Wheat Yield Is Good But Acreage Is Below Normal

This is a good wheat year as far as yield is concerned, local elevator men said Wednesday, but the acreage is below normal and elevators over the county are expected to end up with receipts lighter than in a normal year.

The harvest is now 60% to 70% complete in this part of the county and it may be all over by the first of next week if the weather stays clear. County Agent Robert Gibson said Tuesday that 40% of the county acreage had been cut and that Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week would be the peak harvest days.

In this area the dry land wheat was averaging 15 bushels per acre although Raymond Ford of the Liberty community had one field that ran 27 bushels. Mr. Gibson said that the county over the yield was averaging from 18 to 20 bushels.

In irrigated wheat 43 bushels per acre on the Paul Cooper place north of town was the best yield reported here. Mrs. Charlie Merrick of Lone Star had some wheat that averaged 37 bushels. Most irrigated is running 30 to 40 bushels.

Wheat has been of good quality this year, Gibson said, testing well over 60 pounds per bushel. Ample harvest equipment is here to take care of the harvest. The harvesting chore was gradually moving west and north, just now starting in the north Panhandle and being completed in the counties to the east of Floyd.

Providence In League Lead

The Providence softball team took the lead in the Lockney softball league the past week by defeating the Fire Department team and the First Baptists.

Goodwin, Providence's fast ball pitcher, was too much for the local batters. Last Thursday night Providence defeated the Fire Department 5 to 2. All the scoring was done in the first two innings. In the first game of the night Lone Star eased by Aiken 7 to 6.

Aiken has been the hard-luck team of the league all week, having jumped into leads in all three of their games only to see a rally by the opposing team late in the game rob them of victory. Last Friday night the Aiken boys lead South Plains right up to the last inning when the South Plains team went ahead and won the game 11 to 10. In the second game of the night the Lone Star boys won over the First Baptists 15 to 5.

Tuesday night the Aiken boys jumped into a 15 to 0 lead over the Legion in the first five innings and then saw the lead melt away to lose to the Legion 19 to 15. In the second game of the night the Providence team won over the First Baptists 18 to 7.

Standings of the teams are:

Team	W	L	Pct.
Providence	6	0	1.000
Fire Department	4	1	.800
Lone Star	4	1	.800
First Baptists	2	4	.333
Legion	2	4	.333
South Plains	2	4	.333
Aiken	0	6	.000

Schedule for the coming week is:

Thursday night, June 19: Lone Star vs. Fire Dept., South Plains vs. Lockney Legion.

Friday night, June 20: Providence vs. Lone Star, Fire Dept. vs. First Baptists.

Tuesday night, June 24: South Plains vs. Providence, Lockney Legion vs. Lone Star.

Dry Weather Is Hurting Cotton

The recent high, hot winds has caused some damage to cotton, particularly to the very young cotton, by drying out the ground and causing it to die. Most of the 200,000 acres planted to cotton this year is up and has withstood the past week in fair condition. It is estimated that approximately 175,000 of the 200,000 acres are in fair condition with a good stand and making fair growth. A good rain would greatly benefit all the cotton.

Some stands of cotton were reduced to a poor stand by a fungus growth, which causes what is commonly called "damping-off" when the cotton was very small. Cotton attacked by the fungus comes up and looks very healthy for a day or two but soon begins to wilt and die. Examination of the plant reveals a dark stem at end below the ground line, quite often even the roots turn black. The fungus is caused by cool moist soils and affect seedling plants. The fungus cannot be controlled by seed treatment and rarely causes much damage. However it has caused some damage this year, County agent Bob Gibson said.

Mr. Gibson has checked fields in all parts of the county during the past few days and has found that some fields are being heavily attacked by thrip. Several producers have sprayed for them, using 3-4 pounds of toxaphene per acre. It is a good practice to spray for these insects which cause a stunting or retarding effect to the cotton. This retarding of growth causes the plants to fruit later and delays maturity. An early freeze greatly reduces the yields of cotton that have been infested with thrip.

Generally speaking there is no other indications of harmful insects in the cotton, Gibson said.

Mrs. Ledger Is Buried Wed.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the West Side Church of Christ in Lockney for Mrs. Ida Mabel Ledger. Mrs. Ledger passed away at 2:15 a. m. Tuesday at the family home in east Lockney. Interment was in the Lockney cemetery under the direction of Carter Funeral Home of Lockney.

Mrs. Ledger had been in ill health for two or three years and had been seriously ill for the past six months.

Mr. and Mrs. Ledger had lived here for the past 12 years. She was born at Dodd City, Texas on December 2, 1891.

Survivors include her husband, I. N. Ledger; two children, Mrs. J. H. Price and L. K. Ledger, both of Lockney; four grandchildren, Mrs. C. W. Wade, Dallas, Keith Price, Sandra Sue Ledger, and Alton Keith Ledger, all of Lockney; six brothers, Jim Isbell, Fort Worth, Tom Isbell, Lockney, Ben Isbell, New Castle, Texas, Hubert Isbell and Joe Isbell, both of Lakeview, Clyde Isbell, Bakersfield, Calif., and one sister, Mrs. Pearl Maddera, Gainesville, Texas.

Miss Nellie Brown, who has been seriously ill in the Lubbock Hospital, is reported to be improving. Miss Brown is a teacher in the Lockney School system.

Drive-In Opens Here Tonight

The new and modern Seale Drive-In Theatre will open its gates for the first showing tonight. The box office opens at 7 p. m. and the first show will start at 8:15. The theatre is located 2 1/2 miles west of town on the Plainview Highway.

