Enumerations In Lockney District Hit New High

Scholastic enumeration in the Lockney Rural High School district hit a new high mark this year according to figures released Wednesday by Supt. Sidney Reeves. The total scholastics enumerated are 805 this year as compared with 791 last year, Mr. Reeves said.

The total this year is the largest number of pupils ever enumerated in this district. This number, of course, does not include transfers from other districts which attend school here.

The high school will graduate a class of only 28 this year and will take over a class of Freshman next fall of from 60 to 70 pupils, Mr. Reeves said. This will give a high school enrollment of between 215 and 225, he estimated.

Supt. Reeves said that he expected the year 1953 to bring the peak load of students in the Lockney schools, barring any abnormal conditions at that time. The Freshman class this year has 80 pupils in it and in 1953 it will be the Senior class.

Regarding transfers from other districts, Mr. Reeves said that this district has more or less standing agreements with Lone Star and Providence and that recently the local board had consummated an agreement with the trustees of the Cedar Hill district to accept their high school pupils on the same basis as they did the past year.

Terrell Barn Is Destroyed By Fire

A fire, believed to have started from faulty wiring, destroyed a barn on the W. E. Terrell place, two miles south of Lockney, late Wednesday. Lost along with the barn was a roan Durham calf that Billy Terrell had just purchased to feed out, a quantity of hay and other supplies. Mr. Terrell estimated his loss at about $500 in contents.

The barn was afire all over before it was discovered. The Terrells were at home but did not see the fire until the entire roof was blazing. One cow, penned in another part of the barn from the calf, was released before the fire reached her.

Mr. Terrell said that he had been losing a number of fuses on the electric line going to the barn and that he was sure faulty wiring started the fire.

The Lockney Volunteer Fire Department took a truck out and, although too late to save the barn, they extinguished the blaze that was left in order to keep it from spreading to other buildings.

Mrs. Hershel Carthel of Lockney was re-elected as vice-president for Hale and Floyd Counties. She also served in that capacity the past two years. Mrs. M. C. Butler of Lubbock was selected to head the organization for the coming year.

Softball Meeting Called Friday

A meeting of all those interested in playing softball, sponsoring a team or forming a team has been called for Friday night of this week. The meeting will be held at The Beacon office starting at 8:00 p. m.

Claude Brown said Tuesday that it now appeared that six or seven teams would be ready to play in the local league. Teams have been promised from Aiken, South Plains, Lone Star and Providence, it was said and two or three teams will be formed here. The American Legion will form a team, the Fire Department expects to form one and Brunner Lumber Company will form a team according to present plans.

Plans now call for Curtis Kelley, local athletic coach to manage the league.

A big boost to the local league was a donation by the Lone Star boys of a number of light poles and reflectors. Work is expected to start on a lighted field here and is expected that the field will be ready to play very soon.

Meanwhile the Aiken team wants to come in Sunday afternoon for a practice game. At the meeting Friday night definite teams will be shaped up.

Leasing Activity Takes New Life

Leasing activity in this part of Floyd County took on new life this week when P. L. Payne and his two sons, P. L. Jr. and S. R., came in to town and started taking leases on acreage in this area particularly that area north of Lockney.

The men, representing a major oil company, are offering a $5 bonus per acre and $1 per year rental on a 10 year contract. It was reported to The Beacon Wednesday that they leased around 13,000 acres thus far and were still taking acreage.

The area being leased is generally north of Lockney and in southern Briscoe County. They have accepted some acreage southeast of town also, it was reported. Some acreage around South Plains has been leased, reports here say, and also some in the Cedar Hill area.

Mr. Payne is making his headquarters at the First National Bank here.

Longhorns Win First District Baseball Game

Coach Sid Thomas' Longhorn baseball squad won their first district game Tuesday of this week when they defeated the Floydada Whirlwinds 10-8 on the local field. The locals ran up an 8-1 lead early in the game and managed to stave off a rally by the Whirlwinds late in the game.

