwest.

ATTORNEYS ARE TO GIVE BANQUET TO ASSOCIATES
Fort Worth Bar Association Is to Honor Judge Cooper of the Philippines and Judge Tarlton of This City

Yesterday afternoon a goodly number of members of the Fort Worth Bar Association met in the court room of the court of civil appeals to conclude preliminaries for tendering Judges B. D. Tarlton, who has been appointed a member of the law faculty of the State University, and J. F. Cooper, one of the five supreme judges in the Philippine island, a banquet.

The meeting was presided over by Judge S. J. Hunter, formerly of the court of civil appeals, who is one of the vice presidents of the bar association. The objects of the meeting were stated by Judge Hunter. W. P. McLean Jr. acted as secretary.

After the matter for which the bar was called together was briefly related by the chair, it was decided to give a banquet in honor of Judge Cooper next Friday night, and on September 17, another in honor of Judge Tarlton.

It was the original intention of the bar to give the banquet jointly, but it was learned that Judge Cooper will return to the Philippines before it could be held in September, hence the two occasions. Judges C. T. Prewett, W. P. McLean Jr. and W. D. Harris were appointed a committee to solicit funds from members of the bar and to make all necessary arrangements for the banquet.

Judge T. H. Conner, B. D. Tarlton, M. A. Spoons, M. B. Harris and B. P. Ayers were named a committee to arrange the program to be carried out at the banquet. It is learned that several prominent lawyers over the state will be invited to attend the banquet.

The following is the program of the banquet of the Fort Worth Bar Association, to be given at the Hotel Hamilton, Friday evening, July 29, at 8:30 p. m.: Toast master—Judge B. D. Tarlton. Address of welcome—Sidney L. Samuels. Response—Judge J. F. Cooper. "Early Texas Bar"—Major J. J. Jarvis. "Justice of the Peace"—Captain C. Terrell. "Federal Judiciary"—Judge W. P. McLean. "Our Guest"—Judge R. E. Beckham.

One of the Bandits Who Held Up Northern Pacific Train Admits the Whole Thing in Writing to Officers
GIVES UP THE BOOTY

His Share Was Eleven Hundred Dollars in Money and Four Hundred Small Diamonds—Arrest Follows Betrayal by Companion With Whom Associated

SPOKANE, Wash., July 27.—George F. Hammond, one of the bandits who dynamited a Northern Pacific passenger train near Bearmouth, Mont., on the night of June 16, has made a full confession to Sheriff Doud of this county and the officials of the railroad company. The confession has been signed by Hammond and he is being taken back to Montana for trial. The highwayman says the booty was about $3,500 in money and about 400 small diamonds. In the division he got all the diamonds and $1,100 cash. The bandit guided the officers to his cache near Couer d'Alene City, Sunday and they dug up 350 diamonds and $225 in money. He also guided the officers to another cache near Hillyard, where $169 more was recovered.

Hammond says that he and his partner stole the dynamite with which they blew open the express car from a mine, and they had more than fifty pounds of it. Hammond came to Spokane, where he was betrayed by a companion with whom he became associated after the robbery and was arrested.

The most interesting vaudeville program yet given at the Lake Erie pavilion was that last night and the performance was witnessed by one of the largest crowds of the present season. His interpretation of the leading character in a comedy sketch, entitled "The Honeymoon," would have reflected credit upon one of more mature years. He read his lines distinctly and acted the part to perfection. He was continuously applauded.

ROOSEVELT IS FORMALLY NOTIFIED

has the public work of the nation been done more honestly and efficiently. UNWISE TO CHANGE. Assuredly it is unwise to change the policies which have worked so well and which are now working so well.

Publicly we have placed the finances of the nation upon a sound solid basis. We have done this with the aid of many who were formerly our opponents, but who would neither openly support nor silently acquiesce in the heresy of unsound finance.

Under the financial legislation which we have enacted there is now ample circulation for every business need; and every dollar of this circulation is worth a dollar's surplus of one hundred and sixty-one millions. Moreover, we were able to pay this fifty millions of dollars out of hand without causing the slightest disturbance to business conditions.

THE WAGE QUESTION. We have enacted a tariff law which during the past few years the country has attained a height of material well-being never before reached. Wages are higher than ever before.

Those who, like our opponents, would permit the need of a tariff should be a readjustment of the tariff schedules is unadvised; but such changes can with safety be made only by those whose devotion to the principle of a protective tariff is beyond question.

CITIZENS FOR CONVENIENCE ONLY.

The Percidaris incident has given rise to considerable discussion concerning adopted citizenship and the danger to the United States in protecting citizens abroad who wear the American name for selfish purposes. Whether or not Percidaris became an American merely for protection or prestige is not clear.

