Former Minister Wu Ting Fang Is to Visit the Continent of Europe to Sound the Neutral Powers

TRIAL COURT APPEALS

Those Which Have Reference to the Decisions of Vladivostok Tribunal Will Not Come Up for a Month Yet—British Ambassador Objects

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 28.—Reconnoissances by the Russian troops established the fact the main Japanese forces are still along the branch railroad to the Yental mines. Both sides are in constant contact. General Samsonoff's troops particularly have had frequent encounters, but sustained very few casualties. The Russians captured some Japanese cattle and horses. The Japanese constructed pontoon bridges over the Taise river at Pensiho.

Information received here tends to confirm at Peking report that Wu Ting Fang, former Chinese minister to the United States, will be sent on a special mission to Europe and America. The statement that it is China's purpose to have him consult Japan and Russia regarding Manchuria is incorrect. His mission will be to sound neutral powers on the subject of the protection of China's interests in the peace negotiations at the close of the war.

JAPS USING PONIES TO GO NORTHWARD

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—During the last ten days 2,500 troops have arrived at Chemulpo and others are expected, says a Herald dispatch from Seoul, Korea, forwarded last Sunday. The Japanese authorities at Gensan are collecting four thousand pack ponies for the use of the army to advance northward along the eastern coast toward Vladivostok.

He Says He Never Received a Letter From Roosevelt on the Subject of the Strike and Did Not Ask Intervention

THE WAR GOD HAS NO RESPECT FOR TOMBS

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 28, 7:42 a. m.—In summing up the situation today the military expert of the Russ says it is evident from all indications at the front that the Japanese are engaged in a big turning movement on the eastward. This would give them the advantage in the mountainous, of operating largely in the mountainous, to which the artillery is better suited than for movements in the open. But in the present movement the units of the Japanese army are necessarily losing touch with one another. Their strategic position is, therefore, less satisfactory than at Liao Yang.

NO REFERENCE TO THE PEACE PROPOSALS

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 28, 7:50 a. m.—The Russian press has heretofore studiously avoided editorial reference to President Roosevelt's statement to the delegates of the parliamentary union on September 24, on the subject of calling a conference of nations of the world at the Hague to continue the work of the conference called by Emperor Nicholas in 1899. The only approach thereto is a quotation in the Russ this morning from Berlin press opinion saying it is evident America is determined to disregard the question of whether or not intervention in the far eastern question at this time will be agreeable to either combatants.

NUMEROUS SKIRMISHES

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 28.—A dispatch received from General Kuropatkin, dated yesterday afternoon, announces numerous skirmishes occurred along most parts of the Russian front. The Japanese, however, not altered their positions east of the railway and confine themselves to outpost attacks to the north, all of which so far have been repulsed.

ANNNOYANCE WITH THE ATTACHE IS EXPRESSED

LONDON, Sept. 28.—The Westminster Gazette this afternoon accurately sums up the official opinion of the incident resulting from the finding of Justice Phelps of Lee, Mass., of Hugh Gurney, third secretary of the British embassy at Washington, for violation of a supposed law relating to automobiles and contempt of court, saying:

"It seems desirable gentlemen connected with legations should keep on the safe side of a local law when they use motor cars, but if perchance they transgress the simplest and quietest plan perhaps is to waive the privilege and pay the fine."

RUSSIA MUST GAIN SEA MASTERY TO WIN THE WAR AGAINST JAPAN

THIS MANCHURIAN CITY DESIGNED BY THE RUSSIANS TO BE THE OPEN GATEWAY TO COMMERCE BETWEEN EASTERN ASIA AND EUROPE—CROP FAILURES AND FAMINES UNKNOWN IN THAT COUNTRY—IS CALLED THE MOSCOW OF THE EAST—FINE BUILDINGS ERECTED BY THE GOVERNMENT. SOME FACTS ABOUT THE CITY WHERE RUSSIA WILL MAKE ITS LAST STAND

(Note.—Colonel Marchand, one of the highest French military authorities, hero of Fashoda and famous explorer, has given to F. W. Dawson, Paris correspondent of N. E. A., this remarkable review of the campaign in Manchuria. He knows Kuropatkin and Kuroki. He has followed with scientific precision every move of the opposing armies. His opportunity for learning the exact conditions has been of the best. His judgment commands respect. Special interest attaches to his birdseye view of the situation because he considering the difficulties which surrounded him.

"That Russia ignored the preparations, the real strength and the veritable hatred of the Japanese, is a secret to no one today. Only 125,000 Russian troops were in Manchuria, the trans-Siberian railway, with its single track, offered inadequate transportation facilities, and the scene of the conflict, 10,000 kilometers away from St. Petersburg, could not form even a secondary military base against an army constituted on European principles, sup-

SHOWERS

Mid-Week Bargains

THURSDAY, SEPT. 29, IS BARGAIN DAY AMONG FORT WORTH MERCHANTS

"As has been its wont for several weeks past, The Telegram is printing the announcements of Fort Worth merchants who are anxious for your trade. These announcements contain special price inducements in order to help make mid-week shopping in Fort Worth more popular. Mondays and Saturdays are the days on which the largest amount of buying is usually done, and very often buyers find the stores so crowded on that day that the most satisfactory results are not always attained, and very often merchants are so rushed that they cannot give to their patrons the care and attention they would like. For this reason the public is asked by the merchants to make Thursday one of the shopping days. To familiarize this movement SPECIAL PRICE INDUCEMENTS are offered to those who will make their purchases on Thursday, and today, just on the eve of the season's fall opening, ESPECIALLY RARE BARGAINS ARE OFFERED FOR THURSDAY'S SHOPPERS.

them away from Liao Yang. The admirable defense of Port Arthur gives an idea of what might have been accomplished. Had it not been for Stoessel and his brave 20,000 men holding before them 100,000 Japanese, as well as Togo's squadron, Kuropatkin would have been utterly crushed at Liao Yang. Instead of that, time was allowed the Russian army to escape and to recover breath.

"Three hundred and fifty thousand men, trained in advance by Japan, have already been landed in Korea. As many reserves are about to follow, less perfectly drilled, but with good officers. The tactics of the Japanese army are to constantly flood with their right wing advancing along the heights, the eastern flank of the Russian army retreating through the valley. "A great battle is to be foreseen as imminent in the mountains between Mukden and Harbin. I also expect an energetic resistance at Kirin, although this can no longer be selected as point of concentration by the Russian army in full retreat, unable to stop far short of the Sungari. Kirin is the objective point of the Japanese army, as Vladivostok is for the navy, in the 1904 campaign. If they capture Kirin before the beginning of the winter, the Japanese can, to their own advantage, deprive their adversaries of fertile and cultivated regions, which have until now proved most useful. This result is so important that, once acquired, the Japanese will not push on to Harbin, even if they find themselves in a position to do so.

"This much seems to fall to Japan; but other considerations now come into play. The Russian armies which Japan has until now met in Manchuria consist mainly of trained soldiers and Siberian natives, and a few divisions of reserves from European Russia. The real Russian army is only beginning to arrive on the scene. Furthermore, the effect of the first successes, and the feverish enthusiasm in Japan make fine soldiers of the Japanese, even without training. A like phenomenon was seen in France in 1792. But this spirit does not last indefinitely.

"In respect to the winter campaign, which Russia seems decided to carry out, perhaps too much confidence has been placed in the inability of the Japanese to resist cold. I happen to know that for several years the Japanese staff has been systematically training the troops for winter campaigns in the northern Japanese islands. In the winter of 1901-02, an entire Japanese battalion perished maneuvering in the snows of Yezo island. And the Chino-Japanese war continued throughout the winter of 1894.

COUNTERFEITING IS CHARGE AGAINST FOUR

One Man Was Taken As He Was Attempting to Shove the Queer and Others Were Caught With Goods on 'Em

SHREVEPORT, La., Sept. 28.—The police late last night captured four men who are supposed to compose an organized gang of counterfeiters. They are Bob Deal, J. E. McKinnon, N. H. Keith and W. E. Heath. Deal was the first man arrested and his capture led to the others. Deal attempted to pass a counterfeit $10 gold piece when the fraud was discovered. McKinnon, when searched, had six counterfeit $10 gold pieces in his pocket and several counterfeit $5 pieces in his shoes. The means for making the spurious coins were found in the possession of Heath. Secret Service Agent Thomas assisted the police.

