EDITORIAL

And why call me Lord, Lord and do not the things which I say.—Luke 6:46.

CONGRATULATIONS are in order to the South Plains Baptist Church, its pastor and membership. The dedication of their new building last Sunday was an impressive affair and the building is indeed a credit to a "rural" church. If South Plains may be called such, it is a beautiful, attractive and useful building, well planned and well constructed. It exemplifies not only the religious attitude of the people but a progressive spirit as well.

THAT BRINGS us to this thought. If churches of whatever denomination are to reach the people of rural communities they must take the church to the people. Some people will drive 12 or 15 miles to church but not many. On the other hand, a church within the rural community, convenient to the inhabitants of that community, is conducive to church attendance and certainly is an asset to the community. We believe in rural churches. We think they are necessary to the welfare of the county, the state and nation. We would like to see a church in every rural community in the county. It would make for a better county.

FARMING is generally considered a lucrative business in this part of the country and we're glad it is. But when you take the long look you can easily see that farming is also a risky business and that the farmer has a hard time some of the time. As if threats of hail and drouth were not enough now comes along the loss of crops to blowing sand. Seems that this particular danger is more or less a South Plains product and is not feared in other parts of the country. What can a poor farmer do when his field is so boggy that it will not hold up even a small tractor and yet the winds have dried the surface to where loose sand will pick up and blow? It's a sad situation.

"DRIVE SAFELY" has been repeated so often that it no longer has much meaning to most drivers. But a look at the auto accident statistics on the South Plains of Texas within the past two months will be enough to make most of us sit up and take notice. Seems that Governor Daniel's safety campaign of last year lasted only as long as the year lasted and that auto accidents are on the increase in every part of the state. "Slow down and live" is a slogan that most of us had better adopt.

WHEN YOU get down to bed-rock, it seems that the dignified justices of the U. S. Supreme Court now are called upon to play a guessing game. Very often, the justices must decide a question which runs, "When Congress passed this law, did Congress mean all state laws on the subject were to become void?" It's a hard game to play as demonstrated by the fact that the answers often come in the form of 5 to 4 or 6 to 3 decisions. Hundreds of congressmen have worked on the federal law involved, and thousands of state legislators have weighed the state laws, but often the guess of a single justice determines the law under which all of us must live.

IN THE LAST FEW MONTHS all manner of organizations have been urging that businessmen take an active interest in politics, on behalf of the candidates, parties, and programs they believe in. This has been given the blessing of the top political strategists. Chairman Paul M. Butler of the Democratic National Committee observes: "I say, with the strongest possible conviction, that businessmen belong in politics." Chairman Thruston B. Morton of the Republican National Committee sees the matter the same way: "Men and women of the business community should, not only in their own self-interest, but in the interest of their country, participate more fully in party organization work at all levels."

ORGANIZED CRIME in America is more widespread and more serious than it was even in the days of Al Capone, and the situation will grow worse in the future. That's the view of Robert F. Kennedy, chief counsel of the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee, as expressed in an interview published in the May issue of Nation's Business.

CITY OFFICERS
 Various Men, Various Minds. We have seen no official reports from the City of Ralls, but we read in The Ralls Banner that that city does not have a city marshal or police force of any kind depending entirely on the county officers to maintain order in the community. What executive officer the City of Ralls has to enforce ordinances that carry penalties is not told.

In Floydada the city council goes at it differently. Immediately available from the auditor's report are figures for the years ending in March, 1956, to and including March, 1959, which show that the city has spent from $11,800 in 1958 to $14,500 in 1956. The past year the city spent for police department expense $13,622.96, and had offsetting credit of $3,977 in fines collected, leaving a net upward of $10,000. The two points of view—Ralls with no money spent, Floydada with $10,000 — are interesting studies. — Floyd County Hesperian.

