IS CONFIDENT STATE OF SIEGE

Officials and Public in England Thoroughly Satisfied That Inquiry Will Positively Disprove Admiral's Statement

FIVE ON THE BOARD

Inquiry Will Be Conducted by Admirals From France, England and Russia and Two From Smaller Powers of Europe or United States

LONDON, Oct. 29.—Profound satisfaction over the fact that arrangements had been reached and an entire certainty that the result of the commission of inquiry will be to discredit Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's fleet, marks the comments of the London afternoon newspapers almost universally.

The admiral's story, it is pointed out, has greatly the advantage that it is capable of precise proof or disproof. The Russian admiral can only make good his case by producing the vessel whose presence he alleges among the trawlers, says the Westminster Gazette. "The British contention will be upheld provided all classes and disposed the public to calmly await the verdict.

Trading on the stock exchange opened buoyantly and prices are considerably advanced all around. The composition of the international commission is the immediate subject of communications passing between St. Petersburg and London. It has been suggested that it should be comprised of five admirals, French, Russian and English and two from the smaller powers, possibly Denmark and Holland, to be nominated by their respective governments. Nothing yet, however, has definitely been decided upon. No American member has been suggested, though there might be an opening for one in the proposal that one law jurist from a neutral power shall be included in the commission.

Thus far no time limit has been fixed for the end of the inquiry. After inter communication with St. Petersburg it is now decided all Russian ships at Vigo will be allowed to proceed, only material witnesses being detained.

JAPAN CONTENTS IT IS FOR AN EXCUSE

TOKIO, Oct. 29, noon.—A prominent officer on the Japanese naval staff said today that he believed the Baltic fleet would not come far on their way west. He did not believe that the Russian government desires to send it at all, and it was likely that the trawler affair in the North Sea would be used as an excuse for the recall of the fleet. Instancing reasons upon which he based his belief, he said that the fleet commander, Admiral Rojestvensky, was sick when he left port, and it seemed very improbable that the Russian government, if their intentions were serious, would send a sick admiral to navigate many thousands of miles to combat a superior force at the end of a long cruise.

NO TORPEDO BOATS BOUGHT IN ENGLAND

TOKIO, Oct. 29, 2:30 p. m.—The reported statement of the officer on board the Russian battleship Emperor Alexander III with the Russian Baltic squadron now at Vigo, Spain, to the effect there were foreign torpedo boats among the Hull trawlers when they were fired upon recently by the Russian warships and the Japanese government is said to have purchased torpedo boats in England, coupled with the insinuation the torpedo boats with the trawlers were Japanese, has been received in Japan with mixed feeling of indignation and derision. It is officially declared in most positive terms the Japanese never purchased torpedo boats since the outbreak of the war.

THE ADMIRAL INSISTS HE WAS ATTACKED

VIGO, Spain, Oct. 29.—The Russian squadron is in port. Upon the main question relative to the identity of the Japanese torpedo boats said to have been seen among the Hull fishing fleet during the night of October 21-22, Vice Admiral Rojestvensky said to the Associated Press today: "Rumors reached me that the Japanese would attack the squadron and when I suddenly saw that two torpedo boats between two divisions and heard the noise of firing of torpedoes I doubted not that they were Japanese. Principally, I tell an officer on board the battleship Emperor Alexander III, told me the transport Aradeur was surrounded by eight torpedo boats or vessels carrying torpedo tubes. The Aradeur signaled her danger and when our battleship advanced we did not for a moment suppose that the attacking vessels could be fishermen."

CHEFOO, Oct. 29, 2:45 p. m.—It is said here upon reliable authority that Viceroy Alexieff, who was recently promoted to the rank of lieutenant general by the Russian emperor, has been recalled and that he left Manchuria for St. Petersburg on October 27.

The British second-class cruiser Doris, which has been patrolling the straits also sailed westward after communicating with the flagship of Vice Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, commander of the channel squadron.

THE WAR NEWS

THE VICEROY AND HIS STAFF LEAVE HARBIN

CHEFOO, Oct. 29.—Advices received here from Harbin say Viceroy Alexieff and entire staff will leave Harbin tomorrow. They expect to arrive at St. Petersburg November 14. The Russian consul here says Alexieff's recall is due to the need of his advice in framing a policy for the Manchurian campaign. Other Russians, including one official, confirm the reports from other quarters that Alexieff's recall is permanent and is due to imperial dissatisfaction with her services.

POSITIONS ARE UNCHANGED HEADQUARTERS OF LEFT ARMY (General Oku's), in the Field, Oct. 28, 3 p. m., via Fusan, Oct. 29.—The positions of the armies are unchanged.

The Russians are continually searching the Japanese lines with their artillery firing night and day, with seldom any reply from the Japanese. The Japanese army is now working the Yental mines, digging enough coal for all military purposes. It is believed by mining experts they can double the output.

OFFICIAL REPORTS CONFIRM

TOKIO, Oct. 29, 4:30 p. m.—Official reports confirm the press dispatches of the capture of Waitaoshan by the Japanese on October 27, adding that at 10 o'clock on October 28 the enemy maintained a vigorous fire against Waitaoshan, but stopped firing in the afternoon. A strong force of the enemy assembled at Kang-lan-jenskan and the Russian garrisons holding the heights north of Pinnulu Pao completely disappeared. In other directions an artillery duel has occasionally occurred.

BOARD OF TRADE INQUIRY

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 29, 4:40 p. m.—Great Britain has invited Russia to be represented on the board of trade inquiry at Hull into the North Sea incident.

Germany has not yet made representations to Russia in the case of the German fishing vessel Sonnetag, fired on by the Russian warships October 21 off Horn's Reef.

There are 114 school districts in the county and they received $49,992.86, of which $21,631.43 was disbursed to males and $19,513.83 to female teachers, and $3,330.38 was expended otherwise.

A BOILER EXPLODES AND ONE IS DEAD TWO INJURED

Fatal Results of an Accident Which Occurred at a Gin in the Vicinity of Bonham Yesterday Afternoon

BONHAM, Texas, Oct. 29.—As a result of a boiler explosion at MacRae, a small village about fourteen miles northeast of Bonham, yesterday, one man is dead and two badly injured.

The accident occurred at the gin owned by Dave Wells. The dead man is Engineer Alton Fain, and the injured are A. Ballard, who runs the gin stands, and a customer, who was unloading cotton at the time of the explosion.

It is stated that everything was running smoothly when, without warning there was a terrific explosion. The body of Engineer Fain was carried by the force of the explosion several feet in the air, and fell in the mill pond about fifty feet away. Death was instantaneous.

Mr. Ballard was at work operating the gin stands, when he was struck on the head by a flying missile, and was seriously and perhaps fatally hurt.

The brick from the furnace on which the boiler rested, were blown in all directions, some of them, together with pieces of the boiler, fell for quite a distance. The other man who was hurt was unloading cotton at the suction pipe. His team was almost embedded in the brick and other debris, a large portion of which had to be removed before the team could get out. The man and team were only slightly hurt.

RULES FOR DELIVERY OF EXHIBIT DONATIONS

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 29.—The secretary of the treasury has forwarded to President Francis rules and regulations intended to facilitate the operation of the act of Congress encouraging donations of exhibits to institutions of various kinds. This act was passed at the last session of Congress, and is now in force.

It provides for the withdrawal free of duty of any article and materials donated to "incorporated institutions established for religious, philosophical, or to any scientific or literary purposes, or to any state or municipal corporation." The act of Congress states that "the exhibition bonds given on original entry of the articles are to be cancelled only on the production of evidence satisfactory to the secretary of the treasury, showing the articles and the bonafide acceptance of the articles and materials."

The secretary of the treasury in the rules to regulate these donations, says: "Deliveries of articles and materials thus donated will be permitted on entry either for consumption or for transportation and rewarehouseing, only upon the filing of proper letters of presentation and acceptance at the port of St. Louis, and liquidation of such entries free of duty at

NOT A NEGRO PROBLEM BUT A WHITE PROBLEM

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—It is not a question of what shall we do with the negroes in the south, but what shall we do with the white man. That is the problem," said President W. G. Frost of Berea College, Berea, Ky., in a lecture before the Northern Illinois teachers' association.

President Frost depicted the condition of the poor, uneducated white man in the mountainous district of Kentucky. He told what struggles and sacrifices the mountaineers often undergo to get an education and described the difficulties under which a teacher was forced to labor in that part of the country.

"The need of competent teachers in the south is great," said Mr. Frost. "Those best fitted to teach the elementary branches are the ones who can perform the most good. There is a scarcity of elementary teachers today because the average pedagogue aspires too high and will not be content to teach the rudiments of reading, writing and arithmetic."

OIL MILL EMPLOYEE IS FOUND UNCONSCIOUS

SHERMAN, Texas, Oct. 29.—Ed Thrasher, an employe of the Grayson County Oil Mill, was found unconscious on the mill floor by fellow workmen yesterday. There was an ugly gash over the left eye, from which the blood gushed forth and it was supposed that he was struck by something possibly clinging to the great belt near which he was found, but nothing could be found to furnish foundation for this theory and upon regaining consciousness some hours afterward, Thrasher stated that he did not know what struck him, so the accident is somewhat mystifying.

Thrasher's condition was at first thought to be very grave, but he has rallied and indications are that he will have an uninterrupted recovery.

