

Gentle, soaking rain brings smiles to sunburned faces

'ZITO' SARTARELLI, former Dimmitt High School exchange student from Brazil, discusses language teaching techniques with Mrs. Ronnie Parker, one of his former teachers, during a reception in his honor Sunday in the home of his American "parents," Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Bell. Sartarelli teaches English and mathematics in Sao Paulo, Brazil, to pay his way through college. He is visiting friends here during his college's "winter break."

'Zito' renews friendships here

Dimmitt looks much the same as it did three years ago to "Zito" Sartarelli, except that "most of my old school friends are gone."

THE BRAZILIAN honor student, who was the American Field Service exchange student in Dimmitt High School in 1967-68, is here to visit until August with friends and with his American "family," the Lonnie Bells.

The Bells hosted a reception for him Sunday afternoon, and Tuesday he spoke to the Lions Club.

After graduating with honors from DHS in 1968, Sartarelli completed his last required semester of Brazilian high school in his home town of Ribeirao Bonito, where his family owns a downtown store and truck line.

THEN HE bypassed the free-tuition public universities and enrolled in the Getulio Vargas Foundation, a private business administration school in Sao Paulo. He earned a scholarship worth half his tuition, and he teaches English and mathematics to pay the rest of his expenses.

Supporting himself totally while putting in 18-hour days, Sartarelli is now in the second semester of his second year with 2½ years to go before receiving his business degree.

He chose the 3,000-student Vargas Foundation "because this is supposed to be one of the finest business administration schools in the Southern Hemisphere," he said.

HE HOPES to return to the US as a graduate student. The Vargas Foundation has an exchange agreement with the University of Michigan which he could take advantage of. But he hopes to earn a Fulbright Scholarship to an Ivy League school, preferably Harvard.

"I want to get a master's from a good US school to qualify me to go to work for an international company anywhere in the world," he said.

Speaking to the Lions Club Tuesday, he said the American Field Service scholarship to DHS "was a very nice experience for me. It made me understand a lot about United States people and culture."

HE ADDED, "You might think we know a lot about the United States cultural background, but actually we're very far apart because we haven't taken the time to study each other. I think a similar experience in any country would be valuable."

One oddity about AFS student experience, he said, is that "usually, girls don't enjoy the States as much as boys do, and I don't know why. Many of the boys want to come back, but few of the girls do."

He also expressed curiosity over the drug problem on American college campuses. "Up to now, at least we don't have a drug problem in our colleges at all," he said.

'Parked' wagon crashes through front of grocery

The force of a rear-end collision sent a parked Ford station wagon through the front windows and doors of Taylor & Sons Grocery Saturday afternoon.

Police Chief W. W. Jones recounted this chain of events that led to the station wagon crashing through the storefront, startling clerks and customers at the check-out stands:

A car driven by Billy Wormby had run out of gas, and was being pushed across the parking lot, toward the store, by a car driven by Mrs. Oda McDaniel of Sudan.

As his car reached the exit lane, Wormby turned left, toward the highway entrance.

BUT Mrs. McDaniel's car didn't turn left with Wormby. She continued forward and her brakes wouldn't work. Her car hit the rear of a station wagon owned by Antonio Oballe, which was angle-parked in front of the store, and sent it crashing through the glass doors and door frames of the building.

Jones cited Mrs. McDonald for not having a driver's license, for having no brakes, and for being involved in an accident with defective brakes.

The police chief estimated damage to the store building at $1,500, and $300 to the McDaniel and Oballe vehicles.

Dimmitt Stars top Castro 16-2; will face Randall here tonight

The Dimmitt Little League All-Stars, 16-2 victors over Castro County Monday night, will meet Randall County here tonight (Thursday) for the area championship.

THE TITLE game, originally scheduled for Tuesday night, was postponed because of rain. The bout will begin at 7:30 tonight in the Dimmitt Little League Park, with preliminary ceremonies starting between 7 and 7:15.

Winner of tonight's game will advance to the district tournament in Pampa.

The Dimmitt All-Stars scored all 16 of their runs in two big innings Monday night to wallop the Castro County Stars of Hart, Nazareth and Happy in the area opener.

CASTRO County went ahead 2-0 in the top of the second, but in the bottom half of the frame Dimmitt tapped CC pitcher R. Bernal for 11 runs on nine hits, including a round-tripper by Dimmitt pitcher Brad Glenn.

Mike Clevenger relieved Bernal on the mound and held Dimmitt at bay until the fifth, when the hosts tagged him for three hits and brought five runners across home plate.

Glenn went the distance on the mound for Dimmitt, giving up three hits and two runs while fanning nine, walking four and sending one batter to base with a lump.

Top scorers for Dimmitt were Glenn and Thompson Mayberry with three apiece. Nearly every player in Dimmitt's batting order got a hit or more during the slugfest.

State relaxes VEE quarantine

Road-weary vet gets relief

By BECKY BERRYHILL

Round the clock vaccinations of horses have kept Dr. W. J. Hill busy over the weekend and early this week to prevent Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis (VEE) from invading the county.

DR. HILL and his assistant drove 200 miles Saturday night to vaccinate 200 horses, most of them at feedlots. The state-invoked method of inoculating the county's horses made it a long, desperate race for the road-weary veterinarian. He estimated there are 800 horses in the county.

But at midnight Monday the state relaxed the quarantine slightly to allow horses to be brought in to veterinary clinics for inoculations.

Dr. Hill said it would have taken the rest of the week to vaccinate all the county's horses if the strict quarantine had stayed in force, prohibiting horses from being moved. But the easing of the quarantine should now "speed up the process a great deal," he said.

THE RAIN could still hinder the mass inoculation program, though, if the ground becomes too soft for horse trailers to be loaded and moved.

The Dimmitt Veterinary Clinic received 240 doses of the anti-VEE vaccine Saturday and another 300 doses Tuesday from the supply center at Texas Tech University. The vaccine is reconstituted by the center, and area veterinarians receive their allotted amount each day as it is available.

"I anticipate receiving a large quantity of vaccine the latter part of this week," Dr. Hill said.

"VACCINATION is mandatory for all horses in Texas," he explained. "Many of our neighbor states have also been quarantined. Horse owners should make every effort to have their horses vaccinated to prevent the disease's build-up in our county."

Dr. Hill said he would also vaccinate horses outside the county if requested, since many local residents stable their animals in adjoining counties.

The Dimmitt Veterinary Clinic reported that its waiting list includes 300 or more horses outside of Castro County.

Monday, Secretary of Agriculture Clifford Hardin announced that the USDA would pay the $3 service charge for administering the vaccine, using emergency federal funds.