NEWSPAPERS
 John Wanamaker once said: "Give me a strong newspaper, and I'll show you a thriving town. Show me a weak newspaper, and I'll show you a town that's going backward. A progressive town means a progressive newspaper. No community is any stronger than its own newspaper. It's the life blood of every community." — Saint Jo Tribune.

YOUNGER GENERATION
 This younger generation—in which I still hold membership—is stuffy. That's what. They've gone security crazy. Any hint, trace or vague vestige of security is grasped for like a straw by the drowning man. Hence: politically they are panting liberals; financially they prefer to work for large corporations with a set scale of advancement and retirement plans and then load up to the gills with insurance policies; socially they are determined conformists; privately they marry as early as possible; and spiritually they talk a great deal about religion and yet from their conservatism I suspect the convictions of many were motivated more by fear than a desire to worship.

Now woe! Put down the dirty tomatoes and rotten eggs. I'm not against pensions for war veterans or old folks who are in need. I'm not an anarchist. I'm not against insurance people. I'm not out for corporations' scalps. I'm not against marriage. I like people, and heaven knows I'm not against religion.

But I do think this security seeking is overdone. For instance, a certain amount of insurance is a good thing — but then one can become "insurance poor."

It is, I feel, a problem of attaining that much talked about, but seldom achieved "happy medium." — Bill Neal in McLean News.

FIRM STAND ON BERLIN CRISIS
 Possibly the most universally approved action by President Eisenhower since he took office was that of his unquestionably firm stand against patronage to Russia in connection with the Berlin crisis.

All over the world, in fact, there seems to be just no place where the stand was not approved and endorsed; that place, of course, is on the Russian home front. Meanwhile the stand has been lauded by England, France and Germany, along with thousands of telephone calls and letters which are pouring into the White House.

Even before World War II, Americans predicted that a war with Russia was inevitable. Since that time, a policy of pacifism has been followed, it seems, to no avail.

No American — especially those who saw action in World War II or their parents—wants war! In addition, there seems little doubt but that Russia will back down, chiefly because they are not in a position to profit by an all-out atomic war. Russia's stated intention, instead, has been that of taking the United States from within which, as they point out, will place them in a position to better use our plants, factories, and our people.

Therefore, with both sides averse to conflict at this time, it seems logical that a compromise settlement will likely result — and the firmer the American stand, the better our position.

At the same time, it is well to remember that international relations is a fast game, played always for keeps. A wrong move, and the world could be plunged into atomic chaos, even possible annihilation of human kind.

Even this, bad as it is, many Americans regard as being above a life of slavery to Communist dictators and, apparently, people in other parts of the free world have the same feeling — Hereford Brand.

Dear Editor:
 I see where some boys in Bermuda shorts got sent home from a Dallas school to put on their pants, and a commentator says the teachers were very brave, on account of kids nowadays sometimes shoot adults who cross them.

But my reminiscent neighbor says youth is not either worse than it used to be. He recalls several teachers he would have enjoyed shootint except it was dangerous at that time.

Says boys and girls can now express their little personalities more freely than before child worship set in, when grown people still thought they were important too.

A two-inch rain, accompanied by hail stones measuring from nine to 1 1/2 inches in diameter fell in Lockney Thursday night. The hail stones were scattered and did very little damage. In a few roofs, however, where the huge stones fell, holes were left completely through the roof. But in each case only one stone fell hard enough to break through.

More car than this Impala Sport Coupe is hard to find at any price clings to curves like a cat on a carpet!

the travel-lovin' Chevrolet

Nothing else but a dyed-in-the-wool sports car like the Corvette can take a turn with such solid assurance!

It's easy to see where Chevrolet gets its road sense. With big coil springs at every wheel, a firm, wider stance and all of its pounds distributed with painstaking care, Chevy's born with it.

The only thing that may be hard to understand is how it can offer the ride it does, along with so many other luxury-car virtues, and still compete in the low-price field.

