J. M. Floyd Jr. Dies Monday After Short Illness

J. M. Floyd, Jr. died Monday morning in the veterans hospital at Amarillo after a short illness. Hospital officials said that they "couldn't make a definite diagnosis of the cause of death," but they did state that it was not spinal meningitis, a tentative diagnosis they had made when they first examined the patient. Symptoms were described as a pain in the back and a stiffness of the neck.

J. M. first complained of his back hurting Friday night and did not work at his job at Brunner Lumber Co. Saturday. Sunday he came to the local hospital and was given an examination, and then decided to go to the veterans hospital for treatment.

He entered the Amarillo hospital Sunday afternoon where he was given an examination. Monday morning his father Dr. J. M. Floyd, received a telegram stating that he was seriously ill and asked that he come to visit him at once. However, before he could leave town a telephone call came from the hospital stating that J. M. had passed away.

Funeral services were held at the Lockney Methodist Church Tuesday at 3 p. m. Rev. N. S. Daniel, pastor, conducted the services. A group which filled the church to overflowing and an abundance of flowers paid tribute to the young man. Carter Funeral Home was in charge of the arrangements and burial was in the Lockney cemetery.

Active pallbearers were Red Childers, Bryon Ford, Winifred Hargis, Glen Mitchell, Jimmy Allen, R. V. Webster, Charles Whitfill, and Barry Barker. Honorary pallbearers were Leonard Harper, Bryan Smith, James Taylor, Howard Smith, Jack Livesay, John Carter, Bill Watson, Bob Roberson, Richard Patterson, Kelton Shaw, Earle B. Johnston.

Flower girls were Rita Webster, Virginia Norris, Beth Watson, Sally Shaw, Lassy Hargis, Fae Whitfill, Dorothy Jarrett and Mrs. Pete Harper.

John Marvin Floyd Jr. was born at Lockney and spent all his life here except what time he spent in service of his country. He was a graduate of Lockney High school in May, 1944, and in 1945 graduated from a Plainview business college.

He served 18 months in Japan with the U. S. Army being connected with the military railroad service. He was discharged from the army December 16, 1947 and had made his home here with his parents since that time. He was a member of the Methodist Church.

Survivors include his parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Floyd, one sister, Mrs. Gilbert Roberson of Olton, his grandmother, Mrs. U. S. Braswell of Lockney, a niece, Donna Kay Roberson, and a number of other relatives and friends.

New Election Date On Constitutional Amendments Is Set

The Beacon received a telegram this week from Secretary of State Ben Ramsey ordering that publication of the constitutional amendments be stopped. The Legislature adopted a joint resolution this week setting a date for the voting on all constitutional amendments as November 8 instead of September 24 as set out in the published amendments.

A new series of publications will be made on the amendments and this is added expense to the state but not nearly so expensive as holding two elections would be. It was explained.

The new election date will allow time to submit several other amendments to the voters providing they pass the present session of the legislature.

ATTEND PTA INSTITUTE

Mrs. N. S. Daniel, new Parent-Teacher president, Mrs. Clyde Applewhite and Mrs. Hershel Carthel spent Tuesday and Wednesday of last week in Lubbock attending a PTA Institute held at Texas Tech College.

Co-Operative Hospital Approved By AMA

The Floyd County Co-operative Hospital has been approved by the American Medical Association, according to a letter received recently by the hospital staff. The approval was effective June 4th.

This approval makes the local hospital eligible to participate in the Texas Blue Cross plan. A letter from the Blue Cross inviting membership in the Blue Cross has been received and application has been made, according to J. D. Copeland, business manager of the hospital.

Lockney Accepts Phone Rate Hike

The Lockney city council accepted a hike in telephone rates proposed Thursday night by officials of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. John A. Cornell, manager of the Plainview district announced last week end.

Effective July 11 Lockney rates will increase as follows: business phones from $3.25 to $5, residence phones where there is a single subscriber on the line from $2.25 to $2.50 and residence phones where there are two subscribers on the line from $2 to $2.25 per month.

The Lockney rates had been in effect since 1920, Cornell said.