J. B. Seale, manager of the new theatre as well as the Plains Theatre here, said that a short opening ceremony will precede the showing of the picture. Favors and prizes will be given away on Thursday and Friday nights with the ladies receiving orchids and the kiddies balloons. Free coffee at the snack bar will be available to everyone.

The snack bar will also open at 7 p. m. and all kinds of eats and drinks will be available for those who want them.

The new theatre has the best and most modern equipment available. Three hundred in-car speakers give the theatre a capacity to handle a lot of people. The parking area of the theatre is now covered with caliche and this will be topped with asphalt as soon as the contractor can get to it.

Opening night picture will be "Scarlet Angel" starring Yvonne DeCarlo and Rock Hudson. The picture is in technicolor and is a story of action and romance. The story is set in the post-Civil War period and tells of a swash-buckling sea captain who gets his bankroll stolen by a pretty girl who then "adopts" a dead woman's baby and assumes the lady's identity. Through many adventures a romance develops between the two and the usual happy ending is inevitable.

Oscar R. May of Fort Worth was general contractor on the job. Charlie Smith, local dirt contractor, moved the dirt for the theatre area, George Worsham did the plumbing, May Electric did the wiring and Brunner Lumber Co. and Higginbotham-Bartlett furnished the materials.

Hot Days And Hot Nights Too!

West Texas has been experiencing some hot days and some hot nights also, according to the government weather thermometer kept by J. H. Holt at the Lockney General Hospital.

Although some private thermometers have shown temperatures as high as 106 the past week, Mr. Holt's official thermometer has not gone higher than 100 but it has reached that peak three days. Night temperatures have dropped no lower than the sixties and some nights have stayed in the seventies, he said.

The maximum-minimum temperatures for the past 10 days were reported by Mr. Holt as follows:

- June 8—93-60.
- June 9—91-62
- June 10—93-68.
- June 11—95-71.
- June 12—96-70.
- June 13—95-70.
- June 14—100-70.
- June 15—100-70.
- June 16—100-68.
- June 17—94-65.

Cotton is suffering for lack of moisture and several thunderheads the past week have yielded no rain for this area.

HON. GEORGE MAHON, representative from the 19th District of Texas in the House of Representatives of the Congress, this week formally announced his candidacy for reelection. He is unopposed.

Mahon Formally Announces For Congress Seat

Representative George Mahon this week requested the Lockney Beacon to formally announce his candidacy for re-election to Congress. He had earlier filed for a place on the Democratic ticket. Mahon is unopposed in the forthcoming primary.

In announcing his candidacy, Mahon said, "I will deeply appreciate the continued support and confidence of the people in the coming primary. These are difficult and frustrating days for private citizens and public officials alike. Congress is still in session, and in all probability I will have little opportunity to visit about the District prior to the primary date.

"As the hired man of the people of our District, I shall continue to do everything in my power to do a good job here. I welcome advice and counsel at all times, and I am constantly mindful of the debt of gratitude which I owe to the people of West Texas. Please thank them for me through the columns of your paper."

Floyd Discovery Yields More Oil

Representatives of the Standard Oil Company of Texas have verified the report that a drilled test earlier this week yielded more free oil at the No. 1 Minnie Adams, south-central Floyd County discovery.

The test was taken from 7,632-7,680 feet and tool was open two hours. Recovery was 450 feet of free oil. There was no formation water.

An estimated 2,800 feet of 36.7-gravity oil was recovered on a 2 1/2-hour test from 7,589-7,622 feet, for the first major oil show at the wildcat. A test was then taken from 7,619-7,637 feet and 1,800 feet of mud-cut oil, which was 80 per cent oil, was recovered. Tool was open 2 1/2 hours on this second test.

The lime formation has still not been identified by paleontologists.

Operator has set and cemented seven-inch casing at 7,602 feet. Total depth is 7,680 feet. The plug was being drilled Wednesday and preparation made for a test of the 78-foot openhole.

Location of the No. 1 Adams is 1,980 feet from west and 700 feet from north lines of Section 32, P. D. Adams Survey, and 8 miles southeast of Floydada.

ASKS THAT DISHES BE PICKED UP

John Belt this week asked ladies who had left dishes at his home to pick them up there since he did not know who they belonged to. Many dishes of food was carried to the home during the recent illness and at the death of Mrs. Belt. Some of them were not marked and the family is therefore unable to identify them.

Charles Snelson Badly Injured In Auto Wreck

Charles Snelson, 21 years of age, was badly injured in an auto wreck at Aiken about 8 o'clock Wednesday morning. He is suffering from a severe head laceration, a possible fracture of a vertebrae in the neck and a compound fracture of the left leg. He was brought to the Lockney General Hospital and then moved later in the day to the Plainview Hospital. Physicians had not determined the full extent of his injuries late Wednesday.

Snelson was injured when his car careened off the front end of a pickup driven by R. L. Powell of Aiken and turned over three times. Mr. Powell had driven up to the highway and stopped, he told The Beacon, allowing several other cars to pass before he started onto the highway. In some way he failed to see Snelson's car and had reached about the center of the road in crossing it when the 1949 Dodge driven by Snelson sideswiped the pick-ups front bumper. Snelson had swerved to the right attempting to miss the pick-up. The Dodge then struck a highway post, turned one time end over end and rolled-over sideways twice. Snelson was thrown out the first time over and this probably saved his life, since the car was almost completely demolished.

Snelson lived in Plainview but was employed here at the Livingston Body Works. He is a brother to Mrs. N. L. Livingston of Lockney.

Use Care In The Potato Harvest

College Station. — Irish potatoes are too scarce and valuable right now not to get the best of care at harvest time. Irish potatoes can be kept with little loss for months, says J. E. Hutchison, horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, if they are dug and stored properly.

