Hometown boy returns as practicing physician

BY HOPE WARREN

Dr. S.A. (Andy) Hale Jr. opened his office at Cogdell Clinic on July 18, 1983. He saw approximately 15 patients the first day.

Dr. Hale, a native of Floydada, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Hale. He married Sherry Crutchfield on August 11, 1973. He graduated from Floydada High School in 1971. After high school graduation, Hale attended New Mexico College in Hobbs on a golf scholarship for two years. In December 1975, he graduated from Southwestern in Oklahoma with a B.S. in Pharmacy. After having originally planned to be a pharmacist, he chose to expand his career as a physician. He wanted to help people, liked the one to one relationship with patients and meeting people. He felt he could do this whereas he felt like a technician as a pharmacist.

He graduated in May 1980 from the University of Texas at San Antonio in the top third of his class. He did his family practice residency at Lubbock General Hospital. He was a chief resident his last year and scored highest on his board.

Dr. Hale chose Floydada because it was his hometown. He and his wife felt it would be an excellent place to raise their daughter Laura, age four, and he would have access to the excellent medical facilities.

Hale said, "I am glad to be back home and am pleasantly surprised. Everyone especially the hospital board has been very cooperative."

Hale has gotten just about all the equipment he has requested including a fetal monitor to monitor labor.

Dr. Hale's practice is family practice or general practice. He especially enjoys delivering babies. His plans for the future is to make Floydada one of the best medical towns around.

Dr. Hale enjoys playing golf, watching television, reading, and playing tennis in his spare time.

3 felons captured here

BY HOPE WARREN

The Floyd County Sheriffs Department aided the Dickens County and Motley County Sheriffs Departments in the capture and arrest of three felons.

The three Gonzalez brothers stole an estimate of $4,700 worth of tools from a construction contractor in Dickens County about 11:00 p.m. Tuesday, July 12. To make more room in their car, the Gonzalez brothers took out their backseat and left it at the scene of the crime.

After taking the tools in Dickens County they then went to Roaring Springs. About 1:30 a.m. on Wednesday morning, they broke a north window at Jack Davis Service Station and entered the premises. Forty-seven cartons of cigarettes, two tubes of Skoal, four tubes of Copenhagen all worth about $400 and about $2,700 worth of tools were taken. A night watchman at Roaring Springs noticed the car leaving. All he could report was a white car headed for Dougherty.

The Roaring Springs deputy sheriff followed the car towards Dougherty. The sheriff notified the Floyd County Sheriff's Department at about 2:30.

Reserve Deputy, Lance Poole of Dougherty, was then notified but the Gonzalez brothers had already gone by.

City officer, Dan Holt, acting under directions from the sheriff's office, went east to highway 651 to keep them from going to Crosbyton. Three miles east of 651, Officer Holt spotted the Gonzalez brothers. He turned his car around and preceded to pull the car over. When the Gonzalez brothers saw Officer Holt, they pulled their car over, turned out the lights and snuck out. Holt stopped his car 30 yards behind the white car. A Frito Lay's truck which came by aided Holt as a shield. The truck was backed up to the car to protect Holt. When he reached the car, he discovered the car was empty. Holt had James Bowling of SPAG in the patrol car with him.

Ten to fifteen minutes later the Matador Deputy Sheriff came to aid Holt. Reserve deputy Ricky Pernel of Dougherty was also called at about 4:00 a.m. Sheriff Fred Cardinal, Deputy Raymond Hamilton, the Chief of Police Doug Brewer, the City Police Department, all deputies, and the Highway Patrol, a total of ten police officers were called out to search for the three fugitives in the pasture of J.B. Colston. Two pickups with spot lights were searching the pasture while the city officers patrolled the highway. Floyd County one and four and Matador one circled outside the pasture till day break.

Reserve deputies Poole and Pernel found the first of the three under a Mesquite tree. Thirty minutes later Poole and Pernel found the second one behind a pile of dirt. They were brought into the Floyd County Sheriff's office and booked for burglary in Dickens and Motley Counties.

At 7:00 p.m. that night, Deputy Hamilton was called out to two miles south of the abandoned white car. The third brother was spotted. Deputy Hamilton, Reserve deputies Poole, Pernel and Weldon Emert searched until 10 p.m. but had to give it up due to darkness.

The next morning, a farmer from Dougherty spotted the third criminal 1/2 mile west of Dougherty. At 7:30 reserve deputy Poole went out, found and arrested him. Deputy Hamilton was called out and met Poole west of Dougherty.

When captured, all three brothers were without shirts and the last one captured was barefoot. One brother had gone through a four-wire barbed wire fence while escaping.

After being captured, they were taken before Judge Walter Hollums and arraigned. Bond was set at $60,000 each. This arraignment was drawn down for the Dickens County robberies. The Dickens County Sheriff returned them Friday.

All property was recovered and the car was impounded. The total amount of stolen good taken from Dickens County was $4,783.00 and $3,000.00 from Roaring Springs.

Fire Department receives check

JAMES RACE, BOBBY WELBORN

The Floydada Volunteer Fire Department received a check for $150.00 recently from Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies as an expression of thanks for the Department's work on the property of Kenneth Bean.

The money will be used for their purchase of equipment.

The Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies pay fire departments this amount when the department works at a fire in rural areas, involving property insured by them.

