Rains And Hail Hit North Floyd

Rains that were too much for the cotton that had just been planted and some hail hit in North Floyd County last Saturday afternoon damaging wheat and doing other damage to crops.

The damaged area was generally north of the FW&D railroad from South Plains to Plainview although some south of that line received too much rain. In the Lockney area only a trace of moisture fell with no hail and neither cotton nor wheat farmers were hurt.

Some hail and about an inch of rain fell at Floydada. Two inches fell at Silverton and a strong wind blew with some hail damage reported south of Silverton.

One inch of rain was reported in the Cedar Hill area by C. W. Dillard, but no hail damage.

In the Lone Star area A. O. Foster and Merrick Moran have reported hail damage. Many other farmers are scratching their cotton trying to get it up after the rain. In the Providence area hail fell at the Ben Quebe farm and at the Charley Veigel farm. Damage of 25 to 50 percent was reported by B. R. Clements. A. M. Dietrich and son, two miles north of Providence reported 25 percent and Carl Weathers of the Kress area reported 30 per cent. Further north on the county line losses up to 50 and 60 percent were reported.

Daniel Returned To Lockney Church

Rev. N. S. Daniel was sent back to the pastorate of the Lockney Methodist Church for another year in appointments made Sunday afternoon at the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference held in Amarillo.

Rev. Oran D. Smith was returned to the Aiken-Bellview circuit and Roy Bassett was assigned the Sterley-Center Plains circuit.

Rev. Lloyd H. Jones pastor at Floydada for several years was sent to Perryton while Rev. R. N. Huckabee was sent to Floydada. Rev. Clifford Mayo was assigned the Cone-Carr's Chapel circuit.

Plainview pastorate was unchanged with Rev. W. E. Peterson remaining at the First Church and Rev. W. V. O'Kelley remaining at St. John's. However the district superintendent of this district, Rev. W. C. Hinds was assigned pastorate of the Merkel Church and Rev. Marvin L. Boyd named district superintendent of the Plainview district.

The conference selected Big Spring as the conference city in 1950. Those attending the conference from Lockney were Rev. and Mrs. N. S. Daniel, Mr. and Mrs. Buck Sams and W. J. Griffith.

Chest X-Rays Go Over 1,000 Thurs.

A total of 1030 people have taken advantage of the free chest x-ray offered by the State Health Department this week at Floydada. This number was reached at 10:30 Thursday morning when The Beacon checked with the Chamber of Commerce office.

The portable x-ray unit of the State Department will operate Friday and Saturday at Floydada and then move on. Friday hours will be 9 to 6 and Saturday hours 10 to 5.

Free chest x-rays to detect tuberculosis or other chest abnormalities are offered free to everyone 15 years of age or older. The State Department has been offering this service to the people of the state for several years.

Personally, we hope the county road program can be completed without bickerings, jealousies, or sectional differences. A careful selection of the roads to serve the greatest number of people will prevent or at least hold to a minimum these controversies. In our opinion, however, we have to do you an injustice. The State Highway Department has announced the acceptance of bids on two Floyd County farm-to-market roads this week. The roads are farm roads No. 785 and 786, totaling 13.24 miles of grading, structures, flexible base and double asphalt surface treatment, from State Highway 207 to Fairview School and from State Highway 207 to Cedar School.

Cooper & Woodruff of Dallas, contractors on the Lone Star road and the Harmony-Sandhill road, were successful bidders on the new roads also. Their bid totaled $94,648.

Work will start on the new roads as soon as the present contract is fulfilled.

Jones Sentenced; Goes To Huntsville

Immediately after being sentenced to death in the electric chair, W. Fred Jones, 40, Floydada grocerman, left for the state penitentiary at Huntsville Tuesday morning. The sentence was pronounced by Judge Dan Blair in 72nd District Court at Crosbyton.

Jones was accompanied to Huntsville by Floyd County Sheriff Leland Hart, Sheriff Foy Addison and Deputy J. N. Poteet of Crosbyton.

Jones was sentenced to death for the shotgun slaying of H. C. Love Jr., Sept. 27, 1946 in Floydada. He had been tried previously in Hale County and sentenced to death but the sentence was reversed. He received the same sentence when tried in Crosbyton county and the sentence was upheld by the state supreme court.

The Floydada grocer remained completely calm as he was sentenced to die.

