Images Crops In Area Sunday

Hail and heavy rains in spotted areas north and northeast of Lockney last Sunday night brought additional crop damage, wiping out some cotton and wheat crops and damaging others in varying amounts. High winds also did some building damage.

The cloud struck here between 9 and 10 p.m. No hail fell in Lockney and the rain totaled .35 of an inch.

The hail struck in spotted areas, with some damage reported to cotton as far west as the D. E. Adams and Robert Kellison places north of Aiken. This amounted to as much as 25 per cent. The Beacon was wiped out 118 acres of cotton for Doyle Harrison, northwest of Lockney, and damaging his wheat around 80 per cent.

Jimmie Carthel, north of Lockney, had some cotton damaged and Gene Belt lost around 100 acres of cotton on the Robinson place near Sterley. He replanted this week. Across the road the damage was considerably less on the Bryan Smith place.

Leslie Ferguson had 100 acres of cotton completely wiped out and 60 acres of wheat damaged 80 to 90 per cent on his place just west of Sterley. A considerable acreage of onions on his home place, being farmed by Trautmann Bros., was badly damaged and onion tops lined the bar ditch for half a mile or more where they had been washed out of the field.

In the same vicinity Leo Cooper had some cotton damaged by the hail as did O. E. Lee and Conrad Henderson. A. S. Jones had some cotton damaged, and Horton Howell, just south of Sterley, replanted 20 acres of cotton and had another 10 acres badly damaged. He also lost completely 15 acres of cucumbers. One inch of rain fell at his place.

The hail extended east and northeast damaging wheat in the Hillburn Casey place, Mason Davis place, and others in this vicinity. Marvin Sams had additional hail damage on his wheat just west of South Plains, the second hail to strike that area within the past 10 days. A. P. Sanders also had some wheat damaged, damaging both wheat.

Perhaps a few more acres of wheat did some damage in the area north of town. A. P. Sanders on the John Lee place was blown down, wheat destroyed and a few other small buildings on the Francis Carthel place were badly damaged.

In the Sterley area the winds completely unroofed a barn on the Henderson place and blew over a trailer at the G. N. Gin, just across the road.

Little League Begins Schedule Play Here Today

The Lockney Little League will begin the official schedule today with the first game at 6 o'clock this evening between the Cardinals and the Yankees. Games will be played each evening at the same time, one game each day, six days of the week.

Schedule for Friday calls for the Dodgers to play the Red Sox and on Saturday the Giants will take on the Indians.

An error in the schedule as published in The Beacon last week was found. On Monday, June 9, the Giants will play the Dodgers instead of the Cards and Dodgers as was printed last week. Otherwise the schedule was correct as printed.

Uniforms were handed out to the eager young players Monday evening in the educational wing of the First Baptist Church. Commissioner Tom Moore said that most of the players were present to receive their suits.

Workouts have been under way this week and some teams have been playing practice games.

An error in the names of managers was also pointed out this week. Joe Cunyus will assist R. V. Webster in the management of the Yankee team, and is not the Giant manager as was reported to The Beacon. The Giants managers are J. D. Copeland and C. L. Record. Other managers are Indians, Dub Dippery and Tommy Montandon; Red Sox, R. L. Khoten and Troy Lemley; Cardinals, Leonard Finley and Art Barker Jr.; Dodgers, Edgar R. Hays and Carroll Minor.

Barley And Oats Start Moving, Wheat Will Soon

Barley and oats in Floyd County is moving to elevators now in small quantities and the wheat harvest will start in a week or 10 days, elevator men say. In fact, the first load of wheat from the 1958 crop may hit the elevator this week.

At Baxter & Smith Grain Co., a load of barley from the E. R. Lovvorn farm in the Lone Star community was received Tuesday. It was good heavy grain, according to Charles Baxter.

The same elevator received a load of oats and barley mixed Wednesday from the Leo Cooper farm north of town. The grain was dry.

The Cereal Elevator received a load of barley Monday from Mrs. Dow Nix's farm and is expecting more this week, according to Charlie Andrews.

Muncy Elevator received a load of barley from the Leighton Teplee farm Monday. Bob Muncy said Wednesday. It was good barley and the yield was running 60 to 70 bushels per acre, he said. Barley is moving in that community and the harvest is picking up, he said.

