BODY OF HAY LAID TO REST

Final Honors Paid at Cleveland, O., to Late Secretary of State Department

FUNERAL SERVICE SIMPLE

Only President and Associates of Cabinet Accompany Members of Family to Grave

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 5.—At almost exactly noon today the body of John Hay was laid to rest in Lakeview cemetery. Around the open grave at the last moment stood with bowed heads the president and vice president of the United States, members and ex-members of the president's cabinet and men who in former years served with the dead secretary in the official family of President McKinley.

There were many others who willingly would have paid tribute of honor and respect to Mr. Hay, but it was the wish of the family the funeral be conducted for John Hay, the man they knew and loved in private life, and not for the brilliant and forceful premier whose name is honored wherever clean and successful statesmanship is esteemed among men.

FEW AT THE GRAVE

The assemblage at the funeral and around the grave therefore was small. These visible honors accorded him in death were in a ratio directly inverse to those freely given him in life and perhaps no greater testimony to such man could have been given than the quiet manner in which the countryman who appreciated his character and achievements stood aside at the family's wish to take hostage of the future for the endurance of his fame.

The events of the day commenced with the arrival of President Roosevelt's train at 9 a. m. and closed with his departure at 3 o'clock. The funeral itself was held between 11 and 12 o'clock, the interment being at noon.

When at 9 o'clock the special train carrying President Roosevelt and members of his cabinet arrived at the depot of the Pennsylvania road, the reception committee, composed of members of the Chamber of Commerce was in waiting and greeted the president. He went in a radio directly inverse to those freely given him in life and perhaps no greater testimony to such man could have been given than the quiet manner in which the countryman who appreciated his character and achievements stood aside at the family's wish to take hostage of the future for the endurance of his fame.

An enormous crowd gathered in front of the Chamber of Commerce to see the coming of the president and the departure of the funeral and a strong detail of police was necessary to keep them in line. Side by side with Mr. Swazey and closely followed by Vice President Fairbanks, who, in company with Governor Herrick, the cabinet and the reception committee, the president passed slowly along the hall toward the door of the auditorium in which the body lay.

The president entered and stood by the casket. Members of the presidential party followed and when all had entered the doors were swung and the sentries resumed their guard once more. It was the expressed wish of Mrs. Hay that President Roosevelt should be allowed to see the face of his secretary again if he desired to do so. When the matter was mentioned to the president he declined to disturb the existing arrangements in the slightest degree and the casket was removed. There was a brief pause, during which the president and members of the cabinet stepped forward to pay their respects to Mrs. Hay as she entered the auditorium from an ante-room and then all were ready for their departure from the hall.

OFFICERS BEAR CASKET

Members of the cabinet, present and past, advanced themselves in advance of the bier and six non-commissioned officers of troop A took their places at the side of the casket. When the honorary pallbearers moved forward the casket was raised by the cavalrymen and followed

FIREWORKS DESTROY FAMOUS LANDMARK

Brook Farmhouse, Where Emerson, Hawthorne, Dana and Others Have Lived

BOSTON, Mass., July 5.—Mischievous boys have destroyed with firecrackers the famous old Brook farmhouse, the ancient dwelling in West Roxbury where sixty years ago Ralph Waldo Emerson, George William Curtis, Margaret Fuller, Frank B. Sanborn, the elder Parker, Charles A. Dana and a dozen more kindred spirits set up their short-lived idealistic social democracy.

It was in this house that Hawthorne wrote at the beginning of his literary career. The old house had been vacant a long time.

A good idea of the extent to which red tape is carried by the British army is given by the following paragraph from recent station orders at Aden: "Stationary—53. The G. O. C. sanctioned the purchase locally of a bottle of red ink under the financial powers granted to him in A. R. I. (Army Regulations, India), Vol. III, para. 6 (II) and 7 (II)."

by members of the Hay family, the president and members of the reception committee. It was borne along the hallway and out to the funeral car at the door. At a few sharp words of command, the scurrying and tramping of hoofs, the cavalry wheeled into column and passed to the front of the cortege. There was a quick trot to the cemetery, five miles away.

The services were simple. A hymn, Tenneyson's "Crossing the Bar," was rendered by a male quartet, a passage from the Scriptures was read by Rev. H. C. Hayden, pastor of the Old Stone church. This was followed by a second hymn, "For All Saints Who from Their Labors Rest," from the quartet. A brief prayer by Dr. Hayden brought the exercises to a close. A few words to Mrs. Hay, then walked quietly to his carriage, which bore him directly to the depot. The grave and the remainder of the Hay family lot was fairly covered with flowers.

WAS VIOLATING THE SPEED LAW

President of Panama Canal Commission Driving an Automobile Too Fast

NEW YORK, July 5.—T. H. Shonts of Chicago, president of the Panama canal commission, has been arrested at Stamford, Conn., for violation of the automobile speed law. He had a party of women with him and is said to have made an eighth of a mile in 22 seconds. He put up a bond to secure his appearance in court. He was on the way to his summer home at Greenwich at the time.

NEGROES MUST TAKE BACK SEATS

Negroes in Tennessee Must Occupy the Rear Seats in the Street Cars

NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 5.—Jim Crow laws passed at a recent session of the Tennessee legislature goes into effect today. By the provisions of this law colored people must take back seats in street cars. Failure to comply with the law is a misdemeanor. The negroes here threaten to boycott the street cars.

REPORT IS ERRONEOUS

Carbondale, Col., Not Destroyed by Fire, As Reported

CARBONDALE, Col., July 5.—The report circulated last night that this town had been destroyed by fire was erroneous. The conclusion arrived at was probably due to the fact that telephone communication was interrupted by the burning of several poles. One brick and several frame buildings were destroyed, the loss being about $5,000.

46 DEAD FOR COUNTRY'S GLORY

More Than 1600 Injured in Fourth of July Accidents Throughout the U. S.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 5.—Returns up to midnight last night from all sections of the United States, covering Fourth of July fatalities, accidents and fires, show that forty-six are dead and 1,677 more seriously injured on account of the celebration. Figures a year ago up to this hour showed fatalities to be forty-eight and injured 1,545. Casualties this year show the following causes: Many more deaths are expected to ensue from this cause within the next few weeks. The advice of physicians for immediate cleansing and cauterizing of wounds containing gunpowder mixed with dirt was observed in hundreds of cases with the probable result that there will be no serious effects.

The giant cracker and the toy cannon were responsible for many serious injuries and the "gun" that went "bad" was another fruitful source of mischief. The torpedo came was the most popular instrument of amusement for children, and while there were a considerable number of casualties credited to it, the local fire say it proved to be the safest articles used in the celebration.

SEVERAL BANKS ARE AFFECTED

C. J. Devlin's Failure Closes Doors of Two National Banks

WASHINGTON, July 5.—The comptroller of the currency has appointed National Bank Examiner Cook receiver of the National Bank of Springfield, Va.

Upon advice received from Cook the bank was closed.

The comptroller also appointed National Bank Examiner J. M. McShurtz receiver for the First National Bank of Topeka, Ill., upon advice from the vice president of the bank, and it did not open for business this morning.

The suspension of these banks is due to the failure of C. J. Devlin who was president of both. The capital stock of the Springfield Valley National Bank was $50,000 and that of Topeka $100,000.

TOPEKA, Kan., July 5.—When the First National bank of Topeka, controlled by C. J. Devlin failed July 3 it was known the Devlin estate owned the Springfield Valley National Bank of Springfield, Va., and the First National bank of Topeka, Ill., which closed its doors today. Just what amounts the Devlin estate owes the two Illinois banks was not known, but it was money to build the Topeka, Marquette and Northern railroad, a small coal carrying road which Mr. Devlin is constructing to mining property in that state. This road connects with the Chicago, Topeka and Santa Fe, the Illinois Central, the Chicago and Milwaukee and St. Paul, the Chicago and Alton and the Indiana, Illinois and St. Louis. Negotiations are already in progress, it is said, to sell this railroad property, which is considered a valuable asset.

KATY FLYER STRIKES AUTO

Dr. Charles Harris' Car Is Demolished on the Second Street Crossing

GIRL SERIOUSLY INJURED

Miss Willie Parham Hurlled Seventy-four Feet by Force of the Collision

A completely demolished automobile and a woman hurled seventy-four feet in the air and seriously injured is the result of a northbound Katy passenger train crashing into the Oldsmobile of Dr. Charles Harris on East Second street this morning.

Miss Willie Parham, 16 years of age, of 298 East Eighth street, sustained a broken collar bone and bruises about the body. It is also feared that she has sustained serious internal injuries. Dr. Harris stipulation would not open its doors and resume business.

"While I believe the bank will pay every dollar of its indebtedness," he said, "it will not open again for business. I think the depositors will receive their money within a month."

C. J. Devlin's physician stated today that his patient slept well today, although under the influence of opiates and that his condition was favorable.

G. E. Hawley, cashier of the First National bank, who has been ill for some time, is said to be prostrated, a nervous wreck.

The following is a complete list of Mr. Devlin's liabilities so far as known: First National bank, Topeka, $1,200,000; Central National bank, Topeka, $200,000; Bank of Topeka, $75,000; National bank of Commerce, Kansas City, $150,000; American National bank, Kansas City, $100,000; City National bank, Kansas City, $100,000; Fourth National bank, St. Louis, $300,000; Central Trust company, Chicago, $50,000; Corn Exchange bank, Chicago, $100,000; Continental bank, Chicago, $50,000; New York Trust company, New York, $20,000; First National bank, New York, $25,000. Total, $2,825,000.

It does not include the alleged liability of $10,000 to the Baltimore company, of which nothing is known or shall unknown liabilities to the Topeka and Spring Valley, Illinois, banks.

IMPERSONATES SON OF A WEALTHY MAN

Young Man Claimed to Be Son of August Belmont

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., July 5.—Registered at a hotel in this city as H. P. Belmont, son of August Belmont of New York, a young man has been arrested for uttering forged certified checks.

COSSACKS FIRE ON LABORERS

Riot Breaks Out Afresh at the Putiloff Works in St. Petersburg

EXCITEMENT AGAIN INTENSE

Troops Charge on Laborers, Blocking the Street After Arrest of Fellow

ST. PETERSBURG, July 5.—The Cossacks fired on the Putiloff work strikers this morning. The trouble started by the arrest of a youth who was entering the works. A policeman who took him in custody suspected the young man of having dynamite in his possession. The latter, on being made a prisoner, drew a revolver and killed the policeman and was himself wounded by a bullet fired by another policeman.

The strikers quickly congregated in the church scheme to seize all the desirable sites in the reservation.

