KARLSTADT, Sweden, Sept. 23.—An agreement was reached this morning on terms for the dissolution of the union between Norway and Sweden.

MOB MAY HAVE HUNG THE WRONG PRISONER

Arkansas Lynchers Believed to Have Executed Prisoner Without Identification by Victim

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 23.—A special to the Arkansas Gazette from Conway, Ark., says that Frank Brown, a negro, was taken from jail there to the outskirts of the town and hanged by a mob.

The negro was held on a charge of assaulting a Mrs. Lawrence, killing her 6-year-old son and stabbing her baby daughter.

The lynching was evidently the result of a prearranged plan. The mob formed quietly to the jail. Sheriff Harrell is in Little Rock attempting to turn down a clew, which has resulted in the arrest of another negro.

The mob took Brown to the house in which Mrs. Lawrence lived, in a lonely spot, and there was no excitement. The affair was conducted in a businesslike manner.

Mrs. Lawrence has been removed to another house and the negro was not taken before her for identification. It is not known at what time the negro made a confession, although it is alleged that he did so.

MAY BE WRONG MAN

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 23.—Sheriff Harrell of Conway, when seen here last night, said he thought the wrong man had been lynched and that the man he now has under arrest is the one who committed the crime for which Brown was lynched.

CORNER STONE LAID BY BAPTIST CHURCH

Interesting Exercises Held This Morning by Kentucky Avenue Congregation

The corner stone of the Kentucky Avenue Baptist church was placed this morning at 9 o'clock before a large congregation, including members of that and other churches.

Services marking the event were opened by the pastor, followed by E. L. Huffman, who led in prayer. A song by the congregation was followed by reading of the Scriptures by Rev. J. R. Goode, county colporteur.

Rev. E. N. Bell, pastor of the North Fort Worth Baptist church, then delivered an address upon "Jesus Christ, the Church's Foundation," being followed by Rev. Sid Williams, who spoke of "The Spirit of Evangelism in the Church."

Another hymn by the congregation was followed by the placing of the stone.