Combines are being readied and others are coming into the area in preparation for harvesting the best wheat crop Floyd County has had in several years. County Agent Cecil Lewis said that this county has 110,000 acres of wheat and local elevator men are predicting the average yield at 25 to 30 bushels. Late wheat has shriveled some but most of the wheat is very good. Estimates are that Floyd County may harvest between two million and three million bushels of wheat this year.

Loan price on wheat is expected to net the farmer between $1.65 and $1.70, some 18 cents less than last year. The wheat market had skidded lately, dropping to $1.65 on Wednesday of this week. It was as high as $2.00 per bushel some time ago.

EDITORIAL

God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. — Psalm 46:1.

SOME PEOPLE in the grass-roots areas of Texas are giving enthusiastic support to the so-called DOT machine without actually knowing what the powers that be in the DOT are leading them into. The organization, which has mis-named itself "Democrats of Texas" is actually, at the top level, an organization of extreme radicals, labor leaders and pro-integrationists which would like to take over Texas and run it just like they want it run without any thought of the wishes of the common men. Their claim that they represent the "grass-roots" sentiment of Texas is so absurd it is silly, like a lot of other claims they make.

FIRST THING, the DOT leaders are 100% whole hog for full integration of Texas schools. Of course, they don't tell the little fellows out in the sticks about this because a lot of little fellows wouldn't approve. We hope the little fellows out in the sticks won't be so foolish as to think they'll have any say concerning such issues as integration of schools, when the time comes. Mrs. Frankie Randolph and her fellow travelers will set the issues. All the grass-roots boys need do is to support them. The DOT's chief candidate in the attempt to unseat Governor Price Daniel is State Senator Gonzalez of San Antonio who staged a filibuster in the State Senate to try to prevent the passage of anti-integration measures only last year.

ANOTHER THING the DOT is in just 15 minutes if you have to scratch your itch—

Your itch, look at any drug store. Apply TECH-NE-NUT. It soothes your itch and burning in minutes. Kills germs, fungi on surfaces. Washcloth for itching, foot itching, ringworm, insect bites, sun face rashes. Tubs at BYRD PHARMACY.

trying to get across is that labor and farmers in Texas should have no conflicting interests. "Everybody for the little man," is their enticing slogan, but if the farmers of this area think that some of labor's aims are not conflicting with the farmer's interest, they had better do some investigating. Labor leaders have been instrumental in the false teaching that farm prices have made a large contribution to the high cost of living and that the farmer is just a pampered pet of the government who draws down a lot of money for doing nothing. Labor leaders would like to get their hands on the control of farm prices and the farm program, both state and national. When the farmers allow labor to gain such control that they can dictate farm policies, somebody is going to find out that farm and labor interests conflict in many ways. Labor leaders are interested in only one segment of the country's economy—that of labor.

THE DOTS also advocate the repeal of the poll tax. They consider this as somewhat of a hindrance to voting by Negroes and Mexicans and playing for the favor of all minorities, they use this as one way to gain the vote of these races.

OF COURSE, the DOTS favorite whipping boy is Governor Price Daniel. They know they have no chance to defeat him for office, Yarborough or no, so they display their hatred for anything that opposes them by calling him names and making accusations like a spoiled brat that has no raising at all. Even at that they're having trouble finding something to make an issue. Of course Mr. Gonzalez has hindered integration but other DOTS are playing that down. That's not a popular issue in some sections. Finding nothing else they have gone back to 1952 and say that Daniel voted for Eisenhower and for that reason shouldn't be allowed in the Democratic party. What they overlook is that their idol, Franklin D. Roosevelt, bolted the Democratic Party on more than one occasion, when he felt that it was to the best interests of the country to do so. Also they overlook the fact that a big majority of Texans also voted for Eisenhower in 1952 and if they condemn all of us who did that they'll surely be in the minority.

THE FARMING interests of Texas had better do some investigating before they pledge their support to the radical element calling themselves "Democrats of Texas." The name doesn't make them what they are and wild claims don't assure us of good government.

TIDE, THE ADVERTISING MAGAZINE, offers three reasons why the American people aren't buying American cars at anything resembling past rates: 1. They aren't ready to go into hook for an outdated status symbol; they have other things they want to spend their money on; and many of them just don't care for the product they're being offered.

TEENAGE WISDOM

America's teenagers seem to break into the news only with hair-raising stories of juvenile delinquency. But not long ago 53 teenagers from all parts of the country represented 34 national organizations, met to advise their elders on questions of public health.

