Two negroes who broke out of the county jail at Floydada Saturday and left a trail of forged checks, stolen cars and one pistol-whipped sheriff, were captured about midnight Tuesday near Colwell, Texas, Sheriff Earl Cooper was notified early Wednesday morning.

The men, Herman Davis and Pete Jackson, had been charged in this county with forgery and placed in jail at Floydada Saturday morning the men were given a job of cleaning up the run-around in the jail. Sheriff Earl Cooper and Deputy Walter Hollums went to Childress about 9 o'clock to pick up a prisoner. When they returned at 2 p. m. they found that the two men had squeezed through a hole 7 by 11 inches in a window from which a bar had been pried loose.

The men stole a Ford car from the Bishop Motor Co. at Floydada. They went to Post where they forged two checks, dropped back to Slaton where they forged another check and were next heard from at Woodville on Monday where they slugged Tyler County Sheriff Dan Johnson with his own gun, stole his car and escaped again.

They stole another car at Brenham and still another in the same vicinity on Tuesday. They were apprehended by the Bryan sheriff and his deputies about midnight Tuesday after both had been wounded, neither seriously. About 75 peace officers were participating in the hunt for the men in the Woodville and Brenham area.

The Ford car stolen at Floydada was not missed by the motor company personnel until Sheriff Cooper notified them that it had been found.

Both men are originally from Echenham, Texas. They had been in jail at Floydada about one month.

Only 42 wells have been signed up and deposit paid for the proposed gas line in the area north and west of Lockney. Charlie Boedeker said Tuesday. The association of farmers have set the cost for attaching on to the gas line at $1,000 and $42,000 is now on deposit in the bank.

Will Move Aiken Mill To Lockney

J. D. Wood, manager of the National Alfalfa Dehydrating & Milling Co., said this week that the directors of his company, at a meeting in Kansas City last week, decided to move the Aiken dehydrator and mill to Lockney and consolidate that plant with the Lockney plant to provide a better and more economical operation.

Movement of the plant will be started immediately after the first of the year, Mr. Wood said.

The Aiken plant was established by C. J. Taylor and Clyde Applewhite of Lockney several years ago. They later sold it to other persons who, after two or three years operation, sold the plant to the National company.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood both attended a two-day conference of personnel of the company at Kansas City, returning Thursday. Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Leatherman and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Copeland of the Plainview plant. The group traveled by train from Amarillo.

The Salvation Army conducts a large center for such children. Here the children were given no lessons but taught only to get along with other children, Mrs. Wood said. When the local visitor was all set to answer the children's deluge of questions about Texas cowboys, Indians and buffaloes she was interrupted by the instructor she said.

Other places of interest visited while on the trip was 15th Street better known as Truman Road which led to the Summer White House of the Harry Thomans, however this place wasn't included on the tour. Mission Hill District was an interesting sight with the Christmas story depicted in life size figures, animals and painted scenes from the Bible scripture. The Soap Box Derby track, miles and miles of fashionable shopping center known as "Tittical Lane," Schaefer Fountain pen factory, Hallmark card plant and many other interesting places were included on the convention tour, the Woods report.

HOW ARE PEOPLE MADE BELIEVERS?

We must be believers in God and in Christ to escape eternal condemnation. (John 3:16; Heb. 11:5).

HOW are people made believers? There are two doctrines so diametrically opposed to each other that if either is right the other is wrong. One doctrine asserts that God makes believers by a direct operation of His power upon the sinner's heart. The other affirms that God makes believers by exerting His power through the inspired word, as given through Christ and the inspired writers. Which is correct?

To what authority may we appeal for settlement? Shall the case be referred to the man who says: "I know the time and place when the power of God came directly into my heart and made me a believer. I was not reading the Bible nor hearing the gospel, but I know that I was made a believer by the immediate power of God." If this type of testimony is accepted, then any other type of religion, however objectionable it may be, can be proved, for they all have any number of witnesses of this kind. However, such witnesses care not what the Bible says, but will put their own "experience" against anything that God has spoken. It is plain, therefore, that such testimony is not to be regarded at all. The Bible, and the Bible alone, is the supreme authority in the settlement of this and all other religious questions, and to it we must go, if we learn the truth in this matter. Please see Isaiah 8:20.

