

VESSEL ASHORE 100 LIVES LOST

Hilda From Southampton Wrecked Off the Coast Near Saint Malo, France

FEW BODIES YET RECOVERED

Captain Supposed to Have Mistaken Buoy Light for Light-house Beacon in Storm

PARIS, Nov. 20.—A special report received here from the wreck of the steamer Hilda which left Southampton Friday night for St. Malo, France, says the steamer is a total wreck on Les Portes reef, outside the Jardin lighthouse, with a loss of over one hundred lives, and gives a graphic description of the disaster.

Owing to the rough sea, together with a thick snowstorm, the captain of the Hilda probably took a buoy light among the rocks for St. Malo lighthouse. He gave signals which were not seen by harbor employees and then the steamer proceeded slowly toward the light. When the Hilda struck the rock the steamer's boilers exploded and she was cut in two, giving the passengers no time to save their lives.

Seven bodies wearing life belts were stranded off the village of St. Cast yesterday evening.

The coast near St. Malo is covered with wreckage. Two-thirds of the Hilda's passengers were French farmers, returning to France with heavy sums of gold from the sale of their yearly harvest of onions and potatoes. Others were English families who were going to spend the winter at Dinard.

The wreck lies on the Battle, three miles off St. Malo, showing only her main mast and foremast.

A correspondent of the Matin went to the scene of the wreck on the government steamer with local officials. They picked up five bodies which were entangled in the rigging of the Hilda. The bodies presented a dreadful spectacle, with arms and legs twisted in all directions and the hands torn with desperate struggling.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—The southwestern railway's cross-channel steamer Hilda was wrecked Sunday off St. Malo, on the north coast of France, and it is believed that one hundred or more of her passengers and crew were drowned.

The Hilda left Southampton Friday night for St. Malo with considerably more than one hundred persons on board. Her passage was greatly delayed by a fog in the channel, and when nearing St. Malo she ran into a severe snowstorm, apparently missed her course and foundered on the rock off Jardin lighthouse, three miles from St. Malo.

The company's steamer Ada, outbound from St. Malo, rescued five of the passengers and one of the crew. They were on their way to Southampton. There is an unconfirmed report that seventy have been saved. The crew numbered twenty-six and there were about one hundred passengers. Frenchmen, the majority being onion dealers from St. Briac and neighborhood.

The Hilda was near St. Malo Saturday morning. She struck the rocks at 4 o'clock Sunday morning in the roadstead off the island of Cézembre, having missed the tide, owing to bad weather and fog. The majority of the crew and passengers were asleep at the time. Two boats were lowered, one of which containing five men, arrived at St. Malo. The second was picked up empty at St. Cast, where thirteen bodies were washed ashore. The top of the Hilda's funnel and her mast were visible at low tide, according to the telegram from St. Servan.

The Hilda was built at Glasgow in 1882 and registered 843 tons. She was a screw steamer of iron construction and 235 feet in length.

FEW SAVED FROM WRECK ST. MALO, France, Nov. 20.—The exact number of lives lost on the Hilda is unknown here. It is understood there were about twenty first-class passengers. Among the latter were the Hon. Mrs. Butler, sister of Lord Lansdowne, and Colonel Felt. Although the majority were actually on board, it was expected they were traveling and all the first-class passengers were drowned. These passengers were English officers and others who were coming to join their families or to spend the season at St. Malo and Dinard, opposite St. Malo.

It appears to be certain that only six were saved, these being five onion sellers and an English seaman named Grinter, and that the total on board, including the crew, numbered 165.

The southwestern railroad company is as yet unable to give a list of the Hilda's passengers, but they say that a score of passengers were booked at stations between London and Southampton and that to the best of their knowledge ninety-nine were drowned and only six saved.

The company is still without reliable details as to how the disaster happened. Its agent at St. Malo only briefly reported: "The Ada put back and reports the Hilda a total wreck at Les Portes reef, outside Jardin lighthouse. The Ada's boat saved five onion men and a seaman named Grinter out of the rigging. They appear to be the only survivors."

TRIBUTE TO ROOSEVELT

Father of President Declared to Have Foreshadown Son's Acts

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Preaching on "The Father of the Family—His Influence and Responsibility" in the Hanson Place Methodist Episcopal church, Brooklyn, last night, Rev. Charles Edward Locke made the following reference to the President: "The generation ago a kindly man used to be seen going around the tenement house districts of this even then great city with a large basket on his arm, filled with necessities and delicacies for the poor. He freely dispensed his wealth to the sick and needy. Today the honored father is gratefully remembered in the tireless endeavors of his illustrious son, whose achievements reach beyond the boundaries of this republic in his colossal undertakings for the peace of the world. Without Theodore Roosevelt Sr., the Herculean tasks, the common sense and the Christian fortitude of the President of the United States would never have been."

GRAFT EXISTS AMONG CLERGY

Many Declared to Be in League with Undertakers

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Describing the "graft" methods employed throughout the country in every profession in which he said that no man was in a position not to be tempted to sell himself for money, Rev. Dr. George S. Pratt of the Church of the Archangel, in his sermon yesterday said that the clergy in many cases, were in league with undertakers and accepted "gifts" to turn over business to them.

His statement caused a sensation. "I want to give just one instance of what business methods are practiced to my own profession," said Dr. Pratt.

"A year ago I received a letter from a certain prominent undertaker in this city. Enclosed in this letter was a certificate redeemable for $100 in his establishment, should I die before the year 1910.

I considered that letter a direct bribe to me to use my influence and knowledge of that most sacred thing, death, among the people whose spiritual guidance I had in my heart and hands to give the undertaker an opportunity to send his men to get the arrangements for the funeral, with most financial benefit to himself, at the same time offering me a commission on whatever the unfortunate family spent on the funeral."

Senator Platt said he did not know what he had testified to or what Senator Depew had said. He declared that he knew nothing about the insurance business. "I am in the express business," he said, "and so far have had nothing to do with insurance."

HELL NO MYTH PARKHURST SAYS

God Will Permit Burning of Soul if Body

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Rev. Dr. Parkhurst in the Madison Avenue Presbyterian church last night told his congregation he believed in damnation. "The apparent cruelties attributed to God," he said, "are not a circumstance to the cruelties in nature. Natural laws pay no more attention to man than to a dog.

"Saints as well as sinners were burned in the Windsor fire and in the Sicilian disaster. If God burns up a body, He will burn up a soul that gets in the way of his moral laws. The God of love in 1755 destroyed 50,000 persons in the Lisbon earthquake. He does not amend physical laws to save sinners.

"If man will not accept God's moral laws, then I should say that God would damn him, and I should further say that God ought to damn him."

SKYSCRAPER EYE LATEST DISEASE

Oculists Report New Ailment Due to Buildings

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 20.—Downtown Chicago just now is experiencing a phase of the age of steel which is bringing discomfort and danger to many people who use the streets in the central business district.

