GEORGE F. HOAR

Venerable Senator of Massachusetts Passes Away at an Early Hour This Morning After a Long Illness

TOLLING BELLS HEARD

Something of the Life and Character of the Man Who Has Been in Public Service for More Than Fifty Years—He Accomplished Much

WORCESTER, Mass., Sept. 30.—Tolling bells in church towers and fire stations of Worcester communicated to his fellow citizens the intelligence of the passing of United States Senator Hoar, whose death occurred at 1:35 a. m. today.

The tidings were communicated by tolling bells throughout the city and within a few minutes numerous inquiries at the newspaper offices by telephone informed the people of Worcester to whom Senator Hoar was endeared in measure beyond that ever given any other man, that the senator had passed away.

Beside Dr. Gilman, the senator's two children, Rockwood Hoar and Miss Mary Hoar, were at the bedside until the end.

F. W. Doherty, messenger of the committee on judiciary of the senate, of which Mr. Hoar was chairman, came to Worcester to be with the senator in his last hours.

Early in the week Rev. Edward Everett Hale, an intimate friend, of advancement from one post of honor to another. Called to the bar of Massachusetts in 1848, he soon became city solicitor of Worcester and president of the trustees of the city library. For seventeen years he served in the state legislature of Massachusetts, an ante-chamber of congress, and having been sent to the Forty-first, Forty-second, Forty-third and Forty-fourth congresses. In 1877 was chosen United States senator for Massachusetts, an office which he occupied for the remaining twenty-seven years of his life.

Mr. Hoar's determination in his last year of public life to set principle before party, his high-minded honesty of purpose and his power as a debater earned the respect of men of all parties, and his absolute independence was illustrated in his attack on the trusts in a bill for the restricting of their power.

The growing tendency to democracy of his later years was shown in his passionate defence of Aguinaldo. Senator Hoar, among other things, was chairman of the republican convention that nominated Garfield for the presidency, was on the board of nearly every historical society in America, and held honorary degrees from Oxford, Edinburgh, Yale and Amherst.

A CULTURED NEW ENGLANDER
Senator Hoar was born in 1826 in Concord, Mass., and was the best type of the cultured New Englander.

His father, the Hon. Samuel Hoar, was a member of congress, and his mother, who was Miss Sarah Sherman, was a daughter of Roger Sherman, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence.

George F. Hoar went to Concord Academy and then to Harvard. After his graduation from Harvard in 1846 he was elected city solicitor of Worcester.

His advice to young men
Senator Hoar had a great love for young men, and was a much sought for orator

A PRINCE SUCCEEDS THE LATE MINISTER

Adjutant General Prince Peter Dimitrievich Svyatopolk-Mirski, the new Russian secretary of the interior, promises much in the way of reforms in his department.

Indians in Lower Mexico Are Organizing As Bandits and Many Have Been Killed in Wars Being Made By Them

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Advice received by mail from a correspondent of the Herald at Belize, British Honduras, says: "In the recent attack by Indians on the camps of chewing gum gatherers, in Southern Mexico, seventeen persons were killed, eighteen wounded and fifty-seven more either murdered or carried into captivity."

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 30.—Married to the secretary of the first vice president of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad three weeks ago, with their honeymoon trip just ended, Mrs. Mary Landis has met death by falling from the third story of her home in Twelfth street. She was arranging a lace curtain, lost her balance and plunged head first, striking the fence.

RUSSIAN PRESS IS TALKING OF PERIL
ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 30.—The Novoye Vremya, commenting upon the hostility shown by other powers toward Russia, says: "Russia is now carrying on two wars—the sanguinary conflict in the far east and a bloodless, diplomatic one in the courts of Europe."

came from Boston, but was not admitted to the sick chamber, nor was Senator Lodge admitted when he called Wednesday. The physician was afraid this commotion would have a fatal effect.

SIDE LIGHTS ON CHARACTER
What are you going to do for vacation?" he was once asked. "Rest in my library and read Greek," he replied. That was his idea of a good time.

He never desired great wealth. "If any one should place in my hands now $1,000,000 as a gift," he said, "I doubt if it would produce any unusual emotion."

The Senator often said he expected to die between the years of seventy-eight and eighty, because his father, brother and other relatives died at about that age. He was seventy-eight on August 29 last.

His one extravagance was the collection of rare autographs and expensive prints.

The legislation in which, during his many years of service for the country, he took most pride was that providing for the rebuilding of William and Mary College, in Virginia, and for constructing the Mississippi jetties under Captain James Eads.

Senator Hoar declined offers of appointments as attorney general and as minister to England under Hayes, and as ambassador to that country under McKinley.

SERVED COUNTRY OVER 50 YEARS
The career of Senator George Frisbie Hoar is bound up with fifty years of the history of the country in the latter half of the nineteenth century. For at least forty years Senator Hoar occupied a central place in the affections of the republican party.

Born in Concord, Mass., seventy-eight years ago, of a family even then distinguished in the history of Massachusetts, his life from the days when he was famous as one of the ripest classical scholars ever sent out by Harvard was a record by the principals of schools and the presidents of colleges. His advice to young men was briefly as follows:

"First—Do not hurry. For those that want to work well there is time. The wise disregard bustle and hustle and place thoroughness above speed.

"Second—Remember that there is something more to live for than money. Turn from the race after the world's goods, the mad fight for greed, to the love of the higher things. You may devote yourself to the practical arts, but remember that there is something nobler to human life. Do not neglect the spiritual side.

"Third—I advise you to read some author every day. Read him so well, soak yourself so thoroughly with him, bathe in his wisdom so often that you will emerge from him as from a sparkling fountain of purity."

Some one asked Senator Hoar what he would advise men to read. "Read the lives of Thomas Jefferson, Washington, Lincoln, Wendell Phillips, John Bright, Henry George and other men that have stood for something and meant something," he said.

Probably the strongest plea ever made by Senator Hoar was for the Philippines. His speeches in the senate at the time are among the greatest ever delivered on that subject.

STARVER CAUSES A RIOT AT A FAIR
NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—A close approach to a riot has occurred at Munich, where the annual county fair is being held, says a Times dispatch from Berlin.

A professional starver caused himself to be immured in a tower and completely walled in. He was seen only through a grated window. For some reason the people came to the conclusion that the affair was a fraud. A youth led the mob to the tower, crying, "He is a faker." Stones were thrown through the window at the man's head and the police hurried to the scene, arresting the youth. They then directed masons to dig the frightened starver from the tower and prohibited further exhibitions of the kind.

IN EXECUTIVE SESSION THE CITY COUNCIL CONSIDERS METER BIDS

A special meeting of the city council was held at noon today in the office of the mayor to consider bids for 1,000 additional water meters for the city.

Following a resolution recently adopted by the council, the water works committee advertised for bids and these bids were submitted at the meeting today, the question developing into one between the Henry Worthington Company and the Neptune Meter Company, both of which now have meters in service in the city.

The bids submitted were as follows: Worthington, cash, $7, $10.50 and $14.50 respectively for 5-8 inch, 3-4 inch and one inch meters, with prices 50 cents higher on time payments. Neptune Company $8.40, $11.50 and $16.75 respectively for the same sizes, with time prices of $9.25, $12.75 and $18.25.

The National Meter Company also bid on three kinds of meters, ranging in price from $8.40 to $30.80.

After the submission of the bids by the committee, the representatives of the two companies were heard, the Worthington Company charging that the Neptune Company sold meters lower in other cities than here. This was denied by Captain Paddeck, who represented the Neptune Company and who offered to donate the entire 1,000 meters needed if the charges were $0.

On the other hand he charged that the Worthington Company had not fulfilled their contract with the city when contracts were awarded before. This was denied by the Worthington representative.