The Insurance Company believes fire departments have contributed to reduce the amount of loss involved by fire and more importantly, to prevent fires. It is their hope this money will help the Floydada Volunteer Fire Department in their program.

COMMISSIONERS met in special session Monday to hear petitioners for a new library.

Library makes first hurdle

Monday morning members of the library board and the Friends of the Library met with the commissioners in a special called session.

The group consisting of six interested citizens and County Librarian, Sandra Crawford, petitioned the commissioners to allow them to submit a pre-application to the Texas State Library Commission. Among others attending were Jim Word, Jackie Wall, Barbara Banard and Carolyn Marble.

Spokesman for the petitioners, June Ware, explained to the commissioners that the pre-application would "allow Floyd County to only get their name on a list. The pre-application in no way would obligate anybody for one cent right now."

The pre-application to be submitted would be to show the State Library Commission a plan. The amount of money applied for and the location of the library could be changed before the final application was made.

The $2 million grant will be distributed to qualifying libraries throughout the State of Texas. Ware said, from information that she had access to, the applications would be considered on unemployment needs. "This is a real opportunity, one that has not been offered for 15 or 20 years."

In addition to the Farris house which had been donated for the use of a library, the court had been contacted since last week's meeting by Leroy Burns with a proposal for the purchase of the old ASCS office at a purchase price of $28,000. The court as a body took a few minutes immediately preceding the special session to inspect that building and appraise it in light of converting it into a library.

Upon receiving the petitioners' request, County Judge Choise Smith charged the court that what they needed to decide at that point was if they wanted the library moved out of the library. Additional insurance and utilities would be encountered, he said, as well as the additional janitorial services. Discussion followed but with limited time, the court proceeded to give a response to the point at hand.

The commissioners pointed out the Burns building met the 5,000 sq. ft. requirement, was on ground level, and was within a block of the courthouse. No parking area would be available for purchase.

Commissioner Jack Lackey commented that the building was the best one they had looked at so far with the exception that the location would not help in the instance that had been brought to the court's attention last week: classes from schools were within walking distance of the Farris home.

The Library board members indicated that they had $17,000 in a building fund. They also said, "Once we get a building, people are going to make lots of donations."

"When we are looking at a budget that, at present, is calling for $145,618 more than our income, I don't know where we are going to get it," Commissioner Bob Jarrett responded to the request from figures the court had been working with since about 8:00 a.m. that morning and broke away only long enough to hold the special library meeting. Their budget meeting lasted until after 4 p.m.

"That money is there and somebody is going to get it," Marble said. "Why can't Floyd County get some of it?"

Among other facts brought out at the hearing the petitioners said if they were approved for the federal funds and a final application was submitted, what funds that could not be matched would be returned.

Judge Smith said in some final remarks to the group, "If county tax money in the amount of $15,000 or $20,000 could help the library to attain their goals, after the library building funds have been applied and any grant monies used, I could vote for this action. But," Judge Smith continued, "if it runs any more than that, the only way I will go along with the project is to put the whole thing to public vote. If it is voted on as a referendum by the voters, and we see that is what the voters want and are willing for their taxes to be increased to take care of the need, then we will be glad to enforce the special tax."

Commissioner Sam Spence made the motion for the County Judge to sign the pre-application for obtaining the federal funding through the Texas State Library Commission, seconded by Thomas Warren. Voting against the motion was Bob Jarrett and Jack Lackey. The judge broke the tie with his vote for the petitioners.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

BY WINONA JACKSON

Every day this week has been very busy for the residents. There has been good attendance each morning for devotions and exercise class. Wendy was feeling better and was able to be up again to join and lead "Tea Time". Monday afternoon, Mrs. Guffee and Mrs. Muncy brought refreshments to all the residents. The residents appreciate this lovely "surprise" which the Sunshine Sunday School Class from First Baptist Church brings to us each month. Right after our refreshments, Kim Sherman was here with music therapy. The lobby was really ringing with cow bells, castanets, and tambourines.

On Tuesday, Neeley and Zelma were back with devotions and "the banana break." At noon the residents, staff and the resident's families enjoyed having lunch together. Annie and Dorothy planned and prepared delicious ham and hot rolls to go with all the vegetables, salads and desserts which the families brought. There were about fifty guests for lunch...besides the forty-one residents.

After lunch most of the residents took their naps...and today the naps were long! There were some who did not wake up for Bible study. Irene, Una, Hallie, Clara, Bennie and Addie were awake, as it would be hard to keep these ladies away from Bible study.

On Wednesday there were twelve volunteers from City Park Church of Christ who came to have devotions with us. Wednesday afternoon, Emmitt was the big bingo winner with four games. Ona Jameson and Una Clark were next with three games. The other players were Lura, Hallie, Bennie, Iva, and Addie. Ona was the black-out winner.

Wednesday evening our friends from West Side Church of Christ gave the residents their night of "real singing!" On Thursday, there were thirteen at "Tea Time." Pauline Pierce brought devotions for us and Mary Corley played the piano. Mary always comes out at just the right time. Mrs. Lobban, Hazel Bradley and Mrs. Robertson led singing for everyone. Thursday afternoon Ruth Walker, Lorilla Bradley, Mrs. Blum, and Mrs. Pollan hosted the monthly birthday party. The honoree, Vera Duke, was in the hospital so her daughter, Jean Baird, sat in for her at the party. Jean took Vera a piece of cake and James Williams was so nice to deliver Vera's lovely corsage to the hospital. The rest of the residents enjoyed this special day.

