By Ken Towery

If you ever wonder, gentle reader, why any American government has such a difficult time sustaining anything resembling a coherent foreign policy that protects the interests of this country, consider the following:

Recently there appeared in Austin one Gennadi Vassiliev, the "foreign affairs" columnist for Pravda, the official newspaper of the Soviet Union's Communist Party. Mr. Vassiliev is an avowed atheist and, of course a disciplined member of the Communist party. He was sent to America to interpret "foreign affairs" in American for his readers back in the Soviet Union. He spent about a week in Austin talking to various groups on "How the Soviet people are involved in peacemaking." The bottom line of Mr. Vassiliev's comments, of course, was that the current problems between the Soviet Union and United States are the fault of Mr. Reagan's narrow ideological views and that this is increasing the risk of nuclear war.

It may or may not come as a surprise to you to find out that his host for the Austin trip was the United Campus Ministry of Austin. During his speech at the University of Texas, Vassiliev explained the downing of the Korean jet, and noted that there was no problem in the Soviet Union with persecution of Jews. Reports of problems concerning Jews in the Soviet Union, he said, are simply invented and "do not exist."

Then he was invited over to the Gethseman Lutheran Church where he continued his line, and where members were asked to contribute an "honorarium" to defray his expenses. Wayne Bryan, director of the United Campus Ministry explained that "he came to Austin at our invitation so we wanted to help pay his expenses. We would do the same thing if we had invited the Secretary of State to come and exchange ideas with us."

But don't hold your breath, gentle reader, until they get around to inviting the American Secretary of State to come down and "exchange ideas" with them. If they did, and if he came, I doubt they would take up an offering for him, and I imagine he would be met with more hostility than was exhibited in this case.

In the Soviet Union there are two major "newspapers". One is Pravda, the official paper of the Soviet Union's Communist Party. The other is Izvestia, the official paper of the government itself. No one is allowed to publish a newspaper in the Soviet Union except "the people", which means the government, its agents, or the party which controls the government.

Pravda means "truth" and Izvestia means "news". Inside the Soviet Union there is a standing joke that is told when the wrong people are not listening. It goes thusly: "There's no news in Pravda and no truth in Izvestia."

Pravda serves Izvestia and Izvestia serves Pravda and they both serve the Communist Party of the Soviet Union, and by extension, the interests of the Soviet Union worldwide. The people there, particularly the Christians and Jews who are persecuted continually and unmercifully, know this, even if their brethren in America do not, or do not care.

Two quick political notes: Since confession is always good for the soul, I must confess I was wrong in thinking, and writing, that Kent Hance would not "make the grade". I know the election is not over yet; there is still the runoff, and Doggett may well get more of Mr. Krueger's supporters than Hance does. But Hance's race finally came alive the last two weeks of the election, and if he continues in that vein he will have a good chance of being the Democratic nominee against Phil Gramm in November. I hate to bring it up, but I predicted that Doggett would "run a strong second," and go into a runoff with Krueger. He ran a strong second, all right, but he ran a few hundred votes behind Hance, not Krueger.

And we apologize for bringing you

Floydada to promote MHMR

Central Plains MHMR Center has joined with the other 630 members of the National Council of Community Mental Health Centers and mental health agencies nationwide in observing May as Mental Health Month. Along with other community mental health centers, Central Plains MHMR Center is using the theme "Community Center for a Caring Community" to emphasize its unique role in the mental health care system.

"Through their community mental health center, residents of Floyd County have access locally to services designed to promote mental 'wellness' and treat a variety of mental health related problems," Rick Van Hersh, executive director, continued. "Central Plains MHMR Center is part of a nationwide system of agencies delivering care at the local level.

"There is a wide range of mental health resources in this area, and, during Mental Health Month, everyone is urged to familiarize themselves with all the available services. Your local center provides service to a nine-county area covering some 12,000 square miles with a total of 2,777 clients being served in FY83. It is the only MHMR service between Amarillo and Lubbock and provides family and marriage counseling, individual therapy, substance abuse services, service to developmentally disabled children and adults, as well as providing educational programs and classes to the community. Center outreach offices are located in Dimmitt, Muleshoe, Littlefield, Tulia and Floydada."