It was 10 a. m. and 40 persons including Jones' wife and several relatives heard the prisoner maintain his innocence and invoke God's blessings on the court and those who prosecuted him.

The incident was in this exchange: The Court: "Stand up, Fred Jones. (The defendant stood.) Have you anything to state why sentence should not now be pronounced upon you?"

Fred Jones: "Yes, sir, if I may, Your Honor."

The Court: "Yes sir." Jones: "I should like to state again that I am not guilty of this charge, that I have told nothing but the truth in my defense. I can not prevent this court from taking my life, but I can take the truth to the grave with me. May God bless you and those who prosecuted me. I thank you."

The Court: "Having considered your statement, the the court naturally appreciates the position that you are in and I trust that you appreciate the position that this court is in."

Jones: "I do, Your Honor." Judge Blair, then, in a lengthy statement pronounced sentence upon Jones, setting the date "before the hour of sunrise on the 8th day of July, 1949."

The Bible school will run one week, Monday through Friday, each morning from 8:30 until 11:30 o'clock.

All boys and girls through the Intermediate department of the Sunday School are urged to be present.

Wellington Wins Region 1 Title

Wellington High school's baseball team won the championship of Region One with a 9 to 2 victory over the Spur High school nine in Spur Saturday afternoon.

Wellington won the game in the first inning, when three hits and an error brought in three runs. That was one more than enough needed to win, but the visitors stormed back to salt away the game in the second frame. In that inning, three more hits with a combination of other factors, brought in six runs.

Spur kept trying to get back into the ball game, but Mel McCutchen never gave them a chance. The winning hurler was chary with his hits, setting the Bulldogs down on three scattered safeties.

The Bulldogs made two hits good for two runs in the third to avoid a whitewash.

All students interested in attending are urged to be present for enrollment at 8:30 Monday morning.

Wheat Expected To Average 20 Bushels

If no more hail falls and the rains stay away until after harvest, wheat in north and western section of Floyd County will average at least 20 bushels per acre, possibly more, according to elevator men's estimates Thursday. This is the best per acre average that Floyd County has had in many years.

The county as a whole may average that much, it was said, but an area around Dougherty where the wheat blew out after being planted will lower that average to some extent.

Although the acreage this year won't total as much as it did in the bumper year of 1947, the average per acre will probably be higher. In 1947 the county had more than 300,000 acres in wheat and had an average per acre yield of between 15 and 18 bushels. This year the acreage totals probably less than 200,000 acres, elevator men said but the per acre yield is expected to be higher.

The first wheat is expected to hit local elevators between June 10 and 15. This will be early wheat, of course, and the bulk of the harvest will not get underway before the 20th probably.

Additional storage is being provided by local elevator men to take care of the expected bumper crop. With the market price dropping—it was quoted at $1.50 Thursday—the government loan at $1.87 is expected to get most of the wheat. This calls for approved storage and local elevator men are attempting to provide it.

A new elevator and storage bin of 150,000 bushel capacity is under construction by Baxter-Smith Grain Co. here. Patterson Grain Company is installing 13 storage bins, 180,000 bushels capacity at their Sterley elevator and Bob Muncy has installed some of the same at Muncy. Many farmers will provide their own storage with bins on the farm and some storage will probably be available at terminal points for local wheat.

Cargile Suit Is Settled Monday

The suit filed in District Court at Floydada by H. P. Cargile against the Floyd County Rural Electric Cooperative, Inc., was settled out of court Monday morning just previous to the time it was scheduled to go on trial. An insurance company covering the REA agreed to the amount of damage and paid the claim.

Cargile accepted $2,000 as full settlement for his claim against the REA. The suit resulted after Edward D. Cargile, son of the plaintiff, was killed by electrocution while swimming in an irrigation well tank about four miles south of Lockney on April 26, 1948. The water had been energized through a faulty connection from the REA line. The plaintiff charged negligence on the part of the REA.

The suit was originally filed against the REA and W. L. Thomas of Lockney but the suit against Mr. Thomas was withdrawn sometime ago. He owned the place on which the Cargile's family lived.

Stapleton & Jones of Floydada represented the plaintiff.

Harvest Your Own Grass Seed

College Station—If the trend on your farm is toward more pasture and forage production, you'll need seed for new plantings, or reseeding. Grass and legume seed are not too plentiful, and they are expensive, says R. R. Lancaster, extension pasture specialist of Texas A. & M. College. Growing and saving your own seed is mighty good insurance and considerably less expensive.

