Farmers Are Needing Rain, Wheat Hurt

Dry land wheat has been hurt by the lack of moisture within the past month and most Floyd County farmers are wanting some rain. The Beacon was told Wednesday.

A shower fell here Tuesday night, but it was hardly enough to measure, probably less than one-tenth of an inch, and it only served to brighten up the young cotton for a short period. A tenth of an inch was reported north of Lockney along the county line and a like amount south of Lockney but the fall here was less.

One elevator man said that he believed dry land wheat in the area was too far along to be helped by a rain but he predicted that dry land yields would be better than most farmers have been expecting. In fact, he thought the current dry land crop would be above average. Some wheat from the dry land area will probably be cut in early June but most of the harvest will start about mid-June or later, it was said.

Irrigated wheat is in fine shape and good yields are expected. Two things in favor of the wheat farmer in this area is that little or no hail has fallen thus far and the crop has not been bothered by insects.

County Demos Will Support Sen. Johnson

Floyd County Democrats will support Lyndon B. Johnson all the way in the state Democratic Convention in Austin on June 16, according to resolutions adopted in the county convention last Saturday.

Attended by fewer than 50 people, the convention was a mild affair with Johnson backers having all the say. There were no dissenting votes on any resolution.

County Democratic Chairman Eon Ayres opened the meeting, begged off from serving as permanent chairman and turned the gavel over to W. C. Collins of Floydada when Collins was named. Bill Hardin was elected permanent secretary.

District Attorney John Stapleton nominated a list of 13 delegates to the state convention and these were elected. They are H. S. Calahan Jr., Mrs. Beth Widener, J. C. Wester, H. E. Frizzell, N. S. Abbott, Jimmy Willison Jr., John Shipley, W. L. Devis, Gilbert Fawver, Tommy Assiter, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. McNeill and John Stapleton. The county has three votes in the state convention and will be allowed to seat six delegates on the floor.

Stapleton then presented a resolution backing Johnson "until he receives the nomination for President" and also instructing the delegates to vote as a unit. The resolution passed without opposition.

E. Fortenberry Is Outstanding Young Farmer

Eddie Joe Fortenberry, a young man who farms south-west of Lockney, was named the Area 1 Outstanding Young Farmer in a meeting of agriculture teachers at Amarillo last Saturday. This area comprises all that territory from Lubbock north to the Oklahoma line and from Vernon west to the New Mexico line.

The award was given upon Fortenberry's record of accomplishments as a young farmer over the past year. A prize for winning the title was an electric range given by Southwestern Public Service Co.

Fortenberry farms a half section of irrigated land and specializes in production of pasture grass seeds in addition to growing cotton and milo. He sells the grass seeds all over the state and has been in that business for several years. Mixed with his grass seed production business is a cattle program wherein he grazes the grass fields until time to take off for seed production.

The award was made on his present operation as well as his record of past years. Eddie was named Floyd County's outstanding conservation farmer three years ago. He is now serving as president of the local chapter of Young Farmers of America.

The selection was made at an Area 1 FFA meeting in Amarillo. M. L. Brewer, local agriculture instructor, attended the meeting. Eddie's record will be submitted for state competition in July with the winner there going on to national competition.

Grain Storage And Handling Rates Are Cut

Grain storage and handling rates were slashed by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson last week. The new rates are to take effect July 1st.

In this area, the cut in rates showed storage charges to be reduced from .047 cents per bushel per day for wheat, grain sorghum and soybeans to .037 cents per bushel per day.

Handling charges were reduced from 8 cents per bushel to 5.75 cents per bushel under the new rates. This brings a reduction of 21.27 percent in storage rates and 28.13 percent in handling charges locally compared to a national average reduction of 19 percent, local elevator men say.

The actual results will be about 3 cents per bushel saving in storage on wheat per year and about 2 1/2 cents reduction in handling charges. The Beacon was told.

COUNTY FAIR BUSTIN' OUT AT SEAMS, MORE ROOM IS NEEDED

The Floyd County Fair is bustin' out at the seams and must have more exhibit space. That is the opinion of the directors after their meeting Saturday evening in Golden's Restaurant at Lockney. Also the directors are looking for a permanent location for the Fair since their present location on the Anderson-Clayton property is only temporary. The fair dates this year are September 8, 9, 10.

"We think we have sold all the commercial exhibit space that is available already and we know others will want some," President Joe Reeves said.

The board is working on a plan to temporarily relieve the space problem, however, and that is with the construction of a pole barn to house the livestock department of the fair. County Agent Cecil Lewis presented the group with detailed plans of the barn, estimated to cost $250,000. It is 44x125 feet in size and contains individual pens, a big show arena and spectator seats. Several methods of financing the construction of the barn were discussed but none decided upon. President Reeves indicated that the matter would be decided at a future meeting.

If the pole barn is built and the livestock department moved out of the main building, then much more space for commercial and community exhibits would be available, it was pointed out.

Mrs. Alton Noland gave a report from the entertainment committee in which plans for each night of the Fair were outlined. On Thursday night the committee plans to stage an area-wide Old Fiddlers contest offering prizes of $50 for first place, $25 for second place and $15 for third place. They hope to attract fiddlers from all over West Texas.

The big gospel singing, which has proven so popular in past years, has been moved from Saturday night to Friday night with the belief that the change will draw an even bigger crowd. Mr. Reeves is in charge of this event and invitations will be sent out to singers in three states.

On Saturday night the committee has planned a community talent show, that is a contest in which various communities of the county present a 20-minute show in which they compete against other communities talent-wise. Prizes of $50 for first place, $25 for second place and $15 for third place are being offered. Other members of the entertainment committee are Mr. and Mrs. Ned Bradley.

Saturday will be Ladies' Day as in past years with special programs, broadcasts and prizes. It was decided. The committee to arrange for this special day is Mrs. I. H. Perks of South Plains, Mrs. R. G. Dunlap of Floydada and Mrs. R. L. Knox Jr. of Lockney.

The group discussed the tractor driving contest but made no definite plans. President Reeves also discussed the renting of tents and chairs as in past years.

The board authorized the Flower Department to expand their entries and pay the same prizes as last year. Mrs. Tate Jones, superintendent of this department, presented an expanded list of classes for the show this fall.

Director Joe Handley reported on the progress of his committee in providing rest rooms for the fair grounds. He assured the directors that all would be in readiness for the Fair.

County Agent Lewis reported that his committee was hopeful to attract fiddlers from all

EDITORIAL

Who can have compassion on the ignorant, and on them that are out of the way; for that he himself also is compassed with infirmity. — Hebrews 5:2.

WE WANT to add our congratulations and best wishes to the 1960 graduating class of Lockney High School. It is a fine group of young people who deserve all the honors heaped upon them. We hope that everyone of them will find happiness and success in years to come.

SOME OF US were disappointed at the population figure announced for Lockney last week but after seeing what other towns of the area are doing we feel much better. Lockney was given 2139 population compared to 1692 in 1950, which is an increase of better than 26 percent. It could have been better but it also could have been much worse. Floydada, with a 1950 population of 3210, came up with 3744 for an increase of 534 people or a little more than 16 percent. We have not heard yet from some other neighboring towns of comparative size but look at what happened below the cap: Matador dropped from 1325 to 1201, Roaring Springs from 435 to 395, Memphis dropped from 3810 to 3229, Turkey from 1005 to 795, Paducah from 2952 to 2330, along with similar drops in county population in those areas.

OF COURSE the big population increases went to the larger cities. For some reason, probably better school facilities and more conveniences, along with job opportunities, more and more people are moving to larger centers of population. Even our own population increase can be attributed in part to farm people moving into town to live. On the other hand, Floyd County's rural population increased almost as much as its city population. The county has a population of 12,330 at present, according to the population count, compared to 10,535 in 1950, an increase of 1795 in the 10 year period. Since Floydada and Lockney population increase combined came to only 981, the county's rural population has increased 814 despite farm people moving to town, and that's good.

BUT THE Chambers of Commerce, the business people and the civic leaders of both Lockney and Floydada had better wake up and see what can be done about getting some industry to locate in our county. It will be a battle with a whole lot of work and probably little results but it must be done or we will go the way of the below-the-cap towns eventually. Industry is a must to stabilize the economy and provide year-round payrolls. Preferably, it would seem to us, that industry related to farm needs and farm operations would be the ideal kind. Without that, Floyd County towns are not going to grow much in the next decade.

ELSEWHERE in this issue of The Beacon is a story regarding the work of the Floyd County Fair Board. These people work long hours, sometimes with little help and encouragement. Lockney people need to take more interest in the fair, and be more helpful in its operation. The County Fair can become a really big event in the life of the county if enough local people will take part in it.

WELL THE First Democratic primary is over and that about settles everything as far as politics go in Floyd County. The lone race on the county ballot will be between W. T. McDonald and Lloyd W. Davidson for Judge, Court of Criminal Appeals. We urge Floyd County voters to remember Judge Davidson's record of hair-splitting on legal matters and vote for Mr. McDonald in the run-off. Another thing that was settled by Texas Democrats was the matter of Mrs. Frankie Randolph and the DOTS. It appears that the DOTS are done for and Mrs. Randolph will lose her position as Democratic committeewoman from Texas as soon as the State Committee meets. Then H. M. (High and Mighty) Baggerly's favorite State Senator helped to re-elect Ben Ramsey as Lieutenant Governor. All this settled a lot of political questions for a while and now maybe we can live in peace.