Many of our ministers and consuls have testified concerning the anxiety and trouble that has been caused by "fake" citizens. Incidents occur in connection with these people whose settlement often gives rise to strained relations with foreign countries. The desire of the Washington government to foster harmonious and kindly relations with other governments is often frustrated by a doubtful sort of citizens who are forever fomenting trouble.

No other country, not even England, affords such broad protection to its naturalized citizens residing abroad as ours. And our laws in this respect are the reflection of popular sentiment. The popular American heart notes on the fact that wherever an American citizen goes the flag flies over him.

Information comes from New York that democratic differences in that state have been adjusted, and as a consequence Judge Parker will carry the state in November by at least 200,000 majority.

The German emperor is said to be quite wrathful over the holding up of German shipping by the Russians. Perhaps his views of the yellow peril will now undergo something of a modification.

citizens abroad cause them much anxiety and unrest. It will, perhaps, require a considerable education of public sentiment before congress will dare to impose sensible limitations upon the protection now afforded our self-expatriated and semi-occasionally patriotic fellow citizens living abroad.

It is high time an end were put to the possibility of eighty millions of people being involved in a turmoil because of the troubles of some "fake" citizen. Jingoism has too much opportunity to exploit itself.

Thousands of "success" editorials have been written. Magazine articles exploit the life careers of captains of industry for the edification of young men. Writers on the topic pick out the striking examples of prosperity and exhort the young to emulate them.

Some of them, to be sure, have been unfortunate. They tried faithfully and failed. But these wrecked sailors of life's sea, looking backward, could point out their mistakes and afford a lesson worth the heeding.

Some of them would say they had discarded the advice of their elders and gone wrong. Some of them would say they had been improvident in a day of prosperity, neglecting to provide for the "rainy day."

Dewey and his men will divide a handsome piece of prize money, amounting to $300,000, as a result of the good work done in Manila bay. They have had a long time to wait, but the coin will still be legal tender when it reaches them.

Hon. A. S. Hawkins of Abilene, has just closed two very successful campaigns. Last week he was nominated for the state senate at Baird, and a few days prior to that event was happily married to a young lady of Marshall.

The spread of local option in this state does not indicate an overwhelming vote for the national prohibition ticket this year. The average Texas voter may be cut off from the cup that cheers, but he is still taking his democracy straight.

President Roosevelt is to be notified of his nomination the last of August, and tidings of his defeat will reach him during the early hours of the morning of November 5.

The Gentleman From Indiana By BOOTH TARKINGTON

Copyright, 1899, by Doubleday & McClure Co. Copyright, 1902, by McClure, Phillips & Co.

SYNOPSIS. "The Gentleman from Indiana" is the story of a young college man, Journalistically inclined, who buys the local paper in a small Indiana town. Through his fearless editorials he gains fame for himself and paper and becomes an important factor in politics.

Several times they have made attempts on his life. A Miss Sherwood from the east comes to visit Judge Briscoe, one of the community's most influential men. She hears of the young editor and becomes greatly interested in his work.

The storm increases in its fury and those at Judge Briscoe's grow more anxious. Miss Sherwood sits with the editor in the window and when the lightning flashes she sees a procession of figures dressed in white. A horseman rides up to Judge Briscoe's. No word of the editor. The white caps from the cross roads have gotten him.

No trace is found of the editor. A search is made and evidence is discovered from the many foot tracks that he has been dealt with foully by the white-caps from the cross roads. The town is in an uproar, to all appearances the editor has been murdered by the cross-roads people. A posse collects and declares war on the cross-roads settlement. A bad fight ensued, but just in the middle of it a telegram is received, saying that the two-shell-game men, with whom the editor had trouble, have been caught, one wearing the editor's clothes.

Harkless, fully dressed, was standing in the middle of the floor.

and every minute lessens our chances to beat McCune, and I have to begin by wasting time on a tussle with a traitor. There's another train at 11:55. I don't take any chances on missing that one.

"Well, well," laughed his friend, pushing him good humoredly toward a door by a red and white striped pillar, "we'll wait here if you like. But at least go in there and get a shave; it's a clean shop. You want to look your best if you are going down to fight H. Fisbee."

"Take these, then, and you will understand," said Harkless, and he thrust his three telegrams of the morning into Tom's hand and disappeared into the barber shop. When he was gone Meredith went to the telegraph office in the station and sent a line over the wires to Helen: "Keep your delegation at home. He's coming on the 11:55."

a bag," replied his friend. "Why, that's old Kimball Fentress. He's going to town. He lives on the edge of the county."