TO INVESTIGATE THE CONDITION OF MIND

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Lawyers from San Francisco are to be now in this city preparing for a fight in the courts against the will of the late Miss Bertha M. Dolber of California, who leaped from a window on the ninth floor of the Waldorf-Astoria hotel. She left most of her estate valued at $2,000,000 to her traveling companion, Miss Etta M. Warren.

ARE WAITING FOR A CHALLENGE TO DEFEND CUP

Preparations Are Already Being Made to Defend Trophy Against a Possible Fourth Engagement With Lipton

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Preparations are already being made by members of the New York Yacht Club for the defense of the America's cup against a possible fourth challenge from Sir Thomas Lipton. Members of the club think that a challenge may be expected by any mail and that as in former years it will come from the Royal Ulster Yacht Club. Sir Thomas has not yet announced that he has made the necessary arrangements with a designer, but club members believe that a challenge is sure to come and are only waiting to find out what conditions are named before going actively to work to build the defender.

HONOLULU MERCHANT MURDERED IN ROAD

HONOLULU, Sept. 28.—S. E. Damon, a member of a prominent local family and connected in a business way with a local banking firm, has been murdered by a Porto Rican named Jose Reveira. Mr. Damon was driving home and when near Moanalua met three Porto Ricans, one of whom was a woman. One of the men took Mr. Damon's lantern, and when he remonstrated, stabbed him in the abdomen. He then drove on to Honolulu, but died before reaching a hospital.

CASUALTY COMPANIES TO FORM A COMBINE

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Representatives of twenty casualty liability and surety companies all over the country have attended a meeting here to discuss the desirability of forming a national organization. Eight companies which were not represented sent letters announcing that they were in sympathy with the plan, which is to promote harmony, adopt uniform policies, combat fraudulent claims, etc.

Don't put yourself in this man's place, but keep a bottle of this remedy in your home.

lands about all open; that on bottom lands greatly damaged by leaf worms; no top crop; yield below average; late vegetables doing well.

Navarro County—Cotton greatly damaged by rain and wind storm on the 20th; crop about three-fourths gathered; yield light though better than last year; corn good though very little has been gathered.

Williamson County—Weather favorable for cotton picking; crop will be gathered in three more weeks; yield will be less than last year; leaf worms are devouring the foliage which will hasten the opening of the late bolls.

Hamilton—Four rainy days this week; very little cotton picked; some damage from wind and rain; grass good and stock water plentiful.

Hamilton County—No improvement in cotton; but little picked on account of rain; pastures fine.

Limestone County—Weather favorable for potatoes and sowing of turnips; corn about all gathered; no small grain sown; gathering of cotton progressing rapidly; about all bolls open; no top crop.

Erath County—Cool and showery; cotton picking delayed, but will yield better than expected; pastures fine and stock doing well.

Freestone County—Heavy rains, which began on the 20th and continued several days, delayed cotton picking; grass is very fine since the rains.

McLennan County—Fine rains during the week delayed cotton picking two or three days and resulted in some damage from staining; insects destroying all late crop; large part of crop gathered.

Falls County—Heavy rains with some wind on the 20th and 21st, damaged open cotton considerably; the crop is nearly all open and about three-fourths gathered; a better crop than last year is expected.

Navarro County—Rains did not damage cotton; a little more than half of the crop is picked, and picking is progressing rapidly; corn being gathered and yield fine.

Bell County—Showery weather and cotton picking made little progress; no bolls damaged on unpicked cotton; pastures good.

Parola County—Showers all week; late crops benefited; cotton picking progressing rapidly; many fields have been invaded by the army worm.

Smith County—Rains on the 20th, 21st and 22d prevented the gathering of cotton this week and damaged the crop considerably; none opened this week; the leaf worm made its appearance and boll weevils are very numerous.

Smith County—Weather favorable for cotton picking and the crop will soon be gathered; corn nearly all gathered, and a fine crop.

Karnes County—Fine growing weather, a considerable portion of the cotton crop is picked, and there is some prospect of a top crop; plant looks very well and is blooming and fruiting; weevils still at work.

Bexar County—Cotton practically all picked and gins will be without work in a short while; army worm is working in many fields.

Bastrop—Heavy rains on the 21st and 22d and considerable cloudiness during the week; picking retarded and some cotton washed from the stalk and destroyed; the leaf worm has destroyed nearly all foliage; fall gardens and forage crops promising.

Guadalupe County—Heavy rain on the 21st; cotton about all gathered and yield poor; corn about half gathered.

Smith County—Showery weather interfered with rice harvesting and thrashing and delayed cotton picking; the cotton crop is short and the yield will be considerably below average on account of the ravages of the boll weevil.

RAILROAD NEWS

There has been much speculation, and wild speculation at that, among the newspapers of the country as to who will be appointed by President George Gould as successor to Russell Harding, who recently retired from the Missouri Pacific system, and while there has been very little printed that would indicate a probable successor to Mr. Harding, it is known that quite a number of prominent railroad managers have been mentioned in connection with the appointment.

Those in Texas whose names have been put prominently to the front are L. S. Thorne of the Texas and Pacific and Leroy Trice of the International and Great Northern, both Gould roads.

From a source that is considered very reliable The Telegram learns that the appointment is more than likely to go to Mr. Thorne, as the proposition is up to him for his acceptance or rejection.

It is further understood here today that when Mr. Gould comes to Texas, which will be very soon, he will make public the name of Mr. Harding's successor, and not before.

It is generally conceded in railroad circles that Mr. Thorne is the logical man for the position and his friends will be glad to learn that he stands near to the position than any other man connected with the Gould system in the south.

A CONTRACTOR DIES NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Daniel F. Minahan, a well known railroad contractor and builder, is dead at his home in Orange, N. J. He constructed the water works system of Lebanon, Pa.; the sewer system at Alliance, Ohio; the city hall and court house at Springfield and also twenty-two miles of the Springfield and Jackson narrow gauge road. He also executed extensive public works at Hamilton, Lima and Dayton, Ohio.

Texas, which is a heavy creditor of the Texas Southern Railway, will buy up that road at the coming receivership sale of the property.

The Katy's interest in the road came through the transfer to the Texas Southern of a logging road running south from Willsboro and also the supplying of a large amount of construction material.

This rumor has grown out of the recent chartering of the Gulf, Texas and Northern, whose proposed line follows closely the route of the Texas Southern as planned at the time of its formation and before the road passed into the hands of receivers.

H. L. Hull of this city, who is one of the incorporators of the Gulf, Texas and Northern, is at present in St. Louis and it is therefore impossible to obtain definite information in this city regarding the rumored deal.

WHOLE ROAD MOVED Louisiana will be the first state in which an entire railroad is moved bodily. Contracts were signed Monday in that state for the removal of timber road near Lake Charles to a point fifty miles further north.

The road to be moved is one of but a few miles owned by J. G. Powell and used for transportation of lumber from his timber holdings in that section. The road when moved will be used to lay a new timber section in the vicinity of Kinder, La.

MANY STILL OUT R. R. Redfield of Houston, who was chief clerk in the general freight office of the Houston East and West Texas until the merger of the Southern Pacific freight departments, was in the city this morning and reports that a large number of the boys affected by the consolidation are still out in the cold.

As stated at the time of the merger the men affected were paid salaries until October 1 and an offer was made by the company to assist them in every way in securing positions with other lines.

Mr. Redfield is transportation agent for the Knights of Pythias in this state, a position which has always been filled by him, with the exception of one year when he was absent from the state.

COACH EXCURSIONS The Rock Island road this morning sent out official notice of the limiting of the coach excursions to Kansas City and St. Louis to Tuesday and Saturday of each week, as already announced in The Telegram.

