Flush of Victory and Enthusiasm of Yesterday Forgotten in Silence Which Hangs Over Operations in the Far East

VELL CONCEALS IT ALL

Correspondents Paint a Pitiful Picture of Shelterless Troops in Rain and Mud, Camping in the Roads—Believed Japs Are Preparing to Retire

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 19, 1:45 p. m.

The flash of enthusiasm yesterday evening over the capture of Lone Tree Hill and the Shakhie repulse of the attacks by the Japanese left and the hard drubbing of General Yamada with the capture of fourteen additional guns gave way this morning to calmer and more sober appraisement of partial successes. There is no official confirmation of the report General Kuropatkin resumed the genuine offensive, but that rather the general Japanese advance exhausted itself and the positions of shelterless troops is now a sort of deadlock, with the country rendered so sodden by heavy rain as to compel a temporary suspension of general operations. A complete veil hides the movements in the east, but both Kuropatkin's and Sakharoff's reports say there were no collisions in that portion of the battle ground Monday or Tuesday.

Field Marshal Oyama evidently considers Lone Tree Hill, which is Kuropatkin's pivot for the turning movement against the left, to be of vital importance. The emperor and Sakharoff's reports later during a terrific storm he made desperate efforts to recapture it, accompanying the assaults with demonstrative attacks against other points, but all efforts failed. Neither Kuropatkin nor Sakharoff in the dispatches received this morning send details of the defeat of Yamada's column and the capture of Japanese guns. Pitiful pictures are painted by the war correspondents of shelterless troops bivouacking in cold rain, roads converted into quagmires and streams flooded.

Military critics are yet satisfied Oyama is ready to relinquish the offensive, expressing the opinion he may still try to break through the Russian center in order to compel Kuropatkin to retire from the line of the Hun river, unless, as they believe, he has become convinced the superiority of the Russians' numbers and the reserves make withdrawal to the line of the Taitse river advisable.

The emperor's dispatch from General Kuropatkin under date of October 18 is the following dispatch: "During the night the Japanese attacked our advanced positions at Lone Tree Hill, but they were repulsed. No reports have been received of any other engagements. Everything is quiet at all our positions up to 10 o'clock this morning. Rain fell all night and the roads have been greatly damaged."

General Sakharoff telegraphs at midday today the Japanese are concentrating at Linschnip, west of the railroad. A detachment of Russian cavalry reconnoitering last night in the vicinity of Shakhie captured two Japanese guns, with no losses to themselves.

General Giesman asserts positively up to yesterday Kuropatkin had not brought anything like all his regiments of reserves into action and the number of fresh units behind which his battered troops could reform accounts for Kuropatkin's ability to resume the offensive. The line of the Hun thus far engaged, counting westward from the east, General Giesman says, comprised General Bildeberg's Seventeenth European corps, parts of General Soboleff's Sixth Siberian corps, portions of General Zolotarev's Tenth corps, General Mevenderoff's First European corps and General Zassaltchik's Second Siberian corps. The extreme Russian left, which essayed the turning movement and was meeting success, according to Russian accounts, until the situation at the right center compelled the withdrawal, consisted of General Ivanoff's Third corps and General Zaroubaleff's Fourth East Siberian corps, the Third corps bearing the brunt of assaults on the front of Jassan, of Turin range, therefore two complete corps, General Stakelberg's First corps and General Dembowski's Fifth Siberian corps and parts of five other corps are still unused. A dispatch from a correspondent of the Associated Press, who is now here, saying there was no fighting yesterday and no firing during the night, which indicates the Japanese are retiring, as light was seen, possibly showing they are burning their stores. The correspondent also reports the resumption of battle is probable as soon as the roads permit, the Russians being everywhere in close touch with the Japanese.

The Associated Press learns reports representing Emperor Nicholas being dependent and that the situation are far from bright. General Vellochko, who saw him Monday night, declares while the emperor is greatly grieved at the terrible sacrifice of life, he is firmly resolved as ever that the war must be prosecuted to a successful conclusion, and he is by no means satisfied Kuropatkin, in whom he expressed the fullest confidence, would not be able to turn the tables on Oyama before the present engagement ended. By General Vellochko, who returns at once to the front, the emperor sent a personal message to Kuropatkin, renewing expressions of faith and confidence and announcing his readiness to send such reinforcements of men and guns as Kuropatkin might ask for.

CRUISER COLORADO TO BE TRIED SATURDAY

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Plans are complete for the speed trial of the new protected cruiser Colorado on Saturday off Cape Ann. Captain Dayton, president of the board of inspection, and Naval Constructor Woodward will be aboard. Although she went into dry dock on Monday afternoon, the Colorado is now practically ready. Her bottom has been thoroughly scraped and given three coats of anti-corrosive and anti-fouling compounds. She will be floated at high tide this afternoon. The cruiser should, according to the builders' contract, show a speed of twenty-two knots.

HEAVY GUN PRACTICE TO BE DISCONTINUED

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—It has been decided by the war department to discontinue heavy gun practice at Forts Hancock, Wadsworth and Hamilton. Artillery officers say conditions about lower New York bay have become such as to render practice with the big guns almost impossible. This was illustrated most impressively when twenty-one days were occupied on a piece of target work, which on a clear range would have been finished in a forenoon. Vessels could not be getting in the way and so steadily were getting in the way and so firing had to be suspended as orders strictly prohibit the slightest risk.

LIGHT FIGHTING TODAY

LONDON, Oct. 19.—A dispatch to the Japanese legation from Tokio today says: "Field Marshal Oyama reports that Tuesday the enemy seemed to be gradually decreasing his force in the direction of the right army, only small detachments continuing activity. The enemy who were beaten at Benishu are retreating northeastward. In the direction of the central army, the enemy last night made assaults, but they were all repulsed. Today there has been only occasional exchanges of cannon-fire in front of the left army the enemy are occasionally firing."

BALTIC FLEET SAILS

FAKKEMERG, Denmark, Oct. 19.—The remainder of the Baltic Russian fleet sailed this morning for the north.

JAPS FALLING BACK

MUKDEN, Oct. 19, 5 a. m.—Yesterday passed off quietly. No firing was heard during the night. The glare seen above the encampments may indicate that they are burning their stores prior to withdrawal. This morning broke chilly but clear.

RUMOR IS UNTRUE

LONDON, Oct. 19.—At the offices here of the Cunard Steamship Company a rumor published that the American steamer Slavonia was sunk in a storm off the Spanish coast is entirely discredited.

AUTOMOBILE CLUB IS BREAKING UP SCORCHING

Member Is Suspended Because He Has Established Record Run—Was About to Try Another Speed Spurt

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—A decided stand against record breaking runs over public highways was taken by the Automobile Club of America.

