EXPLOSION OF TANKS

Many People Believed Killed and Quite a Number Injured by Many Explosions Which Occur at Gas Works

PEOPLE FLEE IN TERROR

Fear at First That Continued Trouble Would Cause Bursting of Tanks Containing Millions of Feet of Gas and No One Would Venture Near

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Many lives are believed to have been lost and a number of men probably fatally injured in an explosion of five small purifying tanks leased by the People's Gas Light and Coke company, Seventy-Fourth and South Chicago avenue, today.

There were from twelve to twenty explosions. It is reported a brick building containing five tanks and twenty workmen completely collapsed, burying the men and crushing them to death. The explosions were so forceful that for a radius of half a mile windows were broken and walls of the buildings thrown out of plumb. For fear that the explosions might continue to cause the explosion of two big tanks which hold millions of feet of gas, no one would venture near the ruins of the plant. Calls were sent for patrol wagons and ambulances at every station on the south side and a general alarm of fire was sent in. Persons living in the vicinity deserted their homes, storekeepers left their stores all fleeing with what valuables they could seize. One of the workmen, after the disaster, expressed the belief that at least forty of his companions had lost their lives.

BURGLARS SHOOT A PATROLMAN IN GOLD BLOOD

Officer Discovers Them While They Are Trying to Enter a Business House in Detroit, Michigan

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 18.—Patrolman John Daley was shot down and murdered in cold blood about midnight by one of two burglars while at work in the rear of William Dietrich's store at No. 575 Chicago avenue and Herbert H. Pickett, special officer for the Michigan Central, was shot through the abdomen and probably fatally injured when he ran to the policeman's assistance.

The murder occurred in the heart of the business district of Detroit in an alley back of the corner of Michigan and Wayne streets. Patrolman Daley's revolver was found within a few feet of the screen door, which the burglars had partially opened. He had evidently decided to follow his assailants, for he had received a mortal wound through the chest as he fell on his face, a few yards off in the direction which his assailants had taken. The patrolman's cry for help and noise of the shooting awoke the neighborhood and the desperado, pursued by a constantly increasing crowd, ran westward, zigzagging between Lafayette avenue and the alley that parallels the avenue half a block northward.

Officer Pickett was a leader in the chase, having been within a block of the scene when he heard the shot that killed Patrolman Daley. Pickett had followed the murderers nearly four blocks when they stopped near Lafayette avenue and Third street and shot him through the body. The bullet entered his abdomen and passed out near the backbone. Having fired several more shots and effectively intimidating the pursuing crowd, the fugitives escaped in the direction of the railroad yards that lie west of the Michigan Central and union depots.

The Mohawk Is a Total Loss, But Passengers and Crew Are Saved—One Watchman Is Lost

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Central Vermont railway freight steamer Mohawk burned off Horton's Point, L. I., early today. The Mohawk's crew was taken off by the Fall River line steamship Boston and taken to Fall River.

FALL RIVER, Nov. 18.—There were twenty-two people on board the Mohawk, including two women. All were rescued except the watchman. The Boston effected the rescue shortly before 1 o'clock this morning and at that time the Mohawk was hopelessly burned and shortly afterward there was an explosion which practically completed the work of destruction, although the bulk remained afloat. The Mohawk had a cargo of general merchandise. She plied between New York and New London, Conn. The rescued party left Fall River for New London.

HULL INQUIRY IS CLOSED ON THE MATTER

Members of the Commission Testify to the Bravery of the Fishermen—Claims for Damages Put in

HULL, England, Nov. 18.—The board of trade inquiry into the actual occurrence of Dogger Bank Oct. 22 closed with yesterday's session and the commissioners will report to the board of trade on the subject as speedily as possible. At the opening of today's session the commissioners and others paid high tributes to the gallantry of the members of the fishing fleet.

Dr. Woodhouse, representing the Russian government, said he would like to say in behalf of those he represented how much they regretted what had occurred and how he agreed with the remarks concerning the bravery of the fishermen. It gave him the greatest pleasure to convey the purpose of those remarks to the Russian government.

The court then heard the evidence regarding the financial circumstances of the killed and injured fishermen and those dependent on them and claims were put in.

Among others, Skipper Welpion of the Mino, claimed $750 for injuries, and $2,500 for saving the Mino when she was unseaworthy. Skipper Gull claimed $250 for injuries to health and $5,000 for saving the lives of the crew of the Mino. Others claimed from $250 to $500.

TROUBLE ON THE ISTHMUS IS A REPORT

Secretary Morton Has Placed a Naval Force at the Disposal of the State Department to Quiet Things

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Advises have reached here concerning the reports from Panama of a conspiracy directed against the present government. While the details are not available, it is understood here that the conspiracy was directed against Amador and was conceived by persons who want to control the remainder of the $10,000,000 paid by the United States to Panama in consideration of the right of way across the isthmus. It is further learned that the movement was a failure, Amador having been warned in advance, but it is feared that the same element will repeat the efforts.

The integrity of the republic of Panama is gravely threatened. A great revolution, demanding the utilization of United States war vessels and marines, is menacing Panama. After conferences between the White House, state department and the navy department, Admiral Goodrich was cabled peremptory orders to hold his squadron at Panama until further orders.

Special orders were also cabled to Captain Merriam, in command of the Dixie, in Colon. They were sent by Secretary Morton himself, who sent them first to the state department.

The forces thus put at the discretion of the president of Panama are the Pacific squadron, consisting of the New York, Boston, and Marblehead and gunboat Bennington, the Dixie, at Colon, and about 400 marines now on the isthmus. It thus appears that the state department has news of importance which it has not given to the public. A semi-official statement was given out by the state department to the effect that a conspiracy has been discovered some time ago against President Amador, but that it had been nipped in the bud.

According to what was given out by the state department it was the purpose of the conspiracy evidently to seize the government and take charge of the unexpired balance of the $10,000,000 paid to a number of depositions by negroes in Reno during the last few weeks.

NEGROES ORDERED TO LEAVE RENO AT ONCE

George Burns was the first offender. He attempted assault upon a white girl and narrowly escaped lynching. He was sentenced to fifteen years in the penitentiary.

Other minor offenses followed, but the culmination came when a negro attempted to assassinate Officer Acree.

TURNS BRONZE

Patient Afflicted With Addison's Disease Is at Hospital at South Bend—Physicians Traveling Miles to See It

THE AILMENT IS RARE

Few Cases Have Ever Been Known, But in Each Instance Has Proved Fatal—It Is Difficult for the Physicians to Diagnose

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 18.—Suffering from one of the rarest diseases known to the medical men of the world, Mrs. A. B. Hickman of Plymouth, is in the Epworth hospital at South Bend, where she is being visited by physicians from all the larger towns of the Middle West. The face and body of the woman have turned a bronze color.

The ailment is known to the medical profession as "Addison's disease," so-called from the fact that in 1849 a physician by the name of Addison announced to a London medical society his discovery of a malady in which the body of the victim turned to bronze.

Although Dr. Addison discovered a case of this disease in 1849, 45 years ago, it was not until 1854 that he published his treatise on the local and constitutional effects of the disease. He announced it as his opinion that the disease was the result of a chronic inflammatory change in the organs of the body above the kidneys.

Since then much controversy has arisen in this country and Europe concerning the nature of the ailment, and for a long time incredulity was common as to the existence of such a disease as Dr. Addison described.

This disbelief was increased by the fact that for a quarter of a century following the discovery of the disease by Dr. Addison no other instance of a similar nature was recorded.

But a few other cases have been recorded which tend to substantiate the truth of the doctor's statement and also to verify the correctness of the cause which he then affirmed.

The symptoms of the disease in the case of Mrs. Hickman are practically the same as those in the patient which Dr. Addison described.

The first symptoms noticed in the case of Mrs. Hickman were that she gradually became languid and indolent to bodily and mental exertion. Her appetite was impaired and almost lost. The weight she had become nearly and has pulse gradually became more feeble.

From time to time, as the disease tightened about the patient, slight pains were noted in the region of the stomach, and there were some indications of disturbed cerebral circulation.

Notwithstanding these signs of feeble circulation and general prostration, neither diligent inquiry nor careful physical examination, tended to throw light on the nature of the malady, nor have the physicians who have studied the case of Mrs. Hickman been able to fix upon any lesion as the cause of the gradual change which has taken place in the patient.

The skin of Mrs. Hickman has taken on a dingy, smoky appearance and by degrees changed to a chestnut brown and from that to a deep amber, finally becoming so darkened that the color is now almost that of a mulatto.

"It will be seen from the description of the disease," said Dr. Dudley M. Culver, a physician of Indianapolis, "that there are three characteristic features of the disease. These are the constitutional symptoms, the local effects on the skin and the changes found after death in the capsules, which show an inflammatory change in the organs of the body just above the kidneys.

"As regards the earliest change in the capsules, no case has yet been recorded where the earliest morbid alterations in the capsules were found after death in the capsules, which show an inflammatory change in the organs of the body just above the kidneys.

"The disease has always proved fatal, due probably to the fact that it is one which is difficult to diagnose. For several months after the weakness of the patient is noted the attending physician is at a loss to understand the case thoroughly, and on this account it is always baffling to the physician.