CHANGES ON FRISCO The recent changes made in the Frisco freight department at San Antonio and those scheduled to be made later will necessitate quite a number of promotions in the Frisco freight and commercial offices of the company in Texas.

Additional changes in the Frisco in Texas. The Frisco in Texas are generally dis-

THE CROPS IN TEXAS

GALVESTON, Sept. 28.—The following is the weekly review of the crop conditions of Texas as shown by the reports to L. H. Murdock, section director for Texas, for the United States Agricultural Department:

Weather Conditions—Scattered showers occurred throughout the week, the heaviest falls occurring over the northern, central and southwestern portions. The week was unusually warm, the average temperature being from 4 to 6 degrees above the normal.

Cotton—The bolls continue to open rapidly. Picking was somewhat delayed by the showers, but the staple suffered very little damage therefrom. The season is now so far advanced that boll weevils can cause very little additional damage to the crop. In many localities in the southern half of the state leaf worms have stripped the plants of all their leaves, but this is not considered detrimental as it will permit the more rapid opening of the bolls.

Corn—The picking of corn has progressed slowly on account of the labor being required in the cotton fields.

Rice—Conditions were generally favorable for the harvesting and thrashing of rice.

Sugar cane is maturing nicely and promises a full crop.

Miscellaneous—Pasture and ranges are in good condition, and are doing well. All crops are making good growth. Some wheat and oats have been sown.

Cattle County—Rains too light to benefit cotton; forage crops and pastures may improve if the rain continues.

Scott County—Recent rains too late to benefit cotton but will improve ranges; open cotton considerably damaged by the heavy rains and high winds.

Fisher County—Good rains on the 19th and 20th; will benefit late forage crops and pastures but too late for cotton picking.

ling well advanced with light yield. Wilbarger County—Fine rains; will improve late cotton and forage crops; cotton picking making slow progress.

Collin County—Cotton doing well in most parts, damaged by local rains in some places; picking active.

Marion County—Fine weather for cotton picking except where interrupted by local showers; cotton picking is about completed in some fields and the yield is better than at first anticipated; corn about all gathered.

Lamar County—Cotton picking generally interrupted by wet weather; open cotton damaged by the rains and some complaint of sprouting in the bolls; crop about one-third gathered; plant still fruiting some on low lands.

Denton County—Weather dry; cotton picking progressing rapidly; crop about all opened; fall plowing about completed; rain needed for stock water and grass.

Tarrant County—Weather favorable; cotton giving better yield than at first expected; some indication of top crop; rain needed for fall crops.

Cooke County—Showery weather; cotton nearly all open and more than two-thirds gathered; yield very good; corn good; ground being prepared for wheat.

Grayson County—Showery; cotton opening unusually fast but picking is progressing slowly; yield very good; very little corn gathered but crop is good.

Taylor County—Three inches of rain; cotton opening rapidly and picking is active; yield rather poor; late cotton will open in two weeks; forage crops and pastures doing well.

Callahan—Good rains; cotton fruiting some; picking active; yield very light; forage crops growing some; gardens not doing well; some wheat being sown.

Runtels County—Cotton is more than half open and the picking is being done very rapidly; yield much below that of last year.

Coleman County—Some rain but too late to benefit cotton; picking is progressing nicely; yield fair; pastures improved and stock doing well.

Eastland County—Too much rain for cotton; picking delayed; cotton on up

Market Quotations

NORTH FORT WORTH, Sept. 28.—Receipts of cattle were moderately liberal. About sixty cars arrived and total receipts figured close around 2,500. Supplies of steers were light and again offerings were light, thin and medium grades. There was a good demand from packers and feeder buyers and the few in changed hands early in the day, with prices fully steady with yesterday, the best selling around $3. Butcher stock composed the bulk of supplies, the quality of which was common to medium. A strong demand prevailed from all sources and selling ruled active and steady, with sales at a range of from $1.75 to $2.25. Bulls were scarce and what little trading done was among speculators and feeder buyers on a steady basis, sales largely round $1.75. Only a few calves came in today and mostly of medium quality. There was no change in quotations, packers taking the few offered on a steady basis. Liberal supplies of hogs came in today, with twenty-nine cars in the pens. Total receipts figured close around 2,000 head. Reports from other markets came in quoted lower and this influenced trading here. Buyers were bidding lower and nothing could be made other than on a to the lower basis. Hogs of fairly good weight, averaging better than 200 pounds, topped the market at $5.95, with the bulk of sales at a range of from $5.75 to $5.90.

SAN ANGELO COUNTRY. Live Stock Agent Conway, of the Santa Fe, has just returned from a trip over the San Angelo country and reports that there are worlds of fat cattle being held in that part of the state ready for shipment to market. Mr. Conway says that the cattlemen are not going to move their fat stuff to market until prices are better than they are at this time. If they are forced to hold them until spring, he says they can do so if compelled to do so, because the range is the finest in years, and such action will be resorted to before they will sacrifice their stock at prevailing low prices. Mr. Conway stated that grass was never known to be better than it is at this time, made so by the seasonable rains. He added that the number of fat cattle being held in the Brownwood county is much larger than last season. Cattlemen are not so easy street in the Brownwood county, even if prices are destructive," said Mr. Conway.

Some seventy-five dogs were confined in the city dog pound. About 35 of these were sent to the great beyond by Officer Ab Spickard, armed with a rifle, this morning. The others were saved by Dog Catcher Moss, with the hope that some one would claim them. Only the most worthless curs were killed.

BEWARE OF STOLEN PROPERTY It has been reported to The Telegram that on Missouri avenue yesterday boys offered dog tags for sale at 5 cents each. It was reported that the city only has the authority to issue tags, and those offered for sale by any person are stolen property, and the persons approached with such offers are urged to telephone police headquarters and keep the boys until the matter can be investigated. It is easy for the boys to capture pet dogs and remove the collars and tags.

IN THE COURTS The jury in the case against C. H. McDonald, on trial in the Seventeenth district court, was not completed at the morning session. The charge of criminal assault was sustained. The court fined him $20. A motion for a new trial is now pending.

SCHOOL CHILDREN STRIKE CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—Because of a mistaken belief the assistant kindergarten just engaged for service in their school is a negro, fifty boys stationed themselves as pickets around the McAlester public school today and prevented the pupils from entering. None of the pickets are more than 15 years of age.

MR. WILLIAMS' VIEW W. D. Williams, who was city attorney at the time the Jennings avenue viaduct question came up in the council for consideration, stated today to The Telegram that when the city approached the Texas and Pacific Company for aid in constructing the viaduct under the provisions of the St. Louis contract the railroad company contended that it was null and void. However, the contract, says Mr. Williams, has never been declared null and void by the courts.

THE RAILROAD INJUNCTION

It is a very distressing situation if the Texas and Pacific Railroad Company is legally able to control one of the principal thoroughfares of the city of Fort Worth. The Northern Texas Traction Company has endeavored under a franchise grant by the city of Fort Worth to double track the lines which are used by the city cars and by the Interurban. The people want this double track, because they want the better accommodation of travel which will follow. Now, because the Interurban is taking business between this city and Dallas, and from the steam railroad, the Texas and Pacific is endeavoring to interfere with the improvements the trolley company would make to better the service here. The people of Fort Worth will not be willing to allow the Texas and Pacific to thus control the streets of the city, and it is time for the Texas and Pacific management to find it out. Fort Worth wants that double track on East Front street, that we might have better service, and Fort Worth will have it if there is a way to bring it about.

A MOST NOTABLE INTERVIEW

A contribution to the literature of the war that has not been excelled in importance or interest is the review of Colonel Thomas Marchand, the French military expert, printed in The Telegram today. Since the Fashoda incident in 1898 he has been the military hero of France. He knows Manchuria better than most of the officers now marching over that country at the head of armies. Russia asked the French government to send him to the war as a military observer. The request was refused. The French officials feared that Marchand, instead of observing, would utilize his professional skill and his knowledge of the country in the interest of the Russians and thus provoke international complications. Because he was not allowed to go to the front Marchand resigned from the army. Close relations existing between the French and Russians have enabled Marchand to get an intimate knowledge of the real conditions of the war. He knows Kuropatkin and Kuroki—has camped with both of them. He has kept in touch with every development of the campaign and has studied the movements of both armies with the mind of one trained to war.