Pitching for the Longhorns were Bobby Baxter, C. B. Smart, Pat Frizzell and Douglas Meriwether. Robert Hucaby was catcher for the locals.

The game scheduled to start the season last Friday at Abernathy was called off because of the weather and will be played at another time.

The Longhorns play Tulia here Friday afternoon of this week and play Abernathy here Tuesday afternoon of next week to continue their schedule of play in the north half of District 3-A.

Rains Help But More Needed

The rains which came last week end in Floyd County to end a six month drouth have helped considerably but more are needed in order that farmers may have plenty of moisture for planting cotton.

The moisture here measured only .63 of an inch according to the gauge kept at Hammond & Company. However, farmers of the area generally reported more moisture than this.

Lloyd Reidhimer reported .80 at his place in the Lone Star community and J. R. Belt reported 1.40 at his home four miles west of town. Baylor Byars in the same vicinity reported 1.30. Hilburn Casey, eight miles northeast of town reported an inch.

The rain was general over West Texas and therefore will be of much more benefit than local showers. Floydada reported over an inch for the total last week, Plainview an inch, and Lubbock .80 of an inch.

Meanwhile the weather man was promising more rain for the area by Friday.

MEMBER OF TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

And when the centurion, which stood over against him, saw that he had so cried out, and gave up the ghost, he said, Truly, this man was the Son of God.—Mark 15:39.

High Plains farmers are on the spot.

They successfully conducted a long fight to win local control of underground water, which supplies 12,000 irrigation pumps scattered over four million acres of farmland in the High Plains. Apparently, the fight ended in victory for them, in the Spring of 1949, the Texas Legislature passed the Underground Water Conservation Law, which give underground water rights to individual landowners and provides the means for conserving it.

Secure in the ownership of the water, farmers have neglected to carry out the conservation provisions of the law. Decline in the underground water level in some areas has been slight, and the need for conservation regulations is not deemed urgent at this time.

At a recent hearing of the Texas Water Code Committee, a group set up to study Texas water laws and report recommendations to the next Legislature, proponents of state control have renewed attacks on the present law. At hearings in Austin, El Paso, Stamford, and Pecos, many witnesses testified that they thought the state should set up some kind of agency with broad regulatory powers over water uses, similar to the powers of the Railroad Commission over oil and gas.

However, at the Amarillo meeting the cause was hurt when representatives had to admit that not a single underground water conservation district had been formed since passage of the law. If the state does take over control of the underground water it is probable that priority will be given to municipalities and industries over irrigation. Maybe we ought to get busy and form that water conservation district and look seriously into this matter of how we can conserve our own water.

Have you been enumerated in the present census? If not be sure to contact your census taker and see that every member of your family is enumerated. And also everyone living in your home. It wouldn't hurt to ask your neighbor if they've been enumerated either. Help the enumerators to get everyone they can. Mrs. Polly Gilbert is the enumerator in the north section, all that territory lying north of the Baker Hotel and also in the west area, all that area lying west of West First Street. Mrs. Joyce Wood is the enumerator for the other area all east of West First Street.

In the meantime The Beacon would warn local residents to get ready for a disappointment in the census count. We would also warn the people of Floydada, Plainview, Lubbock and Amarillo to do the same. The same trend is running in all West Texas cities according to a report The Beacon picked up in Amarillo the past week. The trend is that instead of being 4.5 persons per light or water meter as some have optimistically reported the count will run less than 3.5 in most cases.

Large families are the exception rather than the rule it seems now and there are lots and lots of one person and two person families. So get ready for a jolt when the census count is released. And remember—you won't be lonesome in your misery. You'll have plenty of company.