Friday was movie and popcorn again and Emmitt's "owl making." Pauline Pierce came to lead the singing for Mary Corley's devotion day. This was a real treat...the residents usually have to listen to me lead the singing on Friday. A special thank you to Pauline.

After the W.C. Field comedy and a film about whales on Friday afternoon, the Vacation Church School group from Calvary Baptist Church came to sing for the residents. When fifty children and leaders sing...it is really something! Everyone thoroughly enjoyed this delightful group. The older children made place cards for the resident's meal places. Their thoughtfulness will certainly brighten the meal times here. Thank You!

We were saddened this week by the death of one of our newer residents, Mr. Robert Stanley. Bob was a very nice and appreciative person. He had so many friends here who are from Matador also. We will miss him.

We are happy to have Jewell Norman with us. Jewell has been in Methodist Hospital for several months but is well enough to be a part of "our family" now. The other residents are commenting about what a beautiful woman she is. Welcome Jewell!

Welcome too, to all the visitors and volunteers who came to visit and make the day brighter for all the dear people who make their home here.

CYNTHIA WIERZICKA

AFS mother visits family

BY HOPE WARREN

Cynthia Wierzicka of New Zealand is visiting with the Billy Staniforths in South Plains. Mrs. Wierzicka is the mother of Kaz Wierzicka, the AFS student of 1965-66 school year who lived with the Staniforths.

The Wierzicka family are farmers on the north island in the city of Bulls, New Zealand. While Kaz was here, he learned artificial insemination. He is now a farmer on the family farm he received from his grandfather. The Wierzickas raise cattle and sheep and has started raising more vegetables because meat is hard to export.

This isn't the first time the Staniforths and Wierzicka family have gotten together. In 1970 the Staniforth family went to New Zealand and in 1973 the Wierzicka family came to Texas. Kaz, however, hasn't been back.

Kaz wasn't the only Wierzicka family member to be an AFS student. His sister, Karola, lived with a family in Maine one year. Cynthia plans to visit that family too.

The third child, Harry, has invented a

Cook of the week

By Hope Warren

This cook of the week is different from most. Instead of being a wife or a mother, she is the South Plains Beekeepers Association 1983 South Plains Honey Queen. She is 18 year old Deon Zumwalt. Being Honey Queen, Deon cooks with honey quite often.

She began cooking at age 8 with the 4-H program. She got her recipe from a 4-H cookbook in Montana. She says it is easy to make and excellent for summer. She also adds that honey can replace sugar in all recipes. Deon's recipe is called:

Honey Fruit Fluff

2 eggs
1/2 c. honey

1/2 c. lemon juice
2 T. frozen orange juice concentrate
1/8 t. salt
1/2 c. whipping cream
2 t. grated lemon peel

In a small saucepan beat eggs. Stir in honey, lemon juice, orange juice concentrate, and salt. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until thickened. Cool. Fold in whipping cream and lemon peel. Serve with strawberries, banana slices, apple wedges, pineapple chunks, etc. and garnish with a sprig of peppermint. Makes 2 cups dressing.

Birthday party celebrated at Resthome

July days are "sizzlers"
But cool them off we will...
With a birthday celebration
To bring each one a thrill!

Our Mrs. Duke we honor
...She counts from 1909...
She is a lovely lady
And smiles most all the time.

Let's all join in the singing
Of the good old birthday song
To cheer this lovely lady
And help her "get along."

Thursday, July 14, was birthday time at the Rest Home and ladies of the City Park Church of Christ hosted the party. Residents and guests were ushered into the dining room where the "honor" table was laid with an ecru cloth and centered with an arrangement of silk flowers in spring colors.

Our only honoree, Mrs. Duke, as unable to attend because she had fallen and was in the hospital for attention to her injury. However, her daughter, Jean Baird, "sat in" for her. We are so happy she could do that. Another guest was Mary Adams. The Hesperian photographer came for the "picture taking" and got a shot of many of the people who were enjoying the party.

The poem was read and all joined in singing the birthday song for Mrs. Duke. A delicious refreshment plate of orange cake and fruit punch was served to guests, residents and employees. The next party will be Thursday, August 18, 2:30 p.m. You are invited to be with us at that time.

MRS. GREG GILBERT

Afternoon wedding unites Bertrand, Ogden

Penny Marie Bertrand became the bride of Larry Don Ogden Saturday, July 16, 1983 at 4:00 in the afternoon. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O.N. Bertrand of Floydada. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ogden, also of Floydada.

The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Jim Smith of St. Stephens United Methodist Church in Amarillo. Rev. Smith was assisted by Rev. Earl Blair of the First United Methodist Church in Floydada.

Music selections were presented by Mrs. William Gray, organist. She played "Oh Promise Me" and Mr. Bobby Rainer, soloist, who sang, "Twelfth of Never."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a dress with a fitted bodice accented with a scalloped neckline and long tapered sleeves ending at petal points over the hand and closed with self-covered buttons. It had a bouffant skirt embellished with lace appliques which fell into a three tiered chapel length train. A lace trimmed illusion veil descending from a capulet accented with pearls finished the ensemble. The dress was purchased 23 years ago by Mrs. P.F. Bertrand for her first granddaughter. The bride is the seventh granddaughter to wear the dress.

The bridal bouquet was an all silk cascade bouquet in white gardenias, white freesia, star-light white daisies trimmed with bridal lace ribbon streamers.

