THIS TED BELL watercolor, on display at First National Bank, is believed to be his last work. There is no signature on the painting. Carol Reese formerly Bell's wife decided to share the late artist's work with the public once more.

Carol Reese to present last works of Ted Bell at First National Bank here

In a continuing effort to offer excellence in art to citizens of Floydada and surrounding area, the First National Bank has on exhibit water color paintings by the late Ted Bell as prepared and presented by Carol Reese.

Born in Silvertown in 1921, Ted Bell was reared in Floydada and received his public school education here. After military service during World War II, he enrolled in Texas Tech, receiving a Business Administration degree there in 1949.

Water color was the only medium of painting that he was ever interested in. He began painting some after his graduation from Tech when his roommate gave him brushes, paper, and paint as he moved out. Bell began by copying pictures from Ford Times Magazine.

When he returned to Floydada to take over the rural route which had been driven for many years by his dad, Fred Bell, he began to paint scenes that he saw as he traveled over 100 miles each day from Floydada to the canyons east of Silvertown. If he didn't have time to sketch a scene that he wanted to paint, he would take a camera and photograph the scene.

The first one-man show of Bell's work was at an open house of the Floyd County Library in 1963. Through the years he had other one-man shows and exhibited his work in many galleries in Texas and New Mexico. He earned many honors at local, regional, and state shows, and saw his work scattered to many parts of the United States, as well as to some foreign countries.

As the demand for his work grew, he never considered giving up his mail route or raising his prices. His philosophy was that he wanted to continue enjoying painting as a hobby, and he wanted his prices to be low enough for people to be able to purchase them.

Up until his untimely death in 1978 Bell's greatest source of pride was the widespread acceptance of his work by the people of Floydada, his hometown. Because of this, his family decided to show some of his work that has never been shown before.

County petitions State for disaster relief

Floyd County A.S.C.S., S.C.S., F.H.A. and county extension agents met with Floyd County Judge Choise Smith November 30 to combine their efforts to have Floyd County declared a disaster area.

The declaration of disaster would enable Floyd County farmers and ranchers to regain some of the money lost on crops and cattle due to the summer drought, late rains and early freeze.

Judge Choise Smith said, "Many farmers and ranchers had to sell livestock earlier in the year because of lack of grazing for the animals." If the county is declared a disaster, the livestock producers would be eligible for a tax shelter on the money received for the sale of the drought stricken livestock from early sales. A.S.C.S. and S.C.S. officials said that Floyd County grazing ability was 70 percent below normal for the year.

Judge Smith mailed a letter to Governor Mark White's office late Tuesday requesting the declaration.

"We definitely want our county declared a disaster to help the people in our county," said Judge Smith.

NANCY MARBLE works at the Floyd County Museum micro film machine. The museum has Floyd County's census on micro film beginning with the 1900 census.

Bettie still active at 88

Saturday December 10 is Bettie Patterson's birthday. She will be 88 years old.

Born in Ft. Bend County in 1895, Mrs. Patterson and her husband Harvey moved to Floyd County in 1923. Moving with four children, the Pattersons came from Harrold, Texas in Wilbarger County. Her other nine children were born here in Floyd County. They moved to a farm 2 1/2 miles south west of Floydada. Several years later they purchased a farm one mile south of Sandhill.

Mrs. Patterson's favorite pastime is crocheting. She spends hours everyday crocheting everything from clowns to afghans. She takes special pains to be as neat as possible with her work and makes up several of the patterns she uses.

It doesn't take one long to realize that Mrs. Patterson simply enjoys pretty things. She has always enjoyed plants and flowers and has several in her home as well as her sun porch which looks out into her yard.

She loves taking care of her home and really likes to do her crocheting with others. She has a son-in-law who likes to crochet and a daughter also. From her nine children, she has 43 grandchildren and 49 great grandchildren. When asked how she likes where she lives she said she "wouldn't live any place else. I've grown up with this country and I've learned to be content with this area."

Cotton production better than expected this year

U.S. cotton production was forecast at 7.5 million bales on November 1. That represents a 37 percent drop from 1982 production. For Floyd County farmers, however, the cotton production this year is considerably better than last year.

As of Wednesday morning most of the Floydada area gins had ginned approximately 33,260 bales of cotton. This is not the norm for the area but is some better than Floyd County farmers expected this time last month.

The final 1983 production for Texas and the South Plains may fall below the estimated forecast due to several weather related losses this year.

Quality of the cotton was hurt by the heavy rains we had in October. There was some concern earlier over seed quality but most producers in the area agree that the seed in the Floydada area isn't as bad as they thought.

Ray Gene Ferguson, gin manager for the Floydada Co-op Gins, Inc. said Wednesday that the price of the seed had "more than doubled from last year" and that the "seed produced in the Floydada area was good for cotton seed oil and feed. Due to the rains-late in the season-the seed isn't quite as good a grade for seed but it still isn't that bad. Wet fields hampered the cotton harvest here on the Plains during November but so far this month the farmers have had pretty fair weather for the winding up of the harvest.

On October 28, the U.S.D.A. announced the 1984 Upland Cotton Program. The sign-up period for the program will be January 16 to February 24. The sign-up for 1984 will be a binding contractual agreement with the U.S.D.A. and damages will be assessed to those that break that contract. In past programs producers could sign up then leave options open until a later certification date.

The 1984 program includes a 25 percent acreage reduction program. There is not offsetting compliance or cross compliance, and acreage equal to 33.33 percent of the planted cotton acreage must be placed under approved conservation uses.

