Teach Children To Dial Zero

Small children should know and use the telephone operator — as much as they do the corn, policeman, and should turn to the operator in the event of an emergency.

Extension Service specialists at Texas A & M University say that although preschool youngsters can't be expected to memorize long telephone numbers, they can be taught one rule: If an accident happens, dial zero, tell the operator what is wrong, and she will help you.

A child should be taught, however, that he is to dial zero only in emergencies, say Bobye Riney, Extension rural civil defense specialist, and Patsy Reynolds, family life education specialist.

One five-year-old's plaintive message to the operator was "My Mommie's asleep and won't wake up — and there's a fire in our house."

After a little prodding, the operator learned the boy's name and address and called the fire department. Firemen rushed to the address, found the house on fire, and the mother knocked out by sleeping pills. Both survived, thanks to the child's action and the operator's help.

Another youngster whose mother fell through a floor and was trapped, went directly to the telephone and dialed zero. He couldn't remember his daddy's name or where he lived, but he rattled off the name and address of his grandparents. The operator called them, got the child's address and had a doctor on the way in minutes.

Although operators are ingenious in tracing calls from small fry, such procedure is a waste of precious time. Encourage your child to memorize his name, his father's name and address, the specialists recommend.

TEXAS INDUSTRIAL WEEK, APRIL 1-7

TMA President Gives Guidelines For Promoting Texas Industrial Growth

(By A. R. Watson, TMA Pres.) We are living in an age in which we "worship" statistics, and seem to be discontent unless we have explored all of the possible figures

O. J. GIBBS

Gibbs Selected Gulf Director

T. G. Harper, member of the refining department of Gulf Oil Corporation's Pittsburgh, Pa., headquarters, has been transferred to Mississippi Gulf Refining Company, it was announced today by T.A. Dietz, vice president of domestic refining.

He will be superintendent, engineering and operations, at the Purvis, Miss., refinery of Gulf's wholly-owned subsidiary.

Harper had been director, planning and economics, in Pittsburgh. His successor in Pittsburgh will be O.J. Gibbs, who has been a member of the worldwide co-ordinator for refining staff.

Harper, a native of Boyce, La., and graduate of Louisiana Tech, joined Gulf in 1952 at its Port Arthur refinery. He held various positions there until transferred to Pittsburgh late in 1958, first as an economist and then as director, planning and economics, refining coordination.

Gibbs, a native of Pomona, Calif. but a 1947 graduate of Texas A & M University, also joined Gulf at its Port Arthur refinery after graduation. He was director, planning and economics division at the time of his transfer to Pittsburgh early in 1962. He is a 1937 graduate of Dimmitt High School, and the son of the late Mrs. A. E. Gibbs.

The Russian team will stop for one game in Plainview before continuing on to Lima for play in the same Tourney. A sophomore, Doris is working toward a B.A. degree.

that can be recorded in connection with any event, or accomplishment. For example, when I was a youngster in Indiana, the hotbed of basketball in America, it was easy to read the score of a game. Opposite the player's name, you found the number of baskets and free throws that he had made and the number of fouls that he had committed.

Today, to obtain the same information, and it is all that you really want to know, you have to see how many field goals and free throws he attempted, how many rebounds he made, and, in some cases, how many assists, a term that I'm not certain that I understand at all.

The value of industrial growth to a community or a state goes far beyond the statistics that are customarily used to record industrial development progress.

The importance of industrial development is the fact that the citizens of a state or city joined forces to bring a new industry, or industries, to their area. The importance is that initiative, imagination and community spirit are at work, and not the fact that for each 100 new industrial workers you add X number of new automobiles, Y number of retail establishments and Z number of residents.

The real "disaster" in so many of our economic disaster areas is not that a changing technology and economy has done away with old employment opportunities, but that the leadership and citizenship of many of these areas lack the conviction of courage, the determination or desire to dig for new economic opportunities to replace those that have been ended by technological change.

The true measure of a successful Texas Industrial Week will not be found in statistics that are read in meetings or achievements that are extolled at banquets.

A successful Texas Industrial Week will be one which we create better understanding of the importance of profits to wage earners. Profits create new capital, new capital creates new jobs, new jobs create more opportunities for industrial development for Texas.

A successful Texas Industrial Week will be one in which management and labor come closer to an understanding of their interdependence on each other, to an understanding of the fact that they are natural allies, not enemies. It is an economic necessity for each of them, management and labor, to support each other.

Texas Industrial Week will be a success if one more Texan understands that only new businesses and new industries create new dollars.

We can call our Texas Industrial Week a success if we change "grass roots approach" or "pulling ourselves up by our own bootstraps" from tired old cliches to dynamic plans for local action.

Enterprise and initiative have been Texas' trademarks. Used now to bring new industry and new understanding of the American enterprise system, they can assure Texas' future.

ASC OFFICE NEWS

1964 Wheat Measurements

We are now in the process of measuring wheat acreage in the county. We will measure wheat only on those farms for which a measurement has been requested by the producer. We will mail notices shortly after the measurements are complete. PLEASE REVIEW YOUR NOTICE CAREFULLY, if you believe that there is an error in our computations you should contact our office within fifteen days and request that we check our work or remeasure the acreage.

If you desire full history credit, or price support eligibility, the excess wheat acreage on the farm must be destroyed by May 1, 1964, or within fifteen (15) days from the date of the notice, whichever is later.

The fee for checking the disposition of excess seeded wheat is $4.00 per farm, plus $2.00 for each plot over one. Each plot of destroyed excess wheat must be not less than 72 inches wide and contain not less than 0.10 acre (one-tenth) and must be regular in shape with no more than four (4) sides.