"As to the mode of death that comes to those whose bodies have thus turned to bronze," said Dr. Culver, "it is generally slow, and ensues from an aggravation of all the symptoms of debility which existed so long before death. The patient gradually becomes weaker and weaker, the action of the heart more and more feeble, so that for some days before death the patient may even lie absolutely pulseless and life simply ebb away in a gentle manner."

Nan Patterson, on Trial for Murder Will Wear Stunning Gowns in Court

Nan Patterson, the actress, whose trial for the murder of "Caesar" Young, the turfman, is now on, will wear some stunning gowns in the court room, it is said.

Nan Patterson, the actress, whose trial for the murder of "Caesar" Young, the turfman, is now on, will wear some stunning gowns in the court room, it is said. It has just been learned that she has been attended in her cell for two weeks by a fashionable dressmaker, and it is expected that her costumes will cause something of a sensation in court. The visits of the dressmaker have been kept very quiet. The prisoner obtained permission to have the dressmaker go to her cell and asked that her visits be kept secret. This wish has been regarded and no one will say very much concerning the new dresses except an attendant, who admitted they were "stunning." She has also purchased a collection of hats.

PLAYS COMEDY WHILE DEEP IN GRIEF

Actor Goes Through the Part of Pitticus Green in "Hazel Kirke" While Thinking of His Dead Babe

CINCINNATI, Nov. 18.—Although his heart was breaking with grief because of the death a few hours before of his little son, William F. Carr played the comedy part of Pitticus Green in "Hazel Kirke" Monday night at Robinson's opera house. Only the fact that there is no actor this side of New York City who knows the lines and can take his part caused Carr to play. He was liberally applauded, but the plaudits did not reach his ears, nor did his eyes see the smiles of his audience. He heard only the voice of his baby boy repeating, "I love papa; I love mamma," the first sentence his little lips had learned to form.

"My God, how can I endure it! Will the performance ever come to an end?" he cried, as between acts he sat behind the scenes, dazed with grief. But the performance was completed, and as the light-hearted theatergoers departed Carr left the stage exit, and muffled himself in his overcoat, hurried homeward to the side of his faithful wife, keeping a lonely vigil beside her dead child.

"Only last Friday night my wife and Agnes, 5; William, 2 years and 8 months, arrived from Philadelphia. When Willy saw me entering the car at the depot, he jumped up his arms about his neck, his lap and clapping his little hands cried: "Der's my papa! Then throwing his arms about my neck he kissed me and gave me a regular bear hug. Oh, it is so cruel that death should claim him!"

"Willy became ill with membranous croup last Tuesday. The little fellow seemed to know he was going to die, and Sunday night, when I was compelled to go to the theater, he cried as though his little heart would break, and he held up his hands to me and said, "Papa, William is doin' to die, and he won't see papa and mamma any more." I left the house with a breaking heart. I said my lines that night as best I could. It seemed that I would die, and to act it when my heart was torn with grief almost killed me."

Mrs. Carr is bordering on nervous prostration as a result of the shot. She was, until the birth of John, an actress, and appeared for several years in Philadelphia with Carr.

As Carr left the house for the theater Monday night Agnes ran to him, and placing his little heart about his neck, said, "Papa, don't bury Willy until you have to, will you? I want to keep him as long as I can, for when he is put in the big hole in the ground I won't have any big brother any more."

MAYFIELD MISTAKES

General Attorney Lassiter Says the Rate Complained of by Frank Kell of Wichita Falls Was Not Authorized

COMMISSION IS NOTIFIED

Commissioner Mayfield Wants to Forfeit Charter of Chicago, Rock Island and Gulf and Instructs an Emergency Rate at Once to Meet Case

Assistant General Attorney Lassiter of the Rock Island stated this morning that the rate, leading to Commissioner Mayfield's sensational motion for charter forfeiture at Austin yesterday was due entirely to a mistake and that the commission has at once been notified of the nature of the mistake and the non-obervance of the rate by the Rock Island road.

Speaking of the matter in detail, he stated that the rate was submitted, as are all incoming rates by the outside roads, at the general freight meeting, cutting the rate formerly in force. This rate he says was placed upon the sheets and through neglect or error on the part of a clerk was not called to the attention of the general freight agent, as all such changes should be.

On learning of the difficulty this explanation was at once forwarded to the commission and notice sent to the outside roads that the rate would not be observed by the Rock Island.

It is thought here that the explanation and an accompanying action will put an end to the incident.

A SENSATIONAL MOVE

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 18.—The railroad commission today received a letter from Frank Kell of Wichita Falls, in which he called attention to the fact that the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railway was naming a rate from points on its line in the Indian and Oklahoma territories to Amarillo, entirely ignoring the flour differential, making wheat and flour carry the same rate, figured on the mileage basis.

The effect of this, Mr. Kell states, is to fix a rate of 16c per 100 pounds from Oklahoma City to Amarillo, a distance of 274 miles.

Thus the Rock Island, so it is stated in the letter received yesterday, is enabling the Oklahoma mills to practically take all the Flour trade from the territory, not only so, but positively taking from the Fort Worth and Denver City railway and Pecos Valley and Southern-Kansas tonnage that justly belongs to them.

Mr. Kell, in the letter, made the assertion that this basis of rates will in a very short while be met by the lines thus affected, and in the end, will lead to a general demoralization of the whole fabric of rates, covering grain and grain products destined to Texas.

This matter was immediately taken up by the commission, vigorously discussed, when Commissioner Allison Mayfield offered the following resolution:

"The action of the Chicago, Rock Island and Gulf in the matter complained of is in truth and in fact the performance of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, a foreign railroad corporation doing business in Texas in the name of the Chicago, Rock Island and Gulf, in violation of the constitution and laws of Texas, is by no means the first instance whereby the Chicago, Rock Island and Gulf railroad has unlawfully imperiled the grain and milling interest of this state.

"The action of the Chicago, Rock Island and Gulf in the matter complained of is in truth and in fact the performance of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, a foreign railroad corporation doing business in Texas in the name of the Chicago, Rock Island and Gulf, in violation of the constitution and laws of Texas, is by no means the first instance whereby the Chicago, Rock Island and Gulf railroad has unlawfully imperiled the grain and milling interest of this state.

"And I move that the attorney general be instructed and required to take the necessary steps to that end.

"And in the meantime that an emergency tariff be adopted as hereinbefore indicated."

Commissioner Mayfield also moved: "That an emergency tariff be issued effective from tomorrow (today) on all commodities embraced in commission circular No. 2, reducing the scale 25 per cent (horizontal), applicable to the Texas of the Chicago, Rock Island and Gulf Railroad Company."

Commissioner Mayfield's motion was an eye-opener to the commission, and will be an eye-opener to the Chicago and Rock Island people.

It was not adopted, but will be called up at some time soon, when all the commissioners are present, unless the road acts upon the proposition "that a hint to the wise is sufficient."

ANNIVERSARY OF ST. JAMES CHURCH

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—The seventeenth anniversary of St. James' Episcopal church, the oldest church of the denomination in Chicago, has been celebrated with a reception in the church and parish house at Huron and Cass streets. The guest of honor was the Rev. W. W. Vibbert of Trinity church, New York, who served as pastor of St. James from 1833 to 1890. Through his efforts during the first year of his pastorate the church wiped out a bonded debt of $35,000.

The church was destroyed in the great fire of 1871 and four years later the present structure was erected in its place. Besides the Sunday schools, the church maintains classes in natural history, needlework, cooking, housekeeping and gymnastics.

BUSINESS MAN IS TOURING THE STATE

Charles B. Lyon, a prominent wholesale druggist and chemist of Minneapolis, together with his wife and daughter, are in the city today as a part of a tour of Texas being taken with a view to investigating its commercial promises.
Mr. Lyon is accompanied on the trip by George C. Pratt, the well-known lumber merchant and speaks very highly of the portions of Texas already visited. It is probable that he will embark in the Texas field as a result of his visit here.

FORT WORTH THE GRAIN CENTER OF TEXAS

Are Three Flouring Mills Here Now, a Fourth Is Coming and the Fifth One Has Been Promised

"This city is already the biggest mill and grain market in Texas," said Captain B. B. Paddock, secretary of the Fort Worth Board of Trade this morning, in discussing the importance of this industry.

There is now in operation in Fort Worth three large mills and elevators conducted by Medlin, Cameron and Bewley companies, and plans are being made for the erection of a fourth by the Burris Milling Company of McKinney, who will have a representative in Fort Worth early next week to select a site for a plant that will have a capacity of 1,000 barrels daily. The company has been chartered under the laws of the state for $200,000. The company will erect an elevator in connection with the mill.

Two sites for the new mill have been offered. One of these will be selected next week and work, it is understood, will be commenced on it without unnecessary delay.
The operation of these mills means to Fort Worth more than any one can realize without giving the proposition due consideration. It means that 24,000 bushels of wheat are used daily, requiring 300 cars

The Pills That Cure Rheumatism

Mr. C. H. Hickey, of No. 3 Main St., Harris, R. I., is one of thousands who have been cured of Rheumatism by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills For Pale People.