Floyd County ASCS office manager Tom Moore said Wednesday that "farmers will have to pick a basic program and stick with it. The program will take some getting use to but should work."

In October, the printings were distributed to over 150 dealers and company stores in forty-one states.

Gray's "Idea Sheet" gives a step-by-step instruction along with the basic pattern, to create a life-like Blue Jay in a natural setting. He has been requested to furnish future "Idea Sheet" projects for the Tennessee-based firm.

Bill Gray, leather artist from Floydada, has recently had one of his works selected for publication by The Leather Factory, Chattanooga, Tennessee. The article, entitled, "Now It's Spring," is a life-sized, three dimensional Blue Jay, carved and tooled out of leather and mounted on a tree branch. The Leather Factory chose this work to be included in its "Idea Sheet" series.

Marble enjoys working with historical records

In May of 1971 a group of Floyd County people got together to discuss the organization of a museum. Among that group was South Plains resident Nancy Marble.

Mrs. Marble said she never was particularly interested in history as a school girl at Lockney High School but later on in her life as she became interested in her own families history she caught a fever that inspired her to help preserve items from this county.

In June of 1971 the first board of directors were named to the Floyd County Historical Museum. Those directors were Ted Bell, Margaret Daniel, Kenneth Broseh, Virginia Taylor, Johnie Delle Cogdell, Joyce Williams, Eli Neff, Dee Copeland, Joe Parish, Duncan Hollums, Alma Holmes, Jim Word, Reba Henry, Robert Lee Smith and Nancy Marble.

On July 12, 1971, officers were elected for the museum. Robert Lee Smith was elected to the office of President, Ted Bell, Vice-president; Nancy Marble, Secretary, and Margaret Daniel, Treasurer.

Over the years Nancy Marble has held a number of offices associated with the museum. She has set on the executive committee and has held the offices of President, Secretary and Treasurer.

Mrs. Marble was instrumental in the collecting and indexing of more than 500 files of information on people, places and businesses in Floyd County.

The museum also offers some of the earliest documents in Floyd County in its files. Homer Steens collection is among these documents as well as several deeds, letters and other papers of the Massie family. Alma Holmes has given the museum records on the Lockney Christian College. "These files make an excellent reference for the school student writing a research paper or the geneologist searching for information on their families," said Mrs. Marble.

The museum and Mrs. Marble are especially proud of their Floyd County census records they have on microfilm. Their records begin with the 1900 census. Mrs. Marble has gone through the 1900 census records and compiled a list of the different categories of businessmen, farmers and ranchers in Floyd County during that time.

Food prices to rise

Cashiers in grocery checkout lines across our state, not the number crunchers in Washington, will ring up the alarming dollar signs when it finally comes time to total up West Texas drought damage.

The food prices you and I will pay tomorrow are being decided by what happens to our food producers today.

U.S. Agriculture Secretary John Block is downplaying the early warning signs reflected in August food price figures released by the U.S. Department of Labor. He continues to characterize food as an "inflation fighter" even as vegetable prices climbed 16.5 percent in August, a turnaround from an 11.9 percent drop in July.

Beef prices dipped by 1.3 percent last month, but food industry analysts say lower prices are only a short-term effect of increased cattle sales forced by drought conditions. Diners in Dallas, Detroit, and Dayton can expect to fork over more money for a Texas T-bone in another six months.

The hard times facing Texas farmers and ranchers will have a domino effect on related industries, such as steel and farm machinery, already plagued by lay-offs and depressed sales.

Secretary Block never responded to my invitation to tour the West Texas drought area, and the "drought relief" he offered falls far short of what is needed.

It is no surprise that only a handful of Texas farmers and ranchers have applied for federal loans at interest rates of 8 to 14 percent. Already mortgaged to the hilt, they cannot repay what they owe now.

For this reason, I have asked Secretary Block to approve emergency payments to Texas farmers and ranchers to cover existing debts and help purchase feed. Even more important is the need to release federally owned corn stored in the Texas Panhandle since the 1980 Russian grain embargo.

This low-grade grain, unfit for human consumption, is costing taxpayers $5 million a year to warehouse when it could feed starving cattle and keep West Texas ranchers from going broke.

Secretary Block has cold-shouldered this request while Texas cattlemen have watched the summer heat wave scorch the grazing land. Their alternatives are few: sell off their herds at low prices, transport the cattle to better grazing land hundreds of miles away, or continue purchasing expensive feed.

Bill Honaker, a Fort Stockton rancher for 32 years, told me he has cut his herd from 1,028 to 319 head since January. He says his feed bill increased from $4,628 in 1982 to more than $30,000 during the first eight months of 1983.

Many Texas ranchers cannot afford that kind of feed bill. The Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Far West District, reports 30-40 percent of area ranchers have had to get rid of all their cattle, while others sold 50-60 percent of their herds. Land unsuitable for grazing offers even less hope to farmers trying to coax crops from stubborn cracked soil.

The far corners of our state and areas are tied to West Texas by the economics of the dinner table. We need to offer more than crumbs of "drought relief" to those who feed us.

Texas adopts tough laws

The National Institute on Drug Abuse reports a decline in illegal drug use among America's young people, but this piece of good news does not mean the "cancer" of drug abuse is in complete remission.

Drug experimentation has become a way of life for many young people. Two-thirds of American teenagers try an illegal drug before graduation from high school. One in three high school seniors abuse drugs on a regular basis and have tried drugs other than marijuana.

According to Texas Department of Public Safety estimates, more than $2 billion worth of illegal drugs are smuggled into this state each year.