We use the word compete only in the sense of price. For with a ride as special as Chevy's, real competitors are hard to come by. There's a world of difference between Chevrolet's coil springs at all four wheels and the leaf springs that most other cars still use. Take a Chevy down a snaky back road and you'll feel the difference in the sure way it holds through curves and shoots over rough spots with hardly a ripple.

This one's really made to travel and loves every minute of it.

Stop by your local authorized Chevrolet dealer's and sample Chevy's road sense!

TATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

IN, Tex. — First called of the 56th Legislature automatically June 16, it will be hard to find any around the Capitol who are being wrapped up by bills sent them by the with an air of deliberate they even waited 45 before beginning hear- give everybody time to his presentation. (This "tag" rule whereby if a bill is heard except with notice.

Main issue was a bill to raise new revenue for 1960-61 spending needs. Gov. Price Daniel appeared personally before the Senate State Affairs Committee in behalf of H. B. 7. This is the House-passed bill to tax natural gas, interstate corporation franchises, utilities, liquor, cigarettes, autos, etc. Governor Daniel stoutly defended the bill on all counts, but said he would not "feel hurt" if the Senate wanted to make some changes. Industry spokesmen and chamber of commerce representatives told the committee the bill would drive business away from Texas. "Our customers," said one company man, "will not pay a premium for a 'made in Texas' label." Others complained that H. B. 7 not only would tax the same groups that have been hit before, but would hit some from several directions at once. Governor Daniel's reply to those arguments is that business should bear a portion of the tax burden to keep from dumping it all "on the family budget," as in a general sales tax.

HARD GOING — Governor Daniel's abandoned property bill, killed during the regular session, made it back to the House floor, but only after a committee had attached crippling amendments. As introduced, the bill would have allowed the state to take over property or bank accounts unclaimed for seven years. Committee changed the waiting period to 15 years. This cut the estimated first-year take from $20,000,000 to $3,000,000. This is one of the bills recommended by the governor to pay off the $65,000,000 deficit that accumulated during the 1958-59 biennium. House Taxation Committee killed outright Rep. Jerry Sadler's proposal to levy a one percent gross receipts tax on manufactured goods.

THUMBS DOWN ON THESE — Governor Daniel vetoed nine of the some 500 bills passed during the regular session. Among these was the "de novo" bill which would have provided for an entirely new trial when decisions of state agencies were appealed to the courts. Governor Daniel said it would have disrupted oil and gas conservation procedures of the Texas Railroad Commission. Also turned down was a bill to create a Fort Bend County water district. Governor Daniel said it was in conflict with state-wide water planning. Rep. Jimmy Day of Brookshire, sponsor, made a critical speech on the House floor, contending the governor had signed a bill just like that one two years ago. Another vetoed bill would have provided for repayment to persons who have paid fines or served sentences for crimes of which they were not guilty. Governor said the intent was good, but with no limitations in the bill, the taxpayers had no protection. Demands for making the post

Dear Editor:
I see where teamster boss James Hoffa has told Congress not to pass any laws or declare any wars that don't suit him, or he will show them who is boss in this country.
Which my dumps-dwelling neighbor says ought not to surprise Congressmen any to find out it is not them.
Says it's a mighty dull father who thinks he runs the family, and a dull Congressman who thinks he is running in this day of bureaucrats, labor and political bosses, and on-the-job trainees in the Supreme Court.

ONE SOLUTION — Many observers believe that much of the current legislative trouble — the slow start, delays, bickering between members and last-minute do or die legislation — would not happen if the office of Speaker of the House were an elective post. Certainly this would eliminate the factions that exist in the Lower House. Evidence of the desirability of such a plan is found in the office of the Lieutenant Governor, who performs identical functions in the Senate. Both officers have apartments in the Capitol Building, but only the Lieutenant Governor is elected by the people. Selection of the House Speaker is made by the House members themselves. This delays the start of nearly every session. Furthermore it provokes many bitter battles, divides the House, and creates deep wounds that never heal. Also, much time is wasted during sessions by various groups campaigning for the Speakership for the session that still is two years away. The real loser in the battle is the public and they have no choice in the matter, as things stand now.