This wasn't brashness on their part. The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis had summoned them to find out why teenagers — one of the most polio-susceptible groups had put off getting their Salk vaccinations. Nearly half the U. S. population under 20 either has no vaccination at all or has not completed the full series of shots. Why?

Note the reasons given by the teenagers themselves, and note, too, that none of these reasons are valid: Polio is way down, so why bother? Sheer laziness or indifference. Fear of the needle. Thought it was an infant's disease and "couldn't happen to me." Didn't know that "somebody else's vaccination doesn't protect you."

As far ways to bring vaccination to teenagers, here are some nuggets of sound teenage wisdom, proof that not all they think about: "Scare the pants off them." Make vaccination a fad like wearing white buckskin shoes or Yul Brynner haircuts. Direct information especially to teenagers, since they consider themselves a special group, neither children nor adults. Persuade parents of the necessity for vaccination, since teenagers are swayed by the actions of their parents.

If you have teenage children set them a good example by getting your own Salk shots. Then see that they get theirs. This year, for the first time, there is vaccine enough for everybody, regardless of age. — Petersburg Journal.

SPLINTERS SPLIT

Everybody knows about Conservatives and Radicals, politically speaking, but now Texas apparently is getting into delicate shades.

At a meeting of bigwigs of the self-styled "Democrats of Texas" in San Antonio the other day, a "rightwing" of the "leftwing" made its appearance. Texas County DOTs at the meeting declined to give blessing to a Negro member running for the Legislature, which prompted the resignation of G. L. Dutton, leader of the Negro voting bloc in the Alamo City.

The statewide DOT leadership espouses all-out integration, but some of the brethren apparently don't want it to extend to their political stables — The Plainman in Lubbock Avalancher.

DESPERATE FLIGHT

The desperate plight of American railroads should have the attention of the congress. Their principal troubles lie in government legislation which has put the operation of the railroads into the hands of monstrous bureau, called the Interstate Commerce Commission, and the "featherbedding" practices of the railroad employees. Both government and union refuse to keep pace with the changing times. In a minor way management has been resistant to change and punitive taxation has had a hand. But by and large the first two items above are what is wrong. Shame that the American people would let this thing happen to the country. Next thing will be government ownership with all the evils that go therewith — Floyd County Hesperian.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY.

Dear Editor: I see where Congress is working on a law which will make auto dealers put price tags on their cars like items in the super market.

It appears that the government is trying desperately to protect us suckers from our bad judgment.

My took-in neighbor says now what we need is a law to put price tags on political candidates, so as we can tell how much each one of them is going to cost us if we buy him.

FRESH?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Genesis	37	5-11
Monday	Exodus	2	1-10
Tuesday	Judges	7	4-8
Wednesday	Ruth	1	15-18
Thursday	Romans	12	9
Friday	Esther	2	5-11
Saturday	Psalms	119	9-16

Strange word . . . FRESH!

Once it meant young . . . unspoiled . . . without blemish. But American slang has made it the tag of the impudent, the forward, the ruthlessly aggressive youth. What does this change in a word mean? Do we distrust the young? Do we resent boys and girls today? On the contrary, it reflects our clearer understanding of our task as parents. For we have given youth greater freedom. But we have understood that this freedom demands careful guidance, particularly in the moral and spiritual realms. We dislike the fresh child. He is the evidence of somebody's failure to provide the essential guidance. So modern America is turning with fervor and confidence to its churches. They provide the religious training that tempers youthful freshness with respect, reverence and faith.

MRS. DON PEYTON AUFILL

La Dora Ayres Is Bride Of Don Peyton Afill

Miss La Dora Ayres, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Ayres, Lockney, became the bride of Don Peyton Afill, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Afill of Cleveland, Texas, Thursday afternoon, May 29, in the Church of Christ at 16th and Pile in Clovis, New Mexico.

William K. Walker read the wedding vows which were exchanged at 4 p.m. Attending the couple were the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ayres, and cousin Miss Emma Stalbird.

The bride was attired in a dress of pink tulle trimmed with lace and embroidery, fashioned with a square neck, fitted waist and bouffant skirt. Her accessories were white. Traditionally, the bride carried for something old an embroidered linen handkerchief made by her great aunt, Miss Emma Waller, about 60 years ago; new was her wedding attire; something borrowed was a blue garter belonging to Mrs. R. L. Mosby, sister of the bridegroom. She wore a penny in her shoe for luck.