"Can this be true?" said Meredith gravely. "I wonder," said Harkless thoughtfully a few moments later—"I wonder why he had them changed around."

"By the way," observed Meredith, "you left your stick behind." "You don't think I need a club to face?" Tom choked. "Oh, no; I wasn't thinking of your giving H. Fisbee a beating. I meant to lean on."

Tom looked at him sadly for a moment. It was true, and the Crossroadsers might hug themselves in their cells over the thought. For the rest of his life John Harkless was to walk with just the limp they themselves would have had if, as in former days, their sentence had been to the ball and chain.

All at once the anger ran out of John Harkless. He was a hard man for anger to tarry with. And in place of it a strong sense of home coming began to take possession of him. He was going home. "Back to Plattville, where I belong," he said to himself without bitterness, and it was the truth. "Every man cometh to his own place in the end."

The wheels began to move; the decorators remained on the station platform, letting the train pass them, but Meredith, craning his neck from the steps, saw that they jumped on the last car.

"What's the celebration?" asked Harkless when Meredith returned. "Picnic down the line," said Meredith. "Nipping weather for a picnic. A bit cool, don't you think? One of those fellows looked like a friend of mine, Homer Tibbs, or as Homer might look if he were in disgrace. He had his hat hung on his eyes, and he slouched like a thief in melodrama as he tacked up the bunting on this side of the car."

"After all, there may be some explanation," Meredith suggested with a little hesitancy. "H. Fisbee might turn out more honest than you think." Harkless threw his head back and laughed. "Honest! A man in the pay of Rodney McCune! Well, we can let it wait till we get there. Listen! There's the whistle that means we're getting near home. Why, there's an oil well!"

NO BONDS PAID

City Secretary Says There Is No Revenue to City From Indentures Which Are Forfeited in Corporation Court

A TECHNICAL QUESTION

It Is Held That These Bonds Cannot Be Collected—Nearly Two Hundred Forfeitures Since First of January—Several in Same Case on Record

Straw bonds, or even worse, evanescent bonds, in the city police court is the question now facing the city. Morning after morning bonds are forfeited in cases, in one of them as high as three different bonds having been accepted, and upon their forfeiture new aliases issued.

Inquiry as to the revenue derived to the city from these forfeited indentures reveals the fact that the city does not collect such bonds.

Section 109 of the city charter, after declaring the organization of the corporation court and defining its territorial limits, provides as follows:

"Said court shall have jurisdiction for the forfeiture and collection of bonds given in cases or proceedings pending therein, but it shall have no other or further civil jurisdiction, except herein expressly provided."

The opinion as to the non-collectibility of bonds seems to have been given by the former city attorney and the city has carefully refrained from testing the point.

A SCOTCH LASSIE

HAS WRONG TICKET Agent Makes a Mistake and Sends Her to Texas Instead of Colorado

A Scotch lassie at the Texas and Pacific station yesterday, all the way from Bauffshire, Scotland, found herself in a predicament when she discovered that she had a ticket to Colorado, Texas, instead of to Carbondale, Col., where she wanted to go.

The ticket was probably sold to her in London, where the ticket agent there made a mistake.

The girl arrived in New York city July 23, on a Cunard liner and came all the way to Fort Worth before she discovered the mistake.

In the telegraph office at the station yesterday she aroused much pity and amusement by reciting her woes in her rich Scotch dialect.

The girl had plenty of funds, however, and soon bought her ticket to Carbondale, Col. The mistake of selling her the wrong ticket will be rectified by the steamship company.

The lassie's name was Maggie Ann Barron, and she has two uncles in Carbondale, Alexander and John Patterson. The girl left on the 8 o'clock Denver after profusely thanking all those who had aided her.

KNIGHTS TEMPLARS

Arrangements Making for the Trip of Texans to the Conclave to Be Held in San Francisco in September

THE OFFICIAL ROUTES

Those From North Texas to Go by Texas and Pacific and South Texas Delegation by Southern Pacific—General Stoddard in Handsome Car

The Knights Templars of Texas are making elaborate arrangements for their pilgrimage to the Pacific coast, the itinerary of the grand master and the grand commandery of Texas to San Francisco being over the Texas and Pacific from the north part of the state and from south part the Southern Pacific will be the official route.

Some of the splendid trophies for which the crack drill corps of the United States will compete at Golden Gate Park.

