General Kuroki and Oku Form Junction to Make Attempt to Cut Russian Lines in Vicinity of Liao Yang

HAND-TO-HAND COMBAT

Russians Steadily Hold Their Outposts During Day—Japs Direct Steady Artillery Fire on Position of the Enemy—Losses Are Heavy

LIAO YANG, Aug. 27.—General Kuroki joined forces with General Oku in an attempt to cut the Russian line between Anshan Shan and Lian-dian-sian. The battle of August 25 raged along the eastern front. A strong Japanese force attacked the Russian positions a whole day, falling back on the main position at night. The chief artillery engagement was in front of Lian-dian-sian, the Japanese concentrating the fire of ten batteries and simultaneously advancing on Torintsu, four miles southwest of Lian-dian-sian, but they were arrested by Cossacks who afterwards were reinforced by infantry and artillery. The Japanese resumed the bombardment early August 26, devoting most of the attention on Lian-dian-sian. The Russian field guns were very effective. They dismantled thirty two Japanese guns, mostly mountain pieces. The casualties were not ascertained.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 27.—The Russian casualties are placed at an even thousand in the report of General Kuropatkin relative to the fighting around Liao Yang yesterday. The Japanese also sustained serious losses, while twenty-four of their guns are reported put out of action. General Kuropatkin reports fighting August 26 in all parts of the theater of operations, the heaviest being east and southeast of Liao Yang in the vicinity of Lian river and at Lian-dian-sian.

CRUISER DIANA HAS NO ORDERS TO REPAIR OR TO DISARM NOW

SAIGON, Aug. 27.—The Russian cruiser Diana which arrived here August 20 with a shell hole below her water line received in the naval battle off Port Arthur August 10, has not received instructions from the government at St. Petersburg to disarm or repair her damages, which are slight. Another Japanese shell killed an officer of the Diana and three men and wounded twenty-three others. The cruiser tried to reach Shanghai but encountered some Japanese torpedo boats. The latter discharged nine torpedoes without effect at the Diana. The officers of the cruiser declared General Stoessel will never surrender Fort Arthur. When she left the harbor General Stoessel had 40,000 men.

NO NEWS AT THE LEGATIONS FROM THE PORT ARTHUR SIEGE

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The Japanese legation up to 2 o'clock this afternoon had no information in regard to Port Arthur. However, it is pointed out the principal reports by the Japanese capture of Ito's headquarters ago, will enormously facilitate further operations and will possibly enable the besiegers to get within the cordon of the outer forts and attack the last line of resistance along the outskirts of the town.

IGNORANT RUSSIANS AROUSED BY THEFT OF SACRED PICTURE

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 27.—The theft of the famous picture of the Virgin Mary at Kazan, in Russia, is a most disastrous occurrence for the Russian government at this critical time. The holy picture, which has been the principal religious treasure of the Russian people for centuries past and innumerable accounts of the wonders which it has worked are in circulation. The picture was always kept in a convent chapel of the Greek Catholic church at Bogoroditski, which is situated in the center of the city of Kazan, a place of 130,000 inhabitants. It lay on the altar of the chapel and was always under supervision because divine service is celebrated in this chapel all day and all night continuously. There has been no interruption of this service for over half a century.

The chapel is right in the heart of immense complex buildings which form the convent and which are surrounded by a high wall. Day and night the center is strictly guarded, so that it is a mystery how the robbers were able to penetrate to the chapel and secure their booty. The apparent impossibility of stealing the holy picture by natural means increases the danger of the situation, for the superstitious population believe that demons were allowed to carry off the picture because the Russian nation has incurred the displeasure of the Almighty. There is not a child in Russia who has not been taught to revere the holy picture of Kazan. The roads leading to Kazan are always overcrowded with pilgrims to the convent of Bogoroditski and the streets of the town itself are often full of men, women and children crawling along on hands and knees to pray before the holy picture. Once a year it is brought out of the convent and carried through the streets of Kazan under the escort of an imposing array of archbishops, bishops and high clerics from all parts of Russia who invoke its blessings on the whole Russian empire. The belief that the disappearance of the picture is a sign of divine displeasure with the government might easily provoke a revolution which even the mighty military forces of the Russian empire could not quell. The picture was surrounded by diamonds and other precious stones of immense value, presented to the picture by successive czars, grand dukes, noblemen and other wealthy Russians.

KOREA IS TO TAKE JAPANESE ADVICE IN HER AFFAIRS

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—It is unofficially stated, according to a Times dispatch from Tokyo, that the Korean government has agreed to engage the Japanese nominees for advisors to the department of finance and foreign affairs, and to follow their advice in every respect. Already Korea has Japanese advisers at the court and in the military department. Japan will, it is understood, lend about $1,500,000 as a first installment in order to place the finances of the country on a sound footing and to correct the abuses of the nickel currency. The Korean military establishment of 20,000 will be reduced to 1,000, its sole duty being to garrison Seoul. Changes also will be made in the Korean diplomatic service abroad.

EMPEROR WIRES HIS GOOD WISHES TO THE ARMY IN THE FIELD

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 27.—On August 24 the emperor telegraphed to General Kuropatkin as follows: "During the christening of the czarévich, the czaritzza and myself requested the army and navy in our hearts to stand sponsor for his imperial highness. May God preserve during the czarévich's whole life the moral bonds between him and all ranks of the army and navy, from commanders to soldiers and sailors, who are dear to me and Russia and who have proved love for a fatherland and sovereign by self-sacrifices and exploits while suffering privations and encountering extreme dangers."

ON THE DESERT HE IS ROBBED OF HIS ALL

American Engineer Loses Everything While Making a Trip Across the Desert of Sahara