Should parole be considered?

By Cindy Smith

According to a statewide poll released by Senator J.E. Brown, a majority of Texans are against early parole of prisoners to relieve jail overcrowding and would rather have new prison facilities built even if it meant raising taxes.

"As a private citizen," District Judge George Miller states, "I would favor paying additional taxes determined by the State Legislature that it considers necessary for adequate prisons."

Brown said that the sentiment against early parole of prisoners cut across ideological lines, with liberals, moderates and conservatives favoring new prison facilities over early parole.

Concerning early parole, Judge Miller reported to The Hesperian that he believes that "the parole policy in the past years has been lenient. The Legislative and Executive branches will make corrections. The parole policy has often been beyond the state authority's control."

"Many citizens seemed concerned that early releases were becoming more frequent and that prisoners were spending less time in prisons. As one sheriff said when a jury sentences a convicted felon to 10 years in prison, 'they don't expect to see him on the streets of their community in two years.'" Brown repeated.

When asked how knowledgeable the average juryperson is in Floyd County, Hollums said that in his opinion "the average citizen does not know very much about the law or the jury system."

Judge Miller stated that "most jurors know the person convicted will be eligible for parole." Part of the instructions presented to jurors before deliberations are as follows:

"Jurors are not to discuss or consider the Indeterminate Sentence Law, or possible actions of the Board of Pardons and Paroles or how long the defendant will be required to serve the punishment which the jury will assess."

"One of former Governor Clement's proposals would have changed these instructions," Miller states, "however, that proposal contained some serious legislative objections and failed in the Legislature."

Prisoners must serve 2/3s of the time sentenced before they are eligible for parole. However, according to District Attorney John R. Hollums that does not mean 2/3s of the calendar (actual days) sentenced because prisoners can receive 'good time credit'. Good time includes extra credit for education courses and serving in some capacity as a trustee. It is conceivable to receive nine days credit for each day served. If a convict is sentenced to 10 years, it is possible for him to serve as little as 1 1/2 years. Although the average is two or three days credit for each day served according to the Texas Department of Corrections.

In the opinion of Judge Miller, "the parole system, as it exists today, has some merit and Texans do not need to do away with the system entirely. One of the most necessary changes in the parole system would be to secure as good a character profile as possible on all prisoners. Those determined to be a threat and danger to society, should be kept in prison even though they may be first offenders and have not committed a series of crimes."

Judge Miller is "impressed" with the extension of Sam Houston State University located at Huntsville. "After visiting with out-of-state judges, I am convinced that the penal system in Texas is one of the best in comparison with other states of the Union."

Bo Black, of the Texas Department of Corrections in Huntsville, in a conversation with The Hesperian, released the following information: "Although California is a more populous state, Texas has more inmates who are confined to penitentiaries proper than any other state. The current number of penal inmates tallies 35,434. The cost of incarceration is $14.57 per inmate per day. This figure is also less than any other state's. In 1982, the number of convicts who were repeat offenders was 19.5% of the number of prisoners paroled. This statistic was below the national average which was 30% during the same period of time."

Hollums said he is convinced that it "often better to place the person on probation, rather than in prison. This method often results in less repeat offenders." Miller agrees with this premise and states that statistics support this.

MARY MONTANDON'S likeness of Dora Gonzales of Lockney is only one of her exhibits to be seen during May.

M. Montandon featured

The featured artist at the First National Bank in Floydada for the month of May is Mary Montandon, postmaster at Aiken.

Mrs. Montandon's medium is oils and pastels. Her favorite painting subject is portraits or landscapes with people in them. Her landscapes usually depict rural Texas scenes from the Hill Country of Central Texas to the farm scenes of West Texas from days of the past or today. Many are painted from childhood memories.

Her portraits are usually painted from the live model or a combination of sittings and photographs.

Mrs. Montandon has been painting more than 25 years. She had taught art two years before becoming postmaster. She occasionally offers workshops for an eight week session.

