Insurance Company Asks No-Liability Judgment In Suit

Testimony was completed Thursday afternoon in the suit filed by the Hardware Dealers Mutual Insurance Association against trustees of the Lockney Baptist Church. Judge Dooley will receive briefs from attorneys within three weeks and will render judgment in the case after June 1.

Evidence has been heard Wednesday and Thursday of this week in Federal Court at Lubbock in the suit filed by the Hardware Dealers Mutual Fire Insurance Company asking for a declaratory judgment of no liability in the loss of the Lockney Baptist Church here last January.

The insurance company, being unable to persuade trustees of the church to cancel out the policy and drop the matter, filed suit against them asking the federal court to declare that the company was not liable for the loss under the terms of the policy.

The church was destroyed when sleet last January piled up on the roof to the extent that it caved in, washed out the walls and otherwise demolished it. The church carried a policy with an extended coverage in the amount of $18,000.00.

Lucian Morehead of Plainview is representing the church trustees while Klett, Bean, Evans & Justice of Lubbock are representing the insurance company. Judge Jos. B. Dooley is on the bench.

The defendants have waived a jury and the suit is being tried before the judge. Quite a number of men from Lockney have been to Lubbock as witnesses in the case.

Jones Loses Last Court Chance

John Stapleton, District Attorney was notified Thursday that the Court of Criminal Appeals at Austin overruled Fred Jones' motion for rehearing. The court expected to issue a mandate Friday, May 20 to the court at Crosbyton where Jones will be sentenced on Wednesday morning.

Jones, who has been convicted of the murder of H. C. Love Jr., will then be moved to Huntsville, Texas.

This was the last appeal for Jones, and his last remaining chance for life lies with the Board of Pardons and Paroles and the governor who could change his sentence from death to life in prison, Mr. Stapleton said.

Funeral services for Mrs. Beulah Marie Anderson were held Wednesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock from the Carter Funeral Home. Mrs. Anderson passed away Tuesday, May 17 at the age of 77 years, 3 months and 18 days. She made her home here with her daughter, Mrs. Pat Hill. For some time she had been in failing health and was taken suddenly on Saturday, May 14 and her tired heart was unable to sustain her frail body only a week and two days. Services were conducted by Rev. E. J. Cobb and Rev. R. E. L. Muncy.

Beulah Morris Anderson was born in Vanzant County January 29, 1872 to Thomas F. and Margaret M. Beall. She was married August 10, 1892 to John K. Anderson. To this union was born five children: T. With her parents and brothers and sisters she came to Floyd County in 1891 and knew all the hardships of pioneer life. She became a Christian and united with the Baptist Church at an early age and had been a faithful follower of her Savior all her life. Interment was in the Irick cemetery.

Unsettled Weather Causes Anxiety In Floyd County

County Agent Robert H. Gibson told The Beacon Wednesday that he had not found any rust damage among wheat up to that time.

"I don't say that there isn't any rust damage in the county," Mr. Gibson said, "but in the several patches which I have examined there was no rust damage. The yellow color of the wheat was caused from a mineral deficiency. I don't know for sure that there isn't any rust damage but I have not seen any up to this time," he said.

Rains continued in Floyd County as well as all over West Texas this week with farmers and others scanning the skies hoping for clear weather. Not only the rains were causing anxiety but many people were also disturbed over numerous hail storms and small twisters that struck at a number of points near here and at some places in this county.

Two inches of rain the past week added to all the other rains of recent date have given farmers more than enough moisture for this time.

Sunday night and early Monday morning 75 fell. On Tuesday morning 18 fell and last Friday around 97 fell. In addition a number of showers, one Wednesday afternoon, have added to the total to send it over two inches.

Wednesday the wind continued out of the southeast, which is a good rain forecast was for more moisture, however Thursday brought cleared skies and warm sunshine.

Weather in Floyd County and West Texas has been extremely unsettled the past week with tornadoes, floods and hail storms taking the spotlight. The worst storm of the week was the tornado which struck south Amarillo last Sunday night, killing five people and injuring 70 or 80. A number of local people have been to (Continued on back page)

Routes Set For Two Farm-To-Market Roads

Routes for two farm-to-market roads have been set within the last two weeks.