The question is not: Does God make believers? We all admit that he does. Nor is the question: Does He make believers by the Holy Spirit? We all admit that he does that, too. Neither is the question: Does He make believers by His power? All who accept the Bible accept that. The real question is: Does God make believers by a direct operation of His power upon the sinner's heart, or does He exert that power through His inspired word, the Bible, and in that way make believers?

We submit herewith the testimony of the Scriptures. Acts 11:14: "Who (Peter) shall tell thee words, whereby thou and all thy house shall be saved." Any theory that proposes to make believers and save men WITHOUT WORDS cannot be received, so long as we have regard for the Lord's plan by which men are SAVED BY WORDS.

Acts 15:7: "And when there had been much disputing, Peter rose up, and said unto them, Men and brethren, ye know how that a good while ago God made choice among us, that the Gentiles by my mouth should hear the word of the gospel, and believe." If it was God's will that the Gentiles "should hear the word of the gospel, and believe," then it was NOT His will that they should believe WITHOUT THE WORD.

John 17:20: "Neither pray I (Christ) for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their (apostles') word." The Lord prayed that we would BELIEVE ON HIM THROUGH WORDS.

John 20:30-31: "And many other signs truly did Jesus in the presence of His disciples, which are not written in this book; but these are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye might have life through His name." Why were these things written? That we might believe—this is the Lord's plan for making believers.

"So then faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God." Heb. 10:17.

Library Notes

By Ivy Pearl Rees

Delayed!

The library received this week a gift of books from the W. H. Wingo family of Lockney. They range from mystery stories to German grammar and will be the answer to many needs of our borrowers.

We have also received as a gift of the publishers, a new biography HUGH ROY CULLEN: A STORY OF AMERICAN OPPORTUNITY by Ed Kilman and Theon Wright. From very modest circumstances Hugh Roy Cullen rose, by means of hard work, faith and courage to become the "king of the Texas Wildcatters," one of this country's wealthiest men, and one of the greatest philanthropists of all times.

Several volumes of poetry have been placed in the Lockney branch library at the request of the young people of the community.

Term themes is the order of the day at Floydada and 4 o'clock to 5 plus is "the hour." Magazines are checked out by the dozens, along with books on subjects from modern uses of glass to the training of seeing eye dogs to the English countryside.

Our "book of the week" is NO HIGH ADOBE by Dorothy L. Pillsbury. This is a series of stories of "Mrs. Apodaca" and her amigós which were originally published in the Christian Science Monitor. It is a happy book, a serene book, a book that will affirm your heart and give you a song to match that of the gay and colorful people within its pages.

Two books which I would like for you to see are THESE HARBEST YEARS: A GUIDE TO ABUNDANT LIVING AFTER 40 and UNDERSTANDING OLD AGE. The first of these is designed as a realistic guide toward a longer and more active life. The second is written primarily for social workers, physicians, psychologists, etc.; but one of our own readers has recommended that every elderly person should read it to have a better understanding of the physical and emotional changes which they are undergoing. One of these books will be found at Floydada and one at Lockney.

White lies often have to be whitewashed to prevent them from turning black.

Floydada Tot Recovering After Falling Under Car

Plainview. — Bill Greer, 19-month-old son of Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Greer of Floydada, is recovering "just wonderfully" in Plainview Hospital and Clinic from injuries received Friday when he fell from a car driven by his mother.

An X-ray taken immediately after the accident revealed a possible skull fracture but additional X-rays made Saturday showed no presence of fracture, hospital attendants said.

The child tumbled from the car as his mother backed out of a driveway and a door came open. Mrs. Greer said she felt a jolt and is certain a wheel of the car passed over her son's head.

Many more people get on in the world than up in it.

Texas Cotton Crop Smashes All Records

Austin — Texas cotton farmers averaged just under one-half bale to the acre this year, in spite of the drought, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

The average yield was 242 pounds per acre, well over the 200-pound record which stood for 37 consecutive years, from 1912 to 1949, the Bureau points out. Some individual areas (notably Central and East Texas and the Blacklands) did not fare so well, but their deficiency was more than made up with high-grade, long-staple cotton from irrigated sections in the Trans-Pecos and El Paso areas.