WACO, Texas, Oct. 29.—The wedding of Henry Bell and Miss Lora Ashburne is announced. Miss Ashburne is one of the charming figures in the social life of Waco, while Mr. Bell is the son of Captain J. D. Bell, deceased, who was the founder of the Bell Water Company, and the man who made possible the magnificent artesian water system of Waco.

YERGER IS PARDONED BY THE GOVERNMENT

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 29.—It has been learned in Austin that John Yerger, who has been serving a term in the federal penitentiary at Chester, Ill., since 1886 for robbing the postoffice at Double Horn, has been pardoned.

It will be recalled that Mr. Yerger figured conspicuously in the killing of United States Marshal Hal Gosling on board an international train between Austin and San Antonio in 1885. This was one of the most sensational and exciting tragedies ever enacted in the history of the state.

ENTOMBED MINERS DIE

TRINIDAD, Col., Oct. 29.—Coroner B. B. Sipe began inquiry into the fatal explosion which occurred yesterday afternoon in the Terco mine No. 3, owned by the Rocky Mountain Coal and Iron Company, an adjunct of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company.

"The report that sixty men were in the mine at the time of the explosion is untrue," said Coroner Sipe after visiting the scene of the accident. "I believe there are twenty-one entombed in the mine, all of whom are probably dead. I think the explosion which caused the roof of the mine to cave was a dust explosion. The mine is well ventilated, without artificial devices. No bodies were recovered last night. The mine is burning and many bodies may be cremated, thus making it impossible to ascertain exactly the number in the mine. There were only two Americans in the mine, George Bradenberg and John Hatter. The others were Slavs and Mexicans."

The explosion occurred at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon and the number of dead was variously placed between thirty and forty men.

The number reported as having gone into the mine was seventeen miners and four company men.

The mine in which the accident occurred works eighty men, and it is believed that at least sixty men were in the mine at the time. News of the explosion brought assistance from the adjacent camps and hundreds of men were trying to get into the mine all last night. Deadly fumes overcame the rescuers frequently, but their places were immediately taken by others ready to risk their lives. It is not thought possible that one in the mine can escape death if they are not dead already.

WOODSON PREDICTS SUCCESS

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Urey Woodson, secretary of the democratic national committee, in speaking for the committee today, predicted the overwhelming election of Judge Parker to the presidency.

He predicted that all the doubtful states will be democratic and also some states called republican would be doubtful.

"The report that sixty men were in the mine at the time of the explosion is untrue," said Coroner Sipe after visiting the scene of the accident. "I believe there are twenty-one entombed in the mine, all of whom are probably dead. I think the explosion which caused the roof of the mine to cave was a dust explosion. The mine is well ventilated, without artificial devices. No bodies were recovered last night. The mine is burning and many bodies may be cremated, thus making it impossible to ascertain exactly the number in the mine. There were only two Americans in the mine, George Bradenberg and John Hatter. The others were Slavs and Mexicans."

"We will carry New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Indiana, Maryland, West Virginia, Idaho, Colorado, Utah and Nevada. On other words, all doubtful states are for us and for Parker's election."

"Illinois is doubtful; Ohio is even doubtful. The big men who controlled that state are dead. The republicans assume that they are going to win there, but we hear they might lose. Even California has sent good reports to us, and we are hopeful of carrying that state."

"Maryland certainly is as democratic as Kentucky. West Virginia is as sure as Maryland."

Secretary Woodson said Chairman Taggart will be here by Monday night.

A CALL IS ISSUED FOR REGISTERED WARRANTS

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 29.—Those holding warrants registered against the general revenue fund will be glad to learn that State Treasurer Robbins issued his fourth call yesterday evening, which embraces all numbers up to and including 6,912, aggregating $64,478.04. The total of the three previous calls is $204,702.31, which with the last makes $269,180.35, thus reducing the deficit to $522,590.72.

The receipts from interest on land notes held by the permanent school fund since October 1 has been $430,000, and the work in this line has been simply immense. More than 1,000 letters are received every day, containing remittances. These are in sums of 4 cents up to $1,000. They run in amounts of $2, $4, $6, $8, $10, $18, $20, $30, $35, $50, the average being about $30. The work of handling $2 is just as much as $2,000, barring the act of counting, so it can be seen that all hands in the department are as busy as bees and stretching out the day's work to 6 o'clock and often much later.

DONNELLY FEARS THE JAPS WILL BE NUMEROUS

He Expects American Industrial Field Will Be Threatened With a Yellow Peril From the Far East

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—The invasion of the American industrial field by the Japanese laborers is feared by President Donnelly of the Butcher Workmen's Union. To head off the Japanese, Donnelly will introduce a resolution at the convention of the American Federation of Labor in San Francisco next month calling for the enactment of legislation excluding them from the United States. The matter was brought to Mr. Donnelly's attention by the call made on him by K. Okajima, a Japanese who is seeking information regarding conditions in the packing plants. Mr. Okajima asked if Japanese will be admitted to the Butcher Workmen's Union. Mr. Donnelly showed the constitution of the labor organization which contains nothing operating against foreigners.

"I am sure, however," said President Donnelly, "members of the union would not consent to receiving Japanese and the members are greater than the constitution."

LOTTERY SWINDLE ORGANIZATIONS IN CHICAGO

Well-Known Crook Is Flooding the East With the Tickets, Which Are Supposed to Be Guaranteed

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—This city has been flooded with bundles of lottery tickets sent out from Chicago, accompanied by literature offering liberal commissions on sales and bearing the name of a man known in many cities for years through connection with the criminal annals of lottery swindles.

The new ticket is designed to greatly resemble that used by the old Louisiana lottery and its payment ostensibly guaranteed by so-called banks in La Salle street, Chicago, and in New Orleans. The man whose name appears in the affair has been arrested frequently, the last known instance having been in June, when he was taken under the "bank" in Chicago and held under $5,000 to answer charges of sending lottery tickets through the mails. Under the present scheme there is to be a drawing for oil lands in Louisiana November 15 and buyers of the tickets are supposed to be securing options on portions of the property.

THOUSANDS OF MEN AND WOMEN HAVE KIDNEY TROUBLE AND NEVER SUSPECT IT

To Prove What the Great Kidney Remedy, Swamp-Root, Will Do for YOU, Every Reader of The Telegram May Have a Sample Bottle Sent Absolutely Free by Mail

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected, and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys begin to get better they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

I cheerfully recommend and endorse the Great Remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, for kidney trouble and bad liver. I have used it and derived great benefit from it. I believe it has cured me entirely of kidney and liver trouble, from which I suffered terribly.

Most gratefully yours, A. R. Reynolds, Chief of Police, Columbus, Ga.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for many kinds of diseases, and if permitted to continue, much suffering and fatal results are sure to follow. Kidney trouble irritates the nerves, makes you dizzy, restless, sleepless and irritable. Makes you pass water often during the day and obliges you to get up many times during the night. Unhealthy kidneys cause rheumatism, gravel, catarrh of the bladder, pain or dull ache in the back, joints and muscles; make your head ache and back ache, cause indigestion, stomach and liver trouble, you get a sallow, yellow complexion, make you feel as though you had heart trouble; you may have plenty of ambition, but no strength; get weak and waste away.

The cure for these troubles is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the world-famous kidney remedy. In taking Swamp-Root you afford natural help to Nature, for Swamp-Root is the most perfect healer and gentle aid to the kidneys that is known to medical science.

How to Find Out If there is any doubt in your mind as to your condition, take from your urine on rising about four ounces, place in a glass or bottle and let it stand twenty-four hours. If on examination it is milky or cloudy, if there is a brick-dust settling, or if small particles float about in it, your kidneys are in need of immediate attention.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is used in the leading hospitals, recommended by physicians in their private practice, and is taken by doctors themselves who have kidney ailments, because they recognize in it the greatest and most successful remedy for kidney, liver and bladder troubles.

EDITORIAL NOTE—So successful is Swamp-Root in promptly curing even the most distressing cases of kidney, liver or bladder troubles, that to prove its wonderful merits you may have a sample bottle and a book of valuable information, both sent absolutely free by mail. The book contains many of the thousands upon thousands of testimonial letters received from men and women cured. LOOKS LIKE ROOSEVELT WILL PULL THROUGH THE WISCONSIN STATE FIGHT

(Written for The Telegram by Jacob Walden, Staff Correspondent of the Newspaper Enterprise Assn., MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 29.—Always apt, Senator Spooner compressed a heap of truth into a few words when he said that the republican situation in this state is "bitter, ugly, venomous.")

It is doubtful whether there ever has been in the country another factional feud as bitter. There can be no quarter.

The LaFollette half-breeds are determined that the Spooner-Quarles railroad stalwarts must be destroyed. The stalwarts are just as fixed in the determination that LaFollette and all his stands for must be wiped out.

Neither side is losing sleep as to the national candidates. If they should be sacrificed in the struggle, why, that is their misfortune. State issues are paramount.

It is a fearful mess, but just now it looks as though LaFollette and Roosevelt will pull through because of the overwhelming majority of republicans in the state. In 1900 McKinley and LaFollette each had a plurality of 105,000 in a total vote of 441,300. The democrats will find it rather difficult to bring about a change of over 100,000 votes in a state like Wisconsin.

Two years ago LaFollette had a plurality of 47,000 in a total vote of 355,000. This slump was due partly to the fact that thousands of stalwarts voted against LaFollette, but chiefly because it was not a presidential year and many republicans remained at home. They will be out this year.