The maid of honor was Miss Shelby Ogden, daughter of the groom. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Larry Fawver, of Lubbock, and Mrs. Mark Montandon, of Lockney, both are sisters of the groom, and Mark Montandon, Lockney, brother-in-law of the bride. A reception was held in the fellowship hall. Mrs. Bob Crump, Mrs. Curtis Staggs, Mrs. Ed Thornton Jr. served at the bride's table which was decorated with a white tablecloth with white bows which held a silver epergne of white pixie carnations, white gladiolas, and baby's breath. Punch was served from crystal appointments. A three-tiered white cake trimmed with a cascade of red sugared roses was topped with a pair of clasped hands which were used by the bride's maternal grandparents 68 years ago.

The groom's table featured a red tablecloth on a round table which held a red velvet cake with cream cheese icing bearing the name of the bride and groom. Coffee was served from a silver coffee service. The centerpiece was a

A brass heart-shaped candelabra decorated in flame red gladiolas, white killian daisies and white pom-pom mums flanked by graduating sizes in palms of commadore foliage formed the wedding scene. Brass urn arrangements of red gladiolas and killian daisies near the wedding entrance and hurricane type candelabrum also decorated in red and white flowers to each side of the lectern and pulpit completed the altar decoration. The bridal aisle was marked with brass hurricane type candelabrum covered with garlands of white silk daisies and red ribbons.

Mrs. Steve Anderson of Floydada registered guests. Ushers were Jeff Bertrand, Glen Bertrand, both of Floydada and brothers of the bride, Jerry Warren, Floydada, brother-in-law of the groom, and Mark Montandon, Lockney, brother-in-law of the bride.

The bride and groom's mothers wore shoulder corsages of cymbidium orchids to complete their attire.

Reception attendants for the bride's table were Mrs. Rudolph Rice, Mrs. C.O. Fox, Mrs. L.M. Hardgrove and Mrs. Ray Tanner. Serving at the groom's table were Miss Melissa Johnson, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Ben Kruger.

For traveling the bride chose a pastel silk tweed skirt with a bronze silk blouse and taupe accessories.

The groom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner at the Lubbock Club on Friday night. Besides the wedding party, family members of the bride and groom were included in the guest list.

A bridesmaid luncheon was held at the University City Club hosted by Cheryl Steele, Christie Boyles and Sharon Steele on Saturday, July 16.

Mrs. H.E. Wilkinson Sr. of Shelby, Mississippi, grandmother of the bride was unable to attend. Grandparents of the groom attending were Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Gilbert and Mr. and Mrs. Ike Johnson of Lockney.

chamber light trimmed with red and white silk flowers. Mrs. Jerry Warren and Mrs. Tommy Ogden served at the groom's table.

Wilkinson, Gilbert repeat wedding vows

Wedding vows uniting Gina Wilkinson and Greg Gilbert of San Angelo, were solemnized Saturday evening, July 16, at 7 o'clock in St. John's United Methodist Church in Lubbock with Reverend Ted Dotts, minister, officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Wilkinson of Lubbock are the parents of the bride. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Orland Gilbert, also of Lubbock and is the grandson of the Marvin Gilberts and Ike Johnsons, both of Lockney.

The couple said promises before an altar decorated with brass candle trees with white tapers accented with multi-colored wild spring-summer flowers interspersed with greenery and baby's breath.

Providing nuptial selections were Bob West, trumpet player and Mrs. Boyd Ramsey, organist.

Presented for marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white with embroidered organza with a fitted bodice accented with Venise lace and seeded pearls and featured a high neckline with a sheer illusion yoke. The short puffy sleeves were emphasized by a matching ruffle encompassing the shoulders while the basque waist was encircled with Venise lace. The full skirt fell to floor length and flowed to the back in a chapel length train. To complete her ensemble the bride chose a wreath of silk flowers and French embroidery lace. The double layered illusion was finished with matching French embroidery and lace and fell to fingertip length. For her bouquet she carried a cascading arrangement of gardenias, apricot and ivory roses, leather, English ivy and stephanotis.

Following tradition, for something borrowed the bride used a solid gold wedding ring that was handcrafted and had belonged to the groom's paternal great-grandmother, Mrs. Jack Gilbert, lied within her bridal bouquet. Something new was her wedding dress, something blue was a garter. For something old she chose to wear a string of pearls that had been given to her by her mother. For good luck she wore pennies with the couple's birthdate in her shoe.

Serving the bride as maid of honor was Cheryl Steele of New Orleans, Louisiana.

Candlelighters were Kristi and Blake Miller of Irving, cousins of the groom.

Bridal attendant and candlelighter wore matching dresses of fille in mauve chalk. The fitted bodices featured an off the shoulder neckline accented with a double ruffle and the natural waist was encompassed with a self-cumberbund. The full skirts fell to floor length with the hem being finished with a wide ruffle that came up in front accented with a silk flower and the back flowing into a cascading floor length train.

Jessica Dahlberg of Corpus Christi, niece of the bride, served as flowergirl. She wore a French smock dress of chiffon with Chantilly type lace and ribbon lace. The dress was ivory over apricot and was party length.

Attending as best man was Gavin Gilbert of Lubbock, brother of the groom. Serving as ushers were Mark Meador, Lubbock; Mark Dillard, Austin; Mark Biggs, Stephenville; and Robert Kaaa, Tyler. Groom and best man wore oxford grey tuxedos with smoke ascot and tie. Ushers and candlelighter wore black tuxedos with smoke cumberbund and tie.

