GRANDS WANT

Many Are Delayed Here Because of the Bridgeless Rivers in the Flood District—Impatient at Station

MAIL WORK IS HEAVY

Transfer Station Is Crowded With the Sacks Which Are Brought Here by Detouring Cars—The Texas and Pacific Pecos Bridge Is Down

The Santa Fe local office at noon was notified by the Texas and Pacific that it would be unable to handle the detoured trains of the Santa Fe. Six trains of the Santa Fe were due to pass here during this afternoon over the tracks of the Texas and Pacific. The new trouble is reported to be the washing out of the Texas and Pacific bridge over the Pecos river at Pecos City.

The flood situation here as a result of the washouts of the bridges over the Canadian river is about the same as yesterday. The trains of the Santa Fe and the Rock Island are still detouring over the tracks of the Rio Grande division of the Texas and Pacific. The trains are now being handled with much more dispatch than the first two days. All of the trains for the west are carrying many passengers. The trains and crews are being so arranged that none of the men are kept on a run as long as they were at the beginning of the trouble.

Last night none of the trains out of here would carry passengers going across the river and tickets were refused those applying for them. It is expected that by this evening, if the waters start to recede, an effort will be made to handle the passenger business by transferring the passengers across the river in boats. The bridges washed out can not be repaired for some time, as the damage done to them is so complete that entire new structures will be needed.

Every night so far, and last night no exception, the scene around the Texas and Pacific depot here has been an odd one to say the least. Passengers, both north and southbound, can be seen sitting and lounging about the depot. They are unable to find out anything definite about the departure of their trains, as the information could not be had. Some are disgusted with traveling and have sworn never to leave home again. They are condemning the officials of the roads afflicted and everybody else, but never stop to think that neither the officials nor the roads are to blame for the unusual turn the affair has taken, but that it is the hand of Providence.

Many of the passengers have good reasons to get to the points to which they are destined. Some are in a hurry on account of business, others are hurrying to the bedside of some sick friend or relative, while even those who are only traveling for pleasure and recreation are getting tired of the business. They walk about the depot, go on the streets and over the town. They ask every man who wears a uniform from one to a dozen questions in an hour and make the life of the depot officials anything but a pleasant one. Nevertheless, a patient lot of men, made so by the innumerable questions, which it has been their duty to answer ever since they have been in the service, and thus they are assisted in passing away the time. Some of the delayed passengers have been in the depot for several days and about the hotels, waiting for the train that will carry them to their destination. A few are short in purse, not counting on being so many days on the road, but these are being looked after by the proper authorities.

HEAVY MAIL WORK
In the railway transfer office of the mail service the clerks are having the best of their lives. They have handled more mail this week than they have ever before. The mails for Mexico, New Mexico, Nevada and Arizona have all passed through the office. It necessitated the work of the clerks at one time during the week for stretches of nearly thirty-six hours, when it was a case of quit on account of physical exhaustion. The express employes and the baggage handlers have all done their work nobly and put in much overtime to help in the handling of the great volume of mail. It is expected that the volume on account of the detouring of the trains.

RUSH TO THE GATES
The scenes at the gates, the entrances to the train sheds, are peculiar ones. When the stationmaster calls out a train every one who has a ticket for that train to the gates. With the questions that these people ask and those that the regular passengers ask the depot men must use much discretion in handling them. Some are fearful they will miss the first train out in the direction they wish to go and are not willing to take any chance, hence the confusion. Others are at the gates waiting for friends who have been delayed in arriving in the city. All are anxious for some information about the trains and do not think for a single moment that the employees have anything to do but to answer any question that they care to ask.

HOTELS AND RESTAURANTS
The restaurants and hotels in the vicinity of the depot are doing a most unexpected but rushing business. Never before has the trade at this time of the year been as good as it is now. The stalled passengers are getting three meals a day and living well, but are compelled to remain here, if bound for points in the north over the bridgeless Canadian river. New stands are also profiting by the presence of the many travelers, who buy papers and magazines to pass away the time.

A number of those at the depot have, owing to their delay here, taken advantage of the opportunity to go out over the city and see what it looks like and the result is that not a one of those who have made a trip over the city have anything but praise for the metropolis of the southwest. It is expected that by this evening the trains will again be so arranged that passengers may go northward and be transferred over the river in boats. All in waiting are anxious to be among the first to go out and the first through trains to the north will be loaded to the gun-

INDEPENDENCE

There Is to Be a Meeting in Manila Sunday to Discuss the Question of Freedom and to Assist Committee

SOME FIERY ORATORY

They Have Decided They Must Not Remain Passive While the Best Element in America Is Working to Accomplish the One Ambition

MANILA, Oct. 6.—A mass meeting of Filipinos is to be held Sunday at the National theater. The call for the meeting states its purpose. "To take some definite action upon the popular desire, namely, giving our sincere support and sympathy to the American committee on Philippine independence in its efforts to attain the end we desire. It will be inexplicable and even improper for the Filipinos to fold their arms and remain passive at a time when the very best elements of American society are working ardently in order that our native land may attain its ambition."

Fiery orators will speak, the principal one being Sandico, a former member of Aguinaldo's cabinet, and who in 1899 signed the order for the massacre of Americans and other foreigners in Manila. The government will not interfere.

THE PEACE CONGRESS
BOSTON, Oct. 6.—At reassembling today of the International Peace Congress, President Robert Treat Paine read a number of communications, including a greeting received from Gaston Moth of France, president of the congress at Monaco two years ago.

PROSPECTS FOR A GANS-BRITT FIGHT SEEM GOOD

Managers Will Meet Tonight to Discuss Terms For a Match Within the Next Thirty Days

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 6.—Unless Al Herford balks at the terms demanded, there is now every prospect of a fight between Joe Gans and Jimmy Britt within the next thirty days. The managers meet tonight at the office of the Yosemite Athletic Club to close the deal. Willie Britt's demands will be similar to those exacted by Young Corbett from Jimmy, when the Corbett-Britt match was made, 75 per cent to Britt if he wins and 50 per cent if he loses.

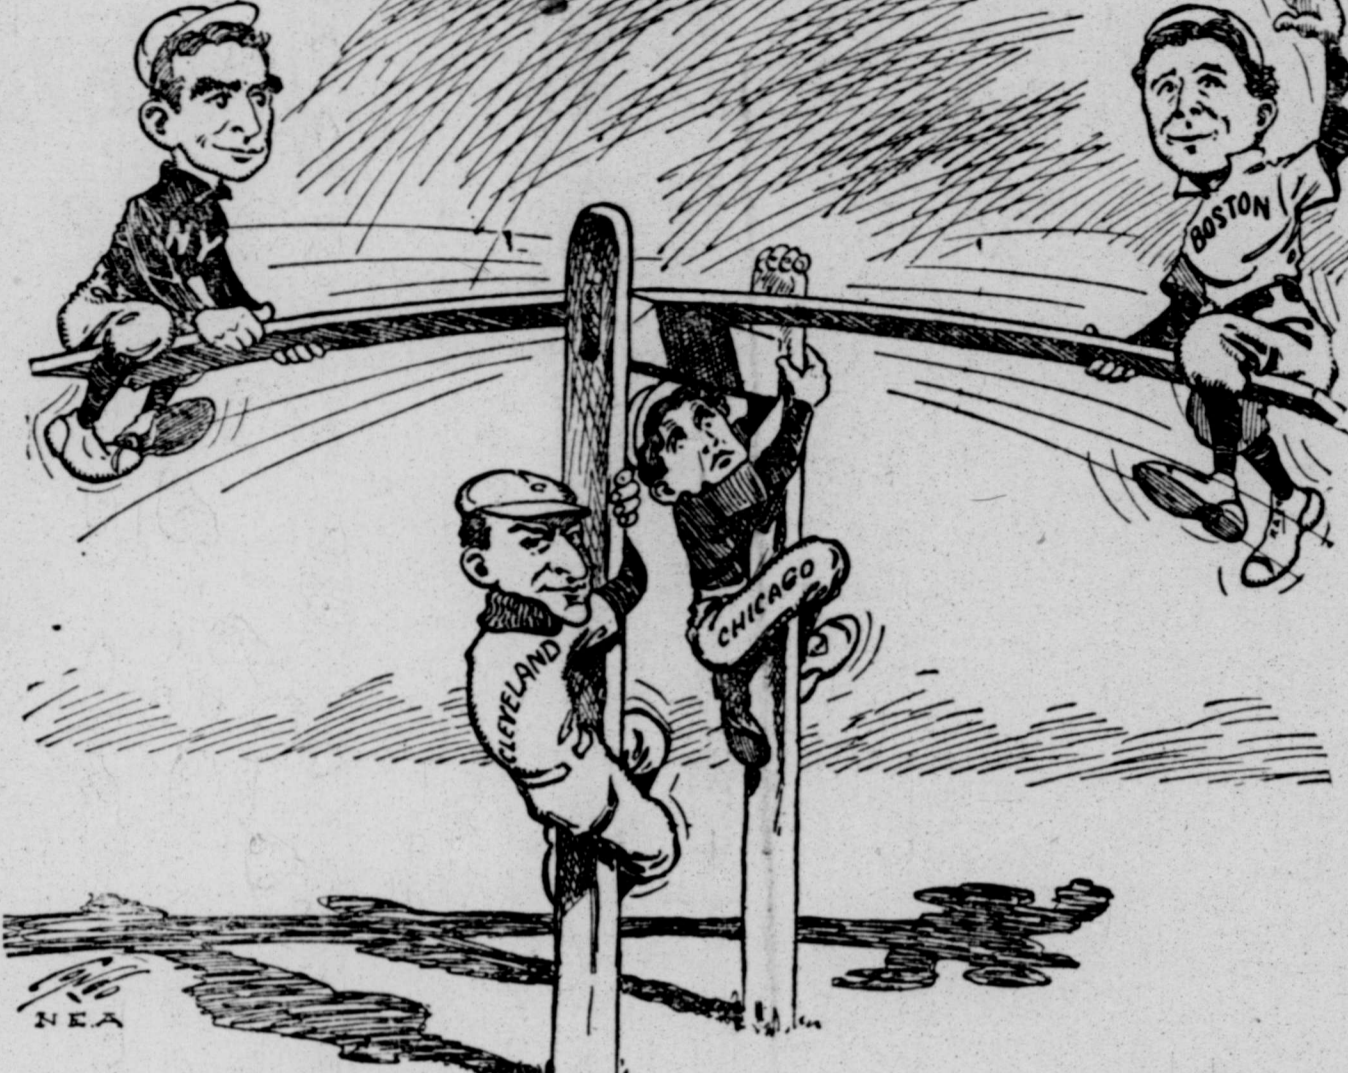

GERMANS OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY OF FIRST LANDING

A Celebration on World's Fair Grounds Is Participated in By Prominent Representatives of the Fatherland

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 6.—Displaying white ribbons bearing the inscription: "Do your duty to the old country and the new," Germans from all parts of America assembled on the World's Fair grounds today to celebrate German day, in commemoration of the landing of the first Germans on American soil, October 6, 1693. The German-American national federation comprising all German-American societies was well represented, as was the national federation of German singing societies with a membership of 200 organizations and the National Association of Veterans of the German Army and Navy. The principal exercises of the day were held on the plaza of St. Louis, comprising exhibitions in callisthenics and gymnastics by local turners and children's classes, about 3,000 of the latter joined in singing hymns of the fatherland and concluded with the "Star Spangled Banner." Later in the day impressive exercises were held at the German national pavilion, where addresses were delivered by Dr. Emil Prechtorius of St. Louis, pastor of the German-American press; Baron Von Sternberg, German ambassador; Dr. Theodore L. Ewald, Imperial German commissioner; Carl Schurz and others.

