Fire department news

By Wes Brown
Public Relations Officer
Floydada Volunteer Fire Department

With the gusty winds of March, we are fortunate not to have too many fires this month. The high winds would have made a minor fire develop into a major one.

We only had four fire calls this month, none of them were major. The first call was a smoke scare on March 10. The second call, on March 14 was called in as a structure fire, but only a chair in the house was burning. It was taken out of the house and extinguished in about fifteen minutes.

The third call, on March 16, was a well house north of Floydada. It was extinguished in about thirty minutes. The fourth call, on March 31, was on the railroad right-of-way south of Lawrence. Most of the grass had burned out by the time the units arrived and about an hour was spent checking hot spots and extinguishing burning railroad ties.

Members of the department will be going to Lubbock for a fire school next week. The purpose of the school is to keep fire departments updated on the new problems that are constantly arising in fire fighting services.

We will be in classroom lectures on Monday and Tuesday nights. We will be dealing with such courses as arson detection, hazardous material handling, pump operations and power cutting tools. On Thursday and Friday, we will be learning firefighting tactics by fighting house fires, spill fires and LP gas fires.

The school will be each night from 7-10 p.m. We would like to invite the people of Floydada to come to Lubbock to watch your fire department work. The school will be at the Lubbock Fire Department Training Center. We suggest attending the firefighting tactics classes on Thursday and Friday when we will be fighting actual controlled fires.

Monday we met with the 110th Judicial District Peace officers Association to discuss severe weather information and spotting. Fire Departments and peace officers from Floydada, Lockney, Crosbyton and Dickens attended the meeting.

Alfonso Castaneda, warning preparedness meteorologist from the Weather Service Forecast Office in Lubbock, gave a film and slide presentation on how to identify severe storms, storms that have the potential of producing tornadoes and how to track tornadoes. More articles will appear as the severe weather season develops.

March 16 - 12:53 p.m. Well house 15 miles north and 2 miles east of Floydada, six men and two units responded.

Longtime resident leaves Floydada

By Worth Gwendolyn Howard

Eldie Bryant was honored with a reception at the Methodist Church by her Sunday School class (originally "the Wesley Girls" who joined with the "Fellowship Class" in 1982). A money tree was presented to her, legal tender and much love to this lady. Attending the tea were her daughter, Doris Camp of Dallas and her daughter-in-law Mrs. Neal Bryant of Big Spring, Texas.

Eldie is returning to Loraine, Texas after leaving 60 years ago. She left when she married G.L. Bryant. "There were 700 people in Loraine then, now there are 900," she said, laughing.

Eldie was active in the Methodist Guild and gave of herself. She worked for many years for Bishop Pharmacy, then ironed at night to earn extra money for charity. She reminisced about war times when her children washed and she ironed clothes for the soldiers and their families. "To me ironing is sacrificial services," she said, "above and beyond the call of duty."

Eldie Bryant, Floydada will miss your sweet spirit. You will always be remembered as the "Sunshine Lady" who visited shut-ins, the nursing home and carried the Good News to the "Upper Room".

ELDIE BRYANT, voted 1982 Senior Citizen of Floyd County, was presented with a Friendship Quilt and pillows by the Seniors at the Senior Citizen's Center, April 1. She was also presented with a money tree by her Sunday School class. Eldie will be leaving Floydada for Loraine, Texas. Eldie was a faithful quilter at the Center. She has also done a great deal of community work in Floydada. She expressed her gratitude by a "Thank you, all my friends." Pictured are Thelma Jones, Eldie Bryant, Nettie Lowrance and Myria Dade.

Cotton output drops

The extent of the loss of Floyd County cotton to bad weather was reflected in the drop in numbers of bales of cotton ginned in Floyd County. Several gins did not open this season. The gins that did, reported a drastic drop in the number of bales ginned.

Floydada Coop Gin reported 4,594 bales this year as compared to 34,400 bales last year, a drop of 87 percent. Scott Gin of Floydada, reported 1,600 bales this year and 10,600 bales last year, a drop of 85 percent.

