PEACE PROSPECTS AGAIN DISPELLED

French Officials Believe Negotiations Are Not Probable at This Time

MINISTER SEES ROOSEVELT

Believed They Discussed Outlook for Cessation of Hostilities

PARIS, March 31.—Whatever hopefulness of peace the situation may have had some days ago the situation now is completely changed and there is every prospect the war will drag on again. Consequently the dispatches appearing in America saying Foreign Minister Del Casse, and Dr. Motono, the Japanese minister to France, have been conferring at the former's house relative to peace, are inaccurate. The foregoing view of the situation is taken by parties immediately concerned and asserted with the authority of the foreign office and Japanese legation.

Jusserand Visits President

WASHINGTON, March 31.—M. Jusserand, the French ambassador, is of the opinion that peace is not yet in immediate prospect between Russia and Japan. He so expressed himself after a visit to President Roosevelt to bid him good-bye before the president goes on his southern trip. He said both combatants at this time appeared to be bent on continuing hostilities for the satisfactory adjustment of their difficulties. He added that he did not talk to the president on the subject of mediation and he did not believe that the Washington government had yet concerned itself officially in any movement looking to the cessation of the war. It is learned, however, that prospects of peace were discussed at length.

Russian Press Silent

ST. PETERSBURG, March 31.—The newspapers today are so significantly silent about peace reports from abroad it leads to the inference they have been warned by the government of the inadvisability of airing their views at this time. Those papers which have been favoring peace say nothing, while a small section of the press which has been insisting on the continuation of the war contents itself with the reproduction of articles from the foreign newspapers showing peace now means the abandonment forever of Russia's position on the Pacific.

LONDON TIMES HAS CONTRARY REPORT

St. Petersburg Correspondent Declares Roosevelt Has Been Selected Mediator and Negotiations Begun

NEW YORK, March 31.—Repeated announcements in regard to the proximity of peace are confirmed, it is asserted in a dispatch from a Times correspondent at St. Petersburg, by information from what is called an unimpeachable source, showing that Russia and Japan have selected President Roosevelt as mediator. A committee of negotiations are already in progress, and that the suspension of hostilities shortly may be expected.

After detailing reports as to the negative course of peace laid down by Russia, and set forth recently in dispatches to the Associated Press, the Times correspondent adds:

"The selection of President Roosevelt as mediator, which was due to Japanese initiative, is regarded here as evidence of excellent discrimination. 'The Japanese hope thereby to secure a firm friend, who at the same time, will make it a point of honor to bring the negotiators to a successful close and who, therefore, would not be likely to have accepted the difficult post of mediator if the Japanese intended to present exorbitant demands.'"

JAPANESE SUCCESS DUE TO LACK OF FEELING

Former Civil Governor of Port Arthur Tells of Fortresses' Fall

PORTLAND, Ore., March 31.—M. Verzhnin, former civil governor of Port Arthur, who is en route to Russia, speaks in the highest terms of the Japanese soldiers. He does not, however, attribute their indomitable perseverance in battle so much to bravery as to lack of feeling. He cites as an illustration that in battle the Japanese repeatedly charged over the bodies of their dead comrades and saw dead relatives and friends without apparently losing nerve in the slightest degree. This, Mr. Verzhnin says, is an impossibility for any European race. M. Verzhnin recounts the experiences of the Russian garrison at Port Arthur during the siege, where for four months the increasing bombardment both night and day wore those in Port Arthur almost to distraction. He remarked the horrible precision of the Japanese artillery, saying the Japanese seemed familiar with every part of the fortress and placed shells wherever they seemed to desire.

What to Do For Heart Trouble

Back Up My Advice With This Remarkable Offer: A Full Dollar's Worth of My Remedy Free to Prove That I Am Right

I ask no reference, no deposit, no security, nothing to pay—either now or later. To any heart sufferer who has not tried my remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—will gladly send you a more sample, but a full dollar bottle.

I am warranted in making this unusual offer because mine is no ordinary remedy. It does not vainly try to stimulate the heart. Such treatments are worse than useless. It goes straight to the cause of heart trouble—the heart nerves—and strengthens them and vitalizes them and restores them. Then that is the end of the trouble.

The heart is about the size of your clenched fist. Open and close your fist a dozen times, even, and you will see the monstrous labor this little nerve must do. The heart nerve is only one of the branches of the great sympathetic nervous system. Each branch of this system is so closely allied with the others that weakness or irregularity at any point is spread over the entire system. Heart trouble frequently arises from Stomach trouble through sympathy, and Kidney trouble may also arise from Stomach trouble through sympathy. The heart of sympathy between the nervous system and the vital organs has a useful purpose as well. For what will cure weakness in one branch will surely cure weakness in every branch—that will restore one center, will surely restore them all.

There is nothing new about this—nothing any physician would dispute. But it remained for Dr. Shoop to apply this knowledge—to put it to practical use. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is the result of a quarter century of endeavor along this very line. It does not dose the organ or deaden the pain—but it does go at once to the nerve—the inside nerve—the power nerve—and builds it up, and strengthens it and makes it well.

If you have heart trouble and have never tried my remedy, merely write and ask I will send you an order on your druggist which he will accept as gladly as he would accept a dollar. He will hand you from his shelves a standard sized bottle of my prescription, and he will send you a sample of my Restorative. Made only to strangers to my remedy. Those who have once used the Restorative do not need this evidence. There are no conditions—no requirements. It is open and frank and fair. It is the supreme test of my limitless belief. All that I ask you to do is to write—write today.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative GLEANING NOTES

Permanent organization of a Glenwood fire department, which was to have been effected at a meeting to be held April 1, has been postponed until about April 15, owing to the failure of the subscription committee to complete a roll of the citizens in time for a meeting at the time designated. A considerable sum has already been secured and it is said the organization of the company is assured.

Rev. J. D. Young, pastor of the Glenwood Methodist church, declared this morning that the position of the citizens of Glenwood was unchanged regarding the proposed establishment of a saloon near the line of that precinct and that the threat to call a prohibition election was a mere bluff. I, for one, he said, will go out and stump the county in the event such an election is called. Work of building the saloon is reported to be in progress.