A letter has been sent out, under the direction of the first presidency to the lesser officials of the church, instructing them to organize all the young Mormons in the various wards for the purpose of getting hold of the reservation before the Gentiles come in. One sentence of the letter reads:

"We are acquainting ourselves with tracts of land which we feel are most desirable for settlement, and which, through the land office conditions being formed by us, can be chosen by those who may be in touch with us."

The publication of a copy of this letter here aroused the Gentiles, who are preparing to open an information bureau and begin regular propaganda in opposition to the Mormon plan.

President Roosevelt will be asked to issue instructions that will make difficult the carrying out of the Mormon plot, while the non-Mormons will endeavor to induce the Gentiles to take part in the drawing.

The reservation contains about 2,500,000 acres, most of it good agricultural land and the remainder in prairie, asphaltum, gold, silver, lead and copper. It would easily support a population of 100,000 persons.

The addition of 50,000 non-Mormons to Utah's population would be sufficient to wrest the state from the control of the Mormon church, so that Gentiles will be enabled to compete with Mormons in business on equal terms, which is not at present the case.

TEAMSTERS NOW SHORT OF FUNDS

Contributions Fall From $12,000 to About $1,000 a Week

CHICAGO, July 5.—A lively debate on the question of contributions to the teamsters' strike fund is looked for at the meeting of the teamsters' joint council tonight.

When the proposition is presented, it will bring to the fore the question of ending the strike. There are a number of delegates in the council who have spoken for $12,000 a week at the beginning of the strike to about $1,000 a week.

Union officials admit that the prospects are not bright for an increased strike fund. Many drivers not involved in the strike have discontinued contributing a part of their weekly wages. Contributions from unions affiliated with the Chicago Federation of Labor have decreased from $82,000 a week at the beginning of the strike to about $1,000 a week.

More applications for work by department store drivers who have been on strike were looked for today. More than 100 have sought re-employment, but comparatively few have been successful. Policemen who have been guarding wagons were assigned to their posts at street crossings and on their beats today.

CAMPBELL DISCUSSES SOME STATE ISSUES

Goes After General Managers' State Association and Denounces Consolidation

JEWETT, Texas, July 5.—The Fourth of July celebration at this place was a great success. The principal speech of the day was delivered by T. M. Campbell of Palestine.

Mr. Campbell discussed national independence, the duty of the citizens under free government, and while he disclaimed any intention to formally open his campaign for governor, he did refer to state affairs. He declared that the constitution should be upheld; that the right of self-government should be preserved, and that all laws adopted by the people in the Russian navy, the blue jackets being neglected and the officers living ashore except during brief cruises. Captain Clado in a long review affirms that the question of food was a mere pretext, the real cause being deeper in the complete lack of sympathy between the men and their officers, most of whom he says are disgustingly incompetent. Owing to their position of influence at St. Petersburg they care nothing for the good of the service of the well-being and contentment of the men.

He denounced the policy of working convicts in competition with the working man.

In the discussion of the transportation question, he said that the increase in the volume of the traffic warranted a further reduction of freight rates and that passenger rates should be reduced and the regular rate be 25c per mile and interchangeable mileage be 2c per mile.

He characterized the private car line as a graft that should not be tolerated, and that railroads should be required to own and operate all cars necessary to handle the traffic offered for shipment.

He denounced the consolidation of railroads and opposed the consolidation of cooperative wealth and said that the free pass as used by railroads in Texas, was a growing evil and should be stopped. That free passes consolidate railroads, defeat tax reforms and defeat platform demands like the Had amendments, rights of the jury box and would taint the judicial ermine.

The Railroad General Managers' Association recently organized was handled throughly. Among other things he said that "it seems that the people are taking hold of the tow line and will hereafter take a hand in directing the old ship of state. The fish are nothing if not resourceful." So the General Managers' Association has been organized. They want to educate the people. That is a new government with an ambassador to the people and their government. This new educational institution seeks closer relations with the people that it may divide forces, which should cooperate with good government, that it may prevent reduction of freight, elect governors, legislators, capture the democratic party a decentral Texas. It will seek to inject matters into the next campaign in which the railroads feel no interest for the people and their government.

He concluded with a view of obscuring important issues in which the railroads are concerned. Don't you doubt it that the General Managers' Association is a political machine resting its hopes of success in the power of free passes and the sympathy of the people. Will the railroad corporations and other selfish interests control Texas or the people is one of the questions which I will pass up to the people at the proper time." He concluded as follows: "I want to see Texas blossom as the rose, but I want her to blossom and bloom for the people."

TAYLOR FAIR OPENED

Races Under New Hancock Law Promise to Draw Well

AUSTIN, Texas, July 5.—The annual county fair at Taylor, Williamson county, was opened yesterday for three days. A large number of Austinites will leave today to attend the fair.

A big feature of the fair will be the races. Under the Hancock bill, as amended by the last legislature, fairs are protected in the betting on horse races, thus this will insure a large attendance at the three days of the show. Some fine horses from here have been shipped to Taylor to take part in the races.

Great preparations have been made by the people of Texas for this fair and from present indications it will be one of the most successful ever held at Taylor.

TO WREST UTAM FROM MORMONS

Gentiles to Take Lands on the Uintah Indian Reservation

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, July 5.—Gentiles who desire to get good homes on the Uintah Indian reservation, to be opened next September, will be offered special inducements to take part in the drawing for lands on the reservation by an organization of non-Mormons formed for the purpose of defeating a Mormon

ROSEN MAKES BONUS OFFER

Will Give $4,000 and His Company Equal Sum if New Line Passes Through Property

BEARDSLEY COMING BACK

Marion Sansom Offers $1,000 if Line Is Built Through Rosen Heights

William Capps' statement some days ago that he would be one of 100 persons to give $1,000 toward the Mineral Wells interurban bonus has called forth similar expressions from a half dozen gentlemen. The latest man to express his willingness to subscribe to the fund is Sam Rosen. If the promoters of the line will build it through Rosen Heights," said he this morning, "I personally will give $4,000 and the Fort Worth and Rosen Heights Street-Railway Company will give a like amount and right of way." Marion Sansom, who also owns land just beyond Rosen Heights, has signified his willingness to give $1,000 and fight of way through his property if the road is built by way of Rosen Heights.

These offers may influence the builders of the road to route it through Rosen Heights and then to take up the general northwestern route as proposed. Major Beardsley is expected in Fort Worth some time this week and he may be approached with the suggestion to enter the city by way of Rosen Heights.

Captain Faddock of the Board of Trade, chairman of the committee that has in hand the work of securing the bonus for the road, will send out a call for a meeting of all the members of the committee. This meeting was to have been held Monday morning, but owing to the proximity of Independence Day it was decided to postpone it until some time later in the week. At this meeting the committee will consider Major Beardsley's statement that he cannot afford to accept the bonus of $1,000 per mile.

STRIKE OF 50,000 HAS BEEN AVERTED

Housemiths Are Successful in Getting Renewal of Agreement

NEW YORK, July 5.—A strike of 50,000 housemiths all over the country has been averted.

The strike had been declared against the National Association of Erectors of Structural Steel and Iron at the instance of the International Association of bridge and structural iron workers. The latter association had an agreement with the employers for a year, which had expired, and when the employers refused to renew the agreement, it was decided to order a general strike.

Frank Buschman, president of the iron workers, explains the matter says: "The structural iron workers had been getting $4.50 a day for eight hours and only demanded a renewal of the agreement. Strikes had been ordered and every iron worker throughout the country would have been called out if the agreement had not been signed."

CARP IN CABBAGE PATCH

Unexpected Crop Raised on a Lakeside Farm

CANANDAIGUA, N. Y., July 5.—Eight hundred carp in a cabbage patch will give a slight idea of the number of these fish in Canandaigua lake. The connection was not at first believed, but it must be understood that the lake and the cabbage patch are adjacent.

Thomas Rafferty, who owns a farm on the east shore of Canandaigua lake, about three miles from the village, went out to his cabbage patch the other day and found it covered with dead and dying carp, some of them ten or fifteen pounds weight. They had invaded the land during the high water of Sunday and had been left stranded by the receding waters.

Rafferty didn't consider this a piece of good luck. He could not get rid of the fish all alone, and soon his neighbors called to him with complaints and threats to have him indicted for maintaining a nuisance. Finally he called on the village board of health for aid. There were more than eight hundred of the fish.

