HUCKABEE HOME GETS FIRST NEW RURAL TELEPHONE

The O. H. Huckabee home, seven miles east of Lockney, was the scene Wednesday morning of the first installation and hook up of a telephone on the new rural telephone lines being built out of the Lockney exchange by Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

Installed by the district installer, K. M. Bosley, assisted by R. M. Olson, the local maintenance man, the ceremony was witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. Huckabee, two daughters, Mrs. Nelda Bratton and Miss Nita Huckabee, two sons, Gerald and W. A. J. A. Cornell, district manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., Edgar Hays, editor of The Beacon and W. T. Hays, Jr., of College Station, the editor's brother.

Three or four other telephones were installed on the same line Wednesday and the telephones will continue to be installed at the rate of six or eight a day. A total of 350 applications for rural telephones out of the Lockney office are on file. These living on the lead line east of town will have their telephones installed first and a lead line running into the Sterley area will be the next group to receive telephones, Mr. Cornell said.

As the custom is, the Huckabees were allowed to make a long distance call free of charge because they were the first to receive a telephone. Mrs. Huckabee called her brother, Sgt. W. H. Foster Jr., stationed at Tacoma, Washington.

The Huckabee's number is 214W5. Other numbers on this line will be 214W2, 214W3, 214W4, and on the other side of the line the same numbers with a J substituted for the W. The last figure in the number signifies the number of rings.

As many as eight parties may be served on each line but the subscribers will hear only half of the numbers ringing since the W side will ring on a different side of the line than the J side. To call a party the user should call the operator and ask for the number even though the party is on the same line with him, Mr. Cornell said.

No REA lines are utilized on the lines out of the Lockney office as they are from the Floydada office. The lines are well built and do not have the humming and static that has been common on rural lines. The voice is as clear as if it were on city telephones.

Charges for the rural telephones are $2.00 per month within five miles of the office, $2.25 per month if more than five miles and not more than 10 miles from the office, and $2.50 per month if more than 10 and not more than 15 miles.

Social Security Man Here July 13th

Elliot W. Adams, Social Security Administration Representative, will be in Lockney at the Post office at 9:00 a. m. on July 13, 1949. He will be available to answer questions on social security; to discuss possible benefits and take claims from persons who seem to be entitled to benefits.

Omission of an employee's account number on a social security tax return may endanger that employee's assurance of receiving full credit for all of his wages when a claim is filed by him and his family. Each employer should be conscious of this fact, and remember it always.

Theatre Campaign Medals Available

Sgt. W. W. Kramer, recruiting officer of Plainview announced this week that veterans who are eligible for theatre campaign medals and did not receive them at the separation center may bring their discharge papers to the recruiting office at Plainview and receive the medals.

Sgt. Kramer said that the Army has instituted a new 2-year enlistment period recently and urged that those interested in a short period for Army investigate this new program.

Another Lockney Soldier Remains Enroute Home

Pfc. James Franklin Rogers Jr., was killed on March 15, 1945, while participating in an attack on German lines in Germany. Last week his father, J. F. Rogers Sr., of Lockney, received a telegram from the War Department stating that the remains of the soldier was enroute to the States for reburial.

Although Mr. Rogers has no information as to the time the body will arrive he has instructed that it be sent to a Plainview funeral home. Arrangements for services will be made there, he said.

The soldier's body is being shipped in the same group with that of Pvt. John B. Reece, son of Uncle Ben Reece of Lockney, Mr. Rogers said.

Water Will Be Cut Off Occasionally

The city water will be cut off from time to time while workmen are tying in the new water lines, Mayor Brunner said this week.

The old water system did not have cut-offs on most lines and for that reason the entire system must be shut down while a connection is being made. Cut-offs are being installed on the water lines so that this condition will be eliminated, Mr. Brunner said.

The Mayor urged that householders and others draw up some surplus water and keep it on hand so that they will not be inconvenienced when the water is off.

LaFont To Run For Legislature Post

Harold M. LaFont, Plainview attorney, said recently that if Governor Jester calls a special election to select a successor to I. B. (Doc) Holt that he definitely would be a candidate.

Representative Holt, farmer and ginmer of Lamb County, resigned as representative from the 120th Legislative district to accept the federal job of postmaster at Olton. This district is comprised of Hale, Floyd, Lamb, Castro, Swisher, Bailey, Briscoe and Parmer Counties.

LaFont has served successively as county attorney of Hale County, county judge and district attorney of the 64th Judicial District. He is a law partner of Vincent Tudor.

Gives 100 Bales Of Cotton To ACC

ABILENE. — Abilene Christian College is in the cotton business.

F. O. Masten of Wellington and Sudan recently gave the college 100 bales of cotton. He said that when others increase the college's stock to 1,000 bales, he will give another 100 bales. Masten cultivates 20,000 acres in the Panhandle of Texas. He is co-chairman of the ACC Development Fund. He said he made the cotton gift to stimulate other gifts to the fund.

Don H. Morris, president, said he is sure the college can find a ready market for one or 1,000 bales. He said he will see to the selling of it if the donor doesn't want to sell and remit the proceeds.

