The Lockney Longhorns will travel to Hale Center Friday night for their second district game of the season. Previously they defeated Kress in a district game.

The Longhorns will be in pretty good condition for the game, according to reports. All the injured are improving and will probably see action in the Hale Center game.

Hale Center has a somewhat better team than last year and may give the Longhorns more trouble than they did last year.

The game will be called at 8 p. m. and a good number of Lockney fans are expected to make the trip to the Hale County town to see the game.

City In Darkness As Regulator Fails

All of Lockney was in darkness for an hour and 15 minutes Monday night when a regulator at the big power substation in south Lockney failed. Joe Parrish, local manager of the Southwestern Public Service Co. and Howard Thornhill, service man, traced the trouble for sometime before they were able to locate it.

When the trouble was found the regulator was shut off the service line and power was restored immediately. Tuesday morning the two regulators at the sub station were replaced. Silvertown was also out of power for a time but an auxiliary engine there was started to restore service.

Bids Asked On Highway Link In South Floyd County

Bids will be opened by the State Highway Commission on October 22 on a connecting link between two farm highways in southwest Floyd County and Western Hale County. The link to be paved is from Farm-to-market road 1314 north of Petersburg to Highway 62 near Harmony schoolhouse, a distance of 11.9 miles.

This paving will connect Floyd county paved farm roads in the area to the farm road into Petersburg giving an all-weather road from Lockney through "the country" to Lubbock. Grading, structures, base and surfacing are called for with 140 working days allotted for completion.

Plan Deep Well Test In Area

O. C. Bailey was working among farmers and business men of this area this week seeking to interest them in sinking a deep water test. Bailey believes that it will require around $10,000 for the test and the plan as he outlined it is that the farmer on whose place the well is dug will pay for the well if it is successful in securing water and then the money will be used to drill another test.

Several farmers and businessmen have promised to help on the project, Bailey said Tuesday. The plan calls for sinking the first well somewhere on a line with Lockney north and south, he said.

E. Guthrie Dies At Albuquerque

Ephraim N. Guthrie, a pioneer Lockney business man, died Thursday at Albuquerque, N. M., while visiting with his son, Fay Guthrie. His home was at Plains, Texas, where he had operated a hotel.

Funeral services were held at the Plains Baptist Church Saturday at 2:30 conducted by Andy Burks, Slaton Church of Christ minister, and burial was in the Plains cemetery. A number of friends from Lockney attended the services.

Mr. Guthrie was enroute to his home at Plains from a trip to California and had stopped at his son's home to spend the night on Wednesday. The heart attack followed which took his life.

The deceased man was in business in Lockney first in the mercantile business and later in the oil business from 1909 until 1929. He was active in the early development of Lockney and was a member of various civic organizations while here.

His wife was killed in 1947 in a traffic accident in Colorado while she was on a Christmas trip there.

Survivors include his son, Fay of Albuquerque; one daughter, Mrs. Yates Key of Slaton; a grandson, Wyman Guthrie of Albuquerque; a granddaughter, Miss Betty Guthrie of Slaton; and one brother, John Guthrie, Mullin.

Billy Griffith Is Coming Home
Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Griffith received a telephone call early Wednesday from their son, Cpl. Billy L. Griffith, now in Sasibo, Japan, informing them that he was on his way home. Billy has spent the past nine months as an electrician mate with the 54th engineers in Korea. He wasn't sure when he would leave Japan since his group was waiting on a ship.

Bloodmobile To Be Here Today

The American Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in Lockney today (Thursday) and a blood collecting station will be set up at the First Baptist Church. Goal for this community is 150 pints of blood which will be used immediately by the fighting forces in Korea, according to Joe Holt, county chairman for the Bloodmobile visit.

Rusty Baccus, local chairman this week urged every person who had signed a card to be sure and be present when his appointed time arrives. He said that 250 had signed cards pledging a pint of blood but that some would be prevented from giving because of health conditions and that it was important that every person who had signed a card be present at their appointed time. If for some reason the person can not come at this time he should call and notify the committee.

Physicians will be on hand to check each person before they give their blood and health factors will prevent some from giving, Mr. Baccus said.

Those coming to give blood are reminded to exclude fatty foods and foods prepared in fat from their diet for the four hours previous to giving the blood.

Hours for the Bloodmobile here is from 10 a. m. until 4 p. m. It will set up in Floydada on Friday of this week at the same hours.

