School Board Studies Negro School Problem

The board of trustees of the Lockney school district is still studying the problem of providing an adequate school for the negroes of the district, members said Wednesday after hearing a recommendation from a committee appointed recently to aid in the solution of the problem.

The committee, composed of representatives of various civic organizations and clubs, had been appointed some two weeks ago when the matter of housing the negro students in the city auditorium was under consideration. Their recommendation, which was considered by the board Monday night, was to integrate the high school and move the colored grade school students to the C. N. Townsend school, housing them in the three vacant rooms in the building and using the present colored school faculty to teach them separately from the white students.

The board took no action on the matter Monday night but the opinion of most of the board members appeared to oppose this move. The problem is still being studied.

The board, in other actions Monday night, agreed to join with the City of Lockney and the county in an effort to collect delinquent taxes. They also re-employed all the cafeteria workers who have been working in both school cafeterias the past year.

Pony League To Start Play Sat.

The Lockney Pony Baseball League, taking in boys 13 through 15 years of age, will start league play Saturday night. Commissioner Eddie Holcombe said Tuesday. A schedule running through July 28 and playing two games each night on two nights each week has been set up. The teams play Saturday and Tuesday nights.

Lights from the Lockney football field have been moved to the baseball field, new poles and wiring installed and the field is now all ready for baseball play. Because the ball is much smaller than a football, additional lighting was necessary for the protection of the players, Holcombe said.

Equipment for the players has been purchased but no uniforms have been purchased as yet. The amount of money available will govern the purchase of uniforms, he said. The registration of 15-year-old boys brought a number of new players into the league the past week. Additions to the various teams were announced as follows:

Tigers, Red Childers, manager; Max Marble, Layne Poole, Wyman Cooley, Tommy Skelton.

Cubs, Jimmy Myers, manager; Bonnie Thornton, James Ansley, Jerry Wofford.

THE FARMERS CAN AND DID ORGANIZE

For many generations it has been a generally accepted fact that the farmers of America would never be organized. The reasoning folks said, was because they could never fully agree on what they wanted or stay together long enough to put the idea across.

The recent boost in the grain sorghum support price, however, pretty well throws a new light on the subject. True, the farmers did not get all they went after. On the other hand, they did get a six percent, overall income boost for the coming year—and that is definitely an achievement.

Possibly more important than immediate results, however, is the fact that several hundred farmers did organize, go after and achieve a portion of their goal. Prior to this drive was that of the milk producers, who organized and successfully waged a war along the same line. These two groups have completely thrown out the old theory.

It is interesting to note that both groups delved into the topic of long range planning, scientific research and scholarships for future development. They also went into marketing, public relations and customer acceptance of their products.

Their planning, in many ways, followed that so successfully used in the "big business" accomplishments arrived at by industry.

The situation is due in large measure to our new era of farming. The farmer of today faces many problems and, therefore, must be well trained in the use of chemicals, fertilizers and power equipment. He is, of necessity, a far cry from the tenant farmer of past decades.

As a result, it is entirely possible that the farmers of the future — instead of waiting to see what will happen — could easily provide one of the strongest and most powerful forces in the direction of our national government. Greater centralization of governing power, in fact, indicates that the farmer of the future will actually be forced into this position, whether he likes it or not — Hereford Brand.

YOU'RE WORKING FOR THE GOVERNMENT

The best way to judge the scope of the tax burden is by how much of your working time goes to pay for it.

In 1929, one day's labor out of 10 went to support the government, according to the National Association of Manufacturers. Now the average is one day in four.

What will the figure be 15 or so years from now? — McLean News.

THE POLITICAL EGG

Once upon a time there were two farmers. Each had a hen that laid eggs, so one ate his. Put the other did without, and instead put his in an incubator, which he bought by borrowing money. In due time he had 200 chickens from his one. A shocking profit (before taxes).

He sold some to pay off the loan on his incubator; he ate some as a reward for all his labor in raising the brood. And he sold a good many to pay his income tax. But he still had some left.

So the farmer who had eaten all his eggs got a law passed. The neighbors divided up the chicken raising farmer's "profits" and ate them. After all, they said, he had more than he needed (Russian Marxism) and they were hungry.