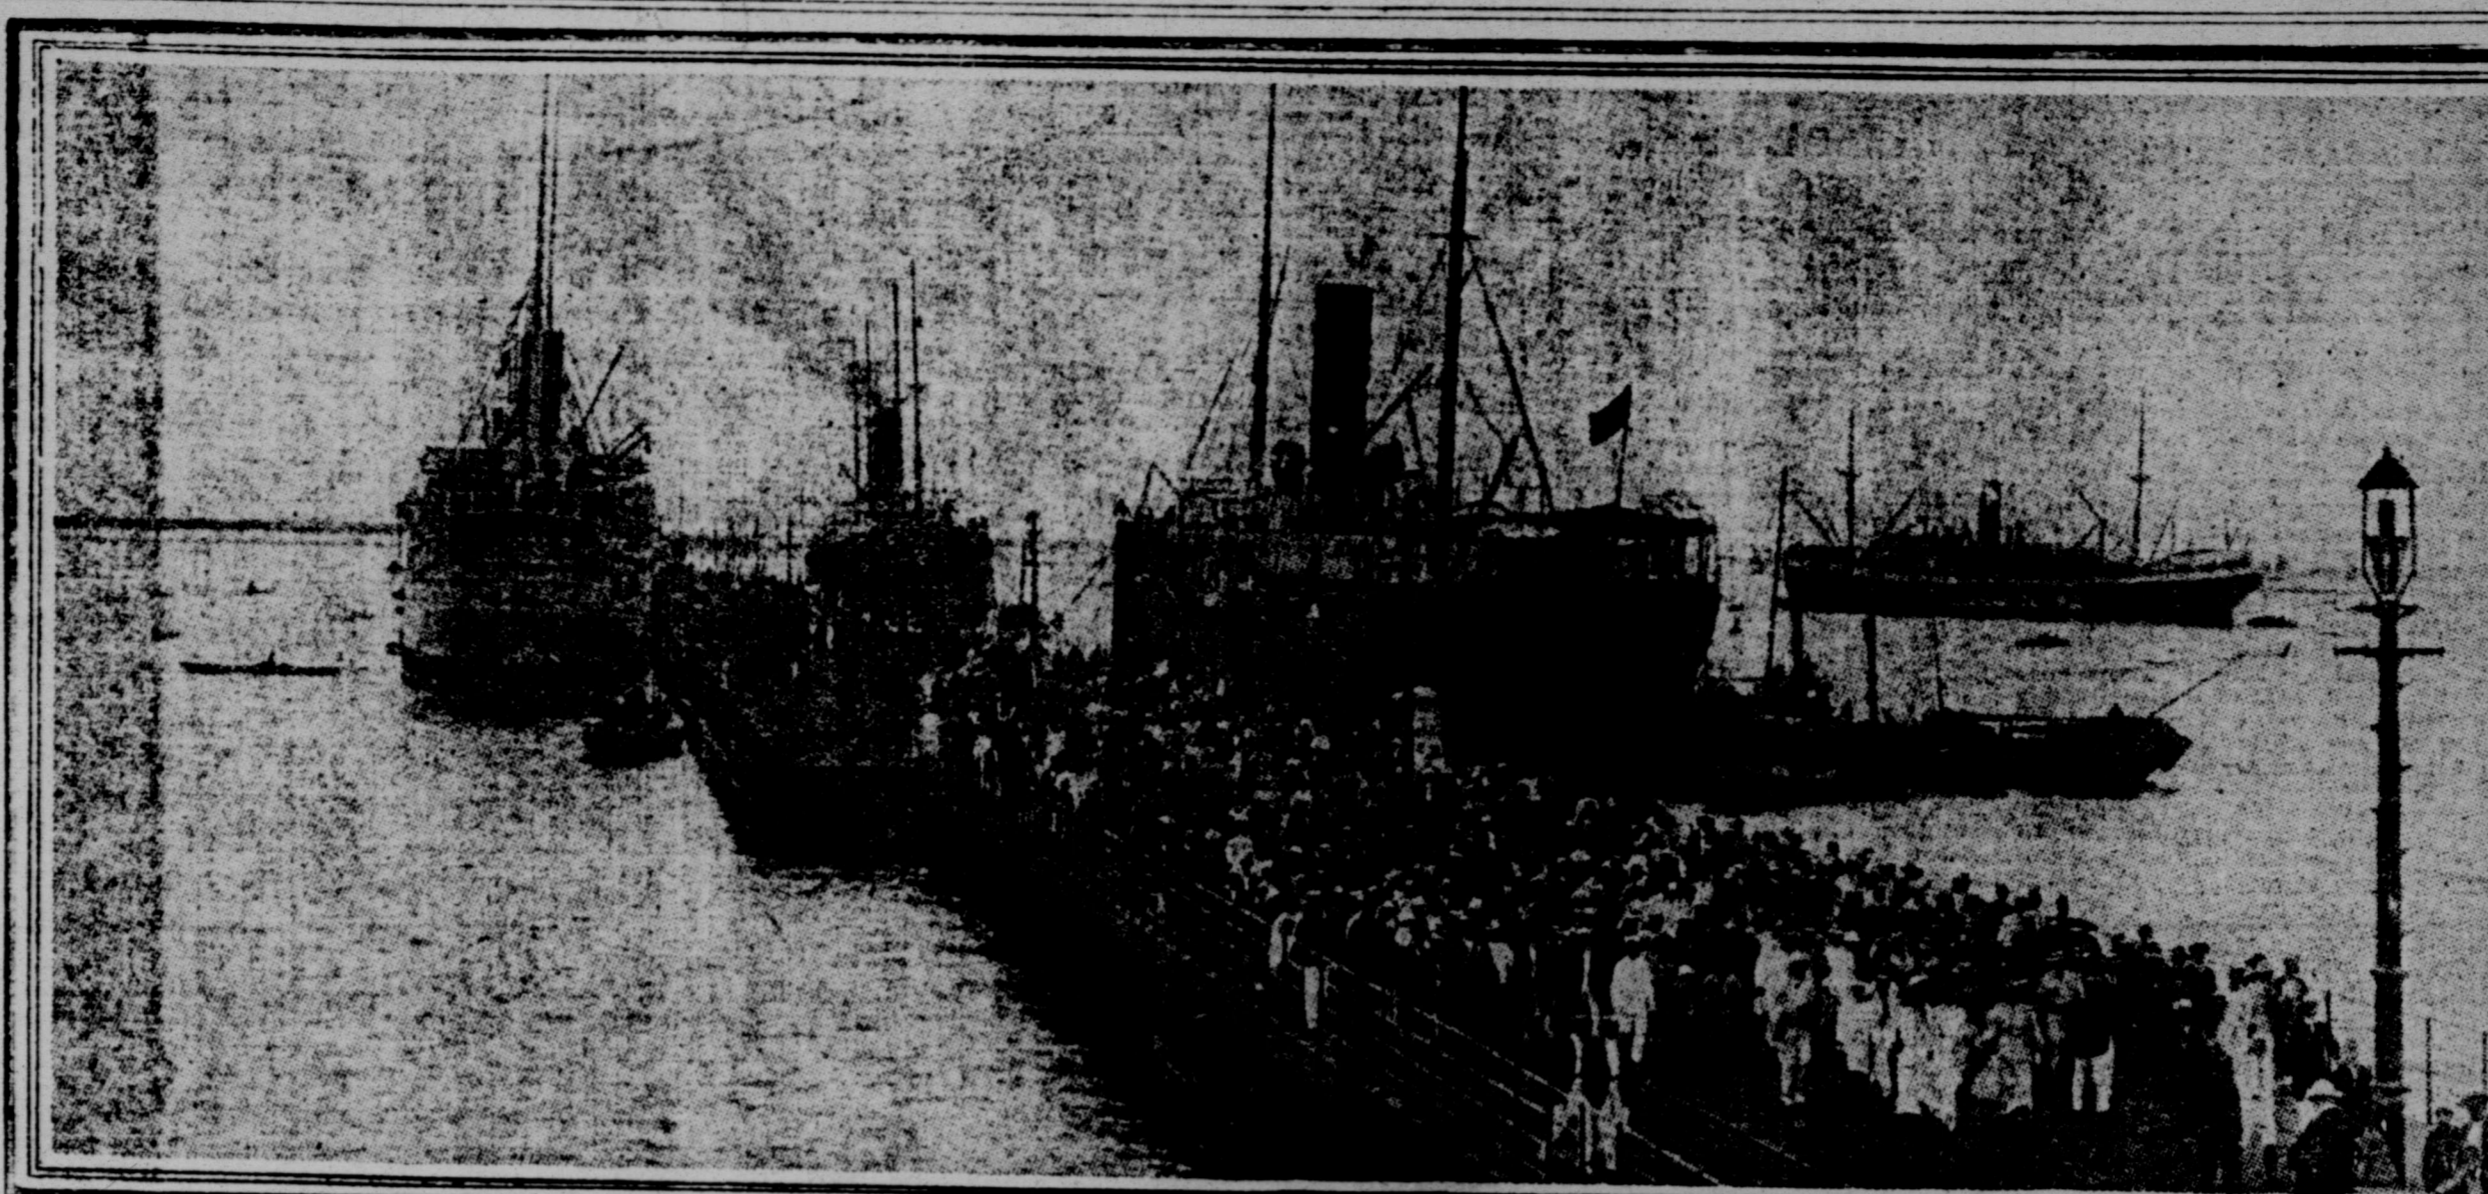

BANKER DIES SUDDENLY

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 23.—Colonel H. W. Yates, an aged banker of Lampasas, who had been in San Antonio for treatment, died very suddenly last evening in his room at the Hancock hotel.

When he reached here he was apparently in better health than he had been in a long time, but died in a few minutes after taking ill. Heart failure was the cause of death. He was en route to his home in Lampasas.

PACKERS LIKELY TO AID THE GOVERNMENT

Asserted that S. & S. Officials Will Turn State's Evidence at Chicago

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Officials of the Schwarzschild & Sulzberger Company will turn state's evidence in the beef trust cases and will disclose secrets that may mean the penitentiary in the event of conviction to the other defendants.

While counsel for the big packers deny that the rebate cases concluded by $25,000 fines affects the conspiracy case yet to be tried, it is believed the government will find a way to make use of Thursday's developments.

"The plea of guilty did not surprise those who know that the members of the Schwarzschild & Sulzberger firm have been extraordinarily successful as butchers; they take long chances," said the attorney mentioned.

"Well sick," why, when I read that and saw that the escape from prison was based upon his shattered health and broken-down nervous system, I laughed aloud.

There is nothing that could bother him mentally. He is the most stolid of mortals. I have known him for many years and I have had many occasions to study him.

NEW YORK EVIDENCE HELPED

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—While sufficient evidence was not secured by the federal grand jury in this city last spring to warrant the finding of indictments against the packers, the federal officials of the southern district of New York said yesterday that much of the evidence which resulted in the pleas of guilty on Thursday was secured by the federal officials here.

At the conclusion of the examination of the beef packers of New York, General Henry L. Burnett, the United States attorney for the district, forwarded certified copies of the evidence secured to Chicago. It is said that it was this testimony that gave the Chicago officials the wedge with which to get at the secrets of the beef trust.

RAILROADS TO BE PROSECUTED

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Prosecution of the railroads for violations of the Elkins law relating to rebates will follow the conviction of the four officials of Schwarzschild & Sulzberger for conspiring to receive rebates in the conduct of their packing business. Attorney Morrison made the announcement yesterday.

As the Elkins law makes no distinction in the guilt between the party receiving a rebate and the one giving it, the government is now in a position to begin proceedings against the railroads mentioned in the indictment through a new investigation before another grand jury.

CALIFORNIA VALLEY MAY BECOME LAKE

Michigan Engineer Predicts Disastrous Results from Poor Judgment in Diverting River's Course

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 23.—Disastrous results from irrigation in the Imperial valley in Southern California were predicted last night by George Y. Wisner, Detroit, an engineer of national reputation and member of the international waterways commission. Mr. Wisner was speaking before the Detroit Engineering Society.

"Within twenty years, thousands of people who have taken up government lands in the Imperial Valley will be driven out by water, their homes and fields forming the bottom of an immense inland sea," he said.

"The cause of the coming catastrophe is the poor engineering in diverting the course of the Colorado river for irrigation purposes. The river has cut in the bank of its new course to such an extent that nearly all of the Colorado river flows down into the valley.

GIRL'S ARDOR COOLED

When She Learned Gentlemanly Correspondent Was Negro Barber

WEBSTER CITY, Iowa, Sept. 23.—A Fort Dodge girl who answered an advertisement in a Chicago national paper has lost all faith in this sort of match-making and is the object of much bantering by the very few of her friends who know of the circumstances.

The young woman resides in Fifteenth street. Of course she started it all in sport, and wasn't prepared for the humiliation which has come to her.

Just for the novelty of the thing she answered the advertisement. It was but a day or two until she received a letter in reply. It was a model of propriety, and both the handwriting and the tone of the epistle showed that it was the product of a mind of more than ordinary culture.

The letters, while strictly proper in every way, grew in fervor both coming and going, and a meeting between the two was being arranged when a relative of the young woman, who learned of the progress of the affair, happened into the town from which the young man's letters were written and quietly made some inquiries.

He was not long in finding the location of the young man, who had stated that he was in business, and dropped into the place for a shave. The fellow is a negro barber.

The young woman has received three letters since that time, but they remain unanswered—even unopened. The young woman moves in Fort Dodge, and is being closely guarded by the relatives, who hope to spare her the added humiliation of a complete exposure.

NEGRO IS HANGED FOR BRUTAL MURDER

Rufus Binyon Pays Penalty at Ardmore for Whipping His Step-Daughter to Death

ARDMORE, I. T., Sept. 23.—Rufus Binyon, colored, expiated his crime upon the gallows yesterday afternoon by doing a man from the gallows to the place of execution in the rear of the jail.

Asked by officials if he desired to say anything, Binyon arose from a seat and sang "I'm Going Home to Die No More" with a steady voice, following which he said, "Good-by to you all; be good people." Straps were quickly adjusted and the black cap drawn.

