AARON ISAACS

Mr. Aaron T. Isaacs was named Wednesday night, June 17, as new nanager of Dimmitt Wheat Grow-

Isaacs, for two years comptroler of the million and a half dolar firm, will succeed Blanton Armstrong, who recently left the post after a four-year tenure.

A former Shamrock resident, Isaacs opearted a private accounting firm there before moving to Dimmitt. He attended college at Panhandle A&M at Goodwell. Oklahoma, majoring in business and minoring in physical education. He is a native of Shamrock. Isaacs and his wife, Gloria, have three sons, Felton, 6, John, 4, and Lesly, 2. The new manager said this week that general business policies of the co-operative will remain the same as in the past and that and Plymouth agency. He has every effort would be made to farming interests in Castro Coun-

Bowling Alley Wheat Growers Opening Here In 3 Months

To be located at the corner of East Second and Lee Streets, the new alley will be owned and operated by Glenn Batson, E. M. Citadel Finance Company in Lit-Lowe, and A. C. Bridwell, all of Littlefield.

The three men will build their starts next week.

The alley will be modern, with ight lanes serviced by AMF automatic pensetters.

There will also be a snack bar in connection with the bowling

"Cottonbowl Lanes" will be the name of the new recreational facility. It will be the first experience any of the men have had in building and operating a bowling alley.

The building will be of concrete block construction and completely modern, measuring 50x140 feet. There will be a 100x150-foot parking area alongside the building. It will be refrigerated air conditioned with a solid front.

Completion date for the new building is expected at August 15th with about a month required for installing the lanes, pinsetters, and other equipment.

This will be the first regulation bowling alley ever operated in Dimmitt.

Batson also operates the Batson Motor Company, Littlefield DeSota render courteous, prompt service ty. Lowe operates Lowe & Co., wholesale distributor of cigarettes

GRAPHIC ILLUSTRATION of the success of further experimentation in water floculation on the Bill Sutton farm south of Dimmitt is shown here in three sample bottles of water. Being held by Wayne Wyatt of Hereford, engineer for High Plains Underground Water Conservation District, the bottle on the left is normal opaque lake water before application of the floculating chemical known as AP-30. The center bottle was taken several hours after application and shows signs of clearing up and the bottle on the right was taken 24 hours after application. Wyatt said he could stand hip deep in the lake and see toes of his boots the day after application. This means that recharge wells can take lake water indefinitely now without being shut down to pump out collected mud silt which in turn should add many years to the life of the High Plains underground water reservoir. Water engineers consider this a tremendous step forward in conservation and also believe the chemical may turn out to be a good memberships are sold to finance soil conditioner. The application can be made from boat or plane the project. Most committeemen and costs are very little-less than $2.00 per acre foot of water.

he selling of indulgences was authorized to provide he clergy with plenty of money. This movement and other similar corrupt gractices led to what is known as the Reformation

Wycliffe, like all of the first church reformers, was dayout churchman. He wished to stop the corrupt practice in the financing of the Church, and to bring sack the Bible and stress the lives of individuals, in that they should live Christ's principles. Forty-four years after his death, the council of Constance declared him an herenic and his bones were removed and John Huss another great reformer was a student of Myeliffe, in that Huss read his articles and he was a creacher, he began to study the Scriptures as never sefare. Soon he was excommunicated by the Pope, out continued to preach and write against the Church practices. Huss was thrown into prison on the charge of heresy, and without a fair trial was burned.

This year farm operators see conclusive proof that use of anhydrous ammonia produces substantially bigger crops. In areas where weather prevented timely application of Nitrogen, yields are down. Where Nitrogen was used, farmers who had check plots report highest returns on their investment in Nitrogen fer-

Get ready for next year's big crop. After mile harvest, apply Dow 82 ammonia. Milo stalks and roots provide the ideal organic material to help the fertilizer work best for you. Dow's 82% Nitrogen speeds decomposition of turned-under stalks; improves soil fertility. Dow 82 resists leaching. It stays in the ground, ready for use. Spring plantings get a healthier, quicker start, develop vigorous root systems that help prevent blowing soil.