Somewhere in almost every block a steel skeleton for a skyscraper is rising and in these skeletons pneumatic drills and riveters are at work. Some of these are at work at such heights that the infinitesimal bits of steel broken off drift incredible distances with the winds, finding lodgment in the eyes of both man and beast.

"I have had a score of such patients in the last few weeks," said a downtown oculist yesterday. "I hardly knew what to make of it at first. People came in here with bloodshot eyes, suffering intensely, yet I was unable to find the irritable substance. In some of these cases the inner lid was cut and cross-patched with a knife. With a glass I discovered a tiny bit of steel, and since that time the matter has simplified.

39 LIVES LOST IN GLASGOW FIRE

Flames Break Out in Lodging House for Men

GLASGOW, Nov. 20.—The most terrible fire that has occurred in Great Britain in many years broke out here yesterday in a cheap lodging house for men in Watson street, and resulted in the loss of thirty-nine lives and the severe injury of many others.

The flames were first noticed at 6 o'clock yesterday morning on the fourth floor, which was occupied by 320 men. The alarm was raised and the firemen responded quickly, but the flames and smoke were then issuing from most of the windows on the fourth floor. An extraordinary scene was created by a procession of almost naked men rushing out of the entrance to the building, and against their frantic efforts to escape the firemen had actually to fight for admission.

Reaching the upper floors, the firemen found that the narrow passages were becoming congested with men who had dropped to the floors overcome by smoke. The fire, however, was confined to the fourth floor and as the firemen were able to get to work it was speedily extinguished. The flames had been fed by the wooden partitions which threw off volumes of smoke resulting in the suffocation of the men. The majority of those brought to the street rallied in a few minutes, but others had to be taken to the hospitals. The dead were mostly workmen in the prime of life. They presented a horrible spectacle, the blackened faces bearing evidence of terrible struggles to escape.

Many men were sleeping in the attic floor above the burning fourth floor and these had narrow escapes. The flames burst through the floor and it was impossible for the men to descend. The windows were securely fastened and they were all to quit work or be forced into idleness, it would practically stop all new construction work in the city.

Another element of danger lies in the general demand that has been made by all classes of mechanics for higher wages. New York mechanics ask an increase of 50 cents to $1 a day. Iron workers want an increase of from $4.50 to $5. The carpenters are seeking a similar advance. Bricklayers are now getting 70 cents an hour and are asking for 75 and 80 cents. Painters want an increase from $3.50 and $4 to $4 and $4.50. Tile layers have demanded $2.50 a day. They are now receiving $5.

That some of the employers will stubbornly oppose any increase of wages, the workers well realize, but they know that there are not enough good mechanics in New York now to man all the jobs. Although the arbitration board is made up of an equal number of employers and union men, it is feared that it will not be able to adjust the many differences.

DR. KOHNKE ATTACKED

New Orleans Times-Democrat Demands Health Board Member's Resignation

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 20.—An interesting fight has developed in this state over the demand of the Times-Democrat for the resignations of both Dr. Soucheon, president of the state board of health, and Dr. Kohnke, president of the city board of health. The demand is based on the allegation that Louisiana and the neighboring states of Mississippi and Alabama have lost faith in these officials, therefore they should not remain at the head of the health departments. Dr. Kohnke printed a lengthy statement yesterday, defending his yellow fever course, and details some of the things accomplished.

In reply the Times-Democrat admits editorially that Dr. Kohnke carried on a great mosquito campaign, but contends that his good effort will not help him with Texas, Mississippi and Alabama, declaring: "It does not excuse any subsequent failure, and it will not convince a single person that he ought to be again entrusted with the work of defending New Orleans and all the surrounding country from this dangerous enemy after he has so signally failed. The collapse of his health board's failure to take the necessary steps to discover the fever of New Orleans and to prevent its spread in the city when it had gotten in, its lack of proper effort to prevent its spread to the neighboring towns and states in daily intercourse with this city are some of the many reasons for the popular demand that Dr. Kohnke should not remain in command of our defense.

"A general who had met with utter and complete defeat, due mainly to his own neglect, who had involved others in the disaster he brought about, would scarcely expect to be placed in command of an army organized for a second campaign. This is Dr. Kohnke's position. This is why his resignation is demanded and why it is necessary."

ANARCHISTS TO STIR PEASANTS

Russian "Reds" Will Devote Efforts to Fomenting Political Disturbances in Rural Districts

FAMINE MAY ASSIST THE CAUSE Farmers Will Be Urged to Secure Arms and Fight for Their Liberty

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 20.—With the collapse of the strike, the leaders of the "Reds" says they will now devote their energies to the preparation of a universal political strike to sustain the revolutionary program when the national assembly convenes. These plans, which were suddenly upset by the precipitation of the railroad strike last month, are exceedingly ambitious, involving the co-operation not only of the workmen in the cities, but the peasantry, and if possible the army and navy.

The propaganda among the soldiers and sailors are to be pushed energetically. Leaders already claim they have organized the peasantry in five districts of Kharkoff province, the peasants having agreed not to work for their landlords when the strike is called.

They anticipate that the famine, which is at the doors of almost 15,000,000 peasants in the central provinces, according to estimates, will prove an effective ally of the agitation, as they promise to give the peasants land to an unlimited extent.

The plague, which is moving north from the Kirghiz steppe, if stamped out in the Vistula region, may also be made to serve the purpose of arousing the ignorant and superstitious peasants.

The leaders who urge the proletariat everywhere to secure arms to be prepared to fight for their rights.

The struggle in progress in the Moscow zemstvo congress is watched with intense interest. The main question to be decided is whether the zemstvo will cooperate with the government and on what terms.

While no further information has been received regarding the reported false emperor who is said to be marching at the head of thousands of peasants in the province of Penza, the turbulence there has become so threatening that the government has placed the province in a state of siege.

FIRE DAMAGES FARMERS

Supposed to Have Been Started by Spark From Locomotive

SHAWNEE, O. T., Nov. 20.—Fire damage to the extent of several hundred dollars on the farms in the vicinity of the Dale, supposed to have been caused by passing engine is reported here. The fire started Saturday and raged for ten or twelve hours over the crop and pasture lands, only ceasing in its work of devastation when it had burned eastward to the banks of the North Canadian river. In that splendid farming section of the country there is still much of the corn yet ungathered and the greatest damage reported is to that crop.

Among the heaviest losers are: M. Ziple, E. T. Long, George Treadway, M. R. Alexander, Thad Hunter and John Yeager. Mr. Long, who visited the city Saturday, reports that fire has having burned over twenty-two acres of his cornfield, causing an approximate loss of $500, and that the damage to some of his neighbors were much greater.

There are also reports of destructive fires raging throughout the vast timber and pasture lands of the Seminole nation. Thousands of acres of the country are being burned.