The Lockney Coop Gin reported 4,725 bales this year and 30,000 last year a drop of 84 percent. Darty Gin in Dougherty reported 4,230 bales this year and 11,725 bales last year, a drop of 64 percent. Lockney Gin Company reported a drop of about 75 percent from last year. Figures from the Marble Bros. Gin were not available at press time.

Double-ring ceremony unites Trava Gentry, Timothy May April 2nd

A double ring ceremony uniting Trava Jayne Gentry and Timothy Bruce May was held Saturday, April 2, at 3:00 p.m. at the First Baptist Church in Floydada. Elder Clifford Gowens, of Wylie, uncle of the bride, performed the nuptials. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Travis J. Gentry of Floydada, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. May, of Houston.

The guest registration table was attended by Kayla Gentry, of Lamesa, cousin of the bride, and Teresa Gentry, the bride's sister. Ushers were Arlan Gentry and David Gowens, cousins of the bride.

The couple was married before a large arch candelabra decorated with a heart-shaped flower arrangement of daisies and roses, intertwined with lemonleaf and leatherleaf greenery. The unity candle featured the same type greenery and was accented with yellow and pink bows. In addition, two seven-branch candelabras balanced on either side were decorated with yellow and pink roses, each in a T-shaped arrangement. Floor palms and yellow and pink carnations and daisies provided colorful bouquets to complete the arrangement.

Introductory music, played on the piano by Lisa Gentry, the bride's cousin, and sung by Sandra Nixon, included "Evergreen," during which the candles were lit by David Gowens and Arlan Gentry. Entry music for the groomsmen and bridesmaids was "The Rose."

Tammy Gentry, sister of the bride, served as Maid of Honor. Matron of Honor was Regina Craddock of Sundown. Bridesmaids were Terri Gentry, sister of the bride, and Beverly Vickers. April May, sister of the groom, was the flower girl. She wore a long yellow dress and carried a white basket of yellow carnations and daisies.

The bridesmaids were dressed in elegant floor-length flamingo dresses coordinating with the bride's colors. The dresses were fashioned with a sheer Chiffon capelet with split sleeves and were softly gathered at the waist, which was accented with a rose pin. They carried long stemmed Sweetheart roses tied with matching bows. A comb with carnations matching their dresses accented their hair.

The bride was escorted and given in marriage by her father. She wore a formal-length white gown of organza fashioned with Chantilly lace. It featured a stand-up neckline and fitted bodice of Chantilly lace, Venice lace, sequins, and pearls. The slightly raised waist of Venice trim accented the sheer overskirt which was gathered and draped over a lace tier flounce hem and a chapel-length train. To complete her attire, she wore a wide-brimmed hat fashioned with organza, Chantilly lace, pearls, sequins, and a floor-length veil accented with lace and tied into a bow at the back of the hat. The hat and veil were made by the bride. She carried a natural colonial bouquet of white daisy poms, white pinnocchio mums, and baby's breath highlighted by a yellow silk corsage of Sweetheart roses set into the center of the bouquet.

Trava wore pennies of her and the groom's birthdates in her shoes as something old, her dress was something new, her mother's silver pendant was something borrowed, and a garter was something blue.

Tim was attired in the traditional gray Classic tuxedo with striped pants and a matching ascot tie. He wore a white boutonniere of pinnocchio mums. His attendants and the ushers wore Oxford gray tuxedos with ruffled shirts of alternating colors to match the bridesmaid's dresses and carnation boutonnieres.

Mike Hunt, of Arlington, served as best man. Groomsmen were Rick Allen, Monte Styles and David Sledge of Amarillo.

Tiffany Gentry, sister of the bride, read a poem written by the bride and dedicated to the parents and the groom, followed by "Theme from Ice Castles," sung by Miss Nixon. The couple exchanged repeating vows and ring vows, followed by the lighting of the unity candle and the song, "There is Love."

A reception for the newlyweds was held immediately following the ceremony in the Wall Street Parlor. The bride's table was covered with an ecru tablecloth and accented with a yellow cluster bow and pink napkins. The centerpiece was a silver candelabra with yellow candles and the bride's and bridesmaids' bouquets. Nuts and homemade mints in the shapes of hearts, bells, daisies and roses in pink and yellow were served. The bride's three-tiered cake was decorated with pink hearts, yellow daisies, and roses. A bride and groom topped the cake. Servers were Terri and Kayla Gentry. Banana Crush punch was served by Teresa Gentry.