Mrs. Montandon and her husband, F.L., have three sons. Mark has recently gone into aerial spraying in the Sandhill community. Francis is a ministerial student in Lubbock. Paul is a machinist in Hot Sulphur Springs, Colorado. The couple have four grandchildren.

The artist took up painting seriously when her youngest son started to school. She has studied with Daniel Greene, Albert Handell, William Henry Earle, the late Ramon Froman, and the late Henrietta Ludeman.

The public is invited to visit during banking hours this month to see many of her works.

this bit of information late: The press of time, limitations of space and perhaps one or two other factors conspired to have the story delayed.

About three weeks before the May 5 Primary, our Commissioner of Agriculture Jim Hightower announced in Austin that he was taking steps to assist black farmers in holding on to their farms. Hightower said he would accomplish this by appointing more black people to policy boards within the Texas Department of Agriculture. Mr. Hightower wished to publicize this fact, and we are happy to oblige. Earlier he had endorsed Mr. Doggett for the Senate race.

EVA LEE NICHOLS, mother of six, began making dolls as a hobby after her children left home.

Mother adopts children

"A good mother is the loving foundation upon which the home is built, the guardian of the small lives she has borne. Tenderly she nurtures the precious souls entrusted to her care, gratefully thanking God for the individual beauty, personality, and talents of each child and humbly praying for the wisdom and understanding to help each attain a sense of his own self-worth and special niche in God's wondrous world."

These words portray the very essence of the life of Mrs. James Nichols, mother of six who has fostered and raised her family in the Floyd County area.

Raised as a "country girl", Eva Lee attended the school at Dougherty and high school in Floydada. Her father was a carpenter and ginner, who often did grain elevator work. She had only one brother. It was her mother who influenced her life so greatly. She can see her mother in everything that she has done, from mannerisms, the style of cooking, and the method of disciplining her children, which, she says "consisted of the usual smacks, and a lot of talking tempered with love." She, in turn, can see herself in her daughters, in their creativeness and the way they instill old fashioned values in their own children.

Eva Lee and her husband James, who now is employed at Producers Elevator, raised their brood on the farm. "We lived a simple life and used what we raised. There was always a lot of work to keep the children occupied and out of trouble," she reminisced.

The Nichols family is scattered, but still remains close. Nancy Campbell, the oldest, lives in Kansas City, Missouri, and has two daughters. James Nichols, Jr. lives across the alley from his parents in Floydada and also has two children. Irving, Texas is the home of Jackie Cockrell with her two children. Billy Nichols, who is in the Navy, is stationed at San Diego, California. Tammie Murry, whose husband is also in the Navy, lives with her husband in California. Ricky, the youngest, lives down the street from his parents in Floydada.

"Without a doubt, the happiest moments in my life were when the children were born." Laughing, Eva Lee said "I was always so busy, I never had time to stop and consider if I was happy."

The children, the focal point of Eva Lee's life were loved and treasured, regardless of when they came along. Special occasions were always extra special, because of the atmosphere and affection the large family generated.

"One of the most unforgettable experiences," Eva Lee recalls, "was during the Iranian crisis. Billy, the middle son, was stationed overseas in the Indian Ocean. His ship, the USS Constellation, had started home, but was ordered back as a result of the hostage situation."

Comical occasions happen in all families, but larger ones seem to have more than their share. Eva Lee recalled that with so many children she constantly worried about losing one. One day the family was visiting with the maternal grandparents, the Lloyd McCrays. Leaving, they decided to stop for hamburgers before heading home to Lakeview. No one noticed that they were short one child until they had turned onto the Lakeview Highway. They had left Ricky sleeping at his grandparents'.

Describing their mother, Nancy, the oldest daughter, stated warmly, "She has always been a very loving and caring individual, and this love has extended toward the community. She instilled values, to respect and have compassion for others. We could not have had a better mother."

In honoring Mrs. James Nichols on Mothers Day, it is appropriate to print this essay by Louise Corder for her and all mothers.