A reception was held in the garden room of the church immediately following the ceremony.

The bride's table was laid with a white lace over ivory cloth. It held a three-tier wedding cake with nosegays of pale pink and yellow roses. Silver candelabras holding white tapers were intertwined with matching flowers of the bridal bouquet of gardenias, apricot and ivory roses with English ivy. Silver appointments were used on the table.

The groom's table was covered with an ivory cloth. Brass appointments were used. A letter written to the groom for his wedding day by his maternal great-grandmother, Mrs. E.F. Stovall was featured on the table. A crystal bowl featuring wild flowers was used as the centerpiece. Refreshments of Hummingbird cake and coffee were served. Also used on the table was a crystal oil lamp, gift of the groom's aunt, Mrs. Rita Burleson.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell, in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of the company's intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas, effective August 1, 1983, unless otherwise determined by the Commission.

A complete copy of the new rate schedule is on file with the Texas Public Utility Commission (PUC) at Austin, Texas, and with each affected municipality served by Southwestern Bell, and is available for inspection in each of the company's public business offices in Texas. The Commission staff has contended in the past that all rates are subject to change as a result of Southwestern Bell's rate application.

As a result of the settlement of a lawsuit brought by the U.S. Department of Justice against AT&T, Southwestern Bell, on January 1, 1984, (or as otherwise ordered by the United States District Court) will no longer be a part of the Bell System, but will be owned by public shareholders. Under the terms of the settlement, Southwestern Bell has identified 15 areas in the state within which it may provide service, and the federal court with jurisdiction of the settlement has tentatively approved these areas, called LATAs (Local Access and Transport Area). On or about January 1, 1984, Southwestern Bell can not provide service between these LATAs, and in addition, must transfer to AT&T customer premises equipment that it leases to customers.

Southwestern Bell has filed a proposed revised rate schedule with the PUC reflecting these changes. These rates would become effective August 1, 1983, if they are not suspended by the PUC; however, it is expected that they will be suspended and that the rates ultimately set by the PUC will become effective on or about January 1, 1984. If the rates were to become effective as filed, they would produce a 48.2% increase in Southwestern Bell's unadjusted test year revenues (or a 76.36% increase in Southwestern Bell's test year revenues adjusted to reflect the effect of Southwestern Bell's divestiture from AT&T). Any change in the rates for any interLATA services offered by AT&T or a subsidiary after January 1, 1984, could affect customers of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Notice to Customers of Other Telephone Companies

While Southwestern Bell has proposed no increase in rates for intralATA interexchange toll services, any change in those rates could also affect customers of other telephone companies. Southwestern Bell is proposing changes in the structure of the present private line and foreign exchange services. Changes in these rates may affect customers of other telephone companies. Any change in the rates for any interLATA services offered by AT&T or a subsidiary after January 1, 1984, could affect customers of other telephone companies.

Aviso Público

Southwestern Bell, en conformidad a las reglas del Public Utility Commission (Comisión de Servicios Públicos) de Texas, por la presente hace saber su intención de establecer un nuevo arancel de tarifas para servicio de teléfono en Texas, con vigencia a partir del 1o de agosto de 1983, a menos que la Comisión haga otra determinación.

Una copia completa del nuevo arancel de tarifas se ha archivado en las oficinas del Public Utility Commission (PUC, ó Comisión de Servicios Públicos) de Texas en Austin, Texas, al igual que en cada municipalidad afectada y que es servida por Southwestern Bell, y dicho arancel está disponible para inspección pública en todas las oficinas de Southwestern Bell en Texas. En el pasado, la Comisión ha sostenido que toda tarifa está sujeta a cambios cada vez que Southwestern Bell solicite un cambio en dichas tarifas.

Como resultado del arreglo judicial al cual se llegó tras el proceso legal entablado en contra de AT&T por el U.S. Department of Justice (Departamento de Justicia), Southwestern Bell dejará de formar parte del Bell System (Sistema Bell) a partir del 1o de enero de 1984 (ó en la fecha que disponga el United States District Court — Tribunal Federal de Distrito), y llegará a ser posesión de accionistas públicos. Bajo las condiciones de dicho arreglo, Southwestern Bell ha identificado 15 regiones dentro del Estado de Texas en las cuales puede proporcionar servicio, y el tribunal federal con jurisdicción en el arreglo ha dado su aprobación provisional a estas regiones, que se denominan "LATAs" (Local Access and Transport Area, ó Regiones Locales de Acceso y Transporte). A partir de fecha 1o de enero de 1984 aproximadamente, Southwestern Bell no podrá proporcionar servicio entre dichas LATAs, y además deberá ceder a AT&T todo equipo ubicado en premisas de clientes y alquilado a los mismos.