He says: "I suffered for three months, a part of the time confined to bed. I took many remedies but without relief. Then I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and the first box I took helped me. After I had taken three boxes the swelling went down and the pain and lameness left me for good. I have had no trace of rheumatism since. My wife and I recommend these pills to everyone afflicted."

Obstinate cases of neuralgia, sciatica and locomotor ataxia also yield to this specific for diseases of the blood and nerves.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Distress After Eating

Nausea between meals, belching, vomiting, flatulence, fits of nervous headache, pain in the stomach, are all symptoms of dyspepsia, and the longer it is neglected the harder it is to cure it.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Radically and permanently cure it—strengthen and tone the stomach and other digestive organs for the natural performance of their functions.

Accept no substitute for Hood's. "I had dyspepsia twenty-five years and took different medicines but got no help until I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Have taken four bottles of this medicine and can now eat almost anything, sleep well, have no cramps in my stomach, no burning and no distress." Mrs. WILLIAM G. BARRETT 14 Olney St., Providence, R. I. Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

to transport the grain to this city, providing each car is loaded to its maximum capacity.

The operation of these mills, considered from a flour, grain and pay roll standpoint, means that $50,000 are handled daily, or $200,000 weekly—$1,500,000 annually.

Employment is given 300 people by these mills, besides a large force who are employed in the handling of the grain.
Secretary Paddock has given the mill and elevator business of Fort Worth very much careful thought and from his deductions it is safe to predict that in the very near future this industry will be one of the greatest in Texas. Fort Worth has better facilities for getting grain to the local mills from the wheat-producing sections of the country than any other city in the state from the fact that more trunk railways enter here than any other town in Texas. The Rock Island, Missouri, Kansas and Texas, Santa Fe, Frisco and Denver roads all penetrate the great wheat sections, providing transportation for wheat to Fort Worth and on to the mill.

There is a strong probability that a fifth mill and elevator will be built here by the Texas Millers' Association. The executive committee of this association held a meeting in this city this week to consider the proposition, and while no authoritative statement as to what was decided upon has been made, it is learned from what is considered an authoritative source that the millers of the association will build a large mill. A committee has been instructed to investigate the matter and report back to the association at a subsequent meeting.

REVIVAL AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The revival at the First Baptist church is increasing in interest and attendance every day. There was an immense audience at the service last night and Dr. Riley spoke on "Paul Before Agrippas." The service was a powerful presentation of this interesting subject and an after-meeting was held, in which great interest was manifested. The service which was held this morning at 10 o'clock was well attended and Dr. Riley preached the first of his series of sermons on "The Book of Revelations." Service tonight at 7:30 o'clock, to which everybody is invited.

THE VELVET THEATER HAT

The light-weight velvets are beautiful for evening wear. A theater gown of any sort tone is most attractive. Here is a pale green velvet, elaborately shirred. The bodice yoke is of all-over silk lace. A fringe of fine lace outlines the yoke. The lace is built over the bodice in helter-skelter and caught with buttons over the velvet vest. The buttons are pale green silk, with a white silk crochet cover. The deep grille is finished in the back with a row of buttons. The hat is a creation of lace, ostrich feathers and ermine. Both crown and brim are edged with ermine. The white ostrich feathers are used both above and below the brim.

THE CITY COUNCIL WILL MEET TONIGHT

Although a meeting of the finance committee of the city council was held yesterday evening, no budgets will be presented at tonight's meeting of that body, such action probably being delayed for some time yet.

The arrangement of budgets is proving a herculean task and the committee did not feel able to properly prepare them in time for presentation tonight. Only such routine matters as the approving of bills, acting upon tax remittance applications, etc., were taken up by the committee.
It is stated that the application of Sam Rosen for a street car franchise on Throckmorton street, as first contained in The Telegram of two weeks ago, will be brought up at the session tonight.
Several additional applications for grading, paving and graveling have been filed with the street committee, but it is not known whether they will be acted upon tonight.
Application for the appointment of special officers without pay will be made by the Humane Society.

EXCHANGE FOR HANDLEY OPEN

Telephone Connection With a Growing Suburb Is Opened Through an Exchange With Forty Subscribers

Manager Henderson of the Southwestern Telephone Company announced yesterday the company has opened an exchange at Handley with between thirty-five and forty subscribers, embracing the various residences and farms in the section surrounding that suburb.

The placing of an exchange there has been considered for some time, owing to the rapid growth in that direction and the present prosperous conditions have determined its placing.
The service as established has been found to work perfectly and the residents are expressing themselves as highly pleased with the additional link connecting them to Fort Worth. The exchange has been located at the mineral well and a rate of 15 cents for five minutes has been established from this city.

JEWELRY THIEF HAS ESCAPED TO EUROPE

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The butler who is said to have stolen $3,000 worth of jewelry from Mrs. Lorraine-Beatty of Pittsburgh and this city has thus far eluded the police. He is thought to have been located on the passenger list of a steamer bound for Europe and instructions have been cabled for his arrest.

Some trace of the jewelry has been found through the arrest of a clothes cutter in whose possession was found a diamond brooch. The man said he had advanced $20 to the butler on the article.

He was arrested and a moderate fine was levied. He was compelled to suspend operations on the costumes for a large opera production, her sixty sewing girls being unable to proceed without the help of the cutter.

THE MARKETS

NORTH FORT WORTH, Nov. 18.—The supply today was sixty cars, about 2,000 head of cattle and calves, against 2,371 this day last week, 2,150 last month and 1,773 last year. This is a falling off in the high run, though for the month, ending last night, the yards were 532 carloads ahead of the run ending the same date in October. The general character of the supply was above the average for the week. Beef steers were fairly numerous, and though not finished stuff was on the market, the grass fed supply was sufficiently fleshed to command around $3.35. Feeders sold lower than this, and the supply was not numerous. Trading was not very active on the beef steer end of the trade, one packing plant having received 300 head of its own steers over night. Plenty of cows for a Friday trade showed in the pens, and the quality was an improvement. Butcher men were hunting cows and packer buyers were busy. An early clearance was made, prices appearing stronger. Tops $2.50, bulk between $1.50 and $1.90. Bulls were relatively scarce, though prices remained on a steady basis. Three cars of calves made up the veal market, and they were more numerous than the trade really demands. A strong movement of calves appears to be going on all over the country, and as long as this persists, prices must be expected to remain low. Best calf sales were at $4, thick fleshed calves selling between $2.25 and $3.50. The hog trade opened with twelve cars in the pens, some of these being the weightiest of the season. One bunch of fourteen cut from a load of eighty-nine Texas hogs, averaged 362 pounds and brought the top price of the day, $4.87 1/2. Large receipts were reported in the north and the market here sagged in sympathy. Buyers were quoting prices 5c to 10c lower, and the bulk of sales were made on a basis that much lower than yesterday's prices. A band of 1,753 sheep came in from Maypearl, Texas, all stockers. A few cut-outs sold to packers at $3.50.

JILTS HER LOVER AFTER BUYING HER GOWNS

Romance of Childhood Comes Between a Pretty Girl and Her Fiance and There Is a Wedding Anyhow

BUTTE, Mont., Nov. 18.—Society circles in this city are agog over the action of pretty 19-year-old Mollie Walker, one of the best known belles of Butte, in jilting Clyde M. Graves, a well known millionaire clubman of Spokane, and marrying Glen Harrington, son of Fayette Harrington, a prominent banker of Butte. The first surprise came when the announcement was made at a swell dinner party given at the Walker home that the daughter was to marry the Spokane clubman, whom Miss Walker met while visiting at the home of Judge Cullen in Spokane.

An elaborate trousseau was prepared, and Graves visited his fiancée a week ago to perfect final arrangements for their wedding, when, to his dismay, he found that Miss Walker had changed her mind and returned to the hero of the romance of her school days.

Miss Walker and Harrington were married yesterday. The first surprise came when the announcement was made at a swell dinner party given at the Walker home that the daughter was to marry the Spokane clubman, whom Miss Walker met while visiting at the home of Judge Cullen in Spokane.

RUSSIAN ARSENAL IS DESTROYED BY SHELLS

TOKIO, Nov. 18, 3 p. m.—A telegram from Meiji reports the destruction of an enormous Russian arsenal and magazine at Port Arthur. The Japanese discovered, it is said, the location of the arsenal and centered their fire upon it. After dropping 200 shells in the locality they succeeded in blowing it up.

The Japanese are widening their saps and using them to move guns forward. The Russians continue spirited sorties, using hand grenades in attacks upon saps.

OF INTEREST TO THE STOCKMEN

THE CHICAGO HEARING CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Investigation of the fight between the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association and the southwestern railroads by the interstate commerce commission proceeded slowly yesterday. Thus far the testimony of the defense has been an attempt to show that the Union Pacific railroad has met with many obstacles and has had a hard time handling such live stock business as has been given to it.

The charge was made by the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association at a previous hearing that the rates on cars shipped into Chicago were from $5 to $20 above the reasonable charge, which means a difference of over $1,000,000 a year to the shippers.

"We have two different rates on cars of live stock," said J. A. Monroe, freight traffic manager, "one known as the 'rate per car' system and the other the 'cents per 100 pounds,' which is used almost altogether on cars shipped into Chicago from the district west of the Missouri river and east of the mountains. The rate from Rawlins to Omaha is 7 cents per 100 pounds. In my judgment these rates are not unjust or unreasonable; they are not even compensatory, as conditions combine to make expenses very heavy."