In the contest there is on one side Governor LaFollette, a man of eloquence, of great organizing ability and the victor of two state campaigns. He is engaged in a final struggle to establish several reforms which have cost him ten years of hard work and to maintain his political supremacy. He has the zeal of a reformer and the skill of a general.

Opposed to him are the leaders of the old republican organization, men like Seniors Spooner and Quarles and Congressman Babcock, the railroads and other corporations. The railroad magnates are in a frenzy because, if LaFollette wins, a state commission is going to regulate passenger and freight rates.

GOVERNOR ROBERT M. LAFOLLETTE. He is the Greatest Issue in Wisconsin.

Public service corporations fear that he will make them pay more taxes. This adds to the political and personal bitterness involving that sensitive nerve, the pocketbook.

There is coming the crash of the irascible, the enthusiastic reformer with a great popular following against the immovable body of railroad influence backed by a ton of money.

Important allies of the railroads in the fight are business men and corporations who are enjoying secret freight rebates. That is a Wisconsin form of political bribery. A man with influence may get a rebate if he works in the interest of the railroads. A man receiving a rebate is liable to lose it if he fails to follow railroad orders.

That public welfare and republican supremacy are not the only motives governing the stalwarts was admitted by one of their leaders. He was asked whether the stalwarts would keep up their organization and the fight after election if Scofield, their candidate, received only a few votes, as now seems probable.

"The men in this movement," he said, "are not politicians, and do not care for the offices. They are business men who have gotten together to protect their interests. The movement will go on in some form until that danger is removed."

He ignored a question as to Roosevelt's chances in the state. It was repeated, and then he answered: "I have had no doubt of President Roosevelt's ability to carry the state, but LaFollette continues to oppose Congressman Babcock and candidates for the legislature whose nominations were more regular than was LaFollette's, and if the national committee disregards the convention that created it and sends men here to boom LaFollette, it will arouse a spirit of retaliation."

As a matter of fact, it is the common belief of men here that the bulk of the stalwarts will vote not for Scofield, but for Peck, the democrat. Many of them, of course, will vote for the Roosevelt electors. The number who will vote the democratic ticket straight will depend upon the measure of support given LaFollette.

BETTER THAN SPANKING Spanking does not cure children of urine difficulties. If it did there would be few children that would do it. There is a constitutional cause for this. Mrs. M. Summers, Box 422, Notre Dame, Ind., will send her home treatment to any mother. She asks no money. Write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child. The chances are it can't help it.

W. D. CONNOR and T. F. GOULDEN. MEN IN COMMAND OF THE WISCONSIN CAMPAIGN.

W. D. Connor is chairman of the republican (LaFollette) committee; T. F. Goulden is chairman of the stalwart republican committee; A. T. Warden is chairman of the democratic state committee.

Follette by the national committee. The governor expects the stalwart defection to be offset to a large extent by democrats who have always supported him.

The stalwarts were shocked and angered because the national committee recognized the LaFollette committee here as the regular state organization and consulted it in the assignment of speakers. The stalwarts declared that if those speakers advocated the election of LaFollette, they, the stalwarts, would not be responsible for what might happen to Roosevelt. A plain threat, of course, that they would vote the democratic ticket straight.

In an effort to satisfy both sides the national committee after having recognized the LaFollette committee directed the speakers not to mention state candidates. That has made the half-breeds furious. They first learned of the national committee's policy at the Fairbanks meeting here. LaFollette leaders came from all parts of the state to attend. Governor LaFollette and his wife occupied a box in the theater where the meeting was held. LaFollette men jammed the playhouse to the doors.

Fairbanks spoke for an hour on national issues and never mentioned LaFollette. Congressman Smith ditto. The crowd cheered Fairbanks and Smith. They went wild when LaFollette appeared.

After the meeting many of the governor's followers refused to shake hands with Fairbanks. They filled the hotel lobbies and swore vengeance upon Fairbanks and the national committee and all they stood for. There has been little abatement of this ill feeling.

Since that time the LaFollette people have shown no burning desire to have national speakers sent into the state. They have notified the national committee that speakers who come here to discuss national issues and ignore the state ticket will do more harm than good. They claim that Fairbanks' refusal to mention LaFollette lost the national ticket votes.

The chairman of the LaFollette, or half-breeds, republican committee is W. D. Connor, a lumberman of Marshfield. He is typical of the men who have helped LaFollette in his fight for reform. Connor has an interest in public affairs, but he is given to business rather than politics. In his county he devoted some effort to the advancement of LaFollette's reforms because he considered them to be of public benefit. Last spring, when the railroads made a tremendous effort to defeat LaFollette for control of the state convention, Connor, from facts that came to his notice, was convinced that they were using unfair, even illegal, methods to beat the governor. With his sense of fair play aroused he extended his activity to half a dozen counties.

He was so successful that the LaFollette leaders urged him to take the state chairmanship. He refused, however, he insisted. He finally agreed to take it if the stalwarts should bolt the state convention. Connor did not believe they would carry their opposition to LaFollette to that extent. They did bolt and he is now directing the state fight.

T. F. Goulden is the state chairman of the stalwarts. He was clerk of courts at Janesville and sergeant-at-arms of the legislature whose nominations were more regular than was LaFollette's, and if the national committee disregards the convention that created it and sends men here to boom LaFollette, it will arouse a spirit of retaliation.

"The German voters of this state," he said, "are opposed to the colonial policy of the government and militarism. Many of our people favor tariff revision. This discussion among the republicans will bring us many votes. Mr. Peck is very popular and we are making much of the fact that the cost of the state government under his administration ten years ago was half what it has been under LaFollette."

The two great issues for which LaFollette stands at this election are the primary election law and the rebate commission. The legislature passed a law that all nominations for state, county and city offices should be made by popular vote. This law was subject to ratification by the people and they will vote upon it next month. The stalwarts and democrats fear that with that law in effect LaFollette would be almost invulnerable. It is admitted that the law has sev-

CROPS IN TEXAS

Two prominent Liverpool cotton men, Messrs. W. E. Whineray and Paul Schmitz, are in Fort Worth for a few days, the guests of the Niel P. Anderson Company, who entertained them at a dinner given last evening at the Country Club at Arlington Heights. These gentlemen are on their return home after spending some time at the World's Fair.

Speaking of cotton conditions Mr. Whineray stated yesterday that he did not look for 10-cent cotton unless the crop fell below the 12,000,000 bale mark. If it does, he states, there may be high cotton, otherwise not. He states that the demand for more cotton in foreign countries is rapidly growing because the number of spinners are daily increasing their capacities for the consumption of cotton. This, he says, have a tendency to create a larger demand.

C. A. McKean, president of the Tarrant County Farmers' Union, who was in the city yesterday stated that the public cotton sale that was advertised to take place in Fort Worth on the 25th of this month will now be held early in November, the date not yet having been determined.

GRAYSON COUNTY CROP SHERMAN, Texas, Oct. 28.—The cotton report of Grayson county ginners just forwarded to the department at Washington shows the total bales ginned so far this season to be 62,172 bales, which is estimated to be about 90 per cent of the season's yield. The total crop for last season was 59,500, thus it will be seen that the increased production of this year adds nearly half a million dollars to the wealth of Grayson county farmers.

A GOOD YIELD WAXAHACHIE, Texas, Oct. 29.—Lee Caldwell, who owns a big farm near Ennis, has gathered 202 bales of cotton from 450 acres and thinks he will get one hundred bales more. Mr. Caldwell well claims that some of his land made one and one-fourth bales to the acre.

COTTON ON THE KATY The general freight office of the Missouri, Kansas, and Texas just has placed a statement showing the movement of cotton from along that line between September 1 and to August 31. The figures indicate that from Texas points there were handled 67,221 bales, while for the same period the company shipped from Indian Territory points 34,812 bales, making a total of 102,033 bales.

NUMEROUS FAMILIES ARE IN DISTRESS

A report reaches here that the inhabitants who were driven from their island home below San Elizario, near El Paso, on account of the floods in the Rio Grande, are undergoing privation and are actually suffering.

Ever since the overflow of the Rio Grande the thirty or forty families are subsisting on charity. Every immediate means of support, which has caused great hardship among them. Most of the sufferers are now at Guadalupe and San Augustine awaiting for the recession of the waters to a point at which they can be returned to their homes. Some of the homes were totally destroyed.

Rheumatism, more painful in this climate than any other affliction, cured by Prescription No. 2351, by Eimer & Amend. E. F. SCHMIDT, Houston, Texas, Sole Agent.

CALIFORNIA ORANGES TO MOVE VERY SOON

The California orange crop will begin moving through Fort Worth within the next few days. Heretofore the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific roads have controlled the routing of this class of traffic from California to the east, but the interstate commerce commission has changed the manner of these shipments and has given the shipper the right to control the routing which is to be done. Last year more than 1,000 cars of California oranges were handled through El Paso, part going over the different routes from that point, the majority of the shipments coming through this city, bound for the eastern and northern markets. It is believed that the movement this year will be very much larger than it was last season.

