

CHURCH DEPLORES SABBATH BREAKING

General Assembly Committee Says Railroads Are Chief Offenders

ROUTINE BUSINESS TAKEN

Attendance at Today's Morning Session Is Comparatively Small

The opening this morning of the session of the Presbyterian general assembly was marked by a very small attendance. The devotional exercises were conducted by Dr. J. M. Holladay, D. D., of Manning, S. C., the singing being led by T. S. Lowry of Mason, Ga.

SUNDAY OBSERVANCE

The report of the committee on Sunday observance of fifty-two out of the eighty-two presbyteries shows that Sunday travel and traffic continues unabated, and that freight trains run with marked regularity. The Sunday newspaper was also condemned. The report suggested that a conference be held to discuss and remedy the evil of non-Sunday observance.

The railroads, the report maintained, continue to violate Sunday observance. "So long as railroads insist in not giving consideration to the law of God, we may expect disastrous wrecks," concludes the report.

Clerk Dr. Alexander exhibited an historic document, being the address of the first assembly of the Southern Presbyterian church held at Augusta, Ga., in 1855. It contains the autographs of all those present and was in the nature of an address to the churches of Jesus Christ in the United States.

On the overture from the East Hanover presbytery on a new method of constituting executive committees, the report on overtures and bills suggested amendments, one being the selection of secretaries by the executive committee for a term of three years, and that seven be a quorum for the transaction of ordinary business.

The opinion was freely expressed by several commissioners that the secretaries should be elected by the general assembly and not by the executive committee.

The report of the judicial committee in the case of M. D. Thurmond vs. the synod of Missouri and the cases of Drs. J. M. Wells and R. M. Mann vs. the synod of North Carolina, was offered. It was recommended that a commission be appointed to hear the cases. The report was received.

The assembly considered the overture from Ouchita presbytery regarding the change of the method of dissolving pastoral relations from the present plan. There was decided opposition to any change, the contention being that there could be no improvement made on the present system.

On EXECUTIVE COMMITTEES The committee on overtures and bills reported favorably on the overture from East Hanover presbytery, asking the adoption of uniform methods of the formation of executive committees and the election of secretaries.

Dr. C. R. Hemphill of Louisville moved an amendment to the report that the executive committee be composed of not less than nine nor more than fifteen, exclusive of the secretary, the recommendation of the committee providing for twelve on each executive committee.

Dr. J. W. Rosebro of Fredericksburg, Va., in discussing the matter at considerable length, said he presumed it was for the purpose of giving permanency to the work of the executive committees by electing them for a term of three years. Dr. Rosebro, himself, while a member of the presbytery which sent up the question, opposed to any change being made.

Dr. W. R. Joplin of Virginia moved that the whole question be laid on the table. On this motion Dr. Lyons of Louisville spoke for several minutes in opposition to the motion of Dr. Joplin. Dr. Lyons said that the question was an important one and comes from one of the leading presbyteries of the assembly. He said the proposed change is a good one and will give stability and solidity to the work and would allay the unrest now prevalent.

The question was not decided when adjournment at noon took place.

STORM DAMAGE ON NORTH SIDE

Rosen Heights and North Fort Worth in Path of the High Wind

With terrific force that swept buildings and trees from its path, the cyclone passed over Rosen Heights and North Fort Worth leaving a trail of wrecked and damaged buildings in its wake.

No lives were lost in North Fort Worth and only a few persons received injuries, none of which were serious.

A. Carlson, wife and son, who live at 1101 South Calhoun street, together with his sister, Mrs. Charles Skog, and a visitor from Austin, were returning from a visit to friends and sought refuge from the rain in the Baptist church, which was completely demolished. All members of the party received injuries, and all required the services of a physician, but none of the injuries proved to be of a serious nature.

The storm seemed to gather its strength in North Fort Worth, just a little east of Lincoln avenue, traveling in a southeasterly direction toward the city of Fort Worth.

The property damage, as far as can be learned, is as follows: Residence of J. C. Shelton, 1606 Lincoln avenue, blown from foundation and flue blown off. Damage possibly $50. Baptist church, completely demolished; will be torn down and rebuilt at once.

Episcopal church, blown from its foundation and north side of building crushed in. Damage will amount to several hundred dollars.

Residence of G. W. Garrett, 1323 Lee avenue, blown from foundation, porch and wings detached from main building. Damage close to $400.

About 6 o'clock in the evening it grew suddenly dark, and in a few minutes the rain was falling in sheets, driven by the velocity of the wind, breaking out window lights and crippling the street car service between North Fort Worth and the city. Persons in the vicinity of storm cellars sought refuge therein and many houses were deserted by the time the fury of the storm had reached its climax.

PATH OF THE STORM Eye witnesses state that at about 6:30 o'clock two black threatening clouds were seen to come together and immediately there seemed to form a vapor with its apex toward the earth. It moved southeast, and the first building directly in its path was the two-room dwelling of J. C. Shelton. This house was lifted from its foundation and moved about four or five feet. Aside from the damage to the building, which will probably amount to $50, there was in the back yard milking when was little other damage. Mr. Shelton the house was struck, and stated to a representative of The Telegram that the wind was not strong at all where the barn stands and he did not feel its strength in the least.

LIGHTNING BOLTS The next building in the path of the storm was the Baptist church. The story of A. Carlson, who was in the wrecked church, suffices to portray the fury of the storm, at that point. Mr. Carlson and his family had just started to leave the building and were in the vestibule, when a blinding flash of lightning struck the vestibule just above their heads. At the same instant the crash from the storm came. It struck the church fairly on the side, picked it from its foundation and moved it several feet to the south. The north side of the building was crushed in like an egg shell, the south wall was pushed outward, the vestibule was blown away and Mr. Carlson was lifted from his feet and carried a distance of two hundred feet. Finally falling against a fence, his flight was checked.

YACHT ATLANTIC SIGHTED AT SEA

American Vessel in Race for Kaiser's Cup Averaging Eight Knots an Hour

NEW YORK, May 22.—The American yacht Atlantic, one of the contestants in the trans-Atlantic race for Emperor William's cup, was sighted late Saturday night 690 miles due east of Sandy Hook. She was heading a little better than seven and a half knots per hour. The Atlantic was sighted by the steamers Cedric, Minnetonka and Noordam. Marconi wireless messages were sent from all of these steamers to the Associated Press. To reach the point at which she was sighted the Atlantic must have voyaged more than 200 miles per day or more than eight knots an hour.

NO BELLIGERENT SHIPS NOW IN FRENCH WATERS

SAIGON, May 22.—Admiral De Jonquieres, the French naval commander, returned here today after inspection of the Annamese coast. He reports that no belligerent ships have returned to French territorial waters since May 14.

CISTERN SKEETERS CAUSE OF FEVER

George W. Davis Says Water-works Will Solve Problem for Panama

Special Correspondence to The Telegram. PELHAM MANOR, L. I., May 22.—General George W. Davis, governor general of the Panama canal zone, who was recalled to this country by Secretary Taft to save his life, is here taking the Atlantic ocean cold fog treatment for malaria.

In an interview General Davis told some interesting facts about yellow fever at Panama and the fight to eliminate the disease.

"The reason it has been harder to combat yellow fever in Panama than it was in Havana," said he, "is because of the different conditions in the two cities.

"The cause of yellow fever is no longer a theory. It was talked to the doctors about the transmission of the disease by mosquitoes being a theory, they will hardly want to discuss the subject further with you. They will tell you that it is a demonstrated fact.

"For a man to get yellow fever or malaria two things are essential. In the first place he must be bitten by a mosquito, and in the second place that mosquito must previously have bitten somebody who had the yellow fever or malaria. "On a Feb. 28, a few years ago, our corps of scientists in Havana announced that they knew the cause of yellow fever, and that the disease would be stamped out. By the first of August in that same year they had it stamped out. In Panama it will be stamped out just as it was in Havana. But, as I said before, it is taking longer, because the conditions are different.

"In Havana there was, to begin with, an excellent water works system. Panama had no water works system whatever. All the water came from very shallow wells in the outskirts of the city. It was taken from these wells, put into casks, mounted on wheels and sold to consumers in five-gallon oil cans. In addition to this, every house collected as much water as possible from the roof. Every house had a rain cistern and some had two of them.

"Now, these cisterns and the water that was bought and stood, in many cases, in open vessels in the houses, became breeding places for mosquitoes. And these house mosquitoes are the ones that carry yellow fever. The swamp mosquitoes will carry malaria, but they do not carry yellow fever.

"So the problem is very largely narrowed down to killing off these house-bred mosquitoes, and the way to kill them off is to destroy their breeding places. The first thing, therefore, was to give Panama an adequate water works system.

"That system is now nearly completed. The source is back in the mountains ten miles away, and the water is brought to the city by an aqueduct. The water should be on by the first of July and after that a month will see yellow fever in Panama on its last legs.

"To get rid of the malaria bearing mosquito is another matter. The breeding places are too large and the problem is too complicated. I suppose there always will be malaria in Panama."