Further questioning brought out the statement that the rates on live stock from Cheyenne to Omaha is 29 cents for 100 pounds and that on a solid stock train of forty cars the company would receive $2,400.

"Do you consider $2,400 too little for one train, operated by one engine and crew, from Cheyenne to Omaha?" asked Mr. Prouty.

"Under certain conditions I would be very glad, indeed, to get that amount for a train of forty cars," was the reply. "But we never have a solid stock train of that size. If we could get forty cars of cattle at one time we might afford to handle them at that rate."

"But," objected Mr. Prouty, "what difference does it make whether the train is composed of ten cars of cattle and the rest of some other kind of freight, which you state yourself is more profitable?"

Mr. Monroe here went into a technical explanation of the problems involved in the handling of live stock, but the commission was not satisfied and he was kept on the stand the greater part of the day.

Later in the afternoon Joseph W. Maxwell, assistant general superintendent of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway, was called.

THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 18.—President F. I. Hagenbarth of the National Live Stock Association has been in the city for a day or two endeavoring to create interest in the reorganization of the association along lines that will make the association national in fact, as well as in name, and an effective power for correcting some of the abuses in the business. The recent death of Charles F. Martin, who had been the secretary and almost the "whole thing" in the association, practically since its inception, necessitated some one getting busy in order that none of the ground already gained by the association might be lost.

Mr. Hagenbarth has entered on the plan of reorganizing the association with considerable enthusiasm and it is safe to say that at the meeting in Denver in January an organization will be formed in which many of the undesirable features of the former association will be eliminated and an effective body of men gotten together that will be truly representative of the live stock interests and capable of handling the business matters that have grown up in the business. The inefficiency of a large and unwieldy body of stock growers has been demonstrated time and again and it seems to be Mr. Hagenbarth's idea to interest all handlers of live stock in the organization. The stock yards, transportation companies, commission men and possibly the big packers will be invited to take an active part in the affairs of the association.

Another feature, contemplated in Mr. Hagenbarth's plans is the formation of a bureau of information through which stockmen will be kept posted on the needs of the various markets, the number of fat cattle on the range, the number of cattle on feed in the corn belt, in fact all kinds of information respecting the live stock business. The demand for an efficient bureau of this kind can be known as live stock will be pushed and congress will be asked to make liberal appropriations for the agricultural department in order to popularize the best and newest methods of feeding, breeding and caring for stock.

FEWER FED CATTLE November in a general way represents the close of the grass season in eastern and tributary territory, says the Pittsburg Live Stock Journal. The great bulk of the summer-fed stock is marketed although for some weeks there will doubtless be a pretty good volume of shipments from late pastures and the sections along the Ohio river. In the west range cattle and sheep are being cleaned up in the more northern sections with shipments tending to the central and southwestern parts of the range country, Texas as beginning to be quite a shipper.

Regarding the supplies of stock going on feed nothing accurate can be known at this time and much stock now in feed lots may be sent marketward in an immature condition owing to conditions lying wholly with the individual feeder. There are a number of factors, however, in force at the present time which will have a bearing on the future of the different kinds of stock. Compared to this time last year, when mills and factories were gradually ceasing operations throughout the country and thousands of workmen were facing an idle winter the present season is a decidedly prosperous looking one with indications of a gradual expansion in the employment of labor.

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 18.—The supreme court affirmed the case of the Chicago, Rock Island and Gulf-Railway vs. H. H. Halseil.

This is a suit in which the defendant sued the plaintiff and the Choctaw, Oklahoma and Gulf Railway, alleging they were partners, for damages, for injury to a shipment of cattle carried for him over their roads.

The principal damage inflicted upon the cattle was while in the custody of the Choctaw road. The writ of error was granted because the supreme court was of the opinion that there was no evidence legally sufficient to sustain the finding of partnership.

The counsel for defendant made the point that at the time of the trial in the district court of Wise county there was, in the existing defensive pleading, no denial of the allegation of partnership, and such is the condition shown by the record, and the court is constrained to agree with him.

The pleading called a supplemental answer, and an amended original answer. The pleading called a supplemental answer is in substance a direct and full reply to the cause of action set up in plaintiff's petition, containing among other matter, a sworn denial of partnership, and under the rules of pleading should be denominated as either an amended or original answer.

Concluding the opinion the court says: "The court below was therefore fully warranted by the state of the pleading in treating the defendants as partners."

ARE ELECTIONS BOUGHT

One of the leading features of the great national campaign recently closed was the charge that the presidency of the United States had been purchased, and there are thousands of people in this country today who accept that allegation as a solemn fact, with nothing to verify it but campaign utterances of men who could not back up the assertion with any documentary evidence. There are many things said and done in political campaigns that will not bear close scrutiny, and there is a lavish use of money in every great national campaign. Republicans use every dollar they can obtain to the very best possible advantage, and democrats do the very same thing. Various methods of raising the campaign fund are resorted to. An appeal is made to all members of a party to contribute as they are able, and in some instances it is no doubt true that methods of fat frying are resorted to, but party methods are just about the same. The trusts doubtless contributed largely to the republican campaign fund, and some of these contributions may have been under more or less stress, but if all reports are correct, there was some trust money that went into the abortive effort to elect Judge Parker.

While the raiment of the republican party managers may be reeking with the odor of trust money, there is some of the same kind of a smell around the democratic headquarters. And beside this, did not the democracy in reality sell its vice presidential nomination to virtually the highest bidder? Was it anything else but the size of Henry G. Davis' barrel that induced the party to make him its nominee? Mr. Davis has not been unusually eminent as a statesman. It is true he served in the United States senate from the state of West Virginia, but he did not make a national reputation. In making him its nominee the democracy was inspired by the belief that he would come up with a very liberal campaign contribution, which would be a benefit in the effort to influence the voters. In fact, it may be set down as a fact that democracy was in the field to buy just as many voters as the republicans, and would have bought them over if they had been for sale, and the campaign fund had held out.

During every campaign there is the same kind of talk concerning the successful methods adopted, and the people are inspired very largely with the belief that a sufficient number of voters have bartered their right of suffrage to insure the victorious party success. As a matter of fact, the greater portion of the money raised for campaign purposes is spent in printing and distribution of tons of campaign literature, and in defraying the expenses of the campaign spellbinders. The real number of votes that are sold during one of our great national campaigns is surprisingly small. There are but few men in the United States who are so degraded as to suffer themselves to be bartered and sold like so many head of cattle. The American voter may be as poor as the proverbial church mouse, but as a general thing he is a man of principle. He values the privilege of being a free-born citizen of this great republic of ours more highly than he does the pittance he would receive for voting some other man's convictions, and the man who started out to purchase votes outright for either of the great parties would soon run across men who would resent such a proposition as a deadly insult. American manhood has a loftier ideal than to stoop to such vile and reprehensible methods, and the man who asserts that our elections are bought and sold is traducing the entire nation.

The greatest mistake the Japanese have made in their campaign against Port Arthur was in not enlisting the services of President Roosevelt. He could carry that stronghold with a whoop.

It is suggested that the size of the republican majority in Utah would seem to indicate that all of President Joseph Smith's numerous family must have voted the republican ticket.

Governor Douglas of Massachusetts says he owes his election very largely to the fact that he has been a liberal advertiser. All of which goes to prove the virtue there is in printer's ink.

democratic Waterloo must be sought elsewhere, for we cannot make that buying allegation stick. With the elimination of the negro from the political situation in the south has passed the opportunity for displaying the purchasing power of the dollar in politics. Money is freely used in all political campaigns, but the dollars that pass in actual exchange for votes constitute a very small quantity. The American people are above that kind of thing.

All Texas newspaper men will regret the departure from Texas of Hugh Taylor, managing editor for years of the Dallas Times-Herald, who will leave this week for St. Louis to be editor of the Lewis Publishing Company's publications, the Woman's Magazine and the Woman's Farm Journal, both monthly periodicals. Mr. Taylor has grown up with the Times-Herald. When Ed J. Kliest, the manager of the paper, took charge of it in the old days when it was a small paper known locally only, and started out to build a big concern along his own ideas, he cast about for a man to head the most important department of his concern, and he selected Mr. Taylor. Young at that time, but with energy, Mr. Taylor started in to learn more about the business, to put that learning into practical work so as to add to the importance of the paper, and by adding to make more valuable the news and editorial departments. He has succeeded magnificently, and while Mr. Kliest in the business end of the concern has built up a big paper, Mr. Taylor has been of much help in the editorial room, and his direction has brought out a newspaper which helps the business office, because it is a good one. His friends in Texas will regret to see him leave the state, but extend him congratulations on securing a position of such importance as that for which he has been selected.

In the investigation being made of the North sea incident by the British government no indications have yet come to light that there was any torpedo vessel in the vicinity of the outrage except those belonging to the Russian lunatic fleet. But in the Russian investigation also in progress, it is being developed that at least 1,900 Japanese fighting machines were hovering in that vicinity. The very air seems to have been filled with Japanese torpedo boats.