HORSE owners wanting the free vaccine for their horses should contact the Dimmitt Veterinary Clinic, where they will be placed on a waiting list, and then they must sign a required release before the shots (See VEE Quarantine, Page 12)

'Kidney call' is false alarm

Elvon DeVaney of Dimmitt almost received a new kidney Friday, but it turned out to be non-compatible with his blood.

HE WAS notified at 1 p.m. that a kidney of his blood type was en route from Oklahoma City to Dallas. He and his wife, Sue, and pilot Harley Wilke left Dimmitt Municipal Airport 30 minutes later. At Dallas, his brother-in-law, Mike Babler, met them at the airport and by 4 p.m. DeVaney was in Parkland Hospital.

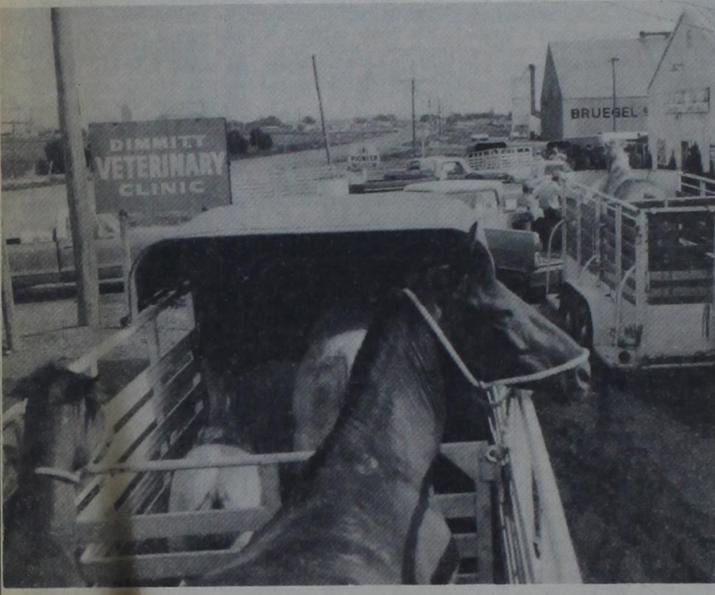

The kidney was already waiting at Parkland. And so was the new anti-rejection serum which has had a 90 percent success rate in the transplanting of kidneys of the same blood type. Surgery already had been scheduled for 8 p.m.

But for some reason the donated kidney would not function properly in the dialysis machine with DeVaney's blood.

A DALLAS lady who was called up at the same time just in case of such an eventuality got the "go" signal when her blood proved compatible, and she received the kidney Friday night. She was reported doing well Saturday morning.

The DeVaneys returned home Saturday morning to await another call. He is still first on the list of recipients.

A victim of Bright's Disease, DeVaney had both kidneys removed last year and has since been undergoing dialysis (artificial kidney) treatments three times a week in his home.

Cut without warning

Schools hope to regain lost bi-lingual program

Superintendents of Dimmitt and Hereford public schools plan to meet with the state commissioner of education next week in an attempt to regain their bi-lingual program for elementary students.

THE popular pilot program, which utilizes both Spanish and English in the teaching of all subjects, was killed last month in the Dimmitt, Hereford and Tulia elementary schools when the US Office of Education cut its program funds to the Panhandle Regional Service Center, claiming the three schools were not conforming to USOE specifications.

Meanwhile, the only other two school systems in the Panhandle-Plains area with the pilot program — Lubbock and Abertown — will still have it next year. Both are funded through the Lubbock Educational Service Center.

Dimmitt Supt. Charlie White was hopping mad over the loss of the program.

"WITHOUT any warning, the US Office of Education told us we were not conforming, and that we had to teach Spanish as a first language and English as a second," he said. "We couldn't buy that."

He said the loss of the program was the result more of a squeeze play than an out-and-out cancellation by the USOE. "IT WASN'T a cut as such," White said. "We were told we could continue the program only if we would teach English as a second language. They wanted students taught in Spanish with an English course thrown in. Both here and in Hereford, we felt our patrons wouldn't accept that — and we didn't like it, either."

The program started here two years ago with a second grade class made up equally of Mexican-Americans and Anglos of all tested levels. It utilized the team teaching technique, with two classroom teachers and one bi-lingual teacher to guide the group through the fifth grade level.

Students were learning their numbers, colors, sentence structure and other subjects in both languages.

THE PROGRAM involved 120 students in the second and third grades in 1969-70 and 180 in the second, third and fourth grades last year.

"This was one of the most popular programs in our school system as far as our local patrons were concerned," White said. "I personally thought it was a tremendous program. It gave Anglo students a greater insight into the Mexican-American culture, and gave the Mexican-Americans a great deal of pride in their cultural background. This was being accomplished in addition to the students getting their basic education satisfactorily, so it was an enrichment program for all the students."

"We're very unhappy about the cut," he added. "We feel a good program is going down the drain."

White and Supt. Roy Hartman of Hereford are seeking an audience for Tuesday or Wednesday with Dr. J. W. Edgar, state commissioner of education, and Dr. Hulen Laycock, director of the Panhandle Educational Service Center, to appeal the USOE decision.

"I hope something comes of our appeal," White said. "It's too late to get the program back for this year — it would be almost impossible to find enough bi-lingual teachers for it now — but we hope we can get it reinstated for 1972-73."

The sudden reversal by USOE came "despite the fact that all the evaluators who studied our classes here were well pleased with the progress and considered the program to be successful," White said. "We had no inkling that our program was even under question. All we had received were compliments from the very agency that cut us out."

Boosters seek aid in painting Bobcat Stadium

Bobcat Stadium will be painted next week, with the school furnishing the paint and the Dimmitt Athletic Booster Club providing the hands and brushes.

"WE'LL START painting at 8 o'clock Monday morning, and we'd like to have help from everybody in the community, anytime during the day," said Marshall Langford, president of the Booster Club. "Just bring a paint brush or roller."

Bleachers, fences and booths on both sides of the 22-year-old football field will be painted, and the Boosters plan to install a loudspeaker on the visitors' side.

"We want to make it look as good as we can before the football season starts," Langford said.

Housing project to receive 175 refrigerators

Despite the heat wave, there'll be a lot of cold air circulating in East Dimmitt after the largest single order of refrigerators in the county's history is delivered.

175 GENERAL Electric refrigerators are to be delivered and installed this week in the apartments of the Castro County Agricultural Housing Project.

Purchased with a grant from the Farmers Home Administration, the refrigerators are all 11½ cubic feet in size, with 64-lb. cross-top freezers. Low bidder was Delbert McDougal of Lubbock, GE contract sales specialist.

