WHOA BOY! Jackie Buchanan of Big Spring struggles to stop his horse after successfully lassoing his prey in the calf roping event at the Nazareth Country Rodeo and Wild West Show

Saturday night, Buchanan finished with a time of 10:38 after this ride, then finished third overall in the event after the final round of the competition was held Sunday afternoon.

Local WIFE group adopts resolution against nuke dump

Panhandle Agri Partners, the Castro County Chapter of WIFE (Women Involved in Farm Economics) have adopted a resolution against the proposed nuclear waste repository in Deaf Smith County. The resolution, presented at Partners' June 2 meeting, will be put forth at the September Texas WIFE Convention and the November National WIFE Convention, both to take place in Lubbock.

The adopted resolution states:

WHEREAS, the Deaf Smith County, Texas, prospective site for a nuclear waste repository is located on productive farm land; and

WHEREAS, the location poses a serious threat to the Ogallala and Santa Rosa aquifer water supplies to eight states (South Dakota, Wyoming, Nebraska, Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, and Texas); and

WHEREAS, Deaf Smith County ranks third in the nation in sales of agriculture products and the stigma thereby attached to agriculture products would be very detrimental to potential sales; and

WHEREAS, there are many unknown factors relating to safety and health with regard to nuclear waste, especially highway trucking of nuclear waste from the majority of states East of the Mississippi

as well as Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Illinois, Arkansas, Nebraska, Oregon and California, thereby transforming interstate highways into nuclear thoroughfares to Deaf Smith County;

BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED, by the delegates to the (Texas/National) Convention of Women Involved in Farm Economics to urge the Texas delegation to the U.S. Congress to resist any and all attempts to finally locate the nuclear waste repository in Texas; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that President Reagan withdraw this site, now accepted for site characterization studies, from any further consideration for the actual nuclear waste repository.

Members of Partners also viewed a film dealing with the stress involved with a farm sale. The film and the discussion that followed emphasized the need for community and individual support for those going through a farm sale or dealing with the problems of the current economic farm crisis.

Panhandle Agri Partners meet the first and third Mondays of each month. Their next meeting will be June 16 at noon in the Courthouse basement. Anyone interested in agriculture is invited to attend.

"We've had enough of a good thing. Let us have some warmer, dryer weather for a while," said Seth Ralston, county Extension agent.

Over eight inches of rain has fallen in parts of the county since mid-May, and the wet weather is hampering the wheat harvest.

"The wet weather has really delayed the wheat harvest," Ralston said. "The wheat kernels will be plumper and will make for a better crop when the wheat is finally harvested."

The rain has been excellent for the beets, corn and generally everything, according to Extension Agent Curtis Preston.

But the cool, wet weather that has been stationed over the area for the past three weeks has not been good for the cotton.

"Some of the cotton that was planted later and is barely up will be lost to seedling disease," both Preston and Ralston said.

Area cotton gin managers report that the wet, cool weather and hail has severely damaged the cotton crops in some areas of the county.

"We lost 1/3 to 1/2 of our cotton crops at Easter," reported Graham Sheffy, manager of Easter Gin.

Sheffy said that some of the farmers will replant their cotton crops, and some won't. He also added that the cotton could come back out, but it has a small chance of doing so.

Randy Small, manager of Castro Co-op Gin in Dimmitt said that the weather has really been bad for the cotton and that much of it will die from root rot. "Some farmers will be replanting later this week if the warm weather holds out," said Small. "But we've lost quite a bit of the cotton in this area."

"The cotton that was up (before the current wet spell hit) looked good," said Clay Davis, manager at Flagg Farmers Gin, "but it doesn't look good anymore. It really looks pretty sick."

Davis stated that the damage estimates can't be made until warmer weather has dried up the fields and farmers can get in and work the cotton. He says it may come back out, but if it does it will be a thin stand.

Ralston said that the weather needs to clear up so that farmers will be able to get into the fields and work their crops, especially the corn, before it gets too tall for machinery to enter.

KDHN radio, official National Weather Service observer, has recorded 8.2 inches of rainfall since the wet spell began.

Easter Grain reported approximately 8.5 inches of rain over the period and also reported some hail damage west and east of the city.

According to Eddie Matthews of Easter Grain, some of the cotton has been totaled by the hail, but the corn will be able to come back later.

Teeny Bowden at Sunnyside reported 8.20 inches of rain for the past 15 days.

Some small hail was received west and south of Sunnyside, but no damage estimates were made.

Hart has received about 7.80 inches of rainfall during the wet spell, but no hail.

According to a spokesperson at Farmers Grain Co. in Hart, houses south of Hart near the county line were damaged by hail, sustaining broken windows. It was also noted that some wheat and corn fields were damaged by hail.

In Nazareth and southwest of the city on the Ray Schmucker farm, pea-sized hail covered the ground after Monday afternoon's heavy storm.

Heavy rains have also drenched the area, with reports averaging about the same as the rest of the county.

How would waste be 'boxed up'?

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of articles concerning what would happen if the nation's first, permanent high-level nuclear waste repository were located in Deaf Smith County. Our neighboring county has been selected as one of three finalists by the Dept. of Energy for the repository, which is expected to be operable before the year 2000.)

Most nuclear waste that would be transported to a possible high-level nuclear waste repository would be taken by train into the site, according to information obtained from the US Dept. of Energy.

However, work must still be done to design a shipment "cask" that would safely insulate the radioactive waste before any shipments to a repository are possible.

In the DOE's Transporting Spent Nuclear Fuel: An Overview, published last March, the agency recognizes that "conditions for shipping spent fuel at the turn of the century could differ significantly from the conditions that prevail today

... the number of future shipments to repositories will represent a substantial increase over the number of current shipments.

"This increase necessitates a careful review of existing procedures to determine if changes are required for continued assurance of safety."

Another problem the DOE must address within the next 12 years, the minimum length of time before the repository would open if DOE maintains its current timetable, is the development of a cask that would handle spent fuel that has "aged" (been out of the reactor) for a minimum of five years.