The groom's table was draped with an ecru tablecloth and featured a chocolate cake with pink roses and an inscription of the couple's names and wedding date. Pink candles and flower rings, a silver coffee service, a 3-piece silver tray for nuts and mints, and pink napkins graced the table.

Members of the houseparty were Gwen Gentry of Lamesa, Jenny Gauntt, Wilma Colston, Barbara Willis, and Barbara Jackson, all of Floydada. Ella Mae Gentry of Crosbyton, and Sandra Gowens of Lubbock.

Dena Gowens of Wylie and Tiffany Gentry handed out bird-seed bags at the reception. A bulletin board featuring childhood pictures of the bride and groom, poems written by the bride and dedicated to the groom, and a mock marriage license signed by the bride and groom at a Halloween carnival in 1979, was part of the reception decor.

The couple were matching going-away ensembles. Trava wore a lavender blouse and a gray pin-striped skirt while Tim wore a lavender shirt with French cuffs and gray slacks. The blouse and shirt were made by the bride. The couple departed for a honeymoon to Louisiana, after which they will reside in Amarillo.

Athena Study Club hear "Archaeological Visit through the Panhandle"

An archaeological visit through the Panhandle of Texas, was given by Wayne Parker, to Athena Study Club, March 24th, at the home of Mrs. Jack Covington with Charlotte Mitchell as co-hostess.

Wayne Parker was born September 23, 1938 at Spur. Wayne is the fourth cousin of Quanah Parker, last war chief of the Kwahadi Band of Comanches. He attended Crosbyton High School and West Texas State University in Canyon, Texas.

He received "most outstanding historical committee member" designation by the Texas Historical Commission for his work in archaeology in Texas in 1971. He was selected for Who's Who in Indian Relics in 1976 in Garrett, Indiana. Wayne has written and published over 60 articles about American Indian relics and is on the editorial staff of Artifacts Society of Ohio, a journal about archaeology. He has collected and excavated Indian relics 28 years. Some of his collection has been on display at University of Texas, West Texas State University, Ralls Museum, Rio Blanco Scout Camp and Pioneer Memorial Museum in Crosbyton.

Mr. Parker discussed the periods of
1. Palao Indians - 13,000 B.C. to 5000 B.C.
2. Archaic Indians 5000 B.C. to 1 A.D.

3. Neo-Indians 1 A.D. to 1450 A.D.
A. Woodland Indians 1 A.D. to 1000 A.D.

B. Plains Village Indians 1000 A.D. - 1450 A.D.

Tradition has it that the early Spanish explorers, beginning with Coronado, who was searching for "the seven cities of Cibola", in 1541 traversed the staked plains. Mexican buffalo hunters used the site as their camping ground. Then when Mexican traders, known as Comancheros, invaded the Panhandle Plains to barter with the Indians.

When the first Anglo explorers ventured into the Panhandle in 1820 they opened a wagon trail along the Canadian River. In 1849, the gold rush to California made this an important trail.

In 1860 when the white buffalo hunters defied the Medicine Lodge Treaty to hunt in the Panhandle Plains. It was this unofficial army of killers which eventually drove out the Indians by eliminating their livelihood, the buffalo. By 1885 all the buffalo had been slaughtered.

Mr. Parker showed several displays of different types of arrowheads (or points): a special one called a Plainview point was found in a skeleton of a bison in the Plainview area.

Hat parade held in Mrs. Allen Bingham's home

"Faith and begorra" the lively leprechauns were out in numbers to celebrate St. Patrick's Day and to welcome in spring and the Easter season Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Allen Bingham and her co-hostess, Mrs. W.H. Bunch.

Hats were the order of the day, and many a stored, dusty hat box gave up its "treasure" to be put on parade as each member modeled her creation, most of which were fifteen or more years old. It was the consensus of the members that hats belong back in the hatbox! At the conclusion of the hat parade the members sang "Easter Parade."

Mrs. Milton Ashton introduced the program, the subjects being "Fifth Avenue Easter Parade" and "Easter Inspirations."