POLIO PRECAUTIONS

RECOMMENDED BY THE NATIONAL FOUNDATION FOR INFANTILE PARALYSIS

WHEN POLIO IS AROUND, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis recommends these simple precautions: Keep children with their own friends and away from people they have not been with right along. Don't become exhausted through work or hard play. Don't stay too long in cold water or sit around in wet clothes. And always wash hands before eating. Watch for feverishness, sore throat, headache, upset stomach or sore muscles. They may—or may not—mean polio. Call your doctor and then, if help is needed, contact the National Foundation Chapter in your area.

With Our EXCHANGES

JUST POLITICS
 From this distance it looks as if Senator Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin was merely playing politics when he made his charges of the existence of communists in wholesale quantities in the State Department of our Government. Up to now he has proved practically nothing. He has merely made a monkey of himself. Far commendable has been the attitude of Senator Vandenberg of Michigan and Senator Lodge of Massachusetts and other patriotic Republicans who have not dared to stoop to the use of questionable methods just to advance their own political ambitions or the position of their party. We were especially gratified a few days ago at the statements made by Senator Lodge. It had the ring of statesmanship and patriotism about it rather than the clangor and the clamor of a mere politician. We despised the attitude and the course of the elder Senator Lodge at the close of World War No. 1 when he deliberately undertook to sabotage and did Sabotage the proposed League of Nations mainly because it had been proposed and promoted by President Woodrow Wilson, his political and personal antagonist. We have decided that Senator Lodge, Jr., is a great improvement over his able but vindictive father.—Lynn County News.

LEOPOLD'S RETURN

Complacent America would do well to watch the political war being waged in Belgium today over the return of Leopold III to the throne. His return is being sponsored, of all things, by the Catholic Party, which hopes to have the entire nation under the thumb of the church. It will be a bitter fight, but the Catholic Church, now as ever, is willing to spill blood and spread terror in its long-range aim to establish a union of the church and state in every nation where there is one Catholic. In most countries of Europe outside the Iron Curtain, the Catholic Church sponsors political parties, openly dedicated to the "best interests" include special privileges for the church, establishment of Catholicism as the one true church, plus the privilege of owning and maintaining large economic interests free of state control. There is no Catholic Party in America at the present time, but there will be one. They need no such party now. Both Democrats and Republicans are forced to make concessions to the Catholic Church in every national election in order to keep this solid block of voters in the fold. Catholics supported Roosevelt in return for sending a U. S. envoy to the Vatican. Now Truman must continue the practice upon pain of having the holy of holies turn against him and support another party. Truly, the eyes of Americans should be focused on Belgium. What is happening there today will be happening here at home within this generation.—Ralls Banner.

Water Code Body Hears Variety of Views in Meeting

"Water and its conservation and control has become so important to the people of Texas that the Legislative Committee, known as the Texas Water Code Committee, has been compelled to extend its next regional meeting in Houston over a two day period," Senator Rogers Keiley, Committee Chairman announced in Austin today.

"Public demand for the hearings in East Texas caused the Committee to change its plans for a one day meeting and instead hold a two day meeting in Houston," Senator Keiley said.

The hearings will be held in the Rice Hotel on April 24th and 25th, and all interested persons and organizations will be given an opportunity to express themselves fully.

"Our committee has held hearings in South Texas, in far West Texas, and in Northwest Texas. We will conclude our Regional hearings with the Houston meeting," the Senator added.

Many controversial issues have been uncovered through these sectional meetings, according to Senator Keiley. The riparian owners have a somewhat different point of view from the appropriators. The farmers of the high plains oppose control of underground waters by any state agency. The municipalities of West Texas want to preserve the priority rights of appropriation of water by cities and towns. The irrigators think their rights of appropriation should be paramount to industrial uses.

The "first in time, first in right" doctrine of water appropriation has come in for considerable criticism.

"However," the Senator concluded, "most of the witnesses have expressed approval of the proposed Bell amendment to the Constitution which would set up a revolving fund for dam and reservoir construction, and most of them have favored broader powers for the State Board of Water Engineers in the regulation of surface waters."