"The need for whole blood and blood derivatives is urgent," Baccus said. "We urge everyone who can to give a pint of blood, whether they have signed a card or not. Your donation may mean the difference between life and death for some soldier, sailor, airman, or Marine who is giving all that he can in your behalf."

Revival To Begin At Revival Tabernacle

A revival will begin Thursday night of this week at the Revival Tabernacle Church in Lockney, it was announced by Troy Ray.

Services will be held each night at 7:30 this week and next week. Preaching in the services will be Rev. J. L. Alaman, a colored preacher who is nationally known for his ministry in the largest white churches, Mrs. Ray said Wednesday.

"Rev. Alaman has said he cannot touch the white people in race but he can in spirit," Mrs. Ray said. "He has held revivals in Denver, Portland, Amarillo and has completed one in Oklahoma City. His wife has an education in song and his son plays the organ through most of his sermons. Come and hear this man preach the Word of God," she urged.

The colored preacher is from Tulsa, Okla.

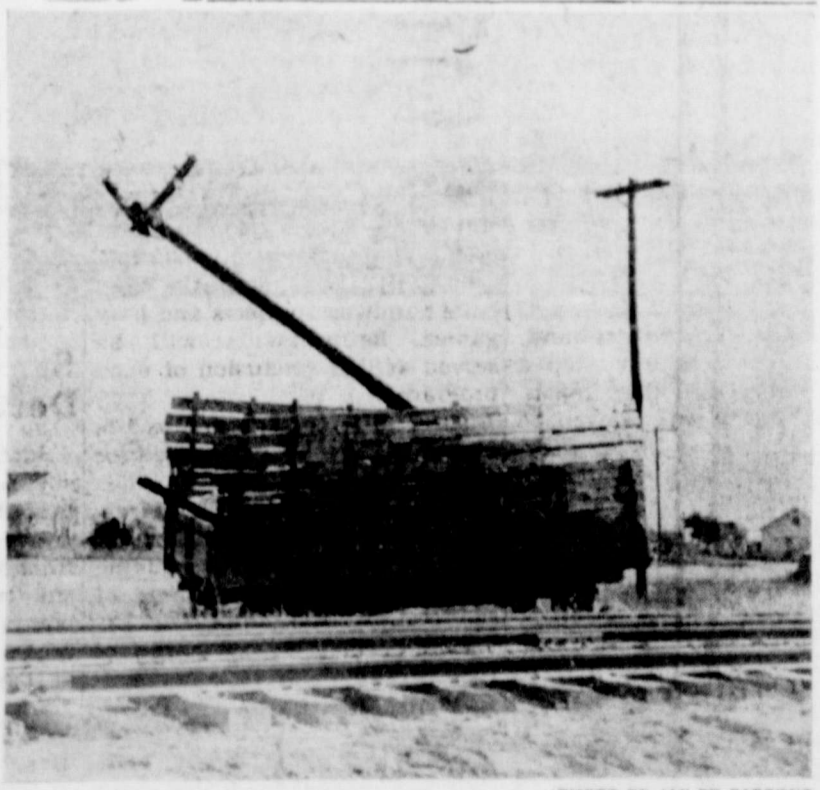

"Big Pitch" Couldn't Get His Team Going

P. B. "Big Pitch" Bennett said this week that he was unable to get his colored baseball team to going and that he would return the money he had collected from local business houses to pay for baseball suits.

"Big Pitch" had made a down payment on the suits but since the team didn't materialize he decided to let the suits go back rather than take them out, he said this week.

A TREE GROWS IN BROOK.
LYN — It isn't a tree and it isn't Brooklyn, but it is a telephone pole growing out of a cotton trailer. This freak accident happened in south Lockney, just east of the intersection of Highway 70 and the Sandhill road last week when a trailer came loose from a truck and hit the pole. The truck was driven by a Mexican who was working for A. O. Wines, southwest of town. Wires on the pole were on long distance circuits and service here wasn't interrupted.

Longhorns Lose To Floydada 32-0

Statistics

Table with 2 columns: Lockney, Floydada. Rows include First downs, Yards rushing, Lost rushing, Passes attempted, Completed, Yards passing, Interceptions, Yards penalties, Opponents fumbles recovered.

It took five years to do it but the Floydada Whirlwinds finally grew a football team that was just too much team for the Lockney Longhorns.

Although the Longhorns were badly out-weighted and playing a much more experienced club, they never stopped fighting and had several scoring threats stopped near the Whirlwind goal line.

