The bomb thrower must have known perfectly well that Minister Von Plehwe would pass this point this morning, for the minister makes a report to the emperor every Thursday. The infernal machine was thrown with deadly accuracy and the assassin was favored by the fact that traffic here is always heaviest, owing to the crossing of the lines of the surface cars and a continuous stream of neaviest trucks. Ven Plehwe has always been apprehensive of attempts upon his life and is sed to drive as rapidly as possible. The ochman, however, was compelled to go slow at this point. The assassin, in laying the plan, evidently foresaw this cirmstance and when the minister's coachman slowed down he threw the bomb.

THE EXPLOSION TERRIFIC The explosion was terrific and practically annihilated the woodwork of the carriage. The horses tore off, dragging the axle and front wheels. The animals, infuriated by wounds they had sustained, and not galloped far before they fell with

Contract Has Been Made by Which Owners Will Add Another Story to the Structure Which Is Now Occupied

A contract was closed yesterday for improvements in the building now occupied by the Monnig Dry Goods Company on lower Main street.

The Monnig company conducts both a wholesale and retail business and recently there has been such an increase in trade that the company has turned to some improvement to give more room in which to operate. The prospects for business commencing with September 1 are such that it was determined to get more room, and yesterday a contract was made with the owners of the property to add another story to the building. The architect will at once prepare the plans and work on the structure will commend just as soon as the contract can be let. With this additional floor space the company will be in a position to add the new stock which is necessary to the Houston to attend the state democratic rapidly growing business and to give it all a proper display before those who call. In addition it will be an improvement to the lower end of Main street, which will add much to the appearance of that section of the business part of the city.

Attorney Capps stated that the strikers were daily violating the laws of the state by federating together in an unlawful assemblage for the purpose of riot and intimidation of men who desire to earn their livelihood.

Mr. Capps stated that in his opinion the county attorney's department should not object to going into the details of the strike situation and should not attempt to obstruct an expose of the true onditions as they exist, but on the contrary they should use their efforts to prevent a repetition of the scenes that are being enacted daily around the premises of the two packing houses since wired a brother in Bridgeport for funds the strike was inaugurated.

Attorney Capps said that in his opinion the negro, under existing conditions at the stock yards, had a perfect right to carry a pistol for the protection of his life; that he had reason to believe that his life was in danger from the strikers; that the strikers were unlawfully assembling at the packing houses contrary to the statutes of the state and that if any Crazed Female Who Tries to one was guilty it is the strikers. Attorney Capps cited several sections of the statutes touching upon recent decisions applicable to the present case. S. C. NO SURPRISE IN WASHINGTON CIRCLES

WASHINGTON, July 28.-The first official information received here of the tragedy at St. Petersburg came this morning in a short cablegram to the state department from Spencer Eddy, in charge of the American embassy in the absence from that capacity of Ambassador Mc-Cormick. The message read:

"Secretary Interior Plehwe and several others killed and some wounded in explosion of bomb." The cablegram was promptly forwarded by Acting Secretary Adee to Secretary Hay at Newbury, N. H., and a proper expression of condolence will be directed through Mr. Eddy. Although the assassination is deeply deplored here, it can not be said it has caused much surprise in circles here best informed as to the conditions in St. Petersburg. M. Von Plehwe was particularly severe in his treatment of the radical element in Russian polities, and was able to enforce policies only through the absolute control of the secret service and the police

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT OFFICIALLY INFORMED

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 28.-President Roosevelt was officially informed early today by the state department at Washington of the assassination of the Russian minister of interior at St. Petersburg. No details were given in the dispatch except in addition to the minister several other people were injured by the explosion of the bomb.

PARIS IS SHOCKED BY THE ASSASSINATION

PARIS, July 28.-The assassination of M. Von Plehwe caused considerable excitement here. The newspapers issued special editions giving details of the crime. President Loubet telegraphed to Emperor Nicholas expressing his condolence and the French horror at the crime and Foreign Maister Delcasse immediately drove to the Russian liton, Greenville, embassy and had a long conference with the charge d'affaires.