1964 Feed Grain

973 farms were signed to participate in the 1964 Feed Grain Program. There were 1082 farms that were eligible for participation. Applications for these 973 farms indicate that 1786 acres will be diverted from corn, 8173 from Barley and 63550 acres to be diverted from Grain Sorghum, a total of 73,509 intended diverted acres, of which 3743 acres will be planted to Castor Beans and Sesame. Cross-compliance in the 1964 Feed Grain program, as in past programs, requires that if you participate on one farm you must not exceed the 1964 feed grain base on any other farm, regardless of where located.

What Will Be Classified As Grain Sorghum In 1964

For your information and guidance I quote below the definition of grain sorghum, applicable to the 1964 program: "Any acreage planted to grain sorghums of a feed grain or dual purpose variety, including any cross involving a feed grain or dual purpose variety, and any acreage of sweet sorghums used for green chop or silage, excluding:

1. Any sorghum-grass cross which, at all stages of growth, has most of the characteristics of the grass parent.
2. Forage sorghums (not feed grain grown for cover or green manure and not harvested in any manner other than by grazing during the period grazing of diverted acreage is permitted).
3. Sorghums in excess of the permitted acreage, destroyed not later than the applicable date specified in the program regulations for the disposal of excess acreage, or 15 days after date of notice of excess acreage, whichever is later.
4. Sweet sorghum harvested for any purpose other than green chop or silage.
5. Sorghums within the permitted acreage, destroyed before harvest and designated as diverted acreage or needed to meet conserving requirements. Destruction must be by mechanical means or by natural causes to the extent that it cannot be harvested as grain, green chop or silage, or consumed by livestock."

In addition to grain sorghums the following acreages of barley and corn will be classified as feed grains: "Any acreage of barley harvested as grain, green chop or silage." Any acreage planted to field corn and any acreage of other crop, including sweet corn, popcorn and crosses pastured or harvested primarily for livestock or poultry feed."

Michele Gives Talks For Organizations

It is the privilege of the Bobcat Tales to have another outstanding paper submitted to us by our foreign exchange student, Michele Bertonneau. Michele has done outstanding work during her year here with us and we will all miss her very much, but we will have to cherish in our minds and hearts the fond memories that she will leave left.

Since the beginning of the Second Semester I have made several speeches. One of the conditions for being an A.F.S. exchange student, was to make speeches before different clubs organizations. Indeed I accepted, but I was rather scared.

My first speech before the F.H.A. in January was absolutely terrible. I was extremely nervous. My knees, my legs were shaking. I still remember how strongly I was holding the desk before which I was standing. But now, I am more used to speaking. I have gained a bit more of self-confidence.

Since then, I have made different speeches, some out of town (Friona, Hart) some before ladies' clubs, some before 4-H clubs, or Lion's clubs. The last one, last Wednesday, was in Silvertown, before the High School.

Generally, in every speech, I always tell the same things: about my country, my town, my home, my family, about the differences between American and French teenagers. Between both countries educational systems, Pat, my Aican sister, generally comes with me; she is my moral support. But poor Pat! She must be tired of this; I am sure that she must know by heart every joke I tell. Ya I always tell the same.

I like to make speeches for different reasons. First, I like it, because sometimes it makes one miss school!! And I like it, too, because I meet different kinds of people. Generally, after each speech, I let the people ask questions. It is always funny to answer unexpected questions such as: "Do you sell Beattie wigs in France?" or such as: "Since the kids do not drive a car, do you ride your bicycle when you have a date?"

Easter's True Meaning

The true meaning of Easter cannot be clearly defined, for its meaning exists in the minds of people. For some, Easter is a remembrance of the day in which Christ arose from the tomb to fulfill his promise that on the third day he would arise. For some, it means that their sins have been paid for through the shed blood of Jesus Christ, and for others it means we now have a living Saviour to watch over us.

Yet, for some, Easter still has other meanings. A few misinformed persons believe that Easter is the time for putting on the new hat and dress, and going to church for the first time in a month just to say "See what I have. Others think of Easter as a time to take trips, enjoy themselves immensely and forget about God.

This article is especially written for these latter people, so that they might learn the "true meaning of Easter." It is a celebration for the remembrance of the resurrection of Jesus Christ upon the third day after his crucifixion. It is a time for all Christians to join together in thanking God for sending his Son so that we might have life everlasting; it is a time for rejoicing, and a time for consecration. It is a time in which we, as Christians, should look into our own hearts and evaluate the price thereof. Easter is a time to be drawn closer together in brotherly love, and love one another as God has loved us; it is a time to forget our woes, forgive our enemies, and make plans to do better in the future.

These following passages of scripture in order that we might more fully realize Easter's significance. Mark 15:25 And it was the third hour, and they crucified him. Mark 15:46 - And he bought fine linen, and took him down, and wrapped him in the linen, and laid him in a sepulchre which was hewn out of a rock, and rolled a stone away from the door of the sepulchre. Mark 16:2 And very early in the morning, the first day of the week, they came unto the sepulchre at the rising of the sun.

Mark 16:4 - And when they looked, they saw that the stone was rolled away: for it was very great. Mark 16:6 And he saith unto them, Be not affrighted: Ye seek Jesus of Nazareth, which was crucified: He is risen; He is not here; behold the place where they laid him. Although this article will be published after Easter is past, we sincerely hope that it will serve to help keep alive the true Easter spirit for weeks to come.

Religious Emphasis Assemblies

Last Wednesday, March 26, the students of Dimmitt High School met in the auditorium for the first of two religious assemblies. This assembly was begun with the pledge of allegiance to the American flag. Next on the program was Jackie Nichols, who read the story of the Good Samaritan from the Bible. After this, Kathy Gollehon lead the students in two songs. Brother Marion McKinney from the Bedford Church of Christ was the guest speaker for the assembly and he spoke on "What is Religious Emphasis".