The board of directors of that organization has, it is understood, indefinitely suspended a well known local automobilist who established a record in June last between Boston and New York, negotiating 245 miles in six hours and fifty-five minutes. Until reinstated he is not only barred from the privileges of the Automobile Club, but he is debarred from track or road competition in this country or in any country the national automobile organization has established relations with the American club. Summary action was taken when it became known that plans were being made by the same man to attempt another record run with a car of much higher power.

Promises were made by the club last winter before a committee of the New York legislature that if legislation treatment were accorded in legislation then the club would do its utmost to discourage reckless driving. Although several record runs have been made, the case in question was the only one which could be officially proved.

POLICY SHOPS NO MORE IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—One notable achievement—the suppression of policy in Chicago—is recorded in the thirtieth annual report made to the Citizens Association. Progress also is said to have been made in the efforts to improve the efficiency of the police department and to secure the punishment of bookmakers.

The report was submitted by President Louis A. Zoberger and Secretary Shelby M. Singleton at the annual meeting of the association.

DENVER MERCHANT HAS MORPHINE POISONING

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Under the assumed name of Johnson a man said to be a wealthy merchant of Denver, Colo., has been removed from the Hotel Manhattan to the Flower Hospital, suffering from morphine poisoning.

Those aware of the merchant's true name refused to make any statement, but the patient is known to have been at the hotel for several days. He had been ill and morphine given him to quiet the nerves overcame him because of a weak heart. At the hospital it was said he would be all right in a day or two.

American Negro Engages in a Wrestling Match at Naumberg and His Opponent Dies as a Result

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—An American negro named Newis has been sentenced at Naumberg to six months' imprisonment for manslaughter, as the result of the death of his opponent in a wrestling match, according to a Times dispatch from Berlin.

NOEL, THE BUTCHER, SAYS PRESS THE INVESTIGATION

Tomorrow morning there will be a conference between a representative of the health department of the city and City Attorney Orlick looking to the preparation of an ordinance which will provide for the proper protection of citizens in the matter of foods, and especially meats.

The story in The Telegram yesterday, which told of the visit of Dr. R. Chambers, city physician, and Dr. Harry Paxson, government inspector, to various cold storage plants and meat depots, has aroused much interest throughout the city, and not only is it a topic for discussion, but there are numerous meat men who are insisting that their places be inspected at once and certificates issued to them. It has been reported to the health department that a great deal of killing is done under trees out in the country and the beef is brought into the city and sold in wagons. A traveling butcher shop is said to be operated by some of these killers of meat, the meat being sold to the consumers at their homes at a low rate. The ordinance proposed is designed to stop this.

SENDS TAFT TWO CHILDREN ARE LOST IN A FIRE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—President Roosevelt has instructed the secretary of war to proceed at an early date to Panama to confer with the president of that republic with a view to compromising the differences that have arisen between the two countries.

ARRIVAL OF GOLD

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 19.—The steamer Merrone has arrived from Nome with 259 passengers and $300,000 in gold. The trip south was exceptionally stormy, there being no let up at any time.

Orphans' Home Is Destroyed and Out of Thirty-One Little Ones Therein All Were Saved But Two

SHELBYVILLE, Ill., Oct. 19.—The Middletown Children's Home was destroyed by fire today. The flames were discovered while the children were asleep, and all but two were rescued, Albert Peterson, 9 years old, and Charles Peterson, 11 years old. There were thirty-one children sleeping in the upper rooms of the home, which was a three-story frame and brick building. One of the elder boys was aroused by the smell of smoke and gave the alarm. The children rushed to the stairways, but before all escaped the flames and smoke cut off the means of egress and several of the children reached the ground by leaping from upper windows to the roof of an extension of the building.

FREIGHT DEPOT BURNS

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 19.—A fire early this morning destroyed the new freight shed of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway, entailing a loss estimated at between $200,000 and $300,000, with not one cent's insurance. The loss is total, nothing remaining but the blackened, gutted shell. It is not known how much freight was in the building, but all was destroyed. The loss on freight will be heavy. So far nothing is known regarding the origin of the flames.

DUESSELDORFER BEER AGAIN TRIUMPHANT

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 19.—The superior jury of the World's Fair awarded the Indianapolis Brewing Company the grand prize exclusively, which confirms the gold medal award of Paris, establishing their beer the world's standard of perfection.

OIL ADVANCED

BEAUMONT, TEX., Oct. 19.—There is announced an advance of 12 cents a barrel on all oil stored in lines. The advance affects oil at Batson, Saratoga and Sour Lake, Beaumont quotations remaining unchanged. New prices are: Beaumont and Batson, 35c; Sour Lake and Saratoga, 37c.

MEXICANS ARE TO REPLACE THE NEGROES

MISSISSIPPI PLANTERS ARE SCOURING STATE OF TEXAS FOR LABOR TO TAKE THE PLACE OF THE COLORED PEOPLE

WACO, Texas, Oct. 19.—Representatives of Mississippi planters are scouring Texas for Mexican labor, and have been heard among other places, Mr. James of San Antonio, one of the agents of the planters of Mississippi, recently visited Waco and stated while in conversation that the planters of the section named are determined to get rid of negro labor as far as possible, and whole families of Mexicans are being sent there. Scores have already gone and others are being secured. It is claimed that the negroes of Mississippi, Texas and other places, many of them at least, are getting so that no dependence can be placed in them and want to talk politics and show great indifference as to work. The planters in Mississippi have made up a fund aggregating $50,000 with which to import other labor, and Mexicans will be taken by hundreds if they can be secured. They are wanted for cotton picking, clearing bottom land and other work of that kind, in which they are said to be quite good. At any rate the Mississippi land owners are going to give them a trial. The movement is on an extensive scale and will be noted with interest as to the outcome.

FREE BAPTISTS TO JOIN CHRISTIANS

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 19.—A definite step has been taken toward the amalgamation of the Free Baptist church of the Christian church, now holding a national convention here. A committee appointed at the last convention to consider the propriety of the union has reported favorably inasmuch as the doctrinal faith of the two is practically the same. Another committee has been appointed by the Christian convention to complete the negotiations with the Baptists in accord with the report of the committee on recommendation. The union will add 100,000 members to the Disciples.

FORMER ACTOR DIES AS A VAGRANT

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Maurice C. Pike, 67 years old, once widely known as an actor, is dead on Hart's Island, where he was serving a sentence of six months for vagrancy. His first role was played in a Bowery theater fifty years ago. Three months ago the old man was found sleeping in a hall way and was sentenced to six months' imprisonment. His last appearance on the stage occurred one year ago.

BIG LAND SALE NEAR GEORGETOWN

GEORGETOWN, TEX., Oct. 18.—Captain B. A. Strange returned from Taylor last night, where he had just sold 750 acres of land belonging to the Sparta pasture of 11,000 acres situated between Taylor and Thordale, in Williamson and Milam counties. The purchasers were John and Charley Zeischang and John Linquist, and the amount paid was $32,500, the land being sold for $25.00 per acre. Captain Strange has pending deals amounting to $25,000 in this land and expects to dispose of it all to small farmers in the next few months, as it is a very fine body of land.