The regular meeting of the recently organized humane society will be held to-

ATTACKED BY DEER

On Wednesday of this week, Louis Dietz, with his wife and daughter, Meta, drove out in the hills some eight or nine miles from town to gather wild plums, which grow in abundance in this section. Late in the afternoon Mr. Dietz left his wife and daughter at a plum thicket for the purpose of hitching up his team preparatory to going home. When about 200 yards away, his attention was attracted by the screams of Mrs. Dietz and her daughter. Mr. Dietz hastened back and found his wife very badly frightened, and her clothing considerably torn. While gathering plums Mrs. Dietz had been attacked by a deer, which was frightened away by the screams of herself and daughter, but not until the monarch of the woods had reminded them that they were transgressing upon "his fields of clover." This is the first instance with which we are familiar. where a person was attacked by a deer in the wood, deliberately and without provocation of any kind.-Gillespie County News.

CATTLE MANGE DECREASING

try where cattle mange has existed would seem to indicate that the disease is de creasing. This is, of course, partly due to treatment, but much is due to the improved conditions of the cattle due to better feed. Dr. Parker, in charge of the bureau of animal industry at San Antonio, Texas, says he is much encouraged at the decrease of scabies in both cattle and sheep in his territory. He says that the improvement is most noticeable in cattle, but that the sheep are showing up well. He and his assistants have recently completed the inspection of 140,000 sheep, many of which, he says, found their way to this market, Dr. Parker says that he never saw such fine grass as is to be seen in Southern Texas this year. The train slowed up and stopped at a water tank 200 yards east of the station, and their uncertainty was at an end. From somewhere down the track came the detonating boom of a cannon. The people was lost in the crowd that was so glad came at the smoker like a long wave, to get him back again and so proud of him; but she had seen that he looked very white and solemn.

Briscoe brought Tom Meredith through the crowd and put him in the buckboard beside Helen. "All right, Lige!" called the judge to Willetts, who was at the horses' heads. "You go get into line with the boys; they want you. We'll go down on Main street to see the parade," be explained, gathering the reins in his hand.

The buckboard stopped on the Herald corner, and here and along Main street the line of vehicles which had followed it from the station took positions to await the parade. The square was almost a solid mass of bunting, and the north entrance of the courthouse had been decorated with streamers and flags so as to make a sort of stand. Hither the crowd was already streaming and hither the procession made its way. At intervals the gun boomed from the station, and Schofields' Henry was winnowing the air with his bell. Nobody had a better time that day than Schoffelds' Henry, except old Wilkerson, who was with the procession. In advance came the boys, whooping and somersaulting, and behind them rode a band of mounted men, sitting their horses like cavalrymen, led by the wanted to run away, as she had run lock. Then followed the Harkless club nanimous Halloway bimself marching in the ranks, and at sight of this the people shouted like madmen. But when Helen's eye fell upon Halloway's fat, rather unhappy face she felt a pang of pity and unreasoning remorse, which warned her that he who looks upon politics when it is red must steel his eyes to see many a man with the heartburn. After the men of Amo came the Harkless club of Gainesville, Mr. Bence in the van with the step of a grenadier. There followed next Mr. Ephraim Watts, bearing a light wand in his band and leading a detachment of workers from the oil field in their stained blue overalls and blouses, and after them came Mr. Martin and Mr. Landis at the head of an organization recognized in the "order of procession" printed in the Herald as "the business men of Plattville." The band played in such magnificent time that every high stepping foot in all the line came down with the same jubilant plunk and lifted again with a unanimity as complete as that of the last vote the convention had taken that day. The leaders of the procession set a brisk pace, and who could have set any other kind of a pace when on parade to the strains of such a band playing such a tune as "A New Coon In Town" with all its might and

But as the line swung into the square there came a moment when the tune was ended and the musicians paused for breath and there fell comparative quiet. Among the ranks of the "business men" ambled Mr. Wilkerson, singing at the top of his voice, and now he could be heard distinctly enough for those near him to distinguish the melody with which it was his intention to favor the public:

"Glory, glory, hallelulah!