George Corr. Lower prices in the east by both companies were explained as due to freight rates.

A telegram from Illinois stating the price of Neptune meters there was quoted, by the council, the water works committee advertised for bids and these bids were submitted at the meeting today, the question developing into one between the Henry Worthington Company and the Neptune Meter Company, both of which now have meters in service in the city.

PARTLY CLOUDY

SATISFACTION ON TWO METHODS

People of Russia Forget the Tribulations of War While in Glad Acclaim They Sound Praises of New Minister

THE PAPERS SPEAK WELL

It Is Believed It Promises a New Condition of Affairs in the Government of Russia—All Agree That Elimination of Plevhe Policies Are Good

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 30, 1 p. m.—The war in the Far East has been momentarily thrown in the shade by the universal acclaim with which the Russian press this morning greets the accession of Prince Svyatopolk-Mirski to the office of minister of the interior as marking the inauguration of a liberal regime.

All papers print the minister's speech at the reception yesterday of officials at the ministry and by special authorization of the minister of the interior interview with the Associated Press with the minister at Vilna September 23. Many papers also print the emperor's manifesto. The editorials all breathe a tone of relief at the passage of the Von Plevhe regime and intense satisfaction at the dawning of brighter days.

The Novosti, Jewish organ, dwelling on the statement of the minister of the Associated Press at Vilna on the subject of the Jews, says: "Despite the Prince's modest denial he elaborated his program and his assurance is there will be larger opportunities for life and work for the Jews."

The Novoye Vremya says: "The minister's words advocating mutual confidence between the government and the people satisfy the cravings which all people of Russia have long felt, but have only been able to mutely express."

CHEFOO, Sept. 30.—A Japanese destroyer at midnight last night landed near Chefoo eighteen Chinese coolies, whom the Japanese had taken from a junk which was attempting to run the blockade and carry mail from Fort Arthur. The captured junk was burned. The Chinese say Russians disguised as Chinese were kept prisoners on the destroyer and two Chinese probably perished in the flames of the burning junk.

RUSSIAN PRESS IS TALKING OF PERIL
ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 30.—The Novoye Vremya, commenting upon the hostility shown by other powers toward Russia, says: "Russia is now carrying on two wars—the sanguinary conflict in the far east and a bloodless, diplomatic one in the courts of Europe."

The article concludes thus: "All these talks of peace conferences and intervention are simply dangerous maneuvers—flanking, turning movements, so to speak. But when the nations of the world cry out against the inhumanity of this war they must remember that we did not start it. It is unnecessary for us to shade or soften the picture of the horrors now being enacted in the far east. Let us only hope our diplomatic battle will be won ultimately as surely as the other. Bismarck, when he battled, did not fight without ultimate compensation. What it was possible for Germany to accomplish we ought to be able to do at the conclusion of the war in the Orient."

The Novosti, in a significant editorial article this morning, reviews the story of the military progress in the Orient, and says the formation of a second Manchurian army in Russia's pledge to the world that Japan shall be confined to her original frontier. The editorial calls upon the other powers to make cognizance of the "yellow peril" and agree that China must not be allowed to become a military power, but must not fall under the domination of Japan.

Sidelights on the Conduct of the National Campaign By the Managers of the Two Great Parties

DIGNITY AND A WHOOP

Chairman Cortelyou Believes in the Poise, and Eliminates All of the Horse Play—Tom Taggart Has a Smile and a Hearty Hand-Shake

(Written for The Telegram by Mark E. Few, Staff Correspondent of the Newspaper Enterprise Association.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—If the voters of the country have refused to get excited over the ensuing campaign, it is neither the fault of George B. Cortelyou or the democratic triumvirate management at New York headquarters.

Both sides are busy in their respective ways of doing things—Cortelyou as if he was the head of a commercial enterprise of magnitude and the democrats as though they were running a political campaign forty-five times as big as any state campaign. Cortelyou, in a typical, dignified way, sits in his fine offices and issues his orders, which GO.

Smiling Tom Taggart, "Blue-eyed Billy" Sheehan and August Belmont go hopping about, busy as bees, amid the confusion of their headquarters. They would only hamper progress, he says. He is a harder man to see than any bank president, hence conspicuous by their absence are the familiar figures of the long-haired, wild-eyed campaign "grifters" and cranks of time immemorial.

Cortelyou is devoting his time and energy mainly to supervising in a general way the three important factors in campaigning, organization, dissemination of the campaign message to the public through the press and from the speaker's stand and the collection and expenditure of campaign funds. He is the one who decides and he does so in a hurry.

There is no noise or scramble in the magnificently appointed offices of the republican bosses. All is done on business principles and hand shaking has been largely eliminated. Cortelyou might be the secretary of the department of commerce and labor and Cornelius N. Bliss might be running his bank and headquarters might be a composition of the two.

Things are different at democratic headquarters. Here prevails a rollicking daily excitement and booming industry which forms a remarkable contrast. Young men employed as clerks by the national committee are given to whooping rather than talking. They have their coats off regardless of dignity. There are 150 people on the two floors of the new Century building. Telephones are jangling, typewriters rattling, boys and men shouting and scurrying.

Every passage is blocked with banners and flags. Every office is crowded with politicians of high and low degree and all pressing on to some doorway which curtains a manager who must be convinced. These are the headquarters of the old-style "whoop" campaign.

Cortelyou has the poise. Taggart has the smile—that won't come-off. And they are in the same business with the same end in view. It is simply a difference of opinion as to methods.

"Katy Club"

In addition to the specially low rates made for visitors to the World's Fair at St. Louis a "Katy Club" which has been organized will run a personally conducted excursion from all points in Texas to St. Louis on October 4.

The object of this club is to make a trip to the World's Fair at the lowest possible expense. Parties going with this excursion will secure the benefit of extremely low railroad rates, rooms with first class accommodations at rates from sixty to seventy-five cents per day, have the benefit of being looked after by competent employes while in St. Louis, and otherwise enjoy benefits that can not be secured in any other way.

As the membership of the "Katy Club" is limited it is necessary that applications for accommodations and reservations be made at the earliest possible moment by applying to any ticket agent of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway, or

W. G. CRUSH,
 GENERAL PASSENGER AND TICKET AGENT.

Announcement has been made from St. Louis that at a meeting of the board of directors of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas road the resignation of President H. C. Rouse was accepted and F. N. Finney of Milwaukee elected as his successor.

Although the resignation of President Rouse has been expected for several months and came as no surprise to railroad men, the announcement of his successor was a surprise, the name of Mr. Finney not having been mentioned in this connection.

General satisfaction, however, is expressed at the choice of Mr. Finney, he being looked upon as an all-around railroad man of great ability.

Frederick Norton Finney was born in Boston, Mass., and entered the railroad profession in 1854, as rodman on the Cincinnati, Harrison and Indianapolis Short Line. He then filled the following positions in turn: Resident engineer Winnebago Railway; resident engineer, Chicago and Northwestern; first assistant engineer, Montana division, Union Pacific; resident engineer, Jamestown and Union Pacific; resident engineer, Lake Shore and Michigan; assistant superintendent and engineer of the same road; resident engineer, Pittsburg and Erie; chief engineer and general superintendent same road; general superintendent, Canada Southern; chief engineer and superintendent of the Toledo, Peoria and Warsaw; general manager of the Wisconsin Central Associated Lines and managing director of the same roads. In June of 1899 he became president of the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Northern Pacific and second vice president of the Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic and in July of the next year he became president of the Wisconsin Trust Company, which he still remains the head. In 1892 he became manager of construction of the Katy and member of the executive committee of the road.