The college president added it wouldn't make a bit of difference if the gift turned out to be wheat, oats, cow or sow or any other farm product.

WEATHERS VISITORS

Aubrey Weathers of Dallas and Margaret Weathers of Roswell, N. M., came in last week-end for short visits with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Weathers, and Melba. Floydada School District Gets 74 1-2 Sections Annexed

The Floyd County school board in meeting Wednesday of this week annexed 74 1/2 sections of dormant school districts to the Floydada Independent school district. They annexed 3 1/2 sections out of the Muncy district to the Lockney district. Other school districts were annexed to various other districts which are still operating their school systems.

Supt. Sidney Reeves had asked the board to give the Lockney school district a larger portion of the Muncy district and also a portion of the Liberty district east of town. Basing his request on the two facts that the areas asked for were nearer to Lockney than to Floydada and also that the majority of the people of the area desired to be served by the local district, Supt. Reeves appeared before the board Wednesday. No reason was given by the board for ignoring these requests.

The annexations as reported to The Beacon by County Superintendent Clarence Guffee were:

- Muncy, 3 1/2 sections to Lockney, 11 1/2 sections to Floydada.
- Pleasant Hill, 16 sections to Lakeview.
- Harmony, 24 sections to Floydada.
- Blanco, 18 sections to Floydada.
- Fairmont, 25 sections to Flomot in Motley county.
- Antelope, 36 sections to Daugherty.
- Liberty, 21 sections to Floydada.
- Hillcrest, 35 sections to Fairview.
- Edgin, 38 sections to Quitaque.

Members of the county school board are Ben Quebe, Precinct 2, J. T. McLain, precinct 1, C. W. Burton, precinct 3, Earl Edwards, precinct 4, R. M. Batten, president.

Fawver Is Back On Job Now

Floyd County Artificial Breeding Association Technician Leslie Fawver has resumed duties following an extended stay in the Veteran's Hospital at Amarillo. During his absence, most of his calls were taken care of by a technician out of Plainview, which was a great deal of help to many in this association. However, some callers lived too far from the Plainview station to receive benefit of their service, County Agent R. H. Gibson said.

Fawver's condition is somewhat improved, stated the County Agent yesterday, and any time you need his service, contact the County Agent's office at number 17, or Fawver at number 694-W-3.

Business Houses Will Close From 9 To 5

Next Tuesday has been designated as "Clean-Up Day" in Lockney and the steering committee of the city-wide sanitation program is urging that every person within the city cooperate by taking the day off and thoroughly cleaning their premises. The plan was adopted by the committee in a meeting Tuesday night of this week. Business houses will close from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m.

Stressing that the whole program will fail unless the citizenship cooperates, Steering Committee Chairman Joseph Holt asked that every person join in the movement so that the health of the community will be protected.

First step in the sanitation program has already begun with the institution of a daily garbage collection system in the business district which was started Thursday morning of this week. The system will be expanded to include a weekly collection of garbage in the residential section soon, it was said. The garbage collection is the first step in the removal of fly breeding places. The second step is the purchase and use of a covered garbage cans by every business house and every resident of the city, Mr. Holt said.

A number of local business houses will have covered garbage cans available this week. The covering of the garbage and the collection of it is the first and most important step in the sanitation program. Medical authorities say that the control of the fly depends upon the control of breeding places and garbage is the breeding place, and garbage is the breeding place of the fly.

A proposal that the plan be instituted at once and that a charge of $1.00 per month for residences and $5.00 per month for business houses be made, was favored by the group meeting Tuesday.

Garbage was described as any waste food or other things that has too much moisture content to burn. This of course does not include tin cans and trash of this sort which should be placed in boxes to be hauled off by the city trucks.

Several objectives in the program were set up. These are:

1. Covered garbage cans for every one.
2. Garbage disposal program.
3. Burning of trash and weeds.
4. Regular spraying campaign.
5. Removal of hogs from city limits.
6. Block warden inspection system.
7. Rat control program.

Inspection Committee Named

A city inspection committee under the guidance of Rev. N. S. Daniel has been outlined. Under the plan the city has been divided into four sections with two inspection chairmen to each section. These will in turn divide their sections into two parts and will name a block warden on each block in their respective sections. These will be responsible for inspections of sanitary conditions on their block.

Rev. Daniel emphasized that the plan wasn't to try to force anyone to comply with a lot of rules and regulations but merely to try to see that all parts of the city are kept clean and sanitary.

The sections with their inspection chairmen are as follows: Northwest Lockney, bounded by Main Street on the east and Locust street on the south, Harve Pennington and Austin Meriwether.

Northeast Lockney, bounded by Main Street on the west and Locust Street on the south, Lewis Busby and Ike Johnson.

Southeast Lockney, bounded by Main Street on the west and Locust street on the north, Clyde Sloan, O. B. Wilben's.

Southwest Lockney, bounded by Locust Street on the north and Main Street on the east, F. M. Smith, Revis Harris.

A tentative inspection committee for the business district was named as follows: east side of Main, C. O. Jeffcoat, J. B. Seale, Arthur, Roberson; west side of Main street, W. R. Darnell, Bates McClung, Pete Newman; north Main, Arthur Barker Sr., J. D. Huggins, L. A. Wofford and E. H. Burk.