Commander J. F. Zurn of Fort Worth, W. L. Lane of Houston and F. M. Gibboux of Galveston. This committee was named by Grand Master of Grand Encampment U. S. A., M. E., Sir Henry Bates Stoddard of Texas, who has the distinction of holding the highest office within the gift of the Knights Templars of the United States and Canada. It has arranged for a special train, elegantly equipped in all respects, for the grand master's convenience, as well as for all Sir Knights, their families and friends who desire to accompany him on his trip to San Francisco.

Special trains will run from North Texas points over the Texas and Pacific from Fort Worth to El Paso and for the accommodation of South Texas Knights a train will be run over the Southern Pacific to El Paso where the Knights will centralize and proceed on to San Francisco over the latter road.

The Texas and Pacific train will start from Fort Worth at 9:45 on the morning of August 28 and will arrive at El Paso the following morning at 8:40. The entire party of Texas Knights will move from El Paso in a body on a special train and will arrive at Los Angeles at 8 p. m., August 29, and reach destination (San Francisco) September 2, at 7 o'clock in the morning.

Texas will send one of the largest delegations that will go from any state in the union, as it is the intention of the Lone Star Knights to do honor to the grand master as this state will probably never have a band will accompany the delegates. For this reason it is expected that Texas Knights will make a great showing at the San Francisco conclave.

The return trip can be made over one of the several routes. Delegates can of the several routes. Delegates can of the several routes. Delegates can of the several routes.

There will be a stop-over of eight hours at El Paso where the party will be joined by the El Paso commandery which point a band to San Francisco, party the delegates to San Francisco.

In Los Angeles a stop of twenty-one hours will be made and at Del Monte, Cal., fifteen hours.

The triennial headquarters of the commandery at San Francisco will be at the Montrose hotel, while headquarters for the Knight Templar will be at the Grand Palace hotel.

This will be the twenty-ninth triennial conclave and the most important gathering of Knights Templars in the history of the order. Many prominent personages are to be present, among them the most eminent and supreme grand master of the great priory of England, Wales and British dependencies, the Right Honorable Earl of Epsom, who is the center of the official family, have been invited and will be guests on the grand master's train, and will join the party en route.

The official program will be as follows: Saturday, Sept. 3, reception of the commanderies as they arrive in the city; Sunday, Sept. 4, divine services; Monday, Sept. 5, reception of commanderies as they arrive in the city; Sept. 6, grand parade and opening of grand encampment. In evening reception to the M. E. grand master at the Palace hotel, Wednesday, Sept. 7, competitive drills, receptions by commanderies, excursion by rail and steamer, in evening banquet to grand encampment, Thursday, Sept. 8, reception by different commanderies, excursions by rail and steamers, promenade concerts, distribution of prizes to commanderies or drill corps; Friday, Sept. 9, receptions, excursions and general congratulations; Saturday, Sept. 10, closing of conclave.

In connection with the above there will be numerous other interesting features for the enjoyment of the delegates, and their friends.

The grand parade will have 22,000 Knights in line who will march to the music of forty bands. Prizes of great value are to be hung up by the local Knights of California, and are said to represent a valuation of $15,000.

The illuminations of the principal streets and thoroughfares of San Francisco will be gorgeous and will cost the sum of $40,000.

WILL GIVE HANDSOME PRIZES SAN FRANCISCO, July 27.—Over $15,000 has been appropriated by the Knights Templars for prizes to be contested for by the drill corps at the triennial conclave to be held here in September. The trophies selected are magnificent and are said to be the handsomest and costliest ever hung up by the Knights. One of the prizes consists of a complete punch set of solid silver, one of a solid silver tray with 27 silver goblets, a silver clock mounted on an onyx pedestal, a solid silver vase three feet high and a fortress of gold quartz and silver supporting a silver globe, in which California is embodied in gold, surmounted by a knight clad in silver armor.

It has been decided to hold the drills on the Golden Gate base ball field, where 40,000 people may witness them.

IRON FOUNDRY FOR FORT WORTH IS PROBABLE

The prospects are very flattering that Fort Worth will secure a large iron foundry and machine shop, mention of which has been frequently made in The Telegram during the past month. The matter of securing this enterprise is being negotiated by Captain B. B. Paddock and Jacob Washer, secretary and president of the Board of Trade, and this morning Mr. Paddock said that there was a fair chance of the foundry being secured for this city, despite the fact that other large cities in the state were hot after it.

The gentlemen who are back of the enterprise and who propose putting in the foundry are here today in consultation with the Board of Trade officials and private citizens.