HEARING CLOSED ON COTTON RATE

Railroad Commission Takes the Question Under Ad-

visement

FINAL ARGUMENTS MADE

Better for Few to Gain Than Many to Lose, Say Railroad Attorneys

AUSTIN, Texas, March 31.—Judge T. J. Freeman, attorney of the Texas and Pacific, in resuming his argument yesterday in opposition to the proposed reduction in the cotton rates now applying in Texas, said:

"I wish to emphasize the fact that this commission is not the tribunal of the Texas and Pacific or any other railroad in this state; but is the arbiter of justice of all. Now if this commission finds that any particular line in the state is earning more money on its investment in the transportation of cotton than perhaps it is authorized to earn under the law, and that there are a dozen or more roads that are losing money in handling and hauling cotton, it is better to allow that road to earn more than it is entitled to rather than to lower the rate and thus ruin many of the less fortunate roads. The law giving life and existence to this commission distinctly says it can make different rates for different lines, so that you can apply local situations, and consider local conditions. The blanket rate from competitive points in Texas practically abolishes differentials to Galveston, and that is the very reason the law authorizes this commission to make different rates for different lines."

Concluding his argument in opposition to the proposed reduction, Judge Freeman said: "There are no conditions local or otherwise, that demand any decrease of the railroad, or compress rates on this great commodity. Your compress regulations have been in force for years, and as the contractor of these regulations for our lines I say we have by the application of rates granted by this commission evolved conditions that guarantee to us the greatest economy. For this reason we do not want present rates and rules disturbed."

"Further, more perhaps than this commission is aware, your policy has resulted in building up the jobbing business in Texas that does not exist in any other state in the union. You have no Atlanta in which the jobbing is concentrated, but your system has built up jobbing centers all over Texas, that exist nowhere else, I repeat, which should not be disturbed. I therefore beg this commission to look the situation over carefully before complying with any petitions received."

Judge J. W. Terry, representing the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railway Company, objected to the proposed reduction, saying among other things: "While I am not the senior in age if those who have appeared before this commission, I am the senior in this class of practice. I may be able to throw some light on this subject and aid in a just conclusion."

Judge Terry here stopped and gave a history of the origin and history of the construction of the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe road, and coming back to the merits of the proposition of the reduction of the present cotton rate and the regulations controlling its movements, said:

"During the period of our existence, when we were waiting for the country to develop, the Santa Fe lost in round figures $3,000,000, and it is insisted that this should be taken into account when a reduction on rates is proposed, for the reason it forms a perfectly legitimate part of the cost of construction."

"Now the country is developed, due in part to the coming of railroad and when the settlers' land is advanced from $2 to $20 per acre, can he object to the railroads holding themselves whole?"

"In the most prosperous years we have ever had, which I believe was the last, we earned 10 per cent on our capital on our invested capital. Now what is the law as to the limit the dividends a railway company may earn on its capital? There is a law which says it may be 6 per cent. If this commission is going to bring this per cent down let the legislature repeal that law and let us say to the world that Texas railroads shall not earn that much. The road is just now beginning to get back by reducing operating expenses some part of the larger amount of money it has expended. Then why reduce our revenues, and treat us differently from other valuable financial enterprises? We have the same rights under the law and are entitled to the same protection."

Judge Terry here made a long statement, using much detail, and quoting figures to show that the revenues of the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe were not depleted or reduced by its interchange of business with the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe or any other system outside of Texas, but on the contrary had been benefited by such transactions.

Continuing he said: "The expedition with which cotton shipments are handled is a direct benefit to the former. Some time ago a carload of cotton was compressed in Cameron and in twenty-four hours it was hauled by the Santa Fe to Galveston, a distance of 120 miles, and placed on ship board. This rapid movement increased the expenses of the road, but was a direct benefit to the producer, because it gave him quicker returns, reduced his interest account, and besides, enabled him to take advantage of the market."

"Again, in determining what should be a fair rate, the cost of the property has to be determined, and on this subject the supreme court of the United States states the cost of construction, interest on its bonds, cost of operation, improvements and many other things are elements of cost, and evidences of value. Now then the Texas legislature has said that the roads may earn 6 per cent on the capital employed in construction and equipment."

"As to the suggestion for this commission to make different rates on cotton for different roads, I wish to say that the different roads are so related and so interwoven that a rate on one will effect interwoven that a rate on one will effect art not only closely related, but they are

There is no other season when good medicine is so much needed as in the Spring.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Make the blood pure, vigorous and rich, create appetite, give vitality, strength and animation, and cure all eruptions. Have the whole family begin to take them today.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla has been used in our family for some time, and always with good results. Last spring I was all run down and got a bottle of it, and as usual received great benefit." Miss BEULAH BOYCE, STOWA, VT.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

actually competitive. Take the Santa Fe and International to Fort Worth; they parallel each other and if a lower rate is made for one than is made for the other, cotton will be hauled by wagon to the spots of the road having the lowest rate. This commonwealth of interest cannot be segregated, so what is done for one must be done for all alike.

"Now, if you mark the point that because one road is earning more in hauling cotton than it is entitled to earn, and nearly all the others earning less, this commission cannot afford to adopt a policy that would be ruinous to these roads. Texas must be considered as a whole and not in parts. Make your rates reasonable, and as a whole, and thus observe a community of interest."

Before Judge Terry concluded the hearing, Judge Terry resumed his argument in the afternoon, in which he said that he hoped the commission would not be at all sensitive in reference to the investigation of any judicial question.

"The Texas railroad commission, I must frankly admit, disagreed with George Washington, who held to the doctrine that every American citizen was entitled to equal rights before the law. But these remarks are merely leading up to a position which I made early in the history of this investigation, that every railroad company involved in this hearing was entitled to at least ten days' notice before the question was heard, and be confronted with all the facts."

"Recurring again," Judge Terry said, "to the question of what shall constitute a railroad rate, it must be determined that the rate charged is extortionate; in other words, is robbery. Now is the rate charged by the Houston and Texas Central extortionate? It is robbery? The law of Texas cannot be broader than the constitution, which sanctioned them."

"Any well organized railroad company should be permitted under the law to charge for the transportation of freight a sufficient amount of money to pay its interest account and other necessary and fixed charges. Does this proposed reduction provide for this? I think not.

"If you bring every railroad in Texas up to level, or parity with Atchison, you practically stop railroad construction in Texas."