Meeting Friday Night

The kick-off meeting of the sanitation campaign was held Friday night at the City Auditorium when a good crowd of people, representative of every section of the city, heard Joe Power and R. C. Cross, representatives of the State Department of Health, outline a suggested plan and then heard several local people, including Mayor G. M. Brunner, Health Officer Dr. D. R. Foster, Joe Holt and others express the opinion that some sort of program was necessary immediately.

In his talk Mr. Power listed a number of important things that must be done in order to carry the sanitation program through to a successful conclusion. He listed garbage disposal, fly eradication, removal of hogs and cattle, destroying of weeds and sewage disposal as the things that should be done first.

He suggested the setting up of the steering committee. Then Mr. Cross talked on ridding the city of rats, methods of rat proofing and related subjects. Pointing out that rats carry typhus fever, he stated that two rats will breed 1800 within one year, and that each rat costs $60 per year upkeep.

With Marvin Cox presiding, an election was held to select a chairman of the suggested steering committee. After a number of nominations Joe Holt, technician at the Floyd County Co-operative Hospital here, was selected. Mr. Holt then appointed the following committees:

Advisory—Clara Copeland, Bob Miller, Joe Parrish, F. L. Brown, W. C. Watson, Marvin Gilbert, Revis Harris, Mrs. Ellen Wylie.

Finance—J. E. Cox.

Publicity—Edgar R. Hays.

Inspection—Rev. N. S. Daniel.

Fly eradication—J. Thornton.

Sewage disposal—Dee Copeland, Howard Cooper, Carl McAdams, Marvin Gilbert.

Transportation—Marvin Cox.

Some of the above committees will have other names added to them by the chairmen.

Tractors Waste 100 Gallons Fuel Each Year, Expert Says

COLLEGE STATION—Right on the farm is the place for fuel conservation to begin. And the farm tractor is the first machine on the farm to begin it with.

Tractor owners in Texas own nearly 215,000 tractors, and from this number, it's estimated that 21 million gallons—a hundred gallons a tractor—is wasted every year. That's just in Texas alone.

W. L. Ulrich, extension agricultural engineer, of Texas A. & M. College, says there are at least seven good ways to save gasoline in order to cut down on the large amount wasted.

- Here they are:
1. Don't let the motor idle when the tractor is not in use. Cut off the engine when hooking up equipment.
 2. Look ahead. Figure out about how much you'll need and when you'll need it. Then tell the tank wagon salesman well in advance.
 3. Prepare all the farm storage possible ahead of time, and see that all drums are in good repair. If you need more storage, get the new drums ready before hand.

4. Make one trip to town do for many. Keep on hand a supply of spark plugs, fan belts, tools, gaskets and other day-to-day tractor repair parts.

5. Haul full loads whenever possible.

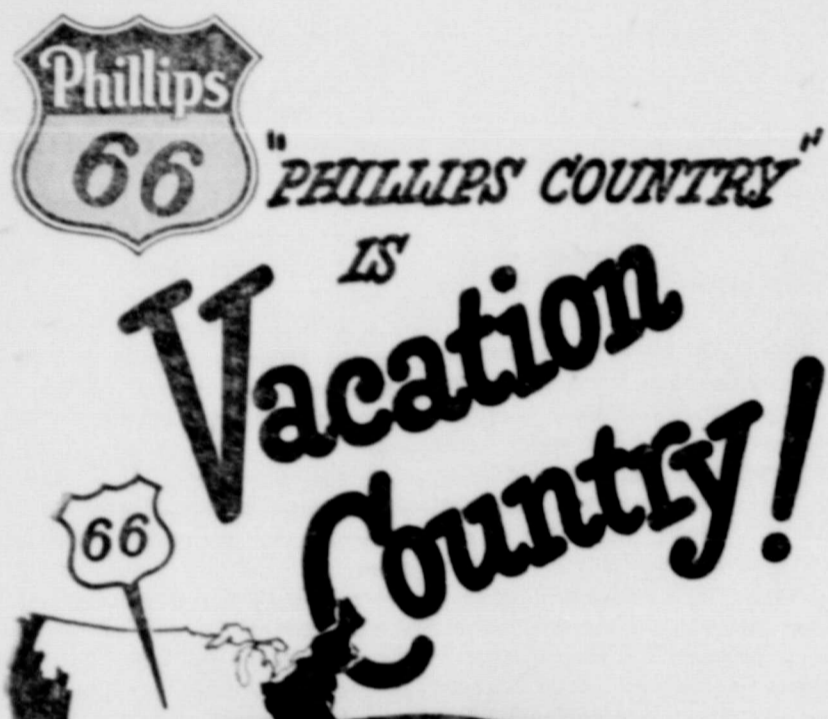

6. Tune up the engine during slack periods when it isn't needed in the field. And don't forget to adjust the carburetor.

7. Put your equipment in the field in the best possible condition. By doing so you'll prevent costly breakdowns when in use.

So, here's another 7-Step program the farmer may find to good advantage, Ulrich concludes.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kinchloe of Chilton, Texas visited Mr. and Mrs. F. U. Payne of the Pleasant Valley Community last week.