Marchand, being French, his sympathies are with Russia. His review therefore gains an added interest from the fact that it gives a glimpse of the somewhat neglected Russian side of the war. For all that, he speaks with the voice of authority and his judgment will command respect. The statement is of especial interest at this time because it covers the first great stage of the war.

Colonel Marchand is not a man who frequently permits his views to be made public, and for this reason success of F. W. Dawson, the Paris correspondent of The Telegram and the Newspaper Enterprise Association, in gaining this comprehensive interview is a distinct journalistic achievement. When we remember that Marchand was the popular military hero of France and that he stripped himself of all his military honors because he was forbidden to see this war, we can appreciate that the subject is one to which his best thought and most earnest interest has been given.

A GREAT WORK

There is one line of railway centering in Fort Worth that is engaged in a great work, and is today sowing seed from which it will be reaping a genuine harvest with the passage of but a few years. We refer to the work being done by the Fort Worth and Denver in the Panhandle country for the development of the agricultural and stock farming interests of that section in such an able and intelligent manner. The Denver officials have taken a deep and abiding interest in this work for a number of years, but during the present year they have shown more than their usual activity, extending a helping hand to every industry that would benefit the rich section of the state traversed by their line.

A few years ago when the Panhandle country went daft on the wheat proposition and there was a dream of making that section the granary of the world, the Denver people rendered every assistance in their power to help along the movement. When it became apparent that the production of wheat could not be relied upon as a great staple crop and much of the Panhandle population turned its face to the eastward and journeyed back to its old stamping grounds, the officials of this great trunk line of railway did not weaken on the possibilities of the Panhandle, but went resolutely to work to find the things for which the Panhandle country was best adapted and never has that great work faltered for a moment.

Traffic Manager Keeler, General Freight Agent Sterley and General Passenger Agent Glisson have all been active promoters of Panhandle industry this year. They have encouraged the meeting of farmers' institutes, the planting and cultivation of forage crops, the improving of all classes of stock, the planting of trees, the production of cotton and many other things that will have a general salutary effect upon the proper development of the Panhandle country. They have set the other lines of railway in this state a fine example, and if it should be generally emulated the effects will be extremely far-reaching.

When the railways and the people along their lines come together and work together for the common good there is always something doing that benefits the country.

WILL DEMOCRACY SUCCEED?

So far there has not been much given out by the managers of the two great parties now engaged in a fight for national control as to the particular states each expected to carry, but as the time for election draws nearer, the indications are becoming more perceptible. There is no question but that the democratic party went into the present campaign very seriously handicapped and with the chances against it. But since the nominating convention was held at St. Louis there has been a coming together of the democratic clans all over the country, and the party is today in the finest kind of fighting trim. As there has been a lining up of all the disaffected elements, democracy is just beginning at this time to feel her real strength, and that victory is in the very air, and even the party leaders are surprised at the magnitude of the strength already developed. They begin to feel that when the election is held the republicans are going to be the worst fooled people that ever figured on the result of an election.

It is claimed that New York is now abundantly sure for democracy, and that as New York goes, so will New Jersey and Connecticut go. West Virginia has been lifted out of the doubtful column, and will go democratic this year, and when the electoral vote of these four states are added to that of the solid south, it gives a total of 229—which leaves but a mere bagatelle of 17 more votes to obtain from Indiana and the western states. It is claimed that Indiana is reliably democratic this year by not less than 5,000, and if this is true, it means that democracy is going to return to a constitutional form of government.

Instead of the silence on the part of the republican managers being ominous to democracy, it is a most hopeful indication, as it denotes that they realize the desperateness of the situation, and do not propose to make fools of themselves this year by claiming the earth when they have such a shadowy hold on the greater part of it. Already they are conceding the loss of the house of representatives, and when they do that, it is very clear that there is consternation existing in the camp of the enemy. The prospects for democracy are growing brighter daily.

While claiming immunity from arrest and punishment, the attache of the British legation should be very particular not to violate the laws of a sovereign state. It is not the intention of international law, which protects his person from process of court, to allow him to run an automobile along public highways at a speed which is prohibited by law, and then let him claim immunity in the courts. It is rather nervy, think we, that having violated a state law in this heedless manner, he should rest on the protection given one in his position. It is not believed the British government will support an upstart of a legation attache who thus conducts himself.

Today is the day Carrie Nation has called upon the wives and daughters of Kansas to meet her at Wichita with their hatchets to do business with the groggeries of that bustling little city. If the cohorts show up with their hatchets it is expected that business will be lively in Wichita for a short time. Carrie offers to pay the railway fare of all who are not able to rustle the price and take care of them after their arrival.

The cost of the United States navy has tripled in the past seven years, the appropriation for this year being $98,065,140.94, and President Roosevelt says we do not stand still. He says the progress we have already made may be taken as a measure of the progress we will continue to make, and the navy may be expected to continue to make fabulous gains in the matter of the cost of maintenance. Rooseveltism comes high.

The American party has been formally launched at Salt Lake City for the purpose of fighting the influence and interference of the Mormon church in politics. The new party seems to be under the direction of Senator Dubois of Idaho, who is making a gallant fight in his own state against the further encroachments of Mormonism.

In Philadelphia the national political campaign is waxing so warm that the editor of the Record challenged the editor of the Press to a joint discussion of the issues involved. The challenge was accepted, but when the editor of the Record wanted to put on a substitute the matter was permitted to fall through.

Major General Orloff has been dismissed from the Russian army, on the recommendation of General Kuropatkin, who charges him with being responsible for the Russian retreat from Liao Yang. In other words, a scapegoat has been found for Kuropatkin's incompetency, and its orloff with the former major general.

Water Wellman, the well known newspaper correspondent, says that the oil, sugar and tobacco trusts are supporting the democratic candidate for the presidency, and have contributed liberally to the campaign fund. If this is true, Chairman Cortelyou ought to have Chairman Taggart tell him how it was done.

The war correspondents are hearing some more heavy firing at Port Arthur. It is lucky for the world that these gentlemen continue to keep their ears to the ground, else there would be absolutely a dearth of information from the beleaguered city.

Admiral Dewey has just celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his entrance into the service of the United States navy, and the friends of the old sea dog hope he may live to celebrate fifty more of the same kind of anniversaries.

The Sage of Esopus had a good word to say for the Panama canal. He does not consider it an issue now. It is an accomplished fact, and the people are glad of it. Why should Texas statesmen worry over it?—Dallas Times-Herald.

Texas statesmen are not worrying over the canal, but the manner in which the right to build it was acquired.

Captain M. B. Loyd of Fort Worth, why, by the way, is one of the board of directors of the Texas Midland Railroad, has recently sprung into prominence as a dogmatist. Under the dog tax ordinance of Fort Worth seventy-one dogs had been impounded for non-payment of the tax upon them and they were to be ruthlessly slaughtered according to the city statute in such case made and provided. However, on the night preceding the day of execution, Captain Loyd advised the executioner's hands by notifying him that he would pay the tax on the dogs impounded, and not only those but such other dogs as might in the future be impounded. And, true to his word, Captain Loyd did this. For his act of kindness to the dogs Captain Loyd has received much criticism. The dog tax ordinance was passed and enforced for the purpose of getting rid of worthless canines and minimizing the danger of hydrophobia. It is claimed that Captain Loyd has subverted the purposes of the ordinance and multiplied the dangers from this source. On the other hand, he has been much commended for his undoubted act of mercy and kindness to the canines. Captain Loyd's action was quite unusual to say the least of it, and stamps him as a gentleman of big heart and strong humanitarian instinct.—Terrell Transcript.

Captain Loyd only did that which a kindly heart prompted him to do. He had no desire to render of no effect the city ordinance, but realized that some of God's creatures were about to be executed as criminals because they did not have the price of their lives. He furnished the price, and thereby demonstrated the fact that his heart is located in the right place.