The Longhorns had trouble maintaining an offensive against the heavy Floydada club but they did put together some passes and running plays which enabled them to threaten twice.

The local team was crippled somewhat by injuries with Teddy Carthel, Joe Taylor and Johnnie B. Griffin all being on the injured list.

The Whirlwinds, probably the biggest class AA ball team in the area, were sharp on their blocking and their experience told in detecting the Longhorn plays and stopping them.

A play-by-play account of the game follows:

The Longhorns received the kick and Sherman returned it to the Lockney 31 yard line. The locals made nothing. Baker drove for 5, they lost 1 and kicked to the Floydada safety man who returned the kick to his own 34.

The Longhorns received and returned to their own 33. They lost 3 on one play and then Smart drove for a first down on the Lockney 46. The Longhorns made 1, and then Sherman fumbled with a Wind recovering on the Lockney 40.

The Longhorns returned the kick to the Lockney 33, a pass was incomplete and Smart made 8. The Longhorns lost 1 and the Winds safety man returned the punt to the Lockney 30.

Another pass was complete for a first down on the Longhorn 45 and then Bill Sherman intercepted a Floydada pass and returned to his own 32 yard line.

The Longhorns received the kick-off to start the third quarter and Baker plunged through to bring the ball carrier down on the Floydada 21.

The Longhorns received the kick-off returning to their own 42. They made 8 and then a first down on the Floydada 48.

their own 36. The Winds made 9, a pass was incomplete, and then they drove for a first down on the Floydada 48.

The Winds made 2 and 4 and then a first down on their own 36. They made 2 and 4 and had a pass incomplete.

The Longhorns returned the kick-off to their own 39, a pass was incomplete and a second pass was good from Paschal to Smart for a first down on the Lockney 49.

The Longhorns returned the kick-off to their own 41 but a fumble on the first play gave Floydada the ball on the Lockney 48.

MEDITATION

OBEDIENCE

... This is the WORK of God, that ye believe on him whom he hath sent.

"Without faith it is impossible to please God... Except ye repent ye shall all likewise perish." "At the time of this ignorance God winked at but now commandeth all men everywhere to repent."

Yet some men have the audacity to fly in the face of all these scriptures and say "it is by faith only and that some men seek to add to the commands of Christ."

Christ is the author of eternal salvation to "those that OBEY him." Can you have salvation without obedience?

Another thought. Many would have you to believe because the church of Christ teaches that you must obey the Gospel, that we teach we merit salvation by obedience.

GASOLINE AND AUTOMOBILES KEEP AMERICANS MOVING

The typical U. S. Car on a winter day makes 3.9 trips, averaging 8.2 miles per trip, or a total of 32 miles per day carrying 1.8 persons. Of all car trips, 48 per cent are for the purpose of driving to work. Without the efficient cars produced by the nation's auto industry, and the plentiful motor fuel supplies from the oil industry, the daily living habits of Americans would be radically different and far more circumscribed.

Students Censure Adult Drivers

Chevrolet checked 5,000 high school students on their opinions of adult auto drivers and found Disregard of Traffic Signs (enacted above) a prime target for criticism. Recklessness was worst fault in poll.

DETROIT—If an adult driver could look at himself through the eyes of the younger generation he'd see a person who is inconsiderate of others, who cheats a bit on speed laws and who believes he can solve traffic jams by getting mad. At least this is the picture given by a Chevrolet Motor Division survey which asked 5,000 high school driving students what they thought of their elders. Here's the way the juveniles ranked adult driving faults:

- No. 1—Recklessness. ("Lots of times we ride the bumper of the car ahead.") No. 2—Poor Sportsmanship. ("He thinks the road belongs to him.") No. 3—Speeding. ("Dad goes just as fast when there's traffic as when there isn't.") No. 4—Failure to Signal Properly. ("We got hit once when top stopped too quick for a hamburger.") No. 5—Impatience. ("My father thinks he can untangle traffic by just swearing.") No. 6—Disregard of Signs. ("Some speed up when they see 'Slow School Crossing.'") No. 7—Inattention. ("Mom talks too much when she's driving.") No. 8—Neglect of Car's Safety Features. ("All of us cross our fingers when dad steps on the brakes.") No. 9—Ignorance of Laws. ("When two drivers meet at a corner they eye each other like in a duel. Neither of them knows who's supposed to stop.") No. 10—Lack of Skill. ("She can't get out of skids.")