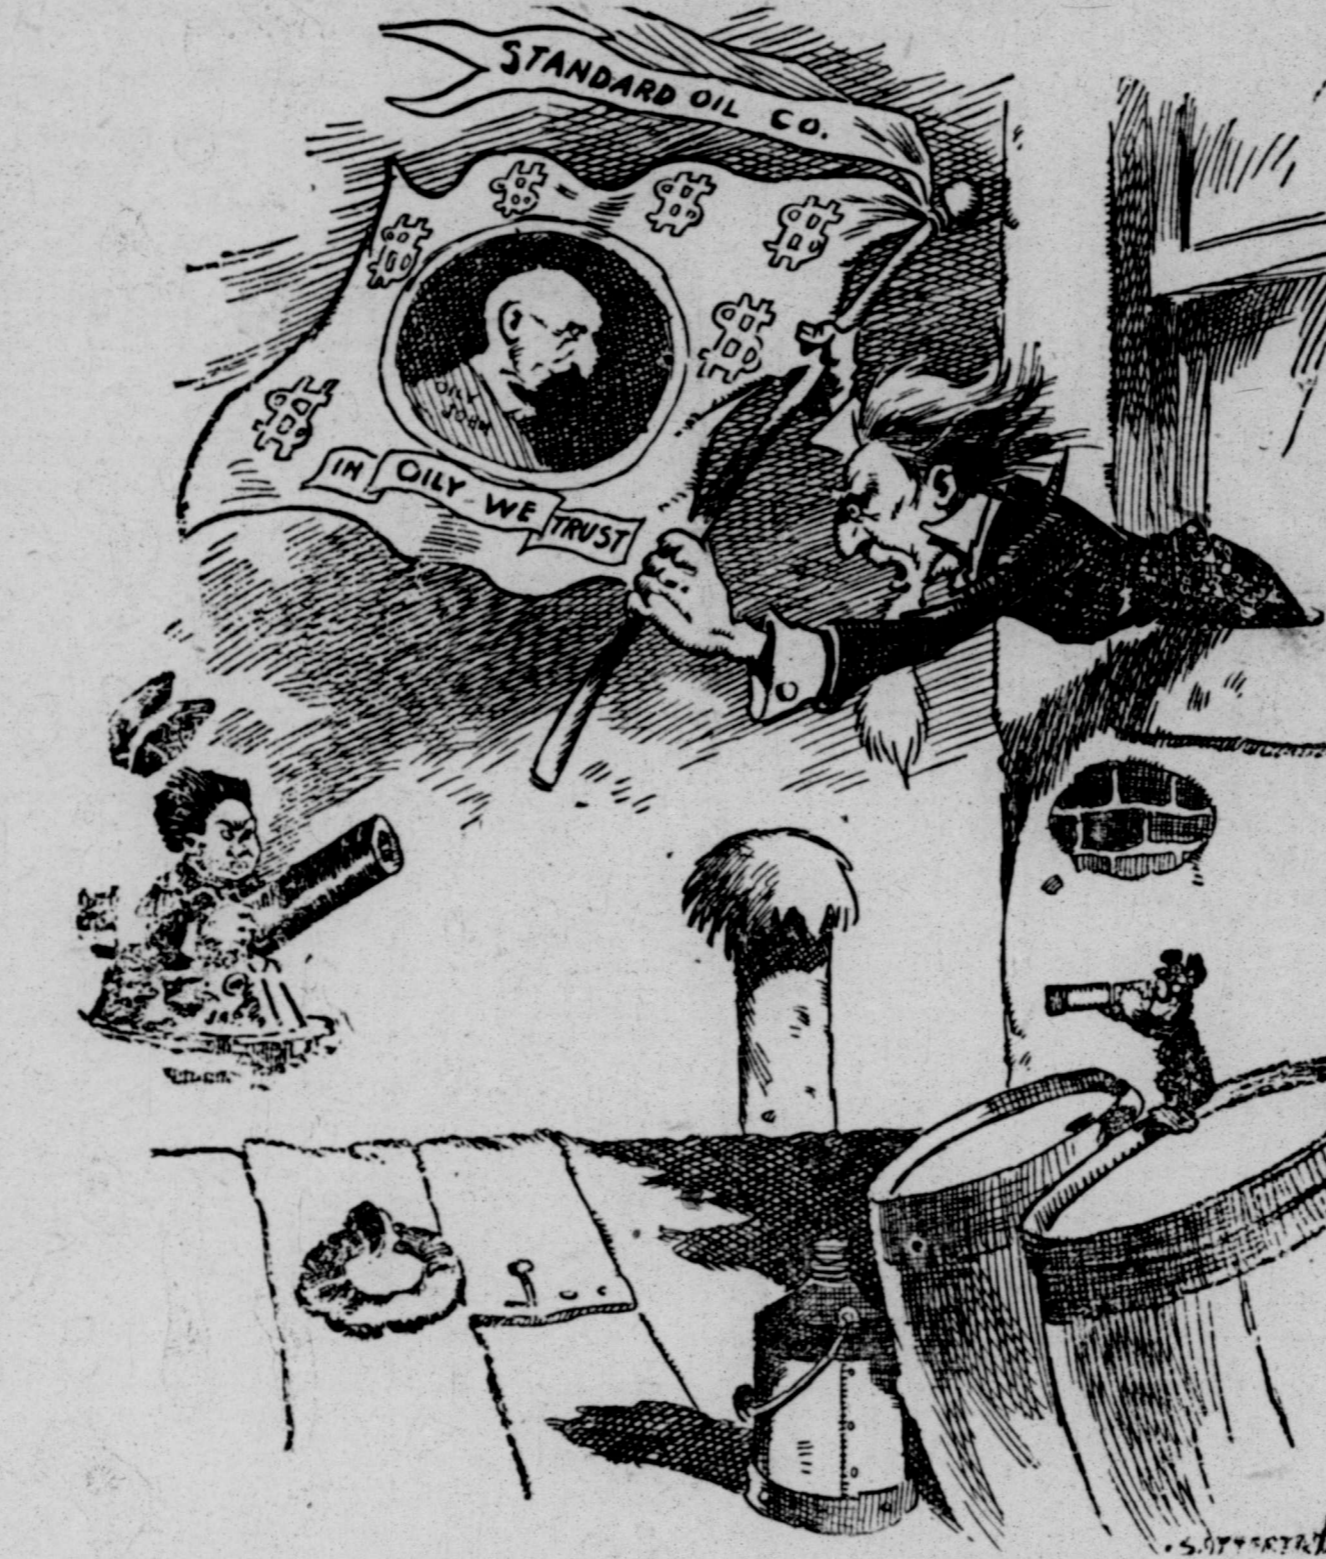

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Jason Paige, a graduate of the University of Chicago, has arrived here by steamer from Naples with a story of robbery on the desert of Sahara which caused him to make one of the shortest customs declarations on record, for the reason that little was left of his possessions to be declared dutiable. Paige went to Africa in connection with the survey work of the Cape to Cairo Railroad. In addition to his work he made a collection of curios from the various native tribes. He also got hold of a wild animal skins, the whole forming a valuable collection. He says he also made many maps and drawings for the benefit of science. Several months ago he took leave of his companions, and, according to several negroes, began the journey through Egypt and the northern part of Sahara into Tripoli. It was while traversing the desert that he was robbed of his valuable collection on all his wardrobe, except the suit he wore. After great search, Paige says, he managed to reach the Mediterranean coast, where he was picked up by a vessel and carried to Naples. There he was aided by friends and procured passage home.

WOMAN AND CHILD DIE IN BIG FIRE

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Fire which drove hundreds of persons in a panic from the tenement row in Graham avenue, Brooklyn, early today, resulted in the injury to a woman and child serious enough to save their lives by jumping from the second story. The woman was Mrs. Annie Stahl and the child, 8 years old, is unknown. Both were moved unconscious to the hospital. The firemen and policemen made many dangerous rescues, removing scores of men, women and children by means of ladders, after the lower portion of the building was a mass of fire. The financial loss is not heavy.