There are now 39,849 men in our navy. They are now smuggling tobacco across the Canadian border in bales of hay.

WILL H. BRILL TELLS OF THE MARCH UP LIAO TUNG PENINSULA

(Written for The Telegram and the Newspaper Enterprise Association by Will H. Brill)

UNNAMED CHINESE VILLAGE Heart of Manchuria, Aug. 29.—"You may talk until you're tired, but you'll never get a word from this very funny, queer old coon; he's a knocked-kneed, double-jointed, hanky-panky moke. But he's happy when he whistles this tune."

Sitting in the corner of a dark room in an old Chinese house in an old walled Chinese city, writing by the dim light of a sputtering candle set in the neck of an empty bottle, these words, wheezed out from a grampophone some through the window to me, mingled with the distant call of a bugle, the nearby squealing of pigs and the strident voices of a half dozen Chinamen who seem constantly on the verge of a fight.

It is dark and gloomy outside and the rain dashes against the paper which in this country takes the place of glass in the window frames. Millions, literally millions, of flies and mosquitoes buzz around my head and it takes but little imagination to see the blankets on the camp bed in the corner moving gently, as an entire army of flies, gnats and counter-march and under them. From a crack between the stones of the floor a deadly little scorpion pokes his hideous head, but hastily withdraws from the light. From the hut on the opposite side of the compound comes the wailing notes of a Japanese song, sung by one of our army of interpreters and servants.

THE LONG RIDE ENDED
We have finished our 150-mile ride up the Liao Tung peninsula and are at last at the front. To the south of us lies the long road we have traveled, to the north, less than ten miles way, are the posts of the Russian army. After six months of waiting in Tokio we have reached the front at last and again we are waiting—waiting for the great battle which we expect almost daily.

On July 25 our party of eighteen correspondents and artists sailed from Shimonsueki and six days later landed at Lu Soh Sun, on the northern shore of Tairenwan bay, opposite the city of Dalny. The next morning, with the boom of the big guns at Port Arthur in our ears we started north in pursuit of General Oko and his victorious army. Eleven days it took us to make the march, and then we settled down to wait again.

There are eighteen of us altogether: John Fox Jr., Scribner's Magazine; Richard Harding Davis, Collier's Weekly; W. H. Lewis, New York Herald; Guy H. Scull, New York Globe; Franklin Clark Rowley, New York Evening Post; Grant Wallace, Illustrated London News; Bennett Lynch, London Telegraph; George Burleigh, London Chronicle; Captain Lionel James, London Times; Fred Whiting, London Graphic; Gordon Smith, London Morning Post; Sidney Smith, London Daily Mail; Lionel Pratt, Sydney (Australia) Morning Herald; Reginald Kann, Paris Figaro; R. V. de Laugierie, Paris Petit Journal; L. Barzini, Milan (Italy) Corraire delle Sere, and myself.

AN ODD CAVALCADE
We were a funny looking party on the march up, scattered along the shortest man we were. Melton Prior, the tallest man we were, was mounted on a rangy white horse full seventeen hands high, while Grant Wallace, who boasts six feet six, rode a little donkey and was compelled to take reefs in his legs to prevent his feet being sawed off. Wallace calls his poetic name of "Fuji"—but that is not the name that Fox usually addresses him by. Sidney Smith, on a white mule, looked for all the world like a second edition of Sancho Panza and Fred Whiting rode a little Korean pony, hardly larger than a dog, which usually had more than its share of the road owing to its habit of biting everything within reach of one end and kicking everything anywhere near the other. Lynch started on a bicycle, but gave it up after an unsuccessful attempt to mend a puncture in a tire with a handful of postage stamps. And so the correspondents came to Manchuria, welcomed by much hearty laughter from the natives, who had certainly never seen such a cavalcade before. It was a long march and in some respects a hard one. No such roads were ever seen before, and at least eighteen men who have come over them trust never to see any half so bad again. But the Japanese army officers were very kind and courteous to us and did everything in their power to make us comfortable. The first thing the natives couldn't understand was our desire for cleanliness. The courtyard was rich with the accumulated dirt of ages. Why we insisted on driving out the pigs that wallowed in the filth and why we should be so foolish as to offer to pay a Chinaman 25 cents, gold, a day to do nothing but sweep dirt, was utterly beyond their comprehension, except on the theory that we were all crazy. But such insanity is very rare in the Chinese, and they have been falling over themselves to secure the employment. And so we pass our days in this dirty old Chinese house—which house, by the way, is without doubt cleaner today than it ever was before or than its owner ever expected it to be. We write a little, read a little—Dickens, Conan Doyle, Charles Lever and others—and we argue a great deal. Every subject that was ever argued has been argued by us—Herbert, art, the drama, good dinners and a thousand more—every subject imaginable save one—the war. That is tabooed. Our days are all alike, our nights are all the same, the first a continual effort to find something to do, the other a continuous fight against more kinds of insects than I ever knew existed.

THE WELCOME GRAMAPHONE
The other night the gramophone arrived. It is the property of the canteen contractor and is evidently for the purpose of making us forget almost unendurable food for which we pay him an enormous sum. Now our nightly program has been a bit varied, for every evening we insist on hearing the gramophone's entire repertoire. Within a few miles of the

Judge Parker Considers All Precedents Set by Former Candidates and Will Remain Off the Stump Altogether

YOU CANNOT BUDGE HIM

He Will Remain at Rosemont and Whatever He Has to Say Will Be Spoken There—Campaign Managers Approve of Decision of Candidate

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Chairman Taggart at democratic headquarters gave out the following statement today: "Shortly after his nomination Judge Parker set about consideration of his course of action toward the conduct of the campaign. He consulted many men of large experience in such matters, made an examination of the course of every successful candidate, and that done, he decided what is necessary for him to do, what his course should be and he caused that decision to be made generally known. It was to the effect he will not go upon the stump and that such speeches as he should deem it desirable to make could be made at Rosemont, following in that respect the McKinley precedent of 1896. "That decision made and announced he proceeded to work along lines he had marked out for himself. He believed then, as he believes now, he decided rightly and no amount of entreaty would budge him. His record during all his life proves that clamor will not move him one iota. The incident is closed. Those in charge of the campaign fully approve of the decision of Judge Parker."

Judge Parker has been importuned to speak in various states and today's announcement is designed to prevent further similar requests.

SERVICE FOR THE INFIRM HAS BEEN ARRANGED

Church in New York Will Provide Religious Worship for Those Who Cannot Attend Regularly Because of Age

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—A novelty is being arranged by the Calvary Methodist Episcopal church in the shape of a special service next Sunday for aged persons, not only members of the congregation many of whom have not been in the church for five or six years, but also all the gray-haired men and women living in the neighborhood. Active members have been canvassing the district around the church within a radius of a mile and have arranged to provide carriages for those who can not reach the church foot.

The services will be non-sectarian and it is expected that many creeds and denominations will be represented at the service. No distinction has been made in the invitations which have been extended. The oldest person who has promised thus far to attend is a woman in her ninth decade. She has not attended service in eighteen years.

HARRIS AND DALLAS CONTEST FOR HONORS

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 6.—The race for supremacy in taxable values for the past several years has been between the counties of Bexar, Dallas and Harris, these being the only ones in the thirty million class. Last year Harris and Dallas turned the thirty-million mark, and ran a neck and neck race, while Bexar remained in the thirty-four million class, and fell short of thirty-five million only $42,076 this year.

The rolls of Dallas county for 1904, which have just been received, show the values for the year to be $40,716,470; for 1903, $38,652,740, an increase this over previous year of $2,063,730. The values in Harris county are known to have increased, but in what sum can not be stated, for the reason the rolls have not been received.

The contest for supremacy is now narrowed down to Dallas and Harris, and the result is awaited with interest quite unusual in the comptroller's department as well as in the entire state. It will be noticed that Dallas has only $716,470 more than forty million, and there are some who claim to have private information to the effect that Harris has turned forty millions, and if this be true, the race is still close and very doubtful.

MANCHESTER IS AFTER THE COTTON TRADE

LONDON, Oct. 6.—Manchester's efforts for a diversion of the port of Liverpool's cotton trade from America has resulted according to statements published today, in an arrangement with the Leyland line and the Manchester lines, limited, of Manchester, whereby two companies will combine for the purpose of carrying cotton cargoes direct from New Orleans to Manchester. The Leyland line steamer Cuban, sailing from New Orleans about the middle of October, will, it is added, inaugurate a new departure and thereafter two companies will make alternate fortnightly sailings.