William J. T. Robertson, manager of the project, said the housing association plans to buy enough good, used refrigerators from occupants who have them to fill out the 192 apartments of the complex.

THE PROJECT has been fully occupied for the last two weeks, and many migrant workers there have been without the convenience of refrigerators, Robertson said. Although kitchen ranges have been furnished in each apartment since the project opened four years ago, residents have had to provide their own refrigerators or do without.

The big refrigerator purchase is in line with the housing association's original plan to provide fully equipped kitchens for migrant workers, he said.

Addition of the refrigerators will not affect rent prices of the apartments, Robertson said.

Cool weather and slow rains combined to give Castro County a pleasant relief from a hot, dry summer this week.

THE GENTLE, soaking rain started at 2 a.m. Tuesday, stopped early Tuesday afternoon, and began again in the wee hours Wednesday morning. By daybreak Wednesday, the entire county had received an .45 of an inch early Wednesday, moisture.

Dimmitt received .55 of an inch early Tuesday and another .45 of an inch early Wednesday according to US Weather Observer Howard Cook. Most of the moisture soaked into the dry soil and there was very little runoff.

The Tuesday morning rainfall ranged from one-half to 1½ inches around the county, most of it falling between midnight Monday and noon Tuesday. Early Wednesday morning, the heavy rainclouds performed an encore.

"IT'S THE type of rain that's doing us a lot of good," Jimmy Cluck said. He received about .85 of an inch on his farm near Hart Tuesday.

Mrs. Myrt Loman reported .89 of an inch in Hart. The city had .05 of an inch earlier this month, bringing the July total to .94 of an inch before Wednesday's rain started.

North of Hart, Mrs. Bud Steiert reported half an inch at her home Tuesday. Ernest Brockman also recorded about half an inch at his place south of Nazareth Tuesday afternoon. Lucy Leinen, at Dimmitt Agri Industries in Nazareth, said they had received about half an inch, too.

In the northern part of the county, Community Grain at Easter had about .70 at noon Tuesday and reported that it appeared to be "about over for the day" in the mid-afternoon.

MRS. OWEN ANDREWS of Frio reported about half an inch and said it had stopped about noon Tuesday. "It seemed a pretty general amount for our area," she said.

Mrs. C. E. Burks estimated .50 to .60 of an inch on their farm in the Arney area. Jimmy Cluck guessed about three- (See SOAKING RAINS, Page 12)

A weekend jaunt in New Mexico is always interesting

By MYRTLE SHEFFY

Sid and I and Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Nelson went to New Mexico last weekend. That is a most interesting state. We stopped in Las Vegas, then on to Pecos saw the old Indian adobe ruins. Seems the Pecos Pueblo Indians lived up and down the upper Rio Grande River and the Upper Pecos. These people were farmers. They raised potatoes, squash, corn, many greens.

By 1450 the Pecos Indians had congregated and built the multi-storied Pueblos built around a central plaza. The archeologists are still excavating. If you are over there stop by and talk to the Rangers.

We went on to Santa Fe, looked around, stayed in a big old hotel downtown, the De Vargas, not too fine, but all we could get. John Wayne and his crew had the LaFonda. There were hundreds of long-haired hippies and many real Indians selling things in front of the old museum. We met a Mrs. Poland from Plainview. Her husband is one of the football coaches at Plainview. They were just looking too.

We went south, stopped in Albuquerque to visit the Nelson's daughter Mary and Herb Burnham and sons Mike, Rex and Jay. Stayed 30 minutes, had coffee, on to dinner at Socorro, a good place called El Camino. That place is supported by the many mines — gold, silver, manganese, and a big golf tournament called the Conrad Hilton Open Program had been going on. We crossed that long hot dry country, saw the lava beds at Carrizo, on to Ruidoso. The gents saw the races, we gals didn't. We did see Steve Glen at Whispering Pines. Quite a ride we had in three days. I do want to mention the New Mexico Capital at Santa Fe, a fairly new building. It is circular shape with four entrances set to project the ZIA Indian symbol of the sun. It is sandy pink in the Spanish Colonial style and designed to retain some of the Indian heritage. The cost of this elegant building was $5.2 million. We only saw the outside of the big churches. No time.

Straight as an Arrow

In Archery you score only when you hit the target. To score well, you must have straight arrows.

When you attend church, it makes it easier to stay on the straight path. The church wants to help you in all ways of life, but can only do so, if you stay within its circle. Attend church and know the joy of a good life.

"For God is not the author of confusion, but of peace, as in all churches of the saints."

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Kelly completes teachers' course

Ewell Kelly of Dimmitt was among 176 vocational teachers who studied this summer at East Texas State University, working toward state certification in Coordinated Vocational-Academic Education (CVAE). C.V.A.E. is a new program being started in many public school systems to combine vocational and modified academic instruction for students with learning difficulties. The object of the program is to furnish the student with a salable vocational skill and basic knowledge in the fields of math, science, English and social studies. John Murl Dunahoo, instructional specialist at ETSU, explained that CVAE has been able to cut the dropout rate and raise the level of attendance among students with learning difficulties. Holly calls meetings in area for prospective beet growers

A representative of the Holly Sugar Corp. has been making a survey of the Earth, Springlake, Sunnyside, Flagg and Hart areas to see how much interest there is in growing sugar beets.

BOB GINN, agricultural manager for the Hereford factory, has been in the area since June 21 and found that there is "definitely a good deal of interest."

He has found that many growers are concerned about the present farm program and changes that may take place. The feeling is that they need a crop that will give them a higher net return per acre and more return on water used. Ginn said he has not been able to contact all of the growers in the area because of lack of time, and growers have been hard to find because of the busy season.

TO GET good coverage of the area, he is holding meetings as follows:

Earth — July 26 in the community building at 8:30 p.m.
Flagg — July 27 at the community building at 8:30 p.m.
Hart — July 29 at the Farmers State Bank at 8:30 p.m.

AT THESE meetings he intends to point out the gross returns, the cost of growing sugar beets and net profits that can be expected from the crop. He will have experienced beet growers at the meetings to answer questions about the crop.

Ginn said there have been changes made in the hauling allowance to growers, making it more attractive to the growers who are long distances from the factory. This will be explained and discussed at the meetings.

There have been other changes in the sugar beet contract throughout the past seven years that have increased the returns to the grower, which will also be discussed at the meetings, Ginn said.

All sugar produced in the US is regulated by the Sugar Act that has been in effect since 1934. This also will be discussed.

If the demand for beet acreage is great enough, an agronomist will be assigned to this area by Holly.

"We try to have an agronomist for about ever 100 growers we serve," Ginn said.