PROPOSED INTERURBAN CAUSES ENTHUSIASM

MINERAL WELLS, Texas, May 22.—

Nothing short of genuine enthusiasm exists in this little city over the recent reports and prospects concerning the building of the Fort Worth and Mineral Wells electric railway. The committees appointed at the recent mass meeting have promised to do its share of the work in getting the big proposition on foot, and if today's reports are any real indication of this little city's sincere interest the appointed meeting for next Wednesday will develop something specific.

Mayor Highsmith has been in Austin for three days, looking after the Mineral Wells sewerage and street bonds and returned home Saturday.

As before stated the number of visitors at the wells is increasing each day, and Texans are not the only ones here for health. Shreveport, La., sent up a party of seventeen this week and several from Mississippi, Arkansas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Indian Territory and other places are drinking at this Texas Cicerale.

Dr. Edwin Sevier of Socorro, N. M., came in with three patients for the famous water yesterday.

Words of general praise are heard among visitors and patrons of the Wells as to the resort's equipment in hotel and cafe lines.

GERMAN EMPRESS HURT

WIESBADEN, May 22.—The accident to the German Empress Augusta Victoria, who fell down stairs yesterday, while rather more severe than at first reported, will not have any serious consequences. The cut on her forehead probably will leave a slight scar. The empress suffers from occasional attacks of vertigo and to this is attributed her loss of balance on the stairs.

CHICAGO STRIKE SPREADS AFRESH

Teamsters' Council Refuses to Endorse Provisional Settlement

LUMBER DEALERS AFFECTED

New Movement Threatens to Throw 100,000 Men out of Employment

Factory Club

CHICAGO, Ill., May 22.—Spreading of the teamsters' strike began promptly today. Thirty-six teamsters employed by the Rittenhouse & Embree Company, lumber dealers, and four by the Edward Hines Lumber Company were the first to be forced into the struggle following the refusal of the teamsters' joint council to endorse the settlement provisionally arranged with the employers by President Shea of the Teamsters' Union.

Through the threatened spread of the strike to all lumber dealers, every branch of the building industry in Chicago today is apparently facing paralysis. There are only 800 teamsters employed by lumber firms, but so close are the relations between them and several other union men engaged in hauling building material a walkout of the lumber teamsters, it is said, will doubtless lead to a strike in nearly every department of the building industry indirectly dependent upon building material teamsters. It was estimated today that the employment of nearly 100,000 men in the yards, mills and factories and on construction work. It was not believed the drivers' strike will affect the wood industries or building construction work generally at first. If, however, the walkout should go all along the line, as it is threatened today to do, all lumber yards of Chicago will be tied up. The same program was seemingly in store for the stone industries and enterprises dependent upon them. Planing mills, sash and door, box factories and kindred plants will also face soon a shortage in lumber supplies, which will necessitate closing down.

In the first strikes today the initiative was taken by the employers. Members of the Teamsters' Union were discharged for refusing to deliver to boycotted firms. Orders by the union for others to quit were discharges had been made followed quickly. As an immediate result the yards of two of the big companies were completely tied up.

Edward Hines, president of the Lumbermen's Association, declared every lumber yard in the city would before long be without drivers. "It means a complete stagnation of business at a time when building operations in Chicago are booming to a greater extent than has been known since 1892," said Mr. Hines. The supply of lumber on hand will not last the building contractors more than forty-eight hours. The factories which depend upon boxes for shipping will be crippled because they will be without lumber. "If this occurs," he said, "the stock yards packing industry will be especially disturbed, for they must have boxes there to ship their goods. The express companies, whose attitude on the question of reinstating their striking drivers caused the break in peace plans, stood firm today, refusing to take back any of their old men. An official of the express companies declared today that none of the strikers will be reinstated.

As the day advanced the strike gradually spread. Twenty-five teamsters employed by the T. Wilce Lumber Company made deliveries which teamsters of Rittenhouse & Embree Co. had refused to make. Delivery was to have been made to large department stores, but the Wilce Company encountered precisely the same tactics as the strikers had employed on other firms attempting to do business with concerns that were strikebound.

NEW YORK, May 22.—After another day of search for Miss Margaret Jalonick of Dallas, Texas, a nurse who has been missing from St. Luke's hospital since last Wednesday, the mystery of her disappearance is deeper than ever. No clew of any kind has been obtained, and a general alarm sent out by the police has failed of results.

Her father, George W. Jalonick of Dallas, Texas, is expected to reach New York today with his brother.

GOVERNOR'S PLANS TO TAKE VACATION

AUSTIN, Texas, May 22.—Governor Lanham has still under advisement the general appropriation bill passed by the last legislature, the general election law, and the state bank law.

He thinks he will be able to dispose of all these bills one way or another, in which case he will take a short vacation for needed rest and recuperation. His present purpose is to spend the greater portion of his vacation with his son, on his ranch in Palo Pinto county.

WESTERN MINERS MEET

SALT LAKE CITY, May 22.—The national convention of the Western Federation of Miners began its first session here today this morning. President Chas. H. Moyer was in the chair and W. D. Haywood at the secretary's desk. About 300 delegates are in attendance. The plan of establishing co-operative mining and industrial enterprises is one of the important matters to come before the convention.

The executive board, which has been in session for several days, has completed its work of auditing the accounts of the treasurer and financial secretary, finding the federation to be in a satisfactory financial condition.

WACO'S BALL TEAM MANAGER ARRESTED

Is Charged With Running a Place of Amusement on Sunday as Result of Ball Game

Special to The Telegram. WACO, Texas, May 22.—Manager H. Fabian of the Waco ball team was arrested this morning on a charge of running a place of amusement to which an admission was charged on Sunday. The complaint was filed before Justice Miner Moore, and grows out of a ball game played within the city limits and near the business section yesterday. Fabian gave bond in the sum of $50. The case comes on tomorrow.

DESTRUCTIVE WINDSTORM CAUSES $10,000 DAMAGE

She Asks Russian Women to Use Influence Toward Ending the War

(Copyright, 1905, by W. R. Hearst.) NEW YORK, May 22.—Photograph of the Countess Tolstoy, who has written a remarkable letter on the horrors of war, appealing to the women of Russia to use their influence to persuade the czar to put an end to the war, which she says is the best blood of the land without hope of success and has caused the death of millions of people. The countess says that peace cannot be a disgrace and that a lost war is nearly a misfortune and that a spiritually developed unchristian nation, such as the Japanese, was bound to conquer because of the prevalence among them of the savage principle of patriotism which is opposed to the Christian principle of love for our neighbors.

NEW YORK POLICE SEEK DALLAS GIRL

Miss Margaret Jalonick, Trained Nurse, Missing Since Wednesday

NEW YORK, May 22.—After another day of search for Miss Margaret Jalonick of Dallas, Texas, a nurse who has been missing from St. Luke's hospital since last Wednesday, the mystery of her disappearance is deeper than ever. No clew of any kind has been obtained, and a general alarm sent out by the police has failed of results.

Her father, George W. Jalonick of Dallas, Texas, is expected to reach New York today with his brother.

DAMAGING WIND STORM AT WACO

Property Loss Over $25,000.

WACO, Texas, May 22.—A violent wind storm last night did damage amounting to $25,000 to $40,000. The front of the Behring Drug Company's brick building was blown down and the stock badly damaged by rain. The parapets of many buildings were blown off. Trees were uprooted and crops suffered badly. The storm came from the southwest and was the hardest wind in thirty years.

Waco creek again ran hundreds from their homes, but no lives were lost, as far as is known.

Charles Baker, son of Mayor Baker, was rendered unconscious from a lightning stroke.

Later—it is thought now that the damage of the Behring Drug Company alone will be $25,000, chiefly by water. The loss is covered by storm insurance.

A child of J. D. Thompson, two miles east of Waco, had his hip broken when the Thompson house was blown from its blocks.

Fruit farms east of the city are ruined with a loss of thousands of dollars to the owners. C. Falkner, the chief fruit man, escaped. Probably a hundred brick chimneys were blown down and onto roofs. Scores of residences were flooded with water.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Although the volume of vacation travel will not reach its height for a month or more, the rush from this city for mountain and shore resorts already has set in. According to all indications this will be one of the biggest "outing" summers experienced by the transportation companies in recent years. On every line leading out of the city extra trains and boats have been placed in service. An unusually heavy season of trans-Atlantic travel is certain as nearly all the leading lines are already booked to their capacity for June and July.

Gale Attaining Maximum Velocity of 72 Miles an Hour Sweeps City

DISPATCHER KILLED AT T. & P. STATION

Buried Beneath Falling Brick Wall—Many Buildings Suffer

 RESULTS OF THE STORM *****

- Following is the estimate of the damage of Sunday night's storm:
- Dead: J. H. Young, dispatcher.
- Texas and Pacific station.

