Board Sets Fee For Use Of All School Bldgs.

The trustees of the Lockney School District, in a routine meeting Monday evening, set a fee of $5.00 to be charged for non-school organizations using the school buildings. Supp. H. H. Nicholas said that the money derived from this source will go to the janitors of the buildings. He explained that non-school activities had resulted in considerable extra work for the janitors without compensation.

The board chose the First National Bank in Lockney as its official depository. They also decided to cut the study hall in the high school building into two rooms making a class room out of one part. New furniture will be ordered for the room.

A contract has been let to move the negro school building from its present location to a site on the Lockney Loop, just north of Webster Gin. A room will be added to the building. Cost of the move is expected to run approximately $10,000.00. Also the teacher- age at Lone Star will be moved here and put on the same site for the housing of the principal of that school.

The trustees spent some time going over the schools insurance program with insurance company representatives.

"We invite you to come and hear Evangelist Montero," Rev. Mendoza said.

A supper at the high school cafeteria Friday evening from 6 to 7:30 has been scheduled for the purpose of raising money for the Lockney Pony League. The menu includes roast beef and all the trimmings and tickets are $1.50 each. Members of the Lockney Rotary Club are selling tickets to the affair.

Everyone is invited to attend and enjoy a good supper, club officials said.

The supper will be a regular meeting of the Lockney Rotary Club and all Rotarians and their wives are asked to come at 7:30. The supper will be fol- lowed by a program during which District Judge L. D. Rat- liff of Spur will speak. Wilson P. Kermick is program chair- man. Others who wish to hear Judge Ratliff are invited to stay.

There will be no meeting of the Rotary Club Friday at noon this week.

Floyd 4-H Members At College Station

Several Floyd County 4-H Club members are attending the annual 4-H Roundup at Col- lege Station this week. They left by chartered bus Tuesday morning and will return home late Thursday.

Entering the state Farm Safety contest are Warren Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Mitchell of the Pleasant Valley community, and Billy Don Col- ston of Dougherty. The team won first place in the District 2 contest and thus won the right to enter the state contest.

Two Office In Ferguson Building

Attorney-at-Law Wilson P. Kermick has moved his office from the Wanda Baker building to the Ferguson build- ing on North Main Street. Also J. D. Copeland has established an office in the Ferguson build- ing. He is representing South Coast Life Insurance Company here and will also have other connections.

The Lockney Vegetable Growers Association will also have an office in the Ferguson building, with Kermick hand- ling their legal affairs and Copeland in charge of their books.

Planters Hum As Ground Dries

Planters hummed in this area this week and as fast as the ground became dry enough, cotton seed went into the ground. Most farmers were through planting cotton Wed- nesday afternoon though a few still lacked some wet row ends and small patches. Ginners have been over run with de- mands for seed, and the de- licting plant at Lockney Gin has been very busy.

In the Lone Star community about 90 percent of the cotton acreage is planted. V. R. Cassel estimated and planting there will be completed by Thursday probably.

A shower on Saturday night is the only moisture that has fallen in this area since Mon- day of last week when 1.40 inches of rain was measured here. Farmers are hoping for at least another week of dry weather to get up their last planting.

Much of the cotton acreage already has a stand, gin men say, the estimate running a- bout 50% of the total acreage. Some farmers are getting up cotton they didn't expect to, it was said.

The farmer who finishes his cotton planting has another pressing job waiting and that is grain sorghums. It is ex- pected that the planters will be kept busy for several days yet on that task.

Wheat Is Good

The wheat in this area is doing pretty good but there is some damage from rust and hail. The Beacon was told. Irrigated wheat is very fine with the exception of that which has developed rust. Some heavy wheat has fallen and the amount of damage is not known, as yet. Several farmers in the Irick and Providence communi- ties have lost their wheat to hail.

Yields on some of the better irrigated wheat is being esti- mated at high as 50 bushels. Dry land wheat, dry-sowed last fall, came up in February and will make some wheat where the weed's don't take it, eleva- tor men said.