The duties of an agronomist are to help growers follow good agricultural practices so that a good quality and profitable crop will be produced.

THE Department of Agriculture was established by an act of Congress approved by President Lincoln in 1862 to meet the needs of American farmers for technical, economic and educational assistance.

Here's the timetable for vets after separation from service

Questions posed by veterans to VA offices frequently show the veteran is in doubt about the time factor of applying for some benefits, according to Jack Coker, VA regional office director in Waco.

"OUR OFFICE has prepared this timetable on benefits to assist veterans and their families," Coker added.

The countdown for the veteran starts from the day of his separation from the service.

Coker said a veteran has 10 days to notify any local Selective Service board of his address and 30 days to register if he did not do so before entering military service.

IF A veteran wants his old job back, he has 90 days to apply to his former employer for re-employment.

He has 120 days to convert his Servicemen's Group Life Insurance (SGLI) to an individual policy without examination. If totally disabled at separation, a veteran has up to one year if his condition does not change, to convert his insurance.

In either case, he must apply for the policy to one of the nearly 600 private companies participating in the SGLI program.

A VETERAN with a service-connected disability has one year from the date he receives his notice of service-connection to apply to VA for Service-Disabled Veterans Insurance.

He also has one year to apply for VA dental care or to request unemployment compensation from his local state employment service.

Veterans have eight years from date of separation to apply for and receive educational assistance benefits, which terminate after that time.

FOR A veteran with a service-connected injury or disease there is no time limit for applying for VA disability compensation, but in order to receive payments dated from the time of his separation from military service, he must apply within one year of separation.

There is no time limit for a veteran to be assisted by his local state employment service in finding a job or job-training program.

NOR IS there a time limit, to obtain hospital care or to obtain a GI loan to buy, build or improve a home or to buy a farm.

For more details, veterans should contact their local VA office, local veterans service organization representatives, or County Service Officers.

Smith sets date for industrial expansion meet

Gov. Preston Smith has announced dates for an expanded version of the annual Governor's Conference on Industrial Expansion to be held in Austin Oct. 13-14.

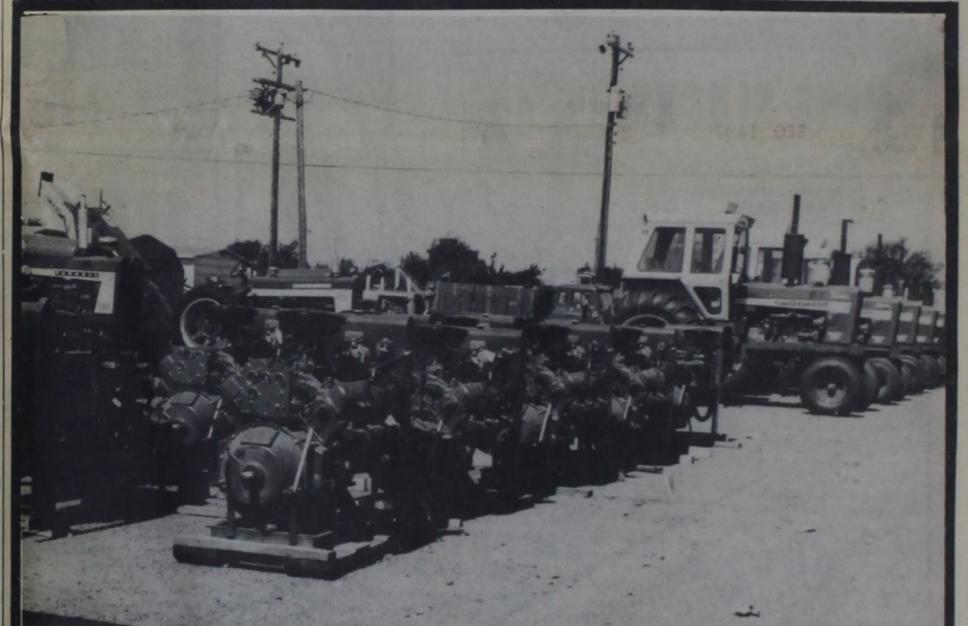

IN MAKING the announcement, Gov. Smith urged all chambers of commerce to make nominations for the coveted industrial expansion awards, presented to Texas' most significant growth industries each year as a highlight of the meeting.

The awards, judged on the basis of corporate expansion and contribution to community economy during 1970, will go to the top five of Texas' sizeable flock of expanding industries.

"The State of Texas appreciates industry's role in giving our towns life for the future," Gov. Smith said. "These awards are a way of recognizing a job well done."

Chambers of commerce may nominate industries until Aug. 13. Information and forms may be obtained from Jerry Heare, community director of the Texas Industrial Commission in Austin.

Last year's winners include Celanese Chemical Co. of Clear Lake, Friedrich Refrigerators of San Antonio, Johnson Manufacturing of Lubbock, Kilgore Ceramics of Kilgore, Laredo Packing Co. of Laredo and Missouri Beef Packers of Friona.

Financial Facts

By Willis A. Hawkins, Jr.

How are coins made?
Striking of coins has been as varied as the coins themselves.

For over 2,000 years coins have been issued in every imaginable shape. But the Greeks standardized the size and shape of coins.

An early process was a design sunk into a thick bronze disk called a die. When this die of the face of a coin was completed, it was placed in a pit hollowed out of the top of an anvil. Then a second design was made on the bottom of a bronze punch. Disks of silver of the desired size and weight were heated soft enough to receive impressions from these dies. This method was used up to the middle of the seventeenth century.

Today, the metal contents are weighed to 1-100th of an ounce.

Punch machines hammer 500 blank coins from a strip. The edges are thickened and a pressure machine of 160 tons capacity stamps the coins.

FOR INDUSTRY, FARM, HOME & BUSINESS
No Electric Power Shortage Here!!!

Use electricity with complete confidence that there's no shortage in the area we serve. We've plenty of electric power... and with ample reserves. If you know of an industry that is thinking of expanding or wants to relocate, tell them to come work with us. Our industrial development department is at their service in helping them to find just the right site or building. Tell them, too, that they'll have all the electric power they can use. Reliably is ready!

ELECTRICITY... IT DOES SO MUCH GOOD FOR SO MANY PEOPLE!

NEW FOR CHILDREN—Several large boxes of children's and junior books arrived at the county library last week. Here, Mrs. Mary Edna Hendrix, librarian, examines the books as they are unboxed. She and her assistants are now in the long process of marking the books for the shelves.

HUNTERS WON'T find as many mottled ducks when the season opens this year as they did last year, according to Charles Stutzenbaker, project leader for the J. D. Murphree Wildlife Management Area. Stutzenbaker said the drought has hit ducklings hard. There is very little water left on the management area, and ducks are concentrating on the few ponds.