Women's Army Corp Seeks Enlistees

Plainview. — First Lieutenant Deloris L. Browning, Women's Army Corp, representing the United States Army Recruiting Service will be in Lockney from 11:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon, June 19, it was announced today by Sergeant First Class Willard F. Wang, U.S. Army recruiter for Floyd County. Young women who have a high school diploma or its equivalent are qualified to choose a specific school or a specific job of their choice and this choice is guaranteed before enlistment without any obligation whatsoever to the applicant, Sgt. Wang said. Other enlistment options are the Army Nurse Corp and the WAC Officer Program now open for qualified young women. Women who are interested in a colorful and exciting career with the Women's Army Corp as an officer or enlisted status, or as an Army nurse are invited to contact Lt. Browning while she is in town or at 212 East 7th Avenue, Amarillo, Tex. She can also be contacted by calling DRake 3-4214 in Amarillo. While in Lockney, Lt. Browning may be contacted at the U.S. Post Office.

On June 29, 1871, the Navy Department announced the appointment of Dr. William Maxwell Wood to serve as the Chief of Medicine and Surgery, the Navy's first surgeon general. An elective one would have to come from the people, as there is considerable feeling among public officials against the idea of elective offices. OF MOTES AND BEAMS — A resolution to add to the lobby expense reporting law brought on House debate as to who's holier than who. Reps. Zeke Zzaneck of Daisetta and Don Kennard of Fort Worth proposed requiring lobbyists to report cost of transporting legislators. It was a jibe at several senators who recently flew to Tennessee in a gas company plane. Rep. Jerry Sadler of Percilla reminded the House that House members had in previous sessions gone in droves on various lobby-arranged flights. He made the suggestion of Biblical origin, that the House "get the beam out of its eye before we try to get the mote out of a brother's eye." House voted 71-52 with Rep. R. H. Cory's (Victoria) suggestion of "not meddling in the Senate's affairs."

HOW TO COOK FRESH TONGUE
First, soak the fresh tongue in a water and vinegar mixture using 1 tablespoon of vinegar to a quart of water. After 2 hours of soaking, rinse the tongue and cook it in fresh water over the simmer burner for 3 hours. When the boiling point is reached, add a large onion, 3 cloves, a bay leaf, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 6 peppercorns and a pinch of thyme. When the tongue is tender, remove it from the water and skin it. Serve with horseradish sauce, fresh spinach, poppy seed noodles and a rose wine. Use the left-overs for chef's salad and sandwiches.

Baker's Home After Son's Graduation

Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Baker are at home after a trip to West Point, N. Y., to see their son, Dorsey Lynn, receive his bachelor of science degree and commission in the U. S. Army from the U. S. Military Academy. They arrived home Saturday.

Henry Cabot Lodge, delegate to the United Nations from this country, was the commencement speaker at West Point, and the entire ceremony was very colorful.

Dorsey Lynn returned home with them and has enrolled at Texas Technological College, Lubbock, for six weeks where he will work on his masters degree. He will return to active duty on August 1st and will be assigned to Fort Benning, Ga., as a Second Lieutenant in the Infantry.

The Baker's other son, Norton, flew to West Point to see his brother's commencement after receiving his own degree, an LLB from Southern Methodist University in Dallas on June 3. He remained in Dallas where he will take the state bar examination on June 23. He will go into active duty with the National Guard for a six-months period sometime in July.

Did You Ever Buy a Guaranteed Parachute?

Guarantees are important in our American economic system.

Wise and conscientious business people have given us great confidence in the word.

But . . . sometimes peddlers whom we'll probably never see again, and merchants who know that we live far away from them, are tempted to take us in with over-liberal guarantees.

It's the local area merchants we see almost every day whose guarantees are most worthwhile. We're their bread-and-butter customers; we MUST be satisfied. So they save us . . . and themselves . . . trouble and inconvenience by selling only goods they can safely guarantee.