Ask County To Help On Fire Fighting

Representatives of the City Councils of Lockney and Floy- dada met with the Commission- ers Court Monday and asked the Court to pay $100 per hour for the services of the city fire departments in fighting fires in the country and also to pay for liability insurance on fire- men outside of the city limits. The Court had not given the Councils a decision on the mat- ter Wednesday. Mayor J. E. Cox said.

The request came out of a situation which developed from the tragic tank fire at Dumas last year in which a number of firemen lost their lives. The Courts have held that the in- dividual mayors and council- men may be responsible in case of injury or death to fire- men in fighting fires outside of city limits.

The local Council, in a meet- ing last Thursday night, bought a new Ford pick up from Baccus Motor Co. here. The purchase was made on a bid basis, Mayor Cox said.

The City has also purchased a weed shredder which will be used to keep weeds down with- in the city.

Two Office In Ferguson Building

Attorney-at-Law Wilson P. Kermick has moved his office from the Wanda Baker building to the Ferguson build- ing on North Main Street. Also J. D. Copeland has established an office in the Ferguson build- ing. He is representing South Coast Life Insurance Company here and will also have other connections.

The Lockney Vegetable Growers Association will also have an office in the Ferguson building, with Kermick hand- ling their legal affairs and Copeland in charge of their books.

Seniors Return Home Wed. Afternoon

Thirty seniors and their four adult sponsors returned home Wednesday afternoon about 5 o'clock, tired and happy to be back from their 3000 mile trip to Miami Beach, Fla., and numerous stop-overs enroute.

Principal F. M. Smith, one of the sponsors, said that the class had no trouble on their trip, no one became ill enough to require medical attention and everything went along fine. He and Mrs. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Davis ac- companied the group.

The group spent Tuesday night in Dallas and left there early Wednesday morning for the final leg of their long trip.

State Will Help Buy Right-Of-Way In County

State Highway Commission Chairman Marshall Formyb told members of the Lockney Rotary Club last Friday that Highway 70 through Floyd Co. is a "primary" road and that the State Highway Commission could pay for one-half the right-of-way costs on improvement programs in this county.

August 22 is the effective date for the State Highway Commission to start participat- ing in right-of-way purchase for highways, Mr. Formyb said. The bill passed the recent ses- sion of the legislature. Funds for the purchase will come from an increase in costs of motor vehicle license, expected to be about 10 percent.

He said that the project to 4-lane Highway 70 in this county from the Hale County line to Floydada is still on the Com- mission's program. The county twice turned down a bond is- sue to purchase right-of-way for the program.

He said that on some nation- ally highways the federal gov- ernment is paying 90 percent and the state pays 10 percent on costs of right-of-way.

Mr. Formyb told the group that state highways had been damaged an estimated 3 to 5 million dollars by recent heavy rains, scattered over most all of the some 3,000 miles of road maintained by the department.

Hale Grand Jury Indicts Vincent

The Hale County Grand Jury, in session the first part of last week, returned an indictment against C. L. Vincent of Lock- ney, charging him with mur- der. The indictment came out of the fatal shooting of Virgil Johnston on the night of April 6th in Plainview.

Vincent's bond, formerly set at $3,000.00 was raised to $5,000.00 by Judge E. A. Bills of the 64th District Court. John- ston's mother, Mrs. V. O. John- ston, and his brother, J. O. John- ston, both of Berlin, Okla., tes- tified before the grand jury. Nei- ther Mr. nor Mrs. Vincent ap- peared.

The Grand Jury also return- ed an indictment against L. E. Lincoln of Lubbock charging defrauding with a worthless check. Lincoln is charged in connection with the issuance of a check in the amount of $42, 149 given to H. E. Frizzell of Lone Star in payment for ap- proximately 2,000 head of sheep on March 30.

Lincoln's bond was set at $10,000. He did not appear be- fore the Grand Jury. Lincoln was taken into custody in Cal- ifornia in early April and re- turned to Plainview. He has been out on bond. Both indict- ments were returned Wednes- day.

District Attorney Joe Cox of Plainview said he did not know when the two cases would be called for trial.

