Poll Payments Near High Mark

Poll tax payments in Floyd County were this week nearing the record number in recent years, County Tax Assessor-Collector T. T. Hamilton reports. The total of poll taxes and exemptions up to Wednesday morning was 3242, Mr. Hamilton said. The high mark in recent years was in 1948 when a total of 3273 polls and exemptions were issued.

Deadline for paying poll taxes is tonight (Thursday) and it is possible that the total may reach 3300 or more. Poll taxes may be paid in Lockney at a booth in Powers Pharmacy here as well as at the assessor-collector's office in Floydada.

One New Candidate

One new candidate announced for office this week, that being A. K. May who is running for the assessor-collector's office. Mr. May has served the past two terms as deputy sheriff of this county, several months of that time being stationed in Lockney. Mrs. Sam A. Spence, who has served the county for several years as county treasurer, announced this week that she would not be a candidate for re-election.

Auto Registration Soon

Auto registration in the county will begin Feb. 1, Mr. Hamilton said. The auto license tags this year are black background with orange numerals, the reverse of last year. Passenger car numbers will be from BC7850 through BC9999 and from BD 10 through BD 1949.

Commercial numbers and farm truck numbers will be different this year, having a figure, a letter and more figures. The commercial numbers will run from 1-E-10 to 1-E-599 while the farm numbers will run from 5-D-6150 through 5-D-7549.

Vehicle owners should bring their certificate of title and last year's license receipt with them when registering their vehicle in order to expedite the procedure and make it much easier, Mr. Hamilton said.

Starting March 1 Frank Dodson will maintain an office at the Lockney Auto Company here to register cars in this part of the county.

John Deere Day Is Next Monday

John Deere Day in Lockney is next Monday, Feb. 4 and the local John Deere dealer, Lockney Implement Company, is making plans for a full day of entertainment for local farmers and their families.

Pat Stansell, local manager, says that his firm will furnish a free lunch to those farmers from 11 a. m. until about 1 p. m. at their store here. Following lunch a film will be shown at the Plains Theatre, the feature being "Galahad Jones" starring Richard Crane, Marjorie Lord, Elizabeth Patterson, and Jonathan Hale. The story concerns a farmer's son who graduates from law school and thwarts the efforts of big-time crooks to profit from his political connections. The picture has a good moral and plenty of laughs.

Five other new pictures will be shown during the program, one of them being "The Big Payoff" and features Tom Gordon, head of the memorable Gordon clan, who has been so popular in previous John Deere Day pictures. Another film is entitled, "Oddities in Farming" and another "What's New in '52", this film showing new John Deere implements recently developed and improved. Two other films, "The March of Harvest Time" and "Voice of Experience" complete the program.

Admission to the show will be by ticket and farmers who have not received their tickets may obtain them without cost by calling in person at Lockney Implement Co. Farmers are urged and invited to drop by the implement house at any time and get their tickets.

New Fords On Display Friday

The new 1952 Ford passenger cars and trucks will be on display at the "Whitey" Baccus Motor Co. here Friday of this week. Ford is reported to have made more changes in their new models than almost any other automobile manufacturer and the public is anxious to see the new models. Ford has three completely new lines of passenger cars, the company says, featuring Coachcraft bodies and more powerful engines.

There are a total of 18 models in the three new lines — eight in the Mainline series, seven in the Customline series, and three in the Crestline series.

"Ford Mainline cars are for buyers chiefly interested in low-cost, dependable transportation," explained L. D. Crusoe, vice-president of Ford Motor Company and general manager of Ford Division. "The Customline models incorporate many special refinements and conveniences, and the Crestline series features three luxurious body styles.

"We are fortunate that our facilities, design and tooling programs were far advanced before the Korean crisis developed, and that we could bring these new models to completion without interference with the defense program. In the meantime, we have eagerly sought defense contracts and have taken on all the work the government has requested."

Ford's styling identity is preserved in the low-wide lines of the hood and front-end of the new cars, centering around a triple-spinner, air-scoop grille arrangement. The new cars have curved one-piece windshields and rear windows, and their body lines sweep backward from extended headlights along the hood and higher fender line to the jet-tube taillight sections.