"Since casks being used today are designed to accommodate fuel that has been aged for only about a half year," the report says, "development of more efficient 'new-generation' cask designs that can measurably increase the capacity is indicated."

Venhaus cuts first wheat

Paul Venhaus of Nazareth led off the county's wheat harvest Friday afternoon, delivering the first 1986 load to Farmers Grain Co. in Hart.

He was followed closely by Rodney Hales, who farms between Hart and Nazareth. Venhaus and Hales delivered two loads each on Friday.

Farmers Grain Co. Manager Jarrel Sewell reported that the first load had a test weight of 58 lbs. per bushel and a moisture content of 12.2%. Other loads during the day went to 14.5% moisture content, Sewell said.

Venhaus said his 147 acres of dryland wheat averaged 18 bushels per acre—much better than he was expecting before he got his first rain two weeks ago.

"The rain helped fill it out at the top of the head," he said. "It was good, tall Pioneer wheat with a big head. With one good rain in the first of April, it would have really made a crop. But it just didn't quite fill out."

In most other parts of the county, wheat growers are still waiting to get into their ripened fields, some of which have received as much as eight inches of rain in the last 3 1/2 weeks.

Hey, fella. With the 4th of July coming on, I'd like to ask you a patriotic question.

Could you handle the town's fireworks show for us?

If you know how to set up and light those commercial skybursts, rockets and flares, the Chamber of Commerce would like to hear from you. Right away.

The chamber has the fund going and the basic plans laid. All that's needed is someone who knows how to make it happen.

Jerry Schaeffer did it for us last year, but now he's way down there in the Metroplex.

You'd be working with a lot of standard fireworks donated by the Kiwanis Club, plus the big commercial stuff. You'd get to help pick out the fireworks to be used, and could get specific instructions and advice from the distributor.

You'd have help from as many volunteers as you need, and the firemen will be standing by in case you catch your shirt-tail on fire.

You'd get no pay, except for the title of executive director, the "oohs" and "aahs" of the children, and applause from a grateful community.

So, okay—maybe you don't know anything about pyrotechnics. You can still help. In this patriotic endeavor, the chamber needs one of your most valued possessions. Not your vote. Not your car. Not your old comfortable shoes. Just your money.

Fireworks shows are expensive. We're talking dollars-per-

THE COUNTRY CLOGGERS dance to lively backup music during the outdoor performance by The Country Caravan at the courthouse square Thursday night. A good crowd brought blankets and lawn chairs to enjoy the three-hour concert. All performers in the big, well-produced road show are students or instructors at South Plains College.

On the Go

with Mary Edna Hendrix, 647-3343

I wish we could have more evenings like the one we enjoyed last Thursday. The weather was just perfect for an outside entertainment. (no wind or rain and no mosquitoes) South Plains College from Levelland presented the Country Caravan, a group of talented music students from the college. I enjoyed their music and they were all neatly dressed.

Ann (Welch) Philpott, daughter of Juanita (Welch) Howard and granddaughter of Mary Lou Webb, made all costumes for girls in Country Caravan. She is a graduate of Dimmitt High School and Texas Tech University in Lubbock. Beth Welch was a classmate of Le Ann Ellis who was stage director of Country Caravan.

Pat and Bea Hardy had a fun trip to the Dallas area. They visited their son, Don and Joyce Hardy, who live in Midlothian and their grandson, John Hardy, and his family. They enjoyed a big fish fry (some fish that Don had caught earlier.)

Louise Mears and Sam and Virginia Gilbreath went to Gruver for their grandson's graduation exercises from Gruver High School. Mark is the son of Zay and Charlotte Gilbreath and is the last of their three sons to graduate from high school.

Edith Graef was hostess to the Thursday Bridge club that met at the Senior Citizens Center for lunch and a day of bridge. Johnnie Vannoy won high score and Susie Reeves won second high. Others playing were Opha Burks, Louise Mears, Loranel Hamilton, Jo Gregory, Cleo Forson, Era Heckerson, Neva Hickey, Virginia Crider, Ferne Dickey and Jean Christian.

Bill and Vivian Deavers from Dallas were visiting me on Tuesday so I took them to the museum. They enjoyed seeing all the old things that they had used at one time. Vivian and I were neighbors when we lived in Lubbock during the depression. Her daughter is a nurse in Dallas now and her nephew is a doctor in Dallas. Her niece (whose mother was my beauty operator) is a violinist in New York City and she plays for celebrities like Liza Minnelli.

Robert Duke brought an old newspaper and donated it to the museum. The Fort Worth Star-Telegram was dated Oct. 7, 1929, just before the "Big Crash of 1929." The paper belonged to Robert's grandmother, Mrs. R. W. Duke, who lived in Wellington. There are pictures of several Dimmitt homes in one section of the paper including the C. J. Mapes home, J. H. Workman, E. R. Rothwell, and Will Wright homes.

Donna Stump brought her company to the museum, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Wahl from Walla Walla, Wash. Mrs. Wahl is Jerry's mother. They were here for their grandsons' graduation.

Helen Richardson took her visitors to the museum last week, Alice (Lee) Gordon and Clifford Gordon from Sun Valley, Calif., and Leona Andrews from Hereford. Alice is from the Flagg Community and Clifford lived in Muleshoe. Leona is from the Frio Community.

Cletha George called to tell me she was hostess to the Friday Bridge club that met at the Senior Citizens Center. She reported they had a good time, ate lunch, visited, and played bridge. Gladiola Shipley won high score and Opha Burks won second high. Others playing were Beral Hance, Cleo Forson, Retta Cluck, Ruth Coleman, and Betty Renfro from Amarillo.

The Webb celebration was a beautiful affair that was held on Sunday afternoon. The children of Allan and Peggy Webb and their families hosted a garden party honoring their parents on their 40th wedding anniversary. They decorated the front yard with colorful balloons, potted geraniums, patio furniture, tents, and a huge sign "40th Anniversary." The serving table was filled with pickup foods and a huge arrangement of whole pineapples, cantaloupe halves, grapes, strawberries, and watermelon balls. A pretty fresh flower arrangement was in the center of the table. Another table was filled with pictures and a register book.