The second religious emphasis assembly took place the following day, Thursday, also in the Dimmitt High School Auditorium. This program was, as always, begun with the pledge of allegiance to our flag. Then, Beale Goodwin read a scripture from the Bible to the students. This was followed by Kristi Webb who led the students in two songs accompanied by Jane Cleavinger, who played the piano. The guest speaker for this service was Brother M. A. Smith of the First Baptist Church. The assembly was closed with a prayer by Larry Scoggin.

Racial Violence Erupts In Jacksonville

Again, racial violence and riots have erupted in the Deep South, in Jacksonville, Florida. Roaming bands of vandals have wandered about the city, destroying property and causing other violence. The trouble started when the Negro leaders in the city felt that not enough action was being taken on the integration problem. Negro high school students have been most responsible for the violence. The students of two Negro high schools refused to attend classes; and wandered among the streets. Several white persons who came close to Negro residential areas have been beaten; and the rioters also have attacked policemen and news reporters. Police have arrested several hundred of the demonstrators, and a biracial committee has been set up to help soothe relations. The amount of violence has decreased; but tension remains high.

The causes of racial strife are complex and many; and this strife has often led to violence. The crux of the problem, in the long run, however, is ignorance. Ignorance on the part of the white man has led him to believe that Negroes are inferior to whites; ignorance on the part of both Negroes and whites have led to many of the misunderstandings and problems that confront us on the "racial problem". Both sides have been reluctant to sit down and really explore the situation, and they try to solve the problem from their own points of view. The "racial problem", both in the UNITED STATES and in other parts of the world, such as Africa; the tense situation in Cyprus, the Moslem-Hindu riots in India, and the conflicts between Jewish Israel and her bordering Arab countries are examples of conflicts that have erupted when people are intolerant of the rights of others to their religion, creed, or method of living. The above is an editorial comment.

Junior Class

The Junior Class met March 20, 1964 with Chuck McKinney, president. The minutes were read from the meeting of March 2, and volleyball teams were selected. Boy team captains are: Craig Fuller and Paul Easterwood. Girl team captains are: Jane Cleavinger and Shari Willis. The date for the contest has not yet been set. Plans for the Junior-Senior Banquet were then discussed further. A committee was selected to find a band or combo for the prom. Members are: Dale Leinen, Greta Nelson, Suzanne Dickey, Janis Davis, Paul Easterwood, and Craig Fuller. A speaker committee was also selected. Members are Linda Davis, Alice Acker, Patty George, Don Minchew, and Kerry Struve. Decorations and slavery costumes have been chosen by the committee, and it was discussed which Sophomore girls would be selected to serve. The date has been finally chosen as: April 25, 1964 in the South Grade Cafeteria at 8:00 p.m.

Personality of the Week

You can't miss her; she is the only new alto sax player in the band who looked a little lost a couple of weeks ago. Yes, another new family has entered our community, and we were lucky enough to have a girl register into D.H.S. Her birth certificates reads: born; July 19, 1948 in Mercedes, Texas, Name; Jackie Kay Johnston, but she answers to her preferred nickname of Jac.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Johnston and family moved from Edeouch, Texas to Dimmitt, where he is now manager of the Five POINT Gin. Other members of the Johnston household are: brothers—Robert 12, Ray 10, and Danny 7; sisters—Rachelle 13, and Tammy 5. Jac, since entering our high school, has found that her sophomore classes are a day's work for a fifteen year old. Her schedule consists of Band, English II, Biology, Library, Basketball, and World History.

Did you ever hear of red sand being a pet peeve? Well, that, along with a cold, dry climate are the things which Jac dislikes most. Her likes though, overbalance the dislikes. Jac's hobbies consist of water skiing, basketball, and a small rock collection.

Let's describe a pleasing evening for Jac by giving her a taste of her favorites. She would wear her favorite color—a baby blue dress and then climb into her favorite thunderbird to drive herself to the preferred eating hangout of all the teenagers. Here, Jac would order her speciality - fried chicken-and listen to her best liked song of "Bobby" over the radio.

Miss Johnston and her family arrived in Dimmitt at 3:00 a.m. one Monday morning and she said that things looked pretty dead at that time. When Jac enrolled in DHS she felt quite lost but she seems to be finding her way around very well now. Jac had this to say about the students, "I can't get over how friendly all the students at D.H.S. are; it is just amazing!"

We hope you and your family will be happy here in Dimmitt, Jac, because we are very pleased that you have chosen our community in which to live.

All My Sons

Dimmitt's speech department presented the drama, "All My Sons", Tuesday at contest and walked away with third place.

Arnold Acker played the part of Joe Keller and Kathy Gollehon played the part of Kate, his wife, with Cris, their son, played by Larry Scoggin. Fredia Webb played the part of Ann who was in love with Cris' brother who was killed in the war. Jim, the doctor was played by Paul Easterwood. The play was narrated by Linda Davis.

This drama is a story about a business man, Joe Keller, and his business head factory during the war. Joe and his business associate, who was Ann's father, had turned out 120 cracked airplane engine heads and later the planes with the cracked heads crashed and took the lives of the young naval men. Ann's father had been sent to prison but Joe had been set free. When Larry heard about what his father had done he killed himself and was reported missing in action. Joe couldn't understand why Larry had killed himself but he finally realized his son was disappointed in him and he had killed all his sons who were actually Larry's buddies.

This drama was presented before the school and we all enjoyed it and we believe the speech class did a wonderful job in presenting it.