He says let the potatoes mature before digging them. They should be mature if they are to be stored for any length of time. Here is a simple and easy method for checking maturity. Press the thumb against the skin of a few potatoes, if the skin is tough and doesn't break easily, the crop is ready for harvesting.

If excessive rainfall has occurred just prior to harvest, the potatoes are likely to be covered with water blisters—small elevated white spots—on the skin. Hutchison says harvesting should be delayed until the blisters have dried. If the potatoes are harvested when "snappy" or "Blistery," heavy losses may occur from rotting.

He says a good digging job can be done by running a middle buster or turning plow eight to ten inches deep under the potato row. The skinned or damaged potatoes should be separated from the good ones when they are picked up. Use the damaged potatoes first for they will not keep well in storage. Potatoes should be handled almost as carefully as eggs and as soon as they are picked up, should be placed in the shade to prevent blistering.

A cool, well ventilated cellar makes a satisfactory storage place for potatoes provided it has an overhead vent for ventilation. The door and vent should be open at night and closed during the daytime. This practice will help keep the cellar cool.

If the potatoes are stored in buildings or under them, good cross ventilation is a necessity. When potatoes in storage are exposed to light, they turn green and are undesirable for human consumption. Hutchison says it's best not to spread the potatoes on a floor or the ground. They'll keep better if placed on a slatted false floor that has about four inches of air space under it. Small poles or hay placed under the potatoes will help for the ideal arrangement permits air to completely circle the potatoes.

Plenty of ventilation will pick up moisture and keep the potatoes dry and this means reduced storage losses. And finally, says Hutchison, the old

Though their tempers may rise, the National Cotton Council points out, both will agree that Cynthia's Alberic Original sweater knit of Dornie mercerized cotton yarn is a hit!

"spud" deserves the best possible treatment and especially is this true right now.

HOW TO DRINK "INTELLIGENTLY"
"First build a bar in your own home and be the only customer." "Then you have neither license nor protection to pay. Give your wife six dollars to buy the first quart of liquor — remembering there should be at least 16 drinks in the quart."

"Buy the drinks from no one but your wife and pay at the rate a bar would charge. At the time the first quart is finished, she will have six dollars to put in the bank and six dollars to start business again."

"If you live ten years and continue to buy from her, you can then die of delirium tremens and she will have plenty to bury you, educate your children, marry a decent man and forget the misery you brought her."

Thousands of Texas homemakers, through training received from their Agricultural Extension Service, are finding that work simplification can make their task easier to perform and less time consuming.

Last year almost 109,000 Texas cotton producers participated in the Smith-Doxey Cotton Classing program. It's time now to get in the group application for the service this fall.

We sincerely believe that Mr. Earl Cooper is one of the best peace officers has served this area in the past few years and that he will make this county a excellent sheriff.

We are of the opinion that his recent release as City Officer for the City of Lockney did not come about because of his lack of qualifications but appeared because he enforced the law too well to suit some people.

Mr. Cooper has enforced the law in Lockney without fear or favor to anyone. He treats everyone alike and expects all people to obey the law. He is especially efficient in handling the younger generation. He gives them every chance that which is right and they respect him.

Mr. Cooper is a clean man, does not indulge in habits that are unbecoming to a gentleman and a peace officer and can be depended upon to handle any situation within his scope of duty in an efficient manner.

Trinity Lutheran Church News

At the Sunday School hour Sunday, June 15th, Rev. H. L. Anderson rendered an inspiring sermonette. He stressed the need for Christian service workers in our church, those who will take the time necessary to serve God through church work. There is a place for every one to work. Have you found your place in serving in God's kingdom? There is no better time than now.

In connection with this inspiring sermonette Rev. Anderson presented to Mrs. Wilfred Stoerner, Robert Matthews, Miss Ruth Boedecker, Miss Clara Sammann, Werner Boedecker their awards given by the Board of Parish Education of American Lutheran Church. These they earned while attending the

The American Magazine tells you why we can't refill every prescription

New Family Safeguard by Wallace Werble

NEXT time you go to your corner druggist and ask him to refill that old prescription, chances are you'll get the surprise of your life.

"Sorry," your friend the druggist will have to say, "but I can't refill this prescription any more unless I get specific instructions to do so from your doctor."

"And why not?" you may explode.

"What is this—a racket you druggists and doctors have cooked up to collect more fees and charge more for medicines? Here you've been refilling this same prescription for my family for five years, and now you say you can't do it any more. Why, I've even been giving some of this medicine to my next-door neighbor. The whole thing is outrageous!"

Stormy conversations like this between pharmacists and patients are now being repeated every day in the more than 30,000 drugstores that span the nation. You may argue until you are blue in the face, but it will get you nowhere. The druggist will still refuse. And you can't blame him. A new federal law requires him to do so.

This new law, which became effective a few weeks ago, is designed to guard you and your family against the dangers, not only of indiscriminate refilling of prescriptions, but of using "wonder" drugs, without adequate medical supervision. The statute is an amendment to federal drug regulations and is known as the Durham-Humphrey Act after its sponsors—two Democratic members of Congress who are also druggists. It does not affect medicinal narcotics, which have been strictly controlled since the Harrison Narcotic Act of 1913.

The new ban which it places on unauthorized refilling of restricted drugs undoubtedly will cause many cases of inconvenience. A lot of people, including doctors, will be angry at first. But in the long run the change should prevent unnecessary deaths and serious illnesses, according to the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, which strongly supported the law. Officials of this Administration report that the misuse of prescriptions, including indiscriminate refilling, causes "more deaths, injuries, broken homes, human derelicts, and other tragedies" than all other violations of federal drug laws put together.