Among the 1952 models are three completely new utility passenger vehicles, one for each of

Mothers March Against Polio Here Tonight

Mothers of Lockney will march here tonight in their fight against polio, according to announcement by Bob Miller, local March of Dimes drive chairman.

Following the pattern of last year's drive, the fire siren will sound at 7 p. m. tonight and at that signal everyone who will contribute to the March of Dimes will turn on their porch lights.

The mothers of the city will then begin their march, calling at every place with a porch light is on and securing their contributions to the drive.

Mrs. Frank Messimer has been selected as captain of the drive here and her lieutenants are Mrs. Joe Parrish for the east side of town and Mrs. Kenneth Cook for the west side. Mrs. Parrish's sergeants will be Mrs. Lavon Johnson and Mrs. Dee Copeland. On the west side, Mrs. Cook's sergeants will be Mrs. L. A. Applewhite, Mrs. J. C. Kemp, Mrs. George Webster, Mrs. H. H. Mills, Mrs. Clyde Hill.

The county has a goal of $5,000 for this drive and Mr. Miller and the ladies are anxious that everyone in the city, who hasn't donated, give what they can afford to the fund. Many people have already donated and several hundred dollars is already on hand from this part of the county, Mr. Miller said.

The drive is especially important this year because of the unusual number of polio cases that have already appeared in the state. Health officials fear that this is an indication of a very bad year in polio.

B&PW Help

Meanwhile the Lockney Business & Professional Women jumped into the fight by donating $5 each to the fund in celebration of their fifth birthday here. A total of $80 had been donated by the club, Mrs. Payton Powers said Wednesday.

Ah hates worms!

Those crawlin' creatures give me the creeps. That's why I look forward to treatment with Dr. Salsbury's Wormal. It gets the worms! Tapeworms, large roundworms, and ceccal worms --- all go when Wormal's on the job. Wormal's easy to eat, too. Goes right in the mash. I'm sure glad I get Wormal often.  Ford's new Coachcraft Bodies are longer, stronger... distinctive in their modern beauty. They offer new hull-tight construction which seals out dust, weather and noise. And Ford has more color and upholstery combinations than any other car in its field!
- Out-values them all!
 With such modern design and engineering features as new Flight-Style Control Panel, new Power-Pivot Clutch and Brake Pedals, new Center-Fill Fueling, and new counterbalanced hood and deck lid, Ford adds up to more dollars and cents value than any car in its price class!

New Ford—

The three lines of cars. The Ranch Wagon in the Mainline series is a two-door, six passenger unit, with all-steel body. In the Customline, there is the Country Sedan, a four-door, eight passenger vehicle with all-steel body. In the Crestline is the Country Squire, another four-door, eight-passenger model, with wood trim over the steel side panels.

All three of the utility units are quickly convertible for light hauling tasks. The rear seat of the Ranch Wagon folds into the floor, and in the two four-door models, the center seat folds into the floor and the rearmost seat is removable.

"Only Ford in the high-volume class offers both six-cylinder and V-8 engines, three transmissions, foam rubber padding on all passenger car seats, center fill gasoline fueling, suspended-type power pivot clutch and brake pedals and a dash-mounted master brake cylinder," Mr. Smead said.

"A greatly increased use of safety glass makes our cars much safer to drive, and all four-door models have rear-door safety locks as standard equipment."

Mr. Smead said the 1952 Fords are more maneuverable and have a more comfortable ride because of new "tailored-to-model" springs, a longer wheelbase, wider front tread, a more rigid frame and a new steering linkage with a higher turning ratio. The front tread is 58 inches and the wheelbase is 115 inches.

"Ford is the world's largest builder of V-8 engines and has built more than 12,000,000—more than four times as many as all other manufacturers combined. The Ford Strato-Star V-8 engine—proved over billions of miles of rugged service—is more powerful than ever, with an increase from 100 to 110 horsepower this year," Mr. Smead said.

