Mr. Storie will build a five-stand 90-saw all steel Lummus gin and will install all the latest ginning equipment, he told F. L. Brown, local real estate man who handled the sale of property.

This is the second new gin for Lockney announced within the past two weeks. Last week H. E. Whittenburg announced that he would build a new gin, probably on the site of his old one here, which is the former Spears gin.

Re-election candidates include Clarence A. Guffee, county superintendent of schools, Frank L. Moore, county judge, Mary L. McPherson, district clerk, J. J. Harris, Justice of the Peace, Precinct 2 and 3 and Hugh Counts, Commissioner, Precinct 2.

Public Schools Week Mar. 2-8

Thousands of Texas adults will go back to school during the week of March 2-8 in observance of the Second Annual Public Schools Week, which has as its theme "Democracy in Action."

Supt. Sidney Reeves said that local schools would observe the event and that parents would be invited to visit classes, inspect the school buildings and eat at the school lunchroom during this special week.

Governor Allan Shivers has proclaimed March 2-8 as Public Schools Week in Texas. In his proclamation the Governor said:

"One of the basic institutions upon which we rely for the furtherance of our American ideals is the public school system. Public schools, by enabling every child to gain a liberal education regardless of station in life, promote recognition of the responsibilities of citizenship and constitute a major bulwark against subversive doctrines.

"We in Texas are proud of the school system that has been developed in our state. Its success has been due to many factors — the interest of mothers and fathers in their children, the cooperative efforts of state and local officials, and the energy and determination of those public spirited men and women who are devoting their lives to the teaching of our children.

"The continued progress of our school system requires increased public understanding of the importance of education and the greatest possible encouragement and support of our teachers."

Governor Shivers' proclamation follows a resolution adopted last summer by the Texas State Board of Education designating the week of March 2-8 as Public Schools Week. The resolution urged that every citizen visit a public school during the period to become personally acquainted with the programs and accomplishments of the state's system of public schools.

The Texas Education Agency has requested local public school officials throughout the state to invite the citizens of their respective communities to visit classrooms, and to plan programs with the purpose of giving the pupils and the citizens a better understanding of the school program.

Public Schools Week was observed officially for the first time in Texas last March. In hundreds of communities thousands of citizens visited their public schools in groups. Many visitors had not been inside schools in years.

Statistics compiled by the Texas Citizens' Committee on Public Schools Week following the first Public Schools Week program revealed a great awakening on the part of the public to the problems of their local public schools.

Harvest Poor Feed Crop With Lambs

Lubbock. — How to get the most out of the relatively poor field of hegari was demonstrated by the animal husbandry department recently at Texas Tech in a lamb-feeding experiment.

The experiment, involving 11,300 acres of dry-land hegari and 196 head of Rambouillet lambs, was conducted by the department with the aid of Claude Ash, Bronte graduate student. Ash will use the data collected for his master's thesis.

Each acre of hegari and supplemental feed produced 195 pounds of lamb, when sold at the market price would bring $54.60. If the hegari had been cut and sold, it would have brought an estimated $30 an acre.

Seventeen head of lambs grazed, and were fed a supplemental formula, on each acre. The formula, costing about $2 for each acre of hegari consumed, consisted of 44 pounds of cottonseed meal, eight pounds of cottonseed hulls, 27 pounds of cottonseed meal, eight pounds of each of said and limestone.

Harvesting the hegari acreage with livestock brought the department $22 more per acre than it would have realized if it had harvested the grain commercially.

In the Grinding Tests that Won it the Motor Trend Magazine Award, Chrysler proved itself the Best Engineered Car in America

CHRYSLER SURPASSED ALL OTHERS WHEN MOTOR TREND TESTED FOR:

- Acceleration Over Standing 1/4 Mile in Seconds
- Average Top Speed in M.P.H.
- Maximum Road Horsepower
- Pounds per Road Horsepower

15 different American stock automobiles—equipped as you buy them—were driven by Motor Trend Magazine as hard as steel and rubber can be driven. In these actual road tests of efficiency and performance, measured by the most accurate instruments obtainable, Chrysler proved itself superior to all others. In 13 tests Chrysler was first in 7—tied in 2, making a total of 9 out of 13 . . . and first in total points!