- Mrs. Robert Spearman, Valley View addition, slightly bruised.
- Total damage to property estimated, $19,000.
- Texas and Pacific passenger station, $2,000.
- St. James' Colored church, Sixth and Elm streets, $750.
- Broadway Presbyterian church, $500.
- North Fort Worth, $2,000.
- Residences, Belknap and Bluff streets, Grand Hotel and Second ward school house, $500.
- Residences, Valley View addition, $900.
- Ball park and various outhouses, $1,600.
- Wires and telephone systems, $200.
- Outhouses and fences, Glenwood, $1,000.
- Losses and general damage, $1,800.
- Horses killed, 2.

J. H. Young, train dispatcher of the Texas and Pacific railway, is dead, several persons are slightly injured and scores of houses damaged as a result of the most violent storm in the history of the city, which raged from 6:50 until 7:05 Sunday night. Weather bureau records show that the wind attained a velocity of sixty-six miles an hour, breaking all previous records. Official velocities are measured in fifteen minute sketches. During two minutes that the wind at its height, a rate of seventy-two miles was registered.

YOUNG'S DEATH

In the Rio Grande division dispatchers' office at the southwest corner of the Texas and Pacific passenger station upstairs, J. H. Young met almost instant death. He was buried beneath a pile of debris and roofing, the tower or gable at the southwest end of the station having crashed through the roof, toppled over by the wind. The first gale fell at 6:55; a few moments later a second gale, this time fell with a crash going through the roof and completely wrecking the office of the Pullman company to the north of the dispatchers' office down the hall.

PASSENGERS PANIC STRICKEN

When the gables fell a panic ensued among the passengers in the station. Women screamed and there was a wild rush for the exits. Being slightly bruised by flying brick and timber. Mr. Young was 47 years of age and had been employed by the Texas and Pacific railway for the last fifteen years. He is survived by a widow. Funeral services were held this afternoon from the residence at 212 Broadway. Interment was made in the new cemetery.

Ernest Nies of 809 East Annie street was the only person in the room with Young at the time the parapet fell. Nies escaped by a miracle, being slightly bruised by flying brick and timber.

Nies is 18 years of age and a student of Fort Worth University. He has been working as messenger or call boy in the west end dispatcher's office. His father, George Nies, was charged by the Western Union telegraph office at the station.

He says that he warned Young when the wind began to blow that they had better get out as the parapet might fall. Young replied that their "mats would protect them."

He had no sooner said this and started across the room to his desk when with a tremendous crash the great weight of brick came through the thin roof, burying Young beneath it and crushing out his life.

The office was a total wreck, being all filled with debris. Desks, chairs and all office furniture were smashed to kindling wood. The walls which collapsed have been standing heavily braced since the recent fire at the station.

The disastrous wind confined its work to no special part of the city. A huge plate glass window in the Cotton Belt office in the Fort Worth National bank building fell with a crash. The roof of the building was also badly damaged in the rear.

The roof at the north part of the Second ward school building on Belknap street was badly damaged. Telephone poles were blown down in all parts of the city, while trees and limbs were scattered broadcast over the streets.

At the Grand hotel, corner Weatherford and Rusk streets, the wind wrought severe damage. No one was injured, however. The roof of the Johnson house on Bluff street, near the court house, also suffered considerable damage. Several awnings were wrecked, including one in front of the Crown saloon, corner Main and Seventh streets.

At Haines ball park the fences were blown flat to the ground, everything suffering considerable damage.

THE CHANGE OF LIFE

INTELLIGENT WOMEN PREPARE

Dangers and Pain of This Critical Period Avoided by the Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many women realize that the most critical period in a woman's existence is the change of life, and that the anxiety felt by women as this time draws near is not without reason?

If her system is in a deranged condition, or she is predisposed to apoplexy or congestion of any organ, it is at this time likely to become active and, with a host of nervous irritations, make life a burden.

At this time, also, cancers and tumors are more liable to begin their destructive work. Such warning symptoms as a sense of suffocation, hot flashes, dizziness, headache, dreading of impending evil, sounds in the ears, timidity, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and incontinence are promptly heeded by intelligent women who are approaching the period of life when woman's great change may be expected.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the world's greatest remedy for women at this trying period, and may be relied upon to overcome all distressing symptoms and carry them safely through to a healthy and happy old age.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound invigorates and strengthens the female organism, and builds up the weakened nervous system as no other medicine can.

Mrs. A. E. G. Hyland, of Chestertown, Md., in a letter to Mrs. Pinkham, says:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— "I had been suffering with falling of the womb for years and was passing through the change of life. My womb was badly swollen. I had a good deal of soreness, dizzy spells, headaches, and was very nervous. I wrote you for advice and commenced treatment with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as you directed, and I am happy to say that all these distressing symptoms left me and I have passed safely through the change of life a special advice regarding this important period women are invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham for advice. It is free and always helpful.

ARRANGEMENT OF THE WEDDING VEIL

ARRANGED AND POSED FOR THE NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSOCIATION.

White roses and net, No. 1; The veil may be caught with long hairpins, No. 2; Scheme for the daisy wedding, No. 3; Effect over the face is not pleasing, No. 4.

BY CYNTHIA GREY.

If a girl's heart is set on being married under a wedding veil, she can satisfy her cherished desire without great cost. The cheaper nets can be bought for 50 cents a yard. They are one and a half yards wide and the length must be determined by the height of the bride. More expensive nets can be bought, but the effect of the less expensive material is quite as good. The cost of the veil can be brought within $3.50 or $4.

If a veil is twisted about a bride's head without regard to beauty and artistic effect, she will look like a fright, but a little care and a few flowers transform even a plain bride into the bride exquisite.

In the first place, if the bride's hair is not naturally curly it must be waved and fluffed out about her face. A veil does not lend itself to grace when it is arranged over straight, tightly-combed locks. Whether the hair be combed high or low the hair must be combed in such a way as to make a solid foundation at the top of the head, to which the veil can be caught with long wire hair pins.

The flowers used in the veil are determined by the flowers used in the wedding decorations. If it be a daisy wedding, the bride's veil is ornamented with daisies. If the flower scheme be roses, the bride wears white roses in her veil. Whatever the flower, it is always white.

There are few brides that can stand white flowers against the hair. The white flower kills the brilliance, gloss and color of the hair, therefore the veil must be puffed between the hair and the flowers.

When the veil is worn over the face a separate piece is set under the puff of veiling in front and, after the ceremony, this is thrown back over the entire head-dress. Few brides will wear the veil over the face now, the better effects being obtained by dressing it to fall back from the face.

To be sure that the flowers stay where they are wanted take a light-weight wire, run one end through the base of the flower, stop the wire after two inches have been run through. Then bend this end down to the stem and with the long end of the wire wind down both short end of wire and stem of flower until the end of the stem is reached. It is easy to fasten wired daisies to the veil and hair, while the natural flowers are otherwise hard to manage. The same plan can be carried out with sweet peas, and the flowers after being wired can be woven into a wreath or garland.

Flowers, when used upon the veil, must be set well back that they may not droop over the face.

The bride that wears a veil must wear white gloves. At an informal morning wedding neither veil nor gloves are in best form.

LIMOGES, A TOWN OF BARRICADES, SINCE STRIKE BROKE OUT AFRESH

RIOTERS BUILD THEM ON EVERY CORNER AND FIND THEM VERY EFFECTIVE IN REPELLING THE CHARGES OF THE MOUNTED POLICE.

PARIS, May 22.—Limoges is still in a state of unrest, due to the strike. Barricades, inevitable creations of French mobs, are thrown across streets to emphasize the belligerent spirit of the strikers and worry the troops. They have been found to be effective as usual in checking cavalry charges. Ladies, chairs, window blinds, grocers' carts and boxes make up these barricades.

Troops were sent to Limoges, as has been necessary in a number of outbreaks, because the city officials would be embarrassed in the preservation of order. It sometimes happens that local officials are of the same political party as the strikers. Mayors of certain towns, like Brest and Limoges, have been seen with red flags at the head of socialist processions. It is not easy for such men to enforce regulations that would necessarily include themselves.

Deputy fires on strike sympathizers. CHICAGO, Ill., May 22.—After a crowd of strike sympathizers had attacked Michael Fitzgerald, a special deputy sheriff, and followed him two blocks last night, he turned on his assailants and shot and probably fatally wounded Frank Voelker, 22 years old. Fitzgerald was on his way to his residence when he was assailed by Voelker and nearly a dozen other men. It is said they taunted the deputy sheriff and struck him. Fitzgerald tried to get away and finally fired in self-defense. Voelker was taken to the hospital. He is a union press feeder. When he fell his companions ran away. Fitzgerald was arrested.

WARM CAMPAIGN IN 8TH DISTRICT

Convention to Nominate Successor to Pinckney Will Be Held May 31

AUSTIN, Texas, May 22.—The political talk of the state house is the fight and furious warfare now being waged in the Eighth district for the democratic nomination for congressman in that district. The primary precinct election is to be held in the district on May 27, the county convention two days later, on the 29th, and the convention for the entire district is to be held the 31st, and the election ordered by the governor will be held June 6.

All of the candidates have warm personal friends and ardent supporters among the state house population, and speculations as to who will succeed the lamented John M. Pinckney are in accordance with personal predilections and preferences.

