Record Breaking Crowd Sees Close Contest at Haines'

After holding the Giants down for four innings without a single, Walstwent shy in the fifth inning and gav up three hits, two of them doubles, an these, together with an error by Poin dexter, gave Dallas the lead that wo for them the second game by a score of 3 to 2. By all the signs the game should have been hung up in the credit column of the Panthers, for they outhit and outplayed the Giants at every stage of the game.

The game, in its latter stages, was ne of the most exciting that was ever dished out to a mob of enthusiastic faithfuls and the finish was of that whirlwind order that makes staid business men rise up and shout themselves hoarse and causes nervous oung girls to bite their finger nails. In the last inning, the Panthers kept the sacks filled all the time and the crowd was expecting most any kind of finish. Mauch, the first man up, sarted things by shoving the pellet hard by first and went to second when Sullivan planted one in center garden. Hubbard dropped the ball down to Porter and Mauch was thrown out at cuit and Butler filled it when Porter handed him four poor ones. Burleson swung hard in an effort to clear the bags, but the best be could do was to sting it down to Moran, who cut Sullivan off at the plate. Even then, the bags were filled when Boles stepped into one and put it out to left. The Panther cricuit tenants started in a rush, but only Hubbard got over the Visitors into fits.

Yesterday was one of the most notable days of the present season in more ways than one. For one thing, the crowd was the largest that has been in the park this year, the great coatless mob of fans filling the stands to their capacity and floating out into the field. From the time the first ball was thrown, it was evident that the fans would be given a full measure of baseball. There was nothing doing for either side until the fifth, when all those things happened to Walsh. Doyle, first up, obligingly put one into Sullivan's second. Fenner did the same thing in Fort Worth42 the same place and Bero scored. Por- Temple43 ter slammed one out to right and Poindexter bobbled it and booted it so much that Fenner, moving around like a street sprinkler, was enabled to cross over with the run that gave the Giants the lead-that wouldn't come

In the next inning, Maloney hit safe, and, after reaching first, drew Walsh out. The blonde one fired the ball into a crowd of fans seated comfortably on the lawn and Maloney moved over to second. He went to third when Myers was thrown out and scored when

Burleson booted Doyle's stinger. Run-making again took a slump and there was nothing doing until the heart-breaking ninth when the Panthers came so very close to gathering in the long end of the money. Umpire Clarke was taken ill during the game and had to retire. Umpire Tackaberry, who happened to be in the grandstand, umpired the remainder

Kellers Lose First Game of Season to Packing House Players

A large crowd witnessed the third series of the double-headers played at Rosen Heights ball park Sunday afternoon between Armour and Kellers, and Denver and Rosen Heights. Armours and Kellers opened the afternoon with some fast ball playing, but Kellers toward the last got shaky and met their first defeat of the season. Armour beating them by a score of 12

The feature of the first game was he hitting of Robinson, who landed four hits out of five times up, scoring two runs. He also succeeded in placing the ball for a three-bagger, as did O. Leonard for the Kellers.

In the second game Rosen Heights took the game away from Denver by a score of 10 to 6. The features of this game were the catching of F. Pulliam and Cheatham. F. Pulliam copped a sky scraper and did a very nice sprinting stunt to get it. Cheatham did a little waltzing act, a few turns and a high kick and then stuck his lunch grabbers out and got a hot liner that was prowling around his neighborhood without a license, and put an end to the day's sport. The scores were

CHICAGO, Ill., June 12 .- Our friend

Battling Nelson, who went east a short time ago to do a barn-storming stunt and pick up a little easy money, has apparently not struck such a soft snap as he anticipated. First, Abe Attell made him look ridiculous at Philadelphia. Then, at Baltimore, Kid Sullivan knocked him through the ropes, and, so say the re-R. A. Sayward of Denver is in the ports, deserved much better than a draw decision. Finally at Philadelphia on Tuesday last, Jack O'Neill pounded him viciously for three rounds, though Dane's superior weight told in the last three sessions, for, be it remembered, Nelson has been stipulating that his op ponents do 130 pounds, while refusing to make weight himself. Such is the pre rogative of a top-notcher on a one-nightstand expedition. However, there nothing very surprising in all this, the Battler has never been much of a six-round fighter. He is what is termed among horsemen, a "slow beginner." bu ne gets better as the fight progresses and in a twenty-round bout would probably make any of these youngsters who showed so well against him good and tired before the end was reached.