W. C. T. U. COLUMN

The W. C. T. U. national convention will convene on the 29th of November in Philadelphia, Pa. One of the largest and finest buildings in the city has been secured. Judging by the preparations that are being made this, the thirty-first and best convention ever held. Committees have been appointed and all will be in readiness. Miss Greenwood, the national superintendent of evangelistic work, has appointed a day of prayer and consecration, to be observed throughout the United States. Quite a number of delegates will come from Texas. Mrs. Spaldard, Mrs. Zehner, Mrs. Blanks, Mrs. Nannie Curtis, Mrs. Mattie Turner, Mrs. Culbertson, Mrs. Minnie, Miss Lula Reed, Miss Henderson, Mrs. Schmelzling and perhaps others.

Immediately after adjournment the convention will go to Washington, D. C., in a body. Their business is unique in American history. It is well known that there is in Washington what is called Statuary Hall, and each state in the union has two places where they can place life-sized statues of their two most noted men. Several years ago the legislature of Illinois discovered that one of their most noted men was a woman, a pioneer in philanthropic work, a woman who had lectured every city in the United States of 50,000 inhabitants; a woman who had traveled over the world and who spent every moment of her life in planning good work for others and in doing grand and noble deeds.

This bill giving the right to place a woman's statue in Statuary Hall in the Illinois niche passed both houses unanimously.

The work of making this statue was given to a young woman—Miss Helen Farnsworth Meigs. She has finished her work and the beautiful statue will be unveiled in the presence of thousands of admiring women as well as men and children. For these states in the union will speak their loving message to all as she stands, the first woman in the world to receive such an honor.

Frances Willard needs no monument of stone, for her name is written in indelible characters upon the hearts of America's millions. But her comrades in temperance work love to honor her and point the coming generation to her and say here is a safe example to follow.

MEDAL CONTEST The Rosen Heights W. C. T. U. gave a gold medal contest at St. Paul's church in Fort Worth Friday night. There were five contestants and every recitation was almost perfect. All the contestants but one were girls. The boy, Walter Sloan, received the gold medal. Rev. Hamlin, with a few beautiful remarks, presented the medal. "The Trials of the Saloon Keeper" was the subject of the speech. The other contestants rejoiced with Walter when the judges presented the medal.

Mrs. Lovejoy, the superintendent of contest work for Rosen Heights Union, has cause for congratulation, for the contest. Hon. Cummings, Rev. A. Monk and Rev. R. Hamlin were the judges.

AN INSTITUTE Tarrant county held the third W. C. T. U. institute at Rosen Heights October 26-27. The first day it was so muddy that very little could be done. However, Mrs. Caster, who does not know there is such a word as fall, went over and a good beginning was made. An excellent program had been printed, which was rendered as far as possible.

Mrs. Stoddard was with the ladies the second day and spoke at night, to the great delight and instruction of the audience.

The subjects for discussion were, "What Benefits Result from Institutes?" "Press Work." "Systematic Giving." Discussion on temperance work in the home, in the church, in the schools. "Purity." "Significance of Our Badge." and "The Army Canteen."

A question box was opened and much information was gained by the answers to the questions. Refreshments, fruit, sandwiches, tea, coffee, milk, salads, etc., were served in the church by the Rosen Heights Union. The visiting delegates were beautifully entertained by Mrs. Knight and Mrs. Chase and others. Altogether it was a fine convention and shows what women can do in spite of mud and rain.

Rosen Heights promises to be one of the best unions in the state.

HIGH DIVER IS STILL DOWN WACO, Texas, Oct. 29.—Chester Berry, the high diver and bridge jumper, who was injured here about three weeks ago by jumping from the big steel bridge into the Brazos river, is still lying in the poor house, as he has not been in condition to move and besides he is getting every attention at the hands of Manager Moore who lives here. It is doubtful if he ever fully recovers, as his back was badly hurt and he is still suffering from partial paralysis of the left side. He can move his left arm and leg slightly, but not freely. It may be that he will be removed to his home in New York as soon as he is able. He incurred all the risk of his hazardous feat and jeopardized his life for the pitiful sum of $250, which had been made up by the crowd at the river.

COTTON

(By private wire to M. H. Thomas & Co.)

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 23.—Position of the market practically remains unchanged from closing of last week, when December closed 87 1/2 against 95 1/2 today, and middling 9 1/2 against 9 1/2-15. Prices were confined with a range of 35 points, December 92 1/2 to 97 1/2. Except in Texas where movement to market is on a smaller scale, owing to determination of farmers to hold out for higher prices, receipts continue free enough to keep weekly in sight ahead of last year, and basis of crop for a yield of more than 11,000,000 bales. On the other hand, however, spinners continue to take cotton on a wholesale scale accepting 218,000 during the past week, against 242,000 last year, and 212,000 year before last since September 1, 1,559,000 against 1,113,000 last year and 1,665,000. These figures bring spinners' takings thus far this season close to a basis of 11,900,000 for the season, which is the estimate for the season's consumption of American by million. As to future course of values, it remains a question as to whether or not this crop is over 11,250,000 bales. Owing to lack of last season's crop

TWISTING THE LION'S TAIL.

That Russia is bent on drawing England into the great war that is now in progress in the Far East seems absolutely certain, and the object to be attained is no doubt a desire to precipitate a general European war, which will result in a new alignment all around. The alliance that exists between England and Japan has been and is very offensive to Russia, and the sentiment prevails in the land of the czar that England is behind Japan in her present attitude, and really shoved her forward as a catspaw to do the preliminary fighting.

When it is remembered that England has long prided herself on being the mistress of the seas, it can be readily understood how intense the popular indignation becomes when such summary interference is practiced with her merchant marine. Of course, Russia has had an excuse for her action in detaining each of these vessels, but when it is considered that she was compelled to turn the great majority of them loose, it but places her action in continuing the hold-up process in a stronger light of studied intention of embarrassing the British in the prevailing troubles.

We all know that the European nations are universally land hungry. Having eaten up all the smaller countries lying around and about them, they are low desirous of extending their operations elsewhere. England has always desired to be the dominant world power, and Russia believes her destiny points in the same direction. Gradually these two great countries have been extending their dominions until in their mad and determined race they have reached the point where their roads cross. While there is an exercise of great diplomacy, each knows that the time has about come where diplomacy must lie down and the future settled by the arbitration of the sword. For the past few years every effort has been made to stave off the inevitable until each is in a greater state of readiness, but in the Far East the situation became so acute that there was nothing else to do but to fight, and Japan was shoved to the front to open the ball. This she has done in a very satisfactory manner, and while England is using the little island empire as a buffet to block the path of Russia in her designs upon China, Russia is calmly at work in an effort to force England to show her hand by coming out in the open. She is twisting the lion's tail upon the high seas, and doing it in the most effective manner.

The explanation given of the latest Russian outrage is a very weak and unsatisfactory one, and only serves to make Russia's intentions but the more apparent. It has aroused a storm of popular indignation in England, and there can be no question but that these two great countries are on the brink of war. Diplomacy may be able to avert it for the brief present, but it must come soon. France and Germany both sympathize with Russia in the present emergency, and when the spark is kindled that now seems on the point of being ushered into existence, no one can foresee the result. It may mean almost universal war, which many have predicted, or late, and if it does, it will be one of the most terrible struggles the world has ever seen.

Russia has her eye on England's Indian possessions, and there is the point she hopes to recoup herself for the expenses of the war she is now waging. She is determined to make England pay the price.

English and Russian differences growing out of the North Sea affair are to be arbitrated at The Hague. That fact does not prevent the possibility of future complications that will be arbitrated in a different manner, however.

THE WEAKLING CZAR.

In the November Century Andrew D. White gives some recollections of the time when he was our minister to Russia. The main thing of interest is his picture of the present czar. According to Mr. White, who ought to know, he is an incompetent and a weakling. His main characteristic is an absolute indifference to persons and things about him.

Mr. White says he apparently cared nothing about the famine conditions in Russia over which the civilized world was concerned as he cares nothing for the crime against Finland.

In comparing the czar with Charles IX of France, Mr. White uses this strong language: "The latter allowed himself to be dragged by priests, women and a palace clique into the massacre of St. Bartholomew; the former has allowed himself to be dragged by priests, women and a palace clique into the assassination of Finland and the present frightful war."

Senator Morgan of Alabama is talking of the Panama ditch scheme in the same old way.

One week from next Tuesday the political agony will be over, and the country can settle down in quietness to await that promised report on the operations of the beef trust.

The spectacle of Philander C. Knox, republican senator from Pennsylvania, standing up and calling Judge Parker a creature of the trusts, is enough to give that tired feeling to every decent voter in America.

San Antonio would be a very attractive town were it not for the fact that her average citizen is a walking arsenal.

The existing deficiency in the state treasury is not a pleasant contemplation for the democrats of Texas, because it is utterly inexcusable. The legislature is responsible for it because it piled up appropriations, and then with equal carelessness failed to raise the rate of taxation, which was manifestly necessary to provide the money. The responsibility can not be shifted upon the governor, because again he warned the legislature that it must either reduce appropriations or raise the tax levy. The present condition is an unjust reflection upon the people of Texas, who are entirely willing to provide the money necessary to run an efficient and economical administration of the government, and they very much regret to see the state's paper hawked about by the money changers, while the servants of the state are paying interest or discount in order to get money on which to live.—Houston Chronicle.

There is but one thing to do with that hole in the state treasury, and that is for the next state legislature to enact the proper legislation not only to stop it, but to prevent a recurrence of the situation in the future.