A drug-free future for Texas' young people is a goal shared and actively supported by many Dallas businessmen Ross Perot and his Drug Abuse Research and Education (DARE) foundation took the lead in 1980 by launching a public education effort to deglamorize use of illegal drugs.

This campaign—Texans' War on Drugs—has attracted national attention and won the endorsement of many groups including Lions Club International, Texas Parent-Teacher Association, Texas Parent-Teacher Association, Texas Secondary School Principals, Texas Extension Homemakers Association, and Texas Medical Association Auxiliary. Texas cannot afford to break stride in this effort to combat drug abuse.

Christmas celebrated in Lubbock at Museum

Carols by the campfire, a cowboy Santa and preparations for a Christmas ranch wedding will be highlights of "Candlelight At The Museum," 6-8 p.m. Dec. 7 and 8 at The Museum of Texas Tech University.

The sixth annual Christmas celebration will be centered at the Ranching Heritage Center where visitors will take the long walk down paths lighted by luminaries and lanterns to peer into celebrations of Christmas past in most of the center's historic ranching structures.

The Christmas tour will begin in the David M. DeVitt and Mallet Ranch Building with a visit with a storekeeper and his wife in the "Furr's Country Store" exhibit, decorated for Christmas and providing a glimpse of antique toys and games, boots, ladies and children's shoes, decorative food containers, an Edison phonograph and a sewing machine.

The elegant McKanna Parlor will be firelit while costumed volunteers await the Christmas season. Visitors may do some real Christmas shopping at the Cogdell's General Store which features a variety of Western and nostalgic ornaments and gifts.

On the outdoor trail, a fiddler will play in the 1840s El Capote Cabin. German music and German holiday cooking will be going on in the Hedwig Hill Double Log Cabin. Costumed volunteers will greet visitors in the Jowell House and a lone guitarist will play in the Matador Half-Dugout.

An organist will entertain while a family prepares for Christmas in the Box and Strip House and a Campfire group will trim the tree and have an old-time school party in the Bairfield schoolhouse.

Victrola music will come from the Harrell House while the Kyle family cooks Christmas goodies and decorates a tree.

Cowboys will play a harmonica and do some whittling in the Masterson JY Bunkhouse and Frenship High School students will perform square dances accompanied by musicians from South Plains College, in the Las Escarbasas Ranch Headquarters.

The three-story, turn-of-the century ranch home, the Barton House, will be full of life on the "Night Before a Wedding."

Jo Templar, a museum volunteer and chairman of the Candlelight Committee, said there will be activities in each room of the house, involving various preparations by all family members, wedding party members and friends for a huge early 1900s ranch wedding-cooking, sewing, packing, sharing gifts and plans. Music rehearsal will take place in the parlor.

The Ropes Depot will be open for its first Candlelight celebration this year. Volunteer Phil Nickel, a longtime Santa Fe conductor, as ticket agent, will serve holiday travelers waiting for the train. Tapes will simulate the train coming in and leaving the depot. Nickel will announce arrivals and departures.

There will be two outdoor campfires on the site. A Cowboy Santa will wander throughout the center greeting young and old.

Visitors will find a rest stop and coffee and lemonade in the 6666 Barn.

At The Museum, participants may view the planetarium show, "Star of Bethlehem," each 20 minutes beginning at 6 p.m. And they can see major exhibits, including "Millard Sheets: Six Decades of Painting," "A Century of Change in Guatemalan Textiles," and "Mirrors of Changing Traditions: Mexican Indian Costumes from the Cordry Collection."

The Museum Shop will be open to sell a variety of Christmas ornaments and gifts from all over the world.

Templar stressed warm clothes for the evening outing along with good walking shoes. She said visitors should plan to be inside the DeVitt building no later than 8 p.m. in order to participate in candlelight.

can't throw away a newspaper without first going through it to see if there are any articles of historical interest. She said her husband Don teases her a little about her collecting but he is interested in it too.

She was notified several years ago that her family had a family cemetery in Dalton, Georgia. She and Don go back every year to help restore the old cemetery. Since that time she has become very interested in headstones and cemeteries. Writing everything down that she finds on a headstone. Mrs. Marble said "this is one of the best ways she knows to collect information. We want to expand and continue the collection of all kinds of items particularly documents and photos."

At present the museum is collecting information for a display on the Burns Blacksmith Shop that was located in Lockney. Mrs. Marble urges anyone having information or photographs of the blacksmith shop to please contact the museum. They are particularly interested in photographs of the people who worked there. She said the museum also needs copies of the Lockney Beacon for the years 1921 and 1922. Needed at the museum as well are early editions of the South Plains newspaper. Published for one year only, any of these newspapers would be appreciated.

Mrs. Marble urges everyone to "name people on their photographs" this enables people in years to come to compile information on their families easily.

Donations may be made to the museum or contributions may be made through the purchase of living memorials or memorials.

"We would like for the people of Floyd County to feel they can deposit their keepsakes and have them preserved and shared with everyone. Any article does not have to be a permanent gift. The item may be reclaimed at any time," said Mrs. Marble. "When we started this we made a commitment to the community, we owe it to the community and I enjoy it."

Medicare has holes in it.

Medicare was never intended to cover total healthcare costs. And it doesn't. In fact, it currently pays less than 40% of the average healthcare bill. That's why you may need the Senior Protector from Time Insurance. It helps fill the holes in Medicare by providing broad supplemental coverage for both Medicare Part A and Medicare Part B. You may be eligible for this valuable coverage. Call us for full details.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

by Winona Jackson

Trinity Church friends led devotions for the residents on Monday morning while Leona and Doloras were busy fixing the ladies hair. Kim Sherman from Plainview's M.H.M.R. Center came on Monday afternoon with music, bandannas, exercise, and singing.