OUR DEMOCRACY by Mat

"I disagree!"

— TWO OF THE MOST IMPORTANT WORDS IN AMERICAN SPEECH —
THEY CAN BE SPOKEN OPENLY ONLY IN A FREE LAND...

SINCE THE EARLIEST DAYS OF OUR DEMOCRACY, WE HAVE CHERISHED THE RIGHT OF THE INDIVIDUAL TO DISAGREE OPENLY, TO ARGUE IN FAVOR OF HIS OWN IDEAS... MANY THINGS OUR FOREFATHERS ARGUED ABOUT, WE NOW TAKE FOR GRANTED — SUCH AS THE VERY STRUCTURE OF OUR GOVERNMENT AND THE RIGHT OF WOMEN TO VOTE.

BUT ONE THING WE MUST NEVER TAKE FOR GRANTED IS THE RIGHT TO DISAGREE, FOR THIS IS AN ESSENTIAL SAFEGUARD OF DEMOCRACY. AS A PEOPLE, WE MAY ACCEPT THE DECISION OF THE MAJORITY, BUT AS INDIVIDUALS WE RESERVE THE RIGHT TO OUR OWN OPINION. THE RIGHT TO DISAGREE OPENLY — THE RIGHT OF THE MINORITY TO BE HEARD — IS A BASIC TEST OF TRUE DEMOCRACY.

TEXAS UNIVERSITY RELAXES RESTRICTIONS ON ENROLLMENT THIS FALL

AUSTIN—Beginning this fall, Texas high school graduates who finish in the third or fourth quarters of their classes will be accepted on probation as University of Texas freshmen.

But the probation will be removed immediately if such students rank in the top half of the group taking the psychological test or pre-engineering inventory test required of all entering freshmen.

Indication that the University's facilities are catching up with the tremendous postwar enrollment increase is also shown in the relaxation of restrictions on admission of out-of-state students.

Non-resident transfers from other colleges will need a 1.5 grade average (midway between "C" and "B") instead of a 2.0 "B" average required since 1946, and non-Texan high school graduates will need to rank only in the top half of their class instead of the top quarter.

Wayland Plans Early Basketball Tourney

PLAINVIEW. — The first annual high school basketball tournament at Wayland College is being planned for next fall. Athletic Director Harley Redin announced here today.

He has informed 18 top notch basketball schools from the surrounding area of the general plans for the tournament and has asked them to express ideas of their own to be incorporated in the tournament so that eight teams who accept tournament bids will be getting the experience they need most.

Dates for the tournament are December 16 and 17. Redin states that in the early season tournament such as this he believes the participants will want the strongest competition available. The tournament will be planned with this idea as a guide.

The eight entries will be announced and final plans made within a few days, he announced. He has already expressed interest in the tournament.

Coach Redin stated that the tournament will give a chance to be in competition with teams from different areas surrounding Plainview.

Schools that have been invited to the tournament are: Memphis, Houston, Dimmitt, Fritch, Spring, Granger, Pampa, Lamesa, Tulla, Pampa, Tucumcari, and Clovis.

Rats And Typhus Fever Says

The people of Texas are in a state of panic in escaping any disease of typhus fever. A number of reported cases in 1948, this is a disease that has been reported in the incidence of typhus fever, but at the same time, it is a disease that only continued to spread. Control measures will be in check. Dr. Geo. W. Smith, health officer, who says typhus fever is one of the most dangerous diseases, and the long results in such loss of life, this factor is usually expensive to the victim, and hospital bills. Typhus fever is transmitted to man by the rat flea, the control of typhus depends almost entirely upon ridding ourselves of rats. No garbage should be left exposed where they can get to it to feed. Granaries and feed houses should be rat-proofed so that rats are starved out. All rat harborage such as trash piles, piles of old lumber, accessible quarters in the walls and foundations of buildings and other suitable living quarters should be denied them. House and business buildings can be effectively rat-proofed at a comparatively low cost, and the expense is always much less than the damage that can be done by rats, and the sickness they can spread.

"When the rat is gone, typhus fever will go also", Dr. Cox said. "Keep longer menace the health of our people."

A mosquito doesn't bite, it stings.

GIVE ME THE PLAINS

Give me the plains
With their wide open spaces,
Give me free men
Who take life in great paces,
Give me the courage
That makes them keep trying;
I'll give you a
Land with a spirit undying.

You take the city's
Bright lights and skyscrapers,
Live off of canned
Goods and daily newspapers,
Walk everyday
In the streets never greeted
By sunlight midst
People whose souls have retreated.

Give me the plains
Where the small things are greatest, and old-fashioned
Customs are always the latest.
Give me the friend-
Ship of men well worth knowing;
I'll give you a
Land that will never stop growing.

You take the city's
Smooth talk and high finance,
Find if you can
There a glimmer of romance,
Busy yourself
With affairs in high places;

Learn if you care
To society's graces.

Give me the Plains
Where the days are longest,
Who take the people
Whose ties are the strongest,
Give me a land
Where the skies are the bluest;
I'll give you a
People whose hearts are the truest.