When the new Congress convenes in January, Texas cotton acreage allotments are expected to be increased, the Bureau notes. If this happens, there will be an even greater demand for methods of fighting the boll worm and boll-weevil problems, and for some way to defoliate cotton stalks so mechanical pickers can be used.

The answer to both of these problems, Bureau officials say, may lie in the use of helicopters instead of the less maneuverable, conventional airplanes. The helicopter, using the advantage gained in its "downwash" from the overhead propeller, can spray much more thoroughly than airplanes, and "hard-to-get-at" places are virtually eliminated. The helicopter's maneuverability even enables the pilot to fly at night under favorable weather conditions.

The Bureau reported that farm cash income from cotton was 29 per cent greater in the first nine months of 1954 than in the same 1953 period.

"Selfish" Oil Titan Gives Millions Away

Hardly anybody blinked an eye when Hugh Roy Cullen gave two and a quarter million dollars to the University of Houston last winter. Hardly anybody in Texas, anyway.

This big-hearted, impulsive, outspoken, ruggedly individualistic oil millionaire has given away over $160,000,000. In one 48-hour period he gave over a million dollars to each of four separate hospitals, setting an all-time record in generosity. And in 1947, he set up the Cullen Foundation to dispense his wealth in systematic if somewhat overwhelming fashion.

"My wife and I are pretty selfish about our giving," he explained recently. "We want to see our money spent while we're still alive, so we can enjoy the spending." The story of what one newspaperman called "the biggest heart in Texas" is told in a new book, "Hugh Roy Cullen, A Story of American Opportunity."

Cullen acquired his wealth as a wildcatter in oil, starting from scratch, with little more than courage, faith, obstinacy and uncanny instinct. His philanthropies started early in life. "I've always wanted to help people," he says. "I guess I was as eager to help people when I was poor as I am now. It is my conviction that unless a man is generous to begin with, the richer he gets the tighter he gets."

Years of hard work and determination made Cullen the uncrowned king of the wildcaters, a legend in his own time. By his middle years, still drilling vigorously, his unbounded wealth was matched by his unstinting philanthropies, since he felt that the riches he had extracted from American soil should be used to serve the needs of his less fortunate fellow-citizens.

As Speaker of the House Joseph Martin commented on his absorbing life story, "The story of Hugh Roy Cullen should be required reading for any pessimists who believe that America is a nation of vanishing horizons. . . . As long as our country produces men of the character of Roy Cullen, it will go forward."

Postal Manual Lists Simpler Postal Rules

Another important "first" in the Post Office Department — allowing mail users themselves to help shape postal regulations into the most practical, usable form — has been incorporated into the precedent-setting Postal Manual being issued in final form, effective December 1. Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield said today.

The December 1 edition replaces the preliminary edition originally issued October 21. It contains proposals advanced by the public for improvements in the postal regulations. The suggestions came from large commercial users of the mails, publishers, newspapers, citizens in all walks of life and postal employees themselves.

Postmaster General Summerfield announced, when the preliminary publication was released, that the Post Office Department was taking what was for his Department an unprecedented step of asking for suggestions on improvements. The effective date of the regulations, originally set for November 20, had to be moved up to the present December 1 date to take advantage of the best of the recommendations.

Among additional changes being made in the final publication are the following:

1. Further clarification of the use of meter stamps has been made. The entire part on meter stamps has been rewritten.

2. Publishers will be allowed to use white or any other light-colored paper for wrapping, instead of being restricted to white or Manila paper — a simple change, but one which will be important financially for this large group of mailers.

3. Another important revision for publishers who are among the largest users of the mails will be one permitting use of light-colored paper for address strips also, instead of the present mandatory white or yellow — another simple change which will have financial importance. As a part of this change, the requirement is abolished that black ink exclusively must be used on the address strips.

4. Specific measurement limitations as to where the "window" must be located in the envelope are changed, to eliminate unnecessary restrictive and technical requirements which formerly applied to large mail users.

5. A complete list of territories, possessions and trust territory lands included in domestic mail service has been placed in the final Manual — another illustration of how the Manual will give complete, basic information for mail users.

6. Strict and unnecessary restrictions on the identifying lettering for rural mail boxes are modified.

These are only a few of scores of suggestions which are included in the final version, Mr. Summerfield noted.