Binyon pronounced the Lord's prayer in a clear voice. Promptly at 2 o'clock Deputy United States Marshal Henry Sublette sprung the trap and the body shot down.

Fifteen minutes later Binyon was dead and the body was cut down. This was the first legal hanging in the Southern district. The body was interred in the colored cemetery here.

Binyon, who was a tall, brown-skinned negro, about 45 years of age, on May 18, 1900, near Ran, I. T., whipped his little 8-year-old step-daughter, May Hawthorne, to death then placed the body in the fire and made an effort to cremate it. The mother of the child, however, discovered his crime and notified other negroes in the community, who took charge of Binyon and brought him to the Federal jail here in chains.

At the first term of court, following the crime, he was convicted and sentenced to hang. His attorneys appealed the case to the Indian Territory court of appeals, where the lower court's judgment was affirmed. The case was then carried to the supreme court of the United States, where it was dismissed for want of jurisdiction. A petition for commutation of sentence was made direct to the President through Bishop Arnett of Ohio, but the President refused to intercede.

At various times during his life and since his imprisonment, Binyon has displayed symptoms of insanity, and recently the fight for his life was made along this line.

CUBAN PARTY LEADER IS SLAIN BY POLICE

Congressman Villuendas Shot in Conflict at Hotel in Cienfuegos

HAVANA, Sept. 23.—Official dispatches received from Cienfuegos announced the killing of Congressman Enrique Villuendas, leader of the liberal party and the most able orator in the lower house, and the chief of police during a conflict between the two political parties, the liberals and the moderates.

The government advises say the police had information that within the hotel in which Villuendas resided a quantity of arms had been deposited and they went to the hotel to investigate the matter. As the police ascended the stairs they were met by a party of liberals, who fired on them, killing Chief of Police Illante. The police returned the fire, killing Villuendas and wounding several others.

Intense excitement prevails at Cienfuegos and Havana. As the news spread through Havana, the liberals and the moderates are rapidly gathering in their respective clubs, and it is feared that unless the leaders give wise counsel a clash may result.

A dispatch to the Associated Press from Cienfuegos says that six persons were killed and twenty-two wounded during the conflict.

Dispatches to the government say that besides Congressman Villuendas and Chief of Police Illante, two policemen were killed and twenty-two wounded during the conflict.

One telegram says that Villuendas fired the shot which killed the chief of police, while according to another telegram the shot was fired by Jose Fernandez, a liberal, who has been arrested.

A search of the hotel revealed two dynamite bombs in the room occupied by Villuendas.

While in Cienfuegos at present the forces are keeping order, every precaution is needed as there is danger of assault. I recommend that the authorities of persons who are liable to invade the city. There are fears of dynamite bomb throwing.

According to the evidence of Senator Frias, the government sent a train of five cars loaded with rural guards, the largest number of whom are destined for Cienfuegos, with the others to be distributed in Matanzas and Santa Clara, where advances received by the government indicate that serious trouble may occur at any time. The train also carries artillery and troops are supplied with 113,000 rounds of ammunition.

The feeling in Havana is most intense. The liberals are bitterly denouncing the government, saying they have received no advice from Cienfuegos because the government will not permit the use of cable lines.

FOUGHT AGAINST SPAIN

Dead Colonel Had Many Friends in New York

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Colonel Enrique Villuendas, leader of the Cuban liberal party, who was killed yesterday at Cienfuegos, had many friends in this city. He resided for some time during the Cuban revolution. The congressman's father and 14-year-old sister, Esmeralda, are staying at the home of Juan Fonseca in West Sixty-seventh street. The elder Villuendas has been ill and the news of his son's tragic death was withheld from him last night. He intended to leave this city today with his daughter for Havana on the steamer Morro Castle, but could not get a reservation. At the time Mr. Fonseca was informed of the killing of Colonel Villuendas, whom he had known since boyhood, he was writing a letter to his brother Francisco, in which he said, "Give my kindest regards to Brother Enrique."

"Then he added a postscript, saying that he had just learned of the death. Colonel Villuendas was 33 years of age. He fought with distinction in the last revolution against Spain, serving under General Maximo Gomez. He went to Cuba at the time of the insurrection in a filibustering expedition from the United States led by General Juan Ruiz.

A brother of Colonel Villuendas was killed in the revolution. Another brother is a member from Santiago province of the lower house of congress. Colonel Villuendas represented a Havana district. He was described as an able lawyer and a forcible speaker and often aroused the Cuban patriotic meet-

JUDGE BELL OUTLINES HIS VIEWS ON TAXES

Favors Increasing Powers of the State's Intangible Assets Law

HALLETTSVILLE, Texas, Sept. 23.—The principal event of Wednesday's carnival program was the addresses of T. M. Campbell of Palestine and Judge C. K. Bell of Tarrant, George Burgess of Gillespie and Judge A. Haldusck of La Grange. Judge Bell outlined his remarks to matters of a political nature connected with state affairs, stating that he did not think there would be any grave issues between himself and the other candidates for the nomination for governor. He did not consider prohibition or local option an issue, as the position of each aspirant for the nomination accorded with the other. Likewise with the evil of free passes and the necessity for legislative action to suppress it.

With regard to revenue and taxation he commented on the existence of the present deficiency of $30,000 in the general revenues and enumerated the causes that had brought this about, to-wit, the establishment of two additional normal schools, the Industrial School for Girls, the Confederate pension appropriation and the increased expenditures for the establishment of new public institutions. There were two ways to prevent a recurrence of this deficiency in the future, one to reduce expenditures, the other to increase the revenues. He opposed the former, as in the last appropriation bill he saw no item that he would have willingly stricken out. He endorsed the latter in the right direction. It needed perfecting. The law was strangely unequal in its application, in that it levied a tax on railroads and not on street railways, on telegraph franchises and not on the telephone; on the stock car companies, but not on the Pullman car. It favored amendments extending this law to cover all classes of intangible assets without distinction. He also endorsed the Love and Kennedy revenue bills, not finding the same objection to them, but favoring the same objective of these laws if any features of them when applied were found unconstitutional or inoperative. Legislation affecting corporations, he declared, should be most drastic in making it possible to obtain a return on the investment of the stockholders and that the profits of a corporation be obtained from its legitimate operation and not from its organization. He favored a law that would exact of all corporations the same conditions as is now required of insurance corporations. Many instances of the ease with which the public has been victimized under the operation of the laws of Texas was related. The attorney general could forfeit the charter of a corporation operating as a fraud on the public, but the same law in the law was making it possible to obtain a charter in fraud. At present the jury was inflamed before the state could act.

A reform in regard to the issue of county and municipal bonds was suggested to do away with a prevailing evil of refunding these bonds growing out of the use of the money collected to pay the principal by commissioners' bonds, and not being prepared to pay them when due, requiring a refunding. To remedy this he thought the law should be amended requiring an issue of twenty-year bonds and one-twentieth of the principal the sale of these bonds would not be affected by the provision, as the state would purchase them.

BUILDING OWNERS SUED

Reformers at Waco Following Up Victory Against Gamblers

WACO, Texas, Sept. 23.—Another batch of suits has been brought against parties alleged to be the owners or to be in possession of buildings in which gambling is conducted. The proceedings have been instituted under the new law enabling judges of district courts to issue injunctions restraining parties from conducting gaming establishments.

Judge Scott's remarks to the grand jury in which the judge recommended prevention of gambling by injunction suits, is influencing the reformers not only here but elsewhere, and it is likewise means in the general warfare against gamblers.

It is understood that a member of the sporting fraternity will disregard the injunction with a view to testing the law in the court of appeals.

FATHER'S CARESS FATAL

GRAVEL SWITCH, Ky., Sept. 23.—Jason Chumbley, a resident of this county, returned home Thursday to his wife and child. Roumania Refuses to Pay for Damages Incurred During Bucharest Riots

BUCHAREST, Roumania, Sept. 23.—The diplomatic rupture between Greece and Roumania has been completed by the departure of the Roumanian minister from Athens. The interests of the Roumanians in Greece have been entrusted to Italy, while the Russian legation here will guard the interests of the Greeks in Roumania. The cause of the trouble between Roumania and Greece is refusal by Roumania of the demand of Greece for compensation to those who suffered by the pillaging of Greek shops and the maltreatment of the Greek subjects during the recent demonstration at Bucharest.