There were twenty-one residents who enjoyed Bro. Richardson's devotion on Tuesday morning. Tuesday afternoon, Iva, Una, Ona, Emmitt, Addie, Bennie, Mrs. Birnie, Sue, and Francis were present for Bible Study and discussion.

Wednesday the Church of Christ Choir led singing for everyone and closed the service with a beautiful hymn which we all enjoyed so much. Ona, Una, Sue, Addie, Bennie, Mrs. Birnie, Emmitt, Lura, Ruth and Hallie played bingo on Wednesday afternoon while the other residents visited in the lobby. Una won the most bananas and Ona was the black-out winner. Jewell Norman enjoyed the visits of her grandson, Bill, this week.

Thursday morning Rev. Earl Blair led devotion time for us. With the help of records Tennessee Ernie Ford and I led the singing! Thursday afternoon the weather was too cool for many of the "bus trip fans" to get out so we enjoyed an old fashioned spelling "B". Iva, Sue, Bennie, Addie, Lura, Una, Francis, and Ruth were such good spellers! Bennie, Una and Lura were tied when we ran out of words. By that time everyone was getting tired so we declared a three-way tie between the girls.

Friday Steve showed the movies and served the popcorn. Thank you, Steve!

Saturday was a special day. Santa came out to the Nursing Home with stocking filled with candy and bags of fruit. Penny Ogden played Christmas carols while Santa visited all the residents, talked with them and surprised them with the treats. None of us is ever to old to love and appreciate the joy that Santa brings to Christmas time. The smiles and responses of all the residents to Santa reflected the "child" which "remains" in each of us. A special thank you to the Floydada Fire Department, Alpha Mu Delta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, Larry and Penny Ogden, Mike Reeves, Larry Guthrie... and Santa Clause...for giving the residents a delightful Saturday afternoon.

Sunday Rev. Jim Guess and our friends from Assembly of God Church brought church services to the residents.

A special thanks to Georgia Finley and Kate Crabtree for the material pieces they donated to make lap robes.

How the Animals Discovered Christmas. 12 min. All Ages.

Velvet the Fawn comes upon Bluebird with a broken wing. Old Doc Owl, Buttons the Squirrel and others animals of Cozy Valley find ways of helping Bluebird, and in doing so they also discover the Spirit of Christmas.

The Puppy Who Wanted A Boy. 24 min. El-JH

A delightful, animated story about Sonny, a small and lovable puppy, who goes in search of a boy to love and care for. All ends happily when Sonny not only finds his very own boy, but also twenty more!

Anyone wishing more copies of the cookbook compiled by the women of the First Christian may contact Nancy Hagood. The cookbook is $1.50.

Thanks to the family of Jeffe Smith for sharing the lovely flowers and "thanks" to Mrs. Clark Harris and Deane McAninch representing The Gideon Auxiliary, for preaching the program and The New Testaments to all the nurses and staff of The Home.

loaded his Volkswagen Rabbit into the trailer, with lots of pushing of shoulders and a come-a-long inside. The car motor had thrashed the previous week and all local repair estimates were over $1500, but Ford had a San Antonio estimate for $600, so his vehicle was carried there. All were Saturday night guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller. There was one inch to spare on each side of the VW in the trailer. Thanks to Howard Bishop's neighborliness.

MID-WEEK MAIN DISH MEAL

Mid-week menu planning requires imagination to avoid constant repetition of the same meals. One ingredient that will always keep dishes interesting is a shelf filled with Planters Nuts. A full line is available in cans and jars, both salted and unsalted. The following recipe demonstrates their versatility.

CRUNCHY MEAT STUFFED SHELLS

Makes 26 shells

SAUCE:

- 1 tablespoon Planters Peanut Oil
- 1 clove garlic, crushed
- 2 (6-ounce) cans low-sodium tomato sauce
- 1/2 teaspoon basil leaves

FILLING & SHELLS:

- 1 tablespoon Planters Peanut Oil
- 1/2 cup chopped green pepper
- 1/3 cup chopped onion
- 1 pound ground beef
- 1/2 teaspoon garlic powder
- 1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
- 1 egg
- 1 1/2 cups shredded low-sodium Cheddar cheese
- 3/4 cup Planters Dry Roasted Unsalted Mixed Nuts, chopped
- 26 jumbo shells, prepared without added salt

For sauce, heat peanut oil in medium saucepan over medium high heat; add garlic. Reserve 3 tablespoons tomato sauce for filling; stir in remaining tomato sauce and basil into saucepan. Simmer 10 minutes; set aside.

For filling, heat peanut oil in large skillet over medium high heat; add green pepper and onion; saute until tender. Add ground beef, garlic powder and pepper; cook until meat is browned. Remove from heat; drain excess fat if necessary. Stir in egg, 1 cup Cheddar cheese, mixed nuts and reserved tomato sauce. Stuff cooked shells with meat mixture.

Spread thin layer of prepared tomato sauce in bottom of 11x7x3-inch roasting pan or dish; arrange shells in pan. Cover with remaining prepared sauce and Cheddar cheese. Cover and bake at 350° F. for 25 to 30 minutes or until well heated.