It is confidently expected that the deal will be consummated before these gentlemen leave the city. It is understood that $20,000 of the required $30,000 which is to be taken by Fort Worth people in stock have already been secured, and efforts are being made today to secure the balance of the $30,000. There are a great number of influential men in Fort Worth who will take a block of the stock, but they are out of the city this month and can not be seen. There is every indication that the enterprise will be landed. The gentlemen promoting it are decided as to where they want to locate and believe that Fort Worth is the coming metropolis of the state. They see in this city the greatest railroad and packing center of the southwest and naturally desire to establish a plant of the magnitude this one is to be in a good, progressive and wide-awake city, hence they prefer Fort Worth. They will remain in the city some days, making arrangements and planning for the consummation of the deal.

It is proposed to locate one of the largest iron foundries in the country. It will cost when established fully $150,000 or $200,000, and will give employment to between 400 and 500 men. This would materially increase the tin bucket brigade in Fort Worth and is an enterprise that will mean much for this city.

A CATERER SUES FOR BANQUET BILL OF BIG AMOUNT

F. August Neinze May Yet Have to Pay for the Wine and Flowers He Ordered

HELENA, Mont., July 25.—F. Augustus Neinze, the "Copper King," may yet have to pay for the entertainment given several years ago at Sam Martin's place in Butte for which the caterer put in a bill of $12,000 for wine, flowers and fixings.

It was in the palmy days of the regime of the young Napoleon of finance that the entertainment was given in celebration of a great victory over the Amalgamated Copper Company, and when a short time later the luck of the young Napoleon began to desert him he was not in a position to pay the bill. He was, however, it is said, in a position to dictate to Judge Harney, of the district court, who was elected to office on Neinze's ticket, and it was no surprise therefore that Martin was thrown out of court when he brought suit on the bill on the grounds that he had refused to submit an itemized statement.

A few days ago Chief Justice Brantly of the supreme court reversed Judge Harney's decision and remanded the case for a trial.

The original banquet account of Mr. Neinze during the campaign of 1900 was $20,665, covering a period of two months, $8,000 of which was paid by Mr. Neinze at the time the parties to the suit had an accounting. Since that time Martin, who is well-known on the coast as a horseman and pool room proprietor, has made fruitless efforts to recover the balance.

There is considerable doubt as to his ability to recover the judgment in case he gets one, the new trial owing to the depleted condition of Neinze's bank account. Since the shut down of the Amalgamated properties last fall it is said that Neinze has been in a quandary as to how to get out of the hands of the judges the eastern men on seeing the tremendous influence which the copper trust could bring to bear upon the state when it was aroused have begun to feel a doubt as to Neinze's ability to win out in the long run.

The decision of the supreme court holding the "Fair trial" or "No trial" bill as the controlling fact respectively term it, removes the cases in the mining litigation from the hands of the judges elected on Neinze's ticket and so make a very different situation from that which has prevailed heretofore.

Neinze has just returned from the east, where it is said he has been making efforts to dispose of his property in the amalgamated, offering them at several million less than the figure he insisted on a year or two ago. The Amalgamated officials, realizing that the decision of the court on the "Fair trial" law left the goods practically in their own hands, it is understood, refused to deal with him, and Neinze returned home unsuccessful.

Bright's Disease and Diabetes News

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 10, 1904. To the Masonic Fraternities of Texas. Bright's Disease and Diabetes are now positively curable. The recoveries run into the thousands and include not only many of our best citizens but the very highest degree Masons (several of the third degree), Knights Templars, Shriner, etc.

A sense of duty and love of their fellows moved a number of these to give us permission to use their names in order that the world may know of the genuineness of this discovery. Among them are such men as ex-Surveyor General Theo. Reichert, N. W. Spaulding (now deceased) late president Spaulding Saw Co., and United States sub-treasurer, and A. G. Deardorff, M. D. General Reichert recovered himself after twelve years of suffering with Diabetes. N. W. Spaulding's daughter recovered from Bright's Disease after he had spent thousands of dollars and years of time and believed her death inevitable. Dr. Deardorff had several patients recover—extreme cases of both Bright's Disease and Diabetes, one of them being an old school physician.

In the interest of humanity these gentlemen have permitted us to take their affidavits to be given to anxious inquirers. Sincerely, JOHN J. FULTON CO., 409 Washington St., San Francisco.

F. A. HEINZE HAS BEEN SUED MORE THAN OTHERS

Copper King of Montana Has Been Waging Legal Warfare for Fourteen Years With All Comers

BUTTE, Mont., July 25.—F. Augustus Neinze, the "Copper King," known as the "Young Napoleon of Montana," has probably been sued and brought more counter suits in the courts than any other individual in the world. For fourteen years he has waged legal warfare on rival copper men and companies, and meeting with phenomenal success.