"In addition, we are introducing the new 101-horsepower Ford Mileage Maker Six, a high-compression low-friction engine produced after four years of intensive research and testing." Both Ford engines are designed to operate on regular gasolines and embody many features found only in more costly cars, such as aluminum auto-thermic pistons, full-pressure lubrication, free-turning valves and weather-tight ignition.

"The new engine is an overhead valve six that sets the pace for the industry," Mr. Smead said. "Ford's expansion program provided for the construction of a completely new engine plant at Cleveland, O., to manufacture this engine, and the facilities in this 'wonder plant' are the most advanced available."

Ford Coachcraft bodies feature weather-and-dust-tight all-steel construction, automatic posture control seats, curved front and rear glass, new insulation and sealing, curved flight-style instrument panels, and insulated body bolts which dampen noise and vibrations between chassis and the passenger area.

The luggage compartment contains more than 25 cubic feet of loading space. Counter-balancing springs help to raise the luggage compartment deck lid and the hood and to hold them open for servicing or loading.

The Derrell Woods Vacation In Arizona

Mr. and Mrs. Derrell Wood left on their vacation January 11 and headed for Tucson, Arizona where they planned to spend two weeks on a Guest Ranch known as the Rancho del Jefe located on the desert sixteen miles from Tucson. The buildings on the ranch were western in design both on the inside and the outside. The owners of the ranch took the guests on many different scenic tours around the country.

They visited the Colossal Caves, Saguaro National Park, Mt. Lemmon, and dined at Nagoles, Old Mexico. Nagoles is a small building made of solid rock that was dug out of the side of a mountain by some prisoners of Old Mexico and was at one time used as a penitentiary similar to the United States' Alcatraz. There is only one entrance to Nagoles and hence it was almost impossible for a prisoner to escape. After it was abandoned and no longer used as a prison for the hardened criminals it was made into a very scenic and beautiful place. While they were in Tucson they attended church service two Sundays at the Baptist Church where Rev. E. J. Cobb, formerly of Lockney, is now pastor.

They returned home Jan. 24 with many memories of a never-to-be-forgotten vacation. Only 300 of Texas' 40,000 miles of state-maintained highways have divided traffic lanes. In wrestling, a dog-fall occurs when both combatants touch the ground together.

Operating controls, such as the key-turn starter-ignition switch, windshield wiper, light and ventilation controls, are grouped in a safety position to the left of the steering column out of the reach of children.

Controls for interior lights, choke, lighter, heater-defroster-ventilator and radio are grouped to the right of the steering column, with the clock and ash tray near the center of the panel. The heater unit itself has been moved to clear the passenger compartment and is located under the hood. An adjustable door has been added to provide warm air directly to the right front seat. The defroster slot extends over the entire interior width of the curved glass windshield.

Ford Mainline body styles for 1952 are the business coupe, Tudor, Fordor, and the new Ranch Wagon. Customline units are the Tudor, Fordor, club coupe and the all-metal Country Sedan station wagon. The Crestline cars are the Sunliner, Victoria and Country Squire.

Treating Cotton Planting Seed Good Insurance

College Station. — The 1952 agricultural crop goals call for the highest production on record. They can best be met if every acre of cropland is put to its best use and weather conditions are favorable. Cotton producers have been asked to produce a 16 million bale crop in 1952 and Texas farmers will play a mighty important role in this undertaking.

According to Fred C. Elliott, cotton work specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, every "trick of the trade" will have to be used if the goal is met. Good management, insect control and the full utilization of labor and machinery must be used in the production operations.

Good management begins early and stays late, says Elliott. A mighty important management practice, he adds, is treating the planting seed. The scarcity of labor just adds to the importance of getting a good stand of cotton on the first planting. Replanting is an expensive job and can often be avoided by the simple process of treating the planting seed. Treating gills seed borne diseases, protects the seed and seedlings from diseases which may be in the soil and gives a better stand of cotton, he says.