Among the names of the candidates most frequently mentioned is that of A. T. McKinney of Huntsville. He was a member of the constitutional convention of 1876 and subsequently of five sessions of the legislature.

He was a candidate for speaker of the Nineteenth legislature, but was defeated by L. L. Foster by a very narrow margin. Mr. Foster was afterward a member of the railroad commission and president of the Agricultural and Mechanical College at Bryan.

Ability and great personal popularity are conceded to all the candidates, and the race is watched by the people in the state house with great interest and anxiety.

Speaking of Major McKinney's candidacy for speaker of the house of the Nineteenth legislature, a memorable campaign is recalled. L. L. Foster, Colonel W. F. Upton of Fayette county and Major McKinney were the candidates.

The partisans of each of these eminent Texans organized for the fight and held caucuses every night for more than a week previous to the convening of the legislature. All were strong men and had strong following among the members.

The partisans were enthusiastic and all these caucuses were largely attended. When the house was called to order and nominations for speaker declared to be the next business, G. W. C. Fry nominated Colonel Upton, Judge N. A. Cravens, Major McKinney and Harry Haynes nominated Mr. Foster. The race was neck-and-neck, but Mr. Foster came under the ropes with enough votes to elect him, and he was declared by Secretary of State J. W. Baines, then of Collin county, now of Blanco, to be duly elected to that high position.

Speaker Foster treated his antagonists magnanimously and made Major McKinney chairman of judiciary committee No. 1 and Colonel Upton chairman of the finance committee, these being the most important committees in the house.

Notwithstanding the spirited campaign between these distinguished Texans, all worked harmoniously to the end of the session and the Nineteenth did a great work for Texas.

BISHOP TYREE COMING

Entertainment Will Be Given at Allen Chapel in His Honor

Rev. Rev. Evans Tyree, D. D., M. D., bishop of the Tenth Episcopal district of the A. M. E. church, of which Texas is a part, will reach the city this week from El Paso, Texas, where he has been helping the pastor and people there in a recent rally which realized nearly $500, which made it possible for the cancellation of the mortgage document and the church debt.

Bishop Tyree will remain in the city, the guest of Rev. Dr. S. Moten, pastor of Allen chapel, corner First and Elm streets, until Wednesday morning next, when he leaves, accompanied by Rev. Dr. Moten of this city, for the seat of the Corleona district conference at Tyler, and from there to Paul Quinn College, Waco, for the P. E. council, trustee board, educational congress, commencement, etc. ere he leaves for similar meetings at Wilberforce University, Wilberforce, Ohio, accompanied by Rev. Dr. Moten of this city, a conference trustee to Wilberforce University as well as Paul Quinn College.

The Allen chapel choir will render musical program Tuesday at 8:30 p. m., at the chapel, previous to the bishop's departure.

THE BEST TONIC

When the system gets debilitated and in a run-down condition it needs a tonic and there has never been one discovered that is the equal of S. S. S. It is especially adapted for a systemic remedy, because it contains no strong minerals to derange the stomach and digestion, and affect the liver and bowels. It is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks selected for their purifying and healing qualities, and possesses just the properties that are needed to restore to the body strong robust health. When the blood becomes impure and clogged with waste matters and poisons the body does not receive sufficient nourishment and suffers from debility, weakness, sleeplessness, nervousness, loss of appetite, bad digestion and many other disagreeable symptoms of a disordered blood circulation, and if it is not corrected some form of malignant fever or other dangerous disorder will follow. S. S. S. builds up the broken down constitution, clears the blood of all poisons and impurities and makes it strong and healthy. The nerves are restored to a calm restful state, refreshing sleep is had again, the appetite returns and the whole system is toned up by this great remedy. S. S. S. is a blood purifier and tonic and acts promptly in this run-down depleted condition of the system. Book on the blood and medical advice furnished by our physicians, without charge.

BIG GROWD WEARS FREEDERICK WARDE

Distinguished Actor-Lecturer Speaks in Temple for Unitarian Church

The seating capacity of the Temple Sunday morning was found scarcely adequate to accommodate the concourse of people which gathered to hear Frederick Warde, the celebrated actor, in an address upon "The Relation of the Church and Stage." Mr. Warde is one of the vice presidents of the Actor's Church Alliance, of which Rev. Dr. Cotton of this city is district chaplain and Rev. Limbaugh of the Unitarian church is local chaplain, the object of the organization being to further the spirit of co-operation between the church and stage. Mr. Warde had taken the place of Rev. Limbaugh upon the pulpit as a labor of love to promote the movement which Mr. Warde officially represents and in which he feels a deep personal interest. In a striking degree the audience was attentive and responsive. Every word that fell from the lips of the distinguished speaker was listened to eagerly. With a witchery of eloquence too subtle to define and too strong to resist, the great actor pleaded for a higher degree of cordiality between the church and the stage. The whole address breathed a depth of feeling which showed clearly how strong an interest the speaker felt in the success of the movement. At the conclusion of the services, the audience gathered and clung about the speaker, and for nearly an hour had held them in thrall and expressed to him their sense of pleasure and appreciation. Mr. Warde has lost none of the fire and action, nor any of the grace and grace which made his utterances and movements upon the stage in former days cling so tenaciously to the memory, nor has his voice lost a jot of its richness.

No resume can do justice to the beauty and eloquence of the lecture, but the following is its substance: "Were I to choose a text for my address to you this morning," said the speaker at the outset, "I would take the reply of our Savior to those who sought to entrap him into an expression of disloyalty to Roman rule. 'Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's,' and would paraphrase that to read 'Render unto the church its reverence and its due and unto the stage its justice and its deserts.'"

Mr. Warde then followed the history of the drama from its birth in 500 B. C. to the present time, telling of its adoption by the church in its ceremonies and miracle plays, and how, when discarded by that institution, it was accepted, after various vicissitudes, as one of the most important factors in our modern civilization. He claimed that it was the strongest factor in education, enlightenment and spiritual development, its lessons being taught not only by precept but by example. He mentioned, and deplored, the opposition and antagonism of the church, and referred to the Actor's Church Alliance, of which Bishop Potter is president, as having originated with the Rev. Walter Bentley, formerly an actor, but now rector of a church in Brooklyn, and described the successful workings of the organization in all sections of the country. He claimed that the church, the school house and the stage could best promote progress by cooperating for the intellectual and moral development of the people, and regretted that while the two former were maintained, the one by private endowment and the other by state and municipal support, the last was thrown wholly upon public patronage for its support. The public, the speaker said, "not theatrical managers or actors, are the arbiters of the dramatic standard." Mr. Warde in conclusion urged strongly a discrimination upon the part of the public between the good and true in the drama and the vicious and vile, asking an encouragement of the one and a condemnation of the other.

A fine feature of the address were some readings from Shakespeare illustrating the point of the public between the good and true in the drama and the vicious and vile, asking an encouragement of the one and a condemnation of the other.

At the conclusion of the address, Rev. Limbaugh, the minister, said: "Before Mr. Warde came here, I was delighted with the idea that we should have an opportunity to hear him upon this subject and felt deeply grateful that he had consented to appear and speak to us as the representative of the Actor's Church Alliance, but since he has arrived in the city something has occurred which leaves us under a double debt of gratitude for the beautiful, grand and true, delivered at an unexpected sacrifice of which some of you may learn."

NAN PATTERSON BACK ON STAGE

Attorney Who Defended Her Expresses Disapproval of Her Action

NEW YORK, May 22.—Nan Patterson is back in New York to begin her "new life" on the stage, as merry as she was before the shooting of Caesar Young, and District Attorney Jerome's detectives are busier than ever.

Mr. Jerome's office it was said that the "Florodora" girl's return to Broadway was not unexpected, and was in accord with the plan outlined by the district attorney when he consented to her liberation.

"I disapprove of all that Nan Patterson has done since she left the Tombs," said Abraham Levy, who was her senior counsel during her three trials for murder. "I am through with the case forever."

A startling statement was made by C. A. Quinn, a reputable lawyer of Sioux City, Iowa, who said that he had discussed the case with Mr. Levy last November. Mr. Levy told him then, he declares, that Nan Patterson admitted she held the revolver when Caesar Young was shot.

"ADMITTED HOLDING REVOLVER

"Mr. Levy told me," said Mr. Quinn, "that Nan Patterson admitted that she had the revolver in her hand when the fatal shot was fired. According to Mr. Levy's statement both she and Young were considerably under the influence of liquor, and when in the cab began quarreling about the intended departure of Young."

"Nan Patterson finally drew the revolver, which she declared to Mr. Levy was done for the purpose of a bluff. Young grabbed the gun, and in the struggle which followed the trigger pulled and Young was shot. That is the true story and all other theories and newspaper stories are incorrect."

"Mr. Levy told me," continued Mr. Jerome, "that if he put forward the defense Nan Patterson would be convicted without a doubt. He entertained great fears that such a story would not be believed by the jury. That is the reason why suicide was the theory of the defense."