SCROFULA AN AWFUL INHERITANCE

While it is true that Scrofula may be acquired under certain conditions, it is usually inherited. Parents who are related by the ties of blood, or who have a consumptive tendency, or family blood taint of any character, are sure to transmit it to their children in the form of Scrofula. Swollen glands, brittle bones, poor digestion, weak eyes, Catarrh, emaciated bodies and general weak constitutions are the principal ways in which the disease is manifested. The blood has been diseased from birth, and being in this condition cannot properly nourish the body and Scrofula is the result. A hereditary disease like this can only be reached, by a constitutional remedy and nothing equals

FARMER SHAW DEFENDS HIMSELF

Farmer Shaw of Dallas, the irrepressible editor of Texas Farmer, is out in an explanation of how he acquired his title, and incidentally takes occasion to still further explain his position with regard to the gubernatorial campaign.

Farmer W. A. Shaw is driving the Bell band wagon. And the Tyler Courier insists that Editor Shaw should drop the title "Farmer." Isn't this a free country? Hasn't an old soldier and a veteran democrat the right to pick his man and vote his convictions?

Farmer Shaw is not driving the Bell band wagon. He is only occupying the front seat and rubbing elbows with the real driver, who is Judge Bell himself. And Farmer Shaw is only exercising good judgment and his personal privilege in the premises.

Mistake, my dear Gaston. Farmer Shaw never rides unless he is permitted to hold the reins. Judge Bell must be content to sit with folded hands or get a new wagon and a new team.

The Times Herald is mistaken. Shaw is not driving the Bell band wagon, but in answer to questions has merely announced that he thinks, among the announced candidates, Mr. Bell is the best governor material, giving reasons therefor.

The Fort Worth Telegram is also mistaken. Shaw does not consider himself as occupying a front seat in the Bell band wagon. That's one reason for Shaw's preference. Mr. Bell is not himself a blower, and we do not think he has any organization of blowers.

The man who goes into the cattle business intelligently now cannot fail to reap rich rewards. There will not be a day in ten years from the present moment that cattle intelligently bought cannot be sold at a profit.

James Hazen Hyde has thrown some light on the Equitable affair, and has modestly confessed that with the $50,000 of policy holders money he gave to the national republican campaign he expected to buy the position of ambassador to France.

The Dallas business men have published an open letter to Senator Bailey asking for explicit information as to his attitude on the proposed regulation of railway rates.

CATTLE VALUES WILL INCREASE

The cattlemen of Texas have had an up-hill experience during the past three years, and have endured so many ills that many have become greatly discouraged and felt impelled to quit the business.

It only required thirty-five minutes to raise $90,000 for the Texas Baptist Sanitarium during the meeting of the Baptist General Convention in Dallas a few days ago.

The call for the elder statesmen to serve in the next legislature has not and will not be rescinded by the people.

The people of the Abilene congressional district are being treated to the novelty of a genuine congressional campaign somewhat out of season.

in Michigan, Ohio and Canada (where most of the Herefords in America were bred at that time).

Prices ranged around $50 for pure-bred animals, with occasionally $100 for an extra good one, and slightly lower figures for grades, and the buyer was the welcome guest of the breeders, as he opened to them a new market.

Motor cars on steam railroads in Texas are no longer a bluff. The first one passed through Denison yesterday and will be put in service very shortly between Houston and Galveston.

Motor cars of the gasoline variety are now an established fact in Texas, after promises in that direction have been very slow in materializing.

If the Round-Up was published in 1-1 it would have patriotism enough to pull for the town by advertising it as a fine location for cold drink stands, and offer as an inducement for immigration the advantages of a tropical climate where you don't have to shovel snow and wear overcoats.

It begins to look very much like the days of all political bosses are numbered, and the masses are to be congratulated on the wisdom of their determination. It looks good for the future.

All that the people have to do to put the bosses out of business is to arise in their might and assert themselves. The trouble is that the people are slow to awaken to existing conditions.

The people of Texas are becoming thoroughly aroused and the politicians very much excited. Something's going to happen in this state next year.

An "independent democrat beat the "regular" democratic nominee for mayor of Memphis last week. The crowd that was in power in Memphis got too bold and reckless and the citizens rose up and put the gang out of business.

The turkey shipments from Texas to the northern and western markets are growing daily, and it is now estimated that from 3,000,000 to 5,000,000 pounds of Texas turkey will be devoured by people outside the state Thanksgiving day.

Texas is rapidly coming to the front as a great turkey producing state, and turkey raisers this year are in the midst of deep clover.

Bonham still holds the record as a turkey market, a rabbit market, a cotton market, a stove wood market, a fruit market and a grain market.

It is evident from this that there is always something doing in Bonham. A town that holds the record in so many particulars is a center of no mean proportions.

The packers, in their plea for exemption because they told the truth freely to Commissioner Garfield, show plainly that they know the extent of their offending, and now only desire to escape the legal penalty, which up to this time they have been sharp enough to avoid.

A large family reunion took place in Dallas the other day, and the Dallas papers made much of it. Of course, such an occasion is interesting, but we see nothing remarkable about it.

There are 1,455 inmates of the insane asylum at Terrell, and hundreds more unfortunate in the county jails who ought to be there.

There are 1,455 inmates of the insane asylum at Terrell, and hundreds more unfortunate in the county jails who ought to be there.

Work is progressing on a large addition to the Terrell asylum, authorized by the last legislature, and it is hoped to have it completed in a few months.

Attorney General Moody has entered an emphatic denial to the charge of the Chicago packers that they were promised immunity from criminal prosecution by Jimmy Garfield, conditional on all the facts being made known to the amiable and easy Mr. Jimmy.

A very pertinent question. The action of the packers in trying to get around those indictments is doing much to convince the public of their guilt.

There is a certain kind of fate that dogs the footsteps of criminals. It seems that crime loads them down and clogs their movements.

himself that his genius and tact will mark him as the favored one-hundredth who will foil the pursuit of justice.—Tyler Courier.

Justice very often travels on leaden wings, but while slow, it is generally sure.

Those candidates for governor ought to be a little more explicit in their tax reform announcements.

The proper equalization of taxes is one of the most important issues now before the people of Texas. It is a matter that should have immediate attention from the fact that existing conditions have grown almost intolerable.

But the Texas woman is all this and more. She is our comfort in time of trouble, our refuge in time of care, our inspiration upon all occasions, and the very sunshine of our existence.—Fort Worth Telegram.

Just as true a fact as that the hills are eternal and the rocks everlasting, but are you willing for them to vote?—Childress Post.

No, sir; and God bless her true, womanly heart, she does not desire to vote. She is content to rule in that sphere for which she was created to adorn—the sunshine of a happy home and the queen of hearts.

The Fort Worth Telegram is of the opinion that the people love W. D. Williams "the more for the enemies he has made."

It refers to all campaigns in which he has been engaged. Judge Williams has nothing to fear at the hands of the people.

The cry is still heard of a revised tariff, and the farmers and laborers are cited as demanding it at the hands of congress.