Estos cambios se han incluido en el propuesto arancel de tarifas de servicio revisado que Southwestern Bell ha archivado con la PUC. Dichas tarifas tendrían vigencia a partir del 1o de agosto de 1983, a menos que fueran suspendidas por la PUC; sin embargo, se espera que si serán suspendidas, y que las tarifas que en último caso establezca la PUC entrarán en vigor a partir de fecha 1o de enero de 1984 aproximadamente. Si las tarifas entrarán en vigor tal y como se han archivadas, aumentarían en un 48.2% los ingresos no-ajustados de Southwestern Bell para año de prueba (unadjusted test year revenues), ó sea un aumento de 76.36% en los ingresos de Southwestern Bell para año de prueba, ajustados para reflejar el efecto del despojeamiento entre Southwestern Bell y AT&T. Cualquier cambio en las tarifas para cualquier servicio tipo-interLATA que proporcione AT&T ó una compañía subsidiaria después del 1o de enero de 1984 podría afectar a los clientes de Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Aviso a los Clientes de Otras Compañías de Teléfono

Aunque Southwestern Bell no ha propuesto un aumento en las tarifas para servicios tipo "intralATA interexchange toll", cualquier cambio en dichas tarifas también podría afectar a los clientes de otras compañías de servicio telefónico. Southwestern Bell está proponiendo cambios en la estructura de los servicios actuales de línea privada (private line) y de intercambio extranjero (foreign exchange). Cambios en las tarifas para dichos servicios podrían afectar a los clientes de otras compañías de servicio telefónico. Cualquier cambio en las tarifas para cualquier servicio tipo-interLATA que proporcione AT&T ó una compañía subsidiaria después del 1o de enero de 1984 podría afectar a los clientes de otras compañías de servicio telefónico.

Remember, all air conditioning was not created equal. And we have the paper to prove it!

Crime Doesn't Pay ... Neither Does Farming

By Charles Taylor
Editor, The Texas Farmer-Stockman

This has nothing whatever to do with fertilizer efficiency, foreign trade, tractor maintenance or PIK participation. It doesn't get into yield per acre or good irrigation practices. In fact, it doesn't have anything at all to do with how to succeed in agriculture, only how to enjoy it.

I'm showing my age here. Some of the items in this list date back for more years than I care to admit. A goodly helping of them probably don't even exist anymore, except in the back of an old dresser drawer, out in a corner of the barn or in memory. But just to keep things even there's also a sprinkling of good stuff from a newer generation as well.

Here goes with 112 things most people, including me, like about country living.

*Overalls. Holsteins lined up for milking. Mailboxes with the flag up. Real front porches with real swings on them. New cut alfalfa. Roads that jog around big, old cottonwoods.

*Dogs that wait for the schoolbus. Country stores that still sell cheese by the hunk and bologna by the slice. Clover.

*Fourth grade boys at the country fair in new cowboy boots. Pickups parked around country churches on Sunday morning. Syrup buckets. Club calves. Stone fences.

*A martin house without sparrows. Three rows of blackeyed peas out along the edge of a cotton field. Iron bridges. Country towns that still don't need a traffic light.

*A tree full of roosting guineas as the sun goes down. Lone elms left standing in the middle of wheat fields. Butter-milk.

*Feed sacks made of real burlap. Mesquite log fires. Baling wire. A drink of well water from a galvanized bucket that hangs down from a squealing pulley.

*Whippoorwills. Hats with brims

wide enough so your ears don't get sunburned. Barlow knives. Double bit axes.

*Ducks on a pond. Gates. Tall pine trees in low fog. Roads that don't go anywhere in particular, not even to the county seat. Colts, calves and lambs.

*Rain. Hilltops good for looking off of. Log walls still standing on old barns. Mocking birds that chase off cats. Coffee. Hardware stores. Country schools.

*Cornbread. Big biscuits. Low water crossings over rocky creeks. The smell of cottonseed meal. Yucca in bloom. Windmills.

*Well worn harness. Brown wrapping paper. Red bandanas. Kerosene lanterns. Spurs. Tin cups.

*Denim. Silos. Nails. Roasting ears. Windrows. Wood stoves. Dominoes. Fourth of July rodeos.

*Fiddles. Grass. Wild plums. Broken-in boots. Pinto beans. Rhode Island red roosters.

*Branding irons. Brush arbors. Singing from hymnbooks with square notes. Dried apple pies. A wave from the pickup you just met. Green tomato relish. Pitchforks. Hemp ropes.

*Thunderheads in August. Duct tape. Rocking chairs. The right wrench. Gimme caps. Roasting peanuts.

*Come-alongs. Diesel starting fluid. Blackberry cobbler. Turnip greens. Trails made by dogs. Horses with their head over the fence. Rusty threshing machines.

*A spare set of gate keys. Red eye gravy. Screw down hose clamps, not the snap on kind. PVC pipe. Elevators three miles away poking up on the horizon. Wagons.

*A blue ribbon tacked on your daughter's bedroom wall. Church steeples. Smokehouses.

*Brown eggs. Terraces. Full planter boxes. Halters. Hay. Neighbors.

*Sleeping porches. Show rings. Kids fishing in farm ponds. Cattle in deep grass. Feed stores.

HOT, DRY WEATHER CALLS FOR SPECIAL LAWN CARE

Current hot, dry conditions pose many problems for homeowners, and lawn care during times of stress is one of the most difficult to deal with.

Where water is limited for lawn use, water only when the lawn shows signs of stress, such as wilting or discoloration. Soak the lawn about 3 or 4 inches deep to encourage deep rooting, stronger plants. Ideally, water lawns early in the morning to incorporate any dew which might be present and to reduce evaporative loss.

When water is available, you should mow at a height of 2½ to 3 inches at 10- to 14-day intervals.