Only by taking an engine to the limit of its potential, only by turning the corners at high speeds, applying brakes for emergency stops, torturing body, springs and shock absorbers, can you learn just what performance you can expect from the make of car you drive. The results of the Motor Trend tests were conclusive . . . as Chrysler, again, proved itself the one best car in America.

The Motor Trend Award, like numerous other honors today's Chrysler has won, is both a tribute and a tribute to Chrysler's magnificent Fire-Power engine and master engineering. Each demonstrates why, among men and women who know automobiles . . . Chrysler is always the first choice.

START SODA CARE YOUNG

NATIONAL CHILDREN'S DENTAL HEALTH DAY is February 4th. Regular and frequent visits to the dentist help forestall serious tooth troubles — disclose cavities while they're small and less apt to hurt. Intelligent home-care calls for frequent brushing — preferably after every meal — and the choice of a good dentifrice. Ordinary baking soda, acceptable to the Council on Dental Therapeutics as a dentifrice, cleans teeth without any abrasive action, never scratches tooth enamel. As economical as it is effective, soda is a particularly wise choice for the youngster who is apt to spill as much as he uses when he's first learning to brush his own teeth.

W. M. S. Have Bible Study

The Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church met Monday evening in the church for Bible Study. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Sid Thomas, president. Mrs. E. J. The next meeting, February 5, will be at the home of Mrs. Barney Manning.

Piano Artist On Floydada Concert

Leonid Hambro, heralded by his fellow artists and the public alike as one of the outstanding discoveries in this generation of piano virtuosos, will appear in concert to the delight of members of the Floydada Municipal Concert Association. The concert to be held at the Floydada High School auditorium on Wednesday, Jan. 30, will begin promptly at 8:30 p. m. o'clock.

The membership of the association here is in for a brilliant display of keyboard wizardry as proof of what has gone to make Mr. Hambro's appearance a very special event wherever he has performed across the length and breadth of the land. Leonid Hambro owes much of his popularity on the concert stage not only to his superb pianistic but also to that indefinable quality known as "audience touch."

From the moment Mr. Hambro makes his first entrance, the audience seems somehow to know and sense that here is an artist who considers it a privilege to perform and who, along with his listeners, is going to enjoy the evening fully. Mr. Hambro states candidly, "I love to play for people — and I am happiest when I am at the piano in front of an audience. I think it is great fun!" Thus he quickly destroys the oft held notion that artists are a peculiar breed of people with their heads in the clouds.

Mr. Hambro is an exponent of the proposition that the only difference between the artist and the layman is in the work they do. In sincere modesty Mr. Hambro propounds that the lawyers, doctors, farmers, merchants and housewives are 'artists' in their own direction just as he is an artist at the piano. And he is as anxious to hear their interpretations of our daily problems as he is to expound his own thoughts through the medium of music.

A man shall be satisfied with good by the fruit of his mouth; and the recompense of a man's hands shall be rendered unto him.—Proverbs 12:14.

This is election year local, state and national. If you expect to vote you must pay your poll tax not later than January 31. We urge every adult between the ages of 21 and 60 to pay your poll tax. If someone attempted to prevent you from voting you would grow very angry and vote if there was any possible way to do it. Yet you may prevent yourself from voting by neglecting to pay your poll tax. It takes very little effort and very little money to pay a poll tax. Do it today. Remember the deadline—January 31.

It appears from here that Eisenhower is getting a more enthusiastic reception from the Democrats than the Republicans. Someone has said that no one knew what he stood for. But Eisenhower made a number of speeches during his tour of the nation previous to accepting the job in Europe and in these he discussed many national and international issues always coming out clearly with his opinion of the issue at hand. In one of them he said "How far can a government go in taxing away property rights and still not leave the government the master of the people instead of their servant?"