SUCKER BAIT

With Our EXCHANGES

VARIETY OF SUBSIDIES:

Most Americans have become conditioned to hearing about subsidies and think they apply principally to the farmer. Talk about the "farm scandal" has become even more prevalent during this election year.

Farmers, naturally, are glad to see somebody else revealed as a chief beneficiary of Uncle Sam when it comes to subsidy.

A group of airlines has petitioned the government for subsidies amounting to millions of dollars for the current year. They say they are losing money, which appears to them to be reasonable grounds for Uncle Sam to make up their losses.

Capital Airlines has petitioned the CAB for a $12,949,000 subsidy for the year ending March 15, 1961. Capital says they lost $3,950,000 in the first two months of the year.

All 12 long-haul trunk airlines lost around $9 million in January - February this year, compared with a profit of $1,300,000 a year earlier.

Airline bookings in the first part of 1960 were down. The worst weather in a decade, a softening in the economy, and a loss of public confidence in air safety are blamed.

All the trunk airlines currently are off subsidy, after being nurtured by the government for years. Small feeder airlines still depend on federal handouts. Payments to these small carriers in the current year are expected to total $69 million.

Most have applied for rate increases in airline tickets, and the CAB is considering these applications.

Still, there is the problem of air subsidy—should Uncle Sam guarantee a profit to the airlines, any more than he does to the truck lines, the bus lines, railroads or any other transportation method?

We see no reason why we should pay it to the airlines or anyone else. — Ochiltree County Herald.

CASUAL CHOICE

Young people who are about high school graduation age speak casually of their choice of college to attend. The time is not far distant when their choice will be limited. Already for post graduate work many pupils have to have recommendations, aptitude tests, especially in the professions such as dentistry, medicine and law. Because colleges are becoming more expensive to operate, enrollments are swelling and facilities difficult to find, institutions of higher learning will be more and more inclined to eliminate the playboys and other students who go to school in lieu of something else they'd prefer not to do. — Homer Steen in Floyd County Hesperian.

MODESTY

Modesty has simplified its problems in the fabulous half-century that changed this West Texas wilderness of prairie to the enterprising land it is today. During that period, circa horse and buggy and side-saddle, a certain maiden lady, after washing her corsets, would hang them in flour sacks to dry on the clothes line. The method kept her more intimate apparel from the eyes of a cowboy or freight-hauler who might chance to pass along one of the trail-like streets near her home. Many people travel the streets today, including cowboys and truckers who are less than mildly disturbed when they meet girls wearing short shorts and the small amount of accessories they require. Modesty, like beauty, may be in the eye of the beholder. — Douglas Meador in Matador Tribune.

NAACP PLEASER

U. S. Atty. Gen. W. F. Rogers announces he is moving immediately into the South to investigate discrimination in voting in areas of South Carolina, Georgia, Louisiana, and Alabama. This is part of the political football game being played by both Republicans and Democrats in their mutual scramble for the NAACP vote.

When Rogers gets through his stint in the four Southern States, it will be interesting to note if he looks into other questionable areas. He could do some work on voting shenanigans in Chicago, parts of Greater New York — and even West Virginia. In the latter state, the country has been told many times recently elections often turn on distributions from "little black bags."

Nobody in his right mind expects the Attorney General to look into vote finagling in any of the Northern "rough spots," unless there are votes to be gained by doing so. But it would be refreshing if he, or somebody, did.

It might even rekindle a little respect for Government and politics in general — something which is sorely needed from border-to-border and coast-to-coast, but which won't come until honesty, instead of political expediency, becomes uppermost in importance with our Peerless Leaders. — The Plainsman in Lubbock Avalanche.

Dear Editor:
 I notice that more different kinds of compact cars are coming on the market all the time, and some of them seem like real good buys, on account of when used they will still make good paper weights.

My loose-packed neighbor says lots of things are getting smaller, such as cars, TV sets, down payments, etc., but the government has not yet come up with compact taxes.

Says back when he was a farmer, he sometimes raised a few compact hogs, but in those days they were called runts.

The USS Essex retires from the role of the Navy's oldest attack aircraft carrier when it enters the New York Naval Shipyard in March for conversion to an anti-submarine warfare carrier. More than 97,500 landings have been made aboard the Essex since its original commissioning in December 1942.

In February, 1800, the original USS Essex became the first American man of war to cross the Equator.

Capt. Davis also went over a list of tornado safety rules and warning measures as practiced now by the weather bureau.

Mrs. Beth Widener, program chairman, presided over the meeting which was attended by some 40 people. Among the visitors present were Miss Jo Ann Clements, president of the Plainview B&PW Club and several other members. Representatives of the local Rotary Club, Lions Club, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and possibly other local organizations were present as was Mayor J. E. Cox.

Rough Riders Take First In Parade

The Rough Riders from Lone Star Community took first place in the Junior Riding Club division of the Pioneer Round-Up parade in Plainview Saturday. They were presented with a trophy of a horse standing on an onyx base with a gold plate inscribed "Rough Riders Riding Club—May 14, 1950." There is also room to have the club members names inscribed.

Remarks heard along the street included "That's certainly a sharp looking group." The boys rode their own horses and were dressed identical in blue jeans, white western shirts, red silk neckerchiefs, white hats and boots. Leading the procession was Johnny Lewis carrying a white silk flag inscribed "Rough Riders." Mark Merrell carried the United States flag and Derrell Phillips carried the Texas flag. The flags were all new and belonged to the club as recent gifts from the boys' dads.

The club spent the last regular meeting practicing formations, spacing and control of the animals. Their coaches were Mrs. Bob Merrell and Mrs. John Pigg. Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Applewhite are their sponsors. Rev. Tenale Lewis made arrangements for securing all the flags.

Members participating in the prize-winning parade were Dennis Griffith, Dwight Cox, Mack Pigg, Mark Merrell, David Pigg, Johnny Lewis, Johnny Thacker, Ricky Kellison, Max Stevenson, Rusty Smith, Derrell Phillips, Bill Pigg and Tim Hertzman. Other members unable to be in the parade were Roger Dorman, Jerry Billington and Tony Frizzell.

The Rough Riders have received invitations and plan to participate in the Old Settlers parade May 28, Floydada, and in the ABC Rodeo parade and grand entry in Plainview in the near future. Other plans include a supper honoring parents and a camp-out.

Cotton Carnival Opens Today At Co-Op Compress

Final preparations are being made for the fourth annual Hi-Plains Cotton Carnival, to be held in the Plainview Co-Op Compress on May 19, 20 and 21 in Plainview.

There are 84 10' x 10' booths and 8 20' x 20' booths in the 84,000 sq. ft. warehouse. All of the booths have been rented, and will present exhibits of all phases of the great cotton industry.

Forty-six girls from over this area are vying for the title in this year's queen's contest, the largest number of entries in the brief history of the show.

Two girls from Lockney High are among the contestants for the Queen title. They are Eleanore Baxter, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bascom Baxter of Lone Star community and a senior in Lockney High. She is sponsored by the Lone Star Home Demonstration Club.

Forty-five models selected by F.H.A. 4-H and Home Demonstration Clubs, and 30 models selected by Plainview merchants will present the fashion show of cottons on Friday evening.

Models from the various clubs will model clothing they have made. There will be a large variety of age groups and styles in the show. Fashions in cotton will be shown for children, teenagers, young matrons, mature women, men and boys in morning apparel, sports wear, swim suits, casual clothes and formals.

The other is Anita Cooper, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Cooper of Irick community who is a student in Lockney High also. She is sponsored by Lockney Home Demonstration Club.

Judges for the contest will be Bob Etheridge, farm reporter for KFYO, Lubbock; Bill Rodgers, Swisher County Agent, and Mrs. Cecil Cosper, head of the Home Economics Dept. at Wayland Baptist College.

Three cash prizes will be awarded in the Queen's Contest; winner and her sponsoring organization will receive $25 each; runner-up will receive $15, and third place $10. Each contestant will receive a remembrance from the C of C.

Saturday's show will get underway with go-kart races at 3:00 p.m. The final night will feature a talent contest, M. C. D. by Tut Tawwater of KVOP, Plainview. Auditions for the talent contest will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:00. Nine cash prizes will be awarded in the three divisions of the contest.

This year there has been more response to the invitations for booths than ever before. Also the large display seen last year of the new lines of automobiles will be enlarged to better present the increased small car presentations.

EDITORIAL

Who can have compassion on the ignorant, and on them that are out of the way; for that he himself also is compassed with infirmity. — Hebrews 5:2.

WE WANT TO add our congratulations and best wishes to the 1960 graduating class of Lockney High School. It is a fine group of young people who deserve all the honors heaped upon them. We hope that everyone of them will find happiness and success in years to come.