The Commissioners Court voted last week to set the route for the farm-to-market road into the Irick community to leave Highway 70 at the J. R. Belt Jr. farm home, about four miles west of Lockney, proceed southward to the Dow Colson farm, thence west to the Irick school house or perhaps further. This road will be built out of the county farm-to-market road bond issue. No time has been set for the paving but it will likely be this year, it was reported.

After considerable controversy, a route has been selected for a state-paved road in the vicinity of Sandhill, it was reported to The Beacon this week. Two routes were proposed, each of them taking off from the south end of the Lockney-Pleasant Valley and thence south to Sandhill. It was reported to The Beacon that the route straight south to connect with the Floydada-Sandhill road had been selected. Added to the program is a small spur extending one and a third miles north of Sandhill.

The Commissioners Court did not as a body, select either road and it was reported that District Engineer McCarty of Lubbock selected the route.

Another addition to the county hard-surface mileage is 3.1 mile spur west from Sandhill to Barwise.

Work Starts On New Baptist Church

Preliminary work began Wednesday on the construction of a new Baptist Church in Lockney. The new building will be built on the same site occupied by the old one, which was destroyed last January when the roof caved in from an overload of sleet.

The church has employed T. E. Verner of Meadow to supervise construction of the building. He is employed on a 110% cost-plus basis. Mr. Verner has built several churches in West Texas, including one at his home, Meadow, and one at Seminole.

The new building will include an auditorium to seat almost 500 people with an educational building to take care of 500 in Sunday School. Departments planned into the educational unit with all accessories necessary for the church program.

A balcony has been planned at the rear of the auditorium and seating capacity there will be in addition to the 500 mentioned for the auditorium. The balcony will also be used for Sunday school class rooms.

A kitchen and a church parlor, which will also be used for a class room, are other things planned for the new building.

Construction is expected to proceed at a fast clip, weather permitting. Mr. Verner estimated that it will take six months to complete the building, and possibly longer.

Butler & Brasher, architects of Lubbock, planned the building.

Vets Ag Class To Start June 3

A Veterans Agricultural Class will start here June 3, it was announced this week by N. S. Abbott of Floydada, the co-ordinator of Floyd County Vocational schools.

W. D. Hancock of Jayton will teach the class and he was here this week making arrangements to move here. He is a graduate of Texas Technological College with a major in agriculture.

Classes will be held in the agriculture building at the Lockney High School. It is hoped that a full class of 23 will be ready to start when the classes start. However a few more veterans can be enrolled yet, Mr. Abbott said.

Veterans who are interested in enrolling in this school should contact Mr. Abbott in his office at the County School Superintendent's office in the basement of the courthouse at Floydada. Certain papers must be completed and signed and other details attended to before the veteran can qualify for the school. Veterans should contact this office by the first of next week, Mr. Abbott said, if they want to attend the school.

4-H Club Boys And Girls To Be Recognized

The Extension Service and the Producers Grain Corporation are continuing a cooperative plan to recognize outstanding 4-H Club boys and girls in the area served by the Corporation. This area included 56 Texas counties and is divided into 8 districts by the Producers Grain Corporation. The plan provides for one 4-H Boy and one 4-H Girl from each district to be chosen for this recognition. Those become members of the Talent Club.

The plan has two purposes: (1), To recognize the outstanding work being done by 4-H club members, and (2), To interest this group of young agricultural leaders in cooperative activities.

Marlene Hollums of this county has been chosen a member of the Talent

Club from District 5 of the Producers Grain Corporation. The awards in the unique 4-H organization are educational trips for the 16 winners, as guests of the Producers Grain Corporation of Amarillo. The trip this year will be by chartered bus, beginning at Lubbock, extending through Austin, San Antonio, Corpus Christi, and back to Amarillo. The group will be supervised by Miss Kate Adele Hill, District Agent of Extension Service, other Extension Agents, and Mr. Kenneth Loyd of the Producers Grain Corporation.

The trip will be on June 6, 7, 8, 9, and 10th.

Marlene is happy over the prospects of the trip she has won because of her outstanding 4-H club work. Her projects over a number of years include cooking, canning, poultry, clothing, and dairy stock. She has won various awards such as trips to meetings and camps in Lamesa, Plainview, Lubbock, College Station, and Dallas, besides the award of accomplishments in her projects. Of all her medals and prizes, she says she is proudest of the Gold Star pin awarded her by the Texas Extension Service in 1948.