Organ music was furnished by Marie Howard of Amarillo, a former Dimmitt resident.

Guy and Oleta Walser went to Spearman with Jim and Leatrus Clark of Hereford to a Golden Wedding Anniversary honoring Joe and Ethel Lee (Wilder) Traylor that was hosted by their son Charles Traylor. Charles knows Ben Gollehon and Ralph and Avis Smith. They visited with Maurine (Wilder) Coke, a sister of Mrs. Traylor, also several former WT classmates.

Rumor has it that the "farewell party" held by fellow-workers for the Berryhills had a few surprises... like a specialized dancer from Amarillo... who was such a hit that she was returned for the all-night senior class party. Perhaps we should ask the Berryhills about the event.

Martha Hyman and Virginia Hansen won high and second high in their bridge club last week. Sandra Clark was hostess, and the Hereford Country Club was the place. Members present were Stefanie Love, Pat Braafladt, Virginia Hansen, Martie Benton, Deanne Clark, Martha Hyman, Nancy Ross and Sandra Clark.

The Dutch family, Van Zielst, who grew the beautiful flowers near Lazbuddie have returned to Holland to live. They bid farewell to their acquaintances and looked forward to being near grandchildren and children again.

Alice Collyer was installed as the Worthy Matron and her husband, Carl, was installed as the Worthy Patron of Lodge #819 (Eastern Star) Saturday night. Guest officers from the Collyer's former home, Mathis, came to do the ceremony and many guests locally joined the Collyers and their co-officers. One guest came from Gulfshore, Ark. and one from Fort Worth. Two of the Collyer's children and their children flew in for the occasion and presented their mother with a gavel to use during her term. Gifts were presented and refreshments served following the beautiful service of installation.

James White, grandson of Dan and Oma Dee Heard, had his tonsils removed Monday at High Plains Baptist Hospital. Oma Dee went up and spent the day with James, Pam and Walter. James came home Tuesday. Jennifer stayed with Danny and Tammy and Nana and PaPa.

Thursday Dan and Oma Dee went to Amarillo for some appointments. This was Dan's "Over the Hill Birthday" since he got up Thursday morning and his pickup was covered with an over the hill banner and all kinds of instructions for "old age." That night his family honored him with a hamburger cookout, with all the trimmings. Even Happy Birthday crepe paper decorated the kitchen and they had Mickey Mouse plates and whistles. Tammy seemed to have done the planning. Those enjoying the evening were Dan and Oma Dee, Danny, Tammy and Alicia, Pam, Walter, James and Jennifer, Helen and Jerry McMillon, and Chas Humphrey from Lubbock.

Friday Pam had to take

James back to Amarillo for a checkup so Oma Dee went to help with Jennifer. They came back to Canyon and visited a friend, Ken Staeher, then had the kids' pictures made.

Sunday Pam and Walter were rained in, so after church

Dan and Oma Dee, Danny, Tammy and Alicia went out in the mud dlobber and had lunch with ther..

Plenty of ROOM!

Have you ever, when on a vacation, in the peak of the tourist season, looked and looked along the highway for a roadside park with an empty table so that your family could have a picnic lunch and rest? Then, of course, all might travel refreshed. How nice it is to come upon a park like this one, with the breeze blowing across the water.

Isn't it wonderful that there is always plenty of room at the House of God? There is always a church where you can receive spiritual food, and sweet rest of the soul. The church holds out its arms in welcome to all, inviting everyone to come and learn of God. Won't you attend this week?

"Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." Matthew 11:28.

Coleman Adv. Ser.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

What is a Father?

He's a tired grin in the evening... He's a happy hello on Sunday morning... He's a big friend with love in his eyes.

He's a member of the world's biggest fraternity... He's America's hardest working career man... He's a Father.

He's old and young and in-between... He's short and tall and rich and poor... He's the leader of the clan with a grin in his heart... He's friend, advisor, teacher, pal... He's a Father.

Fathers like: mothers, A's on report cards, home runs at ball games, happy shouts around a Christmas tree, gooey kisses given by young daughters... and the way their sons yell "Daddy."

Father's complain about the high cost of living... lights left on in the basement... bicycles standing in front of garage doors... lawns that haven't been mowed... homework that hasn't been done... and children who don't go to bed on time on school nights.

Fathers dream about a world without wars, successful careers for their sons... college diplomas for their children... a house that's paid for... and a cure for cancer.

Fathers dislike teen age music... most of their daughter's boy friends... bachelors who try to tell them how to raise children... and drivers who speed down residential streets where children are playing.

Fathers sit at desks and work machines and ride horses and drive trucks and sell things. Fathers are handy to have around to put up Christmas trees... hide Easter eggs... carve Thanksgiving turkeys... and light firecrackers.

He has the courage to build nations... the wisdom to seek knowledge... the vitality to win wars... He's the greatest man in the world...

He's a Father!

Social Security ...in Castro County

Many people wait longer than necessary to receive payment from Medicare medical insurance because they failed to submit itemized bills with their request for payment form.

Medical insurance is the part of Medicare that helps pay for doctor bills, out-patient hospital bills, and other items and services not covered by hospital insurance.

To receive payment under medical insurance, a person generally submits a request for payment form and the doctor or supplier provides an itemized bill to send with the form. The bill does not have to be paid before it can be submitted.

The trouble is that often the bill does not provide a detailed description of the services provided and, therefore, a decision cannot be made as to whether they are covered. As a result, the patient must be contacted for more information before payment is made.

To prevent delay, the person should be sure that each bill shows:

- A description of each service provided;
- The date the service was provided;
- The place the service was provided;
- The charge for each service;
- The doctor or supplier who provided each service, and;
- The person's name and health insurance claim number, exactly as they appear on the Medicare card.