You take the city's
Continuous noises,
It's traffic that
Crawls like gigantic porpoises,
The desolate
Loneliness cheerless and bleak
Of thousands who Never attain what they seek.

Give me the plains
Where men tirelessly labor,
Where its well understood what it meant by "Good Neighbor".

Yes, give me a
People who walk with the Lord;
I'll give you a
Land that is free from discord.

Langfeldt-Cole Vows Exchanged Sunday

Miss Mary Ellen Langfeldt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Langfeldt of Aiken became the bride of Eeryl Lee Cole, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Cole of Plainview, Sunday July 3, at 4 p. m. in the Aiken Methodist Church.

Rev. W. B. O'Kelly, pastor of St. John's Methodist Church, Plainview, read the double ring ceremony before an archway of greenery flanked by lighted tapers in candelabra, with baskets of white gladiolus and fern.

Miss Jo Ann Clements, of Plainview, played musical selections before the ceremony and accompanied Marvin Glenn Marshall of Aiken who sang, "Because" and "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life." "I Love You Truly" was played during the exchange of vows. Traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and recessional.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal wedding gown of white slipper, satin styled with a sweetheart neckline finished with lace. The sleeves were long and finished with tapering points of lace over the hands, and her full skirt terminated in a short train. A coronet of seed pearls held her fingertip veil of bridal illusion. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid showered with white roses and white ribbon tied in love knots entwined with stephanotis. For something old she wore a wedding ring belonging to her maternal grandmother, something new was her Bible, a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Leon Stowe, aunt and uncle of the bride, for something borrowed a lace handkerchief belonging to Mr. Oran D. Smith and something blue, blue garters belonging to Vernell Stowe, cousin of the bride. She wore the traditional penny in her shoe.

Miss Vernell Stowe of Aiken, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a gown of blue marquisette over taffeta and wore a matching crownless lace hat and carried a colonial bouquet with matching streamers.

Bridesmaids were Miss Marian Franks and Miss Martha Clements, of Plainview. They were gowned in yellow and green marquisette gowns over taffeta. They wore matching crownless lace hats and carried colonial bouquets with matching streamers.

Flower girl, Glenda Jean Marshall, of Aiken, wore a gown of white organza, patterned after that of the bride, and carried a white basket of mixed flowers. Candelighters were Linda Cole, cousin of the groom, and Eleanor Frances O'Kelly, both of Plainview. They wore gowns of yellow and blue with matching corsages.

Gene W. Smallwood of Dallas, uncle of the groom, served as best man. Ushers were Donald Johnston of Plainview, and David Stowe, of Aiken, cousin of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Langfeldt chose a navy blue crepe with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Cole, the bridegroom's mother, also wore a dress of navy blue crepe with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth, centered with a bouquet of white gladiolus. At one end of the table was the three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom, at the other end was the punch bowl, both flanked with blue and gold flowers. Mrs. Emmett Thornton and Mrs. Oran D. Smith of Aiken served the cake, and Mrs. H. P. Clements of Plainview and Mrs. H. L. Stowe of Aiken, aunt of the bride, presided at the punch bowl. Miss Jo Ann Clements of Plainview was at the register and Mrs. Marvin Marshall of Aiken was in the gift room.

For her going away dress the bride chose an aqua crepe dress with white accessories, and wore a white orchid corsage. After a wedding trip to Colorado and Utah the couple will be at home in Plainview.

The bride is a 1948 graduate of Plainview High School and is attending a Plainview business college. She is employed with Lockview Farm.

The groom is a 1947 graduate of Plainview High School and attended a Plainview business college. He is employed as administrative assistant by Battery "A", 132nd F. A. Bn., Texas National Guard, of Plainview.

Out of town guests were Messrs. and Mesdames Gene W. Smallwood of Dallas, T. J. Robinson and children of Olton, Mrs. H. B. Standlee and Welburn of Abernathy, and Miss Mary Jane Darden of Amarillo.