Tom Watson has been telling Texas people about what a good democrat he is. Watson is one of that kind of democrats that would prescribe deadly poison when the party is sick. He believes in imputing the great toe of the party, just under the ears, in order to save it from gangrene of one of its smallest members.—Denison Herald.

Tom Watson is on a wild goose chase when he comes to tell the people of Texas anything. All of Tom's kind of people in Texas are dead. They sleep peacefully under the grass democracy has planted about their tombs.

The railroads are making unusually low homeseekers' rates to Texas, and within the next thirty days thousands of people will come from the North and East to this state. The railway companies are doing their share, and non-payment of the tax upon them will grow the coming year as it never did before.—Austin Statesman.

The railroads of Texas are taking a most commendable interest in the up-building and development of the state as a whole, and are doing telling work in that direction. They are to be congratulated upon the clearness of vision which enables them to do this.

The president has ordered that no department be given out by any department regarding the annual estimates of expenditures by the government. But this order cannot conceal the fact that the expenditures for last year were five hundred and eighty-two million dollars, or more than double what they were under the Cleveland administration, and the people pay the tax.—San Antonio Gazette.

The president may seek to hoodwink the people by withholding information, but certain figures have to be given out, and these afford opportunity for comparison. It is in this manner the masses are given opportunities to see for themselves just what Rooseveltism is costing the country.

Does Latham spend all of his summer months at Methodist camp meetings, and dance all the winter? The Baptists, hardshells, heathens, unsavable sinners and democrats would like to hear him discuss the democratic platform demands, just one time. We would like to know "p. d. q."—Whether or not our democratic nominees will defend this platform.—Henderson Times.

The governor will doubtless be heard from before the November election, and may weep over the ills that afflict the body politic, but it is noticed the entire official family is mum on the subject of those platform demands.

Brother J. M. Mallett is pounding at the populists of the state, and has been in Comanche county lately. This paper sincerely admires Mallett for the loyalty with which he has stuck to his party and principles. He is like the hen that brought off a brood of quails, however, when the quails stamped and took to the brush, the hen could only beat the brush and cackle.—Thurber Journal.

And Brother Mallett is already reduced to the cackling process. He has found there is nothing in the brush but democrats who are gunning for a suspicion of populism.

It has been proven beyond the shadow of a doubt that the trusts are selling goods in Europe cheaper than they are selling them at home. And yet there are many people in the north and east that will continue to vote to perpetuate a party in power that gives to the trusts the high protective tariff that makes such things possible. To make a law that will give a merchant the power to compel you to pay more for your goods than the same merchant asks the man who lives a thousand miles away from the same goods, is patriotism indeed. This is what the tariff is doing and yet the people of the north and east will still cast their votes for the party that insists on this kind of discrimination in favor of the manufacturing barons and against the people.—Wichita Falls Herald.

There are many people who fall into the habit of letting others do their thinking, and that is the trouble with the north and east. One of these days there will be an awakening, and when it comes the trusts of the country will be put out of business.

Colonel Milton Park says there are 125,000 populists in Texas. The colonel means there "was" 125,000. Colonel Bryan came along in 1890 and bagged 110,000, and the boys haven't had time to break away from the democratic guard house.—Dallas Times-Herald.

When Colonel Park spoke of those 125,000 populists in Texas he evidently meant dead ones. There are not enough real live ones left to raise a respectable howl.

Some day the theaters of Texas will rise up and strike back at the theatrical trust which is now wielding a heavy arm, and when that time comes there will be something doing in the amusement lines. As it is today, Texas patrons of theatrical companies are absolutely at the mercy of a conscienceless, money-getting corporation.—Beaumont Journal.

If we have a theatrical trust in Texas there ought to be a very easy method of putting it out of business. All the people have to do is to quit patronizing the theaters.

When it comes to passing the ginger jar, Judge Parker is the greatest candidate the democracy has ever had. No democrat comes in contact with him, no matter to what faction he may belong, or what his previous alignment, but is enthused and turned into a thorough and capable political fighting machine.—Denison Herald.

The democratic party has needed some ginger injections in order that it might quit its foolishness and get down to business. Judge Parker has seemed amply able to do the ginger act, and democracy now is at its best.

Chairman Cortelyou is entitled to all honors for what he has done. Between suns as it were, he changed Teddy from a fighting rough rider to a Quaker, and has succeeded in keeping him so.—Austin Statesman.

And it is to be truly hoped that Chairman Cortelyou's work in that one respect may live after him.

Bryan is never at want for a reply. When asked in Colorado how he could support a candidate who was a gold bug, he answered that he loved peace better than gold or silver. Wish we had more men like Bryan among our politicians.—Pilot Point-Signal.

The trouble with many political leaders is that they want to rule or ruin. Mr. Bryan had some evidences of the complaint himself, but seems to have been able to finally overcome it.

Five big, strong niggers arrested in one day on charges of assaulting white ladies in Grayson county and in the same county fields of cotton going to waste for the want of pickers. Even that isn't enough to make a man an advocate of lynch law, but it's enough to cause him to do some tall old thinking.—Sherman Democrat.

Every idle negro, and white man, too, in Texas should be made to go to work. The devil can always be depended upon to form partnership with the unemployed.

Before the primaries were held candidates for state offices found time to make a canvass. Since the primaries they are so dutiful that Senator Culberson's suggestion that they do something for the good of the party is regarded by them as too awful to contemplate.—Corsicana Sun.

It is surprising how busy the official family at Austin has become since the primaries. It is possible, however, that the platform demands, including that for the abrogation of nepotism, constitutes a proposition they do not care to go up against. The people of Texas would like to hear from these gentlemen before the November election.

George Carroll, the prohibition nominee for vice president, says many democrats are going to vote for Roosevelt. George perhaps is playing tall to the radical band wagon. It would seem in better grace for him as a candidate to paddle his own canoe.—Memphis Herald.

The bands of all the other parties seem arrayed against democracy this year, and it is a good indication. It is but natural that they should all hate a winner.

It begins often with a slight redness of the skin, followed by pustules or blisters from which a gummy, sticky fluid oozes, which dries and scales off or forms bad looking sores and scabs. It appears on different parts of the body, but oftentimes upon the back, arms, hands, legs and face, and is a veritable torment at times, especially at night or when overheated. The cause of Eczema is a too acid condition of the blood. The terrifying itching and burning are produced by the overflow through the glands and pores of the skin of the fiery poisons with which the blood-current is overloaded. While external applications, such as washes, soaps, salves and powders are soothing and cooling, they do not enter into the blood itself or touch the real cause of the disease, but S. S. He looks equally well in profile as he does from a telescope of change. In fact, you know him, but you don't study him. It was 4 o'clock, sitting alone by the afternoon, the girl came straight before her, disconcerted. "That I can't get a proper perspective of Robert," she murmured regarding me to analyze him, "you are always anticipated in the wanting of it. That's how it is with Robert. I want to want him very much, but I have him already, so how can I tell?" The girl clasped her hands impatiently over her head. "Now take my family. They all brag about Robert because he is such a dependable man. Why, that quality belongs to his nose. It's nothing to comment upon, that I can see. Sometimes it's even tiresome."