It is helpful if the diagnosis is also shown.

Correction

In last week's issue of the News, it was reported that Jack Flynt, Sr., of Dimmitt is the chairman of the 1986 session of American Legion's Boys' State. Chairman of the Boys' State session is not Flynt, but his son, Air Force Major Jack Flynt, Jr., of Shreveport, La. Maj. Flynt has been associated with Boys' State since 1965 and has served as chairman of the project for several years. He was a Boys' Stater in 1965 while attending Dimmitt High School and served as a junior counselor and senior counselor after that. He has also served as director and chairman except for a time when he was stationed overseas. The News regrets the error.

DOE names Rhoads Memorial Library as info repository

Rhoads Memorial Library has been officially designated as a local information repository by the US Dept. of Energy.

"DOE has sent generous amounts of studies, references and pamphlets," said Librarian Brick Autry. "One can find material on general information about radioactivity and nuclear energy, and can also obtain highly technical material relating to the possible site in Deaf Smith County."

The library will be open this summer from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. Tuesday through Friday, and from 9 a.m. until 12 noon Saturdays. Autry said he would be available to answer specific questions about the materials in the library, and that all county residents "are absolutely welcome to come to the library and use the collection."

Ranger Rick magazine says that a parrot can be taught to speak when someone enters a room, but the bird doesn't understand it has just uttered a greeting. Commissioners discuss waste dump at Nazareth

County commissioners discussed recent complaints they have received on the waste dump northwest of Nazareth at their regular monthly meeting Monday in the courthouse.

Citizens living near the dump have complained that someone has been burning the trash in the dump late at night.

They have requested that the commissioners erect a gate at the entrance to the dump and display a sign posting legal dumping hours. They also requested that a guard be kept at the sight to prevent night burnings.

The commissioners named Ann Armstrong as chairman of the Farm and Ranch Finance Committee for the county.

Others named to the committee include Doyle Davis, Kenneth Frye and Floyd Schulte.

In other business, the commissioners heard a request from Jerry Heller of the Tax Appraisal District. He asked that the commissioners set an amount that the Appraisal District would have to pay for rent on their building which is owned by the county.

They also accepted the resignation of Ina Cleavinger from the Child Welfare board, and agreed to consider Frances Duke as her replacement.

GOOD LISTENING—The crowd enjoys the balmy weather and lively music during last Thursday evening's outdoor concert by the Country Caravan from South Plains College on the courthouse square. The crowd was large, but not as big as sponsors of the event had hoped. Many downtown stores stayed open late before the concert.

Iceland to be new AFS student in Dimmitt

Einar Sigurdsson of Iceland will be the new AFS exchange student in Dimmitt for the 1986-87 school year.

The 18-year-old will be staying with C.D. and Nancy West and their son, Mark, in Dimmitt.

Einar's soon-to-be American brother, Mark, will also be travelling abroad this summer.

He will travel to Asslar, Germany Wednesday to visit with his cousin, Arnd Pfeiffer, who spent six weeks last summer with the West family. Mark will be gone approximately six weeks and will return home July 30.

He will be home before his new brother, Einar, arrives from Iceland.

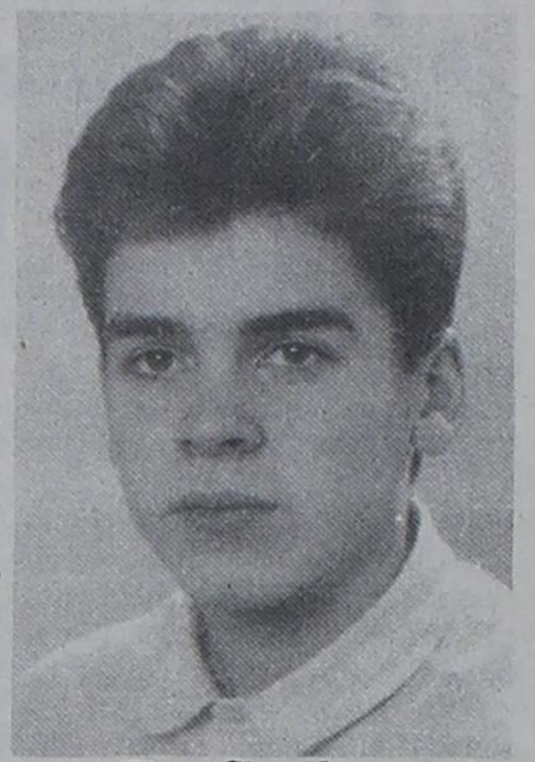

Einar is expected to arrive in Dimmitt sometime in mid-August.

Einar is the son of Sigurdur Einarsson and Helga Gudrun Eysteinsdottir of Iceland. His father is a building technician and his mother is a bookkeeper.

Einar speaks four languages including his native tongue of Icelandic. He speaks English, Danish and German.

He enjoys all types of athletics, especially football, volleyball and handball, and participates in these sports one to three times a week. He also enjoys listening to music.

He describes himself as being good-humored. "I seldom change my mood," Einar said. "I don't like quarrels. I forgive easily and want others to behave in the same way. I like being among people. I like people who are trustworthy and with good humor."

Einar adds that he places an importance in having a good family, good friends, good health and living in peace.

He has an older brother, 27-year-old Eysteinn and two older sisters, 25-year-old Hera and 22-year-old Kristin.

He became interested in being an AFS student after his sister, Hera, was an exchange student in Italy from 1980-81.

By being an AFS student, Einar hopes to get a good education "in order to be able to work at something which interests him and to achieve a better understanding."

DISD board gets good, bad news on students' progress

The Dimmitt School Board heard good news and bad news from Curriculum Director Corky Lockmiller Monday night.

The good news was that the California Test of Basic Skills given to a cross-section of students at all grade levels this year showed "as good a growth rate as we've seen for any one year," and that Dimmitt High School's 11th grade did quite well on their "exit-level" testing.