Naturally the farmer wasn't going to raise any more chickens just to have them taken away from him, so he ate his eggs too.

In due time both the farmers original hens died of old age, and there weren't any eggs for anybody. No chickens either. The neighbors were quite sure it was the chicken raiser's fault!

The political egg eaters will likely realize some day that the chicken raisers will get tired of being saps all the time.—Blowing Out The Corners in Claude News.

LITTLEFIELD GETS TOUGH

We understand that Littlefield is going to crack down on unpaid parking fines. We hope they take into consideration that many of their parking meters are out of order much of the time.

We do not begrudge the city of Littlefield the much needed revenue from their parking meters.

However, when we put a nickel into one of their meters we expect the violation flag to disappear. We've been disappointed on this score the last three times we made such a deposit.

City police in Littlefield who have such a hard time finding meters that are out of order have no trouble at all in finding a car that is over-parked.

Like we say . . . we don't want to pick a fight with the Littlefield Police Department. After all, we'll probably be in their jail before long because one of their broken down parking meters failed to register when we put a nickel in it.—Olton Enterprise.

Farm Bureau News

By Chester Carthel

I am afraid I have not been doing as good a job as it is necessary to do in writing this column for the papers. It just seems like there is not enough time in the days to do all of the things that it is necessary to do. But, here we are back again this week after some weeks of absence.

We have had some wonderful rains in most of the county. The rain is indeed a blessing to all of us. I imagine everyone will be fairly busy for several days trying to work out of the weeds as well as it is possible to do. There are in this county, as well as in other counties in this state, a lot of weeds which we are not doing too good a job of controlling. I am speaking mostly of bindweeds, Johnsson Grass, and blueweeds. We have thousands of acres of just these three noxious weeds in the Panhandle of Texas, not to mention others.

The Farm Bureau in Floyd County put forth much effort toward the passage of a noxious weed control law in the last session of the Legislature. It is necessary under the provisions of this law to organize weed control districts before this law can become effective. Farm Bureau in this county is making a concentrated effort at this time to secure the signatures of at least 50 people to a petition to be presented to the commissioners court asking the court to call an election to determine whether or not we want to organize a weed control district. This petition must be accompanied with $900.00 to help pay the expense of the election. The Farm Bureau has asked each person signing to contribute at least $2.00 or more toward this fund. We have some money on deposit now and some signatures to the petition, but we need more of each if we are going to hold this election. If the election is not called for any reason, you will be repaid the amount you contributed, or if the election carries, then you will be repaid out of funds which the district collects.

I feel sure you will agree with me that this is indeed an urgent matter. We have only to drive up and down the roads in this county and observe our fields and roadsides to determine whether or not this is a pressing problem. This is a problem for all of us working together to attack. I would urge you to contact one of the directors of the Floyd County Farm Bureau and sign a petition and contribute what you wish or go into the Farm Bureau office in Floydada and attend to this right away — NOD!

TELEPHONE TALK
by J. C. Oakley, Manager
Your 24-Hour Servant
From time to time, friends tell us how their telephone has come in handy in an emergency. Here, the telephone is a "good friend" in any emergency, big or small. But maybe a lot of us forget about—or take for granted—the many routine yet important things that we do every day by telephone. Just a lift of the receiver and you're in touch with friends, neighbors, family. Or perhaps the telephone "runs errands" for you to the grocer, drugstore, dry cleaners, or the hardware store. I've often thought how interesting it would be to keep a record of all the telephone calls you make in just a single week. Bet it would surprise most of us a bit to learn how much we depend on the telephone to make our busy days easier and more enjoyable.

No Time Limit
Many people seem to think we want them to keep their Long Distance conversations short, meaning three minutes or less. We asked you to do this during World War II so that emergency calls and calls from servicemen could get through. But since then we have added many new Long Distance circuits. And now you can call whenever you like, and talk as long as you like. Station-to-station rates are lower after 6 p. m., and all day Sunday. And remember to call by number—it's twice as fast.

