Market Quotations

NORTH FORT WORTH, Oct. 3.—Receipts of cattle today were moderately liberal. Thirty-four cars arrived for the opening of the market, with enough still on hand to make total receipts figure close around 2,500.

Offerings of steers were moderate and of medium quality. There was a good demand from packers and selling ruled active on a strong to 10c higher basis.

Butcher stock arrived in moderate numbers, and there was a demand from packers and city butchers strong enough to absorb all offerings, with selling on a strong to 10c higher basis.

Calves composed the bulk of supplies today. The quality was fairly good and, though a good demand prevailed, selling ruled slow and no better than steady with Saturday's market.

Hog receipts were fairly liberal, with cars in the pens, figuring receipts around 1,300 head. Most arrivals were from territory points, and of good quality.

Buyers came into the trade today with a bearish disposition, and took their time about making bids. Report from a good number of packers quoted lower, and when started to move, while a few sold steady, the bulk went on a 10c lower basis.

One sorted load, averaging around 225 pounds, sold at $5.90, with the bulk of sales at a range of from $5.50 to $5.85.

We Have The Names of 1,000,000 People Who Are Users of Liquezone.

All of these people asked us to buy the first bottle—a 50c bottle—and give it to them free. We did it—and we will do it for you.

There are millions of other users of whom we don't know. We learn only of those who write us. But each user tells others about it, and those others tell others. Ask your friends if they use it, and you will be surprised at the number who do.

Your own neighborhood is full of Liquezone users. Ask a few what they think of it—ask them what it does. If they say it is wonderful—that it does all we claim—then let us buy you a 50c bottle. Try it at our expense; see what it does for you. If you find it effective and needful, tell others about it, as we have told you.

Not Medicine
Liquezone is not a medicine. It is not made by compounding drugs, nor is there any alcohol in it. It is made solely from gas—largely oxygen gas—by a process requiring immense apparatus and fourteen days' time.

This product has, for more than twenty years, been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research. The object of its discoverers was to get the virtues of oxygen in stable form into the blood. Their reason was that oxygen alone can kill disease germs without harm to the living tissues.

Each cubic inch of Liquezone requires the use of 1,250 cubic inches of the gas. And that is all that goes into it—the gas, and the liquid used to absorb it. The result after fourteen days—is a germicide so certain that we publish on every bottle an offer of $1,000 for a disease germ that it can not kill.

Acts Like Oxygen
The virtue of Liquezone lies in the fact that it does what oxygen does. Oxygen is the vital part of air, the very source of vitality, the most essential element of life. Oxygen is also Nature's greatest tonic, the blood food, the nerve food, the scavenger of the blood. It is oxygen that turns the blue blood to red in the lungs. It is oxygen that eliminates the waste tissue and builds up the new. You could not live three minutes without it.

And half the sickness in the world is caused by having too little. Liquezone acts like oxygen. It gives to every nerve center just the food that it needs. It gives new power to every function of nature. It brings back vitality at once. No other known product can present month and with rather small receipts of hogs.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Dr. Magruder returned to the Hotel Arlington early today at the request of Dr. Grayson, who is expected to arrive shortly from Baltimore.

Kills All Germs
Another fact is that an excess of oxygen destroys any disease germ. The reason is that germs are vegetables; and an excess of oxygen—the very life of an animal—is deadly to vegetable matter.

Germ Diseases
We give here a list of the known germ diseases. Each of these diseases is caused by germ attacks, or by poisons which germs create. A cure can come only through killing the germs.

We Paid $100,000

compare with it as a vitalizer. And Liquezone is the only tonic that never leads to reaction.

Liquezone for two years through physicians and hospitals in this country and others. We tried it in all kinds of germ diseases, in thousands of the most difficult cases obtainable. We saw it cure hundreds of sick ones with whom everything else had failed.

Each of those 1,800,000 people suffered from a germ disease. Ask some of them if Liquezone cured them—if it destroyed the germs. Ask if they advise you to take Liquezone, then do as they say.

Millions of people use Liquezone constantly. Yet we have never asked a person to buy it. We have asked them only to let us buy the first bottle—just as we ask you. They have continued its use because of what Liquezone did for them—just as you would. Won't you—for your own sake—be one of those millions? Won't you write for a bottle today?

pair the damage done, and restores a condition of perfect health. Diseases which have resisted medicine for years yield at once to Liquezone. And it cures diseases which medicine never cures.

It will introduce to you a product better than anything else in the world for you. Liquezone costs 50c and $1.

WAR ON UNION LABOR

Two big trusts with headquarters in Chicago have begun an open war on union labor. They are the International Harvester Company, employing 12,000 men, and the Pullman Company, employing 7,000 men. The tenth day of September was the time when annual contracts with union labor should have been renewed, but at that time these plants shut down, telling the surprised employees that it was necessary in order to make some repairs. But the plants all opened up for business again on September 26, with wages and conditions distinctly unfavorable to labor. The Pullman Company announced a reduction in wages ranging from 19 to 29 per cent. The Harvester Company announced an increase in time of one hour without any increase in wages.

A high wire fence has been built around the Pullman works and armed guards are stationed at the gates. The men have returned to work, pending action to be taken by their unions. The Pullman Company announces that in the future it will ignore all unions. The manager of the Harvester Company says: "Hereafter we will not enter into any agreement with any union or make any contract with them. Hereafter we will have no conferences with unions."

It is just such action as this that will precipitate the long expected final conflict between capital and labor. When capital is able through its control of the situation to enter into combinations to bring things its own way, it must expect labor to organize for its own protection. The threat to have nothing further to do with labor organizations is a spirit born of that lordly arrogance that comes from the belief that they have the world by the tail and a down-hill pull. It is but the natural result of their fancied control of the situation and also evinces a willingness to grind into dust everything that comes to their mill. Grown powerful under the fostering influence of the republican party, the trusts are now just beginning to show their hand.

Fortunately, they have shown it in time for the laboring men of the country to see and understand that their hope for the future lies in the democratic party. The republican party is the party of the corporations which seeks to enslave them.