No hydra-armed monster but a cameraman's trick to illustrate Failing to Signal Properly by grownups.

The Chevrolet survey gave a cross-section of national opinion. Cities covered included Baltimore, Los Angeles, Miami, St. Paul, Atlanta, Dallas, Denver and Pittsburgh among others.

Treadaway Spoke Saturday

Gordon Treadaway, attorney of Lubbock, spoke to a small group at the City Auditorium Saturday night in behalf of the candidacy of Gen. Ike Eisenhower. Mr. Treadaway was accompanied by Sam Curry also of Lubbock, who showed some film strips on the foreign affairs of this nation.

Mr. Treadaway recalled that he was a delegate to the national convention which nominated Franklin D. Roosevelt for president in 1932. He told of his service in that convention and later of his disappointment at the policies the national administration adopted. He called attention to the fact, in speaking of the prosperous condition of the nation, that in 1937 farmers of the area had to be content with a 7c per pound loan on their cotton and quoted figures to prove that the prosperous condition of the country grew out of the war and not from the political policies of some party.

Mr. Treadaway quoted extensively from the Democratic platform of 1932 which called for economy in government, a balanced budget, abolishment of useless bureaus, and reducing the federal debt.

Mr. Curry's film strip traced the foreign policy of this nation from the Yalta conference through the years to the start of the Korean war, pointing to the many blunders and mistakes made by the administrator who's results finally in the outbreak of war in Korea.

Mr. Curry spoke briefly telling of his job as a federal post office inspector and his experience in building a case against two alien members in Louisiana who had murdered a train engineer, and his superior's refusal to allow him to present the evidence because the administration's hesitancy to antagonize labor leaders.

Joe Holt presided at the meeting.

Methodist Notes

Someone is always asking me if they can give cotton for the building fund. The ad that is in this issue of this paper will answer that question. Besides that we need your help whether you want to give cotton, grain or money. I know there are many people in our community that will want to have a part in building this church. I believe that you will agree with me when I say that it will be a credit to our town and community. We will welcome your help.

Miller Develops Self-Propelled Cotton Harvester

A self-propelled cotton harvester, that apparently could prove as revolutionary in its use as was the self-propelled grain harvester, is the brain child of a Plains dirt farmer.

Arion E. Miller, born and reared in the Sand Hill community of Floyd County ten miles south of Lockney, is the inventor. Miller's contribution to the mechanical age is of such practical simplicity that even the least mechanically minded might ask, "Why hadn't somebody thought of that a long time ago?" Ever since mechanical cotton harvesters went into fields farmers have looked for improvements that would reduce waste of the staple. The Miller unit reduces waste to an absolute minimum, the inventor claims. He says there is less waste with the harvester than there is in hand harvesting.

The Miller Cotton Master converts the Oliver Cotton Harvester from a drag type to a self-propelled tricycle tractor type harvester. That, in a nutshell, is the description of Miller's invention. The self-propelled arrangement places the cotton gathering mechanism in front of the machine. The fingers that strip the stalks are the first part of the machine that touch the cotton, leading the wheels on which the unit rolls, and no cotton is knocked out on the ground.

The fingers are so constructed that they will move an inch under the surface of the ground, picking up everything. The beaters remove a big per cent of the leaves, dirt and burrs, cleaning the cotton to hand pulled, or better, condition by the time it goes through the elevator into the trailer that follows the unit.

To construct one of the self-propelled units an Oliver motor, steering mechanism and other features are added. Some of the original cotton harvester mechanism is changed, the driver's seat is installed almost on top of the two-row stripping mechanism. When the trailer is attached and the gas tank filled it's ready for the job.

With the pulling mechanism set forward, the unit can gather cotton to the end of the rows. Turns on already gathered space prevents running over cotton. Miller, 36, married and the father of a son and two daughters, built the first self-propelled cotton harvester last year. In November he gathered 300 bales of cotton with it and expects to gather 400 with the same unit this fall. The unit will harvest 30 bales of cotton a day on a bale to the acre crop, he said.

Howard and Pete Mosley of the Lone Star community also built a self-propelled cotton harvester with an Oliver stripper and a Ford motor last year. It was widely publicized in this area and is still in use by the Mosley brothers.

EDITORIAL

When the righteous are in authority, the people rejoice; but when the wicked beareth rule, the people mourn. — Proverbs 29:2.