Color Extension Telephones
Certainly it's not news that extension telephones save you time and steps, make life easier and more convenient for you. But the news from the telephone company nowadays is that you can order extension telephones in eight bright colors. That means you can now have the added convenience of extension service with a handsome color telephone to blend or contrast with the color scheme of any room in your house. Or maybe you'd want a color extension to smarten up your office or your place of business. The eight colors they come in are blue, yellow, red, ivory, beige, green, brown, and grey. Call by number. It's twice as fast.

GROWERS REPORT INCREASED YIELD WITH "NA-CHURS" SEED TREATMENT AND LEAF FEEDING
The following excerpts from satisfied "Na-Churs" users are typical of the many letters received by the "Na-Churs" Plant Food Company from your own friends and neighbors. These folks have proven to themselves that "Na-Churs" Liquid Fertilizer can help increase yield, give better growth and advance harvest.
"I sprayed 5 gallons of "Na-Churs" on 3 acres of cotton in the middle of a 12 acre field. The increase in yield was at least 30%, compared to unsprayed part. I will use "Na-Churs" again next year." C. C. Swope, Wilson, Texas.
"In 1955 I treated 10 acres of irrigated cotton with 2 gallons per acre of "Na-Churs". This cotton made one bale per acre and was pulled two weeks before the untreated which made only 2-3 bale per acre. All of this cotton acreage had a heavy hail loss on June 26. In 1956 my plans call for seed treatment plus foliage spraying." Theo Campbell, Wilson, Texas.
EASY TO DO — SMALL COST PER ACRE
Treating seed with "Na-Churs" is easy. Simply sprinkle "Na-Churs" over the seed, mix until thoroughly moistened, and allow to dry. One gallon of "Na-Churs" will treat 8 bushels of seed and the cost is only a few cents per acre. Only a half bushel increase in yield will more than pay for "Na-Churs" seed treatment.
FOR MORE PROFIT — TRY LEAF FEEDING
Used as a companion with "Na-Churs" seed treatment, foliage feeding with "Na-Churs" can help your grain and cotton develop stronger roots. Application can be made with any type sprayer or by airplane. It's fast acting. Don't let this season go by without giving "Na-Churs" a try on your farm.
CALL US TODAY!
We have "Na-Churs" available for immediate delivery in 5, 30 and 55 gallon drums. Try "Na-Churs" for yourself. You be the judge.

Texas Baptists Set Ten Million Budget

Dallas. — The Executive Board for the Baptist General Convention of Texas approved recommendations for a $10,000,000 cooperative program budget for 1957 here Tuesday at a meeting in the First Baptist Church.

Presented by Dr. W. A. Criswell, chairman of the board's Finance Committee, the recommendations will now go to the convention's annual meeting this fall for further action.

The budget is the highest in the denomination's history and surpasses that of last year by $1,000,000. Subscribed by individual churches in practically every town and city over the state, the funds will be used for missionary work in Texas and around the world. Thirty-six hundred and eighty-one churches made contributions to the denomination's cooperative program last year.

A breakdown of the budget shows that $7,500,000 is expected from "undesignated" cooperative program receipts, $2,500,000 from "designated" mission offerings.

Of the first $7,000,000 in undesignated receipts, $2,520,000 will be spent for world-wide missionary cruises, $4,480,000 for state missions. The next $500,000 will be distributed 45 per cent for world-wide causes, 47 per cent to Texas Baptist institutions and 10 per cent to state missions.

Under Christian education, fixed items in the budget include $100,000 for endowment for institutions, $35,000 for the convention's Christian Education Commission and $50,000 for conditional commitment to the University of Corpus Christi. Variable items include $208,738 for ministerial tuition and $1,182,853 for general operating funds.

Colorado Adopts New Truck Tax

Denver.—Colorado's new ton-mile truck tax has proved highly successful during its first year of operation, according to a Colorado highway group which has just published a detailed account of the new tax law.

The law was enacted, says the Colorado Good Roads Association — publishers of the report — after most newspapers of the state stepped into a four-year fight between the state highway planning commission and the truck lobby over the need to require trucks to pay as much as automobiles for highway use.