STONES RESEMBLE GEMS

Discovery Near Trinity River Excites Community

CORSICANA, Texas, Sept. 23.—Parties living near Trinity river in what is known as the Anderson Schoolhouse community, are becoming interested from the fact that recently there have been found there some stones that resemble diamonds. The stones are clear, have a sparkle and were found some distance below the surface while wells were being sunk and in blue slate soil. Harry W. Conkling of that community was here today and showed one of the stones which he found there. He said he had shown it to a local dealer in diamonds here and was greatly encouraged by his opinion. Mr. Conkling says he will send the stone to an expert.

Saloons Must Close Doors

GEORGETOWN, Texas, Sept. 23.—The commissioners' court counted the vote today in the county prohibition election held Sept. 9 and declared that prohibition received 2,532 against 2,268, the majority for prohibition being 265. The saloons will be ordered closed at midnight in Williamson county on Friday, Oct. 27.

PRINTER'S INK HELPS TO PACK EMPTY PEWS

Anderson, Ind., Pastors Unanimously Agree It Pays to Advertise

ANDERSON, Ind., Sept. 23.—Advertising for churches, as well as for commercial lines, when conducted properly, is a paying investment in the conclusion of a majority of the members of the Ministerial Association of this city.

"Church advertising is the special theme for discussion yesterday afternoon when the ministers reassembled and reorganized after a season of vacation.

The Rev. W. B. Parr of the Hope Congregational Society, led in the discussion and said he was a firm believer in the value of advertising. He said he did not mean to employ extraordinary methods of attracting attention to his church, or for any other church, but he thought a church should make itself well known in any community for the benefit of new arrivals in the city or visitors.

Such advertising, however, should be done with regard to the usual ethics governing any business or movement. Mr. Parr said his congregation was already advertising extensively in this city by means of large printed cards placed in business houses, hotels, halls and other places. Some advertising on billboards had been done, but it consisted only of having the words, "Go to the Congregational Church, Next Sunday," in large type on posters.

The Rev. J. W. Finck of the Lutheran congregation also favored advertising in various ways. Others who spoke on the subject included the Rev. Dr. C. C. Cassell of the First Methodist Episcopal congregation; the Rev. T. W. Gratton of the Central Christian congregation; the Rev. Hobart L. Marvin of Trinity Episcopal congregation; and the Rev. C. O. Clark of the First United Brethren congregation. Some differed on methods, but all thought it paid to advertise.

SENATE TO INQUIRE INTO TRUST GIFTS

Less Than Five Million Dollars

W. s Republican Campaign Fund—Whence Came It?

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Five million dollars was raised for the republican campaign fund in the presidential election of 1904.

Point blank statements that the New York Life Insurance Company contributed $150,000 in the aggregate in three presidential campaigns, and a belief amounting to a certainty that H. H. Rogers of the Standard Oil Company came down handsomely in the campaign of 1904, from a sufficient basis for dragging the facts out of the contributors cured, both sent free by mail.

It can be assumed that Mr. Cortelyou will have to go before the senate judiciary committee and be examined as to the use of money in the campaign of 1904.

A resolution demanding the investigation is already on the senate calendar, but the revelations in New York that money was used, with the amounts given, will furnish the democrats of the committee ample ground to force the hand of the committee.

Senator Depew is one of the prominent republicans of the committee. The democrats of the committee are Bacon, Cullerton, Blackburn and Patterson.

Mr. Cortelyou has never admitted the amount for 1904. He has believed that it was near $5,000,000. It would require twenty of the biggest corporations to contribute as much as the respectable sum required for the campaign of 1904.

Here are some of the big concerns which may or may not have been visited by Mr. Cortelyou:

Table listing companies and their contributions: American Tobacco Co., $180,000,000; American Sugar Refining Co., $60,000,000; American Beet Sugar Refining Co., $20,000,000; United States Steel Corporation, $1,100,000,000; United States Express Co., $10,000,000; United States Leather Co., $128,000,000; Swift & Co., $35,000,000; Nelson Morris & Co., $20,000,000; Armour & Co., $20,000,000; Cudahy & Co., $15,000,000; Standard Oil Co., $100,000,000; Standard Rope and Twine, $12,000,000; Bethlehem Steel Corporation, $20,000,000; Equitable Life (assets), $412,000,000; N. Y. Life (assets), $310,000,000; Mutual Life, N. Y. INSTROKE

The summer's awful heat will kill those not fit to resist it—those whose bodies are full of poison because they have neglected their bowels.

The victims of sunstroke, or of any of the other terrible dangers of summer—diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera morbus—are always those who have been careless about keeping clean inside, and as a result have their blood full of rotten filth breeding disease germs and their bodies ready with weakness to succumb to the hot spell.

Keep yourself clean, pure and healthy inside, disinfected as it were, with CASCARETS CANDY CATHARTIC, the greatest antiseptic bowel tonic ever discovered and you will find that every form of summer disease will be effectively

PREVENTED BY Cascarets CANDY CATHARTIC BEST FOR THE BOWELS ALL DRUGGISTS. Includes a small illustration of a person and text describing the product's benefits.

Waco Schools Growing

WACO, Texas, Sept. 23.—The school board of the public schools has had a remarkable experience in putting up new buildings. The sum of $60,000 was spent about a year ago for new buildings and it was believed that these new buildings, aggregating between twenty and thirty new rooms, would be sufficient to meet the growing demands of the schools for several years. But all these rooms are full and even the offices and ante-rooms of the new buildings are being used already. It is considered one of the most remarkable proofs of the steady development of the cities of Texas.

AUDUBON BOY GOES MILE IN 1:59 1-4

Star Pointer's Famous Record, Made Seven Years Ago, Equaled at Readville, Mass.

READVILLE, Mass., Sept. 23.—More than 8,000 enthusiastic followers of harness racing saw Audubon Boy pace one of the most wonderful miles ever made under adverse conditions at the Readville track.

Audubon Boy started to beat 2:00 3-4. The weather conditions favored record time, but protracted rains earlier in the week left the track heavy.

In making the trial James Gatchumb, owner of the stallion, refused to use a windshield or to have a running horse draw a cart with canvas attached between the wheels in the lead during the mile, preferring to make the attempt in the same way that Star Pointer gained the world's record of 1:59 1-4 here.

Audubon Boy's first quarter was made in 29 seconds and the next in 28 1/2, making the time for the half 0:57 1/2. When the time was announced the crowd cheered. Three-quarters were done in 1:27 1/2, but before this it was seen that whatever the time of the mile, Audubon Boy would have to make it entirely alone.

As a result of Audubon Boy's performance a match between the east and the west is considered probable, Audubon Boy representing the east and Dan Patch the west.