Discussing the meeting of telephone company officials with Lockney Mayor G. M. Brunner and the council, Cornell commented, "It was the nicest reception we ever received on such an occasion." Oran Thomas, Amarillo district manager of Southwestern Bell, was the other company official present.

Lockney city councilmen are J. E. Cox, J. D. Wood, J. D. Copeland, L. A. Wofford and E. R. Harris.

Cornell said the raise in Lockney rates was one among many contemplated by his company for towns in this territory. Cornell explained that Southwestern Bell holds franchises in the various towns and must have consent of the city governments to raise rates.

Rates were raised in Floydada several months ago. Southwestern Bell officials are scheduled to meet with the Hale Center city council in July with a request for a boost in telephone rates there, Cornell said.

Increased costs for labor and maintenance have made the rate boosts necessary, the telephone official declared.

Goree Applewhites Employed As Teachers In Local School

Among the new teachers employed recently in the Lockney schools are Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Applewhite of Plainview, former residents of the Lone Star community. They have not been assigned positions as yet, Supt. Sidney Reeves said.

A science teacher has also been recently elected to the school faculty, but the name was not available at The Beacon Office. He taught last year at Holiday.

Under the new Gilmer-Alken law, the Lockney schools will have 31 and possibly 32 teachers, Supt. Reeves said this week. The chief difference in the teacher load is that it is based on the average daily attendance instead of scholastic enumeration, it was said. The new law allows each school one teacher for each 25 pupils in average daily attendance.

Under the plan the budget for the Lockney school district will be increased about $25,000, Mr. Reeves said. Of this increase about $5,000 must come from this district and the remainder from the state.

Teachers will be paid a minimum salary of $2463 with increases allowed for experience.

The scholastic enumeration this year totaled about the same as last year, Mr. Reeves said. Last year the average daily attendance was approximately 85% of the scholastic enumeration. Under the plan the local schools will be allowed 26 or possibly 27 class room teachers. In addition they will be allowed a vocational agriculture teacher, a home-making teacher, one special teacher, a principal and superintendent.

New Drive-In Cafe Will Open Here Saturday

The new "66" Drive-In Cafe will open its doors to the public Saturday morning, it was announced this week by Rayburn Spence, owner. The cafe will be under the management of James Matthews, who is an experienced cafe and restaurant man.

The new drive-in is located on highway 70 in South Lockney just south-east of the Spence & Thompson "66" station. The building has just been completed and will be equipped with all new fixtures, Mr. Spence said.

The cafe will be open from 5:30 a. m. to 1 a. m. Mr. Matthews said.

Rains Fall In Sterley Area

About a half inch of rain fell in the area north of Sterley Monday afternoon and probably a little more than that fell in the area east of Lone Star. The rains stopped farming operations for a day or two.

In the Idalou vicinity of Crosby County, more than three inches fell, wiping out crops and filling lakes again.

Meeting Will Be At City Auditorium

Answering an aroused public's demand for action, a group of local citizens met at the city office Tuesday afternoon at 5:30 and made plans for a city wide mass meeting to be held tonight at the City Auditorium to hear the discussion of health measures and a sanitation program for the entire city. The meeting will begin at 8 p. m.

Speakers at the mass meeting will be representatives from State Department of Public Health and the meeting will be in the form of an educational program to help citizens avoid all probably ways of contracting disease. Two of these men, Bill

FOOD AND DRUG INSPECTOR HERE

Mr. Price, a Food and Drug inspector, is in Lockney inspecting eating places and food stores. He will probably stay over for the mass meeting tonight, city officials said. Mr. Price is here at the request of the city health officer who was asked to request an inspection by citizens of the city, officials said.

Powers and Mr. Cross, have already been in contact with city officials.

Probably a chairman and a steering committee will be selected and a sanitation program set up for the city, officials said.

Plans to get a large attendance include a telephone committee headed by Mrs. Clara Copeland and a letter mailing campaign headed by Supt. Sidney Reeves. A portable loud speaker loaned to the city by the Southwestern Public Service Company will also herald the meeting.