A great many people were expecting that there might be some trouble at the Lockney-Floydada football game Friday night. The tenseness of the situation last year had led some to fear that there might be trouble this year but we are proud that everything went off very smoothly. The ball game was very clean — probably the cleanest that either team has played all year — and as far as we know there was no trouble among fans.

It takes a good sport to win right but it takes an even better sport to lose right — and that is why we are proud of the Lockney fans. We lost the ball game and that is that. The Lockney boys played hard, clean ball and they did their best. Maybe next year it will be different.

It appears maybe that the early frost and freeze of last week has damaged cotton more than first thought. A lot of top bolls are decaying and damage in some fields may run up to 25%, according to some farmers estimates. The older cotton — that is the cotton that grew off fast and matured early, is not hurt as much as late cotton.

The speaking and film shown Saturday night at the City Auditorium was somewhat a revelation in one way — that concerning our foreign affairs. According to the facts brought out by the film—and proof was offered of their authenticity — the present war in Korea is a direct result of the shifting, wishy-washy foreign policy of the present administration and its predecessors. China at one time could have annihilated the Chinese Reds and done away with the Red threat in China but was prevented from doing so by our own government. In fact, according to this film, a secret document between the President of the United States and Russia promised the Russians the most of the northern part of China and promised that the President would take measures to force China to accept the compromise. Later on, Secretary of State Dean Acheson made a public statement that the United States would not defend any territory west of Japan, which in itself was a public invitation to the Reds to take Korea.

Then when the Reds did move we threw in our own Army in an effort to stop them. How much easier would it have been to have prevented them from ever moving if the national administration had taken a firm stand against the Reds instead of trying to appease them. It seemed that all the world could see that an appeasement policy would not pay after the outbreak of World War II yet that is just the policy the national administration had used in dealing with Communists and Communist nations since the war.

For a time the editor was of the opinion that the presidential poll we are conducting was off as to its accuracy. However the more people we talk with the more we are finding that almost everyone is tired of the crookedness and corruption, the lack of foresight and wisdom, and the general mess that is now called our national administration. People generally are of the opinion, we believe, that just changing the shoe won't cure the foot of its disease. We must have a complete change of administrations if we are to have a decent, dignified and wise administration to lead our national affairs.

THE "MUDDYGOSTER"

With Our EXCHANGES

HST'S MEDIOCRITY COMING TO LIGHT

Harry Truman hasn't been a bit bashful about letting his mediocrity show since retiring from the political wars this spring.

Some of his public utterances have bordered on the embarrassing for the the American people:

They only bear out our contention that every American boy CAN grow up to be president, but not every American boy SHOULD. Truman's cockiness since he announced his "abdication" has been a little ridiculous.

Harry seems to feel that no one within the magic circle can do wrong and any one who feels otherwise is off the beam.

Take two statements from his Thursday's press conference. One that he didn't have to read Eisenhower's speeches to comment on them or to know that they were not correct. The "chief" intimated that he knew more about government than any man living.

Some talk for a former ward-heeler, but typical of the Truman attitude.

Another mis-statement that will cause — that has caused — some embarrassment in international circles is the bodyguard Miss Margaret Truman carried to Sweden. The law requires she have this bodyguard. Well and good. We won't argue that.

The thing we will argue, however, is that Truman said the bodyguards must have been in the sight because the secret service men "are always right."

Truman should know better than anyone else that it is most desirable to have an incident like this dealt with as inconspicuously as possible. But not the "give-em-hell" LITTLE man from Missouri who has pulled himself up through the mire of machine politics.

Truman has gotten himself into several messes with the men of the press and radio because of his favorite trick of back-tracking on a previous statement and then trying to push the blame on the reporters and radio men.

It's another manifestation of his dangerous "dictatorial" policy that the chief can do no wrong.

Truman told reporters he doesn't have to read his opponent's remarks to know what they're talking about. He knows, he avers, more about government than anyone in the country.

If he's going to show the American people that he does, he'd better hurry and do it before January.

One thing which no one can deny and that is that REGARDLESS of who wins the election this fall, the White House will assume more dignity than the nation's highest office has been granted in the past seven years. — Hereford Brand.

COST OF LIVING

More than once we have pointed out in this column that our "high cost of living" is due not so much to higher prices with which wages have not kept pace as it is to the extravagant standard of living to which many of us have become accustomed.