Advertisement for AGRAY AFTERNOON. Includes text: 'Going over to a window, the girl knelt on its broad seat and gazed through the gray mist that gathered on the glass. "Now he will be here in—precisely"—glancing at the clock, "ten minutes, with the same mechanical promptness that has characterized his calls upon me ever since I grew up. I really believe that Robert hasn't a mite of temperament. He's as constant to habit as dad to his after-dinner cigar. "Now, just see that rain! I should think that he would 'phone up not to expect him till it clears. But he'll come; prompt to the minute—and soaked through. "I wish sometimes that I hadn't grown up with Robert. In every single event in my life, he's either been to it, or lived in the next block to it. He's like my alphabet. I can't remember when I didn't know it. I can't get far enough away from him to really tell if I love him or not, and I can't get him to get far enough away from me to find out. He just laughs, when I tell him that I sometimes have doubts. "There is his bell now!" She jumped to her feet, and looked at the clock. "Why, Robert?" in astonishment, "you are fifteen minutes"—turning to face the door as it slowly opened. Her eyes quickly changed from their eager, intimate expression to the conventional one as a maid entered, and leaving a package on the table, quietly withdrew. The girl pushed, and turned back to the fire. "But you are late Robert—for the first time!" The rain hurried itself to the street below. The wind coaxed the flying sparks up the chimney, and out into the dark day. When the girl became conscious of the darkness, she lighted the lamps and returned to the window peered out into the drenched street. Gray figures with dripping umbrellas above them, floated by like spectres, and the creak of the wheels of an electric car sliding on a wet track came up to her from below. "He might have 'phoned if he couldn't come! That's only common courtesy!" The clock struck 5 and the girl started to her feet. "Why," she gasped, "it's 5 o'clock and he never called me before!" Her voice had a shocked tone in it, as if she were being rudely introduced to a new factor in her life. "I will tell him that I can't love him—can't possibly love him! I always knew that his devotion had more of the protesting element in it than the ardent, and I took it for love. It must be did—then." A gust of wind caught the storm door and blew it shut. The girl paused, listening for the sound of footsteps coming down the hall. "I can't love you, Robert," she murmured mechanically—"I can't love you!" The snapping of the logs on the hearth, and the rain-sodden noises outside, alone broke the stillness. While she stood there, waiting a sound did reach her ears, a pale light and the hurrying of people toward the point of interest made the girl's heart beat fast with apprehension. "How awful it looked in the dark!" she cried, "and it stopped close by." Throwing up her hand, she leaned out, into the rain. "It has stopped"—her lips formed the words stiffly, "in the next block—where Robert lives!" Drawing back, the girl groped for the heavy drapery of the window and clung to it, numb with fear. Her brain throbbed with the pain of thinking. Robert had had an accident. That was why he had not come. She must go to him, and how could she ever cover the distance between her and the front door. It was so far! In that moment when her mind urged her on from one dreaded possibility to another, Robert entered the room. In his haste he had not removed his rain coat, and was jerking off his damp gloves as he approached her. The girl was outlined against the dull red curtain, with her frightened face toward him. She did not speak. Placing his hands on her shoulders, Robert held her back from him tenderly. "Were you worried, darling, because I was so late?" he said. "There was an accident up the street, and I stood around a bit until the ambulance came. He lives

MR. HENDERSON IS NOT SATISFIED WITH AFFAIRS

Alderman From the Seventh Ward Says a Double Track on Front Street Is Necessary to Accommodate the Public

The action taken by the Texas and Pacific Company in regard to the controversy between the Northern Texas Traction Company and the Rosen Heights Railroad Company, in seeking to enjoin the Traction company from building a double track over East Front street from Main street, is taken, according to Alderman Henderson, under what is known as the St. Louis agreement, the exact nature of which is not known by Mr. Henderson. However, under this agreement the Texas and Pacific claims to have exclusive control over all property known as the Texas and Pacific reservation, which property was decided to that company by the city of Fort Worth when that railroad built into Fort Worth many years ago.

"The Texas and Pacific has never before protested against the Traction company laying its tracks along East Front street, and why this action on the part of the railroad is taken at this late date is not clear to me," said Alderman Henderson to The Telegram this morning.

"The single track of the Traction company is on the north side of East Front street and does not interfere with the tracks of the Texas and Pacific in the lower part of the city. The Traction company does not intend to lay its second track on the south side of the present one, but will put it down on the north side, giving the Texas and Pacific no inconvenience whatever. A second track permitting the Traction company to connect its Main street service with that on East Front street, which affects the service to Polytechnic Heights, is a necessity, in order that the public may enjoy a perfect through service," said Alderman Henderson today.

"As it is now, cars are forced to stand on the siding on East Front near Ruak street, and also at the end of Main street, until the motorman ascertains that the right of way is clear. The maximum time learned the cars are then allowed to move on," said Mr. Henderson.

That there is a pressing necessity for a double track on East Front street is admitted by every one familiar with the service of the Traction company at this particular point.

Temperatures are high throughout the state. D. S. LANDIS, Official in Charge.

AMUSEMENTS

DARKEST RUSSIA

A revival of "Darkest Russia" at this particular time is surely a pronounced business inspiration as a play of such wondrous virility and general commanding dramatic force is certainly in direct line with the popular fancy, for something tangible in the diversified field of melodrama.

The plot dealing with the intrigues and despotism of Russian officials throughout the sorrowing empire, and the searching searchlight rays upon the nihilists and the numerous other secret organizations which are sapping away the vitality of government must naturally be of paramount interest during the vicious strife between two powerful countries.

Not alone does the play touch seriously the questions touched upon but reveals in a true comedy vein some of the iniquities with which the whole world is familiar.

In making this acceptable revival one of special interest from a scenic standpoint the same kind of generosity has been bestowed upon the organization of players which is headed by Miss Eva Montford, a capital leader and field force; Anna Sulte and Sue Stillman, last season with the Roger brothers; Myrtle Leavitt and Josephine Crawford, originals in the Florodora Sextet, as well as Charles Horn, James Connors, Law Kelley, Frank Hayes and James Tobin. These add a number of others who will do everything possible to render the evening most enjoyable with their melodies and songs. Managers Broadhurst and Currie have staged this production in a wonderfully artistic and entrancing manner which will add much to the beauty of the entertaining. A real evening's fun and merriment will no doubt be enjoyed by everyone who attends.

MASON AND MASON

Mason and Mason, supported by a company of clever comedians, augmented by near two score of pretty girls are to appear in this city on Friday night, September 24, at Greenleaf and Currie's new musical farce "Fritz and Snitz." The production is said to be a typical comedy and to be extremely entertaining. The musical selections have been especially written for this production and will be rendered in a most pleasing manner by the stars and their worthy assistants among whom are noted Della Stacey, of grand and comic opera fame, Fanny Midgley and Maude Scott, two of the most popular comedians of the city, and the operatic talents of Anna Sulte and Sue Stillman, last season with the Roger brothers; Myrtle Leavitt and Josephine Crawford, originals in the Florodora Sextet, as well as Charles Horn, James Connors, Law Kelley, Frank Hayes and James Tobin. These add a number of others who will do everything possible to render the evening most enjoyable with their melodies and songs. Managers Broadhurst and Currie have staged this production in a wonderfully artistic and entrancing manner which will add much to the beauty of the entertaining. A real evening's fun and merriment will no doubt be enjoyed by everyone who attends.

PRETTY PEGGY

Appropos to the announcement of the opening of the seat sale at 8 a. m. today for the engagement at Greenleaf and Currie's Saturday matinee and "Pretty Peggy," the facts regarding the demand for seats to witness this popular attraction elsewhere may prove interesting, as well as a lesson. When "Pretty Peggy" opened its New York engagement at the Herald Square theater it leaped into such instant favor that within two days the house had been sold out for the entire week, and by the end of that week they were being sold four weeks in advance. The play was presented in the metropolis from March 23 to October 31, and it has been said that at no time during the run were seats obtainable for less than seven to ten days hence. In Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston and other cities, Philadelphia was equally great, and it is said that the same interest has been shown during the present tour of the production.

CARS FOR INTERURBAN

TEMPLE, Texas, Sept. 28.—The first passenger cars for the Temple-Delton electric traction line came in today over the Santa Fe and are awaiting unloading from the flat cars that brought them here. They are beautiful beauties in construction and are the first of a set of eight that will perform service on the new electric line.

SEIZURE OF IMPORTS

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Collector of the Port N. Stranahan has announced the formal seizure of four cases of dutiable merchandise found among the baggage on a French steamer recently. The articles were mostly belonged to dressmakers returning from Paris and aggregated in value about $12,000. One lot, belonging to a San Francisco man, which had been released in bond of $1,500, also was ordered seized after the case had been investigated. As the goods had been released the bonds will be seized instead.