Hart Given Two Yrs. Probation

P. L. (Fay) Hart, who recent- ly resigned as Floyd County commissioner, pleaded guilty Wednesday of theft by false pretext and was allowed proba- tion of a two-year penitentiary sentence.

The plea was before Judge L. D. Ratliff of 110th District Court. The charge alleged theft of $50 from Floyd County's treas- ury April 9, 1956. It was set out that Hart bought two au- tomobile tires with county funds and put them on his own car.

Dist. Atty. John Stapleton said Thursday morning that three similar charges pending against Hart will be carried on the docket for a time.

CAN THE COUNTY BOARD ANNEX ANOTHER SCHOOL DISTRICT?

School Board annex any school district to another school district in the county under any pretext and is there no recourse to such action? That question has been bothering a lot of people in Floyd County since the County Board's action Monday of last week. Many people in the Sand Hill district are wondering, people of the Lockney school district are wondering. We imagine that people at South Plains, Providence and Dougherty are wondering the same thing. Just how far can the County School Board go to suit its own purposes without consideration for the desires of the people of the districts affected?

IT WAS THE IMPRESSION of this writer that a school district must drop to a minimum number of scholars before the County Board could annex it to another district without a vote of the people but apparently that is incorrect. At least it is not consistent with the Board's action because the Sand Hill district had an average daily attendance of nearly 34 and three times that many scholars when the Board took action. If the Board acted according to law then the County Board has too much power. If County Superintendent Clarence Guilfee is right in saying "We could annex you if you had 200 students." Then the law should be amended because that is putting too much power in the hands of a few men.

NATURALLY, the idea of those who set up such an organization was that the members of the board would be responsible citizens who would act fairly in every case, giving consideration to all sides. But the majority of the Floyd County school board has never had that attitude in the 25 years that we have been in the county. They have always acted arbitrarily with only one apparent motive — that to build up the Floydada Independent School District at the expense of all other districts in the county. Starting with the passage of the Glimmer-Aiken law the board at that time gave 75% of the school district to Floydada and 25% to Lockney. Their present attitude has never changed and although some members of the board have changed their powers they have always been 75% in favor of the majority of the board were right.

OF COURSE, all members of the board don't go along with the majority in their arbitrary attitude. The late Ben Quilfee fought this attitude on the board for many years to no avail. His son, Ewald, is now on the board and opposes it. It is some encouragement to see that F. M. Cowling from Dougherty also opposes it. For many years the Proctor 2 board member was the only one who fought it. But as long as the people of the remainder of Floyd County will sit and say "There's nothing you can do," just so long will this campaign to take three-fourths of Floyd County into the Floydada school district continue.

THE SACRIFICING of William S. Girard to appease the wrath of the Japanese people is certainly a sign of weakness. It seems to us, Girard was apparently acting in the line of duty and was attempting to protect U. S. property. Then why turn him over to a Japanese Court just to appease public sentiment? If Girard had turned against his country in the same way his country has turned against him it would be called treason. If he had willfully and purposely committed a crime, the situation would be different. To us the whole situation seems silly. When we think of 2300 American soldiers dead at Pearl Harbor and thousands others dead and wounded on the islands of the Pacific, we hardly see where the accidental death of one Japanese woman can amount to an international incident. No patriot of the United States, in our lifetime has lost the confidence of the people as rapidly as President Linnbower has in the past few months.

VACATION TIME!

AMERICAN CITIZENSHIP

Parents of military age sons should bind together and refuse to allow these sons to be drafted into a military system that will turn them over to a foreign government for trial. A man entering the military gives up a great deal of his citizenship rights, but to also deny him the right of American courts is the last straw. There are too many men in the United States today who will remember Japanese justice. To turn an American GI who accidentally killed a woman, while she was on duty and while she was on a United States installation without permission, is high treason to the rights of citizenship. The military will do as it damn well pleases as long as it thinks it can get away with it, but, since Defense Secretary Wilson has ordered a review of the case, I look for parents to raise such a furor that the military will be forced to back down on their denial of the rights of this GI in a free society. I also ponder this statement by the Japanese Judge who would try the case. "For the sake of good relations between Japan and America... we shall conduct a fair trial." Does he mean to say they don't have fair trials in Japan? — Cecil Waggoner in Claude News.