Marlene is a Junior in Floydada High School.

But I want a telephone not a cable

Telephones and telephone cables go together. You talk into the telephone—but it's the cable that carries your voice.

If you are waiting for a telephone you may wonder why we don't connect it to a telephone cable already near your home.

The answer usually is: That cable is carrying a full load right now.

It would be handy if we could hang out an "SRO" sign like a theater—"Standing Room Only"—and connect a lot of extra telephones to these full-up cables.

But cables aren't like that. When they're working 100 per cent—when every wire in them is already connected—there just isn't any more room, standing room or anything else.

So... to bring service to you and to others waiting, we must place more cables. That gives us extra wires. Then we can connect new telephones.

That's what we're doing, getting more cables in place, and faster than ever before. A million miles of cable wire this year alone. All so that we can get telephones to those waiting just as soon as we can, and to make all service better than before.

Stars in Your Eyes

Duse played her most dramatic role in real life. In the twilight of her career the great Italian star was ill and financially hard-pressed . . . During the initial World War she donated her savings to aid wounded soldiers and refugees . . . Nevertheless, she rejected a pension offered by Mussolini's gov't and decided on another tour of the United States. Although her health was impaired, Duse's artistry still glowed. The swing around the nation was a financial success, but its rigors proved too much for her ebbing strength.

Before the tour was completed she passed away in Pittsburg.

Mrs. Fiske was a fanatic animal lover. The actress refused to include in her wardrobe any furs or feathers.

After a critic had pelted her play, Mrs. Fiske wrote to him: "It is well known that I love animals. That is why I am not writing anything nasty to you now!"

Sarah Bernhardt's most cherished tribute came from an unknown admirer. During Bernhardt's heyday there were many imitators of her acting style . . . A devotee of her art sent Bernhardt an unsigned missive reading: "I agree with Goethe who said there are many echoes but few voices."

Performing the same role night after night after night can be an ordeal that verges on drudgery. After her 900th performance in "Victoria Regina" Helen Hayes sighed: "I feel as though I were playing it under water!"

Edwin Booth's most difficult acting assignment was trying to satisfy a director who wanted him to walk on the stage "looking like he had just drunk a cup of tea!"

Nora Bayes concocted a unique method of squelching audience coughers. When the hacking and barking irked her she would suddenly fake a coughing fit on the stage.

Then Nora would remark to the audience with obvious sarcasm: "Please excuse my very rude behavior."

Edmund Kean was one of Britain's great tragedians. He was playing leading Shakespearean roles when only 14 years old . . . But one thoughtless act shattered his career in the USA. Kean refused to perform in a Boston theatre because it wasn't filled. This incident incited a public uproar that forced Kean to scotch back to England. Theatersgoers never forgot the insult. When he returned here several years later—there were riots where Kean appeared. Not even a public apology could soothe the aroused Yankee Doodlers.

Maurice Barrymore's wily tip: "An actor's success is often as temporary as the sound of applause. Broadway is the longest street with the shortest memory."

One of the acting profession's strange quirks is that anecdotes about sparklers are remembered long after their most thrilling performances are forgotten. Theatrical historians have devoted more space to Mrs. Patrick Campbell's rapier retorts than her greasypaint skill . . . A thespian once accused her of quietly laughing at him on the stage while he was performing in a serious episode.

Mrs. Campbell intoned: "I never laugh at you on the stage. I always wait till I get home!"

Richard Mansfield never squawked when he was the target of a critic's barb. "Let them write what they want about me," he said. "I will continue to act against them."

Junius Booth (Edwin's father) became so wrapped up in a role he almost committed murder: While playing "Othello" he took the part so seriously that the actress playing Desdemona was almost throttled. She was rescued from suffocation in the murder episode by the other actors, who rushed on the stage to save her.

By the way, that incident is practically the plot of a recent film, "A Double Life."

George M. Cohan never requested interviewers to keep anything off the record. He wisely noted: "If there is anything a reporter can't print—I shouldn't be saying it!"

After Mrs. Otis Skinner's death, Alec Woolcott sent a touching note that the famed thespian always prized: "Dear Otis: You lucky bum. You had forty blissful years together, you and that enchanting woman. How I envy you!"