After the Houston meeting, the Committee will begin drafting its Report and Recommendations. During the progress of this work it is contemplated that several state-wide hearings will be held in Austin in order that the people may express themselves fully as to the solution of each controversial issue which arises in the course of the drafting of the proposed legislation.

Gas Co. Makes Film West Texas

Critics have been unanimous in their praise of West Texas Gas Company's "Fuel For A Growing Empire," a film document of natural gas and life on the South Plains of Texas. Filmed a year of unprecedented agricultural production and activity, this new creative 27-minute documentary effort is a simple and directly told picture-narrative.

Theme for "Fuel For A Growing Empire" is based upon the explorations of an eminent Army explorer, Captain Randolph Marcy whose travels carried him across the section of West Texas by West Texas Gas Company. What the captain saw and reported a century ago to his superior later became a congressional report and is now documented in the congressional records.

The camera lens opens on a familiar prairie dog and his West Texas home, scenes of the Canadian River and the Palo Duro Canyon are then shown, representing the possible trail which Captain Marcy followed during his trip. Skyline views of various West Texas towns appear and as the story progresses, the camera picks up impressive scenes symbolic of cotton production, potato harvest, wheat and maize combining as well as other area activities.

The picture uses map sequences to show the area served by West Texas Gas Company. Other scenes show the equipment and facilities involved in the production, transmission and distribution of natural gas.

It is a kind of free verse, so to speak, that can be written about the cities and towns of Carl Sandberg's poetry—it is the kind of film West Texans like and even get a little emotional about the facts and truths of the area.

The executive producer in charge of this film was Marion F. Peters, veteran motion picture producer of the South Plains. Bill McCarroll, advertising manager for West Texas Gas Company, was in charge of the script and directed the making of the picture.

The only portion of the picture not made in West Texas was the sounding of the film. Sound was recorded by Telefilm, Inc., Hollywood. Narration for sounding the picture was handled by Don McNamara, former NBC associate, who is now in charge of all television production work at Tele-film, Inc. His excellent handling of the script adds a forceful punch to the color film.

Several civic clubs in West Texas have previewed the film and the members highly recommend it for schools, colleges, civic clubs and Chambers of Commerce.

Wayland Speaker Attacks Tobacco

PLAINVIEW—Dr. Gordon Cox of Denton, in a chapel talk at Wayland College this week, attacked the use of tobacco.

He traced his interest in the subject to a study of blood sugar conducted years ago, which showed smokers tended to short-winded.

Dr. Maddox was introduced by Dr. J. W. Marshall, president of Wayland, who flew him here from Denton for this appearance.

Last year Dr. Maddox spoke on the same subject in the Wayland chapel. According to an estimate by Dr. Marshall, he addresses an average of 100.00 college students each year on this topic.

Boasting his position with quotations from leading medical authorities, he traced the connection between smoking and lung cancer, which has increased tremendously in the last 25 years.

Because the use of tobacco constricts blood vessels in the face as well as elsewhere in the body, the speaker showed from research that smokers looked six years older than non-smokers, on the average.

The single four-drawer filing cabinet may cost as much as $29 a year to maintain an expensive floor space, and by moving the contents to cardboard containers on steel stacks, and centralizing storage in low-rental space, Uncle Sam can cut this figure to $2.45 per year.

Polly Anna Club Entertained With Early Breakfast

The home of Mrs. Derrell Wood was the scene of a "Come as You Are" breakfast for the Polly Anna club Saturday morning, April 14, that day being the Wood's anniversary. Members were aroused early that morning by Mrs. Martha Parrish and brought to the Wood home.

Spring garden flowers formed the center piece of the table, as well as a colorful gum drop candy tree, set in a reflector with "early spring" glassware birds in the limbs of the tree. One of these birds was presented to Mrs. Opal Sloan as being the "best dressed member" for the occasion. Other members present were Meses. Carrie Baxter, Ethel Waldroupe, Myrl Wofford, Clara Reiser, Effie Smith, Ella Mae Carter, Alma Dutton, and Florene Wofford. Mrs. Wood was assisted by Mrs. Mayme McGhee.