ONE IS KILLED

Henry Jett of This City, Fireman on the Denver, Is Dead as a Result of Overturning of Engine at Chillicothe

ENGINEER IS SCALDED

Just as the Passenger Train Was Crossing the Switch in the Yards the Accident Occurred—No Report of Passengers Being Injured

Fireman Henry Jett of the Denver road was killed and Engineer J. H. Kelley scalded in a wreck which occurred this morning on that road to passenger train No. 7, which left this city last night at 8:30.

From accounts received in this city, the accident occurred at the south switch at Chillicothe, the engine of the train overturning and the baggage car and a combination car being derailed, blocking both the main and side track.

The switch at which the accident occurred was so completely demolished as to make it impossible to ascertain the exact cause of the wreck, though it is generally believed to have been caused by splitting the switch.

Wrecking crews were at once put to work and the track was cleared shortly after noon today and regular traffic resumed.

So far as can be learned none of the passengers on the train were injured and it is thought Engineer Kelley's injuries are not severe. It is stated in addition to scalds he has a broken leg.

Henry Jett was a resident of this city, living at the Avenue hotel. His remains will be brought to this city, where funeral services will be held tomorrow. He was a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, who will attend the funeral in a body, meeting at Firemen's hall on South Rusk street at 2 o'clock. The services will be held from the residence of an aunt, Miss D. G. Terry, 907 East Eighteenth street, at 2:30 p. m.

Another aunt living here and one at Commerce are the only relatives left, his wife having died about a year ago.

Engineer Kelley who was traveling engineer of the Denver until that office was abolished, also lives in this city, having come here from Chillicothe. His residence in this city is on Kentucky avenue. He is a member of the Knights of Columbus.

CONNECTICUT MEN CALL ON PARKER

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Alexander C. Robertson and Henry A. Bishop, candidates for governor and lieutenant governor of Connecticut, visited Judge Parker today at his headquarters in the Hotel Seville. Both Robertson and Bishop conferred with the presidential candidate concerning democratic prospects in Connecticut and left his apartments feeling greatly encouraged at the interest taken by Judge Parker.

General Nelson A. Miles called on the judge today. Later he said: "All that is possible is being done for Judge Parker, and when the voters go into the booths at the polls their God alone they will vote the democratic ticket."

Among the callers today were Representative E. J. Bowers of Mississippi and A. Zindgrass of Dallas, Tex.

ENGLISH DELEGATES TO A. F. OF L. CONVENTION

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Two fraternal delegates from the British Trades Union Congress to the next convention of the American Federation of Labor have sailed from London and upon their arrival plans will be discussed for an amalgamation of the English and American "longshoremens" in an international union, with about 150,000 members.

General Organizer Robinson of the American Federation of Labor states that the movement for amalgamation has been in progress for some years and that a mass meeting probably will be called here while Delegate Wignall of the International "Longshoremens' Union of Great Britain is in America, to discuss the question and take preliminary steps toward the amalgamation.

Pending amalgamation the name of the International "Longshoremens' Union has been changed to the International Marine and Transport Workers' Association. The union also now takes in all workers at the docks, as does the English organization.

BIG CROWD GOES TO SAN ANGELO FAIR

TEMPLE, TEX., Oct. 19.—The excursion train run by the Santa Fe to the San Angelo Carnival this morning attracted an unusually large number of people. The train leaving here was composed of fourteen coaches and a caboose and the crew had orders to pick up four additional coaches at intermediate points. Over 400 tickets altogether were sold in Temple and something over 200 more at Belton. Judging from this average the carnival has awakened widespread interest and the coaches must have been inadequate to comfortably hold all the people who sought to obtain passage on same in the 228 miles traveled. The size of the crowd from here is a great compliment to the judicious management of the carnival, especially the department of publicity.

DEATH OF A LEGISLATOR

AUSTIN, Oct. 19.—Captain Samuel R. Boyd, who came to Austin a few weeks ago to recruit his fast falling health, died yesterday evening at 6 o'clock at his temporary home on Congress avenue just north of the statehouse, which was the scene of so much of his public career, and in which he achieved so many political triumphs. He served several terms in the legislature.

DOING FEELS

Chicago Doctors Agree to Commission for Those Who Will Send Patients to Them and There Is a Sensation

DECOY LETTERS USED

Eighteen Out of a Hundred Agree to the Scheme Proposed—Violation of One of the Most Respected Ethics of the Profession

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—The Chicago Medical Society will receive a shock tonight.

An investigation will be asked of evidence that certain prominent Chicago surgeons and physicians are willing to pay commissions to doctors sending cases to them.

At the instance of two Chicago doctors, decoy letters were sent from Illinois towns to Chicago surgeons and physicians asking them to pay the writer a commission for referring a patient to them.

The result of these letters was as follows: Acceptances, 18; declined, 26; failed to answer, 56.

The form of the letter which was sent out was as follows:

"My Dear Doctor—I have a case under my charge which requires attention along your line of work. I am not quite sure of my diagnosis, but I will leave the whole matter to you. The people have heard of you favorably, and are inclined to go to you for treatment. As they are wealthy they ought to pay a good fee for the service. Now, doctor, you understand that I am a young man just starting a practice, and in small towns we cannot make any distinction between the rich and poor in the matter of charges. I have only received my regular visiting fee in this case. I understand, however, that it is customary for physicians to pay a commission of 25 per cent upon all referred work, and I will deem it a favor if you can take care of me in this matter. Kindly let me hear from you by return mail, as I am anxious to bring the matter to you as soon as possible. If satisfactory arrangements can be made, yours truly, J. C. EVANS, M. D."

After the replies were received a list of the men against whom it is said evidence has been obtained was submitted to Dr. John B. Murphy, president of the Chicago Medical Society, and he declared that the most stringent action will be taken wherever a physician is found guilty.

"It is a solar plexus blow," said Dr. Murphy when he was shown the letters. "The paying of commissions is the most vicious, pernicious and outrageous practice to which a doctor can resort."

"I have been afraid that this matter would have to be made public some day. It is too bad we have not been able to stamp it out among ourselves. But publicity is the cure for the evil. Let it be known that a physician is soliciting patients by paying commissions, and he will at once lose the confidence of the public."

"Let us see why the practice is so meretricious. It means that the patient is being betrayed by the one in whom he has implicit confidence—the family physician, the man who should have his interest most at heart. It means that his life is being auctioned off to the man who will pay the highest premium. It is not the money lost to the patient that makes this practice so wrong. No, it is the idea that his life is jeopardized, and that, instead of being sent to the best man in his particular line, he is sent to the highest bidder, who may be a man with an abnormally large mortality record among patients."