THE PHILIPPINES

There are many people in the United States who believe that this government should forever retain the Philippines, while others contend that our duty in the premises is to bestow upon them the blessings of a government of their own at the very earliest practical moment. The diversity of sentiment on this subject very nearly represents the attitude of the two great political parties of this country on the question. It is believed the republican party has no desire or intention to relinquish the islands, but purposes to hold them just as long as it is possible to do so in order that soft berths may be provided for its henchmen. The attitude of the democracy is well represented in the following expressions from Judge Parker in his letter of acceptance: "In some quarters it has been assumed that in the discussion of the Philippine question in my response the phrase 'self-government' was intended to mean something less than independence. It was not intended that it should be understood to mean, nor do I think as used it does mean less than independence. "However, to eliminate all possibility for conjecture I now state that I am in hearty accord with that plank in our platform that favors doing for the Philippines what we have already done for the Cubans, and I favor making the promise to them now that we will take such action as soon as they are reasonably prepared for it. "If independence such as the Cubans enjoy can not be prudently granted to the Philippines at this time, the promise that it shall come the moment they are capable of receiving it will tend to stimulate rather than hinder their development. And this should be done not only in justice to the Filipinos, but to preserve our own rights, for a free people can not withhold freedom from another people and themselves remain free. This toleration of tyranny over others will soon breed contempt for freedom and self-government and weaken our power of resistance to insidious usurpation of our constitutional rights. "The republican view of the situation is well reflected in the following extract from a letter written President Roosevelt by Governor Wright, from the islands: "I may say to you as a matter of information that the agitation in the United States for Filipino independence, and spoken and written utterances of prominent men there who are urging it, are all brought here and published in native newspapers, and are being made the text of editorials insisting that the Filipino people are now ready to become an independent nation. "The effect of all this is distinctly injurious. Its tendency is to restore the influence of the old insurrection leaders and make them active in preaching the old propaganda. This in turn has the effect of demoralizing and weakening more the conservative and thoughtful Filipino people, who fear if they speak out as they really think they would be considered enemies of their people and lose their prestige with them. "In other words, Governor Wright would suppress all discussion of Filipino independence as calculated to make the people too anxious for that blessing to which all of God's people are entitled. If there is to be any discussion of the proposition, there must be a hole bored in the ground and the thought whispered into the bosom of Old Mother Earth, as was the secret of the infirmity of King Midas. "As a matter of fact, the discussion of independence by the Filipinos is in itself something of an indication that they are getting ready for it. It is certainly a harsh proceeding that while denying these people the blessings of independence would also refuse them even the privilege of discussing it as a remote possibility. The mission of the United States in the occupancy of the islands is not to make slaves of its people, but to carry to them the blessing for which they have been contending since the country first came into the possession of Spain. We have no use for the islands except to liberate its people. The Telegram believes the hand of God was in the act that sent us to that country, and it was for a specific purpose. When that purpose is accomplished our duty in the premises is at an end. Liberty and independence is what we must give them.

COMMENDS CAPTAIN LOYD

Captain Loyd of Fort Worth paid into the city treasury $79 for seventy-nine homeless dogs. Well, A Locker On tips his hat to Captain Loyd. The dog never snarls at his benefactor, and never goes back on a friend. He has intelligence of a high order, can scent an enemy a mile off, doesn't eat onions, chew plug tobacco, or smoke cigarettes. Give the dog a chance. You may be a stray dog yourself some day for all the world to kick. Captain Loyd's seventy-nine dollars did more good than seventy-nine dollars worth of beads and red flannel would do for the barbaric natives of the African jungle. There are different types of dogs just as there are different types of men, and for every type of man there is a dog to go with him, from the fierce bull, who has a face like a bruiser, to the Italian greyhound with a sharp nose and soulful eyes like the man who is taken along to put up swings for children at a Sunday school picnic. Never kick a dog when there's a man that needs kicking on the next corner. One of Outlaw's gods killed a man and shot a dog. He was sorry for the last and exulted over the first years afterward. The man deserved what he received and the dog didn't. Then why should the dog be harassed? Why should the expression be tolerated, "as cowardly as a cur"? Who ever saw a cowardly cur? There are men who are white-livered, but there are no cowards in the dog family—and no sneaks. There's where they have the best of the human family. Captain Loyd has won the good opinion of dog lovers the world over.

THE REPORT COMES FROM WASHINGTON

The report comes from Washington that the republicans are now using the rural mail routes as a method of disseminating their campaign literature. Carriers are being appointed who will do campaign work as well as deliver mail. Apostle Dowle now announces that he is going to travel on a snow white mule, just as the apostles did in ye olden time, and if he had said he intended to continue to do execution with the jawbone of an ass, the world would readily accept the statement. Governor Durbin of Indiana says the democrats have already sent the sum of $400,000 into that state to "corrupt its republicans." The action of Governor Durbin in continuing to harbor Taylor, the murderer of Governor Goebel of Kentucky, shows that "his republicans" are not incorruptible.

Gleanings From the Exchanges

The United States government is spending thirty times as much on the army and navy as on the department of agriculture. How can any sane man get his consent to vote to continue an administration responsible for such inequality? We do not need large standing armies. Judge Parker answered completely every argument for the necessity of fostering a martial spirit by pointing to the examples of heroism in the Civil war. The American people neither want nor need foreign conquest, but they are instantly ready to defend their homes against any invading enemy.—Belton Journal-Reporter. The United States government is rapidly becoming all that its founders would not have had it be. Under the Roosevelt idea, agriculture and everything else must take second place to a display of force and power that will carry connotation into European camps. We are a world power, and from now on we must meddle into the affairs of all other nations. Two street car lines got to scuffling with each other in Fort Worth this week about which should lay a track in front of the union station. In the meantime the Texas and Pacific Railway stepped in and secured an injunction against both of them using the street. It puts one in mind of the old anecdote.—Memphis Herald. And the Texas and Pacific was knocked out in the first round. The city of Fort Worth is still in control of her streets. A prosperity quartet, to sing campaign songs, has been organized in Western New York. The members wear the costume supposed to be identical with that of the quartet. One man carries a monkey wrench, another a saw, the third strikes a hammer upon an anvil, and the fourth flourishes a horseshoe.—Corsicana Sun. It is presumed that the quartet sings such charming little ditties as "The Cow Jumped Over the Moon," to explain the high price of meat, and "In This Wheat Bye and Bye," to cover the present cost of bread. All that is needed to convince the public of prosperity is to have it sung at them by a republican political quartet. The reduction of wages along with the refusal of the big factories to longer recognize the unions will tend to strengthen the sentiment that without unions the laborer is at the mercy of the corporations. Where wages are maintained while the unions are rejected the corporations trench themselves; but the northern factories are not pursuing that course.—San Antonio Gazette. The big trusts are all shaping up to give union labor the fight of its life, and in the manufacturing districts will force all employees to vote the republican ticket in November, thus fastening more chains around the necks of those they are seeking to destroy. Those young men who were prosecuted the other day because they mistreated some young ladies whom they took for a drive richly deserve their punishment. But the young ladies are not blameless. They were old enough to know better than to go buggy riding with young men on short acquaintance.—Mineral Wells Index. Young ladies are often so innocent as to suspect nothing but proper treatment from an escort of which they know but little, and should not be blamed except for their innocence. The scoundrels who insulted them were also old enough to know better, and realize fully that there is usually shot-gun treatment in store for reptiles of their class. Governor Latham denies that he is figuring on Joe Bailey's place and the governor can be relied on to speak the truth. Brother James Hoag has not yet made any declarations in the hearing of the News.—Paris News. Governor Hoag has stated, repeatedly, that he is a candidate for no office within the gift of the people of Texas, and he is no doubt sincere in the assertion. But he has some measures in his vest pocket which will be placed before the people at the proper juncture, and these explain Jim Hoag's interest in Texas politics. The tax rolls of Tarrant county show an increase over last year of over two million dollars in taxable wealth. This is proof that Tarrant county is up and doing.—Tyler Courier. Tarrant county is always up and doing, and can be depended upon to show the balance of the state a clean pair of heels in all matters relating to material progress and development. That is a way Tarrant county has. When Sockless Simpson and Whiskers Pfeffer trotted in Kansas harness as twin travelers on the populist highway, who would have thought that they would soon be on opposite sides of the great divide, one a rampant democrat trying for office again in one of the territories, and the other a stalwart republican, returned again to his former political allegiance. Pfeffer is once again in line with his state, which is dead set republican, while Simpson is out of contact with everything. Having turned his coat for office Simpson finds himself outside of the breast-works. The whole populist west is out of harmony with the democracy of today.—San Antonio Light. Jerry Simpson's political acrobatics merely serve to show that he is devoted to principle and would incidentally accept some pie. Pfeffer, on the contrary, is devoted to pie without much regard for principle. The fact he has turned republican shows his devotion to pie is his strongest characteristic. H. L. Bentley of Abilene was here Saturday to have a "heart-to-heart" talk with a few of his populist brethren. He had made his appointment by a secret circular letter to "a few" of the brethren in the inner circle. He was to meet these brethren at 10:30 in Comanche, September 24. A "few" of the brethren came, and after slipping around mysteriously, met Brother Bentley. The circular letter says: "Brother Bentley will hold conferences with old guard populists in about twenty-five counties in different sections of the state and have heart-to-heart talks with them.—Comanche Chief. The old guard is all dead. Brother Bentley is only amusing himself by scurrying around among the tombs and communing with the spirits of the dead departed. Mr. Boll Weevil is doubtless very much chagrined because he could not destroy the Texas cotton crop this year, and is compelled to witness the stirring scenes in cotton patches and about the gins. It's "Texas" way. She has outwitted the cutest bug of them all.—Waco Times-Herald. The Texas cotton crop was too much for the boll weevil this season, and distanced him just as the weevil got away from the Guatemala ants. Next year it may be different, however, as the weevil is constantly invading new territory. THE ENGAGEMENT OF THE MARQUIS DE NOE