TRIAL BY JURY

As Attorney General of the U. S., Herbert Brownell Jr. is the head of the federal Department of Justice. One of his sworn duties is to uphold the right of the individual citizen to justice when ever the latter may run afoul of the law. Yet Mr. Brownell opposes an amendment to so-called Civil Rights legislation which guarantees to a citizen charged with violating federal laws covering civil rights a trial by a jury of his peers. Mr. Brownell wants to leave decisions in such cases in the hands of the trial judge. It would seem that the present head of the U. S. Department of Justice at the moment at least, is more interested in protecting a political program than in safeguarding the individual citizen's inalienable right to justice. As a lawyer, he might brush up on the history underlying the right of a trial by jury, why we have it and why men cannot be truly free without it. — The Plainman in Lubbock Avianische.

NO VILLAIN

It was a foregone conclusion the farmer was not the culprit in the matter of increased food costs as reported the other day by a House subcommittee. But we are glad the committee cleared the farmer. The committee hasn't been able to find a villain after also clearing both labor and management in food distribution. We don't think they will. A news commentary in these pages recently pointed up the trend of food buyers to accept more conveniently packaged products and frozen food items that require a minimum of handling in the home. We felt at the time that there is the likely cause of increased food costs. There is no villain. We like the preliminary preparations given food products. We are sure the housewife who buys most of the products agrees. Anything that helps save time in house work and eases the kitchen chores is bound to be a success. It is right that it should be. If the food buyer likes the products well enough to pay the added charge for this preparation which saves her time, we think she should. — Amarillo Daily News.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor: I see where the American Cancer Society researchers have got it all figured out that smoking cigarettes will shorten a citizen's life by seven or eight years. However, the pipe-smoking doctors conclude that if you change from cigarettes to a pipe smoking will only cut two or three months off your life. My pipe-smoking neighbor says furthermore there are some pipe mixtures on the market which are such distant kin to tobacco that smoking one of them probably won't curtail a man's life by more than 15 or 20 minutes. I AM NO LONGER RESPONSIBLE FOR MY WIFE'S ACTIONS

(Since she got her new kind of Ford)

"If she is unbelievably happy at 7:30 A. M. every morning, I now hold her 1937 Ford responsible. If she is off for the day at 7:02 A. M., I suggest that it is the power of Ford's Thunderbird V-8 engine. If she appears vastly more stylish and sophisticated, it is the longer, lower lines of her new kind of Ford that have made her so.

"If she arrives home remarkably refreshed, I refer you to the lower, more comfortable seats, the wider wrap-around windshield and the other peace-of-mind features of her new "Inner Ford." If she's just a bit more spoiled, don't blame her. With optional power steering, power brakes, power windows and seat—who wouldn't be?"

"And if she is constantly raving about the savings her new car brings her, she's merely confirming what I've been telling her about Ford for years! Sure, we're a no-Ford family now. But even having one Ford in the family was more fun than you can imagine! Try a new 37 Ford at your house. It's Terrible!"

Attention Vows Unite Local Couple

Miss LaDonna Sue Adams and Donice Hibburn Casey were united in marriage June 8, in Saturday afternoon, June 8, in the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church, Lockney. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Adams, his parents are Mr. and Mrs. Hibburn Casey.

Rev. E. O. Adams, pastor of the Sand Hill Baptist Church, read the single ring ceremony before a wrought iron arch centered with white wedding bells and satin. Flanking the arch were baskets filled with pink and greenery complemented with mammoth pink butterflies. The background was formed with tiers of candelabra and palms.

Tommy and Bobby Moore were candlelighters as Miss Bobby Lou Casey, organist and the sister of the groom, played traditional wedding selections.

Miss Patty Adams, the bride's sister, was accompanied by Miss Casey as she sang "Whether Thou Goest," "True Love" and "I Love You Truly." She also sang "Saviour, Like a Shepherd Lead Us" as a benediction.