SOME OF US were disappointed at the population figure announced for Lockney last week but after seeing what other towns of the area are doing we feel much better. Lockney was given 2139 population compared to 1692 in 1950, which is an increase of better than 26 percent. It could have been better but it also could have been much worse. Floydada, with a 1950 population of 3210, came up with 3744 for an increase of 534 people or a little more than 16 percent. We have not heard yet from some other neighboring towns of comparative size but look at what happened below the cap: Matador dropped from 1325 to 1201, Roaring Springs from 435 to 395, Memphis dropped from 3810 to 3229, Turkey from 1005 to 795, Paducah from 2952 to 2330, along with similar drops in county population in those areas.

tion increases went to the larger cities. For some reason, probably better school facilities and more conveniences, along with job opportunities, more and more people are moving to larger centers of population. Even our own population increase can be attributed in part to farm people moving into town to live. On the other hand, Floyd County's rural population increased almost as much as its city population. The county has a population of 12,330 at present, according to the population count, compared to 10,535 in 1950, an increase of 1795 in the 10 year period. Since Floydada and Lockney population increase combined came to only 981, the county's rural population has increased 814 despite farm people moving to town, and that's good.

BUT THE Chambers of Commerce, the business people and the civic leaders of both Lockney and Floydada had better wake up and see what can be done about getting some industry to locate in our county. It will be a battle with a whole lot of work and probably little results but it must be done or we will go the way of the below-the-cap towns eventually. Industry is a must to stabilize the economy and provide year-round payrolls. Preferably, it would seem to us, that industry related to farm needs and farm operations would be the ideal kind. Without that, Floyd County towns are not going to grow much in the next decade.

ELSEWHERE in this issue of The Beacon is a story regarding the work of the Floyd County Fair Board. These people work long hours, sometimes with little help and encouragement. Lockney people need to take more interest in the fair, and be more helpful in its operation. The County Fair can become a really big event in the life of the county if enough local people will take part in it.

WELL THE First Democratic primary is over and that about ended everything as far as politics go in Floyd County. The lone race on the county ballot will be between W. T. McDonald and Lloyd W. Davidson for Judge, Court of Criminal Appeals. We urge Floyd County voters to remember Judge Davidson's record of fair-splitting on legal matters and vote for Mr. McDonald in the run-off. Another thing that was settled by Texas Democrats was the matter of Mrs. Frankie Randolph and the DOTS. It appears that the DOTS are done for and Mrs. Randolph will lose her position as Democratic committeewoman from Texas as soon as the State Committee meets. Then H. M. (High and Mighty) Baggerly's favorite State Senator helped to re-elect Ben Ramsey as Lieutenant Governor. All this settled a lot of political questions for a while and now maybe we can live in peace.

SUCKER BAIT

With Our EXCHANGES

VARIETY OF SUBSIDIES:

Most Americans have become conditioned to hearing about subsidies and think they apply principally to the farmer. Talk about the "farm scandal" has become even more prevalent during this election year.

Farmers, naturally, are glad to see somebody else revealed as a chief beneficiary of Uncle Sam when it comes to subsidy. A group of airlines has petitioned the government for subsidies amounting to millions of dollars for the current year. They say they are losing money, which appears to them to be reasonable grounds for Uncle Sam to make up their losses.

Capital Airlines has petitioned the CAB for a $12,949,000 subsidy for the year ending March 15, 1961. Capital says they lost $3,950,000 in the first two months of the year.

All 12 long-haul trunk airlines lost around $9 million in January - February this year, compared with a profit of $1,300,000 a year earlier.

Airline bookings in the first part of 1960 were down. The worst weather in a decade, a softening in the economy, and a loss of public confidence in air safety are blamed.

All the trunk airlines currently are off subsidy, after being nurtured by the government for years. Small feeder airlines still depend on federal handouts. Payments to these small carriers in the current year are expected to total $69 million.

Most have applied for rate increases in airline tickets, and the CAB is considering these applications.

Still there is the problem of air subsidy—should Uncle Sam guarantee a profit to the airlines, any more than he does to the truck lines, the bus lines, railroads or any other transportation method?

We see no reason why we should pay it to the airlines or anyone else. — Ochiltree County Herald.

CASUAL CHOICE

Young people who are about high school graduation age speak casually of their choice of college to attend. The time is not far distant when their choice will be limited. Already for post graduate work many pupils have to have recommendations, aptitude tests, especially in the professions such as dentistry, medicine and law.

Because colleges are becoming more expensive to operate, enrollments are swelling and faculties difficult to find, institutions of higher learning will be more and more inclined to eliminate the playboys and other students who go to school in lieu of something else they'd prefer not to do. — Homer Steen in Floyd County Hesperian.

MODESTY

Modesty has simplified its problems in the fabulous half-century that changed this West Texas wilderness of prairie to the enterprising land it is today. During that period, circa horse and buggy and side-saddle, a certain maiden lady, after washing her corsets, would hang them in flour sacks to dry on the clothes line. The method kept her more intimate apparel from the eyes of a cowboy or freight-hauler who might chance to pass along one of the trail-like streets near her home. Many people travel the streets today, including cowboys and truckers who are less than mildly disturbed when they meet girls wearing short shorts and the small amount of accessories they require. Modesty, like beauty, may be in the eye of the beholder. — Douglas Meador in Matador Tribune.

NAACP PLEASER

U. S. Atty. Gen. W. P. Rogers announces he is moving immediately into the South to investigate discrimination in voting in areas of South Carolina, Georgia, Louisiana, and Alabama. This is part of the political football game being played by both Republicans and Democrats in their mutual scramble for the NAACP vote.

When Rogers gets through his stint in the four Southern States, it will be interesting to note if he looks into other questionable areas. He could do some work on voting shenanigans in Chicago, parts of Greater New York — and even West Virginia. In the latter state, the country has been told many times recently elections often turn on distributions from "little black bags."

Nobody in his right mind expects the Attorney General to look into vote finagling in any of the Northern "rough spots," unless there are votes to be gained by doing so. But it would be refreshing if he, or somebody, did.

It might even kindle a little respect for Government and politics in general — something which is sorely needed from border-to-border and coast-to-coast, but which won't come until honesty, instead of political expediency, becomes uppermost in importance with our Peerless Leaders. — The Plainsman in Lubbock Avalanche.

Dear Editor: I notice that more different kinds of compact cars are coming on the market all the time, and some of them seem like real good buys, on account of when used up they will still make good paper weights.

My loose-packed neighbor says lots of things are getting smaller, such as cars, TV sets, down payments, etc., but the government has not yet come up with compact taxes.

Says back when he was a farmer, he sometimes raised a few compact hogs, but in those days they were called runts.

Dale Tyler and Carolyn Harris Are Lariat Editors

Dale Tyler, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Tyler of Irick Community, and Carolyn Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Harris of Pleasant Valley Community, were elected recently as the co-editors of Lockney High School weekly paper, "The Lariat" for the 1960-61 term.

Both students will be seniors next term. The election took place among students who will make up the '60-'61 Journalism class of which Mrs. Felicia Applewhite is teacher.

Miss Harris plans to attend a Journalism Workshop at Texas Tech in August, and will receive valuable information from outstanding instructors and journalists on editing a first rate school paper. Lockney's school paper received a rating of excellent in a contest held at Texas Tech this year and the class is making every attempt to have a bigger and better paper next school term, according to the journalism instructor.

Cotton Carnival Opens Today At Co-Op Compress

Final preparations are being made for the fourth annual Hi-Plains Cotton Carnival, to be held in the Plainview Co-op Compress on May 19, 20 and 21 in Plainview.

There are 84 10' x 10' booths and 8 20' x 20' booths in the 84,000 sq. ft. warehouse. All of the booths have been rented, and will present exhibits of all phases of the great cotton industry.

The three days of free entertainment for patrons of the 10 counties in the Hi-Plains area will begin Thursday night at 6:30 with the official opening of this year's carnival. Spectators may view the exhibits and be ready for the contest to select "Miss Cotton" at 8:00 p.m.

Forty-six girls from over this area are vying for the title in this year's queen's contest, the largest number of entries in the brief history of the show.

Two girls from Lockney High are among the contestants for the Queen title. They are Eleanore Baxter, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bascom Baxter of Lone Star community and a senior in Lockney High. She is sponsored by the Lone Star Home Demonstration Club.

Forty-five models selected by F.H.A. 4-H and Home Demonstration Clubs, and 30 models selected by Plainview merchants will present the fashion show of cottons on Friday evening.

Models from the various clubs will model clothing they have made. There will be a large variety of age groups and styles in the show. Fashions in cotton will be shown for children, teenagers, young matrons, mature women, men and boys in morning apparel, sports wear, swim suits, casual clothes and formals.

The other is Anita Cooper, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Cooper of Irick community who is a student in Lockney High also. She is sponsored by Lockney Home Demonstration Club. Judges for the contest will be Bob Etheridge, farm reporter for KFYO, Lubbock; Bill Rodgers, Swisher County Agent, and Mrs. Cecil Cosper, head of the Home Economics Dept. at Wayland Baptist College.

Three cash prizes will be awarded in the Queen's Contest: winner and her sponsoring organization will receive $25 each; runner-up will receive $15, and third place $10. Each contestant will receive a remembrance from the C of C.