Texas Department of Agriculture this week released a report which substantiates our observations. An hour of labor in 1952 will buy more of our six main staples than at any time during the past 35 years. In 1914, an hour of labor would buy 9 pound of round steak. In 1929 it would buy 1.2 pounds and in 1952, 1.5 pounds. In 1914, an hour of labor would buy one pound of pork chops, 1.5 pounds in pounds in 1929 and two pounds in 1952.

Other staples which an hour of labor would buy during the three years mentioned are bread, four pounds in 1914, 6.4 pounds in 1929 and 10 pounds in 1952; milk, 2.5 quarts, 3.9 quarts and 6.9 quarts; eggs, 6 dozen, 11 dozen, and 25 dozen; potatoes, 12.4 pounds, 17.7 pounds and 36.3 pounds.

Today's grocery bills are pinching our income today because we have to serve too many "necessities" which 15 years ago were "luxuries." — Tulsa Herald.

TIES WITH PAST

Ties with the past are often dim, yet as long as those three little rings lined the curb in front of the old stone bank building they reminded us that Crosbyton started as a Western frontier town, in the midst of a great ranching country, only 44 years ago. Before the pavement was put down around the square in 1925, an iron hitching rail encircled the park and even at that late date was used occasionally. Crosbyton, along with other South Plains towns, is quite proud of its modern ways — the improvements and progress made in its business buildings and homes. But we are also quite proud of our heritage which in such a short span of years has seen the Plains change from the wide open range to one of the greatest agricultural areas of the world. — Crosbyton Review.

Women should believe in free speech; they are free enough with theirs.

Long Ago In Lockney

Items of interest from the file of The Lockney Beacon.

May 22, 1914

An estimate has been made on the grain acreage in the territory tributary to Lockney, which is placed at ten thousand acres. The crop is made and a big yield is in sight, if not destroyed by hail.

In conversation with Mr. Johnston, Santa Fe Farm Demonstrator Thursday, he suggested that farmers should utilize spare time in rainy weather in dragging the public roads in their vicinity. He also stated that the Commissioners Court was making a great mistake in the matter of road grading. He says the natural road beds are best and should never be disturbed.

Misses Ruby and Bessie Thompson were guests of the Rushings in Floydada last Friday night on the occasion of the Annual Play of the Floydada school.

Work begun Thursday on the rebuilding of Lockney's Telephone System, some sixteen comprise the force. New poles are being raised and new cables strung.

December 24, 1920

Tuesday night the members of the Christian Sunday School and church were Santa Claus to Brother and Sister Liff Sanders. The occasion was a pounding of these good people and many nice things were taken to their home.

The Santa Fe's new 85 pound steel rails on Floydada branch will all be laid soon at the present rate of progress, the steel having been laid within about four miles of the town.

CLEAN HAIR DESERVES A CLEAN BRUSH

When your hair is gleaming clean, fresh from its two washings and rinsings, and neatly curled, it deserves the best. This means that brushes and combs should be just as sweetly fresh. Here's the trick. Soak combs and brushes in a baking soda solution — 2 tablespoons soda to a quart of warm water. A little baking soda rubbed into the base of the brush bristles helps make the clean-up campaign complete. Rinse well in clear water and dry in an airy place. Your brush and comb should be washed at least as often as your hair.

Bench Levelling Increases Total Productive Acres

Floydada. — Mr. J. T. Huckabay, who lives 5 miles west of Floydada, has increased the number of productive acres on his farm. This was accomplished by bench leveling 92 acres of sloping land around two lakes on his 360 acre farm. Technical assistance and advice for the project was furnished by the Soil Conservation Service technicians working with Floyd County Soil Conservation District. Mr. Huckabay bench leveled 32 acres around a lake bottom in April 1950. The borders were laid out on contour and the land between the borders was leveled from side to side and from end to end. This method of bench leveling made the level strips irregular in width. Mr. Huckabay states that the borders held 25" of rainfall during July 1950 and kept the lake bottom dry.

In 1951, sixty acres around another lake were bench leveled. The borders were run parallel but as near on the contour as possible making each strip uniform in width from one end to the other. The strips between the borders were leveled from end to end and side to side. The cost of bench leveling with parallel borders is greater than bench leveling with contour borders; however, Mr. Huckabay states that he would rather have the parallel borders as the higher cost would be off set by being more simple to farm.