Methodist Notes: There is a little verse in the Bible that stands out like a mountain peak that says "Judge not." Do we break this commandment? Wouldn't it be a lovely world if everyone who goes about criticizing the fellow who is trying hard to do things for the betterment of the community and the world, would speak a word of encouragement and appreciation instead? I had rather have one man in my church and community who is doing his best, than to have a dozen who are merely sitting on the side line criticizing. Let us all stop criticizing and put our shoulder to the wheel and push. The world is blessed most by men who do things, not by those who merely talk about them. Wanted: A hundred more Methodists in Sunday School. Wanted: More souls for the Kingdom of God. Wanted: More Faith, Hope and Love. Thoughts For The Week "In men whom men condemn as ill I find as much of goodness still. In men whom men pronounce divine I find so much of sin and blot. I do not dare to draw a line Between the two where God has not." "Our deeds are seeds of fate, sown here on earth, but bringing forth their harvest in eternity." Human Body Needs Extra Salt - Cox AUSTIN.—A deficiency of salt in the human system can cause serious consequences, and for this reason Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer advises every person whose work is such that it causes excessive perspiration to add a pinch of ordinary table salt to each drink of water taken during the day. Farmers, mechanics, carpenters, construction men and all others whose work causes them to sweat profusely are in danger of having their body salt content seriously depleted, and as a result may suffer from heat cramps or heat fog. Salt is a prominent constituent of sweat, and when the thermometer hits the high register, the human body may lose as much as 40 to 50 grams of salt during a single day. In many industrial plants, workmen are furnished with and urged to take a tablet of pure salt or a mixture of salt and dextrose with each drink of water. Many find this a pleasant way of taking extra salt, but other prefer to add the needed amount of extra salt to their food and drink. "Take your extra salt in any manner that is agreeable to you," says Dr. Cox, "but take it. Heat cramps are very painful and exhausting. They are characterized by cramps in the abdominal region, headache, and in severe cases there may be nausea and vomiting. Body salt losses occur without the knowledge of the individual until a deficiency exists; then the abdominal muscles begin to cramp." According to the State Health Officer, it is a wise precaution to keep the body supplied with salt, and thus avoid much possible suffering and loss of time from heat cramps. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Whitfill left Monday for Creed, Colorado to spend the week. They visited relatives at Panhandle, Silverton and Santa Fe enroute. Rev. and Mrs. E. J. Cobb and children spent Monday in McLean visiting relatives. Politicians act as though the will of the people is a document bequeathing them everything. Theodore Roosevelt became president of the U. EDITORIAL

If we must have a farm price support program we are inclined to favor the program which reimburses the farmer for his loss on all sales below the pegged price and at the same time permits the surplus to be sold at the market price. We think this beats destroying surplus food, such as potatoes. It beats it for the reason that the taxpayer who has to pay the subsidy may have an opportunity to buy his foodstuff at a lower price. Of course the saving is all balanced by added taxes and the taxpayer is no better off, but we escape the loss of the destroyed foods which always seemed a crime to us.

Cities, in a good many places in this country, are providing free modern tennis courts. In one community two courts were recently completed and are filled with players all the time. There is a demand for additional courts. We believe the idea of providing tennis courts baseball diamonds and swimming pools a good one. It is the best thing a community can do for its young people. A lot of wholesome out of door activity furnishes a splendid outlet for the surplus energy of the young people and reduces the desire to spend it in less desirable ways.

A lawyer asked a woman who was a witness, "How old are you?" The woman glared and said nothing. "Don't hesitate," the lawyer said, "the longer you hesitate the older you grow."

The indications are that a wave of thrift-mindedness has hit a lot of people in this country. It may be that if enough people get the idea that thrift is desirable the thought may finally penetrate the inner chambers at Washington.

The per capita expenditure in this country for tobacco and liquor is $99. This means that a county with a population of 15,000 spent $1,500,000 a year on these two items. At the same time the people of the county like to tell of the good roads, the schools, the libraries and the hospitals they would build if they had the money. With the money the average community spends for liquor and tobacco it could buy and support a good hospital, a library, its schools and at the same time put an all weather road past every farm gate. The question isn't one of money so much as it is what we spend our money for.

It is extremely difficult to please everyone. If we spend our money as we earn it, the experts tell us we are heading for trouble and ought to save all we can. If all of us start to save for a rainy day the same experts tell us that it is bad for business and might easily create a depression. We make no claim to being an expert but we would rather take our chances with the future with a few hundred or a few thousand tucked away in bonds than we would with a note and an overdraft at the bank and a string of bills all over town. If thrift and saving will create a depression then our prosperity is founded on the wrong basis. A prosperity that keeps everyone broke to maintain it is misnamed. It is not a prosperity.

THE MAYOR'S PROBLEMS

It's been a matter of civic pride with Mr. Herd the past two or three years to object to our deplorable sidewalks and lack of them. Of course, it's nothing out of the City's pocket if someone breaks his neck on a sidewalk full of holes because the sidewalks do not belong to the city. They belong to the individual property owners.

And the above situation is the very reason I am loathe to accommodate the civic-minded mayor by commenting on the bad condition of the sidewalks. I don't suppose there are any sidewalks in worse condition anywhere in this city than the one right in front of my house.

The mayor, whose salary is $20 a month, probably takes more cussing and listens to more fussing than anybody in town. . . and so he is entitled to fuss back once in awhile. Therefore I will forgive him for complaining about my sidewalk . . . and just hope nobody breaks his neck in front of my house until I can afford to repair it.

Mr. Herd's constant plea for people like me to fix up their premises for the good of the community, makes plenty of sense. It makes a lot more sense than many of the things that the public asks the city to do without giving a thought as to where the money is coming from.

Talking about all these requests one day, the mayor said he answers the most impossible ones with this question: "Did you ever try to shop for a winter wardrobe with a $5 bill?" The answer to the mayor's question is the reason the city can't accomplish more things. The people don't want to spend any more money than they're spending now and the money they are spending now will not stretch as far as all of the people would like to see it stretch.—Post Dispatch.

WINNER WATCH OUT

What happens when a victorious football or hockey team begins to take its success for granted? When its members spend less time in practice than in quarreling among themselves over how much credit the players, coaches and owners deserve for past victories?