Yicky Callahan and Gordon Moore strew flowers down the aisle which were marked with pink bows. The Meador served his uncle as ring bearer.

Patty Adams also attended the bride as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Janice Hays, Della Ferguson and Mrs. W. C. Morner, the bridegroom's sister. They were attired in white, long dresses fashioned from pastel shades of tulle and net. They carried lanterns filled with pink nosegays.

The bride's mother wore a blue suit with matching accessories. Mrs. Casey was attired in a grey suit and matching accessories. Their corsages were of pink nosegays.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an original model gown of imported French lace over ivory satin. The bodice, designed with a sweetheart neckline, was filled in with folds of applied net and laid with lace.

A lace peplum with scalloped edges that converged in deep points at the front and back was over the satin skirt which sweeps into a graceful train. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was joined to a lace cap framed with a tulle of red net outlines with seed pearls. She carried a white orchid surrounded by feathered carnations and orange blossoms atop a white Bible. From this fell with streamers tied in love knots. For some pearls. New was her veil, her hoop was borrowed and she wore the traditional blue garter.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church. The refreshment table was laid with an ecrú lace cloth over the bridal and bridal attendant bouquets. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Serving the cake and punch were Peggy Ford and Wella Joyce Kent. Miss Charlyne Brown presided at the register. Also assisting with the hospitality were Meses Bert Vernon, F. U. Payne, Les Ferguson and Edgar Hays.

Mr. and Mrs. Hibburn Casey were hosts for a rehearsal dinner Friday evening in the church.

For a wedding trip to Medicine Park, Oklahoma, the bride chose a black and royal blue sheath and white accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid. The bride attended schools in Lockney and Floydada. The groom was a member of the 1927 senior class at Lockney High School. The couple will be at home after next Wednesday northeast of Lockney where he will be engaged in farming with his father.

Memory

There is no peace of mind like that which comes at the close of day when we have the assurance that all is well, and our loved ones are safe in rest. There is something akin to that feeling as a family lovingly entrusts a departed member to the sacred keeping of Resthaven. Anxiety is banished . . . sorrow alleviated . . . for in Resthaven, "No rain may fall . . . no sun may ever scorch . . . EXPERIMENT RECHARGE WELL ING OVER ONE MILLION LONS OF WATER PER DAY

W. L. Broadhurst
Chief Hydrologist

— the rains came — ve believed they would long years.
people in the High who are now aware of ishing supply of un-water, are concerned e problem of water that quantity of water that cently collected in the nds of wet-weather lakdraining the water into derground reservoir for and future use.

Numerous farmers throughout the High Plains have installed dual-purpose wells near the lakes for the purpose of draining the lakes and producing irrigation water. Such practice has been described by them as highly successful.

Although the practice is not yet fully acceptable to economists and engineers, many of whom are naturally skeptical until shown, the High Plains Water District has developed some important information from the recharge experiment

RESULTS OF RECHARGE EXPERIMENT ALLMON LAKE, FLOYD COUNTY that is being carried out at the Allmon Gin in South Western Floyd County.

In the fall of 1953 a well was drilled near the edge of the lake. Total depth was about 380 feet. It was cased with 12 inch steel casing, the bottom 150 feet being slotted. It was developed by pumping with a test pump and produced a... at 1,100 gallons a minute.

A pit was dug around the well and filled with cotton burs. An 18-inch concrete pipe was laid from the bottom of the lake to the pit, the lake end being equipped with a valve and the pit end had a meter for measuring the flow of water from the lake to the well.

Assistance to the project was given freely by numerous local interests recorded on a sign at the recharge site, including: Southwestern Public Service Company; Fox & Higgins Drilling Co., Petersburg; Bill Wolf Irrigation Service Co., Abertanby; Peerless Pump Division; W. C. Allmon, Route 1, Petersburg; Gifford - Hill - Western, Inc., Commissioners Precinct No. 1, Floyd County; Commissioners Precinct No. 2, Hale County; West Texas Gas Company.