There is plenty of some pasture grass seed ready-grown and waiting for someone to harvest them, adds Lancaster. One of these is rescuegrass. It grows in abundance along roads, ditches, fence rows and in other protected places, and is well known to most Texans. Its seed branches droop with the heavy ripening crop of seed while merchants import seed from Australia.

Rescue can be harvested with a combine. When the seed are ripe enough to shatter, it's ready for combining. Before shattering begins, it can be mowed with a windrower or windrowed with a rake or cut with a broadcast binder but not tied. The seed-hay should be allowed to dry for about four days, depending upon the weather. Threshed seed must be spread under a shelter until it is dry enough for storage, cautions Lancaster. But if you plan to plant immediately by spreading the seed-hay, most any method of harvesting can be used.

Many of the clovers produce heavy seed crops that can be saved by similar harvesting methods or by sweeping up the seed by hand. Then there is a commercial tractor operated machine that sucks up the seed and blows them back into a trailer. Regardless of the harvesting method used, save the seed that can make your pastures better, for, concludes Lancaster, you may have trouble finding a supply of seed when you need it.

Most Snakes Not Poisonous, Prof. Says

AUSTIN, Texas—Snakes aren't as bad as you think, says a University of Texas zoology professor.

An authority on Texas wildlife, Dr. W. Frank Blair explains there are only four poisonous snakes among the many that live in the state. For everyone of the poisonous coral, rattlesnakes, water moccasin and copperhead snakes, however, there are 10 non-poisonous snakes that help mankind by eating harmful insects, he points out.

His advice is: Learn to recognize the poisonous types and kill them but let the others alone.

Little Change In Farm Building Prices

College Station—The old story of "six of one and a half dozen of the other" works pretty well in the outlook for agricultural buildings.

According to this outlook, building estimates indicate a six percent increase in dollars worth of construction for 1949, say extension agricultural engineers of Texas A. & M. College.

While a slight increase in farm construction is in sight, the six percent national increase will tend to hold material prices right where they are now. The price index on lumber has dropped about six percent since last August, but the price jumps in other building products have cancelled this advantage for the prospective builder.

Right now there are more than twice the number of farm implements—not including tractors—on rubber tires than there were in 1932, so the rubber industry is pretty important to the mechanized farmer. One of the national rubber companies figure they'll produce two million more tires this year than they did last. Farm tires are in on this increase, too.

Statistics show that 55 percent more rubber has been used in the farm industry since V-J Day than in any three peak years up to that time.

From the production angle, this year's picture is an encouraging one, say the agricultural engineers. From all indications there will be plenty of farm tires to replace the used ones and ones for new equipment.

Another Period Of Bleak Times Set By British

LONDON.—Another year of austerity in food supplies lies ahead for Britain in 1949.

Dr. Edith Summerskill, Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of Food, said that there existed little hope of improving rations of meat, bacon and butter. As far as meat is concerned, she added that the outlook was "gloomy."

The opposition, which had conducted a lively exchange with the Government for three hours, marked their disapproval of the Food Ministry's policies by calling for a vote on the question of adjournment. The motion was defeated, 216 to 117.

Meat Outlook Uncertain

Both Dr. Summerskill and her chief, John Strachey, Minister of Food, said that the outlook for meat deliveries next year was complicated by uncertainties concerning Argentina's ability to live up to contractual obligations on deliveries. Mr. Strachey said that so long as Argentina was able to maintain shipments under the "Andes Agreement" the present level of distribution could be maintained. He added that a far-reaching and serious contingency would arise if deliveries were not fulfilled.

Trade sources here in the last week have criticized the Government bulk buying policies with regard to meat. They have blamed the current lag in Argentine meat shipments on the Latin American country negotiating new contracts at more favorable prices with such countries as Belgium and the Netherlands.

Today these charges along with a number of allegations that the British Government was importing luxury foodstuffs such as grapes and wines instead of concentrating purchases upon staple items were voiced in the debate.

Mr. Strachey defended the bulk purchasing procedure and added that the country was taking luxury foods from France for instance because that was all that country had to offer in payment for British goods.

Ration Very Slight

The Food Minister said that while supplies of feed stuffs for livestock were improving it would still be necessary to look to Eastern European countries next year for really substantial supplies.