The practice of commission-paying, it is said, has been steadily growing in the states west of the Alleghenies during the last five years. It finally became so widespread that the American Medical Society in 1903 incorporated in its principles of medical ethics, the guide for the physicians, the following paragraph:

"It is derogatory to the professional character for any physician to pay commissions to any person, who may recommend to them patients requiring general or special treatment, or surgical operations. It is equally derogatory to the professional character for physicians to solicit or receive commissions."

A rule was adopted by the Chicago Medical Society a year ago which provided for the expulsion of any member who should be found guilty of offering or receiving a commission from any person for referring a patient to him for consultation, special treatment, or a surgical operation.

THE LIFE STRIKE IN THE COURTS

The Workings of the Human Body Crippled. DEATH TO MILLIONS. Kidney Disease Is Sapping the Vigor of America's Manhood and Womanhood—Warner's Safe Cure the Only Certain Kidney Cure.

The Kidneys are by all odds the most important organs of the human body. They virtually control all the other organs. Should they stop working for even a few hours the blood would become thick and clogged with uric acid and other deadly waste matter that the most powerful heart would break down in the effort to force it through the veins.

The strongest lungs would collapse trying to purify such poisonous blood. Without pure, rich, red blood there can be no health—no life. It's true some of us live for months with sick kidneys, but it is just waiting for them to get a little worse—they never cure themselves.

Death is constantly hanging over us. It comes instantly to thousands; with warnings to many. Backache, rheumatism, sleeplessness, indigestion, etc., are certain signs of affected kidneys. Health, though, we can never know while the kidneys are out of order.

INTERESTING FACTS. For Nearly Every Man, Woman or Child. A short time ago we published an article recommending to our readers the new discovery for the cure of Dyspepsia, called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and the claims then made regarding the wonderful curative properties of the remedy have been abundantly sustained by the facts.

People who were cautious about trying new remedies advertised in the newspapers and were finally induced to give Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets a trial were surprised and delighted at the results. Many cases a single package costing but 50 cents at any drug store made a complete cure and in every instance the most beneficial results were reported.

From Mrs. M. K. West, Preston, Minn.: I have received surprisingly good effects from using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I gave one-half of my last box to a friend who also suffered from indigestion and she had the same good results.

From Mrs. Agnes K. Raistley, Cadillac, Mich.: I have been taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and I am very much better, and feel very grateful for the great benefit I have received in so short a time.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a certain cure for all forms of indigestion. They are not claimed to be a cure-all, but are prepared for stomach troubles only, and physicians and druggists everywhere recommend them to all persons suffering from Nervous Dyspepsia, sour or acid stomach, heartburn, bloating or wind on stomach and similar disorders.

DAVIS ENDS CAMPAIGN. PANTHER, W. Va., Oct. 19.—The last day of the Davis whitening campaign was spent in West Virginia, proceeding along the southwestern border of the state. New schedule stops were hastily arranged last night and were made today. For that reason early stops of the morning were cut short for lack of audiences. At Roderfield, Mr. Davis indulged in a heart to heart talk with a few citizens. At Parker the audience was larger and more extended speeches were made.

HILLSBORO, Texas, Oct. 18.—The John A. Bateson murder case goes over until the next term of district court. It was continued by the state on account of the absence of state's witness, George Carmichael. The case was transferred to this county from Johnson county and is a noted one.

ROBBED THE GRAVE

A startling incident is narrated by John Oliver of Philadelphia, as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue was coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given up on me. Then I was advised to use Electric Bitters; to my great joy, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know the robbers of my grave, and their victims." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents. Guaranteed at Matt S. Blanton & Co., Reeves' Pharmacy.

AMUSEMENTS

No better illustration of the "climbers" in this world can be had than is given by the production of "The Climbers" by the Amelia Bingham company. The genius of G. M. Fitch has woven a story which truly presents human nature as we see it about us every day.

The feature of the play is the effort of the various personages to "climb." One wants to climb into the lap of social recognition, and she makes of her husband's funeral a social function. Another has money and no position and he willingly marries a woman old enough to be his mother because he believes he can in this way secure a place. A third wants to reach wealth, and uses the money entrusted to him by others to make a fortune for himself, and so it goes through the cast. But there are beautiful characters, and one of them is the heroine, Miss Bingham. Mrs. Richard Sterling is one of them. Edw. W. Woodruff is another and Miss Ruth Hunter is another.

Miss Bingham, as Mrs. Hunter, has a part which presents sentiment, romance and widely devotion. Her husband, with her dishonest husband and her mother's desire to "climb" is a heavy one, but throughout all of it she shows the beautiful side of a good woman's life. However, at the end she admits that she loves her friend, and although she will not do "that which later will be regret," she borders on the line between fidelity and infidelity, and her husband's suicide relieves her of the odium of the divorce court and makes her free to give the man who has been her friend when her husband's neglect and mother's mistreatment has made home life unpleasant.

Miss Bingham is truly an artist. In emotional parts she does not overdo it. In lines where comedy shows she is of that nature which presents the full measure of the character, and when it is required that she become strong in her character, she rises to the full height of dramatic art. She is a real star, she is readily given a front place in the ranks of those who have achieved prominence in the art, and in her performance last night there was every indication of success in her chosen profession.

Miss Bingham has strong supporting company. She does not shine the brighter by reason of those about her being of such little brilliancy, but there is a constellation, of which she is the brightest, that will not be overlooked. Mr. Woodruff, the lead in the support, is a strong actor, one of fine stage appearance and one who handles a difficult part well. His scenes with Miss Bingham and with Mr. Proctor are features of the play, so admirably does he present the character which the author has taken from real life.

Mr. Proctor has an important duty in the support and right to be commended. His scenes with Miss Bingham and with Mr. Proctor are features of the play, so admirably does he present the character which the author has taken from real life.

There were several curtain calls during the action of the play. Miss Bingham divided these honors with her associates in the scenes which preceded them, but one of them was so convincing that it was continued until she came alone before the curtain.

This afternoon Miss Bingham is presenting "The Frisky Mrs. Johnson," and tonight the engagement will close with "A Modern Magdalen."

"TRIED FOR HER LIFE." "Tried for Her Life," which comes to Greenwall's opera house Thursday night, October 20, is a production based upon facts, because it is founded on Charles Dickens' great story, "Oliver Twist." Dickens says in every place I know of such characters as those used in this production are surrounded by allures and fascinations of every description. Even in the Beggar's Opera the thieves are represented as leading a life which is rather an envied one than otherwise. Tried for Her Life is a play with a moral. In picturing to you the real existence of Bill Sikes, Fagin the Jew, or Nancy Sikes, the outlaw's mistress, it pictures the every day existence of the thieves of London whose home is the cold, wet, shelterless streets, the foul and frowny dens where vice is closely packed and lacks the room to turn the haunts of hunger, and where the scoundrel who is called "father" gives to you one of the greatest character plays ever written.