The FDA has a file of cases where death or serious illness resulted from the misuse of refilled prescriptions. While the largest number of these involved sleeping pills, the records show a significant number resulted from misuse of other valuable drugs, including some of the amazing "miracle" preparations.

In general, the need for the new law is a result of the tremendous advances made by American medical and pharmaceutical science. During the last 15 years there has come a steady stream of new and improved "wonder drugs"—sulfas, antibiotics, vitamins, antihistamines, the new hormones such as cortisone and ACTH, and, within the last few weeks, a new drug for tuberculosis. However, the availability of so many new and potent medicines in finished form, ready for use, brought unexpected perils. While these drugs, when taken under the supervision of a doctor, can contribute greatly to saving lives and to the elimination of pain and suffering, they can be as dangerous as poisons in the hands of a layman who doesn't know how to use them.

If you are inclined to feel abused, remember that the new law in no way interferes with your right to buy the many everyday drugs which are safe for self-medication and which you may want in your medicine cabinet—such as aspirin and other pain relievers, laxatives, mouth washes, dietary vitamin supplements, liniments, and salves. The new law places no restrictions on these. All you have to do is go down to the drugstore and ask for them.

MEDITATION

We would like to say at the beginning of these articles that we hope that all of the things written herein will be taken in the same spirit that they are given. All of us ought to be willing to study the Word of God with open hearts and ready minds. Too many people today have such biased and prejudiced minds until they profit little or none from a study of those things which are able to save them from sin and from the destruction that awaits the disobedient. We ought to have the same attitude that those at Berea had. Of them it is said, "These were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they receive the word with all readiness of mind, and searched the scriptures daily, whether those things were so." Acts 17:11. There are too many today that do not have a "readiness of mind" nor do they "search the scriptures daily whether those things were so." As we study let us remember that the scriptures are of no private interpretation.

A large majority today when asked about the division in the religious world give this as an EXCUSE. "Oh, it is just a matter of interpretation." How could we believe that? Do we apply that to the laws of our land? Of course not. Why, then, do we apply it to the Law of God? Hasn't God given the same law to all men? If He has, then we must all abide by the same Law. What applies to me applies to all men. What applies to you applies to all men. Would the Lord give a law so vague that he would have to leave man to interpret it according to his own ideas and opinions? We should clearly see then that what the Lord commands He commands to all, and requires the SAME of all men: that is, obedience to his laws as set forth in the New Testament, and not obedience as to our own private interpretation of the Scriptures. When you read something and then some one else reads the same thing, and one of you "see" it one way and the other "sees" it another then one or both have to be wrong.

One of the grave mistakes that is made today concerning the Word of God is failing to accept ALL that the Word says. You cannot take what pleases you and leave the rest out. James in his epistle teaches that we have to obey all that the Lord commands, and not just portions of what He commands. James 2:10-12. Let us then study and learn what the Lord commands of all men, without respect of persons. Peter said, "Of a truth, I perceive that God is no respecter of persons: But in every nation he that feareth him, and WORKETH righteousness, is accepted of him." Acts 10:34-35. (How do we know how to work righteousness?) Rom. 10:2-3 reads: "For I bear them record that they have a zeal of God, but not according to knowledge. For they being ignorant of God's righteousness, and going about to establish their own righteousness, have not submitted themselves unto the righteousness of God." We see then that it is not just zeal that counts, but zeal in the right thing, that is in the righteousness of God. So, let us study to find what the righteousness of God is. Study with us next week.

Motley Co. Dry Status Gets Legal Test July 5th

Matador. — Time, the scene-shifter, has produced some amazing effects since the last customer left the Dew Drop Saloon here more than 59 years ago. The one-room frame building was located on the present First State Bank site. The saloon was one of the first business enterprises in this community and it was closed as a result of a local option election held Dec. 5, 1893. Since that time Motley County has been dry theoretically, apparently and politically except for a brief period following the repeal of prohibition, when beer was sold in two or three cafes.

Now the county is going to hold another local option election. A petition circulated by two Matador church groups and bearing about 100 names was presented to the commissioners Court. The local option has been called for July 5.

The election held in 1893 may not be legal. The religious groups have asked for the July election to insure a continuation of the county's present status. The old election is being attacked because of irregularities dug from county records. Officers have been making arrests on liquor violations since the 1893 election and no objection was raised until two months ago.

At that time an appeal was filed with the Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin, on a liquor violation conviction in Motley County Court. The appeal claims irregularities in the old election. County Atty. Howard Traxweek said some irregularities appear in the old records. The question is whether they are sufficient to invalidate the law. Election laws at that time required election results to be canvassed within 11 days. The result in 1893 were canvassed 13 days after the election.

It was also required that election returns be published in four consecutive issues of a Motley County newspaper. Judge Henry H. Campbell, Motley County's first judge, and the man who organized the Matador Ranch, in his order declaring the results public, said the results had been published four weeks, omitting the word "consecutive."

About 10 years later Judge T. T. Bouldin issued a corrective order to include the word "consecutive." He made a mistake, however, in the name of the newspaper, referring to it in one instance as The Texas Maverick and in another as the Matador Maverick.

Sidewalk speculation in Matador is the percentage by which the county will again vote dry. Average observer believes it will be less than two to one. A few believe it could vote wet and that would be embarrassing, indeed, since the churches asked for the election.

Until the July election, regardless of any possible flaws in the old election, Motley County is dry, officials declare.