"A good mother is the first and most loving teacher that the child will know, the most soothing nurse that will ever attend him, and his most understanding judge on earth. A good mother is her child's dearest and most faithful friend. He is always in her heart and mind, and she never ceases to sacrifice, work, and pray for what is best for him. A good mother is a shining beacon on the sea of life."

TOM SAWYER TO BE PRESENTED—Mark Twain did not invent the paddlewheel riverboats steaming up and down the Mississippi River, but he created the indelible impression most Americans have of those colorful, exciting times.

He did not originate boyhood either, but he did create two characters, Tom Sawyer and Huck Finn, who are the carefree, fun-loving symbols of boyhood itself. To bring back nostalgia and memories of those days, the Gifted and Talented class of R.C. Andrews invites you to their musical version of "Tom Sawyer". There will be two performances Thursday, May 10, at 7:00 p.m. and Friday, May 11, at 9:00 a.m. in the R.C. Andrews gym at no charge.

City rescinds penalty

Tuesday night's regular meeting of the city council got underway with the presenting of a plaque to Boone Adams for his service and dedication on the council the past four years.

Southwestern Public Service has recently had a ruling handed down to them by the Public Utility Commission stating that it is unlawful for them to charge their residential customers a 5% penalty after the 15th of the month on a past due account. The council approved the same billing practice with no penalty being charged on past due accounts for residential customers, but SPS and the City will make that charge to their commercial customers. The City will still have a cut off on the 21st day. This will be effective with the next billing.

Three city vehicles were awarded to the highest bidder submitting sealed bids, opened at the meeting.

A bid of $201 was submitted by Linda Turner and $650 by City Auto for a 1978 Chevrolet Caprice Classic 4 door sedan, the bid going to City Auto. Bids for the 1975 Chevrolet Bel Air 4 door sedan were as follows: Joe Falcon, $300; Clovis Myrick, $351.50; and City Auto, $375.00. The bid was awarded to City Auto. Bobby Welborn was awarded the bid at $125 for a 1972 GMC 1/2 ton pickup. The one other bid was submitted by City Auto for $75.

Councilmen Leroy Burns, Wayne Russell, Gary Carthel, Don Green, and Frank Breed considered the matter of the salary for the sheriff's dispatcher. Bill Feuerbacher and Mayor Parnell Powell explained that through a contract entered into approximately 15 years ago by the City of Floydada, the county and the City of Lockney each of the cities agreed to pay a dispatcher's salary for the combined services of four dispatchers for all three entities.

Last year $10,068 was paid by the City of Floydada for the salary. This year the county proposed that that figure be increased to $13,901.40 to include the fringe benefits being paid the dispatchers by the county to include $65.73 of social security, $87.00 insurance, and $65.73 in retirement. The city had budgeted $13,768 this year for that purpose. After some discussion, Councilman Russell made a motion that only the amount of increase that had been budgeted be approved. Don Green seconded the motion, and the councilmen were all in favor.

Among other business discussed was the purchasing of sand and gravel for paving to be done on East Virginia from the railroad tracks west to Main Street for 1 1/2 blocks and five blocks of paving on Fifth north from Virginia to Price Street. The matter was tabled to pursue some other suggestions as to paving other areas and the number of residents to be served.

Dr. A.E. Guthrie was appointed City Health Authority, which was a title change from City Health Officer. Guthrie has served in that capacity for a number of years.

Other matters of business discussed included the removal of the old dumpsters and the progress made on the airport. Feuerbacher said the airport situation was in the hands of FAA in Albuquerque and they were waiting for word from them.