TO DESTROY THE NEW OIL WELL IS HIS MOTHER IN LAW PALACE WHERE KING DIED BROUGHT IN AT SOUTH BOSQUE BURNS TO DEATH IN HER BED

Place of Ghastly Memories in Belgrade Is to Be Razed Because of the Discomforts of It

BELGRADE, Aug. 26.—The palace of ghastly memories is to be demolished. The regicides' attempts to employ it, first as a bureau for the marshal of the court, and then as the chancery of orders and decorations, have proved failures. It was pronounced "uncomfortable" by the functionaries who had to cross its threshold daily, and finally the nervousness of Princess Helena, King Peter's only daughter, has decided the authorities to raze it to the ground. It has been intimated to Queen Natalie that the furniture which she has inherited from her unfortunate father must be removed within one month. Meantime, the palace stands, a splendid, princely edifice that few care to enter, that none will consent to inhabit. After the catastrophe some fine feeling and tactful patriots had proposed that it should be reserved for the royal guests who were supposed to come crowding rapidly in to visit the new monarch! Others suggested converting it into a national museum, since King Peter himself absolutely declined to make it his residence. The passers-by throw furtive glances at the shuttered windows, recalling the gruesome scenes enacted within its walls. A conspirator with jingling spurs and clanking sabre may sometimes be seen sauntering past in affected indifference; but others there are, with gaunt cheeks and hollow eyes, who pass with averted faces, seeking to forget.

This is a superstitious country, and wondrous are the tales that are told in connection with the "palace accursed." A couple of spectators holding in their hands crowns that drip with blood are said to float nightly round the palace gardens. The soldiers on guard assert that a cold breeze rushes past them at a certain hour, and a group of belated peasants swear they had seen a rider, followed by mounted attendants, issue noiselessly from the court yard to disappear within the Church of St. to disappear within the Church of St. "It was our poor young lord," they explained; "himself for sure, and his faithful ones. They cannot rest because they are unavenged."

The sight of the edifice, past which he must drive every time he goes out for an airing, is the roseleaf that ruffles King Peter's couch. He is familiar with the outside of the building, but he has never crossed its threshold. During 40 years he had patiently watched and waited for a struggle by his father. During these years, he had concentrated all his hopes of bliss on the advent of that day that should witness his triumphant return to his capital. Now he has reached the summit of his desire. He commands the troops trained and organized by King Milan, his worst foe; his children drive about in the state carriages that are legally the property of Queen Natalie; he is the ruler of 2,000,000 subjects—but he suffers from sleeplessness. It is hoped that with the disappearance of the lugubrious building his former health may be restored.

Another Producer Is the Result in the Field Just West of City of Waco, and Prospects Are Good

WACO, Tex., Aug. 27.—An oil well which will produce several barrels of oil daily was yesterday afternoon brought in at South Bosque, and as previously noted this oil is of an exceptionally fine quality, superior, so oil men say, to anything yet found in Texas. This makes the situation interesting, as this is the second producing well encountered, while the first well had to be abandoned on account of water coming in. The well is only a short distance from the sulphur flow which was struck about three months ago and is only 240 feet deep. Arrangements for pumping it are being made and the rig will be moved a short distance away and start on another well. It only required a few days to dig this well. The find of yesterday is some three or four hundred yards from the producer previously found, across the Bosque, and widens the field to that extent. Promoters are delighted and will push investigations with renewed activity. There are now eight rigs at work, and further strikes are expected at any time. Judge Brooks of Houston, the Mary Ellen Oil company of Reaumont, the South Bosque Oil company, J. T. Stone, W. H. Jones and others are investigating. One well is being sunk five miles from South Bosque and near the Waco Boating and Fishing club, northwest, where oil had been previously found.

WATCHED BURGLAR ROB HIM.

WACO, Tex., Aug. 27.—Thinking that his room-mate was moving about cautiously to avoid awakening him, Dr. Lastor, who is connected with the Waters-Pierce Oil company here, lay still last night and allowed a burglar to get his watch and some other things. Mr. Lastor saw the burglar plainly, but thought his room-mate was getting ready to retire and was showing care not to make a noise through thoughtfulness for him. Next morning he found out his mistake, but has not yet found his watch.

She Was Fond of Smoking a Pipe and Falls Asleep While Enjoying the Luxury of the Soothing Weed

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Mrs. Hannah Classy, 87 years old, was burned to death in her bed at her son-in-law's home in Harlem as a result of her fondness for smoking a pipe. Many efforts had been made by the family to break the old lady's craving for tobacco, but while her daughter and the latter's young child were asleep and the son-in-law was absent, she lay down on her bed to enjoy a smoke. The son-in-law returned shortly and found the apartment in flames. With great difficulty he rescued his wife and baby. After the firemen had extinguished the blaze they found Mrs. Classy's body burned to a crisp. Apparently she had fallen asleep and let her pipe drop upon the bed.

HE CONGRATULATES THE NEW PRESIDENT

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—President Reyes has granted a special audience to Alban G. Snyder, American charge d'affaires, who congratulated him in the name of the United States on his assumption of the highest office in the Columbian government, says a Herald dispatch from Bogota. Special credit is given the American charge, the correspondent adds, for his diplomacy in effecting a change from the former strained relations to the present cordial feeling by Colombians for the United States. Miguel Antonio Carols has been chosen president of the Colombian senate and Davilo Florez president of the house of deputies. Guillermo Torres has been appointed secretary of the treasury and General Lucas Caballero, a prominent liberal, minister of finance.

TEA IMPORTATIONS WILL BE MUCH LESS

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Tea importers here say importations into America this year will probably be three or four million pounds less than the preceding six months. The exporters say this falling off is only indirectly due to the war between Japan and Russia, as it has had no appreciable effect on the trade beyond an increased rate of marine insurance. The cause is found in the fact that during two or three months there was a wave of speculative buying on the part of jobbers and retailers alike when the war began all over the country. This resulted in an advance of 10 to 15 per cent, but the trade having filled up in anticipation of future wants the demand disappeared for a time, causing great dullness, which has only just begun to disappear.

TO CELEBRATE THE FOUNDING OF COLLEGE

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Preparations are being made at Columbia University to celebrate the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the founding of Kings College. What there will be no attempt to make an inter-university affair of the celebration, the faculty and students expect to entertain 20,000 persons October 28 to 31, when the regular term begins. All the participants in the exercises will be the university alumni, of whom there are 14,000 living. There will be a great public reception on the afternoon of October 28, when all the college buildings will be open for inspection. For the next day a football game between Yale and Columbia has been arranged. On October 31 the corner stones of four new buildings will be laid—the university chapel, the school of mines building, Hartley hall and a second university dormitory. The university convocation takes place on the same afternoon.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST USE OF PROFANITY

BERWICK, Pa., Aug. 27.—A campaign against the use of profanity in the streets here has been inaugurated by the Young Women's Christian Association. Copies of an ordinance recently enacted by the town council have been posted conspicuously about town. It forbids the use of profanity on penalty of $100 fine or three months' imprisonment. Members of the association propose to secure the strict enforcement of the law and have called on all good citizens to help them.

LAMPASAS IS ABOUT TO LOSE THE CAMPERS

Council Passes an Ordinance Which Interferes With the Privileges of the Y. M. C. A. Bathery

TEMPLE, Tex., Aug. 27.—The summer school of the state Y. M. C. A., which has but recently closed at Lampasas, developed a state of feeling between a certain portion of the citizenship and the patrons of the institution that bids fair to cause the summer school to find more congenial quarters next year.