Dr. Summerskill told the House that the country would have to subsist upon bacon ration of two ounces a week for most of the coming year. She said that the butter ration (now two ounces weekly) would be maintained at that level in 1949. She added that it was hoped that home production of eggs plus imports would enable the Government to allow every Briton 100 eggs in the next twelve months compared with the seventy-eight permitted this year.

Dr. Summerskill concluded by saying that because of Britain's dollar shortage and the fact that the country needed so many other things from Canada it was likely that Britain would have to curtail food purchases there in the coming year.

Cerebral Palsy Clinic At Lubbock June 13

A clinic for the examination of cerebral palsied children will be held Monday, June 13 at the Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center, 1317 Tenth Street, Lubbock.

Two orthopedic specialists, Dr. Charles B. Sadler, Amarillo and Dr. E. T. Eriscolli, Plainview will be present to examine patients. Cerebral palsy is some times referred to as spastic paralysis or birth injury and may be evidenced by the child's inability to sit alone, stand alone, walk or hold objects at the age these things are accomplished by the average child. Research has shown that treatment is most effective if started within the first few months of the child's life although children respond to treatment begun at a much later age.

Parents planning to bring children to the clinic are requested to register the children at the Center prior to the date of the clinic. Information regarding the clinic may be obtained by writing Dr. Esther Snell, Director or calling Lubbock 6541.

Much Accomplished At Cemetery On Memorial Day

Much good was accomplished in the Lockney Cemetery on Memorial Day. It was reported this week by Mrs. L. M. Honea, secretary-treasurer of the Lockney Cemetery association.

A lot of work in cutting weeds and grass was done and an impressive Memorial Day service was held immediately following the basket lunch served at the noon hour. Rev. N. S. Daniel, local Methodist pastor, brought an inspiring talk.

Cleaning and decorating the graves began early Monday morning and a great many people came and went during the day, some staying all day in helping to clean up the cemetery, Mrs. Honea said.

A business session in the afternoon was held with R. W. Smith as the presiding officer and the following new officers were elected: Ed Carter, president; Buck Sams, vice president. All other officers and directors were re-elected.

"Co-operation in every phase and manner was fine in response to last week's appeal," Mrs. Honea said. "We are especially grateful to the business houses which closed during the afternoon at the request of Mayor G. M. Brunner and Marvin Cox, president of the Business Men's Club. This gave us a wonderful lift in moving the weeds and grass and we appreciate this cooperation during our need."

"We are also grateful to Byron Ford for his work with his mowing machine," Mrs. Honea continued. "Efforts are being made to buy something of this nature immediately to help our work in the cemetery. We are also thankful to Bill Virden for the extra good coffee, and last, but not least, to John Griffith who with his quiet, retiring and unassuming manner kept everything rounded up and moving, and contributed so much labor himself in advance of the day of work as well as on Memorial Day. We will also be grateful to Jack Taylor who has promised to bring his tractor to the cemetery soon and cut all the weeds and grass in the vacant places."

Mrs. Honea said that a register of

HOW TO SHOOT A RIFLE

By ARTHUR E. COOK National and Olympic Rifle Champion

Advanced Training

A bullet never travels in a straight line. As soon as it leaves the gun muzzle, gravity begins to pull it toward the ground. Therefore, at long distances, the bullet is likely to fall short of the target unless (1) you deliberately aim high, or (2) you adjust your sights to compensate for the drop of the bullet.

The same thing applies to horizontal (or sideways) movement of the bullet due to wind while shooting outdoors. Particularly with small caliber bullets, wind is capable of blowing the bullet inches off course. Again it is necessary to compensate for this action.

If your rifle is equipped with an adjustable rear sight you need only determine the amount of adjustment needed and the direction, and then turn the adjustment knobs the necessary amount. There is one basic rule to follow: MOVE THE REAR SIGHT IN THE SAME DIRECTION YOU WANT TO MOVE YOUR SHOTS.

Don't try sight adjustment until you have learned to put all your shots in a tight little group on the target. Then, if the group is not in the center you can correct the rifle's point of impact by adjusting the sights. Remember that a rifle is only as good as its sights—put the best ones you can afford on your gun.

Know your gun and ammunition!

LABOR DEPOTISM REBUKED

According to the Washington correspondents, even Administration stalwarts have come to the conclusion that repeal of the principles of the Taft-Hartley Act, and return to the one-sided Wagner Act, will never be accomplished. The temper of Congress, as well as that of the public, is clearly against going to this extreme.

