Part Of Liberty District Requests Lockney Annex

A statement signed by eighteen residents of the north part of the Liberty school district asking that that part of the district be annexed to the Lockney district has been presented to President of the County School Board R. M. Battey. The Beacon was informed this week.

The school board is scheduled to meet next Monday, August 1, in their regular meeting. The Board, in recent action, annexed this district to the Floydada district.

The territory involved extends one mile north and one mile south of the farm-to-market road to Cedar Hill and is bounded on the west by the Silverton-Floydada highway and on the east by the Cedar Hill school district.

The three trustees from the Liberty district, Dick Ford, Ray McCormick and Eugene Gilley, polled the people of the territory asking that they state their preference as to which district they preferred to be served by, the report stated. Of the 21 persons polled, 18 indicated a preference for Lockney and three would not indicate a preference. The statement was then turned over to Mr. Battey with the request that the board take some action on the matter.

The Camp Development program of the Council is well under way. During the past year a new thirty thousand dollar Swimming Pool has been built, water lines have been laid to wells on top of the Cap and electricity and refrigeration have been added. The Boy Scouts of the South Plains are on their way to having one of the finest camps in the entire area.

Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt Sweat and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Davis of Rubottom, Oklahoma, were here over the weekend visiting Mr. Sweat's sister, Mrs. Johns Cox and family and his mother, Mrs. A. A. Sweat. The elder Mrs. Sweat returned home with her son for a few weeks visit.

Every one in the United States is affected directly or indirectly by accidents to farm residents. Organizations having an interest in farm life can be greatly affected because of the economic upsets caused by accidents on the farm. The greatest grief and loss resulting from farm accidents, of course, is to farmers themselves.

Summer Fun

Katherine Bassett, Dallas, plays at White Rock Lake, one of her city's summertime diversions, as she urges her neighbors of the Southwest to come to Dallas for a week-end holiday or vacation. The committee, headed by Mayor Wallace Savage, has its headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce building.

75,000 Rural Youth Expected At Fair

Post-war rural youth activity in the state will reach its high point this year when the largest single gathering of farm boys and girls in the nation's history will be honored by the State Fair of Texas on Rural Youth Day, Oct. 15. James W. Aston, chairman of the Fair's rural youth day committee, has announced.

"At least 75,000 4-H Club boys and girls, Future farmers and Future Homemakers from farms and ranches in every corner of the state, will make the trip to the fair," Aston said. "Last year's attendance of 60,000 was considered phenomenal, but all indications point to a 25 percent increase for this year."

The youngsters are traditionally given free admission to the fair, and a free lunch which is provided by Dallas business leaders.

"Purpose of Rural Youth Day is primarily to help youngsters become better citizens," Aston said. "The sights they see and the information they obtain on this day broadens their vision, and their knowledge of trends in agriculture, livestock, poultry and modern life in general. They find out what is going on, gain valuable "know-how," learn how to profit from the experience of others and, as a result, they become better business men, homemakers, farmers, ranchers, and citizens."

Rural Youth Day was inaugurated at the fair in 1946. Through the cooperation of the Texas A&M College Extension Service, state Vocational Agriculture and Homemaking departments, the event has grown from an initial attendance of 30,000 to 75,000 which is the goal for 1949.

Attendance prizes of $100 each will be awarded the county 4-H Club delegation and the Future Farmer and Future Homemaker chapters which have the highest score, based on the number of members present multiplied by the number of miles traveled to the fair.

A banquet honoring the 50 outstanding Future Farmers, Future Homemakers, and 4-H Club boys and girls in the state during 1949, will be held in the Texas Room of the Baker Hotel at 7 p. m. Oct. 14.

Other junior events planned for the 1949 State Fair are Junior Livestock Show, Oct. 17-22; Junior Market Turkey Show, Oct. 8-13; Junior Market Broiler Show, Oct. 14-20; Junior Grass Judging Contest, Oct. 19; and State Junior Livestock Judging Contest, Oct. 11.

A NEW WAY TO HEALTH

Chiropractic is simple, common sense, and effective. It adds nothing to nor does it take anything away from your body. It simply clears the nerve channels, sets free nature's forces and gives her a chance to perform the wonders of health restoration and preservation as only she can do.