> nity for evading another match with him for the time being. Instead, the foxy "native son" has taken on the abovementioned Kid Sullivan for the July date in 'Frisco, hailing the Baltimorean as Nelson's conqueror, and hence more worthy of a match with him, the great Britt, It has been apparent for some time that Mr. Britt has been hunting for just such an excuse, and, in fact, his plan was to fight the winner of the Corbett-Hanlon go, counting, of course, on the probability of Corbett being the victor. However, Hanlon upset that plan by turning the tables on the Denverites (some say the referee helped him a good deal in the undertaking), and Britt, who never loses sight of the commercial end of a prospective bout, realizing that there would be no great money in his fighting Hanlon again, called off the deal,

If Britt, however, is looking for chance to make money, he can make barrel of it by meeting and defeating Battling Nelson within the next few months. There is no doubt that the contest would draw far and away the biggest audience Chicago for several weeks, has returned that has turned out in San Francisco for home. come to that way of thinking sooner or later and then we shall see a fight worth

Root's Chicago friends think their champion has a great chance to win—and so he has. BEEF TRUST INVESTIGATION

CHICAGO, June 12 .- Acting under telegraphic instructions from United States District Attorney Morrison, who is still in Washington conferring with Attorney General Moody, the federal grand jury began a perusal of the testimony of the 00 or more witnesses in the beef inquiry, with a view to reaching concluions as to whether the evidence pre sented is sufficient to warrant the votng of indictments against the heads of the big picking houses.

When the grand jury met at 10 o'clock Assistant District Attorney Godman informed the jurors that Mr. Morrison was not in the city, but that he expected momentarily to hear from him. An adjournment was taken until 2 o'clock, when the jury reassembled and spent two hours reviewing testimony, the message from Washington having arrived in the mean-

Mr. Morrison informed Attorney Godman that the inquiry would be pushed to the end on the lines originally mapped out and that if the grand jury regards the evidence as strong enough to go ahead and vote indictments. Mr. Godman informed the jury of the purport of this message, and told them that both Mr. Morrison and Assistant Attorney General Pagin would return to Chicago the latter part of the week.

The utmost secreey was enjoined upor attaches of the district attorney's of flees, the secret service bureau and the United States marshal's office. Attorney Godman, Special Agent St. Clair, and Captain Thomas I. Porter of the secret service bureau declined to confirm the report that the department of justice had ordered the investigation to be carried out to the letter. The doors leading to the grand jury room were guarded as usual by Deputy Marshal Buckner.

It is expected that considerable time will be consumed by the grand tury in reviewing the great mass of testimony, covering more than 2,000 pages. Presence in the city today of Judge Otis J. Hum phrey of Springfield, who impaneled the grand tury on March 21, gave rise to a report that indictments would be voted and returned at once. It is considered hardly probable that the jury will make any sensational moves until the return of Mr. Morrison and Mr Pagin, as the latter has the forms of the indictments with him in Washington.

I was disappointed with his appearance, for Segur had told me he was a man of brains. The man was short and bull-necked, with a very small head and beady, twinkling eyes; moreover, his manners were decidedly gauche and boorcoarse, insolent stare which disgusted

I had thought very little about the upshot of the encounter, but now when the point came I determined if possible to kill him; it would mean, at all events, one enemy less for England to fight, and whatever the reason, or lack lated beneath, in a handwriting unof reason, for our meeting I could not known and yet strangely familiar to forget he was my country's enemy.

The swords were put into our hands and gravely we saluted, then crossed blades with a clang. Of a sudden an old trick of fence occurred to me; I made a pass and sprang back, my sword upraised. For 10 minutes he compelled me to fight on the defensive, and in that time he had pricked me twice; once on the forehead, a mere graze, and again in the left forearm from other sources. Superintendent Declares Present Appropriation Will Be

Expended by September

J. Q. Chenoweth, superintendent of the Confederate home at Austin, was present at the meeting of Lee Camp, U. C. V., Sunday, and told in detail of the troubles between himself and the state legislature. His statements were plain and un-varnished. He complained of niggardly attitude by the legislature in not making proper appropriations for the maintenance of the home and said that the time would never come when the Confederate veterans of the state would ever permit the affairs of the institution to be run by

"I had much rather that the home be dissolved than to be conducted as a poor farm," said Colonel Chenoweth.

He added that he would resign before he would act as superintendent of a poor house. He said also that he had done his best to conduct the place properly under adverse surroundings and that the inves-tigation of the home by a legislative committe had proved that he had done his

Mr. Chenoweth said it was absolutely impossible for him to conduct the affairs of the institution and look after the fourteen buildings as they should be supervised with provisions of the state legislature. He deprecated the present policy of the legislature and said that one of Tarrant county's representatives in the legislature was partially responsible for the present deplorable condition in reference to appropriations for the home.

He said his actions in the case seemed to have offended the members of the legislature and as a result they cut out various items of the appropriations for that institution.