"The Many Faces of Duke," a leather pictorial depicting some of screen immortal John Wayne's more popular character portrayals, and created by Bill Gray, leather artist from Floydada, is now on display at Lubbock's Garden and Arts Center. Each month, the Lubbock Art Association selects a work of one of its members to be featured in the lobby of the Garden and Arts Center, located at 4215 University Ave. Completed in January, 1984, this leather art was selected as a circuit winner of the Lubbock Art Association's Spring "Gala", and was displayed at the Sizzlin Sirlon in Lubbock during March. It was also shown at the First National Bank in Floydada the first two weeks of April.
"The Many Faces of Duke," created in hand-carved, full-colored leather is a collection of the following John Wayne movie roles: "Sands of Iwo Jima," "The Alamo", "True Grit", "The Green Berets", "She Wore a Yellow Ribbon", and "Chisum." A traditional Wayne pose is the central figure in the work.
Gray is currently preparing a unique, 3-dimensional work for the up-coming Lubbock Art Association's Art Classic IV in June, which will be a juried art show. During the month of September, 1984, he will have a one-man showing at the First National Bank of Floydada, featuring a number of original and unusual creations of leather art.

Officers, committees named by club

1934 Study Club met May 1 for their final meeting of the club year in the home of Mrs. J.S. Hale, Jr. Club members enjoyed a salad supper with members of the program committee acting as hostesses.

The president, Mrs. W.H. Bunch presided a brief business meeting. She thanked the committees for their part in a year of interesting meetings.

Mrs. Bunch introduced a former long time member, Mrs. Allen Bingham as her special guest to preside over the installation of new officers.

As Mrs. Bingham developed her theme "The Touch of the Master's Hand" she challenged each officer to place her instrument of service under the "Touch of His Hand."

President, Mrs. M.J. McNeill is representative of the G-string basic to the violin and basic officer who sets the tempo and produces the tones of harmony.

First vice president, Mrs. Milton Ashton, and second vice president, Mrs. J.R. Turner, must be able to assume duties of president as basic string if necessary.

Recording secretary, Mrs. G.W. Switzer represents the A-string which is the most used string. Mrs. Bingham urged her to record what was done and not said and to do it correctly.

Mrs. Vernon Parker, corresponding secretary, should make pleasing music with the letters she writes with her knowledge of club policy.

The treasurer, Mrs. J.P. Moss, also like the most used A-string is a trusted and dependable officer.

Reporter, Mrs. W.W. Trapp represents the E-string which sounds the highest clearest note, essential in her work with the public.

Custodian, Mrs. Dennis Dempsey, and parliamentarian, Mrs. W.H. Bunch, represent the D-string, the least string, but all the strings must stay tune so these two offices must never be overlooked.

Mrs. Bingham closed the installation with the poem, "The Touch of The Master's Hand."

During a brief "address", the new president, Mrs. McNeill appointed her committees. These are as follows:

Program committee: Mmes. J.R. Turner, chairman; Kyle Glover, J.S. Hale, Jr., Floyd Lawson, Vernon Parker, L.D. Simpson, Anthony Latta, Alan Benson, and Holt.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Florence Van Hoose

Monday morning devotions were by Trinity Church. Bill Webster, Mildred Thrasher, Lillie Cranford, and Dartha Westbrook sang. I read some scripture about Heaven, and Bill prayed for the residents. In the afternoon Kim was here for music therapy. We would like to express our appreciation for the beautiful rose bush that was set out in front of the Nursing Home by the Floyd County Homemakers Extension Club. It has pretty red roses on it already.

Tuesday morning devotions were by Rev. and Mrs. Neeley Richardson. Gwen enjoyed having their daughter, Gwen McDonald from Charleston, South Carolina and their son, Wayland Richardson and his children, Jeremy and Misty and Heather from Plainview with us for devotion. Rev. Neeley spoke from Isaiah 53. In the afternoon we had a good time of Bible study. Eleven were present.

Wednesday morning we had a good group for "coffee and socialization." Everyone was concerned about the tornado that hit Matador and there was quite a bit of talk about that. We have several residents from the area living here in the Home.

Wednesday morning devotions were by City Park Church of Christ. The singers were Perry Zumwalt, Elva Blum, Eva Tackett, Ruby Hartsell, Mary Spears, Beulah Baker, Lorilla Bradley, and Myrtle Switzer. Perry Zumwalt spoke from Mark 12:38 about giving, sacrificing, without bringing honor to ourselves. It is more blessed to give than receive, not necessarily money but give of ourselves. Do good to others. In the afternoon we played bingo. Sue Thompson bingo'ed the most times. Beno Wilson bingo'ed first and got the quarter this week. Ona Jameson, Ollie Birnie and Addie Lindley bingo'ed on the blackout game. Bananas, sugar free candy, gum and plain candy were the prizes. This is an activity that the residents look forward to each week. Twelve residents played.