Clear the nerve channels and the natural intelligence will do the rest just as it mends bones and heals abrasions, given time and favorable conditions.

REMEMBER: It is not true to say "We did everything possible" unless Chiropractic was included.

"Can We Ignore Such Amazing Results"

Female Trouble

CASE NO. 1658: A lady of 26 years complained of female trouble, low abdominal pains, discharge, nausea, dizziness, headaches, constipation and awakening tired and head-achy every morning. Neurocalometer spinal nerve analysis and X-rays made at the Chiropractic Clinic located a spinal interference to nerve energy flow. Adjustments restored alignment and removed the cause of defective energization.

Headache

CASE NO. 1181: A young woman, age 29, suffered a great distress from sick headaches, a dull aching pain in her stomach, pains in her kidneys, painful lumps in her groin and extreme nervousness, was very despondent and had crying spells because her physicians were unable to help her. This young woman was X-rayed and carefully examined by a Chiropractic Clinic where the cause of her suffering was located in her central nervous system which regulates all organic function. After a few months of adjustments she is now in normal, radiant health.

Asthma

CASE NO. 1441: A little boy of five was brought to the Chiropractic Clinic suffering with Asthma which he had had since birth. Various treatments had failed to do more than relieve each spell. Examination disclosed a vertebrae at the top of the spine causing nerve interference and defective energization of the air sacs of the lungs. Corrective adjustments restored the spinal alignment to normal and the Asthma has not returned during the past year.

Jaundice

CASE NO. 110: A 73-year-old man, very weak and thin, eyes jaundiced, had been steadily worse for a month, which steadily worsened. The Chiropractic Clinic located a severe (misalignment) neck vertebrae, chiropractic corrections were made and in a short low condition and this man is just fine.

Sinus Trouble

CASE NO. 1186: This case is a lady, age 49, who had a history of 6 years of sinus trouble and hay fever. After going the rounds of doctors and remedies, she finally came to the chiropractic clinic for spinal examination. After the Neurocalometer and X-rays located the cause of her trouble, spinal corrective adjustments were begun to realign and remove interference in nerve wave frequencies which restored normal function to the entire ill-functioned body. Upon discharge, this patient reported no symptoms of any kind remained.

Neuritis

CASE NO. 1062: A 47-year-old mother of three children had been suffering for two years from neuritis pains and aching in the back of her neck, side of her head, and shoulders, with a puffy swelling at the base and sides of her neck, and female trouble. She was nervous and felt a tightness about her throat. Previous treatments had failed to help her. She came to the Clinic for a Neurocalometer spinal analysis and X-ray examination of the areas indicated by the Neurocalometer. We found a vertebral subluxation causing an interference with nerve energy waves controlling the musculature and glands of the neck. Corrective adjustments promptly restored alignment and removed the cause of the trouble after which periods became regular and other symptoms vanished.

Arthritis

CASE NO. 1616: A matron, age 32, came to the Clinic complaining that she had been suffering for five years with terrible pains along the spine between her shoulders which had previously been diagnosed and treated as arthritis. She also complained of period headaches, cramping, low backache, and low abdominal pains. Neurocalometer spinal analysis indicated nerve interference and X-rays revealed spinal vertebral misalignment causing the interference. She was discharged when alignment was restored at which time she had no pains and said she felt completely well.

Constipation

CASE NO. 1243: A 10-year-old boy, the Clinic located a spinal interference causing the constipation. The mother had given the child almost all her life force and Neurocalometer spinal analysis indicated nerve interference and X-rays revealed spinal vertebral misalignment causing the interference. She was discharged when alignment was restored in a short time side help.

Winter Wheat Belt Fights Smut

Across the winter wheat belt of Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Colorado and Texas Panhandle, hundreds of seed cleaning and treating machines are at work preparing seed for the 1949 planting.

Stationary units in elevators and seed houses, and portable units like the one above, are processing seed through cleaners to take out weeds and broken kernels and through treaters which mix "Ceresam" seed disinfectant on the seed to destroy the spores of stinking smut and other disease organisms.

Cliff Manny, left, County Agent of Pawnee County, Kansas, checks the operation on the farm of Enoch Thompson, a state champion wheat grower. Through better stands and higher yields, seed treatment usually returns the farmer ten times or more the cost of treating—in addition to controlling stinking smut or bunt according to plant pathologists and agronomists.