Saturday's show will get underway with go-kart races at 3:00 p.m. The final night will feature a talent contest, M. C. d by Tut Tawwater of KVOP, Plainview. Auditions for the talent contest will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:00. Nine cash prizes will be awarded in the three divisions of the contest.

This year there has been more response to the invitations for booths than ever before. Also the large display seen last year of the new lines of automobiles will be enlarged to better present the increased small car presentations.

UNION OF CHURCH AND STATE

The Bible church is God's spiritual kingdom, Mt. 16:18-19; Colossians 1:13-14, and is altogether separate from civil government or earthly kingdoms, John 18:36. Jesus Christ is the king or supreme ruler of his kingdom, I Timothy 6:15, and the holy scriptures serve as His divine law to govern it, II Timothy 3:16-17.

The church we read about in the Bible had no creed, manual, discipline or human doctrine of any kind to govern it. It was called by no name originated by men but was wholly governed by the word of God. This word made Christians only and only Christians. There were no denominations in existence at that time, neither did they come into existence for generations.

A DEPARTURE FROM THE FAITH WAS TO COME

The apostle Paul wrote a prophecy of a great departure that was to come: "Now the Spirit speaketh expressly, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits, and doctrines of devils; speaking lies in hypocrisy; having their conscience seared with a hot iron; forbidding to marry, and commanding to abstain from meats, which God hath created to be received with thanksgiving of them which believe and know the truth," I Timothy 4:1-3.

Watch next week for information on how this departure brought on the doctrine of "UNION OF CHURCH AND STATE" as upheld by the church of Rome.

week.

Many in our community went to Sweetwater this week water skiing.

Rev. A. K. Windecker preached at Haskell this past Sunday.
Trinity Lutheran did not have any Sunday School or services.

A very nice mothers day supper was served by Smokey Hewett to 125 at the annual mothers day supper. Mr. and Mrs. Royce Carthel, sponsors of Luther League did a very fine job in making all the arrangements. The mothers truly had a mothers day without having to prepare a supper. The Luther Leaguers did a very fine job.
Everyone enjoyed the good barbecue and all the trimmings.

Thanks to Mr. Hewitt for coming out to serve the nice supper. This has been a tradition at Trinity congregation for many years and is always a highlight for everyone attending.

Try Different Seasonings For Vegetables

Sometimes it is the seasoning that makes a dish so good the family calls for more. A variety of seasonings will make fresh vegetables more popular—and plenty of vegetables means improved diets. Try these simple seasonings to give vegetables a new flavor: Cook a tablespoon or two of minced onion, green pepper, or parsley with snap beans or yellow squash. Add a small amount of horse radish to green beans just before serving.

Put a pinch of your favorite herbs in the water when you cook lima beans. Go easy with these seasonings. Their pungency easily overshadows the delicate flavors of vegetables.

Point up the flavor of cooked vegetables by seasoning with flavorful fats such as bacon drippings, butter or margarine, or salad oil to which lemon juice, horseradish or whisper of garlic has been added. If you use bacon drippings add bits of crisp bacon. These are especially good with greens.

Sheath Dresses Should Be Lined

Versions of the "slim silhouette" dress are popular again this year. Slim lines present several problems when it comes to keeping a crisp unwrinkled look.

The dress may lose its shape across the back if the material you choose has a tendency to stretch. Also, wrinkles may develop across the front. To guard against this, line the dress. Use a light-weight rayon lining or other material that isn't too heavy, and doesn't cling.

Cut the lining about one-eighth inch smaller than your regular dress pattern and bring it eight to 10 inches below the hip line. Machine-baste to the front and back pieces of the dress before putting the seams together. This keeps the fabric from slipping and puckering as you stitch it in place.

Home Making Hints

Hot Weather Versus Overweight

Those extra pounds may add up to added discomfort during the hot weather months ahead. Some careful planning now plus lots of will power could lighten the load a bit.

There is no safe way to get rid of excess weight overnight. There are some important factors to consider in starting a weight reducing campaign, though.

First, check with your doctor before starting any plan to lose weight. Many factors play a part in whether a person should reduce and how fast he should lose weight.

Studies have shown that the most effective weight reduction diets are low calorie, high protein and low carbohydrate. However, a variety and balance of essential foods is still needed by the body.

Nutritionists point out that it's easier for a person to stay on a reducing diet which includes a variety of foods as well as foods which are familiar to the individual. This is safer than following a food diet for a week or two and more effective than staying on a fad diet for a short time then going back to your old eating habits.

A good breakfast is always important, even in a reducing diet. Each day's food intake should include two to three cups of milk (may be skim milk), one or more servings of meat, fish or poultry, one egg (or at least four or five a week), two servings of vegetables (one dark green or yellow), two or three servings of fruit including one citrus, at least one tablespoon of butter and two or three servings of bread or cereal.

CALORIES IN POTATOES

It's the extras you add to potatoes, not that potatoes that are high in calories, say experts of the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association. If you use a tablespoon of butter on a baked potato you add a hundred calories. Two tablespoons of sour cream add only 60 calories. For delicious baked potato, heat the oven to 400 degrees. For a dry, fluffy potato, don't grease the outside skin. Bake 45 to 60 minutes, depending on the size of the potato.

HOW TO REDUCE T-SHIRT SHRINKAGE

To prevent shrinkage of cotton T-shirts and knit underwear, home economist with the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association advise you dry these articles in the same load with Turkish towels. This prevents the knitted garments from getting too dry. Be sure to remove them from the gas clothes dryer before they feel completely dry.

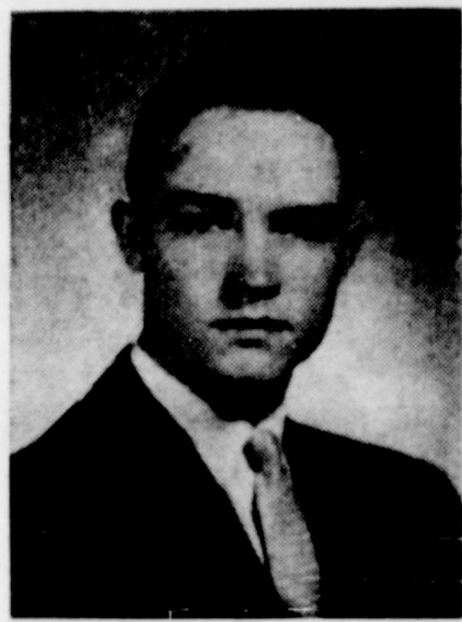

If you're really concerned about losing weight, get a calorie chart and start counting your calories. Remember that you can reduce the number of calories amazingly by omitting rich desserts — like pies, cake and doughnuts, and snacks.

Prime Products of Our Talent Farm

Every year . . . at great expense in time, money and love . . . we turn out another fine crop of young men and women . . . trained and school-ed and ready to take their places in the adult world. And every year the big cities get most of them.

It's very generous of us to go to all of this trouble and expense to furnish high grade personnel for city use.

Of course, we could use nearly all of them here at home, if we should develop a selfish streak some day. The money we spend out of town every year, if most of it was spent here, would provide many, many more job and business op-portunities for our young people.

It would make the grass a good deal greener for most of us older characters, too.

ST WILL AND TESTAMENT 1960 GRADUATING CLASS

by Marjorie Lacy

Senior Class of 1960 is sound of mind as any which has preceded it. We must say that our sense of mind has been considerably since we were in high school as fresh as a daisy. The wear and tear have been tremendous, but we as distraught seniors have rallied ourselves to determine what we can give up without regret. We have found things that we can discard our weary minds, our harassed minds return to normal.

Dr. Ford ran from the little white coats long enough to tell us that he would donate the eight parts of the book which he has written, for no use, to Fred, absolutely no use, to Fred. When Freddie says they sound like sixteen.

Sandra Thompson feels that she will be doing June Caldwell Louise Bollman a favor by giving them that certain gay to cover up their troubles when they're bewildered. Sandra finds that it is best when she uses it in unexpected times. Certainly she can take it from Sandra at that.

She prays nerves of Jimmy will tell us that they would be greatly relieved to present a problem to Wayne Cooper and Allard, for it will undoubtedly take both of them to solve. Let X equal the object of problem, a brand-new Corvair, and let Y equal an unoperative history, civics and drama teacher who doesn't have a speeding fine. Find Z, top speed at which the Corvette will travel. Good luck, Yne and Joe!

Evidently, Ricky Dollar did not get out of this mad house soon enough, for he can be heard muttering something about "all of that old Mickey Mouse and Cat Hair." Ricky says that these are only signs of a hidden genius which he would like to donate to Jerry Sams. Our sympathy goes out to Jerry.

Vincent Felty and Keith Carthel would like to bequeath their bright and winning smiles to Bobby Pinner. Their smiles are slightly forced after these long, hard years, but they feel that after school is out they will have enough left for another person.

Rita Falls has decided that, to prevent fatigue from doing all of her lessons this hectic senior year, she needs lots of rest. Therefore, she sleeps late and comes in tardy often. The unsuspecting person to whom she has given this attribute is Brenda Carter. We hope Brenda can take or leave a gift.