Everybody knows that no tariff revision is possible at the coming session of congress, and the only way in which it will be referred to will be in the use of the opportunity by disgruntled republicans to employ the issue in an effort to talk railway rate regulation to death.

LITTLE TALES WELL TOLD

CRUELTY TO THE GUINEA PIG

"Did you know, papa, that if you hold a guinea pig by the tail its eyes will drop out?" His father laughed outright.

"Why, who in wonder told you such stuff, Louis?" "The boys all say that," answered Louis, sober as a judge, "and it's so—yes, sir."

"Oh, nonsense," said his father still laughing. "Well, you go to the cage and hold one up and you'll see."

Just to humor the boy, the father went out. In a moment he came back looking—well, just like a man that's badly sold.

"The little rascal got me that time," he said to a friend. "But I don't see the point," said the friend. "Don't you?"

"No." "Well, guinea pigs have no tails."

SECRETARY ROOT'S INDEPENDENCE

The secret of Mr. Root's success as a creative statesman, aside from his unusual intellect, has been persistent and thorough work.

"The President desires to see you at 4 o'clock." Mr. Root told his secretary to ask the President, through Mr. Loeb, to excuse him, as he could not leave his work.

"The President will see you at 4:30." To this the secretary of war sent the same polite reply. Then came a third message: "The President desires to see you at 5 o'clock."

Again there was a request on the part of Mr. Root to be excused. Finally came this message: "The President will call at your office at 5:30."

REFLIEVED OF A LOAD

"A practical joke," said Barney Oldfield, the automobilist, "was played on me last season. I had my revenge, though."

The practical joke took the form of a telegram. It was a telegram from a friend of mine traveling in Italy. It came 'collect'; it cost me $7; and when I opened it all I read was: "I am well."

"I got back at my friend for playing such an expensive trick on me, I went out into the road and found a cobblestone. I wrapped this stone in excelsior and pink paper, sealed it up in a handsome box, and sent it by express, 'collect,' to my friend abroad."

It cost my friend $8 for the box, and on opening it he found, along with the stone, a note from me that read: "On receipt of the news that you were in good health, the accompanying load rolled off my heart."

Those Tarrant county prisoners who gained liberty about the same time it was conferred upon the Russian people, are not making any demonstrations over their freedom.

VERSES THAT RING

THE BIGGEST FISH

"When in the halcyon days of old, I was a little tyke, I used to fish in the pickereel ponds for minnow and the like; And oh, the bitter sadness with which my soul was fraught,

When I rambled home at nightfall with the puny string I'd caught! And, oh, the indignation and the valor I'd display When I claimed that all the biggest fish I'd caught had got away!

Sometimes it was the rusty hooks, sometimes the fragile lines, And many times the treacherous reeds would foil my just designs; But whether hooks or lines or reeds were actually to blame, I kept right on at last all the monsters just the same—

I never lost a little fish—yes, I am free to say, It always was the biggest fish I caught that got away.

"And really fish looker bigger than they are before they're caught— When the pole is bent into a bow and the slender line is taut, When a fellow feels his heart rise up, like a dough-nut in his throat, And he lunges in a frenzy up and down the leaky boat!

Oh, you who've been a-fishing will indorse me when I say That is always is the biggest fish you catch that gets away!

"'Tis even so in other things—yes, in our greedy eyes, The biggest boon is some elusive, never-captured prize; We angle for the honors and sweets of human life— Like fishermen, we brave the seas that roll in endless strife; And then at last, when all is done, and we are spent and gray, We own the biggest fish we caught are those that got away.

"I would not have it otherwise; 'tis better there should be Much bigger fish than I have caught a-swimming in the sea; For now some worthier one than I may angle for that game— May by his arts entice, entrap and comprehend the same; Which, having done, perhaps he'll bless the man who's proud to say That the biggest fish he ever caught were those that got away."—Eugene Field.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS

A man always sympathizes with a homely boy. Sound judgment is responsible for a lot of silence.

Hoping for the best won't bring it unless you work for it. Enthusiasm always starts off well but soon springs a leak.

Pretty servant girls are responsible for a lot of domestic trouble. It's now up to young men to propose—either marriage or oysters.

Some women urge their husbands to make other women jealous. Those who have once loved can never be satisfied with common friendship.

When a man becomes too shiftless to give advice he has reached the limit. Most people meander down the path of life and never realize their own unimportance.

Time may be money, but you can't realize much coin on a 98-cent watch. The man who practices what he preaches is a wonder because of his rarity.

He who will not economize today may find it necessary to economize tomorrow. A pedestrian is a chap who tries to interfere with the progress of an automobile.—Chicago News.

The average woman worries when she is having a dress made or when she can't have one made. If all marriages are arranged in heaven his satanic majesty must have an influential friend at court.

A doctor is bound to lose a few friends occasionally—but that's because they refuse to do as he tells them. Milk wagon horses are so accustomed to seeing women with their hair up in curl papers that they refuse to scare at anything.—Chicago News.

QUAKER REFLECTIONS

Cupld occasionally hands out some cold storage love. The dyspeptic should choose carefully what he chews.

The mark of breeding is not always indicated by the dollar mark. Etiquette doesn't govern the proper calling cards in a poker game.

A woman can fairly blaze with diamonds without setting the world on fire. The artist is not necessarily a good duck hunter just because he gets his canvas back.

It generally takes an hour to tell your troubles that you can get rid of in ten minutes. It is natural that we should learn to crawl when we are babies, but some men never get over it.

Some men are despondent because they can't get out of debt, and others because they can't get it. When the clergyman is asked to marry a runaway couple he doesn't refuse even when he says "I will knot."—Philadelphia Record.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR

People seem to work only to live and to live only to work. One awful nice thing about cold weather is the way it makes a pretty girl snuggle up to you.

When a girl laughs at a joke it is a sign she would have a sense of humor if she saw the point. A woman has an idea men think she wants to vote if she doesn't faint when she thinks she sees a mouse.

It's funny, but when a woman has a mind of her own she's always giving it to her husband, but never gets rid of it.—New York Press.

It is unnecessary for any man to traduce Texas in order to obtain an office in this state. Texas people are not disposed to reward slander in so flattering a manner. President McCurdy of the New York Mutual has very gracefully agreed that his official salary shall be cut half in two. That within itself means a saving of $75,000 per annum to the policy holders.

The San Antonio fair seems to be attracting a great deal of attention this year, and visitors are greatly pleased with the general excellence of the entertainment. The papers of the state are having another spasm of righteous indignation over the practice of nepotism at the state capital, but it will be of little avail. Those Austin officeholders are wedded to old Nep-

HAWLEY EXPLAINS

FEE FROM CITY

Same Procedure Followed in William's Charter of City

Editor Telegram:

In place of granting an interview to your reporter, as to the remarks of Candidate Harris on my having been paid a consultation fee of $250 for designing the new artesian water system, outside the city, west of the old stove foundry, you will pardon me if I hand you this statement.