By A. C. ROWSEY. "Det ez most lamentable," Jules Garonne, late foreign editor of the Star, ejaculated, as he stared pensively from his bed at the door of his studio, which was reverberating with raps. "Eet ez zee wash, non? Eet ez zee tailor? Zee landlord, yes? Pour-pou? Eet ez a bad habit." And the rapping continued. Jules Garonne, lazily toiled, went to the door. Outside a cable messenger stood with a cablegram. Throwing a blanket around his shoulders, Jules Garonne sat down tranquilly to open the envelope. "Eet ez la mere; yes, my return she wishes," he mused. But the instant his eyes lighted on the words his expression changed. For five minutes he sat thoughtful, and then he went to the mirror over his dressing case. "Le Marquis de Noe," he said, bowing gravely. were here last night; can't you get them to take you back—or get another place or something?" "Eet ez nussing," quoth the late foreign editor, gayly. "But, dear, how can we marry? And how could we live if we did? I just know if you can persuade that nasty old editor he ought to keep you all summer." "Wiz zat office I will never be more," said Jules Garonne, gayly. Then he sighed pathetically. "And you must lose. You cannot marry poor Jules. Non nevar; most certainment." Then the dapper little man turned smiling away and was gone before she could collect her thoughts. Humming softly to himself, the late foreign editor was collecting his belongings from his desk in the Star office an hour later, when in hurried the city editor with a dispatch in his hand. "Jules, can you get us up a story about this?" he asked. He thrust the cablegram into the reluctant hands of the dapper little man. The five feet five inches of French aristocracy drew itself up rigidly. "Oh, I know you are off the sheet, but we have got to have a story about the engagement of this Marquis de Noe to a ballet girl at the Comedie Francaise. Who the devil is he, anyway? Some young fool, I suppose. But it is a good story, anyway." The late foreign editor relaxed his dignity and the quaint little smile came about his lips again. "It is that you wish a story about the engagement of the Marquis de Noe?" he asked. Answering himself, he concluded: "Then it is that I will write the story of the engagement of the Marquis de Noe." It was a much bewildered and wholly disgusted editor who finished reading the story of the engagement of the Marquis de Noe an hour later. After the late foreign editor had drifted languidly out of the office. "That blamed Frenchman has gone completely off his nut," he shouted to the managing editor. "This farewell stunt of his is about the dirtiest piece of work I ever heard of. I sent in twice for his lead, but he kept refusing, and now that we are ready to go to press he sends out two columns of a roast on someone in the shop. Calls me a vermillion-haired ass, and says you are decorated with a face designed to scare little children."

Lucy Gray, 18, china painter, with tears streaming from her blue eyes, worked stubbornly at outlining fat cupid on a saucer for a wedding gift of china. Jules had often been blue, she told herself. But there was too much flippancy about his morning declaration that they could not marry. He did not seem to care any more, and Lucy cried "some more." She was enjoying herself miserably when a thundering rap sounded on the studio door. "The Duchess of Rouville?" she spelled out, after staring at the card the liveried footman had handed her. "Well, what can I do for her?" "She wishes me to leave her card, and begs you to accept her congratulations," replied the footman. "Oh! thanks very much." The footman bowed and departed, leaving Lucy dazed. "The Countess of Savoy," she read on a card that arrived four minutes later with precisely the same message. "I wonder if I am dreaming?" She had been staring at a table filled with the cards of some of the most distinguished women of the diplomatic circle of Washington. Then there came another knock on the door. Lucy's lips tightened with decision. "Now, you ask your mistress to come right up here," she told the footman. "The Countess is feeble, madame; it was only with great effort that she was able to ride out to call today. She begs to be excused." "Very well! I'll get at the bottom of this," declared Lucy, and the next moment she was running down the stairs, and presently, still wearing the paint-stained apron, she stood by the side of the immense automobile. "Now, madame, if this is all a joke, I think it is rather poor taste," she declared, hastily. "Joke?" The aristocratic eyebrows of the austere old widow in the machine raised. I don't understand you, my dear." The Marquis informed me of his engagement only this afternoon, else I would have been here before. I trust you will be very happy." "I am engaged to Jules Garonne. I don't know any Marquis. I don't want to know any—Oh, Jules, I am so glad you came." For the late foreign editor had sauntered up, smiling his quaint little smile. "Miss Gray has been denying her engagement, Marquis," began the

A snappy, well played game of ball was pulled off at Haines' Park yesterday when picked teams of Fort Worth and Dallas professionals.

Not a run was made until the seventh inning, when the Fort Worth men began a hitting bee which did not stop until four men had crossed the home plate. Besides these four no other runs were made.

The feature of the game was a triple play in the eighth inning. A large crowd attended the game. Score:

LITTLE CATTLE MOVING
L. B. Comer, live stock agent of the ment of cattle to market was very light.