For several years there has been a bitter feeling existing between the advocates of prohibition and its opponents in the town of Lampasas and is as usual in such cases political differences fomented personal enmities and arrayed the town into two hostile camps, both intent on inflicting damage on the other. About the time of the last prohibition election a local Y. M. C. A. was organized in the town and many of the anti-law observance, however, posted sentinels to watch the approach of the legal authorities and in the meantime indulged their propensities for bathing regardless of the iron-clad ordinance. Upon the signal being given that danger was near, they would flee from the river to the camps and when the minion of the law appeared upon the scene, everything would be as quiet as a summer day. This was a law that did not please the fancy of the campers and it will be observed that they availed themselves of the privilege of disregarding and evading it. However, the affair is likely to lose the summer school for Lampasas next year, as the attendants consider the passage of the ordinance as persecution.

PLANS FOR THE NEW THEATER BUILDING

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Plans and specifications for the majestic theaters and office building at 71 to 75 Monroe street have been submitted to the city building department for approval. The plans provide for a twenty-story office building, with a frontage of eighty-two feet, a depth of sixty and a height of 260 feet, with an apex reaching a height of 274 feet. The theater building will be on the rear portion of the property, 132x83 feet in dimensions. It will be the first playhouse constructed under the provisions of the new theater ordinance. The seating capacity will be 2,025. Foundations for the building are now in course of construction. They will consist of seventeen caissons, eight to ten feet in diameter, sunk to the rock, a distance of 105 feet from the surface. The building is to be completed in one year and will cost $1,000,000. The theater has been leased for twenty years to a firm, which will conduct vaudeville entertainments in the house.

Those desirous of seeing a hard-fought game should not fail to attend Sunday afternoon.

IS NOT SETTLED

President Donnelly Says There Is No Progress to Be Made by Making Propositions to the Packers

THE BOARD IS TO MEET

The Executive Committee Has Been Called and Until Session Has Been Held the President Says There Will Be Nothing to Give Out

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—President Michael Donnelly of the striking butchers said today it will probably be of no avail to make a proposition of any sort to the packers. "If we make a proposition," said he, "it will undoubtedly meet with the same answer as that which was made to the aldermanic commission yesterday—the strike is already settled." There is to be a general meeting tomorrow, at which the matter will be taken up, and until then it will be unable to say what will be done. Members of the National executive board of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen began to arrive today, preparatory to holding a meeting, which is called by President Donnelly and which is generally believed will result in some step looking toward a termination of the strike. Stephen Vail of South Omaha was the first to arrive. No important step of any kind will be taken until formal action is taken by the board, said president Donnelly.

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Following the receipt of the news of the death of Mrs. J. H. McVicker, wife of the famous theatrical manager, and mother of Mrs. Edwin Booth and owner of a property which is valued at from $350,000 to $500,000, Horace McVicker, her stepson, started an investigation which may lead to serious charges being brought at Pasadena, Cal., where Mrs. McVicker died. Horace McVicker, who is business manager for Ethel Barrymore, is sole survivor of the family. He said "I am firmly of the opinion my mother was under a hypnotic influence. I will not venture to state now who created the spell over her or who is responsible for her death, but a thorough investigation will be made. I telegraphed H. C. Wyatt at Los Angeles to look into the matter." W. L. Condee, attorney of the estate, admitted there is room for suspicion and an investigation will follow.

This service was followed by a band concert after which Judge T. J. Priddy of the supreme court introduced United States Senator Charles A. Culberson. After paying a beautiful worded and thrillingly expressed tribute to the Texas pioneers, whose illustrious deeds have contributed the grandeur of the nation's history, Senator Culberson went into an able and enthusiastic discussion of matters political.

In the course of his remarks he referred to the present chief executive as "the arbiter of the eastern hemisphere" and the most tyrannical ruler the American people have ever known. In touching upon the race question the speaker referred to the disgusting spectacle of a white boy and negro who had presented before the republican convention at Chicago.

NORTH FORT WORTH, Aug. 27.—Receipts of cattle were about normal for Saturday. Trains were late getting in, but by noon total receipts were estimated to figure close around 600 head.

The light supply of steers was made up mostly of grassers with one bunch of fairly well finished drive-ins.

There was a good demand from packers and trading ruled active and steady until the supply was sold, mostly going at a range of from $1.50 to $1.80.

ANTIC CITY, N. J., FOR VIOLATIONS OF THE MAYOR'S

SIXTH DAY OF THE SECOND ANNUAL CONFEDERATE CAMP

(Maurice E. Hambley.) CONFEDERATE CAMP, Tarrant County, Aug. 27.—The evacuation of the Confederate camp is taking place today.

Men and women have met who did not know of the maternal existence of each other. Veterans of Indian campaigns and the civil war have come together again and exchanged reminiscences.

Everyday groups of the grizzled veterans could be seen laughing heartily as someone of their number would tell of some incident of the past, which at the time of its occurrence, far from it.

Old Captain Lyle is jumping about shaking hands with old comrades and between times trying to keep the gasolin engine running to fill the drinking trough so the teams can have a last drink of water before the caravan moves on.

Many of those who had been invited to address the meetings were unable to do so. To Colonel Duke Goodman and Congressman O. W. Gillespie, the success of the encampment in the oratory line is due.

Much credit must be given to the ladies of the Julia Jackson chapter for their efforts during the week. They have kept open house at the cottage and

I will send free, with full instructions, some of this simple preparation. Displacements, Falling of the Womb, Scanty or Painful Periods, Tumors or Growths, Hot Flashes, Desire to Cry, Creeping feeling up the Spine, Pain in the Back and all Female Troubles, to be sent at once.

Next year plans are already being formulated to return. Where one or two come next year. Already many are looking forward in pleasant anticipation of the third annual encampment and re-creatively looking back over the week now closed.

This afternoon some of the campers are hauling away their outfits. The man with the five-legged pig has started down the road with it tied to a string, headed for Azle. He is taking no chances on another race. The "water" respect for the men who wore the "gray" in those times when a man who donned the uniform and shouldered the musket must need have a heart of steel and a soul of courage.

Next year plans are already being formulated to return. Where one or two come next year. Already many are looking forward in pleasant anticipation of the third annual encampment and re-creatively looking back over the week now closed.

made all welcome. A pleasant word and an ever welcome chair was awaiting all. Their daily receptions was one of the most interesting features of the week.

The ladies made a neat sum of money from the use and from the sale of lemonade and are preparing on the strength of this to come back next year better prepared to entertain. The cottage is to be better arranged and made their headquarters for any and all times during the year, so when a party wished to drive to the grounds for a day they can do so.

The Confederate park reunion was a money-making scheme and nothing was made out of it by the association. They simply threw open the grounds for a week to the public and have probably gone into debt on the venture, but they wanted all to be their guests and have a good time.