BRONCHITIS, GRIPPE, WHOOPING-COUGH.

These are dangerous throat and lung troubles indeed, because they often result in death. However, they are cured quickly and thoroughly with that marvelous remedy Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP

for bronchitis, grippe, also for whooping-cough and other throat and lung troubles, and invariably with the best results and a permanent cure. I would not be without it in the house." Mrs. Catherine Winters.

Take no substitute. The substitute which a druggist will try to sell you on the merits of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is simply a more cheaply put up imitation of what is really the old reliable Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Price, 25c, 50c, and $1.00. A. C. MEYER & CO., Baltimore, Md.

CHARLES M. HAYS RESIGNS

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Charles M. Hays, second vice president and general manager of the Grand Trunk railway system, and general manager of the proposed Grand Trunk Pacific, which is to run across the continent, is reported to have resigned, says a Herald dispatch from Montreal.

DINING CAR SERVICE

Beginning with November 1 a change will be made in the dining car service of the Denver at that time H. J. Wall, formerly assistant superintendent of the dining car and cafe service of the Wabash, taking charge of the service.

TRAFFIC

A special car carrying the Georgia Minstrel Troupe, a tent company which has started on a trip along the Houston and Texas Central, as far as Houston, and the sending of more crowds of cotton pickers from this point north, were the only unusual bits of traffic reported by the local offices. Business is generally reported quiet.

FLOOD AFTERMATH

It is now generally believed from the reports received that the Santa Fe will dredge the Canadian river at the point where the channel has been changed by the recent floods, to cause it to return to its former course.

Attorney M. A. Spooner of the Denver road returned this morning from Austin, where he had gone to represent the road in the case made against it by the railroad commission because of bond issues.

UPS AND DOWNS OF J. F. DRAUGHON

AN INTERESTING STORY OF HOW THE PLUCK AND TOIL OF ONE MAN CONVERTED IT INTO THE 'BIGGEST ENTERPRISE OF THE KIND IN THE WORLD'

There is being distributed in Fort Worth by Draughon's Practical Business College, located corner Seventh and Houston, the original Draughon's College, a forty-eight page booklet containing a very interesting and unusual story entitled "Ups and Downs of J. F. Draughon," which should be read by every one into whose hands it may fall.

It is a modest, simple little history of the ups and downs of a man who, starting sixteen years ago with practically nothing except vim, energy, and ambition, and handicapped by many obstacles, built up the largest business of the kind in the world.

The ups and downs of J. F. Draughon, the founder of Draughon's chain of fifteen Colleges are entertainingly related. His struggles against and final victory over adversity, will not fail to prove encouraging and instructive to the many ups and downs of the writer, how many obstacles were overcome, etc., the story contains considerable "SIDE TALK" to young men and women about system, energy, courtesy, determination, fidelity, purpose, etc.

Under the heading of "A Word to Boys" the result of cigarette smoking, with the evidence furnished, is discussed in a way to open the eyes of every boy who uses the weed. Every parent whose son smokes cigarettes, should place the booklet in the hands of such son.

Business men will find the author's comments on the results and methods of advertising, interesting and instructive. The story shows that the author's first investment of $2.50 in advertising, sixteen years ago, has been turned over to the extent of half a million dollars.

Dr. I. Z. T. Morris, who is interested in caring for homeless children in Texas, returned last night from the west, having in charge several children. On reaching home he found several letters from lodges in eastern Texas asking him to provide homes for several waifs who were on the poor farms. The children were aged 1 month to 5 years.

Rev. Morris states that he is now in need of clothing for the children who are being cared for, and those who are able to fall into his hands within the next few weeks. Shoes for children from 3 to 10 years of age are badly needed says Rev. Morris. Hats and caps and boys' overcoats can also be used by these children. Rev. Morris asks that citizens, who are in position to aid him in the matter of clothes, etc., will confer a great favor at this time, as the near approach of cold weather makes it necessary to have wearing apparel with which to comfortably clothe the waifs who are daily falling into his hands. Parties who have any article mentioned can leave it at 607 Houston street, and Rev. Morris will get the contributions.

Rev. Morris asks that if any one will report to him deserving and needy children he will at once take charge and provide them with whatever they are needing.

He desires homes for three or four children from 2 months to 8 years old who are now in his charge. Information about these children may be had by phoning the reverend gentleman. His phone is 908.

In addition to the specially low rates made for visitors to the World's Fair at St. Louis a "Katy Club" which has been organized will run a personally conducted excursion from all points in Texas to St. Louis on October 5. The object of this club is to make a trip to the World's Fair at the lowest possible expense. Part of going with this excursion will secure the benefit of extremely low railroad rates, rooms with first class accommodations at rates from sixty to seventy-five cents per day, have the benefit of being looked after by competent employees while in St. Louis, and otherwise enjoy benefits that can not be secured in any other way. As the membership of the "Katy Club" is limited it is necessary that applications for accommodations and reservations be made at the earliest possible moment by applying to any ticket agent of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway, or W. OF INTEREST TO The STOCKMEN
John Carlisle, a prominent ranchman of Colorado City, is here with a shipment of steers. Mr. Carlisle's ranch is in Nolan county, which is below the quarantine line, and his cattle had to go to market as quarantine stuff. Upon arrival here feeders would not buy the steers as southern cattle, for the reason they had no ticks on them, and it was feared when they acquired ticks they would fever and die. Neither could they be sold as natives, for they came from below the line. Mr. Carlisle says it was a pretty tough situation, but he finally found a purchaser at a reduced price from what his steers were really worth. Speaking of the conditions out in his section, he says the outlook for the winter is very favorable and the indications are the cattle will go through in fine shape.

Tom Morrison is here from Colorado City with a shipment of fine fat stuff, and says the only trouble the cowman now has is low prices, brought about through the continued manipulation of the markets by the bear trust. Mr. Morrison says that his section of the state is now long on grass and short on cattle, the recent rains having put the range country in fine shape. Cattle are generally in prime condition.

Ben Van Tuyl is here from his ranch near Colorado City with a shipment of fat stuff for the local market. He says range and cattle out west are in very satisfactory condition at this time, and the winter outlook is generally very gratifying.

Colonel B. C. Rome, the well known Hereford breeder of this city, is attending a meeting of the American Hereford Breeders' Association in Kansas City today. He is one of the directors of the organization and takes a very active interest in its affairs.

Information has been received here that Mrs. Charles F. Martin of Denver, will probably be an applicant for appointment to the position of secretary of the National Live Stock Association, the place formerly filled by her late husband.