The two worst cotton seedling killers in Texas are angular leaf spot and soreshin. In the Blacklands of Texas, angular leaf spot ranks next to root rot as the number one hazard in cotton production, says Elliott. It first shows up on the leaves of the young seedling and appears as a small, green, water-soaked spot that resembles a bruise. If damp weather sets in after the seedlings come up, the disease spreads over the entire plant, many of the plants may be killed. The disease effects the fruiting habits of the cotton plant and carries through to the older plants where it appears as angular spots on the leaves and as bacterial rot on the bolls.

Soreshin shows up as a brown diseased area on the stem of the cotton seedling either above or below the ground line and it causes shriveling of the plant tissues which kills the plant.

At the Temple Agricultural Experiment Substation, Elliott says cottonseed treated with either two or five per cent ceresan gave from 25 to 30 per cent better stands than did untreated seed. The plants showed less angular leaf spot and yielded more than 50 pounds of lint cotton per acre than did the plots planted with untreated seed. Seedlings from treated seed usually make much more rapid growth during the early growing season, adds Elliott.

For cotton producers who are not familiar with the process of treating cotton planting seed, Elliott suggests that they visit their local county agricultural agent for information on the chemical to use and methods for doing the treating job. He points out that producers who have large quantities of seed to treat might find it economical to have the job done by a commercial operator.

Regardless of who does the job, he says, be sure that the seed are covered with the treating agent and that the right material is used. America and her world allies need every bale of cotton that can be produced in 1952 and Elliott urges cotton farmers to use the best known production practices so that maximum yields can be obtained from every acre planted.

EDITORIAL

We then that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves.—Romans 15:1.

Today is the last day to pay your poll tax. If you expect to vote in the 1952 elections and you haven't paid your poll tax you better get a hustle on. You can pay that poll tax right in Lockney too. Mrs. Joe Foster and her girl scout troop have a booth at Powers Pharmacy and you may buy your poll tax there. Whatever you do—whether you love Truman or hate him—pay your poll tax.

Perhaps our readers noticed recently a news item in the daily newspapers to the effect that Judge Tom L. Beauchamp of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals would not be a candidate for reelection this year. We were sorely disappointed when we read this item, not that we wanted the old judge to sit on the bench another term but because we wanted the opportunity to scratch his name good and black. He's the narrow-minded bird who reversed a number of death sentences because the indictment against the defendant failed to state the victim was stomped to death "by the feet" and in another instance—that the victim was "drowned in water." He had several other similar cases reversed on equally foolish grounds.

We just imagine that the judge could read the hand-writing on the wall and knew that he just as well save his money. We imagine that most people of Texas were just waiting for the judge to get his name on a ballot so they could scratch it, and we know that most newspapers would like nothing better than to expose him in his true nature to the voters of Texas.

Tonight the Mothers of this area will march to your home and the homes of the community in an effort to raise money for the fight on polio. Turn your light on and have your donation ready for them when they call. We in this part of the country have never given our part in the March of Dimes drive and this ought to be the year we start. This fund is used for the most part in assuring that every child stricken by polio will receive treatment designed to aid the full recovery of the victim. We need to go beyond the $1.00 and $2.00 gift stage if we are to do our part. We should give to this cause as we are able.

The large cotton acreage of this county the past year and the expected larger acreage for the coming year will tend to draw additional industry to the area which may be a considerable boon to the town commercially. Already we have the promise of a compress and warehouse and two additional gins but there are other things in prospect. It seems to us, and to others with whom we have talked, that there is room for a cotton oil mill here, and for other related industries.

The Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts and possibly the Girl Scouts also need more local support if they are to prosper here, according to reports reaching this newspaper. Not only do they need more support from a monetary angle but also need more local people to give some time to helping build these organizations. The Scoutmasters and Cubmasters are giving of their time but it isn't enough. Others ought

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" By C. WILSON HARDER

The Office of Price Stabilization, better known as the Office of Price Scuttling, now acts to earn the title Office of Propaganda Supreme.