A 1956 graduate of Lockney High School, the bride attended Abilene Christian College and is now attending Texas Tech where she is a junior math major.

The bridegroom is a senior chemical engineer major at Texas Tech. He graduated from Cleveland High School in 1954.

The couple will be at home in Lubbock after a wedding trip to Colorado Springs, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Moore left Wednesday for their ranch home at Gouge, Okla., to stay through harvest.

Past Matron's jewel was presented to Mrs. James Bobbitt, retiring Worthy Matron, by Mrs. F. M. Smith.

Refreshments were served from a table beautifully appointed with a two-tiered cake featuring the O.E.S. emblem in color atop the second layer. Appropriate colored flowers marked each star point. The bottom tier was surrounded with pink rose buds. An arrangement of rose larkspur completed the table decor.

The wedding took place in the home of the bride's grandparents, Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Anderson, 2609 Ong, Amarillo. Rev. Anderson, a retired Baptist minister, read the vows for the impressive single-ring ceremony uniting his granddaughter and Mr. Whatley as the couple stood before a fireplace accented with white roses and fronted by an arch of greenery and white peonies.

Mrs. S. A. Decker, Amarillo, aunt of the bride, played the traditional wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attractive in a two-piece beige ensemble with white accessories. The dress featured a fitted bodice and a full skirt of permanent pleating and the jacket was designed with a Peter Pan collar and three-quarter length sleeves. FROM THE County Agent's Office

By Cecil Lewis and Harold W. Ellison

GRASSHOPPERS — Large numbers of grasshoppers have been noted in cotton fields on sod land and land around pastures. They can be easily controlled when small.

Jumbo grasshoppers can best be controlled with baits. We have not noticed any jumbo grasshoppers at the present time.

Insect guides are available at the County Agent's office and at the gins located in the communities.

INSECTICIDES — Most insecticides are poisonous to people and animals. They should be placed out of reach of children and animals. Clothes should be changed if insecticide is spilled on them. Wash all exposed parts of the body with water. If the insecticide is swallowed check the directions for antidotes. Check the name of poison and contact a doctor.

INSECT MEETINGS — A series of insect meetings are being planned throughout the county. Check elsewhere in the paper for time and place and plan to attend the meeting of your choice.

BINDWEED CONTROL — To prevent the spread of bindweed have all combines cleaned before they move on to your place. This seems to be the method most mentioned in the spread of bindweed.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Williams and Judy left Sunday morning for Abilene where they will spend a few days visiting relatives.

Lawrence Baird presented the Training Union banner Sunday night to the class having the highest monthly average. After months of consecutive winning, the Junior Class lost the banner to the Young Peoples class. From the looks of the grades all the classes were competing for that banner this month.

We are so sorry to hear that Earnest Baird will be leaving for the service in the very near future, but we will be thinking of him while he is away.

That was some electrical storm Sunday night. The lightning seemed to be flashing in every direction, and the wind had a tremendous force but very little moisture was received. About 3 was reported.

Dear Editor:
I see where a federal district judge the other day ordered some striking union members not to wreck the employer's property as part of their bargaining effort.

My labor neighbor says it seems like the courts are getting very meddlesome here lately and doing a lot of tampering with people's civil rights.

Like in this case, where the judge butts in to restrain some citizens from enjoying their right to illustrate for their bosses the many advantages of paying them higher wages.

AUSTIN, Tex. — During coming months Texans will ponder and argue the wisdom of adopting sweeping changes in election procedures. If adopted, the changes recommended by Gov. Price Dan-iel would alter campaign procedures more drastically than anything since the Terrell election law became effective over a half century ago.

Governor Price's proposals are (1) to abolish precinct conventions and, instead, elect county convention delegates at the first primary and (2) to hold primaries in May and June instead of July and August.

They grist for mills slowly. They'll be done this summer again by the next year.

it would recommend a "declaration of principles which will insure . . . majority determination" at state conventions.
 A "fair play code" has been a rallying cry for the liberal Democrats of Texas led by Mrs. Frankie Randolph of Houston.

ANTI-TRUST INQUIRY — When a city or county needing supplies or equipment gets sealed bids identical to the fraction of a cent, there's a possibility the bidders got together beforehand and agreed on a jacked-up price.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson says that this office has had several reports of identical bidding. He is making an intensive investigation. Suits will be filed after evidence is complete, probably within six to eight weeks.

Contracts under study involve sales of electric transformers, chlorine for swimming pools, and lime and oyster shell for street topping.