Five years ago, October 15, F. Williams took the position of yardmaster of the Fort Worth stock yards. The stock yards were then nothing in size and importance as compared with their present position. When the fifth anniversary became noticed around the yards Saturday he was the recipient of congratulations upon all sides. In speaking of his connection with the yards, an official said: "Mr. Williams took charge of the yards as he does everything else in a cheerful and dutiful way, and in this way he continues to discharge his duties. He is never too tired to answer the many questions which daily arise in his work and he is never too busy to lend a helping hand to the stranger. He is always the same amiable, faithful man and much credit is due him for the success of the stock yards."

During his office as yardmaster Mr. Williams has been absent from duty but one month. He was formerly employed as inspector for the Kansas state sanitary board, and was stationed first at Kansas City, Mo., and later at Fort Worth.

The growth of membership in the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association for the present year has already passed the record for last year and Secretary Lytle says the indications are that the report to be made at the annual meeting in this city next March will prove a record-breaker in the matter of new members.

"Montana will ship out a lot of range cattle yet this fall if the weather continues good," says Live Stock Agent Myles of the State Comptroller's office. For a large number of years on file and the run will stop only when winter interposes obstacles. The strike and other causes have kept cattle back and in many sections they must ship them. Along the line of the Great Northern, west of Oswego, grass is bad and the cattle now on the range can not be wintered. East of Oswego conditions are better. Along the line of the Northern Pacific cattlemen have much better grass than along the Great Northern, and in a general way conditions in Southern Montana are much better than in the northern part of the state.

Missouri is a live stock state. It has more live stock farmers than any other state. Its live stock is worth $200,000,000. The quality of the Missouri live stock is shown when it is recalled that while in the state are only 4 1/2 per cent of the live stock of the United States it represents 15 per cent of the value. The "State" book shows that it has more finely bred stock than any other state. The per capita ownership of domestic animals in the United States is $39. In Missouri it is $49.00. There is one dairy cow for every five inhabitants of the United States, while Missouri has one for every four inhabitants. In poultry Missouri exceeds by 200 per cent the average production for the United States.

Speaking of conditions on the Wyoming range, I. W. Reese of that state says: "Western Wyoming is a big range country, made up of mountains and valleys, and in places is not very thickly settled, as we frequently get away from civilization and railroads a distance of over fifty miles. Of course we carry a large commissary with us, and go prepared for long trips, as we move our herds both winter and summer about every two days. We have a small house built of wood, and live in that house at night. In the winter we frequently live out in this way."

Dr. Lyon's PERFECT Tooth Powder AN ELEGANT TOILET LUXURY Used by people of refinement for over a quarter of a century PREPARED BY J. H. Lyon, D.D.S.

In weather when it is 35 degrees below zero and when the heavy snowstorms come on it is a hazardous task to be out looking after the sheep, as the snow storms, aside from the wolves, are our worst enemies. The wolves often raid the flocks and kill several sheep, and eat but one, leaving the rest. And when they get hungry they kill more and leave those that were killed before. Take it on a whole, in that part of the country the sheep are hardly holding their own in numbers. At times there are bad years and heavy losses caused by storms that reduce the lamb crops, and then occasionally some herder will go broke and quit the business. In this way the numbers are being reduced. Then the good grazing lands and water spots are being taken up by settlers. The mountain ranges remain unchanged, but the valley grazing lands are bound to grow smaller. At the present time, however, the sheep all over that country are in fine shape, and there is a good outlook for winter feeding, and the conditions generally are favorable to the sheepmen.

CATTLEMEN AND SHEEP OWNERS IN TROUBLE Pitched Battle Between Them in Wyoming and Seven Hundred Muttons Are Driven Over a Cliff

BIG PINEY, Wyo., Oct. 13.—Ranchers arriving here from the vicinity of Grays river report a pitched battle between the sheep and cattle forces between the river and Piney creek, in which 700 sheep, the property of the Butterfield outfit were driven over a high cliff and killed. The trouble originated over the pasturing of the Butterfield sheep on the forest reserve, where it is claimed the herders drove them without permit. In the first instance the outfit was driven from the reserve by forest rangers and put out on the west side. On again trying the forbidden range the reserve officers ejected them on the east side and into a strong cattle country. In some manner the cattlemen in that territory learned of the details of the trouble on the reserve and ran the sheep over the cliff.

NORTH SIDE AND ROSEN HEIGHTS
Sash Furniture Company.
Two informal sessions were held in North Fort Worth yesterday afternoon in an effort to reach an agreement on the packing house assessments, which have been placed at over $2,000,000 by the board and which the packing houses seek to have reduced.

DOG CATCHING
Yesterday afternoon the dog ordinance of North Fort Worth finally became effective through the securing of a catcher in the person of Mr. Pierce of Fort Worth. Operations were at once begun and in the few remaining hours of the day a collection of twelve dogs was gathered in the pound.

Under the provision of the ordinance the animals must be kept three days for redemption, after which time they will be killed. Several fine hunting dogs were included in the catch of the first day.

DUMPING GROUND
It is announced that the old city dumping ground of which complaint was made to the council at the last meeting by Mr. Baughman, one of the adjoining property owners, has been abandoned and that the city refuse is being taken to another point.

HORROR SOCIAL
The ladies of the Baptist church of North Fort Worth have arranged to have an unique entertainment at Colliers' Grove next Friday evening. The affair will be a "Horror Social," to which each of the attending guests will bring his or her pet horror and exchange it for one of the collection being sent out. Upon what plan or terms the exchange will be made has not been announced. A grab box will also be one of the amusements offered.

NORTH SIDE NOTES
City Engineer Hall today began the surveys for the water works, as announced in The Telegram of Sunday. Dr. C. M. Galway has returned from a trip to St. Louis. Mrs. H. A. Judd and son Ardon, formerly of North Fort Worth, have returned from an extensive trip to Kansas City, Chicago and St. Louis. Dr. C. M. Galway is on a visit to Roanoke are visitors in North Fort Worth. Forrest Hone is quite ill with fever. Miss Carrie Lowe has departed for Kansas City. Miss Camille Mays was the guest of Miss Nellie Williams the first of this week.