Mississippi planters are scouring Texas for Mexican cotton pickers to take the place of colored labor. In some parts of Texas the planters have tried the Mexicans and are replacing them with negroes. The colored man is an expert when it comes to picking cotton and until the machinery is invented for this purpose his services will be required.—Mineral Wells Index.

There will never be any improvement on the negro as a cotton picker. No machine will ever be invented that can do the work as he does it, and for that reason the south will always need him in her business. The negro and the mule are two great southern institutions.

This writer happened to be standing in the lobby of the Fannin County National bank Friday afternoon when five colored men came in. They had brought cotton to market and sold it, and together received their pay in one check and had come in to get the money and divide it among themselves. The bank looked at the check and called out, "$32.65." "That's right," said the spokesman of the bunch. The money was paid and divided, each man receiving his part.—Bonham Favorite.

And those are the kind of negroes who get along in the south without any interference. The thrifty negro who knows and keeps his place never has any kind of trouble.

Mr. Lawson says the Standard Oil people did, and the Standard Oil people say they did not. You simply have to judge for yourself which is the frenzied prevaricator of the two.

Chairman Cortelyou recently received an urgent call to the telephone. "This is the Engineering News," said a voice. "What can I do for you?" replied the chairman, with visions of a new recruit to the republican campaign. "We want to print a picture of the republican machine," was the reply.—Chico Review.

Chairman Cortelyou should have at once sent the inquirer a picture of Teddy Roosevelt. He constitutes the whole republican machine.

Texas won the grand prize on collective agricultural exhibits and on sugar, besides medals and diplomas too numerous to mention, at the St. Louis World's Fair. This is worth many times the total cost of the Texas exhibit. It can not escape the attention of the entire reading world. The best agricultural section on earth—that is what it means.—Orange Tribune.

And still there were many people who would not contribute one cent to the cost of the Texas exhibit, on the ground that it would be of no value to the state.

Mr. Bryan's greatness, patriotic devotion to the people and generosity are becoming more and more displayed every day, and he is becoming more and more appreciated. There is no gainsaying the statement that the Nebraska is truly a great—great in mind and heart.—Corsicana Star.

The mere fact that the republican press of the country is claiming the earth, does not indicate disaster for democracy. That is a way the republicans have. "Claim everything" is the keynote of their campaign.

The big circus that is now touring Texas is getting full benefit of the prosperity attendant upon a good cotton crop. The old men are all going to see the show and carrying every one of the children.

We don't know anything about politics down here in sunny Texas, except that there is not enough opposition to democracy to even make the situation interesting. That democratic majority is so large that it is just like going up against a stone wall.

It will be readily noticed that there is to be no cessation in the work of erecting new buildings in this city. The building fever seems to have almost assumed the proportions of an epidemic, and the time will never come when Fort Worth is finished.

Alexander H. Revell of Chicago, a millionaire business man of that city, says the business interests of the country favor a constitutional amendment giving the president of the United States a single term of six years, and are at work on the project. As Judge Parker has announced that he will only have one term, it would be a graceful act on the part of the people to extend it to six years.

THE YELLOW HOLLY

BY FERGUS HUME, AUTHOR OF "THE MYSTERY OF A HANSON CAB," ETC.

Copyright, 1903, by G. W. Dillingham Co.

George Brendon attends social gathering of shabby London gentility at Mrs. Jersey's boarding house, with his friend Leonard Train, a boarder in the house. His object is to learn from Mrs. Jersey her supposed knowledge of his birth. Mrs. Jersey is mysteriously murdered during the night. Twigs of yellow holly which Brendon wore in his buttonhole (given him by his sweetheart Dorothy Ward) found by Train, beside cold body. Inquest reveals nothing. Train and Brendon had slept together and though Train can not reason out how Brendon had passed out of the room during the night (because Train had locked the door in a way that Brendon could not get out) he suspects Brendon guilty of the murder. Dorothy's mother, who hates Brendon and looks on his suit for Dorothy's hand with disfavor, speaks of yellow holly in Brendon's presence. Brendon claims he is grandson and heir to Lord Derrington, the latter denies claims because of belief that Brendon's mother's marriage had never been recorded. Lola Voley, a music hall dancer, loves Brendon because of service performed for her. Lola learns of Brendon's love for Dorothy and confesses that she has hired a detective, Bawdsey, to watch Brendon, because she, Lola, fears Brendon's success in proving his birth will draw him from her. At a dinner party given by Mrs. Ward, Derrington meets Brendon for first time, the latter thinking the former known not only to himself but to all the world. Derrington is testing each other Mrs. Ward draws Train's story of the night of murder and Train's conclusion of Brendon's guilt and the story of finding of yellow holly at side of body. Train inadvertently connects Brendon with crime. Mrs. Ward is now satisfied. The guests bid the hostess good night. Bawdsey goes to board with Miss Bull, who succeeded Mrs. Jersey as landlady. He secured rooms Leonard and Brendon occupied on a pretext. Tells fascinating tales of travel and adventure to Miss Bull. She likes him and shows him courtesies. Bawdsey requests Brendon to visit him at home. Brendon comes. Discussion. Mrs. Ward, Lord Derrington, Dorothy and Lola Voley. Bawdsey tells of love for woman and having been hired by her to watch him. Secrets revealed to Brendon by Bawdsey. Tells Brendon he is apt to be arrested charged with crime. If he doesn't leave the country Claims Derrington and Mrs. Ward are both anxious to have him leave England.

The detective tells Brendon how Mrs. Ward got information and also accuses him of crime. A passage way is discovered. There is a discussion by the two of Brendon's birth. A call is made to Lord Derrington with good results. Two meet in wordy combat. Brendon convinces Derrington that he is as smart as himself. Both admit being in the house on the night of the crime. Derrington admits Brendon and decides to make him his heir. The old lord advises Mrs. Ward to talk less. Dorothy, Vane and Mrs. Ward go to see dancing of the Spanish woman. A discussion when Lord Derrington joins the party and as to who should be yellow holly. Dorothy dreams of Lola and goes early to the park where she sees her. Lola makes demands of the other. They are refused. Lola then disappears. Bawdsey can't find her. The search is in vain. Brendon wants Bawdsey to tell who killed his father. He is referred to Roger Ireland. The crime in San Remo is connected with the murder of Mrs. Jersey. Mrs. Ward goes to see Lord Derrington. Dorothy waits in brougham outside. Meets Brendon who had gone to see Derrington. The two drive in the park. Lola is discussed. In meantime the lord and Mrs. Ward discuss marriage of Dorothy to Vane, and the two fall out in the discussion and each advises the other to hold their tongues and each promises the other to tell what they know of the whole affair. Looks like the two had made for themselves a pretty mess.

"Yes. You came with the amiable intention of telling me that George Brendon was going to pass the night at Mrs. Jersey's and that you suspected that he was up to mischief."

"I took the trouble to come from a party for that very purpose," was Mrs. Ward's plaintive reply. "And how was I received?"

"Mrs. Ward, I am getting tired of this circumlocution. What is it you have to say?"

"Well, on that night you were in a fur coat."

"My usual coat in winter."

"It was the night when Mrs. Jersey was killed."

"Was it indeed? I never noticed the coincidence."

"No. But you knew about it," said Mrs. Ward. You threw your coat on your sofa. I seated myself near it by chance. There was something hard in the pocket of the coat. When you were out of the room I took the something out. There it is." And she laid an Italian stiletto on the table.

"What is that?" asked Derrington calmly, but with an anxious face.

"That," said Mrs. Ward, touching it daintily with her finger, "is the weapon with which Mrs. Jersey was stabbed."

CHAPTER XV.

If Mrs. Ward expected to startle Derrington into a confession she was never more mistaken in her calculations. Lord Derrington had not moved in diplomatic circles all his life without knowing how to guard against the display of emotion. With an utterly expressionless face he looked at the stiletto. It was a slender steel blade with a silver handle of renaissance workmanship, evidently a valuable and curious relic of the middle ages. But Derrington stared at it as though he knew nothing about it.

"Well," said Mrs. Ward sharply and rather disappointed he did not grovel on the instant, "what do you say?"

Derrington looked at her in rather a humorous manner. "What do you want me to say?" he asked. "Confess that I killed Mrs. Jersey and then brought this weapon carefully home in my pocket for you to discover and use against me?"

"That is a subterfuge," said Mrs. Ward. "You did not expect to find me waiting for you, and you never meant own object. Had you professed the weapon from the coat and showed it to me at the very moment, your accusation might have held water. As it is the thing is simply ridiculous. You come here, you accuse me of a crime—"

"I did not accuse you," said Mrs. Ward, beginning to find that Derrington was too much even for her. "I believe Brendon killed the woman—oh, yes! You went to the house, and you saw him. He and Mrs. Jersey had words, as she would not confess, and Brendon killed her with the stiletto. Then you came in, and to save him you put the dagger into your pocket, sent him up to bed and promised to hold your tongue, and—"

Derrington laughed. "You have a most vivid imagination, Mrs. Ward," he said, with a shrug; "but, as it happens, you are talking nonsense. I was not at Amelia square that evening, but at my club, as any member then present can assure you. I can prove an alibi from the minute I left this house to the minute I returned to find you here. As to the stiletto you say you took out of my pocket, that is rubbish. On the whole, I think you had better hold your tongue."

"If I go to the police they will open that drawer!"

"Oh, no! An Englishman's house is his castle, you know, and a man in my position cannot be treated in the way you suggest with impunity. Moreover, Mrs. Ward, there is ample time to destroy the stiletto."