Unfortunately, predators ranging from raccoons to crabs are also concentrating at the ponds and are taking their toll of the small ducks.

STORING FRESH FRUITS When you store fresh fruits, the temperature and humidity are very important. Extension foods and nutrition specialists at Texas A&M University remind. Poke a few small holes in plastic bags of fruit to provide ventilation and to let out some of the moisture that will accumulate.

THIS FALL is expected to bring 26,000 veterans to Texas colleges and universities under the GI bill, according to Jack Coker, Waco VA regional office director.

Note-burning Sunday to climax Northside Baptist revival-VBS

Revival services combined with vacation Bible school are in progress at Northside Baptist Church. DAVID BUGG of Brownwood is the evangelist. Vernon Payne, also of Brownwood, is directing the music. The two with their wives are conducting a vacation Bible school at 9 until 11:30 each morning.

DAVID BUGG
... Evangelist

Revival services include prayer groups at 7:30 for adults, and "Teen-Talk" for youth at 7. Regular worship services are at 8 each evening. THE SERIES of services will close Sunday evening. At the 11 a.m. worship hour Sunday, the Church will conduct a note-burning service which will make Northside Baptist free of debt. Friends and former pastors are invited to attend this special service. Lunch will be served at the annex, and fellowship will follow in the afternoon. Pastor M. A. Pennington said, "The revival services are progressing wonderfully, and all young people of Dimmitt ought to take the advantage of this opportunity to meet and work with this group of fine young people."

50 girls model in Dress Revue

By IRENE KEATING Last week was busy with the 4-H Dress Revue. It was the best and biggest we've ever had, with 50 girls participating. Judges were Mrs. Becky Hall, CHDA Randall County, and two of her 4-H'ers, Glenda Hollenstein and Millie Hales.

THE THEME was "The New Fashions of Young America," and decorations were red, white and blue. Mrs. Gay Nell Minnick played the piano. Mrs. Myrtle Sheffy was the lively narrator—she gave recognition to all the grandmothers (there were quite a few there). Mrs. Sue Farris, district home demonstration agent, was there. County Judge Raymond Wilson presented the awards.

The Dress Revue Committee worked hard and long. Patti Hochstein, Pam Oldham and LaDonna Hart were assisted by Mrs. Catherine Hochstein and Mrs. Sara Hart.

There were six girls in the senior division, and all were blue ribbon winners. First was Janet Smithson, second was Judy McLeRoy, and Debbie Acker was third. Agnes Acker, Sue Smith and Patti Hochstein participated.

THERE WERE 27 girls in the 9-11 age group. The top four were Katrina Bruegel, first; Cheryl Robb, second; Carol Bagwell, third; and Deanna Moore, fourth. Other blue ribbon winners were Kathy Ballard, Cindy Brooks, Leisa Graeff, Tammy Hill, Teresa Powell, Ruthetta Roots and Starla Tindal. Red ribbon winners were Michele Acker, Lori Barnes, Kylene Behrends, Heidi Bruegel, LeeAnn Crozier, LeAnn Dobbis, Natalie Durbin, Beverly Edwards, Shellie Minnick, Cheryl Pevehouse, Rachel Roots, Tina Spence, Annette Thomason, Melanie Upshaw, Margie Wilhelm and Ramonda Young. Ribbons were given on the points received with 90-100 points earning a blue ribbon and 80-89 a red.

Seventeen girls participated in the 12-13 age group. First was Elaine Acker, second was Jana Bruns, third was Carol Hochstein and fourth was Retha Aven. Other blue ribbon winners were Kelly Bagley, Sharla Carson, LaDonna Hart, Cheryl Sammann, Sandra Tischler and Christine Wilhelm. Red ribbon winners were Donna Acker, LeAnn Friday, Pam Heard, Lisa Nelson, Pam Oldham, Janis Smith and Angie Wilhelm.

We had a good attendance at our Dress Revue, and all the girls were very pretty and sweet. I am proud of them all.

A special "thank you" to all you mothers and leaders for all the time you gave. Without your faithful support, 4-H could not exist.

THE COURTHOUSE construction is well underway now. I will be working at home the next few weeks as walls, ceilings, etc., are being removed in my office. Feel free to call me at home (647-5219) or come by the house.

Price co-authors resolution aimed at flow of drugs

Congressman Bob Price has joined in co-sponsoring a resolution commending President Nixon on his actions in "conducting a broad-based diplomatic offensive to gain the full cooperation of foreign governments in eliminating the production and illegal traffic in narcotics."

THE RESOLUTION also requests the President to exercise all economic and diplomatic pressures possible to encourage other nations to stop the production and illegal traffic in drugs, and to request an early meeting of the international Narcotic Control Board to consider and adopt proposed US amendments.

The resolution further states that unless other nations take reasonable action to stop illegal traffic in narcotics, Congress will take appropriate unilateral action. Implied is the threat of cutting off US aid.

"There are 250,000 heroin addicts in the US and an additional 300,000 to 400,000 among US troops in Southeast Asia. It is evident that internal efforts within the US to control this problem cannot be successful as long as other nations continue to allow a free flow of drugs," Price said.

Vets' booklet now available

The Veterans Administration's most popular publication is now available to the public for 20 cents from the Superintendent of Documents, US Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C., 20402.

VA said it has an initial supply of 600,000 copies of the booklet, "Federal Benefits for Veterans and Dependents," now in its 23rd edition.

Containing general information about federal benefits, this year's edition reflects changes due to recent laws, and discusses such GI benefits as education and training, insurance, home and farm loans, compensation and pension and medical treatment.

STORING NUTS

Store nuts in the refrigerator in airtight containers, suggests Sally Springer, Extension foods and nutrition specialist. Due to their high-fat content, nuts require refrigeration to delay development of rancidity. You can even store them in the freezer, she adds.

Preliminary set-aside payments are underway

The 1971 set-aside farm program payments currently being made to participants in the wheat, feed grain and cotton programs are preliminary payments, farmers were reminded this week by Jim Elder, chairman of the Castro County Committee ASCS.

"WE ANTICIPATE a supplemental wheat payment will be made after Dec. 1," "We do not know whether supplemental payments for feed grain and cotton will be required, but if so, they will be made after March 1, 1972, for feed grain participants and after Jan. 1, 1972, for cotton producers."

Preliminary payments for 1971 farm program participants in Castro County and the rest of the nation began July 1, as directed by the new farm law, and are now nearly 65 percent complete in the county, according to Elder.