Road Program Depends On Commissioners, Rep. Smith Says

Austin—Success or failure of the $30,000,000 rural road program voted by the legislature depends to a degree on county commissioners, Representative Preston E. Smith of Lubbock said today.

It is the commissioners' responsibility to survey their own area and determine where each county's allocation should be spent for farm-to-market roads, Smith pointed out.

He added that when their study was completed, the commissioners should present their findings to the district highway engineer so that he can make recommendations to the state highway department.

"The quicker this work is done, the better," Smith said. "We all know that the funds are going to run out before all the meritorious roads are built. The counties who first present their facts will be the ones to get the roads."

Farm-to-market roads will be placed on the basis of merit with respect to population and vehicle miles traveled, Smith said he had been informed by highway department authorities.

It has been estimated that 25,000 miles of farm-to-market roads will be completed under the program, Smith said, "and when you divide that by the number of counties in Texas, it's not much mileage for each county."

The Lubbock representative called on county commissioners to carry out their part of the program—including the provision of right-of-way—to insure efficient and economical use of the money provided by the legislature.

"I have always been interested in the rural road program," Smith declared, "and I have worked for it ever since I have been in the Legislature."

He said that while the appropriation of $30,000,000 for farm roads—the first of its kind—was inadequate to complete the desired rural network, "at least it is a start, and perhaps in the future more funds can be provided for this purpose."

Smith called for conscientious work on the part of all concerned in getting rural road construction under way.

"If we can make a good start in Texas," he argued, "and if we can show that the money is being spent to the best advantage in providing roads for those who need them most, then I am confident that there will be no great difficulty in continuing the program and in expanding it from year to year."

Hooten-Churchwell Vows Spoken In Home Ceremony

In an impressive double-ring ceremony performed Thursday afternoon May 12 at 4 o'clock in the home of the brides parents, Mr. and Mrs. Berry Hooten, Miss Joyce Hooten became the bride of Wendlan Churchwell, son of J. E. Churchwell, Plainview.

Rev. E. J. Cobb, Baptist minister, read the vows as the couple stood before an improvised altar decorated with cathedral candelabra holding white tapers and flanked by tall baskets of white and pink gladioli.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attractive in a white crepe street length dress, white accessories and carried a nosegay of pink and white rose buds showered with white stephanotis and pink streamers. She carried out the traditional something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue. For something old she wore a keepsake ring belonging to her mother and borrowed were earrings and necklace belonging to her aunt, Mrs. A. C. Julch of Tulsa.

Mrs. Wayne McClain, Lockney, sister of the bridegroom, attended the bride as matron of honor. She was dressed in a street length dress of orchid linen with white accessories and a corsage of white gardenias.

Methodist Notes

We go to Conference next week at Amarillo. We have been at Lockney nine months. We have enjoyed our work very much, and think we are serving the finest group of people that can be found anywhere.

We like to live in Lockney. The merchants of Lockney are a fine group of people, and we think that the school system is fine. The Lord has greatly blessed us in our church work. Our people have had a mind to work. The Sunday school has increased in enrollment and attendance.

We had a wonderful spiritual revival. There has been 65 additions to the church in these nine months. We have raised $23,661.00 for all purposes this year. About $14,000 of this went for repairs and furnishings for the church and parsonage. I am proud of this improvement we have made, but the thing I am most proud of is, that we sent $3,383.00 out of our Country to help the needy of the world. This money went to Missions, world relief and other things. A growing church must be a missionary church.

We are looking forward to a great year next year for the Lockney Methodist Church. May each of us continue to work and pray that God might bless our efforts in a wonderful way. Newton S. Daniel, Pastor.

Engineers Report Shows Water Level Decline 5-10 Feet

The annual report of the Texas Board of Water Engineers on the geology and ground water of the irrigated section of the high plains of Texas has been received by The Beacon.

The report, as usual, paints a rather black picture of the water situation in this area. It shows a water level decline in Western Floyd County of from 5 to 10 feet during the past year. In other areas the water level has declined from nothing to seven feet, the report shows.

Much of Hale County water level has declined 3 to 5 feet as has the areas around Lubbock, Ralls, and Muleshoe.