The resignation of Mr. Rouse, it is stated, was tendered to enable him to take an extended trip through India and the Orient. His absence from this country will be for an indefinite period.

HARDING'S SUCCESSOR

The much mooted question of the successor of Russell Harding as vice president of the Missouri Pacific was settled yesterday when a circular was issued at St. Louis announcing the appointment of C. S. Clarke, who has been general manager of the Mobile and Ohio.

The circular, which was signed by George Gould and announced to be effective at once, also announces the appointment of Alexander G. Cochran as vice president in charge of legal affairs and general contract relations. Mr. Clark will have direct charge of the operating affairs.

Charles S. Clarke, who succeeds Russell Harding as vice president of the Missouri Pacific, is a native of Maryland and a son of J. C. Clarke, formerly president of the Illinois Central and the Mobile and Ohio railways, he is about 46 years of age and has been in the service of the Mobile and Ohio Railroad for fourteen years.

Mr. Clarke began his railroad career as an apprentice in the shops of the Illinois Central at Chicago and was master mechanic for the Illinois Central, and was afterward assistant superintendent of motive power and machinery for the same road. He was occupying this latter position when he was made superintendent of the Mobile division of the Mobile and Ohio Railroad in 1890; he served in this capacity until May, 1899, when, during the regime of President E. L. Russell, he was promoted to be general superintendent of the same road. He served with success in this capacity until his promotion to be general manager of the Mobile and Ohio.

A WEED BURNER

The new weed burner, recently constructed by the International and Great Northern, is being tried between here and Dallas today, by the Texas and Pacific authorities. Trainmaster C. J. Larimer of the International and Great Northern has charge of the outfit.

The burner, with its special engine, and oil car, left Fort Worth about 1 o'clock today, and is now somewhere between here and Dallas.

The "weed burner," as it is called, was constructed by the International and Great Northern railroad a few months ago, according to plans drawn up by a young draughtsman in the International and Great Northern offices in Palestine. The principle of the machine is this: Four burners are placed under a car specially constructed for the purpose. An oil tank supplies the fuel and steam from the engine sprays the oil, making a flame which passes over the ground as the car moves, completely destroying the weeds and grass. The burners are so adjusted, two in the center and two on each side, that the track is completely cleaned both inside and for a distance of about eighteen inches outside the rails.

The engine goes at the rate of about three miles per hour, according to the thickness of the grass and weeds to be destroyed.

The new burner, since its construction, has been operated successfully on the International and Great Northern lines, and it is with a view of constructing one for that road that the Texas and Pacific is making today's test. The International and Great Northern extended them the use of the burner simply as a matter of courtesy.

CHANGES IN OFFICERS

PORTLAND, Oregon, Sept. 30.—E. E. Calvin has been selected to succeed A. L. Mohler as a director of the Portland and Asiatic Company and H. F. Conley has taken the place of E. S. Benson of the same company. The board of directors is increased from seven to eight and the name of R. P. Scherwin of San Francisco is added to the list.

In the election of directors of the Oregon Railroad and Navigation Company, H. F. Connor succeeds E. S. Benson as member of the board.

Mr. Mohler retired from the board of directors and E. E. Calvin was substituted in his stead.

COLONEL JOHN L. PENNINGTON

Colonel John L. Pennington, whose resignation as live stock agent of the Frisco was recently accepted by the company, becomes effective today. Mr. Pennington has been considered in railroad circles as one of the best posted and efficient stockmen in the state and his retirement from the Frisco is deeply regretted by the higher officials of that company. Several positions have already been offered Mr. Pennington by Texas railroads, but thus far he has not accepted any of them. Mr. Pennington retires from the Frisco with the best wishes of a host of friends, particularly among the cattlemen of the state, who have dealings with him for many years. He was for a long while live stock agent for the Santa Fe and as such his acquaintance with stockmen all over the state has become extensive. It is safe to say that the colonel will not long be out of harness.

TAXES RATE HEARINGS

It is announced from Washington that all arguments have been heard in the cases before the commission regarding the raise in Texas rates during 1903, the commission hearing the statements of Judge Cowan, who was retained by them. No decision is looked for for some time.

NEW OFFICE ON SOUTHERN

W. T. Rembert, commercial agent in Dallas for the Southern Railway, has announced the appointment of J. Randall Johnson of Dallas to be soliciting agent for the road in that city. The office is a new one.

NEWMAN'S PROMOTION

Announcement is made by the St. Louis Globe-Democrat of the rise of W. H. Newman, who started railroading as a ticket agent of the Texas and Pacific, to become head of the Vanderbilt lines, effective the middle of October. Arrangements will be completed at a meeting of the Vanderbilt directors called for next week, when it is said Newman will resign the presidency of the New York Central. William C. Brown of Chicago, now vice president of the Lake Shore, will occupy a position second only to that of Mr. Newman, for upon him will devolve the active direction of the entire Vanderbilt system. His offices will be moved from Chicago to New York.

FORT WORTHITES BUY GOLD MINE IN ARIZONA

Buster Group Located South of Prescott Is to Pass to Several of This City, the Price Being Forty-Five Thousand Dollars

The sale of the Buster group of gold mines, situated south of Prescott, Ariz., reference to which was made in The Telegram some days ago, has just been consummated and the transfer of the property from H. L. Hall, the owner, to five Fort Worth residents has just been made.

Yesterday two of the purchasers, M. J. Kiley and J. S. Agler, started for the mines, where they will further investigate the property and finally conclude the deal by examining the title and making one of the payments.

The purchase price is $45,000, and is considered by mining experts to be a very reasonable one, considering the quality of the ore, which averages $14.69 to the ton in gold.

There is a new mill just erected on the property and the mines are in fine shape for immediate development. They have been producing for a long time. It is the intention of the new company to push their development from now on.

There is one tunnel which extends 210 feet into solid gold bearing ore, and the for immediate development. They have stumbled onto something very good. The deal was promoted by David Boaz of this city.

NORTH SIDE AND ROSEN HEIGHTS

Nash Furniture Company.

The main public school building of the city of North Fort Worth, situated on Fourteenth and Calhoun streets, was destroyed by fire last night. The origin of the fire is not known.

The blaze was first discovered in the belfry shortly after 10 o'clock. The volunteer fire department of North Fort Worth quickly responded to the alarm with the chemical engine, but was of no avail. The wooden structure burned rapidly and with the exception of the furniture, which was saved, but slightly damaged, was entirely destroyed.

The school building was insured for $2,700, the furniture for $300. The building was a total loss.

As a result of the fire about 400 children are without a place for school. The school board of North Fort Worth, J. J. Lydon, J. W. Burton and County Superintendent of Public Instruction Mr. H. Moore, held a meeting this morning. Mr. Moore stated to The Telegram this afternoon that some arrangement would be decided upon this afternoon. "We will either rent a building or erect a temporary structure. But whatever is done, will be done promptly."

The school building which was burned last night was to have been enlarged by another room, 30x60 feet, to accommodate the overcrowded condition. It is probable, therefore, that if a new building is built it will be a large one. Seven teachers were employed in the school.

THE BOYS PRACTICE FOOTBALL IN THE EVENING

Sans Paniel Club Members Are Endeavoring to Become Perfect in the Gridiron Play and Are Working Hard

Persons living in the neighborhood of Texas and Lamar streets were somewhat surprised last night about 8 o'clock to see a number of hatless, coatless, suspenderless and breathless young men cutting caps in the middle of the street, directly under an arc light.

Close investigation revealed, however, not a number of lunatics, as was the first supposition, but simply the Sans Paniel boys practicing football.

The Sans Paniel are determined to turn out a winning team this year. To do this conscientious practice is necessary, and as most of the members are working during the day, the night is the only time that it is possible to get together.