This statement is in accordance with the declaration made by Supreme Court Justice Davis in his speech in which he said Nan Patterson held the gun which killed Caesar Young and that she lied from beginning to end in her testimony.

NAN HAS CHASE FOR HOTEL

Nan Patterson arrived in New York recently from Washington. She was met in Jersey City by representatives of Hurlig & Seaman. In a motor car the party started for a hotel in Manhattan, where she was told politely to look elsewhere for a room. She finally obtained a room in an uptown hotel. Meanwhile the party, which was a merry one, visited several Broadway restaurants.

Nan's chaperon was her sister, Mrs. Harriet C. Lowell, who had written in letters taken from Mrs. Morgan Smith's trunk in Cincinnati, "For God's sake, keep Morgan Smith away from New York."

It is with Hurlig & Seaman and other business agents that Nan Patterson has signed contracts containing most unusual stipulations. They are in the nature of pledges of her good behavior for a year.

SHE CONTRACTS NOT TO DRINK

She has agreed over her own signature not to drink any intoxicating liquors for one year; not to visit any saloons or cafes where liquor is sold during this period, and never to appear upon the public streets without a chaperon.

Mrs. Patterson, mother of Nan, was selected as the best person to take charge of her, but Mrs. Patterson refused to accept the position.

The unusual restrictions were placed on the contracts with the former "Florodora" girl because of the experience which Harry Seaman had on the night Nan Patterson was liberated from the Tombs. Mr. Seaman is willing to help Nan Patterson, but he does not want to accept money for an attraction at the Hurlig & Seaman theaters unless she is subjected to control.

Nan Patterson is, according to the terms of the contract, to receive $2,000 from Hurlig & Seaman for the first week, and her recompense thereafter is to depend on the success of her first week's performance.

It was agreed that Harriet C. Lowell, the sister of "Nan" Patterson, would be acceptable as a chaperon. Mrs. Lowell is a resident of New York City, and ran a little store and sold articles in the government buildings to help raise a fund to be used in the protection of her sister while she was awaiting trial.

LEVY THROUGH CASE

It is understood that Nan Patterson consented to go on the stage in order to raise money to settle with Levy & Unger and Lawyer O'Reilly, who defended her without pay. Lawyer Levy, however, said he would not accept money for his services which might be raised by Nan Patterson in this way.

"I am not a party," said Mr. Levy, "to any theatrical contracts. I disapprove of all that Nan Patterson has done since she left the Tombs. I am through with this case forever. I went into the case through a misunderstanding as to the payment of my fee, but felt in duty bound to remain as counsel for the girl. I want no girl to work to pay my fee and who stands on record as having been done without compensation."

No one in the district attorney's office yesterday would discuss any developments in the Nan Patterson case, but several private detectives were in consultation with an assistant district attorney who had charge of the case.

MISSION SOCIETIES PLAN JOINT MEETING

Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock there will be a joint meeting of the First Christian and Tabernacle Missionary Societies in the memorial room of the Christian Tabernacle. Fifth and Throckmorton streets. Reports and echoes from a recent state convention at Waco will be the leading feature of the meeting. There will also be an open parliament on the question, "What Shall We Do?" All members of both societies and all others interested in hearing from the convention are cordially invited.

EXACTNESS OVERTONE

A tale is told of a Kansas minister, a great precisionist in the use of words, whose exactness sometimes destroyed the force of what he was saying. On one occasion, in the course of an eloquent prayer, he pleaded:

"O Lord, waken Thy cause in the hearts of this congregation and give them new eyes to see and new impulse to do. Send down Thy lev-er or lee-vee, according to Webster's or Worcester's dictionary, whichever Thou usest, and pry them into activity."—"Under the Spreading Chestnut Tree," Everybody's Magazine for June.

YOUNG HUNTER SHOOTS HIMSELF

Accidental Discharge of Shotgun Causes Immediate Death

A sad death by accident took place near this city Sunday in which Walter Thomas, aged 14 years, of 1210 East Third street, lost his life.

Young Thomas, with a companion named Jesse Parker, had spent Saturday fishing and hunting in the country and the two boys were returning to Fort Worth between 8 and 9 o'clock Sunday morning when a double-barreled shotgun carried by Thomas was accidentally discharged, as he left the wagon to shoot a bird. The charge tore away the greater part of his face, death being almost instantaneous.

Funeral services were held from the family residence this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

HUNTING WOLVES AT MINERAL WELLS

Visitors to Popular Health Resort Enjoy Taste of Presidential Sport

MINERAL WELLS, Texas, May 22.—The visitors and patrons of this "town of drink" are enjoying a grade of sport not to be had at most summer and health resorts—that of wolf chasing.

Twice during the past week the famous pack of wolf hounds, a twenty-three in number, owned by Mr. Austin of this place, were carried out into the mountains east of town, but no wolves could be located, it being so dry. But Friday night, after the day's shower, several of the visitors went out under the direction of Frank Glidewell, an old wolf hunter, and by 9 o'clock a live chase began about three miles east of the city and some rare "canine" music was enjoyed for over four and one-half hours, the wolf being caught at about 1 a. m. He was a large, heavy gray one and the hunters returned well pleased and ready to go again at the first opportunity.

No torture to that of a rheumatic. Prescription No. 2851, by Elmer & Amend, quickest relief of all. For sale by all druggists.

DECISION AFFECTS FOREIGN CORPORATIONS

Indian Territory Judge Makes Ruling Sustaining Arkansas Law

MUSKOGEE, I. T., May 22.—Judge Raymond in the court of the western district, has rendered a decision which will affect nearly every foreign corporation doing business in the Indian Territory. The case is that of the T. H. Rogers Lumber Company, which had brought suit against A. S. McKee to collect for material furnished by the company to build a house for the defendant. The attorney for the defendant raised the point that the company is a foreign corporation and had no one at Muskogee to represent it as required by law. Judge Raymond sustained the point and dismissed the suit.

Under the Arkansas law which governs Indian Territory, a foreign corporation that wishes to do business in the Indian Territory must keep a representative in the town where the incorporation papers were filed, upon whom service may be had. If the corporation fails to do this, all its contracts are void in case suit is brought upon them.

BIG SIGHT-SEEING AUTOS

Scores of big automobiles are used for sight-seeing in New York City. They have been made larger and larger, until one is now trundling along the streets with seating capacity on top for eighty persons. The rear seats are higher than those in front, like the arrangement in a theater. The commissioner of police was asked for the passage of an ordinance limiting the width of machines used in the public streets.

We Paid $100,000

For Ligozone. Yet We Give You a 50c Bottle Free

We paid $100,000 for the American rights to Ligozone; the highest price ever paid for similar rights on any scientific discovery. We did this after testing the product for two years, through physicians and hospitals, in this country and abroad. We cured all kinds of germ diseases with it—thousands of the most difficult cases obtainable. We proved that in germ troubles it always accomplishes what medicine cannot do. Now we ask you to try it—try it at our expense. Test it as we did; see what it does. Then you will use it always, as we do, and as millions of others do. You will use it, not only to get well, but to keep well. And it will save nearly all of your sickness.

Kills Inside Germs

Ligozone is not made by compounding drugs, nor is there alcohol in it. Its virtues are derived solely from gas—large-ly oxygen gas—by a process requiring immense apparatus and fourteen days' time. This process has, for more than twenty years, been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research.

The result is a liquid that does what oxygen does. It is a nerve food and blood food—the most helpful thing in the world to you. Its effects are exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying. Yet it is a germicide so certain that we publish on every bottle an offer of $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. The reason is that germs are vegetable; and Ligozone—like an excess of oxygen—is deadly to vegetable matter.

There lies the great value of Ligozone. It is the only way known to kill germs in the body without killing the tissues, too. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it cannot be taken internally. Medicine is almost helpless in any germ disease.

Germ Diseases

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Ligozone attacks the germs, wherever they are. And when the germs which cause a disease are destroyed, the disease must end, and forever. That is inevitable.

DIAMONDS WORTH $90,000 MISSING

Police Unable to Find Trace of Three Gems Stolen from Tiffany's

NEW YORK, May 22.—No trace has been found of the three diamonds worth $90,000, reported as having been stolen about May 4, from Tiffany's work rooms. All the detectives and police officials engaged on the case are maintaining the greatest possible secrecy but it has been learned that their efforts thus far have been in the direction of closing all the markets here and abroad where the thief might seek to dispose of the gems. While these measures may prevent the sale of the booty, they also greatly accentuate the difficulty of detection. If the gems already have been sold, it is thought that they were smuggled abroad by someone to whom they were entrusted by the robber and who is unknown to the police, for all even remotely connected with the matter have been, from the first, under a close surveillance and it would have been difficult for them or any of their intimates to make the least movement to which suspicion might be attached without immediately bringing the police down upon them.

After gathering up the loose ends of the case and examining the results, the police are understood to have reached the conclusion that the thief owed his inspiration if not its actual execution to a professional who prompted an employe to the deed, promising a rich return for practically little risk.