"It is due principally to the existing cattle," said Mr. Comer, who added that Texas cattlemen, on account of the above conditions, were amply able to hold their stock indefinitely.

WEATHER FORECAST
Clear and hot with no rain was the condition of the weather throughout Texas yesterday and this morning. The mercury went as high as 100 at Huntsville. The general high temperature throughout the state is phenomenal considering the time of year.

WEATHER CONDITIONS
D. S. Landis issued the following statement of weather conditions this morning:
The barometer reads high over the northeast quarter of the country, with clear cool weather, and frost about the lake regions. Low barometer is noted in the upper Missouri valley, with cloudy conditions in the upper Mississippi valley.

YESTERDAY BY

Blue Laws Enforced With the Greatest Strictness Yesterday—To Celebrate Reagan's Birthday Appropriately

TEMPLE, TEXAS, Oct. 2.—Sunday was a very dry day in Temple, both from an atmospheric and a personal standpoint.
It was the occasion of the resuscitation of the Sunday closing movement that had reposed in a comatose state for some months past. The town was full of cotton pickers and people from the country yesterday, the streets being literally thronged with people, all of whom seemed to have loose change in their pockets. No opportunity was afforded them to spend their money.

Sunday, while waiting for Monday sun-up to come around, the special guardians of public morals, having gotten busy and at a late hour Justice of the Peace E. I.
Hill passed the order down the line that after 2 o'clock Sunday morning in accordance with the statute in such cases, made and provided, the only thing that would not resemble contraband of war in his eyes was ice cream.

The amusing part of the affair was to witness the thriving operations carried on by the cold storage houses or "chubs," if indications were any good from an outside observation. Budweiser and its kindred passed muster and evidently could not be touched by the cold process of the law.

Temple has seen Sunday closing waves rise before, and their usual subsidence at the end of two weeks, but this time it is wondering just how long it will last.

The officials of the Texas and Pacific road at this point are confronted with a new and serious proposition in regard to the handling of the large freight business in the local yards, owing to the fact that since the installation and operation of the new interlocker they find that to have the plant successfully operated the tracks formerly used as storage tracks for cars must now be kept clear for the tower operators to have a clear view of the entire yards.

SATCHEL'S LONG TRIP
Several weeks ago, while at the Union Station in St. Louis, Caldwell Rylander of Temple, nominee of the democratic party for county clerk of Bell county, had the misfortune to misplace his hand satchel and was unable to find it before it became necessary to continue his trip. He has energetically traced the missing article, however, and a few days ago was notified that it had been found in a Pullman car at San Francisco, the very car in which Mr. Rylander had left it. The satchel had made the long trip without attracting attention, every one viewing it probably concluding that it belonged to some other passenger. Yesterday the express company delivered the grip to its owner, who found it in excellent condition and none the worse for its long journey. The amount of express charges on same, however, was another story.

George R. Stuart, the evangelist, made an interesting and instructive talk before the students of the Polytechnic college yesterday afternoon, his subject being "The Opportunity of Making a Man."
The auditorium of the school was crowded to its limits by the large audience present.
Rev. Stuart spoke of success in life and gave several examples of how young men and young women made their marks in the world as a result of perseverance and righteousness.
President Boaz of the Polytechnic college said this morning that he was much gratified that the students were able to hear such a talk.

RAILROAD NEWS

Arthur E. Stillwell, president of the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient road, states that by the last of February next he expects to have trains running over nearly seven hundred miles. The company expects to lease two short strips of road belonging to the Texas and Pacific east of Sweetwater, Texas, 167 miles in length, and 259 miles of track of the Chihuahua and Pacific. Every mile of the entire system has been located and at the end of the rainy season the Republic construction along the entire route will be promptly resumed.

It was predicted that the company would experience great difficulty in finding a feasible route across the Sierra Madre, but President Stillwell states that after a great amount of money has been expended in making surveys across that section of country a direct feasible route has been found. It is a 2 1/2 per cent grade.

The line has been finally located a considerable distance west and east from Chihuahua and east from Topolobampo to La Junta. On these sections much construction work has been done. East of Chihuahua for fifty or sixty kilometers the road is in operation, and the grading and masonry work has been completed as far as Minaca, a distance of sixty-five kilometers. On the section from La Junta to the coast work will be commenced. From the coast to Las Homillas the road is now under operation and the grading has been done as far as San Javiere.

It is that part of the country between Minaca and San Javiere that has given the engineering department of this company trouble. That section of Mexico extends the great natural barrier that has caused so many railroads to stop their march toward the Pacific. Almost four years ago the Stillwell people began the work of searching for openings that would permit of the extension of the proposed road from Kansas City to a port that would offer an exit toward the Orient. The first line that was run entirely through the district, it seemed for a time, would be the route selected. It was run on the theory that the most feasible route would be that selected by the country's waterways in its widening course to the sea. That route has been abandoned for one that follows a ridge, practically parallel to that followed by the waterway.

It is stated that the altitude along the selected route through the Sierra Madres at any place is not to exceed 8,000 feet, the grade not materially heavier and the route but little less direct.
This route will, however, prove to be the hardest to build and will be left to the last. Its completion will be the completing of the Orient system.

FLOOD CONDITIONS

According to information received at general headquarters of the Fort Worth and Denver City Railway Company, General Superintendent Dolan, the company has secured mastery over the flood situation at the Canadian river, where some 60 feet of the bridge which spans that treacherous river were washed away.
Superintendent Dolan has been at the scene since the inception of the high water troubles, superintending the work of two large bridge forces, who have been working continuously night and day since the bridge went out by the force of the waters. He advises that up to last night nine bents had been put in, and that by today an additional 150 feet of the bridge would be repaired.

Information is also received from him that by tomorrow morning the repairs will be at such a stage as to permit trains to pass over the river.

It is thought at the general superintendent's office today that the passenger train, which left Fort Worth this morning will be able to go on through to Denver without interference.

The Canadian river yesterday reached the highest stage in many years. It was at the twenty-foot mark, but it is believed here that there will be no further trouble to the Denver road.

The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific bridge over the Canadian river was also washed out, interfering with traffic from points north of Logan, N. M.
As Chicago and Texas are headquarters for this road, very little information of the high water troubles is reported to Rock Island headquarters here.
It is said here, however, that repairs are being pushed as rapidly as possible.

DISCONTINUED TRAINS

At the Denver road headquarters this morning it was announced that on October 16 trains Nos. 7 and 8, used during the rush of summer tourist travel from Texas to Colorado points, will be discontinued north of Amarillo on account of the end of the tourist season having been reached.
Trains Nos. 1 and 2, however, will continue on the prevailing schedule between Fort Worth and Amarillo.