"While many of them appear of a simple nature, their importance for large groups of mail users is great, and sometimes final word on postal rules and regulations. The myriad, complicated material of the past is all completely superseded, and there will be no question of "conflicts" between previously issued material and this book. Instructions are going out to all postal establishments accordingly.

HOT SYRUP FOR HOT CAKES

How about borrowing a real smart breakfast idea from our friends to the North? When hot cakes are served right from the griddle of your gas range, pour "heated" maple-blended syrup over them. . . . Eddie 'em, in other words, to keep them warm and wanted. Heat the maple-blended syrup slowly on the top burner of your range; melt the butter you need, too, at the same time in the same pan. Then — when a stack of cakes appear on your plate, inundate them with warm, buttery maple-blended syrup.

If a sucker is born in this world every minute it is about time to stop the clock.

PERK UP YOUR HOUSE FOR WINTER

To perk up your house for winter is to wash everything washable and starch everything starchable. Bead-bling in the wash water will do much to freshen colors, and put sparkle back into dulled whites. De-starching of heavy items like slip covers, in your washes. To the rinse water add a gallon batch of heavy starch to which you have added 4 sections of the little blue wax ironing aid. There's a plus for starch that will make ironing extra easy, and make a smooth, soil-resistant finish.

The average person has 1000-colds each year.

When you bake a cake, pre-heat the oven of your range at the temperature called for in the recipe. If you're working with a prepared mix, the right time to turn on the gas is when you pour the contents of the box into your mixing bowl. If you're making a cake from "scratch", wait until you've sifted the dry ingredients, creamed the shortening, measured the sugar and milk and are ready to combine all the ingredients, before you turn on the gas in the oven.

THE STATE versus PAUL M.

This scene is all too common in American courts. It is the fateful climax of the problem we call JUVENILE DELINQUENCY. But there is another, an earlier scene, which has never been photographed. It happens so quietly, with so little drama, that no photographer has tried to catch it. In the case of THE STATE versus PAUL M. it happened fifteen years ago. Paul was a little shaver then. It was early on a Sunday morning, and the church bells were ringing.

Paul heard them as he played quietly in his room. They were a reminder that this was the morning he must be very quiet, because Daddy and Mama must catch up on their sleep. Daddy heard them and pulled the covers over his ear. "Why," he thought, "must they ring them for Sunday School as well as Church?" Mama heard them; and got up to start the coffee. God heard them, too. And only God knew that in this tranquil scene, which His bells left undisturbed, sentence had been passed in the case of THE STATE versus PAUL M.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without it strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Hammond Named Man Of Year

Dallas — J. Walter Hammond, Texas Farm Bureau president, has been named "1954 Man of the Year in Texas Agriculture" by the Progressive Farmer, a southwide farm magazine.

The announcement was made today by Eugene Butler, president and editor of the magazine.

The recognition is given Hammond for conspicuous and distinguished farm organization leadership. Says Editor Butler: "J. Walter Hammond is, probably more than any other man, the voice of the Texas farmer and rancher. And during the past fifteen years as Texas Farm Bureau President, he has used that voice very effectively for the good of Texas Agriculture."

It is largely through Hammond's long, hard work that the Texas Farm Bureau now numbers almost 60,000 members in 200 counties. And it is a powerful force in Texas agriculture and farm legislation.

The organization had a membership of about 5,000 when Hammond became president in 1939. A farmer himself, Hammond was convicted that farmers had to be organized to be heard. He was determined the membership should grow until they could make their influence felt both in the state and nation.

In early days, Hammond had to beat his way in to see politicians to try to give them the farmer's views. Today, they come to see how the Farm Bureau feels about problems.

Hammond and fellow Farm Bureau directors fought for the Texas farm to market road program. As a result Texas now has as fine a rural road system as any in the nation.

In 1949, Hammond used his influence nationally to settle the storage problem for a big wheat crop. By getting CFC loans available for wheat temporarily stored on the ground, permanent storage soon opened up just as Hammond had predicted.

J. WALTER HAMMOND

Texas wheat farmers benefited about $40 million dollars. He has helped solve similar problems dealing with cotton, cattle and grain sorghums.

Donald Allison Takes Air Force Exam

Walker AFB, N. M. — Donald Allison, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Allison of Lockney, Texas, is one of eight candidates for the Air Force Academy who visited Walker Air Force Base in well, N. M., the past week.