The group attending the meeting including heads of civic clubs, city officials, local ministers, and others were all unanimous in desiring a thorough and extensive sanitation program for the city.

Two cases of polio and one probable case within the city in the past month is the cause for the widespread interest in the program, it was indicated.

Those attending the meeting Tuesday were Mayor G. M. Brunner, Aldermen J. D. Copeland, J. E. Cox, E. R. Harris, and J. D. Wood, Supt. Sidney Reeves, Rev. and Mrs. N. S. Daniel, Clyde C. Sloan, F. L. Brown, Joseph Holt, Dr. D. R. Foster, Dr. G. A. McClelland, Mrs. Clara Copeland, Edgar Hays, and Harmon Mills.

Two Tons Reached In
Alfalfa hay has been produced in the past four or five years to L. L. Leatherman, National Alfalfa Milling Co. It is now $8 per ton. The quality of the second cutting is good and it will continue good, if weather conditions are favorable, Leatherman said.
The mill is cutting some hay and permitting it to cure in the field. This chopped hay, cured in the sun, saves wire and some other baling costs.
Two tons and more per acre were produced on one of the Dyer Slaton fields, Leatherman said. From 50 acres of alfalfa 101 tons of dry alfalfa meal were produced.

Why new telephone rates are necessary in Lockney

FOR THE FIRST TIME since 1920, the telephone company is finding it necessary to adjust telephone rates in Lockney. This is made necessary by the increased costs of furnishing telephone service, which have thrown our operations here "in the red."

Here are some of the reasons an adjustment in telephone rates is necessary at this time:

- During 1948, we furnished telephone service in Lockney at $4,180 less than cost:
We spent $13,030
We collected 8,850
We lost $ 4,180
- Lockney's telephone rates have not been changed since 1920.
- Since 1940, Lockney has grown from 185 telephones to 390.
- Several general wage increases have been granted telephone employees since 1941.
- The total monthly payroll in Lockney has almost tripled since 1941, due to higher wage rates and a larger number of employees.
- Telephone poles cost nearly twice as much as in 1940... copper wire (the telephone company uses a lot of it) costs 88 per cent more than in 1940... lead is up 165 per cent.

THE PLANS of the company call for the continued expansion of facilities and improvement of service here.

The program includes a major rural telephone project which will extend telephone service this year to many families and business concerns on farms and in the area surrounding Lockney.

All Synodical bodies, cooperating through the National Lutheran Council, will cooperate. They are: the American Lutheran Church, the United Lutheran Church, the Evangelical Lutheran Church, the Augustana Synod and the Danish Synod.

The Rev. R. D. Lechleitner, Executive Secretary, Board of American Missions, Columbus, Ohio, is Regional Director of Region No. 2, which includes the Southwest. He organized and explained the program to 14 representatives of the participating Church bodies in this meeting. He stated that approximately 10,000 congregations will take part in this campaign. The Southwest was organized into 9 areas. The Area Chairman will, in turn, have from 2 to 5 institutes in each area. In these institutes, trained seminar people will speak to the Pastors and laymen. Meanwhile, separate conferences will be held with the Pastors so that they will understand the program before the work begins in the congregations.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church held their Installation Service last Monday evening. Rev. N. S. Daniel, the pastor, installed the new officers, after which the pledge service was held.

The guest speaker of the afternoon was a colored woman, Mrs. Vergie Washington, whom the Woman's Society and the Wesleyan Service Guild sent as a delegate to the Negro Training School in Amarillo. She gave an interesting report on her work there. She sang two numbers which was enjoyed by all the women.

The Woman's Society has four new members, and under the leadership of Mrs. Olive Myers, our new president, we hope to accomplish many things this new church year.

The new program books have just been printed and each meeting for the year is well planned. We meet each Monday afternoon at the church and we invite every woman of the church or friend of the church, to join either the Woman's Society or the Wesleyan Service Guild, and help us to do a great work for our church our community, and most of all for our Lord.

Vets Ag Class On Spur Field Trip

The veterans agriculture class of Lockney went on a field trip to the Spur Experiment Station on Monday of this week, according to a report from W. D. Hancock, teacher.