"Which you will do," she said, recovering her composure now that she found it was useless to protest.

"No. I would not even mind showing it to the police and saying how you brought it here with an accusation. If the police can prove that this is the weapon with which Mrs. Jersey was stabbed, and if you and the police can prove that the stiletto was in my pocket on the night of the murder, then you and the police are extremely clever."

"Oh, very well," said Mrs. Ward, realizing her defeat. "I shall say nothing about you. But Brendon—"

"You will hold your tongue about him also. I quite understand how you proposed to hold this stiletto and the tale of its being discovered in my pocket over me. If I did not consent to the marriage of Miss Ward and Walter—"

"She shall marry him."

"Why do you hate Brendon so?" asked Derrington. "I know he is a strong man, and for the money's sake you do not want him to be your son-in-law. But even this does not account for your hatred. Why do you hate him?"

"I have nothing to say," retorted Mrs. Ward, who had flushed and paled alternately during this speech. "Please see me to the door."

Derrington walked to the door and opened it, with a bow. "Willingly. I think we understand one another. I am sorry to ask you to leave me so soon, as our conversation was most enjoyable. But I have to see a certain Mr. Ireland—"

"Is that Brendon's guardian?" asked Mrs. Ward, coming to a sudden stop in the hall.

"His former guardian," corrected Derrington. "How do you come to know of him, Mrs. Ward?"

"I think Dorothy mentioned the name," she said in rather a faltering tone. "Please tell your man to call a cab. I sent away the carriage."

"Let me send you home in mine."

"No! No, I want to go at once," and she approached the door quickly.

"When did you say Mr. Ireland was coming?" Derrington glanced at his watch. "He is due now," he said and looked at her, wondering why she asked the question.

Mrs. Ward's face was turned away. She was dressed in furs and carried a muff. When the door was opened by the footman a gentleman appeared on the threshold. Mrs. Ward lifted her muff to her face, but not before the stranger had caught sight of her face and had uttered an ejaculation of surprise. "You!" he said, stepping forward.

"What do you mean?" said Mrs. Ward, with her face still hidden.

"Lord Derrington, this friend of yours is making a mistake. Tell that man to be quick calling a cab." And she moved past the stranger.

"Pardon," he said politely, "but I wish to speak with you."

Derrington bent his bushy brows. "Let the lady pass," he said. "Who are you, sir, to stop the egress of my guests?"

"My name is Roger Ireland," said the stranger quietly, "and I have been looking for that lady for over thirty years."

"What does the man mean?" asked Mrs. Ward haughtily, but looking disturbed.

"Lord Derrington," said Ireland, "I think if you will permit this lady and me to have a talk—"

"There seems to be some mistake," said Derrington. "Mrs. Ward, will you not wait until we rectify it?"

"No. The man is mad. Let me pass, sir. There is the cab."

But Ireland would not let her pass. "Lord Derrington," he said softly, "let the footman should overtake. This is the lady who was with your son when he was murdered."

An advertisement for Doan's Kidney Pills which appeared in a local paper led me to begin the use of that remedy and I procured it at Weaver's Pharmacy on Main street. In a few days after I commenced the treatment I felt much relieved. It finally brought about such beneficial results that I feel it a duty I owe to my fellow men to let them know this fact. WEATHER FORECAST

Tonight and Sunday the weather is to be clear and warmer. We are evidently to have a spell of that nice fall weather, which usually comes just before the chilly blasts of winter begin to do their work in proper style. The weather of today was of that soft, cooling kind, not too cold and yet not warm enough to make one wish that the bock beer season was just at its height. The day was of that kind when one can hardly believe that this is the fall of the year and not gentle spring with the spring zephyrs blowing about the cheeks. The same kind of a day as we have enjoyed today will be with us tomorrow according to the bulletin from the weather office. However, one can not put too much credence in what the weather man is saying at the present time, for old Jack Frost is traveling over the country and is just as apt to reach here as any other part of the state on mighty short notice.

FORECAST The forecast for Texas east of the one hundredth meridian, issued at New Orleans, is as follows: East Texas (north)—Tonight and Sunday, generally fair, warmer tonight. East Texas (south)—Tonight and Sunday, partly cloudy weather, warmer tonight in west portion.

WEATHER CONDITIONS D. S. Landis issued the following statement of weather conditions this morning: The country is generally clear except along the immediate gulf coast and over the northwest lake region. An area of low pressure is making its entry in the extreme northwest, and low pressure also controls the Florida peninsula country, giving heavy rains at Jacksonville. Freezing temperatures continue

AMUSEMENTS

REMARKS Cotton belt is generally clear and without rain. Killing frost occurred in Tennessee at Covington, Arlington, Bolivar, Brownsville and Milan. In Mississippi at Batesville. D. S. LANDIS, Official in Charge.

THE HUNTLEY-SAVOY COMPANY closed its engagement last night at Greenwall's, presenting Gypsy Jack. There was not a very large audience present. The company is a good one and was entitled to better patronage.

"THE BURGOMASTER" The most successful of the modern musical comedies will be seen at Greenwall's opera house tonight at 8:15, when Fixley and Luders' great work, "The Burgomaster," will be the attraction. This merry masterpiece has had longer runs in the larger cities

"HUMAN HEARTS" If there is any virtue in newspaper commendation, and if the endorsement of the public at large, for the past nine years, is to be taken as a criterion, then "Human Hearts" to be presented here at Greenwall's opera house Friday matinee and night, November 4, is certainly entitled to take rank as the great American drama.

"BLACK PATTI TROUBADOURS" There has been no theatrical hit in New York—or, in fact, in America, since "Florodora"—equal to that scored by Voelckel & Nolan's "Greater Black Patti Troubadours," which comes to Greenwall's opera house Tuesday matinee and night, November 1.

"A HIDDEN CRIME" Wednesday matinee and night, November 2, at Greenwall's opera house, for the first time, the successful scenic drama, "A Hidden Crime." The play is from the pen of John P. Lockney. J. M. Quard has made an elaborate production of Mr. Lockney's play, and the critics of the larger cities have spoken kindly of it. The play is a dramatic tale of love and intrigue with pride on one side and hate and jealousy on the other, are the motives impelling the actions of the chief characters. Prices for this engagement—Matinee, 25c to any part of the house, and night prices, 25c, 35c, 50c.

"IN OLD KENTUCKY" It is not often that a play is found that possesses the undying qualities that are found in "In Old Kentucky," which comes to Greenwall's opera house Monday matinee and night, October 31. It has been presented in this city many times and always to large audiences and play goers are as eager to see it again as if it were the latest New York and London success. The piece this year, which is the twelfth season for it in America, will be staged just as elaborately and as elaborately as ever, and a stronger cast is promised than has ever before been identified with the play. The pickaninny band, a particularly attractive feature of the presentation of "In Old Kentucky," will be strongly in evidence with some new and novel offerings and the exciting race scene will be pulled off in fine style. Grand street parade Sunday 5 p. m. and sacred concert in front of the opera house Sunday at 11 p. m.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 29.—Notice has been posted on the cotton mills of the Hope Company in the villages of Hope and Phoenix that beginning Monday full time will be resumed. The mills, which employ about four hundred and fifty hands, have been running four days a week since early in the summer on account of unsatisfactory conditions in the cotton market. The Lonsdale Company, employing about three thousand five hundred hands and operating textile mills in Lonsdale, Ashton and other points in the Blackstone Valley, have also posted notices today of resumption of full time schedules Monday. The schedule of four days a week has been in force for three months.

ly to the polls at every election and deposit a secret ballot faithfully for the men or the party that promised, in the voters' honest judgment, to serve best the common interests of all of us, we should soon have a representative democracy again. Of course, it often may seem hard to choose the better men or the better side; both may be equally bad, or the "outs" may be worse than the "ins." That is a common problem easily solved. My advice is for all voters: If the men and the party that are in do not represent you perfectly, throw them out; if there is nothing to vote for, vote against. The politicians will soon see that something is the matter, and they will inquire, and they will find out—what? That there is a demand for good government, and, being politicians, they will supply the demand.

Objection to Purchase of Ontario Road by New Haven Railway Has Been Removed and Deal Will Be Closed

MINORITY STOCKHOLDER

Had Objection Because They Believed That All Should Be Treated Alike—New Haven Road Desired to Fortify Itself in Regard to Fuel Supply

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Objection to the purchase of a controlling interest in the New York, Ontario and Western Railroad by the New York, New Haven and Hartford has been removed or overridden according to the Herald and the railroad is now practically a branch of the New Haven system. A point in the negotiations over which there was a difference involved the Ontario minority stockholders. Some persons interested in the deal insisted that all stockholders should be treated equally and that the voting trust should not be dissolved, if the property were to be sold, to the prejudice of the minority stockholders.

The New Haven road, on the other hand, took the position that the control of the Ontario was all that the system required and that if all the stock should be acquired the New Haven would be compelled to invest about $12,000,000 upon which the return would in no way be proportional to the cost. Kuhn, Loeb & Co., as bankers and managers of the syndicate, owned a clear majority of the stock and were not in the position of trustees representing all stockholders. It is understood that a majority of the stock was taken over at $15 a share, provision being made that the vendors and minority stockholders should receive the 3 per cent dividend which it is proposed to declare after the special stockholders' meeting November 9.