There are now in the home 334 inmates. he reported, but under existing conditions he was afraid that this number would have to be reduced. He said there are now on file eighty-two applications for admission to the home, but he was unable to take a single one of these old veterans into the institution on account of the lack of proper provision. Mr. Chenoweth was confident the present number of inmates would have to be reduced if he kept within the appropriation of the last legislature. GOULDS BUILDING FAST

Pacific Line to Have Record-Breaking Construction

Gould's Pacific line is to be completed by June, 1907, and the construction of the road within that time will mark the building of a railroad the quickest on record. It is to be 850 miles long. Not a spadeful of earth has yet been turned The system is to be completed, equippe and put into operation at the rate of nearly forty-five miles a month. This end of the system must be built in sections The basis of operation will be at points on a rival railroad. The Harriman line will transport men, material and equip ment for the building of the Gould line Over 100,000 tons of steel rail and over 3,000,000 railroad ties must be carried into the field.

The building of this line marks a new epoch in the west, and means that a monopoly long maintained by the Harri-man system will soon be broken. The Western Pacific is designed to save the Missouri Pacific from the fate of the local railroad. Alone, the Missouri Pacific stands in constant jeopardy. New rate regulations on the through lines may be designed to cut the local railroads out local systems pay heavy toll to rivals in possession of through trunk line routes. The wisdom of the Gould plans is questioned in no railroad office. With his network of central lines in Missouri, Texas, Arkansas and Louisiana, and with his strong Chicago line, Mr. Gould can undoubtedly support both the Gulf and Pa-cific routes. The cost of the latter is certainly heavy, but the need for it is imperative.

High waters and floods are doing much damage to railroads in Colorado. A 300foot bridge on the Denver and Rio Grande near Salida was washed away Saturday. A bridge over the Rio Grande near Tres Pledras, N. M., was also carried away by floods. At Creede the Rio Grande is higher than ever known. Much damage has been done at this point.

BUSINESS SLACK

The business of all railroads is always light during the summer months. Santa Fe, it is learned here, has pulled off two crews on the Temple division within the past week, and others will probably be laid off for the time being. Full forces will be working again in early fall, when the grain crop begins to move.

Rheumatism does more than any other disease to rob life of pleasure and comfort. It is so painful and far-reaching in its effects on the system that those afflicted with it find themselves utterly unable to enjoy bodily comfort or any of the pleasures of life. Some are bound hand and foot and suffer constantly with excruciating pains, swollen, stiff joints and muscles, and stiff joints and muscles, and often distorted, crooked limbs, while others have intervals of freedom, during which they live in constant fear and dread of the next attack, when, at the least exposure to damp weather, or slight irregularity of any kind, the disease will return.

I had been troubled with Rheumatism for two years, had been under the treatment of physicians, and tried everything recommended to me, but all to no avail. My knee and elbow joints were so stiff that I could not use them. I was unable to do my household work, and was truly in a pitiable condition. S. S. S. cured me after using it for awhile, and I unhesitatingly give it the credit it so much deserves.

Sta. A., E. Liverpool, O. MES. M. A. DECKER.

The cause of Rheumatism is a sour, acid condition of the blood, produced by food lying undigested in the stomach, poor bowel action, weak kidneys and a general sluggish condition of the system. External applications, such as liniments, oils, plasters, etc., do not reach the cause and can only give temporary relief. The blood must be cleansed and purified before a cure can be had. S. S. S. attacks the disease in the right way—it neutralizes the poison and filters out every particle of it from the blood, stimulates the sluggish organs and clears the system of all foreign matter. It cures the disease permanently and safely because it contains no harmful minerals to derange the stomach and diges-

Leopard Is Discovered Masticating Himself by Sections

NEW YORK, June 12 .- Gaston, a beautiful leopard of the Bostock animal show at Coney Island, is gradually eating himself to death. It is a freak case in the history of any living thing, and has created much interest. The leopard was originally possessed of a long and mag-nificent tall, but immediately after the arrival of the Bostock collection of animals in this country from Paris it was noticed that section by section the extension of Gaston's vertebrae was disappear-

He was quickly isolated and the case closely watched. Finally it was learned that he was eating himself up. Dr. H. Amling was called to attend the leopard, and after consultation with Mr. Bostock it was decided to perform an operation. It was thought that even if the bruite stopped his self mastication after the tail cut off and only a stub remains, which is out of the reach of Gaston's chops. The stub and Gaston are doing well.

He is named after his master, who holds him in much esteem, as he is the most intelligent animal in his group of performers, which includes lions, bears, wolves and hyenas.

Knights and Ladies of Maccabees held annual memorial services in honor of deceased members at the First Christian church Sunday night. The church was filled to its capacity and the services, participated in by members of both branches of the order,

The knights gathered on the lawn in military formation and stood at "attention" while the ladies passed by in single file and entered the church. Proceeding down the center aisle the ladies each deposited on a table a floral offering of white carna ions for the dead members. When all