The exit-level test checks juniors' mastery in 36 phases of mathematics, reading and writing to see if they've attained the basic skill levels expected of high school graduates. Those who do not show mastery of certain basic skills receive extra tutoring their senior year.

"On our 11th grade exit-level test, we did extremely well," Lockmiller reported. "We had 93% showing mastery of mathematics and 98% showing mastery of language arts. This means that of a class of 83, we had only a few (six in mathematics, two in language arts) who failed to pass one phase or the other of this test, and we are working with those students."

The bad news, Lockmiller said, was that "right now in Dimmitt, 51% of our students are making less than average gain" compared with national scholastic norms.

For instance, although nearly all of this year's 11th graders showed master of the basic skills in their exit-level testing, their scores as a group placed them in the "predicted national percentile rank" of 55 in mathematics, 53 in reading and 55 in writing—meaning that the class as a group is expected to finish high school with a competency level a little below the national average of high school graduates.

But Lockmiller said the local school system is on the right course. Constant "mastery" testing of students is beginning to show strengths and weaknesses in different subjects at all grade levels, he said, and the administration is moving to shore up those subject areas that show weaknesses.

However, the extra paperwork required of teachers in the constant "mastery testing" of students drew fire from one school board member.

"I'm concerned that we have gone further than the state has in our requirements of our teachers, to the point that we're restricting them by our demands on them with this paperwork and tracking," Board Member Glenn Odom said.

"We're responding to that," Lockmiller said. "Next year we will use NCR report forms for teachers to turn in, so the data is accumulated directly from teachers' grade sheets, and we'll cut the data required by about one-third, which I think will still give us the information we want... We're basically moving back to the grade book. It should simplify things greatly for our teachers."

"I hope so," Odom said, "because I think many of our teachers feel burdened by the demands of these things."

During his comprehensive report on the curriculum-management figures, Lockmiller commented, "If we're going to be successful in meeting the needs of our youngsters, to prepare them to compete in the marketplace, then we're going to have to commit ourselves to the best management of relative (academic) growth that we can provide, because the larger school districts are doing these things. They're setting up the machinery and programs to accomplish these things."

As the school district's administrator of federal and state funding, Lockmiller had bad news: Dimmitt's schools may lose most or all of their teachers' aides after next year.

Lockmiller explained that support funds from the state are being cut, mainly because of a drop in the number of migrant students, and that he expects federal funding to be cut by 26% under provisions of the Gramm-Rudman Act, which mandates across-the-board spending cuts in an effort to balance the federal budget.

"In light of these real and anticipated cuts, I have no doubt we'll have to cut our paraprofessional staff next year," Lockmiller said. "The only question is how deep."

He added, "We've told our aides that we can't guarantee that we'll be able to retain them after next year, based on the situation that we are looking at right now."

He said he anticipates that the school system will lose 10 to 12 aides, and that he hoped to be able to retain those in the K-3 (kindergarten through third grade) program, "but I don't know whether we'll even be able to do that."

In other action during its open meeting, the board:

—Voted to give seven retiring employees and three spouses the option of remaining on the DISD's group health insurance plan or joining the new Teacher Retirement System plan, but to require all employees who retire after Sept. 1 to switch to the TRS group.

—Authorized roof repairs on all three school buildings at estimated costs of $4,500 for Richardson Elementary, $4,000 for Dimmitt Middle School and $4,800 for Dimmitt High School, and voted to contract with Melvin Dunavant of Floydada to do the work.

—Reviewed 18 bids for four of the school district's used vehicles and voted to accept the highest bid for each. Let's keep G/T

When it comes to budget-cutting time, which could be next month, the Dimmitt School Board, we would hope, will leave what's left of our school's Gifted/Talented program alone.

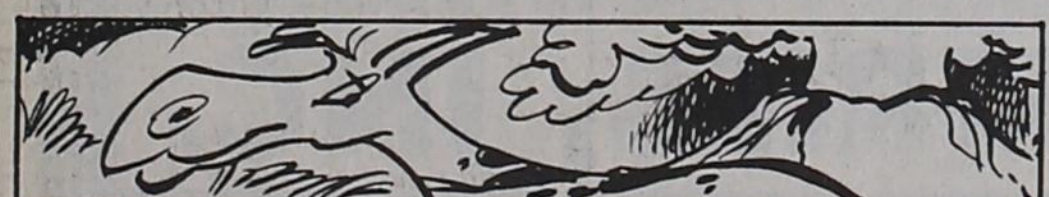

Thanks in part to the G/T program, which is currently in operation only at Dimmitt Middle School, seven DMS students received the experience of a lifetime last month in Flagstaff, Ariz., at the World Olympics of the Mind competition.

We realize you can't possibly begin to break classes up into "intelligence levels." How would you rank the students? Would the Top 25 go into one class, then 26 through 50 in another, and so forth? There could be a world of difference between No. 1 and No. 25, very little difference between No. 25 and No. 26, etc.

The G/T program, and projects like the Olympics of the Mind contest, don't discriminate because of intelligence, nor are there racial barriers. If a student is especially gifted or talented, he/she is in the G/T program.

We have noticed that some area school districts, having to bite the budget bullet, are eliminating G/T or similar programs. It would be our hope that, when the scissors are applied to our school's budget, if indeed they are, they won't be used to take a cut at the G/T program.

Three leagues dropped

126 to play T-Ball, Mustang baseball

126 boys and girls have signed up to play junior baseball in two Dimmitt leagues this summer—the T-Ball League for boys and girls 7 and 8 years old and the Mustang League for boys 9 and 10.

T-Ball play was supposed to begin June 2, but rain has postponed the start of the season.

The Mustang League is scheduled to begin play Friday night, weather permitting.

Dimmitt Kids, Inc., which conducts the junior summer leagues, announced that six T-Ball teams have been made up from 78 boys and girls, while the Mustang League will include four teams made up of 48 boys.

Meanwhile, after looking at a lot of frustrating what-ifs, the baseball planners dropped three junior baseball leagues for the summer—Junior and Senior Babe Ruth and Bronco League.