In OPS press communique No. 1128, pudgy Commissar of Confusion Mike DiSalle announces move to try to convince housewife that she pays more for food in small and medium size grocery stores.

In three test cities, with more to follow, all food stores will have to post their ceiling prices. Stores are divided into four classes. The smaller stores will post the highest ceiling prices, the medium size stores slightly lower prices and so on up the line with the big chain outlets posting the lowest ceiling prices of all.

The announced intention is to furnish housewives information on what the ceiling price should be in each type of store, but in actual practice it will result in no more than a tax-supported propaganda drive to try and sell the housewife that huge stores sell for less, because their OPS ceiling prices are less.

This erroneous assumption is contrary to facts, but regardless of facts, the program is being carried out. OPS, in the communique, admits it is not needed. The communique states this action had been postponed "because actual selling prices have been somewhat below permitted ceilings" and further "prices have been about four per cent below ceilings."

But nothing stops the Office of Price Stabilization in any way except stabilizing prices. OPS is determined to do a false propaganda job to the detriment of medium and small grocers.

But this program will furnish a lot of work and a lot of tax money expenditures, because OPS people will work out in each city the price ceilings on 400 food items for each of the four categories of stores, and print these ceiling price lists.

So the nation will now witness the spectacle of a government agency trying to accomplish a job that even the expenditure of millions by huge grocery combines has never been able to do. That is to convince all the housewives that chains sell for less. And once again a government agency is taxing the small businessman to pay for the rope with which to hang him.

Cynical Washingtonians are saying the British have become smarter in the past 140 years.

In 1812 when they took Washington, they razed the town, but failed to make any profit.

But in the recent invasion, headed by Winston Churchill, British tin monopolists profited.

RFC Administrator, Stuart Symington, fighting to keep tin prices down, had pegged $1.12 per pound as the maximum price this nation would pay for tin, or about twice the price existing the day before Korea. But one of the results of the Churchill visit was the announcement that the government has agreed to raise this to $1.25 per pound. And Symington, who had opposed any increase, has retired to private life.

With Our EXCHANGES

WE'RE IN FULL SUPPORT . . .

So Governor Shivers has announced that he will run for reelection as governor. This was of little surprise to many of us, and neither was his accompanying statement unexpected.

We like the nature of his announcement, especially when he told of choosing to stay Democratic politics, exerting efforts to make needed changes WITHIN the party.

The governor is anti-Truman; and we think his pledge to attempt within-the-party cleanup very commendable.

to pitch in and help. These are all very worthwhile movements and deserving of the time that we can give them. Let's do our part in putting them over.

Whether any case at hand is Democratic or Republican politics, civic activity, church denominationalism, or whatnot, we like to see differences settled within the organization. Too, too often a disgruntled individual will align himself with an opposing faction for just plain "spite." We somehow feel that that person would be just a bit bigger if he would stay right in there fighting, not bolting. Such a stand often is difficult, sure. But greatness never is achieved without a whetstone of hard work or mastering of difficult situations.

This newspaper, regardless of other statewide or national alignments, will support Mr. Shivers for another lease on the Austin mansion.—Frona Star.

OPPOSED TO UMT . . .

This newspaper is unalterably opposed to the enactment of universal military training.

Every military figure from George Washington to Douglas MacArthur has had high praise for the American "civilian soldier" as contrasted to soldiers of other nations who function under compulsory conscription. The military itself, now backing UMT in this session of Congress, has repeatedly gone on record to attribute the success of American armed might to the individual citizen soldier's intelligence and initiative.

The present Selective Service System has worked well in three great wars. It provides the proper number of men, and the training has proved adequate to meet the emergency for which they were selected.

It is clear that backers of UMT are using the present emergency to secure permanent conscription. That means that 100 per cent of our young men will be indoctrinated with the basic belief in violence in settlement of disputes. For eight long years our youth will be under the thumb of militarism. The result must be that these men cannot be expected to tolerate and promote democracy.

It is no accident that every totalitarian government of Europe and Asia have all developed out of a system of permanent conscription.