The farmers are still counting the cotton stalks and looking skyward to see if we will maybe have a few days of sunshine and nice hot weather for the cotton to grow and the wheat to ripen. Many received damaging hail and rain Friday afternoon and night.

L. E. Brandes and his family returned from Seguin where they attended graduation exercises of their cousin, Mrs. John Luedtke. Mr. Brandes attended the meeting of the board of Development of Texas Lutheran College. They also visited Rev. and Mrs. H. L. Anderson and family, Rev. and Mrs. Lee Roy Brandes and family.

God's Word — His Authority

Naaman was a mighty man of valour and a captain in the Syrian Army, but he was a leper. A maid who had been captured from Israel waited on Naaman's wife. When she told them he could be cleansed if in Israel, he was sent to the king of Israel. The Israelite king rent his clothes and was greatly disturbed. God's prophet, Elisha, heard of it and sent for Naaman. The prophet told him to go dip seven times in the river Jordan. Naaman became very angry and went away in rage. His servants persuaded him to obey the word of God. He did so and came forth completely cleansed of his leprosy. (Read II Kings 5:1-15 for the full account.)

Some things commanded of God look foolish from a human point of view. God's requirements and human wisdom many times clash. From the standpoint of human wisdom this looked foolish to Naaman. He could see nothing in the waters of Jordan to heal leprosy. This made it difficult to believe in God and do his will. When he finally had faith enough to obey he was healed.

Many people today have a similar problem with some of God's commands. The requirement for the sinner to be baptized in water for "remission of sins," Acts 2:38; to have one's "sins washed away," Acts 22:16; to "be saved," Mark 16:16; I Peter 3:21 and to get "into Christ," Romans 6:3-4; Galatians 3:27, seems foolish to many people. It is a common thing to hear people say, "I see no sense in it," or "there is nothing in water to take away sin." People who have this attitude, like Naaman, need FAITH in God. Why not do as Naaman finally did, believe and obey God and be cleansed by His power.

"But God hath chosen the foolish thing of the world to confound the wise" (I Cor. 1:27). Why not believe God instead of trying to be wiser than he is?

Soybean Production

It is getting to be soybean planting time in our area. June 10 to 20 has proven to be the best time for soybeans.

The seed should be inoculated just before planting and double the recommended amount has proven beneficial. A seeding rate of at least 60 lbs. per acre has been proven by the Lubbock Station and the Halfway station in making optimum yield. The Lee variety has proven to be the most popular variety because of less shattering.

Late watering of soybeans has proven to be one of the most important production practices in making top yields.

Cotton Insect Situation

Before the rains severe infestations of thrips had been found throughout the county. Some poisoning was taking place. The rain should have helped in controlling thrips, but look for reinfestations with dry weather. Six to 8 leaf cotton is beginning to form small squares, these fields should be inspected regularly for fleahoppers and nitrate control as needed.

Cotton insect guides are available in the County Agents office as well as the gins in the counties.

4-H Club Work

Warren Mitchell, 4-H Club boy from Lockney has been elected to the District 4-H council. This group works together in planning district events.

4-H members will leave Tuesday, June 9 and return Thursday, June 11, 1959. The boys and girls will be competing in the State contest. Jimmy Huckabay, Sand Hill, Tommy Ogden, Floydada, and Robert Overstreet, Dougherty will be competing in the State Entomology contest. These boys have to identify about 70 insects and know about 30 insecticides, including dosage and application rates.

Billy Colston, Dougherty and Clarence Richardson, Lakeview, are entering state competition in Field Crops. They judged classes of cotton seed, wheat, oats, and hay placing them according to good quality planting seed. They also learn to identify seeds or crops and weeds.

Home Making Hints

by Phyllis Roggendorff
County Home Demonstration Agent

When energy lags in mid-morning or afternoon—drink a cold glass of milk for a refreshing lift.