The purpose of the visit was to give the candidates a first-hand look at Air Force life and, at the same time, to give them physical and mental examinations. These will form the first two series of final qualifying exams.

Those who did best will take a second series, consisting of the College Entrance Exams given in March. From this limited group, 300 will be selected to enter as the charter class of the Air Force Academy next July.

The Air Force Academy was proved by Congress and President Eisenhower April 1 of this year and will eventually be located near Colorado Springs. However, work on the $5,000,000 project has begun recently and the charter class will start at a temporary camp in Denver.

Allison is currently a freshman at Texas Technological College in Lubbock.

The candidates arrived at Walker AFB Monday and were given a special tour of the base Tuesday, including a tour through a 36 Wednesday, they took an eight-hour Air Force Officer Qualifying Test, and Thursday they were given a physical examination.

Walker AFB is one of 40 Air Force bases which have been selected as Air Force Academy centers. To qualify for nomination to the Academy, a man must be an unmarried U. S. citizen between the ages of 17 and 22. He must be of good moral character and must be medically qualified for flying training.

Young men who are interested in nomination to the Academy may apply by writing the Senator of their home state or the Representative of their home district. Each member of Congress may nominate 10 candidates. Congressional nominations may be made up till Feb. 18.

Dear Santa:

I am a little tiny boy 18 years old and I have tried real hard to be a good little fellow but Nell seems to think I wasn't too good. She says I went off to Plainview and run around too much. But, Santa, there was a pretty little girl over there and I'm sure you can understand why I wandered astray.

Santa, would you please bring me a new winter time hat for Christmas? The one I'm wearing is so ventilated that I have to pin a handkerchief in the top to keep my little head warm. I would also like to have some good tight brakes on my little car, so that every time that car turns toward Plainview, those brakes will stop me right at the crossroads.

Santa, don't forget my little sweetheart, Nell, and bring her something nice too.

Well, bye for now. We'll be waiting for you at Christmas.

Your little friend,

Jimmy Rankin

Court Suit Seeks To Annul Chiropractic Law

Austin — A court suit that seeks to have the chiropractic licensing act declared unconstitutional threatens to dissolve high educational requirements established for the profession by the Texas Legislature in 1949. Dr. Robert E. Hartong of San Antonio said here this week.

Dr. Hartong, who is president of the Texas State Chiropractic Association, said a writ has been filed in Fredericksburg with the aim of having the chiropractic licensing act, under which all chiropractors are licensed by the State of Texas, declared invalid.

"It is certainly to the public's interest that this act stays on the statute books," Dr. Hartong said.

"Texas' educational requirements for the practice of chiropractic are now among the highest in the nation, and equal to other healing professions, including those for medical doctors and osteopaths," Dr. Hartong said.

He pointed out that before a chiropractor can practice in Texas he must study for two years in a college with standards equal to that of the University of Texas and then attend recognized chiropractic college for four years.

Explaining the educational requirements, he said:

At the academic college he is required to be proficient in a number of basic science subjects including anatomy, physiology, chemistry, bacteriology, pathology and hygiene and public health. Medical doctors are required to study these same subjects before they are licensed.

Then, in addition, a chiropractic student must complete four eight month semester years in a chiropractic college studying chiropractic subjects.

After completion of his studies, the student is then required to present evidence to a basic science board and to a chiropractic board of the completion of his college work. Both are State of Texas boards. Members are appointed by the Governor and approved by the Texas Senate.

"The chiropractic board requires that a student take a written examination before being licensed to practice. The examination covers such subjects as anatomy, physiology, symptomatology, pathology and analysis of the spine, and hygiene and public health.

"By the chiropractic act, a chiropractor is limited in what he can do, his practice is confined to the alignment and adjustment of the vertebrae of the spine to correct subluxations and malalignments," Dr. Hartong said.

"The chiropractors of Texas think it is a good law that protects the public and we stand ready to stand behind it."

Dr. Hartong said Texas was one of 44 states that require chiropractors to be licensed by the state.

THRIFT NOTE

To stretch two portions of left over meat loaf into four, try this recipe offered by the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association: Dilute a can of vegetable soup with 1 cup of water. Bring slowly to a boil in a skillet. Crumble or cube leftover meat loaf into soup mixture, sprinkle lightly with garlic powder; heat over a moderate flame, stirring occasionally until it reaches a boil, then reduce heat to low and let simmer five minutes more. Serve with mashed potatoes, a tossed green salad with French dressing, apple pie and coffee.