The report shows that the water level has declined from five feet to around 45 feet during the time 1914 to 1949 over the high plains. The average in Western Floyd County is given at 37 feet.

The average number of wells per square mile has risen to 3 1/2 in this section, it was reported.

The report predicts that the rate of decline in water-level will decrease somewhat as the lowering continues, on the brighter side but does predict that some areas will be seriously affected within five to 10 years if present pumping rate is continued.

The complete report with graphs and maps may be seen at The Beacon office.

MEMBER OF PANHANDLE PRESS ASSOCIATION

IF COLLECTIVE BARGAINING IS TO WORK

Whatever the future may hold in the way of labor legislation, one thing is certain: fair collective bargaining is possible only when both sides are bound by the same rules, and both sides measure up to their responsibilities.

In some recent testimony before a Senate committee, a spokesman for the Southern coal mines warned that "the country may again face a crisis in coal" if safeguards now in the law are not retained. He spoke of the experience in 1947 and 1948 when John L. Lewis flatly refused to bargain with representatives chosen by the producers. Then he said: "If collective parties sitting on each side of the bargaining table must be free to choose their representative and must be under obligation to deal in good faith with the representative selected by the fellow on the other side of the table. When either party to a bargaining relationship is free not to bargain or is free to bargain only with a person he designates, the system of collective bargaining cannot successfully operate."

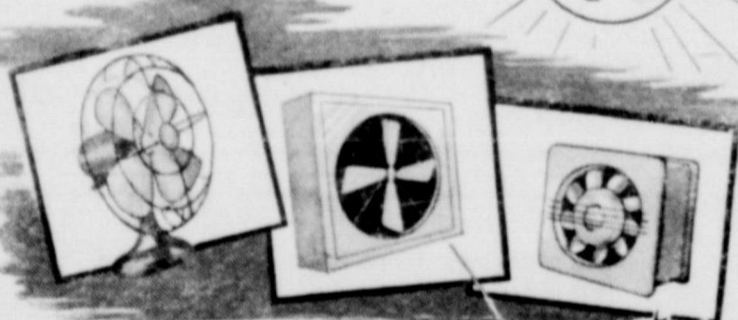

Without arguing the merits of the Taft-Hartley or any other law, it is clear that labor brought restrictive legislation upon itself because of the excesses of some of its leaders—precisely as industry brought restrictive legislation upon itself because of the greed of some of its leaders. No man, no matter who or what he represents, can be allowed to deprive this nation of vital goods and services. Neither labor nor industry can be given a blank check to do as it chooses, regardless of the effect on the national welfare and security.

A bucket spray pump, equipped with a four-foot extension rod and at least 15 feet of hose, is satisfactory for a few fruit trees around the home, but for spraying orchards up to 300 trees, a barrel spray pump which develops from 125 to 150 pounds pressure is more practical.

The coming of warm weather emphasizes the need for prompt cooling of milk and cleanliness in production. Milk from clean, healthy cows contains few bacteria as it comes from the udder.

DON'T BREAK THE CIRCLE

A perennial standby of the weekly paper for the editorial column is a "Buy At Home" missile. That they are ineffective is evidenced by the need of same.

Yet we feel that we would be neglecting our duty to our advertisers, our subscribers... and ourselves, if we did not do all that is in our power to persuade the people of this trade territory to keep their money in Hockley county.

With the progressive merchants that we have offering prices that CANNOT be beat in Lubbock or elsewhere it is a difficult task to ferret out the reasons for this migration of shoppers.

Perhaps Madame thinks she is buying something exclusive if it comes from Dallas department stores. Chances are ten to one that the item she buys differs in the local item in that she paid for the high rental of E'm street business houses.

By watching for sales and what not the customers might be able to save a few pennies over the regular cost here in Levelland. If you discount gasoline, time and trouble however, you'll find that you can save money by staying at home and going "around the square" and reading the Herald for local offerings.

Money spent at home eventually returns and the cycle is never ending until someone breaks the circle. If you make your living in Hockley county you get back a part of every dollar you spend in Hockley county.

The item of taxes paid by local merchants is not to be overlooked in a comparison of pennies either. When the wash is out, the county and city has to have just so much money. It has to come from so many people... if we all traded at home, local business houses would be increasing their stocks, and real estate thereby increasing their taxable valuation.