Application For Ballot Can Be Made Anytime
 In a recent article concerning changes in the procedure for voting and the securing of absent-tee ballots, The Beacon stated that civilians could not apply for absentee ballots until 20 days previous to the election. This is in error. The civilian may apply for an absentee ballot at any time but the county clerk may not mail the ballot until 20 days previous to the election. As was brought out in the article, any man, who is a member of the Army or Navy reserve and on active duty may vote and may apply and receive an absent-tee ballot as early as possible previous to the election.
 However, as District Attorney John B. Stapleton has pointed out, the ballots are usually printed 20 to 30 days previous to election day, and therefore cannot be distributed any sooner.

Gilbert-Jackson Vows Scheduled

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gilbert of Plainview have announced the engagement, and approaching marriage of their daughter, Janapher, to Wayne Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Jackson, Route 1, Plainview. The Gilbert family formerly lived here.

The wedding will be July 6 in the home of the bride-to-be's grandmother, Mrs. George Traynor.

The Panama Canal is 50 1/2 miles long.

MRS. SID B. THOMAS JR.

Terry Lynn Jones of Amarillo, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She was dressed in white organdy. Ronnie Sims of Childress, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

Mr. Sid B. Thomas, Sr. was his son's best man. Serving as ushers were Mark Fairman and Stanley Conner of Lockney and Horace Jones of Amarillo.

The bride, who was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of white embroidered organdy over white taffeta created with a basque bodice and voluminous gathered skirt. A band of orange blossoms held her finger-tip veil. She carried a nosegay of pink rosebuds and orange blossoms accented with net. For something old she wore a family heirloom watch which was 63 years old, new was her wedding gown, borrowed was her veil which belonged to Mrs. Mark Fairman, and blue was a garter.

Mrs. Jones, mother of the bride, was dressed in navy blue with navy accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Thomas, mother of the bridegroom wore pink orlon with purple accessories and a corsage of orchid colored carnations.

Reception

Immediately following the ceremony the bridal party was honored at a reception in the dining room of the church. The serving table was draped with ecru lace over pink. Centering the table was an arrangement of white carnations and asters and candelabra. Mrs. Mark Fairman served the three tiered wedding cake which was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. Mac Howard served punch to approximately two hundred guests. Assisting the bride's parents with the hospitalities were Mrs. Hillburn Casey, Mrs. Edgar Hays and Mrs. Fay Pinner. Barbara Hays played popular piano music. Mrs. Horace Jones presided at the guest book.

For going away the bride chose a blue linen suit, white picture hat and other accessories of white. Her corsage was of carnations. After a wedding trip to Red River, New Mexico the pair will be at home in Plainview on West 8th Street. Mr. Thomas will continue to farm near Lockney until fall when

Mary Jones Bride Of Sid B. Thomas Jr. In Sat. Ceremony

An arch of palm foliage flanked by tall baskets of white gladioli backed by candelabra highlighted the decorative setting for the marriage of Mary Zell Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Jones to Sidney Barm Thomas, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Sid B. Thomas Sr., on Saturday evening, June 14.

Rev. J. R. Naylor, pastor, read the double ring service at 7 o'clock in the First Baptist Church. Baskets of white asters and carnations banked the altar and completed the setting.

Mrs. Mark Fairman, sister of the bridegroom, played pre-nuptial music and accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Royce Dowell who sang "Indian Love Call." Mrs. Dowell sang "I Love Thee." "The Lord's Prayer" was sung by Mr. Dowell concluding the benediction offered by Rev. Naylor as the couple knelt at the altar. The traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and recessional. Candelighters were Miss Jontha Lee Casey and Miss Barbara June Hays. They were dressed in pink taffeta and net with waist corsages of white carnations.

Mrs. E. O. Sims of Childress, attended her sister as matron of honor, and Miss Annette Hogan of Amarillo was maid of honor. They wore identical gowns of pink organdy styled with molded bodices and full ballerina length skirts. They carried bouquets of white carnations.

EDITORIAL

Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path—Psalms 119:105.

What is the actual position of the United States in relation to world conditions? That is a question that is troubling many people and one for which there seems to be very diverse opinions. Some say that we can hold our own in any war and that our air force is equal to any in the world while others are more pessimistic about the situation. Some say that World War III is not in the foreseeable future while others say differently. We do not remember anytime in the past when national leaders were so divided on their opinions as to the true position of this country. It seems to us that this is a time when we need to present a united front to the enemy even though that is asking a lot for an election year.

We are wondering whether or not the United States is doing any good with its foreign aid program. In France where he have put out billions of dollars in aid our citizens are insulted daily and asked to go home. Their property is maliciously damaged and wives of soldiers must be careful where they go unescorted. It seems to have developed into a race of "How much more will you give me to stay on your side?"

Cotton hoeing time is here again and that means that many transient laborers will be back in this area helping the farmer get rid of his weeds. It seems that the weed crop is worse this year probably due to the slow start cotton had. Transient labor is important to this country. They not only help the farmer clean his crop but they help the groceryman, the drygoods man and others. This summer labor movement is a comparatively new thing, apparently having developed since the war. But it is getting bigger each year and will continue to increase as long as the cotton acreage increases.

Congratulations to Brad Seale upon the opening of his new Seale Drive-In Theatre west of the city. As he usually does, Brad has made this theatre up-to-date and modern with most every convenience you can think of. Drive-in theatres have swept the country and they are getting more popular all the time. There is no place you can take the kids and relax better than at a drive-in. In fact many people with families will hardly attend any other kind of theatre. Brad plans to have the latest and best pictures along with good food at his snack bar. When you attend a movie try Brad's new drive-in. We bet you'll like it.