A tour of the station was arranged by the station agronomist and the manager. The men studied especially weed control and water conservation. The station's experiments with cotton varieties and grain sorghums were studied.

Other things noted on the experiment station farm were fertilizer effects on pasture over grazing of grassland, growing alfalfa on dry land through a water conservation system.

The station has 600 acres in cultivation and over 800 acres of grassland.

Class Elects Officers

On last Wednesday night the vets class organized and elected officers. They are Jim Bert Bobbitt, president; Herman Thornton, secretary; Paul Ed Teuton, treasurer.

Shrub Tonic Will Stop Yellow Leaf

COLLEGE STATION — If your green-leaved shrubs have turned yellow about this time of year, give them a little tonic—tonic in the form of a quarter to a half a pound of copperas and one pound of sulphur for every large shrub or small tree.

That's the advice of Sadie Hatfield, extension landscape gardening specialist of Texas A. & M. College. This copperas-sulphur tonic will turn the leaves green again, like they should be. Fertilizers mixed with the soil at the same time also help prevent further yellowing of leaves.

Here's something else that will help keep the plants going this summer. Spread a vegetable much around the shrubs to keep the roots from drying out when the summer temperatures soar. Mulch holds moisture in the soil, making it available to plant roots, Miss Hatfield says. The mulch, spread over several square feet several inches thick, will gradually work itself into the ground.

Compost, grass cuttings, straw, or any kind of decaying plant material are all good, Miss Hatfield says. Grass cuttings furnish nitrogen and other plant foods. They also make the soil acid, making iron more available for plant use. This helps the leaves stay green, she concludes.

FIXING UP the HOME By Diane Greeter

Holiday Dinners

THE turkey is but a part of the holiday dinner. On this festive occasion we usually have several side dishes and an elaborate dessert. Confusion and clutter is bound to result as the cook tries to time each dish of the meal so that it can be brought to the table piping hot. This means that the gravy, mashed potatoes and several other things are being finished on the top burners of the stove at the same time.

The clean, quick heat of a gas range is really appreciated when the cook has one eye on the clock. The visible flame is easy to control. Every top burner is busy.

In the oven the huge bird is already done and is getting a little more luscious brown color. It has been cooked the proper time under regulated heat and is bound to be just right.

All this, the convenience of a modern fuel that can also be used for automatic water heating, house heating and refrigeration, is available even if you live far out in the country or on the fringes of the suburbs. Modern liquefied petroleum gas—LP-Gas—more commonly known as "bottled" gas and "tank" gas, does the job for you when you live off the city gas mains.

Kirkland Girl Wins State Dress Revue

COLLEGE STATION—A capacity crowd of more than 2,000 4-H club girls and boys, adult leaders and county extension agents watched Lucille Downey, Kirkland (Hardeman county) walk away with top honors at the State 4-H Dress Revue at Texas A. & M. College June 15. The revue was the concluding event of the annual 4-H Round-Up.

Miss Downey, 16-year-old blonde daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Downey, wore a blue-grey iridescent chambray and navy accessories. She was awarded an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, where she will represent Texas in the national revue.

Joyce Ann Marek, Victoria, won first in the best dress class and Thelma Peacock, Graham, first in the school dress class. Each girl received a console electric sewing machine. Ouida Spicer, Freeport, first place winner of the tailored class, was awarded a $100 Savings Bond.

Judges for the Revue were Alice Linn, clothing specialist, Extension Service, Washington, D. C., Mrs. Nanalie Clayton, homemaking education division of the State Board of Vocational Education, and Mrs. Lera D. Hancock, head of the home economics department, North Texas Agricultural College. Miss Linn also acted as commentator during the Revue.

"The 128 entries represented more than 9,000 4-H club girls who entered 151 county revues," Mary Routh, extension clothing specialist of Texas A. & M. College, said. "Each girl either selected or designed her pattern, picked out the material and accessories and made the dress. In many instances, hats, gloves and bags were made at home, also." Miss Routh and Nena Roberson, associate clothing specialist, arranged and presented the revue.