Gauged By Pig Iron Alone, the Market Improvement Has Made Further Progress, Although It Is Not Discernible

FOUNDRIES ARE ACTIVE

Indications Point to a Heavier Shipment of Lake Superior Than Has Been Counted on at Any Time—Movement Is Better Than a Year Ago

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Oct. 6.—The Iron Age, in its weekly review of the iron market says: "Gauged by pig iron alone, the iron market improvement has made further progress. Not as marked betterment is discernible in finished material demand, but developments that are encouraging, with prospects that the larger scale of mill operations will last well toward the end of the year. It need hardly be said that the railroads will be the deciding factor in the iron market of the next three months. The more active market for foundry iron that was a feature of the last ten days of September is still noteworthy and reports from all sections now agree as to this, as they did not ten days ago. Foundries are finding an increasing demand for their products—not a marked increase, but enough to begot confidence and to lead to buying. The number of inquiries, and the good aggregate tonnage they represent for the pig iron to be delivered in the first quarter of 1905, indicates a growing desire to take advantage of present low prices; it is an indication also that many foundries are provided with iron for the balance of the year.

Prices show more firmness, and in the case of northern furnaces there has been a general coming up from the minimum of $11.50 for No. 2 foundry to $11.75, while $11.85 and $12 are now commonly held. The southern furnaces are increasing production slightly and at the same time cutting down stocks somewhat so that $9.50 Birmingham may be considered more thoroughly established than at any time this year.

The situation apart from pig iron is better in a number of lines. Indications point to a heavier shipment of Lake Superior this year than has been counted on at any time by authorities in that trade. It seems certain that the steel corporation will continue its policy of carrying a good reserve on Lake Erie docks and in furnace yards. The September movement on the lakes exceeded that of September, 1903, by over one million tons, and if the October and November movement of last year are duplicated this season the total will be close to 18,500,000 as against predictions early in the year of 14,500,000 tons. In addition to the steel corporation's activity in one shipments of iron has been directed to its greatly enlarged coke production, which has suggested the possibility of a coke accumulation such as was maintained under the old Carnegie regime.

ITS EXPANSION PLANS

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—The Republic Iron and Steel Company officials have completed negotiations by which the company will be able to raise $7,000,000 cash to prosecute its expansion plans and meet its floating debt. The First National bank and the First Trust and Savings bank have arranged to furnish the money. The steel company will issue $10,000,000 first mortgage 5 per cent bonds. It will also issue two-year house of deposits notes to the extent of $7,000,000. These notes have been taken by the institutions named and they will have the bonds as collateral security for the notes.

Half of the notes, or $3,500,000, run two years and the other half three years. They bear 5 per cent interest and will be issued as funds are needed by the company.

HOUSE OF DEPUTIES EPISCOPAL COUNCIL

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 6.—When the house of deputies of the Episcopal church assembled for a second session in Emmanuel church today there was a large attendance of visitors in anticipation of the presence of Archbishop of Canterbury, who yesterday announced in the house of deputies would deliver a message to the American church.

The convention has appointed a committee to frame a message of greeting to the International Peace Congress, some of whose delegates are also delegates in the church convention. One of these is Robert Treat Paine, president of the International Peace Congress.

The triennial conference of the woman's auxiliary of the board of mission formally opened today with full service at Trinity church, at which the united offering of the organization was made. Later the woman's auxiliary held a largely attended missionary meeting at Tremont Temple. Among the speakers were Bishops Mackin of Tokio, Brent of the Philippines and Bishop Johnson of Western Texas.

ROOSEVELT SAYS THAT JUSTICE MUST BE DONE

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—A letter from President Roosevelt's secretary has been read before a meeting of 500 relatives of persons who died on the excursion steamer General Slocum. It is in reply to one sent by the association last week, denouncing the action of the local steamboat inspectors in placing the blame for the disaster on the Slocum's officers and crew and asking for immediate executive action. Secretary Loeb's reply was to the effect that the commission appointed by the president in expediting its report and that absolute justice will be done.

DANGERS TO BE AVOIDED IN OCTOBER.

DURING the warm summer months the skin has been freely throwing off the impurities of the body in the form of perspiration. THE cool days and cooler nights of October, in a measure, stop the action of the skin. IMPURITIES which heretofore were thrown off by the skin, must find some outlet. They should be excreted by the kidneys. A GREAT STRAIN is thus thrown upon the kidneys. They are not always prepared for this increased labor. They break down. THE POISONS passing through the kidneys serve to irritate them, and this condition soon develops into serious ailments, among them Bright's Disease. THE LIVER, too, acts in sympathy with the kidneys. It becomes deranged, causing sallow skins, depression of spirits and lassitude. AN ABNORMAL CONDITION of the bowels also presents itself. Constipation and other bowel troubles result. THE blood becomes poisoned by the retained excretions. Pimples, blotches, muddy complexions are the first result and finally the whole system becomes deranged. COLDS are very easily caught during this depleted condition of the system. AT THIS TIME the kidneys, liver and bowels need a little encouragement, a little assistance—that is all. PE-RU-NA gives just this assistance. It gently stimulates these organs to increased function. Thus Peruna guards against the possibilities of disease. PEOPLE INCLINED TO WEAKNESS of these organs ought to be especially careful during this month. AT THE FIRST SIGN of disease, such as puffiness under the eyes, sallow skin, backache, colds, and so forth, Peruna should be taken. IF YOU NOTICE any of the above symptoms, do not delay,—buy a bottle of Peruna to-day. A bottle of Peruna taken at the first symptom will do more good than a dozen bottles later on when serious ailments have developed.

MISS MARGRET HUESTON.

THE FOLLOWING TESTIMONIAL is only a sample of the many testimonials contained in our files:— MISS MARGRET HUESTON, 1127 Linden street, Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "Peruna is indeed a household blessing. Last fall I caught a severe cold which developed into a most unpleasant catarrh and for over two weeks I could neither enjoy my food nor secure restful sleep. I became nervous and irritable and nothing looked just right to me. "A good neighbor advised me to try Peruna and I immediately sent for a bottle. I am very glad indeed that I did. I began to feel relief in a week, and soon felt better than I had in two years. I do not dread a cold any more as I used to, for a small quantity of Peruna cures me."—Margret Hueston. wales with passengers, eager to get to their destination and glad that they have had an opportunity to spend, if delayed they must be, some of the time in Fort Worth.

FRISCO RUNNING THROUGH At general passenger headquarters of the Frisco it was stated that passenger business was being cared for by detouring of trains. Even with these conditions to contend with the Frisco is getting its trains through from Fort Worth to St. Louis with short delays.

REPAIRING ROCK ISLAND BRIDGE A large force of men are today making repairs on the bridge washed out between Union City and Minco.

It is understood that this bridge will soon be ready to be used by Rock Island trains.

SANTA FE TRAINS FROM WEST Six Santa Fe passenger trains from California for the east, were detained via Albuquerque and El Paso to Fort Worth, thence via Paris Valley and Eastern Oklahoma line of the system to New York, which is on the main line, thence to Kansas City and Chicago. One train was the California limited, which consisted of nine sleepers and diners, and every berth and drawing room was occupied.

Today the Santa Fe will have six more trains in, reaching Fort Worth beginning about 2 o'clock this afternoon. This movement via Fort Worth is on account of the flood troubles on the main line of the Santa Fe between Albuquerque and Trinidad.

There is no interruption of traffic between Texas and Colorado Springs, Pueblo and Denver. The trains from the east are being similarly detained via Fort Worth.

SITUATION IN TERRITORY ARDMORE, I. T., Oct. 6.—Several through trains on the Santa Fe from California are tied up here, unable to reach the main line at Purcell on account of the Canadian river flood, which damaged several thousand feet of track. Several hundred passengers bound for the World's Fair and east, detained via the Gulf lines on account of the floods in New Mexico, have encountered the same trouble north of here. Nearly all lines of the Territory are affected by high water. A large force of workmen is at work repairing the damage. Service will be partially resumed tonight.

MEN ARE WANTED Urgent calls have been sent by several of the railroads whose property has been damaged to the employment agencies in Fort Worth for all the men they can get at the best possible wages. Men are wanted on the Rock Island, the Katy, the Denver and the Santa Fe, and the employment men are scouring the streets and alleys for men who will go to work on one of these roads.

Shovelers, bridgemen, carpenters, steel men and all kinds are wanted and wanted in a hurry. In several cases common labor is offered $2 to $2.50 a day and double pay for overtime. The employment agencies are finding it hard to secure very many men on account of the majority of the usually idle men being in the cotton fields, where at the present prices they are content to remain.

had placed upon him by refusing to follow him. This act was greatly admired by the Japanese, and after the battle his body was secured and was buried with all military honors by his enemies.

WHILE BOTH ARMIES WATCHED Another officer, whose men refused to charge with him, rushed forward almost to the Japanese line. A young Japanese officer sprang forward to meet him and there between the two armies these two young men fought a duel, as did the champions of old. So interested did the men on both sides become that they ceased their fighting to watch this duel. Both men were excellent swordsmen and the fight lasted for some time, but the Japanese officer was victorious. The Russian lost his life in a fight that brings nothing but honor upon his memory and his bravery.

It was not long until the Japanese ammunition was brought up and the fight was resumed. Then came the attack of the Japanese dismounted cavalry on the Russian flank, the turning of the other flank by the Japanese center and the surrounding of the Russian wing. Then came consternation on the part of the Russians and the broken retreat. It was not a retreat. It was a rout. The Russians fell back in the greatest confusion, while the Japanese poured in a galling fire at close range, killing and wounding hundreds.

RAILROAD NEWS

CONTESTING THE ORDER AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 6.—Judge N. A. Stedman, general attorney of the International and Great Northern Railway, was here yesterday investigating the legality of the railroad commission to have its order of September 24 requiring the International and Great Northern and Missouri, Kansas and Texas construct and maintain track connections at Italy, with a view of having the same set aside. The crossing of these roads at this place is "overhead," which Judge Stedman contends is a compliance with the law, as it was determined to take action, and was filed in the district court of Travis county today.

SOME CHARTERS FILED AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 6.—Charters of the following corporations have been approved and filed for record in the state department: Northwest Texas Campmeeting Publishing Company of Seymour. Capital stock $2,000. Purpose, transaction of printing and publishing business. Incorporators, T. H. C. Peery, C. E. Johnson, D. E. Byrne, D. F. Goss, R. H. Bennett and B. F. Smith. L. H. Bucks & Son of Houston. Capital stock $20,000. Purpose, purchase and sale of goods, wares and merchandise. Incorporators, L. H. Bucks, David F. Bucks and J. F. Hagan.