"We had only 31 boys 11 and 12 years old sign up, which is 17 short of enough for a Bronco League," DKI President and Baseball Commissioner Jerry Stump said. "We tried it last year with just three teams, but it didn't work out."

"So we tried to combine the boys 9 through 12, Little League-style, to see if we could have a six-team league," he said, "but we could only get four coaches. So we had to drop the Bronco League this year."

The Junior and Senior Babe Ruth programs—which provide organized summer baseball for boys 13 through 18—seem to be dying in all area towns in Dimmitt's population range, Stump said.

Apparently, there won't be any Junior or Senior Babe Ruth teams in any of the other surrounding towns this summer, either, because of other summer activities that pull on the kids and take time and money," he said.

"The UIL's sanctioning of summer basketball leagues for high school boys was the final straw, but there's also summer tennis, summer track meets and other activities that draw kids away," he said.

He added, "Summer baseball for high school boys has been declining in all of the small towns around here for several years. In 1981 we had enough kids for four Junior Babe Ruth teams—about 48 boys in the 13-15 age bracket. This year we only had 12 boys sign up. And if we had formed a team, they wouldn't have had anybody to play in the other towns."

"Even if we could have formed a four-team inter-city league, you can't afford to travel for three out of four games, and the coaches don't have the time for it," he said.

Here are the complete schedules for the Mustang League and T-Ball League. Games rained out will be made up on dates agreed to by the coaches.

Carrie Sadler was one of the 73 Methodist Hospital School of Nursing students to graduate as registered nurses in Lubbock Friday night. Two others graduated with doctorate degrees. Carrie will have one week of review, one week off, and then begin her RN duties in the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit of Lubbock General Hospital. Those attending the graduation exercises from here were Larry and Sharon Sadler, Laura and Matthew, Tex and Norma Conrad of Dimmitt and her mother, Nellie and Dutch Hamlin of Yucca Valley, Calif. Ezell and Verba Sadler didn't come home from Breckenridge for the graduation as planned because Verba mashed the toenail off a big toe so can't walk or wear a shoe for a while.

Lee and Louise Bradley, Sharon, Jack, Justin and Joel left Thursday to spend the weekend at Hubbard Creek Lake near Breckenridge at the Dixon reunion. This is the family of Irene Bradley. She and Weldon went down from Dimmitt Friday morning.

This week's rain started with a trace on Monday and worked up to .20 of an inch Wednesday, and really got with it Saturday night with an electrical storm. 2.10 inches was recorded, but various amounts were received, less to the west and southwest, more to the east and southeast. 2.70 inches was reported just one-half mile east with 1.75 inches at the Gilbreath's, two miles east. Some small hail was reported both west and south. Nickel size hail to the southeast at Lillian Carson's. Again it fell fast with a lot of erosion. Water was over the road in several places. A truck ended up in Ila Haydon's field near the crossroads south of the draw, but got out. Lakes are full. Hershel Wilson had 2.50 inches, Gale Sadler 2.40, Billie King 2, and R. V. Bills 1.20. Sunday night another .75 of an inch was recorded, with 1 inch at Gale Sadler's and 1.15 of an inch at Goldie Thompson's. This brings the total for the year to 10.95 inches, 3.10 for June, and 8.20 for the last 15 days.

Resa Carson of Dallas and a friend drove her nephew, Gregg George of Austin to Montgomery, Ala. Thursday where he will begin work Monday as a political consultant for a campaign consultant. They returned to Dallas Sunday evening. Gregg is the son of Louise Bradley and the grandson of Lillian Carson.

Brent Lilley returned home from three years service in Germany with the Army Infantry. He was stationed at Garlegadt in northern Germany. He and his Dutch bride, Swany, came in last month. He was discharged April 4. He hopes to find a job in the area.

Rev. Gerald Seright preached in both English and Spanish Sunday morning while Rev. Bentley and Kathy Gwyn, Christi and Holly spent Saturday and Sunday in Lubbock with her parents, Roger and Betty Curry. Janet Seright accompanied her husband.

Emilee Roy and Willie Mae Sadler visited with Dr. and Mrs. Myles Sadler, Gregory and Amy Monday. Amy came home with them and visited with them and Gale and Verna until Saturday when her grandparents took her home. Willie Mae entertained in her home Thursday with a plastic wares party.

Jill Hamilton was an usher for the Commencement services at Springlake-Earth High School last Friday night.

Erin Bridges, Brannon Byers, Kristi Curtis and Christi Gwyn all received awards in the Springlake-Earth Junior High awards assembly last Thursday. Erin received the first place "Texas Heroes" essay award for the 6th grade, an English award and an honor award for a 92.25 grade average. Christi won a cheerleader award and reading award for the 6th grade. Brannon won a science award and an honor roll award for a grade of 90.45 for the 7th grade and Kristi Curtis won the second place "Presidential Academic Fitness" award, an English award, and an honor roll award for a 90.87 grade average for the 8th grade.

Lillian Carson has spent much of the week with her mother, Mrs. A. L. Aven of Hart.

Emma Jean King and Kaye King attended the annual installation of Eastern Star in Dimmitt Saturday night. Kaye was installed as Associate Matron and Emma Jean as Associate Conductress.

Jim King of Hobbs spent the weekend with his parents, Billie and Emma Jean King. Marshall and Kaye King, Lance and Lincoln spent the day with them Sunday.

Rev. Gerald and Janet Seright were dinner guests of Gale and Verna Sadler Sunday. She went home after dinner. He has his testimony in the evening service.

Jo Eddy Riley went to Dallas Thursday to be with a sister during her surgery in a hospital there. She came home Monday. Ray Joe and Jodie and Kevin and Melinda attended the church services at Bedford Street Church of Christ Sunday with Mrs. Edna Riley and took her out for dinner after church.

Crimestoppers of Swisher County is offering a reward of $500 for information leading to the arrest and indictment of the person or persons responsible for the theft of a Hamby eight-row plow, taken from the May, Martin and Shelton sale site, three miles south and one mile west of the Rock Creek Store near the Briscoe-Swisher county line.