As we said in the first paragraph we don't expect any drastic change in shopper's habits. After men like William Allen White and Richard Henry Dana have tried and failed, our feeble efforts hold slim chances... but it's worth it.—Hockley County Herald.

MONROE CHANGES NAME TO NEW DEAL

CITIZENS OF ABERNATHY'S good neighbor to the South will bid goodbye to Monroe and say hello to New Deal when the community's name is changed with the inauguration of postal service there, June 1.

Grady Henly has been named acting postmaster for the fourth-class post-office, which will be located in Henley's General Store.

The post office will only handle sale of stamps, money orders, etc., and receive mail. No mail will be distributed in the community except through carriers.

Monroe community was named after Monroe G. Abernathy of Lubbock, the same man for whom the town of Abernathy was named. The school district there was designated New Deal when the new buildings were constructed during President Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal administration. The Santa Fe's action on change of name has not been announced.

New Deal, Texas. Sounds odd, doesn't it?—Abernathy Weekly Review.

Commercial broiler production where 5 thousand to 40 thousand broilers are produced each 10 to 12 weeks on the farm will continue to increase the sales of ready-to-cook poultry. And this also tends to increase quick frozen poultry on the market and consumer acceptance if a high poultry and price ratios are favorable.

"Our carefully-budgeted program indicated that $450,000 is the minimum needed to advance the Texas fight against the nation's No. 2 killer, which this year probably will claim the lives of more than 7,000 Texans."

"Our cancer fight calls for funds to support research, professional education for doctors and nurses, information centers, and many other phases of cancer control, and funds are sorely needed to continue the work," the state campaign chairman said. "For this reason I am asking all of our workers to continue their campaigns."

Hoblitzelle urged all Texans who have not yet contributed to do so by sending their donations to: "Cancer, Care of Postmaster, in their own city or town", or by sending them to their own county unit.

TAKE YOUR FAMILY TO SUNDAY SCHOOL

Want to be a good parent? Of course, there's only one answer. Here's your family. So much with you. Forever "on-the-go" and also "on-the-grow."

And here are you right at the center of it all. Trying to make ends meet, squeezing past one tight place after another. No let up. Don't you ever get tired? If I could pass out orchids—but that's something else. Let's put it this way: you fathers and mothers do perfectly grand job. Considering the toughness of the times. Considering the rocky time you have keeping up with your youngsters. Considering how everybody feels free to jump on you and blame you for almost anything and everything.

Being good parents isn't easy—not this year.

You have some time felt the restfulness that comes in church? Bowed down when others did? Helped swell the volume of song? Listened to the words from the Book? Felt the jangling nerves go quiet? Forgotten some of the worries? Grown strong? Built up fresh courage? Felt good?

But—just suppose now for a moment that you had never been given that chance!

Not a nice thought. Not true to the facts either. For somebody saw to it in your early years—they gave you this. And now—this week and every week—you can give this to those who belong to you.

Want to be a good parents? Take Your Family to Sunday School.

Irrigation, Fertilizer Equal Bigger Crops

Fertilizer pays under irrigation in the Panhandle, according to F. B. Hunt of Hale county, Texas. With 200 pounds of ammonium nitrate an acre applied in the fall before sowing-over land that had been summer-fallowed, he increased his wheat yield from 45 to 55 bushels; on land in continuous wheat, 200 pounds of ammonium nitrate per acre raised the yield from 15 to 30 bushels.

Buffaloes To Close Spring Training With Game Tonight

CANYON—After one of the most vigorous spring training programs in the schools' history, the 1949 football candidates at West Texas State College will call it quits until next fall Friday night.

Friday night, May 20, Coach Frank Kimbrough will divide his 45-player squad into two teams which will play a regulation game. The contest will start at 8 o'clock in Buffalo Stadium and will be regulation in every respect.

Even though it is springtime, the game ought to be worth any fans' time. During scrimmages this spring the players have battled furiously and a keen, but friendly rivalry has been built up for the game Friday night.

The general public is invited to the game. There will be no admittance charge.

Coach Kimbrough has changed his style of play to meet the abilities of his material. He now uses a Wing-T type of offense. This is the old, familiar single wingback system with the quarterback playing up under the center as in the regular T.