Mrs. Smith Presents Recital Tues. Night

Mrs. Oran Smith will present twelve pupils of junior high school age in a piano and voice recital, Tuesday night, April 25 at 8:00. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McClung moved this week to Turkey where Mr. McClung will be in the insurance business.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Mudgett of Slaton visited Mr. and Mrs. George Myers last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Blanchard and Adienne of Dallas, and Mrs. Virginia Thomas of Amarillo visited their father, B. A. Thomas, who has been ill, and the Thomas family last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Orr and Mrs. Frank Jones left Saturday for Lawton, Okla. to be with Mrs. Orr's mother who is ill.

B&PW Entertain Employers With Special Program

The employers of the Business and Professional Women of Lockney were entertained with an interesting program and chicken dinner on "Bosses Night" Tuesday, April 18, in the basement of the Methodist Church.

Mrs. Ada Bailey served as toastmaster for the program and introduced the speakers, who are both professional workers in the Department of Public Welfare of Texas.

Clarissa Nicholson of Crosbyton, a field worker in the department of Public Welfare, spoke on the state-owned Cancer Clinic in Houston, which was started some years ago when M. D. Anderson left a 15 million dollar endowment for such a clinic. This is the only state that owns any hospital solely for cancer work and research, she said.

Mrs. Johnny Weaver from Spur, District Supervisor in the Public Welfare department, gave a stewardship report on "How the Money is spent in the department of Public Welfare in Texas." Mrs. Weaver's special interest in the department concerns assistance for the aged. She stressed the fact that this money spent is "assistance," and not "old age pension" as the average citizen thinks of it. Mrs. Weaver stated that the average check received in Floyd County was $36.43 per month, whereas the average check for the whole state is only $31.00. Eleven thousand dollars is spent each month in Floyd County for this purpose. The old age assistance ranks third in money annually expended in Texas, she said.

C. L. Record sang two solos.

Judge Harold LaFont spoke a few words extemporaneously when called on about the work of the legislature. Regarding the Anderson Cancer Clinic, he said that the legislature appropriated 3 million dollars for that foundation in the last session. Judge LaFont also spoke on the importance of citizens letting the Legislators know what is thought of government employees that they are working for the people.

Mayor and Mrs. F. C. Harmon from Floydada were present and gave a response to their welcome. Mr. and Mrs. Jess Patterson of Floydada also were present.

Each member of the club introduced her guest.

Members and guests present were: Ellen Wiley, June Bybee, Edna Mae Honea, Edell Sams, Clara Copeland, Mary Ida Rose, Lucy Dean Record, Wilma Brown, Velma Cox, Frances O'Hearn, Ada Bailey, Bernice Miller.

M. W. Wiley, Wayne Bybee, T. J. Honea, Gerald Sams, Barry Barker, C. H. Rose, C. L. Record, Claude Brown, Jessie Cox, Mrs. Jenny Smith, O. C. Bailey, Sam Miller.

Annual Banquet Honors Seniors

The W. M. U. of the Baptist Church entertained the graduating seniors with their annual formal Sweetheart Banquet, April 6, in the banquet room of the church.

The tables were decorated in the Easter motif. They were centered with green nests with eggs, chicks and rabbits, with candles through the center of the table. The speaker's table was centered with an arrangement of yellow Hydrangea with double candelabra. There was a mint cup and place card at each plate. The place cards were chickens standing behind nests, with the individual's name written beside the chicken.

Mrs. I. A. Applewhite welcomed the guests. Rev. E. J. Cobb gave the invocation. Shelby Collier, head of the department of music at Wayland College, gave an address. He explained customs of four different countries, after each one a student of Wayland dressed in the costume of that country, sang a folk song of the country.

Goree Applewhite gave the benediction. The menu for the banquet consisted of frozen fruit cocktail, baked ham with pineapple rings, green beans, candied sweet potatoes, golden glow salad, coffee, hot rolls, and strawberry chiffon pie. Girls from the Junior class served.