Dee Dorman finds that after pulling her hair out to get it, she must give up her State Homemaking Degree for more practical things such as washing dishes or cleaning house every morning. She wishes to give her degree to the following girls: Ann Brown, Vicki Cook, Myrna Hays, Carolyn Merrell, and Barbara Withrow, with the warning that they, too, will begin to discover a very practical side to homemaking.

Betty Callaway has only one wish as she leaves Lockney High: that the tradition of a married woman in our school be carried on. To Frances Roberson she leaves that duty. Oyama and Pat Buchanan also have a tradition which they want to be continued — twins in the Senior Class. Poor Sandra and Donna Reagan already have a problem worse than any of the weighty ones of the seniors. People can't tell them apart. Certainly, Oyama and Pat will never have to worry about that!

Dan Smith is a nervous wreck from being sent to the office in Mrs. Applewhite's class. He is able to get into trouble with Billy Dan Rolling, who really doesn't need it, according to the Junior Play. As an afterthought, Dan would also like to include Ronald Bellah and Johnny Willis in his list of beneficiaries.

Donna Dorman would like to give as a sentimental gift to Bill Mangold and Carolyn Harth the bright spot of relief in the place in the library with Ricky at noon. Note: this does not include Ricky.

Joan Smith also has one shining spot in her muddled senior world — her certain interest in a certain person in Plainview. She doesn't want to will this away, however, so she only offers to share a common interest in Plainview people with Glenda Harden.

Donna Workman wants to will all of her worries which have come as a result of her many activities to poor Rita Marshall whose hair has already turned white over night. If things continue, Rita may see have no hair.

Wiley Bollman has found that chewing gum eases his many tensions during a hard day at school. He would like to pass this knowledge to Stanley Miller and Page Durham. Some advice goes with this: The consequences when one is caught many times offset the soothing effects.

Clarence Stephan has managed to remain sane and quiet through many days of jumping at teachers' voices and the sound of bells. He has consented to perform a much-requested humanitarian service by presenting to George Wilson his ability to be quiet.

Donna Baughman has found that her musical abilities are convenient for serenading her after battling jittery nerves all day long. We would like to continue this restful music by giving this ability to Karen Brown, Maxine Vaneck, Gayle Kendricks, and Kay Martin. I can hear the beautiful music now!

Eleanore Baxter and Pat Gray seem to have come through these last four years of instruction in much better shape than some of the remainder of us. When asked what their secret is, they decided that the credit belongs to their good times in Plainview. They are willing to next to Mary Lacy, Linda Gammage, Charlotte Seago, and Gladys Matthews.

Don Smith, after having to answer at home and school to one person, has decided to will that person to Nancy Jo Schacht, Jane Carol Phillips, and prospective office girls for next year. However, after considering who pays the bills, Don wants to specify that his gift is to be used during school hours only.

Doyle Poole has been bothered greatly by continuous pleas from many girls for his shining black, well-kept hair. Barbara Foster, Charlotte Taylor, Marcia Minter, and Kim Mickey will be disappointed to learn that his hair is not to be given away, but Doyle promises to take them for a ride in his equally, black, shining, and well-kept car.

Jennie Boyter and Jake Wofford are two of the most carefree seniors around. It could be because Jennie, as a relatively new student in Lockney, has preserved her sanity more easily than the remainder of us. She wanted to pass this ability to Sandra Fewell, Jake Wofford meanwhile says that he would like to offer his romantic, charming, and delightful ways to Doyle Freeman. Perhaps Doyle may also be getting a few concealed ways too. Why did we mention Jennie and Jake at the same time? Well, they just seem to go together!

Jody Pate wonders if basketball helped to build her body or break her mind. As she remembers her zany times on the trips, her doubts become stronger. She would like to leave these same experiences to Gay Lynn Roberson and Janice Boedeker. Perhaps they will decide Jody's question for themselves.

Beverly Simmons has learned that she would go crazy if she tried to pretend or cover up her feelings. Therefore, she counts her frankness as a definite asset, hoping that Margaret Schacht and Eulalia Sanders will see her point of view and accept it as a gift to be used wisely.

Lorena Gomez, always full of boundless energy, has accepted the fact that her high school years have put her in such a condition that she can no longer judge how to spend her energy. She asks her calmer friend, Bertha Amaya, to care for that energy, and she even trusts her to spend a little for herself. However, Lorena, with her bookkeeping ability, will expect an itemized statement of where every part of it has gone.

Violet Haggard and Barbara Rigby celebrate at night and tell each other about it during the day to divert their minds from the last long weeks of waiting for graduation. Donna Smith and Frances Jones are already practicing how to do this, as are Marie Harris and Laveta Jones. Nevertheless, Violet and Barbara would like to encourage this effort, as it furnishes something to do in homeroom.

It may break Terry Clark up completely to have to give away what he feels is his most prized possession — his place in the hall with Mytie (Alias Cindy) Lewis. He gives this to Warren Mitchell and whoever Warren Mitchell and whoever with him. To Myrtle he gives the responsibility to see that the place is well taken care of.

Dwayne Wilson, a little wacky from thinking of his own good looks, wills his curly hair and sideburns to Dickie Fulfer to preserve. Dwayne sighs and wishes that he could only teach Dickie to play the guitar so that his own image would be preserved in the minds of his following.

Corrine Sanchez has managed to preserve her sweetness to the very end of this bitter battle. We feel that this trait should be possessed by at least three members of the Junior Class. The lucky recipients are Wanda Savage, Raye Watson, and Jackie Lou Frizzell.

Lewis Elland bluffs his way around all the time trying to make us believe that these years of forced labor haven't bothered him in the least. In the same way, he is trying to bluff Deral Kent into thinking that he is giving him something valuable. We must tell the truth, though, Deral, he's only giving you his Beatnik cap and dark glasses. Perhaps that is a sacrifice for Lewis.

Ronnie Hayes has developed a Persecution Complex, and in return he would like to be sure the teachers are persecuted. He would like to teach Raymond Wilson to talk and interrupt continuously in class. Yes, Ronnie's aware that Raymond talks little now but he feels he can teach him his own special brand of disturbing.

James Davis has been accused of being the biggest storyteller and tease in the senior class. Those who are his true friends understand that James mind isn't what is used to be. James, as is characteristic of people who are that way, believes his way is best and that everyone else is a little off. He leaves this knowledge to Larry Boedeker to comfort him should he ever find that people about him are odd, too.

Garland Sams has already had several months in which to recuperate, so he has a head start on the rest of us. He has acquired a man-about-town air and would like to share it with Robert Carthel.

Joe Cox believes his only hope is to get out of class as much as possible. He wills his strategy to Dale Tyler with the warning that it has failed many more times than it has succeeded.

Donald Ivie has become so bewildered by this time that he gladly gives everything he has to Stanley Miller. There is one big exception, however. Even in his state of confusion, Donald says very clearly that his gift doesn't include his special interest in the Junior Class.

D. K. Jackson is unlike the typical senior. He still has much energy to spare. You see, he's been sitting around for four years trying to decide where to begin to use that energy. Oh, he's decided to give some of it to Marvin Lemons and Rodney Rigby. Could it be a case of the blind leading the blind?

Ah! Can't you feel the relief in the seniors' hearts now? Some of them have performed a real service to mankind and many of them have given away their greatest worries. We hate to do this to you, juniors, but after four years of school, it's everyone for himself. We do have one more gift, though — our best wishes to you with your new gifts. You'll need it!

Questions And Answers About TEXIOCA-54

- Following are some of the Questions we have been asked by Farmers:
- QUESTION: Is Texioca-54 the same as the Waxey Kaffir grown during the mid-forties?
- ANSWER: No. Texioca-54's main parent is Martin Milo.
- QUESTION: How is The Yield?
- ANSWER: Substantially the same as Red Hybrids.
- QUESTION: How can we pay $1.63 per 100 pounds?
- ANSWER: Because the yield from the acres you plant is already contracted to Corn Products Company at that price. Corn Products Company makes a high-grade cooking starch to go in frozen foods.
- QUESTION: Is it more difficult to raise than Milo?
- ANSWER: No. The same farming methods are used as for Milo.
- QUESTION: Does it stand as well as milo?
- ANSWER: Yes. Better, in fact.
- QUESTION: Do you have an unlimited amount of seed?
- ANSWER: No. The seed we have on hand is all there is available, so it will be well for you to make arrangements for your seed now.
- QUESTION: What are the prospects for growing Texioca in the future?
- ANSWER: There will be more seed available next year and there will be a demand for more acres.
- QUESTION: What is the planting rate?
- ANSWER: 4 to 6 pounds per acre is recommended.
- QUESTION: When is the best planting time?
- ANSWER: June 10-20th. However, it makes as well proportionately as milo when planted earlier.
- QUESTION: Must it be 13% moisture when you deliver it to us?
- ANSWER: No. 15% or below.
- QUESTION: Will it dry well in the field?
- ANSWER: Yes. About like Martin and better than most red hybrids.
- QUESTION: Is it difficult to harvest?
- ANSWER: No. The head grows well above the leaves. It has an open type head which threshes more easily than most red hybrids.