Then the Easter story was read from the Bible by Fredia ANDERSON. A special song was sung by youth from the First Baptist and the First Methodist Church, and a poem was read by the Presbyterian Church.

Apathy

Has this school lost it's school spirit? The Journalism class of DHS doesn't think so, and yet, something is wrong! Some students think that the student body just doesn't care. They are unconcerned with grades, duties, responsibilities. Pride and a certain degree of respect for others has seemed to vanish—WHY?

There are always two sides to every story and this one is no different. Dimmitt High School may lack a little in school spirit, but if you take the time to re-evaluate that little in school spirit, you may find that it has been a very profitable and trouble-free year. There has not been many truly big or serious problems this year. Drinking and smoking isn't a serious problem as it has been in various schools, and all in all this school year has been run smoothly.

It has been discussed that to have school spirit there has to be a certain amount of mischief. There has to be some fun and excitement to "keep things going." The only problem is to define where fun and mischief, which does not hurt anyone, leaves off and meanness and destruction begins.

Respect for the upper-classmen is also an issue debated upon. Do the upper-classmen do nothing to earn this respect, or do the under-classmen merely disregard tradition and respect?

It is now your turn to re-evaluate this year, and decide for yourself whether or not you have contributed to this school's spirit. Oh! by the way were you to busy or did you take the time to look up what the title of this article means?

Snooper

Well, the students of Big D started preparing to see the bunny come bouncing down the bunny trail, but still remains busy all week. Some of the activities this week were:

Patty Brown, who was that man you were talking to after school Tuesday? He had a white Ford with a gold Texas star on the side, and little letters that said Highway Patrol. You had better watch that, Patty, talking to strange men. What's this I hear about the hot rodders Saturday night? Must have been an active night but it proves that our Highway Patrol is really on the job! Looks like you fellers will have to find a new strip!!

Seems like some understanding youth is trying to gradually make the streets of Dimmitt blacker. If you find time to look at these marks, a good example is beside the home of Jacky Dunn. Every place in Dimmitt you go you see two marks here and two marks there. Boy, sure is rough on tires! Larry Scoggin tells us that he has a new cat. Has Greta been over to see it yet? On should we say, has she tried to hit it yet? Last, but not least, what is this we have been hearing. Greta, about "Coming out of shute number 2, is rompin' and stompin' Dean Lilley"?

Just Wondering

I am a curious little girl just wondering what is wrong with our seniors. Day after day as I creep through the halls, I hear one senior after another say, "only nine weeks of school," or perhaps one will ask about the number of days until graduation. I cannot understand why they are in such a hurry to leave high school, and I cannot help but think that truly they are approaching the day of departure with regretfulness.

Every senior with whom I have spoken states that he can't wait until graduation. (Is that a cover-up for what he would really like to say?) Is he really so anxious to leave behind old memories, and start to make new ones? Perhaps I am wrong in thinking that these seniors, like those in the past, are frightened at the thought of leaving their secure homes and beloved school for the unknown, and while looking back upon old memories, wish they could relive them. Yes, perhaps I am wrong; but I do not choose to think so; for I am a senior also. I too have dreamed of the eventual day and yearned for my independence, but now as the time is fast approaching, I think of the fond dreams of yesterday and some times wish to go back into the past.

I am just wondering whether it is not true with all seniors.

Athletic Banquet

March 26, 1964 was the date of the annual Dimmitt High School Athletic Banquet. The banquet was held in the South Grade School Cafeteria at 8:00 p.m.

Mr. B. M. Nelson of Dimmitt served as Master of Ceremonies. Recognized at the banquet were guests and out going Seniors.

The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the 1964 Football and Basketball Queen. The Football Queen crown was placed on the head of Miss Linda McCollum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. McCollum. Her attendants were Miss Nancy Hays, and Miss Pamela Dollar. The Basketball Queen crown was placed on the head of Miss LaDawn Kemp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kemp. Her attendants were Miss Sharon Lilley and Miss Jane Cleavinger.

Special plaques were presented to Coach Covington, Coach Culpepper, and Coach Cleveland by the Senior players in appreciation of the coaches' work.

As the suspense rose, Coach Culpepper stood to present Miss LaDawn Kemp as the 1964 Most Valuable girl Basketball player. Coach Covington came forth to present the Most Valuable Football player. It was presented to Jim Axe.

Last but not least, Coach Cleveland presented Landol Frazier as the Most Valuable Boys Basketball Player.

Mr. Elbert Summers gave Thanks to the Coaches for their hard work, patients, and loyalty throughout the season.

The speaker of the evening was Mr. Murle Green, back field football coach, from Texas Tech. The events of the evening came to an end as Mr. Alvin Frazier gave the benediction.

American Heritage Assembly

Monday, March 23, we the students of good' ole D.H.S. were privileged to have Mr. Ogleby and Mr. Reynolds from Wayland. They portrayed and narrated the fascinating story of architecture in America since the 17th century.

Tuesday, March 24, we again filed into the auditorium or shall I say, danced into the auditorium to the tune of "Down Mexico Way." Mr. McCarty of Amerillo showed us the beautiful slides he took on a trip to Chihuahua and Pacifico in Old Mexico.

Our appreciation is extended to these men for their interesting entertainment.

Our Campus

—The Band Banquet date has been changed again! May, 16th is the new date. Let's remember this, band members.

—The Athletic Banquet was considered by some of those who attended as a very enjoyable Banquet and memorable occasion.

—Although this past week has been Religious Emphasis week, we can take this experience and make every day of our lives a special Religious Emphasis.

—The Band is wished the best of luck as they proceed to Levelland this Saturday, April 4th, for Concert Contest!