Septic Tank Is Recommended For Farm Home Disposal

COLLEGE STATION—A septic tank and disposal field is usually recommended as the best waste disposal system for the farm home. The septic tank, says A. & M. College, is not a mysterious object. It is merely a holding tank for the household wastes where decomposition disposes of these wastes quickly, easily and in a sanitary manner.

He says sanitation authorities agree that a septic tank should be made large enough to hold the maximum amount of sewage discharged into it in any given 24 hour period. The minimum sized tank should hold no less than 500 gallons. Tanks that are too small soon become overloaded with sludge and raw sewage and this will pass into the disposal field and clog up the system.

He says a grease trap is not considered necessary for the ordinary household if the tank has a capacity of 500 gallons or more. The location of the tank, however, is of primary importance. It is cheaper, he says, to build the tank close to the source of the sewage because less water tight line will be needed. It is not, however, a good practice to locate a septic tank too close to a building for this makes cleaning difficult. All septic tanks will need cleaning during their life of usefulness so locate it where it can be reached easily for the cleaning job. The tank itself, he says, should never be a part of any foundation wall.

The disposal field should consist of two or more tile lines. If a single line is used, there is a greater chance that the field will become water logged and thus cause trouble. He says unless you live in an area where the soil is very porous, it is advisable to provide a porous bed of gravel or crushed stone for the disposal field. Sewage, it should be remembered, is not necessarily rendered harmless in the disposal field; therefore, the field should be located a safe distance away from wells and water supply lines. He says the minimum distance should be 100 plans for constructing the right kind of a septic tank and disposal field from your local county health unit, the State Health Department or from your local extension agent. He says they'll be happy to advise you on the amount of disposal tile needed for the soil type in your area and also on the construction of the system. He concludes with this word of advice, get a good plan and then follow it in constructing your septic tank and laying out your disposal field.

Cattle Fattening Project Concluded, Tech Dean Reports

LUBBOCK—A cattle-fattening experiment at Texas Tech has demonstrated the wisdom of buying calves in the fall and having them ready when grazing is available.

The research project began in November, 1948, and has been concluded following three separate phases of feeding, Dean of Agriculture W. E. Stangel reported.

For 172 days the winter stocking phase was in progress, and at the end the estimated gross profit was $31.26 per head. The grazing of yearlings took 185 days, and an estimated gross profit of $57.91 per head was recorded. Dry-lot fattening took 152 days, finishing with an estimated $91.60 gross profit.

Dean Stangel said final results of the project would not be available until the marketing report is obtained. He said the experiment was carried on longer than necessary to show the cattle at the two South Plains Junior Fat Stock shows in Lubbock during March of 1949 and 1950.

The schedule for the day will include a tour to view conservation practices applied and a barbecue and program at the noon hour.

The Floydada Chamber of Commerce and Floyd County Board of Development has announced that they will again assist the district with the noon meal for the crowd attending the annual field day. Bob Crowell, manager of the organization, reported that meat for the barbecue and beans will be furnished and that they will assist in arranging for the food to be prepared and served.

The Plainview Hospital & Clinic Foundation

Wishes to make the following statements for there still seems to be considerable confusion as to the exact status of those associated with the institution.

Absolute authority over the institution is vested in the Board. Of the board members only one-third can be persons previously associated with the institution; the remaining two-thirds must be citizens who are prepared to assume the responsibilities and do the hard work that will be necessary if the institution is to give maximum service.

The men who comprise the Board are representative of the community as a whole and they will undoubtedly do their best to promote its welfare. For these services they will receive no remuneration.

The clinic physicians will continue their work in the same pattern as before. Both the Doctors Nichols will continue their full time work with the institution. They will serve as surgeons and they will assist in the administrative work, under the supervision of the Board which will henceforth be supreme in all matters of policy.