Neinze's main battle of recent years has been against the Amalgamated Copper company, and in this he has received such staunch support from the voters of the state that he has been a continual thorn in the side of the great copper octopus. Montana has always been a bitterly factional state since the beginning of the great Clark-Daly feud, but now that Daly is dead and Clark is a "dead issue" in Montana, the people have divided themselves into Heinze and Amalgamated factions. The old Clark interests became practically allied with the Amalgamated three years ago, and since then Heinze has fought the powerful combination single handed.

The keynote to Heinze's "mining in the courts" was his keen foresight in the matter of the "apex" clause. When he began his great fight Heinze endeavored to get hold of every unexplored apex on the Butte hill, and for the main part succeeded. Since then he has been in the courts following out the leads from those apexes and claiming all leads that originate in any of his apexes. These leads often run into claims owned by his rivals, who have developed them into great mines, and new battles are on. The technicality is with Heinze on this point, and through it he has secured a fortune which he values at $22,000,000, and for which the Amalgamated offers him in the open market $11,000,000. But Heinze declines to sell, and says he is in Montana to stay and to fight the big copper trust to the finish. His famous slogan is "I will stand by the people of Montana as long as they will let me."

Heinze is an orator of peculiar power and magnetism, and his wits are of a keen turn for finance. He has a remarkable political power also, and rarely fails to have a card up his sleeve to take his opponent's trick. He is of German and Irish extraction, and is very handsome and impressive in appearance. He is a born fighter, and those who know him best say that it is the love of battle rather than concern for the people of Montana or greed of riches that keeps him in Montana pitting his energies and fortune against one of the most powerful trusts in the world. Once when urged by a friend to sell out and leave Montana while he still had the best of the fight, Heinze replied:

"If they can beat me, let them do it. They can never beat me so long as I can't put out with a million—and a million is enough for any man."

Compare Our Methods You will realize then why Schlitz beer is pure. You wash a cooking utensil once. We wash a bottle four times, by machinery, before we fill it. You use city water. We bore down 1400 feet to rock for ours. You prepare food in the air of the room. We cool Schlitz beer in plate-glass rooms and filter all the air that touches it. Then we filter the beer by machinery—filter it through white wood pulp. Yet your methods are cleanly. Ours are cleanliness carried to extremes. Then—for fear of a touch of impurity—we sterilize every bottle after it is sealed. We double the necessary cost of our brewing to give you a healthful beverage pure. Do you wonder that we sell over a million barrels annually? Ask for the brewery bottling.

STUDENTS REFUSE TO VACATE THE YACHT

They Lease a Vessel, Leave Captain on Desert Island and Are Having High Old Time When Ruse Outwits Them

JERSEY CITY, N. J., July 27.—Mrs. John Bolen, wife of Policeman Bolen of this city, has recovered possession of a yacht she let last June to some Yale students. She had heard nothing of the craft until she received a letter from the captain, informing her that he had been for on an island off Cape Cod.

The students said they wanted the yacht to go on a three months' cruise. Mrs. Bolen charged them $500 for it. They paid $220 down and agreed to pay the balance later on. The yacht is known as the Virginia B.

From June 1 to 22, the time was spent in getting the yacht in order. It was supplied with provisions and other articles necessary for the cruise. Captain Robert Bowen was in charge of the yacht. According to the captain's letter to Mrs. Bolen the students grew boisterous and smashed furniture. They borrowed from him until his money ran out. Then, on a pretext of securing food, they sent him ashore on the strange island and disappeared with the yacht. After sleeping in the woods all night, the captain made his way to a town and wrote his letter to Mrs. Bolen. Through the police authorities at Nar-

SHERMAN BOY IS TO SING WITH FIELD

SHERMAN, Texas, July 27.—Lake Reynolds left yesterday afternoon for Columbus, Ohio, where he goes to join the Al G. Fields Minstrel Company, with which he has signed for the seasons 1904-5. After a short time spent in rehearsals with the company, this gifted Sherman boy will make his debut as a professional entertainer in the largest cities of the north and east, and friends here who are competent to pass upon his capabilities predict for him a brilliant career as a comedian, as he possesses an exceptionally fine voice and a gift of mimicry that is as marvelous as it is pleasing.

A TELEPHONE APPOINTMENT SHERMAN, Texas, July 27.—Announcement is made of the appointment of D. C. Rosser, late of the Landon exchange, as manager of the Sherman exchange of the Southwestern Telegraph and Telephone Company, to succeed M. J. Stimson, who was recently promoted to the superintendency of the North Texas division, extending from Clarksville to Wichita Falls, with headquarters in Sherman.