The results during spring training have proven this change was a wise one, for there is much more spark in the Buffaloes' attack. In fact, it is simply an explosive spectacle of ground-gaining thrills when the Buffalo quarterbacks start unloading the full force of their plays.

Kimbrough has ordered the signal callers to "use everything. Don't pull any punches Friday night. We've got to see who's who before we can settle on the line-ups."

Farmers Invited To Have Vetch Tested

COLLEGE STATION—Texas farmers have a way of finding out just how good their vetch is.

If they will send it to the Vetch Seed Testing Laboratory at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in College Station, this laboratory will make germination and purity tests of the vetch seed free of charge.

E. B. Reynolds, experiment station agronomist in charge of the laboratory, says the vetch sent in to the testing laboratory should be a representative sample of the vetch the farmer has on hand. At least two pounds of vetch should be submitted for sampling, sent in cloth bags or securely packed to prevent loss or breakage.

It takes at least three weeks to get a report on the sample of vetch, Reynolds says. Fourteen days are required to make the germination tests and about a week for shipment to and from the laboratory.

Send the vetch samples to Vetch Seed Testing Laboratory, Department of Agronomy, TAES, College Station, Texas. Name and address of the sender and any identification should appear on the tag or label on the outside of the package, says Reynolds.

When the grower receives his information, results of the tests may be used by him in securing official tested seed labels. Such labels must be applied for directly to the Seed Laboratory Division, State Department of Agriculture, in Austin.

Since this laboratory was established especially to make germination and purity tests of vetch seed produced by Texas growers, they are urged to use these services if they need them, Reynolds says.

Mrs. V. O. Pylant, Mrs. Lina Fae Sweat and their father John Thompson spent Wednesday in Colorado City.

Mr. and Mrs. Payton Powers returned Wednesday night after spending a vacation down state.

"Red" Is Ideal Color For Farm Painting

COLLEGE STATION—A can of red paint can be put to good use around the house, regardless of the color scheme, points out Mrs. Bernice Claytor, extension home management specialist of Texas A. & M. College.

In the first place, she says, it's an eye-catching color.

In the second place, red means danger and serves as a warning. As an eye-catcher, try painting the outdoor faucets and the handles of small garden tools red. The color shows up clearly against the ground, grass or foliage.

For a warning, use the red paint to band the containers of such poisonous materials as lye preparations for cleaning drains or for insecticides.

The high shelf in the bathroom cabinet where medicines are kept out of sight and reach of curious children may be painted red as a flag to other members of the family. Anything on that shelf should be carefully handled.

The pall of sand and the fire extinguisher which many wise families keep on hand for fire control will be easier to locate if painted red. An emergency or first-aid kit in bright red can be easily found.

"In fact, a can of red paint may save lives as well as time and trouble," Mrs. Claytor concludes.

RETURN FROM FISHING TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Miller and son and Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Record and Donna Lyn returned Sunday from a few days fishing trip at Lake Kemp. The group was reported to have caught around 80 crappie, bass and cat fish. Mrs. Miller proved to be the best fisherman in the group, catching the largest one hooked on the trip.

Amarillo looking at the damage and some checking on relatives who lived there.

The home of "Lefty" Holmes brother to John, Olive, and Ed Holmes of this county, was completely demolished in the Amarillo storm. It was reported to The Beacon. However no injuries to the family was reported.

Mrs. Pont Darnell's brother Joe Cye Collins and her cousin, Gus Thompson lost their homes in the Amarillo Tornado. The families were not at home at the time and thus avoided injury.

A twister struck near Dougherty Tuesday afternoon, destroying a farm house belonging to Carl Minor and doing other damage including blowing over a number of windmills, and destroying several out buildings.

Two small twisters were reported near Silverton Tuesday night. They were reported to have hit near the home of Mrs. Johnny Burson seven miles northeast of Silverton, tearing up trees and fields. No other property loss was reported and there were no injuries.

A good size tornado ripped through the Soldier Mound community four miles north of Spur Tuesday night, killing one lady and injuring nine people. The lady killed, Mrs. Charity Smith, was the mother of Johnny Kittrell, an employee of J. H. Widener, who lives just south of Lockney.

Memphis and Dalhart were visited by twisters, but the damage was light. It was reported.