From eight until 9:30 last night the Sans Paniel gridiron enthusiasts tore up and down the center of Lamar street, shouting signals and orders, to the great amusement of passers by.

Any team, however, that is earnest enough to turn out under an arc light in shirt sleeves to practice, deserves to win.

THE UNIVERSITY ELEVEN

The football squad of the Fort Worth University will leave at 8:30 tonight over the Texas and Pacific for Abilene, where a game will be played tomorrow afternoon with the Simmons College team. Professors R. M. Pease and Guy Frary will have charge of the boys on the trip. The team will return to Fort Worth Sunday morning.

The following compose the squad: Mills, Lundberg, Slawson, Charbonneau, Gariard, Puckett, Borden, Payton, Gant, Nies, Talbot and Reed.

CHURCH RECORDS IN THE STONE DECAYED

Opening of the Box Sealed Twenty-Five Years Ago Proves That Water From Jerusalem Causes Trouble

WACO, Texas, Sept. 30.—While looking into the cornerstone of the Fifth Street Methodist church, which was laid a quarter of a century or more ago, for information regarding the early days of the church, hoping to find this in the form of manuscripts, church rolls, etc., a strange discovery was made. Everything which had been placed in the corner stone was entirely decayed, making it impossible to even tell what had been placed there. The faint outline of one Bible, a hymn book and an old newspaper, probably a copy of the Waco Daily Examiner, were found, but they were a mass of decay.

It was at first puzzling to account for this, but on looking about the cause was discovered. Some one had deposited in the corner stone a bottle of water from Jerusalem, thinking this an appropriate contribution to a church corner stone. The bottle had turned over in the corner stone, causing them to rot rapidly, as there was no escape for the humidity. The discovery was a great disappointment to the congregation and to Pastor M. S. Hotchkiss, as it had been hoped to retrieve a lot of early church history by opening the corner stone incident upon enlarging the church and putting in a memorial tablet. It was considered highly fortunate, however, that the discovery was made at this time, as some of the old members of the early days are still living and it will be possible to collect from them much information which was once held in the crevice of the original stone of the church. Steps will at once be taken to secure this information and place it in the memorial tablet, which is to be sealed in a few days.

A MOTHER GRIEVES FOR HER BOY NOW ABSENT

Young Man Left His Home Near Bonham and It Is Now Feared He Has Met With An Accident

BONHAM, Texas, Sept. 30.—Sam Deaton, a boy of about 16 years of age, left the home of his father, J. T. Deaton, last Sunday and has not since been heard from. It is feared that some accident has befallen the boy, as there exists no cause why he should desire to leave home. His mother is completely prostrated with grief, and is now at the point of death.

The Deatons live near Ivanhoe in Fannin county.

BOLOGNA MAKERS MAY ORDER A STRIKE

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—The bologna makers' union of Manhattan and Brooklyn has decided to strike at once if the employers do not reconsider their refusal to renew a trade agreement which expires today. At present the men are paid $1 to $15 a week for a ten-hour day. The two unions are the locals of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and have almost 1,200 members.

In view of a possible strike the delicatessen stores have been laying in large supplies to ward off a bologna famine. Many saloon keepers are similarly provided.

MEDICAL COLLEGE IS TO OPEN NEW TERM

The next term of the Fort Worth Medical College will open tomorrow morning and already a large number of young men are here to attend the school during the coming session. Some are first year men, but a large number here are those who have attended the college heretofore, and who are on their second, third and fourth year work.

The college starts off this year with new dean of the faculty, Dr. Frank Gray. Dr. Gray was elected recently, but a public announcement had been made of the matter, beyond the statement published in the catalogue.

The faculty for the coming year will be practically the same as in years previous with a few additions and changes among the corps of lecturers and demonstrators. Indeed, some of the teachers are unexcelled for technical ability and strong teaching qualities and the course given them is so thorough that not a single graduate of this school has ever failed to pass the medical examining boards of Texas or the adjoining territories.

The equipments are in every way adequate. The school owns the entire college property, free of encumbrance. The laboratories are equipped in the most thorough and complete manner with the best of foreign and American apparatus and histological and pathological specimens. The methods used for preserving its anatomical material are more successful than those used in any other southern medical college, and its bone library, the study of osteology is unequalled in the west.

The annual meeting of the faculty, the medical college will be held tonight for the purpose of making final arrangements for the opening of the school.

At the close of the meeting Dr. Frank Gray, dean of the faculty, will tender members of the faculty a banquet at the Delaware cafe.

RAISES THE TAXES OF THE PACKERS NORTH SIDE

At a meeting of the board of equalization of North Fort Worth yesterday afternoon the valuation of the packing plants of Armour and Swift, the stock yards, the Belt railway and North Fort Worth Townsite Company, was raised from $1,559,478 of last year to $2,909,000. This exceeds last year's valuation by $1,349,522 and this year's county and state valuation by $1,566,200.

The Telegram made an effort to get some information from the officials of North Fort Worth on the subject but it could not be done, as those to whom application was made refused to give out anything on the subject.

OF INTEREST TO THE STOCKMEN

Texas cattlemen who have been in the habit of grazing stuff in the Indian Territory every year are up against a rather hard proposition in that direction for the future, as the allotment of lands is believed to have sounded the death knell of the cattle business on a large scale in that country. The Territory has long afforded an annual outlet for many thousands of cattle from the state, but those good days are now over.

Rather an unusual accident happened at the Kansas City market Wednesday to a bunch of steers that were being marketed by Al Popham of Amarillo. The cattle had just been sold and were being driven up the viaduct to the weighing pens, when passing the last gate on the viaduct where the government inspectors are stationed, these officials detected a lumpy jaw in the herd and cut him back.

The cattlemen of Texas can not afford to raise cattle and sell them at the present prices," says L. H. Hilliger, a prominent ranchman of Garden City, Glasscock county. "The prices we have been getting for our cattle are so small that to pay for the time and expense of handling a bunch of calves until they get large enough for market, and the cattlemen as a whole are getting discouraged and beginning to sell out their holdings pretty cheaply."

Following is the weather record for the last twenty-four hours ending at 8 a. m., seven days previous to meridian time, Friday, September 30, 1904.

WASHINGTON INDICATIONS Arkansas—Tonight and Saturday, partly cloudy weather and probably scattered showers. Oklahoma and Indian Territory—Tonight and Saturday, scattered showers, cooler tonight. East Texas (north)—Tonight and Saturday, partly cloudy weather. East Texas (south)—Tonight and Saturday, partly cloudy weather and probably showers; light to fresh easterly winds.

self and six or eight members of the old Pan-American company, and these claim to have subscribed $300,000 gold to pay for and operate these mines. Mrs. Amelia Storms who put up large sums of money to help Dr. Flowers to exploit the Pan-American company, and who lost as much as $100,000 in the deal, is also a member of the new company.

It will be remembered that Gillett was last in Fort Worth three years ago when the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association convention was held. He brought with him a famous cowboy band from Kansas and made himself quite prominent on that occasion. Soon after this he failed for more than half a million and his creditors were among the heaviest financial companies in the west. Gillett went to Mexico and began speculating in mining properties. Dame fortune favored him and as a result he accumulated enough money in this manner to liquidate his entire indebtedness and is now a free man again.

His faithful wife aided him. She conducted one of the fashionable millinery establishments in the City of Mexico and every cent of profit above a bare living was turned over to her husband to help him in paying of creditors.

It will be good news to the friends of Mr. Gillett to learn that he is now out of the quagmire of bankruptcy and again on the road to affluence and wealth.