In June 1954 the area received a heavy rain and the lake caught 32 acre-feet of water. After a few hours wait, in order to let the coarse silt settle to the lake bottom, the valve was opened and the water flowed by gravity into the pit. However, it was soon discovered that the cotton burs, although fully composted, did not prove satisfactory as a filter. Nevertheless muddy water entered the well at the rate of 1,050 gallons a minute.

The well was not equipped with a pump and as a result, after eight days of recharging, the formation became clogged with silt. A test pump was again installed and after a few hours of pumping several yards of sand and silt were removed from the well and it produced equally as good as after the first development.

This original test proved that the lake water could be drained by gravity into the water bearing formation; but it also proved that unless the mud and silt were removed during the recharging period the formation would become clogged and would no longer take water.

During the last week in April 1957, the area again had about 5 inches of rain and again the lake became filled with water. In the meantime a concrete meter box was built at the pit end of the 18-inch concrete pipe, and an 8-inch steel pipe, equipped with a flap valve, was laid from the meter box to the well. The pit was filled and a pump base was built around the well.

The land owner, Mr. Bill Allmon, had agreed to install a permanent pump, but the day he intended to set his pump the rains came.

On April 30, 1957, at 10:25 a. m. the valves were opened and the water entered the wells at the rate of 1700 gallons a minute, going into the formation and filling the well casing. The rate at which the formation took water is indicated in the chart shown above.

It is significant to note that during the first 24 hours the well took water at the average rate of 920 gallons a minute, that during the second and third days the rate was about 770 gallons a minute, and that during the fourth day the rate was 620 gallons a minute, showing that the silt was gradually clogging the sand.

On Saturday, May 4, 1957 a 7-stage number 10 pump bowls and 180 feet of 8-inch pump column pipe and 10 feet of suction pipe were set in the well. The pump was operated for 4 hours and produced a large quantity of silt, sand, and water at the rate of about 1,000 gallons a minute.

The pump was stopped, the valve was opened, and again water started pouring into the well.

During the next 20 days the recharge is shown graphically in the illustration. Again it is significant to note that whereas the rate of recharge during the first 4 days of the experiment decreased from 920 gallons a minute to 620 gallons a minute, with pumping only once a day to remove silt, the rate of recharge was maintained at a rate of about 920 gallons a minute until the lake was drained.

Just as the lake was drained the rains came again and the lake refilled to the previous level and the operation of recharging continued.

Although the problems of artificial recharge are not fully solved by any means, the work that has been done by numerous individuals, by the cooperative work of the Board of Water Engineers, U. S. Geological Survey, City of Amarillo at the McDonald Well Field in Randall County, and the work of the Water District shows that the problems can be solved and in the future millions of acre-feet of surface water can be salvaged that otherwise would be wasted.

Lubbock Station Gives Results On Cotton Planting Date Tests

Testing of planting date was started in 1956 to compare yields and quality of cotton planted early (mid-April) to very late (June 30).

All plantings received a good preplanting irrigation, and a sufficient number of summer irrigations (approximately 4.5 acre-inch each) to delay water stress until after September 1. All plantings were harvested about 3 weeks after frost with a stripper harvester. The date of the plantings, the yields, number of irrigations, and general quality of each are shown in table.

Table gives results for plantings made under conditions similar enough to justify comparisons. Most of the fiber differences, particularly in view of the favorable crop year, can be considered as water differences. Watering was managed not to produce the highest yields but to assure maximum fiber development. This practice resulted in a water stress at late season. Water stress could have been more critical for certain plantings since it occurred at various stages of fiber development between the different plantings.

Overall, however, the plantings were made on land and managed by what can be considered average conditions on the High Plains in 1956.