Letters to The Telegram
To the Editor of The Telegram: Your paper is quoted in the Baltimore president of the National Painters' Union, as saying: "Organized labor in every state in the union will vote against the republican ticket next November." Now, as I am a member of "organized labor," and a democrat by birth and practice (being born and raised south of Arkansas) and not a socialist and can be neither "pop" nor republican, I modestly claim a special privilege in the premises and will kindly ask space in your valuable paper to answer Mr. Baltimore and any others on the question named. It must be remembered that the promise of democrats to "bust the trusts" is nil. Speaking in the sobriety of facts, the trust is not peculiar to republicanism, but an economic evolution of the capitalist system. Now, let's be fair in the matter. The trust, as we understand it, is the offspring of the present economic system, which both parties are pledged to maintain. It is not a moral difference between a democrat and a republican on this point, and two things that are equal to the same thing are equal to each other. This is political geometry. Social equality is not an issue, but a myth. No one believes that the president or any of the supporters of his party want any such thing, or that they would foist such a substitution upon the south. Mr. Roosevelt's attitude on the negro question is merely the extreme negation of their antipathy toward the "free rigger." As Mr. Bailey says, it is simply an "attitude," nothing more. The "big stick" has grown since it was out from the stump in the government's eye, and the president is merely a consequence of the system itself, the spirit-de-corpis. Mr. Roosevelt has furnished the latest psychological moment among the presidents, and is made the subject of unnecessary abuse. Cleveland carried a big stick, and Cleveland was a democrat, and the very history of his administration is replete with the cry of distress and the wail of dying men. The mass of musketry still echoes from the hills around the Homestead, where the workingman, dressed in his blue overalls, danced in the carnival of death. But this was democracy. The tariff question is the only question of interest to "organized labor" just now, in the context of democratic victory, however, a far greater question would spring itself in the midst, namely, the question of repealing the Chinese exclusion act. President democrats are openly favoring the attainment of the whole law already. Free trade and free China would have the same identical effect upon organized labor. Either would destroy it. The trust is a mere figure of speech in comparison with these two evils, and yet, our patriotism must suffer if we fail to vote the whole hog. On these two hang all the law and the prophets—of democracy. As to the two personalities at the head of the respective parties—Roosevelt and Farber—there is nothing to attract organized labor either way. We know this, and the question of character and personal idiosyncracies are seldom compared in the convulsions of labor. If, however, there is any difference, the odds are in favor of the man of San Juan. There's nothing in ecst, and dignity is an unknown quantity. It may be dignity, and it may be austerity, who knows? Such a character could easily develop a tyrant. For the first time in life I have made it a point to investigate the political sense of the working class, just to learn something. Nothing else. And this is my summary: First, Debs will more than double his vote of 1900. The republicans will lose many votes that will go to socialism, but the vacancies thus made will be filled up by recalcitrant democrats. The democrats will lose without hope of recovery. In other words, socialism will develop a new power, republicanism will remain about normal, while the shrinkage in democratic ranks will have no precedent in the annals of democracy. The doctrine of self-reliance, as preached to the workingman has had its effect, and they will look to themselves for sweet deliverance, not the trust buster. But the democratic party and the trust? Who believes the democratic party is opposed to the trust? When the great packing strike was on and every man was conscious that it was a struggle for mastery and power on one side, not over-organized labor alone, but over the very government itself and a little, miserable wage on the other side—that the worker might have more to eat and better clothes and a happier home, where were the trust busters? Who was it that proffered aid to the strikers to disrupt the most unhealthy combine of history, the democrats? The newspapers said they were men and women and little boys and girls—all of the poorer classes. These came to the rescue of the strikers and none else. The strike was lost and the trust busters and those who foster the trust gained one common victory. The stockmen of Western Texas complained bitterly of the meat trust, and even threatened to put up a plant in opposition to it, but when the strike came and the packers were in some straits the stockmen—republican ground—Texas meat of the anti-trust mask and came out like the men they were to join hands with their oppressors to beat down a common foe—the workingman. Among all the Texas dailies of the "Simon pure" sort that I read carefully, only one single paper has a word of sympathy for the oppressed, notably, the Fort Worth Telegram. That's all. J. S. GRAVES.

REAL ESTATE
Real estate agents report that during the past few weeks there has been a notably increased demand for realty in Fort Worth, and several large deals have already been consummated. A transaction involving the purchase of 150 acres of land just south of the city limits is about to be closed up. It is the intention of the purchasers to open up the land and will have it platted for residence lots. It was learned today that two or three large realty deals are on and will likely be closed during the present week, and that a contract for the erection of a large business house will also be let this week. One real estate man, commenting on the situation, said he honestly believed that before the close of the present year more money would be invested in Fort Worth real estate than at any other period in the history of this city, except, possibly, the boom year of 1885 when the investments were larger than any time since. All over the city fine residences are going up, many of them costly and elegant in design. There are just now hundreds of residences being built in different parts of the city and prospects are that this fall and winter will witness a growth that will be marvellous.

CROPS IN TEXAS
GALVESTON, Texas, Oct. 19.—The following is the weekly crop summary as reported by correspondents to L. H. weekly amount reported was 42 inch at Corsicana. Warm weather continued through the first part of the week, but the latter half was moderately cool. Cotton—The dry weather was very favorable for cotton picking and the work progressed rapidly. Picking has been practically completed in the southern portion, is nearing a close in the middle portion, and is about three-fourths completed in the northern counties. The plants have been generally stripped, all foliage by leaf worms and practically all of the bolls are open. No top crop will be made. The yield has been much below the average in the southern and middle portions and while considerably below in the northern counties, the yield in that section has been somewhat better than expected. Corn—Corn picking continues under favorable conditions. Rice—Conditions were favorable for the harvesting and thrashing of rice. Sugar Cane—Sugar cane has matured nicely and is being cut and made into syrup in the coast counties. Miscellaneous—Pastures and ranges are needing rain and stock water is getting scarce in many localities. Fall gardens and crops are also much in need of rain. Considerable wheat and oats were sown, but this work has been retarded by the dry weather in some sections. There are a few complaints that early sown grain is being damaged by army worms. The Prize Winners

The Telegram begs to report that the three following are the winners in the second Classified Misspelled Word contest:

Mrs. R. T. Moore, 404 First street.
Myrtle Jones, 525 Broadway.
Howard Martin, 804 West Daggett street.

Checks have been prepared for these prize winners. Many other correct answers came in, but the three who receive awards were first received. The envelopes as they came into the office were numbered and opened in order of numbering. The first three numbers, which had the correct answers, were made the winners. The "officially" misspelled words were in the Saturday Telegram and were four in number. Some errors other than the official errors appeared, but these did not count.

Another contest is now on. It started with last Sunday's issue. Some day during the week "officially" misspelled words will appear. The conditions are stated below. Several hundred replies came during the past week. Try for one of the prizes this week.

Three Cash Prizes

To stimulate interest in the Telegram classified pages, three prizes of $100 each are going to be awarded EVERY WEEK to the three persons who will each week find certain misspelled words on this page in one of the seven issues of each week. Only the business manager of the paper will know on what day the words will be misspelled. It may be Monday. It may be Tuesday. It may be Wednesday or Thursday or Friday, Saturday or Sunday. The misspelled words will appear only on one day of each week. New prizes will be awarded every week. The three who get correct answers to the paper first will receive the awards. There may be two words or names misspelled. There may be three or even four. Maybe more. No one will know except the business manager and none but him will know what the words are. The work of extending the street car on Summit avenue to Hill street by the Traction Company is progressing nicely. It is expected that this work will soon be completed so the line can be put in operation. It will be a welcomed improvement for that part of the city.