If you cannot water the lawn, mowing at a height of 3 to 4 inches and only when the lawn becomes unsightly is the best practice. Mowing at this height will allow common St. Augustine and bermuda grass to mature and produce seed. Shredding the seedstalks with a mower in late fall or winter will allow seed to revitalize the lawn next spring.

Little or no fertilizer should be applied during the summer, and an active insect and disease control program should be followed to protect against further damage. Chinch bugs also can be a problem during dry weather. Chinch bug damage can be distinguished from drought injury by the yellowish, irregular patterns of infested areas.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, or national origin.

ccc announces July loan interest rate of 9.5% percent

Commodity farm storage loans disbursed in July by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Commodity Credit Corporation will carry a 9.5 percent interest rate, according to CCC Executive Vice President Everett Rank.

The new rate, up from 8.5 percent, reflects the interest rate charged by the U.S. Treasury in July, Rank said.

Area farmers evaluate new weed control methods

More dependable and consistent control of field bindweed and other perennial weeds was the attraction that drew west Texas farmers to a recent series of field days held in Panhandle, Spearman, Dalhart and Childress.

Bindweed infests thousands of acres of west Texas farmland, rendering it unprofitable for crop production. Those attending the field day heard discussions on the latest control methods and viewed herbicide test plots demonstrating the Between Cropping Application (BCA) method of controlling bindweed and other perennial weeds, such as lakeweed and Texas blueweed.

The BCA treatment, which uses high rates of Banvel herbicide applied after the harvest of one crop and before seeding the next, costs as much as $50 per acre less than alternative herbicide treatments.

Farmers attending the field day saw field tests with 85 to 95 percent kill of perennial weed root systems without soil sterility. The BCA treatments allow growers to rotate to wheat, grain sorghum or corn. Those present expressed high interest in using the Banvel BCA system for controlling perennial weeds on PIK/set-aside acres so they can be returned to profitable production this fall or next spring.

Irrigation demonstration to be held July 21st on Willis farm

Soil Conservation Service states that a surge irrigation demonstration will be held Thursday, July 21, at the George Willis Jr. farm. The farm is located 1.6 miles south of Allmon located at the intersection of highways 54 and 378, one mile west on county road and half a mile north on turn row.

The demonstration of the surge equipment will be conducted all day. La Baume invites interested persons to drop by any time of the day to view the equipment, the surge irrigation demonstration will be on ½ mile rows.

The surge irrigation concept of row watering involves turning the irrigation flow on and off for set lengths of time rather than allowing it to continuously flood from one end of the field to the other. The system is automated and is already commercially available. Recent field tests have been dramatic.

AROUND THE COUNTY

By Richard Crow

The past few weeks we have seen numerous problems with diseases, deficiencies, and some unknown factors causing our crops, trees, shrubs, and gardens to become sick. In an effort to correct many or all of these problems, The Floyd County Extension Office, in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service is going to conduct a "Sick Plant Clinic".

This clinic will be held on Friday, July 22, beginning at 10:00 a.m., at the Floyd County Extension Office in Floydada. The clinic will deal with prevention, diagnosis, and treatment of problems that you may have. There will be two very competent specialists available to answer your questions. These specialists are Dr. Robert Berry, Plant Pathologist, and Dr. Roland Roberts, Vegetable Specialist and Horticulturist.

The morning session will be open for you to bring in samples of your "sick plants" and the afternoon will be reserved for appointments so the specialist will be able to diagnose larger problems. With this schedule we hope to reach as many people as possible.

I feel that Drs. Berry and Roberts being available to help and each person bringing a sample of their problem or problems in, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service can reach and help many people.

Household bleach tenderizes plant residues for agri. and industry

Hydrogen peroxide, a household bleach and antiseptic, may be the key agriculture and industry need to "open vast energy stores now locked up in crop and plant residues," a U.S. Department of Agriculture scientist said.

J. Michael Gould, a biochemist with USDA's Agricultural Research Service, said residues such as straw and stalks contain potentially more energy than grain, but it is hard to tap because of an "incredibly complex" substance called lignin. Gould is based at USDA's Northern Regional Research Center in Peoria, Illinois.

A natural cement in plant stems, lignin binds cellulose and thwarts its breakdown by enzymes.

Aware that hydrogen peroxide attacks lignin, Gould has devised a process to treat plant parts for at least 12 hours with a peroxide solution that is about as alkaline as strong soap.

Agriculture's ability to utilize crops more fully -- stems and foliage as well as grain and even plants such as weeds -- would raise food and feed yields significantly without increasing crop production, said Terry B. Kinney, Jr., administrator of the research agency.

Gould said most treatments to free cellulose have some major drawbacks. In order to make all the cellulose available for digestion by microbes to glucose, an ingredient for producing industrial alcohol, they either require too much fuel, use expensive or toxic chemicals, or generate toxic by-products, he said.

Cellulose freed by peroxide is not toxic, Gould said, nor does it inhibit the growth of yeast used to produce ethanol from glucose.

Gould's treatment, comparable to a tenderizing process, besides chemically loosening lignin bonds, also causes dramatic physical changes in plant residues.

What straw that has been predigested by peroxide, for example, disintegrates into highly absorbent fibers with a pulp-like consistency. Hydrogen peroxide renders residues soluble enough for further digestion by microorganisms, either in livestock stomachs or industrial vats.

Treated residues are now undergoing tests in cooperative research with animal scientist George C. Fahey, Jr., of the University of Illinois, Urbana. Initial results show cattle can digest almost all of a peroxide-treated straw product, primarily cellulose, within 24 hours.