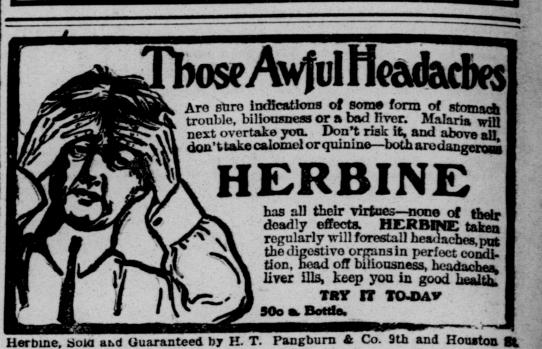

The words, the air, that husky voice, recalled to the men of Carlow another day and another procession not like this one. And the song Wilkerson was singing is the one song every northern born American knows and can sing. way?" asked Helen, leaning forward The leader of the band caught the sound, signaled to his men, twenty instruments rose as one to twenty burst from twenty brazen throats:

> "Glory, glory, halleluiah!" Instantaneously the whole procession began to sing the refrain, and the people in the street and those in the wagons and carriages and those leaning from the windows joined with one accord. The ringing bells caught the time of the song, and the upper air reverberated in the rhythm.

REBUILDING SALE PUTS ON MORE STEAM

Shelf Emptying Prices to Effect a Reduction of Stock

"MORE ROOM" is the demand of the builders—and more room must be had at any cost. Notwithstanding many thousands of dollars' worth of stock have been distributed among our patrons the past few days, the building operations now in progress make necessary a still further stock reducing. Every moment's delay means greater ruin to stocks—every moment adds to the urgency of the clearance need. It has been a great and most entirely successful sale so far, and we've determined that the end of week shall exceed in interest and attractiveness. To that end a most sensational array of sale specials are quoted below, which will stand alone as the most exceptional chances for saving ever brought to your door. We know that it is annoying to trade amid the hammering and confusion of builders, but we compensate you handsomely with low prices, and will make your trading as pleasant as we possibly can. Come tomorrow and Saturday—the profit is all yours, and more, too.

A moderate increase in pig iron buying has been noticed in the past week, but finished material markets have settled farther into midsummer dullness and have so far refused to make good the repeated declarations of Wall street authorities. Now that the steel corporation meeting

Sales of 15,000 to 20,000 tons of basic iron ar also reported by southern sellers.

The quotation of $9.50 by southern furnaces is now quite general, but as with previous advances, business lessens when quotations move up. At present $9.65 for No. 2 seems to be the minimum for southern iron, but there is considerable variation in prices on northern foundry iron, particularly in the east. APPROVED AN INTERLOCKER

AUSTIN. Texas, July 28.—The railroad commission yesterday approved the interlocking device at the intersection of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway. It is an anticipated that better rate arrangements will be made to cover the centennial period than has ever been offered on any similar account, perhaps not excepting the extraordinarily cheap rates which, during the past year or two, have been effective. at times to California.

FRISCO WINS LITIGATION News comes from Chicago that the Frisco has won in the terminal litigation.

Eastern Illinois Railroad and of the Frisco will be transferred next Sunday from Dearborn to La Salle street station.

The transfer was made possible today by the action of Judge Seaman, in the United tates circuit court, in dissolving a temorary restraining order prohibiting the Eastern Illinois road from changing terminals. The injunction was secured by the Chicago and Western Indiana Railroad Company, owners of Dearborn station, several months ago. The Eastern Illinois Company desired to change its local passenger terminals because the road is now a part of the Rock Island system, the latter being half owner of the La Salle street

While not made a part of their arguments in court, one of the chief reasons of the coveted change on the part of the Eastern Illinois Company was the desire to escape damage suits resulting from grade crossing accidents along the right of way of the Western Indiana road which is not yet elevated north of Fiftyfirst street. Officers of the Eastern Illinois are elated at the decision, as it allows them to entirely abandon the Dearborn station for a modern depot with a loop terminal. The change in terminals There Will Be Many to At- will be effected next Sunday, the day on which the Eastern Illinois will inaugurate its new through line between Chicago and St. Louis.