ORIENT WORK STOPPED A letter received here yesterday from Sweetwater states that construction work on the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railroad at that point has been ordered discontinued for the time being, and the gang of thirty-five men has been discharged. The road has been completed north from Sweetwater to Killdugan creek, two and one-half miles, and the bridge over this stream has been completed. The track has been laid one-half a mile further on, while the ties have been distributed to a point two miles beyond Killdugan.

Chief Engineer Webster is the only official left in charge of the Orient's work at Sweetwater. No announcement is made in the letter, which came from high Orient authorities, why this action is taken at Sweetwater, and is quite a surprise here after the statement has recently been made that the line was to be pushed in Texas.

SOUTH TEXAS CATTLE F. C. Rhea, live stock agent of the Katy, is here from San Antonio headquarters, and says there is practically no movement of cattle to market from that section of the state.

"Cattlemen are in good shape, with plenty of money in the bank," said Mr. Rhea, "and they don't have to ship their stuff while prices are demoralized. Just as soon as the markets improve there will be a large movement, as there are plenty of cattle in good shape for the market. There has been plenty of good grass and cattle were never in better condition than now."

INTERNATIONAL'S COTTON BUSINESS Commercial Agent Pawkett of the International said this morning that his line was doing an excellent business hauling cotton to Galveston. The figures thus far, he says, far exceed those of any other single line into Galveston. The movement of cotton thus far over this line has been very large and is daily increasing. The shipments from along the Fort Worth division have been very heavy.

HOMESEEKERS FOR TAMPIOCO City Passenger and Ticket Agent Fenech this morning sold fifteen tickets to Oklahoma homesekers, who are going to locate at Tampico, Mexico. The party will leave here tonight via Laredo and Monterrey. They will go over the Santa Fe to Milano Junction, thence by the International.

THIS MAKES THE FOURTH MOVEMENT to Tampico from Oklahoma over the Santa Fe.

AFTER THE KATY In these days of radical changes in railroad managements, nothing that might come up will be surprising to the public if it has to do with the larger railroad systems of the country.

Newcomers to the effect that the Gould syndicate is about to gobble up the Missouri, Kansas and Texas. FUNERAL AT HARCOURT

LONDON, Oct. 6.—The remains of Sir Vernon Harcourt, who died on Sunday, were buried in the family vault Nunham, at Oxford, today with utmost simplicity and privacy. Only the family and tenantry were present. Simultaneously memorial services were held at St. Margaret's church, Westminster, where representatives of King Edward and the Prince of Wales were among the immense congregation, which included Ambassador Choate, Mrs. Choate and other ambassadors and ministers, cabinet ministers and personal and political colleagues of the deceased statesman.

ARREST AT WACO

WACO, Texas, Oct. 6.—Will Rice, a young white man, is in jail here, charged with being one of the men who killed the man Templeton at Batson Prairie some two weeks ago, while trying to take money from Templeton. The killing of Templeton was sensational. Rice admits that he was in Batson at the time of the murder, but denies connection therewith.

OSSIFIED SISTER DIES

ROME, N. Y., Oct. 6.—Mrs. Erma Ewing Palmer, the last of the two "ossified" sisters, died today at Sherbourne, aged 50 years. Owing to a disease of rheumatic nature, which baffled the skill of many prominent physicians throughout the country, Mrs. Palmer had lain motionless upon her bed, totally blind and with every muscle rigid for the last twenty-five years. The disease manifested itself within a few days after her marriage at the age of 25. Her sister, Miss Stella Ewing, who died here two years ago, was afflicted in the same way.

W. B. PADDOCK IS APPOINTED THE REFEREE

Young Lawyer of This City Is Named by Judge Edward R. Meek to Succeed Granville P. Meade as Court Officer

Hon. G. P. Meade, referee in bankruptcy, who was last week made receiver by Judge Edward R. Meek of the Texas Products Company, resigned his position as referee in bankruptcy, a position to which he was appointed when the bankruptcy court was established. Judge Meek has named W. B. Paddock of this city as his successor in office. Mr. Paddock is a prominent young lawyer of Fort Worth. He is secretary of the Bar Association and occupies a nice position among the lawyers of the city. He is a son of Captain B. B. Paddock.

PAIRING FOR THE GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Pairings and the time of starting in the qualifying round for the women's golf championship, which begins on Monday at Philadelphia, have been made by the committee of the United States Golf Association. The first pair to tee up will be Miss Pat Schwartz, walden, of Dyker Meadow, and Mrs. Elliott Rogers of the Brighton Country Club, Allegheny, Pa., who are scheduled to start at 10 o'clock in the morning.

Miss Lottie Dool, the British champion, will have Miss Maud K. Wetton as partner. Miss Margaret Curtis, of the Essex County Club, has Mrs. Herbert Mann, the San Francisco champion, as partner, while Miss "Johnnie" Carpenter of Chicago is paired with Lillian Biddle of Riverton Club.

Two full-blood Comanche Indians arrived in the city this morning, en route to Old Mexico. They were Cheato, sub-chief of the Comanches from Fort Sill, and Maveus, his lieutenant. Cheato is on his way to the vicinity of Paris, Mexico, where he intends to select a suitable location for a Comanche colony. The Indians left this afternoon.

Drake's Palmotio Wine. The wonderful tonic medicine that removes all congestion and disease from vital organs, issues and blood. One to three spoonfuls, once a day, immediately relieves and absolutely cures Indigestion, Flatulency, Constipation and Catarrh of the Mucous Membranes. It is a positive specific for Congested Liver and Kidney, and Inflammation of Bladder, tones the Appetite and Nervous System, and purifies and enriches the blood. Seventy-five cents at Drug Stores for a large bottle, usual dollar size, but a trial bottle will be sent free and prepaid to every reader of this paper who needs it and writes for it to Drake Formula Company, Drake Building, Chicago, Ill.

Thousands of women of every age and condition break down and are brought to the very verge of utter collapse because they have kidney trouble and do not know it. It saps vitality—shatters nerves—makes work or rest or sleep impossible. Many a sufferer takes medicine for imaginary "female complaints" until she is utterly discouraged and much worse. And yet it is so easy to tell when the kidneys are sick, and so easy to cure them with the right sort of treatment. Prolonged neglect means diabetes or Bright's Disease. How many apparently healthy women there are who begin to find household work a burden; who are constantly "all-tired-out," irritable and depressed, and who suffer often from sick, dizzy headaches, pain in the back and sides, rheumatism and irregular flow of the urine. They are always ailing, but not sick enough to go to bed, and they wait for the spells to pass away. But the cause is still there. The kidneys are sick, and work only aggravates the trouble. The kidneys have in some way become congested, irritated, or inflamed, and are falling to remove the uric acid, and other poisons from the blood.

These poisons are attacking the nerves, muscles, and vital organs. Get at the root of the trouble and cure the kidneys. Use a medicine intended for the kidneys only—Doan's Kidney Pills. This remedy quickly relieves the tired-out kidneys—gives them new life and energy. The poisons disappear from the blood, and pains, aches, and nervousness vanish. The deeds of Doan's Kidney Pills in your own city prove this. Read the testimony of a resident, perhaps your neighbor. FORT WORTH PROF. Mrs. J. M. Sinclair of 415 Royal avenue, wife of J. N. Sinclair, employed at the water works, says: "I say without the slightest hesitation that Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Weaver's Pharmacy, saved the life of a child of mine who was troubled for years with weakness across his back and limited control over the kidney secretions. At different times he was so bad that he could not attend school. The child has taken, in all four boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and we consider him cured. I cannot express my gratitude for the benefit received." A year later Mrs. Sinclair testified: "There has been no return of the trouble."

interests have been reaching out for the Katy lines for some time, but with what success, of course, is not now known by the public. It is understood that directors in the control of the Katy have authorized, or rather recommended, a change in operation or policy, as they are unsatisfied with the reports of conditions recently made by Vice President Hoyt. Another reason why the Goulds would like to get control of the Katy is the fact that the line is the strongest competitor that the Gould line have in the southwest, and for this reason the Gould interests are more than anxious to secure control of the Katy. From what can be learned here the belief is general that the deal may be closed within the next few months—possibly sooner. Mr. Gould has not been over the Katy lines in the southwest, but it is understood he is soon to come this way.

RAILROAD MAN COTTON GROWER

Dan M. Morgan, traveling passenger agent of the Cotton Belt, is not only a railroad man, but a good cotton grower as well. He is today exhibiting samples of cotton raised on his 600-acre ranch in Washita county, Oklahoma, that exceeds anything in the way of cotton shown in this city. The bolls are one and one-half staple and of the very finest texture.

Mr. Morgan says that under ordinary weather conditions this cotton will yield from one to one and a half bales to the acre, but in account of dry weather it will only average between a three-fourths to one bale to the acre this season. The seed, he says, cost $1.10 per bushel, and thoroughly demonstrates that it pays farmers to use the best of everything. The variety is now to Mr. Morgan, hence he planted only about fifteen acres, but next year he proposes to launch out on a larger scale with this cotton.

TO USE ELECTRICITY

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—About one hundred miles of the Long Island railroad system will be equipped with electricity, it is stated, and be ready for operation with that power early next spring. Ultimately it will be possible for a person to take a train at the Pennsylvania station to be built in the heart of Manhattan and ride without change of cars or move power to Manhattan Beach, Rockaway Beach, Far Rockaway, or intermediate points. When this big undertaking is in working order the main passenger station of the Long Island railroad at Long Island City will be merely a way station.

For several months the Long Island railroad has been building a gigantic power house at Long Island City, which will be ready for use early next spring. It is one of the largest houses of its kind ever built. The electric system for the short haul service will be the third rail.

NOTES AND PERSONALS

W. C. Melville, northwestern passenger agent of the Frisco, headquarters at Kansas City, is in the city. John L. Pennington, late live stock agent of the Frisco, left today over the Cotton Belt for a ten days' trip to Nashville, Tenn.

Market Quotations

NORTH FORT WORTH, Oct. 6.—Receipts of cattle were only moderate today. Early shipment, with twenty-seven cars in all, amounted to about 1,000 cattle, with enough arriving later in the day to increase the number to 2,000.

Light offering of steers came and these were mostly feeders, with a few medium grades. Packers and feeder buyers were both out for cattle and selling on all kinds ruled steady at a range of from $2.50 to $3.

The supply of butcher stock was fairly liberal, with a pretty good demand on sale, and with an active demand from packers, selling ruled steady to strong, with the bulk of sales around $2.