PATRONIZE TEXAS BREEDERS The season of year is rapidly approaching when Texas ranchmen make investments in fine breeding stock for the purpose of still further improving the already excellent quality of their herds, and before making these purchases it would be well for our Texas ranchmen to cast an eye to windward in this state and see if they cannot find just the character of breeding stock they need close at home. It is a well known fact that hundreds of thousands of dollars have been spent in bringing fine breeding animals to this state in the laying of foundations for breeding herds that are the equal of those found in any other state. The rule of the Texas breeder has been to buy the very best the leading breeders of other states could produce, and the result has been that for a number of years we have been bringing to this state the very cream of the eastern herds. It is morally certain that the bringing of these fine animals to Texas has not resulted in the impairment of any of their good blood and they are just as fine stock as if they had been permitted to remain in the land of their nativity. It is equally palpable that the progeny of this fine stock is just as good as if it had come into the world in some other state, and when we concede these facts it must be accompanied by the realization that it is not necessary to go outside of Texas to obtain the character of stock now needed as herd improvers. A few years ago the breeders of Kansas, Missouri and Illinois did a big business with the Texas ranchmen that was extremely lucrative. Bulls were shipped into the range country almost by the train load and sold at prices varying from $100 to $500 almost as fast as they could be unloaded from the cars. These bulls were usually calves and yearlings that had been fed and slicked up for the occasion. It did not make any difference in those days whether the animals had certificates of registration or not. If they were red and possessed of white faces and in good order they immediately found a purchaser. The fact that the registration papers were to be furnished later cut no ice in the transaction. The simple affirmation on the part of the seller that they were either registered or entitled to registration was all that was necessary. But when the fat began to wear off some of these animals and it was found they had been staled and pampered expressly for the west Texas trade the ranchmen began to take a tumble. They began to write back east for those registration papers, only to find in a great many instances that the animals they had purchased were good milk pea stock. In other words, the Texas ranchmen found in many instances that they had been bugged by scientific Kansas sharpers, who had not hesitated to take advantage of their enterprise and liberality and had palmed off on them some good grade stuff that was perhaps a little better than the old Texas long horns of long ago. This discovery put a summary quietus upon the indiscriminate purchase of fine breeding stock from irresponsible speculators, and the Texas ranchmen began to deal direct with the leading eastern breeders. They visited the great breeding farms in person and picked out the stuff that attracted their fancy. The matter of price was not considered, and the result was that the best began to find its way to Texas and made its home out on the Texas range. Entering Texas across the demand that was arising for improved breeding stock and they established great breeding herds until today practically all the leading breeds are represented and a man does not have to go outside of Texas to find just what he wants in this line. A great advantage this Texas bred stuff enjoys is that it is acclimated. The eastern bred stuff has to go through the process of becoming acclimated when it is brought here, and there is always more or less danger of loss from fever. Even if the animal is lucky enough to escape fever, it becomes stunted to a considerable extent, and some time is required for its development over and above what would have been the case if the purchase had been made in the state of Texas. Another thing that should exert some influence in these matters is the fact that recognition and support is due the Texas breeder who has spent good money in order that Texas bred stuff may be available to the ranchman who desires to improve his herd. If this Texas bred stuff was not as good as that produced in the east the situation would be different. There would be no great impropriety in the ranchman looking to the east. But it is conceded the Texas stuff is all right, that it will meet any legitimate requirement, and it is the duty of the Texas ranchmen to give these home breeders a chance to make good. It is to be hoped that when the annual fall purchases have been recorded in Texas this fall the volume of business done will be found in favor of the Texas breeders. They are enterprising people and are entitled to this recognition at the hands of their brothers and fellows.

THE TELEGRAM is very much mistaken if it thinks for a moment that the News can be read out by the Houston Post or by any other newspaper or person. For the News gets its credentials from the free people of Texas, the source of that democracy which is sound, and which endures forever. As to reading the Post out, it is already read out. It was read out long ago, and re-read out more recently by the democratic committee of its own city, the members of that committee being as follows:

- F. W. Grota. Peter Chalmers. George W. Larendon. J. S. Wilson. James Carroll. "Frank" and "Bob" Cockrell. J. H. Rothwell. R. S. Abel. John D. Potter. J. P. Schneider. Eleven democrats, against whose loyal democracy no man had ever dared to utter a word. There were twelve of them, but one was away, like the one mentioned in the beautiful hymn of "Ninety and Nine" when it says:

There were ninety and nine that safely lay in the shelter of the fold, But one went out on the hills away, far off from the gates of gold.

When the eleven, feeling it a duty to warn the democracy against the Post, and to turn it out of the party for its evil political deeds, safely lay in the democratic fold, this wandering sheep could not be found. If the Post is really an "organ" it is the organ of a "ring," and a very small "ring" at that.—Dallas News.

The Telegram congratulates the News upon its evidence of the political depravity of the esteemed Post, but at the same time it expects to hear a mighty shattering of something that is extremely fragile when the Post throws its next brick at the glass house occupied by the esteemed News. The News asserts the Post is not a democratic organ and proceeds to prove the assertion by some evidence that appears almost indisputable, and the Post has been regaling its constituency with some evidence as to the soundness of the News' democracy that has unquestionably made the amiable old lady at the head of navigation wince. This has been enjoyable to the people of the state as a whole, but The Telegram respectfully submits that when it comes to a matter of pure and undefiled democracy neither the News or the Post is a competent witness, for each has succeeded in proving the other belongs outside the pale of the regular democratic organization. The Telegram— which always takes its democracy straight, would advise both these esteemed contemporaries to profit by its example, climb upon the democratic bandwagon and hold on like grim death in the future. It is not every man who cries "democrat, democrat," who is a democrat, but it is he who lends an attentive ear to party precepts, supports party candidates and never leaves the party bandwagon to take part in or cognizance of a dog fight upon the commons. And when both these esteemed organs have once again safely donned the party collar democracy will readily forgive them if they solemnly promise they will sin no more.

One of the packing outfit that entered a plea of guilty and was fined $10,000 the other day, is said to have been distressed almost to the verge of physical collapse on account of the indictment against him. While he was feeling that way he was experiencing some of the pangs that have been experienced by the live stock industry of the country for the past three years. Every town on the Santa Fe's San Angelo branch expects to be the starting point for the New Mexico cut-off. And every town on the Texas and Pacific west of Fort Worth expects to be the crossing point. These are among the reasons why the suspense is growing so painful.

If it is necessary to have federal control of insurance in order to protect the policyholders in these concerns, how long will it be until we come to the necessity of federal control of everything? Railroad Commissioner Colquitt welcomes the filing of the federal injunction in the emergency rate case as a fine opportunity to manufacture a little more political thunder. That ordinance that will require the separation of the races in street cars will meet with popular approval. The wonder is that it was not enacted long ago.

Four of the big packers fined in the sum of $25,000 in the first round with the federal government goes to prove that there is still some balm in Gilead. Fort Worth is willing for work to begin now that that interurban line to Mineral Wells just as soon as the necessary preliminaries can be arranged. "De man dat goes aroun' complainin' dat dar ain' no disinterested friendship," said Uncle Eben. "Is usually de man dat is tryin' to use friendship as an investment."—Washington Star.

State Topics has been revived at Austin, and is supporting Jim Wells for governor. Jim hasn't even stuck his head out of the chapparal and announced a candidacy—and he may as well not. Jim is a good fellow—but as a candidate for governor—hardly.—Sherman Register.

There is a new law to be effective Dec. 1, requiring druggists who sell patent medicines, the chief ingredient of which is alcohol and which is used largely as a beverage, to take out license as liquor dealers. The ruling is that where there is not enough chemical ingredients in the medicine to impart medicinal value the patent medicine will be regarded as a beverage, and a revenue license accordingly required. Just what effect this will have upon the sale of certain well known intoxicating patent medicines will largely be left to the chemical analysis of the druggists.—Brownwood Bulletin.

The new law will carry joy into those local option communities where it is contended the state law is evaded by the sale of questionable preparations. Doubtless numbers of druggists will proceed to qualify under the federal law, and that action will precipitate additional complications. Wouldn't a legislature, the lower house of which contained such men as Hogg, Chilton, Crane, Mills, Duncan, Come Joiner, Dick Wynne, be a thing to be desired.—Athens Review.

So much to be desired that the people should see these men are nominated and elected. And men of the same quality should be chosen from every district in the state. More than $100,000 worth of real estate has changed hands in Cooke county during the past month. This shows that there is big business in the old commonwealth and the real estate men think that business will run far above this figure during the next three months.—Gainesville Messenger.

There is an active demand for real estate all over Texas. The people are buying homes and improving homes in every direction, and that fact serves to show that our people are prosperous and contented. Texas real estate values are also rapidly advancing. The interurban proposition is not dead, by any means. In fact it is a pretty live wire right now. As near as the index can learn there are three different companies now figuring on building the line. Mineral Wells Index.

The interurban proposition is a dead sure thing. The time is not far distant when work will begin, and that work will be undertaken by responsible parties. A former scavenger in Abilene hauled the cleanings of the town closets to his garden, where his wife was located, and all his family had typhoid as well as four neighbors who used water from his well.—Abilene Reporter.