"The Texas farmer has things that can, and will enable him to overcome the question of cheaper labor; and therefore he can stand cheaper labor. I told Mr. Love the bill introduced by himself was designed to increase the tax on railroads, and the railroad commission was engaged in a process of reducing revenues, so that between the commission and the legislature they were drawing out of both pockets of the railroads at the same time. Do not disturb existing rates, but let the railroads work out this proposition in their own way."

"In conclusion, I ask this commission to take this case and try it judicially. I hope it will not try the case as the legislature has tried the railroad cases. If so we are up against it."

At the end of Judge Terry's argument the commission took a question under advisement, and closed the hearing.

PANTHERS LEAVE FOR SOUTH TEXAS

Small Delegation of Rooters Sees Team Off—Twelve Men Taken on Trip

Fort Worth ball players, comprising a squad of twelve men, a new pitcher, Lewis Gurnsey, having been signed Thursday, left for Galveston early this morning to begin their south Texas trip. A small delegation of rooters saw them off.

The team will play with Galveston April 1, 2 and 3, and will then go to Beaumont for games April 4, 5, 6 and 7. On April 8 the team will return to Galveston, where three games will be played. As yet no game has been arranged for April 11, but Manager Peegles says that he will try to arrange a game with Humble for that day. The Panthers will not be seen on the local diamond until April 16, when they will meet the Sioux Indian team.

Lewis Gurnsey, the new pitcher, was added to the twirling staff now comprising Christianman, Johnson, Bullen and Gurnsey. Thursday afternoon, he had a good reputation as a pitcher and is an ex-student of Brown university at Providence, L. I. He played last year with Atlantic City.

Manager Peegles had communicated with Gurnsey on previous occasions, and when it was learned that he was visiting relatives in Texas, an agreement was reached and the new man signed. In addition to the pitchers named above, left for south Texas this morning are Manch, Hubbard, Horn, Boles, Fox, Paule, Sullivan, Bates and Pindexter.

catalog committee whose duty it shall be to investigate all propositions and subscribe for stock on their recommendation. Let all officers serve gratis except the secretary, charge each member $1 per month as dues. A thousand members (and we ought to have 5,000) would net a handsome sum annually in dues, and use this money in subscribing for stock in new enterprises. Thus, the club would make the investment, and when dividends were declared each member would be paid his pro rata share. Make an extra effort to locate small concerns that make useful articles, and then let the interests be diversified.

"Now, 1,000 members would bring in $12,000 a year and this amount ought to land us several concerns annually. But just think of it. Acting on this line what a power a club of 5,000 members would be. If the men of Fort Worth are made of the stuff I think they are, there are very few householders among us but who would gladly join such a club as this.

"The Factory Club" would not interfere with the Board of Trade. It would merely work in adjacent to it. I tell you politicians won't get to the population or wealth of your town; referendums won't build it up; dreams and air castles are not quoted on the markets and cussing and criticizing the few who are trying to do something for the town won't enhance the value of your holdings and lower your taxes. But a factory club along practical lines, will bring the results that we all desire. Won't the president of

MINING OPERATOR OPPOSED

The senate committee on mining was in session last afternoon considering the Webb bill, providing for a state mining inspector and otherwise regulating mines. A delegation of mine operators was present in opposition to the bill, while a committee of mine workers and union labor representatives appeared in support of the measure. The committee and their arguments were practically the same as made before the house committee when the bill was considered over there.

Druggist R. A. Anderson Explains How Vinol Creates a Desire for Food

"Vinol is the greatest aid to digestion that we have ever known," said Mr. Anderson. "It contains all of the active, medicinal elements that are found in cod liver oil, without any oil or grease. These medicinal elements act so favorably upon the stomach that this organ obtains for itself the elements necessary for creating new flesh, muscle tissue, and for making rich, red blood. "When the stomach acts easily and naturally, a desire is created for good, simple food, and a good appetite is the sure result. "With cod liver oil in its old form, the medicinal elements which it contained, failed to do their best work because of the obnoxious oil that enveloped them. "Now in Vinol we have those same medicinal elements separated from the vile-tasting oil, and we have a tonic and rebuilding that is simply marvelous in its action. "We want every one in Fort Worth to know more about our Vinol, how it cures and what it cures. Certainly Vinol is the greatest tonic and rebuilding we have ever sold. "Lack of appetite is not itself a disease, but a symptom of weakness showing itself in the nerves of the stomach, which control the desire for food. We guarantee Vinol will cure this weakness or give back your money." R. A. Anderson, Druggist.

BEEF TRUST JURY INDICTS PACKER

Action Is Believed to Indicate Wholesale Conspiracy Proceedings

CHICAGO, March 31.—A true bill was voted by the federal grand jury Tuesday against the president of one of the "big five" packing companies. It was not returned in court. This fact, which has leaked out despite all precautions for secrecy, is a forerunner of conspiracy proceedings against actual heads of the big packing companies in connection with the alleged tampering with "beef trust" witnesses. Unless that practice ceases at once, such prosecution is certain. More mystery was injected into the grand jury investigation of the beef trust yesterday when the great number of witnesses summoned by the government Monday building. Unaccountable actions on the part of government officials led to the belief that preparations were under way to return more indictments. The witnesses are concealed in some with engagements. The case was stated to Secretary Loeb, however, and Hornsby was referred to the civil service commission. According to the negro's story he entered on his duties at the Yazoo City postoffice, whereupon several patrons of the office thrashed him several times when he was caught going to and from his duties. This mistreatment resulted in the resignation of Hornsby, but he took the examination for a vacancy that was created by his own resignation. Others who took the examination were two negro men, one negro and two white men. Hornsby passed the examination and again was appointed. While returning from Jackson, Miss., where his bond was fixed up, Hornsby noticed a gathering of white people near the train and attempted to get off to an oil mill, where some advocated lynching and other whipping the negro. Hornsby agreed to write another resignation and leave Yazoo never to return. The resignation was sent to Washington and Hornsby followed it. He is seeking relief, but is not sure of the character of relief he wants. He says he is afraid to return to Yazoo.

hotel near the Monadnock building. Those, who appeared before the jury yesterday were escorted to the room by secret service men, who came up the elevator with them. After they had testified they were taken away in circuitous routes and dropped far away from the building. Conspiracy indictments are threatened against the heads of the big meat packing concerns unless the alleged tampering with witnesses who have been summoned to testify before the federal grand jury is discontinued at once. With two witnesses on the stand yesterday, who, it is asserted, admitted that they had been approached with a suggestion that their testimony be mild, the jury, it is declared, is getting ready to take drastic action.