SUCCESSFUL FIGHT OF BALDWIN'S AIRSHIP

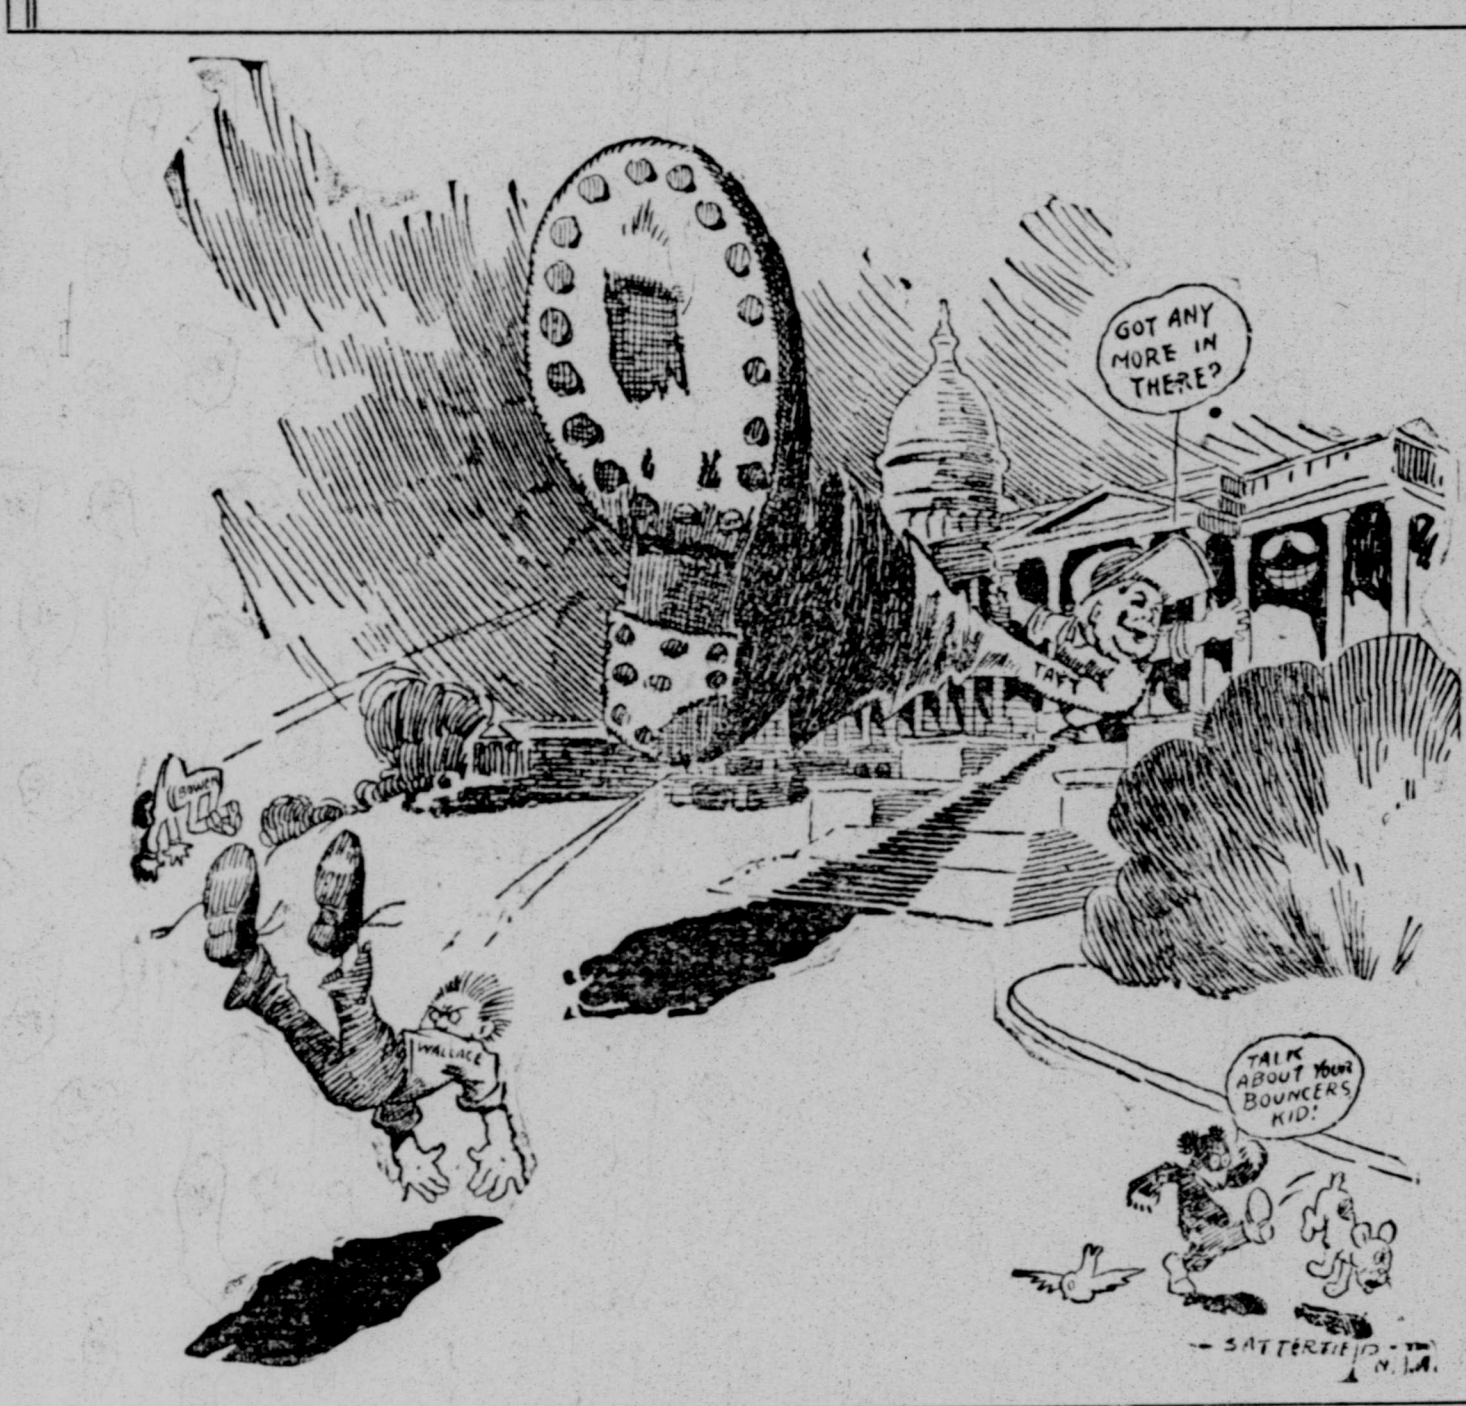

Rises 200 Feet Into the Air, Sails Around and Returns Aerodrome

NEW YORK, July 5.—Leo Stevens at a nearby pleasure resort has sailed J. P. Baldwin's airship, the California Arrow, 200 feet into the air and after a trip skirting the ocean front for some distance, returned in safety to the place of starting.

While the airship was a hundred feet above the ground the long dangle which was trailing caught in the electric wires. Stevens sent the airship ahead at full speed, the wire gave way and released the dangle, permitting the airship to continue its trip.

The propeller was slightly injured while the airship was going back to its port by hitting a projecting beam. Stevens declared that he could easily navigate the California Arrow around the borough of Brooklyn, a feat which he declares he will attempt within the next few days. He added: "My ship was under my control from the time it left the aerodrome until I returned and I had no difficulty in describing curves, descending or ascending while in the air."

ris escaped without injury. After the accident Miss Parham was picked up in the Denver tracks, seventy-four feet southwest of the point where the car was struck.

Dr. Harris says that his machine suddenly stopped in the center of the track, and that the engine of the passenger train, going as he estimates, thirty miles an hour, struck the auto fairly in the center. Dr. Harris says further that he saw the train coming, but thought he could cross the track in time.

"Without waiting, however," says Dr. Harris, "the auto stopped almost square on the track. The wheels either stuck in the mud or the engine gave away. I do not know which."

Miss Parham was taken to a nearby house on Second street and given immediate medical attention. Her injuries may not prove fatal.

Dr. Harris at the time of the accident was on the way to the city from his home in Riverside. Miss Parham, who was taken to a house close by, was walking to town when given a lift by Dr. Harris.

The arrest was made at the request of the Chicago police, who referred to Belmont as C. E. Winthrop Elliott. In Belmont's possession was found five certified checks for $100 each, four of which were drawn on the German-American bank of New York and one on the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company of New York. Those are believed to be forgeries.

RE-DEDICATION IS POSTPONED

Monument of Thomas Paine at New Rochelle, N. Y.

NEW YORK, July 5.—The re-dedication of the Thomas Paine monument at New Rochelle, N. Y., has been postponed, the mayor and other public officials being out of town on independence day, which had been decided for the ceremony.

The city of New Rochelle recently moved the monument to a new site and built an iron fence around it. Preparations were made for a ceremony to mark the transfer of the monument to the city, but at the last moment opposition developed among the tax payers, particularly those who are church members.

Hundreds of persons went to New Rochelle, expecting to witness the ceremony.

NO LOVE-MAKING IN THIS PARK

Muncie, Ind., City Park Forbids Kissing Day or Night

MUNCIE, Ind., July 5.—An official proclamation has been issued that no love-making shall go on, either by night or day, in McCulloch park, belonging to the city, and the park policeman has been instructed to enforce the order.

"It got to be as that nearly every bench was occupied by spooning pairs," said Park Policeman Heim. "I do not object to a little of that sort of thing, but when it gets to the point that people who are past their love-making days cannot sit down quietly in the park without having their meditations interrupted by long-drawn snarls and expressions of ecstatic bliss from the benches all around, it is time to stop it."

FAILURE OF BANK INVOLVES MANY

First National Bank of Topeka May Pay Dollar for Dollar

TOPEKA, Kan., July 4.—Independence day afforded the financial situation in Topeka opportunity to recuperate from Monday's bank failure, having banks upon which there were runs Monday took advantage of the holiday to further strengthen their positions and the different officers reiterated previous statements that they were prepared to withstand any demands made upon them. A positive announcement has been made by a man well acquainted with the affairs of the First National Bank that the in-

AIRSHIP TO MAKE A DARING VOYAGE

"King of the Atmosphere"
Roy Knabenshue to Cross
Lake to Detroit, Mich.

TOLEDO, Ohio, July 5.—Roy Knabenshue, the young king of the air, who has built an airship which does what he wants it to do, is preparing more surprises for the public. He will make several experimental flights in the near future, during which he will try out the machine on some daring stunts. Later on he will make some longer trips, the first probably across the lake to Detroit.

WIFE KILLS BEAR TO SAVE HUSBAND

A Colorado Ranchman Has Exciting Experience with Grizzly

TRINIDAD, Colo., July 5.—News reached here today from Stonewall mountain that two large grizzly bears were killed there a few days ago after an exciting hunt. A pioneer ranchman named Hal Russell had a few head of stock killed by the bears and he and his wife and a Mrs. Wilson, a neighbor, started on a bear hunt. They unexpectedly came upon a male and a female bear and a very exciting encounter followed. The male was killed first and his agony seemed to madden his mate to such a pitch that she rushed upon the party. Russell and the two women opened fire as they retreated. Russell was between the women and the bear when he stumbled and fell over a log.

Mrs. Russell, seeing the danger of her husband, with a rare coolness and bravery, staid herself against a tree and quickly sent four well-directed bullets into the bear, which fell dead only a few feet distant from her husband.

goes steadily ahead, unawed at any doom that might be described to him, and smiling easily when the chance, and the apparently easy chance, of fatality is mentioned to him.

Between him and the earth, many times below him there is only the frail structure of the framework of the airship, holding the driving and guiding apparatus. He has no platform or basket, but instead, takes his stand on the flimsy framework, straddling it or crawling along one of its rails as unconcernedly as if he were crawling upon the surface of the earth.

The slightest mishap, the least slip of a foot or a hand or an eye, and close upon the track of the flying airship would follow the grim specter of death. But Knabenshue does not care. He is careful of his safety, after an introspective fashion of his own, and what seems like mere bravado or useless daring is really a well-calculated arrangement to combine safety with buoyancy.

Before the start of his last trip, a man asked Knabenshue if he carried any life insurance. The remark would have disconcerted the ordinary man bent on such an expedition, but to Knabenshue it sounded like a joke, for he answered, smiling: "No, the insurance companies won't take me as a risk under any consideration."

When Knabenshue came down on top of the Spitzer building, there was a big crowd there to cheer him.

About ten minutes after the ship landed, his wife came up on the Spitzer roof. She tried to make her way through the crowd, but it was too dense, and she stopped on the outer edge and called to him.