CRUNCHY BRAN ROLLS

Makes 20 rolls

- 4 1/2 to 5 cups unsifted white flour
- 3 cups unsifted whole wheat flour
- 2 1/3 cups warm water (105°F.-115°F.)
- 2 packages Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast
- 1/3 cup sugar
- 4 teaspoons salt
- 1/3 cup margarine, softened
- 1/3 cup instant non-fat dry milk
- 1 cup whole bran cereal
- 1/4 cup (1/2 stick) margarine, melted
- 1 cup crushed whole bran cereal

Combine 3 1/2 cups white flour and whole wheat flour.

Measure warm water into warm bowl. Sprinkle in yeast; stir until dissolved. Add sugar, salt, softened margarine, non-fat dry milk, 3 cups flour mixture and 1 cup whole bran cereal. Beat until smooth. Stir in remaining flour mixture and enough additional white flour to make a stiff dough. Turn out onto lightly floured board, knead until smooth and elastic, about 8 to 10 minutes. Place in a greased bowl, turning to grease top. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until double in bulk, about 1 hour.

Punch dough down; divide into 20 equal pieces. Shape pieces into smooth balls. Dip balls in melted margarine and then in crushed bran cereal. Place in a greased 13x9x2-inch pan. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour 10 minutes.

Bake at 375°F. for 25 minutes, or until done. Remove rolls from pan and cool on wire rack.

VEGETABLES FRANCAISE

- 1 medium head iceberg lettuce
- 2 cups water
- Salt
- 1 pound small white boiling onions
- 1 package (10-ounce) frozen green peas
- 1 tablespoon melted butter or margarine
- 1/2 teaspoon tarragon, crumbled
- 1/8 teaspoon nutmeg

Core, rinse and thoroughly drain lettuce; chill in disposable plastic bag or plastic crisper. Heat water with 1 teaspoon salt to boiling in a 2 1/2-quart saucepan. Add onions, and cook, covered, 10 to 15 minutes depending on size of onions, until almost tender. Place steamer basket in saucepan over onions, add peas to basket. Cover and steam until tender-crisp. Meanwhile shred lettuce coarsely to measure 6 cups. Add to steamer basket and steam 2 to 3 minutes until heated through.

Mound lettuce in center of serving dish. Arrange peas and drained onions around lettuce. Mix butter with tarragon and nutmeg; drizzle over vegetables.

Nuts Improve Vegetable Variety and Flavor

Many of us remember vegetables as being tasteless and overcooked foods we ate for nutrition, but rarely flavor. But this is changing.

For instance, Sweet N' Sour Slaw is one zesty variation of traditional coleslaw. Made with Planters Dry Roasted Unsalted Cashews, cabbage and apple, it is seasoned in a light sauce.

Oriental cooking has always inspired vegetable preparation. Broccoli and carrots taste distinctly unique when stir-fried in oil, garlic and ginger, and sprinkled with Planters Dry Roasted Unsalted Cashews. Try both recipes for a new taste experience that is low in sodium, too.

SWEET N' SOUR SLAW

Makes 6 servings

- 2 tablespoons margarine
- 6 cups coarsely shredded cabbage
- 1 medium onion, sliced
- 1/4 cup cider vinegar
- 2 tablespoons light brown sugar
- 2 teaspoons prepared spicy mustard
- 1 medium apple, cored and sliced
- 1/2 cup Planters Dry Roasted Unsalted Cashews
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley

In medium skillet, over medium heat, melt margarine; saute cabbage and onion 3 to 5 minutes. Stir in vinegar, brown sugar and mustard. Reduce heat; cover

ORIENTAL CASHEW VEGETABLES

Makes 6 to 8 servings

- 1/4 cup Planters Peanut Oil
- 2 cloves garlic, crushed
- 1 1/2 teaspoons ground ginger
- 1 bunch broccoli, coarsely chopped
- 2 cups diagonally sliced carrots
- 1 (8-ounce) can water chestnuts, drained
- 1/2 cup Planters Dry Roasted Unsalted Cashews

In large skillet or wok, heat peanut oil over medium high heat, stir in garlic and ginger. Stir-fry broccoli and chestnuts and cashews; cook 1 minute more.

AROUND THE COUNTY

By Richard Crow

USE CAUTION WITH HOLIDAY LIVESTOCK MARKETING

With the holiday season approaching, livestock producers need to be aware of the hazards of marketing animals during this time of the year.

Richie Crow, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, offers these "tips" for marketing stock during the next few weeks:

--Remember, many local livestock auction markets close over the holidays. It pays to make a phone call before loading up any animals destined for market.

--Most market news reports are also discontinued or skipped certain days during the holiday period. Price information may be hard to find.

--Many ranchers, because of some holiday vacation time, will be spending extra time with their stock. Watch for some possible heavy movements of livestock to markets at times during the next few weeks.

--Christmas and New Year's Day are on Sunday this year and the official holiday is Monday. This normally is a heavy slaughter day--so the supply impact of two Monday holidays this year may be quite substantial.

--Kosher traditions also affect cattle demand. This is especially true when non-slaughtering, Kosher holidays fall close to Christmas holidays. Such conditions can easily cause several days of extremely low slaughter and, thus, drastically affect the demand for cattle.

--Price levels are also influenced by the holidays. In general, if prices for cattle are moving upward going into the holidays, a period of stability usually occurs until the new year arrives. If, however, prices are moving downward, further market weakness during the holidays is a certainty. Fortunately, this year prices should show some strength for the holiday period.

--The demand for red meat is greatly influenced by holidays. Not too many consumers eagerly anticipate a steak dinner on Thanksgiving or Christmas Eve.