Polio is again rearing its ugly head in this vicinity. Although no cases have been reported in Floyd County one or two have developed in Lubbock and other South Plains cities. Suggestions to parents as to ways of guarding against the disease have been released by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Briefly they are:
1. Avoid fatigue from work or play.
2. Don't get chilled. Don't swim too long in cold water nor sit around in wet clothes.
3. Don't mix unnecessarily with new groups.
4. Watch closely for signs of illness, headache, fever, sore muscles, stiff neck or back, trouble in breathing or swallowing.
5. Put a sick person to bed at once, away from others, and call your doctor.
6. Contact your local March of Dimes chapter for whatever assistance or financial help you may need.

With Our EXCHANGES

WHO'S TO BLAME?
WEBSTER DEFINES A REPORTER as "one who gives an account, verbal or written," and while most organizations have reporters—some elective, some appointive—many of them fail to fulfill the duties of their office when it comes to reporting their group's activities.

JUST AS IS EVERY NEWSPAPER, the Hockley County Herald and Levelland Sun-News are occasionally criticized for not printing ALL the news. Despite the efforts of the editorial staff to gather, write and disseminate all the worthwhile news, they never manage 100 per cent coverage. They come as close as they can, sometimes nearing complete coverage, other times missing it by a wide margin.

ALL OF WHICH BRINGS US BACK to the first paragraph, in which we define a reporter. If every reporter of every club, organization and other group in Levelland would diligently carry out the duties of their office, the newspapers would come much nearer complete news coverage—every week.

IT IS NOT OUR PURPOSE HERE to tell any club, PTA, woman's club, service organization, Boy Scout, Girl Scout, or any other kind of reporter how to do his or her job, nor are we asking them to do ours. All we request is that they help us print the news by carrying out the duties of their office, just as their president, secretary, and other officers carry out their duties. PERHAPS IT'S ONLY BECAUSE WE'RE engaged in newspaper work, but in our opinion just as much attention should be given by members of an organization to election of a reporter as to choosing of a president. Publicity never hurt any organization, but few of them are going to get the maximum unless they have a reporter who is "on the ball." IN CLOSING, WE'LL MAKE A CONFESSION. This "Urdu" was brought on by an editorial staff member reporting to us that he had been asked why a report of a recent meeting had not appeared in this newspaper. What "got" us was that the very person who asked "why" was the one who should have seen to it that a report was made—the reporter herself.—Hockley County Herald.

ANTAGONISM GALORE

A representative of a national business concern was in Ralls this week and engaged in an off-the-record tete-a-tete with the editor about the state of Ralls. Having no business connections and no kinfolks here, he could and did, speak frankly. He said that he knew of only two places in Texas where there was an abnormal degree of antagonism among residents. Ralls was one. Tahoka the other. He didn't know why, but had been impressed by it. Gist of the conversation was that he could talk with a Ralls of Tahoka citizen only a few minutes before this animosity broke out. Competitors were scored, and everybody chewed on everybody for the most trivial excuse. We suggested it might be the influence of this newspaper, but knowing it had no influence, the idea was dismissed. Anyway, that might well be a project for the Chamber of Commerce and civic organizations—if they can be gotten together.—Ralls Banner.

THE DEADLINE

What is a deadline? It's the climax of a WEEK'S closely coordinated work! The "deadline" is not the period during which a newspaper is prepared. The "deadline" is that all important moment when the last comma is fitted into the forms—and the press begins to spin. And sometime it's a nightmare for the staff of a weekly newspaper, laboring with its mechanical limitations.

To the Bulletin, its weekly edition represents a WEEK'S work—not just work of the day of publication or the one or two days preceding publication. In other words the "deadline" is NOT when news accounts, social write-ups and advertisements are TURNED IN. It is the moment they are to be TURNED OUT as finished products in the pages of your Bulletin.

Those who delay in handing in their news are not only working a hardship on the publisher but are running the risk of having the item omitted completely. Advertisers will receive better layout and better positions by notifying the Bulletin of any "other-than-routine" advertising needs as far in advance as possible. It shouldn't be "what's the latest I can get this in?" The thought should be "how soon can I get this in?"—The Wink Bulletin.

A golden spike, driven at Ogden, Utah in 1869, marked the completion of the first transcontinental railway.

Three successive Presidents occupied the White House within 30 days. They were: Presidents Van Buren, William Henry Harrison and Tyler.

In October 1918, Czechoslovakia formulated its declaration of independence, in Independence Hall, Philadelphia.

Irish potatoes, if they are to be stored, must be mature when dug. A cool, well ventilated cellar makes a satisfactory storage place. The storage place must be dry, well ventilated and out of the light. It's best not to spread potatoes on a floor.

ONE-A-DAY HOME HINTS

To serve with baked ham, fried chicken or broiled chops, cut ripe bananas into small pieces. Dip in evaporated milk, roll in crushed corn flakes and place in kettle directly over the top burner of the gas range and fry in deep, hot fat just a minute or two. Sprinkle with powdered sugar and serve with orange wedges.

WTSC To Start ROTC Training

Canyon. — West Texas State College's new Reserve Officers' Training Corps unit, first of its kind in the nation, will allow students here to choose their own branch of the Army, and, during its four-year program, provide general information and instruction in all of the Army's 16 departments.

First steps in establishing the program, to be in operation in September, are already being made, according to Dr. James P. Cornette, president of the college. Designated sponsor of the new unit, Lt. Col. John W. Murray, professor of military science and tactics at Texas Christian University, will consult with Dr. Cornette concerning facilities and to review requirements. An advance contingent of the Army's instructional staff will arrive on the campus before the end of June to make preliminary arrangements before the full complement assumes duty.

In their senior year, candidates select their own branch, on basis of aptitudes, and availability of openings; and, upon graduation, receive a commission and enter one of the specialized service schools for three months' training; this training period supplants the summer camps formerly attended by candidates between their junior and senior years at college.