Simple-minded fans wondered how it would turn out, but really wise ones surmised that a certain wide and curving sweep of delivery would give to the Navi gators full employment for an hour and twenty minutes at least. As the game progressed and only Andres and Fields ould appropriate tiny bingles as their share of the net proceeds it dawned upon the thinks of the faithful that Jackson had more than a victory on hand; that he had a shut-out concealed about his per son that was to be delivered only after nine innings had been disposed of.

This shut-out was even more creditable to Jackson as the team behind him was seemingly crippled. Hubbard is still nursing a wounded thumb and Poindexter is absent. department of agriculture, located in Gal-

Weather Conditions-Clear warm weather continued quite general over the state until the middle of the week and, owing to the continued dry weather and hot winds. conditions were fast becoming severe over the west half of the state. There were some scattered showers during the first of the week, but toward the close the rainfall was quite general, being abundant over the eastern but slightly insufficient over the western half of the state. The rainfall was generally beneficial, as it ame just in time to rescue the agricultural interests of the west from very material loss and doing but little if any damage to those of the east. The temperatures of the first part of the week were rather high, but during the latter part were practically normal. Cotton-Reports indicate a steady im rovement in the general condition of the otton crop. The crop is now practically aid by and in excellent condition except, erhaps, in a few northeastern counties The plant, except in a few localities where hecked by drouth, continued to grow and fruit nicely. Shedding was becoming uite general and in a few counties somewhat serious over the southwestern and central divisions, but the rains of the week have considerably improved conditions in these sections, as the plant is now inder renewed growth and is beginning to fruit again. The damage from boll weevis and boll worms continues to be comparatively small, except in a few southwestern counties. Cotton is beginning to open as far north as the south-central tion. EXTRA CLERK HIRE An order has been issued by the post-office department regarding allowances for extra clerk hire in postoffices of the third and fourth classes. Such allowances are to be made in cases where unusually heavy business caused an amount of work out of proportion with the salary paid the office as commission on cancellations.

Allowances are also to be made where the office is located at the intersection of two mail routes, necessitating the separation of mails. An allowance for this separation is made according to a regular scale, varying from $36 annually for the iverage separation of from thirty-four to sixty-six pieces daily, up to $252 for an average of from 651 to 700. of Failure of the City to Get Revenue From Those on Forfeited Indentures

WILLIAMS IS SURPRISED

Former City Attorney Asked About the Matter and Says He Did Not Hold That the Bonds Could Not Be Collected When Enforced

The Telegram yesterday, in an interview with City Secretary Montgomery. generally understood that a former city attorney had held that judgment could or Tuesday afternoon of next week at not be enforced on these bonds, the stateo'clock of every business man, and all mnt being that a bond must be returnable to a certain term of court, and as terested in building up a cotton market the city court has no regular term, but sits continuously from day to day, there is a technicality which allows an evasion of the payment if an attempt is made to enforce the collection.

The article in The Telegram yesterday has caused quite a little comment, as it was generally understood that a bond forevery citizen of Fort Worth who wants feiture resulted in revenue to the city. to see the cotton market of North Texas and that such revenue would be valuable in paying running expenses.

An investigation of the record of bonds forfeited shows that in several cases those who have been sureties on forfeited bonds been accepted on other bonds since and that these remain forfeited and unpaid.

The investigation also shows that one man is upon five of these bonds and the names of two members of a firm appear jointly on an equal

Judge W. D. Williams, former city atthat during his service in the city the this morning with William S. Knight of majority of bonds were collected. In some the Kright Dry Goods Company, and W. cases, he stated, forfeiture and collection be taken by Fort Worth in the interest of tain prisoners remain away than that b them brought back to face the charges pending against them. In this class are included vagrants and tramps.

Considerable difficulty, Judge Williams admitted, was experienced during his administration through the refusal of the court of criminal appeals to recognize the power of the city as conveyed in the charter. For this reason the control of cases within the jurisdiction of the county was left to their care, the city merely acting in cases of drunkenness, etc., where the maintenance of order made it imperative. The drawbacks then existing, he thought but he had not examined the question in ion on the question.