"Roy! Roy!" she said. The clamor of the crowd was so great that her voice could hardly be heard, but Knabenshue heard. He turned toward her and picked her out of the mass of people instantly. Then he bent over the cheering crowd, and he flashed a greeting to her and smiled. He spoke, but what he said was lost in the noise of the crowd. And he smiled continually, the happy smile of a child that has accomplished its desire.

Back over the heads of the crowd Mrs. Knabenshue sent the greeting her husband had flashed to her, as good as he gave. Her eyes were wet, and she turned away weeping, but trying to smile bravely through her tears. Knabenshue is the ideal aeronaut. The breath of the upper regions is life to him. He is content enough on the earth below, but up in the clouds the intensity of the moment enralls and intoxicates him.

AUSTIN FIREMEN PROTEST AT DARKNESS

New Feature Injected Into Capital City's Squabble with Water and Light Commission

Special to The Telegram. AUSTIN, Texas, July 5.—A very serious complication is likely to arise as a result of the action and determination of the water and light commission to keep Austin in darkness by not allowing the tower lights to be burned at night, on the ground that the plant is financially unable to keep the lights burning at night. It was learned yesterday that the firemen are complaining about the matter, that is, in having to answer to an alarm of fire at night, especially when the city is in darkness. They contend that in the event a fire would break out in a section of the city where it is even dangerous to venture in the day time at a rapid speed, with the city in total darkness it may result in driver, hose wagon, team and everything being precipitated down a ravine, ditch or gulley, which would likely prove fatal to those in the accident.

It is also contended that the city would be liable for such damages as may result not only to firemen, but any other accident which might occur, due to a failure of the city to keep the tower lights burning. Some decisive step may be taken by the firemen in the matter.

trict Attorney Heney said today he saw no ground for an appeal in the case, and he believed the law would not allow the senator the right of further hearing.

The United States circuit court of appeals meets in Portland on Sept. 3. If that tribunal shall be appealed to, Judges W. W. Morrow, W. B. Gilbert and J. H. Ross will sit en banc and determine the points of law in the case and give their decision as to whether there are grounds for the case going to the supreme court.

It is stated that the jury in the case of Senator Mitchell took six ballots before arriving at a verdict. Five ballots showed eleven jurors for conviction.

It is expected that the other indictment pending against Senator Mitchell, charging conspiracy with Pater and others to defraud the government of not more than two years and a fine of not to exceed $10,000, since the trial before Judge De Haven has been at liberty on his own recognizance and this will be continued until after sentence is pronounced at least. Pending the appeal for a new trial, Senator Mitchell will still be a member of the United States senate and will draw his salary as formerly. He may appear in the committee rooms of the senate and continue his duties as usual, but he cannot, until the case reaches a final disposition, appear on the floor of the senate and resume his seat. This will not be possible until the decision shall be favorable to him.

AMERICAN 'NEWSIE' LEARNS LIFE'S LESSON

Good Business Training Frequently Instilled by Work in Distributing News of the Day

From the hard-working, happy-faced "newsie" to the throne of the monarch or industrial king seems a long step, but it is one that has been successfully taken by hundreds of men whom the world calls typical Americans. In the recent history of the United States so far as politics, finance and industry go, the great leaders and the men who stand head and shoulders above the crowd, have been almost without exception fellows who, as boys, were active in the daily life of the boy who feels the eager public with the record of the world's doings and sayings.

THE FINAL TEST

The report comes from Washington that President Roosevelt and the department of justice is trying to make the case against the packers at Chicago the final test to ascertain whether or not the present laws are good enough to convict men who not only violate the statutes, but who also defy the decisions as handed down by the different courts. When the so-called beef trust was enjoined persons friendly to the multi-millionaires in the several allied corporations informed them that they must obey the mandate of the Federal court and unless they did President Roosevelt would put all the machinery of justice in action. All the big packers were informed through the proper channels that the "prosecution would be merciless and oppressive," but despite this warning they are alleged to have gone ahead in defiance of the Federal injunction.

It is alleged that when the Federal bureau of corporations began the work of investigating the so-called beef trust the packers got Commissioner Garfield into the slaughter yards and also into the books which they had specially prepared for his examination. They convinced Garfield in a document that has since become historic that their average profit was about 2 per cent on every beef. But they forgot to tell Commissioner Garfield that they turned over their money every fifteen days, and he failed to discover that fact. He simply took the bulk product and assumed that they made 2 per cent on $10,000,000 or $20,000,000, or whatever the total of their business might be in a year. He did not find that a butcher in New York, Cincinnati, or some other city who did not pay his bill at the end of every week would not be served again with any of the products of the packers and consequently he did not find that the time from the hoof to the butcher and back to the packing house treasury was less than a month, after the customer had been served, and that therefore the profits on this branch of the industry were 2 per cent a month, or 24 per cent per annum.

It is alleged that the Federal grand jury engaged in investigating the packers found that the actual profit made is in excess of 2 per cent, and that the capital employed by the packers from the slaughter house to the consumer and back again to the packing house is only in use three weeks, and with the resultant profit. Commenting on other features of the beef trust situation, the New York Press, one of the leading republican papers of the east, says: "This is the least serious end of the case of the beef trust millionaires. If one-half the things suggested are true, that they had an absolute monopoly against any association of men attempting to compete with them has been proved. This has been shown to the Federal grand jury by the records of the private car trust. The indictment of these beef trust men comes because of cumulative profit, not only that they raised the price of beef, but because they were in a conspiracy with certain railroad corporations in the matter of refrigerating cars to prevent any hostile individuals or corporations from competing with them. The presumption is that several railroad corporations will be indicted by the Federal grand jury, but whether these indictments will single out officers of the corporations is a matter of doubt. In the view of the Paul Morton episode it may be that the individuals may escape."

The belief is that the United States district attorney will be governed entirely by his instructions from Mr. Moody in Washington, who will be controlled, of course, by President Roosevelt's ideas of what ought to be done. Accepting this view of it, the railroad corporations probably will escape, except as corporations they may be indicted under the Sherman anti-trust law fined $5,000. Evidently the case is to be more serious for the beef trust men. The Washington government would not have done them unless it meant to convict them before a petit jury, which, on the proof, ought to be a simple thing. Under the anti-trust law they can be sent to jail for one year. The indictments against the several members of the trust are not only accounts of maintaining a monopoly in the price of food products, but assert that the individuals named have been guilty of perjury and subornation of perjury. It is understood that the government has a mountain of testimony to prove the indictments. The announcement that the Federal grand jury had the heads of all the big combinations caused a big sensation in Chicago.

Indictments were expected a month ago, but when the attorneys for the beef trust went to Washington early in this month and discussed their case with the department of justice it was believed an attempt was being made to call off the prosecution on a pledge by the members of the beef combine that they would obey all the Federal laws. When President Roosevelt pardoned Paul Morton the friends of the beef combine believed that nothing would be done by the grand jury, and that individuals would be relieved of any taint in respect of violations of a plain Federal statute. It is clear that the Washington authorities differentiate between a rebate case on the Santa Fe and the selling of beef by the Big Six. The fact that Cudahy & Co. were not indicted brings forward the point that in the early investigation by this Federal grand jury one of its men, J. Schaefer, and a man named J. E. Shields, formerly employed by Armour & Co., gave testimony. That was as far back as March, and there was a big scandal at the time because of the assertion that the Armour corporation had attempted to buy Shields and prevent him from testifying for the government. It was then said that Cudahy & Co. were furnishing testimony which would convict the other packers. The lawyers for J. Ogden Armour and for Schwartzchild & Sulzberger asserted that the Cudahys had financed President Roosevelt's campaign in the west, and had received assurances that nothing would befall them should certain employees subpoenaed give testimony before the grand jury. In the first week of May, when things looked squally, J. Ogden Armour, Edwin F. Swift, Edward Morris and A. H. Veeder of the combine sailed for Europe. All these men are on the other side except Mr. Armour, who is due here on Sunday. Their attorneys seemed to be satisfied a month ago that some persons representing the Cudahys had given important testimony to the grand jury against the other packers. Then the state's attorneys, in Washington, with negotiations began in Washington, with the attorney general, and undoubtedly they must have failed, judging by the returns from the grand jury. The United States district attorney will not be quoted, but it is said he said to some attorneys in Washington, these indictments would not have been found unless President Roosevelt, Mr. Moody and the members of the department of justice engaged were satisfied that conviction would follow a trial. These attorneys seemed to be held by Attorney General Moody, and so presented to the Federal jury that the members of the beef combine, Cudahy & Co. excepted, had violated the antitrust commerce act, the original Sherman anti-trust law, had conspired to raise the price of live stock at selected times, had refrained from bidding for live stock at certain times and thereby misled the market, had conspired to fix a uniform price for dressed meat, had made a felonious agreement to suppress competition, to adjust profits, to control prices, to restrict shipments and to select markets. The government also attempted to prove, and evidently with success, that the beef trust had destroyed the property of men owning live stock in certain states and territories, had presented, through combinations with railroads, the free shipping of commodities, had forced legitimate buyers out of the market, had, by conspiracy with railroad corporations made independent dealers bankrupt, had taken over their legitimate territory, and had in other respects violated the common law. It was further held that they not only violated the specific statutes and the common law, but that they had established a virtual control by private car lines of all perishable commodities, and that these private car lines established certain traffic rules which were designed to prevent other than those in the trust from doing business. The government presented proof of all these contentions, and on this proof the indictments were found.

LIVING TOO FAST

It is reported that there were 125 deaths in the city of New York last week from what was termed heart failure. While the term heart failure is a very convenient one, and no man ever died on earth who was not afflicted with it, the fact remains that we are too generally inviting heart diseases and complications by our present methods of living. Men, even in the common walks of life, are too strenuous in their methods and are daily laying the foundation for diseases and complications well calculated to cut short the span of what has been deemed a natural term or duration of life.

There is a rush and hurry about all we do that is daily bringing us closer and closer to the yawning mouth of the grave. It may be true that we are making a reputation for push and hustle, and the world looks upon us as a shining example of the men who do things, but this all ends at the blink of an eye. When the cloths rattle down upon our little narrow house where we are to sleep the last sleep the reputation as a hustler and a doer of many great and almost impossible things is entirely forgotten. The admiration we have excited by our whirlwind career gives place to a feeling of pity.

"Poor fellow, he worked himself into the grave." That is about all the consolation our dead ears could gather were they permitted to open long enough to hear what was being said by our grieving friends. We excite the warmest admiration by virtue of our strenuous exertions until the inevitable disaster has happened. Then we become an object of pity for that short-sighted policy which led us to sacrifice life itself in an effort to do things quickly.