Judge Harris' statement of facts is practically correct. The water works committee and mayor agreed to pay me for the plans and supervision of the work, what, in my understanding, was to be 2 1/2 per cent of the cost thereof; the usual fee, which would have to be paid any engineer called in from the outside, being 5 per cent. When it came to payment, however, the committee and mayor said they understood the amount to be $250 instead of the larger amount which I understood, and I accepted that in full settlement, signing the water works payroll for it.

As to the propriety of the agreement, I cannot think there was in it anything improper, or it never would have been made. Insofar as I am concerned, there has never been, and never will be anything clandestine about any feature of my work, here or elsewhere. The main criticism made upon all my actions, by both friends and enemies, is that I am continually guilty of too much frankness, too much openness.

I have attended to public works matters for this city, almost continuously since June, 1894; many hundreds of thousands of dollars have passed through my hands, paid out over my signature. Not one single cent of extras or fees has ever been paid me in all these years, until this matter, outside my province and department, came up, and the committee and mayor, actuated by a sense of right and of equity, saw fit to employ me as stated.

It will be remembered that similar employment was given that straightest and best of men and officials, Judge William D. Williams, then city attorney, when he drew our new charter for Fort Worth. Fee, $500, and I have yet to hear of one single criticism of the council's action in employing him instead of some outside attorney, to attend to that piece of expert work.

Those who know of my work in Texas, know that I stand well toward the top of my profession as an expert in water, sewer and paving matters, if the apparent credit may be pardoned.

Those who are fair-minded will feel that it was wholly proper for the city to employ me, instead of some outsider, to attend to this most important improvement, on the details of which I have spent time, labor and study for much more than a decade.

I would have paid no such attention to the reporter's remarks of Candidate Harris except to set the public mind aright on the action of the mayor and committee.

Respectfully,
JOHN B. HAWLEY.

BRONCHITIS

Druggist R. A. Anderson Tells the People Quickest Means to Cure It

Asked one day in his store the question, "What is good for bronchitis?" Mr. Anderson, our well known druggist, answered, "For years old fashioned cod liver oil has been known to possess the most remarkable curative and healing properties for throat, bronchial, and lung troubles of anything known to medicine, but on account of the grease which enveloped its curative properties, it has been impossible for many people to take enough of it into their systems to combat a thoroughly settled disease without clogging the system and upsetting the stomach."

"Now, however," continued Mr. Anderson, "we have Vinol, which contains in a highly concentrated form all of the medicinal curative elements of cod liver oil actually taken from fresh cod's livers, without a drop of oil or grease to upset the stomach and retard its work, and physicians agree that it is the greatest cure for all throat, bronchial and lung troubles known to medicine."

Miss Anna Ray writes us that after suffering for five years with bronchitis, and trying all kinds of medicines without relief, Vinol cured her, and we have hundreds of just such letters. We wish every person suffering from chronic colds, coughs, bronchitis, and every aged, weak, or convalescent person who needs a healing, strength-giving and blood-making tonic, would try Vinol on our guarantee to return the purchase money if it fails. R. A. Anderson, Druggist.

Dr. J. A. Allen, of Detroit, Texas, is Surprised by the Results of J. AUSTIN LARSON'S Treatment on One of His Patients

DR. J. A. ALLEN, DETROIT, TEXAS, SAYS:

(This letter was written to the Paris, Texas, Daily Advocate by a physician who was converted to the Telecton treatment after one of his patients, hopeless from a medical standpoint, was transformed under it.)

Detroit, Texas, June 20, 1905.

I have been very closely associated with the case of Mr. Alex Mangrum since he was taken sick four years ago, and in spite of everything we could do for him he declined gradually. His disease, when he went under the treatment of J. Austin Larson and assistant, was entirely hopeless from a medical standpoint. The medicines we gave him got so they would have no effect on his fever. He had several degrees of fever every day and for three weeks prior to his beginning this new treatment it had registered 102 1/2 degrees every day. Since taking the treatment it has registered 100 degrees every day. He has been generally good in appetite, which was entirely lacking before; good digestion and assimilation of food. This has brought new strength and our patient gained seven pounds in the first two weeks—all this without any medicine, as far as Larson's request I stopped giving medicine. In my forty years of practice recovery without medicine, mark you, that it has yet been my good fortune to witness before. It is undoubtedly the coming treatment of the age.

DR. J. A. SADLER OF SHERMAN, TEXAS, SAYS:

(The following interview was given to the Sherman, Texas, papers by a physician who was converted to the Telecton treatment by the wonderful recovery he experienced under it after medicine had failed.)

"He's a man of the most marvelous vitality I ever saw, and has the hottest hands—hands that burn you."

J. AUSTIN LARSON Can Be Seen at the DELAWARE HOTEL Every Day In the Week

This remarkable statement was made by Dr. J. A. Sadler, a man who at one time had the largest practice any physician ever had in Grayson county, and the subject of his eulogy was the noted healer, J. Austin Larson.

"In strength I have improved over 100 per cent in a week," Dr. Sadler continued, addressing the reporter. "When I came here a week ago I was suffering from asthma, constipation, nervousness, sleeplessness, irregular heart action and depression. Now everything is changed. My asthma has not bothered me once since I began Prof. Larson's treatment; my constipation has disappeared, his power acting on me like a physic; my nervousness is gone and I am much stronger. For ten days and nights I hadn't been able to sleep, but now I sleep soundly every night and I slept four hours this afternoon, something I had not been able to do in a long time."

"How's your heart?" queried the reporter.

"It is cured," was the emphatic reply. "My physicians warned me not to think of climbing stairs and said that I was liable to die at any time from heart failure. They said that nothing could help me. I guess the quick results in my case surprised Prof. Larson, and I know they did me. When I first came to him and he learned that I was 52 years old, he said: 'At your age, doctor, I'm afraid I can't do anything for you except, perhaps to make you a little more comfortable.' He has done that and more."

"What do you think of his treatment?" was asked.

"It is the greatest treatment in the world," the doctor emphatically replied. "The medical profession is coming to recognize this."

"Few men are better known in Sherman than Dr. Sadler. For nearly half a century he has practiced medicine, and for thirty years he has lived here. Previously he practiced at Bonham, and during the war served three years as a surgeon in the Confederate army.—Sherman Register.

BASEBALL STORIES

by JIMMIE CALLAHAN

BY JAMES J. CALLAHAN,
Member of the Chicago American Baseball Team.
(Copyright, 1905, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

Empires and players at times engage in tilts and kicks that the baseball public never sees, but which as a little side comedy are great. "Bill" Lange, who is now a prosperous real estate dealer in Frisco, and former Umpire Tom Lynch, who is a theatrical magnate in New Britain, Conn., were sworn enemies of the diamond. On the ball field Lynch insisted upon being addressed as "Mister Lynch" and was probably the strictest disciplinarian that ever wore a mask.