Mr. Huckabay has had wheat on all the land since it has been benched. He states that this otherwise unproductive land has yielded 20 bushels per acre of wheat, as much as his other farm land.

Mr. Huckabay is well satisfied with the results he has had with bench leveling and realizes improvements can be made on his present system. He plans to improve the system by installing a concrete pipe line down opposite sides of the lakes so irrigation water can be run down the slope to each border in a manner to eliminate erosion. He is experiencing some erosion by using the present system of open ditches. Mr. Huckabay also plans to put an elevated turn-row down across the borders so farming

Plains Cities Issued TV-Grants

Washington. — The Communications today issued grants for television stations in Lubbock, Texas; Amarillo, Texas; Springfield, Mo., and St. Petersburg, Fla.

Two of the construction permits went to Lubbock. Bryant Radio and Television Inc., was given a station there on VHF Channel 11 and Texas Telecasting, Inc., an outlet on VHF Channel 13.

The other Texas construction permit went to Plains Radio Broadcasting Co. for VHF Channel 4 at Amarillo.

These actions make a total of 73 grants for new TV stations since early July, when the processing of some 700 applications began after a 3 1/2-year freeze on video expansion.

To date, the commission has worked through the first 53 TV-less cities on the priority list set up to give first consideration to communities without any television service. All grants thus far made have been on an uncontested basis. Scores of other applications have been assigned for competitive hearings.

Lawless No. 1 Running High To Albaugh No. 1

The No. 1 Lawless Drilling Co. deep oil test on the Harmell tract, 12 miles south of Plainview, is being watched with interest as the rotary bit sinks deeper into the ground. The test was drilling ahead below 3,150 feet Saturday. It was unofficially reported.

This is the third test in that area since a block was leased by Ray Albaugh, Midland wildcatter, who has brought in lots of production in his day.

It is reported running high to the No. 1 Albaugh, likewise on the Harmell tract. After drilling the No. 1 Albaugh on the Harmell tract, Albaugh drilled an offset on the Robertson land, just south. He plugged and abandoned as dry the Robertson test. But his No. 1 well on the Harmell was reported to the Texas Railroad Commission only as "temporary abandoned," and there's no record of its having been plugged. There's a capped casing stub at this location.

Now it is reported authentically, but not officially, that the Lawless No. 1 Harmell, a farm-out from Albaugh, is running approximately 30 feet higher at the top of the San Andres, than the No. 1 Albaugh, 1,320 feet to the south. It is also reported that the test logged a slight show of oil in the San Andres lime, but not enough to make an oil well.

Oil Progress Is Noted In Special Week's Program

Houston. — Odessa, Kilgore and Houston form a giant geographic triangle of Oil Progress Week activity in Texas, beginning October 12 and ending the 18th.

And the likes of it aren't apt to be seen again — until this time next year.

Oil Progress Week is the annual high point of action for work put in by thousands of men and women in the Texas petroleum industry who volunteer to speak up for their industry the year 'round and thus show the public what makes the oil and gas business tick.

The whole program for Texas heads up under the banner of the Oil Industry Information Committee of the American Petroleum Institute, with Roy M. Stephens, assistant sales manager for Humble Oil & Refining Company, as state OIIC chairman.

Stephens today in Houston pointed to the super size Permian Basin Oil Show being staged in Odessa, beginning October 16, as typical of Texas OPW activity. Its anticipated crowd of 75,000, complete with 350 exhibits and a barbecue feeding 15,000 Oct. 18 has had the standing room-only sign out in the Midland-Odessa area for weeks.

In East Texas, where oil derricks seem as natural on Main Street as fire plugs, Walter Morris and the Kilgore Chamber of Commerce are spearheading a three-day Jube-Oil-Lee, a coinage of J. M. Foster, Sun Oil Company. Jube-Oil-Lee features tours of the big East Texas field, an old timers' reunion, coronation of a queen, several major speeches, public square dances, fireworks and dedication of a granite marker at the L. D. Crim No. 1, discovery well for the Kilgore area 22 years ago. It's still going strong as one of 22,000 producing oil wells in the vast East Texas field.

Third point on Texas' giant Oil Progress Week triangle is Houston, where OPW chairman George O'Leary has had a 17-member committee at work since summer. With Bill Black of the chamber of commerce as his chief of staff, O'Leary has developed a significant program getting Houston service station dealers and public schools into

The story of the Methodist Home at Waco actually told by the children themselves is on the air each Sunday, over fourteen radio stations. The Home is dramatizing activities from the lives of its more than four hundred children again this fall on Sunday morning because of an enthusiastic response from radio listeners all over the Southwest last fall.