OFFICIAL CIRCULAR RECEIVED

The official circular issued from the office of Chairman Henry C. Rouse, announcing the appointment of Frederick N. Finney as president of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company, has been received at local office of the company. All officials reporting to Mr. Rouse are directed in the circular to report to Mr. Finney after October 1, at which

PENSION INCREASE TO BE SOUGHT BY VETERANS

Celebration of Davis' Birthday as Holiday Will Also Be Brought Before the Next State Legislature

The attendance on yesterday's meeting of the United Confederate Veterans, was very small. In the absence of Chaplain J. I. Wright Comrade Curtis opened the proceedings with prayer.

A report of the proceedings of a former meeting were read by Assistant Adjutant Ball and adopted. There was objection to the resolution passed by the camp a week ago Sunday, providing that all resolutions be submitted to a committee before going to the camp, proper.

In the party were: Joseph Buchanan of Rockford, Ill.; George Staff of Roscoe, Ill.; Phillip Atwood of Roscoe, Ill.; Art Little of Rockford, Ill.; Andrew J. McHenry of Rockford, Ill.; J. H. King of Rockford, Ill.; D. Lyford of Rockford, Ill.; Joseph Atwood of Roscoe, Ill.; G. H. Halford of Bingham, Ill.; and R. F. Rex of Bloomington, Ill.

Another matter that will be laid before the legislature by the legislative committee of the Confederate Veterans of Texas will be an act to make a legal holiday of Jeff Davis' birthday anniversary.

THE SONS' MEETING The first meeting of the Sons held in some weeks was well attended yesterday. Commander Booth presided.

Commander-in-chief N. R. Tisdal announced the appointment of W. P. Stone of Waco as a member of the committee to draft a memorial to the legislature to make Jeff Davis' birthday a legal holiday in Texas.

An interesting musical program was rendered. Miss Cartwright of Amarillo was present and rendered a piano solo. The Illinois delegation, who are in the state prospecting, were introduced to the camp. Several of them made impromptu addresses.

Misses Nona Leach and Alice Robinson were named a committee to arrange a program to be rendered at next Saturday's meeting.

Forest Bedford, one of the Illinois party, was invited to entertain the camp and he did so by reciting a couple of selections, which were well received.

AMUSEMENTS RINGLING BROTHERS CIRCUS Friday, October 14, is the day fixed for the exhibition of the Ringling Brothers' world's greatest shows in Fort Worth.

A CONFERENCE OF REPUBLICANS Candidate for Governor Here on Return From Meeting at Dallas

Hon. John G. Lowdon of Abilene, republican candidate for governor, was in the city last night on his way home from Dallas, where he had been in conference with managers of the state republican headquarters.

He left last night over the Texas and Pacific for Abilene. While Mr. Lowdon was reticent as to what is being done by republicans in Texas, it is understood much effective work is being had by the party managers in the various doubtful congressional districts.

Asked regarding the story printed in The Telegram referring to a report that a combination has been entered into between the republicans and populists in an effort to carry several congressional districts for the republicans, Mr. Lowdon evaded the question and did not care to discuss the matter.

It is understood, however, that such a deal has been made.

WOMEN'S VOTE AN IMPORTANT ITEM Expected to Be the Heaviest Ever Cast, in Coming Presidential Election and May Decide the Issue

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—Women of the west this year will figure in the presidential campaign as they never have figured before, and according to dispatches from Denver, Salt Lake City and Cheyenne, Wyo., their vote will be the heaviest ever cast.

In Colorado the women's vote is expected to be increased, but the men of both parties are said to be trying to discourage them from taking sides in the state campaign, which is a complicated fight.

In Wyoming the vote nominally is six women to ten men. It is expected that the ratio probably will be increased, nine to ten.

In Utah the Mormon elders are urging the women to vote for Roosevelt on the plea that if he is elected Senator Smoot will retain his seat. The vote of the Gentile women in Idaho probably will offset the vote in Utah, for politics in the two states has resolved itself into a fight for and against the Mormon church.

THE CROPS IN TEXAS Professor Curtis of the United States agricultural department has just completed a tour over the state of the various co-operative farms, which were so closely watched by the government experts during the season.

The yield of cotton about Cleburne is much better than was anticipated. Fields which were expected to produce a fourth of a bale or less are yielding much more than this, as shown by the first pickings, and some of it will make a half bale to the acre.

Cotton about Cooper is still fruiting, except on very poor land. Nearly half of the crop has already been gathered and about seven-eighths of that remaining has opened. The yield taken as an average has been almost 10 per cent better than last year to the acre.

On Thursday and Friday of this week the convention of the Fruit and Truck Growers' Association of the state was held at Tyler. Great interest is being manifested in the meeting by truck growers and fruit men from all over the state and it is expected the attendance will be very large.

Saturday at Temple was a great day. Premiums were distributed for cotton brought to that market. Farmers' wagons could be seen unloading cotton pickers brought to town to see the sights. The farms were almost deserted during the day and no work in the fields was done. All had a good time and the merchants did the biggest business of any day of the year.

The meeting of the Cotton Growers' Association, which has just closed in St. Louis, endorsed the plan of warehousing cotton, as suggested by Waco cotton growers and merchants. The plan after careful investigation was found to be a very feasible one.

3 Cash Prizes to Careful Observers

To stimulate interest in the Telegram classified pages, three prizes of $1.00 each are going to be awarded EVERY WEEK to the three persons who will each week find certain misspelled words on this page in one of the seven issues of each week. Only the business manager of the paper will know on what day the words will be misspelled. It may be Monday, it may be Tuesday, it may be Wednesday or Thursday or Friday, Saturday or Sunday. The misspelled words will appear only on one day of each week. New prizes will be awarded every week. The three who get correct answers to the paper first will receive the awards. There may be two words or names misspelled. There may be three or even four. Maybe more. No one will know except the business manager and none but him will know what the words are. Watch the Want Page every day, commencing next Sunday, KEEP YOUR EYES OPEN. YOU

October 2. If you think that is the day read the ads on the want page very carefully. If it isn't, read Monday's paper carefully. If that is not the lucky day try Tuesday, and so on through the week until the right day turns up. It won't take you long to run over the ads every evening. When the right day comes around write a letter to the Contest Editor and tell him what you think the errors are. Mark the envelope "For The Contest Editor of The Telegram," and either bring or send it to The Telegram office. As each envelope is received it will be immediately numbered. The first three envelopes containing the correct answers will entitle the owners to the three prizes of One Dollar each. Each contest closes Saturday at 6 o'clock p. m. Each contest will begin with the Sunday morning paper and runs through the seven issues of the week. Telegram employees or members of their families not allowed to compete. MAY WIN A DOLLAR EASILY.

cher County Dispatch, is here for several days taking medical treatment. Byron Miller returned last evening from Mineral Wells, where he has been the past two weeks.

T. Tomlinson and wife of Big Springs visited in the city Sunday evening on their way from St. Louis. Miss Fannie Yeates, 1418 Cooper street, is entertaining Misses Mann of Mansfield and Cartwright of Amarillo.