Although the truck lobby was armed with a $100,000 "war chest," Colorado newspapers printed news of truck lobby activities on their front pages and brought the "truck tax fight" into public view. After a bitter legislative battle in 1954, the truck lobby lost in its attempt to escape equalized taxes and was assessed a ton-mile tax. The truckers returned to the state capitol the new year, hoping to repeal the law, but the newspapers again entered the fight and the truck lobby went down to defeat.

As a result of the new tax, says the Good Roads Association, the state of Colorado is receiving $7 million yearly from the trucking industry in payment for highway use. Trucks now pay for their road use at about the same rate as automobiles, on a ton-for-ton and mile-for-mile basis. Before passage of the new tax big trucks paid only about $1 million yearly.

The study made by the road association disclosed that many fears expressed about the effects of a higher truck tax on the economy of the state proved unfounded. Conditions have never been better, says the report, and even the truck lines have expanded and are doing more business.

BROKEN CISTERNS

Speaking for the Lord, Jeremiah said, "For my people have committed two evils: they have forsaken me, the fountain of living waters, and hewed them out cisterns, broken cisterns that can hold no water" (Jer. 2:13).

A cistern holds only a limited supply of water. A broken cistern will hold no water. This is a striking illustration of all human ways that have supplanted the way of the Lord. The ways of men are wholly inadequate to save the soul. There is no substitute for anything that God has made. This is true in both the natural and spiritual worlds. Nothing can take the place of sunshine, of water, of food. And there is no substitute for the bread of life.

In no respect is God's way comparable to a cistern. His way is like a fountain — the source of supply is invisible and the quantity is unlimited. The sin of human pride causes men to forsake God, the fountain of living water. Man glories in his own wisdom. He wants to think for himself and have a sense of independence.

The ways of men that will not hold water are innumerable. And they keep on hewing out new cisterns. It does not take a very close observer to see that they are all cracked. Here are some of the popular cracked cisterns: salvation by faith only, salvation by grace only, nothing in a name, one church is as good as another, can be saved out of the church as well as in it, nonessential commandments, baptism is sprinkling, pouring, or immersion, conscience is a safe guide in religion.

Concerning this matter the prophet further says, "Be astonished, O ye heavens, at this, and be horribly afraid" (Jer. 2:12). Men decry the cultivation of a sense of holy fear, but the Lord says "be horribly afraid," when we are conscious of serious error. And some people face boldly what they should fear, and fear what they should face boldly. — Selected.

Insect Control Pays On Cotton

College Station. — Control of thrips and fleahoppers resulted in gains of 310 to 602 pounds in seed cotton an acre in the High Plains area of Texas in 1955. Average gross value of the increased yields was $50.44 an acre, says H. L. Owen Jr., an insect entomologist, Texas A & M College.

Two or three applications of toxaphene, dieldrin and heptachlor controlled thrips and fleahoppers effectively on the High Plains when insect treatments were applied soon after cotton had reached the fruiting stage.

Three thrip and fleahopper control tests with spray formulations of toxaphene, dieldrin and heptachlor were conducted. First insecticide applications were made soon after plants began to produce squares. Two applications were used in one test and three applications were used in the other two tests.

Treated cotton set fruit earlier and showed less growth than plants in untreated plots. The increased number of forms set by plants in treated plots shed fruit excessively when insecticide applications were followed by two early or delayed irrigations, says Owen.

Toxaphene, dieldrin and heptachlor proved effective in control of thrips and fleahoppers. Although differences were not significant, toxaphene and dieldrin gave somewhat better control than heptachlor at the dosages used. Two applications of dieldrin gave better control than heptachlor at the dosages used. Two applications of dieldrin gave better control than heptachlor at the dosages used.

Control of thrips and fleahoppers resulted in economical increases in yields in all three tests. Two applications of the materials produced gains of 250 to 370 pounds of seed cotton per acre, states Owen. Three treatments produced increased yields of 321 to 391 pounds of seed cotton per acre in one test and 365 to 602 pounds per acre in the other. Gross value of gains in production ranged from $36.62 to $71.32 per acre.

Petitions To Set Up White River Water District Circulated

Post. — More than four times the number of signatures needed on a petition asking the State Board of Water Engineers to create a White River water district have been secured here, according to Tom Bouchier, chairman of the White River Municipal Authority Committee.