Students and ex-students have done most of the script-writing and are acting out the incidents. Music by the Home choir will be a feature of the fifteen-minute broadcasts which are entitled, "These Are Your Children."

Radio stations which will carry the program include: WFAA, Dallas, KGNC, Amarillo.

The OPW act, A mammoth kickoff luncheon October 16 in the Rice Hotel will feature L. S. West, board chairman of the American Petroleum Institute and president of The Pure Oil Company.

Stephens explained that dozens of other towns over Texas, both inside and outside the Odessa-Kilgore-Houston triangle are going all-out during OPW. In San Antonio, for instance, a real oil rig is going up in the Plaza, hard by the Alamo and convenient as a backdrop for the photographers when they snap General Eisenhower speaking at that spot October 14. In North Texas, Nocona is staging a big blowout centered around a speech by Senator James Duff of Pennsylvania. And, in the eight-county Fort Worth area, W. L. Ambrose and his Oil Industry Information Committee members are staging a quiz contest for school kids. They pick up entry blanks at their local service station and try for $1,000 in prizes.

Interstate theatre audiences in San Antonio, Fort Worth, Dallas and Houston are seeing the new OIIC film "Crossroad, U. S. A." and "Man on the Land" along with their regular movie billings during OPW.

Tulia Jersey Wins National Honors

Texas is the Lone Star state but her stars are many. One which has a particular splendor at this time is Orriand Signal No. 1 Sable, an 8-year-old cow in the Victory Jersey Farm herd owned by J. Chester Elliff, Tulla.

This cow has just been announced by The American Jersey Cattle Club as the national 30-day butterfat champion of the Jersey breed on her Register of Merit production record of 3,130 pounds milk containing 1,052 pounds butterfat. Although much of her record was made during an extended drought, she was able to capture the production title from an Oregon Jersey, Missionary Noble Alice, that had held the title since 1943.

The new title holder set quite an enviable record in 1949 when she produced 19,497 pounds milk containing 1,223 pounds butterfat in 365 days. Her recent record brought her lifetime production to well over 42 tons of milk. Her lifetime butterfat production is the equivalent of 6,353 pounds of butter.

Sable was bred by Orriand Jersey Farm, Tulla, Texas. She has been in the Victory Jersey Farm herd since 1947 and has an official type classification of Very Good.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Maier returned this week after a two-months vacation visiting in twenty states, Old Mexico and Canada. They also visited with relatives in Washington and California.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wofford are spending the week hunting in various places in Colorado. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goodnight of Dallas and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brodrick from Sun Valley, California joined them in Colorado.

State Committee Begins Study Of Water Problems

Austin. — A 94-member committee of Texas engineers, attorneys, lawmakers, farmers and ranchers appointed by Governor Allan Shivers has begun a four-pronged study of water use and conservation in this state.

Under the general chairmanship of J. B. Thomas of Fort Worth, sub-committees have appointed to study the following subjects:

1. Strengthening the administrative powers of state agencies controlling water, particularly the State Board of Water Engineers.
2. Financing state and local water conservation projects.
3. Control, prevention and abatement of water pollution.
4. Establishment of a Texas water policy with respect to the Federal government.

Upon the basis of these studies, the entire committee will make recommendations to the Governor and the Legislature.

Governor Shivers told the committee at its organization meeting in Austin on September 30 that water was the state's most important problem. He recommended that the problem be tackled a step at a time, that the study be kept on the local level and that Texas do the job itself, without calling on Washington.

Chairman Thomas and other speakers at the first meeting were in agreement that in the short time remaining before the convening of the Legislature it is best to confine the study to four particular fields, but that the committee also should set up a long-range program, to be carried out step by step in the future.

A steering committee was named to coordinate and supervise the four separate studies, and the entire committee will meet again in Austin November 19. Members of the steering committee are: Chmn. J. B. Thomas, Fort Worth; J. C. Cantrel, Princeton; V. Chmn., C. C. Thompson, Colorado City; E. P. Congdon, Ed Crouch; V. Chmn., Carl C. Krueger, San Antonio; Elmer V. Boyd, Devers; Guy C. Jackson, Anahuac; Hines H. Baker, Houston; Frank H. Kelley, Colorado City; R. B. Anderson, Vernon.