The members of the Ninety-Three Club are meeting in the parlors of the Carnegie library building this afternoon. Mrs. Ben Harris and Mrs. W. C. Preston arrived today from Bay View, Mich., where they have been visiting for the past three months.

The city's fire engine No. 3 was used this morning to pump a large amount of water which had accumulated in the basement of the new building at 454 and 456 Main street. Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Ramsay of Dundee, Scotland, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gordon, 903 Cannon avenue.

Mr. Walter O. Donnell has almost completed his last class in physical culture. If you wish to join send address to Worth Hotel. All classes will start in a few days. 'Coming events cast their shadows before' but the 'coming events' in your store will not cast their shadows very far unless they are effectively advertised in advance.

Rev. F. O. Fannon will deliver a sermon tonight at the Christian Tabernacle on the subject of 'World-Wide Evangelization.' Services will be held through the week. The engagement of Miss Lizzie Halpern, daughter of Rabbi Halpern of the Orthodox Jewish congregation, to Mr. Abe Swartz was announced yesterday at the rabbi's home on First street. Ladies Organize a class in physical culture. Several have done so. Mr. Walter O'Donnell will instruct you at your place of meeting. Only a few more days remain before the classes start. For further information send address or phone to the Hotel Worth.

An excursion party of eight coaches from Parsons, Kan., over the Katy, passed through Fort Worth last night at 10:30 bound for Galveston over the Katy. Rev. D. C. Limbaugh, minister of the Unitarian congregation of Fort Worth, delivered two fine sermons at the Spiritualist Temple on Sunday. During the heated period no services have been held.

'New Thought' was the subject of an eloquent sermon by Rev. B. F. Wilson of Oakland, Cal., a prominent socialist lecturer, at the city hall Sunday afternoon. A number turned out to hear the gentleman. The missionary meeting and social planned for Tuesday afternoon at the Christian Tabernacle has been postponed until the same time of the following week owing to the stress of other services.

If you desire joining a class in physical culture under the instruction of Walter O'Donnell, send address to Hotel Worth at once, as only a limited number can be instructed and only one set of classes will be formed. Five Santa Fe passenger trains were derailed through Fort Worth to El Paso on Sunday and three today. Two Rock Island trains were scheduled to go over the Texas and Pacific, but have been indefinitely delayed by high water in Oklahoma.

L. M. Mitchell, the manager of the Crescent News Company, at the Texas and Pacific depot, leaves today for a trip of thirty days through the north and east. The business will be in charge of M. A. Nesbit of Mobile, Ala., during his absence. A large party of home-seekers came over the Cotton Belt on Sunday and a party of men and women reached here over the Rock Island Saturday night. All say they are delighted with what they have so far seen of Texas. Both parties are from Central Illinois.

C. H. Benini and wife of Brownwood are making a tour of the state in an automobile. They are expected to reach Fort Worth on Wednesday from Stephenville. Mr. Benini is interested in a number of oil mills with Winfield Scott and other capitalists of Fort Worth. Physical culture as taught by Mr. O'Donnell at the Hotel Worth is beneficial to every man and woman.

The executive committee of the Farmers' Union of Tarrant county will hold a meeting in Fort Worth October 7. The object is said to be in reference to the handling of cotton. It will be remembered that the union members are holding cotton sales. At the next sale the union expects to sell 1,000 bales. The railway mail transfer office at the Texas and Pacific depot is almost smothered with the exceptionally heavy mail. This is caused by the handling of mail for Mexico, New Mexico, Nevada and Arizona which is being worked here on account of the detouring of Santa Fe and Rock Island trains. These mails are usually handled at La Junta, Colo., and Albuquerque, N. M.

Dr. A. E. Behnke, head of the bureau of animal industry of Milwaukee, and Dr. Robert Ostratag, head of the laboratory of animal industry of Berlin, are in the city on a tour of inspection of the meat industries and agricultural colleges of the United States. Dr. Ostratag is studying the uses and care of hogs and cattle for the German government. If interested in physical culture, send address to Mr. Walter O'Donnell, Hotel Worth, and he will call. F. J. Bell, grand chancellor Knights of Pythias of Texas, advises T. T. McDonald, keeper of records and seal, that he will be in Fort Worth October 6 for the purpose of visiting the local lodges. The Marine Lodge will be invited to visit Red Cross lodge on that occasion in order to meet the grand chancellor.

There will be work in the third rank Thursday night, and all members are urged to attend the meeting. Do not miss this opportunity of taking physical culture from Mr. Walter O'Donnell at the Hotel Worth. Rev. J. F. Boyce of St. Paul's Methodist church last night delivered another of a series of interesting illustrated lectures on the Holy Land. The subject was 'Overland in Palestine.' and the lecture was interesting throughout, the facts laid before the large audience being taken from information personally gathered by Dr. Boyce during his recent trip through Palestine. Some eight or ten stereopticon scenes were used to illustrate the lecture, which was chiefly a description of the modes, customs and manners of the people who live in the Holy Land today. These interesting lectures will continue until further notice. Max Bureffsky of the Galveston News is visiting in the city. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Duke of 125 Chambers avenue a girl. It is announced by the Carpenters' Union that no dance, as erroneously announced, will follow their entertainment next Wednesday night. The following guests are registered at the Delaware: Thomas P. Stone of Waco, Judge G. H. Goodson of Commerce, J. A. Kemp of Wichita Falls and Judge T. G. Bradley of Sherman. Most of these gentlemen have business in the court of civil appeals. The city board of equalization today is giving consideration to the personal list, the realty list having been concluded Saturday night last. The total figures will show an increase of realty valuation of about $200,000 over last year. The board expects to conclude its work and adjourn Wednesday. Another disgraceful affair occurred at one of the luncheon stands on Lower Main street late Saturday night, which resulted in several men getting badly bruised up. An eye-witness to the affair claims that a former lad of 20 years of age was deceived into the resort and that the inmates attempted to take a roll of greenbacks from him by force. He resisted this method of relieving him of his cash and started on a rampage, which nearly broke up the place. The fight was carried on inside for a time and then transferred to the streets. Where a crowd of four men were seen trying to overpower the boy, who eventually succeeded in beating off his assailants and making an escape, leaving behind him several grafters of the worst that have ever invaded Fort Worth, sadder but wiser men. The police claim ignorance of the entire affair and no arrests have been made. This morning about 5:20 o'clock two young men from near Dublin, who came to the city in search of work, were gotten into one of these places and disoriented of a considerable sum of money. While the game was on an officer rode up to the front of the place on horseback and the men were told to get out the back way or they would be arrested for gambling and the unsophisticated youths left, apparently glad to be at liberty. These places are becoming obnoxious to the business men along the street and many complaints are heard. There is hardly a day passes, it is stated, that some one is not gotten into one of these places and relieved of his money either by force or skill.