TRAGEDY AVERTED

"Just in the nick of time our little boy was saved," writes Mrs. W. Watkins of Pleasant City, Ohio. "Pneumonia had played sad havoc with him and a terrible cough set in beside. Doctors treated him, but he grew worse every day. At length we tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and our darling was saved. He's now sound and well." Everybody ought to know it, it's the only sure cure for Coughs, Colds and all Lung diseases. Guaranteed by Matt S. Blanton & Co., Reeves' Pharmacy, W. J. Fisher, druggists. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottles free.

WEATHER FORECAST

Varying, clear and cloudy, were the weather conditions throughout the state yesterday and this morning. Scattered showers fell in the southern portion of the state. The maximum precipitation occurred at Amarillo, where 1.26 inches of rain fell. Good showers are also reported from Beville, San Antonio, Cuero, Brenham, Corpus Christi, Palestine, San Marcos and Wharton.

Temperatures yesterday was high as a rule with a general tendency toward cooler.

FORECAST

The forecast for Texas east of the one hundredth meridian, issued at New Orleans, is as follows: Tonight and Thursday, local showers.

WEATHER CONDITIONS

D. S. Landis issued the following statement of weather conditions this morning:

High pressure areas are noted over the east lake region and on the north-west Pacific coast, with generally clear weather. The low pressure areas have moved but little since last report, being yet over West Texas and in the upper Mississippi valley accompanied by thunder storms and light rains.

Forecast for the morning at Grand Junction, Colo., and at Boise, Idaho. Rain was falling at Chicago this morning. Thunder storms occurred at North Platte, Chicago, St. Paul, Huron and El Paso.

FEVER THERMOMETER

BROKEN IN MOUTH

TEMPLE, Texas, Sept. 28.—A peculiar and distressing accident occurred at Belton today, whereby a little child is likely to lose its life. Gladys, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Yarbrough of Belton, has been ill with cholera infantum and under direction of the physician in attendance her temperature was taken at regular intervals. During the time when an attempt was made to ascertain the state of the fever the child convulsively closed its teeth upon the glass tube, which it crunched in its mouth, with the result that the mercury in the instrument was swallowed by the little patient. Medical aid was immediately summoned, but very little hope is entertained of the child's recovery.

Each receives an annual income of $400,000 from the Russian empire. They more or less own in the aggregate 5,000 square miles of land and 375 palaces, employing an army of 20,000 servants.

McLEAN HAS RETURNED.

Jeff D. McLean has returned from Hale county, where he went some weeks ago to defend a man named Arthur Jones, who was being held on a charge of swindling another man named J. E. Burnes. Mr. McLean stated that he succeeded in securing an acquittal in the case and his client was released.

LOCAL MUSICIAN SECURES HONOR

Word has been received in this city that J. Leslie Forster, formerly of this city, has been elected to the vocal staff of the Winnipeg College of Music at Winnipeg, Canada.

Mr. Forster, who was well known in this city, was for several years leader of the choir at St. Paul's Methodist church, here, and since going to Winnipeg has been leader of several choirs in that city. Last year he won the musical scholarship at Winnipeg College.

HE IS TO SUE THE SURGEON OF PARIS

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—George H. Crocker of New York and San Francisco has instructed his attorneys to institute suit for the recovery of $20,000 which he paid a well known Paris surgeon and discoverer of the serum for the treatment of cancer. The treatment was given Mrs. Emma Crocker last spring in France, but she died four months later at Newport, R. I., having been brought to America after the hope of saving her life was abandoned. Mr. Crocker asserts the injections of the serum only weakened the patient and were finally discontinued. He had been compelled to pay the full fee in advance and instructed his attorneys to turn over any sum they may recover to the Pasteur Institute in Paris for its use.

THE CRAZY MAN.

The crazy man who was arrested night before last by Officer Dodd, and who was in a very pliable state when confined in the city prison, was transferred to the county jail today. Officer Ab Speight, who transferred the man, this morning, stated that he is in a very serious condition.

SIX FEMALE VAGS.

Six drunken women were locked up in the calaboose about 6 o'clock last evening as the result of a drunken brawl and disturbance on Fourteenth and Jones streets. Officer Ab Speight made the arrest and the six had his hands full. The women joined in a general scrap while riding to the station in the wagon. At the station it was all the officers could do to keep the women apart. Further physical encounters were prevented by force, but the way the six women abused each other caused even the officers to stop their ears in shame.

STEAMER GOES SHORE

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Sept. 28.—The British steamer Loyalist, bound from Halifax for London with a general cargo, went ashore last night at Seal Cove, Trepassay Bay near Cape Race during a dense fog. She will be a total wreck. The crew made their escape.

THROWN BY A HORSE

NEW PORT, R. I., Sept. 28.—Harry O'Brien, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. O'Brien, and brother of Mrs. Peter D. Martin of San Francisco, has been painfully injured while riding horseback. The animal shied and threw his rider, who was severely cut and bruised, beside sustaining a broken nose and sprained wrists.

WISE COUNTY PROSPEROUS.

DECATUR, TEX., Sept. 28.—Cotton is coming in very fast and is turning out well. Farmers are nearly out of the debt, and money to loan. Land is selling fast, and prices are advancing all the time. The sandy land farms are bringing from $15 to $20 per acre, and black lands from $27 to $37 per acre. Wise county is forging to the front, as one of the best counties in the state. Truck farmers are reaping a rich harvest this year. Grass is fine.

WAKE UP LAST RUN

Santa Fe Has a Rush Order From Felix P. Bath & Co., for Thirty Cars of Cotton to Reach Ship at Galveston

ON PASSENGER SCHEDULE

It Required But a Little Over Twenty Hours for Freight to Reach Galveston After Leaving Fort Worth—The Demand for Quick Time

Special cotton trains in Texas are an innovation with railroads, and the Santa Fe Company is the first to inaugurate them from North Texas points to Galveston. These trains have been in service ever since the movement of this season's cotton began, about three weeks ago. As a general thing the trains run from Ardmore, I. T., via Fort Worth to the Gulf, but some of them start from this city.

A few days ago the Santa Fe received a rush order from Felix A. Bath & Co. of Fort Worth, one of the largest cotton exporters in the state, to transport some fifteen hundred bales from this city to Galveston for export to Liverpool. It required a train in thirty cars to handle the shipment, and it left the Santa Fe yards at 9 o'clock in the afternoon and reached Galveston in a little over twenty hours, two and one-half hours of which were lost at Cleburne, waiting the arrival of three additional cars of cotton from Alvarado, which were also bound for Galveston.

The cause for this record-breaking time by a freight train was that Bath & Co. desired that their cotton to reach Galveston by Sunday, at which time a vessel was due to sail from that port. The run was made on time and by the time the vessel was due to sail for Liverpool the entire 1,500 bales of cotton were in the ship's hold.

The time made by this fast cotton train from Fort Worth to Galveston beats any previous attempt, the train running on passenger schedule, practically making the 284 miles in less than eighteen hours. The fastest time ever recorded by a freight train in Texas.

The train made the run between Bellville and Galveston, 106 miles, in three hours and twenty-five minutes, or over thirty miles an hour. This was a much faster sprint than is made by the passenger trains, which make only 23.9 miles per hour. From Fort Worth to Cleburne the run of thirty miles was covered in one hour and ten minutes. Between Cleburne and Temple the special cotton train fairly flew and made the run of 100 miles in seven hours.

The Santa Fe Company has been making these fast cotton runs ever since the season opened three weeks ago, and will continue them until the "rush" season is ended, which will be about the first of October.

Rush orders are usually given during the first part of the season, and after that there seems to be no particular hurry on the part of the consignors, who are willing to accept the regular trains in getting their consignments to Gulf ports for export.

The majority of the shipment of the above 1,500 bales went to Liverpool, but some of it was consigned to Boston and New York. The majority of rush cotton is for export.

While other Texas roads are running special fast cotton trains, the Santa Fe has the record for running the fastest to Galveston from Fort Worth.

Yesterday in Fort Worth there were something like 3,000 bales of concentrated cotton in the compress, which, when compressed, will be rushed to Galveston for export.

This amount is said here to be the largest for one day in many years. Altogether, the receipt of cotton in Fort Worth thus far this season is very much greater than for a long while.