The game is not worth the candle. We are exhausting our strength and shortening our lives to make a name and place in the world that ends too quickly at the grave. No matter how much wealth and fame we acquire here, we can carry none of it to the other side. All must be left on this side, and shorn of all that we have accumulated here, we must enter into that life that lies beyond the grave.

The thousands that are annually hurrying themselves into eternity have only themselves to blame for it. They are violating nature's laws every day of their lives, and nature never fails to demand the price. That involuntary start you often feel when seeking repose, which very rarely causes you to spring from your couch is involuntary. But it is one of the admonitions of nature which you have so long outraged. It is a warning of nervous prostration and the complete and utter wreck of your nervous system unless you let up on the pace that kills.

The difficulty with which you woo the sweet goddess of sleep—the restlessness with which you tumble upon your nightly couch—all this is but the protest of a outraged nature, warning you of the inexorable penalty that is to surely follow unless you lead the timely admonition. The failure of your digestion, the long headaches and other ailments you have are but kindly warnings from the good dame who is seeking to give you opportunity to mend your ways. You go on, however, until the collapse comes in almost a fatal stroke, and then you go off to some watering place and seek to patch yourself up. There comes a temporary relief when you have left off the cause, and you are soon encouraged to again take up the cudgels of a strenuous life. Then comes the complete collapse and you go down into the grave a martyr to your foolish conception of the requirements of modern business life.

There is too much human life being needlessly sacrificed every year in this manner. It is better to strike a medium gait, pay attention to nature's laws and live out something like our allotted time on earth than to thus hurry ourselves into the grave. It is better for us and better for those who are dependent upon us that we should adopt a different policy. We may not grow rich as fast as the situation demands, but life and health are worth all the riches of this world. We should all proceed to set our back-lands back just a few notches and take life just a little bit slower. There is a fascination about the Strenuous Life, but it leads straight to the cold dark gloom of the grave. There is a showiness about the Simple Life, but it promises both happiness here and in the hereafter, and gives us additional time in which to prepare for that other life we all have coming.

Leading republican senators are talking of the propriety of reviving the stamp tax that prevailed after the Spanish war as a means of raising the revenue necessary to meet the existing deficit in the national treasury, and it is probable that such action may be finally determined upon. This tax yielded the sum of $100,000,000 during the two years it was in effect. The existing deficit is now $1,000,000,000 with the certainty that it will reach $4,000,000,000 by the end of the fiscal year.

The Texas Cattle Raisers' Association is taking active steps toward getting congress to pass some measure in behalf of the cattle industry and to the end Captain Little, secretary of the association, has written an extensive letter to every Texas congressman and senator, setting forth their wants in the matter.—Colorado News.

The Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas is doing a great work for the live stock industry of the southwest, and should receive the hearty support of all stockmen. The promised assistance of Texas congressmen will be worth much to the association in the fight it is making for needed reforms.

Judging from the reports of yield of grain all over the plains country, the coming of that flour mill is a timely thing. It is all in the development, and it will not be very long before there will have to be several mills in Amarillo to handle the grain in this vicinity.—Amarillo Herald.

The Panhandle of Texas is fast developing into a great grain country, and the time is not far distant when it will be the granary of the state. Flouring mills will be located all over that section.

Kaufman county with two candidates for governor is in the same boat with Anderson county, which presents Blount and Campbell. It is unfortunate that any county should have two favorite sons in grooming, but it is a contingency that sometimes arises.

It is funny, isn't it? Farmers, when they wish to retire move to Iowa. Town people when they wish to retire, move to the country. Texas school land is now coming on the market in large quantities, and the state is going to make some record-breaking real estate transactions in consequence. Under the new law the things have to be made in the land office in Austin, and the picturesque land rushes of the past will no more be witnessed out in West Texas.

The government report as to the condition of the cotton crop has caused an advance of over $5 per bale in the price of the fleecy staple, and the hope of the producer has been greatly revived in consequence. The condition of the crop at this time is far below the usual average even of the years when very short crops have resulted.

Now is the time when the Texas Elberta is beginning to blush and prepare for market, and the report is that the state will market an unusually fine crop this season. The Texas Elberta leads the peach procession.

The Interurban line to Mineral Wells is neither dead nor sleeping. It is a live proposition, and ample means will be found to successfully float this very important enterprise.

The record of real estate transfers daily in this city goes to show that Fort Worth is a very live one. People do not buy and sell much real estate in a dead town.

Whether the land will be opened for settlement of allotted to the Indians is a question that the Indians can answer. In fact, it is a question that no cattleman, as such, has any vital interest in the future of the reservation after this year. Put I hope to say right here that for one I hope that the Indians who by right own these lands will receive fair and square treatment. They are the wards of the nation and as such are entitled to that consideration that the stronger should ever accord the weaker. The department of interior in the matter of permitting cattlemen to locate their stock on the reservations until the end of this year granted all that the cattlemen can ask in view of the evident determination to start the winding up of the affairs of this reservation. By the end of the time limit set every cattlemen who has cattle in the reservation, occupying his leases, can get his stuff to market or to other pasture points. In fact, the cattlemen did not ask for a longer period than Nov. 1 to clean up their leases. The extra sixty days granted will afford them additional time in which to carry out whatever plans they may formulate.

"I have just returned from a trip to the reservation. I have now been watching on the reservations for over twenty years. I have never seen the conditions there any better than is the case today. The grass is splendid, the water is abundant, the cattle are fat and are getting fatter every day."

"In the event this section of the country is opened for settlement, one of the finest sections of Oklahoma will be thrown on the market. No better farming lands can be found anywhere. No better pasture lands can be found anywhere. A country more healthy is not to be found in the United States. Taken all in all, the Comanche, Kiowa and Apache reservations comprise about the best sections of Oklahoma."

THE PUBLIC OFFICIAL WHO imagines that he can enforce the law just as he pleases may in due season awaken to the fact that the people are not to be fooled all the time. Old Abe Lincoln once said: "You can't fool all the people all the time." There may be an awakening before next campaign.—Georgetown Commercial.

No public official can enforce the law just as he pleases. When he assumes the duties of office he takes an oath to uphold the constitution and laws of this state, and when he fails to do so he is clearly guilty of perjury and justifies himself in the eyes of all law-abiding people.

The gubernatorial candidates in Texas are as shy as an old maid when she gets an offer of marriage, and they are flitting nimbly with the people, but they coyly say that it is not their intention to handle the ball and announce a platform.—Sperman Register.

Perhaps they were only waiting for the Fourth of July, as all the candidates for gubernatorial honors 1904-05 had the opportunity to appear before the people in different portions of Texas.

INDIAN TERRITORY RULING
"The ruling of Colonel Randlett, Indian agent for the Kiowa reservation, to the effect that all ranchmen who now have leases of Kiowa, Apache or Comanche Indian lands, may remain where they are with their cattle until Dec. 31 of this year is one that is certainly appreciated by the cattlemen," said Captain S. E. Burnett yesterday. Captain Burnett for the last twenty years has had from 100,000 to 125,000 acres of the lands under lease. He has always been one of the highest bidders for these pasture lands and as a result has always been a successful bidder. "I have received a letter from Colonel Randlett," continued Captain Burnett, "to the effect that the secretary of interior has granted authority to Colonel Randlett to issue permits to the present lessees of grazing lands for the pasturage of their stock on the respective districts (so far as it can be done without interfering with the agricultural leases) at a pro rata rate of rental up to Dec. 31, 1905."

Senator Beveridge of Indiana regards it as one of the jokes of his life that he and Dave Warfield, the actor, resemble each other so closely that they would pass for twins. During a recent visit to New York City, the senator was escorted some what officiously by two young men, who addressed him as "Dave, old man." They said they would be glad to drop in at the theater that evening if he would write them a pass. The senator, smilingly wrote on the back of his card "Admit two" and handed it over. "Thanks ever so much, old boy," said one of the strangers, "but this will not be good unless you add 'D. Warfield' under the two words you have written."

"Excuse me," said the Indiana man, "but I draw the line at forgery. I am Senator Beveridge, not Mr. Warfield."

GOT EVEN WITH CENSOR
During the South African war, when that country was under martial law, letters sent home by British soldiers had to pass through the hands of a censor. A private in a York-hire regiment had sent four or five letters home, telling his parents about the doings of his regiment, and portions had been obliterated by the censor and were therefore illegible on their arrival at the destination. He decided to even accounts with the censor, and at the foot of the next letter he wrote: "Please look under the stamp."

HE GOT IT
On the day following the railroad wreck near Harrisburg recently, while a party of newspaper men were waiting in one of the company's offices awaiting news, word came that some of the railroad claim agents had already settled with and secured releases from some of the injured passengers.

That called for a story of the experience of a claim agent who had been sent to settle with a passenger injured in a wreck on a southern railroad, in which a coach had rolled down an embankment. The passenger had several ribs and a leg broken, a scalp wound and internal injuries, and the railroad stood ready to have paid him $2,500 for a release.

When asked what he thought would be paid the injured passenger, an Arkansian said: "Well, stranger, that was a pretty long fall. They tell me that that car must have rolled about sixty feet. I think I ought to get $1 a foot anyway."

TOLD OF ENGLISH PREMIERS

Queen Victoria once wrote to Lord Palmerston, then Premier of England, expressing the wish that she could appear from his place in the house of commons. Palmerston replied that it was fortunate for those from whose opinion her majesty differed that she was not in the house of commons, for they would have to encounter a formidable antagonist in argument; although, on the other hand, those whose opinions were in accord with hers would have had the support of a powerful ally in debate. Disraeli, when premier, had a more direct way in dealing with women. One of them once attempted to get a certain piece of information from him. He listened to what she had to say and then answered: "Oh, you darling!"

CHARMING

While Prof. Henry Drummond was calling on a friend on his last visit here he was introduced to a party of American girls. "How very formal you are here when you are introduced," he said. "Now, in England we always shake hands. What do you do here when you say good-bye?" "Oh, we kiss," said the youngest of the party, a charming girl of 16. "Ah, that's charming," responded Prof. Drummond; "suppose we say good-bye right now?"

NEW INSPECTORS APPOINTED

Seven new inspectors of the bureau of animal industry, assigned to this station, will begin work July 1. They come from New York and Ohio. They will take the places of seven ninety-day men who have been doing post-mortem inspection work at the packing houses in this city. The government is having difficulty, it is said, in finding sufficient competent men to do the work with which the increasing live stock business taxes the bureau. Every man who passes the civil service examination is pretty sure of appointment. The proportion of men who pass is small, however. In most instances two-thirds fail. Thirty-four applicants took the examination from Kansas City, and no reports have been received that any of them passed.