Results of planting date test, 1956

Date	Yield lb. per acre	No. summer irrigns.	Classer's grade	Fiber analysis Mic. Strength	Length
April 13	680	3	SLM	4.6	72.7	1.01
April 20	744	3	SLM
May 4	742	3	SLM	4.3	74.7	1.01
May 15	764	2	SLM	4.5	77.7	.95
May 23	676	2	SLM	4.3	78.1	1.00
June 1	645	1	SLM	3.9	84.0	1.01
June 11	551	1	LM	4.0	84.2	0.99
June 15	513	1	SLM	4.2	79.7	0.96
June 22	402	0	SLM	4.3	80.2	0.92
June 30	378	0	LM	4.2	73.4	0.90

From the standpoint of growing conditions in the area and from plant response to these conditions, annual reports of the Lubbock station indicate that cotton planted as late as June 15 usually is more profitable to the grower than the production of any other crops at present market prices.

Hybrid Grain Sorghum Information

Grain sorghum is a crop which responds readily to day length or photoperiod and temperature. Generally speaking with a few exceptions it begins to head when days become shorter. Because of this reaction, the optimum planting date is generally from June 10 to 25 in the South Plains. Repeated tests would indicate a substantial increase from late planting over early. Couple this with the fact that we get our peak rain in June and September and it is easy to see the reason for these late planting dates.

RS 590 (MS Kafir X Redbine 60)
Rs 590 is the earliest of the present hybrids. It has excellent exertion and is dry headed. It appears to be better adapted to the North Plains and Black lands of Texas. Since it is early, it could be planted in the first week of July and make a seed crop. It probably should not be planted in the South Plains except as a late planted hybrid.

TX 601 (MS Kafir X TX 04 (Martin and Plainsman))
For farmers who like Martin, this hybrid will be readily accepted. It is dry headed and easy to combine. It has a harder seed than other hybrids. It has neither been the highest yielding nor the lowest. It has the most consistent yield record of all hybrids. It is well adapted to the North and South Plains for dryland or irrigated. It has performed well on sandy soils, but not as well as RS 610. It has the second best standability of all hybrids.

RS 610 (MS Kafir X 7078)
Has one of the best yield records of all hybrids tested to date. It is semidry headed and has good exertion. It has yielded well under sandy conditions, especially in the Brownfield sandy soils. Because of this, it is usually recommended for the sandy soils under both dryland and irrigation. Rs 610 has one very important problem in that it does not stand. The result of the Uniform Hybrid Test of last year indicated an average of 26 percent lodging. Most of the lodging is the result of thin stands and growth under good conditions and then suffering from lack of water.

TX 611 (MS Kafir X TX 74 (Midland and Waxy Kafir))
This hybrid closely resembles

Dear Editor:
I see where Supreme Court Justice Douglas contends that the right of free speech entitles citizens to advocate the forcible overthrow of the government.

Which probably don't mean that he thinks it is all right to shoot unsatisfactory government officials, but that it ought to be legal to talk about it.

So us Crossroaders have some pretty high official backing when we gather at the coffee bar to discuss ways and means of dealing with bureaucrats, Supreme Court Justices, etc., which we can't reach with a ballot.

D. E. SCOTT
Crossroads, U. S. A.

Combine Kafir 60 in appearance and growth habits. It is very dry headed and has the best stand ability of all hybrids released this year. Its performance has been best under dry land on the North Plains. It also has a good yield record on areas just off the Caprock. It does not appear to be too well adapted to sandy soils. On Pullman and Amarillo soils it does well under dry land conditions and in areas where water is limited. The stalk of this hybrid is somewhat sweet.

TX 620 (MS Kafir X TX 07 (Red Combine type))

This hybrid also has a very high yield record, particularly under good fertile soil and adequate irrigation water. Under these conditions it is the highest yielding of all hybrids. Some farmers do not like the tall growth of this hybrid. It is dry headed and easy to combine.

RS 650 (MS Kafir & Plainsman)

This hybrid has a fair yield record, but has not been tested long enough to really have adequate information available. It appears better adapted to states north of this area. It has performed fairly well in the Rolling Plains. It would be difficult to recommend it to any area south of Lubbock. After this year we will be in a better position to make definite recommendations on this hybrid.

mendations on this hybrid.