Mr. Geo. W. Pelton, 73 years of age, Akron, Mich. writes: "For many years I have been greatly troubled with Chronic Constipation, and thought there was no help for me. I have used nearly three bottles of Drake's Pimento Wine with result that I have no trouble from Constipation, and believe a cure is assured. Drake's Pimento Wine has done for me what all other remedies failed to do."

N. J. Knight, 79 years of age, 94 Pierce St., New Bedford, Mass., writes: "I had the Grippe which left me with severe Catarrh of Mucous Membrane all through my body, a very hard cough morning, enlargement and inflammation of Prostate Gland, bloody urine, and my sufferings were intense. I am taking Drake's Pimento Wine; have used less than two bottles so far and am gaining in every way. I did not hope to ever feel so well as I do now and have great cause to rejoice that I found such a wonderful Medicine as Drake's Pimento Wine."

A test bottle will be sent prepaid free of charge to any reader of this paper who writes for it to Drake's Formula Company, Drake Building, Chicago, Ill. A test bottle often cures.

3 Cash Prizes to Careful Observers

To stimulate interest in The Telegram classified pages, three prizes of $1.00 each are going to be awarded EVERY WEEK to the three persons who will each week find certain misspelled words on this page in one of the seven issues of each week. Only the business manager of the paper will know on what day the words will be misspelled. It may be Monday. It may be Tuesday. It may be Wednesday or Thursday or Friday, Saturday or Sunday. The misspelled words will appear only on one day of each week. New prizes will be awarded every week. The three who get correct answers to the paper first will receive the awards. There may be two words or names misspelled. There may be three or even four. Maybe more. No one will know except the business manager and none but him will know what the words are. Watch the Want Page every day, commencing next Sunday. KEEP YOUR EYES OPEN. YOU

October 2. If you think that is the day read the ads on the want page very carefully. If it isn't, read Monday's paper carefully. If that is not the lucky day try Tuesday, and so on through the week until the right day turns up. It won't take you long to run over the ads every evening. When the right day comes around write a letter to the Contest Editor and tell him what you think the errors are. Mark the envelope "For The Contest Editor of The Telegram" and either bring or send it to The Telegram office. As each envelope is received it will be immediately numbered. The first three envelopes containing the correct answers will entitle the owners to the three prizes of One Dollar each. Each contest closes Saturday at 6 o'clock p. m. Each contest will begin with the Sunday morning paper and runs through the seven issues of the week. Telegram employees or members of their families not allowed to compete. MAY WIN A DOLLAR EASILY.

INJUNCTION

The Texas and Pacific Railway Company Objects to Traction Company Using Front Street for a Double Track

ST. LOUIS AGREEMENT At One Time the Company Pleaded the Convention Entered Into in St. Louis Was Null and Void and Now Seeks to Use It

The latest step taken last night in the Northern Texas Traction Company-Rosen Railway Company and Texas and Pacific controversy over who has the right to build street car lines over East Front street, beginning at the intersection of that street and Main street, was an application for a temporary injunction against the Northern Texas Traction Company made by the Rosen Railway Company.

The Texas and Pacific Railway Company agrees that streets of ordinary width may be maintained by the city of Fort Worth exclusively at its own expense on the northern and southern margins of its reservation; but the railway company reserves the right to lay and maintain all tracks across or along such streets it may deem necessary.

In testimony whereof the same are subscribed by the committees aforesaid and by the first vice president of the two respective railway companies, this 20th day of October, A. D., 1885.

J. P. SMITH, Mayor, W. A. DARTER, Committee of City Council, E. B. DAGGETT, C. H. RINTLEMAN, A. M. BRITTON, O. J. BOAZ, OLIVER S. KENNEDY, W. W. HUMPHREYS, D. W. TURNER, B. P. PADDOCK, Committee of Citizens, THE TEXAS AND PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY, JNO. C. BROWN, 2d Vice President, THE MISSOURI PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY, H. M. HOGXIE, 1st Vice President.

That the said agreement be and the same is hereby adopted and ratified by the said city council and made an ordinance of said city, and that all necessary ordinances for carrying into effect said agreement shall be passed by said city council.

ORDINANCE NO. 382 An ordinance adopting and carrying into effect the agreement between the committee of the common council and citizens' committee, and the Texas and Pacific and Missouri Pacific railway companies, October 20, A. D., 1885.

Section 1. That, whereas, a committee of said city council of said city of Fort Worth, on the 20th day of October, A. D., 1885, at the city of St. Louis, made and entered into an agreement with the Texas and Pacific Railway Company and the Missouri Pacific Railway Company, regulating and opening and maintaining certain street crossings in said city, and regulating and agreeing as to other matters in dispute between said railway companies and this city, as follows:

Whereas, a controversy exists between the city of Fort Worth, of the first part, and the Texas and Pacific Railway Company, party of the second part, and the Missouri Pacific Railway Company, lessee of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company, party of the third part, in reference to certain street crossings in the city of Fort Worth.

Whereas, the city council of Fort Worth have appointed a committee consisting of A. M. Britton, W. J. Boaz, W. G. Turner, O. S. Kennedy, J. H. Darter, C. B. Daggett and J. P. Alexander, and the citizens' meeting of Fort Worth have appointed a committee consisting of A. M. Britton, W. J. Boaz, W. G. Turner, O. S. Kennedy, J. H. Darter, C. B. Daggett and J. P. Alexander, for the purpose of amicably adjusting as far as possible the difficulties;

Whereas, said parties have met and considered the matters of difference and reached the following conclusions: First, The Texas and Pacific Railway Company agrees that instead of the crossing of the lines of the Texas and Pacific railway by Main street, as it is now used by the public, the crossing be changed, beginning at some point between the south line of the Texas and Pacific railway reservation and the first track north of said line, and the center of said street to be continued eighty feet wide in a northward direction towards the center of the south line of block B 1, until it reaches the track south of the freight depot as it now stands.

Second, The Texas and Pacific Railway Company agrees that there may be an underhead crossing of the tracks east of the union depot; but east of its present water tank, so as not to disturb or injure the track for the purposes for which it was constructed and to be used, provided the party of the first part will make the necessary evacuation, grade and macadamize and do all the substructure for the crossing, according to plans and specifications to be furnished by said railway company, the Texas and Pacific Railway Company agreeing to put the stringers over the crossing in such manner as may be directed by the engineer of the Texas and Pacific Railway Company.

First, To abandon the present crossing of Main street and any extension

OFFICIALS OF STATE REFUSE TO MEET CYCLONE DAVIS

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 28.—Captain Ferg Kyle was in Austin yesterday, as a mission for the good of the order.

Cyclone Davis, the populist and prohibitionist campaigner, he says, is scheduled to make three speeches in Hays county at San Marcos, Kyle and Dripping Springs, the dates of which are yet to be fixed.

Captain Kyle was a trifle nervous over the announcement for the reason that "Cyclone" has the reputation of being a first class stump speaker, and unless he is successfully answered, his speeches will produce much dissatisfaction in the democratic party in Hays county, cause them to break ranks and result in the loss of hundreds of votes.

His mission in Austin yesterday was therefore to secure the services of a good speaker to meet Cyclone in joint debate at these places, and neutralize, or minimize as far as possible the blows he is expected to deal on democratic principles, politicians and practices.

In the language of Paul, the dashing apostle, he appealed to Treasurer Robbins, Comptroller Stephens, Judge N. A. Cravens and some others to "come over and help us," unhorse this populist, prohibitionist gladiator, and while all of them said "this they could easily do," and make Cyclone look like thirty cents in Chinese money, before he could be pulled off the stump by a whole brigade of his populist adherents, still they could not respond to his scriptural call.

Some for the reason they had their plan of campaign mapped out, others for the reason "previous engagement," while still others pleaded the exacting nature of their official duties. Captain Kyle was not very well satisfied with any of these excuses, but was compelled nevertheless to accept them.

"It will be a shame to take the money," he said, "to allow Cyclone to come, jam the wind, blow off his hot air all over Hays county and leave without scath, scratch or scar, and blame me, if he shall do it."