With only 50 signatures required on the petitions being circulated in each of four cities more than 200 have been secured. Petitions are also being circulated in Crosbyton, Spur, and Rails, other member cities of the proposed water district.

After all the petitions are in, they will be submitted to the State Board of Water Engineers along with maps and other data on the project, which would create a municipal water supply for the four cities at a site on White River in south-eastern Crosby County.

If the state board sets up the water district, the next step will be to hold confirmation elections in each of the four cities.

Veterans Asked To Cash Leave Bonds, Buy E's

Dallas. — Thousands of World War II veterans in Texas are holding Armed Forces Leave Bonds that have drawn no interest for five years or longer, and Uncle Sam would like to pay up — an average of $200 apiece.

Jesse L. Adams Jr., state sales director of the U. S. Treasury's Savings Bonds Division, has an idea for these ex-G. I.'s who apparently don't need the money right now. He suggests they redeem those Leave Bonds and put the money in Series E Savings Bonds, which pay 3 per cent interest compounded semi-annually when held to maturity of nine years and eight months.

In the country as a whole 130,000 veterans hold Leave

Bonds worth $26 million. It's all that's left of more than two billion dollars paid to members of the Armed Forces discharged between April 1943 and October 1, 1946. The five-year bonds, carrying an interest rate of 2 1/2 per cent a year, were used to reimburse veterans for unused leave.

A special act of Congress in 1947 made the bonds redeemable after September 1 of that year. Some $1.5 billion were cashed within the next few months; others were held to draw additional interest. However, the last of these matured on October 1, 1951, and have drawn no interest since that date.

Chiggers Can Be Controlled, It Says

Austin—Whether you call them red bugs or harvest mites or chiggers or just plain Eutrombicula alfreddugesi, you'll meet them this spring and summer. Forewarned is forearmed.

Texas says State Health Department entomologists, has more than its share of the parasites, a statement with which anyone who has endured ceaseless spasms of itching misery from red bugs will agree.

They—the chiggers—have a special affinity for low, damp places covered with vegetation. Bermuda grass lawns harbor them well, but for some unexplainable reason they are not usually found in carpet grass.

Just for the record, it's the larvae which do the damage, attaching themselves with their mouthparts and sucking blood until they become engorged and fall off. The severe itching is caused by an anti-coagulant material they inject into their host.

Although adult chiggers—large, red and velvety—are entirely harmless to man, their wayward offspring can be serious as well as annoying. The entomologists say they do not spread any specific disease entity in this country, but their bites often produce secondary infections in the form of sores and boils.

A few people have an apparent immunity to chigger attacks, but the vast majority are fair game from about May until, cold weather reduces chigger ranks. Favorite spots to attach themselves for blood meals seems to be hands, feet, and the stomach around the belt line.

They attack lizards, snakes, birds and rodents with the same vigor and resourcefulness they display in attacking man. No distinction is drawn between humans and lesser animal species, which is hardly complimentary to us Homo sapiens.

Light applications of sulphur dust on lawns and low branches of shrubs have been used for years to successfully control chiggers. Nowadays, the newer organic insecticides such as chlordane and lindane give better results. Just follow the directions on the label.

A word of caution: be sure to avoid unnecessary exposure to the insecticide. If you spill the concentrated material on your skin, wash it off immediately. And be sure to keep children and pets out of the yard until the spray dries.

If your favorite golf course or play ground has not been treated against chiggers, rub your legs and arms with a good commercial mosquito repellent. It will keep the chiggers at a distance.

To learn where chiggers are harboring, stand a piece of black cardboard on end where you suspect their presence. If after a few moments you see tiny yellowish or pinkish mites accumulating on the upper edge, it's time to check your supply of insecticide.

Because we don't get these benefits in cash, we sometimes forget that ALL home business is really OUR BUSINESS. And some of us even forget ... and trade somewhere else ... when OUR OWN PAYCHECK depends on keeping this community prosperous.

New Law Requires Report On Use Of Surface Water

Austin. — Water is the subject these days of as many conversations as the weather. The two are of vital importance to the general welfare of Texas.