Cattle Raisers' President Says He Is Glad to See Moody at Work

Special to The Telegram. EL PASO, Texas, March 31.—They need not think that any personal vilification of me will call off the cattle-men in their purpose to prosecute the report, still 99 per cent of all the cattle producers of the country believe there is an illegal combination having for its object the stifling of competition and the controlling of 98 per cent of all the cattle shipped to the six great slaughtering markets, and they are glad to see Mr. Moody pushing the investigation at Chicago, whether it was started by Mr. Garfield's "secret evidence" or not, and are satisfied that if the matter is properly probed, the truth of their assertions will be proved."

"We will shut off interference with witnesses," said Assistant Attorney General Page, "even if we have to resort to proceedings under the conspiracy statute to do so." "The belief was general last night that Page has already laid out plans of new indictments. Fifteen witnesses were heard yesterday, three women being among those who testified. The women were said to be stenographers employed by the National Packing Company. One of the witnesses before the jury yesterday was Charles E. Mead of Boston, formerly connected with Swift & Co.'s car lines. Mr. Mead said he had not been in that business for three years and was able to testify only concerning the methods in use then in carrying on the business. The witness said that since resigning his position Swift & Co. had disposed of their interests in the car line business. L. S. Curtis of T. S. Baker & Co. of Boston and Frank Dimpom of Omaha were other witnesses before the jury. Mr. Dimpom explained the meat business from the viewpoint of the medium through which the consumer obtains the meat. The fifteen secret service men who have been frequenting the corridors in the building where the grand jury is in session were not to be seen yesterday. District Attorney Morrison was said to have ordered that waiting witnesses, instead of spending their time in the vicinity of the jury room, are to be concealed in downtown hotels until called before the jury. In this way the witnesses will be more readily prevented from learning the identity of the secret service men watching for possible irregularities.

"If President Turney will drop into Washington, says this official, whose name is withheld, he will make a heart-to-heart talk with 'Big Bill' Moody of the Haverhill bar ranch, he will not be making such a maverick of himself. He talks like a loosed steer, plumb crazy." "You are right," he never said that the beef men are beyond the reach of the law. As a matter of fact, his report gives a good deal more than the public has yet learned, but the part of his report made public was of far less importance than the part that was passed under the table to Moody. There was enough of his confidential report to set Moody on the beef trust's trail, but simply what the beef men told him. What the beef men did not tell him, and he had to find out for himself is what is being told the grand jury in Chicago. There is no doubt that Moody has evidence enough to pursue the prosecution to successful issue."

CLEANED TEETH WITHOUT A LICENSE But They Were Not His Own Property, So Dentist Was Arrested. ST. LOUIS, March 31.—H. P. Collier of St. Louis was arrested at Belleville Wednesday on a charge of cleaning teeth without a license. Collier is in the employ of a St. Louis dental concern which has parlors at a Belleville hotel. Officers of the Southern Illinois Dental Association interested themselves, but were not able until Tuesday afternoon to get evidence that Collier had actually done any dental work. Policeman Frank Poirot was sent to the parlors in plain clothes to have his teeth looked after. Collier told him they needed cleaning and Poirot told him to go ahead. He cleaned them and Poirot paid him a dollar. Dr. J. K. Conroy, president of the association, then swore out warrants charging him with practicing without a license and without registering, and he was arrested. He says he was hired by the week, and although he has no diploma or certificate, he supposed that he had a right to work under the papers of his employers. He is waiting for his employers to come to his relief.

SPEAKING OF FORT WORTH

The people of Fort Worth have made a record that should be appreciated by every progressive man in the state. It takes continuous effort to create something, and then, too, thousands of sore heads and droves have to be dragged along in the act of progression. Since the panther lay down in Fort Worth, great wonders have been wrought. The railroad never fail to pull for Fort Worth. A man east of the Mississippi river desiring to come to Texas would be forced to believe that Fort Worth was about the only city in the state. The ticket agent will be sure to ask if you desire the ticket to read "Fort Worth." Fort Worth has some great hustlers for the upbuilding of the place. Captain Padcock would walk five miles to show a prospective settler the best side of his home city, and there are plenty of others in that place just like him. It takes hustling to build up a city, and the landing of the great packeries shows that Fort Worth has got the grit as well as the hustling qualities. This paper is constantly holding up Dallas and Fort Worth as examples for the business men in Cleburne to follow. The never-sleep business man is a wonder-worker in building a modern city.—Cleburne Today.

The Fort Worth of yesterday is not the Fort Worth of yesterday. The Fort Worth of yesterday was a struggling and struggling little hamlet of a few thousand souls, laboring under the greatest disadvantages in an effort to accomplish future greatness, with a vim and energy that never faltered in the face of the most adverse circumstances. And the record for city building right here in Fort Worth is seldom equaled and will never be surpassed. The builders of Fort Worth were men who knew no higher duty and could conceive of no higher ambition. They spent their time and their means in a princely manner that those who came after them might reap abundantly where they had sown.

Less determined men than the Old Guard would have fallen down in the undertaking of making a city out of Fort Worth. It was hard to make the world believe that North Texas was capable of supporting two cities lying as close together as Fort Worth and Dallas. Our sister city on the east had the start of us and possessed the great natural advantage of lying in the very heart of the best agricultural district in Texas. Dallas has tugged steadily to the front since the town was first established, and by dint of hard labor has managed to keep just a little abreast of Fort Worth in some things. But the Fort Worth spirit has never flagged nor grown weary of the great work in which our people have been engaged. Growth and development of Dallas has always been sufficient to spur our people to renewed exertions, and this friendly rivalry has been productive of good results in both cities.