This nation has progressed a long way along the way of centralized government, and with it has come a corresponding withering of individual rights and democratic processes. To enact compulsory conscription now will mark another milestone toward a totalitarian form of government; and once enacted, there can be no turning back.

There is still time for lovers of liberty to smash the hopes of UMT backers by notifying Congress Mahon of your sentiments in the matter.—Rails Banner.

Wayland Students To Preach Overseas

The World for Christ Crusade, Inc. is sponsoring preaching tours through Korea, Japan and Formosa this spring and summer, according to Sam Choy, secretary of the organization and director of overseas students at Wayland College, Plainview.

Bob Bratcher, sophomore student at Wayland, is scheduled to leave for Formosa soon after the second semester begins. He will preach in the public schools and churches of that land through next summer. Bob is from Lubbock, and has spent much time in youth revivals over the plains area and elsewhere. He has served as mission chairman of the Baptist Student Union and is a member of the Volunteer Mission Band.

Hiroshi Tanamachi is planning to spend this summer in his native land of Japan preaching to the people there. Hiroshi is a junior at Wayland and has been in the United States a little over a year. He is from a Buddhist family and during the war served as a pilot of a small suicide submarine.

Sam Choy plans to go to Korea sometime this spring to preach and minister to the people there. He was born in Hawaii but is of Korean ancestry. Sam is a graduate of Wayland College and for the past several months has been working to have clothing sent to the peoples of Korea.

During their tours through the orient, these young men will be working very closely with the missionaries who are there and will be interviewing students who would like to come to the United States to study in Christian colleges.

The officers of the WFCC state that sending these young men to preach and work this year is just a part of their purpose to support charitable, educational and benevolent undertakings and help overseas students take the Gospel back to their countries. Recently elected officers for the WFCC are president, J. W. Bill Marshall, president of Wayland; vice presidents are Ralph Reaser, pastor of the College Heights Baptist Church, Plainview, and Frank Bounds, director of religious activities at Wayland. Treasurer is J. L. Harden, business manager at the college and Sam Choy, secretary.

Specialist Urges War On Bedbugs

College Station. — It's no disgrace to have bedbugs but it is a disgrace to keep them. Anytime is the time to make war on these unwelcome visitors says Bernice Claytor, home management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The common bedbug is reddish brown in color, about one-fifth of an inch long and when mashed has an odor all its own. An infestation may begin by bringing the insects home in handbags, luggage and other articles, or it may crawl from one apartment to another or even from a nearby house. It feeds only at night. If you see small specks of blood on the sheets in the morning commence searching for the culprit at once.

The newer chlorinated hydrocarbon insecticides have taken the place of old bedbug controls. The Extension entomologists recommend spraying the mattress and the bed with a five per cent DDT household spray. The cracks and the crevices of the woodwork of the room should be treated also.

This procedure may have to be repeated several times. Don't give up. The insect reproduces rapidly under favorable conditions. The life cycle of a bedbug can be completed in six to eight weeks.

Do not use the spray near an open flame because it is inflammable.

GOOD HEALTH

1. IS EFFECTIVE LUNG SURGERY NEW?

2. WHY DO DOCTORS SHINE A LIGHT NEAR YOUR EYES?

3. WHAT IS PRURITIS?

Answer to Question No. 1:

1. Only thirty years ago operations on the lungs were great rarities and were performed with most elaborate apparatus. Most of these early operations were fatal. Today operations on the lungs are performed frequently for tumors and tuberculosis. Many patients have complete recovery, due to exceptional advances in surgery. Recent research indicates that humans may live if as much as 75% of the lung tissue has been removed.

Answer to Question No. 2:

2. If the pupils of the eye fail to contract when a light is shone near them, it may reveal dysfunction of certain nerves and brain centers. Only a doctor is able to judge the exact meaning of the reaction to conduct further tests if necessary.