At this meeting a plan will be considered to issue $12,000,000 of bonds to pay for all improvements that have been met from surplus and then declare a 3 per cent dividend from accumulated earnings. The declaration of this dividend would place the Ontario in the hands of the common stockholders, instead of the voting trustees. The New Haven, owing a majority of the stock, would then control the property. It would be necessary to declare a dividend before the sign of the voting trustees could be broken.

In taking control of the Ontario, the New Haven system wished primarily to fortify itself in regard to anthracite coal. During the great strike in 1902 no railroad in the United States suffered as did the New Haven. The purchase likewise gives the New Haven an independent outlet to the west and makes the purchase of the Central of New England Railroad a few months ago of more value than it ever has been before. This line, running from Pennsylvania to New England by way of Poughkeepsie bridge, furnishes the connecting link.

CHANGES ON FRISCO
 SHERMAN, Texas, Oct. 23.—It is stated that the report comes from an authoritative source that the Frisco is soon to discontinue the Texas train service from Houston to St. Louis via the Houston and Texas Central from Sherman to Houston, and that train crews out of Sherman north will then run only to Sapulpa instead of to Monette, which means that the trainmen, who last spring removed from Sherman to Monette will return here with their families.

THE SUNDAY EXCURSIONS
 The subject of whether Sunday excursions should be abolished was the topic discussed by the national convention of general passenger agents at Old Point Comfort, Va., recently held, and it was held by quite a large number present that it was their belief that Sunday excursions were not productive of good results. This was the idea of agents from the east, while those from the west held otherwise and were in favor of them.

The arguments presented against Sunday excursions were based on bad wrecks and a tendency to demoralize the regular traffic that occurred as the result of special trains run on the seventh day. It

Prevent As Well As Cure Headache
 If subject to headache, take Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills when you feel the first indication of an attack, and you will find that they rarely ever fail to stop further progress. Pain weakens the nerves, and the longer you suffer, the more frequent will be the attacks. On the contrary, if the nerves are relieved of this weakening influence, the attacks will be less frequent, and finally disappear altogether. Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills contain no opium, cocaine, morphine or chloral in any form. They are absolutely harmless if taken as directed, and will have no other effect, except to drive out the pain.

COLDS

How often you hear it remarked: "It's only a cold," and a few days later learn that the man is on his back with pneumonia. This is of such common occurrence that a cold, however slight, should not be disregarded.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

has gained its great popularity and extensive sale by its prompt cures of this most common ailment. It always cures and is pleasant to take. It counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia.

was argued that the employees who had to look out after extra work on that day were, as a rule, overworked and incompetent to handle effectively the immense travel, and therefore, had failed in their duty at critical times.

The damage done as a result of running Sunday excursions, they declared, was greater than the proceeds from such traffic.

These arguments were based on the experience of those roads where the lines are crowded much more than they are in the west or the southwest.

The reports made by the passenger representatives from the two latter sections of country were to the effect that earnings from Sunday excursions had been large and that the railroads had always made good profit by running them.

A CONSOLIDATION BILL
 AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 23.—Discussing the subject of railway consolidation, the various bills of this kind passed by the Twenty-eighth legislature, and those that would be presented to the Twenty-ninth, a prominent gentleman remarked in the state house yesterday that bills of this kind are to be introduced early in the session authorizing the absorption of the Cane Belt by the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe.

The Cane Belt extends from Eagle Lake to Hay City, traverses a magnificent scope of country, and when Santa Fe connections are established, will not only be a valuable acquisition to that system, but will contribute to the growth of Galveston at the same time.

MANY HOMESEEEKERS
 City Ticket Agent Fenelon of the Santa Fe reports that the decided increase in the number of homeseekers entering Texas is now being felt.

During this week the Santa Fe has carried eight parties to Bonham and Ladonia to take up lands in that section. Many of the homeseekers are coming to Valera on the Santa Fe, where the Anson "PO" ranch has been split up and offered to homeseekers. Altogether 14,000 acres are being offered in this way.

TICKET SCALPING
 Word has been received from San Antonio of the first arrest under the anti-scalping ordinance recently passed by the city council there.

NORTH FORT WORTH ROSEN HEIGHTS STOCK YARDS

Notes and Personal

North Furniture Company.
 North Fort Worth will this year adopt the discount system for the early payment of taxes.

Hertford no discounts have been made, the sole inducement to prompt payment being the enforcement of penalties in case the payment was delayed too long. Under the plan now proposed, however, a discount of 10 per cent will be allowed for payment of taxes during the month of November. This action, it is learned, will be taken officially at the next session of the city council, when the rolls will be submitted and the formality of fixing the rates at 50 cents per $100 will be gone through.

The 2 per cent discount is now practically agreed upon and it is possible a further discount of 1 per cent may be allowed from the close of November to the beginning of the new year.

MAIL DELIVERY
 Citizens living in the neighborhood of Fifteenth street and Clinton avenue, in North Fort Worth, are complaining of the queer conditions existing in regard to the delivery of mail, or rather the non-delivery of mail to them.

According to the statement of one of the citizens, made yesterday, the routes have been so arranged that mail is delivered both to the north and to the south of them, but it is impossible to secure a delivery in the small strip separating the two routes as now marked out. Inquiry of the carrier, the citizen declared, revealed the fact that he could not deliver outside the route laid down.

The oyster supper given last night at the city hall by the ladies of the Christian church was well attended and proved a great success.

TYLER COURT HAS REVERSED THE CASE

A few days ago The Telegram noted the arrival here of Judge Uvalde Burns, an attorney of El Paso and brother of Federal Judge Walter T. Burns of Houston, who was on his return home from arguing the case of the state against his client, Henry Hierholzer, who had been convicted of murder and sentenced to be hanged. Attorney Burns had taken an appeal to the criminal court at Tyler, and when he was in Fort Worth did not know the result of his efforts to have the case reversed.

Yesterday it was learned at the court house that the Tyler court had remanded the case and Hierholzer will be given a new trial.

Judge Burns stated while here that if the case was reversed he would attempt to get a change of venue. The reversal was on the grounds that the trial judge failed to change the jury upon insanity superinduced by the use of liquor.

The case is a sad and pathetic one. Hierholzer shot and killed John Hoer, the dearest friend he had. The murder was committed in front of the Masonic temple in El Paso about one year ago, while the two were leaving a ball given by the Sons of Hermann.

Judge Burns says that when Hierholzer saw Hoer leave the hall with someone else (a woman) he felt just as if he was losing the last friend he had on earth. It was then he fired the shot.

The two men had always been inseparable and the killing caused great interest because of the fact that they were fast friends.

"The Flower Lady" is an interesting and so far mysterious visitor who frequently brightens the lives of patients in the Hahnemann hospital, Philadelphia. Every visiting day she arrives in an automobile with a quantity of flowers, which she distributes among the sufferers. When anyone asks her name she merely laughs and says: "I was once in a hospital for a long time. A good woman brought flowers to me and made me very happy. I made up my mind that I would do the same some day."

After the founding of the Berlin Trade School in 1821 there followed in quick succession a number of technical or polytechnic schools all over Germany.

Yesterday a newly married couple sat in the depot looking into each other's eyes and saying all the sweet, soft things they could, and paid no attention to the caller and the trains. Result, they missed their train and had to stay over until last night. The groom explained to several that they had never traveled very much and he guessed he wouldn't any more, for he had missed the train they wished to take from Waco to Fort Worth and then had the misfortune to miss the train here for St. Louis. He was inclined to think that the fates were against them both on traveling.

Judge W. R. Parker, chairman of the democratic campaign committee says that thus far little has been done in the party to create interest in the approaching election. He thinks, however, that arrangements will be made in a day or two to hold several meetings in the county just before the close of the campaign in the interest of O. W. MILLS WILL ENTER POLY-VARSITY CONTEST

Crack Quarterback Will Play During at Least a Portion of Game Today—A Close Match Predicted

Quarterback Mills of the Fort Worth University team will likely play at least a part of the game today between that institution and their rival Polytechnic College.

This announcement was made this morning and was received with much joy by the student body, who feel that their chances of winning the contest are much enhanced. Pease may also play a part of the game.

Mills has made a great record both in coaching the team and in his individual playing so that the injury to his hand in Dallas cast quite a damper on the team's prospects. With him again in the game and his control of the team from the pivotal position, a great improvement is expected.

Despite the reports of crippled players on the Fort Worth University team, Polytechnic will not be caught napping, but will go into the game to play as hard as possible.

Quarterback Mills this morning visited Polytechnic College to look over the field, the condition of which will determine to a great extent the line-up of the game. The grounds are reported to be in good condition, having completely dried after the heavy rains of the early week.

The crowd at the game today promises to be a record-breaker, the greatest rivalry having been developed between the students of the institutions and between the friends of each throughout the city.

DISCOUNT ALLOWED ON TAXES ENDS OFFICIALLY

According to Strict Interpretation of Ordinance Two Per Cent Decrease Terminates—Will Be Allowed Monday

Today is officially the last day for the payment of city taxes to secure the discount of 2 per cent, according to the ordinance regarding the matter passed by the city council.

As a matter of fact that body intended to extend the discount until the end of the month and City Collector Glavin stated this morning that he would allow it until that time in compliance with the intention of the council.