And we know that all things work for good to them that love God. — Romans 8:28

CHRISTMAS is in the air. Christmas buying, Christmas greetings, and Christmas decorations are prevalent everywhere. The Christmas spirit has a harder time permeating the older person than it does the youngster but eventually most all of us fall victim to its wooings and feel that spirit of brotherly love, cheer and kindness to all in spite of ourselves. The best way is to just let go and let the Christmas spirit have its way. At this time of year it behoves us all to be especially thoughtful and kind to those around us.

GOOD CREDIT RECORD
 Young couples starting married life find it pays to establish their credit and to maintain a good credit record. By paying promptly and maintaining good credit records, they are establishing a sound foundation for financial security and social standing. Credit enables them to acquire attractive home furnishings and equipment as they go along, to enjoy more of the good things of life than they would if they had to wait until they saved the cash.

Those who grant credit, like to see people use it, but not abuse it. The sound use of credit stimulates business, creates employment, contributes to lower commodity prices, and brings more of the good things of life within the reach of more people.

Your Credit is a Sacred Trust—Guard It Closely.

back to work in January with a raise in salary, thanks to the constitutional amendments approved by the people of the state in the general election. The law makers get $25 per day starting with the new session, but this lasts for 120 days and then they get nothing. The old law gave them $10 per day for 120 days and $5 per day thereafter. Perhaps the new pay schedule will speed up the legislature. Usually a man doesn't do much fooling around if he is working on his own time, and that's what the boys will be doing after 120 days. We will see.

THE NEW SESSION of the legislature in January will be faced with some fairly stiff problems. They will be presented a 2 1/2 million dollar highway program for which the state must furnish financing. Drought problems will face them and state department are asking for more funds — totaling up to $41 million more than last year. They'll have their hands full and if they do the job in 120 days we'll say they've really accomplished something.

THINK YOUR NEW CAR is high. Maybe you ought to investigate the price in England. American-made cars are much in demand in England because of their larger size and the great amount of chrome they carry. British authorities will allow only 650 American cars to be sold in England this year. The tariff is one-third the importers price and the purchase tax 50 percent of the retailer's price. This makes a car in the Mercury-Buick DeSoto class cost as much as $7,000. But all the 1955 imports are spoken for already.

EXACTLY WHAT the policy of the present administration is in their affairs with the Communist governments is unknown to this scribe but it seems to us at times that our attitude is a little on the docile side. Certainly we don't want to get into a fighting war with the Chinks or Russians either but we don't like to see American boys cooped up in a prison just because they happened to be flying a plane in a perfectly legitimate (from the war standpoint) bombing mission. We're thinking that maybe steps could be taken and ways would be found to pressure the Chinks where the pressure would hurt.

PERFECTION is a trifle dull. It is not the least of life's troubles that this, which we all aim at, is better not quite achieved. — W. S. Maughan.

NEGRO TEACHERS WORRIED
 Negro teachers in Texas schools are deeply concerned about the possible loss of their jobs if the Supreme Court ruling of last May leads to wholesale desegregation.

At a meeting in Austin recently 2,700 of the state's total of 8,700 colored teachers voted "no" to a proposal they contribute $1 for or commissions set up for working out a program of compliance with the Court ruling.

Actually, the Negro teachers are deeply concerned with prospects that a large percentage of them will lose their jobs when and if Texas schools are opened to both Negro and white students. They know they will be outnumbered in representation on school boards, and that white teachers will generally get preference in faculty selections.

Atty Gen. John Ben Shepperd recently pointed out that Texas alone employs more Negro teachers than 31 states combined in which there are no separate schools for Negroes. This pattern of choosing white teachers over Negroes would probably prevail throughout the South if complete desegregation is ever completed. —Amarillo Daily News.

HOME COMFORT

Newest idea in home bedding comfort is the contour bed, a nationally known magazine reports.

The contour-bed mechanism is available in sizes to fit all standard beds. The one-quarter horsepower motors raise or lower the head or the foot to the desired position. Toggle switches, which can be reached by a bedridden person, operate the mechanism.