MRS. FANNIE MEEKER RETIRES AFTER 30 YEARS WITH RAILROAD

The following account of the retirement of Mrs. Fannie Meeker, a former agent for the Fort Worth & Denver at Lockney, was clipped from The Petersburg Journal, who in turn took it from the Stamford American:

Retired after 30 years "railroading," Mrs. Fannie Meeker has returned to Stamford to make her home. In fact the new home she is having built at 724 Vanderbilt street is just about ready for occupancy.

On the same lot with her new business, "The Flower Mart," where she will deal in flowers for all occasions. Interested in Flowers for years, she decided to devote her time to them and she has taken special study in Abilene.

Mrs. Meeker is known to her 4½ year grandson, Bill Rollins, as "Chu-Chu-Ma-Maw" and when his mother asked him if he would like for his Chu-Chu-Ma-Maw to return to Stamford to live, he said "Yes but where is he going to put her depot?"

Mrs. Meeker is one of the few women to earn retirement from railroad service as operator-agent. Serving earlier as clerk, Mrs. Meeker was operator-agent for the past 12 years. She started working during the first World War, as did several other women at that time. The main difference was that she stayed with the job while many others returned to other employment, married or just quit work after the war was over.

"I entered the freight office here in Stamford in June, 1918 to learn telegraphing and railroad

"This was during the time the Wichita Valley and the M. K. and T. lines were consolidated. E. L. Howard was agent and J. P. Booth was cashier but I came out a clerk instead of a telegraph operator. I was hired by O. E. Maer then superintendent at Wichita Falls for the Wichita Valley Lines and Wichita Falls and Northwestern a branch of the M. K. and T. and was sent to Marth, Okla., and remained there through July, 1919. I returned to Stamford and took a job helping with the excess work in the Stamford freight office and was carried on payrolls as warehouse trucker.

"In October, 1919, the Katy freight offices were moved back to the Katy freight office and I took over the bill clerk job. From February, 1925, through March, 1930 I was yard clerk. At this time I was the only woman known to hold a job. I had charge of freight cars in and out of the Stamford yards. It was my job to see that all freight trains leaving the Stamford yards were made up properly, making switching list, seal record and keeping record of all the cars.

"At the beginning of 1929," Mrs. Meeker continued, "the clerk seniority list carried 29 clerks on the Wichita Valley and Stamford Northwestern. I was No. 3 on the list. By the first of 1930 there were five clerk jobs and I worked all five of them during 1931.

"During my nineteen years as clerk on the Wichita Valley, I worked at Stamford, Haskell, Weinert, Munday, Goree, Girard, and Spur. At the end of World War I there were six girls working but by 1924 I was the only one remaining. My nickname among the Wichita Valley boys was "Skirt."

Mrs. Meeker was made non-telegraph agent at Hawley in June, 1937, changing from clerks seniority list to agent-operator list. That was the beginning of the Hawley oil boom. Mrs. Meeker remained at Hawley all through July 1942.

A month later she was sent to "Main" of the Fort Worth and Denver, given a book of rules examination and made a telephone operator handling train orders and messages on the dispatcher telephone. During the time she was on the main line she worked at Dalhart, Channing, Tascosa and on the South Plains lines at Sterley, Lockney and Petersburg.

"During the entire 30 years of railroading service I lost only three months in 1934," Mrs. Meeker says with pride.

Returning to Stamford is really returning "home" for Mrs. Meeker though it has been a number of years since she lived there. She is one of the daughters of the late Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Dodgen and a number of the members of the family still live at Stamford. Her only daughter, Mrs. George Rollins, Mr. Rollins and their two children also make their home at Stamford.

August 10 Deadline For Reserving Tech Football Seats

LUBBOCK.—Texas Tech football fans desiring to have the same seats this fall that they had in 1948 have only until Aug. 10 to reserve them. Morley Jennings, athletic director, has announced.

Jennings said reservations may be made by writing or telephoning his office in Jones stadium and that seats not reserved by the deadline will be assigned to others.