Beginning this fall, all men classified as freshmen and sophomores will take a basic military science course, instead of the previously required physical education activity course, according to Dr. Cornette. According to Selective Service policies during these two years, the student will be deferred from military service, but would have made no commitment for future military service, the president explained.

"At the end of his second year, he will be free to choose whether or not to enter the advanced ROTC program. He may remain in college as a civilian student, subject to his local selective service board's jurisdiction," Dr. Cornette said. "If he chooses to go into advanced ROTC training, he will, upon completion of his work at the end of his senior year, receive in addition to his Bachelor's degree, his commission in the organized reserve corps or national guard."

Distinguished military graduates may receive a commission in the regular Army, comparable to that given West Point graduates, according to Lt. Col. Leon Laviole at Fourth Army Headquarters at Fort Sam Houston. Students with high efficiency ratings and with sound scholarship records at the end of the junior year, will be designated "Distinguished Military Students," and if they sustain their records, they will become "Distinguished Military Graduates." About 1200 officers a year are obtained for the Army in this manner to supplement the Military Academy's graduates. All graduates receive commissions as second lieutenants.

ROTC students at West Texas State for the first two years, will meet classes three hours a week, for one semester hour's credit. Advanced students will attend classes five hours weekly, for three semester hours' credit.

Advanced students will draw pay of $27 a month, although a bill now before Congress would increase the amount to $50. Uniforms will be issued, and on required days will be worn on campus. Students in basic training will wear green trousers and blouses, while those in the advanced division will be issued gray-drab trousers (Pinks) to contrast with the green blouses, with all uniforms regular officers' apparel.

The 257 organized communities in Texas last year based their programs on goals set up to increase and manage family income, improve health conditions, increase community social activities, increase farm production and improve the farms and homes of the communities.

Huntin' AND Fishin'

By Harve Pennington

Many a beautiful cast was started with the intention of throwing the lure far out into the lake, only to see it stop suddenly in mid-air and leave the line on the spool in a tangled mass—the so called bird's nest. The cause of this is an over-running spool, which means that the spool is paying out more line than the flying lure requires, with the result that the loose line will get reversely wound on the spool and cause the backlash. In casting the bait is loosing speed rapidly due to air resistance and the pull of the line, whereas the spool running in almost frictionless bearings, will keep on running at the original speed, which results in loose line on the spool, and the backlash.

The only remedy is to reduce the speed of the spool by thumbing and letting the spool pay out only as much line as is required by the bait. The proper thumbing might seem very difficult to the beginner, but by watching the line as it leaves the spool and starting thumbing as soon as loose line develops on the spool. Backlashing will be eliminated, also the beginner will do well by not trying to use brute strength in casting, but rather concentrate on the acquiring of good casting from first, then gradually increasing the force on the rod, as a jerky cast increases the danger of backlashes.

Ask Wage Increase For School Teachers

Austin. — A minimum beginning salary of $3,000 instead of school teachers will be asked of the next legislature by the Texas State Teachers Association.

"Texas annually must have nearly 5,000 new teachers either as replacements or to take care of the rapidly increasing enrollment," Charles H. Tennyson, executive secretary of the association, said in making the announcement here today.

"The profession must be made more attractive and Texas faces a critical situation in its schools unless that can be accomplished," Tennyson declared.

The executive secretary of the $2,000 member teacher group which was a big factor in the school system revision campaign three years ago, also recently pointed out that more of the state tax dollar must be allocated to public schools for additional classrooms if children are to continue to get a good education.

"Despite an increase in the pay for teachers granted by the voters and legislature three years ago, the profession is not attractive to young people because the pay is less than the national average for all workers," Tennyson pointed out.

The average salary for all Texas professional public school personnel is $3,185, but that of the average classroom teacher is only $2,980. The first-year teacher who holds only a bachelor's degree gets $2,403.

In comparison, the average for all employed people in the United States, including laborers, is $3,390.

Tennyson presented figures to show that pay of teachers since World War II has not kept pace with that of other employed persons.

Mrs. Della Willmon left Saturday for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Joel Corder at El Paso, Texas.

Sermonettes From Revival Tabernacle

Acts 1:11 "... This same Jesus, which is taken up from you into heaven, shall so come in like manner as ye have seen him go into heaven." Acts 3:20-21. "And he shall send Jesus Christ whom the heaven must receive until the times of restitution of all things."

Jesus is coming soon! What glorious words to the one who is ready. This world has a curse of sin upon it and is in darkness. But the child of God is free from the curse and is in light.

The restitution of all things is taking place now. God is doing a quick, fast work. Signs and wonders are being wrought. In South Africa this year in one of Wm. Branham's meetings 200,000 heard the gospel in one day and 30,000 were converted in one day. There was no way of counting the healings because God performed mass healings.

How does that compare with Pentecost? It is no uncommon thing to see the gift of the Word of Knowledge in operation. I have seen people immediately saved and healed, through the operation of this gift. Hands are being laid on people and they are receiving the Baptism of the Holy Ghost, prophecies are coming forth confirming gifts and ministries, and each individual's place in the body of Christ. Laying on of hands is a fundamental doctrine of the church. Heb. 6:2, II Tim. 1:6, I Tim. 4:14, Rom. 1:11, Acts 13:1-3, I Cor. 12:7, 18.

Apostles and prophets are ministering with signs and wonders. II Cor. 12:12. In the New Testament there are about 18 to 21 apostles named, 8 or 9 prophets, 3 or 4 evangelists, 2 or 3 teachers, and other than Jesus Christ, no pastors. In this day of traditions of the elders and doctrines of men, we have reversed it with more pastors and no apostles. This is man's order and not God's order. God is doing a marvelous work preparing for his coming. As the darkness gets greater so the light shines brighter. While it is day, prepare to meet the Lord Jesus Christ.