The typhoid germ is very much in evidence in almost every community and is a germ that fairly revels in filth. Consequently, the best preventive of typhoid fever is due observance of the proper sanitary conditions. The Fort Worth Telegram takes a shot at the San Antonio Express on the matter of charging that there are tax-dodgers in Texas, and that some of them live in North Texas where land worth $100 per acre is taxed at something like a tenth of that value. The Telegram claims on Southwest Texas to get after its tax-dodgers, and points to increased assessment values in North Texas counties, while the same showing is not made in Southwest Texas. The tax-dodger is not a genus indigenous to any particular soil, but has his being everywhere. Southwest Texas is as badly cursed with his tribe as is any other section of the state.—Sherman Register.

THE PECOS COUNTRY

L. L. Baldrige of Fort Stockton, Texas, who has been the guest of his brother, E. E. here for the past two weeks, left Thursday for his Pecos country ranch. Mr. Baldrige says he is not figuring on shipping any cattle, other than some old shabby cows, before December, as they are well where they are and he does not think it probable that the market will be any worse at that time than at present, and he will have fatter and heavier cattle ready to ship in December than now. He says there will be a good movement of fat cows from the Pecos country during the last two months of the year, but that there are not many steers to be shipped.

NEW MEXICO RANGE

Judge I. H. Burney, attorney for the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association, has returned from a trip to New Mexico, where he went to prosecute some cases for the association. That part of the country around Alamogordo, N. M., is in splendid shape," said Judge Burney yesterday. "They have had plenty of rain and the prospects of cattle raising through the winter without damage are splendid. I was much pleased with the country and the conditions prevailing."

THE SAN ANTONIO FAIR

The dates as finally agreed upon for the San Antonio International Fair this year are Nov. 18 to 23, inclusive. The changes in dates by the management was made because of the change of date of the Dallas fair. The postponement of the opening day from Oct. 21, as originally announced, to the new date, Nov. 18, will cause the fair association great loss of time and money, but the change was made entirely in the interest of exhibitors and visitors, especially those coming long distances.

Moonsline and Musings

BY SID BARTON. A WORD FROM JOSH WISE: I always give a man credit when he's a good feller, even if nature did make 'im one. A lot of yellow fever refugees have fled to Ohio. It only shows what a piteous yellow fever causes. A milkman drowned himself in the Worcester, Mass., water works last night the other day. The ruling passion again. "Grafty is just itching to get into some kind of a political office this fall." "It be running for anything?" "Yes." "Then I'll be one to scratch him."

With the CATTLEMEN

RAILROAD MEN NOT SURPRISED CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 22.—Railroad traffic officials were not surprised at the outcome of the beef trust case, for it was long known that the evidence which the United States authorities held against the packer firms in connection with one of the railroads at least was conclusive. For the effect the outcome will have upon large shippers' rebates has substantially been foreseen, but for the possible effect it may have upon the public mind in connection with the rate agitation they are not so well prepared. In discussing the matter J. C. Stubbs, traffic director for the Harriman roads, said: "I am glad that anyone guilty of paying or receiving rebates should be punished. Not that I desire to see anyone suffer, but it will be a wholesome thing for all concerned. It will give the public confidence in the adequacy of the existing laws to meet and deal with the evils that they are framed to deal with, and it will show that the administration and enforcement of the laws are being honestly attempted." Darius Miller, second vice president of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy road, said: "The packers' case does not shake my faith in the truth of the statement that the payment of rebates has substantially ceased. In all the cases complained of the roads said to have paid rebates are eastern roads. I am not so personally familiar with the eastern situation as with the western, but I can say emphatically that I do not believe any rebates have been paid by western roads since the issuance of the court injunctions. I believe the case will have a beneficial effect both upon shippers and upon the railroads."

President B. L. Winchell of the Rock Island, one of the roads which is said to have paid the defendant company rebates, is not in the city, neither is W. E. Biddle, vice president, in charge of traffic. J. E. Holden, freight traffic manager of the company, had very little to say. The other railroads mentioned in the case do not have their principal traffic officials in this city, with the exception of the Michigan Central. Captain Grammer, vice president of that road, in charge of traffic, was out of the city today.

AN APPEAL TO FASHION

O goddess of the fashion plate, We women bend the knee, Your majesty to supplicate. And urge an earnest plea, Our hearts, now plunged in deepest grief, Shall rise like any rocket, If you will come to our relief. And grant us but—a pocket. Your favor to propitiate, We strive more than the men; Why will you thus discriminate In favor of them, then, When in our garments or the wear With cubby-holes you stock it; For one we lift our humble prayer, A pocket—O, a pocket!

OUR HANDKERCHIEF WE CANNOT FIND

And all too soon we lose it, 'Tis borne on any pilfering wind, Just when we most would use it, Our cards are gone, our purses, too, Our grief—our grief do not mood it, But grant the gift—a fiftieth do, A pocket—O, a pocket!

OUR THROATS ARE BARE, OUR WAISTS ARE BOUND

If such is your command, Our dainty skirts lie on the ground, Or grabbed with graceless hand, We do not ask for reason's powers, Nor sense—alas! you shock it. If only this small boon be ours— A pocket—O, a pocket! —Mary Gow Walsworth in Chicago Record-Herald.

GREENFLOWER PHILOSOPHY

Our hearts now laugh at a child for telling a secret the First Thing, Green people do lots better; they don't tell it till the second thing. A new wedding song is entitled "If Thou But Knew." Ah, that's the reason they marry each other; Because neither one knows. It is a good plan for a woman to occasionally let her husband have his way without giving him a look that will take the pleasant taste out.

It is said of an English woman who has been sick that she looks so much worse than a ghost that she suggests a ghost with a bad liver. You do not need to read history to know of the decline and fall of an empire; you find it in every town, written on the faces of faded princesses. It has reached that stage when a man finds a roasting ear on his place, and thinks he isn't doing right because he eats it instead of decorating with it. There is only one way for a woman to prevent her husband swearing when he is putting up a stove, and that is to have it put up when he is down town. Here is a joke the clerks in the shoe stores have to smile at every time they fit a pair of shoes to a woman: "Take care, or you may see a hole in my stocking."

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR

A married man's idea of being in heaven is being a bachelor again. It makes a girl blush when she has a man ask her to go buggy-riding. A woman isn't half as crazy to go awfully, spending money, as she is to have her neighbors not be able to. When a girl has her photographs taken it is a sign there is a man she is doing to make ask her for. If a woman can't think of anything else to suspect about a man of good habits she can believe that he may be leading a double life.—New York Press.

MANY SEE TEST OF ACETYLENE GAS

Brilliant Illuminant Shown to Be Equally Useful for Fuel Purposes. Demonstration of cooking by acetylene gas was made by the American Acetylene Gas Light Company Thursday evening at 1115 Houston street, before a large number of people who gathered to witness the tests. Gas used was generated in the machines manufactured by the company, and in addition to the cooking demonstration, tests in rapidly heating water to any desired point by regulation of the flame were shown. Time tests of interest were made at the demonstration, delicious biscuits being taken from the oven, baked to the proper crispness, in from four to five minutes. Cake was baked in similarly short time by comparison, while sweet potatoes, bread and meats were also used with equally desirable results. No smoke nor odor from the fuel was noticeable. The gas, it is said, is produced at a cost of 5 cents an hour for two burners in a gas range. This means that a whole meal can easily be cooked for less than a nickel. Another demonstration will be given from 7 to 9 o'clock tonight at the same place—1115 Houston street.

NEW WORK BEGUN FOR WATERWORKS

Additional Reservoir and Railway Spur to Increase Facilities of Present City Plant. Work has been begun on the construction of the new 2,000,000 gallon reservoir recently authorized by city council for the storage of water from the artesian well. The new reservoir will be placed directly northwest of the present reservoir at the water works plan being about forty feet from it. With its completion the city will have an ample water supply at all times of the day, the storage of the water during the night being practically increased by the pumping capacity by that amount. Surveyors from the office of the city engineer are now doing preliminary work for the running of a spur from the Frisco railroad to the water works for the unloading of coal and other supplies. As outlined, the new track will follow the east side of the Trinity.