A BIG PICNIC

Milam and Bell County People to Join in Celebration TEMPLE, Texas, July 27.—A monster joint county picnic has been planned to take place near Rogers on July 28, to be known as the Bell and Milam county barbecue and picnic. Prominent citizens of both counties residing near the county line are responsible for the success of the event which seems assured. Speech making by prominent speakers has been arranged for, there will be a sham battle between the L. J. Polk Rifles, the crack military company of Rogers, and a band of rough rider cowboys, base ball and other sports will be indulged in and the festivities will wind up with a grand ball at Rogers at night.

A STROKE OF PARALYSIS

HE LOSES HIS MIND IN WATER MAIN INSPECTION

Fear of the Unseen Drives a Man Insane as He Lays in a Twenty-four-inch Pipe Under the Ground

DERBY, Conn., July 27.—The terrible fear of the unseen inherent in humanity came upon James Barrett and drove him mad as he lay in a twenty-four inch water main 500 feet from its mouth.

Barrett was foreman of a gang of pipe layers engaged in laying 1,000 feet of twenty-four inch main pipe from Beaver Lake to the Beaver reservoir in course of construction between Derby and Ansonia. Barrett, though tired mentally and physically, decided to inspect the joints. Working himself forward on his stomach he succeeded in reaching a point about 300 feet from the opening, where he halted to rest. He was in inky darkness and the pipe, coated with a clammy moisture, was cold. Not a sound from the street above reached him. For an hour his workmen waited for his return. Then, fearing something had happened to him, one of them started through the pipe. Three hundred feet in the pipe the workman touched the shoes of the unfortunate foreman. Barrett, his clothing twisted and torn, lay unconscious. By a rope attached to his feet he was hauled to the street. Five minutes later, with a physician bending over him, Barrett became conscious, only to leap to his feet and attempt to throttle those nearest him. It took eighteen men to restrain the mad man. There is little hope of his mental recovery.

GENERAL ROBERTS

Assistant Superintendent of Mail Service in Popular Man TEMPLE, Texas, July 27.—General A. S. Roberts of the railway mail service, of which department he is assistant general superintendent in charge of star route, messenger and screen wagon service, was in Temple today on government business, leaving during the night for Austin. General Roberts is one of the most popular attaches of the postal service in the state and enjoys the distinction of being one of the very few democrats who have been undisturbed during the present administration. There are many of his friends, however, who would anticipate a substantial recognition of his services in the event of a democratic victory.

THE CROPS IN TEXAS

The weekly crop report of conditions along the line of the Frisco and the Fort Worth and Rio Grande railroad for the week ending July 21 is out today. A great many of the places report the need of rain, which has since been received. The acreage in cotton planted is much larger than last year, and the average yield expected will be about one-half bale to the acre. The yield of corn will average from thirty-five to fifty bushels to the acre.

well. Need rain badly. Bluffdale—Cotton suffering very badly for rain. Shedding forms and prospects look a little bad. Corn prospects not very flattering. Stephenville—Dry weather injuring cotton. Prospects for cotton not so good as ten days ago. However, with good seasonal and favorable conditions from now on, would insure very heavy cotton crop. Dublin—Ground is needing moisture very badly. Cotton not doing so well as ten days ago. Proctor—No rain during week. Corn will yield about forty-five bushels per acre. Cotton needing rain. Growth somewhat checked account thirty days' dry weather. Plant green. Comanche—With the increased acreage over last year cotton prospects are for 30,000 to 35,000 bales. Very little small grain raised. Blauket—Cotton and corn needing rain. Not doing so well on account of continued dry weather. Brownwood—Cotton and corn prospects only fair, account of continued dry weather. Wincheil—Cotton will make about one-third bale per acre and prospects are fair. Corn about twenty bushels per acre. Need rain. Brady—Will have about 10,000 bales cotton this year, and prospects are very fair for a good corn yield.

RALL TALKS OF GRAIN Fort Worth Dealer Says Texas Mills Must Bring In Wheat E. G. Rall has just returned from a trip to Galveston, where he was one of several who enjoyed a fish in the Gulf. Mr. Rall states that the wheat receipts over the country are the lightest in years and that the total will not reach more than one-half what it was last year. However, the bins are well filled and wheat is being held. Mr. Rall says that the mills of the state will have to depend on wheat from outside states for the supply this year, and as the yield in the northern states is short on account of continuous rains it is more than likely that there will be some difficulty in securing what wheat will be needed by Texas mills for home consumption. The quality of oats in Texas this year is not good, says Mr. Rall. The rains damaged the crop materially, but the corn and cotton crops are the largest in the history of the state, particularly the latter, and the plant, Mr. Rall says, is looking well, generally speaking. It is damaged in some quarters by insects, but the whole there will be a very fair yield. The acreage, he says, is the largest in a long while.