We've all seen that happen time and time again. With co-operation and spirit destroyed, the team begins to lose. It is beaten by one underdog after another. It loses its high standing in its league to a team that doesn't take time out for quarreling. The result—the first team is out of the championship money. Not just the players. Or the coaches, or the owners, but all of them.

America's high standing is in that danger today. In 1939, the average American employee was producing five times as much as the average employee in the rest of the world. In 1879, the average American employee produced goods worth $1965. In 1939, he produced goods worth $7208. No such record has ever been set in any other country in the world.

The American employee could do that only because the owners of industry were able to make profits, to re-invest much of those profits in industry, and thus provide $6134 of machinery per employee in 1939 against only $1038 in 1879.

What did that mean to the employee himself? The U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics reports that in the shorter period from 1909 to 1939, the worker's real wages in terms of how much his pay check would buy—exactly doubled. If we had the figures back to 1879, the increase in real wages would have tripled or quadrupled.

Men Plus machines have made a winning team in America because the efficiency of men has matched the growing efficiency of machines. Whether we continue to have a winning team will depend on the continuance of that teamwork. Every idle machine, every machine operated at less than maximum, is working for just one thing—a lower standard of living. If discord is sown, poverty will be reaped.

America has won the best standard of living in the world. . . . America has won the best teamwork better working together, now breaks up nations. America will of living that will of the past. The hands.—The Flaming Zizzer.

COUNTIES WILL REVENUE FOR

After January 1, 1950, the state's general revenue and valorem taxes purposes.

The bill signed by Governor Shivers, to the constitutional tax by Texas voters. It permits counties to raise taxes up to a maximum of 30 cents for use by the control, soil conservation roads.

For 1949 and 1950 the automatic state tax for the 30 cents tax for the bill was introduced by Sterling Williams and B. Holt of Olton.

During 1948 he earned Navy civilian awards totaling $270.

Rebuilding Lives and Homes Begins

Top, in Cape Girardeau, Mo., shelter, Red Cross Nurse Marie Brooks cares for Kenneth Probst, one of family of 13 who lost all possessions in May 21 tornado which levelled 21 city blocks. Emergency feeding, shelter, medical care is followed by Red Cross aid in restoring possessions and health to victims of storms where their own resources cannot meet needs. Below, Red Cross building expert checks demolished 5-room home of Robert Gilmer, Amarillo, Texas, veteran, who lost everything in May 15 tornado. Expert will follow through on this and scores of other homes where complete or partial building and repair is financed entirely from Red Cross disaster funds. Three-quarter million dollars has been set aside for such long-range help to storm and flood victims stricken in 6 states in first three weeks of May. Aid is always given outright on basis of what is needed to restore family to normal life; can range from replaced kitchen equipment to entire, new furnished home or medical care for as many years as it takes disaster victims to recover.

FIXING UP the HOME

Heating the Chilly Room

MANY homes, even some which have central heating systems, contain one or more rooms that are difficult to keep as warm as the occupants prefer. It may be a bedroom, or the kitchen. More often it is the bathroom, where the chill of morning destroys the pleasure of a daily shower.

Modern gas space heaters, already in wide use in the southern and western sections of the United States, can solve this problem with complete satisfaction. Now they are available in the new "wall insert" model which may be installed flush with the wall of the room in which quick, comfortable heat is needed.

One advantage of this type of heater is that it occupies no valuable room space, although it provides controllable heat with temperatures which may, if you like, be as hot as an old-fashioned stove which takes up at least six square feet of floor area.

Liquefied petroleum gas—LP-Gas—to fuel these heaters may be delivered regularly to your home wherever you live. Few dwellings in the country are more than one mile from a regularly scheduled delivery route for LP-Gas.

No householder in the United States need resign himself to discomfort simply because he lives beyond reach of pipeline gas. "Tank" gas and "bottled" gas have removed geography from good living.

WTCC Backs Move To Store Water For Municipal Use

ABILENE—A program to revise the Federal Flood Control laws which provide "billions for water but not a drop to drink" is the latest move of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in its water fight on behalf of thirsty West Texans.

In a report just issued by President John D. Mitchell and other officers, the organization has launched its efforts for a revision of the present laws and provides a new criteria by which small dams for municipal supplies may be built with federal funds.

This report, tied to the Hoover Commission recommendations, for the first time publicly establishes that there is an economic loss from lack of water greater than flood loss.

The report, written by Manager D. A. Bantzen, long champion of West Texas water rights, includes a survey of eight West Texas cities, showing their economic loss due to lack of water.

Bantzen also cites the Hoover Commission recommendation to place municipal water in first priority in federal requirements, which is in accord with the policy of the WTCC which was responsible for the writing of the Wagstaff-Woodward act in 1931 giving Texas municipalities prior rights to the use of water.

This report points out that the eight cities surveyed in West Texas show a loss of $161,950 annually on water overcharges, and a loss due to property depreciation, industrial and population loss and stagnation of $1,796,872. The towns surveyed are Baird, Roby, Ranger, Rotan, Jacksboro, Archer City, Aspermont and Stamford.