Back to its natural state will the park grounds soon return and the birds in the trees for fifty-one weeks will be undisturbed. The ants will no longer live on pies, cakes and sweets of the campers.

As a reason after wagon goes out of the gate to leave the grounds, some of the typical prairie schooner, others ordinary farm wagons, a "whoa" is heard and the team is brought to a halt as one party headed one way says goodbye to one going in the opposite direction. Then they are off with a parting remark, "Be sure and be back next year."

COTTON WAREHOUSE PLAN

A few years ago the Farmers' Alliance, when in the heyday of its power and glory in this state, in connection with its populist political adjunct, evolved the scheme of establishing warehouses throughout the country for the purpose of storing the cotton crop in order that it might be kept out of the hands of speculators. It was a part of the plan that the federal government should establish these warehouses and loan money to the cotton producer on his warehouse receipts. The scheme attracted considerable attention at the time on account of the persistent manner in which it was agitated, but like other undertakings of these people, it fell through without anything having been accomplished. Recently there was evolved at Waco, Texas, another cotton warehouse scheme, but on a very different plan. This scheme seems to have the backing and endorsement of Colonel S. F. B. Morse, formerly of Houston, who was a member of the big cotton firm of D. J. Sully & Company, which collapsed during the last cotton season. Colonel Morse has organized in New York what he terms the Southern Cotton Corporation, and is now engaged in sending out broadcast the following summary or prospectus of his company:

"With scarcely ten per cent change in any recent years in the production of cotton, prices have advanced more than two hundred per cent. In 1895 with a crop of 11,270,000 bales the average New York price was six cents, though in many places in the south cotton sold as low as 4 and 5 cents per pound. During the present season with a crop of a little more than 10,000,000 bales, or a difference of only about ten per cent, cotton has sold as high as from 17 to 18 cents, and may average for the year 12 cents. These changes in price, moreover, are more rapid than in any other product. Between the time a farmer starts from his home to sell his cotton in his nearest market and the time he gets there, prices may change 25 to 50 per cent. Under such conditions the planting interests can never be on a thoroughly sound basis, nor can manufacturing expand as it would under more favorable conditions. But with prices fairly steady from year to year, the world's trade would rapidly expand and increased production of cotton would find an ever increasing market, whereas now the production of only a few hundred thousand bales in excess of the actual needs of the year, makes possible the breaking down of the price of the entire crop. In other words, a surplus of 50,000 or 100,000 bales, or five to ten per cent excess over immediate wants may be made under present conditions to cause a decline of $100,000,000 to $300,000,000 in the price received by the farmers for their crop. If nature favors the south with good weather and other propitious conditions, by doing so she makes 100,000 bales of cotton that is temporarily needed, she may, instead of having added $50,000,000 to the wealth of the south, have lessened it by several times that amount. To overcome these deplorable conditions, it would be necessary for the planters to store that surplus, thus taking it off the market until the inevitable return of a short crop year would restore fair prices. By doing this the planters could avoid any heavy decline in prices impossible, and would save millions, possibly a hundred millions or more to themselves and at the same time benefit the whole cotton industry of the world. In 1851 a cotton planter convention held at Tallahassee, Fla., reviewing the wide fluctuations in the prices of cotton, pointed out that such conditions were alike unprofitable to the grower and to the manufacturer. To overcome these fluctuations, which are not known to so great an extent in any other important staple, that convention suggested that the only possible remedy would be found in the establishment of a broad warehouse system in which the surplus from years of large production could be carried over to years of short crops. The importance of such a system is now universally recognized. Such a plan is but the adaptation to the cotton trade of somewhat broader lines, of the elevator system, without which it would now be impossible to handle the grain trade of the world.

"Only a few weeks ago the Texas Farmers' Congress passed a resolution saying that the development of such a system would save at least $10 a bale, or $100,000,000 a year, to southern cotton growers. One of the main purposes of the Southern Cotton Corporation is to establish throughout the south a system of cotton warehouses. Under this system, when a farmer brings his cotton to the market and finds prices below what he believes to be a fair value, he will be able to put it in a warehouse and receive for it a negotiable receipt. With this receipt his cotton protected against the weather and against loss by fire, he can go to any bank and borrow money to meet his needs. "The cotton mills of this country and Europe can utilize the system to equal advantage. They can warehouse cotton and carry it in the same manner and ship it to their mills from day to day or month to month as needed. In this way the congestion of traffic on railroads will be avoided, as cotton will be shipped out during twelve months instead of the bulk of it going forward in three months as now. Thus the vast financial operations of handling cotton will be carried on in the south to the great profit of all southern business interests, instead of in Europe and New England as at present. We believe that no greater enterprise for the enrichment of an entire nation, without injuring any interest, was ever projected than this warehouse plan. The far-seeing men of the old south demonstrated their wonderful business acumen in many ways, but in forecasting this system. The cotton planters convention even suggested that such a warehouse company should have a capital of $20,000,000 with the right to increase it as needed. In order to maintain stability in prices, all that is required is that it shall be known throughout the world that the cotton surplus in years of large production will be carried over until demanded by the world's consumption. The capitalization of this company will make it possible to have the entire surplus production of any year carried indefinitely.

While the plans of this company may seem chimerical to some, there is no doubt that such a scheme could be worked if undertaken and handled in the proper manner. If the grain crop of the world can be handled through the elevator system, there is no reason why the cotton crop cannot be handled through the warehouse system. The action of the speculators every season renders some such action on the part of the producer imperative.

A REBELLIOUS JUDGE

The unusual spectacle of a judge serving public notice that he will disregard the law he is sworn to enforce is afforded in a recent announcement of Judge John I. Mullen of Denver. Judge Mullen flatly says that under no circumstances will he sentence a man convicted of murder to the gallows. He admits he has no right to disregard his sworn duty in this respect, but goes on to say:

"Should I be unfortunate enough to be caught in the dilemma of having the jury fix the death penalty, my conscience would compel me to disregard the law."

Here is a man who sought office knowing its requirements, who accepted its responsibilities, who took a solemn oath that he would carry into full effect the statutes of the state of Colorado. Those statutes require that he enforce sentence in accordance with the verdict of the juries of his court. He pleads, "My conscience." But does not the Honorable John I. Mullen know that many a culprit has justified his crime by his conscience? When men are privileged to plead "a higher law" than that prescribed by the code of Colorado the courts of Colorado will become a farce.

Does not the Honorable John I. Mullen see that he is setting himself above the law and in open rebellion against it? Does he not see that he is assuming legislative functions and making a law to suit himself? His personal aversion toward having any share in the taking of a human life may be creditable to his humane feelings, but it disqualifies him as a judge. Judge Mullen it unfit. He should resign.

SHE LED A GAY LIFE

There is a sermon in the career of Mrs. Cordelia Bodkin of San Francisco, recently convicted for a second time of the murder of Mrs. John P. Dunning.