A New York woman erected over the grave of her pug dog a monument on which there is an inscription of which this is part:

"Not annihilation, but living still, He waits and watches in eternity." This is one of the few cases in which a pug is acting as a watchdog.

THE RESULT OF PROSPERITY

That prosperity has returned to the cattlemen of Texas and the southwest is already an apparent fact. Conditions are now better from every standpoint than they have been for years. Cattle are bringing remunerative prices when sold on the leading markets, and out in the range country the prices paid for all classes of stuff are such as to carry the mind back to the time when there was no talk of depression and every man engaged in the production of cattle was steadily adding to his bank account.

An unprecedented demand for purebred bulls of serviceable age is the feature of the fine stock business this season. It was late in starting, but when it did arrive there was no mistaking it. Breeders who at the usual selling time desisted of selling out their own bulls, because bull buyers were scarce, are now disposing of their own herds were too small to meet.

This demand has come largely from the range country, and has been for lots of one to five car loads. During the last two or three years the range cattlemen and the big ranches of the southwest country have not been buying bulls very liberally. Cattle prices were low, and they kept their bulls in service longer than they would had they had the cattle industry been more prosperous. But prices revived the last winter, and last spring there was an almost unprecedented demand for young stock from the big herds of the southwest. Cattlemen were overrun with buyers, and were able to dispose of all their yearlings and 2s at a material advance in prices over the preceding year. Besides, they had plenty of grass and were in a position to hold their cattle for better prices.

These southwestern cattlemen had one fact strongly impressed upon them at this time, and that was that it paid to grow high grade cattle. Feeders from the corn belt showed a decided preference for high grade young stock, and were willing to pay a premium to get it. The nearer it came to being pure bred the better they liked it. This high grade young stock has earned a reputation among the feeders of the corn belt, because of the readiness with which it responded to feed and the favor with which it met in northern markets when fed out. The southwestern cattlemen have been firmly convinced that it is to their advantage to cultivate this market for young stock. The Daily Drivers' Telegram has been a firm believer in this method of handling the product of the big cattle outfits of the southwest. It has pointed out repeatedly the advantages that have accrued to several concerns from advertising their cattle in the live stock press at the northern markets, and of breeding up their herds in order to be ready to supply the demand for high grade breeding stock. The experience of the past few months has shown the wisdom of this course. Accordingly the cattlemen of the southwest began to cull out their old bulls, and especially their grades, and ship them off to be slaughtered, and to replace them with fresh, pure bred stock.

"Big bulls" was the cry from nine buyers out of ten, and men who had unfortunately been obliged to winter a bunch of 2-year-olds, found themselves in the height of favor. Older bulls were equally sought, and some buyers offered to fill their entire orders with mature animals. Three weeks ago The Telegram was in receipt of inquiries that would have taken 500 bulls to fill, and nearly all called for stuff twenty months old or over. These inquiries were sent out to advertisers and became the means of locating most of the larger bunches. Since that time the search for bulls for the range has become more active and small bunches that were ignored at first are being bought up. Yearlings are now being accepted on order that could not be filled with 2-year-olds, and the advisability of buying up young things and holding them for next season's trade has suggested itself. Grades and inferior purebreds are the last things wanted. A prominent bull commission firm with yards at South Omaha reports that the call for high-class Shorthorns has broken all records with them and on this sort good strong prices have been realized. Assistant Secretary House of the American Hereford Breeders' Association says that the call for Hereford bulls is the greatest he has known in his twenty years' connection with the Hereford industry.

During the time that there was stagnation and depression in the cattle business in the range country the eastern breeders rapidly accumulated a surplus of fine breeding stock. With the prices being realized for the range stuff in the leading markets of the country down to such a low ebb as to barely pay the cost of production, there was no incentive to keep up the work of herd improvement. The hundreds of thousands of dollars already invested in that direction seemed almost that much dead capital, and the general disposition was to call a halt in the general expense account. The work of herd improvement languished, the demand for good breeding stock fell off, and notwithstanding the eastern breeders reduced prices about one-half, the range man was not persuaded to buy.

But conditions have again changed. With the return of prosperity has come the realization that the cattle produced in Texas, while the peer of those produced elsewhere, do not yet fully measure up to the requirements of the situation. The disposition to further improve the herds has been revived, and the result is a lively and almost unprecedented demand for fine breeding stock. The herds in Texas are going to be made better than ever before. Quality is to take the place of quantity, and hundreds of thousands of dollars will again be spent upon the range herds.

This is the direct result of the return of prosperity. The Texas cattlemen is not content to remain in any kind of a rut. He has simply been resting briefly, and from now on there is going to be something doing in cattle improvement all over the range country. Johann Hoch, the Chicago Bluebeard who is alleged to have had forty wives, and who is believed to have made away with the majority of them, has been convicted of a charge of murder and the death penalty has been assessed. The jury in the case was only out about thirty minutes, and the celebrity with which they did their work shows that there is not much prospect of anything but just retribution for the prisoner. Hoch was very much surprised at the verdict, doubtless thinking he could work the same telling blandishments on the court and jury that seem to have caused such a flutter in feminine hearts.

The indictment of the officials of the national bank which recently failed in Abilene, by the federal court at Dallas last week, was a great surprise to the friends of the men who are implicated. James G. Lowdown, president of the bank and late republican nominee for governor, is a man who has always stood high in public estimation and has done much for the development of West Texas. Otto Steffens and W. J. Thompson are also prominent and honored citizens of Abilene, and the friends of all the men implicated hope to see them prove able to clear themselves of any semblance of wrong doing in the premises.

President Roosevelt has assumed all responsibility for the action taken by the government in determining to purchase supplies for the Panama canal at the cheapest available market. He says no political principle is involved in the situation, and it is a matter of duty to save all possible in the construction of this great enterprise. All of which is very true, but it will hardly satisfy those interests which have been waiting for the opportunity to bleed the government through the furnishing of the requisite supplies.

The United States district attorney with headquarters in San Antonio, claims to have secured some important evidence in the matter of the operations of the alleged beef trust in this state from a visit to Governor Lanham. The story hardly seems probable, for if the governor had any information of this kind it would no doubt be turned over to the attorney general of the state instead of being delivered into the hands of a federal official.

As the public school constitutes the sole educational advantage enjoyed by a very large majority of our children, the idea should always be to make the public school just as efficient and thorough as possible. Many people do not believe that shortening the course in the public school is a step in the proper direction.

More than 75,000 pension claims have already been filed at Washington by participants in the late war with Spain, and at this rate by the time peace is fully restored in the Philippines there will be a pension due every man, woman and child in the United States. Why not take time by the forelock and proceed at once with a great semi-annual distribution?

The Russians are said to be waiting for the Japs to attack them on the sea, and the Japs seem to be waiting for the Russians to take the lead in precipitating the engagement. And when it does come the world is going to learn of some very desperate fighting. If the Japs win there will be peace without much honor for the Muscovites.

Quite a number of Texas railway attorneys have spent several days in New York recently in conference with the holders of Texas railway securities over the matter of recent legislation and rate reduction in this state. The eastern people are said to be greatly disturbed over the situation, but the proposed plan of action has not yet been made public.

Paul Morton, secretary of the navy, does not give the people of Galveston much satisfaction in the matter of the complaint filed against the conduct of a naval officer in that port recently. Secretary Morton gives the people of Galveston to understand that he is the man who is running the United States navy.

The federal grand jury that has been engaged in considering the beef trust situation in Chicago has adjourned until June 7, when it will re-convene and pass upon the indictments that are being prepared by the district attorney. Just who is to be indicted has not yet been made public.

GLEANINGS FROM THE EXCHANGES

The pistol toter must go and it is up to the press to create a sentiment that will break up this blighting evil.—Orange Tribune. The Texas press is doing its full duty in the effort to suppress the pistol habit. It is now up to the officers to enforce the law.

An eastern union by Western Union is what was accomplished the other day when a couple were married by telegraph a thousand miles apart.—Cleveland Enquirer. It is a wonderful medium that can bring people so far apart so close together.

The Chicago packers complain that the federal grand jury treats them like common criminals. What the country wants to see is a trial jury treating them that way.—Houston Post. But not until they are proven guilty. The law presumes all men to be innocent until their guilt is established by competent evidence.

Governor Lanham presented the lawmakers a handsome bouquet just before the hour came for the Twenty-ninth to pass into the hands of the grade digger. He loves 'em, but was willing to part with 'em.—Dallas Times-Herald. And so were we all. There has not been one word of regret over the legislative adjournment except from the Austin husheries.

WITH THE CATTLEMEN

THE MIDLAND COUNTRY Tom Martin, the well-known cowman of Midland, spent Saturday in the city on his way home from Denver, where he has been for the past two weeks.

"They have had some very cold weather in Colorado recently," said Mr. Martin. "There was a heavy snow there this last week, and more hail than I have ever seen before at one time. This hail extended all the way from Denver to Pueblo, and was very fierce, doing some little damage."