MEET TO DEPLORE WAR IN BOSTON TODAY Thirteenth National Peace Congress Begins Sessions With a Large Attendance of Distinguished People BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 3.—Seldom if ever has there been held in America a gathering of greater international import and significance than is the thirteenth International Peace Congress which began its sessions in Tremont Temple in this city today. Delegates of the greatest distinction from every European power, save Russia, were present to join with noted Americans in evolving a scheme for permanent and universal peace. Conspicuous among the number was Pastor Charles Wagner of Paris, the preacher to great congregations on the Boulevard Beaumarchais and the author of 'The Simple Life.' The British delegation included among others Sir William Mather of Manchester, Sir John Macdonnell, professor of comparative law in University College, London; Right Rev. John Percival, bishop of Hereford; William Randall Cremer, the 'Dick Whittington' of parliament; Percy Alden, the founder of Mansfield House and a leader in the social settlement movement; Peter Curran, representing the General Federation of Trades Unions; Dr. Thomas Barclay, who started the movement among boards of trade and chambers of commerce in France and England for an arbitration treaty between those two countries. From other parts of Europe there were present M. Albert de Haave, M. Gustave Hubbard, editor of La Justice Internationale; Dr. Adolph Richter, president of the German Peace Society; John Lund, member of the Norwegian Parliament; Signor E. T. Moneta, president of the Italian Peace Society; L'Abbe Pichot of Monaco, and Professor Pierre Clerget of Loelle, representing the Swiss Peace Society. Of no less than those already named were the women in attendance. These included among others the Baroness von Suttner, who was the only woman admitted to the opening of the Peace Congress at The Hague; Miss Sophia Sturge of Birmingham, daughter of the eminent English philanthropist, Joseph Sturge, who, in 1841, first proposed an international peace conference; Yamen King, a scholarly Chinese woman who will speak for China, and Miss Margaret Noble, who has gained fame for her educational work among the women of India. The program for the opening session consisted chiefly of addresses of welcome. These were delivered by Mayor Patrick A. Collins on behalf of the city of Boston, Governor John L. Bates, for the state of Massachusetts, and Secretary of State John Hay, speaking for the federal government. The deliberative meetings of the congress will begin tomorrow morning and will be held every forenoon during the week. In the evenings there will be public meetings in Tremont Temple, Park Street church, the Old South meeting house and Faneuil Hall, devoted to the various aspects of the peace and arbitration cause. The meeting tomorrow evening will be devoted to the work and influence of the Hague Tribunal. Andrew D. White, chairman of the United States delegation at The Hague conference, will preside, and there will be addresses by Sir John Macdonnell, M. Gustave Hubbard, Hon. Oscar S. Straus and Hon. William D. Houston, chairman of the American delegation at the late Pan-American Congress. Other meetings during the week will be devoted to the discussion of the reduction of national armaments, to education, to the mutual relations of races, to the relations of business and of women. The commercial meeting, addressed by strong representatives of important chambers of commerce and boards of trade and other leading men of affairs, will be of special significance. The meeting devoted to the principles which should control education for the creation of true international sentiment will be addressed by presidents of various universities and colleges and other leading teachers.

MRS. SAMUEL HUGHES WACO, Texas, Oct. 3.—Mrs. Samuel Hughes of Newport, Ky., will be buried here this afternoon at 4 o'clock. She died at the residence of her sister, Mrs. J. F. Herbert of East Waco. The husband and son of Mrs. Hughes came to attend the funeral. Mrs. Hughes was visiting Waco in the hope that her health might be improved.

PLUMBERS NOT YET AGREED Further Consultation Will Be Held This Afternoon When It Is Hoped All Differences Will Be Settled The matter bringing about a settlement between the master plumbers and the journeymen is still hanging in the balance. A meeting of the boss plumbers was held this morning, but as several members were absent, nothing was done of any importance. It is very probable that the plumbers employing journeymen will act independently of each other if the meeting, which is being held this afternoon, does not settle the matter. Both sides are contending they are in the right and although the matter has now simmered down to several points among the employers, each side is determined to get together, if possible, without delay or act independently of each other. A committee of the journeymen will await on the employers late this afternoon, asking for the result of their decision. The eleventh session of the Fort Worth Medical College was formally opened this morning under the most auspicious conditions, the enrollment being the largest in the history of the school. The student body met with the faculty of the school in one of the clinical rooms and listened to words of greeting and good advice given by the instructors. Among the members of the faculty addressing the body was President George H. MacAdam, who welcomed all the students and urged them to take an active part in the affairs of the college. Among the other speakers were Drs. Bacon Saunders, Julian C. Field, I. C. Chase, Frank Gray, Ernest L. Stephens, W. G. Cook, W. R. Howard, W. B. West, William R. Thompson, F. D. Boyd, G. V. Merton, Rufus Chambers, W. Ernest Chilton, Lyman A. Barber, Marquis E. Gilmore, Howard L. Reger, R. B. West and John H. McLean. The school had an enrollment at 1 o'clock of nearly 125 students and by night it is expected the list will reach 150 or more. Many intending to enroll have been delayed by the high waters and the irregular train schedules which prevail at this time. This will be the biggest enrollment in the history of the institution and augments well for it during the coming year. The freshman class will have between sixty and seventy-five members, and the senior class will have about thirty. The school has had since its inception in every year several women students. This year it is expected about four will be enrolled. The women students in the past have carried away many of the honors of the school. Students are enrolling from Oklahoma and Arizona Territory, New Mexico, Nevada, Arizona, Louisiana, Arkansas and any number from Texas. The Fort Worth Medical College has a remarkable reputation among schools of this nature, and stands at the very head of its kind. Never has a student gone from the Fort Worth Medical College with a diploma who has not successfully passed before the Texas state examining board, which is the sign of no other school of a like nature. The faculty has had several additions made to it and several new and important chairs have been added, making the courses offered more complete than ever before and giving to the school added lustre and prominence. The first clinics were held this afternoon, beginning at 1 o'clock. NAVAL STATION AT POSTOFFICE The United States naval recruiting office opened in the federal court room at the Federal building this morning. Boat-swin's Mate J. W. Betlens has charge of the office, and is assisted by Gunner's Mate J. B. Lowe and Hospital Apprentice E. L. Hight. Men will be enlisted until October 8, when the office will close. Six applicants for enlistment were made this morning, five of the men passing the physical examination. The men will be sworn in by Lieutenant Schofield, who will come from the recruiting headquarters in Boston for that purpose. J. W. Betlens, who has charge of the office here, stated this morning that cotton picking seriously interfered with the number of applicants. SCHMIDT-MILLICAN Last evening at the home of Rev. Asa Goddard of Riverside occurred the marriage of B. G. Schmidt to Miss Emma Millican. Both the young people are well and favorably known in Fort Worth and have a host of friends who wish them well on their journey through life. The Boston Museum has a love letter which is 3,500 years old. It is written on a bark and addressed to an Egyptian princess.