Some 1,500 farmers in Castro County earned payments this year by setting aside a portion of their productive cropland to help reduce excess productive capacity of American agriculture, and by maintaining the set-aside acreage in conserving uses. Payments are made in return for this contribution to the economic stability of agriculture as a whole.

ELDER explained that the wheat payments now being made through ASCS county offices represent only about 75 percent of the total wheat payments. The payment to come after Dec. 1 will be based on the difference between the final value of wheat marketing certificates and the preliminary payment. The final certificate value will be the difference between wheat parity price as of July 1, and the national average market price received by farmers in the July-November period.

For feed grain producers, the payments currently being made are based on 32 cents a bushel for corn and 29 cents a bushel for grain sorghums on one-half the farm base for these crops. If the national average market price received by farmers during the October-February period is found to be less than $1.03 a bushel for corn or 95 cents a bushel for grain sorghum, then a supplemental payment will be made to equal the difference.

For cotton program participants, the current payments are based on 15 cents a pound on acres considered planted to cotton within a farm's base acreage allotment. If the average spot market price during the August-December period is less than 20 cents a pound, a supplemental payment will be made equal to that difference.

"IN ANY CASE, no refunds from participants will be required if final figures indicate the preliminary payment this summer was above the total computed for each participant," Elder said.

Irrigation by mist spraying -- wave of future?

Application of a mist spray can relieve water deficits in plants and boost yields up to 60 percent members of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers learned during their recent annual meeting at Washington State University.

THE TECHNIQUES was described in a paper written by T. A. Howell research associate; E. A. Hiller, associate professor of agricultural engineering; and C. H. M. Van Bavel, soil and crop sciences professor, all of Texas A&M University.

Their experiment involved mist irrigation of southern peas grown in soil on which the surface was protected from moisture and only the plant received the spray.

The engineers said they have "direct evidence that the plant water balance was effectively controlled by mist irrigation, and mist irrigation, relieved internal water deficits, resulting in a large yield response of up to 60 percent under conditions similar to those in normal fields."

THE KEY to the benefits is the increase in water content of plant leaves, which lose water to the roots by transpiration, even when soil moisture is adequate.

"Although both leaf temperature and leaf water potential were affected simultaneously, we believe that the effects noted should be primarily attributed to reduction of the leaf water deficit, as the temperature effect was not large and the leaf temperatures were at all times close to values normally considered optimal for plant functions," the A&M researchers said.

The experiment was conducted in four sheltered plots, each covered on the surface with a plastic barrier that prevented evaporation losses.

SINCE SOIL water evaporation would then be negligible, water depletion in the crop root zone could be attributed to transpiration, which was measured separately only after subtracting any downward percolation," they explained.

In Treatment 1, plants were mist-irrigated daily between 11 a.m. and 5 p.m. CDT. They were mist-irrigated in Treatment 2 from the time when average leaf temperature increased two degrees centigrade over Treatment 1 plants until 5 p.m.

"Agriculture may be unable to enjoy the luxury of an abundant supply of irrigation water in the future," they said.

TOURING EUROPE—Lynette Schulte, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Schulte of Nazareth, left Dallas Monday for a two-week tour of Europe with 31 students of Miss Wade's Fashion College. They will return to New York, N.Y., Aug. 2, and Miss Schulte will spend a week in Connecticut before returning home.

ON DEAN'S LIST—Gerald J. Brockman of Nazareth has been named to the dean's honor list for the spring semester at Texas Tech, for maintaining a grade point average of 3.0 or better on a 4.0 scale. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Brockman of Nazareth.

"Therefore, more efficient irrigation methods must be developed by agricultural engineers."

Tech Museum has space exhibit

A space age exhibit, "Benefits from Space," sponsored by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, comes to the Museum of Texas Tech this month, with a special opening preview planned on the anniversary of man's first moon landing.

A SPECIAL group of 12 chairs, each equipped to present a separate four-minute story in stereo, offers visitors specifics as to how their occupations are benefiting from space research.

Transportation safety, new materials, health and medicine, communications, and new production methods are some of the "spin-offs" of the space program.

A command module exhibit, one-third scale, together with a model of an Apollo spacecraft, one-third scale, are included in the NASA exhibit, which will remain at the museum through the summer.

SCREWWORM REPORT

Four new screwworm cases have been confirmed in Texas and one in Arizona, its first of the year, according to officials at the Mission Lab. Single cases were reported in Menard, Refugio, Jim Wells, and Starr counties. None of the counties are in the northeast Texas area. Arizona's case was confirmed in Pima County near Arivaca. No new cases have been confirmed in the northeast Texas area but sterile fly treatment and spraying is continuing.

MRS. JOE DEE JOHNSON
... The former Janice Marie Dobmeier

Dobmeier-Johnson vows are pledged

Miss Janice Marie Dobmeier and Joe Dee Johnson exchanged double ring wedding vows recently in Holy Family Catholic Church in Nazareth.

FATHER Stanley Crocchiola officiated at the wedding mass before an altar decorated with two large bouquets of gladioli, daisies and fern.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Brigitta Dobmeier of Nazareth. Johnson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Johnson of Dimmitt.

Given in marriage by her brother, Allen Dobmeier, the bride wore a gown of silk organza over bridal taffeta, designed with a Chantilly lace overlay on an Empire bodice. A Victorian neckline and long sheer full sleeves were caught at the wrists by deep cuffs. Lace traced a pattern over the front of her A-line skirt, which swept into fullness at the back. Her matching chapel length mantilla was edged with scalloped lace, and was secured by a tiered soft organza bow. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Judith Irlbeck of Grygla, Minn., served as matron of honor. Serving as bridesmaids were Gail and Rena Dobmeier, sisters of the bride, both of Nazareth, and Mrs. Sandy Hill of Hart, sister of the groom. Each wore a floor length gown of silk chiffon with an Empire bodice, long sheer full sleeves with white chiffon cuffs, and a bodice insert and collar of white. Miniature buttons accented the front of the gowns. They wore large white floppy brimmed hats with grograin ribbon bands to match their dresses of Nile green, pink, powder blue and orchid. Nosegays of colored daisies completed their attire.

Terry Johnson of Plainview served as best man. Grooms-men were Gene Dobmeier of Nazareth, the bride's brother, Muriel Bussey of Hereford and Richard Humphrey of Dimmitt. Mass servers were Neil and Glenn Dobmeier, brothers of the bride, and Alex Hochstein. Ushers were Richard Dobmeier, John Dalton, David Irlbeck and Jim Kendrick.

Tim Irlbeck was ring bearer and Raychell Schulte was flower girl.

Following a reception in the Nazareth Community Hall, the couple left for a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N.M. The bride chose a pink dress for traveling.

The couple will make their home in Nazareth.