Today Secretary John T. Lytle of the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association received a report from Inspector T. A. Ray of Carlsbad, N. M., stating that cattle and range conditions in that territory were never better than now. Excellent rains have fallen during the month. He states that fine rains came on the 19th, 21st, 24th and 25th, and as a consequence the range is looking well and cattle getting fat. Inspector Ray states that cattle conditions in New Mexico have not been finer in many years.

Gillett, once the cattle king of Kansas and who is well known in Texas, especially among Fort Worth stockmen, states that he has succeeded in organizing a company with $3,000,000 capitalization to take over the Quebradillas Grenadana and Iquana mines of the late and now practically defunct Pan-American Mining and Smelting Company, the $15,000,000 creation of Dr. R. C. Flower of New York, who is also well known in Fort Worth.

THE RAILROAD ISSUE

The railroads have always been an issue in western politics. There are so many corrupt politicians attempting to rob the railroads that they are compelled to organize for defense; the corrupt measures they adopt are a business necessity. The railroads are compelled to buy bogus reformers who are banded together for robbery. The railroads would prefer fair rates, and peace. Fairness would cost the railroads less than the sums they now pay lobbyists and legislators. The old methods are not only dishonest and foolish, but they are expensive. The people pay the bills. The people may easily supply a remedy, by refusing to vote for any candidate who accepts the old methods; by refusing to vote for any candidate who is indebted to the old gang, and must pay in legislation opposed to the public interest.—Athol-Globe.

While there are some pretty broad assertions in the above, it must be conceded that there is more or less truth in it. The railroads are not altogether to blame for the situation, for it has to a certain extent been forced upon them all over the west. But where the railroads make their greatest blunder is in buying the pettifogging politician and fighting the common people. The Telegram has always insisted that there was a community of interest existing between the railroads and the people, from the fact that one is dependent upon the other. The people need the railroads to assist in the upbuilding and development of the country and to furnish methods of communication with outside markets. Without the railroads Texas would today be very largely in a state of primeval wilderness and suffering from a very bad case of suspended development. But the people of Texas need the railroads no worse than the railroads need the people of Texas. There must be people to make business for the railroads in order that they may earn interest on the money invested in their construction. The railway that has no people along its line to extend its patronage soon becomes what James S. Hogg once so aptly characterized as a streak of rust and a right of way.

Realizing that their interests are so nearly identical, it is rank foolishness for the people of Texas to go about with a knife up their sleeves for the railroads, or for the railroads to undertake to fight the people of Texas. While there is plenty of money behind the czar of Russia was the first man on the other side to stand up for universal peace, and the first man to provoke war. Roosevelt is not a man of peace—he eats 'em alive.

Russia appears to have come to the conclusion that she can accomplish nothing in Manchuria with the present forces in the field, and steps are being taken to put such an army in operation as will serve to crush the plucky little Japs by mere force of numbers. The indications are that the past engagements in the Far East will appear as mere child's play in comparison with what is soon coming.

There is a rumor from the north that in the event of Parker's election there is to be a place in his cabinet for Congressman Cooper. If there is to be such a consummation as that, the Tribune will take great pleasure in announcing on November 3 that Parker is elected.—Orange Tribune.

The selection of Judge Cooper for a place in the cabinet would be very gratifying to his many Texas friends. But let us safely land the president before we commence distributing the cabinet portfolios.

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered with stomach complaint for years. I got so bad that I could not carry my children but five months, then would have a miscarriage. The last time I became pregnant, my husband got me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After taking the first bottle I was relieved of the sickness of stomach, and began to feel better in every way. I continued its use and was enabled to carry my baby to maturity. I now have a nice baby girl, and can work better than I ever could before. I am like a new woman."—MRS. FRANK BEYER, 23 S. Second St., Meriden, Conn.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I was married for five years and gave birth to two premature children. After that I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it changed me from a weak, nervous woman to a strong, happy and healthy wife within seven months. Within two years a lovely little girl was born, who is the pride and joy of my household. If every woman who is cured feels as grateful and happy as I do, you must have a host of friends, for every day I bless you for the light, health and happiness Lydia E. A CAMERA OBSCURE A VICTIM

That warm-hearted and cheerful companion of summer days, the sun, was shining brilliantly into the cozy sitting-room of Mr. Pompus' rooms at Rockland-on-Sea. Mrs. Pompus, like another bright luminary, but far rosier and, if possible, more warm-hearted than Old Sol himself, sat behind the tea urn dispensing China tea in china cups. "My dear," said her stern and less substantial half suddenly, "it must be stopped."

"About 1 o'clock, I must be in then." "I've thought of a good idea," said Jimmy brightly. "Before we venture along the parade, if uncertain about the coast being clear, we'll slip into the camera obscura and get down our tent to turn the reflecting lens in every direction, so that any 'undesirable'—and he smiled—"will be thrown on to the white table. In short, we shall be able to see all who pass and who are within range without being seen."

"The deuce it is!" murmured Jimmy. "And does the old gentleman on the seat ever come in here?" asked Vera in trepidation. "Bless us, yes! He's a good customer of mine, and finds an occasional visit quite amusing."

then, Jimmy, you must get down to the beach and hide. Don't come near the town. I'll try to see you this evening at about 6 o'clock on the beach." "I shall return to town tonight," said Jimmy, "and come down again next week. I'll write you daily."

and couldn't write a book to save his life. The name of the author is Cyril Garth. "At that moment his eye caught sight of a piece of paper lying on the ground, on which was a pencil scrawl, and the writing seemed familiar. He picked it up and read: "Meet me usual place on beach tomorrow at 11—Jimmy."

"I mean that I love your daughter, sir," answered young Holmes. "You thought to deceive me, did you? I was too sharp for you!" gasped Pompus. "I traced you right down the parade, sir!" went on old Pompus, "by means of the camera obscura—followed you every movement, sir."

"There was a twinkle in Jimmy's eye as he said: "It and your daughter adopted similar tactics a few days ago." "I guessed it all along, you—you dog!" answered Mr. Pompus. "It was the morning Vera would not go to the camera obscura when I asked her."

LEANS TOO FAR FROM CAR AND IS HURT

Polytechnic College Student Is Injured While on His Way to School, Striking Supports of Front Street Viaduct

While passing under the viaduct on East Front street about 10 o'clock last night aboard a Polytechnic car, Sam H. Young, a 17-year-old student of the Polytechnic college was struck by one of the iron supports of the viaduct and hurled to the ground.

The injured boy was conveyed to Holland's drug store on Main street, between Eleventh and Twelfth, where examination showed that he had sustained two severe wounds on his head and an ugly gash on the left thigh.

Dr. Blair was the first physician to reach him. The injured boy first had a convulsion, but quickly rallied under the influence of treatment.

A few moments later Dr. J. H. McLean was called and together the two physicians dressed the boy's wounds. The patient was then taken to St. Joseph's Infirmary.

Sam H. Young is a son of Rev. Young of Callahan county. He is attending his second year at the Polytechnic, taking the literary course. His father, James Young, also a Polytechnic student, was with him at the time of the accident. The injured boy is of rugged constitution and though last night he was in a seemingly precarious condition, reports today from St. Joseph's Infirmary stated that he was conscious and there was every hope for his recovery.

Young with a crowd of Polytechnic students, who had been to the Abe Mulkey lecture at the city hall, boarded a crowded car for the college. The car was first in the open variety, and notwithstanding the fact that the board had been let down Young stood on the outside of this. The viaduct supports are about four and one-half feet from the car, but in some way the boy leaned far enough out to be struck.