Mrs. W.O. Newberry said to "keep it under your Easter bonnet: hats are back." She said that Easter Sunday traditionally has been a day when people all over America gather to celebrate the season, take the spring air and show off their new bonnets. The custom of taking a walk through field and country after church on Easter still continues in some parts of Europe.

"Dolley Madison was quite addicted to turbans," said Mrs. Newberry. "It was probably that she was more comfortable with her head covered because she had been reared as a Quaker. According to one historical source, 'every morning little Dolley Paine's mother sewed a sun bonnet on her head.'"

Mrs. Newberry concluded with these words of advice from William Shakespeare: "Put your bonnet to his right use: 'tis for the head."

Glover narrated, a moving story of "The Maid of Emmaus" by Agnes Sligh Turnbull. She brought the story of the little maid to life. She told how Martha, while in Jerusalem on an errand for the innkeeper, met the Master. It was during Passover Week, and as she rode her donkey through the busy streets of Jerusalem, she observed with excitement the moving crowds of men, women, and children, the soldiers in their bright trappings, beggars and shouting merchants, and full-robed Pharisees and rabbis.

In a hushed voice, Mrs. Glover brought alive the moment when little Martha came to the crowd surrounding a man who was speaking. The voice drew her as if a hand had reached out and caught her own. The she saw his face. Tired, sad, but oh, the infinite tenderness of it. Then He saw her. "Thou art little Martha," He said.

She had come face to face with Jesus. As the story progressed it told of a gift of love Martha was able to make for Jesus, a gift that cost her dearly in beatings and heartache, but before she could deliver it Christ was crucified on the cross.

Mrs. Glover concluded by saying, "In serving a stranger one night in the inn, Martha looked up into his face and it was though all the colour of the sunset and the radiance of the morning had united behind it. He looked at Martha's gift, four loaves of bread. He touched them, broke them, and raised his eyes to heaven, while the blinding glory increased. Gently the radiance enfolded Martha. Upon her shone the beautiful smile, filled with heavenly benediction and healing for all earth's wounds."

The program was concluded with the playing of recorded authentic Irish songs, such as "The Orange and The Green," "Harrigan," "The Leprechaun," and "It's the Same Old Shillelagh," sung by Barry O'Dowd and the Shamrock Singers.

The hostesses served refreshments of chicken salad, thumb-print cookies, coffee and tea, and a shamrock for good luck to the following members: Mmes. Vernon Parker, George Springer, W.O. Newberry, Alan Benson, Walton Wilson, J.P. Moss, Dennis Dempsey, A.L. Wylie, Jr., W.L. Davis, W.W. Trapp, Anthony Latta, Garland Foster, L.B. Stewart, Jr., Kyle Glover, Floyd Lawson, M.J. McNeill, and Milton Ashton.

Plans were finalized for the next meeting which will be Guest Night. Each one was reminded to bring a salad and invite a guest.

It will be held in the Lighthouse Electric Community Room on April 5th.

Plan Garden - Then Plant

You probably have a good reason for wanting to grow a garden. Maybe it's because you like to be outdoors working with the good earth and letting the fertile soil run through your fingers. Maybe it's because you like the taste of fresh vegetables right out of the garden. Or maybe it's because you spent $100 on your last trip to the supermarket.

Regardless of the reason, you want to grow a garden. So, where do you start? Certainly not with your hands in your pockets looking at pretty seed packets at the local garden center or nursery. Do it right. Think. Plan.

First, make sure you have room for a garden. You won't need a lot of space if you are a beginner with an average size family. Your garden might only be 20 feet by 20 feet or maybe even less.

Whatever size garden you have, think in terms of four basic requirements. First, you need sunlight, because all vegetables need some sun and most must have full sun for highest yields of quality produce. Unless you are concentrating on leaf or bulb crops such as broccoli, collards, spinach or onions, your crops need every available ray of sunshine.

Next, consider the location of your garden. Put it as near the back door as possible. Make bringing home the fruits of your labor a pleasant and enjoyable chore. The out-of-sight, out-of-mind principle applies here. A garden does not demand constant care and attention, but it thrives and does better if you visit it once a day. If you do not check it regularly, insects, diseases or lack of water can destroy your garden in a short time. So put the garden close to the house where watching it will not be a hassle.