Railroad mileage in the United States is being increased at the rate of about 5,000 miles annually, and during the past year the bulk of the new mileage was in the southwest. Texas, too, leads every other state in the union in railway mileage, and as yet Texas is not half supplied with the number of railways she needs in her business.

Henry Watterson of the Courier-Journal says that the results of the national elections in 1896, 1900 and 1904 "may be accepted by intelligent people as the discharge of the existing generation of democratic leaders from the public service." It looks very much that way, Marne Henry.

The Parker constitution club seems to have gone entirely out of business since the recent election. Perhaps it was knocked out with that "Big Stick," of which we heard so much during the campaign. It had a formidable name, but it pales into insignificance in comparison with a big stick.

Judge Prouty of the Interstate commerce commission predicts that congress will pass the necessary laws to reduce the rate of the railroads to the level of common carriers. If this is done it will remedy a great evil in transportation matters.

A Philadelphia paper says that fully 30,000 fraudulent votes were cast in that city at the recent election. As the usual number is about 100,000, it is clear that some kind of a wave of reformation must be at work in the city of Brotherly Love.

There are many people who believe that they see the hand of Providence in our occupation of the Philippines. They will look right close they will find Uncle Sam's toll-taker also permanently located there.

The present apple crop in the United States is said to be large enough to provide an apple for every man, woman and child in the United States. When you eat your barrel this winter you should not begin on some other fellow's.

Those Boston bean eaters must feel terribly humiliated over the election of a plain shaker as governor of the state of Massachusetts, but they will find him a man with a reliable sole.

Carter Harrison now announces that he will not be in the race again for mayor of Chicago. Mr. Harrison seems to have arrived at the point where he knows just exactly where to quit.

Sleavings From the ...Exchanges...

Jim Swayne's explanation of Roosevelt's phenomenal election will in time prove to be about the truest expression yet made touching that subject. Colonel Swayne says that Roosevelt was elected president by such a tremendous majority because he is democratic in his ideas, democratic in his tendencies and democratic in his policies when he has opportunity to exert his freedom from the party restraint. Others have said practically the same thing when they said that Roosevelt's personality was the secret of his success. It is Roosevelt's democratic personality which caused him to win the presidency by the greatest majority in history. As between Parker, Hill, Belmont, Sherman, Cleveland and that lot of old-fashioned democrats, people chose Roosevelt and did it because they liked Roosevelt better. They like his breezy ways, his fighting qualities, his "dare to do" policy and his absolute disregard for consequences when he determines upon courses.—Beaumont Journal.

To Jim Swayne belongs the honor of snatching victory from the very jaws of the most crushing defeat the democratic party has ever sustained. When he proves that Roosevelt is a democrat and elected on account of his democratic proclivities, he proves himself a greater master of the political situation than all the wise men in the east who assured us Parker was the democratic nominee.

Some people delight to kick a man down who has mistreated someone else, and he can't help himself. This is wrong. Help him; encourage him; try and lift him back on his feet.—McKinney Gazette.

It is human nature to kick the man who starts down hill and many a man has been rolled to the bottom in that manner, who would have righted himself had the kicks not been administered.

An honest man does not require any sermonizing to induce him to pay his debts, for he never allows a dollar to remain in his pocket so long as he has a creditor. Many men are deterred from paying their just obligations by the action of others who refuse to pay them.—Fort Worth Telegram.

Very true, indeed, and it might be added that many people are around preaching what they themselves fail to practice; exhorting others to settle their old debts, while forgetting to "pay up" on their own account. This may not apply to Brother Mulkey, who has just spoken all he advises—but there are others.—Texarkana Texarkanian.

The Texarkanian's remarks do not apply to Mr. Mulkey, as that gentleman gave up all the property he possessed to pay his debts, and has since been advising other people to follow his example.

Governor Lanham was elected all right. We see now where we misled it. Instead of seeing Culberson, Hatley, Shepard and all to the doubtful states, we should have sent Lanham and his speech. That speech has been doing service in Texas ever since the memory of man runneth not to the contrary, and from the returns it would seem that it sounds just as good today as when it charmed the voyagers of the Ark after they landed on Ararat.—McKinney Gazette.

Perhaps it was fortunate we kept the governor and that celebrated speech in Texas. The Missouri democracy considered itself safe and helped in other states while the republicans slipped up and made off with nearly all the pie.

A Denison woman objects to the manner in which the Denison Gazette writes its wedding notices, saying that they are all alike, "the groom manly and promising and the bride lovely, etc." The Gazette in reply says: "We should tell the plain unvarnished truth about brides and grooms we would be obliged." The Gazette is about correct. To tell the whole truth, and nothing but the truth would incur their displeasure forever and eternally. Wedding notices and obituaries should be as short and tell just as little as possible.—Honey Grove Citizen.

No newspaper would dare publish just how homely the average bride is, nor how worthless many of the grooms are. For that reason it is best to cut the average marriage notice short and confine it to very few of the actual facts.

The divorce cases in the east, where women are suing for divorces upon the grounds that their husbands won't boss them enough, is a terrible thing that should be avoided. Don't take those cases typical, for if you do there will more than likely be some funerals in which bubby will ride in the front carriage to slow music.—Austin Statesman.

The average woman likes to be bossed, but she wants the job done in a delicate and loving manner. Few of them will raise any disturbance if the bossing is tempered with the display of affection a woman's heart is always hungry for.

A London lady who tried to climb over a stile the first day of her charity vacation, certainly thought she had made London a couple of hundred miles away; but she rather wished, all the same, that the country was not so densely populated, and she turned an appealing look upon the rustic gentleman who was watching her climb. A broad grin spread over his countenance as he caught her meaning. "Lor, bless ye, mum, don't be shy before me!" he adjured her; "I was a bus conductor for fifteen years."—Gainesville Hesperian.

And that ought to have satisfied the lady. A bus conductor sees many strange things during the course of his career.

Judge Parker is ruined financially, as campaign expenses swept away his splendid fortune. It is too bad that this splendid American gentleman permitted a him out of his position as chief justice of the court of appeals. The southern members of the congressional trust were benuded by the same gang, but it is useless to waste sympathy upon men who Carren and give the lie with Pat McArthur and the like. They have not yet had contented for in two ever memorial campaigns.—Dallas Times-Herald.

Judge Parker is not more nearly ruined than the democratic party. It will take a number of years to overcome the effects of the late campaign and the former nominee has just as good a showing for again coming up as has the party which honored him.

The best news item that the press reports have carried recently was the one that stated that Secretary Hitchcock of the department of the interior is to pass out of the cabinet, and a new man is to take his place. It is not an ever a change needed in the government department, the Hitchcock change is needed now.—Denison Herald.

There will not be many tears shed in the west over the departure of Secretary Hitchcock from the cabinet. His official actions have not been of such a nature as to add to his personal popularity.

What is going on in Texas political circles? Jim Hogg praised Roosevelt before a democratic convention, and since the election has urged that we state and invite Roosevelt to visit the state and get better acquainted with our people. Now comes Jim Swayne, Hogg's partner in business and his bugleman in politics, and says that Roosevelt is a democrat in all but name, and that he would cause an intense laughing of the press? Maybe Mr. Swayne is going to back up his assertion by pointing to the fact that along about the time one hundred years ago Thomas Jefferson was a republican in name, but a democrat in fact. Strange things going on down here in Texas.—Waco Times Herald.

The fact that President Roosevelt is a republican is no reason why he should be denied his meed of praise when he deserves it. When Jim Swayne said the president was a democrat, he meant that in many things he had democratic tendencies, and all of these he possesses but serve to make him a better man for the exalted position he occupies.

TRUE TALE OF A TEXAN.

(State Topics.) There is no man in the world like Colonel Bill Sterrett. You may accept this statement as true. He is unique. Gaze on him and you will wonder. Did you ever behold a man? Never? Nor have you ever known nor will you ever know, such a character.

Of course, as you study those features comes to the mind a reminiscent vision of "The Prince Bismarck." But Colonel Sterrett is greater than Prince Bismarck was. Ah! but it is true. Prince Bismarck climbed almost to the pinnacle of human fame, and died weary and unhappy. Colonel Sterrett has retained all the vigor of youth. Age has robbed him of little, but he has retained that which is left; passing years have made his impress in his cheeks, but his heart has lost none of its youthful buoyancy, and when the end shall come—if, indeed, it ever will—will have been a life of untiring activity and devotion. It is his greatness; for in the pursuit of all man's happiness, who is wiser than he who can laugh even in the face of a bottled-up flush or retain his good humor when the "fish won't bite?" Then, too, he is greater than was the German statesman, for, though the memory of Bismarck is committed to the printed page, the memory of Colonel Sterrett will live quite as long in the hearts of the men who know him, as the memory of Bismarck will live in the hearts of the statesmen of the world. He is a man who has been a life of untiring activity and devotion. ## THE CAR LINE ON EIGHTH AVENUE IS OPEN

As Soon as the Hill Street Bridge Is Ready for Use a Service of Three Miles Will Be Given

The Northern Texas Traction Company has opened up its Eighth Avenue line as far as the Hill street crossing, at which point a new bridge is now being constructed by the combined interests of the city, street car company and the railroads.