Texas Land Values Still Move Upward

The decade of the 1950's saw a boom in Texas farm land prices which prompted frequent and free predictions from many an old-timer that a bust could not be far behind.

There was nothing approaching a bust, of course, even in the drought-ridden middle '50's. And as the new decade of the 1960's gets under way there are no real signs to indicate that the boom actually has even reached its peak.

Farmers may and probably will continue to complain of lower farm prices and increasing costs — which is well justified by current facts and figures. Some farm families probably will continue to forsake the land and its discouragements, although the number driven away from the farms to the cities is not nearly as high as during the drought years.

But the value of the land itself appears to be holding a remarkably steady upward trend, and this is observed in nearly all areas of Texas. Prevailing prices of farm and ranch land generally is higher than can actually be justified by its value for crop or livestock production.

The factors combining to produce this situation also have developed another over-all condition which is often observed and pointed out in many sections of Texas. The condition is this: More and more land over the State is becoming tightly held and to all practical purposes taken off the market altogether, automatically cutting down the quantity of bid-able land available to influence any market fluctuation.

The top strengthening factor in price determination of farm and ranch land, not only in Texas but in most other agricultural states, is the vast increase in population to be considered against the fixed amount of land available. In Texas, this more or less simple situation of supply and demand is intensified because of the more than normal growth in population.

CHANGEABLE—Tiny wild flowers blossom on fine quality cotton in this one-piece swimsuit styled with boy shorts by Cole of California. A matching skirt buttons on, adding a sun dress to your summer wardrobe.

During the past two decades, the trend of farm folk flocking to the middle-sized and big cities in Texas also has had a reverse reaction — a notable rise in week-end farming and ranching. Money from Texas industry and commerce in the cities has found its way back to the land in an ever-increasing volume — no accurate measurement has yet been taken of just how large the volume might be, but the effect on farm land values is bound to have been considerable.

The boom-and-bust predictions of the old-timers are not likely to get more verification in the 1960's than in the 1950's.

DEVILED HAM STEAK

Preheat the oven to 400 degrees for deviled ham steak. Place a slice of smoked ham 1½ inches thick in a shallow baking dish. Mix 2 tablespoons of butter, ¼ cup dark brown sugar, 1 tablespoon dry mustard and 2 tablespoons wine vinegar together and spread over the top of the ham. Place the dish in the preheated oven and bake 15 minutes or until the top is very brown and bubbly. Surround the meat with pickled or spiced fruits such as peaches, prunes, pears or figs. Serve with potato salad, fresh spinach and rhubarb pie.

Mixed - Quality Cotton Results In Lower Grades

Well in advance of the beginning of another ginning season, it might be well for Texas to remember the results of a recent study on money losses resulting from mixed - quality cotton bales.

The study was made by the Agricultural Marketing Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and showed that in a single season cotton farmers lost an estimated $2,400,000 because of mixed quality bales.

The AMS found the situation basically to be this: When cotton is sampled for grading, a small amount of lint is taken from each side of the bale, and both parts are classed. If the quality is different on the two sides, the farmer is paid on the basis of the lower quality — even though most of the bale may be higher.

Cotton shippers also lost money in payments to warehousemen for special handling of the mixed bales. Some warehouses reopened the bales, re-sampled, and rebaled them with the low-quality lint removed. Usually, the benefits were not enough to defray the costs.

The AMS reported that most frequently it is the ginners who get the blame for mixed bales because they often combine cotton from two different growers, but the study showed actually that it is the farmer who is most often responsible. It was found that 61 per cent of the mixed-quality bales was brought to the gins are mixed seed cotton, with only 39 per cent being mixed by the gins.

The problem of mixed-quality cotton, of course, can never be entirely eliminated because it is impossible for farmers always to bring in loads with the same quality of cotton throughout. Weather causes certain differences, and cotton from two different fields may have to be combined to make up a load.

However, the AMS made two principal suggestions: First, farmers can be more careful to reduce mixing cotton of different qualities, and second, ginners in starting a new bale should see to it that their presses are not turned before all of the cotton from one farmer's load has been baled.

During one recent season, it was estimated that nearly half a million bales of cotton were of mixed quality. About 70 per cent of these came from Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas, where only 37 per cent of the year's production was ginned. All other states showed considerably less than the national average of mixed - quality bales, which amounted to only 3.4 per cent of total ginnings.

A "weaver" is a horse that employs a peculiar weaving motion and whose feet never strike the ground in a straight line when bucking. This motion is most disconcerting to a rider.

The origin of the cattle dates back to antiquity, and there has never been any mark of ownership. A cowboy says, "A horse is something that won't come in the wash."

25 Years of Service to Rural Texans

The month of May marks the 25th anniversary of the greatest advancement in the history of rural America . . . electrification. It took a century from the invention of the electric motor . . . and a half century from the invention of the incandescent lamp . . . And when no one else would do it . . . rural people borrowed money and built their own electric systems. But the miracle was accomplished. Today the Electric Cooperatives are looking ahead to the next quarter century . . . staying ahead of the demand in rural areas . . . installing heavier lines and improving equipment to offer a steady, dependable, low cost electric service.

While they cannot look back . . . still in this Silver Jubilee year there is a prayer of Thanksgiving in the hearts of millions for the courage that struck a spark to burn the dark with the Light That Did Not Fail.

NEWS from the High Plains
Research Foundation

Nineteen varieties of cotton were planted on April 25 at the High Plains Research Foundation.

This research project is a continuation of the search conducted since the Foundation was organized in 1957 for varieties that give the best returns. This test for yield and quality includes varieties best adapted to the various methods of cotton harvesting currently practiced by farmers in the High Plains.

Each of these varieties were planted in four row plots, 100 feet long with four rows to each plot. The tests will be made from the two center rows in each of the four row plots, reports Dr. E. H. Collister, chief of agronomist at the Founda-

Senior's Of 1960 Class Prophecy

By Bill Mangold

We have the electronic brain in one of our roving news satellites tuned to pick up facts about the senior class of Lockney High of the year 1960 that it may run across. Now, in the year 1970, only recently had this process been perfected.

Now over the United States, we see Jeannie Boyter, Miss America of 1970 being crowned. Beside her stands her faithful manager, Jake Wofford.

Going westward, we discover that Dee Dorman is now the beloved state F. H. A. inspector.

There is Betty Callaway; well her future was obvious even before she graduated from high school.

Over Hawaii, we see Ricky Dollar and Donna Dorman still trying to sell their litter baskets which they began selling for the Student Council way back in 1960. Persistent, aren't they?

Aha! We are now over Russia, where we see Jody Pate. The threat of invasion from Russia has been completely done away with since Jody was sent there as a spy. She knows what the Russians are doing almost before they know it themselves.

Now over Europe, we see Pat Buchanan's traveling team of professional girl's basketball players. They have toured all over the world putting on exhibitions of flawless basketball playing.

Let's have the satellite hover over the U. S. for awhile so we can more easily find the people we are looking for.

We see Donald Ivie and Terry Clark starring for the Boston Celtics, who just won their third straight world's championship.

There is Clarence Stephen starring on Broadway as A. R. Ham Lincoln. It looks as if his high school experience with this role paid off for him.

That must be Keith Carthel. What he is doing can't be clearly seen at the moment, but it probably shouldn't be told here anyway.

Two items on sports: Jack Ford is pitching for the New York Yankees, who, some of you may be glad to know, have not won a pennant since before the class of 1960 graduated.

Also, Dan Smith and Lewis Eiland are still admiring the gold medals they won in the 1968 Olympics. Dan's shot put effort of 76 feet 3 1/2 inches only missed the world's record by 2 inches.

Sandra Thompson owns her own beauty salon. You should see what she looks like now. Wow!

Pat Gray is now Perry Mason's secretary. Mr. Smith didn't know he had an office girl with such ability.

On the other hand, another type of talent: Doyle Poole has just set a new world's record for the quarter-mile drag race.

Eleanore Baxter and Wiley Bollman have become famous in the field of commercial artistry. Wiley has taken over Norman Rockwell's fame in this field.

Donna Workman now manages the world's largest year-book producing company; looks as if her high school experience paid off for her in a big way.

Don Smith has his own insurance company which isn't doing too well; it seems they pay off for wrecks even though the holder of the policy doesn't have a collision policy.

Marjorie Lacy is the new home-ec teacher in Lockney High; Corrine is the Spanish teacher. The principal?—Violet Haggard.

Jimmy Howell is a brilliant chemist. He has even written his own easy-to-study chemistry textbook; it's a pity he didn't have one when he was in high school.

Vincent Felty is the manager of 100 beard-growers for commercial scale just like hair used to be sold for girls with short hair who wanted it long. It is a thriving business.

Garland Sams is the owner of the largest farm west of the Mississippi (east of the

Dear Editor:
I see where an economical expert says the average family's income 40 years from now will be $20,000 a year.

My figure-fuddled neighbor says he has been doing some calculating on the basis of this prophecy, taking into account that the dollar has lost 50 per cent of its 1940 value in the last 20 years.