J. A. McHale, a traveling man for a Philadelphia firm, with headquarters at Dallas, was in the city this morning on his way to Weatherford. Mr. McHale traveled out of Fort Worth from 1883 for fifteen years and is one of the most popular men of the grip on the road today.

Two coach loads of homeseekers are to arrive in the city tomorrow morning over the Rock Island from the north and south. From here the party will scatter out at will over the state, looking at the land at those points, which they have the most desire to see.

The rain of last evening was very beneficial in laying the dust about the city. On El Rio Grande avenue west of the Frisco and Texas and Pacific tracks the dust had become so thick that it was almost unbearable, the heavy traffic on this street being caused by the Hill street bridge being out of order.

The condition of Mrs. Charles Sloan, the lady who was taken so sick on the T. and P. train entering the city this morning morning from Louisiana, is reported as being some improved today. The sending of the telegram, which is said to have been the cause of her sickness is being investigated.

The large tent used by the Baptists in holding revival services at the corner of Park and Hampton streets was blown down last evening by the hard winds. Consequently the meetings are to be held hereafter in a building at the corner of Ryan and Park streets. Rev. Walter Hillsman of North Fort Worth is to have charge of the services the rest of the week. Last Sunday, as a result of these meetings, a new church was organized, with twenty-four members. The church will be known as the Grace Baptist and starts out under most auspicious circumstances.

DEATHS

MRS. G. H. CLIFTON.

The death of Mrs. G. H. Clifton of Pilot Point occurred in this city last night at St. Joseph's Infirmary, where she had been under treatment.

Her remains were prepared for burial and sent to Pilot Point by Undertaker Robertson.

ERWIN-ZANE CETTI MARRIAGE THIS EVENING

The marriage of W. H. Erwin and Miss Helen Zane-Cetti will take place tonight at the Zane-Cetti home. After the ceremony the couple will leave at once for Havana, where they will spend the winter.

STANDINGS IN THE TEN PIN CONTEST

Barse's Regulars and Stephenson's Specials continued the schedule on the Crescent alleys last evening. Barse's Regulars winning from the Stephenson Specials by a margin of twenty-one pins. High score for Barse's Regulars was rolled by McCaskill, 193; high average by Cunningham of 167 2-3. Murphy made high score for the Specials, Paris with high average of 171 2-3.

In the future these clubs will meet on Wednesdays instead of Tuesdays.

ELKS' TEAM WILL PLAY TWO GAMES HERE

The newly organized team of Elks is to play the football team of Polytechnic Thursday afternoon and a game is to be arranged for the team for Saturday with the team of Fort Worth University. The negotiations have not yet been completed, but it is understood that should the game be played that Koozko, Mills and Garard will not play with the university team. This will give the Elks a decided advantage as they have in the newly organized team many old time stars who have in the years gone by played with the heating water works, streets, manufacturing establishments, etc. However, they lack in team work and speed and this is what the university boys are counting on to defeat them.

WILL WRITE UP THE CITY OF FORT WORTH

The following letter was received yesterday afternoon by City Secretary Montgomery from the State University, following which, he immediately called at The Telegram for a copy of the recent house-warming edition which referred so much to the city. Comment from all parts of the state:

"City Clerk, Fort Worth, Texas: Dear Sir—Will you please mail to me all things which you may have of interest regarding your municipality? I want a brief history of Fort Worth, facts concerning water works, streets, manufacturing establishments, etc. If you have a special edition of either of your newspapers giving information of this kind would like to have it. The political science class is making a special study of Fort Worth, the results of which are to be placed in the library for reference. If you can't give desired information, please refer my letter to the president of the Board of Trade. Respectfully,

"O. C. BULLINGTON.

"260 West Nineteenth street."

Other publications regarding Fort Worth industries will also be sent to the University.

The letter will be turned over to the Board of Trade, and it is likely some contributions will be made from that source.

NOT AFRAID OF INSPECTION

It has appeared in the public prints that diseased and tainted meats have been found in Fort Worth meat markets by the city health officer and Dr. Paxson, inspector of the United States Bureau of Animal Industry.

THESE OFFICIALS DID NOT VISIT NOEL'S COLD STORAGE MARKET

Mr. Noel has invited them to visit his market at 202 Main street, and they have agreed to do so later.

THE PUBLIC IS INVITED

To visit this market at any hour of the day and see for itself how NOEL'S MEATS ARE KEPT, and what their quality is.

THE OFFICIAL REPORTS

On the sanitary condition of this market and the state of the meats therein will be given to the public as soon as received.

CAPT. WEST DOES NOT ADMIT THE INTERVIEW

"For interviewing people at long-range those newspaper men at Houston are birds," said Captain Thomas F. West, general attorney for the Frisco system, to The Telegram today when shown the statement from Houston yesterday that he had corroborated the report that his company contemplated building an extension from the present terminus at Brady to San Antonio.

Captain West arrived in Fort Worth this morning from San Antonio, where he went on business, and was not aware that he had been interviewed on the extension proposition until advised by The Telegram what had appeared this morning under a Houston date.

"That beats the world," said the captain, "and I was 150 miles away too. But an enterprising reporter can do almost anything when he is hard pressed for a tip-top bit of news, and this case must have been one of the kind I refer to."

Seriously, Captain West stated that while the facts, or part of them in the Houston dispatch are correct, some things spoken are far from the truth. But the fact that he gave out any such a report in Houston he emphatically denies.

The Houston story was to the effect that Captain West had stated that the Frisco had decided to construct an extension of the line from Brady to San Antonio very soon, and that there existed no longer doubt that the Frisco would build into the Alamo City.

The statement was also made in the story that Mr. Yoakum now has the project under way and will be in Texas in two weeks; that he (Yoakum) would like to acquire the Kerrville branch of the Sap to form a connecting link of the Frisco from Brady to San Antonio; that the survey for an extension has already been made and will take in Fredericksburg; that if he can get behind the Sap bonds or else form a traffic agreement with the road the line will be built only from Brady to Kerrville. He would want no other portion of the Sap.

The story gave Captain West much amusement this morning, when told of its importation.

DR. BELL'S PINE-TAR-HONEY

Ring out the old, Ring in the new. Ring out the false, Ring in the true.

DR. BELL'S Pine-Tar-Honey

The new and the true, is nature's most natural remedy, improved by science to a pleasant, permanent, positive cure for coughs, colds and all inflamed surfaces of the Lungs and Bronchial Tubes. The sore, weary, cough-worn Lungs are exhilarated; the microbe-bearing mucus is cut out; the cause of that tickling is removed, and the inflamed membranes are healed and soothed so that there is no inclination to cough.

Over 3,000,000 Bottles Sold During 1903.

All of this vast number were sold on a positive guarantee, and it speaks volumes for the merit of this remedy that only five dissatisfied customers developed—one out of every 600,000 bottles sold.