It is hoped and believed that the people we serve will benefit from these changes.

Suggestions For Control of Polio Given by Dr. Cox

The virus of poliomyelitis has been found in the nasal and respiratory passages; and in the intestinal tract, of humans, and has been isolated from the secretions and excretions of these areas. It is quite apparent that control measures should be directed toward preventing the spread of the virus from these sources.

The following suggestions should be taken during the summer and fall months when poliomyelitis is most liable to occur:

1. When suspicious symptoms (headache, undetermined fever, vomiting, drowsiness, stiffness of neck or back) appear, a physician should be called at once.
2. Sudden chilling and over-exertion should be avoided.
3. Elective surgery involving the nose and throat areas should be postponed.
4. Good personal hygiene, especially of children, is very important at all times.
5. Children should avoid crowds and sick persons when poliomyelitis is prevalent.
6. Individual home sanitation should be perfected to include protected water supply, waste disposal and proper control of rats and insects, especially flies and mosquitoes.

Blue Bonnets To Lawmakers

On July 1st, housewives will be able to buy oleomargarine without paying a federal tax, thanks to the tax repeal bill signed recently by President Truman. Here two young housewives in blue bonnets visit Washington to cheer final release from the 64-year-old tax restrictions on margarine. They are (l. to r.) Mrs. Elliott Daxe, of Camden, N. J., and Mrs. J. C. Alcaate of New York, N. Y.

7. Community sanitation should be rigidly controlled the year around. The following recommendations are offered:

- a. Approved water and sewerage systems.
- b. Proper disposal of garbage and other waste products.
- c. Sanitary supervision of public swimming pools.
- d. Adequate supervision of all food handling establishments in order to assure compliance with State Food and Drug Laws, especially regarding sterilization of dishes and utensils.
- e. The elimination of flies, mosquitoes, insects, and rats, through good basic sanitation, supplemented by disinfectants and insecticides.
- f. All milk for sale should come from approved sources.
- g. Communicable diseases may be minimized through the observance of good public health practices. For further information consult your local city or county health unit.

Methodist Notes

Our revival meeting closed Sunday night, but we hope that the results of it will continue on and on. Forty-three people were added to the church. Many others came to the altar re-dedicating their lives to God. We have been blessed in a wonderful way.

In fact, I feel that our entire community has had a great spiritual blessing. For I hear splendid reports from the revivals held in other churches of our town. We rejoice with each church in their success.

Come to church Sunday. We need every member working. God helps us to go forward, open to truth, friendly, fearless, faithful and filled with the Joy of living.

group were guests at the annual dinner given by General Ernest O. Thompson Friday night. A mechanical clinic was the feature of the Saturday morning session and the meeting was closed with a luncheon Saturday noon given by The Amarillo News-Globe. At this luncheon the group decided to return to Amarillo next year for their convention and selected officers for the coming year. Officers are J. C. Howell, Wheeler, president; Hershel Combs, Memphis, vice-president; Lester Campbell, McLean, secretary; new directors, Paul Allingham, Amarillo News-Globe, W. Glynn Morris, Amarillo Times; Cal Brumley, Tulia Herald, Harold Hudson of the Ochiltree County Herald, Perryton; directors re-elected, Edgar Hays, Lockney Beacon, Allen Hodges, County-Wide News, Littlefield, Ralph Jullard, Pampa Dailey News.