TEXAS CATTLE IN KANSAS

J. F. Perkins of Dazar, Kan., a prominent stockman and a citizen of Cherokee county, was in Kansas City with a carload of cows. "All the Texas cattle on the pastures in these county are getting fat very fast," said Mr. Perkins, "and they will be ready to move to market in a short time. There were not quite so many Texas cattle on the pastures of that county this season as last, but they are in much better condition. It is safe to say that they are a month earlier this year than last in getting ready for the market. This will bring them in ahead of the regular time and will put grass cattle on the market sooner than usual. In many places they are ready now to be moved."

POINTED PARAGRAPHS

Hope enables a man to accomplish wonders—in his mind. Home-sickness and the sweet girl graduates bloom simultaneously. A man seldom has to work overtime to make a job of himself. A man seldom goes to a friend for a loan if he really needs the money. Where there is a man's will there is a woman's way to break it. A well-balanced man doesn't have to part his hair or name in the middle. More women would go in for vocal culture if they could buy things for a song. After singing the baby to sleep a woman proceeds to talk her husband to sleep. About the only fault the average woman has to find with her past is that it's too long.

During the courtship a young man is never out of danger till the girl says "No" three times. Some girls proceed to catch on and marry—then implore the divorce judge to help them let loose again.

People would have more faith in a reformer if he would furnish proof of his sincerity by beginning with himself. Lots of men who figure on schemes to make millions would be surprised to find themselves in possession of $5 in real money. When a man stands at the marriage altar he gets as nervous as he does when watching the bulletins of a baseball game. Walking is said to be the best exercise a man can indulge in. Perhaps that is why so many men walk home from the races.—Chicago News.

BEVERIDGE'S ACTOR DOUBLE

Senator Beveridge of Indiana regards it as one of the jokes of his life that he and Dave Warfield, the actor, resemble each other so closely that they would pass for twins. During a recent visit to New York City, the senator was escorted somewhat officiously by two young men, who addressed him as "Dave, old man." They said they would be glad to drop in at the theater that evening if he would write them a pass. The senator, smilingly wrote on the back of his card "Admit two" and handed it over. "Thanks ever so much, old boy," said one of the strangers, "but this will not be good unless you add 'D. Warfield' under the two words you have written."

"Excuse me," said the Indiana man, "but I draw the line at forgery. I am Senator Beveridge, not Mr. Warfield."

Verses That Ring

SHE GRABBED AT HER SKIRTS BEHIND
I saw her today, she was crossing the street, And she grabbed At her skirts behind; She walked on the heels of her dear little feet, And she grabbed At her skirts behind; She took little steps of four inches or so, She was careful her new patent leathers would show— And just so they wouldn't get muddy, you know, She grabbed At her skirts behind; I saw her again, later on, from afar, And she grabbed At her skirts behind; She was running like mad, for she wanted a car, And she grabbed At her skirts behind; She waved her free hand in a wild, frantic way, And tried her best efforts the street car to stay, But she wouldn't let loose of the other, may, may, And she grabbed At her skirts behind; I saw her one Sunday, she stood in the aisle, And she grabbed At her skirts behind; The church aisle was crowded, she stood quite awhile, And she grabbed At her skirts behind; She was gowned in a fashion becoming and new, And she grabbed At her skirts behind; I watched while the usher showed her to a pew; And the last thing I saw as she vanished from view, She

NO. 2741—A BOX PLAITED SUSPENDER SKIRT.

The fashion for suspender costumes has been generally favored by practical women because of its becomingness and economy. An odd skirt may be used in this way and prove quite effective. The pattern shown is one especially well liked by the up-to-date girl and her mother, because it is modeled after the popular box-plaited design and yet does not require a great amount of material in its development. It is very easily made and anyone, even the most inexperienced, can achieve success in its reproduction. The skirt is a seven-gored model, tucked in box-plaited effect and may be worn with or without the suspenders. Any skirt material will serve for its development. For the medium size, the pattern requires 2 3/4 yards of 44-inch material. Pattern No. 2741 is in three sizes, 12 to 16 years.

BEEF INVESTIGATION HAS COST $300,000

Government Agents Spent Suing Fortune in Collecting Evidence.

CHICAGO, July 5.—Six months ago, S. H. Bethea, then United States district attorney, reported, after an investigation, that the injunction of Judge Grosscup, restraining the larger packing firms from combining in restraint of trade, was being violated in Chicago. Conferences with Attorney General Moody at Washington and President Roosevelt were held and a large corps of secret service men kept at work. United States Deputy Marshal Edward St. Clair was made special agent of the treasury department and placed in charge of the secret service work. The investigation widened daily and soon St. Clair was receiving reports from his agents in all parts of the world concerning the identity of men who could testify to certain facts concerning the packing industry, the actions of heads of the packing concerns, underground agreements and the like. The preliminary stage of the investigation came to a climax last February, when 185 subpoenas were sent to fifteen large cities throughout the United States with instructions that, at 10 o'clock on the morning of February 21, deputy marshals should begin serving the papers. At the hour stated, the machinery which resulted in one of the largest investigations ever engaged in by the government was begun as a concerted movement in various parts of the country. Later the number of witnesses called for reached a total of 250. The attack of the government on the so-called beef trust created consternation in many quarters but, although it was sudden, many men desired as witnesses escaped service. Some have been found in Canada, some in Europe and others in various parts of the world, where they are still in the hands of deputy marshals. Leading packers were shadowed and on one occasion a stenographic report of a conversation between two leading packers in the lobby of a downtown hotel was taken by a detective. At this time it was discovered that private detectives, acting for some of the packers, were following federal officials and secret service operators, making daily reports to their employers. In their turn the government had these detectives followed. The investigation is calculated to have cost the government $300,000.

DOG WAS ON THE "WATER WAGON"

For Several Days and Did Justice to the Beer Offered

CINCINNATI, July 4.—A valuable mastiff was stolen from Ben Geyman, a saloon keeper of 139 Broadway, some days ago, and later he learned that the animal had been sold to A. J. Von Borgen, who is employed in a livery stable. Geyman called upon Von Borgen and found the animal chained in an upstairs room at the stable. He offered Von Borgen $250 reward to return the dog to him, but the latter held out for $5. Geyman refused to give up this amount and sued out a writ of replevin before Squire Tibbles. The writ was placed in the hands of a constable, who immediately secured the services of an expert dog catcher for several days, expecting to have no end of trouble in landing the dog. But Geyman decided to accompany him, and as soon as the dog was unfastened from the chain it bounded upon its master and almost knocked him down. Geyman then took the crowd to a saloon near by and called for drinks for the crowd. As one of the dog's accomplishments is the drinking of beer, he immediately stood upon its hind legs placed its fore paws on the bar, and when a glass of beer was placed in front of it, lapped it up with as much speed as its master drank his. As the animal had been on the "water wagon" for several days, the glass of beer was not enough for it and it was furnished a second.

FAIRBANKS TO SPEAK

Attends County Celebration Near Where He Was Born

URBANA, Ohio, July 4.—The three-day centennial celebration of the founding of Champaign county as an organized county of Ohio begins here today, an address by Vice President Fairbanks, who was born just across the line in Union county, being the feature of the day. The second regiment of the Ohio National Guard is in camp during the entire week, acting as guard. There will be a great, civil, industry and historical parade today, after which a patriotic Fourth of July meeting will be held at Fair Grounds, with an address by Vice President Fairbanks.

SEWERS FULL OF BEER

Receiver of Brewery Empties Many Barrels

XENIA, Ohio, July 4.—The sewers of Xenia were recently flushed with hundreds of barrels of beer, notwithstanding this is a "dry" town, and hydrant water is plentiful. It was caused by the visit of a government inspector to the Brinkle & Reading brewery, where was formerly manufactured "Hubb" beer, a dry town beverage. The brewery is in the hands of a receiver, and he preferred to destroy the beer rather than pay the revenue tax demanded by the government.

JAPS REPULSE RUSSIAN CAVALRY

Minor Engagements in Manchuria and Korea, Reported From Tokio

TOKIO, July 4.—The following dispatch was received today from the headquarters of the Japanese army in Manchuria: "At 8 o'clock in the morning of July 1, six hundred of the enemy's cavalry advanced towards Pimlu river, thirteen miles northeast of Kangpin. We repulsed them. One hundred and fifty of the enemy's cavalry and mounted infantry, with eighteen guns, simultaneously attacked Kangpin, eight miles northeast of Pimlu river. The engagement lasted until dawn July 2, when the enemy was repulsed. The enemy's casualties were over 400, ours ninety."

SKIRMISHING IN KOREA

TOKIO, July 4.—The following official announcement is made today from the headquarters of the Japanese army in Korea: "At dawn July 2 four hundred of the enemy's cavalry, with artillery, approached Noromok, on the Purvong road, six miles north of Yusong. Our force engaged and repulsed them northward, inflicting heavy loss. In the meantime our detachment made a detour far to the northward for the purpose of cutting off the enemy's retreat and engaged the enemy's infantry at noon fourteen miles north of Yusong. Our detachment also struck and scattered the enemy's cavalry retreating from Noromok."

NEW MEAT COMPANY TO BE ORGANIZED

Will Make Extracts and Place Only Prime Joints of Beef on the Market

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, July 4.—It is announced by J. Omerod, organizer of the Texas Liebig Meat Company, that the company is to be incorporated in the coming fall with a board of nine directors, of whom five will be Texas men and four New York men. So far but one name of the Texas contingent of directors is given out. Mr. Omerod says that former Lieutenant Governor E. Wheeler of Arkansas has been named on the board of directors. A number of other Texas men of prominence are being considered for places on the board, and it is thought that the directory will be completed and ready for publication in the course of a few weeks. Mr. Omerod says that he has proceeded so far with the organization as to justify the assertion that the incorporation will be perfected and the plant constructed in this state within a few months—a year at most. The Texas Liebig Meat Company is a new departure in the packing business. It is proposed by its proprietors to make extracts and place on the market only the prime joints of the beef. This, it is urged, will make a ready market for the products of the factory, because there will be no inferior or ordinary meat to be sold. All of that will be used in the manufacture of extracts. Mr. Omerod says that he is meeting with a satisfactory degree of success in the organization of his company and that the cattlemen of the state are taking hold of the matter in a manner that shows their deep interest in the development of packing industries in this state. The location of the plant is not determined upon, but it is believed that from the interest taken in this section of the state San Antonio will be the place selected for the plant.