Answer to Question No. 3:

3. Pruritis is a medical term which merely means itching. However, it differs from the itch caused by a mosquito bite or poison ivy, in that pruritis refers to the itching which comes from no obvious cause. It sometimes occurs in such conditions as jaundice, diabetes, or just plain "nerves" (Copyright 1951 by Health Information Foundation)

Complications May Follow Cold

Prepared by the Texas Medical Association

Two of the most painful complications of the common cold are an earache and sinus trouble. And they are frequent complications of a cold.

Earaches don't always follow a cold, of course, and may start up without any "cold" signs, just the sudden aching of the ear. Most people have at one time or other experienced a sudden earache that just hurts awfully bad and then by time you get to the doctor there is no ache left at all; that type of earache is often caused by a tiny blister, bleb, which forms in the ear, flares up for a brief period and then subsides without any aftereffects.

More serious and more prolonged is the inflammation of the middle ear which is called otitis media, which may follow a cold. This earache starts up a little slower, usually with a feeling of fullness in the ear which you can relieve by swallowing or yawning. If you have a cold at the time you probably hear bubbling and cracking noises in your ear when you blow your nose.

But then the inflammation usually flares up with yawning no longer relieving the pressure and you may get a severe headache along with a ringing, roaring or hissing in your ear or ears. When the middle ear becomes completely filled with liquid, your hearing is not good and your own voice sounds unusually loud to you.

That is every indication that you have a complication from your cold or else a well-developed earache. It may last a few days or more than a week and you need to stay in the house, eat a light diet and drink plenty of water. If you have a fever, you should be in bed.

But you should not put a thing in your ear without your doctor's advice. Aspirin may help relieve or quiet the disturbing noises or it may be that stronger drugs, such as codeine or morphine, may be necessary; they should be taken only upon a doctor's advice, of course.

Ear drops, hot water bag, or electric pad may offer relief, as your doctor prescribes, but used promiscuously they may make matters worse. The sulfa drugs and penicillin are often prescribed for such an earache but it is still necessary in many cases for your doctor to puncture the tympanic membrane, sometimes more than once.

Earaches and sinus infections can lead to very serious complications themselves and deserve the most professional medical attention; they should never be "treated" by haphazard, guessing home remedies.

There are many varied treatments for sinusitis, that distressingly painful inflammation of the air cavities which join the nose. These cavities (sinuses) are lined with mucous membrane, a continuation of the same wet tissue that lines the nose, and frequently fill with infected material from the nose during or after a cold. The sinuses lie above, behind and below the eyes.

The treatment that is ideal for one sinus patient will often prove inadvisable for another. Irrigations, packings, mists of penicillin or streptomycin and surgical treatment are all entitled to a place in the medical relief of sinusitis, depending upon your doctor's preference for your particular case. There is no one method that has been accepted as the preferred treatment of all cases.

Your doctor will explain the different methods to you and what results can be expected from each. When sinusitis sufferers get together, they almost always are interested in treatment that has been successful for someone else; such is the pain and suffering in many cases of sinusitis, that the patient is willing to "try" anything. With sinuses forming a direct communication with the brain, the wrong treatment can certainly do more harm than good. Individual treatments must vary as greatly as individual nasal structures do and you must have confidence in your physician and his choice of method of relieving the congestion known as sinusitis.

Texas in 1946 completed the first Farm-to-Market Road in the nation under the post-war federal-state program.

Soil Conservation News

W. F. Ferguson, chairman of board of supervisors of the Floyd County Soil Conservation District, along with members Gilbert L. Fawver of the Baker community, Bert Bobbitt of Sterley and Cecil Purcell of Edgin community, attended the eleventh annual meeting of the Texas Association of Soil Conservation District supervisors. The meeting was held on January 23 and 24 at Brownwood.

There were 250 farmers and ranchers from the one hundred and sixty-four soil conservation districts in attendance at the day and a half meeting. Good progress is being made, the supervisors agreed, but much remains to be done before the State's agricultural land will be treated according to its needs and farmed in the manner it can best produce. Suggestions were made on how to improve their operations.