—The Junior-Senior Banquet is to be held on April 25th in the South Grade School Cafeteria.

—We hope all the students enjoyed the Easter Holidays as well as all the College Students that were home.

—As a result of a skiing trip, Nancy Hays has been in the hospital with her knee in traction this past week. We hope she will soon be up and on her feet again.

—The typing Contest will be held here in our high school building, April 11th. Good Luck, typists!

—Police!! Drags Yes, this seems to be a combination as some Dimmitt Hot-Rodders and the Highway Patrol met the Saturday of April 21st. Beware!! DRAGSTERS!! Remember this is fun but can be dangerous in more ways than one.

—Miss Littlepage, I've heard of hard tests but it seems you gave a whopper last Thursday. Janis Moore brought one of her poor mice to American History and by the time she finished the test the mouse was dead! I don't know whether to say poor mouse or poor Janis!!

Workers Urged To Obtain Social Security Statement

Within the recent few weeks most workers in the Amarillo area got a Form W-2 from their employers. This form is a statement of their salaries or wages for 1963, and the amount of taxes withheld.

For 9 out of 10 wage earners, social security taxes of 3 per cent were taken out of the first $4,800 of their earnings.

Haf Geldon, district manager of social security in Amarillo, suggests that every worker should occasionally ask for a statement of earnings credited to his social security account. This statement can be compared with personal records, such as the withholding tax form, to be sure the social security record is correct. It's even more important for the worker to do this if he has held several different jobs during the year.

Geldon said it is very easy to get this statement from social security. His office has a pre-addressed post card used to request a wage statement. Future social security payments will be based on the wages posted to the worker's account. For this reason, it's important for the wages to be correctly reported and credited.

To get the post card form or for other information, write, call, or visit the social security office at 1026 Adams Street, Amarillo, Texas.

DeWerth Offers Suggestions About Pruning Plants

If you have been thinking about doing some pruning around the home, A.F. DeWerth, head of the Floriculture Section of the Soil and Crop Sciences Department of Texas A & M University, offers these suggestions.

The cardinal rule of pruning is, if you have no good reason for pruning a plant, put the tools away. The primary purpose of pruning is to remove unwanted growth, whether it be for the plant's health, appearance, safety reasons or for disease control.

In dealing with shade trees, corrective pruning is sometimes needed to prevent formation of weak V-shaped crotches and limbs in the future. On older trees, removal of many small branches is more desirable than removal of a few large ones. When large branches or portions of the tree need to be pruned, an expert should be contracted.

Trees may be pruned at any time but spring is excellent for pruning because of the rapid healing of wounds which occurs at this time. Pruning ornamental shrubs and small flowering trees depends on growth habits and blooming characteristics of the plants. Most shrubs and small trees which bloom during the spring produce their flowers on growth made in the previous year, therefore, these plants should not be pruned until they have finished blooming.

Additional information on pruning may be obtained from the county agent. Ask for bulletin B-977 "Modern Pruning Methods."

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

A lure of only 1/8 ounce will catch most bass in most places. But there's a catch in that statement. It will get most only if you count all the little stinkers that an experienced bass angler considers it a nuisance to release. There will be but few quite large ones, and none too many of only a good medium size.

A really large bass is much more likely to take lue of, say 5/8 ounce. And it is that—not old-fashioned notions, as some Northerners think—that explains why much larger lures are used in parts of the South than in the North. It's just that bass run much bigger there, baby-size mouthfuls.

A fly rod and poppers offer by far the most sporty and interesting way to catch bass, according to Jason Lucas, Angling Editor of Sports Afield Magazine—and this method is especially effective in the deep south, where bass do much more surface feeding than in the North, perhaps because more big bugs and such hit the water, to get them into the habit.

For nearly all bass fishing in the North, and much of it in the South, use plugs of about 3/8 ounce to 1/2 ounce—of around average sizes for their weight. Most of the rare big fellows will pass these lures up as too small to suit them, but most little stinkers also pass them up as too large, so you won't have the trouble of releasing them. These plugs will get most bass of a good size to have sport with.

Even in the North, if there are some very big lunkers around, and you're deliberately hunting for them—ready to settle for fewer bass in hope of getting a lunker or two—switch to 5/8 ounce plugs; it's not necessary to use larger except for pike and muskellunge. And 5/8 ounce is the standard, everyday plug in those parts of the South where bass often come in the Giant Economy Size—to be more specific, where you can expect to get a good many from about four pounds on up.

In short, there isn't any best size lure for bass—except for you, depending on where you're going to fish at the time and on the size bass you hope to catch.

The Santa Cruz River in Arizona has one of the longest underground courses in the world.

Panhandle Heritage Foundation Held Election Meeting

The board of directors of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation held an election meeting at a luncheon on the Trail Motel in Canyon, Thursday noon. Forty members from eleven communities attended.

Foundation officers are: Mrs. Ples Harper, president, Russell Garver, vice president, second year of term, Lucian Upshaw, vice president, Jerry LaGrone, treasurer, Mrs. Kenneth Lanham, secretary, second year of term, Mrs. Jack SoRelle, second year of term, Eddie Melin, second year of term, and Avert Lair. The vice president in charge of finance will be selected by that committee at its first meeting.