PRIZE BULLS MAKE ATTACK ON KEEPER

Animals Were in a Box Car and Made a Rush at Man Who Had Them in Charge

SYRACUSE, N. Y., July 27.—Eugene Mills, an employe of a stock farm near this city, has had a hard fight for life with two prize bulls, and but for the timely arrival of his employer, would have been killed.

The animals were in a box car preparatory to being shipped to the St. Louis exposition, and Mills attempted to tighten the rope on one of them. The bull made a rush at the man and striking him in the chest, knocked him down. Scrambling to his feet, he tried to escape, but was met by the other animal. Mills was again knocked down and would have been gored to death had not his employer, hearing the commotion and cries, come to the rescue. He beat off the infuriated animals and dragged the man from the car. A physician found that Mills was badly cut about the head and body.

FERTILE VALLEY OF THE MISSISSIPPI While it is true Oklahoma, Indian Territory and Texas invite the Homeseeker and others in search of a profitable investment and business opportunity, there is another field along the Frisco System quite recently opened to those interested in a personal betterment of financial resources.

On June 1, the line of railroad heretofore known as the St. Louis, Memphis and Southeastern (now Frisco System), was extended to St. Louis, thus making a territory in Missouri and Arkansas, along the west bank of the Mississippi river, accessible by way of St. Louis.

The present service consists of passenger train leaving Union Station 7:19 a. m. daily, for Cape Girardeau, Luxora, Caruthersville and intermediate points to Memphis, also the Cape Girardeau accommodation (daily), leaving Union Station 4:30 p. m.

Some years since, perhaps a quarter of a century, this section was avoided by reason of want of development or progressiveness; now, however, it is considered equal to the homeseeker and investor may measure to Oklahoma, Indian Territory or Texas. The change in condition throughout was accomplished by large governmental expenditure, a progressive people and extended railroad facilities promoted and maintained by the Frisco System, operating, as it does, nearly 700 miles of railway in the immediate Mississippi Valley, less than 300 miles distant from St. Louis.

The soil is exceedingly fertile, crops invariably abundant, timber interests extensive and resourceful. Those desiring additional particulars will receive immediate response. Address, Passenger Traffic Department, FRISCO SYSTEM, St. Louis.

BOYS FALL FROM A HIGH DERRICK

Swinging Over a Pit, the Timbers Break and the Youngsters Are Precipitated to the Bottom

NEW YORK, July 27.—Two boys have been seriously hurt and twenty others badly cut and bruised by the breaking of the derrick on which they were swinging. The derrick was working on a rock forty feet high, which has not been blasted through. The workmen had left an hour before the accident, and the police said no watchman was left.

The boys, twenty-five in all, were having great fun swinging on the thirty-foot beam in a wide half circle over a pit twenty feet deep. The beam broke in the middle and every boy was thrown to the rocks below.

DIES OF FRIGHT IN THE ROADWAY

Victim of Fits Runs Amuck and a Child Dies in Terror as She Flees From Him

PHILADELPHIA, July 27.—Seized with a fit, Joseph Heiser went on a rampage through Andalusia, on the Bristol Pike. He frightened a little girl to death, terrorized the barroom of the Red Lion Inn and broke furniture and ended by thrusting a motorman on a passing trolley car, who finally succeeded in overpowering Heiser and turned him over to the police.

Six-year-old Marion Rankin was the victim of Heiser's dementia. The child had always stood in terror of him, and she fled in flight to her mother. Heiser was waving his arms in the air and screaming at the top of his voice and ran toward the little girl. The little girl started to escape from him, but before she had gone a dozen feet she was overcome with terror and fell unconscious in the roadway. She died a few moments afterwards.

A MACHINE AMUCK IN AUTO LIVERY YESTERDAY

While a Gasoline Wagon Is Being Repaired It Starts on Trip Around the Room, Damaging Some Things a Little

What came very near being a serious accident occurred in the Fort Worth auto livery about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon when the machine of M. R. Sanguinet, which was being repaired, suddenly started, and for awhile tore around the shop very much like a bucking broncho.

Charles Colp was working on the machine at the time. He had started the engine going and was working with the machinery. Suddenly the machine started and immediately confusion reigned. Colp jumped out of danger's way as the auto began its tirade.

The machine ran into several other automobiles in the shop, smashed a fence and bruised things up generally. Finally the gasoline wagon backed into a corner, and like an animal at bay, defied the men to conquer it. With a little strategy, however, the engine was stopped and further damage averted.