The bride is a graduate of Nazareth High School and is employed by Stanley Schaeffer, CPA, in Dimmitt. The groom is a graduate of Dimmitt High School and is employed by Hill Farms Feed Lot.

GARNISHED ice cubes add a zesty note to many fruit drinks. Fill an ice cube tray about two-thirds full, using boiled water to make the cubes clear. After the water freezes slightly add an orange, lemon or lime wedge, or a pineapple tidbit, fresh berry, cherry or grape. Finish filling with water and freeze again.

The view from your library

By MARY EDNA HENDRIX

We received a beautiful card from Maria Den Ouden, who is in Europe with her parents. They had been to Germany, Belgium and Holland. She had been to the library and found some books written in English. She signed her card, "Maria Den Ouden, the book lover."

Susan and Nolan Clay from Oklahoma came into the library this week with their mother, Mrs. Dennis Williams. They lived in Dimmitt about a year and they visited the library regularly. They are very good readers.

WE HAVE received another big shipment of books for juniors and young adults. These are the books that Mrs. Jackie Armstrong selected for us to order. Thanks again, Mrs. Armstrong, for helping us with this order.

Some of these books are: "I Met a Boy I Used to Know," by Lenora Mattingly Weber. Katie Rose Belford was in her junior year at Adams High when she met Gilmartin Ames, a new student in school. Gil, as he chose to be called, was good looking—there was no doubt about that. Yet good looks and a flashing smile did not entirely account for the odd attraction she felt for this boy from California.

"Man On First," by Robert Sidney Bowen. Joey Ames is about to receive his Marine discharge when a baseball scout from the Hawaii Surfers witnesses his outstanding performance in a service game. The scout offers Joey a chance to try out for first base with the Surfers, but he can't decide if he really wants to stay and play pro ball, or return to the Mainland as he had planned.

"Coyote, the Wonder Wolf," by J. W. Lippincott. The little coyote could not have managed to go much farther. She faltered and staggered several times. Soon she would give up and sink silently on the hot earth to die. But that was not to be the fate of Coyote, the Wonder Wolf. Her amazing adventures began when she was rescued from death and shipped from Arizona to the East in a chicken coop.

"Reach for the Dream," by Mildred Lawrence. Glorious visions of the stories she yearned to write so preoccupied Norrie Ennis that she daydreamed herself out of a job—an inauspicious beginning to the summer before her senior year in high school. Unemployment would give Norrie more time to write, but it would not help one bit in earning money for her college fund, and it would add to her mother's financial worries.

ELIZABETH CRABB of the Amarillo Library Extension Dept. came by last Friday. She had been to Friona and was on her way to Tulia. We always enjoy visiting with Elizabeth, and she always gives us some helpful information.

Here are week's best food buys

Cut down on high food costs this week — follow these marketing suggestions from Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist.

AT RETAIL meat departments, look for features on less tender cuts in less demand during hot weather, such as chuck and round cuts. Ground beef, short ribs and a number of boneless rotisserie roasts may also be found at economical prices.

Excellent values are available on smoked and canned hams. Other pork features include center-cut chops, bacon, spareribs, liver and 1/4 and 1/2 loin chops.

Fryers remain a bargain in most meat departments, and frozen turkeys are now available at prices hard to pass up. Grade A large eggs continue to offer the best combination of economy and quality.

FRESH vegetable supplies are increasing seasonally. Among the more important items are tomatoes, cucumbers, sweet corn, cabbage, celery, blackeye and purple hull peas, okra, collards, mustard greens and eggplant. Yellow onions and potatoes also have attractive price tags.

An increasing supply of seasonal fresh fruits means greater menu variety at moderate prices. White seedless grapes and nectarines are nearing peak supply, Mrs. Clyatt says. Peach supplies, while on the light side now, should be increasing soon. Banana imports are heavier, making for lower prices. Fresh plums are abundant with many varieties to choose from sweet out-of-hand eating. Pineapples, lemons, avocados, cherries, cantaloupe and watermelon are also good selections.

FARMERS spend over $38 billion a year for goods and services to produce crops and livestock; another $12 billion a year for the same things that city people buy.

Socially Yours

MRS. PERRY DAVID GRAHAM
... The former Merre Kim Tucker of Canyon

Tucker-Graham vows recited in Canyon

Double ring wedding vows were read Friday evening in the First Baptist Church of Canyon by Miss Merre Kim Tucker and Perry David Graham.

THE BRIDE'S parents are Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Tucker of Canyon. Graham is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Graham Jr. of Dimmitt.

Rev. Bill Foil officiated. The altar was decorated with twin candelabra with yellow tapers and palm leaves, flanked by two large baskets of yellow gladioli.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of sheer dotted Swiss. The gown featured a high waist with a satin sash, front closing satin buttons and a stand-up collar with lace trim. The long sleeves were trimmed with wide cuffs and lace edging. Her three-tiered veil of illusion was secured by a coil of lace flowers accented with pearls. She carried a cascade of yellow roses and white cushion mums, with baby's breath and white and yellow streamers.

DONNA RUTHART of Canyon was maid of honor, and Kris Tucker, sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid. They wore identical formal-length gowns of yellow sheer dotted Swiss. Each carried a single long stemmed yellow mum with yellow streamers.

Terre Lynn Tucker, sister of the bride, lighted the candles. She wore a floor length gown of yellow organza.

Best man was Gary Crum, and Gale Crum was groomsman. Steve Buckley and Richard Jackson, both of Dimmitt, and Tommy Tucker of Canyon seated the guests.

WEDDING selections were played by Mrs. Meade Humphries, organist.

A reception was held in fellowship hall following the ceremony. The table was covered with a white lace cloth and featured a yellow basket with daisies and yellow roses. Mrs. Kent Gabel of Amarillo and Mrs. George Pulley of Lubbock,

THE CAMPAIGN to achieve highest possible profitable cotton yields in 1971 was accelerated with two meetings in Texas—one in Lubbock on July 8 and one in Dallas the following day. Both meetings pointed out that short supplies and a slim carry-over offer growers extra incentive. At Lubbock, Extension specialists stressed proper irrigation timing and proper harvester adjustments. At Dallas, insect control, harvest aid chemicals, and new machine harvesting developments were discussed.

Cyclist injured in Friday mishap

A Dimmitt motorcyclist was injured Friday when a pickup making a U-turn reportedly forced him off US 385.

INJURED in the mishap was Larry Moyers, who was treated and released from Plains Memorial Hospital.

The day after the wreck, Police Chief W. W. Jones arrested W. R. Trujillo of Dimmitt and charged him with failure to yield right of way and driving without a license.