There was no change in the bull market. Receipts were small and selling was mostly by packers and speculators at a range of from $1.50 to $1.75.

Calves, with light supplies on the early market, increased as later arrivals got in. The quality was good and selling ruled steady with yesterday, the bulk going at a range of from $2.50 to $3.25.

The run of hogs was again large and figured close around 1.80 head. The supply was about evenly divided between Texas and Territory hogs, and while packers wanted the best hard corn fed hogs, for which they paid strictly steady prices, there was a weak demand for the common grades and selling ruled 10c to 15c lower.

One drove of hogs, averaging around 225 pounds, sold at $5.75, with the bulk of sales at a range of from $5.50 to $5.75.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 6.—The admiralty here has not received any confirmation of the sea fight, reported by the London news agency last night to have occurred off Port Arthur.

TO RUN THE BLOCKADE

TOKIO, Oct. 6, 10. a. m.—The Port Arthur blockading fleet has captured a junk laden with provisions. The junk was endeavoring to enter the harbor. The statements of the crew and evidence found aboard the junk indicate the existence of a fleet of eighty junks, organized to run the blockade from the vicinity of Tsing Tau. Despite the vigilance of the blockading fleet, many junks reach the Russian lines at a number of landing places on the lower end of the peninsula. The junks enter at night, the Russian guns and mine fields giving them an advantage over the vessels of the blockading fleet. While it is suspected that ammunition is being smuggled in, none has yet been found in the hundreds of junks that have been overhauled and searched.

FORCES ARE QUIET

MUKDEN, Oct. 6.—The main forces of both armies are quiet, but scouts are active. On Tuesday a Cossack detachment of two squadrons, but one sharp brush with some of the Japanese dragoons near Yental mines. The Japanese lost four men killed and two captured. They then fled.

BRITISH STEAMER IS SEARCHED BY JAPS

CHEFOU, Oct. 6, 3 p. m.—The British steamer Chefoo, traveling from Taku to Chefoo, not hearing the usual blank shots, was hoisted by the Japanese cruiser which seems to be pressing reconnaissance southward towards Yen Tai. On Tuesday some Russian scouts ran into a squadron of Japanese consisting of four companies at Hunipou and forced them back until reinforced by cavalry, who flanked the Japanese and drove them back on Toudamou, with considerable loss. The case evening the Russians approached within about three miles of the coal mines, repulsing four squadrons and three companies of Japanese.

ONLY SKIRMISHING

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 6.—Nothing beyond skirmishing between advance posts is reported from the front. Russian cavalry seems to be pressing reconnaissance southward towards Yen Tai. HE WENT OUT TO BUY A LOT OF STUFF AND CARRIED MUCH MONEY WITH HIM—INVESTIGATION BEING MADE NOW

BONHAM, Texas, Oct. 6.—Will Biggarstarr, who lives near Gaber, about twelve miles southeast of here, has been missing since Monday and no trace of him can be found. Biggarstarr is in the stock business and buys up considerable quantities of cattle and mules. Monday he left home to go on a hunt of stock, which he wanted to purchase to fill contracts. It is stated that he usually carries considerable money with him with which he pays for his purchases, instead of giving checks on the Bonham Banks, and his folk fear he has met with foul play. His brother, Matt, was here today, and it is likely that he will enlist the services of the sheriff's department to find his brother.

THE CHAIRMAN OF THE CONVENTION SAYS IT IS MORGAN AND MILTON PARK INSISTS THAT IT IS CLARKE

Messrs. Eger and Adams certified the name of Pat B. Morgan to Secretary of State Carl, who sent the ticket out to the several county clerks on it for this county. The ticket was written as legally as it is possible to write anything with pen and ink. Yesterday Mr. Park called up the state department by telephone and said that he was a delegate to the convention in Fort Worth and that Pat B. Clark was nominated for governor. He was perfectly certain about the matter, saying that he put Pat B. Clark's name before the convention.

CITY NEWS

Manager Stater of the Stater Theater Company, now playing at Greenwall's opera house, reports a theft from his room in one of the hotels in the city. When the company arrived yesterday about the hour Mr. and Mrs. Stater went to their apartments for a few moments and then to the dining hall to lunch. Mrs. Stater left a hand bag containing $20 in currency and a small purse containing about $3 in rare coins. While they were at lunch some one entered the room, opened the hand bag and appropriated the rare coins, leaving the roll of currency untouched. The theft is being investigated.

OF INTEREST TO THE STOCKMEN

"We are almost face to face with the necessity of dipping our cattle according to government regulations," says M. L. Merz, a prominent cattlemen and banker of San Angelo. "We do not look forward to this step with any degree of enthusiasm, and even dread it in a measure, but the necessity becomes more urgent not because we. I say we dread it, not because we Texans have any objections to doing what the government demands or even what it advises, for we take it for granted that Uncle Sam, with the advice of his experts, is better able to comprehend the sanitary needs of the southern cattle than even we, who raise them. The thing that we know is not good for our cattle is the weakening effect of the dipping process, together with the necessity for feeding the brutes after they have been dipped. It must be borne in mind that our cattle are wild. They are born on the prairie, remain on the range season in and season out, without feed and without the close association of man. They do not, as a consequence, learn what feed is. When they are taken into the dipping plant, and immersed they must then wait several days before being dipped again. During this time the cattle must be fed. Now, this dipping itself is very weakening. The cattle are scared almost sick by the plunge in the solution, they come out and stand of being able to make a break for the open prairie, they are kept up and offered feed. If there can be a time when it is unfitting to offer range cattle feed it is such a time as this. They will not eat until they are starved, and when they do get the feed along they are very eager. The very rigors of the dipping make it impossible for us range cattlemen to consider the question of dipping our cattle in the spring. They are too weak to undergo the ordeal. The consequence is that we have to follow the path beaten by us in previous years and send the animals to the Indian Territory or Oklahoma to be finished for shipment north for slaughter. If we do not do this we must hold them at home and dip them again, which they have gained enough flesh and strength to warrant our subjecting them to the exhaustive dipping. This latter step is, however, as I have said, becoming more necessary as the season goes on. The people of the Indian Territory and Oklahoma are making serious objection to our taking our cattle into the nations and into Oklahoma for pasture. They are trying to invoke both the law of Oklahoma Territory and the law of the Indian Territory to Texas cattle. They may succeed in obtaining quarantine and barring us from entering those territories at any time, and then we will be up against it. What will that mean? Dip our cattle. It can mean that. We can not have the limitations of our market narrowed to such a point that we must throw our cattle on the market for slaughter in just any shape that the coming of a season finds them in, no matter how thin some of them may be, because of death or other cause not to be controlled by us cattlemen. We must have pastures to fatten our cattle. For that purpose we must send them to the Indian Territory, Kansas, Oklahoma, the Dakotas, Montana and Idaho, and to do that we must dip them. Uncle Sam says so, and Uncle Sam has a way of laying down the law and making people observe it." Mr. Merz says there is strong talk of the construction of a big dipping plant at San Angelo in the near future.

DISCONTENT OF MINISTERS

Dr. Joseph Strong, president of the American Institute for Social Service, at the recent Scientists' congress in St. Louis, said: "The ministry of today lacks enthusiasm for the reason that it lacks a message. Many a preacher speaks, not because he has something to say, but because he has to say something. During the present transition the pulpit is placed on the defensive. It has lost the power of affirmation. Scientific methods applied to biblical criticism have destroyed many time-honored beliefs." Dr. Strong said further that it was probable that a majority of all the pastors in the United States are at this moment desiring a change. He related that he was recently talking with five New England preachers, each of whom said if he had his life to live over he would not enter the ministry. Neither would he let his son enter it, if he could prevent it. Right here is the subject matter for a strong lay sermon by the Fort Worth Telegram, and we turn the matter over to that paper for its consideration with the further remark that the Transcript's recent observations lead it to the belief that there is something radically wrong with New York preachers. First Bishop Potter flew off at a tangent and went into the saloon business, and now Dr. Strong, after spending a lifetime in the ministry, asserts that he is sorry of it, and so are a majority of the pastors of the country. There must be something in Gothic atmosphere that makes Jordan a hard road to travel.—Terrell Transcript.

AT WHAT SACRIFICE

Copyright, 1903, by W. R. Hearst. Great Britain rights reserved. John Marlow rose gravely from his desk, and stood looking out of the low French window, turning his back on the angry girl who was on the other side of the room. "You can't know your own mind," he said almost sharply. "You cannot be serious. Leonard North is a coward—small, and mean, and contemptuous." Maggie sprang to her feet. "How dare you! How can you!" she cried. "Because he's not good enough for you, child," he said, gravely. "I've been your guardian for seven years—ever since your father died, and I know you've better qualities of heart than he has. I know you've the stuff in you which he hasn't—which he doesn't know the meaning of, and he is no fit husband for you. He isn't good enough." The rage flamed in Maggie's face. She was choking. "You're a brute," she cried, fiercely, "and I hate you, and I love him, and I'll marry him—yes, I'll marry him even if I have to wait hundreds of years. I don't care for you. I'm nearly 21. You can't hinder us after that." John faced her still gravely. She was only a child, after all—a child, who had mistaken a bit of glass for a diamond. "He sighed heavily, and looked at her flushed face. She loved Leonard North! His brave, honest, impetuous Maggie loved a man who was as contemptible as she was lovable, and in addition to the pain already at his heart came a fresh pang at the thought of her being Leonard's wife. It was not that he had anything against Leonard, only that there was always a vague, indefinable distrust—a feeling that if some day a temptation assailed him he would not be strong enough to resist it.

A Living Monument.