"Use caution in marketing decisions" is probably the best advice for livestock producers during the holiday season, says Crow.

CHRISTMAS TREE HINTS

TIPS ON REGULAR TREES--If you're one who still enjoys and appreciates the beauty, color and festive aroma of a traditional cut Christmas tree, here are some tips which will help you select your Yule tree and maintain it in the best possible condition throughout the holiday season:

1. Choose your tree early. Most Christmas trees are cut four or five weeks before they arrive on the lot. The sooner you can get them home and into water, the better.
2. Select a full, dense tree, one that is evenly branched. The branches should be firm and flexible. Shake the branches when selecting to see if needles fall. Fresh, healthy Yule trees do not drop their needles.
3. Select a tree with good green color. This indicates that the choice is fresh, has good needle retention, fragrance, fire resistance and longer holiday beauty.
4. Once you have selected your tree, saw off the lower two inches of the trunk. This will help the tree absorb water, which will insure freshness and lasting qualities.
5. Stand the tree in water in a cool location out of the wind and sun until you are ready to trim the tree. When it's time to trim the tree, place it in a tree stand that holds water and keep it filled during the long holiday.
6. Place your tree in the coolest location possible indoors, away from the open fireplace, radiators and heaters.
7. Always check the condition of electrical cords and lights before placing them on the tree. Christmas trees are extremely combustible and a short in the wiring can cause a serious fire.
8. Never leave the lights turned on when leaving the house or when retiring.

While it might seem a great waste to cut down thousands of trees every year, just to have something to hang ornaments on at Christmas, we really should not criticize this practice.

The majority of trees cut for Christmas are grown specifically for that purpose on commercial Christmas Tree Farms. They are just as much a crop as fruits and vegetables. In addition, we can be sure that, like fruits and vegetables, these trees are carefully replanted for future harvest.

CARE OF LIVING TREES--A live Christmas tree can be both decorative and provide pleasure for many years provided they have been given proper care. Plants frequently used as living Christmas trees include Deodar Cedar, Eastern Red Cedar, Arizona Cypress, Yaupon Holly, Norfolk Island Pine, and Ficus Benjaminia (weeping fig).

Any of these can be beautifully adapted and decorated as a living Christmas tree. A variety of sizes to fit every taste and pocketbook is available at local nurseries.

No matter which Yule tree you may choose, the success you have in keeping it green and growing after Christmas will depend on the care you give it while it is in your home. Here are some suggestions for caring for your tree:

- * Do not subject your living tree to hot, dry household air for longer than two weeks.
- * Keep the tree in as cool a location as possible.
- * Keep it out of drafts and away from heating vents.
- * Provide as much natural light as possible.
- * Place the root ball or container in an attractive tub that has been lined with heavy plastic to protect the floor from moisture.
- * Water the tree only when the soil starts to dry out. Twice a week should be sufficient.

Farmers face options of leasing or buying equipment

When a farmer or rancher needs new equipment or machinery, is leasing or buying the best option?

Dr. Ashley Lovell of Stephenville, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, has analyzed these options for some alternative data obtained from several farm equipment dealers.

Total net cash flow after taxes indicated a negligible difference between leasing or buying, Lovell says. However, after annual net cash flows were converted or discounted to present dollar values, buying was estimated to be $383 less expensive than leasing for one set of data which was analyzed.

"However, one should not mistakenly conclude that buying is always less expensive than leasing," Lovell cautions. "Different assumptions about discount rates and income tax factors can significantly affect costs of the options."

Results of an analysis several years ago by Dr. John Hopkin, professor of agricultural economics at Texas A&M University, indicated that the cash purchase choice was best at a low opportunity cost of capital, says Lovell. Hopkin also found that credit purchases were optimum over medium discount ranges and leasing was the most profitable method at high opportunity rates of return.

Lovell's study reveals that cost differences between various dealers represented various brands of equipment ranged as widely as differences between buying and leasing.

"In the 1980s, many producers may decide that leasing rather than traditional owning of equipment is the best alternative," says Lovell. "They need to identify advantages and shortcomings of financial leases. Just as in financing equipment purchases, read and study the lease contract. Seek competent farm management, legal and tax advice before trying something new," he advises.

1983 marks the 25th anniversary year of the NFR and the tenth consecutive year that Hesston Corporation has sponsored the telecast.

The telecast will open with a 30-minute "Countdown to Glory," highlighting early action from the week-long finals and featuring segments from the first NFR in 1959. There will also be interviews with champions from the 1959 NFR. The "Countdown" will be immediately followed by 90-minute coverage of the tenth and final championship performance. Most of ProRodeo's world championships, including the All-Around Cowboy, are decided during this performance.

Recognized as the "World Series" or "Super Bowl" of ProRodeo, the NFR climaxes more than 600 Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association (P.R.C.A.) sanctioned rodeos held throughout the United States and Canada in 1983.

At the NFR, the top 15 money winners for the year in the six standard ProRodeo events will vie for world championship titles and a portion of the largest purse in rodeo history. The telecast will carry bareback bronc riding, steer wrestling, team roping, saddle bronc riding, calf roping and bull riding. Women's Professional Rodeo Association barrel racing will also be featured.

Commercial announcements during the telecast will feature the Prime Line of farm equipment available from Hesston Corporation, plus Hesston's new collector's rodeo belt buckle. The new 1983 Anniversary buckle is the first edition in an all-new Hesston buckle series. It is available at participating Hesston dealers.