What gives this matter a special significance is that after the last national election the labor leaders openly claimed credit for the result, and apparently believed that from then on they would be given blank checks when it came to ordering legislation.

Yet the labor leaders have never been able to demonstrate anywhere near as much power as they claim—nor have they been able to control their own union members. To take one example, in the 1948 primaries the CIO-PAC group, which was most active politically, formally opposed 199 members of Congress who had voted for the Taft-Hartley measure. Of these, 97 won. Furthermore, of the 12 who lost, only three came from industrial states where organized labor constitutes an important percentage of the total vote.

The rank and file of union members—the men and women who pay the dues and do the work—are not vocal. The leaders do the talking and make the news columns. But every available fact indicates that union people, like the rest of the people, vote according to their own convictions, and not in accordance with the dictates of any boss. The evidence also indicates that a great many loyal union members believe that the Taft-Hartley Act, in most of its provisions, is sound and fair, and has done much to free organized labor of depotism and racketeering at the top.

GET IN THE CORNERS

Spring is drawing to a close. The hot summer days, with their special fire hazards, will soon be with us. It's time, if we haven't done it already, for everyone to "clean up" their property in the interest of both safety and attractiveness.

The spring clean-up campaigns, in which thousands of communities participate, are a fine American tradition. Buildings are painted. Yards are groomed. Useless shacks are torn down. Overgrown vacant lots—which have been the starting points of some of the country's worst fires—are mowed and cleared. It's amazing what this sort of face lifting does to a town's appearance.

From the fire safety standpoint, the clean-up mustn't be confined to the surface of things. Some of the prettiest homes, for instance, offer fire a constant invitation. Most of us have some of the instincts of the magpie—we store and keep all kinds of junk from 1920 newspapers to clothes and furniture and various knickknacks we'll never use again. The result is crowded attics and basements and closets, all set for a destructive fire.

Another very common hazard lies in the improper handling and storage of paint, solvents and other flammables. Fire likes this too.

Producers of eggs, chickens and turkeys must keep in mind the consumer demand for their production if market outlets are going to continue to increase their volume of business.

DISHONEST NEWSPAPERS . . .

Betelody coming to light, and now only as a result of fine reporting on the part of the Chicago Daily News and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Is the widespread dishonesty of too many American newspapers.

In Illinois the two crusading newspapers turned up evidence that 51 newspapers were on the state payroll to the tune of $475,000 under the "grave train" administration of former Governor Dwight Green of Illinois. The administration defended the practice of payrollng newsmen, pleading that the men actually earned their money.

On the other hand the implication is too obvious that the practice was instituted to influence newspapers to regard the Green regime favorably, and to secure more advantageous publicity for the party.

The practice, however legal, puts a stigma on Illinois newspapers, weekly and daily alike. Ethically, it is a form of corruption to which no real journalist or publisher will stoop. It puts a price on the political inclinations of professional writers. It affirms a lurking public conviction that newsmen and newspapers "can be had."

These men and these newspapers have done the profession a great disservice. Readers of the papers involved can have no confidence now in those institutions. And when the large press associations refused to carry the story on the lame excuse that "nobody was interested in such news," it only indicated to the American people that all newspapers approved the corrupt practice and sanctioned it by their silence.

Newsmen and publishers who sell their principles are the prostitutes of the profession. Drawing a further parallel, one may assume that as in the case of any prostitute, it is the public that suffers the most.—Ralls Banner.

NEGRO COMMUNIST SLANDERS HIS RACE

There are few Negro Communists in this country, very few in the South. We are sure that there are not many in Texas. We know of none in Tahoka. Most of the Negroes here are patriotic and lawabiding. They respect and are respected by the Whites. The two races get along together here and in most other places in Texas without any racial clashes.

But there is an organization of "high-brow" Negroes in New York and a few other cities in this country which is continually striving to make trouble for the White people of the South. They not only seek to abolish segregation in the schools, in the offices, in the business houses, in the cafes and hotels, but have as their ultimate goal the repeal of all laws prohibiting marriage between Negroes and Whites. This is in accordance with Communist teachings and practices.

One of these "high-brow" Communist Negroes is Paul Robeson, who has gained some note as a professional singer. While over in Europe recently, he sought to give aid and comfort to the Russian Communists by declaring in a public speech that in the event of war between the United States and Russia the Negroes of the States would never fight against the Russians.