If we were to assemble all those who have been cured of heart disease by Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, and who would to-day be in their graves had not Dr. Miles' been successful in perfecting this wonderful heart specific, they would populate a large city. What a remarkable record—a breathing, thinking, moving monument, composed of human lives,—that for which every other earthly possession is sacrificed. The Miles Medical Co. receive thousands of letters from these people like the following: "I feel indebted to Dr. Miles' Heart Cure for my life. I desire to call the attention of others suffering as I did to this remarkable remedy for the heart. For a long time I had suffered from shortness of breath after any little exertion, palpitation of the heart, and at times terrible pain in the region of the heart, so serious that I feared that I would some time drop dead upon the street. One day I read one of your circulars, and immediately went to my drugist and purchased two bottles of the Heart Cure, and took it according to directions, with the result that I am entirely cured. Since then I never miss an opportunity to recommend this remedy to my friends who have heart trouble; in fact I am a traveling advertisement, for I am widely known in this locality." J. H. BOWMAN, Manager of Lebanon Democrat, Nashville, Tenn. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold by your drugist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails he will refund your money. very nearly the whole world is expecting it. The republican campaign orators are informing the 30,000 mill operatives at Fall River that the mills will start work again if Roosevelt is elected, and that looks like a very effective manner of forcing the laborer to vote for Roosevelt and republican prosperity. A New Jersey man who had not spoken to a woman in thirty-seven years has just married a widow, and his prospects for talking in the future are just about on a par with those of the past. The Fairbanks presidential boom has already been launched out on the Pacific slope, and it is not an act that will cause President Roosevelt to become any fonder of his running mate. The Fairbanks presidential ambition is a full grown gad-fly in the Roosevelt ointment. Senator Fairbanks says the republican party made the American flag, and all parties are willing to concede that as it now stands it is made out of the tail of one of Roosevelt's old shirts. That flag stands for Rooseveltism instead of constitutionalism. The Meredith theory is that marriage should be on the ten-year lease plan, but they beat that all hollow in Chicago, where only a few days are necessary to end the combination. The novelist will have to spring something different from that if he wants to head off Chicago. The treaty between England and Tibet has been signed, under the terms of which that country is now opened up, and Tibet agrees to pay England indemnity in the sum of $2,500,000. You can always trust John Bull to look after that little matter of indemnity. Sir Thomas Lipton is busy at work investigating plans for a new challenger, and evidently intends to carry that cup back to England or fracture his bank account in the effort. But he will never win out until he has his challenger designed and built in America, and in that event it would not be an English victory, don't you know. The Indianapolis Sentinel says that the Indiana republican state committee has been singularly unfortunate this fall. One member is already in the state penitentiary, and another has just had twenty indictments returned against him. All of which goes to show that they were worthy and well qualified. By John Horton

John looked at Maggie, and wondered if she could make Leonard into a stronger man—if it were possible? He came forward from the window with his eyes on hers, and the fierce longing to keep her to himself rushed up again. He loved her—loved her better than ever Leonard North or a thousand men like him could love her, and he had meant some day to try his luck himself. Just now was the very worst moment he could have chosen, but he could not help it. The thought of her going over to a man like Leonard North was enough to send him distracted. "Maggie, Maggie! You know that I'd do anything to make you happy," he cried. "I only want you to be happy." "He stopped and hesitated. "I'd give my life to make you happy—child; I—I—love you myself." She stared at him. He was old—thirty at east, and she had called him an old fogey to Leonard. Now—was he really proposing to her? For an instant she was stunned. Then something that Leonard had whispered—that John Marlow would probably like her fortune well—came to her suddenly, and her face flamed. For a moment she forgot all that John had done for her—all his kindness, all his care, and words flashed from her lips that afterward she would have given anything to recall. "Leonard told me what it would be," she cried. "He said you would never give your consent—that you would want me yourself. He was right, but I'm old enough to know—to know when a man really loves me, and I know Leonard does, and I mean to marry him. If you won't give your consent we shall wait till next year, that's all. And we shall be married the very day after my birthday." John watched her with steady eyes, with his face growing gray and his lips set. She was only a child—only a child. He kept repeating it to him-

Handwriting, and tried to understand them.

She failed absolutely, and turned them over in disgust. Then something far more interesting caught her eye—a little dusty bundle of letters. She picked one up—it was only another stupid lawyer's letter, after all, and of no earthly interest to her. Yet—she caught her breath. "Dear Marlow—I am sorry to tell you that your ward's fortune is hopelessly lost. There is not the slightest prospect of recovering it, I have made all inquiries." Her face blanched. John had never had any other ward but herself, and—the date! She looked at it hastily. It was dated seven years ago! She put it down slowly with her hand shaking a little, with the room and the desk and the portrait of her father, which hung on the wall facing her, growing very dim indeed. It seemed for a moment as if the world were coming to an end, and then she rose. She stood for an instant, her heart beating, odd thoughts in her head, and looked at the hat which she had thrown down upon the desk. She took it up. John had said nothing about her fortune being lost, and he had made all preparations for handing over the $100,000 her father had left her. What did it mean? She gripped the hat suddenly with her little fingers, and looked down at the mass of papers, and then another caught her eye. She bent down. It was a letter from a house agent, and she caught her breath again—John was selling the house, the horses and carriages, the cows in the paddock—everything! He was selling everything! She stood motionless for a moment. Then, with a strange, odd, white face, she went from the room. When she came back John was there. He had his back turned to her, and he was scratching busily over a paper. He was getting ready to hand over her fortune—the fortune which had been lost seven years ago! She held her breath. "John," she said. He looked up. "How was it you didn't tell me that I had no money?" she asked. He started. "What do you mean?" he cried. She came closer. "You know what I mean," she said. "I came in here an hour ago and I saw something. It's there somewhere," she pointed her finger, "an old letter saying that my money had gone. Then I—I saw another thing about selling the house, and saw your lawyer, and I went and saw your lawyer, and asked him. He said he didn't know anything at all about it. Then I asked him if you had got plenty of money, and he gave me an awful snub, but I saw something—just a bit of a flicker in his face, which he couldn't help; and I knew, John. A woman is sharper than a lawyer sometimes, and I—I guessed, and I went out and went straight to Leonard." She stopped. Her eyes were on John's. His throat was dry. "I told him," she went on, her voice sinking to a whisper. "I told him that I had no money, and that he would have to work for me or else—or else give me up." "Yes?" said John harshly. "He gave me up," she said slowly. John started at her for a moment. Then he put out a trembling hand, and drew it back again quickly. Maggie came still a step nearer. "John, I know all you were going to do. You were going to give me your money. You told me once that you would give your life to make me happy, and you were going to do it, John." She flung out her hands suddenly toward him. "Oh, John! Oh, my dear John!" she cried, with a sob. "I was a beast to Mothers! Retain Your Youthful Figures.

To be beautiful is to be loved by all. If there lives the woman who is indifferent to this she is yet to be heard of. Yet from time immemorial society has recognized what they thought to be a detriment in the way of such a realization. The bearing of children has meant to them the marbling of physical beauty of figure, without which beauty of face would be of little account. Nothing could be more remote from truth than this; childbirth is purely a natural phenomenon, accompanied by pain, to be sure, but it properly managed is not only harmless in its effects upon the human form divine than any other natural function.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

is essential in the proper management of every case of labor; it relaxes and softens the abdominal muscles, thereby enabling them to sustain the stretching that they must undergo, and from this very fact it facilitates their return to normal proportions after childbirth, and it is observed that pain must be greatly lessened from this very reason. It is a liniment, it is harmless, it is potent, it is priceless in its results, it is Mother's Friend. Do not settle at drug stores. CROPS IN TEXAS

Professor W. J. Spillman of the government expert agricultural department has told to the eastern press something about the crop conditions in Texas. In his interview to the press in the east he has lauded the Texas farmer for forsaking the one crop idea and in developing more time to diversified farming. Where if one crop should fail they still have some other crop to fall back on. He told further in the interview of the magnificent crops of all kinds the farmers have been raising and of the prices they have gotten for them. A man back with a reputation as one of the best scientific farmers in the country, who has seen more and had the greatest possible amount of experience, telling as he has done of the wonderful resources of the state, the opinion will attract more persons to the state than a great amount of advertising of any other nature.

Rain fell yesterday and last night at many points. In most cases the rain fall was very light. In some cases it will interfere with the continuation of the cotton picking, but not to any great extent.

At Italy over 6,000 bales have been received so far this year. Some of the farmers are holding the crop for better prices. The cotton picking is nearly finished.

In the vicinity of Longview there has been a drought for some time, and there are no indications of it being broken. The cotton is in need of rain and if none falls in the very near future there will be a short yield.

The Falls County Fruit and Truck Growers was organized at Marlin on Tuesday, and elected a set of officers. They have organized for their own protection against jobbers.

A Grayson county farmer near Denison claims to have raised the banner cotton crop of the season, gathering from his land an average of nearly a bale to the acre. The crop is almost perfect and will command the highest price on the market. He gathered nearly six hundred pounds of lint to the acre.

The demand for cotton pickers in the territories is still as great as ever, but the supply seems to have been about exhausted. None have been shipped from Fort Worth for the past two days. The employment agencies are having some trouble in filling the orders for hands.

The sudden washouts on most of the roads has created a great demand for workmen on the railroads at almost unprecedented wages and the men are hastening to those jobs in preference to the work in the fields.

Figures to show the amount of cotton handled at the various gins in the state are to be gathered by the government officials about the 15th of the month. This is to be the principle census of the cotton statistics.

AMUSEMENTS

The Stater Theater Company opened a four nights' engagement at Greenwall's last night, the opera house being crowded to the very doors. Every seat was sold and every seat was occupied. The company comes well recommended by the press, presenting a repertoire of excellent plays, and the large audience enjoyed to the fullest extent the play and the players.

The opening bill was "Man's Devotion." Miss Leona Stater is the leading lady of the company. She is a delightful young woman, of fine stage appearance, which is made more attractive by correct and elegant costuming during the action of the play. She is of excellent dramatic ability, and reads her lines well. Robert Grandi plays those heroic parts which appeal to the sentiment of the matinee girl, and so truly handsome is in appearance, that it is a pleasure to see him. His voice is good and clear. C. H. Bellport is the support for the leading man. Herbert Dobbins has the heavy part, and he is every inch a villain. His make up is good, and he portrays the character well. He is a hard worker and a conscientious one.

The company is well constituted, and presents the plays in a very acceptable manner. There are specialties during the action of the play. Mr. Stater's little boy, 8 years of age, is quite a singer and appears as one of the features. The DeArmond Sisters of this city are featured between acts and last night made a decided hit in songs and dances. Tonight the company will present

"Three of a Kind." The same play will be given at the matinee tomorrow afternoon.