TX 660 (MS Kafir Caprock)
This hybrid is similar to 620 except that it is green headed and slightly later in maturity. It has an outstanding yield record. Unfortunately seed stocks are not available.

Some hybrids dry faster than other hybrids. RS 610, RS 650, and Texas 660 are semi-green headed and require more time to dry than the other four hybrids. Since many farmers are accustomed to Martin, they may be discontented with a green headed hybrid. There are advantages to both dry headed and green headed sorghums, and only the farmer will determine which he will grow.

Traveling by car, you make the most of each driving conditions by calling ahead for reservations. And you can change your time table as you please.

Long Distance helps in arranging those important weekend jaunts, too. A couple of calls, a few hours notice, and you're on your way.

And when you do take off, cross-country or the week-end, let the "worriers" at home know you're okay — by Long Distance. Wherever you go, never far from a phone.

WATCH OUT FOR KIDS

In the telephone business we pay a lot of attention to safety and safety training.

Every year at this time there's a special reminder to telephone drivers: "School's out. Watch out for kids."

I repeat the reminder here because it's so important and because it seems to apply equally to every telephone driver.

Telephone drivers are anxious to join with all of us in doing everything possible to make this summer safe.

Maybe the best way to do that is to use a light foot on the brake and a light one on the gas pedal, especially near playgrounds and in residential areas. You have our pledge to drive safely — this summer, all year long.

LET DAD RELAX

For one reason or another, I always end up with the "Telephone answering job" when I'm home even though I'm tired. Kids are in bed. It's up to me to answer all calls.

If the man of your house is in the same fix, why not make it easy for him? See to it there's a telephone answering service near his favorite evening relaxing spot. Then he can reach — instead of run — when the phone rings.

Father's Day is coming up, June 16.

We'd be glad to work with you on arranging a telephone for him. Just call us at the telephone office. The number is 2202. We'll take it from there.

The price for an additional telephone is only a month's plan installation.

"In Guatemala or Texas, the simplicity of ELECTRIC BROILING makes delicious steaks!"

Mrs. R.C. Hutchinson, 1221 AUSTIN, AMARILLO, TEXAS SAYS

Mrs. Hutchinson, wife of an air force Colonel, who was Chief of the United States Air Force Mission to Guatemala, was called upon to entertain large groups of people in her Guatemalan home. She says, "At that time I had a deluxe electric range with 2 ovens, 2 broilers and 4 surface elements. Using this range, I have prepared dinner for as many as 75 people." In the upper picture, Mrs. Hutchinson sits beneath a Guatemalan work of art and displays flag of that country presented to her by a high official as a gesture of friendship. In Amarillo, Mrs. Hutchinson often broils steaks and finds the same ease of cooking that she noticed in Guatemala. She says, "The Indians there, who had never been to school, and could neither read nor write, were able to use my electric range, and other electrical equipment, with a few simple instructions." So, for ease of cooking, rely on Mrs. Hutchinson's experiences to guide you to your Reddy Kilowatt dealer store.

Dear Editor:
 I see where General Postmaster Summerfield has been going—around and around with the congressional budget butchers.
 Seems these characters are trying to tell him how to run his postoffice and hinting that he can do it on less money than he thinks.
 But he says a cut budget Won't let him streamline the department with efficiency experts, motor scooters, ball point pen for the public, striped paint for his mail boxes, etc., unless he curtails his sideline activity of delivering mail.

WEDDING DAY

"With this ring I thee wed."

Our marriage is beginning where a marriage should begin—in Church. Our hands meet across the Bible. My eyes fall to the printed page, and the verse I see there is so appropriate that I catch my breath in awe and amazement.

Here is the story of a king who long ago sought for a virtuous woman and was told that her price would be far above rubies. Here are detailed the qualities that a truly virtuous woman would have—faithfulness, industry, thrift, compassion, courage, strength, honor.

As I look up at my new husband, I feel a surge of humility. I make a silent pledge that these words in Proverbs will be my guide as his wife. They're a challenge, I know. A big challenge! But, with the help of the Church, I'm going to try to live up to them.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake (3) For the sake of his community and nation (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