Special mattresses of luxurious cotton-impregnating construction can be obtained for the contour bed.

About all we need now is for someone to supply us with mechanical robots to do our work and we no doubt would be able to find the time to enjoy the comforts of such a bed—Quintaque Post.

America should retain her reputation for being the melting pot — but should make it hotter for those who refuse to melt.

LIBRARY NOTES

By Ivy Pearl Renee

Work has begun on the room for the library at Lockney, and Mrs. Mills reports that it "Surely is noisy." The roof has been repaired, a door has been cut and the finishing work will soon be underway. When the room is finished the Lockney branch library will have room for at least twice as many books as it now has.

There were 11 new borrowers at Lockney the past week, and during the last month 34 biographies were checked out there.

The library will be closed two days for Christmas — December 24 and 25. It will also be closed on New Year's Day, January 1. Since both Christmas and New Years come on Saturday, there will be no story hour these two weeks.

Many people who attended the Christmas art workshop were pleased with the decorations in the library reading room. Mrs. Barbara Cooper, a student of Dr. A. W. Randall, did the decorations for us. We will use them throughout the Christmas season.

We invite all the youngsters to attend story hour this Saturday, December 18. There will be a small Christmas tree with candy and nuts for all who come.

New books to be found at Lockney this week are "Zoo-parade," which tells the story of various animals in the Chicago Lincoln Park Zoo; "Modern Woodworking Projects," which tells how to build tables, toys, and sewing cabinets; and "Bears on Hemlock Mountain," which is the story of a brave little boy who went over the mountain repeating "There are no bears on Hemlock Mountain." This last book will be enjoyed by the younger readers.

New books in Floydada include two children's books: "Surprise for Susan" and "White Mane," a best-selling novel, "Reunion" by Merle Miller; "The Bane of Drug Addiction," and "Fingerprints Never Lie."

Good Reasons For Using Conservation Practices

Mr. O. A. Lucas, near Aiken, produced 6000 pounds of Plainsman Milo per acre, the first year following three years of alfalfa. The second year from alfalfa he produced 4800 pounds per acre. All the grain sorghum crop was handled the same, with one pre-watering and five after planting. The Milo was planted about May 10, and harvested October 25, 1954.

Mr. Oliver W. Holmes, south west of Lockney, produced 4000 pounds of Martin's Milo per acre, the first year following yellow blossom sweet clover. The Milo had one pre-irrigation and three later. Mr. Holmes had some trouble with his irrigation pump and stated that the sorghum crop suffered some for water before the first irrigation.

Mr. Paul Cooper, north of Lockney, produced 41 bushels of wheat per acre, following a good growth of vetch last Spring. The vetch was drilled in grain sorghum stubble last fall. The wheat was watered to get it up, and twice afterwards. The wheat tested better than 62 pounds per bushel.

Mr. James Bobbitt, near Sterley, grew 4000 pounds of Martin's Milo per acre, following a good stand of cowpeas in grain sorghums last year. He harvested only 3500 pounds per acre on a nearby block which was in cotton last year. Both blocks were handled alike, and watered four times. The Milo was planted about June 5, and harvested October 25, 1954.

Mr. W. G. Kinard, near Sand Hill harvested 4800 pounds of Martin's Milo per acre, following a good growth of vetch in the Spring. The vetch was seeded in cotton middles late last summer before it was watered the last time. The Milo was pre-irrigated once and four times later.

Mr. Aubrey Holt, southwest of Lockney, produced 5000 pounds of Plainsman Milo per acre, on an area that was bench leveled last spring. It was side dressed with 56 pounds of anhydrous ammonia per acre about June 25. The crop was watered four times, but was not pre-watered. It was planted about May 5 and harvested October 10, 1954.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

6 December, 1954.

Dear Mr. Hays:

Well Mr. Hays we are at sea tonight headed for Yokosuka, Japan. We left Subic Bay P. I. the 2nd. Hit a small gale that lasted about 2 days. 50 to 60 m. p. m. winds so I hear. I know it was pretty rough out on the ocean. White caps by the millions. If I had of felt better it would probably have been real pretty but I wasn't exactly feeling my best. I don't think anyone was. They say sea sickness is all imagination. If it is we have about 750 guys on here with wonderful imaginations. We are due to arrive in Japan tomorrow sometime. We don't know what time we will get in but we are going in anyhow. We got a new Captain somewhere in Texas. It will sure be good to get back home. We are due sometime in February 1955. I have been getting The Beacon regular now for quite a while. It sure does help in catching up on the home town news. We made a trip to Hong Kong last month. They have everything there an one could want. Clothes, jewelry, China ware and if you want pictures that is the place to go. That is a very few of things you can get there. Well I guess I will close this for tonight and get some sleep.