Assistant Superintendent Edwards of the Northern Texas Traction Company stated that he was on the car just ahead of the one on which Young was riding. "When the car reached the Texas and Pacific station," said Mr. Edwards, "I made all persons on the left hand side of the car either get in the car or on the other side. Young must have again gotten on the left-hand side outside the board. Immediately after I left, and the accident is the result."

The supports of the viaduct are between the double tracks of the East Front street line, and the outgoing cars pass to the south of these supports. The left side of the car would, therefore, be next to the supports and on the left side no passenger is supposed to stand.

AMUSEMENTS

A small audience attended the final performance of "Darkest Russia" at Greenwall's last night. The play was well received.

MASON AND MASON

Mason and Mason in their new musical comedy success, "Fritz and Snitz," under the direction of Broadhurst & Currie, will be presented and enlivened by a strong cast, superb costumes, brilliant musical numbers and everything that goes to make up a gilt edge production, at Greenwall's opera house tonight only.

It has caught on with a cable car grip everywhere. The chorus of singing beauties, carefully trained voice and action, is one of the leading features. New songs and numbers are introduced. The special company engaged to present the play is one of the best ever organized. It includes forty talented artists and a clever chorus of singing beauties. The production is entirely new and artistic, the performers know their little book and render their several parts thoroughly and no doubt satisfy the theatrical appetites of the patrons of this theater.

ton in Frances Aymar Mathew's "Pretty Peggy" at Greenwall's opera house Saturday matinee and night, October 1, is exceptionally fortunate in being blessed with everything that is calculated to bring success. This dainty little woman has youth and beauty, talent and experience; she has a successful play and a part that fits her like the proverbial glove; she has an evenly balanced and unusually strong supporting company, and she has a modiste, "a perfect love of a dress-maker," as Miss Corcoran describes her, "an artist." Miss Corcoran has paid this woman a small fortune for the various costly frocks she wears in "Pretty Peggy." It is said. One is described as a lovely gown of white peau de soie with wide insertions of rich Irish lace. The décolletage is fringed with pearls and the short sleeves of lace are supplemented by long floating sleeves of chiffon. In her hair this "Pretty Peggy" wears a chaplet of leaves that sets off the golden brown of the soft coils and waves.

BILLY KERANDS' GEORGIA MINSTRELS

Billy Kerands and his big colored minstrels will be at Greenwall's opera house Monday matinee and night, October 2, and to all lovers of genuine minstrelsy the name of Kerands is a guarantee that all patrons will receive their money worth.

The members of this colossal company are genuine funmakers and do not have to resort to vulgarity in their efforts to please. Do not wait until the doors are open but get your tickets at once or you may have to stand up.

Of course the necessity of piece demand that some of them be given more prominence than others, but there is a satisfaction that if positions were reversed all would shine.

Opening bill Wednesday night, "Man's Devotion." Change of play each performance. Popular prices to prevail throughout engagement. Ladies admitted free on Wednesday night when accompanied by a person with a paid 30-cent ticket, if purchased before 6 p. m. Wednesday.

REV. ABE MULKEY AT CITY HALL LECTURE

Rev. Abe Mulkey spoke before a large audience at city hall last night, with "Love Manifested, or Sunshine," for his subject. There were about 600 persons present, besides about 200 pupils from the Polytechnic College, who came in a body.

Rev. Mr. Mulkey's sermon, or "Sermon," as he laughingly termed it, was simply a straightforward talk, the zest of it being that happiness is not the possession of gold or luxury, but love for Christ and man. As usual, his talk abounded in well chosen and apt quotations from those intangible graces that no one but Abe Mulkey can make.

The audience was appreciative, earnest and interested, and except for the moments when laughter filled the hall, listened intently, to every word of the speaker.

As Rev. Mr. Mulkey concluded his talk

Food for Thought There, Too

"Having found out for myself the food that enables me to get the most pleasure out of life, I consider it a duty to tell someone else my experience," says a Massachusetts woman.

"Born with a weak and sensitive stomach I suffered long with indigestion and the many pills I got from my general constipation, weakness of the bowels together with catarrhal inflammation and rheumatism of every form and fashion with a tremendous amount of suffering. I had what is known as deposits of brick dust and uric acid, with almost every other impurity of the blood which such a condition can produce.

"Coming to the conclusion that I must eat to live and not live to eat I began looking about to find the best way and among the many foods tested was Grape-Nuts. I did not use it as a general food or exclusively but simply ate it once a day either at morning or night on an empty stomach and softened in warm cream or milk with a little sugar, bread or butter or cooked or raw fruit. Up to this time I had tried every known remedy for constipation and had to rely on the medicine, although I continually got worse instead of better; within a short time the Grape-Nuts food (which always digested) had toned up my whole system and digestive organs in particular until every bit of constipation and bowel trouble disappeared and I bade good-bye to all the cathartics.

"Now after using Grape-Nuts two years I still think it delicious. My rheumatism is all gone, also the constipation, something I had never even hoped for; never have a headache nowadays; my eyesight and hearing are excellent for one of my age, but had given me much trouble while I suffered from constipation. I am now past 50 years of age but walk and enjoy it. Feel strong and well and I know the Grape-Nuts has given added vigor to my brain, too. It would be very gratifying to me to know that my letter had helped show others the way to a proper diet that has cured my stomach and bowels trouble." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

SPOOK FACTORY

You Can Buy Anything in the Way of Materialization from the Enterprising Man Who Equips Mediums

DR. FUNK EXPOSES IT

Manufacturer Gives a Price List of Spook Furniture and Tells How He Has Started Numerous Smart People in Business

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Direct intercourse with the other world is now procured by way of Chicago, according to Rev. Dr. Isaac K. Funk, head of the publishing firm of Funk & Wagnalls, and the author of the "Widow's Mite," which sets forth his own remarkable experiences spiritualistically and is regarded as the greatest work on the history of spiritualism ever published. In the October number of the Homiletic Review he tells of the manner in which a spiritualistic medium may equip himself in Chicago with everything needed in his business at prices ranging from $50 to $1,000.

For $1,000 a medium may provide himself with such paraphernalia as would make him leader of a new world wide religion in the olden days, or would have placed him in great danger of being broiled at the stake in the presence of unnumbered thousands.

Dr. Funk gives the information he has acquired with a completeness of detail which might stagger those who have regarded him as one of the leaders of spiritualistic thought in this country, were it not for the fact that he announces that nothing revealed to him concerning the Chicago factory for the manufacture of phantoms has destroyed his faith in the mediums who are really sincere and who work without Chicago accessories.

"I have known all along that there are frauds," said Dr. Funk yesterday, "and I would never hesitate to expose them. My attitude toward the psychic phenomena has not changed in the least through the disclosures concerning the Chicago salesman of mediums' supplies. Nothing could better serve the advancement of spiritualism than the weeding out of the frauds."

It was through his brother, B. F. Funk, that Dr. Funk made his investigations. A short time ago a card bearing a star and reading, "Radium—Medium's Paraphernalia," fell into the hands of Dr. Funk, and he at once sent his brother to Chicago to investigate the business of the advertiser.

The card stated that "Crowns, belts, hands, heads, veils and full-sized figures, all illuminated with the new radium light, would appear gradually, float about the room and disappear."

This sounded promising, and B. F. Funk, when he gained the confidence of the medium's supply agent, found that he could purchase anything he needed to cause a belief in the return of spirits to earth.