Paul Robeson probably doesn't believe that statement himself. He was probably using his right of free speech, which is guaranteed to him by the Constitution of the United States, to vent his spleen for some fancied wrong which he thinks that he has suffered. Paul Robeson should be reminded that although the Communists might grant him the right to wed the fairest white lady in all the land, if they were elevated to power, they would never grant him the right of free speech. If Paul Robeson were a resident of Russia and were to publicly declare that any group, race, or class of Russian people would never fight against the United States in case of war, his head would come off or else he would be sent to some concentration camp from which no traveler ever returns.

Furthermore, either ignorantly or maliciously, Paul Robeson has slandered his own race. There have been practically no slackers among the Negroes in the two World Wars in which this country has been engaged during the present century. There would be a few if any slackers among them in case of another war, whoever our enemies might be. The Negroes have shown a commendable degree of patriotism and courage. They are friends of the white people of America, among whom they live; and they realize that the white people of America, especially of the South, are their best friends. They appreciate the opportunities that are given them. They are being paid just as good wages as the white people engaged in the same classes of work. Their education opportunities are being bettered every year.

Some of them may feel that the race has a just grievance against the whites for lynchings that occur in the South occasionally. There may be rare exceptions but as a rule no lynchings occur except in cases in which the victims have perpetrated the most outrageous crimes imaginable. And even then lynchings are very rare. There are twelve or fifteen million Negroes in the United States, and lynchings during recent years have not averaged more than three or four per year in the entire country, not as many as one for every million Negroes in the country.

We hope the figures will soon be reduced to absolute zero, but when Russian and other Communist dictators reduce the number of their offending victims to anything like that percentage, then will they probably be justified in criticizing lynchings in America.

Robeson's slander of the Negroes in this country may fool the Russians but it will not fool anybody in this country.—Lynn County News.

Schools Seen Facing Losses In Real Estate

NEW YORK—Many colleges and universities are endangering their endowments by investing in real estate, industry and business ventures, in the opinion of a considerable number of responsible educators and financial authorities.

The trend toward the purchase of non-educational enterprises has increased tremendously in the last few years, a study conducted by The New York Times has shown. In some instances colleges have invested as much as one-third of their funds in businesses and other properties.

If a depression comes, or if business in general goes into a recession, these invested funds may be in jeopardy. It has been pointed out that in the late twenties colleges and universities invested heavily in mortgages, only to find that after the 1929 crash their holdings virtually disappeared.

Tax Authorities Concerned That both the House Ways and Means Committee and the Bureau of Internal Revenue are concerned with the loss of Federal tax revenues resulting from this investment trend is increasingly apparent. A year ago the House committee held a series of hearings on revision of the Internal Revenue Code.

When he appeared before the committee, John Gerdes, former chairman of the New York University Alumni Fund, explained the position of his institution in acquiring businesses valued at close to $50,000,000, in this manner: "New York University has always been handicapped by a lack of funds. Endowment is very small compared to that of other institutions, and the percentage of its income received from endowments probably is one of the smallest in the country. We should like to supplement that income, and that was our purpose in acquiring these businesses.

Public Service "Those of us who have engaged in these projects are doing it in a spirit of public service. We are giving our time and attention in the hope of developing a source of income for New York University which will enable it to continue and expand its public service in New York City."

One member of the committee observed, in noting that the university "saved" $1,500,000 in taxes that would have gone to the Federal Government if the businesses had remained in private hands; "The action taken is so extraordinary and so revolutionary in connection with these corporations that have been taken over that it occurs to me probably the whole system of tax exemption for educational and charitable organizations might seriously be threatened if this precedent is allowed to spread."

Mrs. E. L. Landtroup Buried Tuesday

Funeral services for Mrs. E. L. Landtroup, 64, of Sandhill, were held at the Floydada Methodist Church Tuesday afternoon. She was buried in the Floydada cemetery.

Mrs. Landtroup, a South Plains resident for 26 years, died after a five month illness.

Picturesque... But a Construction Obstacle!

West Texas has some of the most beautiful country in the world. Beautiful fields of wheat, cotton and many other crops that help feed and clothe the nation... and, too, it has picturesque canyons, rocky terrain, sunken lakes around which cattle graze and many other beautiful scenes comparable to any that a world traveler could describe.