We were playing in Boston with the old Chicago club, under Anson, and noticed that the broom used to brush the plate was always kept of thrown over to our side, due to some superstition or other on the part of the Boston players to have it on the visitors' side. Lange was leading off about the fifth inning and as he walked to the plate he picked the broom and threw it over on the Boston side. Duffy, who was then captain of the Boston nine, threw it back. One of our players ran from the bench and handed the broom over to our side. The large crowd began to see the humor of the situation and began cheering the players as the broom passed back and forth. Lynch stopped the game and as a truce umpire, he took possession of the broom in his possession. The next day the broom was missing and Mr. Lynch carried a small whisk broom in his pocket.

There is no specific rule governing such a play, as it probably never had come up before and may never occur again.

at bat or passing Lynch he would say: "Don't you think Boston will win today, Mr. Lynch?" or "Don't you think Boston will win the pennant, Mr. Lynch?" Would you, as a disinterested party like to see Boston win, Mr. Lynch?" Never giving Lynch a chance to fine him by being vulgar or noisy, Lange would not stop walking when addressing him, even when he was at bat.

He would have Lynch furious, but as he kept within the bounds Lynch was forced to take his medicine.

I was with Tom Burns, the old Chicago player, in Springfield in '95. We were playing an exhibition game with the Holy Cross college team. It was a bitter cold day in early April. The collegians were hatless, their arms were bare and they were whipping the ball around and running bases as though it was midsummer. Old Gaffney was umpiring. Our ring were all muffled up and taking no chances, while they were running bases wild. They had men on second and third, with one out, I was pitching. Little Frank Shannon, our shortstop, gave me the sign to throw to second. I wheeled and we caught the collegian sound asleep. Our players yelled "the old dog, the old dog," which meant Lynch, him between bases, but don't put him out—run him back and forth until his tongue protruded from exhaustion. The fellow we caught, of course, forced the man at third off and we ran him awhile. Then we would let him go back to third and force the first fellow back and we would chase him up and down the line, eventually letting him again force the man at third, whom we would chase between home plate and third base. We kept it up indefinitely. It was one of the funniest things I ever saw on the diamond. The reports from the Texas and Pacific were from laughing, when Joe Gannon, our catcher, dropped the ball at third base and in the mixup the base runner changed positions. The one who had been on third got back to second, while the other man passed him to third. Gaffney called the man on second out, after being touched with the ball, and he put the man on third back to second.

There is no specific rule governing such a play, as it probably never had come up before and may never occur again.

WOMAN LEAVES HER BABY HERE

Child Has Been Kept Two Weeks Awaiting Return

Mrs. W. L. Hightower of 617 North Hampton street, has tired waiting for the return of a mother who left her child with her and is now seeking to secure a home for the baby.

Mrs. Hightower says the child was brought to her home by a well-dressed woman who had secured a maid to keep it until the mother could find a suitable home for it, offering to pay for the service. The woman, who said she had come to this city from Dallas, declared that she was going to Dallas to make arrangements and would return for the child. Though over two weeks have elapsed since the child was left, the woman has not reappeared.

Mrs. Hightower says the child is a fine boy, 4 months old.

SPORTING SALAD

A story comes from New York to the effect that Pennsylvania has opened negotiations with Michigan for a game between those two colleges next season. At Philadelphia they are saying that Harvard would be breaking in athletic relations with the red and blue had the crimson team won two weeks ago. Naturally, the Pennsylvanians are sore and now that they have triumphed over their rivals they argue that they should take the initiative in breaking with Harvard. If Michigan plays Pennsylvania next year the game will take place on Franklin field.

Pittsburham will train at San Jose for his coming fight with Philadelphia Jack "Brien." He says he wants to get far away from the maddening crowd as possible, and that he expects to spring a surprise on the fellows who are chiding him for his inactivity in breaking with Harvard. "I've crawling over in my life surprising people," says Fitz. "Remember how I surprised Corbett? Well, wait till you see me in the ring with O'Brien."

PRESIDENT HARPER PREPARING FOR ANGEL OF DEATH'S COMING

All Hope Gone, the Famous Head of Chicago University Finishes Up His Work and Calmly Awaits the Inevitable End

PRESIDENT HARPER IN HIS SICK ROOM.

Special Correspondence to The Telegram

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 20.—Dr. William Rainey Harper, president of the University of Chicago, has finished all arrears in work preparatory to leaving the magnificent educational institution he has built up from modest beginnings to a successor.

Dr. Harper has been told by his physicians that death within a brief period is inevitable, that the cancer which appeared about a year ago is fatal.

He now devotes the only two hours of each day which the doctors allow him to sit up to dictating letters and instructions to his assistants on subjects pertaining to the daily administration of university affairs.

Dr. Harper sleeps well, awakens about 7 a. m. daily, has his secretary read the morning papers to him, especially the news of international politics and economics; partakes of light breakfast and passes the rest of the day in bed except during two hours shortly after dinner.

He is wrapped up in blankets and permitted to sit in an easy chair. He then telephones to friends and persons with whom the university has business, hears reports from subordinates and dictates to a stenographer.

After the two hours expire he is put back in bed, where he spends his time reading or conversing.

Since the operation in September he has not done any scholarly work. Just before then he read proofs of his three last books: "The Trend of Higher Education," "The Priestly Element in the Old Testament," and "The Pathetic Element in the Old Testament."

Recently he has spoken of the university as if contemplating the time when it shall be out of his control. He said today: "I want the university always to be a Christian university."

Dr. Harper has asked that his friend, John D. Rockefeller, be informed of his condition as soon as there is any change. It is expected Mr. Rockefeller will hasten to the bedside of the educator when it is fitting that he should do so.

Dr. Harper is permitted to eat any food he likes and indulge in anything which may contribute to his comfort. There is no restriction placed upon his daily regime beyond the order that compass his last books: "The Trend of Higher Education," "The Priestly Element in the Old Testament," and "The Pathetic Element in the Old Testament."

At all hours of the day his family has access to his room. The appearance of any member of the household or any old friend prompts a hearty welcome in his own voice, and a smile and hand clasp by the patient. As long as the younger members of the family sit by his bed he holds their hands affectionately.

At such times he puts aside all business affairs and refuses to discuss anything that will not contribute to the entertainment of his listeners.

MANY TURKEYS SHIPPED TO CITY

Express Companies Report Heavy Traffic in Progress

Many thousands of pounds of turkeys have been arriving in Fort Worth daily by express from different points in the state. A greater portion of the birds are destined to be killed and eaten in the city, although some shipments are through ones for Kansas City, Denver and other western and northern places.

Reports from the Texas and Pacific station office of the Pacific Express Company are to the effect that 150 coops have been the average daily receipts for the past twenty days, the coops averaging fifteen turkeys each. From Waco, Dublin, Hico, Cisco and various other smaller places this amount is swelled to an enormous extent. During the past twenty-four hours alone the office has returned a car and a half of empty coops to shippers.