No orders were taken for less than $50, but for that amount one could gather together enough material to entertain a crowded room with but little exertion on the part of the operator. Some of the specialties handled by the Chicago dealers are as follows:

- Spirit hands that tap the believer on the face and float through the air. $10
- Floating cross. $5
- Materialized veil. $5
- "Little Bright Eyes," a child figure that walks out into the room and dematerializes in the center of the floor. $10
- Masked old man, smooth face. $10
- Bearded man. $10
- Old woman. $10
- Child. $10
- Negro for light comedy and "control" effects. $10
- Indian "control." $15
- Floating guitar, "dummy." $25
- "Practicable" playing religious airs. $75
- Talking baby, materializing and dematerializing. $200
- Full sized figures, materializing, dematerializing, floating, with crowns, veils and various marvelous effects from $100 to $1,000.

Mr. Funk stated that he wanted to start a young woman in the east in business as a journeyman medium, but that she wanted her to do no wrong.

"No chance of it," said the spruce, well-dressed young man in charge of the sales-room. "I have many such among my clients. It is my business to help mediums make a good show. They do not do wrong. On the contrary, they are doing a great deal of good in getting people to believe that their friends who have died are really alive. My business is to put clever people in the way of making the world happier."

Mr. Funk stated that he wanted his friend to be able to materialize human forms, hands, sparks, rays of light, musical instruments, trumpet talks, slate writing, etc. His report of the interview continues:

"He smiled at the modesty of my wish, then said: 'All this is most child's play. I provided your lady friend is apt, quick witted and has nerve. I am furnishing help after this sort to the mediums of Chicago—they all come to me; I know them all.'

"Is there no difficulty in manipulating this machinery or paraphernalia?"

"It is so simple you wonder why it is that people do not at once detect it. When you understand it, and understand the modus operandi of handling it, you will be much amused."

"How about slate writing?"

"Perfectly simple."

"With tied sites, glued and sealed?"

"Yes, oh, yes. I have laughed until my sides ached after a seance at the remembrance of how easily and completely the 4, 6, 8 (dead cases) were fooled. To see a dotting father take the materialized form of his dead child on his knee and pet it and kiss it, and then hear the little one say: 'Now, papa, I must go. I feel I am getting weak,' and then see the child slip from his lap and disappear, to the infinite surprise of all the faithful—it is more laughable than an American Artemus Ward 'wax figure' show."

"But is there no danger of getting caught?"

"No. There are 200 mediums in Chicago. How seldom you hear of an exposure."

"But I have been where I was permitted to touch the hand of a rafter. It seemed warm, as if flesh and blood."

"This seemed to amuse him greatly. Finally he said: 'Yes, it does feel precisely like flesh. But this is another phase of the business. It is all explained when the outfit is sent.'"

OPPOSE ROPING CONTESTS

Among many of the large cattle owners of the west there is a strong opposition growing up to so-called "roping contests." Humane societies are joining in the opposition, and it seems likely that the number of such contests must cease. The principal objection of the cattlemen is to the practicing that occurs on the range in which many cattle are injured by enthusiastic cowboys who are learning to be experts with the rope. The objection from the humane society, of course, is because of the cruelty to the animals.

WILL TRY EXPORTING

A prominent South Dakota cattleman who handles stockers of probably the best quality in the country, sold a string of them at $3.50 to an exporter a week ago. He promptly went to New York to secure steamer space and on his return announced that sooner than he expected his cattle at such absurd figures he would be holding out at sending them across the water in first hands.

IMPORTS FROM MEXICO

Imports of cattle from Old Mexico continue to be insignificant, but it is expected that something like 5,000 head of steers will be brought over the line this month. Imports for July consisted of thirty head of 3-year-old steers, which were taken to Arizona for slaughter. In addition to the cattle, eighty-one horses, two mules and five asses were imported, all for work purposes.

KANSAS FEEDING EXPERIMENT

The results of an interesting experiment with feeding fifty-six young steers for beef are given in Bulletin No. 134 just issued by the Fort Hayes branch of the Kansas experiment station. The calves were started on feed last December and the last of them were marketed June 21. The idea in conducting the experiment was to test the value of different foods grown on the farm.

BUYING RANGE HORSES

R. M. Heard and W. H. Mounce of Loganport, La. were here this week buying horses. They pay from $25 to $50 per head for broke horses.—Matador Maverick.

SOLD BIG STEERS

Jackson, Brothers this week sold for C. Coffee forty-seven head of 3-year-old steers to Miner & Faulkner at $25 around.—Miami Chief.

RAISING BETTER CATTLE

"There is no demand for grade bulls in my Swisher county," said J. W. Rush of Fulla, Texas, yesterday. "When I located in the county thirteen years ago there was not a registered bull in the county, and now a grade bull is a rare sight. The change from the long horned, bony cattle of a few years ago to the well-kept fancy beef stock that we are producing now is a great stride forward in the cattle line, and one which is making the Texas cattle famous everywhere."

The cowmen of that section want the very best bulls that are to be had, and in my experience in handling bulls I have found that they pick the best out of the herd and pay the top price for what they want. Many of the small ranchmen have been paying as high as $150 for bulls.

"Fewer and better cattle are being raised all over Swisher county. This is shown in the great demand for steer calves. At the present time there are very few steers in the country that are over a year old. This is the result of a good demand for our calves as soon as they are ready to take north. The improvement in our cattle is also shown in the cows that we are raising. In a string of ten cow loads that I brought up Monday, most of which were cows, the average weight was close around 900 pounds. A few years ago a cow from that country that weighed 700 pounds was considered good, and many of them were below that weight."

Mr. Rush is the owner of one of the well-kept ranches in Swisher county. After selling out his string of cattle Monday, remained here till yesterday to purchase ten head of registered cows to take back. He intends to purchase from breeders near here a few weeks later a couple of registered bulls.—Drovers' Telegram.

CLEANING THAT TERRITORY

A telegram from Guthrie, Okla., to the Dallas News said: "An active campaign was started last week by both the federal and territorial live stock officials to clean up the territory in good shape for the open season, which will again begin on December 1 and continue two months. Both Dr. Allen, the federal inspector, and R. H. Hahn, the territorial inspector, were in Canadian county the past week, examining the quarantined pastures and ascertaining if there are any herds that may be released from quarantine. Special orders have been issued for the cattlemen to thoroughly cleanse their herds and pastures, and wherever this order has not been obeyed the inspectors will compel its obedience. Secretary Tom Morris said that the territorial live stock sanitary board has recommended that the open season will begin this year, as usual, on December 1, and that in all probability that date will mark the opening. He says, also, that the department's order lifting the special quarantine against Custer county will result in great good to the cattlemen. There are still some herds under quarantine in this and Noble counties as a result of the outbreak of Texas, or splenic, fever last month; these pastures will in all probability remain under quarantine for several weeks, or until the inspectors are certain that no ticks remain thereon. Every effort is being made to keep the territory clean of infection."

SHIPPING THEIR CALVES

W. R. Bigham shipped out a car, eighty-eight head, of calves Monday. They were purchased from W. W. Johnson, P. B. Causseaux and T. W. Neil of Trent, and J. T. Warren. He also shipped out a couple of cars Friday, which were purchased from C. P. Warren. At the present rate of shipment there will hardly be a calf left in this country. No less than a dozen cars have gone out during the past two weeks.—Merkel Mail.

CALVES BRING $20

R. T. Bishop was in town Thursday and informed us that he had sold his spring calves to D. W. Black of Ohio for $20 each. Mr. Bishop breeds nothing but thoroughbred Herefords, hence he has no trouble in finding a market at a fancy price.—Tulla Standard.

HOLDING BACK CATTLE

M. C. Campbell, chairman of the Kansas live stock sanitary board, and one of the big cattlemen of that state, is here attending the railroad investigation. He thinks that we are seeing the worst of the market and that there will be a gradual improvement. "If the shippers would just hold back a little until the market could be put on a higher basis, we would have no trouble sustaining the higher prices. I am sending many of my cattle back to the range. Can't afford to give them away at present prices."—Denver Record-Stockman.