Teachers Are Teaching Moral Values In School

Austin. — If all other institu- tions were doing as fine a job as the public schools, there would be nothing to worry about so far as the moral values of children are concerned, University of Tex- as Education Dean L. D. Haskew declared.

"Where else is honesty an ab- solute rule?" he asked.
The schoolboy who loses six cents of his lunch money is ad- vised by his teacher to tell the truth about the loss to his par- ents, Dr. Haskew said. But at home his mother may say, "An- swer the phone, please, Johnny, and if it's Mrs. Willis, tell her I'm not in."

At the dinner table, Dean Has- kew added, the boy may hear his father tell of a business deal in which he made a $1,000 profit because he found a man "out on a limb" and sawed the limb out from under him.

Discussing the school's role in teaching moral and spiritual values, Dr. Haskew commented:

"The question is not whether we could or whether we should be teaching these values. In our own section of the country, most teachers already are doing their best to install in their students a religion of the practical, every- day sort.

"The real question, then," he continued, "is what we can do actually to achieve better the goals we seek."

Dean Haskew said teachers can create moral and spiritual values in students by "catching" the values themselves, thus serving as examples; by creating a classroom atmosphere in which the values are shown, as well as talked about; by direct teaching; and by a "life-centered" ap- proach—teaching children to use the values as a guide for think- ing out their problems.

Old Folks Neglected In Health Program

Austin. — In the past, medicine and public health have concern- ed themselves largely with the health and disease problems of youth and middle age said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Of- ficer. We have neglected our aged population and have wait- ed upon the devastations of time extending aid to the old.

Our population each year in- cludes an increasing number and percentage of older people. In 1950 in the United States, it is estimated that there are 11,000,000 persons over sixty-five years of age, as compared to 3,000,000 in 1900. In absolute numbers, aged persons among us have al- most quadrupled in the last fifty years, whereas the propor- tion of elderly persons to the remainder of the population has merely doubled.

Dr. Cox stated that preventive medicine, private medical care, and social service have assisted in extending the life span. As encouraging as this fact may be, there is an accompanying tribulation: the aged are subject to the chronic diseases which, be- cause of destroyed tissue struc- ture, are especially weakened. Heart disease, cancer, diabetes, and other long-term illnesses re- sist the physician's most skillful attack and are notably disabling and lethal.

To insure health and peace of mind to our old people, preven- tive and curative medicine and social service can contribute technics of prevention and care. These technics should properly include the early discovery of beginning disease processes through periodic examinations that begin in early life and con- tinue for one's remaining years. By such means many cases of chronic disease, with all their agony and sure fatality, might either be prevented or, through the substitution of different liv- ing regimens, be rendered toler- able.

ITS ENGINE ADDS MUSCLE TO EVERY DROP OF GAS!

To many owners, the mighty 180 H.P. V-8 engine that powers the Chrysler New Yorker is the most remarkable feature of this remarkable car. It is certainly the most discussed automobile engine in many, many years.
This is the engine with hemispherical combustion chambers... the engine that gets more power out of every drop of gas. And non-premium gas at that!
Actually, it puts you in control of more power than you'll probably ever need use. You'll sense this... together with its unequalled response... the very first yards you drive. It runs smoother, more quietly, and with less wear than any other engine ever built into an American automobile.

... and it makes driving (both cruising and the short runs) more fun than you have ever known it to be!
But that's not all. Along with this engine there are scores of other reasons, too, for driving a New Yorker before resolving on any new car. Like Full-time Power Steering that makes steering five times easier... and your control five times greater... than in ordinary cars. Like Power Brakes that cut needed pedal pressure by as much as two-thirds.

Like Oriflow shock absorbers that make even bad roads feel "newly paved"... restful chair-high seats... big, wide-opening doors... big windows that let you see more.
It's true... until you drive a Chrysler New Yorker you won't know what you're missing. Why not stop in today?

Fairview Pair Wed 50 Years

Relatives from four states and friends throughout the Panhandle-Plains area were invited to a reception Wednesday honoring Rev. and Mrs. Joe Wilson of the Fairview community who are celebrating their golden wedding anniversary.

The reception was to be held in the party house in MacKenzie State Park, Lubbock, from 2:30 p. m. to 5:30 p. m.

The former Eva Ellen Dodson came to Floyd County from Clay County with her family in 1891. In 1892, the Wilson family moved here from Bell County.

The couple was married in June 1902 in the home of Mrs. Wilson's mother, Mrs. Ellen Riley, in Lockney.

For 16 years, Mr. Wilson rode the Plains as a cowboy and later as a ranchman. He was the chuckwagon boss cook on several cattle drives through the Panhandle.

In 1918 he disposed of his cattle holding to become a Baptist minister. He spent the next years at Hardin-Simmons University and Southwestern Theological Seminary at Fort Worth where he was graduated in 1925 with the ThM degree.

Rev. Wilson has served as pastor of Baptist Churches at Miami, Idalou, Hale Center, O'Donnell, Friona, Sundown, Enochs and Fairview. Mrs. Wilson is a sister to Frank Dodson of Lockney. Attending the celebration from Lockney were Mr. Dodson, Bert Bobbitt and Mrs. W. D. Long.

Twelve cars of highway patrolmen, representing the License and Weights division of the Department of Public Safety have been working in Floyd and adjoining counties the past few days. Sgt. S. J. Sgt. Griffin also pointed out that local officials had nothing to do with the patrolmen being in this area. The rumors that local officials had asked them to come in are not true, he said. The local officials were not consulted about the matter, Sgt. Griffin said, but they have been very co-operative with the patrolmen.