Jones said Moyers was riding the motorcycle south in the outside lane of US 385 when the pickup made a U-turn at the intersection of 385 and Locust Street, forcing Moyers into the curb. Jones estimated the damage to Moyers' cycle at $150.

The pickup belonged to Trujillo's employer, C. B. Garza who had no knowledge of the accident, Jones said.

Who is where in courthouse?

You may need a map to find your way through the Castro County Courthouse in its current stage of remodeling.

THE COUNTY judge's office is now walled off from the entrance foyer, and the only entrance is through the county clerk's office, which has been almost doubled in size, taking in the old commissioners' court room.

Last week the county clerk's staff moved into the tax assessor's office to work while their walls were being torn out. This week the tax assessor's staff is in the county clerk's office.

Mrs. Irene Keating, home demonstration agent, is working at her home now, getting out her annual reports and coordinating HD Club and 4-H activities.

COUNTY Agent Charles Hottel is still holding forth in his office, but will be gone to 4-H leadership camp at Brownwood next week.

"I don't know where you're liable to find us next week — wherever we can find a spot to alight," said Mrs. Beral Hance of the county agent's staff.

"We may move into the basement," Hottel said. "We're sort of in a state of limbo right now."

The upstairs offices of the sheriff, treasurer, county attorney, justice of the peace, Highway Patrol and Driver's License Division haven't been affected by the remodeling — yet.

Patrol reports 3 June mishaps

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated three accidents on rural highways in Castro County during June, according to Sgt. Vernon Cawthon, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

THESE CRASHES resulted in two persons injured, but no deaths.

The rural traffic accident summary for Castro County during the first six months of 1971 shows 29 accidents resulting in two persons killed and 12 injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety shows a total of 524 accidents resulting in 10 persons killed and 308 persons injured. This was 19 less accidents, 13 less fatalities, and 46 less injured than during May.

THE 10 traffic deaths during June included two in Floyd County and one each in Hale, Montague, Palo Pinto, Stone-wall, Carson, Donley, Hardeman and Hutchison Counties.

Soaking rains

fourths of an inch fell on the Cluck Farms in that area.

The heaviest rainfall seemed to be in the Bethel-Tam Anne area, across the western part of the county. Rainfall reports were all over an inch.

CHARLES RICKERD said he received 1.10 inches and it was still sprinkling off and on. Mrs. Bob Kay reported 1.50 inches on their farm.

Milton Bagwell said, "It quit raining in mid-afternoon and we got about 1.25 of an inch."

The ground-soaking rain was partly to blame for the county's only highway mishap of the week. A truckload of potatoes overturned five miles south of Hart at 6 a.m. Tuesday while its driver, Walter Dennis Ross of Floydada, was taking a dirt road detour around a bridge under construction on FM 168.

Patrolman Billy Scott said Ross's truck started sliding on the muddy downgrade, but he got it stopped alongside an irrigation ditch. However, the ditch gave way and the truck eased over onto its side. Ross was not hurt, and his tarp held the potatoes on the truck, Scott said.

Sunnyside Lions host 2T-1 chief

Floyd E. Sackett, Lions District 2T-1 governor, visited the Sunnyside Lions Club at its regular meeting Monday. He spoke on the merits of commitment to Lionism and the opportunity for service to the community and their fellow men through Lionism.

The Sunnyside Lions Club will hold a broom sale Saturday. A portion of the proceeds will be donated to Girlstown.

Prairie dogs still protected

The legal language of a revised state law dealing with prairie dogs may cause undue concern among Castro County farmers who love the feisty little rodents.

HOUSE Bill 357, which has been signed into law, declares the prairie dog a "public nuisance." This does not mean, however, that the state is declaring war on the remaining colonies of prairie dogs.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials point out that the new law repeals an old law under which landowners who allowed prairie dogs to live on their property were in violation of the law. The old law declared prairie dogs a public nuisance even if they were living on private property with the consent of the landowner.

The law in effect required the property owner to poison the prairie dogs — and if he didn't do it his local sheriff was expected to do it for him.

THE NEW law still gives a landowner the right to poison prairie dogs if he wishes to, but it doesn't make him a violator of the law if he allows them to live.

Man faces second exposure charge

A 33-year-old Dimmitt man was charged with indecent exposure last Thursday after a lady who lives northeast of Dimmitt told sheriff's officers the man had exposed himself to her while driving along a rural road.

IT WAS the man's second arrest for indecent exposure here in recent weeks. He posted $3,000 bond and was released pending trial.

More about:

VEE quarantine

can be administered.

The Texas Animal Health Commission said the protection begins to develop in vaccinated horses from seven to 10 days after the vaccine is administered. Full protection begins after 14 days.

The state commission recommends that pregnant mares be vaccinated. If the mare becomes infected with the natural disease, there is a 30 to 50 percent chance that both she and her foal will be lost. Many pregnant mares have been safely vaccinated with no ill effects to the mare or foal. So both the mare and foal in an infected area are relatively safer with the vaccine than without it. Foals as young as three weeks have also been successfully vaccinated.

THE VACCINE is available to accredited veterinarians only, due to the experimental nature of the drug. If it comes in powder form to be mixed with sterile water, and must be used within 12 hours of reconstitution and kept at a certain temperature during that time to remain effective.

Transmission of VEE is primarily through the bite of an infected mosquito, according to the state commission. Essentially, all types of mosquitoes and some biting flies can transmit the disease. Monday, a Texas virologist said VEE also can be carried by small birds and rodents.

The emergency situation created by the VEE epidemic that is spreading from South Texas will stop horse shows, rodeos and other events involving horses until the quarantine is lifted.

REPORTS indicate that thousands of horses in South Texas will die before the epidemic runs its course, and animals in adjoining states also are threatened. VEE is suspected in one or more horse deaths in Hale County.

Only one horse death has been reported in Castro County since the quarantine went into effect. It was a horse belonging to Bob Anthony of Big Square, who requested that a blood sample and brain tissue be sent to the state laboratory for examination.

"Initial results from tests made on Bob Anthony's horse do not indicate that encephalomyelitis was the cause of death," Dr. Hill said early this week.

THE QUARANTINE and vaccination program caught only one of the county's two licensed veterinarians at home. Dr. David Bechtel, Dr. Hill's partner in the Dimmitt Veterinary Clinic, is on vacation.

Dr. Hill said that horses at one local feedyard were vaccinated by an out-of-county veterinarian. Dr. Deyhle, consulting vet for Taylor Feed Yards, traveled through several counties over the weekend to vaccinate horses at Taylor operations, including the feedyard at Flagg.

But for the rest of the county's horses, it has been a race between Dr. Hill and time.