Four High Students named to Who's Who's

Shawnda Brock, Sr.; Aurora Garcia, Sr.; Karyne Maye Foster, Sr. and Jesusa Saucedo, graduate of 83, have been included in the 17th annual edition of WHO'S WHO AMONG AMERICAN HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS, 1982-83.

WHO'S WHO, published by Educational Communications, Inc., Lake Forest, Illinois, is the largest high school recognition publication in the country. Students are selected by high school principals and guidance counselors, national youth groups, churches or by the publishing company base upon student's performance in scholarship award contests or extra-curricular activities.

Final selection is determined on the basis of criteria which include high achievement in academics and leadership in school activities, athletics or community service. Traditionally, 99 percent of WHO'S WHO students have a grade point average of "B" or better and 97 percent are college bound.

WHO'S WHO students also compete for over $50,000 in scholarship awards and participate in the publication's annual opinion poll of teen attitudes. The book is distributed on a complimentary basis to over 15,000 high schools, colleges, universities, and public libraries throughout the country.

STRENGTHENING FAMILIES: IMPROVING COMMUNICATION

Families seem to come in more shapes and sizes than ever before. In our own community we see many examples of traditional "nuclear" families, single-parent families, "blended" families resulting from remarriage, dual-income families, retired-couple families, childless families, newlyweds, extended families and adoptive families.

Each type of family probably has its own unique set of problems. For example, in families where both parents are employed, they may feel they don't have enough time with their children. Yet a parent who stays home may feel the pressure of too much time spend in childcare.

Strong families -- regardless of type -- seem to have some skills and traits that help them deal effectively with their problems. Researchers in family relations tell us that one of the key traits of a strong family is good communication. They describe how these families communicate at follows:

- * Strong families do more than have feelings of appreciation. They express feelings in words and actions. They let each other know they are special.

- * Strong families spend a great amount of time together in work and play. They enjoy being together.

- * Strong families don't just happen to have more time to spend together; they look at "activity overload" and intentionally cut down on outside activities that fragment family life.

- * Strong families have developed the ability to look beyond each member's faults to see their needs. They put forth the effort to hear what the other person is saying and feeling.

- * Quarrels and disagreements are very much a part of most families. But the strong ones know how to get the issues out front and attack these issues rather than each other.

- * Why do strong families communicate well? Maybe it's because they are committed to promoting the happiness of each other through actively helping and sharing in the concerns of other family members.

South Plains News

By Mrs. Murray Julian

Dr. Fred Howard from Plainview began his teaching of his book, "Guidelines for God's People" based on a study of 1st Corinthians, beginning November 27th and Dr. Howard will be teaching each Sunday night for 3 more weeks on the book. You are welcome to attend the teachings at the First Baptist Church in Floydada.

Mrs. M.M. Julian left Wednesday for Roscoe where she spent Thanksgiving with her son and family, Terry and Leona Julian and granddaughter, Dr. and Mrs. Bill Barnes, and her great grandson, 2 year old Jason, from Commerce, who were also there. A big family dinner was enjoyed Thursday, Thanksgiving, with around 20 there. Mrs. Julian came home Saturday, facing heavy winds, and rain, which began at Post, and was pretty strong the rest of the way. One of the lovely sights she saw as she came home were four male pheasants visiting together under a thick tree south of Floydada.

The Christmas Luncheon for the South Plains Hobby Club will be held at Crosbyton at the White House Cafe there, at 12 noon, on December 7. Hostesses for the luncheon are Mrs. Navolia Kinslow and Mrs. Neta Marble. Please bring $2-$3 gift for exchange at the Christmas luncheon. Mrs. Sara Probasco will be bringing a reading, "Let's Keep Christmas."

Mrs. Mamie Wood was home with her neighbors and friends for a few days this past week and had Thanksgiving here at the Riley Teagues in Floydada, and this Tuesday evening, November 29th, she will be going to Lubbock to attend the 25th Wedding Anniversary celebration of her daughter, Juanelle and James Teague, which will be held at 7:00 p.m. at the Monterey Church of Christ in Lubbock.

Present with Mr. and Mrs. Bobbie and Sylvan Kinnibrugh for Thanksgiving Day were her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Edith and Ray Dillard of Lockney, Mrs. Beth Spain and Latham from Plainview, Mrs. Melissa Horne and Melissa Horne, who were with them for the special occasion. Reports are this Monday that 7 inches of new snow has fallen in Ruidoso, which is making a good ski season coming up.

Week before Thanksgiving week seven brothers and sister of the Fitzgerald families met for a family reunion at the home of one of the sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Pete and Eunice Land of Clarendon. Seven family members with their wives or husbands met for a get together from Friday through Sunday. Mrs. Mary Cobb was the only one of the family who could not attend, as she is in the Floydada Convalescent Home. Mrs. Letha Mulder from here reported what a wonderful meeting they all had. One brother and wife came from San Diego, California, and a sister came from Fort Worth.

Spending Thanksgiving in Floydada with Mrs. Fern Bethel were her sons and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Royce Bethel, Shelly and Jamie, Mr. and Mrs. Rogene Bethel, Amy and Robert, a granddaughter, Mrs. La Sandra Lengal and daughter, Crystal from Center, and Mrs. Bethel's brother and wife, from Clarendon, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Holsenbeck.

The South Plains PTA has cancelled their plans for the Finger Printing Session which had been scheduled for December 7 here, and they are encouraging the parents who are interested and wish to have their children finger printed to go to Lockney on December 9th, to the Lockney Elementary School, on Friday from 1:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. where the children will be finger printed.