In another speech he said "If all Americans want is security they can go to prison. They'll have enough to eat, a bed and a roof over their head. But if an American wants to preserve his dignity and his equality as a human being, he must not bow his neck to any dictatorial government."

Eisenhower has said many other things about the issues of the day. Of course at the present time he cannot make political speeches but he has said enough in the past to let the American people know where he stands.

The building of a cotton compress and warehouse here is a fortunate thing for Lockney and it came without any solicitation from any local person as far as we know. The city has had several breaks like that but how many more could we have had and can we get it we went out and tried to do something for ourselves. We are still of the opinion that the old oil mill building might be utilized for a city-building industry of some sort if enough local encouragement was given the matter. But local efforts must be organized and we do not at present have a local organization strong enough to speak for the entire city. Which reminds us—what happened to that Board of Development organization we had started here last year?

With the richest farming area in Texas, outside of the Rio Grande Valley, to draw from there is no reason why Lockney shouldn't continue to grow and prosper. There are many industrial developments that are by-products of a farming area that could be brought here—especially those that develop from irrigated farming. Maybe we ought to do a little advertising of the advantages of our area. It is very probable that many people don't know about it.

Trees are the most permanent of all plants used in landscaping and careful planning should precede the actual planting.

MEXICAN WORKERS

President Truman will assume a tremendous responsibility if he is instrumental in preventing a renewal or, at least a temporary extension of the U. S. Mexico Labor agreement which expires February 11.

He has expressed "fear" that the understanding will end on that date unless stricter laws governing the movement of Mexican labor to the harvest fields of the U. S. are passed by Congress. He referred to laws of the type he advocates—which, according to their critics, would surrender the control of this labor to the CIO. The possibility that Congress will enact any such laws, sooner or later, is virtually non-existent.

If Mr. Truman's influence blocks a renewal or extension of the present agreement, he cannot escape a large share of the responsibility for the almost certain failure of the farms and ranches of the nation to reach the high goals set for them this year by the Department of Agriculture.

Some of the most productive areas of this country, including the entire Southwest from the Mississippi river to California, depend largely on Spanish-speaking labor to cultivate and harvest their crops. If production in this vast area falls short—then crops for the nation as a whole will be short also. The remainder of the nation cannot produce in sufficient abundance to offset such shortages.

No one apparently is satisfied with the present agreement. Everyone apparently agrees it should be revised.

But it is better than no agreement at all. It has made Mexican labor available which has resulted in larger U. S. crops of many kinds—cotton among others. It has been instrumental in providing jobs for thousands of Mexicans who were unemployed in their own country. Defective though it may be, both nations have benefited from it.

Both will suffer unless an extension of its provisions allows time to try to work out something more satisfactory. Mr. Truman will have to accept much, if not most, of the blame if termination of the agreement means that fertile fields will remain unplanted, crops go to ruin for lack of someone to harvest them and unemployed Mexicans are denied access to jobs awaiting them in the U. S.—Lubbock Avalanche.

HORSE STILL DOES THE DRINKING

It took great courage for Dr. Colgate W. Darden, Jr., president of the University of Virginia, to declare recently that the state should abolish compulsory education above grammar school.

Dr. Darden declared that higher education has become a fetish and a legal obligation. Children that are "unwilling uninterested and comparatively less competent," he says, should not be forced to attend school. "In our enthusiasm for mass education in America, we have overdone it... we have imposed on the teaching profession a grand and glorified day nursery."

Dr. Darden apparently believes that you can lead children, and horses, to water but they do not necessarily imbibe. The problem child and his frustrated teacher suffers alike. Freed from the obligations of study and confronted with the real world is sometimes beneficial to the backward or disinterested child. Many times it is just such students who learn to regard study as a privilege, and spend their leisure time and earnings at it. Such conditions gave rise to men like Benjamin Franklin, William Knudsen and Thomas Edison.