And, the way he figures it, in another 40 years at this same rate, our money will have depreciated 150 per cent, and a man on a salary of $20,000 of these minus 50-cent dollars will be going in the hole $10,000 a year.

Mississippi, too).
Donna Baughman plays first clarinet in the New York Philharmonic Orchestra.

D. K. Jackson owns a chain of service stations serving the complete continental United States.

Beverly Simmons and Barbara Rigby are now competitors in the drug store business. Beverly has become famous for her new fountain drink, called the Saturn Swirl, this title being inspired by man's recent expedition to the planet Saturn. But Barbara is said to be working on something extra special to rival Beverly's drink.

Lorena Gomez, following through with her adeptness in English, has put on the market a series of learn-English quick records. She has become a millionaire on this business venture.

Dwayne Wilson leads his own band, which is playing this week in New York City.

Rita Falls is the nation's swimming champ. In her spare time, she sells a lotion which is said to change the color to a beautiful brown, even without sunlight. Wonder if it works?

Ronnie Hays now has taken over the position of chief assistant to Mrs. Zeigler in the library of Lockney High, which fills two complete rooms in the school.

Oyama Buchanan is the foremost scientist in the field of rocketry in the world. He invented the rocket which was so dangerous that it caused the banning of any war on the whole earth. This took place in 1968, when Oyama was still studying postgraduate work at M. I. T. He is now at Cal Tech, the leading college in science seniors of 1960 are doing all right. But wait! There is one more coming into view right now. Well, most of the seniors are energetically working. Joe Cox is asleep under a car he is supposed to be fixing up a in the United States.

James Davis is still working on his basketball hook shot eight hours a day. He is determined to make the pro ranks somehow.

Well, it looks like all the rocket motor in. Well, at least he owns the garage he is in. Oh, I forgot to mention it is the largest in the world, so I guess he isn't doing too bad, after all.

So, there they are — the beloved, still-remembered seniors of 1960. May good luck last you forever.

William Henry Harrison, aged 68, was the oldest man to be inaugurated President; the youngest, at 42, was Teddy Roosevelt.

Fort Hood, Tex. (AHTNC) — Army PFC Lilburn Auld, 19, son of Mrs. Mary A. Jeter, Lockney, is participating with other personnel from the 1st Armored Division in Exercise Big Thrust, a two-week field maneuver at Fort Hood, Tex. The maneuver is scheduled to end May 15.

Chevy hums through Chicago traffic to the tune of 21 miles to the gallon!

Working for Bumper and Auto of Illinois, Inc., ten 1960 Chevrolet pickups battle Chicago traffic day after day. Each truck averages about 2,000 miles a month in this wearing stop-and-start delivery service. Mr. Harry Haller, General Manager of S & H Truck Leasing, who leases the trucks to the bumper firm, reports: "We provide full maintenance on the trucks—gas, oil and everything else—so it pays us to know just where we stand on costs. And our records show that the '60 Chevies are giving us as much as 21 miles per gallon . . . with an average of better than 17 miles per gallon. Mister, these are our kind of trucks!"

Truck owners have good things to say about all Chevy engines. And when they're not talking about Chevrolet performance and economy, they're telling you how great that new Torsion-Spring Ride is. How it soaks up road shock and vibration. Protects fragile loads. Lets you run at faster, safe speeds to get more work done in a day. Drive a torsion-spring Chevy soon. We'll rest our case on that one ride.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — With the state elections over, state interest now focuses on the next January when a new legislature will meet. Lawmakers will have to hack their way through the same old angle of state money problems that faced them in '59. Again the goal will be to find enough tax revenue to pay off the state's debts and provide government services for another two years.

Blazing of some possible paths is already under way. Gov. Price Daniel's 30-member Finance Advisory Commission begins this week assembling data on the state's future financial needs and how they can be met.

Governor Daniel has said he will propose five different tax plans for Commission study.

Any one of the plans, said the governor, would wipe out the deficit in the state's general revenue fund and provide for expected future needs without a state income tax or general sales tax.

Secretary of State Zollie Steakley is chairman of the Finance Commission.

BE NICE TO TOURISTS — Out-of-state visitors will get the red carpet treatment when they stop for gasoline if Gov. Daniel's advice is heeded.

Speaking to the Texas Association of Service Stations, the governor urged the station operators to sell Texas as well as gasoline to the tourists. Everyone will benefit from more tourists and longer visits, he said.

Last year 9,600,000 tourists came to Texas and spent $431,000,000. Of this, $77,000,000 went for gasoline, with $10,000,000 in taxes going to the state.

That's a lot of tourists, but not so many as the state could and should have, says the governor.

He urged the station operators to be salesmen for their communities and areas and encourage travelers to do more sightseeing.

MR. TEXAS MOVES TO TOWN—Early studies of Texas 1960 census figures indicates that while Texas cities are getting bigger, the wide open spaces are getting less and less cluttered with people.

Much of the explosive growth of cities apparently has been at the expense of surrounding rural areas, either by annexation or by the moving of country dwellers to the nearby city.

Fast-growing Abilene is an example. Abilene population has grown by 96 per cent since 1950, from 45,570 to 89,248. Taylor County, in which Abilene is located, gained from 63,370 to 100,216. Net result: Taylor County's non - Abilene population dropped from 17,800 to 10,788.

A similar situation exists in the Panhandle where Amarillo's 84 per cent increase outstripped that of Potter County.

Texarkana moved up in population, but the counties in which it is located (in Texas and Arkansas) lost ground.

WATER STORAGE DOWN — Despite the usual conversation punctuated with "now that the drought's over," reports show much of Texas short on rainfall this year.

State Board of Water Engineers reports that water in Texas reservoirs dropped from 9,622,230 acre feet in March to 9,481,265 acre feet in April. This is about a 1.5 per cent decrease.

Rainfall for the first four months of the year has been below normal for Austin, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Galveston, Houston, Laredo, Lubbock, Midland, Odessa, Port Arthur, Beaumont, San Angelo, San Antonio, Victoria, Waco and Wichita Falls.

Above average rainfall was recorded by Amarillo, Abilene, Corpus Christi and Brownsville.

TRUCK REGISTRATION RE-

REQUIRED — State Supreme Court has held that a fleet of semi-trailer trucks operated in Texas must register in Texas even though they are already registered in Mississippi.

Suit was brought by the State Highway Department against a motor freight company in El Paso.

Supreme Court upheld lower court rulings that the company must buy Texas license plates for all 95 of its trucks.

VACATION BENEFITS DUE TEST — Supreme Court has set a hearing for June 8 on whether unemployment compensation payments must be made to employees on unpaid vacations.

In the case in point, the company gives a one week vacation with pay to employees of five years or more. During the summer the plant was closed for two weeks. Some employees received one week's pay, some none, depending on their seniority.

Texas Employment Commission ruled that the employees were not due unemployment payments for the period they were without pay. A Dallas district court upheld TEC, but the Court of Civil Appeals reversed this decision. TEC is appealing to the Supreme Court.

TRUCKERS ASK RATE HIKE — In a sharply-contested hearing before the Railroad Commission, Texas truckers are asking to be allowed to charge higher rates for shipments within the borders of Texas.

Desired increase would be approximately 7.66 per cent higher than present rates.

Firms that do a great deal of shipping and several local chambers of commerce are opposing the request. They contend that rates within Texas are higher than interstate rates now.

Truckers say they must have the increase because increased costs of operation are causing them to have substantial losses.

NO CREDIT UNION BRANCHES — Attorney General Will Wilson has ruled that credit unions are subject to the same prohibition as banks against setting up branch offices or receiving deposits anywhere except in their main offices. Ruling was asked for by the State Banking Commission.

Dear Editor:
I see where numerous foreigners have been knocking California justice for putting away an undesirable character by the name of Chessman.

My filtered thinking neighbor says Californians spent 12 years and lots of money trying to handle this case to suit everybody, including Chessman, but they got criticized anyhow.

Says the next social misfit they get, they could save time and money by taking a poll of British editors, Uruguayan students, and Italian plumbers on what to do with him.

In another ruling, based on a question from the Texas Animal Health Commission, the attorney general held that the Commission is not compelled to begin brucellosis control work in an area "until such time as it is economically sound and scientifically feasible."

State law passed last year allows the Commission to set up controls on the cattle disease in areas where 75 per cent of the cattle owners having 51 per cent of the cattle require it.

The Plainview Production Credit Association was also in first place in the amount of capital stock owned by its members, and first place in the total net worth of $2,430,684.

Livestock Survey Cards Are Being Distributed Now

Postmaster Jeff M. Griffith announced today that Rural Mail Carriers will begin distributing June 1 Livestock Survey Cards to patrons on their routes about May 19.

This mid-year livestock survey is the first of three which your Post Office and U. S. Agriculture Departments cooperatively make each year. The June 1 survey provides basic information to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service in Austin for estimating the 1960 calf crop, what the spring crop actually numbered, and a preview of farrowing intentions for the fall season.

Also, poultrymen will get information on number of chickens raised during the spring. Those chickens will be the coming fall and winter's laying flock.

To be sure our community is well represented in this survey, Postmaster Griffith urges each patron receiving a card to fill it out and return to his mail box.