General Manager Haines said this morning that just as soon as the bridge was completed and put in use the cars on this line will run to a terminus about one and a half miles further to the south, making a new route for the Traction Company about three miles long.

This new line now extends from Seventh street on Hill street and runs from the corner of Seventh and Main streets to the Hill street bridge, affording the citizens in the extreme southwest part of the city transportation that they have been deprived of heretofore.

The company reports that thus far the business over this line is very satisfactory and when it is opened up through to the terminus it will be one of the best branches of the Traction Company.

The road is completed clear through and is only waiting for the completion of the bridge over Hill street to be put in complete operation from Main street.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS TO GO TO MANSFIELD

Deputy District Grand Chancellor R. H. Buck of this city, accompanied by about fifteen local Knights of Pythias, will go to Mansfield today and tonight will confer the rank of Knight upon four candidates.

The Houston and Texas Central granted a low round trip rate for the occasion. The train will leave here at 7:30 p. m., returning in the morning. The Mansfield Knights have arranged to give the visitors a royal welcome.

In January the Fort Worth Knights will make a similar trip to Grandview.

Our new corn mill is now in operation and we are ready to furnish the old fashioned rock ground corn meal like your grandmother used to eat. It is the most wholesome corn meal made. ## NELSON A. MILES IN THE CITY LAST NIGHT

Former Head of the Army Spent a Short Time in Fort Worth En Route to Houston on a Business Trip

General Nelson A. Miles, retired, former head of the United States army, accompanied by a party of northern capitalists, was in this city last night en route to Houston to investigate the rice industries of the state.

As reported in the Telegram of last Tuesday, General Miles has become interested in the proposition to place a rice diet in the American army and has become interested with capitalists in the rice industry. In view of this the visit to Texas rice fields at this time becomes of great importance.

The party reached this city last night in the private car Taurus, attached to the Katy flyer, arriving at 8:15 and remaining some time before going on south. Burton G. Hurd, head of the American Rice Company, is reported to have been with the party.

Efforts to see General Miles and other members of the party were futile and it was therefore impossible to get a statement of the definite plans entertained.

According to the reports sent out from Kansas City, Texas rice will be introduced into the American army and General Miles will visit Europe shortly to secure similar action among the European powers.

The use of Texas rice for such purposes will give an added impetus to the already remarkable growth of the new industry of the past few years making. The party is expected to remain in Texas several weeks.

PACKING HOUSE FOLK VISIT PLANTS HERE

Several hours were spent by them in going through the plant, and the remainder of the time was spent around the stock yards, which were also visited this morning.

A trip was made primarily for the purpose of acquainting A. W. Armour with the plants here and the details of the industry.

CICERO SMITH AND BURTON LINGO COMPANIES

Local Interests of the Former Acquired by the Latter Who Will Move Stock to Their Yards

On last Saturday a deal was closed in this city by which the Burton Lingo Lumber Company acquired the Fort Worth interests of the Cicero Smith Company.

The Burton Lingo Company has already taken charge of the Cicero Smith yard and it was announced at the offices that the stock of lumber would be removed to the Burton Lingo yards. No statement of the consideration can be obtained, it being reported at the offices that an appraisal of the lumber on hand is now being made to determine the price.

The Cicero Smith Company will continue in the lumber business, having yards and offices in six other cities, the sale to the Burton Lingo Company merely affecting the local interests.

TILL NOON

The Simple Dish that Keeps One Vigorous and Well Fed
When the doctor takes his own medicine and the grocer eats the food he recommends some confidence comes to the observer.

A grocer of Ossian, Ind., had a practical experience with food worth anyone's attention. The doctor takes his own medicine and the grocer eats the food he recommends some confidence comes to the observer.

He says: "Six years ago I became so weak from stomach and bowel trouble that I was finally compelled to give up all work in my store, and in fact all sorts of work, for about four years. The last year I was confined to the bed nearly all of the time, and much of the time unable to retain food of any sort on my stomach. My bowels were badly constipated continually and I lost in weight from 162 pounds down to 125 pounds.

"When at the bottom of the ladder I changed treatment entirely and started in on Grape-Nuts and cream for nourishment. I used absolutely nothing but this for about three months. I slowly improved until I got out of bed and began to move about.

"I have been improving regularly and now in the past two years have been working about fifteen hours a day in the store and never felt better in my life.

"During these two years I have never missed a breakfast of Grape-Nuts and cream, and often have it two meals a day, but the entire breakfast is always made of Grape-Nuts and cream alone.

"Since commencing the use of Grape-Nuts I have never used anything to stimulate the action of the bowels, a thing I do for years, but this food keeps me regular and in fine shape, and I am growing stronger and heavier every day.

IF THEY SIT IT MAY SPOIL THE TROUSERS

Young Men Strug From Box to Box at the Horse Show, Being Afraid to Risk Another Position

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—It is not "good form" to sit down at the horse show this year—at least, for the men, if they are arrayed in the vogue. With trousers so tight that they resemble the fleshings of a circus performer, the experiment would prove disastrous. Hence society youths strut from box to box with weary feet and fear to bend their knees. The style is made the more ludicrous by reason of the coat and hat that goes with it. The overcoat is built on the loose lines of a horse blanket and fits about as well. The hat that tops this strange costume is narrow-brimmed, and balances on the head as though it were about to slip off. The whole effect is startling. On Broadway such a costume would incite a mob or cause a panic. But at the horse show this year it is "the thing."

Another new vogue was introduced today—the wearing of dogs in muffs. Several young women entered their boxes carrying muffs from each of which an animated dog protruded. They thought it was a huge joke until some of their escorts began pulling the caudal appendage, whereupon shrill little barks rent the air and drew unpleasant attention to the boxes. The dogs were several were dismissed in the arms of their maids.

WEATHER FORECAST

The weather for tonight and Saturday is to be generally fair. There is no longer any doubt that the weather man is trying his level best to be good. This weather is ideal. As each day passes it is again the same old story, only that lately it grows warmer instead of colder, and it seems that the seasons are retrograding instead of following their usual order, as they have been doing for centuries.

The question of cold weather and some snow in Texas is answered by the weather man in the tower of the federal building, who is the official classifier of the weather in this district, by a shaking of the head and the remark, "That I don't know." He has probably something up his sleeve, but what it is someone else will have to tell, if the general public really wishes to know.

DIPPING COLORADO SHEEP

Inspectors of the state board of stock inspection commissioners are just now breaking records in dipping sheep in accordance with the regulations of the board for eradicating sheep scab in Colorado.

Scott W. Peck, inspector in Las Animas county, has just reported to Charles G. Lamb, state veterinary surgeon, that during the past two months he has dipped 75,000 head of sheep in that county.

Leslie Elmore, inspector for Huerfano county, has a record of 51,000 sheep dipped for the same length of time.

It is said that several hundred cat lads of cattle gathered at Pierre and Everts, S. D., have been held up owing to lack of transportation facilities. This shortage has undoubtedly decreased the marketward movement of range cattle materially. Whether or not they will come later on remains to be seen.

It is believed that as long as weather continues favorable and the market preserves its present attitude, shipping will continue to do so.—Denver Times.

FIGHTING THE MEASURE

The proposed uniform bill of lading which, it is said, the American railroads will put into general use on and after January 1, 1905, has aroused shippers to action and at a meeting of the American Shippers' Association recently held in Chicago a protest was sent to the interstate commerce commission. The proposed bill provides that if the shipper does not release the carrying company from loss on account of damage or delay 20 per cent will be added to the regular tariff. Lawyers state that the signing of such a release would destroy the value of lading as collateral for loans.

SCARCITY OF CARS

Audible complaint of car scarcity agitates range cattle circles. Just why railroads at this juncture were not able to handle range shipments as fast as offered is something calling for explanation.

It is said that several hundred cat lads of cattle gathered at Pierre and Everts, S. D., have been held up owing to lack of transportation facilities. This shortage has undoubtedly decreased the marketward movement of range cattle materially. Whether or not they will come later on remains to be seen.

Overland Travelers in New Mexico Have a Curiosity Which They Have Chiseled Out of the Rock

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 1.—The giant of Abo pass, or at least a portion of that historic personage, is now in Albuquerque. He is not in a museum nor is he in a coffin, although he is very decidedly a dead one.

another instant both men were down on the ground making excavations around the rock. They found it not only a human skull, but also a solid petrification of an entire human body of great size, imbedded in the solid rock.

For hours the discoverers toiled with their prize. They borrowed a crowbar and an ax and cut away the hard flint formation around the head. After working three days and three nights without food or drink they brought the head unbroken from its long resting place.

AMUSEMENTS

North Bros. Stock Company played at the Greenwall opera house last evening. The company drew like a magnet. The house was filled to the point of standing room only. Never this season has a larger or better audience greeted a popular priced stock company with the apparent appreciation of a very worthy and high-classed performance, that would have done credit to some of the higher priced companies.

The play presented last evening, "A Hand of Man," was a cleverly written play. It is of that kind which gives all the characters a chance to come prominently before the audience in some striking part. The story was one of a woman's love for her husband in his prosperity and adversity, as well. The allurement of wealth and a social position when misfortune came to her husband were proven to be nothing to a woman who loved. Even in poverty the loving husband and wife have friends, who are loyal to the end. The play was one of pathos and comedy intermingled. Just the kind that makes one laugh and then cry. One of the pretty features of the evening was the music by the celebrated Polmatier Sisters' orchestra.