August 8, Mrs. Bodkin mailed a box of poisoned candy to Mrs. Dunning at Dover, Del. In this box of death every piece contained sufficient arsenic to kill a company of soldiers. It caused the death of Mrs. Dunning and a friend of her who ate some of the candy. The evidence against the woman was ironclad and the judge who presided at the second trial rebuked the jury for sending her to the penitentiary for life, declaring the prisoner should be hung.

In her evidence before the court the woman made some fatal admissions, among them, these:

"I admit I have led a gay life. I have lived for the pleasures of the world, getting none—absolutely none—of its pleasures pass me by. I would stop at nothing to gratify my desires—no, not even stopping at the divorce court, if necessary. But, to murder to secure my ends—never."

There's moral strabismus for you. She did not realize that a woman who will let none—absolutely none—of the pleasures of life pass by her is regarded as a dangerous woman.

In this case the woman thought herself to be in love with the husband of the woman she poisoned. Having disregarded all restraint in her pursuit of pleasure did she think a jury would believe she would stop at murder. A woman's life should be between her and what she regarded as her supreme pleasure. Would this sort of woman hesitate? Having let down the bars into forbidden fields it is easy to pass through. The woman's story is the old story of unhallowed desire. When Mrs. Bodkin entered on her campaign for selfish pleasure she would have shuddered doubtless at the prospect of a tragic outcome. Ere she was aware the temptation proved too strong for a nature that surrendered at every point.

"I admit I have lived a gay life." Still stands the angel with the flaming sword at Eden's gate. Pass him and there is no way back to paradise.

MIMIC WAR

Another one of those opera bouffe revolutions that take place semi-occasionally in Central and South America adds to the gaiety of nations. These revolutions afford constant diversionment to the populace who are the spectators. They occur on slight provocation and proceed without great effusion of blood.

Usually the president of the country fails to retire when his time is out and the revolution is gotten up to get him to resign.

The recent revolution in Paraguay, however, is different. The president's term of office does not expire for some time. But the "outs" are tired of waiting and have gotten up a demonstration to oust him. It goes without saying that a South American president seldom dies and never resigns save under compulsion.

The Paraguay "outs" tried to bombard the president out of office. Failing in this they proposed a compromise. And this is the offer they made:

They wanted control of half the members of congress, three ministerial portfolios and the chief of police. In other words they wanted the earth and a patch outside for potatoes.

Strangely enough, too, the president conceded to them two cabinet officers. The revolutionary party treated the offer with disdain and started in bombarding again.

It must not be supposed, however, that real war is going on in Paraguay. The people go about their work as usual. The revolutionists are only a steamboat load with a few guns and the palace guards do not find them formidable.

There is more real bloodshed in Chicago during the meat strike than in the Paraguay revolution.

Greater New York is said to be sadly in need of 40,000 female domestics and it might be a good idea to offer a job to some of those million English, Scotch, Irish and Welsh women who are advertising so industriously for American husbands.

President Roosevelt in a recent letter read before the Grand Army men at Boston says the work in the Philippines will not be undone. For the sake of American manhood, it is to be hoped he is honestly mistaken.

The engagements between the Japanese and Russian fleets over in the far east are highly suggestive of some of our annual yacht races. And in every contest for speed so far Russia still holds the pennant.

Texas politicians are busy as beavers on the preliminary work of the next state campaign, when the indications are that some very mediocre material will be offered for all the state offices.

Port Arthur is now said to be a very hot place, and that serves to remind one of a certain remark that is alleged to have once been made by a celebrated union general as to what war really is.

Mayor Harrison found the Chicago end of the strike just about the largest thing he ever tackled, and seemed willing to turn loose with his usual alacrity and dispatch.

A Kansas man is to the front with the claim that he was the original Roosevelt man, but it is an honor that is not really worth any form of contention whatever.

Will the rapid advance that is being made in the price of wheat be ascribed to the beneficent influence of the Roosevelt policy?

CHANCE FOR REFORMERS

DENISON, TEXAS, Aug. 25.—Denison has a freak boy only 6 years of age, who chews more tobacco than any grown man. He has traveled all over the Indian Territory, Kansas, Missouri and Arkansas alone. He is never without a large quid of tobacco in his mouth. He don't swear and is otherwise a good boy.

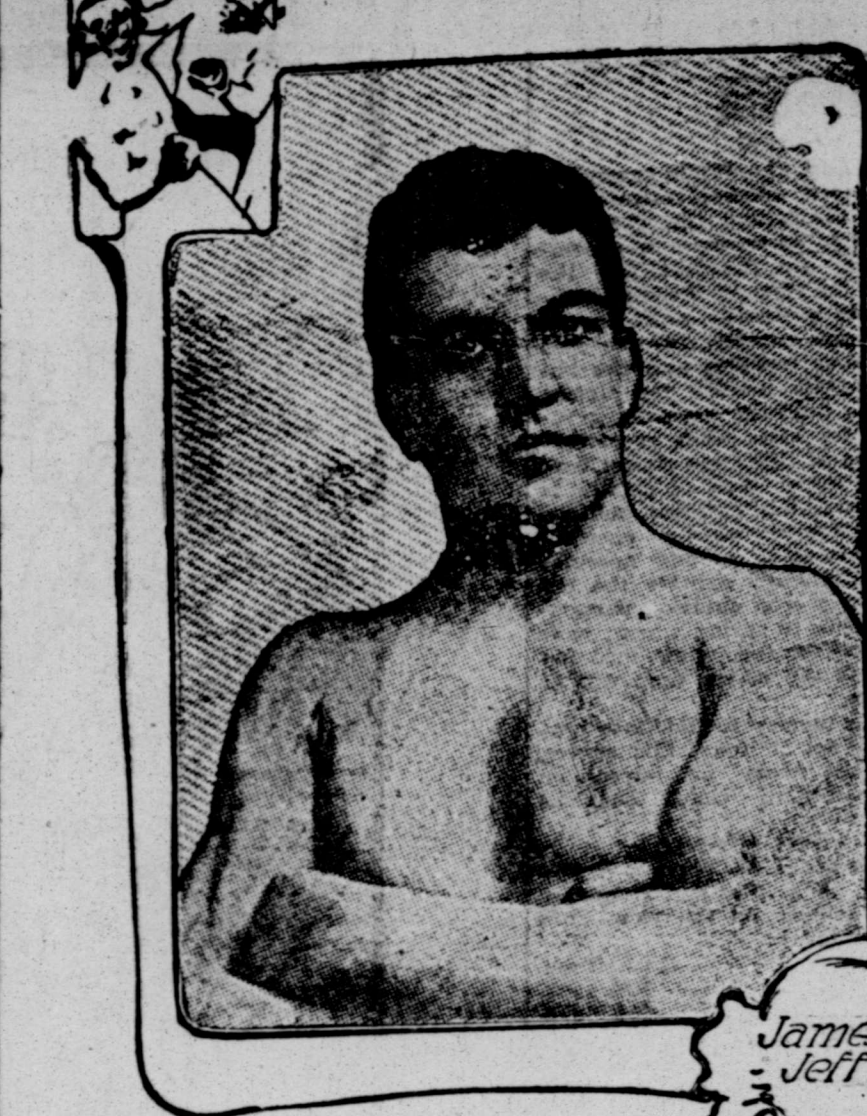

FIRE AT SAN ANTONIO

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Aug. 26.—A defective fuse caused the residence owned by Mrs. Dewes in Lakeview addition, to burn last night. The house was totally destroyed. Value, $2,500; insurance, $1,800.