Jones stadium has 16,800 permanent seats and upwards of 4,000 semi-permanent and temporary seats in end zones. Sell-out crowds are expected for most of the six home games this fall. Tech will open its season the night of Saturday, Sept. 10, against Abilene Christian college in Jones stadium. Other home games include West Texas State, Baylor, Tulsa, Arizona and Hardin-Simmons. Tech also will meet Texas, Texas A&M, Rice Texas Western and New Mexico away from home.

Fall football practice is to start Sept. 1 with indication that the Red Raiders will be stronger this fall than in 1948.

Nevertheless we, according to his promise, look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness. II Peter 3:13.

The public resentment toward John L. Lewis is not shared by the reason: Before Lewis took over, the miners were working long hours at small wages, clearly out of proportion for the type of work they were doing. Lewis secured for them a wage of $60 for a week of 35 hours. He also secured for them pensions, and is now demanding federal regulation and enforcement of safety provisions. Incidentally if the coal mining industry had done this or something approaching it or had ever shown even a semblance of interest in the welfare of the miners there would have been no John L. Lewis to contend with today. Men like Lewis are produced because of certain situations and conditions.

which those in power do not choose to correct. The difficulty has been that where the industry through selfishness and lack of interest in the workers fell short of doing the right thing, men like Lewis, in their zeal, go just as far the other way in applying corrective measures.

The first installment of suggestions for streamlining the government, according to the plan prepared by the Hoover Commission has been submitted to the Congress by the President. The purpose of the Hoover plan is to make the government more efficient by cutting red tape and reducing costs. The trouble will come when the necessary jobs have to be lopped off, and unless a lot of them are lopped off, we may as well give up the idea of any streamlining or cost reduction.

I note, a local man said yesterday, that the government recently filed suit against the Dupont Company. The company is charged with being a monopoly and with an effort to control the retail price of its products. If this is a crime why is it that the labor organizations are immune from the law. They are a monopoly and seek to control the price and the hours men shall work. Where is the difference that makes one subject to a long expensive trial and the other immune from all curbs.

Cardinal Spellman's attack on Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt last week was only another step of the Catholic Church in their present drive to take control of the government and all its subsidiaries. This writer has disagreed with Mrs. Roosevelt many times more than he has ever agreed with her. But Mrs. Roosevelt's position that the granting of tax money to finance parochial schools is a breach of the American principle of the separation of church and state is nothing but common sense.

Of course, Cardinal Spellman, with the good wishes of the Pope of Rome, hopes that a plan can be worked out to where you and I will be taxed to help pay the operating expenses of the parochial schools in which the doctrines of the Catholic Church are taught. Of course, one of these doctrines is that the Catholic Church is the only church and that all other denominations are heretics.

That this is the ultimate goal of the Catholic Church is exemplified by recent occurrences in New Mexico where the public schools were in complete control of the Catholic Church until Court orders stopped the practice.

Personally we have no love for dictators and the dictatorship the Catholic Church desires is no better than that sought by Hitler or Stalin as far as we are concerned.

A local man, whose waist line is demanding some attention, reports that in his opinion any man who has the will power required to keep up the exercise prescribed for the reduction of the waist line has will power enough to adhere to the kind of a diet that will keep him from accumulating a waist line.

A local man exercises this philosophy in a storm in which there occurs considerable thunder and lightning. The lightning you see and the thunder you hear will not hurt you. There is no need to be afraid of it. The bolt that does the damage you will not hear or see.

The report that steel production has caught up with the demand and in some instances there is reported a decline in output, should make unnecessary the carrying out of the administration's suggestion that the government engage in the steel business.

A penny saved, the old maxim told us, is a penny earned. A local man tells us that saving a penny these days is just about the hardest way he can think of to earn it.

Don't put off until tomorrow what should be done today, even if you have to get some one else to do it.

A local young fellow who bought one of the new dream cars says it turns out to be a nightmare before he got it paid for.

If I live to be 100 years old, a local man says, and some one asks me how I managed to live so long I am going to try to have ready an answer other than: "by tending to my own business." I think that went out of date several hundred years ago.

Some contend that a man's character can't be read in his face. Law enforcement officers, however, still cling to the idea that a safer guide is one's finger prints.