The North Bros. Company will be here tonight and tomorrow afternoon and evening. They had a large audience this afternoon at the matinee.

"PEGGY FROM PARIS"

George Ade, the celebrated humorist and author of "Peggy from Paris," though a young man, has attained remarkable success, and he has scored heavily not alone in his books and magazine and newspaper writings, but has attained perhaps even greater distinction as a dramatist. Mr. Ade wrote not only the successful musical play, "Peggy from Paris," which is to be presented at Greenwall's opera house Monday matinee and night, November 21, but he is the author as well of "The Sultan of Sulu," "The County Chairman," "The Sho-Gun" and "The College Widow." "Peggy from Paris" was so successful that it ran for an entire year in New York, Boston and Chicago. "The Sultan of Sulu" also has a famous record of runs, while "The County Chairman" remained all last winter and until this summer at Wallack's theater in New York. "The Sho-Gun" and "The College Widow" are this season's productions, therefore, have not had time to score runs, although they have made distinct hits. These successes show the quality of Mr. Ade's work and give an idea of what may be expected from "Peggy from Paris," when it is presented here. All of Mr. Ade's plays are under the management of Henry W. Savage. Seats on sale at box office.

"HAPPY HOOLIGAN"

You are getting the real thing now, unapproachable and unbridged that epidemic of gaiety and mirth, "Happy Hooligan," a vehicle for side-splitting scenes and comic sights, coming to Greenwall's opera house Tuesday matinee and night, November 22, with the most formidable force of fun makers ever banded together under one banner and flying victoriously all along the line of gold, glory, hilarity and merriment. The comedy scenes and situations are admirable, and give an idea of what may be expected from "Peggy from Paris," when it is presented here. All of Mr. Ade's plays are under the management of Henry W. Savage. Seats on sale at box office.

"THE JEWEL OF ASIA"

The criticism of "The Jewel of Asia," which comes to Greenwall's opera house Wednesday matinee and night, November 23, and which Frederick Ranken, the author, prizes most highly, is that written by James Huneker, the brilliant reviewer of the New York Sun, the day following the premiere of the musical comedy at the Criterion theater. Mr. Huneker wrote:

"At last a musical comedy which does not rest on breakfast food ads and tender joint slang for its humor. No one is called a 'jobster' and no one takes his lines from the bill boards advertising patent medicines. The comedy is clean and bright, as bright as a freshly minted dollar."

CHARLES B. HANFORD

"All the world loves a lover"—but he must be a fighter as well to secure popular esteem as the hero of a drama. "Don Caesar De Bazar," the most recent addition to Charles B. Hanford's galaxy of heroes, fills both requirements ideally. Mr. Hanford has played so many roles that it is needless to comment on his abilities for the delineation of those tragic or romantic creations which have thrilled

PUTTING IT STRONG

But Doesn't It Look Reasonable?

This may read as though we were putting it a little strong, because it is generally thought by the majority of people that Dyspepsia in its chronic form is incurable or practically so. But we have long since shown that Dyspepsia is curable, nor is it such a difficult matter as at first appears.

The trouble with Dyspepsia is that they are continually dieting, starving themselves, or going to opposite extreme, or else deluging the already overburdened stomach with "biters," "after-dinner pills," etc., which invariably increase the difficulty even if in some cases they do give a slight, temporary relief. Such treatment of the stomach simply makes matters worse. What the stomach wants is rest. Now, how can the stomach become rested, recuperated and at the same time the body nourished and sustained.

This is a great secret and this is also the secret of the uniform success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. This is a comparatively new remedy, but its success and popularity leaves no doubt as to its merit.

The Tablets will digest the food anyway, regardless of condition of stomach.

The sufferer from Dyspepsia, according to directions, is to eat an abundance of good, wholesome food and use the tablets before and after each meal, and the result will be that the food will be digested no matter how bad your Dyspepsia may be, because, as before stated, the tablets will digest the food even if the stomach is wholly inactive. To illustrate our meaning plainly, if you take 1,500 grains of meat, eggs or ordinary food and place it in a temperature of 98 degrees, and put with it one of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets it will digest the meat or eggs almost perfectly as if the meat was enclosed within the stomach.

The stomach may be ever so weak, yet these tablets will perform the work of digestion and the body and brain will be properly nourished. This is a same time a radical, lasting cure of Dyspepsia will be made because the much-abused stomach will be given, to some extent, a much needed rest. Your druggist will tell you that of all the many remedies advertised to cure Dyspepsia, none of them have given so complete and general satisfaction as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and not least in importance in these hard times is the fact that they are also the cheapest and give the most good for the least money.

the imaginations of so many thousands of play goers. His production of "Don Caesar De Bazar," which he will present at Greenwall's opera house Thursday (Thanksgiving) matinee, November 24, will be made on a scale of magnificence as to scenery and costuming commensurate with his previous achievements in the line of dramatic revivals. The play, which has been held in high esteem by distinguished actors who have linked their names in historic association with the best that the American theater has produced, admits of abundant spectacular display and calls for the highest ability for the interpretation of its various roles. Maritana, the principal feminine character, will be assumed by that popular and sincerely esteemed actress, Miss Marie Dronah. Frank Hennig, whose abilities are well known, will portray the scheming courtier, Don Jaso, and Edouard O'Keefe, himself a star prior to his engagement with Mr. Hanford, will appear as the king of Spain.

At the Thanksgiving night performance, Mr. Hanford and company will present "Othello."

PROSECUTORS IN TEXAS TO MEET IN DALLAS

Gathering of the County Attorneys of This State Is to Be Today, for the Discussion of Laws

There will be a very important meeting in Dallas today of county attorneys from over Texas for the purpose of discussing needed amendments of the criminal code of the state, which would bring about a better and more satisfactory condition of affairs in every county.

For years the prosecuting attorneys of Texas have seen the need for modified and amended laws with reference to criminal cases, and it will be the aim of those who attend the meeting to set in motion a move that may bring about the remedy being sought.

Discussing this matter today Assistant County Attorney J. Y. Cummings stated that if the legislature could be induced to make the needed changes and amendments that should be made the officials of Texas will be better able to enforce the criminal laws of the state.

For instance, he said there should be a law to prevent the "wine room" that is found in some saloons. These, he said, should be prohibited.

Another needed change is the law in regard to the pay of witnesses in county court cases in misdemeanor charges from outside the county, whether conviction is had or not. He thinks there should be a provision regulating the pay in such instances.

It is likely these changes will be considered at the meeting to be held today, along with many others of equal importance.

Prosecuting Attorney-Elect McLean expects to attend the Dallas conference if he finds it possible to leave the city.

Two organizations of young men are now on foot in North Fort Worth, the formation of a brass band being about to follow the plans for starting a volunteer fire company.

A number of the younger element have interested themselves in the band question, feeling that there is ample room for another such organization in the vicinity of Fort Worth, and feeling also that North Fort Worth can itself support such an institution.

Prof. William Duprex, a member of Prof. Moeller's orchestra, is about to move to North Fort Worth, and he has become interested in the organization of the band of which he will likely be the leader and instructor. A preliminary meeting was held at the Rosen Inn last night, and further action will be taken in the near future.

STARTS OPERATIONS

S. H. Robinson, whose contemplated investments in North Fort Worth were reported exclusively in The Telegram, has commenced the construction of a large modern house on Main street adjoining the property owned by Mayor Pritchard.

Work on the building was commenced yesterday, and is being pushed rapidly forward. The contractor, Mr. Robinson will erect a large number of rental houses during the winter, the demand for them being much in excess of the supply.

CHILD ORGANIZED

A ladies' guild of St. Michael and All Angels' P. E. church of North Fort Worth was organized yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. J. M. Moody.

Mrs. Moody was elected president of the guild and Mrs. Allett, secretary. A meeting of the organization will be held next Thursday at the residence of Mrs. Hopkins.

A SURE THING

It is said that nothing is sure except death and taxes, but that is not altogether true. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption is a sure cure for all lung and throat troubles. Thousands can testify to that. Mrs. C. B. VanMetre of Shepherdstown, W. V., says: "I had a severe case of Bronchitis and for a year tried everything I heard of, but got no relief. One bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery then cured me absolutely." It's infallible for Croup, Whooping Cough, Grip, Pneumonia and Consumption. Try it. It's guaranteed by Matt S. Blanton & Co., Reeves' Pharmacy and W. J. Fisher, druggists. Trial bottles free. Regular sizes 50c and $1.

M'LEAN PROMISES TO ENFORCE THE SUNDAY LAW

It Is Said He Has Instructed His Deputies to Allow No Violator of the Statute to Escape Prosecution

While Prosecuting Attorney-Elect McLean has given out no intimation direct to the public as to his policy in conducting the office of county attorney, it comes from a reliable source that he will see to it that the Sunday closing laws are rigidly enforced, as they relate to the conduct of saloons in Fort Worth and other sections of the county.