CATFISH CAUGHT WEARING SPECTACLES

Mr. Snyder of New Jersey Vouches for This Interesting Pictorial Tale

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., July 4.—Owen Swain lost a pair of gold-rimmed spectacles in the deep loch of the Tarran canal a few days ago. Locktender Snyder had the water drawn from the loch and he and Mr. Swain looked over the spectacles. Mr. Snyder reached down on the fish's nose was the pair of spectacles. Mr. Snyder, who is a prominent member of the First Methodist church, vouches for the story.

UNION BUTTONS SCARCE

Only Six Important Cities Where They Are Used

CHICAGO, July 4.—In support of their contention against their drivers wearing union buttons, the Employers' Association today issued a table showing the percentage of teamsters in the large cities of the country who do not wear buttons or other insignia of their organization. The statistics revealed the fact that Boston, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Des Moines and New York are the only cities where the button is known. In these places the highest percentage of teamsters wear the 10 per cent. In all other cities no emblems are permitted. The threatened spread of the strike to the parcel wagon drivers was delayed until tomorrow, when Judge Holdom will finish hearing the arguments in the injunction cases against the six local express companies.

FRENCH JOIN AMERICANS IN CELEBRATING

National Salute Fired in Honor of Admiral Sigsbee's Squadron in Cherbourg Harbor

CHERBOURG, July 4.—The French and American squadrons joined today in celebrating the American natal holiday. At an early hour the ships of both countries broke out in flags from stem to stern. The American flag was conspicuous everywhere, yachts, buildings and wharves showing the Stars and Stripes. The sky was overcast, but the harbor presented a brilliant picture. Crowds lined the wharves, awaiting the national salute by both squadrons, which was fired at noon, accompanied by salvos from 156 land forts.

CLOVER LEAF TRUSTEES OUT

Certificates of Stock Being Prepared for Stockholders

NEW YORK, July 4.—The Toledo, St. Louis and Western shareholders' voting trust has terminated and certificates of stock have been prepared for the stockholders. The three voting trustees, General Thomas H. Hubbard, W. A. Reed and Frederick P. Olcott, are thus retired from their trusteeship, which they have exercised for five years.

BUILDING EATING HOUSES

Denver Railroad to Construct Buildings Along Line

CHILDREN AT TEXAS, July 4.—The Denver railroad company is preparing to build eating houses at Texline, Amarillo and Childress at once. The house at Childress will be erected between the tracks just west of the depot. The material has been ordered and when it arrives work will begin. The building will cost about $1,500. There will be no sleeping rooms in the building, only the kitchen with its pantries and a large dining room. The company is having these eating houses put at the above named places for the obvious benefit of their men, and they promise that the houses shall be first-class in every respect.

HEAT EXCESSIVE IN EUROPE

BERLIN, July 4.—The heat which has now continued for four days throughout Central Europe has caused, it is estimated, from reports now coming in, more than one hundred deaths. In Germany at midday in the shade the temperature has been as high as 107.

WERE PREJUDICED

It is known that a jury, theoretically, is composed of a set of unprejudiced men with open minds, still there may be occasions when a slight personal feeling invades their ranks. Such was evidently the thought borne in upon the tailor who, rising to state his case, and having declined the services of a lawyer for reasons best known to himself, looked over the jurymen and then turned to the judge. "It's no use for me to tell you about this case, your honor," he said, dejectedly, "not unless you despise that Jap and get in a lather over them. I lost a man, another man but owes me something for clothes."

The Pope has addressed an autograph letter to the emperor of Japan, thanking him warmly for the liberty granted to Catholic missionaries in allowing them to enter the territory conquered by the Japanese.

THE MONTHLY TRIAL

HEADACHE, DIZZINESS, BEARING-DOWN PAINS.

A Woman Tells How She Has Become Well and Strong after Years of Malarial Due to Irregular Functions.

The fact that one woman is bright-eyed, rosy-cheeked, strong and cheerful, while another is pale, weak and depressed, is due more often than otherwise to the regularity in the one case and the irregularity in the other of the functions that are peculiar to the sex. When these are disturbed everything goes wrong; pain and discomfort are felt all over the body; the sensations are often terrifying. "For four years," said Mrs. Davis recently, "I suffered indescribable misery from sick headache every month, accompanied by fainting spells, shortness of breath and severe pain in my left side. There were also bearing-down pains, at times so acute that I could not stand up, and my head was full of ringing sounds. It seemed as if everything was going to hit me in the eyes. I was compelled to lie down with closed eyes for hours to get a little relief. When I attempted to arise everything would whirl around and it would grow so dark that I could scarcely see any object. "Couldn't your doctor help you?" "Five doctors in all treated me, but I got no lasting benefit. Besides I used a lot of advertised remedies. The only medicine, however, that had the desired effect was Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and they are truly a godsend to women. I did not have much faith in them when I began to take them. I found myself, however, so much better after using two boxes that I began to believe in them. They checked right away the decline into which I was going. My troubles kept lessening and finally disappeared altogether. "How long did it take for a cure?" "After I had used several boxes my health was all right. I had taken on flesh and was strong and hearty. I feel today in spirits more like a girl of sixteen than a woman of my years."

Mrs. C. H. Davis' address is Carmel, Maine, R. F. D., No. 2. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are confidently offered to women for the cure of anemia, chlorosis, painful and irregular periods, and all forms of weakness. They are sold by every druggist.

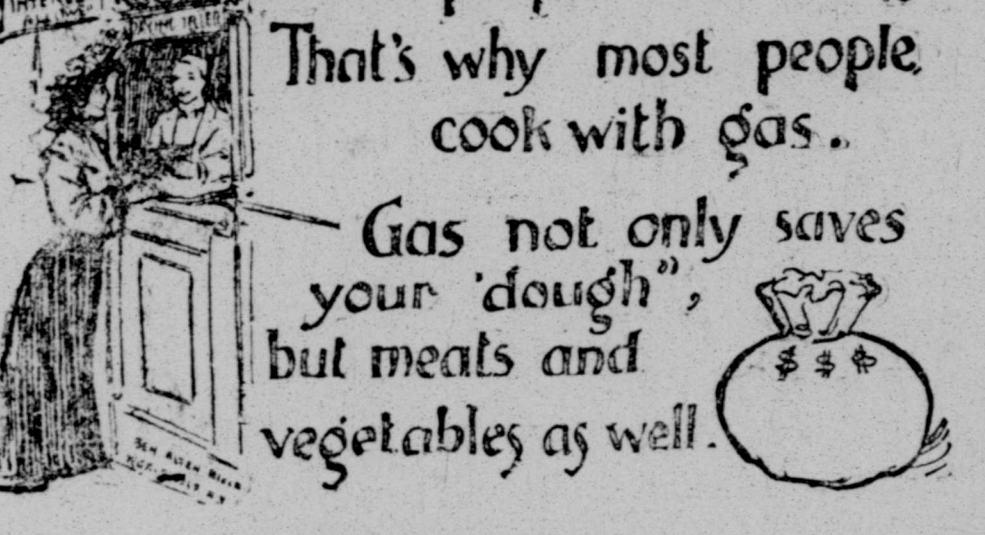

WHY DR. PEPPER

Has become the most popular fountain beverage. BECAUSE it is made from the best and purest of material. The flavorings are of the pure juices of the fruits. It is very wholesome and healthful and at the same time palatable and refreshing. It is beneficial to the system and an aid to digestion. It is indorsed, recommended and used by more physicians, druggists and dispensers than any other soda water drink.

Geo. Dixon and Champion Jeffries were the two coolest fighters that ever stepped into a ring.

I remember, before his fight with me at Coney Island, he would ask his friends repeatedly what they thought of his chances and of course he always received a flattering answer, which by the way, never carried any weight with the big fellow, even if the opinions were collected.

to a high pitch and his nervousness would be plain to every spectator for at least two rounds, when he would settle down and work like a whirlwind.

"I WAS EXTREMELY NERVOUS."

fight to wear to a dinner to be given in his honor by some friends, if he won. Jeffries' actions are somewhat different, but display even greater coolness than those of Dixon.

Jeff was joshing with some friends and was late getting into the ring. When he finally arrived he wore a small cap and a heavy sweater and jumped into the ring with the agility of a cat.

One of the great troubles with young fighters nowadays is that they enter the ring too young.

BASEBALL

FORT WORTH CLIMBS TO SECOND PLACE

Takes Both Games from Temple, Second Requiring Eleven Innings
A Fourth of July crowd that filled bleachers and grand stand and leaked over into right field saw Fort Worth win twice from the Temple Ball Weevils at Haines' Park Tuesday afternoon.

eleven innings to decide and the two games together stretched out for more than three hours and a half.

their base running, Botes and Mauch each getting credit for a steal.

GREATLY IN DEMAND
Nothing is more in demand than a medicine which meets modern requirements for a blood and system cleanser, such as Dr. King's New Life Pills.

Temple made its only spurt in the first inning of the first game, Coyle flied out. Then McIver, Shelton and Clayton followed with clean hits, one a two-bagger.