Next, consider the soil. Ideally the soil should be fertile and easy to till with just the right texture - a loose, well-drained loamy soil. If your soil does not meet these specifications completely, don't panic. You can work it into shape without breaking your back.

Avoid areas heavily infested with johnsongrass, nutgrass and other weeds. Don't put garden on a rocky ledge or in a poorly drained area. These things make gardening more difficult.

Next, consider the availability of water. Place your garden near a spigot or at least where it can be reached easily with a garden hose. In a typical year, watering is necessary about once a week.

Now you are ready for the planning stage. The first step is to select the vegetables you want to grow. Plant vegetables you like to eat. Avoid those that your family doesn't usually buy at the local grocery store. With a few exceptions, you can plant almost anything you like in your garden.

After you have selected your vegetables make a rough diagram of your garden. Indicate the number of rows and different vegetables you wish to plant. Also show the desired location of each crop, the number of plants or feet of rows you want to plant and the best time to plant.

The plan will help you meet planting deadlines, make decisions on what you need to buy and put some order into your gardening activities.

GSPA requests removal of corn

Grain Sorghum Producers Association has requested Secretary of Agriculture John Block to relocate the corn which Commodity Credit Corporation is holding in the Texas High Plains and use it for PIK payments. USDA is seeking to buy grain from farmers to fill their PIK commitments. Severe shortages of PIK grain exist in several states.

In a telephone conversation with the GSPA Board of Directors in February, Block assured that the corn would not be released in the High Plains area in payment for production taken out in some other region. Block said, "If we use any of that grain (the CCC-owned corn) to pay for production taken out of the northern corn belt, that grain is going to be transported back to the northern corn belt, or in that area."

In a letter to Secretary Block and in conversations with other USDA officials, GSPA Executive Director Elbert Harp stated that the use of the CCC-owned corn would provide grain needed for some of the PIK payments and, at the same time, relieve the severe shortage of storage facilities in the Texas High Plains. Harp pointed out that all storage facilities in many Texas High Plains counties are filled, leaving no space available for the 1983 crop.

USDA owns approximately 42 million bushels of corn that was shipped to Texas in 1980. The corn was purchased in the northern corn belt after the Russian grain embargo and, to relieve storage problems in the northern area, the grain was shipped to Texas for storage.

Hightower to speak at banquet

District 2 of the Texas Farmers Union will hold its annual banquet on Saturday, April 9th at 7:00 p.m. The banquet site is the Farmers Cooperative Compress located at 3800 Southeast Drive in Lubbock. Jim Hightower, Texas Commissioner of Agriculture and Mike Moeller, President of Texas Farmers Union will address the banquet, states Melvin Lowrey, District Director.

Lowrey said, "Hightower, well known for his support of family agriculture, plans to give an informative speech on the Texas Department of Agriculture's efforts to boost farm income and open up more markets for our products. He will also talk on the benefits of an ongoing supply management program for all commodities." Lowrey adds, "Mike Moeller will speak on agricultural issues that will be acted upon by the Texas Legislature. Property taxes, the homestead protection Laws, enactment of the Family Farm and Ranch Security Act, alcohol fuels development and the regulation of natural gas for on-farm use are just a few of the important issues that will affect us as producers."

"Predicting a large attendance at the banquet, Lowrey said, "Our attendance at this meeting will show our appreciation to two spokesmen for family agriculture."

Non-members can purchase tickets at the door. Door prizes will be given. For additional information contact Mark Moran at 795-8225.

Cattle grazing wheat pasture causes bloat

Bloat in cattle grazing wheat pasture has been a major problem this spring. Excellent moisture and warm weather has stimulated good plant growth. When this type of plant material is stressed by frosts and freezes, conditions are conducive to a widespread health problem. A limited amount of non-legume, low nitrate hay will help reduce bloat conditions. Many producers have had excellent results by feeding ground grain (corn or milo) at the rate 1-4 lb. per head per day. Others have added Rumensin R and a mineral mix to the grain and used approximately 5-7% salt to restrict intake and offered the ration free choice and have not encountered the degree of bloat problems as their neighbors.