Officials say the plow was moved from the sale site by a tractor sometime between 11 p.m. on May 17 and 1:30 p.m. on May 18. They also indicate that the plow, valued at $2,300 was possibly loaded on to a truck or trailer after it reached pavement.

Anyone having information in the case may call the Swisher County Crime Stoppers, Inc. at 806-995-4444. All callers will remain anonymous.

1986 MIGHT mark the beginning of a caviar race with the Russians . . . thanks to Sergei Doroshov, a Soviet caviar expert who defected to the US in 1977. With Doroshov's help, Californians may succeed in raising the first completely American domesticated offspring of sturgeon, whose eggs are known as caviar, reports National Wildlife magazine. The delicacy should sell for about $800 a pound in this country.

EDC $ SIGNS

Winners of the Governor's Community Achievement Awards in city beautification were announced last week. While Dimmitt was not among those honored with a cash award, we should certainly consider ourselves as a winner.

Eight cities were chosen from a total of 78 entries. Those cities will share $700,000 in highway landscaping project money for their efforts in achieving long-term litter prevention, cleanup and community improvement.

Midland, which will receive $100,000 from the contest, was the only city in West Texas named to the winner's circle.

In Dimmitt, the Mayor's Council on City Beautification has headed our cleanup efforts. Led by Dorothy Hopson, a committee of volunteers has pushed the effort to make Dimmitt a cleaner, more attractive place to live, work and play.

Their work has been ongoing, year-round. It has included an educational program conducted through the schools, a community awareness program, and an annual cleanup campaign that has attracted residents from throughout the community. The group has involved business firms as well as home owners and the effectiveness of their work is evident throughout the community.

So, while we didn't finish "in the money," we are all winners as a result of the beautification campaign. Congratulations, Dorothy and CUFUPU volunteers, on a job well done! We all look better because of you!

WILL DO LIGHT CARPENTRY WORK.

Also will rebuild and refinish furniture.

Irrigation demonstration set at Danny Bruton farm Tuesday

An Irrigation Demonstration Day has been scheduled Tuesday from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. at the Danny Bruton farm, three miles south of Flagg on FM 1055.

"Come as you are and at your convenience anytime during the field day for a one-on-one discussion of any of the new techniques available to help producers manage their irrigation water," said Gary Hunter, Running Water Soil and Water Conservation Service district conservationist. "This is designed to help use this water to its greatest advantage and help learn to improve the efficiency of irrigation application systems and irrigation pumping plant.

Featured attractions during the hands-on demonstration will include individual discussions and demonstrations of soil moisture monitoring by Mike Risinger, soil scientist for the USDA-SCS; pump plant energy-use efficiency testing by Jerry Funck, agricultural engineer with the High Plains Water District; and irrigation application efficiency testing, demonstrated by Hunter.

Highlights will also include a demonstration of LEPA center pivot sprinkler irrigation by County Agent Seth Ralston and Extension Service Irrigation Specialist Leon New, as well as a demonstration of the benefits of surge irrigation by SCS Area Irrigation Engineer Jerry Walker.

The day will also include a discussion and demonstration of a new rainfall simulator that is used to simulate the effects of various land treatments on the infiltration of rainfall into the soil profile.

"There are so many advances being made in irrigation technology that it is hard for producers to stay on top of them all," Ralston said. "The field day provides a good opportunity for area producers to see the latest technologies available and discuss with experts how these technologies will work on their farm."

"This is not a formal field tour," said Water District Assistant Manager Ken Carver. "We will be there all day long, so producers can just drop by any time they have a few minutes to see all of the demonstrations, or to see just the demonstration that they are particularly interested in."

Dr. Murphy retains membership in AAFP

Dr. B. D. Murphy of Dimmitt has completed continuing education requirements to retain active membership in the American Academy of Family Physicians, the national association of family doctors. The Academy formerly was called the American Academy of General Practice.

The requirements call for members to complete a minimum of 150 hours of accredited continuing medical study every three years. The academy was the first national medical group to require members to keep up with medical progress through continuing education. Because of their broad training, family physicians have the "know how" to treat approximately 90% of all human illnesses.

The Academy, founded in 1947 and headquartered in Kansas City, Mo., was instrumental in the establishment of continuing education. Besides maintaining continuing education standards for its members, the Academy strives to increase the number of family physicians available to serve the public in the future.

Its continuing education program also provides a major basis of eligibility for Academy members seeking recertification in the specialty of family practice.

THE COUNTRY CARAVAN from South Plains College performs for an appreciative audience in this back-row view of last Thursday night's outdoor concert on the courthouse square. The singers and instrumentalists performed country and western,

County voters favor statewide winners at polls

A light turnout was expected for the runoff elections held Saturday and only 1.4% of the registered voters in the county turned out for the election.

69 voters in the Democrat Party exercised their opinion to vote in the runoff while 44 voters in the Republican party went to the polls Saturday, according to results from the County Clerk's office.

County Democrats and Republicans followed the statewide trend, favoring all candidates who won their bids for office, except for the race between Jay Gibson and Raul A. Gonzales.

Local Democrats favored Gibson over Gonzales by a 39-30 count in the race for Justice of the Supreme Court, Place 4.

Statewide, Gonzales was the winner of the contest.

In the other races for Supreme Court Justices, area Democrats agreed with voters across the state, electing Oscar Mauzy over Shirley Butts, 40-26, and Robert Campbell over Jim Brady, 38-26.

Democrat John Sharp was the favorite of voters in the state and county as he bested P. S. Ervin for the Railroad Commissioner's nomination. Sharp defeated Ervin in the county by a whopping 57-8 margin.

Summer driving can be hazardous "Texans are lucky, because they have better highways on which to travel to more enjoyable places," said Major V. J. Cawthon, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety. "The Department would like to emphasize that vacation driving during the summer months is far more enjoyable when traffic laws are obeyed. It is much easier and less expensive to drive within the law," Cawthon added.