"Conditions in that country from the standpoint of the cattlemen are about all that one could ask. Cattle are in splendid shape; grass is excellent and every one is feeling fine."

"I have not heard of any large sales of late, in that respect everything seems very quiet. There is of course considerable movement of cattle, but in most instances it is simply the delivery of cattle from recent trades."

"There are a great many cattle in Colorado this year, and will more than likely be held there on account of the good grass to be had."

"I haven't been home in sixteen days, but reports that have reached me from Midland are encouraging. Grass seems to be in good shape, and so far as I can learn, cattle are doing well."

PACKING HOUSE IMPROVEMENTS Now that it has been demonstrated that the antiseptic tanks installed by the packers will not properly purify the waste water coming from the two plants, the packers, in conjunction with the Stock Yards Company, will erect two large plants for the purpose of distilling the waste water and using it again in the boilers.

The plant will be so constructed that the substance extracted from the water can be dried. This will be collected and used in the manufacture of fertilizer. Armour & Co. already have a large fertilizer plant in this city and the Swift Company has one in course of construction. The solution of this problem will remove one of the greatest sources of complaint against the packing houses in Fort Worth.

In Kansas City, Kan., where the large packing houses have been for years, the buildings, and in fact all the surroundings, have become so thoroughly inoculated with the impurities that it is doubtful if any sanitary measures can ever again purify the neighborhood. For this reason, Fort Worth has room to congratulate herself that the management of the packing plants and the stock yards have exerted themselves in an effort to prevent such conditions as this occurring in this community.

WANTS TEXAS CATTLE P. W. Purrott, a Kansas City buyer, is in Fort Worth for the purpose of purchasing some Texas cattle.

"There has been a good demand in the north for Texas raised cattle," said Mr. Purrott, "but the high price at which cattle has been held by Texas owners has prevented the movement to the northern pastures. This has been brought about largely by the splendid condition of the southern grass, and the fact that Texas cattlemen have revived their hopes and are holding for higher prices."

"I am a buyer, and as such desire to be fair in all my comments to both the buyers and sellers. There were instances in the early part of the season when several bunches of cattle went at ridiculous low prices, but there are cases recently where this renewed hope has encouraged owners to hold inferior stuff for a higher price than feeders could afford to pay and realize any profits in the end."

"Such cases as this have done an injustice to both sides. In some places poor cattle are being kept on poor grass in Texas. They will be sent to the market in this same condition, at a time when the market is apt to be loaded, and will not only sell for a price lower than of feed earlier in the season, but will tend to lower the value of all other cattle happening on the market at that time."

"On the other hand, many feeders have vast lands of fenced pastures, purchased for feeding purposes, but on account of the high prices, have been forced to leave the land lay idle and the grass, good grass, too, go to waste."

"This may affect the price and the demand next year, as it is probable that many feeders will dispose of this land before the next season, rather than take chances on a repetition of this season."

"There is a right price for cattle, regulated by supply and demand. When this price goes out of line some one is hurt. This time it is the buyer who is hurt."

"Still, there are a great many cattle from Texas in Kansas and Missouri pastures lands, most of which come from the Panhandle country. These cattle are doing well, and while few feeders bought high and may lose money, the bulk of them who bought right will come out of the season with good liberal profits."

"There is at present a good demand for Texas yearlings, but this demand will let up soon, as they will not have time to finish for the market if moved later. This demand has been largely supplied by this time, however, and one might say that the demand for southern cattle in the north is about over for this season."

The Twenty-ninth legislature adjourned May 14, 1906. The day should be made a perpetual holiday.—Waco Times-Herald. Sunday, May 14, 1906, will long be remembered in Texas as the one day upon which the state legislature discharged its real duty.

Another report of a boll weevil exterminator has been published. This time the scene of his appearance is laid in Bee county. It may yet be found that the boll weevil, like every other created thing, has his natural enemy.—San Antonio Express.

These boll weevil exterminators are very much like the patent cotton pickers—of easy discovery but of little practical benefit. The best method by which to exterminate the boll weevil is with a hammer.

The charges made by the Chicago Record-Herald that the labor unions of that city have hired professional thugs and murderers to kill strike breakers is one of those serious charges that the unions themselves should investigate and prove the facts.—Austin Statesman.

Must be some mistake about that; union labor does not hire thugs to murder strike breakers. It may have been done in some instances by individual members of some labor unions, but it is unjust to ascribe such action to the labor unions themselves.

Mr. Roosevelt began the agitation against rice suicide, and the children of the future may be taught to regard the materialization or reincarnation of Santa Claus. For this reason that Bee county man, who is the father of twenty-four children, ought to make himself known to the president. A life pension might follow.—San Antonio Express.

The man who is the father of twenty-four children ought to be satisfied with that achievement without indulging in the belief that he has anything else coming.

It is being pointed out by several of the Herald's exchanges that an excellent season has been put in the ground for the planting of a large acreage of June corn. A good crop of June corn fed to pigs will make more per acre than cotton and with a much less amount of manual labor.—Denison Herald.

There is plenty of time yet in which to plant Mexican June corn, and the probabilities are that a great deal of it will be planted.

Say, the only way to do about laws is to strictly enforce them. If they are bad it will show up and they can be repealed, if good you get the more benefit.—Gainesville Signal.

The quickest method of getting rid of a bad law is to enforce it, and the way to get the benefit of a good law is also to enforce it. Public sentiment is the power behind all laws.

this season, so far as our section of the country is concerned," said R. H. Collins of Merkel. "We have had just the desired amount of rain. Not enough to make the grass sappy, but sufficient to cause it to develop fully and gather the maximum of nutriment."

"The rains have not been continuous, but of the nature of showers, though each rain was a good one. If we could have five such seasons as this one has been in West Texas would be the Paradise of the entire world."

"Not only have the cattle interests been benefited by the rains and good season, but the entire community of interests. Crops are fine, cotton and corn are better than ever and we have some cats there that will take the premium at any world's fair.

"There has not been much trading done of late. Some offers have been made and refused. Barbee & Douglass refused an offer of $13 around for 300 head of their steer yearlings, and have moved the entire bunch, consisting of 500 head, to the plains country, near Canyon City."

"Fred Halo has just shipped a good spring of eastern cattle that were unloaded at Merkel and went on pasture near there. The cattle originated near Greenville."

"Horses and mules are mighty scarce in that country. I have never seen them so scarce or so high. I think it would be a good thing for some one to ship a few car loads in there."

cannot spend as much on improvements. There are two choices for the young man entering journalism. He can start out in the dewy morning to fraternize with other business men, getting renewed inspiration from the din and roar of the city mart, closing down his desk when the day ignominiously ends, having put his paper brimming with the day's events into the hands of his fellow citizens. Or he can join the pallid night workers, and when all other honest people are in bed, get the afternoon paper and the shears and proceed to begin to commence to get ready to go to press.—Austin News-Tribune.

THE EVENING NEWSPAPER A WINNER Nine out of every ten persons you meet say, "I prefer an evening paper." There is a reason for this. Most of the happenings chronicled by the daily press take place after the stores and offices open for the day's work. The paper that gives these happenings the same day they occur is logically the paper which the people want. Very many people tell you that they haven't time to read the morning paper until after supper, though this process naturally throws them still farther behind the world's progress, practically to the day before yesterday.

The fact that the afternoon papers all over the country, although so much younger than their morning competitors, are carrying double and treble the number of subscribers testifies that the same demand that called this feature of journalism into existence, is taking good care of it.

The morning papers are suffering financially from this fierce competition which the American people have called forth, as is evidenced by the derogatory articles appearing from time to time, which, if true, would annihilate instead of help the evening papers.

The afternoon papers are noted for their enterprise and civic interest. They are wide-awake because the men who make them sleep at night. The News-Tribune stated in these columns at the beginning of this new management that this paper would be jappy and up-to-now, and the promise is being fulfilled, as the many bouquets and increasing patronage testify. But there are many interesting innovations in store for the patrons as soon as the reorganization is complete. The News-Tribune is "a journal" in practice as well as in name.

The morning papers are by no means approaching dissolution, but they must be content from now on to play second fiddle because of the know-a-god-thing-when-they-see-it American people. The largest circulation logicity brings the largest advertising patronage, so the morning paper has no chance to be the financial success it used to be and hence

PANTHERS SCORE ANOTHER SHUTOUT

Temple Boll Weevils Unable to Find Pitcher Walsh, Who Makes Good

A triple play, the first at Haines park since 1896 and the first in the Texas League this year was witnessed by the Sunday crowd who saw the Panthers shut out Temple for the second time by a score of 3 to 0.

The triple occurred in the eighth, which was easily the big inning of the game. Burke got a clean hit over third and advanced to second as Kitchens made first on a bad throw by Boles.

Another circus play that robbed the Panthers' batting averages was made by Shelton who pulled in a hot one Sullivan started down the line path and whizzed it over to first.