A conspiracy among bidders to raise prices can cost taxpayers in the multi-millions, Wilson commented.

HOLES IN THE NET? — With the state facing a sizable deficit next year, the Senate general investigating committee is seeking to discover if the state is getting all the tax money due it.

Members of the State Comptroller's Department, chief collecting agency, told the committee, in effect that the collecting net was a little skimpy for the potential catch.

They're way behind in their audits of large companies, said Houston area supervisor Harvey J. McKinzie. Reason, he said, is that low state salaries have caused the staff to dwindle from 14 in 1948 to 5 at present.

An audit, said McKinzie, sometimes results in recovery of large sums of additional tax money.

BACK AGAIN — Texas officials are making another attempt to get the Supreme Court to say who's "boss" of insurance liquidation.

Both the State Board of Insurance and the judge of the local district court handling the liquidation cases have had a hand in selecting liquidation attorneys during the past few years. In a recent test case the Supreme Court said the Board had the first responsibility for naming the attorneys and setting their salaries, but that if it failed to act, the judge could step in.

Now, the attorney general is pressing for a more definite ruling. Acting on behalf of the Insurance Department, he has asked the court to set aside a recent order by Dist. Judge Charles O. Betts raising the salaries of men already appointed by the Board, the judge is overstepping his authority.

ALL OR NOTHING — A farmer or rancher cannot get a refund on state gasoline taxes if he uses his "agricultural gasoline" for any other purpose.

This opinion by the attorney general was given at the request of State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert, who said that a farmer wanted to correct a previous claim and get a partial refund for gasoline used partly for farming.

Farm Income Up From Year Ago

College Station — The annual rate of farm operators' realized net income rose sharply to about 13 billion dollars in the first quarter of 1958, compared with a rate of 11.7 billion in the same quarter of 1957.

This reflected substantially higher prices received by farmers for beef cattle, hogs, eggs, potatoes and other vegetables, for which supplies were reduced from a year ago, points out A. B. Wooten, extension economist.

Prices of farm products are running well above last year and are expected to average higher for the year than in 1957, says Wooten. Prospects indicate that supplies of some products will increase, notably vegetables, hogs, fed cattle, and eggs, so, current levels of prices and incomes may move toward the levels of 1957. But even so, farm operators' realized net income in 1958 is expected to be from 5 to 10 per cent above the 11 1/2 billion dollars in 1957.

This increase is the opposite of last year's situation, he points out. Realized net income to all farm operators was lower last year than the year before, though income per person on farms was about $90 higher last year than in 1956.

The increase in income per person last year was due to the fact that there were about eight per cent fewer people on farms, leaving fewer persons among whom the agricultural income was divided, he adds.

More and more farm people are supplementing their incomes with off-farm employment, notes Wooten. In recent years the ratio of income from non-farm sources, compared to far resources, has been about one to two. This means that farm people are making $1 in non-farm jobs for each $2 they make on the farm. The future level of income per person on farms may depend a great deal

"With the automatic timer and perfect heat control, I can always count on taking eighteen perfect cakes from my double ovens every time."

"I have baked over 4,000 pounds of cake in my electric range and not a single failure."

"Even after baking over 4000 pounds of cake, I still get a thrill when I take eighteen 'just right' cakes from my ELECTRIC double oven!"
 says Mrs. John Ward, 1907 W. 6th St., Plainview, Texas

"My double oven electric range turned my hobby into a business — thanks to the controlled heat in the ovens. The ovens are a big help in my baking business, but I use them for family meals, too. I can bake one dish at a low temperature while I'm baking bread at a higher temperature in the other oven. Incidentally, I used the first profits from my cakes to pay for my new electric range. Now they're put aside for a college educational fund for our children."

"For years I had the false impression that cooking electrically was a slower process, but my electric range proved to me just how wrong I was. One wonderful feature of cooking electrically is that it cooks clean. Pots and pans don't get that 'burned-on' look and the range itself is so very easily cleaned. I like my electric range because it is fast, clean, thrifty and dependable. In fact, I like everything about it. The deep well has so many uses from baking potatoes to making pots of soup."

Have you had your free demonstration of the electric range of your choice? If not, see your Reddy Kilowatt dealer and get your certificate for two free bug lamps. Yellow bug lamps, which fit ordinary sockets, eliminate most of the light that insects see, yet provide a soft, comfortable light for outdoor living.