By contrast, cattle digested less than half the untreated straw within 72 hours.

Other tests show that peroxide may have potential for converting plant residues to raw materials for chemical industries.

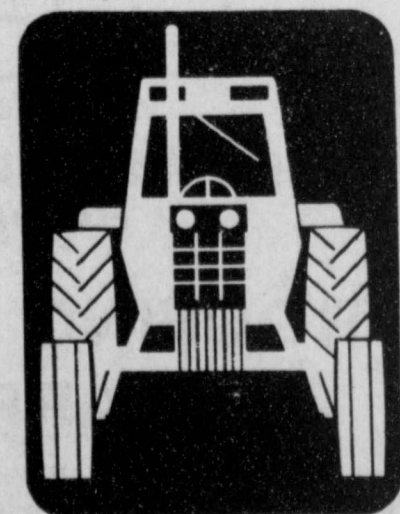

For example, Gould said, 95 percent of the cellulose in predigested straw can be converted to glucose. In turn, glucose can be converted into ethyl alcohol, a feedstock for such varied products as dyes, synthetic drugs, rubber, plastics, cleaners and detergents.

An important advantage of peroxide is that no fuel is required for breaking down residues. "Chemical energy released by the peroxide supplies enough heat to make the reaction go at room temperature," Gould said.

Gould's laboratory formula for the predigestion treatment calls for one part of hydrogen peroxide solution at pH 11.5 to four parts of straw, a proportion that may be too costly for some industrial scale processes. "As the process is scaled up, we may find ways to significantly lower the peroxide requirement," Gould said.

Various plant residues have been treated in Gould's studies. They include corn stalks, husks and cobs; soybean and foxtail weed stems; kenaf stalks; and oak wood shavings.

JIM HIGDON, Agronomy Services Director for Pioneer Hi-Bred International of Plainview, Texas, is presented a plaque in appreciation for Pioneer's financial support of the Oklahoma 4-H program. Presenting the award is Dr. William F. Taggart, Associate Director of the Oklahoma Cooperative Extension Service at Oklahoma State University. Pioneer has donated a $4,000 scholarship to a top 4-H'er who plans to major in agriculture, home economics or a related field.

Kenneth Wofford chosen as nominating committeeman

Directors of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. July 13 approved a 1983-84 budget of $314,750 for the Lubbock-based producer organization and elected a total of nine directors to membership on two of its most important committees.

The Board also took what may prove a significant step toward improved marketability for High Plains cotton by agreeing to administer a special research program if plans for funding such an effort are made effective.

Elected to the PCG Executive Committee were Bert Williams of Farwell, Sam Means of Ropesville, Henry Kveton of Petersburg, Ben Loe of Spur, D.C. Newsom of Plains and Myrl Mitchell of Lenorah in Martin County. Williams is the only new member of the executive group, replacing Charles Axtell of Springlake. The others were re-elected and all will serve with current officers, including President Tommy Fondren of Lorenzo, Vice President Gerald Caswell of Brownfield and Secretary-Treasurer Bennie Claunch of Bula, and with the two most recent past presidents, Gary Ivey of Ralls, and Joe D. Unfred of New Home.

Loe was also chosen to serve on the organization's Nominating Committee along with Frank Jones of Lamesa, Kenneth Wofford of Lockney and Larry Nelson of Tulia. Nelson is a new member of this committee, replacing Williams. The four will serve with the three most recent past presidents, Ivey, Unfred and Lloyd Cline of Lamesa.

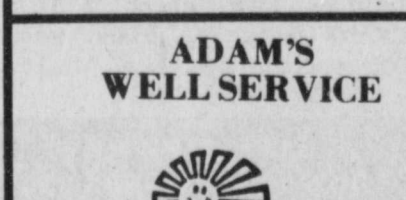

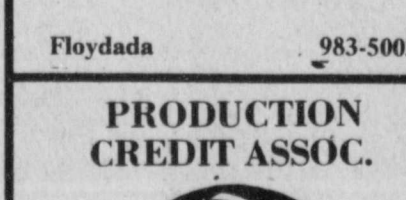

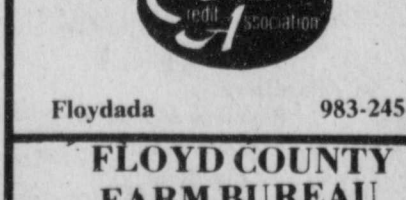

The 1983-84 budget compares to a budget of $308,550 in 1982-83, a two percent increase which, according to President Tommy Fondren of Lorenzo, "is the very minimum necessary to cover the rising costs incurred in PCG's program of market development, research, legislative and other membership services."

Representatives of the cotton compress industry in the 25-county PCG territory earlier this year made known to PCG the industry's intention to develop financing for ongoing and expanded cottonseed breeding and related research that, together with instrument classing, would enhance the marketability and thus the profitability of High Plains cotton. And, citing the well known success of PCG's boll weevil control program, compress people asked that PCG administer the effort through a steering committee, maintaining strictly separate funds as is done in the boll weevil program.

If area compresses follow through with current thinking there will be a separate ten cent item added to compress receiving charges, with refunds available on request.

Many details of the program are still in the development stage. PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson emphasizes, "but if there are no changes in compress plans, PCG is now committed to administering the research program with the same dedication to producer interests we have shown through the years in management of the boll weevil control program."