It is difficult to have a balanced diet without including a good deal of milk every day. It is rich in calcium and other minerals, high quality protein and vitamins.

Many Texans are not getting enough milk and dairy foods in their daily diet as shown by a recent survey.

Drinking milk is the simplest way to get the good from milk, but there are many ways to include it in cooking also.

Milk drinks are easy to prepare. With a bit of planning and organization you might arrange a "milk bar" near the refrigerator where the youngsters can make their own milk shakes and other milk drinks.

If you would like some recipes or ideas for ways to serve milk, call or come by for a copy of the bulletin "Good Milk for Good Meals."

4-H Roundup

Ten Floyd County 4-H Club members are among the nearly 2,000 at the state 4-H Club round-up this week at College Station. Two chartered buses left Lubbock about 6:30 a. m. taking most of those attending from this district. The first assembly was Tuesday night with Dr. Kenneth McFarland, educational consultant and lecturer for General Motors of Topeka, Kansas as a speaker.

No round-up is complete without its chuck wagon and barbeque and the 4-H one is no exception. This was scheduled for Wednesday night, after the 4-H members spent the day participating in the contests.

We will leave College Station about 6:30 a. m. Thursday and get back to Lubbock between 5 and 6 p. m.

Girls going with the agent and adult leader Mrs. Roy home this week.

Members of Sterley Methodist Church enjoyed a social Wednesday night. Hostesses, Mmes. Bill Washington, Hansel Sanders, C. L. Mooney and J. W. Read, served cake, cookies and home made ice cream. The community was invited and the social with singing and fellowship is enjoyed twice a month.

Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Read are to work with Sterley Church as a full time pastor for another year.

Visitors Thursday afternoon in the Bob Lane home were Mrs. John Lane and Mrs. Grace Lane of Turkey and other relatives from Ohio.

Jehovah Witnesses Meet In Wichita

Jehovah's Witnesses three-day training seminar for Texas Circuit No. 9 will be held at the Barwise Junior High School in Wichita Falls, June 12-14.

Clarence W. Hall Sr., presiding minister of Jehovah's Witnesses in Plainview and vicinity, said, "All local meetings at the Kingdom Hall will be cancelled for the assembly which carries 'Be a Teacher of the Good News' as its theme."

"The bulwark against communism is the spreading of the 'good news,'" Hall said, "and Jehovah's Witnesses world-wide emphasized this by their preaching activity."

A new assembly feature for Saturday night will be the movie highlighting the eight-day 'Divine Will International Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses' held last summer in Yankee Stadium and the Polo Grounds.

The movie takes on international color with the native costumes of delegates from 123 lands; it shows the mass baptism of 7,136 persons indicating by immersion their new way of life. There are scenes of the cafeterias that could feed 67,000 plate lunches an hour and aerial views of the crowds overflowing both stadiums.

The three-day assembly reached its climax at 3 p.m. Sunday when Kenneth R. Savoy, district supervisor from Brooklyn, N. Y., speaks on the subject "A Paradise Earth Through God's Kingdom." All

GRAIN SORGHUM PRODUCTION
Grain sorghum plantings are being made throughout the country. Care in buying top quality planting seed is one of the first essentials in top yields. The seed tag should be examined to determine if an insecticide has been applied to the seed and if it has not be sure and buy some to treat the seed to prevent wireworm damage. The following recommendations are suggested: 2 ounces of actual dieldrin or lindane 2 to 3 ounces of actual heptachlor mixed in 100 pounds of sorghum has given good control.

Dear Editor:
I see where the people who run one of our most respectable stills are advertising their product as an aid to gracious living when taken before and after auto trips.

My conformist neighbor says he likes a little shot of bottled distinction before and after and during most any chore except automobiling.

But he says no matter how flowery the ad writers get, he will not take up drunk driving, on account of he likes fellowship, and when he has been drinking his dog won't ride with him.