HE QUIT ADVERTISING AND HUSTLING

Back in the depression days of the 1930's, George Trundle observed some of the things that caused economic chaos and he jotted them down in much the same way Aesop wrote his Fables. "The Hot Dog Story" was published in the company magazine of the Trundle Engineering Company. It was widely quoted at that time.

What Mr. Trundle saw and heard then are things we are seeing and hearing today. In the face of known and unknown factors people are inclined to be overwhelmed by the enormity, real or imagined, of the unknown factors. They become frightened. That is why observers say that that attitude of businessmen could turn the current readjustment into a depression. That is why "The Hot Dog Story" is reproduced again. It follows, as reproduced on the cover of "Qualified Contractor" July, 1949:

There was a man who lived by the side of the road and he sold hot dogs. He was hard of hearing so he had no radio. He had trouble with his eyes so he read no newspapers. But he sold good hot dogs.

He put signs up on the highway telling how good they were. . . he stood on the side of the road and cried, "Buy a hot dog nister?" And people bought. He increased his meat and bun orders. He bought a bigger stove to take care of his trade. He finally got his son home from college to help him. But then something happened.

His son said, "Father, haven't you been reading the newspapers? There's a big depression on. The European situation is terrible. The domestic situation is worse. Everything is going to pot."

Whereupon the father thought, "Well, my son's been to college, he reads the newspapers and he listens to the radio, and he ought to know."

So the father cut down on his meat and bun orders, took down his advertising signs, and no longer bothered to stand out on the highway to sell his hot dogs. And his hot dog sales fell almost over night. "You're right, son," the father said to the boy. "We certainly are in the middle of a great depression."—Plainview Evening Herald

ON RELIGIOUS LIBERTY

Considerable discussion has been underway recently on the teaching of the Bible in the public schools of the land. A sound approach to the matter is voiced in the following declaration of principles by the religious Liberty Association.

We believe in God, in the Bible as the word of God, and in the separation of church and state as taught by Jesus Christ; namely that the church and the state have been placed side by side, each to work in its respective sphere (Matthew 22-21, John 18:36).

We believe that the ten commandments are the law of God, and that they comprehend man's whole duty to God and man.

We believe that the religion of Jesus Christ is comprehended in the principle of love to God and love to our fellowman, and thus this religion needs no human power to support or enforce it. Love cannot be forced.

We believe in civil government as divinely ordained to protect men in the enjoyment of their natural rights, and to rule in civil things, and that in this realm it is entitled to the respectful and willing obedience of all.

We believe it is the right and should be the privilege of every individual to worship or not to worship, or to change or not to change his religion, according to the dictates of his own conscience, but that in the exercise of this right he should respect the equal rights of others.

We believe that all legislation which unites church and state is subversive of human rights, potentially persecuting in character and opposed to the best interests of the church and the state; and, therefore, that it is not within the province of human government to enact such legislation.

We believe it to be our duty to use every lawful and honorable means to prevent the enactment of legislation which tends to unite church and state, and to oppose every movement toward such union, that all may enjoy the inestimable blessings of religious liberty.

We believe in the individual's natural and inalienable right of freedom of conscience, and the right to profess, to practice and to promulgate his religious beliefs; holding that these are the essence of religious liberty.

We believe that these liberties are embraced in the golden rule which says, "Whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them."—Scurry County Times

HE MAKES SENSE

In spite of the sweetness and light in which do-gooders are wont to approach the problems of enduring peace, there are no indications that human nature has yet changed to the point where weakness, instead of strength, is most respected. Gen. Walter B. Smith, former ambassador to Russia and wartime European chief of staff to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, has a commonsense approach to the solution of how to stop wars. Says he: "We have in the past always failed to find peace through weakness. We can have peace but only by remaining stronger than any potential aggressor."

Seagoing Hydrographic Office

Each month more than 2,000,000 charts roll off the presses of the U. S. Navy Hydrographic Office, giving detailed, vital data on the harbors and expanses of the seven seas. U. S. Navy ships are constantly charting new segments of the oceans, new ports of call, new reefs and channels. Not only the Fleet, but friendly mariners of many nations profit by these charts. Above is the USS Bowdoin, famous exploration ship formerly owned by Cmdr. Donald B. McMillan, Arctic explorer, which is still in active service for the Hydrographic Office of the Navy.