Rural mail carriers working on this project are: A. L. Nigh, Route One; T. L. Marr, Route Two; H. C. Gilly, Route Q; C. Stowe, Route F; V. Eland, Route M.

More Acreage In Conservation Reserve In 1960

New acreage placed in the Conservation Reserve of the Soil Bank in 1960 has surpassed the announced acreage goal for the program by more than one million acres.

The larger acreage accepted for contracts is chiefly the result of two factors: conservation practices are being established more economically than in the past, and per-acre annual payment rates under 1960 contracts are lower than anticipated.

Approximately 80 per cent of the farmers placing new land in the program for 1960 elected to come in on a "whole farm" basis, that is, to place all their eligible cropland under contract. This is of maximum effectiveness in checking surplus production, since the entire farm is withdrawn from crops and usually from livestock production as well.

Under a whole farm contract, the family may continue to live on the farm, and recent field studies indicate that most of them are doing so. In some instances farmers who would have sold and moved off their farms are retiring and continuing to live on them. Some who have shifted to non-farm work and are continuing to live on their farms said they would have moved to towns or cities if they had not had the opportunity to obtain a reasonable return from their farm property.

Participation in the program will be particularly heavy in the wheat-producing areas. The five leading states in new acreage, accounting for more than a third of the total, are Texas, Kansas, North Dakota, Oklahoma, and South Dakota.

Under the Conservation Reserve Program farmers volun-

Free copies of the big, colorful map may be obtained by writing the Texas Highway Department, Austin 14, or at the highway district offices and travel bureaus. County tax offices have map cards on hand for requesting copies of the map.

The map reflects 1,933 miles of multilane-divided highway now completed, and includes the finished sections of the seven National Systems of Interstate and Defense Highways located in the state. More than 1,500 farm-to-market road miles have been added to this year's map. Approximately 20,000 miles of the state's 30,000-mile Farm-to-Market Road System are shown on the map. All of the 26,378 miles of State and U. S. highways are shown.

Every year has 53 days of whatever day it starts with.

The present flag of Denmark was adopted in 1218.

OFFICE SUPPLIES at The BEACON OFFICE.

Partly sign contracts with the government to retire cropland from production and devote it to conservation uses, such as grass and tree cover and wildlife shelter. The contracts provide that the government will make an annual rental payment to the contract signer and will assist in establishing the conservation use on the land.

Contracts may be for three to 10 years, depending upon the conservation use to be established and the wishes of the farmer.

The border draw, according to cowboys, is a cross drawn with the gun carried at or near the hip, but hanging but forward. A quick stab of the hand across the body reaches the gun, and the corner of the movement is clear of the holster. It is this because of its position with men in the vicinity of Mexican border.

haustion, and (2) to learn something. Suddenly a hush falls, as the first lines of the script are read — the lines are very touching and D. K. Jackson reads them in a soft, mellow tone, "Run, Spot, Run."

SCENE II — The second scene begins with the usual procedure — raise your hand when you have something to say — Vincent Felty raised his hand absolutely too much and spent most of the scene wearing the "black cat's tail" for tattling.
 Our twins, Pat and Oyama Buchanan, raised our cast number to twenty-six. Mrs.
 Myers and Mrs. Muzzel had the pleasure of directing the precious darlings.

SCENE III — Dan Smith decided at this time that he would like to change his occupation to beauty operator. His first customer — Donna Workman, his first creation — a flat top with pigtail. Mrs. Ayres and Mrs. Johnson helped the stars in welcoming Corrine Sanchez and Garland Sams to the cheerful cast.

SCENE IV — The fourth scene found the boys pulling the girls' pigtails and naturally the girls had to "chase them".
 It was during this scene that Lewis Elland first became interested in track. Mrs. Brewer and Mrs. Lola Cox tried to explain that "little ladies" did not chase boys—but then, who are little ladies. Then the boys made a fatal mistake — they stopped running.

SCENE V — This was when Miss Norris and Mrs. Jones took it upon themselves to teach the girls the art of beautiful hair. The boys undertook the chore of "unteaching" the art — the hard way. Beverly Simmon's ponytail was dipped in ink and Eleane Baxter shared her crowning glory with chewing gum. The guilty boy was never found, but Doyle Poole, who joined us that year, always had a suspicious look in his eye.

The setting now changes and Act II finds us at the new Lockney Junior High building.

SCENE VI — The sixth scene was perhaps the most dramatic.
 Highlighting it, Pat Gray set — oh, excuse me, caught Pat Buchanan's blouse on fire. With the aid of our producers, Mr.
 Hawkins and Mr. Price, Pat escaped serious injury. This excitement was soon forgotten as the boys found a new thrill in "football." The girls, however, found this to be a little heartbreaking — they became second best.

SCENE VII — The Mississippi is the largest river in the world and Texas is the biggest nation — yes, the seventh scene increased our knowledge — we learned to write notes, sneak candy into class, and talk teachers out of tests. Mr. Hawkins, who was again with us with the aid of Mr. Brown, seemed to believe that Violet Haggard was the leader of the note writing ring, but only because she was our newcomer and they always get the blame.

SCENE VIII — By now, we knew all the tricks — except one—how to sit on the basketball bus with your boyfriend or girlfriend without getting in-caught. This was the scene in which the theory of love at first sight was proven, our guinea pigs were Donna Dorman and Ricky Dollar. To finish this scene out with a bang we planned, with the aid of Mr. Massey, an end of school trip to Ruidoso.
 However, the bang proved to be a puff of smoke.

Once again the setting changes. Act III takes place at
 "dear ole Lockney High".

SCENE IX (9) — Completely disregarding all rules, we as slimy fish answered upperclassmen with yep and nope—until we met Mrs. Zeigler. After a few weeks of school, all teachers threw their hands in the air and declared "war" on us.
 However, our sponsors, Mrs.
 Applewhite and Coach Lemley backed us all the way, with shotguns. It was during this crisis that Donald Ivie, Marjorie Lacy, and Barbara Rigby, became known as fellow fighters.

SCENE X (10) — Things begin to brighten for us as we left the title of slimy fish — and became sloppy Sophomores.
 Then, perhaps our greatest tragedy occurred, the dread disease called the love-bug hit and we lost many. These vacancies were filled by Rita Falls, Lorene Gomez, and Jody Pate. Actually though, we had a fairly easy year. Coach Lyon, one of our sponsors, coached a Bi-District football team and Mrs. Adams, another sponsor, was so overwhelmed by Doyle Poole's version of our national anthem and "Lollipop" that she couldn't speak for weeks.

SCENE XI (11) — Upperclassmen at last — while we had our bad parts — such as our first trips to the office escorted by Mrs. Applewhite, we had our happy times — our Junior play, the Jr.-Sr. Banquet, the success of our boys and girls in the various sports — yes, we were the bottom half of the upper crust — and faithfully leading us were Mrs. Zeigler and Mr.
 Babitzke. This scene was completed with the admission of Joan Smith.

SCENE XII (12) — At last, we have reached our last scene
 — climaxing it, we had the Senior play, the Jr.-Sr. Banquet with us as guest, our class rings, the Senior trip, and finally, graduation. Lena Sue and Edward Babitzke and Elvin Lyon shared the spotlight with us as Seniors as did Jeannie

LCC Launches Campaign To Raise $2 Million

At a dinner meeting at Lubbock Christian College Tuesday night 120 leaders from West Texas and New Mexico enthusiastically endorsed a campaign to be launched in September for $2,077,000 to finance further development of the college.

The campaign is designed to complete the financing of the two present permanent buildings, provide for erection and equipment of the field house and build a dormitory to house 130 men students. It also aims to make available a three-year operational fund of $300,000 to assure continued high academic standards, more teachers and an improved salary level.

A three-year fund of $120,000 to sustain the student workshop and provide scholarship aid to gifted students with limited means will also be set up. Another aim of the development campaign will be to purchase the additional 100 acres required according to the master plan for campus expansion.

The proposed field house,
 according to Dr. Mattox, LCC President, will be one of the largest on any campus in America. It will be 192 feet wide and 382 feet long. It will be ideal for indoor intercollegiate and interscholastic track meets, basketball tournaments and other athletic events.
 The field house will have a 100-yard straight-away and a 220-yard track. Use of the field house will be made available to civic groups desiring such facilities.

FOR SALAD BOWL LUNCHEONS

Experts of the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association say these souffle snacks are delicious served warm with a cold luncheon salad or beverage late in the afternoon: Preheat the broiler to 400 degrees. Beat 2 egg whites until stiff. Fold in 1/2 cup chive cottage cheese, salt, pepper and cayenne to taste. Pile the souffle mixture on Melba toast or soda crackers. Broil until delicately browned. Serves 10-12.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY.

Dear Editor:
 I note that a new type of government is taking over in some parts of the world, and I guess you could call it studentocracy.

Seems that when the juvenile world fixers of a nation get worked up over how an election turns out, or want to cut classes for a while, they just hold a riot and change the government.

My beat - brain neighbor says after reading about all this, and watching parents and teachers these days, he reckons man is about the only animal which is afraid of its young.