While Dallas has been able to monopolize much of the business of the great black land district of Texas, and has become the agricultural, important center of the southwest, Fort Worth has cultivated the stock interests of the southwest, has located great packing houses and established the Texas market for Texas stockmen for years. By converting herself into a great live stock and packing center Fort Worth has settled her future for all time to come. The future development of these lines alone must ultimately make this city the leader in all the southwest, and the Fort Worth of tomorrow must be infinitely greater than the Fort Worth of today. The future of this city is not a thing to be speculated upon, for it is established beyond the peradventure of a doubt. There is nothing to be apprehended that can unmake or mar the future of this city in any respect.

Fort Worth has powerful coadjutors in West Texas and the Panhandle. Both those sections are intensely loyal in their devotion to this city, and the stockmen love it as their home. Many of the wealthiest cattlemen in the state have already made their homes here and invested liberally in Fort Worth realty. Many more are preparing to do so, and coming fall and winter will witness the addition of several more of the leading stockmen to our citizenship. As Fort Worth is the live stock center of the southwest it is but natural that stockmen who have made their pile and desire a permanent home should settle here. There is no other place in Texas for them to go.

Fort Worth is not asleep. She is teeming with life and energy. New buildings of the most modern type are constantly in progress of construction and the spirit of progress and prosperity is extant all over the city. The citizens of Fort Worth are still standing together and working for the advancement of the common weal. Some of them have grown gray in the work, but the fire of their determination shows no abatement. The old Fort Worth spirit is still doing business in Fort Worth.

TEXAS CATTLE RAISERS

The Texas Cattle Raisers' Association is a powerful organization. It has had little to do with practical politics, and perhaps can never be sufficiently diverted from its great mission to take more than an incidental interest in politics, except as politics shall affect the cattle business in an economic sense. Still, the Cattle Raisers' Association has become a factor that practical politicians are disposed to fear with most affectionately. Time was when the annual sessions of the association were attended almost exclusively by members and their wives; and by railroad and commission men; but now the politician with his weather eye peeled to every auspicious breeze that blows does not overlook the annual gathering of the intelligent and broad-minded men of Texas who control its cattle business. The session at Fort Worth this week has been attended by a legion of astute gentlemen who rely upon the favor of the people to provide them with soft banks in the public service. There is no objection to this awakening upon the part of weather-wise citizens, but it is quite in order they be admonished that the Texas cattlemen is as good a judge of office hunters as he is of cows, and that none but the best can find a substantial rating in the cowman's market.—Austin Current Issue.

There was a time when the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association did not cut much ice in a political way in Texas. This has doubtless been due largely to the fact that the organization has never taken any stock in state politics, but has contented itself with sticking closely to the purposes for which it was formed and letting the politicians run things according to their own whims. And even now when the great organization is in the very zenith of its power and usefulness, there is nothing about its work or its deliberations that can possibly be construed into politics. The great Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas does not play at the game of politics and never will. It is cast along different lines and will never descend to the level of a political pettifogger.

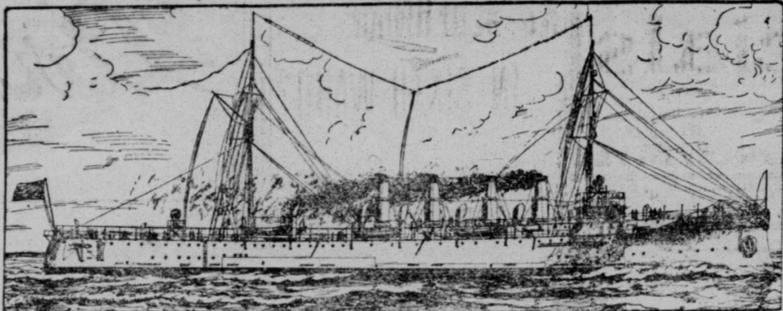

The politicians of Texas are being attracted to the Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas by the brilliancy and magnificence of its work. They have seen the great that has been heaped upon this neglect and important industry by the state that has elicited no complaint. They have seen the cattlemen in addition to paying heavy taxes annually to the state for the protection that has not been afforded, go down in their own pockets and wring up additionally for the expense of wresting their rights from the oppressive influences with which they have had to contend. They have seen the cattlemen go into the courts and fight the railways in the matter of unjust rates. They have seen the cattlemen go before congress and the president of the United States and fight for the proper amendment of the interstate commerce law. They have seen the cattlemen launch a determined fight against the market manipulators, which was sufficient to enlist the sympathy and support of the federal government, and they are awakening to the fact that all this means something. They are anxious to get more closely in touch with such a brilliant fighting machine, in the hope that it can be turned to personal benefit, but they are going to be disappointed. The cattlemen of Texas are not going to be made the tail of any man's political kite.

Texas cattlemen have found from past experience that they have nothing to expect from the state except the privilege of living and paying taxes. During all the years that the hand of the beef trust has been laid so heavily upon them, there has not been one move made at Austin in the direction of seeking to ameliorate their condition. With drastic and stringent anti-trust laws upon our statute books, which the supreme court of the United States has held to be valid, and with an attorney general who says that with a fund of $15,000 he can put the trusts out of business under the provisions of that law, nothing has been done to help the cattlemen in their fight except the appointment of a legislative committee which has already confessed its inability to accomplish any thing.

In this connection it is pertinent to enquire for what purpose the Texas anti-trust law was enacted other than the protection of Texas citizens including the cattlemen? And for what purpose is an attorney general elected but to see that the laws of the state are enforced and protection extended to the citizen? Texas cattlemen are practically a unit in the declaration that they are the victims of the beef trust, and the question is what is the state administration at Austin going to do about it? Will it continue to let the majesty of Texas law be trampled in the dust and Texas citizens pay tribute to a self-confessed oppressor, or will the lethargy of the past be cast aside as unworthy the name of Texas justice and an honest effort made to extend the necessary and proper protection? These are the questions in which the Texas cattlemen are much more vitally interested than the subject of whom will feed at the public trough during the next season.