MR. TIM MURPHY

The coming of Tim Murphy and his clever associates to this city should be a matter in theatricals worthy of more than usual interest. This comedian is without question one of the most popular throughout the country and is always certain of a warm welcome here. He is to appear at Greenwall's opera house on Monday and Tuesday nights, October 10 and 11, with two new comedies, that are said to be excellent. On Monday night, October 10, he will introduce Frederick Paulling's romantic comedy entitled "Two Men and a Girl," which is one of the genuine novelties of the season and which has made a great impression on all who have so far witnessed it. On Tuesday night, October 11, the offering will be A. C. Bishop's satirical comedy, "When a Man Marries," dealing with a theme that is at any and all times most amusing, and which, as laid out here, shows us married life in a little different form than we are accustomed to seeing it depicted upon the stage. While the latter play is more farcical than "Two Men and a Girl" it never falls below the standard of high-class presentation, but as given by Mr. Murphy and his company merely shows us a laughing picture of what we all get who marry or at least what we are reputed to get.

LABOR NOTES

Carpenters' Union No. 329 of Fort Worth held an open meeting at the Labor Temple last night. Addresses were delivered by President G. P. Lytle, Messrs. Lotenshiser, Dalton, Patterson and Woodman. Miss Sadie Deans recited. The object of the meeting was two-fold: The getting into the organization of non-union men, explaining to them the benefits to be derived from being members of the Carpenters' Union, and to have the wives and daughters of the union men become acquainted with each other.

There were present quite a number of non-union men. It was plainly stated by Mr. Dalton, business agent of the union, that no man's application for membership was desired until that man had become convinced that it was a step taken that would result in bettering his condition, and all of the speakers dwelt on the union movement and made it plain to all that organized labor had benefited every branch of labor and that were it not for the fact that there were men on the outside there would be the universal eight-hour day and many more men steadily employed.

The carpenters belong to a branch of labor that is little understood by the average man, even the average workman. They have things to contend with unknown to any other branch of labor that has a tendency to keep them down. In the first place their occupation is one that necessarily compels them to stay at home, that is, they can not "pick up and leave" whenever conditions do not suit them, as can most every other branch of labor. This is due to the fact that a carpenter must own his tools, which consist of an outfit that varies in price from $25 to $200, and these tools are heavy and kept in boxes, which to ship compels the carpenter to pay excess baggage. These tools are constantly wearing out. Another thing, there is a cost attached to changing from one job to another, and the house carpenter is out of a job and looking for another whenever a house is finished. This means a great loss of time during a year.

PRINTING PRESSMEN

The Printing Pressmen's Union held its regular monthly meeting and elected its delegates to the Fort Worth Trades Assembly. F. Rogers and Guy M. Kelly. It has been more than a year since the Pressmen's Union affiliated with the central body.

NATIONAL ORGANIZER IN THE CITY
Lem Husted, national organizer of the Bartenders' International, is in Fort Worth this week visiting his union here and looking after matters pertaining to the craft. He will remain over Sunday and attend the regular meeting of the Bartenders' Union.

TEAMDRIVERS MEET SUNDAY

For the present the teamdrivers will hold meetings every Sunday forenoon in Labor Temple, and non-union members are especially invited to call around. The first part of each meeting will be an open one, and good speakers will be on hand every day.

LABEL LEAGUE

Woman's League No. 111 will give an entertainment and dance Friday night, October 7. The following program has been prepared by Miss Marie Thompson and pupils: Baby Wometta, will introduce the play with "Brand New Colored Lady," song by Misses Velma Vroom, Laney Giddell, Frankie Baker and Vivian Blackwell; song, Ethel McKillen; rainbow dance, Velma Vroom and Laney Giddell; "Suzanna," by Misses Velma Vroom, Laney Giddell and Vivian Blackwell; song, Frankie Baker; tambourine dance, Bessie McKillen; song and dance, Arthur Machett; song and chorus, Misses Vroom, Giddell, Allen and Blackwell. Light refreshments will be served. Recitation, "People Will Talk," Ollie Moore.

SAN ANGELO FOLK WED

SAN ANGELO, Texas, Oct. 5.—San Angelo has been all agog today over the wedding of three of the members of the social set of San Angelo. S. E. Gantt, a prominent young business man and one of the leaders of society here, was married at high noon today at Belton to Miss Addie Wilson, a popular young lady of that place. Miss Lela March, one of San Angelo's society belles, acted as bridesmaid. James C. Landon, a prominent business man, and Miss Mae Foreman, a popular society favorite, were married this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Landon hotel. Both couples left immediately after the ceremonies for bridal tours to the World's Fair.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies, and that is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. REAL ESTATE

Plans and specifications for a large business block to be erected on the southeast corner of Throckmorton and Seventh streets by Thomas Ellison, who recently came into possession of that property.

As the plans for the building are being drawn in Dallas and the further fact that Mr. Ellison is on his ranch, nothing definite can be ascertained as to the building proper, except that it is understood it will be five stories high and will cover a ground space of 100x150 feet. The ground has been occupied for seven years by the Rock Island Coal Company, which has been notified to vacate by November 1. This would indicate that work on the new building will be commenced soon thereafter.

It is also understood that the property adjoining the Southwestern Telegraph and Telephone exchange on the north to Seventh street, owned by J. J. Sloan, is also to be improved.

There is talk that parties have offered to buy the lot in the rear of the City Drug Store on the southwest corner of Throckmorton and Seventh streets for the purpose of erecting a modern business house, but the deal has not been consummated. An offer of $7,500 has been made for this property.

Contractors say that much building will be done in Fort Worth during the present fall and winter.

Plans are being drawn for the erection of a three-story building to be erected at the corner of Thirteenth and Houston streets. The building will be the property of Ed Otto of this city.

"Katy Club"
THE MKT AND MISSOURI, KANSAS & TEXAS RAILWAY.

In addition to the specially low rates made for visitors to the World's Fair at St. Louis a "Katy Club" which has been organized will run a personally conducted excursion from all points in Texas to St. Louis on October 8.
The object of this club is to make a trip to the World's Fair at the lowest possible expense. Parties going with this excursion will secure the benefit of extremely low railroad rates, rooms with first class accommodations at rates from sixty to seventy-five cents per day, have the benefit of being looked after by competent employes while in St. Louis, and otherwise enjoy benefits that can not be secured in any other way.
As the membership of the "Katy Club" is limited it is necessary that applications for accommodations and reservations be made at the earliest possible moment by applying to any ticket agent of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway, or

The brick work on the first story of the new Winkfield Scott building being erected at the corner of Houston and West Front street is nearly completed and the work on the second story has been started. This is to be one of the handsomest small business buildings in the city and is being covered with a veneer of buff brick, which gives it a fine appearance.

Workmen are repairing the Albert Hayne fountain in the Texas and Pacific plaza. The work will probably be completed this evening. This fountain is at all times in great demand for the watering of horses. Many a thirsty horse quenches his thirst at this place in a day's time and the repairs being made are discommending many of these faithful dumb animals.

Frank Mullins, who was door-keeper of the twenty-eighth district in the state legislature, is a candidate for reelection when the next session of that body meets, which will be about January 10. Mr. Mullins states that thus far there is a clear field ahead of him. No other candidates have announced their intention of contesting for the appointment.

The work being done by the Northern Traction Company at the corner of Main and East Front street is being rushed as rapidly as is possible. This morning the large frog for the double track switch was put down. The tearing up of the pavement and the already crowded condition of the streets at this corner makes the track laying very slow work.

The work of switching in the Texas and Pacific yards is now going on much nicer since two men are in the tower of the interlocker plant. Owing to the many passenger trains the work has suddenly grown to immense proportions and makes it very hard on the switchmen, as it keeps them constantly on the jump to handle beside the regular trains those of the other roads that are detouring over the Texas and Pacific tracks.

street and Washington avenue. Friday, October 7, from 3 to 6 p. m. The program for entertainment will be rather unique and interesting and light refreshments will be served. A general invitation is extended to all members of the Cumberland Presbyterian church and their friends by the Woman's auxiliary of Taylor Street Cumberland Presbyterian church, under whose auspices the tea is given.

John Bondurant, who has for years been chief usher at the Greenwall opera house in this city and who has by his uniform courtesy at the door made many friends, both for himself and the theater, has resigned his position. Mr. Bondurant has recently embarked in the mercantile business and he finds it necessary to devote his entire time to his personal interests. He has been a familiar figure "on the door" for a long time.

The sudden change in the weather has caused almost every clothing merchant in Fort Worth to wear a smile today. Many are preparing to have special sales, as the season is well advanced and the goods have been on hand some time, as they bought them during the summer months in the north and east. By the first of next week the special sales along the street will be in full blast. "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good," and these merchants are going to take advantage of the change for which they have so impatiently waited.

Miss Florence Elizabeth Ward of the Fort Worth Kindergarten College delivered an address on "Methods in Sunday School Work" before a number of Sunday school workers at the Cannon Avenue Cumberland Presbyterian church last night. Miss Ward explained the methods of teaching used in the kindergartens and emphasized the fact of the necessity of using similar methods in the Sunday schools. Professor Rollin M. Pease of the Fort Worth University sang a solo. A general discussion of kindergarten and Sunday school work was then had, after which the meeting adjourned.

A YOUNG DENTIST READILY RESENTS THE CRUELTY

Some One Put High Life on a Poodle and the Doctor Batters Him Up for the Treatment of the Dog

Dr. F. H. Nowlin, a young dentist of this city, had quite an exciting experience last night about 11 o'clock.

Dr. Nowlin walked over to the Worth hotel shortly after 10 o'clock and was followed by a small white poodle dog, the property of a friend.

At the hotel some enterprising person proceeded to pour the substance known as "high life" on the unfortunate poodle. The pup immediately set up a terrific howl and began a mad race up Main street, as if pursued by demons. The "high life" stayed with the poodle, however, and the poor animal kept up the mad race.

Dr. Nowlin immediately inquired who the person was who thus tortured the dog, and finding the man a fugitive, arrested him. Dr. Nowlin hit the fellow in the mouth, badly cutting his hand on the fellow's teeth. The fight finally ended and the young dentist went in search of the poodle, which was still running as if the furies were after him.

A crowd joined in the chase up Main street, and heard the doctor, they finally captured the terrified canine.

IN A PRIVATE CAR HE MAKES TOUR OF STATES

Senor Juan M. Brittingham of Ygnarito Gonzales, Mexico, passed through Fort Worth last night, bound for St. Louis and the north on a tour of two weeks. He was in a private car attached to the northbound Katy. He was accompanied with his family and a retinue of servants.