SENTENCED TO DEATH

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 26.—It is reported that Samsonoff, the assassin of M. Von Plehve, has been sentenced to death, and the sentence is now before the emperor. Reports which have been circulated about Samsonoff having escaped and also that he is dead are declared to be false.

Prescription No. 2351 by Elmer A. Amend, will not cure all complaints, but it will cure rheumatism. E. P. SCHMIDT, Houston, Texas, Sole Agent.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—Jeffries won the fight over Munroe in two rounds.

The two giants had not been in the ring two minutes when it was foreseen that the aspirations of Munroe would be quickly disposed of. The miner was scared and awkward, and Jeffries in the first round had him twice on the canvass, taking the count.

Jeffries directed his bombardment against the stomach of his opponent, and each shot was followed by a blow on the jaw that sent Munroe to the floor.

Jeffries went back to his corner after the opening round with a sneer and a laugh on his swarthy face, while Munroe's seconds busied themselves with smelling salts and restoratives. When the two came together for the second round the laugh on the champion's visage changed to a look of determination that boded ill to the miner.

Forty-five seconds after the gong sounded Munroe was lying on the floor, a bloody, bruised mass of humanity, with Jeffries standing over him ready, if necessary, to put on the quietus to his opponent.

Munroe tottered to his corner with blood streaming from his face and fell in to his chair, dazed and helpless. His seconds immediately began working on him to freshen him, and when he came to a realization that the fight had gone against him he arose, and going over to Referee Graney, began to protest. The huge crowd understood, from his protesting gesticulations, etc., the purpose of his talk to Graney, and a mighty volume of jerrying and hissing evidenced the sentiment of the spectators, many of whom had placed money on the miner that he would stay at least double the number of rounds before the champion.

UNCLE SAM OPENS HIS LAST PRIZE PACKAGE

People Flock to the Northwest Hoping to Win Something in the Land Lottery of Government

DEVILS LAKE, N. D., Aug. 27.—Thousands continue to pour into Devils Lake, on the slender chance of winning a great prize in Uncle Sam's lottery. It is a good natured crowd and it is being well entertained.

The people here tell some very good stories of their country and climate. A Swede went back to his farm home in New York, was answering questions about the new country and was asked what the winters were like.

"Just about like dry bin here," he replied. "How about the summers?" "Well, I don't know. I just bin dere eleven months."

This is similar to another statement by a man who has lived here several years, who said that only two seasons in North Dakota, "July and winter."

The last twenty years has witnessed a great change in the west and northwest. Where once was a wilderness, now there are prosperous farms and busy thriving cities, with electric light, telephones and all the modern improvements. The "Great American desert" was a myth. There was no great American desert, it simply needed grit and push to make the so-called desert blossom as a rose.

Settlement has American pushed west to the very mountains, further still, the valleys have been settled and vast tracts of arid land are being reclaimed by irrigation every year. The north is settled clear to the Canadian line. More startling still, the movement of American farmers to the Canadian northwest has been simply enormous and, last year, over $1,000,000 was taken to Canada from the state of Iowa alone, and this boom to the extreme north and away from the flag of Uncle Sam. And the Canadian boom is due to newspaper advertising alone, while better land in a much richer climate in our own country has been neglected simply because it was not advertised.

In all the stories of advertising and the movement of American farmers to the Canadian northwest has been simply enormous and, last year, over $1,000,000 was taken to Canada from the state of Iowa alone, and this boom to the extreme north and away from the flag of Uncle Sam. And the Canadian boom is due to newspaper advertising alone, while better land in a much richer climate in our own country has been neglected simply because it was not advertised.

There could be no better instance cited to show the value of well placed, attractive advertising than the creation of the Canadian land boom. There is much better land all through the great southwest, Missouri and Kansas have better land, Oklahoma, though settled to the very western border, still has better chances for the homeseeker than Canada, but in Texas, particularly South Texas, there is more good undeveloped land awaiting the farmer than in all other states combined, and if the people of Texas wake up to the value of newspaper advertising, the present tide of immigration which is setting toward Texas will become a veritable flood.

Uncle Sam has opened about his last great reservation prize package, and when the large number of entries and the small number of prizes at the opening of the Rosebud and Devils Lake reservations are considered, it is found that they are about the thinnest prize packages ever piled open by the "great American sucker," which still loves to be humbugged as well as in the palmy days of Barnum.

OUTLOOK BRIGHT

Reports to the International Agency Reflect a Distinct Improvement in Business Conditions During the Week

THE SOUTH IS ACTIVE

Business Is Disturbed in Some Sections by Labor Conditions, But the Interruption Is Not Important and Is Not Liable to Extend to Others

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Reports to the International Mercantile Agency reflect a distinct improvement in business conditions during the week under review. At the west these gains have been specially noted, and are partly accounted for by increased orders from retailers, who were careful not to overstock with summer goods, and are consequently in an unusually strong position with reference to securing fall supplies. Good orders are being received from country merchants. While business is still disturbed in some sections by the non-uniform in expressing trade revivals, the tone is more confident than a week ago and generally suggestive of a hopeful outlook for the future.

This revival is particularly reported by the Chicago wholesalers. The best demand is noted in clothing, men and women's apparel, and shoes. Consumption of commodities and better orders for canned goods and groceries are further indications of trade revival in this district.

The south is also active and is likely to develop the heaviest fall trade reported in years. The St. Paul district, which has been the center of crop damage excitement, is showing up well with conservative business and normal trade outlook. In that section as in other territory whose prosperity is affected by the wheat yield, the people are prosperous and not in the least concerned about the "crop killing" scare. While business is still disturbed in some sections by the continuance of labor controversies, this interruption is not important and is not likely to extend to branches not already affected.

Although collections are a little backward in some sections, general returns this week are satisfactory, except in certain instances, where local conditions have developed unusual barriers. It is noticeable, however, that localities which a short time ago reported deferred settlements, are not complaining about present conditions and reflect a gradual improvement. The fact that present indebtedness represents discriminating purchases of goods that for the most part have been readily converted into cash show that conditions in general are propitious for quick settlements. The presidential election is still a modifying factor in some sections, where trade development has been held up pending a definite settlement of the issues involved. But it is becoming generally recognized that the present contest does not involve questions of far reaching importance to the business community, and that aside from the occasional interruptions due to the carrying on of a hot campaign the outlook for September and October is bright.

UNCONSCIOUS ON TRAIN
HILLSBORO, Texas, Aug. 23.—There was a pitiful sight at the Katy depot last evening, when Mrs. V. G. Warren of Winstboro was taken from the belted southbound passenger. In an unconscious condition. A physician was summoned. Her fever was up to 106. He worked with her sometime before she revived. She had a chill early in the day and when the train reached Hillsboro she was believed to be dying. She was on her way to Waco. Her husband and six small children, one a baby of three or four months, accompanied her. She revived sufficiently to be carried on last night.