TOM KEENE Is Breaking All Records Every leaf of American Vuelta Tobacco is being made into Tom Keene cigars. Bondy and Lederer own and control the entire output of Vuelta Tobacco raised tariff free from Cuban sprouts in Texas. The public is learning the difference between this and ordinary "seed growth." The enormous sale of the Tom Keene shows this. If you know something about tobacco get a Tom Keene right now and smoke it alongside the best other nickle cigar you can find. Then notice the "Java Coffee taste" of the Tom Keene, characteristic of the milder kinds of imported cigars. HERSHEYER & ANNABIL, Kansas City, Mo. J. H. ROSENTHAL, Manager

RAILROAD SPECIALS CHEAPEST RATES TO COLORADO EVER KNOWN. In view of the intense interest in Colorado's attractions this season, and a rather extraordinary demand for a cheap rate excursion for the benefit of vacationists, the Fort Worth and Denver City and the Houston and Texas Central roads have announced a rate from all Texas points to Pueblo, Colorado Springs and Denver and return, of but three-fourths of one fare for the round trip; tickets to be on sale July 9 and 19, with a limit of sixty days, and to be good for stop-over privileges at all points between Trinidad and Denver, in either or both directions. This is really an extraordinary arrangement and one which will at once appeal to hundreds who could not visit the most interesting section under the higher rates ordinarily effective. Anticipating an appreciation of the conditions relative to it is understood the lines mentioned will have occasion to provide considerable extra equipment to their trains of the 9th and 10th, including a tourist sleeper, and that arrangements to that end are perfected. Rate from Houston will be $24.15; from Fort Worth, $18, and from all other points correspondingly low. Tourist sleeper rates from Fort Worth will be $2.50 per double berth, which may be used by two persons without extra cost. ST. PAUL, MINNEAPOLIS AND DULUTH. Via Chicago and Northwestern Railway. Four magnificent fast daily trains from Chicago to St. Paul and Minneapolis and to Superior and Duluth. The electric-lighted Northwestern Limited and Duluth-Superior Limited to the Head-of-the-Lakes, include all that skill and liberal expenditure can provide for comfortable and luxurious travel. Beginning June 1 round trip summer tourist tickets will be on sale daily from Chicago at the rate of $16 round trip to St. Paul and Minneapolis and $20 round trip to Superior and Duluth, with correspondingly low rates from all points. For full information apply to your nearest agent or address, A. L. Fisher, traveling agent, 523 Main street, Kansas City, Mo. THE PACIFIC NORTHWEST. A complete and interesting presentation of the scenic beauty and the rich natural resources and rapid growth of the Pacific Northwest are set forth in a beautiful illustrated booklet recently issued by the Chicago and Northwestern Railway, which will be sent to any address on receipt of 4 cents in stamps. PRISONER HURT IN WAGON CRASH

City Patrol and Interurban Car Collide at Fourteenth and Main Streets

John Kiley, a city prisoner, was injured in a collision between an interurban car and the city patrol wagon Tuesday night about 11 o'clock. The wagon was badly wrecked.

The prisoner is a trusty and was riding inside the wagon when he was thrown out through the rear door, falling violently to the pavement. Patrol Driver Foggs on the front seat escaped injury.

The hind wheel of the vehicle was almost completely demolished, putting the wagon out of commission until a new wheel can be secured.

Patrol Driver Foggs, in giving an account of the accident, says that he was driving south along Main street, between Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets. He says he saw no headlight and before he was aware of it the incoming interurban was upon his team. With the hope of saving the horses he swung the team to the left, thus throwing them off the track and turning the right hind end of the vehicle forward to bear the brunt of the shock, saving his horses.

GLENWOOD NOTES

OUTING FOR POOR

Hundred Children Guests of Salvation Army at Lake Erie

One hundred poor children left the city for Lake Erie this morning for an outing under the auspices of the Salvation Army.

At 10:30 o'clock the hall of the Salvation Army, 1609 1/2 main street, was crowded with the merry youngsters, who were waiting patiently for the chartered car that was to take them to Handley. There a good dinner and refreshments were served. The time will be spent pleasantly until 4 o'clock, when the return will be made.

The cost of this picnic is estimated at $75, which has just been barely covered by contributions and leaves no surplus.

In August the Salvation Army here is going to give a large picnic to the children of this city and their mothers. It is thought that they will take from three to five hundred persons on this outing.

LAKE ERIE HAS 10,000 VISITORS

Estimated by Officials That Fully That Number Were at Pleasure Resort

With an estimated crowd of 10,000 persons, 7,000 of whom are estimated to have come from Fort Worth, the remaining three thousand being divided among Dallas and towns along the interurban, July 4, as celebrated at Lake Erie was a success.

From early morning till almost early morning again the crowds filled the grounds and pavilion, rowed on the lake, alternately rode on the merry-go-round, took a peep at the vaudeville show, wandered in the open again, munching peanuts and generally enjoying the day of national celebration.

The crowd was a varied one, society people of the city mingling with excursionists from the country towns who came to Fort Worth for the Fourth of July. There were young and old, dressed in a multitude of summer colors.

Myriads of streamers and colored pennants were strung overhead and gayly tugged in the breeze as if conscious of the gay scene below them.

Both incoming and outgoing cars were crowded to their limits, the crowd constantly changing, those who had come early in the day leaving at sunset, while additional visitors from the city kept the tide of humanity at its height. Many visitors from Dallas were in the throng, while all towns on the interurban were well represented.

It was after midnight before the pleasure resort was emptied of its Fourth of July burden. At the regular performance of the Albert Taylor Stock Company the pavilion was crowded to the doors.

MERRY MAKER IS BADLY INJURED

John V. Douglass Struck by Passing Car Returning From Handley

John V. Douglass of 422 Lipscomb street, train dispatcher of the Frisco railroad, was hit by an eastbound East Point street car Tuesday night and knocked from the platform of an incoming interurban car. He was jammed between the two cars and sustained bruises and cuts about the head and body. At the Protestant Sanitarium, to which he was taken, it was said that he is injured so far as known, are not serious, but he may have sustained internal injuries.

The accident occurred about 11:30 o'clock. The car on which Douglass rode was crowded with people returning from Handley. No one seems to know just how the accident occurred, but it is said he was leaning out from the platform. The interurban was moving at a good rate of speed, and it was said that the man's impact was terrific.

Douglass has been unconscious since his arrival at the hospital. When the accident occurred there was no one near who knew the injured man and it was not until this morning, after his wife had spent a night of worry, that the man's identity was established through notification sent the Frisco company.

Auditorium Notes

Subcommittees having in charge the work of organizing the auditorium contest met Monday afternoon in the rooms of the Board of Trade to prepare for a meeting of the entire committee of twenty-one to be held Thursday. At that time definite steps and the actual launching of the contest will be decided upon.

The committee has about thirty-five prizes donated and the work of arranging these will be done at the meeting Thursday.

It is the intention of the committee to make the campaign in the behalf of the auditorium one of the most notable in the history of Fort Worth. The entire city will be canvassed, ward meetings will be held all over the city and an amount of literature distributed.

Thursday morning at 10 o'clock the entire committee of twenty-one at work in the Auditorium project will meet in the Board of Trade rooms and make final arrangements for the launching of the Auditorium contest. The committee has its plans well in hand now and the actual opening of the contest will be ready for them. The general plan of contest will be to have contestants sell tickets for the auditorium and the one selling the greatest number will win the first prize. The prizes are being arranged and listed at the meeting Thursday.

Secretary Harwood of the Auditorium committee said this morning that matters are progressing well. The committee has decided to have a large amount of printing done in the way of letters and literature bearing on the auditorium project. He says that as soon as the committee raises about $25,000 this will be put up as the nucleus of a building fund and the remainder will be solicited as stock subscriptions to an Auditorium corporation.

Bishop Joyce Ill

Information has been received of the possible fatal illness of Bishop Isaac W. Joyce of the Methodist Episcopal church. Who was stricken with cerebral hemorrhage at Minneapolis, Minn., last Sunday. Bishop Joyce has many friends and admirers in Fort Worth, who will regret to learn of his condition. Bishop Joyce was for four years, up to 1904, president of the Episcopal League several churches and was well known to the many who attended the international gatherings of that organization. He is on the program for the meeting now in progress in Denver, Colo.

Manufacturers to Return

Messrs. Cummer and Warren, representing the Cummer Manufacturing Company of Cadillac, Mich., which proposes to locate a crate factory in Texas, will return to Fort Worth this afternoon to further consider the city's advantages. They have been in Texas several weeks, looking the ground over, and are ready to return to Michigan. Secretary Butler of the Factory Club says that it looks as if the new concern will decide to locate here.

A Piano Is Possible to Any Family or Employed Young Man or Woman by Means of This Club Plan

Eager Buyers in Evidence Monday, Notwithstanding the Inclement Weather

A club concentrates attention on one thing and rivets a large share of the selling for the time being to that one thing, so it justifies us in buying sixty of a model at one time for instant cash. Sixty buying in pianos brings the utmost economy. Shipping in carload lots is a saving of freight. Selling on the floor is a saving of salesman expense. This economy in buying and the lessened expense of selling justifies our naming an unusually low price.

In a word: A Ross & Heyer Piano Club is a co-operative merchandising of the highest type, profitable to us through large selling and lessened expense, profitable to the club members through very easy terms and at very much lessened prices.

Saturday's freight brought in the second car, containing eighteen very choice Hoffman Pianos. Some very beautiful figures in quartered oak; some handsome Burl Walnuts in new shades, and some very choice San Domingo Mahoganies. Of course the first here will get choice of case design.

For the benefit of those wishing a large stock to select from, we advise an early call, as Monday's busy selling bespeaks a rapid decrease in this car of eighteen. Positively no outside soliciting on the club.

Only sixty pianos to be sold at club prices and terms.

FARMER FOUND DEAD IN BUGGY

J. H. Taylor, Living Near Waxahachie, Has His Skull Crushed

WAXAHACHIE, Texas, July 5.—J. H. Taylor, the farmer who was murderously assaulted late Monday afternoon near the city, died Tuesday morning about 6 o'clock. His wounds indicated that he was struck two terrific blows on the head with some heavy instrument, each blow crushing the skull in a frightful manner.

He was found Monday evening about 7:30 o'clock two miles east of town, sitting in his buggy with his head crushed and in an unconscious condition. The man who found him brought him to the city, where his injuries were given medical attention. An examination of his wounds showed three fractures of the skull.

There was considerable speculation as to the motive for the assault that was made on Taylor, but when his sons arrived in the city late in the night and stated that their father left home with about $75 in money the theory of robbery readily suggested itself. This morning when Taylor's buggy was searched a gray coat was found in it that could not be accounted for by members of his family.

The fact also developed this morning that a young yellow negro was seen in the buggy with Taylor late yesterday afternoon. With this meager clue to start with, Sheriff Minnick and his entire force of deputies began work on the case early yesterday morning and between 11 and 12 o'clock Albert Johnson, a negro about 23 years old, was arrested and charged with the murder of Taylor. At the time of his arrest Johnson was in a dry goods store buying a suit of clothes. After landing the negro in jail the officers continued at work on the case and Sheriff Minnick stated yesterday afternoon that sufficient evidence had been secured to warrant the holding of the negro.

It was learned that he had about $67 in money late Monday afternoon and that he spent something over $30 last night and this morning at various places in the city. He has also been identified as the negro seen with Taylor Monday afternoon. The coat found in Taylor's buggy was identified by the negro's relatives as belonging to him. His sister has made a statement that when he came home last night he changed his clothing. When arrested yesterday he had on a new suit.

Taylor lived in the Sterrett community and was a hard-working farmer. He had a great many friends in that community and a large number of them were in the city yesterday. When it became known that an arrest had been made there were several threats of lynching heard and several persons were seen on the streets with pistols. However, at this hour no demonstration of any kind has been made and the streets are now practically deserted. Sheriff Minnick apprehends no danger of mob violence. The negro, however, is confined in the death cell of the jail, the most secure place in the prison.