Flood waters covered a large portion of Fort Worth after a 12 inch rain there Tuesday night and at least six people were dead and 15,000 homeless. A brother and sister of Fred Hall of Lockney suffered considerable loss, according to a report received here Wednesday morning, but the families were safe.

Mr. Halls sister, Mrs. John Speed, living at 217 Adrain Street in Fort Worth, lost all her household furnishings, all of her clothing and her car. Homer Hall, a brother to the local man, lost all household furnishings but saved some clothing. He lived at 210 Adrain Street. Both homes were completely under water, reports reaching here stated.

Two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Dagley of Lockney, Mrs. B. L. Loughry and Mrs. Howard Moore, both lived near the flood area but a message to the Dagleys here Wednesday stated that their homes were not flooded as yet and they were in no immediate danger if no more rain fell.

Hail Damage Wide Spread

Although reports were meager, it was indicated Wednesday that hail had damaged wheat crops in several widely scattered areas of Floyd County. Some hail damage was reported at the Sid Thomas place and the Bud Leaverton place north of town. Rip Griffith was also reported to have suffered some loss. Reports here indicated that the loss wasn't heavy.

Mrs. Tom Graham, in the Irick community, southwest of Lockney, was reported to have suffered some hail loss.

Probably the heaviest loss in the county was in an area just northwest of Floydada. Here Duncan Hollums, Ed Muncey, and a man by the name of Trice were reported to have suffered hail loss early Tuesday morning. Hail stacked up on the highway to a depth of two or three inches. It was reported.

Ewald Quebe reported a 25% loss at his place four miles north of Aiken and Ernest Tannahill, north and west of Lockney, also reported at least a 25% loss, Tuesday morning.

Bill Hambricht in the Lakeview community suffered a total loss from hail Tuesday and Bert Massey also suffered a heavy loss.

Heavy losses were also reported from hail in the Sandhill community but The Beacon was unable to find out who suffered the losses. Rains of from 2 1/4 to 3 1/4 inches fell with the hail storms.

Ira Cox, also in the Irick community, was reported to have suffered some loss from hail.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cooper were in Amarillo Monday and were accompanied home by Mr. Cooper's sister, Mrs. Geo. Mills of Amarillo who visited here until Tuesday night.

Ne'da Leatherman, Cleona Graves, and Juanelle Baker had skirts or dresses, but were not present to model them.

Construction on the dresses were judged Saturday morning and a score sheet was made for each girl. The girl and her costume were judged at the public revue. Marlene Hollums, who has been in two state revues, showed the girls how to model. Judges were Miss Mary Grindstaff, Hale County Home Demonstration Agent, and Mrs. Bonnie Yarbrough, Home-making teacher of Lockney High School. The judges were generous in their praise of the girls' work. They told them: "You have used good materials, you have made pretty dresses, and they fit beautifully." Some constructive criticisms were offered the girls. The fact that no dresses fell below the second or Red Award group spoke for itself.

Since posture is judged in modeling, the girl with the best posture was chosen by the judges. Janice Shearer of Floydada was chosen as best in the whole group.

Miss Leila Petty, County Home Demonstration Agent, presided during the revue. Present were Meses: Orvus Shearer, County 4-H Chairman; E. H. Spears, and Ray Smith, all of Lakeview; Tom Porter of Floydada; B. H. Quebe of Providence; and W. D. Morgan of Lockney. Miss Petty expressed her thanks also to the business firms in Floydada and Lockney who contributed merchandise or money for prizes. All the money will be given to Joyce Nell Womack, who will enter the State Dress Revue at the 4-H Round-up at College Station in June.

Each girl was given a prize for having made her dress. The presentations were made by Mrs. Orvus Shearer. Each group was called to the stage where each girl displayed her gift and was told the donor.

Those contributing gifts were as follows: Lockney Store, Scatter Harvester Co., 15 ment Co., $2.50; certificate for Ford Motor Co., $1.00; tificate; Armstrong wing kite; Baker's Maler's Food Store; Lockney Drug Store; Campbell stationery; Lady Rose Food Market; Lockney Dry Goods; Roberson Feed and chocolates; Fagan pants; Truett of vases; Darnell's chocolates and two butter crunches; orange drops.