Drivers License May Be Secured Without Exam Now

Austin.—Colonel Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, announced today a temporary relaxation in the policy of renewing expired drivers licenses. Pointing out that the action is being taken because of inadequate field and office personnel to handle the procedure in the normal manner, Colonel Garrison stated that the temporary measure, which becomes effective immediately, will preclude excuses on the part of motorists for not having obtained a renewal of their licenses.

This should come as good news to a half million Texas motorists since the records indicate that there are 3 1/2 million drivers in the state and only 2 1/2 million current licenses are on file. Estimates show that of the one million drivers who do not hold presently valid drivers licenses about half have had one at some time but failed to renew them. The other half million have either moved from the State, ceased driving or died since the records were compiled or have never possessed a license to drive.

Under the new program, Colonel Garrison outlines the following steps for obtaining a renewal of expired Texas drivers licenses. First: if you have a license that was issued since January 1, 1944, you may secure a renewal of same by mail from the Department of Public Safety, without examination. Second: if you have a license that was issued prior to January 1, 1944, you may renew same by presenting the old license to a Drivers License Examiner in your locality and executing an original application. License in the latter case will also be issued without examination. Formerly, those applicants for renewal who had allowed their license to expire were required to stand a re-examination. Now, under the temporary set-up, you may reinstate your permit to drive without taking the test, regardless of how long it has expired, provided it is not now suspended or revoked.

THREE SCHOLARSHIPS GIVEN

AUSTIN.—Three $30 tuition scholarships for 1949 summer work at the University of Texas have been given by the Texas Society for Crippled Children. The scholarships are for teachers in special education to continue their training in speech correction.

T. B. Claims More People Than All Other Diseases

Austin.—There is no more emphatic proof of the power of ignorance and carelessness to spread disease than is shown by continued ravages of tuberculosis, which is responsible for more deaths between the ages of fifteen and forty-five than any other disease.

Despite the knowledge of its cause, spread, and curative procedures, tuberculosis continues to be a grave public health problem, and today it holds fifth place among the killing diseases in this state. This fact exists even though the majority of tuberculosis patients could have their condition arrested, if it were recognized early and proper treatment applied.

These facts are disclosed by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, who says, "treatment of the early recognized case is essential to recovery. It is of equal importance, from a public viewpoint, that the spread of this devastating infection be prevented. A more widespread appreciation of this fact would result in the saving of thousands of lives."

The State Health Officer added: "When a diagnosis of active tuberculosis has been made, examination of all other members of the family should follow as a matter of course. Tuberculosis runs in families, not because of any special susceptibility, but it is communicable and easily transmitted from one member of the family to others."

To reduce the number of deaths caused by tuberculosis, Dr. Cox urges periodic examinations of all adults, including chest X-rays; frequent check-ups by physicians where active cases and their contacts are known; isolation or hospitalization of active tuberculosis cases, and a more intelligent application of hygienic living principles.

T. U. Scientists Experiment With Radar Waves

AUSTIN.—Efficiency of radar, wartime development for electronic "seeing," is expected to be greatly increased as result of experiments recently completed at Galveston by University of Texas scientists.

The researchers, headed by Dr. F. E. Brooks, Jr., associate professor of electrical engineering, spent six weeks measuring the effects of weather on radar waves.

Moisture in the air has a bending effect on the waves, sometimes extending their range far beyond the horizon, Dr. Brooks explains. He and his associates hope to compile data that will enable ship pilots to determine, by studying moisture conditions, the efficient range of their radar equipment.

The experiments were carried out by sending radar waves from an oil well rig on an offshore island to a receiver on the east end of the Galveston Island seawall. Simultaneously, readings were taken of temperature and moisture content of the air at various levels above the water.

University Meteorologists R. C. Stanley, Walter Bahn and Tom

Cameron, and Radio Engineers C. W. Tolbert and C. E. Williams assisted Dr. Brooks in the night-and-day watches at scientific instruments.

The University research is being conducted under an Office of Naval Research contract.

Farm people lost 17 million days from regular activities because of accidents in 1948, an average of 20 days per accident.

A long ton is 2,240 pounds, while a short one is 2,000 pounds.