The principal business of the day was discussion of the production of the out-door spectacular "Fandangle" which will be given in the amphitheater in the Palo Duro Canyon as a benefit for the Heritage Foundation, June 11, 12 and 13 this year. Robert Nail author and producer of Fandangle, spoke to the board members about the problems involved in getting the theater ready for use. He advocated as little more permanent building as possible until the theater had been used for several productions and patterns of usage had been established. In order that each community might have the same opportunity to attend the limited engagement of Fandangle, board members are inviting organizations in their vicinities to take the responsibility for 25 tickets each. These groups reserving and paying for 25 tickets will receive the first seat assignments when the box office opens May 1. In addition to seat space on the concrete risers, which will be $2.50, it was voted to have eight rows of chairs on the low front risers priced at $4.00.

Any person, organization or business wishing to insure tickets for its group may write FANDANGLE, Box 1268, Canyon, Texas for 25 tickets. Small orders and individual sales cannot be handled until after May 1.

High Quality Beef Supplies Available

The fed cattle market continues to be a depressed one, with large supplies of high quality beef available in retail stores.

Food shoppers can find many beef cuts at reasonable prices. Now is a good time to enjoy steaks and replenish freezer or locker space with beef, says Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension Service consumer marketing specialist.

Extra care is needed to maintain quality and flavor of meat. As soon as the shopper arrives home with the meat, she should remove the store wrapper from fresh meat and wrap it loosely in wax paper. Keep fresh meat in the coldest part of the refrigerator and use within a few days. Freshly ground beef should be used within a day or two, advises the specialist.

Freezer storage provides a means for keeping meat for longer periods of time. Meat to be frozen should be packaged in moisture-vapor proof material. Freeze not more than three to four pounds of warm food per cubic foot of freezer space in a 24-hour period, the specialist says. To maintain frozen meat quality, make certain the temperature is held at 0 degrees Fahrenheit or below.

There are reasonable price tags on steak cuts, rib, rump and chuck roasts, as well as ground beef and stew meat.

Fresh asparagus is on the market in limited supply. Lettuce quality is improved and here's a good choice of other salad greens. Carrots, cabbage, potatoes and turnips are available at reasonable prices.

Tail Water Return System Used By Jack Summers

During irrigation season in Castro County valuable money and top soil is collected in bar ditches along the roads.

A recent article in the News contained the following statement: "Conscientious farmers, who have convinced themselves that continuous irrigation is not only lowering their water table but is gradually removing the layer of rich top soil that has made West Texas agriculture great, have begun reviewing the situation as an interrelated problem: Water, as well as soil management."

Jack Summers, Castro County farmer is conserving tail water and recirculating it through a tail water return system in a water management program. He has located a 16 x 50 ft. pit at the lower end of an irrigated field and near bar ditch where it will salvage tail water from normal irrigation. A two-horse power electric pump has been installed in the pit and will carry water to upper end of the field through 1,650 feet of four inch plastic pipe.

The electric motor will pump about 220 gallons of water per minute. The motor will start automatically when the water level in pit reaches a certain point says Summers. The pump will also cut off automatically when water recedes to low level.

Summers has invested approximately $1,200 in the tail water return system. The system would cost about $1600 if company did installation.

Valuable top soil collects in the pit from tail water. This top soil known as "silt" maybe collected in such a way that it can be saved and redistributed. It is rich in fertilizers and the organic matter so necessary for productivity here.

Postmaster Urges Caution To Avoid Being Defrauded

Noting that mail frauds filch millions from the public annually and are increasing, Postmaster Davis urged today that local residents take care in responding to solicitations from unknown companies or to "offers too good to be true."

Mr. Davis said that he had received information from Postmaster General John A. Gronouski about the problem and that the Postal Service is pressing a strong drive against quackery by mail, land fraud promotion, gyp work-at-home schemes and the like.

Mr. Davis noted that one of the stiffest prison terms ever administered to a medical "con man" was given to Roy Wright DeWelles, of Pass Christian, Miss., who made an estimated $1.5 million peddling a worthless "oxygen therapy" device known as Detoxacolon.

DeWelles was arrested after sending out 10,000 postal cards promoting the quack scheme.

In another recent case at San Francisco, Edward H. Johnson, doing business as Comstock Land Company and E. H. Johnston Company, was sentenced to six months in prison, followed by four and one-half year probation for mail fraud. Johnson was also ordered to make restitution of $80,000 to purchasers of worthless desert land near Elko, Nevada. Postal inspectors accounted for nearly fifty investors who had signed contracts totaling $250,000 in the belief that the famous Nevada Comstock Ranch was involved.

In Augusta (Georgia), Homer C. Ward pleaded guilty to mail fraud and was sentenced to two years probation for operating a faith healer scheme. Public loss is estimated in excess of $2,300.

In Chicago, Beldon Clyde, convicted of violating 18 USC 1821 which forbids use of the mails in the taking of impressions or the manufacture of dentures by other than persons licensed to practice dentistry, was sentenced on December 20 to thirty days in the custody of the Attorney General and two years probation. Operating as Tru-Grip Dental Laboratory, he encouraged owners of the old plates to make their own impressions with a preparation he furnished and from which new plates were manufactured. Many complaints were received alleging dissatisfaction.

In Philadelphia, Jacob D. Morris, 71, was arrested for probation violations and sentenced to sixty days in prison. He had been placed on five years probation for mail fraud conviction in 1959. He has previously served time for a similar violation, resulting from "work-at-home" schemes, and his criminal history dates back to 1933. This latest action was for filching $3,000 from the public by advertising for persons to address and mail advertising matter, with earnings up to $188 weekly and offering for sale various set of instructions and sample outfits for earning money at home. Most people who sent money to Morris received nothing.

"It should be emphasized," Postmaster Davis added, "that most businesses doing business by mail are reputable firms, including many that may not be familiar to the prospective purchaser. However, if there is any doubt, it is best to get information from reliable sources, such as the Better Business Bureau. In cases where there is a genuine basis for suspicion of fraud, we would like to have prompt information from the public in my office—and I will see that appropriate action is taken."