Governor Vardaman of Mississippi did not refuse to receive those eight-een battle-flags authorized by congress to be returned from Washington during the last session. There was some apprehension that on account of President Roosevelt having

New Scout Cruisers Will be Built For Speed

THE CRUISERS AS THEY WILL APPEAR WHEN COMPLETED.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Plans have been completed and bids announced for three new "scout cruisers" to be added to the United States navy. They are to be named Chester, Birmingham and Salem. The act of congress providing for them says they shall have the highest speed compatible with the best cruising qualities. Each will cost in the vicinity of $1,800,000. These vessels will carry some swiftness for safety. They will be 429 feet in length between perpendiculars, 46 feet in breadth, and have a mean draft of 15 feet nine inches. Each will carry 1,250 tons of coal. Nothing larger than a three-inch gun will be carried, but there will be a number of these. Each scout will also have two submerged tubes, from which torpedoes may be discharged. The scouts must show a speed of 24 knots an hour on trial. This is nearly 10 miles an hour more than the average fighting ship in a fleet would be able to make.

Gleanings From the Exchanges

The Stock Raisers' Association in convention assembled the other day listened to an address of its president in which Theodore Roosevelt was lauded to the skies. Mind you, this was not in Massachusetts, or in Rhode Island, but in democratic Texas. Can it be that the number of Roosevelt democrats are growing all the time? Doubtless some of the Democrats of the school of Cleveland are feeling like saying with one of our old "To what base uses do we come, Horatio!"—Terrell Transcript.

The president of the Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas is no "Roosevelt democrat," but a true and tried democrat of the old school. The eulogy of President Roosevelt was in consequence of that gentleman's efforts to bring about reforms in which the cattlemen are directly interested. Some of the most important of these reforms were democratic platform demands in the late presidential campaign, and if the president of the United States had been as narrow as some of his critics he would have refused to give them countenance on that account. And to those who are disposed to offensively criticize the cattlemen for their action in commending the president it would only be charitable to suggest that "there are more things in heaven and earth than are dreamed of in your philosophy, Horatio!"

One member of the legislature at Austin secured 45 railroad passes for his constituents one day in Austin last week. These passes are worth from $2 to $25.50 each. Now is the time to write to legislators for free passes. It is understood, however, that Williamson county's legislators are not in this class.—Georgetown Commercial.

Railroad passes appear to have been dead easy at Austin during the present session of the state legislature, and the general public has readily caught on to the situation. But the issuance of 45 passes one day on account of one member is something of a record breaker, and serves to make evident the fact that the railways are paying pretty high for legislative influence this session.

It begins to look as if the legislature will make no increase in the ad valorem tax rate. This is well, the political pencil pushers of the big dailies to the contrary notwithstanding. It needs the proper taxing of intangible and other property that is always in hiding when the assessor happens around to produce ample revenue for the economical administration of the government, notwithstanding the large deficit in the treasury.—Belton Journal-Reporter.

There are many interests that would have been pleased to see the deficiency in state revenue wiped out by an increase in the ad valorem tax, but they

Mrs. Mary E. Meserve, of Salisbury, Mass., was cured of Anemia, a disease in which there is an actual deficiency of the blood, by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

She says: "The first symptom was an unusual paleness. Later the blood seemed to have all left my body. I had shortness of breath and fluttering of the heart; was depressed, morose and peevish. I suffered for two years. Physicians did me little good but I am now a well woman because I took twelve boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

These pills really make new blood and have cured obstinate cases of rheumatism, scrofula and erysipelas. They are especially useful to growing girls.

Baptist Minister Cured of Consumption

Rev. H. G. Reed, Eminent Divine, and Editor of the Sunday School Lesson, Restored to Health and Strength by Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

"I owe my life to its use. I have lost one daughter by consumption and I believe had she had Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey she would be alive today."

REV. H. G. REED, 425 W. Union St., Jacksonville, Fla., Nov. 10, 1904.

Gentlemen—For several years I have suffered greatly with throat trouble and weak lungs. The doctors said I had consumption. I was able to keep up with my work with great difficulty, but I finally got so bad that I had not strength to deliver an address. A member of my congregation recommended and brought me a bottle of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. I took that one and later on several more bottles, according to directions, and it has completely cured me.

I am opposed to whiskey as a beverage, but I know that your whiskey, which is sold as a tonic, is a most valuable medicine. I feel that I owe my life to it. I have lost one daughter with consumption, and I believe that had she had Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey she would have been alive today. I trust that I can be of service to others by recommending your great medicine to them before it is too late. Rev. H. G. REED, Baptist Minister and Ed. Sunday School Lesson.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

Consumption seldom attacks until the system is run down and weakened by sickness, worry, exposure or inherited tendencies. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is the greatest strengthener and health builder known to medicine. It not only checks the ravages of the disease itself, but replaces the weakened, destroyed tissues; helps the stomach to more perfectly digest and assimilate food in order that more, richer and purer blood will come from it; and regulates and governs the heart's action, so that the circulation will be strong and powerful, carrying health and vigor to every organ and part of the human body.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is absolutely pure and free from fusel oil—the only whiskey recognized by the Government as a medicine. It has been prescribed by doctors of all schools and sold by reliable druggists and grocers everywhere for over 50 years. $1.00 a bottle. Every testimonial is published in good faith and guaranteed. Medical booklet free.

CAUTION—Be sure you get the genuine Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, manufactured by Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y., and put up in sealed bottles, with the "Old Chemist" trade-mark on the label. Beware the many substitutes and imitations offered by unscrupulous dealers, because of the extra profit. They not only will not cure, but may be very dangerous.

Four Facts For Sick Women To Consider

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Has an Unequaled Record of Cures—Mrs. Pinkham's Advice Is Confidential, Free, and Always Helpful

First.—That almost every operation in our hospitals performed upon women becomes necessary through neglect of such symptoms as backache, irregular and painful menstruation, leucorrhoea, displacements of the uterus, pain in the side, burning sensation in the stomach, bearing-down pains, nervousness, dizziness and sleeplessness.

Second.—The medicine that holds the record for the largest number of absolute cures of female ills is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It regulates, strengthens and cures diseases of the female organism as nothing else can.

For thirty years it has been helping women to be strong, curing backache, nervousness, kidney troubles, all uterine and ovarian inflammation, weakness and displacements, regulating menstruation perfectly and overcoming its pains. It has also proved itself invaluable in preparing for childbirth and the change of life.

Third.—The great volume of unsolicited and grateful testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., many of which are from time to time published by permission, give absolute evidence of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice.