Penalizing the brilliant student in favor of his disinterested or incapable classmate has long rankled educators. Dr. Darden's protest shows that the issue is far from dead.—Ralls Banner.

TAXES! TAXES!

Last year's session of Congress voted appropriations of $97,730,541,716. That's about $635 for every man, woman and child in the United States. It's $2,540 for every family of four. In fact, it's a lot more money than it was necessary to appropriate. Chairman Cannon of the House Appropriations Committee said recently that "never has there been such delay and confusion and attendant waste as there has been this year." Let's all think of his words when paying taxes.—Crosbyton Review.

Mrs. Dell Fowler has been appointed post mistress for Lockney. Her nomination was sent to the Senate one day last week. She will take charge as soon as commission arrives and bond is made and accepted by the department.

The brick work on the First National bank building is nearing completion and the finishing work will soon be underway.

J. A. Baker is moving this week into his new building which is just about completed. The building is the best arranged for a general store in this section.

Tuesday evening late a horse driven to a buggy ran away in the west part of town and injured Mr. and Mrs. Jim Griffith and knocked their baby unconscious. Another lady and child were in the buggy and they, too, were injured. Dr. Pennington was called and administered to the unfortunates.

Lucian Martin and Miss Fronia Bell were married at the Methodist parsonage last Sunday. Rev. Leon Henderson officiating. Both of the young people are popular in this community and the expressions of well wishes are quite numerous.

Big Job Ahead For Farmers

College Station. — Farmers the nation over are asked to produce more in 1952 than ever before. The demand for agricultural products is great and seems likely to continue that way. Factors behind these great demands are our fast growing population, the needs of the military and a margin for exports and safe reserves.

According to C. H. Bates, farm management specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the job at hand calls for wise planning and the efficient use of farm labor, equipment and materials. He says that allocations of steel, copper and aluminum for farm machinery and implements for the first quarter of 1952 are sufficient to turn out about 70 to 75 per cent of the estimated equipment needed by farmers during the period.

The items most likely to be in short supply are large tractors, automatic balers, combines, field choppers, cotton pickers, power sprayers, fencing, metal roofing, portable irrigation systems, and galvanized pipe. Bates urges farmers to get machinery repaired well ahead of the time for using it; keep a few extra parts on hand; use the best possible maintenance methods for they will add years of the life to machinery and equipment and last but not least get all scrap metal back on the defense job by selling it.

The goals for all major crops have been set as high as USDA specialists consider it sound and practical to set them, says Bates. They have aimed to provide a balance of crops to meet the greatest needs. Available crop land is limited and every acre should be put to its best use.

Bates says more nitrogen fertilizer is expected to be available but substantially less than farmers need. There'll be about 10 per cent less phosphate than last year. The outlook for chemicals for pest control indicates that supplies will be adequate though some substitutes may need to be made.

Bates believes the labor situation may be even tighter than in 1951 and especially during the harvest season.

These are but a few of the problems ahead and are the reason why Bates says the solution will call for expert management and greater efficiency on every farm job. He says the entire family has a part to play in this great drive for more production, for defense farming really begins in the farm home.

Right now, says Bates, is a good time to check all farm machinery and equipment. Replace the machines that cannot be repaired and get those that can be repaired in top operating shape because breakdowns and accidents during the production seasons can materially reduce the output of an individual as well as the farm. Proper maintenance and high operating efficiency for all farm machinery and equipment is a must for 1952.

PLEASURE-PACKED PROGRAM PLANNED FOR FARM FAMILIES

FARMERS' DAY — Pictured here is a scene from the movie, "Galahad Jones" which will be shown free at the Plains Theatre here on Monday, Feb. 4 which is John Deere Day in Lockney. The Lockney Implement Company annually sponsors a John Deere Day at which free lunch, movies and other entertainment are furnished farmers of this area and their families. The picture to be shown centers around a farmer's son, recently graduated from law school, who thwarts the efforts of a big-time crook to profit from his political connections.