The gentleman is the wealthiest soap manufacturer in the entire world. He came to Mexico from Germany when he was but 13 years of age. He wandered over the country and worked at any thing he could find to do to make a living. Being of a scientific turn of mind he discovered the properties of the amole root for the making of soap and engaged on a very small scale in that business. As the business increased he kept adding to his force and building up an establishment that today employs over 1,500 men and women. When good fortune came to him in the soap business he then became one of the prominent men of the republic and has held several offices at the hands of the people.

DARING HOLDUP
 Young Man Is Robbed by Two Negroes During the Bright Light of the Forenoon, and Officers Now After Them

THEY CHOKE THE VICTIM
 J. B. Gardenhire Is Attacked by Them As He Is Waiting at the Weatherford Street Crossing of the Rock Island for a Train

One of the most daring daylight hold ups which ever occurred in this city, was perpetrated about 10 o'clock this morning near the Weatherford street crossing of the Rock Island railway. J. B. Gardenhire, a youth of about 19 years, was attacked by two negroes, choked and beaten and robbed of $23 in money and a pistol.

Young Gardenhire was lying beside the railroad waiting for a train preparatory to leaving the city. Gardenhire's brother is employed as a brakeman on the Rock Island and the young man was intending to ride on one of the freight trains.

As he lay there two negroes, one a freckled faced molatto, the other a black, slipped up on the prostrate boy and a tussel ensued. Young Gardenhire fought hard and the negro called to his pal for aid. Together they choked the lad and relieved him of $23 and a pistol that the boy was taking with him on his trip.

After committing the crime the robbers fled, one going south along the track and the other making for the river bottom east of town.

Gardenhire gave chase and meeting a boy with a shot gun, grabbed the weapon and fired both barrels at one of the negroes. The fleeing negro then dropped the stolen pistol and grabbing this Gardenhire continued shooting.

None of the shots seemed to take effect, however, for the robbers continued their flight.

Shortly after 10 o'clock the phone at the police station rang and Officer J. E. Clark was informed of the affair. He went to the scene of the robbery but could get nothing but a meagre description of the negroes from the excited boy. Officers then searched along the river bottom but could find no trace of the men.

Young Gardenhire stated that he would postpone his trip and would remain in Fort Worth with the hope of capturing his assailants, and police officers will thoroughly sift the matter and catch the criminals if possible.

A NEW REGULATION ABOUT THE MAIL IS RECEIVED

As Many As Two Thousand Pieces of Identical Matter May Be Sent Without Stamp Being on Each One

Instructions have been received in Texas postoffices in regard to the sending of identical mail in large quantities without the necessity of affixing a stamp to each piece. Persons who wish to send as many as 2,000 pieces at one mailing without putting a stamp to each piece may do so by getting a permit from the postmaster.

Mail matter of this kind will be sent under the following conditions:

1. Each separate piece must be so wrapped or enveloped that it may be easy of access by the postal employees.
 2. The addresses must be to places in the United States or its dependencies only. All foreign-directed mail must have proper postage attached.
 3. On the face side in the upper left-hand corner must be stamped plainly the name and address of the sender, name of postoffice or substation, class of mail, amount of postage, the words "Paid in Money" and the number of the permit.
 4. Type used for the address shall be within ten and twenty-four point type; for showing amount of matter between fourteen and thirty-six point. India must not be over set nor confused with any other matter. There must be in that place no special marks, figures or individual designs. Such, if used, must be placed on the upper right-hand side of the face of the matter.
 5. As far as is practicable the address side of the matter must be up and turned in reading position so as to facilitate the handling of the matter, and upon request of the postmaster it shall be classified according to states, counties and cities.
 6. The matter shall be put up in bundles of fifty or multiples of that number up to 2,000.
 7. The matter shall be presented at such place as postmaster may designate and in not less than 2,000 pieces. It shall be signed by the person to whom the permit was issued, stating whether third or fourth-class matter, the weight of the several pieces and number of pieces.

BUNGO MEN TRY THE BOYCOTT JUST NOW

Because Merchants Object to Dead Falls on Lower Main Street, the Stores Are Given Bad Names by the Crooks

Since the several exposures The Telegram has made of the bunco men along Lower Main street, mentioning that the merchants along the street had complained about the games, a new condition of affairs has developed. Some of those who have closed their places for a time are now said to be devoting their leisure time to working a systematic boycott on some of the merchants who raised the racket.

These men are said to get in front of a merchant's place of business and when a prospective customer starts for the door they will hail him and calling him aside confidentially tell him that the fellow who runs the place is a cheat and a fraud and they had better go further up the street. As most of these men are a well-dressed lot and have the appearance of well-to-do persons, not much of a story is necessary to drive away the trade. It is expected that if this kind of a game is kept up that there will be some very interesting times along the street in a short time.

Several of the merchants are bitterly complaining about the matter and one of them this morning pointed out a man who was said to be one of the boycotters in the very act of holding up a countryman and telling him that he would get cheated if he went into a certain store.

The conditions prevailing on Lower Main street caused by these men is a rather peculiar one and is causing a great deal of comment.

THE PYTHIANS ARE TO ENTERTAIN AN OFFICER

Grand Chancellor of the State Will Reach Here This Evening and After Rank Work a Smoker Is to Be Held

The local Knights of Pythias have made elaborate preparations for the official visit tonight of Grand Chancellor Bell of Dallas, who will arrive here about 7 o'clock tonight, accompanied by quite a large delegation of Dallas Knights.

The grand chancellor is to be met at the Texas and Pacific passenger station by a committee composed of chancellor commanders of the different local lodges, and escorted direct to the Knights of Pythias castle on Third and Main streets.

Besides the Dallas visitors there will be present a large number of Knights from Arlington.

Work in the third rank will be done, and the rank will be conferred by two picked teams composed of Knights from the different local lodges.

Following the degree work will be a smoker and refreshments.

Grand Keeper of Records and Seal Henry Miller of Weatherford, and Supreme Representative Brown of Cleburne have both sent their regrets, having discovered since yesterday that they would not be able to attend the meeting.

MRS. J. A. TODD

At 11:45 this morning the death of Mrs. J. A. Todd, 1044 East Pacific avenue, occurred. She is survived by her husband and seven children. She came to Fort Worth twelve years ago from Ontario, Canada, where she was born. She deceased was 36 years of age.

The funeral will be held from the family residence tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

LITIGATION AND CRIME IN ELLIS COUNTY

WAXAHACHIE, Texas, Oct. 6.—The grand jury for the September term of district court has been in session seven days, and in this time twenty-seven bills of indictment have been returned. Two of this number were for murder, three for violating the local option law, five or six for selling to minors and the others for gaming. One of the parties indicted for murder is in the county jail, but the other has not yet been arrested.

The one confined in jail is John Henry Young, a negro, who is charged with killing another negro near Palmer last winter. The killing was committed in Grove creek bottom and the body of the murdered man was thrown in the creek, where it was found several days later in an advanced stage of decomposition. There was a bullet hole in the man's head, showing he had been shot from behind. The murdered man's wife made a statement to the officers in which she said Young did the killing.

The time of the district court this week is being devoted to a trial of the suit of Mrs. Mollie Turner against the Houston and Texas Central railroad for damages in the sum of $35,000. The plaintiff's husband was formerly section foreman in this city. While at work in the yards one day he was run down by a freight car and so badly injured that death ensued a few hours after the accident. The case has been tried twice in the district court here. At the conclusion of the first trial the plaintiff was awarded a judgment by the jury for damages in the sum of $10,000. The case was appealed to the higher court, where the verdict of the lower court was reversed and remanded. The second trial resulted in a hung jury.

MARRIAGE OF LAST MARCH IS NOW PUBLIC

Two Fort Worth Young Folk Take a Trip to Dallas on the Interurban and Return Man and Wife

Another romantic marriage was made public today, that of Miss Mabel Harmon and Frank Arnold, both of this city, who were united in marriage in Dallas last March. Mrs. M. C. Harmon of 910 Hemphill street made the announcement to The Telegram today.

Last March Mr. Arnold and Miss Harmon boarded the Interurban for Dallas—they returned man and wife. The marriage, however, was kept secret. Mrs. Harmon, the bride's mother, not even knowing it. Mr. Arnold continued to call at the Harmon residence just as he had before the marriage.

Several months later, in June, Miss Mabel, or rather Mrs. Arnold, let the secret out and announced the fact to her mother. Of course Mrs. Harmon was surprised, but after the preliminary scolding the affair ended with the mother's benediction and the proverbial "Bless you, my children, bless you."

The young people now make their home with Mrs. Harmon on Hemphill street.

A TRAIN CREW IS TERRORIZED BY A REVOLVER

Man Gets on the Platform of the Baggage Car at Baird and Rides Into This City, Defying Every One With Gun

A man whose name could not be learned rode a Texas and Pacific passenger train from Baird into this city last night and didn't pay any fare to do it, either. He defied the officers of the law along the line and ran things for a time on the improved Jesse James order, flourishing a pistol and threatening to shoot any one who disturbed him.

At the west here, upon the arrival of the train shortly after 6 o'clock, as soon as the train entered the shed, he sprang from the front end of the baggage car and rushed into the yards, where he was lost among the cars before the officers who had been notified could apprehend him.

According to one of the crew of the train the man got on the front platform of the baggage car at Baird. At every stop whenever he would see a brakeman come forward to put him off he would flourish a gun, threatening to shoot the first man who interfered with him. At some of the points between here and Baird where the train stopped, officers were at the train, but as the man was doing no harm and it was thought he was insane, they deemed it best not to bother him.

When the train reached here the fellow at once made a bee-line for the yards and has not been seen since. Officers are on the look-out for him and if captured he will be locked up.

BISHOP HOSS IS A VISITOR TO THE CITY

Bishop E. E. Hoss of Dallas, who has supervision of all conferences of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, in Texas, delivered an address before the pupils of the Polytechnic College this morning.

The remarks of the bishop were well received by the students, and the subject discussed was "Were I a Boy Again." She three salient points touched on were, first, "If I were a boy again I would keep myself free from all moral stain." Second, "In order to do this I would be a boy of deep piety; the help of God necessary to keep one pure," and third, "If I were a boy I would be a great scholar."

The speaker dilated on all three subjects. Bishop Hoss expressed delight with the