South Plains, December 5:

This week here at the South Plains Baptist Church the Week of Prayer for Foreign Missions is being stressed from December 4-December 11. The Lottie Moon annual Christmas offering will be taken and the church has a goal of $257.00. Theme for the Mission study is, "Because He first loved us."

Next Sunday, December 11, Rev. Cecil and Joyce Osborne will have Open House at their home, for all members of the church and friends. The hours for the holiday gathering will be from 3:00 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. Sunday afternoon.

This is a busy week here at South Plains with Open House at the Parsonage Sunday afternoon, and during the week the South Plains Hobby Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Neta Marble, and will go in a body to Crosbyton. They will meet at 11:00 a.m. and go to Crosbyton where they will have their Christmas party at the White House Restaurant. Bring a Christmas package to exchange at the party. Mrs. Sara Probasco will be bringing a Christmas reading for the luncheon. The date is December 7, at 11:00 a.m. Hostesses are Navolia Kinslow and Neta Marble.

Mrs. Cecil Osborne went to Muleshoe Sunday afternoon and brought her mother, Mrs. Corda Taylor here to spend some time visiting here with them.

Mrs. Kathy Mulder is hostess at a Tupperware Party in her home this Monday afternoon, at 2:00 p.m. with Jean Reeves, demonstrating the products.

Our hearts have been saddened by the death of Dusty Burleson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley and Lou Burleson, who are our neighbors to the south of South Plains. Services were held in Floydada at the Methodist Church at 2:00 p.m. Sunday, and a great number of our people attended. Dusty was a college student at Clarendon, and met his death in a wreck.

Today we have more sad news, as

W.H. Simmons, brother-in-law of Sylvan and Bobbie Kinnibrugh is gravely ill, in a hospital in Haskell, where he was taken last week. Mr. and Mrs. Kinnibrugh are there in Haskell, where they have been for several days, at the bedside of W.H. Simmons.

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling and Gleyann Earle Cummings left Sunday to go to Arlington where they were to attend the funeral of Sterling's aunt. There is so much bad news everywhere.

Visiting in the home of his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Smitherman of Floydada, was Macyl Orman of Burnet, who came Sunday afternoon for a visit here.

Thanksgiving Day guests at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hamm, were Mrs. Pat Huff (Jeaneva) and children, Duane and Marlina, of Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Staples, Bill, Stacy and Kevin. They all enjoyed a 20# turkey and all the trimmings at the family get-together.

Stacey Staples was the happy winner of the Grand Prize, last Saturday night in Floydada at the Volunteer Fire Fighters, "Magic of Christmas", at the high school auditorium, Dec. 3rd, at 7:00 p.m. Stacey received as prize the game, Intellivision II, and a video cartridge. They want to thank each one, who helped all the children have such a good time, and Stacey wishes to especially thank the lady who gave the ticket that she drew. It is a wonderful prize.

Several from the South Plains area went to Lubbock, Tuesday, Nov. 29th for the 25th Wedding Anniversary celebration that was held at the Monterey Church of Christ, for Mr. and Mrs. Juanell and James Teague. The celebration was held at 7:00 p.m. and a reception followed the renewing of their wedding vows. Children of the couple are Earl, Bodie Joe and Tim. Mrs. Mamie Wood was home for the happy event.

Stacey Staples celebrated her twelfth birthday on Saturday, November 26th, in Plainview at the Skating Rink, with a skating party for 12 boys and girls. Time for the party was 10-12 a.m. in Plainview. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard and Annela Staples.

Card of Thanks

We would like to thank everyone for the cards, calls, and other expressions of sympathy after the death of my father. Thank you, Audie and Ruth Nolan L12-8p

We would like to thank our many friends and relatives for making our 60th wedding anniversary so special and memorable. We would also like to thank our family for the lovely dinner party they hosted on our behalf. Thanks again for the beautiful cards and gifts and to all of you for sharing the joy of this occasion with us. Ruby & Elmer Barrett L12-8p

Not knowing the ones responsible for the lovely gesture to teachers and retired teachers with the dinner and entertainment the night of Dec. 3rd; I am using this method to thank them. I have always admired the originality in the festive affairs the Lockney people have given. The Xmas gift baskets of greenery containing a polished apple for teacher was an example. However, school patrons have never failed to give teachers hearty support. I shall always remember the years I enjoyed working with Lockney students and their parents. So as one of the retired teachers, I thank you for a most enjoyable evening. Mrs. R.S. Zeigler (Mrs. Z.)

Dear Friends: We would like to express our deepest thanks to all who have made our sorrow easier to bear in the loss of our dear loved one. Thanks for all the food, visits, calls, cards and memorials. Thanks to Bro. Bradley for the beautiful memorial service, to Steve for the songs so beautifully sung, to Roberta for the music. For Dr. Hong and Dr. Hale and Caprock staff we thank you. May God bless each of you. Mrs. Marvin Rape Mr. & Mrs. Leslie Nixon & boys Mr. & Mrs. Steve Barton & family Mr. & Mrs. Randy Rape & family 12-8p

We extend deep appreciation to all who did so much for us during our recent sorrow. We wish to express our thanks to Dr. W.J. Mangold, Dr. Gary Mangold and the nursing staff for their professional care and thoughtful concern. We are grateful to our good friends and neighbors for their thoughtful expressions of sympathy through floral offerings, memorials, food, cards, phone calls and your many visits. Your kindnesses have meant so much to us. Mrs. Clay Muncy The Muncy Family The Meredith Family 12-8p