The WTCC report takes up the Hoover commission task reports and recommendations and urges a new criteria for building dams. These now are built by the Corps of Army Engineers and the Bureau of Reclamation largely under authority granted in the Federal Flood Control Act of 1936. This act declares they can be built. As a result these are all large dams and finally result in the production of hydro-electric power.

Justification of the large dams must be found, either by the Army engineers or the Reclamation Service in flood control benefits, irrigation and finally the production of power.

The WTCC report points out that little of this expenditure is recoverable, but that money spent on smaller dams to provide domestic water to upstream towns would efficiently afford flood protection, and at the same time produce revenue which would eventually retire the debt.

Scrutiny of 18 major multi-purpose projects by the Hoover Task Force reports reveals the results of the financial structure and returns of the projects. Figures on one project reveal an estimated annual benefit of $168,000,000 and an estimated annual cost of over $65,000,000. As the annual benefits exceed the annual cost, justification was found to obtain an appropriation of $1,257,645,000 for the project's capital structure.

Funding of this capital structure was set up under a schedule of 40 annual irrigation payments at no interest, 50 power payments at 3 per cent interest, and 40 other small revenue payments without interest. All of these payments from receipts were estimated to amount to $25,000,000 annually with which to meet an annual amortization and operation charge of over $65,000,000. This means, WTCC points out, that on this operation the taxpayers must bear a loss of over $40,000,000 a year; also that around 60 per cent of the cost of the project or $720,000,000 is not to be paid back and therefore represents a direct donation by the taxpayers.

For purpose of illustration Whitney dam on the Brazos is used in the WTCC study as compared with utilizing waters for domestic purposes. This dam is being constructed by the Corps of Army Engineers and will retain water on the Brazos unappropriated by the State of Texas.

This dam, according to the report, is to have an authorized storage capacity of 2,017,500 acre feet of which 1,375,000 acre feet or 68 per cent has been designated as flood control. The estimated cost of the dam is $32,000,000 and at 68 per cent the cost for flood control benefits would be $22,000,000, and cost of power benefits $10,460,000. The only payable benefit is from the sale of power which, less operation and maintenance costs, is estimated at $443,700 per year. This annual revenue per year is sufficient only to amortize, over 35 years at 2 1/2 per cent interest, 32 per cent of the project.

In reciting the forgotten benefits, or the municipal economic loss due to inadequate water, the WTCC report sets up the manner in which multi-city dams could be constructed on the upper reaches of the Brazos, achieving the same results in flood control. At the same time these smaller dams would provide domestic water for most of the 300 municipalities on the watershed. The report says:

"The eight cities, with their 28,500 population, if using 120 gallons of water per capita, would use a total of 1,261,000,000 gallons yearly. Assuming that this water were purchased by the cities from nearby government reservoirs at 10 cents per thousand gallons, an annual revenue of $126,000 would be possible. This amounts to a water sale of around $1.40 per capita per year. As the government has funding plans ranging from 30 to 50 years with only a minor part bearing interest and less than half of the corpus being paid back, this $126,000 annual potential revenue over a 40 year period of time, without interest, would fund around $5,000,000. This $5,000,000 could build 8 different reservoirs, each with a 12,500 acre feet capacity. Such dams would adequately supply the respective 8 cities with water and are needed to assure the cities of sufficient water for growth and development and for adequate supply through dry years as well as wet years.

"Such dams holding 100,000 acre feet of water on the Brazos upper tributaries would first of all cause a cessation of floods to that extent in the lower reaches of the Brazos and would accomplish the general welfare benefits of flood control. Such dams would also accomplish another new benefit which is submitted as equal to, if not greater than flood control benefits, namely, the benefit of overcoming the economic loss to the cities due to lack of water and the benefit of halting the stagnation and strangulation of the several cities and turning them into healthy growing communities. Furthermore, such dams appear to be wholly self-liquidating as far as capital corpus is concerned while the Whitney multi-purpose dam is less than 32% self-liquidating."

George Wilson Moving To California

For 41 years George T. Wilson of Plainview has been connected with the alfalfa industry. Now he shifted to another location, the San Joaquin Valley, California.

He sold his home in Plainview to Dr. Landra C. Smith. This is the place that Wilson bought a few years ago from Harold E. Bawden, who constructed it.

It was in the fall of 1941 that Wilson came to Plainview with the Denver Alfalfa Milling & Products Co. He recalled that there were then around 6,000 acres of alfalfa grown in the area. He started out to extend that acreage. Contracts were printed and signed for growing and dehydrating alfalfa to the mill. During the last three years no contracts have been used, he said.

Now there are 35,000 acres of alfalfa in this region, he estimated.

Wilson's forte was service to the farmers. When labor was short and equipment hard to get during the war growers approved the practice of growing the hay and letting the alfalfa mill cut it and haul it in to the dehydrating plant. Wilson, who was district manager of the affiliated mills in this territory, provided drills, seed, expert advice and made himself generally useful to the growers.

On April he retired. L. L. Leatherman, who has long been manager of the Plainview mill, has succeeded to his duties.

Wilson was one of the organizers of the Denver Alfalfa Milling Company. For a long time his brother was its president. That was in 1905 that the company was organized at Lamar, Colo.