The United States Express Company comes in for a small portion of the turkey business, but the greater part of the birds are shipped through the city and are consigned to Denver. These come from Jacksonville, Chico, Bridgeport, Bowie and Paradise, including other places along the lines covered by this company. The average amount handled daily is said to be fifteen coops.

LAWSON ASKS PROXIES

Replies to Inquiry of Official Proxy Holder at Austin

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 19.—In response to a telegram sent Thomas W. Lawson of Boston, inquiring when the New York York Life and Mutual Life Insurance Companies would hold their next annual meetings, John T. Smith of the comptroller's department, who was delegated by State Insurance Commissioner Clay to receive proxies from Austin policyholders in the three big companies now under fire, today received a lengthy telegraphic communication from Mr. Lawson. Lawson says in part:

"The annual meeting of the New York Life will be held April 11 and of the Mutual June 4. Kindly impress upon your people that while I am receiving thousands of proxies daily, it requires over three hundred thousand in each company to have control and that notwithstanding I may have a vast number, I will abandon my attempt and return the proxies to the company I decide the policyholders are not giving me the proper support. Also impress upon them the new movement being made to offset my work."

"Keep before them that while I am spending enormous amounts I absolutely refuse under any circumstances to accept money, office or other compensation, either directly or indirectly, for money outlay or efforts. Also say before the San Antonio meeting this offer that if proof of a single act of doubt in my dealing in connection with the public in my thirty-six years' business career can be shown to Texas policyholders, I agree to return all proxies in my possession or deliver them to the Texas committee and abandon my effort to secure more."

"I admit the companies are giving me a hard run, but I intend at least to make them know they have been to the road and is surrounding himself with the very best men to look after the live stock interests wherever they come within the territory of the road."

The first appointments made by Mr. Conway are announced as follows: W. F. Ryus is made traveling freight agent, with headquarters at Topeka, Kan.; J. E. Wood, same position, at Wichita, Kan., and J. B. Lynch, traveling live stock agent, with headquarters at Dodge City, Kan. These new appointments will probably be followed by others all subordinate under him to compile reports of cattle conditions in their respective localities and forward the same to him at once.

GRAIN RECEIPTS FAIR

Cars of Wheat for Week Past Number Sixty-One

During the week ending Saturday the total number of cars of wheat received and inspected in Fort Worth was sixty-one. There were thirty-two cars of corn received.

The movement of grain to Fort Worth from the north continues to increase. There would be a still larger movement of grain if more cars could be had. The car famine has curtailed the movement to a considerable extent. Despite this fact there has been considerable wheat and corn moving into Texas from northern sections.

IN THE COURTS

The county commissioners court held a special session this morning for the purpose of considering the matter of permitting the United States circuit court to use one of the rooms of the court house.

Commissioner Andrews said that United States Marshal Green of Dallas will be communicated with regarding the matter. If arrangements can be made satisfactorily the commissioners' court will put in an order, and permit the use of a room in the court house by the federal court.

This action is the result of the move of the Fort Worth Bar Association to the court house, and the United States circuit court of appeals, made necessary because of the crowded condition of the federal building.

The plans contemplated now are for the commissioners to use the room in the federal building now being used by the United States court. Under the contemplated arrangements the lower federal court is to be quartered in the court house.

Federal Judge Meek met with the commissioners' court this morning. In addition to the above matter the court allowed several claims that were not acted on during last week's session.

YOUNG OUTLAW KILLED IN FIGHT

Beats Off Officers, but Is Run Down by Train. SAN PABLO, Cal., Nov. 20.—Joseph A. Willey of Oakland, a boy 18 years of age, was wounded last night by a bullet fired by John Bouquet, a local constable, after a battle in which revolvers were freely used with the constable and Southern Pacific train officials at this station.

After being wounded he staggered across the railroad track and was run down by a train just pulling into the station. Willey boarded a northbound train out of Oakland by jumping on the front baggage car while it was in motion. The train stopped at Stege, Brakeman Reeves went forward to force him from the train. Conductor Wells went with the constable to the train, and before they got close to him Willey pulled two pistols from his pockets and pointed them at the men and fired. A bullet whizzed by Wells' ear and caused him to beat a hasty retreat. Willey ran back to the cab followed by a bullet, which then ordered the engineer to pull out and threatened to kill him if he refused and the train started for San Pablo.

Here, the constable, who has been warned by wire, made an attempt to capture Willey, who defied him and the battle began anew. After a number of shots had been exchanged Willey dropped, wounded, and staggered over the track, where he was run down by an incoming train.

TO THE TELEGRAM

A HASTY CONCLUSION

In its anxiety to find something in the candidacy of Mr. Lassiter for the office of mayor about which to complain, the Record has been guilty of the use of language neither discriminating or altogether just. It assumes too much for its own candidate, Judge Harris, and had neither the grace or fairness to await an expression from Mr. Lassiter before condemning him. He has not yet given public utterance to his views on public matters and it would have been nothing but fair to have heard him before passing judgment.

After dilating at some length upon the personal integrity of Judge Harris, which no one disputes, and lauding him for his lively interest in public affairs, which no one disputes, the Record has been able to discover, it recounts the reforms in municipal matters which are advocated by Judge Harris and then jumps to the conclusion that Mr. Lassiter and those who have announced his candidacy will advocate his election as opposed to these reforms. To quote the Record literally, it says:

"Opposition to Judge Harris inevitably joins the issue of municipal reform, and the candidacy of Mr. Lassiter, however much he and his friends may desire it otherwise, accentuates it in this campaign."

It is hardly a logical conclusion that "opposition to Judge Harris inevitably joins the issue of municipal reform." There may be and doubtless are many persons in Fort Worth as enthusiastically in favor of municipal reform as Judge Harris. It would be lamentable, if true, that all honesty, virtue and patriotism was concentrated in the person of Judge Harris, and it would certainly have been an act of fairness to have permitted Mr. Lassiter "to have joined the issue," if he desired to do so rather than to have assumed to do it for him.

After Mr. Lassiter has expressed himself on the subject, would have been ample time for the Record to have made criticism of his position. Mr. Lassiter's candidacy is not a matter of impulse. He was not brought out by a few admirers. It was the result of much deliberation and careful consideration. A large number of people in every line of business and every walk of life were consulted prior to his announcement.

His candidacy is largely in the nature of a protest against the haste and methods pursued in bringing out Judge Harris. Men who have the interest of the city at heart, after much deliberation and waiting, were convinced from the lack of interest manifested and enthusiasm created by the candidacy of Judge Harris that the people preferred some other man for the high position of mayor.

That the Record's article was written in haste and without due consideration is plainly manifest by the following excerpt: "There is a deep conviction that in the past Fort Worth has been too lavish in its treatment of public service corporations, and there is a grave apprehension that unless a halt is called we may soon witness in Fort Worth the abuses which have scandalized the greater cities of the country."