GRAFTERS STILL PLYING VOCATION Boy Has Exciting Experience on Lower Main Street, While Arrival of Officer Causes Exodus From Rear of Joint Another disgraceful affair occurred at one of the luncheon stands on Lower Main street late Saturday night, which resulted in several men getting badly bruised up. An eye-witness to the affair claims that a former lad of 20 years of age was deceived into the resort and that the inmates attempted to take a roll of greenbacks from him by force. He resisted this method of relieving him of his cash and started on a rampage, which nearly broke up the place. The fight was carried on inside for a time and then transferred to the streets. These places are becoming obnoxious to the business men along the street and many complaints are heard. There is hardly a day passes, it is stated, that some one is not gotten into one of these places and relieved of his money either by force or skill.

A SMALL BOY IS GAMBLING WITNESS WACO, Texas, Oct. 3.—A boy in knee pants was among the witnesses in one of the gambling cases in the county court and the boy in question had been to the place to play for money. The thing which created more indignation among citizens than anything else in the gambling situation as it existed prior to the crusade was the fact that so many boys and very young men had been drawn in. Only a portion of the gamblers, however, allowed boys, but some of them did allow them and encouraged them to play. This raised terrific opposition and was one of the moving causes in the crusade, though it would have come with force anyway.

WILL CALL PASTOR FOR TABERNACLE Next Sunday, at close of morning service, the members of the Tabernacle Christian church will consider the matter of calling a pastor for the remainder of the fiscal year, ending June 1, 1905. There will also be an election of a number of officers of the church to fill vacancies existing. It is desired that the entire membership be present.

PLUMBERS NOT YET AGREED Further Consultation Will Be Held This Afternoon When It Is Hoped All Differences Will Be Settled

The matter bringing about a settlement between the master plumbers and the journeymen is still hanging in the balance. A meeting of the boss plumbers was held this morning, but as several members were absent, nothing was done of any importance.

IRRIGATION IS PROVING SUCCESS J. A. Kemp, banker and stockman of Wichita Falls, and who is also prominently connected with the big irrigation plant at Wichita Falls, is a guest of the Delaware.

FANNIN COUNTY HAS GOOD CROPS BONHAM, Texas, Oct. 3.—The cotton crop of Fannin county is turning out much better than was expected three weeks ago. A careful survey has determined that not more than one-third of the crop has been gathered. Planters from the river bottom plantations are exceedingly jubilant over the situation. The average yield in this section will no doubt exceed one-half bale to the acre. One planter who has more than one hundred acres in cotton in the river county scarcely a month ago offered to take ten bales for his crop. Up to Saturday he had marketed in Bonham twenty-two bales and expects to get that much more before the season is over. The prices have been good until the last two or three days. Since the slump in the market, receipts have been light. This is caused from the fact that many farmers have gathered the sufficient cotton for which a good price has been obtained to pay off the store account and other debts, and are not now compelled to sell. The acreage in alfalfa this year will probably be increased ten per cent. Lands are being prepared for wheat sowing which will begin shortly.

SKINNER-BARNETT J. E. Skinner and Miss Ruth Barnett were recently married at the parsonage of Rev. Gilmore at 10 o'clock Sunday. After the ceremony they proceeded to the residence of Mrs. M. A. EXPLOSION KILLS WORKMAN AT SWIFT'S

J. Lyon Hurlled Against Boiler and Dies Within a Few Hours From Injuries—Another Workman Hurt Shortly after 6 o'clock this morning an explosion occurred in the boiler room of Swift & Co.'s packing house at North Fort Worth, in which J. Lyon of 710 East Willie street, Fort Worth, was hurled against a boiler and killed. C. McNulty, who lives at the corner of King and Myrtle streets, was blown a distance of twenty feet, receiving serious though not necessarily fatal injuries. Immediately after the accident Dr. M. E. Gilmore, city physician of North Fort Worth, was summoned. Lyon's whose skull was crushed, was placed in an ambulance, to be taken to St. Joseph's Infirmary. The injured man, however, breathed his last while being conveyed to the hospital and his body was taken to his home. Dr. McNulty was taken to his home and is doing well.

OPENING EXERCISES OF MEDICAL COLLEGE Large Enrollment of Students Promises to Make This Year a Banner One in the History of the Institution

The eleventh session of the Fort Worth Medical College was formally opened this morning under the most auspicious conditions, the enrollment being the largest in the history of the school.

The student body met with the faculty of the school in one of the clinical rooms and listened to words of greeting and good advice given by the instructors. Among the members of the faculty addressing the body was President George H. MacAdam, who welcomed all the students and urged them to take an active part in the affairs of the college.

Among the other speakers were Drs. Bacon Saunders, Julian C. Field, I. C. Chase, Frank Gray, Ernest L. Stephens, W. G. Cook, W. R. Howard, W. B. West, William R. Thompson, F. D. Boyd, G. V. Merton, Rufus Chambers, W. Ernest Chilton, Lyman A. Barber, Marquis E. Gilmore, Howard L. Reger, R. B. West and John H. McLean. The school had an enrollment at 1 o'clock of nearly 125 students and by night it is expected the list will reach 150 or more.

Many intending to enroll have been delayed by the high waters and the irregular train schedules which prevail at this time. This will be the biggest enrollment in the history of the institution and augments well for it during the coming year. The freshman class will have between sixty and seventy-five members, and the senior class will have about thirty.

The school has had since its inception in every year several women students. This year it is expected about four will be enrolled. The women students in the past have carried away many of the honors of the school. Students are enrolling from Oklahoma and Arizona Territory, New Mexico, Nevada, Arizona, Louisiana, Arkansas and any number from Texas.

The Fort Worth Medical College has a remarkable reputation among schools of this nature, and stands at the very head of its kind. Never has a student gone from the Fort Worth Medical College with a diploma who has not successfully passed before the Texas state examining board, which is the sign of no other school of a like nature. The faculty has had several additions made to it and several new and important chairs have been added, making the courses offered more complete than ever before and giving to the school added lustre and prominence. The first clinics were held this afternoon, beginning at 1 o'clock.

NAVAL STATION AT POSTOFFICE The United States naval recruiting office opened in the federal court room at the Federal building this morning. Boat-swin's Mate J. W. Betlens has charge of the office, and is assisted by Gunner's Mate J. B. Lowe and Hospital Apprentice E. L. Hight. Men will be enlisted until October 8, when the office will close. Six applicants for enlistment were made this morning, five of the men passing the physical examination. The men will be sworn in by Lieutenant Schofield, who will come from the recruiting headquarters in Boston for that purpose. J. W. Betlens, who has charge of the office here, stated this morning that cotton picking seriously interfered with the number of applicants.

SCHMIDT-MILLICAN Last evening at the home of Rev. Asa Goddard of Riverside occurred the marriage of B. G. Schmidt to Miss Emma Millican. Both the young people are well and favorably known in Fort Worth and have a host of friends who wish them well on their journey through life. The Boston Museum has a love letter which is 3,500 years old. It is written on a bark and addressed to an Egyptian princess.