Mothers! Retain Your Youthful Figures.
To be beautiful is to be loved by all. If there lives the woman who is indifferent to this she is yet to be heard of. Yet from time immemorial society has recognized what they thought to be a detriment in the way of such a realization. The bearing of children has meant to them the marring of physical beauty of figure, without which beauty of face would be of little account. Nothing could be more remote from truth than this; childbirth is purely a natural phenomenon, accompanied by pain, to be sure, but if properly managed no more harmful in its effects upon the human form than any other natural function.

MOTHER'S FRIEND
Is essential in the proper management of every case of labor; it relaxes and softens the abdominal muscles, thereby enabling them to sustain the stretching that they must undergo, and from this very fact it facilitates their return to normal proportions after childbirth, and it is obvious that pain must be greatly lessened from this very reason.

It is a liniment, it is harmless, it is potent, it is priceless in its results, it is Mother's Friend. $1.00 per bottle at drug stores. Our book of priceless value sent free to all women.

SCENES IN AND ABOUT THE UNION DEPOT

There was a funny little Englishman at the union station this morning. He felt very much alone for he was on his way to San Francisco, but had lost his ticket.

Peculiar in dress and actions he attracted the notice of the reporter, who attempted to get an interview. No interview was forthcoming, however, as the little Englishman was very haughty and declined to say anything except that he had lost his ticket.

"I wish no notoriety," he said proudly, as he brushed the sleeve of a faded Prince Albert coat. "I've lost my ticket, that's all."

Questioning did no good and the Telegram man went away pondering whether the man was a duke traveling incognito, a gentleman tramp or simply a fellow playing in hard luck.

TWO INSANE WOMEN There were two insane women at the Texas and Pacific station en route to Terrell and a terrible sight it was to see them, sound in body but totally wrecked mentally. Shrieks and laughter were plentiful and it made one's flesh crawl to hear the unearthly sounds.

MEN BOTHER HER Good natured Jennie, matron at the union station, is again complaining of the boldness of some white men. Yesterday Jennie had a little trouble in getting a man from the women's private room.

She was forced to seek the aid of an officer, hence her complaint. It seems that a white fellow entered the women's private waiting room and because he was with his wife refused to vacate when the matron informed him that it was against the rules.

He insisted on staying and Jennie becoming very indignant called a policeman and had the man put out. Jennie told The Telegram about it this morning. "Write 'em up, write 'em up," said she. "An' I tell you, if them white men doan keep out, I'm goin' to hurt somebody."

FOUR TIMES AS THE FINISH OF THE HOUSE

Department Is Called Out for the Same Structure Four Times During the Week—It Is Destroyed

The fire department heaved a sigh of relief this morning for the old Fred Smith boarding house at the corner of Sixteenth and Terry streets, after having caught on fire four times this week, is at last burned to the ground.

At 3:50 a. m. last Wednesday morning the fire department was called out and found an old boarding house near the Katy yards on fire. The blaze was extinguished and the department returned.

But all was not over, as at 10 o'clock that same morning the partly burned structure was again found burning. Company No. 6 responding to a telephone call and extinguishing the blaze. All this occurred last Wednesday and the fire boys had begun to think that they had done enough to the rattle trap old structure to last a few days at any rate.

Such was not the case, however, as shortly after 3 o'clock this morning the boys at the central station, came down the pole in response to an alarm. Many were the mutterings when they discovered that it was the same old boarding house near the Katy yards.

With a determination to "put her out once more for good" the department went to the blaze. Only the corner of the structure was found burning and it was extinguished with little difficulty. Tired and sleepy the fellows returned to the station house hoping to snatch a little sleep before day-break.

Again, however, the god of conflagration waved his wand and once more, shortly before 6 this morning, the department hurried to the self-same, thrice burned tumble down boarding house near the Katy yards.

It is all over though, now, for this last time the old building burned to the ground and the god is satisfied. Chief J. H. Maddox stated this morning that it was his opinion that the structure was purposely set afire. It looked as if some one was determined to destroy the old building. The chief said this morning "Of course we can't prove anything but when we responded to the first alarm at 3 o'clock this morning it looked very much as if some one had built a bon fire under the corner of the house."

JURY WILL SEE LAND FEATURES

Relief Map Prepared Showing Natural Conditions for Use in Damage Suit

Assistant City Engineer Dickson this morning completed one of the most interesting pieces of work ever done in the city office. The work is a relief map of a large section of the country on the line between Lamar and Delta counties, showing the bed of North Sulphur creek, the adjoining farms and the line of the Santa Fe Railroad.

The map is being prepared by the railroad for presentation to the jury in a case pending against it seeking damages for overflow of the stream, alleged by the plaintiff to have been caused by the construction of the road and maintained by the railroad to be from natural causes. The relief map or plaster paris cast is about three by six feet and contains in full the natural features of the land full markings showing the lines between the various properties. The map will be turned over to the railroad officials the beginning of the week and is expected by them to convey to the jury most accurately than a technical map the exact conditions.

CREEKS SCHOOLS ARE TO OPEN

An Appropriation by Congress Will Give Better Facilities for Education in Territories

MUSKOGEE, I. T., Aug. 27.—All the Creek boarding schools will open on Thursday, September 1, and the neighborhood schools on the following Monday, September 5.

The appropriation by congress for enlarging the tribal schools and providing for the admission to them of the children of United States citizens will open these schools to thousands of children who have thus far been debarred from free schools.

The Creek superintendent and the supervisor, under the direction of Superintendent Benedict, have made every effort to apportion the small amount available for the Creek nation in such a way as to reach the greatest number of children. Only a small proportion of those who have applied for free schools will have their requests granted because so many want schools.

White and Indian children will be expected to attend school together, and citizen and non-citizen colored children together. As heretofore, Creek children will be furnished necessary books from tribal funds, but non-citizens will be requested to furnish their own books.

In every school district it is required that a suitable house be provided and necessary furniture and fuel furnished.

In cases where a required average is not maintained, the school will probably be removed to another neighborhood. Non-citizens will not be admitted as boarders in any of the Creek boarding schools.

Counting the seven boarding schools for Indian and whites and three boarding and thirty-two neighborhood schools for colored children, the total number of Creek national schools will be 106.

FUTURITY DRAWS A BIG CROWD TO SHEEPSHEAD

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—With a money value of about $60,000 and the list of entries promising fast time and a close race for the purity on the opening day of the autumn meeting attracted one of the greatest crowds in the history of Sheepshead Bay track. The run for the eighteenth time of the race today will probably equal, if it does not surpass in interest any remarkable contests that have been made for this famous stake. Three entries, Sissonby, Tanya and Tradition, have never been beaten and the field as a whole is believed to be very well balanced. Altogether the entries are regarded as remarkably strong. The dog was slightly overcast early in the day and the air had a crispness of autumn while the track was said to be in first-class condition.