Among persons appearing on the program were Arthur Leesch of Boerne, representing the Kendall Soil Conservation District; Dr. Lee Wilborn, Assistant Commissioner of Education for Texas; Rollans Hill of Antelope, representing the Upper West Fork Soil Conservation District; Dorsey Hardeman, State Senator from San Angelo and W. R. Coleman of Dozier of the Salt Fork District.

The Floyd County Soil Conservation District reported a fine time as well as an educational meeting.

February Is Time To Plant Shrubs

College Station.—February is the last month for planting shrubs and trees in most of Texas. Remember this. Plant shrubs for screening outbuildings, barns, work areas and for windbreaks.

Sadie Hatfield, homestead improvement specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says that the lawn should be leveled and fertilized. Make the grounds easy to mow by taking up scattered shrubs and flower beds. An unbroken lawn makes a good background against which all the landscape is seen. February also is time to plant grass, continues Miss Hatfield. There are several grasses which may be used for Texas lawns. With the wide variety of soils and climate, no one grass is best adapted to all areas. Selection of the grass desired may be based on personal preference. Consult the local county Extension agents for grasses best suited to particular areas.

Check the dusting and spraying equipment to see whether it is in working condition. If it is not repair or buy new ones. Learn where and when to use insect and disease controls such as sulphur, chlordane and nicotine sulphate (Black Leaf 40).

Biggest single source of highway revenue is two cents of the four-cent state gasoline tax. The remaining two cents is divided between the schools and retirement of the county highway debt.

My new address for awhile is: Pvt. Jack R. Cole, U. S. 54039999, 27th Regt. 25th Inf. Div., A. P. O. 25, P. M., San Francisco, Calif.

This is only temporary. I haven't been assigned to a company yet.

Sincerely yours,

Although 71 per cent of total state highway traffic in Texas uses the primary highways, that mileage comprises only 41 per cent of total state mileage.

Texas highway commerce began with Mexican freighters hauling corn into San Antonio for settlers and missionaries.

May To Run For Assessor-Collector

TO THE CITIZENS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

After serious consideration, I have decided to make the race for Tax Assessor-Collector of Floyd County. I have made this decision with due regard for the qualifications for the office. I recognize that this is a public office, and that it belongs to the people of Floyd County, and I will always keep this in mind in my dealings with the people.

I have been deputy sheriff of Floyd County for the past 3 1/2 years, and am personally acquainted with most of the people in the County, and will do my best to personally solicit the vote of each and every person in the County between now and July 26th.

I would like to state here and now that if I am elected I will do my best to take care of the office in an efficient manner, and will always remember that I am responsible to the people of this County.

Very truly yours,
(Alton) A. K. May.

Bob Miller Is Calm In Crisis

Bob Miller, local drug store tycoon and man-about-town remains calm, cool and collected even in the most trying circumstances. This characteristic of the local young business man was brought out clearly only last week during a fire at the Adolphus Hotel in Dallas. Bob not only remained calm during the fire but completely ignored it along with all the excitement and went on with his reading and baby-sitting.

But to start at the beginning—Bob, his wife, their two children and his mother went to Dallas last week on a business trip. The group found rooms at the Adolphus and settled down for a comfortable visit. On Thursday morning the ladies decided to go out on a little shopping spree leaving Bob to mind the two children. They went on their way, doing the town. But imagine their surprise and fright when they returned to the hotel about noon to find three fire trucks in front of it, the whole place roped off and a great crowd gathered in streets nearby to watch the excitement. Frantic with excitement and fear the two ladies finally persuaded the police to allow them to enter the hotel and they rushed madly to the ninth floor where their rooms were located.

They rushed into the room and found Bob, sitting calmly in his easy chair, listening to the radio, reading the morning paper and minding the children, blissfully unaware of the fire just down three stories in the hotel.

Bob, in telling his side of the story, says that he smelled smoke and searched over the two rooms carefully looking for a burning cigarette or something similar. He even stepped out into the hall but the smoke didn't smell out there so he decided that he was just smelling smoke from the ashtray and dismissed the matter from his mind.

The ladies report that Bob was sorta weak the remainder of the day. Damage was estimated at $20,000.