Thursday we went on the bus ride to Matador and rode around to look at the results of the tornado. We stopped and visited with Emmitt Lawrence's daughter for a little while then went to Billie Dean's Drive-in and he gave us ice cream cones and cold drinks. Everyone certainly did enjoy that.

Friday morning devotions were by Mary Corley and Nettie Adams. Mary spoke about how short our lives are compared with eternity, and she told the story of Ruth. In the afternoon we had a donut break then we played basketball. Those residents playing were Beno Wilson, Sue Thompson, Ruth Benson, Emmitt Lawrence, Irene Fuller, and Una Clark. Una got the ball into the basket the most times and won the prizes.

Fishing reported good at Lake Mackenzie

Randy Wassum, Sarl Levassar and Larry Farley from Amarillo caught a nice stringer of Bass weighing from 2 1/2 to 6 1/4 pounds, in Lake Mackenzie Saturday evening, May 5, 1984.
Emmett Tomlin, assistant manager for the Mackenzie Water Authority, definitely feels that fertilizing the vegetation in the lake last summer has greatly improved the fishing. The water temperature is high enough now that all fish are moving into the shallow water to feed and almost everyone is catching fish. Bass, crappi, channel cat and walleye are being caught in good numbers. Some nice channel cat are being caught on trotlines. The fishing will continue to improve now that the weather is getting warmer and the fish have started spawning.

Grace Lemons' brother, J.E. Anderson of Abilene is still in Lackland Military Hospital after completing a series of chemotherapy. He developed an infection and it cleared, but he was taken to emergency surgery Friday where they removed a blood vessel from another infection. He is improving at this time.

Gertrude Hammitt of Plainview visited Edna Gilly Sunday afternoon. Get ready to attend a revival at the Assembly of God Church beginning May 16th through the 20th with Bro. Jenkins doing the preaching. Blessed is the man who is too busy to worry in the day time, and too sleepy to worry at night.

FISD releases TABS scores for '84

School administrators and board members reviewed the results of the 1984 TABS tests for students in grades, 3, 5, and 9 at the May meeting of the Board of Education. TABS tests are given to assess minimum mathematics, reading, and writing skills which the Texas Education Agency deems necessary.

Students at the third grade level were above state expectancy of 85 per cent mastery in 7 of 10 objectives in math and 5 of 8 objectives in reading. Students showed gains in mastery of the writing objectives over last year in all but one objective, spelling. The spelling objective was 100 per cent mastery last year and currently 96 per cent mastery. Students did not do as well in written composition as last year as stricter scoring criteria was applied. This will be an area targeted for improvement for the 1985 tests.

Students in grade 5 showed significant gains in all but one objective in mathematics as 7 of 12 objectives surpassed the 85 per cent mastery level set by the state. Reading scores reflected 6 of 11 objectives were above state expectancy level with gains over last year in 5 objectives. Writing skills were above state expectancy in all but 2 objectives. Students in grade 5 did not perform as well on written composition. The spelling objective was mastered by 99 per cent of the students.

Ninth grade results showed that 61 of 74 students mastered the mathematics portion of the test; 66 of 74 showed mastery in reading; 64 of 74 showed mastery in writing. In keeping with local school board policy, students not demonstrating mastery in any area of the test will be retested until mastery is achieved. Seniors in 1989 will be required to pass all areas of TABS for graduation. This year's graduating seniors have all mastered the TABS.

The TABS test results are reviewed each year to determine each student's needs. Curriculum and instruction are planned to improve the student's proficiency in the areas where there is a need.