Following so soon upon the Record's enthusiastic advocacy of the absolute gift of two important and valuable franchises to "public service corporations" a paragraph should have been labeled "A Gag." OLD VOTER.

COOLER WEATHER HERE

Cooler weather ruled in Fort Worth Sunday. The maximum temperature was but 63 degrees. Low temperatures were the rule throughout the state on Sunday, except at coast towns, Corpus Christi and Galveston having records of over 70 degrees. Other Texas stations reported temperatures ranging from 60 to 68 degrees as maximum. The lowest report was from Abilene, where the thermometer just reached the 60 degree mark.

A rain of 2.08 inches was reported at Corpus Christi, but there is little chance that North Texas will feel any effects from that storm as it is moving eastward over the Gulf. A rain of .06 inch was reported at Galveston. An area of low pressure is reported in Utah this morning, which will probably move northward and will probably give Fort Worth cloudy weather for tomorrow.

The report from the Denver railroad this morning shows that the conditions in the Panhandle are somewhat cooler, the thermometer registering 38 degrees in same places. The area of low temperature over Utah caused snow yesterday at Nevada. The lake regions are covered by a high area, causing generally low temperatures. The thermometer Sunday went below the freezing point at a number of places in the country, and among them being Boise City, Cincinnati, Detroit, Denver, Helena, Huron, Lander, Miles City, North Platte, Pittsburg, Rapid City, St. Paul, Salt Lake and Winnemucca. The lowest temperature was at Sand, where a minimum of 20 degrees was reported. Oklahoma City had a low temperature of 24 degrees.

Official statement of weather conditions is: "An area of low barometer is central over Utah, causing snow in Nevada, and temperatures generally increased throughout the southern quarter of the country. A comparative low barometer area is over the Gulf region, and as a result Corpus Christi had 2.08 inches of rain last night.

"The lake regions are dominated by high barometer conditions, causing generally clear cool weather. "The middle northwest and the lake regions are the only portions of the country having temperatures as low as freezing."

"The cotton belt is generally cloudy, and temperatures are in the 40s and 50s."

CASES SET FOR DEC.

Trials of Greene and Gaylor Likely to Come Up Then

SAVANNAH, Ga., Nov. 20.—The trial of Captain Benjamin D. Greene, Colonel John F. Gaylor and others has been set for Tuesday, Jan. 9. The cases were not formally assigned for trial on that date, but Judge Sprenckle adjourned the federal court Saturday night until that time and the understanding was general that the court would return for the disposition of the Greene-Gaylor cases.

There is speculation as to what course the government will pursue with reference to Will and Ed Gaylor and M. A. Conolly, whether it is the purpose of the district attorney to give bond re-arrested and required to give bond under the two additional indictments.

District Attorney Marion Lewin declined to say what action he proposed to take, but as there was no attempt to keep secret the facts that additional indictments had been found against the younger Gaynors, it seems likely that they will not be troubled further without bail in view of the fact that they are now bound by the security in the former charges.

POULTRY SHOW ENDED

GAINESVILLE, Texas, Nov. 20.—The Cooke county poultry show closed Saturday after a three days' exhibit. Several pairs of chickens were on exhibition that would sell at market prices for $30. It is held in the best poultry show ever held in Gainesville.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Pecans have advanced in price. At least that is the experience of one peccan hunter in town. While out in the woods Sunday he succeeded in getting about a peck of pecans but they cost him approximately $12. The unfortunate man is Porter True, an employe in the federal building. Before climbing a tree for pecans he removed a pair of new shoes, valued at $5, and put on a pair of old ones, leaving his buggy at a distance he climbed up and started thrashing the nuts. After picking them up he went back to the buggy and discovered that the shoes were gone and with them a fine $12 lap robe.

MAYOR'S DEATH CAUSES TANGLE

Galveston Without Funds to Pay City Employes

GALVESTON, Texas, Nov. 20.—The death of Mayor Austin, or rather an omission in the city charter, is responsible for the delay of several important city projects. One of the projects which is the new pumping station to be erected at the supply station at Alta Loma. By some mistake, either on the part of the enrolling clerk of the legislature or the framers of the new city charter, no provision was made for the election or appointment of a mayor pro tem during the illness or upon the death of the mayor. This is in violation of the provisions of the charter of Galveston since its incorporation as a city, was not included in the present one. Provision is made for the election of a mayor but not for the temporary filling of the office. So not until the new mayor is elected, Dec. 14, and in fact, not until about Jan. 1, when he will qualify, can any warrant be issued for the payment of city funds. This is the case with the temporary filling of the office. So not until the new mayor is elected, Dec. 14, and in fact, not until about Jan. 1, when he will qualify, can any warrant be issued for the payment of city funds.

But construction of the Alta Loma pumping station at a cost of nearly $5,000 and its equipment with machinery at a cost of over $10,000 will be delayed until after the first of the year. The machinery, which was contracted for three months ago, has been ready for shipment since Nov. 10, but the terms of the contract call for payment of one-third of the contract price upon delivery and the balance when the machinery is installed, and a delay is necessary before payment can be made. The contract for the brick powerhouse, bids for which were opened two weeks ago, cannot be signed except by the mayor and full board of commissioners. The plan for this badly needed improvement of the water works system was to construct the foundation and part of the superstructure of the powerhouse and then install the pumps and other machinery before completing the building.

TEXARKANA, Texas, Nov. 20.—Chas. Moore, a negro drayman in the employ of one of the local wholesale houses, was set upon by highwaymen while en route home at 11 o'clock Saturday night. He was hit in the head and robbed of his week's wages, amounting to $9. He was near his home at the time, and afterward attracted attention by his cries. He was picked up and taken to a local hospital, where he died of his injuries at 4 o'clock Sunday morning.

His skull was fractured in three places and his body was beaten and lacerated. The attack had also been terribly gashed with a knife. Before Moore said there were two men who attacked him, but it was so dark at the time that he could not tell whether they were whites or negroes.

PRINCE LEAVES TWO HUNDRED

British Officers Refuse to Allow Sailors Aboard Ships

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—About two hundred sailors from the British squadron commanded by Prince Louis of Battenburg were missing from the ships when the squadron made ready to sail today. Several who had overslept leaves were turned away when they tried to board the ships this morning. The officers treated them as deserters, saying they were willing to lose men on the principle that they are worthless and their loss but good ridance. Many of the rejected sailors went. Their uniforms in some cases had been taken from them in bowery resorts. They had spent all their money before returning to the ships. Many of them immediately applied to the immigration authorities for return to England. Commissioner Watchern said a fine of $2 per head will be levied on the prince's squadron for every sailor who appears to have been left stranded in New York. The same is imposed on captains of Trans-Atlantic steamers for every emigrant smuggled into the United States without due examination. The British ships weighed anchor shortly before noon and proceeded down the Hudson river, bound for Gibraltar.