EDITORIAL

And I will give them one heart, and I will put a new spirit within you; and I will take the stony heart out of their flesh, and will give them a heart of flesh.—Ezekiel 11:19.

There are those who believe that a new philosophy is overtaking the American people. The new philosophy is a wide departure from the spirit of rugged individualism that has built the country in the past. The new philosophy, socialistic in nature, seeks to have the government take care of the individual from the cradle to the grave. All of this has to be paid for by some one and that someone is the worker. He pays in proportion to the amount he is willing to work.

There is a growing number in this country who believe that this government ought to practice economy, either by means of the Hoover plan or some other means. One reason: This government is over 252 billion dollars in debt. Private debts total 280 billion dollars. This added to the federal debt makes a total of twice the national income. We are approaching a point, if we have not already reached it, where we cannot levy a tax large enough to retire the debt without driving out business. We are rapidly approaching a point where, those who contend that government costs cannot be reduced, will begin looking for a way to reduce them.

There seems to be a desire on the part of some in this country to destroy the F. B. I. Every scheme that can be employed has been resorted to. Singularly enough these destructive tactics are not employed by representatives of the underworld, but by men mislabeled as patriotic citizens.

Strange as it may seem the F. B. I.'s bitterest enemies in this country are not of the underworld. They are numbered among those who wrongly wear the label of patriotic citizenship.

The government deficit this year which ends with this month, will be around one billion dollars, that is, around one billion more was spent than was taken in. With a deficit of this size this year when business conditions have been good the outlook is for a larger deficit next year when it is believed conditions will not be so good. A deficit around a billion dollars means that the federal debt will be increased by around one billion dollars.

The experts have figured it out that for the next three months the business trend will be downward in prices, business volume and employment. The result is going to be a general lowering of prices this summer and in the fall. A depression is not indicated, but a readjustment is a definite assurance. Mid-summer sales and fall sales will show a reduction in the prices of most lines of merchandise.

The House appropriations committee declined to pay $500 for a juke box for the card filing section of the Library of Congress. We mention the fact for the information of those who have begun to have serious doubts that the economy movement would ever penetrate Congress to the extent that it would vote down such imperative essentials.

I have a growing hope that by the strength of our united civilization and by our readiness and preparedness to defend freedom with our lives we may avert forever the horrible vision of a third world war.—Winston Churchill.

Some men are able to deceive us when they lie to us, but never the fellow who says, "I like to have a man say just what he thinks."

Though we have never had any experiences with great wealth, we are aware that it has its drawbacks and not a few hardships. Prominent among these is the ordeal of having breakfast in bed.

After all there is no such thing on this earth as an absolutely safe investment and permanent security.

With Our EXCHANGES

THE DIFFERENCE

One of the most inspiring bits of information to an ambitious man is the table of earnings of a professional baseball player.

A hitter with an average of .276 will earn $4,000 a year. A .333 hitter will earn over $6,000, while by stepping up his average to .400, a player can raise his earnings to $25,000 or more.

There's a big difference between .267 and .400, you say. Well, not so much as the 133 points would indicate. The difference between a .267 batter and a .333 one is that the latter makes one more hit out of the same fifteen times at bat. That is, he makes five hits instead of four. The .400 hitter, the $25,000 a year man, makes one more hit out of fifteen than the .333 hitter.

Now, the difference between a hit and an out is often one step at first base, maybe a half a step. This means that by outguessing the pitcher or hitting the ball to allow one's self an extra step, or by moving away from the plate fast enough to pick up a half step or so, just every fifteenth time at bat, earnings have increased from $6,000 to $25,000.

This might not work out in exactly the same ratio for a man in business or for a salesman. But the principle applies. There might even be stronger leverage in an extra sale or an extra half hour or an extra bit of concentration.—CAPS and lower case.

WHEN IS A BOOTLEGGER?

When is a bootlegger not a bootlegger? Presumably when the Veterans of Foreign Wars does the selling.