Curriculum information presented to school board

Education on the upswing in Floydada was the prevalent subject of Monday night's school board meeting. Bob Alldredge of the Caprock Co-op presented information regarding special education curriculum in Floydada schools. The brochures passed out to Board members were developed to acquaint the school district personnel with federal laws, state laws and district policies and procedures concerning the education of handicapped students.

Alldredge explained that children are evaluated and if the parents do not agree with the results of the evaluation, they can appeal. An official would hear the case and produce an assessment. By law, according to Alldredge, each case must be completely reassessed every three years. Alldredge reported that this program is beneficial because it enables each student to have the opportunity to be brought up to grade level by mainstreaming him in subjects he has a grasp of and helping him in special classes with subjects difficult for him. The Caprock Education Policies and Administrative procedures was voted and passed by the board.

Joann Cagle revealed results of the TABS tests to Board members. According to Cagle, reading was the main thrust for the 5 year plan. The written portion was graded more rigorously than before. However, Cagle was very optimistic about this year's results and the trend toward more proficiency in education.

Officers elected for the ensuing year are as follows: president, Don Hardy; vice-president, Weldon Pruitt; and secretary, Bud Rainey.

Resignations accepted by the school board included Dana Stout, Dan Pair and Paula Ratliff.

The Board passed recommendations to hire Diane Wood as a fifth grade teacher and the following aides:

A. B. Duncan Elementary—Hope Mary Martinez, Rosa Villarreal, Opal Ashton, Brenda Watson, Shelda Reems, Nora Collings, and Wynona Jackson.

R. C. Andrews—Sally Galloway, Donna Henderson, Maria Brown, Janie Flores, Alice Hernandez, Margie Womack, Janie Beedy, Wynona Thompson, and Barbara Hatley.

Junior High School—Sherrie Colston, Wanda Lewallen, Billie Lowrance, and Belle Vinson.

High School—Vel Simpson and Stacy Hancock.

Board members voted to change the February 15, 1985 in-service day to February 18, 1985 to accommodate students attending the stock show.

Members present were Don Hardy, Harvey Allen, Fred Zimmerman, III, Jerry Cannon, superintendent; Tommy Cathey, business manager; Weldon Pruitt, Bill Orman, Travis Jones, and Bud Rainey.

New curriculum policies implemented in Floydada

Floydada schools are in the process of implementing new curriculum policies based upon HB 246 or Chapter 75 of the Texas Education Code which relates to new requirements that will take effect in 1985-86.

One major change which will affect all areas of Floydada schools in the 1984-85 school year is that students will begin classes at 8:30 and dismiss at 4:00. This is a 15-minute increase in the beginning and ending of the school day. Other changes that will involve certain grade element are as follows:

In kindergarten through grade 3, mathematics instruction time shall be increased from 45 minutes to 60 minutes each day. Physical education must be taught 20 minutes daily instead of 45 minutes bi-weekly. All other areas of the curriculum at kindergarten through grade 3 will be basically the same as it is now being taught with respect to time guidelines.

A change for grades 4, 5, and 6 will include an increase of 15 minutes each day in the math instructional time.

There are two changes in the junior high curriculum which will not go into effect until 1985-86. All students must take at least one semester of computer literacy in the seventh or eighth grade. Any student who scores one year below grade level or at the 40th percentile or below on a standardized test in reading shall take a course in reading improvement. All other areas of the curriculum shall remain the same.

High school curriculum is the most affected by HB 246 although fewer changes will have to be made in Floydada High School than other schools as the requirements are presently above state requirements. By adding 30 minutes to each day, high school students will have seven periods, allowing them more electives throughout high school. Another change is that all students must have 3 units of math instead of 2 which are now required. State guidelines call for four units of English; however, Floydada already requires four units. An additional unit of science will be required at the local and state level.

Although there will be a standard transcript for all Texas students, each school will offer an advanced high school transcript for the students who want a more rigorous academic program. The advanced program is left to the discretion of the individual student.

Superintendent Jerry Cannon feels that when HB 246 is fully implemented, the curriculum changes will benefit every student and increase his change of success for coping with a changing society.