KILLING THE DOGS

Brisco county will vote on the prairie dog law next Saturday. This election was ordered by the county judge of Briscoe in response to a petition presented to the commissioners' court. This is the first move against this little pest on the plains. Hale county has very few prairie dogs and they do not seem to increase to any alarming extent here.—Hale County Herald.

OUTLOOK FOR FEEDERS

Shrewd feeders have been busy securing bargains right along. Thin cattle of all kinds are selling away below cost of production. Corn may be high but unfinished young stock has been going at a mere song. Some think the bottom has not been reached but the country is not yet satisfied that a big corn crop is unlikely. This year's fleshier stock on low prices cattle to pull him through. The fact that the number of cattle going into feed lots is much less than in recent years is the most encouraging sign for the feeder.—Breeder's Gazette.

POOR RAILROAD SERVICE

Al Bowie, the manager of the Swan Land and Cattle Company of Wyoming, is here to attend the hearing before the interstate commerce commission. Mr. Bowie is firm in the belief that the cattlemen are on the right track in seeking to have the railroad situation investigated. "In Western Wyoming we have not so much complaint to make of rates as we have of service," said he. "Our people have suffered heavily from poor railroad service, and while there has been some improvement, there is still room for more." Speaking of the market condition, Mr. Bowie said that his company would not ship heavily until market conditions were better. He is holding all of his marketable cattle and having plenty of room in shape to hold for some weeks.—Denver Record-Stockman.

Cancerous Ulcers

ROOTED IN THE BLOOD.

After the age of 45 or 50, when the vital powers are naturally weaker, it is noticed that a hurt of any kind heals slowly, and often a very insignificant scratch or bruise becomes a bad ulcer or sore. At this time of life warty growths, moles and pimples that have been on the body almost from birth begin to inflame and fester, and before very long are large eating, sloughing ulcers.

Whenever a sore or ulcer is slow in healing then you may be sure something is radically wrong with your blood. Some old taint or poison that has been slumbering there for years is beginning to assert itself, and breaks out and becomes a bad ulcer and perhaps the beginning of Cancer.

These old sores are rooted in the blood, and while washes, soaps, salves, etc., keep the surface clean, they are not healing. A blood medicine to purify and strengthen the polluted blood, and a tonic to build up the general system is what is needed, and S. S. S. is just such a remedy. No poison is so powerful and no germ so deadly that this great vegetable blood remedy cannot reach it, and ulcers of every kind quickly yield to its wonderful curative properties. Medical advice or any information you may desire will be given by our physician without charge.

Dear Sirs:—I have not words strong enough to left temple for several years. It would itch and burn and bleed, would scab over, but would never heal. The doctors pronounced it Cancer. After taking S. S. S. the sore began to disappear, and when all the poisonous matter had passed out it healed. I took in all about thirty bottles, taking it for some time after it had entirely healed. This was about ten years ago, and I have seen no sign of it since.

Gant, Audrain County, Mo. JOSEPHUS REID.

Persons traveling are often apt to forget things that is their satchels, tickets, etc. The latest "forgetting stunt" is to forget where you want to go! A man at the Texas and Pacific station yesterday actually forgot where he wanted to go. Naturally, no one could help him, and for several hours he wandered aimlessly around the station. The bright fellow who did this had to go to Oklahoma. He was on his way to Illinois, but is intended to go to a certain town in Illinois, but did not write the name of the place down and when it slipped his mind he was "up against it." The man finally boarded a train, but asked both sides to submit to him affidavits and briefs and that he would read them over at leisure. He stated that he was obliged to take this course from the fact that he was now busy with the criminal term of court and could not spare time to listen to an argument of the facts by both sides.

At 1 o'clock this afternoon Attorney Sam Canteley for the Traction Company opened the arguments to have dissolved the injunction. Referring to the St. Louis agreement, Mr. Canteley said it provided the right for the Texas and Pacific to lay its tracks through the reservation, and does not refer to the ownership of the tract of land.

Front street, he said, has been governed by the city of Fort Worth since 1885. He said that the reason for the Traction Company to construct the double track is to relieve the congestion on Front and Main streets near the Texas and Pacific depot.

The Traction Company will need only to build about two hundred feet of track to complete the double tracking of East Front street. Mr. Canteley could not see the reason why the Texas and Pacific Company should desire to build another line on the north side of Front street, between Rusk and Main streets, as it would have no connection whatever with any other track of that company.

Mr. Canteley said there is no authority by which the Texas and Pacific could assume control of the streets of Fort Worth, and that the city of Fort Worth could not delegate to the Texas and Pacific the domination and control of Front street.

Under a contract with the Texas and Pacific by the Traction Company made in 1882 the Traction Company was permitted to cross the reservation. Mr. Canteley said that if his company was permitted to pass over the reservation, property of the Texas and Pacific Company, there certainly should be no objection to the Traction Company building on a street of the city.

Judge Freeman was still arguing the question.

TRINIDAD FLOOD

DENVER, Sept. 30.—Extensive damage is reported to have been done at Trinidad, Col., last night by a flood in the Purgatoire river. All wires in the vicinity of that city are down, and communication with this city is cut off. All bridges along the river are said to have been washed away, and no trains can get in or out on the Santa Fe, the Denver and Rio Grande, and the Colorado and Southern railways.

The latest report received, before all wires were lost, said that the Santa Fe depot was washed away and that the Harvey hotel was threatened with destruction. So far as known there have been no lives lost.

Trinidad is the county seat of Las Animas county, and the center of an extensive coal mining region. The population numbers about 9,000.

At the Colorado Southern train dispatcher's office in this city it is said the last news received from Trinidad is that the city reservoir had gone out early this morning. It could not be learned whether there was loss of life or the result of the damage. A railroad man said it has been raining very heavily in the vicinity of Trinidad since Wednesday night.

THE INJUNCTION

As previously announced in The Telegram, Judge M. E. Smith of the Seventeenth judicial district court yesterday afternoon took up the injunction case of the Texas and Pacific against the Northern Texas Traction Company, wherein the former company attempts to deny the right of the latter company to use East Front street for a double track.

Judge Smith, at the outset, announced that he would not listen to arguments, as he had not the time, but asked both sides to submit to him affidavits and briefs and that he would read them over at leisure. He stated that he was obliged to take this course from the fact that he was now busy with the criminal term of court and could not spare time to listen to an argument of the facts by both sides.

At 1 o'clock this afternoon Attorney Sam Canteley for the Traction Company opened the arguments to have dissolved the injunction. Referring to the St. Louis agreement, Mr. Canteley said it provided the right for the Texas and Pacific to lay its tracks through the reservation, and does not refer to the ownership of the tract of land.

Front street, he said, has been governed by the city of Fort Worth since 1885. He said that the reason for the Traction Company to construct the double track is to relieve the congestion on Front and Main streets near the Texas and Pacific depot.

The Traction Company will need only to build about two hundred feet of track to complete the double tracking of East Front street. Mr. Canteley could not see the reason why the Texas and Pacific Company should desire to build another line on the north side of Front street, between Rusk and Main streets, as it would have no connection whatever with any other track of that company.

Mr. Canteley said there is no authority by which the Texas and Pacific could assume control of the streets of Fort Worth, and that the city of Fort Worth could not delegate to the Texas and Pacific the domination and control of Front street.

Under a contract with the Texas and Pacific by the Traction Company made in 1882 the Traction Company was permitted to cross the reservation. Mr. Canteley said that if his company was permitted to pass over the reservation, property of the Texas and Pacific Company, there certainly should be no objection to the Traction Company building on a street of the city.

Judge Freeman was still arguing the question.