In Lubbock Friday the Liquor Control Board seized nearly 5,000 bottles of beer at the Veterans of Foreign Wars hall. Members were indignant. Heretofore, the law has winked at shipments of beer into this area when destined for use by veterans' organizations. Yet the law does not exempt veterans' or veterans' organizations from the penalty of selling beer in a dry territory. Veterans are not privileged characters. They are expected to comply with the laws of Texas like anyone else.

Patently absurd is the claim that 26 cases of beer seized at the hall

Friday represents personal property of 26 individual members. Everybody familiar with the organization at Lubbock knows that the beer is for sale to members and guests. Proceeds from the sale of such beer is being applied to a new VFW building.

If members go into court as threatened and swear that 26 members own the 26 cases in question as individual property; and if they further swear that the beer is not bought, transported, stored, iced and sold over their private bar at no profit, they are guilty of perjury.

A similar program is operating at Lorenzo at the VFW hall. Until recently beer was sold to members. The practice was known to local law enforcement officers, and they permitted it to flourish without interference.

Obviously, the term "bootlegging" needs re-defining.—Ralls Banner.

WHAT WE'LL USE FOR MONEY

Deflation is in. Profits, in terms of the annual report, should be lower in 1949 than in 1948. Business won't be so good this year.

That's fine. It means instead of more dollars, we're going to get more meat and butter and maybe even more gasoline.

Instead of a bigger bank account we're going to get a larger refrigerator for the money we have. In it we can put more meat, which should be cheaper. Also we're sure to get a larger loaf of bread and doughnuts, maybe of double size. Those cream puffs should grow larger, now that the baker does not have to pay so much for cream and flour and other ingredients.

There'll be more vision in our automobiles, more miles per gallon, more juice in the battery. Maybe yard help, now priced out of reach, will be available this year. Already, we've got more loads of loan for $18 than we could have bought for $30 last year.

Garden hose will come in longer lengths for the same price—and will last longer. So will shorts and undershirts. Shirts will grow tails and you'll probably get an electric razor for the office for half the cost of the one at the house.

These are just a few of the things we're going to use for money if deflation—even a recession—comes along. And, somehow, we believe we shall enjoy things more than money anyway.—Scurry County Times.

The hospital has received the following note from D. I. Hocking of Houston:

"I have been in the hospital a year and one week and very, very nice to see all that eat. The hospital has good food but not a bite would that cook let me have (more food)."

"That the nurses and doctors were very nice and we appreciate it as much. Besides the big case, par-ham, and one that you pay and Mrs. Sims, takes the money with me."

"If we can see Dr. Foster and Dr. McDaniel on the job and finish study of figures is out of everything will be ok."

Farmers Urged To Avoid Burning Stubble

The wheat harvest for 1948 is history for most farmers in the Floyd County Soil Conservation District and there is a great temptation to burn the heavy stubble crop before plowing. Several farmers have discovered some badly eroded areas that were not in the field last year. Some are thinking of burning and contour farming these areas as a means of controlling water erosion.

This is a mechanical way of offsetting the erosion but it is much more effective to use some of nature's process with the mechanical methods to work the crop residue back into the surface of the soil. The mechanical way is not adequate and must have some help from good tillage practices to maintain soil fertility. They are equally important factors in a soil conservation program. The added humus (stubble) assists in increasing moisture holding capacity. More water held in the soil is that much less to run off any future erosion and it will make more moisture available for another crop. This means plowing late December and early January was in fields that were low in organic matter or humus content.

The few farmers that are bent on to burn their wheat stubble should weigh the many advantages of having large crop of residue worked back into the soil against the easy plowing that burning will afford.

INDEPENDENCE DAY

INDEPENDENCE—An American byword since 1776. Will your life insurance program provide financial independence for your family after you have been unexpectedly and suddenly called home from life on this earth? And will that same life insurance program provide you and your life's companion with financial independence and security if you are spared the call of premature death, and live on into the sunset years of life, beyond your normal earning period?

Your life insurance program CAN do this if it is properly prepared and wisely conserved. If you have not had your life insurance policies surveyed, and a program arranged, I urge you to have it done immediately. Programming your life insurance is a service the career life insurance underwriter is glad to render without cost or obligation.