Manning last weekend were their children, Jimmy Manning of Dallas, Leon Taylor of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ziegler and children of Canyon, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Collins and children of Dimmitt and a friend, Jeanne Cannon, who accompanied Leon Taylor, also of Fort Worth.

Nazareth F.F.A. Chapter Lists Spring Activities

With the conclusion of the year's show season on March 19 the Nazareth F.F.A. Chapter is looking forward to the Spring Judging Contests according to Tom Heffernan, Vo. Ag. teacher.

Even though the judging contests are just going into full swing, the Chapter has already competed in the following contests: Shallowwater Judging Contest, Hereford Livestock Contest, Olton Livestock Contest and San Angelo Livestock Contest.

The judging contests are always interest-getters and the boys always work hard to try to make one of these teams," says Heffernan.

"No one boy has a cinch place on any team and just before contest time the competition is really keen."

About April 1 the field is usually narrowed to about the top four boys in each division. "Only three boys can compete on a team but it is always best to have one or maybe even two standing by in case of illness on the day of the contest," comments Heffernan.

Below is a list of boys working out in each division:

LIVESTOCK—
Larren Jones
Donald Braddock
Clyde Schulte

POULTRY—

AMMO NOTES

by Wm. F. (Bill) Bennett, Agronomist, Western Ammonia Corporation

THE TRUE VALUE OF FERTILIZER—

What determines the "true value" of fertilizer? It's true value is determined by the extra yield and extra profits you obtain. Results, not price, determine your best fertilizer buy. This was recently pointed out in Farm Chemicals Magazine by Dr. Malcolm McVicker, Chemical Company.

He also points out that the secret of fertilizer payoff is closely associated with fertilizer know-how. This is just another way of saying that for maximum return, the right rate of the right kind of fertilizer must be used in the right way and applied at the right time. The crop must make maximum use of the nutrients applied.

In my early work in soil fertility, I used to make the statement that "A pound of plant food is a pound of plant food." This is far from the truth. Differences do exist in fertilizers. For example, ammonium forms of nitrogen are good nitrogen sources when applied preplant or early sidedress. However, for late topdressing of wheat or late sidedressing of maize a nitrate form might give better results.

Know-how in fertilizer use can mean extra profit. A simple example shows how a small increase in yield makes a vast difference in the true value of fertilizer. Take a look at grain sorghum. At the rate of 100 pounds of ammonia per acre and a grain sorghum selling at $1.75 per hundred, it would take only 15 pounds of grain sorghum per acre to make up a $5.00 per ton differential in the price of fertilizer. A grower cannot afford to gamble away his crop profits by not using the right fertilizer or the right fertilization practices.

It all boils down to this—know-how is a must in making the right decision on fertilizer use. It is necessary to obtain maximum return from your fertilizer dollar. A penny saved may mean a dollar lost. Or, if you think only in terms of price per ton, huge profits may be slipping through your fingers.

For the first time in history, Texas Republicans will have an opportunity to express their preferences for the GOP presidential nomination in a statewide straw poll.

Republican Executive Committee voted to hold the presidential referendum on the May 2 primary ballot. The opinion sampling has no binding effect. Principal purpose is to boost the stock of Barry Goldwater and to lure restless conservative Democrats into the GOP primary.

Democratic Executive Committee offered no special voter bonus to keep their own partisans in the fold.

Leaders of both parties, in simultaneous meetings in Austin, declined to submit requested referendum on sale of liquor by the drink and curtailment of Mexican national's commuting to jobs in Texas.

Names of Goldwater, Nelson Rockefeller, Margaret Chase Smith and Harold Stassen will appear on the GOP ballot. Originally the names of Richard Nixon, William Scranton, George Romney and Henry Cabot Lodge were included, but they were asked to be omitted. Rockefeller wanted off. He was told he had to stay since he already had announced.

Democrats responded warmly to Gov. John Connally's call for all-out support of President Johnson in party conventions. But they squabbled at length before accepting Dallas as the site of their September 15th state convention. Dallas finally won, 33-18 over Corpus Christi.

Connally made clear in a ringing speech urging Johnson support that as governor he plans to keep control of the state party.

"It is important—to choose people (as convention delegates) who will be as strong for Connally in September as they are for Johnson in June," the Governor stated.

Without dissent the Democrats agreed on Houston as the site of their June 16 state convention to pick national presidential nominating convention delegates. The state party platform will be written and a new SDEC selected at the September meeting.

Republicans will hold their June convention in Dallas and their September convention in Austin.

SDEC Chairman Eugene M. Lock of Dallas resigned at the Democratic meeting and was replaced by Frank Erwin Jr. of Austin. He had served as secretary.

Republicans adopted a resolution calling for a special legislative session on congressional redistricting and decided to admit registered voters who did not pay their poll taxes (under new federal constitutional authority) to party conventions.

Both committees also got around to their required business: certifying statewide candidates for the place (Austin) for their May 12

COURTS SPEAK—

State Supreme Court has agreed with lower courts that a state tax on gas pipelines is unconstitutional. Decision upheld earlier opinions that the dedicated reserve tax cannot be applied to pipelines holding long-term contracts to take Texas gas to out-of-state consumers. About $9,000,000 has been paid to the treasurer under the levy, $8,500,000 of it under protest.

High court permitted filing of three mandamus petitions involving election controversies.

It also heard arguments on former Fort Worth Councilman Doyle Willis' suit to get on the May 2 Democratic primary ballot as a senate candidate.