The mistake by which the discount officially ceases today, it is supposed, was due to an error in preparing the rough draft of the ordinance. In overlooking this, the member of the council who drew it up, used the ordinance of the preceding year as a model. Last year the 2 per cent discount was in effect until the end of November, which was November 30. In preparing the new document, October was substituted for November, the date "30," however, remaining in place of the "31," which should have been substituted. October 30 falling tomorrow, when the tax office will be closed, today becomes the last day for the discount.

All of the city officials and councilmen who could be seen yesterday agreed that the intention was to make the discount allowable until October 31 and a substitution will likely be made in the ordinance at the next session of the council.

A great number of citizens have availed themselves of the discount and even should it not be allowed Monday, the total receipts for the first month will prove record-breaking.

A discount of 1 per cent is allowed until December 1.

MISS ASTOR WEDS SPENDER-CLAY IN LONDON

Only Daughter of the Rich American Is Married Today Before a Large Assemblage of Invited Guests

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Miss Pauline Astor, daughter of William Waldorf Astor, was married in St. Margaret's church, Westminster, shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon, to Captain Spender-Clay. The Bishop of London, Dr. Ingraham, Canon Wilberforce and other clergy performed the ceremony in the presence of a very large audience.

An enormous crowd outside watched the arrival of the bride, bridegroom and wedding guests. The church, which was tastefully adorned with flowers and autumn foliage, was crowded with distinguished persons and presented a brilliant scene, when, to strains of a professional hymn, the bride, with her ten bridesmaids and two pages in white satin cavalier suits, moved up the aisle to the chancel steps. Mr. Astor gave away the bride. The best man was Captain Claude DeCrespigny, vicerey Curzon's aide-de-camp. At the conclusion of the ceremony a reception was held at No. 18 Carlton House Terrace. Captain and Mrs. Spender-Clay subsequently started for Cliveden, where they will spend the honeymoon.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Miss Pauline Astor, the only daughter of William Waldorf Astor, who was married in London today to Captain Spender-Clay, is not particularly well known in this city, owing to the fact that she has lived nearly all her life abroad. She was last in New York something more than a year ago, stopping for a time with friends here, but a considerable portion of her stay in this country was spent in Philadelphia, where she visited the relatives of her mother, the late Mrs. Astor, who was Miss Paul. Miss Astor was introduced in London. Her debut was made several years ago, and she made many friends on account of her unaffected manner and sweet disposition. She is a rather dark, slight young woman, with eyes and hair of dark brown and an olive complexion.

STRIPLING IS TO GO SECOND TIME TO MARKET

Fort Worth Merchant Says Business Has Been So Good He Has Sold Out All Purchases

W. C. Stripling, the Main and Houston streets merchant, said today that business has never been better, and the prospects for the best business by far that the firm had ever done would be handled this year.

"Our sales," said Mr. Stripling, "have increased on an average over those of last year at this time by nearly 50 per cent. For some days we have run over 100 per cent. In July and August I was in New York and eastern markets, buying goods. Well, Monday, I am going back again, for it is a case of necessity with me to get more goods. I thought I had bought enough to last through the season with good assortments, but I was badly mistaken. On my trip I will have an opportunity to get goods much cheaper than before, for the buying season is really over, and the manufacturers are glad to let go what goods they have at a very considerable discount. Our customers will get the advantage of that discount, too."

The business," said Mr. Stripling, "has grown so that we will soon be compelled to make additional room in some way. Early last year we added the millinery department and made other improvements, giving us more room. At that time we thought we had room to spare for some time, but it was all a mistake. We need more room and will have to find some way to get it. All of our departments are crowded with goods. When my debut was made several years ago, we had the clothing and shoe departments, and in fact, all departments, the dry goods and millinery parts, as well, are doing a splendid business.

British Delegates to American Federation of Labor Want to Establish International Relations in Movement

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Recent reports that efforts are being made to amalgamate the unions in America and England of all dockers and longshoremen are confirmed by William Abraham and James Wignall, delegates from the British trades union congress to the convention of the American Federation of Labor, to be held at San Francisco.

"I came here to strengthen the international relations between the labor organizations," said Abraham. "The British trades union congress has decided to do all in its power to aid organized labor in America whenever possible, and hopes that labor organizations of America will reciprocate whenever they can."

"SASSY" PORTER PUT OFF TRAIN

"Burgomaster" Company Has Interesting Experiences in Reaching This City—Long Jump Made From El Paso

The Burgomaster" Company, which performs in this city today, after having made the longest theatrical jump in the history of the southwest, from El Paso to this city, was given a practical lesson of the southern method of meeting unexpected occasions as they arise during the trip here.

Fullman porter from the north, who was making his first trip south, was in charge of the car, Tennis, upon which the company traveled. By some means the car cleaners had failed to properly fill the water tanks of the train and the passengers made complaint. In return, it is stated the porter "sassed back" in a no very uncertain way.

The arrival of the train conductor soothed the rapidly rising wrath of the passengers, who heartily acquiesced in his action of putting the porter off at a small station in the middle of the desert. Here he was obliged to wait and study over his action until the arrival of the next train, twelve hours later.

Another porter was put in charge of the train and Manager Cullen of the company had an experience with him of a more pleasing nature. He was occupying the drawing room of the sleeper and in getting up managed to leave his wallet of bank notes under his pillow. Oscar Figman, with his usual fondness for slumber, remained long absent and the wallet was, therefore, not found until late last night, when the new porter discovered it and handed it over to Manager Cullen.

The reward handed the porter was sufficient to pay for his expenses in connection with the treatment of porter No. 1 as a valuable object lesson with a moral.

Speaking of the long trip made in getting here, Manager Cullen declared that to all effects were felt by the company, the rest from a night's performance more than offsetting the extra traveling. All members of the troupe were in good spirits when this city was reached and full of the porter experiences.

MISS ASTOR WEDS SPENDER-CLAY IN LONDON

Only Daughter of the Rich American Is Married Today Before a Large Assemblage of Invited Guests

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Miss Pauline Astor, daughter of William Waldorf Astor, was married in St. Margaret's church, Westminster, shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon, to Captain Spender-Clay. The Bishop of London, Dr. Ingraham, Canon Wilberforce and other clergy performed the ceremony in the presence of a very large audience.

An enormous crowd outside watched the arrival of the bride, bridegroom and wedding guests. The church, which was tastefully adorned with flowers and autumn foliage, was crowded with distinguished persons and presented a brilliant scene, when, to strains of a professional hymn, the bride, with her ten bridesmaids and two pages in white satin cavalier suits, moved up the aisle to the chancel steps. Mr. Astor gave away the bride. The best man was Captain Claude DeCrespigny, vicerey Curzon's aide-de-camp. At the conclusion of the ceremony a reception was held at No. 18 Carlton House Terrace. Captain and Mrs. Spender-Clay subsequently started for Cliveden, where they will spend the honeymoon.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Miss Pauline Astor, the only daughter of William Waldorf Astor, who was married in London today to Captain Spender-Clay, is not particularly well known in this city, owing to the fact that she has lived nearly all her life abroad. She was last in New York something more than a year ago, stopping for a time with friends here, but a considerable portion of her stay in this country was spent in Philadelphia, where she visited the relatives of her mother, the late Mrs. Astor, who was Miss Paul. Miss Astor was introduced in London. Her debut was made several years ago, and she made many friends on account of her unaffected manner and sweet disposition. She is a rather dark, slight young woman, with eyes and hair of dark brown and an olive complexion.

IN THE COURTS CHARTER VALIDITY NOT DOUBTED BY ORRICK

Legal Battle Is On for Possession of Federal Prisoner Now in County Jail on Warrant Issued by N. A. Dodge

WANTS HIS FREEDOM
Attorney Applies to the State Court for Order Releasing the Man Under Arrangement With U. S. Marshal and Declines to Surrender Him

A Telegram reporter called on the city attorney this morning for an interview with reference to the pending appeals from the board of equalization.

The city attorney in substance said that it was not the policy of the legal department of the city to discuss legal suits pending but that he felt justified in saying that in his opinion the action of the board of equalization has been beyond criticism and has been just and correct in all particulars, and that so far as any action being taken by the court which will embarrass the city government, he feels perfectly confident that when the case is called on the docket for trial the results will bear out his confidence in the legality of the city's charter and the action of its officers.

The greatest interest is being manifested throughout the city in regard to the appeals, printed exclusively in The Telegram yesterday, and many citizens have expressed fears of grave consequence as a result of the attack made upon the city charter and its provisions.

The statement above by City Attorney Orrick shows that the city is not yet contemplating retirement from business, nor feels any mistake has been made by Chairman Ligon and the members of the equalization board.

As a rule the city officials decline to discuss the situation, feeling that such action would be improper and perhaps prejudicial prior to the action of the courts.

That the city will not compromise, but fight the cases in the courts, is practically assured by the opinion of the city attorney as given above.

A HEALTHY LIVER, A HAPPY MAN

The largest, and, now conceded, the most important gland in the human body is the liver. When the liver is "out of order" the blood becomes impure, the kidneys are affected and Bright's disease and diabetes are invited, constipation is induced through disorders of the stomach, and the whole system "gets out of tune," followed by chronic and sometimes incurable disorders unless the liver is corrected as administered.

The right corrective in all cases is Dr. Thacker's Liver and Blood Syrup, the only preparation on the market in which is scientifically combined all the best known remedies for diseases of the liver and kidneys and purifying the blood.

For sale at all druggists, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sample bottle free.