ONE-A-DAY HOME HINTS

Self-Employed Must Pay SS Tax

If you work for yourself, you may need a social security account number when you file your income tax return for 1951, according to John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock social security office.

Hutton said that the 1950 amendments extended old-age and survivors insurance coverage to all self-employed persons except farmers and members of certain professional groups, such as doctors, lawyers, architects, engineers, public accountants, and funeral directors. Even farm operators, or people self-employed in the excluded professions are affected if, in addition to their regular work, they engage in a self-employment enterprise covered by the law. For example, a doctor who also operates a drugstore, or a lawyer who is self-employed as an insurance broker. If you are covered by the law, you'll have to pay social security tax when you file your Federal income tax return for 1951, unless the net earnings derived from your trade or business are less than $400 for the taxable year. Payment of the tax is mandatory if you meet the requirements; however, only the first $3,600 of your net earnings will be taxed. The tax rate for 1951 is 2-3/4% for self-employed persons, and the tax must be paid in full when you file your 1951 tax return.

Self-employed persons who do not already have social security numbers can get them from the Lubbock office of the Social Security Administration. That office has just received a supply of a new booklet called DO YOU

WORK FOR YOURSELF? which explains social security for the self-employed. Any interested person can obtain a copy free of charge by writing a letter or postcard to the Social Security Administration, 1311 Texas Avenue, Lubbock, Texas.

A Representative of the Lubbock Social Security Office will be in Lockney at the Post Office on Tuesday, January 29th at 2:30 p. m. to assist persons in Social Security matters.

Mrs. Boteler Asks For Treasurers Job

Mrs. V. H. Boteler, a long-time resident of the county and a veteran in public service, this week announces her candidacy for the office of county treasurer of Floyd county, subject to the Democratic primary in July. Relative to her race Mrs. Boteler says:

"I would appreciate being elevated to the position of county treasurer of my county and ask the people to elect me to the place.

"I have served the public in various capacities for a number of years and feel qualified to undertake the responsibilities of treasurer. For six years I was secretary and assessor-collector of Floyd Independent School District and handled all the details of the office, including handling the money and keeping the books.

"It is my plan to make an active campaign. I expect to see most of the voters before primary day, and personally seek their support for treasurer."

Truth may be stronger than fiction, but it isn't nearly so marketable.

A bowlegged man can always be thankful he wasn't born a girl.

Thank goodness there are still a few people who can radiate friendship and conversation without running for office.

ONE-A-DAY HOME HINTS

A comfortable, evenly heated home is a healthy home for the family. Save doctor bills by making sure that the house is adequately protected by a modern gas-fired furnace for the cold months. And save money, too, by having the matter looked into out-of-season, the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association recommends.

Type, quality, size, growth ability, disposition, and the milk production of the mothers of both the cows and bulls to be used for herd replacements should be considered by buyers of feed animals.

A home garden in 1952 can become the source of much low priced food; may be the means of improving the family diet and working the garden will provide recreation for the gardener.

Rest Is Best Treatment For Common Cold

The common cold, one of mankind's oldest and most prevalent afflictions, gets shoved around more than any disease, not only from one "kerchoo" to another but also by the written word. Reams of material have been written about the cold, millions of dollars have been spent by the public to cure the cold and by scholars to find a cure. Everything about the cold is stupendous, colossal, gigantic. And not a whole lot more is known about it than was a century or two ago.

They've changed the name of it, even, trying to pin it down to something else. Catarrh, which meant a flowing down (quite graphically), must have been a bit too broad for some noses because the cold not goes by the name of "the common cold" in most circles, though it may masquerade as an acute upper respiratory infection, rhinitis, or coryza (which sounds like a sneeze).

The very first sign of a cold is felt in the nose or back there at the top of the throat. It may be an itchy or tickling feeling, a dryness or rawness, but if you're real observant, you'll take that as the signal that you've got a cold coming on. And you feel a little chilled or a bit irritable along with that tickle or itch.