Although beautiful—they are pipe line construction obstacles.

To maintain good gas service, pipe line construction and maintenance and repair crews cross many canyons and other natural obstacles.

This year we will invest over $2,225,000.00 to build new pipe lines and other facilities. Several miles of these new lines will be laid in solid rock. This means dynamite crews will have to clear a ditch for the lines, but this will be but one of many construction obstacles they will overcome.

Pipe line construction and pipe line maintenance and repair are but few of many functions of West Texas Gas Company... all of which are designed to furnish good gas service, high in quality, low in price... the best bargain in your family budget.

Baylor Celebrates 104th Anniversary, Corpus U. First

While two Texas schools observe commencement for the 104th time this week, their sister institution will be celebrating with the first graduating class in her history.

After more than a century, commencement is another tradition to Baylor university, Waco, and Mary Hardin-Baylor college, Belton. But it's new to the University of Corpus Christi, which awarded diplomas to 29 seniors May 24. All three are owned by the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

Dr. E. N. Jones, vice-president of Texas Technological college, Lubbock, delivered the commencement address at UCC. Speaking for the baccalaureate service was Dr. Carlyle Marney, pastor of the First Baptist church, Austin.

Commencement May 23 at Mary Hardin-Baylor featured Dr. Wallace Bassett, Dallas, speaker. Dr. Bassett, who is dean of Texas pastors in length of service to one church, recently celebrated his 31st anniversary as pastor of Cliff Temple Baptist church, Dallas. He is also president of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

Located on the site formerly occupied by the Naval Air Technical Training Command, the University of Corpus Christi first opened its doors in September, 1947. The two Bayers were founded in 1845 at Old Independence in Washington county. The women's college moved to Belton and the men's school (later co-educational) to Waco in 1886.

Baylor university is the oldest school in Texas still operating under the same name with which it was chartered by the Republic of Texas; MH-B is the oldest institution of higher learning in the state which has never merged with any other institution.

Floyd Old Timers Enjoy Celebration

Despite a rain in the late afternoon, the Floyd County Old Settlers Reunion at Floydada last Saturday was enjoyed by the many old-timers and youngsters who attended. Most of the day's program was completed before the rains fell.

A three-quarter mile long parade launched festivities with George L. Fawver and G. L. Snodgrass carrying the flags at the head of the line of march. O. L. Stansell was parade marshal and had lined up some colorful entries, including a 24-man group from the Lubbock Sheriff's Posse, and floats entered by Floydada business houses and civic groups.

Parade prize winners were: Stitch and Chatter Club, best float; Mrs. Calvin Steen, best-dressed pioneer woman; George L. Fawver, best old-time cowboy; Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Bennett, best rig. The Bennetts, attired in old-fashioned clothes, rode in a fancy buggy pulled by two paint horses.

New officers of the association will be headed by Carl Sturginer, named president to succeed Mrs. Jeffie Smith. Omer Parris is the new vice-president. Other officers, all re-elected, are Mrs. Maude E. Hollums, secretary; George Fawver, J. T. McClain, Glad Snodgrass, R. C. Scott, Buck Sams and C. L. Anderson.

Main speaker was E. C. Nelson, Jr., Amarillo attorney. Mr. Nelson was reared in Floyd County and is a former Floyd County judge and one-time commander of the McDermott Post of the American Legion.

Nelson spoke to a crowd estimated at 2,000 who had gathered under the trees on the courthouse lawn.

Others on the program included Claude V. Hall, who founded the Floydada Hesperian in 1896. Mr. Hall recently retired as head of the department of government at East Texas State Teachers College, and now practices law in Commerce.

Three-hundred old timers were guests of the association at the noon luncheon, served by members of the Floyd County Home Demonstration Clubs, under direction of Miss Lelia Petty, agent.

Bones Hooks and Charles Bland, Amarillo Negroes, both formerly of Floydada, attended the reunion. Hooks presented his traditional white flower, a rose, to S. B. McClesky, 93 years old, the oldest pioneer present. Mr. McClesky is a former sheriff of Floyd County. His daughter, Mrs. W. O. Tye, in turn presented the flower to Mrs. J. B. Harper, 93, oldest woman present.

Other contests included a wild flower show. The bouquet entered by Mrs. Caffey won first. Mrs. A. H. Kreis won second and third in the contest.