It is known authoritatively that deputies under the new county attorney have been instructed to carry out the letter of the law in regard to Sunday closing, let the consequences be what they may. One deputy was informed that he was expected to make all the arrests of violators of the law and prosecuted to the fullest extent, and that if a single one was dismissed that the deputy so dismissing would be held responsibly accountable to his superior officer.

From these declarations it is evident that the violators of the Sunday opening statute in Fort Worth and Tarrant county are to be prosecuted with vigor.

As additional evidence that the incoming county attorney intends to enforce the law as he sees it, it is understood this morning that he has addressed a letter to the sheriff's office, asking the cooperation of that branch of the county administration in his efforts in regard to Sunday closing.

Just what the letter contains has not come to light, but it was addressed to Office Deputy Kaiser and will probably be made public tomorrow when Mr. McLean assumes the reins of the prosecuting attorney's office.

FARMERS HAVE MONEY IN ELLIS COUNTY BANKS

WAXAHACHIE, Texas, Nov. 18.—The publication of national bank reports yesterday shows the three banks of this city to have on deposit more than one and a half million dollars, the exact figures being $1,526,465.55.

According to the statements made by bank officials, about two-thirds of this amount belongs to the farmers in the territory tributary to Waxahachie. This is considered an excellent showing when it is known that there are thousands of bales of cotton in this territory yet to be sold. Two years ago the banks had to carry thousands of dollars worth of paper held against farmers, whose crops were practical failures, but this year the conditions have changed. A bank cashier stated to the correspondent yesterday that there was virtually no demand among farmers for money this winter and that very few loans were being made. There are three national banks at Ennis, two at Italy, one at Palmer, two at Ferris, one at Midlothian and one at Milford.

Two of the banks at Ennis have published their statements, which show the deposits to amount to $63,667.24. This amount added to the deposits in the three Waxahachie banks gives a total of $2,090,132.79. The other banks are small institutions, but their deposits will no doubt run the grand total up to more than two and a half million dollars in the county. Added to the national banks there are a number of private banking institutions in the county, which do a good business.

China is undoubtedly the greatest slave country in the world. Of a population of 400,000,000, over one-fourth are slaves. Every family of means keeps its girl slaves. The girls are mostly purchased to do housework, it being cheaper to buy than to hire.

SOCIALISTS ASK ADOPTION OF A RESOLUTION

If the American Federation of Labor Will Agree to It, No Effort Will Be Made to Inject Politics

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 18.—It is stated the socialistic element in the Federation of Labor will make no effort at the present session of that body to commit the federation to socialism, but will be satisfied with the adoption of a number of the socialistic resolutions which have been introduced and among which are the following:

"That we hereby make it imperative upon all organizations affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, to have their members study economic conditions and to do everything in their power for the enlightenment and intellectual advancement of the proletariat.

"That the twenty-fourth convention of the American Federation of Labor goes on record as favoring nationalization of trusts for the benefit of all the people and call upon all trades unions in the country to use their best efforts and especially the power they have in the ballot for that purpose.

"That the incoming executive council of the American Federation of Labor be instructed to use its best efforts to induce congress to pass a bill which will secure every wage worker in the United States who earned no more than $1,000 average wages per year, a pension of not less than $12 per month at the age of 60 years, and thereafter for the rest of his or her natural life. Provided, however, such wage worker is a citizen of the United States and has lived in this country for at least twenty-one years continuously at the time when the application is made.

"That we declare our intention, and hereby instruct all affiliated bodies to hold absolutely aloof from all connection with militia, until the military system in vogue in Switzerland is adopted in the United States."

FUR AND FOLIAGE

The combination of foliage with fur is something new in the hat line. The hat here shown varies but little from the shape used in the early fall, but in treatment it is quite different. About the brim is green velvet foliage with softest pink velvet roses. The crown of the hat is of extra lace, and resting there, sandily, is the marten head. The hat is for calling, receptions or theater.

NEW CHURCH FOR FORT WORTH IS THE PROMISE

Bishop States That Rev. Monk Is to Be Returned Here to Build a Handsome Edifice for Methodists

MINERAL WELLS, Texas, Nov. 18.—Last evening the church extension board of Northwest Texas conference held an important meeting. Rev. Alonzo Monk delivered a powerful address. Today the bishop virtually stated that Rev. Alonzo Monk would be returned to Fort Worth another year; that a new First church was expected to be built. The bishop said it should be erected in the most prominent site obtainable, and not on a side street, as at present. The day is being taken up in the reports of the various preachers. When the name of one of the ministers was called yesterday his presiding elder made a statement to the effect that it has gone over the conference that the minister had been preaching doctrines contrary to Methodism, but after careful investigation he had found no cause to bring charges against him for heresy. The accused came forward and stated that he was certainly misunderstood; that he was fully in harmony with Methodist doctrine; that he might have been injudicious in some statements, but he was certainly a thorough believer in the doctrines of Methodism. Bishop Ross declared that he had known the minister for many years and knew him to be a good man, but as some of the brethren had misunderstood him, he hoped that he would preach only those truths about which he was dead certain and then his brethren would understand him.

AT THE DELAWARE REPUBLICANS TO BANQUET

It Is Expected Many Will Be Present - Federal Higher Court Judges Are to Be Guests

The banquet to be given by the Roosevelt Republican Club tonight at the Delaware hotel is to be the event of the season. Over two hundred acceptances of invitations have been received so far today by Judge N. B. Moore, the secretary of the club. The program of toasts has been prepared, but those who have the matter in charge will not permit its publication, deeming it best to hold the list from the public and have those who attend be somewhat unprepared for the good things in store for them.

Among the prominent guests who will be present beside those mentioned in Thursday's Telegram are the three judges of the United States civil court of appeals, Hon. Don A. Parker of New Orleans, Hon. A. P. McCormick of Dallas and Hon. David D. Shelby of Huntsville, Ala. It is expected that Bird S. McGuire, the territorial delegate from Oklahoma, will also be among the distinguished guests. He had not declined the invitation up to 3 o'clock this afternoon and for that reason is expected this evening.

The interior of the large dining room at the hotel will be turned into a bower of beauty by Manager Carl R. Evans. The American flag and bunting will be displayed all about the room. Flowers are also to be used to assist in the beautiful decorations and help to make the banquet one of the most successful in the history of the city.

ROSEN PETITION GOES TO COUNCIL TONIGHT

All the Property Owners on Throckmorton and Eighth Streets Have Signed for the Change

Tonight at the meeting of the city council a petition is to be presented signed by nearly every holder of property along Throckmorton street from Fourth to Eighth street and thence to Rusk along Eighth. The petition is to ask that the council grant an amendment to the original ordinance granted the Rosen Heights street railway company some time ago the right to lay a track and operate cars on Throckmorton and Eighth streets over the route given above instead of the former one from Throckmorton to Rusk on Fourth and then to the Texas and Pacific depot on that street. It was the intention of the parties circulating the petition to present it at the last meeting of the council, but several of the heaviest property holders were out of the city and it was deemed best to await their return and have as near unanimous consent as possible. This was done and the result has been even more satisfactory than was anticipated.

Almost every property holder who could be found has readily signed the petition. Some of the larger holders of realty such as the Ellison company, Winfield Scott and The Telegram have only been too anxious to enter their names on the petition and no opposition at all has occurred. With this array of signatures presented to the council, it is expected the aldermen will not hesitate a moment in granting the request, as it is readily seen that the change will benefit a greater number of people and bring them in closer proximity to the business part of the city. It will pass just between the two hotels, the Metropolitan and the Worth. If the council grants the request the petitioners at the meeting tonight will at once start on the changing of the track. The steel already laid on Rusk street where the change will affect will be taken up and laid on Throckmorton street at once, so when the line will be put in operation, which is expected to not be longer than three weeks at the outside, the Rosen cars will run down Throckmorton street, which will be a welcome innovation over the present plan.

The Rosen people were really satisfied with the original plans, but a number of the property holders went to them some time ago and asked that they petition the council to let them make the change, as they were given their choice of streets in the first place. The company had some hesitancy in the matter at first, but after it was shown to them that the additional trackage on Throckmorton meant additional business to them they only then consented to ask the council for the change.

Among those who have signed are Hunter-Phelan Bank, Fort Worth Telegram, W. J. Boaz, Reynolds Brothers, G. Y. Smith, Joe Wheat, Worth Hotel, Stonestreet & Davis, Acme Laundry, Ellison & Co., Winfield Scott.

A JUBILEE DINNER BY REPUBLICANS IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—At the dinner which 1,200 of the men who made speeches for the republican candidates in the recent campaign are to give at the Waldorf-Astoria on the night of Nov. 30, President Roosevelt is expected to be the guest of honor. The entire first floor of the hotel has been engaged. Secretary of State John Hay, Senator Fairbanks, Chairman Cortelyou, Governor Odell, Governor-elect Higgins and a score of republican statesmen of national fame have been invited.

President Roosevelt has not indicated whether he will attend or not. He is going to St. Louis just before the date set, but as he will remain only one day at the exposition, according to present arrangements, the committee in charge of the dinner hope to prevail upon him to accept.

The affair is to be known as the Roosevelt and Fairbanks jubilee banquet. It will be the biggest political dinner held in this city for many years. Scores of the famous professional speakers will be called on, it is said, for one or two minute speeches.