In addition, it scheduled hearings on a suit to keep former Bexar County Commissioner Sam Jorrie off the ballot as a House candidate. Both are challenged under a ruling that holders of paid office are ineligible to run for the legislature during the term to which they were elected or appointed. Both Willis and Jorrie now are out of their old offices.

Another argument was set on a suit to prevent Robert F. Bartlett of Van Zand County from running for county and district attorney. J. Alton Mills, another candidate for the Van Zand post, claims Bartlett has not met residence requirements.

For the second time, the Court of Criminal Appeals affirmed the swindling conviction and eight-year prison sentence of Billie Sol Estes.

BACKTAGGING—

The "backtagging" of culls and dry cows may be used to solve the growing problem of certifying all Texas Counties for brucellosis eradication. Dr. R. G. Garrett, executive director of the Texas Animal Health Commission, and Dr. John Wilbur, Veterinarian in charge of the U.S. animal disease eradication division in Texas, say the backtagging market testing program is in force in several northwestern states.

Under this program, culls and dry cows headed through concentration points on their way to slaughter are marked so that the state, county and herd from which the cow came can be identified.

When the cow goes to slaughter, results of a brucellosis test is recorded.

As Dr. Wilbur says, "Brucellosis being what it is, if older female animals are free of the disease, it is pretty certain the herd is free. In this way, about 97 to 98 per cent of the testing could be eliminated."

Dr. Garrett says backtagging could eliminate "down-the-road" testing by between 90 and 97 per cent in a given county.

The animal health officials announced that Texas has entered its third month without a reported case of screwworms.

Senator YARBOROUGH'S REPORT

Dear Fellow Texan:

Because this country's livestock industry has been severely damaged by unfair competition from abroad, I am co-sponsoring a measure in the U.S. Senate to cut back and regulate meat imports.

Too much beef, veal and mutton have been brought into this country. I am co-sponsoring with Majority Leader Mike Mansfield a measure to limit annual imports of beef, veal and mutton to an amount equal to the average of such imports between 1959-1963.

This would be a sharp cutback from amounts now allowed into this country, mostly from Australia and New Zealand.

More than 1.7 billion pounds of beef and veal were imported into this country in 1963, a 16 per cent increase over 1962 and early a 50 per cent increase over 1959.

Imports have taken over almost 11 per cent of our domestic market. Meanwhile, prices of choice steers in Chicago were down 12 per cent below a year ago and 20 per cent below February 1962.

In 1963 in Texas, cash receipts to Texas farmers from the sale of livestock and livestock products was nearly $1.1 billion—44 per cent of total cash receipts. Of this $1.1 billion, more than 60 per cent—nearly $660 million—came from the sale of cattle and calves. Texas as farmers in 1962 and 1963 marketed an average 3.6 million beef cattle—13 per cent of the nation's total. Apply this percentage to the $170 million which Secretary Freeman estimates was lost by American farmers in the past two years due to the drop in beef prices, and the loss to Texas livestock producers exceeds $22 million.

I am also a member of the Senate Committee investigating the reason for the unconscionable spread between the price paid to the producer of livestock, and the price the housewife pays at the marketplace.

The testimony before our committee shows that in the past year, retail store prices on meat have held fairly steady but less and less has been paid to the producer, which means that the family buyer and the producer are losing.

Merle Green, backfield coach for the Texas Tech Red Raiders, was guest speaker for the evening. He gave a short talk about the five things which go into being an uncommon, rare and unusual person or athlete.

Green cited fair play as one of the factors in becoming a rare individual. He said, "We must not lose the willingness to be fair." "We must learn not to live by the rule but to live by the spirit of the rule."

A second factor noted by Green was purpose. He told the audience that a rare individual set a goal and aim in life and was willing to work for this goal instead of waiting on the go.

A third element found in an unusual person is standards according to the speaker. "Don't lower your standards to someone else's but challenge others to rise to your level," emphasized Green.

A fourth ingredient found in an uncommon individual is courage stated Green. He told the group that it took courage to be willing to say "No" when it would be more popular to say "Yes."

A fifth component of a rare person the speaker declared was knowledge or an awareness of God.

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health Diseases transmitted by insects have been on the wane since 1939. That was the first year DDT (an abbreviation of the formula dichloro-diphenyl-trichloroethane was first used.

The new insecticide was quick to make history. Its effect on lice was particularly striking. It deloused heads in a few hours and they stayed deloused for several weeks.

Dr. J. S. Wiseman, a State Health Department entomologist, tells this story to illustrate the point.

During World War II, an American service officer visited a North African jail to delouse prisoners. The men assembled and the officer used a small hand sprayer to puff a small amount of DDT powder between the prisoners' skin and clothing.

As expected, there was a great deal of chafing and hilarity in the face of what seemed to be such a childish procedure—compared with showers, shaving of heads, "stoving" of garments, and application of lotions.

When he had finished, the American, who had carried out his task with great thoroughness, said to the men:

"Tomorrow morning I will come back to check on the action of the powder. If any of you can present me with a live louse I'll reward him with a pack of cigarettes." Everyone was cheerful at the thought of the cigarettes and all were certain they could easily qualify for them. They spent the whole night eagerly hunting for lice.

Next morning, when the officer returned, the men assembled and brought out their catches. There were only 10 lice in all. Not a single man had been able to catch more than a single louse.

There was not question about the success of the experiment, and the men began listening to their visitor with more respect. He then made a further offer.

"Tomorrow," he told them, "I will come back again and there will be $10 and a whole carton of cigarettes for every live louse." All the prisoners crowded around that day's winners to learn of their technique. The night was again spent in a frantic louse hunt. A whole box of cigarettes! What luck!

But next morning, not a single prisoner could produce a live louse. The DDT had wiped them out.