Run getting was confined to the first and eighth innings. Fort Worth started off with a merry pace after blanking the visitors one, two, three, Sullivan, after fouling to the left field fence, struck out. Hubbard hit to left and went to second on Burleson's single to right. Willis went out at first to Vitter unassisted, both men advancing a base. Poindexter then recognized the opportunity, sending a clean hit to center, scoring two earned runs and going to third on a bad throw home. Boles ended the tally making, going out, pitcher to first.

The other tally made had as causes, a two-bagger by Sullivan, a sacrifice by Hubbard, Burleson's out and a wild throw by short in an effort to catch Willis at first.

Table with columns AB, R, BH, PO, A, E for Fort Worth and Temple players.

Score by innings: Fort Worth 0 0 0 0 0 1 1 3 3; Temple 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0.

Summary—Earned runs, Fort Worth 2; stolen bases, Poindexter 2, Kitchens 1; two-base hits, Willis, Sullivan; struck out, by Walsh 7, by Mitchell 7; bases on balls, off Mitchell 1, off Walsh 1; wild pitch, Mitchell; sacrifice hits, Hubbard, Kitchens. Time of game—1 hour and 20 minutes. Umpire—Clarke.

NOTES OF THE GAME

Four attempts to steal second in the fourth by Blair running for Shelton, one of them ending in a pretty slide, were called off by fouls.

Shelton limped over the field with an off foot in an Elk uniform shoe. The crowd liked good plays on either side, the ovation given McGinnis being a wonder.

when Burke got there in the eighth and wished he hadn't. Blair relieved Powell behind the plate in the seventh.

TRIPLE PLAY The last triple play in this city until Sunday was that made in '96 by Steinfeldt and Myers. Steinfeldt on second nabbed a hot one and touching his bag made two put outs, throwing to first and catching the other man. Had Boles instead of Hubbard caught the return throw Sunday, he too would have been given credit for two put outs.

TIGERS SHUT OUT AUSTIN

Senators Got Nine Hits, Badly Sentenced WACO, Texas, May 22.—Austin was shut out by the Tigers yesterday by a score of 3 to 0. Though the Senators got nine hits they were never able to make more than two in succession and on this account could not get a man around the bags. Waco gave Heinz, in the box, excellent support. Second in catching the return throw Sunday, he too would have been given credit for two put outs.

Table with columns AB, BH, PO, A, E for Austin and Waco players.

CORSICANA WINS AGAIN

DALLAS, Texas, May 22.—Dallas again suffered defeat at the hands of the Oiler tallenters. Two thousand five hundred spectators yesterday saw Corsicana get two tallies to one of Dallas, outplaying the Maloneyites at all stages of the game. McIver and Block for Corsicana both lined out two-baggers in the sixth, thus earning one run, while an error by Dallas gave the Oilers their other tally.

Table with columns AB, BH, PO, A, E for Corsicana and Dallas players.

two-base hits, McIver, Block, Bero; sacrifice hits, Salm, Bero; passed ball, Jutz; hit batter, Huddleston; wild pitch, Huddleston; bases on balls, Huddleston 4, Blumling 5; left on bases, Corsicana 10, Dallas 8. Time of game—1 hour and 35 minutes. Umpire—Sheehan.

BASEBALL FATAL TO THREE PLAYERS

NEW YORK, May 22.—"Now you've got it, Jimmie!" The pitcher's got a glass arm. Run! He was a victim of his ambition to become a professional ball player, raved in delirium at his home, No. 364 West Eleventh street, until death put an end to his sufferings.

He was the "best catcher in the Ninth ward," and some day, he felt sure, he would star for the Giants. On Monday, while playing in the grounds of the Sacred Heart Academy in the Bronx, a foul tip struck him over the ear. Hemorrhage of the brain followed.

Was Put Out; Then Died

CHICAGO, May 22.—The sudden death of Edwin W. Johnston was put an end to a ball game in which he was a player.

Johnston was at bat just before his first base. He hit the ball and ran to first base. He was put out. When he reached the base he turned to run back to where other players were. He had gone but a few feet when he fell forward and died almost instantly.

It is believed Johnston died of heart failure, due to over exertion. He was 28 years old.

Lack of Mask Fatal

NEW YORK, May 22.—While catching in a game of baseball in Brooklyn, James Miles, a youth, was almost instantly killed by a pitched ball. Miles wore no mask while behind the bat. A very fast ball which he failed to stop struck him between the eyes. He was carried by home where he was found and the skull had been fractured. Death ensued in a few minutes.

JUDGE WILLING IS DEAD

End Comes to Former Resident at Hazelhurst, Miss.

John C. Ryan is back from Hazelhurst, Miss., where he and Mrs. Ryan and Miss Mamie Willing were called by the fatal illness of Judge R. P. Willing, father of Mrs. Ryan and Miss Willing. Judge Willing was an honored resident of Fort Worth from 1885 to 1891, when he was a leader among the bar of this city. He was senior member of the law firm of Willing & O'Neal, the junior member being Judge J. M. O'Neal, and this firm were legal attorneys for the Fort Worth and Denver City railroad, the B. C. Evans Company and other large institutions. This news of the death of Judge Willing brings deep regret among the older members of the bar in Fort Worth, who were associated with him in many important cases, and who remember him as a singularly pure minded man and a conscientious lawyer.

The New Orleans Pleayune said: Judge R. P. Willing, a prominent lawyer and citizen of Hazelhurst, died here yesterday at his residence, after an illness which has extended over a period of three years. At the time of his death Judge Willing was 69 years of age, and had been a resident of this county for the greater part of that period, during which he had occupied a conspicuous position before the bar of this county.

The pall bearers at the funeral were Attorney General Williams of Jackson, Hous. R. N. Miller, J. S. Sexton, J. H. Wilson, J. A. Guyton and J. C. Dodd, all of the Hazelhurst bar. The services were conducted by Rev. C. F. Emery of the Methodist church, assisted by Dr. S. C. Caldwell of the Presbyterian church and Rev. W. J. Williams of the Baptist church. The business houses were closed during the funeral ceremonies.

The high estimation in which Judge Willing was held among the people who knew him most intimately is attested by the following tribute to his memory from the Hazelhurst (Miss.) Courier: "The innate modesty of the man bordered on timidity. With such native ability, fine education and habits of investigation and thoughtfulness, had he been a man of aggressiveness and self-assertion, he could have filled very high professional positions. His mind was of the philosophical type. He would have been an ornament to the supreme bench of the state. He would have been an admirable expounder in a law school. While at the university he was the companion of many who afterward became conspicuous in professional and public life, and he was their acknowledged peer. Among these were Judge Tregell, Dr. Witherspoon, V. L. Terrell, H. L. Muldrow and H. D. Money. More than fifteen years ago one of them said to the writer: 'I knew Judge R. P. Willing at the university, and I have known him ever since the war, and he is my ideal of a Christian gentleman.' Less than a year ago a similar remark was made by one of the brightest young men of Crystal Springs.

"In the court room he spurned everything that was dishonest. He would not prevail. A friend, a lawyer who knew him for more than twenty years, testifies that his statements in the court room were always absolutely true. The same friend also says that a purer minded man never lived. In his office, on the streets, in the court room, no sentence ever fell from his lips that would have been impugned to use in his own family.

"An exemplary life of more than half a century is the record of Judge Willing. He was a worthy and valuable citizen in every community in which he has lived. He was a promoter of good morals, of education, of philanthropy and religion. He has raised a large family of worthy sons and daughters, providing for them 'things honest in the sight of all men,' physical and mental. They received the best educational advantages of the state. Every one of the seven children is college bred. The two sons, following in the steps of their father, won distinction in the State University. And he has left them the richest of all legacies, the record of an honorable life, a stainless moral character and an unimpaired name.

"For more than forty years he was a consistent member of the Methodist church, and for the greater part of that period he was an efficient officer of the church. He was always a liberal financial supporter of the church. One who stands in the front to know says no cause of the church was allowed to pass by without his contribution."

LETTER TO BEN O. SMITH

Dear Sir: Mr H H Stephenson, Cashier of Oil City (Pa) Savings Bank writes: "Nine years ago I painted my house with your paint. It wore so well, I want to use it again."

That's nothing wonderful except for the fact that the soft coal region of Pennsylvania is pretty hard on paint with its oil, smoke and grime. All we mean in it is that Devco is good for more things sometimes. There are thousands of people that know it, and millions that don't.

There's the rub! We advertise for the millions; we want to make paint for the millions. Do you know that Devco lead-and-zinc is twice as cheap as lead-and-ol, or mixed paints? Is 100 per cent a fair profit in your business?

Three-quarters of the people paint lead-and-ol mixed by hand; while the U S Government uses lead, zinc and oil ground together by machinery—same as Devco lead-and-zinc. The majority never is right about anything.

Yours truly P. S.—Brown & Vera sell our paint.

The Silvery Lining

Grays seem to increase in popularity as the season advances. The shades range from silver to gunmetal, and we show a grand variety. And every silver gray coat we make has "the silvery lining," for we match the shade of the material in the buttons, linings, threads and twists. The inside tailoring of our garments is the subject of as great care and study as the outside, which really has made our reputation. Ask to see every thing we show.