Teachers have spent and will continue to spend many hours of preparation time to implement these changes in curriculum elements in addition to their first priority of teaching students. Mr. Cannon feels that his staff is positive about the curriculum changes and feels these changes are a necessary step in the right direction for education.

SCHOOL ENDS, DANGERS BEGIN

Summer vacation is a dangerous time of year for school-age children. Nearly half the fatal accidents involving school-age children occur during the three months of the year when school is not in session.

As children have more time for recreation, summer work and just "messing around," the chances of an accident increase. But parents can do several simple things to reduce the summertime dangers to their children.

If young people are told how to spot and avoid situations in which accidents are likely to occur, and are restricted from dangerous activities, they have a better chance of avoiding a tragic accident.

Many activities are not dangerous when carried out properly, but become dangerous when a heavy dose of youth exuberance is added.

A safe ride on a three-wheeler is possible, but only when using a helmet, off public roads, without passengers, and with precautions recommended by manufacturers. Speed, extra riders and lack of helmets are fatal combinations with recreational vehicles.

CITY DIRECTORY CENSUS TO BEGIN

Johnson Publishing Company survey workers are contacting local residents to obtain current information to update the next Floydada City Directory. Local people have been hired to conduct the survey. In most cases the census will be conducted by telephone, however some residents may be contacted in the evening or in person at home. You will not be asked to buy anything.

You will be asked:

- Husband and wife's names, occupations
- Address and telephone number
- Home ownership
- Number in family, or
- Names and year of birth of minor children

Businesses will be asked to provide the correct firm name, names of owners and officers, address, telephone number and nature and classification of business.

Information gathered in the survey is to be used in the next edition of the Floydada City Directory—a community reference book used by local businesses, governmental agencies and emergency services. Your cooperation with our survey workers will be appreciated.

TIME TO WATCH FOR MAY FLOWERS AND THE PINE TIP MOTH

Local residents with pine trees on their property should be aware that now isn't only the time to think about May flowers, but about action to control the pine tip moth, a major pest of area pine trees.

The tip moth spends the winter as a pupa within injured terminals of the tree. Adult moths emerge in early May to mate and lay eggs.

The female moths fly at night, placing eggs singly on needles, buds or shoots. The eggs hatch in 10 to 30 days, with small larvae constructing small webs in the axils formed by developing needles and stems. The larvae bore into the needles and stem tips. The larvae first eat the bud area of new shoots and then bore down the centers of the new stems.

Trees damaged by pine tip moth will have brown terminals, poor tree shape and stunted growth. In severe cases the tree may die.

There usually are two or more generations of pine tip moth each year.

The pest can be controlled with pesticides. Foliar sprays of cygon, diazinon, malathion or orthene may be applied to foliage in early May in our area. Exact spray timing will vary each year.

Di-syston granules may be used as a soil-applied systemic insecticide. The granules should be spread evenly under the tree canopy and then worked into the soil. The ground should then be watered thoroughly so that the insecticide can be absorbed into the root system.

Care must be taken when using chemicals, such as Di-syston, to prevent poisoning animals and injuring plants. Never allow children to play in treated areas and always read the label for correct application rates and special precautions.

Frank Gray is reelected to board

The regular election of a member to the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board for State Zone One was held at the WTSU campus in Canyon recently and Mr. Frank Gray of Lubbock was reelected to the Board. Gray has served on the state board since the 60's.

The Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board, an agency of government, was created in 1939. Unlike many state agencies and commissions whose policy making bodies are gubernatorial appointees, the State Board consists of five elected members.

Les Nixon, local Floyd County SWCD member and Chairman of the Board, was the voting delegate.

Zone One consists of 51 counties in the Panhandle and South Plains region.

Residents attend awards banquet

Mr. and Mrs. Les Nixon, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Becker, Mr. and Mrs. Jon J. La Baume, and Miss Gail Thompson attended the region 1 Conservation Awards Banquet and Program in Canyon at WTSU. The Banquet honors conservation winners from 51 Panhandle and South Plains counties. More than 300 attended the banquet and program.

Three local essays from the Floyd County SWCD were entered into the contest, but winners were selected from other counties.