When it is hot and the highways are crowded, fatigue and lack of alertness is a serious problem on long vacation trips. The motorist should stop every two hours to rest and never drive more than 10 hours a day.

During the hot summer months alcohol consumption will be on the increase. Traffic increases with added tourism and our highways can become more dangerous.

This year could be the greatest tourist season Texas has ever had; for the state visitor industry, you could call it a billion-dollar summer!

Cawthon reminds the Texas motorists to be alert, buckle up, and drive within the 55 mph speed limit. Plan your trip so that you have plenty of time to reach your destination and return in comfort and safety.

County Democrats also picked Rusty Duncan over George Martinez by a 45-19 tally in the race for Judge, Court of Criminal Appeals, Place 1.

On the Republican side, David Davidson earned the right to face Bill Hobby on the ballot this fall in a battle for the Lt. Governor's seat as he defeated Aaron Bullock countywide 38-4.

Roy Barrera, Jr., defeated former prosecutor Ed Walsh by a 30-14 count in the Republican race for Attorney General in county tallies.

M. D. Anderson, Jr. won the GOP Land Commissioner race statewide, defeating Grady Yarbrough. Anderson captured 26 votes while Yarbrough only received 15 votes in the county.

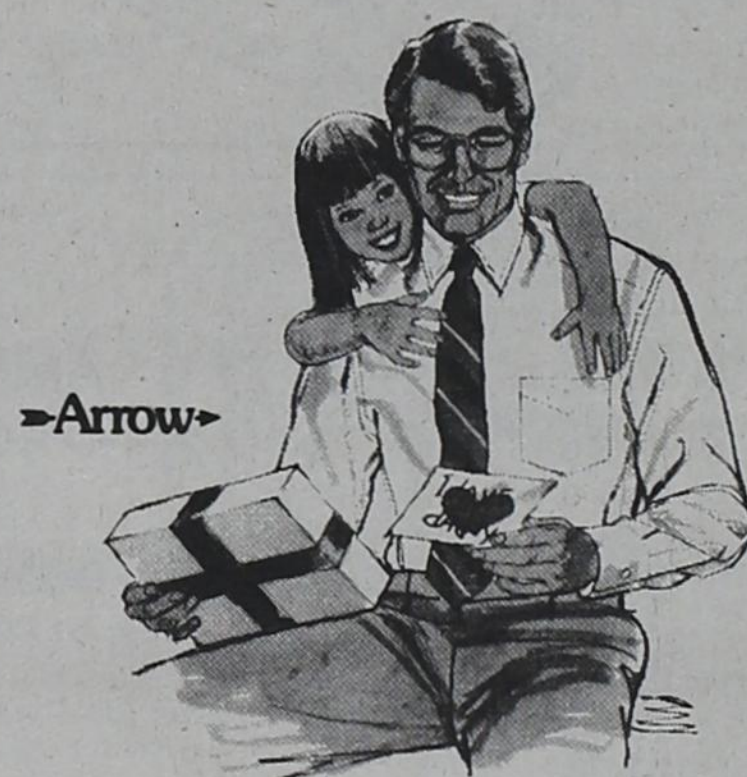

In the GOP race for Railroad Commissioner, Milton Fox defeated John Thomas Henderson statewide and also by a 32-9 county count.

How would waste be 'boxed up'? . . .

Some of the waste would be almost 40 years old that would be shipped to the repository, since there are no other "permanent" storage places for spent nuclear fuel. In most cases, spent fuel is being "temporarily" held in storage ponds on site or near nuclear power plants and other industries that use high-level nuclear products, and will remain in those holding ponds until it is placed in the repository.

Several utilities are expected to exhaust their spent fuel storage capacities before 1998, according to DOE, and the agency said these utilities could be forced "to shut down their nuclear power plants until the problem is solved."

How about getting the kids their smaller, manageable fireworks, and chipping in to help buy the awesome variety?

If you used to buy fireworks for your children, but now the children are grown, how about picking up the habit again? Donating to the fund would be like buying fireworks for all our children.

Some of the casks already in use were subjected to full-scale tests during the mid-1970s at the Transportation Technology Center at Sandia National Laboratories near Albuquerque, N.M., according to the DOE report.

In a "crash" test, a locomotive traveling at 80 MPH rammed, broadside, a cask containing simulated radioactive material mounted on a truck trailer.

The cask was slightly dented, while the locomotive was severely damaged. No release of simulated radioactive material occurred.

In a "crash-fire" test, a rail car carrying a cask containing simulated radioactive materials was crashed into a concrete barrier at 81 MPH. The cask and railcar were then subjected to an intense, totally engulfing 125-minute jet fuel fire.

The lead shield between the inner and outer walls melted. After 100 minutes, the pressure from the molten lead caused a crack about the size of a dollar bill in the outer layer of the cask, through which some of the molten lead escaped.

DOE says the problem has since been corrected, and the amount of the molten lead that escaped was not enough to lessen the cask's shielding capabilities. DOE says the simulated radioactive materials remained inside the cask.

In a "drop" test, a cask formerly used for shipping spent fuel from a research reactor was dropped from a helicopter, crashing to the desert floor at 235 MPH.

DOE says that although the cask was buried in more than four feet of hard-packed soil, some paint scratches were the only damage.

In case of an accident, DOE says studies and tests "predict" that minimal, if any, radioactivity would be released with no need for repair of the cask in most cases. DOE says a general evacuation of people from homes and businesses would not "be warranted since damage and problems would involve only an area within several hundred feet of the event."

DOE also says the casks, which could weigh up to 120 tons, would be resistant to movement by high winds from a hurricane or tornado, and that even if a rail car were overturned by the force of such winds, "release of any radioactive material would be highly unlikely."

However, DOE reports reiterate the fact that current casks would not be useable for shipment to the repository, and research is continuing to find casks that could be used for rail car transportation for the massive shipments to the repository.