The last session of the Texas Legislature, by law, made provisions for the gathering of information badly needed by the State Board of Water Engineers for making a more nearly complete inventory of all surface water in Texas.

Among the provisions of the new law is one dealing with reporting on the use of surface water for irrigation, industrial and certain other purposes. This does not apply to those using un-terrestrial water for any purpose nor to surface water used for domestic or stock raising purposes.

It is the responsibility of the State Board to collect and analyze the information obtained from the reports.

Board Chairman R. M. Dixon points out that anyone using water from streams or natural water courses or from reservoirs located on such courses is required under the new law to file by March 1 each year a report on water used. The report forms are short and can be easily completed. The report forms may be obtained from the State Board of Water Engineers, 1410 Lavaca Street, Austin, or from the office of the local county agricultural agent.

Dixon says the Board recognizes the riparian rights of landowners and considers it a legal use of water. Also that the Board desires to serve those concerned in the best possible manner and asks the full cooperation of all in carrying out the provisions of the new law.

"It is the duty," he adds, "of those required to file a report to do so on time. Promptness on the part of the water users concerned will speed up the work of collecting the vitally needed water use information. Our only intention is to get information."

The information collected will be used by the board to determine future water use; by engineers in planning dams and watershed projects; by soil and water conservation program planners; by industrial and municipal planners; by irrigation project or program planners; and to condition any permits granted for protection of downstream users.

"The filing of the report," says Dixon, "will in no way prejudice a person's legal right to divert water from a stream, river or natural water course or from reservoirs located on these courses." Those holding permits for water use have been filing reports since 1913.

WONDER WASHERS FOR BATHROOMS

Wonderful new washables for the bathroom make smart use of terry-cloth. Thick, luxurious bathroom bench cushions are made of foam rubber covered in terry. Waste baskets have zip-off terry covers fringed in cotton! Loofa sponges are backed with terry. All these accessories come in such decorator colors as mist green, rose petal, ice pink, turquoise. Nothing is as easy to launder as terry-using hot soap or detergent suds and hot rinses. It's perfect washing machine - washable, never needs ironing - and dries fluffy, thick and soft. Any bathroom can always have that fresh, brand-new look with terry-cloth accessories - and they're such an economical choice, too!

APPLESAUCE BREAD PUDDING

To crisp up one cup of stale diced bread, put it into a frying pan with a little butter and brown sugar and cook over the direct gas flame of the top burner, stirring constantly. Add an equal amount of applesauce. Have it hot. Serve with cream, whipped or not, or with ice cream. Delicious.

TEETHING CLEANLINESS

When your baby starts teething, the whole nursery must be kept clean enough for a baby to "eat." You can't tell what he'll use to teethe on next. This means that furniture, curtains, slip covers, rugs, and every single toy must be quickly washable in hot soap or detergent suds and rinses. Plasticized or permanently glazed fabrics are good, since they can be given a "pick-up" sudsing, while still in place, in between machine washings. A good way to keep toys spotless is to keep a clean cloth and a jar of soapy water in the nursery out-of-sight. Then you can take care of possible germs before your cherub pops the toy or teething ring back in his mouth.

WASH AND DRY YOUR QUILT

Wash your eider-down quilt by hand in lots of warm soap or detergent suds, repeating in a second tubful of fresh, clean suds. Rinse well, squeeze out extra water and hang the quilt in the shade. Shake it often during drying. Last of all, beat it well on both sides with an old-fashioned carpet beater; this fluffs and distributes the down filling.

MEAT LOAF RECIPE

Every cook has her favorite meat loaf recipe. Here's one that's different and so delicious it may become your favorite. Combine 2 pounds ground beef, 1/2 cup chopped celery, 1/2 cup chopped green pepper, 1/2 cup chopped onion, salt, pepper, ground dill seed to taste, 1 cup fine bread crumbs, 1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup. Bake in loaf pan at 350 degrees for an hour and a quarter.

SOAP PROTECTION

Try soap to protect utensils when cooking out of doors. Before use, rub soap liberally over the bottoms of pots and pans. The suds settle in this film, says the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association and can be washed off quickly with water.