If you'd tuck yourself in bed, drink lots of water and take an aspirin at this point, you probably would nip that cold in the bud. Chances are you won't or you can't, however, so about 24 hours later you can expect that cold bud to burst into full bloom.

A full bloom cold is not a pretty posy. There is sneezing, sometimes much and strenuous sneezing. Your eyes water, as does your nose. You drip. Your nose is a one-way street with traffic only moving out, no air going in, so you breathe through your mouth, making your throat feel rough and dry. You are weak, ornery, chilly, headachy and feel feverish but usually can't even have the satisfaction of finding any fever registered on the thermometer.

If you'd tuck yourself in bed, drink lots of water and take an aspirin at this point, you probably would get rid of the cold withing 24 hours. Chances are you won't or you can't however, so about 24 hours later you can expect that cold to make you feel even worse—but you most likely will have company be-because you're losing so much fluid by the drip of your nose, so you drink fluids as your thirst tells you to.

But first and foremost, tuck yourself in bed. You reduce the severity of your cold, limit its spread to others and cut down the possibility of complications by simply going to bed when you have a cold. If the cold still gets worse, call your doctor and follow his advice, but bed rest is the first treatment for the common cold.

Homemakers will find that cooking with a pressure sauce pan saves time, work and fuel and insures the food value of the products prepared.

OUR DEMOCRACY — by Mat

"JUST and GENEROUS and PROSPEROUS"

"When one starts poor, as most do in the race of life, free society is such that he knows he can better his condition... The prudent, penniless beginner in these States labors for wages awhile, saves a surplus with which to buy tools or land for himself and at length hires another new beginner to help him. This is the just and generous and prosperous system which opens the way to all, gives hope to all, and consequent energy and progress and improvement of condition to all."

Jess Patterson In Race For Sheriff

TO THE VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

After giving due consideration to the many solicitations I have received to make the race for Sheriff of Floyd County, I have decided to run for this office.

To those who do not know me I wish to state: I have spent the greater part of my life in Floyd County and I feel that I am old enough and have had enough experience to use good judgment and to be calm and considerate under all conditions, and young enough to meet the hardships that will naturally go with a Sheriff's job.

My race will be subject to the action of the Democratic Primary to be held July 26, 1952. I earnestly solicit your vote and influence.

J. A. (Jess) Patterson.

Farm Records A Big Help

College Station. — Farm records are a big aid to farmers in many ways. They are a must for figuring income tax returns and should be the basis for changing practices and cropping systems on the farm.

The present economic situation calls for expert management and the use of practices that will lead to more efficient production on the farms of the state, says John G. McHaney, economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, and farm records can be used to find the weak points in present operating plans.

Farm records, he continues, are a kind of mirror. They reflect for study the year's business. And, too, records will show what farm enterprises should be expanded or curtailed. Cost of production figures on the various crops and livestock grown on the farm may reveal that operations now considered minor should be expanded so as to more fully utilize the equipment and labor available.

When it comes to getting credit, farm records will reveal for representatives of loan agencies the productive capacity of the farm and a list of the assets, in inventory form, located on the farm. Records also indicate that the farm is being operated on a businesslike basis.

McHaney says many good farm record books are available but he especially likes the one that has been prepared by the economists and farm management specialists of the Texas A. & M. College System. The Texas Farm Record Book was designed especially for Texas conditions. It contains inventories for land, farm improvements, machinery and equipment, livestock, crops and feeds on hand, farm sales and expenses, farm products used at home, and a summary of the year's farm business.

Inventories, says McHaney, are check-ups on what a farmer owns at the start and finish of each year. Farmers who prepare income tax statements—and that gets nearly everybody — often find deductions not previously claimed after keeping records that include inventories.

Complete and accurate farm records can be had points out, McHaney, if only a few minutes each day are devoted to record keeping. He says local county Extension agents can supply information on how to order the Texas Farm Record Book or it may be bought direct from the Exchange Store, College Station, Texas.