NEW BUILDING PERMITS

Three Residents to Erect New Dwellings in the City. Building permits have been issued by J. B. Hawley, city engineer, as follows: Bob Turley, two-story, five-room frame dwelling, lot 17, block 5, Goldsmith's addition, lot cost $900. Mrs. Putnam, one-story, five-room frame dwelling, block 21, Tucker's addition, lot cost $1,000. A. Rabyor, two-story, eight-room frame residence, lot 4, block 5, Feilds-Welch addition, $1,300. Best for rheumatism, Eimer & Amend's Prescription No. 2851. Celebrated on its merits for many effective cures. Full sale by all druggists.

ONLY ONE

The Record in Fort Worth is a Unique One

If the reader has a "bad back" or any kidney ailment and is looking for relief and cure, better depend on the only remedy endorsed by people you know. Doan's Kidney Pills relieve quickly—cure permanently. Fort Worth citizens testify to this. Here is a case of it: W. S. Price, carpenter, of 701 West Weatherford street: "Up to April, 1902, I had kidney complaint of a very advanced stage, which was characterized by continual pains across the small of my back and an unnatural condition of the kidney secretions. At that time I took Doan's Kidney Pills, which I procured at Weaver's drug store. They proved to be by far the best remedy I ever used for kidney ailments. I made the fact known to my neighbors. Fort Worth papers that I had derived great benefit from using Doan's Kidney Pills, and I know of more than one friend and acquaintance who has profited by my experience. It is a pleasure to recommend a preparation which so thoroughly fulfills the representations made for it and which offers immunity from pain to a person who has suffered from excited or weakened kidneys. The test of a year's time has given me more confidence in them than before."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

More Troops for Finland

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Sept. 22.—A large increase in the number of Russian troops in Finland is expected soon. About 4,500, it is said, will be sent to Helsingfors, 500 to Viborg and 300 to Vasa. The troops will be quartered in private houses.

An explosion near the residence of the governor of Vasa yesterday evening created much excitement, but no damage was reported beyond the shattering of windows of neighboring houses.

"Let me learn from your eyes what my fate is to be," sang the poet: "let them teach me the secrets"— "Thank you," interrupted the lady; "they have pupils enough now."—Cleveland Leader.

SAYS RAILWAYS MAKE BIG RATE REDUCTIONS

President Hill Declares Government Wouldn't Dare Be So Radical

President James J. Hill of the Great Northern Railway Company, during an address he delivered before the farmers of Southern Minnesota at the Ellmore fair, in part said: "It is an easy prophecy, because it is a business fact, that railroad rates in this country would decline more slowly under government control than if fixed by those who intelligently manage railroads. No public body would dare make reductions so sweeping as those that have been made voluntarily by railroads."

RATE WAR ON

Border Cities in Mists of Hot Controversy

There is a freight rate war brewing at Laredo which is becoming interesting. It arises from the fact that when Laredo secured the common point rate with El Paso and Eagle Pass, backed by the Southern Pacific, objected and claimed it was unfair for Laredo to have the common point rate when neither Eagle Pass nor El Paso had it. The two places last mentioned are out of the common point territory, but the Morgan steamship line and the Southern International are forcing the road to make a rate to Laredo the same as to El Paso or Eagle Pass, in proportion to distance, regardless of common point rate. The merchants of Laredo are going to put up with any such treatment and have appealed every case and will appeal all others in which they are overcharged, interstate rate, to the railroad commission.

NEW MAN FOR DALLAS

Big Four Sends J. M. Stone as Traveling Passenger Agent General Passenger Agent Hillery of the Big Four announces several appointments; J. M. Stone is to succeed W. G. Knittle at Dallas as traveling passenger agent. The promotion of Mr. Knittle caused several other promotions.

H. H. Hardy succeeds Mr. Stone as traveling passenger agent at Cairo, Ill., and P. W. Doane will be made station passenger agent at St. Louis, succeeding Mr. Hardy.

These changes are effective Oct. 1.

FRISCO SERVICE WORK

Uniformed Employees to Receive Straps and Stars

Vice President and General Manager Gray of the Frisco system has made an announcement that as a public recognition of faithful and efficient service each uniformed employe who has been continuously in the service of the company for five years will wear on the left sleeve of uniform coat one stripe, and for each additional five years' service an additional stripe. After twenty-five years' continuous service an embroidered star will be placed above the four rows of stripes in the center of the sleeve, and one additional star for each five years thereafter. This insignia will be furnished by the company without expense to the employes.

SYNDICATE COMPANY

Colorado Southern, New Orleans and Pacific to Be the Name

The following dispatch to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat from Austin shows the origin of the new company that is to take over the property that will in the future be controlled by the Yaokum-Hawley syndicate: "It was announced here today that the Colorado Southern, New Orleans and Pacific railroad company is the name of the new corporation which will take over and operate the several roads embraced in the Hawley-Yaokum system. These roads are the Colorado and Southern and its allied lines in Colorado, the Fort Worth and Denver City, the Trinity and Brazos Valley, the Beaumont, Lake and Western, and probably the Gulf and Interstate and the St. Louis, Brownsville and Mexico.

"The Colorado Southern, New Orleans and Pacific has placed an order for 21,000 tons of steel rails to build 290 miles of track, which will connect up the Texas line comprising the new system and give it an entrance into Houston and Galveston."

WAXAHACHIE WANTS LINE

Levies Tax to Secure Right of Way Fund

Citizens of Waxahachie are greatly in earnest in the effort to secure the Dallas branch of the Trinity and Brazos Valley to be built from Mexico north. A well attended mass meeting was held a few days ago and it was decided that an assessment of 1 1/2 per cent on the taxable valuation of property be levied in order to raise the money necessary to purchase the right of way and depot and terminals for the road in Waxahachie.

A chairman was appointed whose duty it will be to go over the route and appraise the property. The work of securing the right of way will be pushed with all possible haste.

RAILROAD NOTES

"WEIGHT OF SIN" BREAKS TENT SEAT

Crowd at Revival Service Too Much for Benches—More Room Being Prepared

"The weight of sin," declared Rev. Sid Williams, Friday night at the revival of seats in the North Fort Worth tent where he is conducting services gave way. Swooning of the seats gave warning of the threatened collapse and all sitting on them left without accident. Attendance at the services Friday night was probably the greatest in the history of the revival now being conducted and additional seats, it is announced, are being provided for the services Sunday when the attendance records are expected to be broken. Sermon Friday night was upon "God is Love," many in the audience being visibly affected and in tears. Twenty-three persons, including sixteen men, professed faith at the meeting.

Subject announced for tonight is "The Judgment Day." Sunday morning at 11 o'clock Rev. Williams will preach his Lord's Supper sermon, using a blackboard. Children's service will be held at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon. "How to Be Saved" will be the topic at night. A large attendance of strangers in the city is reported at the meetings.

GOULD TO BUILD IN WEST TEXAS

Extension From Mineral Wells to Trinidad to Be Commenced November 1

From present indications the west Texas country is to be honey-combed by railroads within the next twelve or eighteen months, if all rumors become realities.

The efforts of Morgan Jones to extend his line south from Seymour and the attempt of Major Beardsley to build a road from Abilene north to either Quanah or Vernon on the Fort Worth and Denver City road, may soon be followed by the Gould system in the shape of an extension of the Weatherford, Mineral Wells and Northwestern from Mineral Wells. This short line was some time ago bought by the Goulds with the expectation of eventually extending it to a connection with the Denver and Rio Grande road at Trinidad, the latter property also being a part of the Gould system. It is now announced that arrangements are about complete for the work of construction to begin from Mineral Wells. Construction material has been for some time accumulating at Mineral Wells and it is now definitely announced that construction on the extension is to begin Nov. 1.

The Goulds at one time attempted to get control of the Fort Worth and Denver City property, but failed, and now in order to secure an outlet from the north-west territory the Goulds have been forced to build their own line and will tap a country in west Texas not now traversed by any line. The extension will also intersect the Wichita Valley line and the Orient road in reaching Trinidad. The construction of the extension from Mineral Wells will mean much to Fort Worth, as it will open up a territory that has heretofore been barred from this market.