Most impressive talk of the meeting to the local people was Wes Izzard's story of his trip to Europe last year and especially the part in which he described his unusual experience at a night club in Vienna. As the story went, Mr. Izzard and Lawrence Hagy, his traveling companion, heard of a restaurant and night club where the music was especially good. By flashing a thousand-franc note, the men persuaded the head waiter to seat them near the stringed orchestra. They were not disappointed in the music, Mr. Izzard reported, and it was enjoyed very much. However, during the course of the evening, as the custom was, each of the nine violinist of the orchestra left their places and went to separate tables over the room playing especially for that table although they were playing in melody. The man coming to the table occupied by the Amarillo men was a large dark fellow. At the conclusion of the number, it was customary for those who had been entertained to slip a thousand-franc note under the strings of the violin. This custom was complied with and then Mr. Izzard asked the man, "Can you fellows play 'The Eyes of Texas?'" He looked at them peculiarly and asked, "Are you fellows from Texas?" When they answered in the affirmative he asked: "What part?" "Amarillo," they answered. "Do you know where Olney, Texas, is?" he asked. "Yes." "I used to work on an oil rig at Olney back during the depression but things got so bad I couldn't make a living. I went up to Wichita Falls and went back to playing the violin, and here I am." The man then returned to his platform and the orchestra played "The Eyes of Texas." The amazing thing was that when the tune started five tables of people in the small dining room immediately rose to their feet and cheered. One-third of the people in that small night club in Vienna were from Texas.

As Mr. Izzard said—it's a small world.

Care of Roses Important in April

COLLEGE STATION—April is a busy month for the rose gardener. It is a little too late to plant roses unless you are using plants that have been held in cold storage, but according to Sadie Hatfield, extension landscape gardening specialist of Texas A. & M. College, there are a lot of things that can be done to make those you already have growing more productive and beautiful.

Roses do best in a fertile soil. If fertilization is needed, now is the time to make application she says. Two or three pounds of 4-12-4 or 5-10-5 commercial fertilizer for each hundred square feet of space in the rose garden is about right but if you want to be more accurate, she suggests that you ask your local county agent about local fertilizer recommendations.

The fertilizer should be worked into the soil by shallow cultivation. Deep cultivation at this time of the year will destroy the young feeder roots that are near the ground surface and this may retard plant growth and cut down on the production of flowers. The rose garden can be mulched at this time and she says a good mulch of decayed leaves, straw, grass clippings, pine needles or well decayed barnyard manure will help hold moisture, keep down weed and grass growth in the garden and will improve the tilth of the soil.

She says roses should be checked now for new sprout growth. They come from the root stock; usually grow very rapidly and are easy to recognize because the leaves are small and light green in color. They should be removed for they can crowd off the more desirable rose graft.

Roses require good drainage, yet they need plenty of moisture for heavy flower production. She says they should not be sprinkled; because moisture applied to the leaves encourages black spot and mildew. Both diseases are likely to develop during periods of rainy or cloudy weather and she says roses should be dusted with copper-sulphur dust within 24 hours after each rain for control.

Black spot is "public enemy No. 1" so far as roses are concerned. It causes the black spots on the leaves; turns them yellow later and they drop. Die back of the stems usually follows and if the disease is not brought under control, the entire plant may die.

Miss Hatfield says that out-of-shape plants may be pruned from now until summer but no more growth should be removed than is necessary. Prune only to keep the plants a convenient size and attractive in form, she adds.

Booklet Explains Underground Water Law To Farmers

Designed to familiarize farmers with the Underground Water Conservation law, an eight-page booklet published by the Agricultural Extension Service is being distributed by the county agents throughout the High Plains wherever there is irrigation water.

Using a question and answer method, the booklet outlines the basic concept of the Underground Water Conservation Law, which was passed by the Texas Legislature in the spring of 1949.

"Every farmer and every water user in an area depending on underground water should be familiar with this law and how it will affect him," The Extension Service points out.

The law hinges on two points. First, it declares that the water under his land belongs to the individual owner and its use cannot be limited, allocated, prorated or taken away.

Second, the law lays the framework for organization of underground water conservation districts, assigning to them powers of conserving, preserving, protecting and re-charging the underground water in reservoirs over which they have jurisdiction.

Coupled with power to re-charge underground water reservoirs, the district has the right to prevent waste of irrigation water, thus insuring a continuing supply of the irrigation water which is vital to the prosperity of thousands of High Plains farmers and businessmen.

Control of districts is strictly local, by an elective board of five directors.