Fourth.—Every ailing woman in the United States is asked to accept the following invitation. It is free, will bring you health and may save your life.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women.—Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. From symptoms given, your trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised. Out of the vast volume of experience in treating female ills Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Surely, any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

WITH THE CATTLEMEN

THE FAT STOCK SHOW

The annual fat stock show held at Fort Worth last week was splendid. At this show were gathered cattle, horses, sheep and goats from the best breeding farms and ranches in the state. Everybody who knows anything about the live stock industry of Texas knows that the breeding up process in live stock in this state has been in progress for many years, and that live stock on Texas farms, stock farms and ranches have shown great improvement in the past few years. No one, however, no matter how much he may have known or read of these changing conditions in this state, was prepared for the large and splendid show of fine stock at Fort Worth last week. The number and quality of the exhibits was a surprise to all—Texans as well as visitors from the great breeding grounds of the north. The pioneers in the breeding of fine stock in Texas have had a hard time. They had two propositions to combat. First, the prevailing idea that the native scrub was just as good and just as much of a money maker on the range or stock farm as animals of improved breeds. This idea now has been generally dispelled, and no one will now argue that the grower of scrub stock can compete with the man who raises improved stock and takes care of them. The second proposition, involving great loss to growers of fine cattle in Texas, was the great loss from acclimation fever. Many breeders have lost a good-sized fortune in their efforts to build up a herd from the best blood attainable in herds above the quarantine line. But grit, money and energy has won, until today the great loss from acclimation fever can be secured on any of the big breeding farms in the north. It is no longer necessary to send out of the state to secure a good bull, horse, hog, sheep or goat. Texas breeders of fine stock should be more than proud of their achievements in the face of adverse circumstances, and are entitled to and will reap in the future an abundant harvest.—San Antonio Stockman.

THE ST. PATRICK OF TEXAS

Mrs. King, the "Texas Cattle Queen," owner of the King ranch, of a million or more acres in lower Texas, and owner also of an immense fortune, is making war on rattlesnakes. The snakes existed so plentiful as to make traveling over the prairie hazardous. She posted an offering for all the rattles of the deadly serpents that should be brought to her. The first offer was 5 cents per rattle. Peons and others of the section went in to the snake business on a large scale. Within two weeks Mrs. King has received and paid for more than 10,000 rattles. The bounty was then reduced to 3 cents a rattle. The number of snake hunters had increased, and the crop in the market did not curtail operations in the least. After a few more weeks a total of 98,000 had been reached, and the bin in which the rattles were kept was enlarged so as to include the whole interior of an outbuilding. The price took another tumble, sinking to 2 cents a rattle, but still it proved a great business. Rattles were brought in by the bushel, and were always carefully counted and paid for at the stipulated market rate. The 100,000 mark was passed on New Year's day, and in the time intervening to the present more than another 100,000 were added to Mrs. King's rattle collection. The number to date is reported at 225,000. Miles of the lower coast country have been hunted over, and rattlesnake skins have been preserved by the bale. The winter is the proper time to scotch the snakes. During the period of their dormancy they may be found by knowing their usual hiding places and numbers. Mrs. King is proving a real St. Patrick, and the riddance she is bringing about may free that country forever from the pests.

Letters to The Telegram

Editor Telegram:

I am a negro, born and reared in Texas, and have refused to live north because I believed the best place for the best negroes is in the south. Until yesterday I thought Fort Worth the best city in the best state in the United States. For twenty years of my life I lived with my father's family as a neighbor to a banker—one of the first families of the south—and when we left the old home it was against the advice of our white neighbors and friends. I have never been an undesirable neighbor and at this late day I don't desire to have any friction with the white people who live near me. I have invested every cent I possessed in the property on Helen avenue, with a view to building a little home for myself and family. I can not afford to own the property and not live on it, for the very simple reason that I have no other place to live.

Rather than have any trouble, I will say for the benefit of the persons who posted the threatening notices on my lumber that I will sell my property to them or any one else. This offer will hold good even after I have built. I don't desire social equality simply as a chance to live in a little home with my own family, and at peace with all good citizens. Respectfully,
G. N. T. GRAY.

I read with interest the article in The Telegram on the growth of the Farmers' Union. Economic conditions are forcing the farmers to combine for their own safety. They are realizing, like other trusts and combinations, that competition is not the life of trade, and that the only safety is in co-operation. They are also realizing that they can save the expense of the middleman in handling their machinery and supplies. Later on it will mean that they can just as well own and operate the means of transportation instead of keeping a lobbyist in Austin to beg favors of the railroads. And speaking of lobbyists, why do the farmers send a lobbyist to Austin instead of sending lawmakers? Another step in the right direction is encouraging the

TWENTY-ONE GUNS TO GREET PRESIDENT

Elaborate Plans for Reception of Chief Executive Being Made by Waco Arrangements Committee

WACO, Texas, March 31.—Plans for the reception to be accorded President Roosevelt on the occasion of his visit to Waco occupied the committee headed by W. W. Seley for some time yesterday, and extra touches were given the already elaborate arrangement of matters. The president will speak in the Katy park, close to the depot of the Katy road, and this park will accommodate from twenty to thirty thousand persons. The platform to be occupied by the president, visitors, newspaper men and other favored persons of the day will be so arranged that all persons in the grounds will be easily able to get a good view of the chief executive of the nation, and most of them will hear him speak. A salute of twenty-one guns will be fired by the military, a special squad being detailed for this purpose. A grand arch will lead into the park and this, like the platform, will be beautifully decorated. Special trains on nearly every road will bring in the people, and the country about Waco will pour into the city on that day. Hands will discourse and the life of the chief executive will add to the occasion. The park will be divided off so that white and black will have each a separate place to go and thus avoid any confusion. The committee in charge will leave nothing undone to make the day a success. Pat Cleburne camp, United Confederate Veterans, meets this afternoon to see about taking part in the ceremonies incident to the day.

How Fort Worth's Working Girls Live on Small Salaries

Wages Range From $1.00 to $15.00 Per Week in Stores and Factories

NO CHANCE FOR LUXURY

Wages received by women clerks in the stores of Fort Worth were discussed at a recent meeting of one of the leading labor organizations at the time it was suggested that a campaign be started here for the betterment of the conditions. The matter was held in abeyance for reasons not yet made public. Wages for similar employment in other cities of the south were said to be about the same as those paid in Fort Worth.