DRESSED UP DESSERT

Here, an unusual way to use some of the cranberry sauce you're storing in your refrigerator; put a generous spoonful of the sparkling stuff on each portion of orange coconut tapioca pudding. It's a rare flavor combination — and easy to create since the pudding comes from a package mix, the cranberry sauce from your holiday leftovers.

No man should have reason to complain if he is measured by his own yardstick.

EDITORIAL

Christmas in America has always been a home-and-family occasion. For most of us, that is its most cherished feature. The Christmas tree, the homecoming of those who are away, the sharing of gifts and the plentiful Christmas dinner all bring the family closer together. Our love for children is given perhaps its most generous expression at that time. This, too, is in keeping with the event that we observe. It all began with a Child born in Bethlehem, with a little family gathered around a manger. Remember this, not only at Christmas time, but through all the other 365 days of the year. From "The Greatest Gift" by Ralph A. Felton.

Question of the Week

"What is the first thing you notice about a person?"
Cleta Willis — Hair and what they're wearing.
Jimmy Rankin — Whether it has a pretty figure or not, providing it is a girl.
La Juana Cates — Eyes and teeth.
Earnestine Spradlin — Clothes and build (if it's outstanding).
Katy Rucker — Eyes.

Christmas Concert Tonight

By Luther Williams

Have you forgotten what is going to take place tonight, Thursday, December 16 at the high school auditorium? It's the night that the Lockney Longhorn Band will present their Christmas Concert as their contribution to the Yuletide Season. Some of the songs the band will play are: "The Story of Christmas," "Adeste Fideles," "Jingle Bell Rhapsody," and "March of the Little Tin Soldiers." The concert will begin at 7:30 — admission free. So come and enjoy some of the Yuletide spirit at the Christmas Concert of the Lockney Longhorn Band tonight at the high school auditorium.

Carrol Carthei — Their smile.
Dorothy Hewitt — Lips.
Eva Sanchez — I would notice if he was tall, dark and handsome. (That's what most of the girls notice.)
Alta Williams — Their smile and the way they dress (neat and clean).
J. W. Dippery — Clothes.
David Hartman — Their smile and clothes.

Calling All Senior Girls

You are the object of a national search. But don't run — unless you run to the library or classroom to study up on homemaking. Because this is a homemaking search which will be fun and educational at the same time, a search for the all-American homemaker of tomorrow.

She may be in our school! The girl among our seniors scheduled to graduate in the spring who receives the highest score in a written examination based on homemaking knowledge and aptitude will be our homemaker of tomorrow. She will represent us in the state contest where she will compete for a college scholarship of at least $1,500 and possible $3,000, a trip to historical American shrines and the biggest award of all, the opportunity to become the Betty Crocker All-American homemaker of tomorrow.

There will be fun and prizes right from the beginning of this project which General Mills has sponsored to focus public attention on what our school is doing to prepare our young women for the future and to demonstrate how homemaking can be as rewarding as any other career.

Participants will take a 90-minute examination which will be given simultaneously in all schools January 12. This examination will be graded by Science Research Associates of Chicago.

Our homemaker of tomorrow will receive a golden pin and a cook book. Her examination paper will be entered in state competition.

The state winner will receive a $1,500 scholarship, a golden jeweled pin, a complete set of Encyclopedia Britannica for her school and a trip with her school advisor to the National Award Dinner in Philadelphia April 21 which will also include a tour of Washington, D. C., and Colonial Williamsburg, Va.

The scholarship of that state winner selected as the Betty Crocker All-American Homemaker of tomorrow will be increased to $3,000 and she will receive a specially designed diamond-studded gold pin.

Local Sponsor — Lockney Homemaking Department.

Others on the squad are Donald Farrish, Larry Jarrett, "Moose" Meriwether, Jay Kemp and Johnny Hanst. Wish us luck people, cause we're gonna need it.