Some of the forage collected from fields where cattle were bloating has been shown can lead to conditions that result in bloat. Daily feeding of readily digested energy source such as milo or corn can help alleviate the problems caused by high levels of dietary ammonia.

Bloat Guard R (Polotolene) is a feed additive that is effective against foam buildup that causes frothy bloat. It must be consumed on a daily basis at the recommended levels (1-2 gm./cwt.) in order to be effective. The most satisfactory intake patterns have been achieved when the ingredient is mixed with grain or a molasses lick.

Lakeview News

By Joyce Williams

Strong winds Friday caused the little Kindergarten and first graders at Duncan Elementary School to have to hunt Easter eggs in the school cafeteria. Classes had a time schedule to hide and hunt. Winds were reported to have been up to 70 MPH at the Amarillo weather station, and were close to that at Floydada. Light showers fell Friday morning over the county.

Mrs. Rex Harrison attended the Kindergarten Easter egg party with her son, Jason, in Mrs. Crader's room.

Mrs. Georgia Mae Erickson was honored Citizen Through the Years award at the Crosbyton Chamber of Commerce banquet recently. Last month she was named an Outstanding Alumni of the Texas Tech University College of Home Economics. Graduating from Tech at the age of eighteen, with a degree in food and nutrition, she received a catering internship with the International House at the University of Chicago. She later became assistant director. She then opened her own catering service in the Grace Dodge Hotel in Washington, D.C. She also managed the food services for the city's Allied Inn Tea Room, for St. John's College, and for the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. After the death of her husband, Stanley, she left Connecticut, and returned to the land she'd inherited in Blanco Canyon. Her grandparents were the Hank Smiths of the historic Rock House. Her modern solar house, Casa del Sol, has been maintained with the same spirit of hospitality and generosity as was extended by her grandparents in their day. She has authored a book "Aunt Hank's Rock House Kitchen," is a member of the Ranching Heritage Association Executive Committee, serves on the Home Economics Dean's Advisor Council for the Development, belongs to the Crosby County Historic Museum Assoc., is a ARCS member and many other cultural and educational organizations.

Mrs. Dean Watson recently attended a layette shower for her sister, Mrs. Rick Fuller, at the First National Bank Community Room.

Pedro Barbosa took his propane tank to Dickens for the farm sale held there Saturday. Pedro and his sons recently moved to the farm labor camp in Floydada after having lived twenty years in our community. Willie and Terry rejoined the family during Spring Break, checking out of the Post schools. They have been setting out onions during holidays and after school. The planting is now completed.

Mesdames Norman Muncy, Bob Muncy, Mae Garrett, James Williams and Mrs. Q.D. Williams were among the group of ladies who attended the Women's Chamber of Commerce Salad Supper and Style Show last Monday evening at Duncan School cafeteria. Mrs. Penny Muncy Giesecke played the piano accompaniment for the show.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Simpson, Nesha and Na'lene, came out Sunday evening for supper with the Howard Bishops.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Joe Hambricht had all their children home for the week-end. Todd Hambricht of Texas Tech, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Green and little daughter, Heather, of Lubbock.

Austin and Ashleigh Williams came out Friday from school and spent the week-end with their grandparents while their parents arranged the flowers for Trava Gentry's wedding. The James Williams ate Sunday dinner with the Q.D. Williams.

Miss Trava Gentry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Gentry, exchanged marriage vows Saturday afternoon with Timothy Bruce May, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. May, in the First Baptist Church in Floydada.

Mrs. Viola Brown visited her daughter, Mrs. Billy Joe Hambricht and family, Sunday afternoon.

Holt Bishop and Mr. and Mrs. Pete Calloway went over to the Howard Bishops for a visit Sunday afternoon.

Judge and Mrs. Choise Smith, Jody, Hunter and Dean, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Flukie Smith in Lubbock Sunday. Scarlet and Punk Jackson and children, Tal and Tika, of Spearman, were also there. In the afternoon, Hunter went fishing while Jody and Dean went out to the golf course and practiced hitting golf balls. Jody played in a golf tournament Tuesday at Slaton and won third high in individuals.