Upon investigation by a Telegram representative as to the salaries paid women employed in the stores and factories of Fort Worth it was found that women are clerking in stores for salaries ranging from $1 a week as the lowest up to $15 a week for the most skilled and experienced clerks. The average wage per week for the majority of the women clerks is between $5 and $6. Girls who are experienced in any line or department and who have been with a firm any length of time receive from $7 to $10 a week and a few receive $12 to $15 a week, but the latter are either heads of departments or valuable on account of lengthy service and usefulness.

In some stores young girls who have a desire to become milliners or seamstresses must serve an apprenticeship of six months without any compensation at all and after this time they receive for the following six months a salary ranging from $2.50 to $5 a week. In all the stores visited it was found that the clerks desiring goods were permitted to purchase them at a discount. At several places a rule is enforced that any clerk coming after 8 o'clock in the morning is fined. During the week days they work from 8 o'clock in the morning until 6 at night with an hour for dinner and on Saturday they work from 8 until 9:30 o'clock at night with an hour for dinner and a half hour for supper.

In the laundries and factories where women are employed the salaries are less than those paid in the stores for inexperienced help. There none of the women receive less than $2 a week to start and they are able to soon become skilled enough to receive as high as $7 to $10 a week, but seldom do they receive any higher than the last given figure. These girls go to work at 7 or shortly after and must work until 6 at night and oftentimes until much later, when the work is exceptionally heavy. They are given an hour for dinner and a half hour for lunch.

Women doing domestic work in homes are paid from $2 a week for nurse girls up to $5 a week for all kinds of work, but seldom are they paid higher than that. In most cases housewives prefer to have colored women to do the house work, because of the fact that the negro workers will do the washing and ironing while the white women will not.

Women employed in the packing houses are paid from $3 a week up to $1 a day. In many cases these persons are paid by the piece and are able to make as much money as a day laborer of the other sex, and a few run the weekly wage up to $15 a week, but seldom above this.

HOW ONE GIRL LIVES

One girl explained to the reporter how she managed to exist on $3 a week, the salary she receives. The story is given without embellishment. "How do I live on $3 a week?" "Well, just the same way as lots of other girls exist. It is certainly an uphill task. One must economize from the first of the week to the very last. I came to Fort Worth nearly a year ago and started to work for $3 a week. I then I changed to this one and I have never yet been able to get an increase, so you see in a year's time I have learned much about economy. "Four of us girls live in a room, two beds that costs us $6 a month. For our food we each chip in $1.50 a week and some times, if we live real

LEAVE LETTERS

Practice Laid to Stamp Collector's Prohibited by Post-office Department

Removal of stamps from foreign letters sent out from the United States mail is the cause of recent complaints made to this government from foreign postoffices. The trouble is attributed to stamp collectors who are anxious to get possession of foreign stamps.

Postoffice headquarters at Washington sent out a communication warning all postmasters and postal employees against the removal of stamps. The communication has been received here and is contained in the general orders of the railway mail service.

RHEUMATISM ROBS LIFE OF PLEASURE

Rheumatism does more than any other disease to rob life of pleasure and comfort. It is so painful and far-reaching in its effects on the system that those afflicted with it find themselves utterly unable to enjoy bodily comfort or any of the pleasures of life. Some are bound hand and foot and suffer constantly with excruciating pains, swollen, stiff joints and muscles, and often distorted, crooked limbs, while others have intervals of freedom, during which they live in constant fear and dread of the next attack, when, at the least exposure to damp weather, or slight irregularity of any kind, the disease will return. The cause of Rheumatism is a sour, acid condition of the blood, produced by food lying undigested in the stomach, poor bowel action, weak kidneys and a general sluggish condition of the system. External applications, such as liniments, oils, plasters, etc., do not reach the cause and can only give temporary relief. The blood must be cleansed and purified before a cure can be had. S. S. S. attacks the disease in the right way—it neutralizes the poison and filters out every particle of it from the blood, stimulates the sluggish organs and clears the system of all foreign matter. It cures the disease permanently and safely because it contains no harmful minerals to derange the stomach and digestion. Book on Rheumatism and any advice you wish, without charge.

We had quite a hot fire in one of our pickers, smoke was issuing fiercely from the dust room when first noticed. CHURCH TO MARK 5TH ANNIVERSARY

Three Services Will Be Held at Christian Tabernacle on Sunday

On next Sunday, April 2, the Christian Tabernacle will have special services commemorating the fifth anniversary of the completion of their church building. It is expected that every member of the congregation be present, together with their friends. Special music has been provided for the three services and visitors will be welcomed.

The morning service will be held by the pastor, Rev. S. G. Inman, and Rev. Granville Jones, who will preach the sermon. Adjourment will be then had to the basement, where dinner will be served for all by the church. It had been originally intended to have all bring baskets, but the plan was abandoned.

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon the great fellowship service will begin. Short talks will be made by the auxiliaries of the church and all who desire will be given opportunity to speak. Following this will be the communion service.

At night a platform meeting has been arranged and the theme will be "The Debt of the Church to the City." This will be divided into four heads, educational, John M. Adams; political, W. D. PRESIDENT'S VISIT IS NOT POLITICAL

Mistaken Impression Held by Many Regarding Coming Southwestern Tour

Special to The Telegram.

AUSTIN, Texas, March 31.—Notwithstanding the efforts of General Webster Flanagan, and other members of the executive committee having in charge the reception to be given President Roosevelt, to convince the people that the coming visit of the nation's chief magistrate to Austin is not a political or party affair, many people are still laboring under the mistaken impression that it is to be principally for republicans.

It was only yesterday that General Flanagan, chairman of the press committee, received a letter from a well known citizen of Manor, this county, in which he made a request for three tickets to the president's reception. The citizen in question earnestly requested two of the tickets for two union veterans, who he said fought valiantly in the civil war, and further, are staunch republicans. "As for myself," stated the writer, "I can let that pass, as I should not expect any favors, being a democrat."

General Flanagan promptly replied to the letters, and stated in effect that he would take pleasure in providing the writer with one ticket for himself, and proper care would be taken of the two old union soldiers. General Flanagan further said: "I hope when you will see and hear our president you will experience a change of heart, and find out that he is the president of the people and not of any party. We are all American citizens, and this is not to be a political meeting."