TERRITORY BUSINESS WOULD ADVERTISE CITY

on Profit in Making Fort Worth Clearing Point

Fort Worth bankers are greatly interested in the report of the status of Kansas City as a clearing point and the banks of Oklahoma and Indian Territory in the controversy which resulted in the clearing house refusing to accept the proposition of the territory bankers as to rates, as published in The Telegram of Friday afternoon, the consensus of opinion being to the effect that if this business were diverted, notwithstanding the natural drift of business toward the east, Fort Worth will place this city before the people of the southwest.

There appears to be some doubt existing in the minds of some bank officials as to the immediate financial profit of securing this business for Fort Worth, but the increase in the volume of business, which it is admitted would naturally result therefrom was said to be the point which appealed to the majority of those approached, inasmuch as the centering of the business of the territories would make Fort Worth a general center for trade and finance from the territories.

James Harrison of the State National bank said: "I think that the statement of Mr. Collins, quoted in The Telegram, is a correct view of the situation, and to obtain this business for Fort Worth would probably mean a great deal more than has been suggested by the refusal of the Kansas City clearing house to accept the proffered terms."

W. G. Newby of the American National bank said: "If the business of the territories could be obtained by Fort Worth it would serve as a great advertisement for this city, keeping it before the people of the southwest in a prominent way, and while it might not mean the realization of any appreciable profit for the present, it seems that it would be a future benefit to Fort Worth. This last would be an indirect benefit to every business institution in Fort Worth."

N. Harding of the Fort Worth National bank said: "While I have not given the matter careful thought, I am not prepared to say that the plan would be feasible. The daily drain upon balances by banks in the territory would probably call for larger accounts than they are now carrying in Kansas City."

Captain H. C. Edgington of the Traders' National bank said: "In my opinion it would be a losing business for Fort Worth banks to attempt to handle this business upon terms which have been refused by Kansas City."

GASHER PLEADS GUILTY

Sag Harbor Bank Officer Admits His Guilt

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—The grand jury at River Head, L. I. yesterday returned two indictments against Francis H. Palmer, former cashier of the Peconic Bank of Sag Harbor, who was arrested on May 10 last on a charge of embezzling $41,000 of the funds of the bank. He was released on bail and has since been working in this city, where he is said to have a good position.

The first indictment against Palmer was for embezzlement. The second was for receiving deposits from customers of the bank when the bank was insolvent. Palmer pleaded guilty in court yesterday to the indictment for embezzlement, but he entered a plea of not guilty to the second indictment.

AT THE DAYLIGHT STORE TONIGHT A STRICT CENSORSHIP

"Never take a case," said Horace Mann to a young lawyer, "unless you believe that your client is right and his claim is just." This advice has been adopted with signal success by our ad-man. In most stores the scribe accepts at par the various claims of buyers. He merely edits copy and supplies frills. Here, such claims are subjected to close examination, and are only declared eligible for publicity when they have passed the censor. Any wonder our Saturday night specials woke such response?

NORTH FORT WORTH TAX VALUES DROP

Mayor's Veto of Council Action Shows Strange Condition—Grocers Meet

Despite steady improvements made in North Fort Worth, the tax values of that city will show a decrease for this year. This is the startling information contained in a message to the city council by Mayor Pritchard in vetoing action taken at the last meeting of council placing an additional police officer at work during October.

In his veto, Mayor Pritchard calls the attention of the council to the need of economical management of city affairs in this connection, declaring that while the taxable values last year were $7,751,000, this year they will be but $7,600,000. Tax rolls probably will be entirely completed before Oct. 15, according to City Assessor and Collector Mulholland and the exact decreases will then be available. It is learned, however, that a decided decrease in packing house valuations is shown this year, the Armour and Swift plants being placed at $75,000 and $70,000 this year as against approximately $700,000 last year. Barring of the old packing house property does not affect the situation, the property being included this year.

EXPENSES OF CITY

The veto of Mayor Pritchard contains the further information that the expenses of the city for the past eight months have been $2,272,022, and it is pointed out that with the new valuation but $12,000 will be available for the entire year coming. On these grounds and because he believes present protection of the city ample, Mayor Pritchard opposes the measure, declaring also he considers it ambiguous.

So far as can be learned the majority of the council are firm in the appointment of the officer and an effort will be made to override the veto at the next meeting of the council.

GROCCERS MEET

Test vote taken at a meeting of North Fort Worth Grocers and Butchers Friday night showed all but one of the members present in favor of joining the Fort Worth Association. Final action will be taken at a meeting of the North Fort Worth Association to be held next Friday in Frazer's hall. A committee of the Fort Worth Association, consisting of President Mack Bergman, Harry Palmer, H. H. Pitman and J. H. Sears attended the North Fort WORTH MEETING AND ADDRESSED THOSE PRESENT ON THE ADVANTAGE OF JOINING THE ASSOCIATION.

Attempt to Wreck Bank WARRAW, Russian Poland, Sept. 22.—An attempt was made today to destroy the Sterehovsky bank. A man threw a bomb in the open window of the bank, but missed his aim and the missile exploded in the court yard, dangerously injuring the perpetrator of the crime, a young Hebrew. It appears the outrage was due to the fact that the bank officials had refused to contribute to the funds of the revolutionists.

GRADE TO VIADUCT MAY BE REDUCED

William J. Bailey offers to pave Jennings Avenue if Changes Are Made in Bridge

Efforts are under way to secure a reduction of the grade of the north approach to the Jennings avenue viaduct and a straightening of the angle at its southern part. William J. Bailey, who owns extensive interests in this part of the city declares that if the city will take such action he will pave Jennings avenue to the viaduct. Speaking of the matter this morning, Mr. Bailey said that the grade of the approach should be made a 5 per cent grade now used. This, Mr. Bailey says, could be done at comparatively small expense by lowering the north end of the viaduct.

GRADE TO VIADUCT MAY BE REDUCED

William J. Bailey offers to pave Jennings Avenue if Changes Are Made in Bridge

Efforts are under way to secure a reduction of the grade of the north approach to the Jennings avenue viaduct and a straightening of the angle at its southern part. William J. Bailey, who owns extensive interests in this part of the city declares that if the city will take such action he will pave Jennings avenue to the viaduct. Speaking of the matter this morning, Mr. Bailey said that the grade of the approach should be made a 5 per cent grade now used. This, Mr. Bailey says, could be done at comparatively small expense by lowering the north end of the viaduct.

LITTLE RAIN SHOWN BY WEATHER REPORT

Fall Over An Inch at Cuero Only Precipitation of Consequence in State—Temperatures Normal

Rainfall of 1.20 inches at Cuero is the only precipitation of importance reported in Texas Friday, though light rain fell also at Brownwood, Dublin, Kerrville, Lampasas and San Antonio. Temperatures remain normal, ranging from 94 degrees maximum at Waco to 82 at Dallas. Fort Worth had 81 degrees for its highest temperature mark. Clear weather prevailed at most cotton bulletin stations this morning, cloudy and partly cloudy, however, being reported from a number.

Official statements of weather conditions as given by the cotton bulletin and weather map of the weather bureau are:

"The cotton belt is generally clear. Temperatures have changed but little since last report. Rainfall has been of no consequence."

Forecast

"Forecast until 7 p. m. Sunday for Texas east of the one-hundredth meridian, issued at New Orleans, La.:

"East Texas (north)—Tonight, fairly warmer except in extreme west, probably showers in extreme portion.

"East Texas (south)—Tonight and Sunday, partly cloudy weather; probably scattered showers; warmer to night in extreme northwest portion.

"The Mississippi valley is under high pressure conditions, accompanied by clear weather, except some cloudiness along the immediate gulf coast.

"The extreme southwest is cloudy, showers being reported in Southern California and Arizona. Phoenix had a thunder storm.

"Temperatures have changed but little since last report, except an increase in the northwest.

"The cotton belt is generally rainless, and practically clear in all portions."