Mrs. Bill Norris and Miss Ann Swepston recently attended the Texas State Conference for the Daughters of the American Revolution at Galveston.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Watson and children met other relatives at the Henry Brewer home for Easter Sunday dinner. Twenty-eight were present. The children hunted Easter eggs in the afternoon. Wheat fields were green and beautiful for egg hunts this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Harrison attended funeral services in Lubbock last week for her brother's mother-in-law, Mrs. Charles Pippin.

Miss Marlis McLaughlin competed in a Junior High tennis tournament against Lockney last week. She won in singles and doubles.

Mrs. Pat Brown presented the Woman of the Year award to her former co-worker, Billye Stockton, at the Crosbyton Chamber of Commerce awards banquet last week. They had worked together in the Child Welfare office before Pat went into museum education and Billye became a full time artist.

Mrs. Dean Watson and family met at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Moore with her sister and brothers during Spring Break. Present were Steve Moore of Kilgore; Bill of Canyon, Mr. and Mrs. Luis Moore and family of Dumas; Mr. and Mrs. Mike Moore of Plainview. The matriarch of the Moore family, Mrs. W.I. Moore, returned to her home in Matador two weeks ago, recovering from recent surgery in Plainview.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Harrison were Easter Sunday dinner hosts to Mrs. Rex Harrison and sons, Jason and Brandon. Rex was busy putting out Treflan on his fields.

Judge Choise Smith attended the West Texas Judges Conference in El Paso last week.

Mrs. Dennis Taylor, Mrs. Georgia Mae Erickson and Mrs. Q.D. Williams attended the Womanless Wedding at the Crosbyton High School auditorium Saturday evening. It was sponsored by the Crosbyton Lions Club and Cub Scouts. Mr. and Mrs. Gene Johnson, formerly of Lakeview, were there, laughing at the antics of their neighbor's show. Attorney Tom Brian, cousin of Kellie Brian Williams, provided a piano accompaniment for the "nuptials," dressed in picture hat and velvet gown. Lakeview farmer, R.H. Farris, was a statuesque Maid of Honor. Rancher Bob Adams left his Longhorn herd to serve as ring bearer, dressed in pink. Silas Flourney of the Federal Land Bank, skipped down the aisle as a flower girl. Tillman Reeves was a sweet grandmother of the bride, while the Baptist preacher, Bob Rine, was her grandfather. The six foot tall bride looked an awful lot like Joe Cargill, of the Citizens State Bank. His little groom was Jack Dewbre. Mr. and Mrs. Craig McDonald were given a front row seat and the evening was dedicated to them, as Mrs. McDonald had graciously directed the cast for the star filled production.

After the "wedding" the cast lined up outside the auditorium to greet the guests, just like at the Texas Tech Lab Theatre plays. The Lions and Cubs made a good ticket sale. The crowd was large and ready for fun and they got it.

It's been many a year since a Womanless Wedding was held in Floydada. The last one seems to recall R.G. Dunlap as a flower girl and Louis Pyle as the bride, or how was the play cast? Remember?

Louis and Virginia Pyle received a free trip on Delta Airlines to any place in the nation as a result of being on an overbooked plane in Dallas. They accepted the airlines invitation to stay at a motel that night free, and the free trip any time. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Pyle and David, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pyle and children were on their way home from Florida where they had gone to Disneyworld during Spring Break.

Mrs. Iantha Smith had surgery in Lubbock last week and returned to Floydada Saturday where she is staying a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Pyle. Their other daughter, Mrs. Janie Mills and little son, Nathan, are here on business. John Mills stayed over the week-end and returned to Houston Sunday.

Cold winds Monday with blowing snow in the Panhandle. The calendar says spring but the weather is still winter.

Mr. and Mrs. James McLaughlin went to Roaring Springs Ranch for Easter Sunday services at the Ranch Chapel. The building was donated by the Baptist Church at Northfield, near Matador, and moved to the ranch for campers use. It will be used as an interdenominational chapel.

At H&R Block we guarantee our work.

This year with over 100 changes in the tax laws and forms, you have more chances of making a mistake. And that could mean an IRS audit. If H&R Block prepares your taxes and you're audited, we go with you at no added cost. Not as your legal representative, but to explain how your taxes were prepared. If we make a mistake and you owe additional tax, you pay only the tax. We pay the penalty and interest.
