Lady Horns Scare Canyon

The Canyon High School girls have lost only one basketball game this season (Nazareth beat them one point in the fourth game of the season), but Lockney High's Lady Horns came mighty close to upsetting the highly-ranked AAA team here Tuesday evening. The Girl Eagles prevailed 47-45, but it took a free throw in the last four seconds of the game to give them that two-point edge.

Coach Marsha Sharp said her Lady Horns played well against lots of pressure by Canyon. The Lockney guards played super defense, she added, and forward Sheila Hrbacek had her best game of the season (Hrbacek scored 22 points, including a 100% effort-10 for 10 from the free-throw line). Canyon's Becky Williams tied with Hrbacek for high-point honors. Also scoring for Lockney were Beverly Barker, who totalled 12 points, and Tammie Carthel, who scored 11.

The Lockney girls made 21 of 25 free-throw attempts for an 84% average, while Canyon hit seven of 18 from the line.

The Lady Horns got another shot at the Girl Eagles this season—they play at Canyon January 28.

Tomorrow (Friday) the Lady Horns travel to Tulia for a key District 4-AA contest with the Hornettes. The game starts at 6:30 p.m.

Coach Marsha Sharp said it was "...one of the team's better performances since I've been in Lockney..." after her Lady Horns defeated Floydada 66-35 Friday night in the District 4-AA basketball opener for both teams.

The Lockney girls were always ahead-16-8 at the end of the first quarter, 39-18 at halftime, 54-28 starting the final period.

'Horns

Beat Mules

The Lockney Longhorns defeated Muleshoe 43-38 Friday in a basketball game played there. Lockney's Danny Fry was high scorer in the game, netting 19 points. Danny Clark scored 10 points for the Longhorns. Allen Sterling chipped in seven points, Ray McMahan added six, and Clint Riddley put in one for the 'Horns. Wisian led the Mules with 11 points.

The Longhorns made 16 field goals and 11 of 21 free-throw tries in the contest.

Muleshoe won the junior varsity game 61-49. Scoring for the Longhorns were Howard Moore, 17 points; Danny Riddley, 11; Joe Rodriguez, six; Smokey Hill, five; Jim Burt, one; Earlee Mathis, one. Riddley and Burt led the 'Horns in rebounding.

'Horns Lose To Canyon, Ready For District Contests

The Lockney Longhorns lost 67-39 to the Canyon Eagles here Tuesday night, but Longhorn coach Dan Wilson was still impressed with the play of his team. "They're the best 7-7 team around," he said Wednesday morning, adding "They've come a long way—I'm pleased with every player." Wilson said the Longhorns played good defense Tuesday night, and played more aggressively on offense. "We'll be in good shape for district," he said.

District play for the Longhorns starts tomorrow (Friday) at Tulia, when the 'Horns take on the Hornets at 8 p.m. That game will be preceded by the girls' varsity game at 6:30. Boys' and girls' junior varsity games start at 5 p.m. in separate gyms.

Tuesday night, the Eagles were ahead 17-11 at the end of the first quarter, 36-19 at the half, and 53-32 starting the final period. Danny Clark was high-point man for the Longhorns with 10. Ray McMahan scored nine, Allen Sterling eight, Danny Fry six, Clint Riddley four, and Ronnie Cunyus two for the 'Horns. James Walling led Canyon with 17 points. Clark was top rebounder for Lockney with seven grabs.

Canyon beat the Lockney junior varsity boys 65-35. Earlee Mathis managed 17 points for the 'Horns. Danny Riddley scored eight, Joe Rodriguez and Smokey Hill had four each, and Howard Moore added two points for Lockney. Mathis and Jim Burt were top Lockney rebounders.

State Tax Representative In Floydada Today

AUSTIN--State Comptroller Bob Bullock announced he is sending a representative from his Lubbock office to Floydada on Thursday, January 13, 1977 to assist local taxpayers and answer questions about state taxes.

Bullock said Enforcement Officer Virgil Rogers will meet with local taxpayers at the Floydada Court House--Room 103 from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m.

"If Floydada area merchants, or anyone else for that matter, have any questions about state taxes or need help in preparing tax forms, Mr.

Rogers will be there to assist them," Bullock said.

"We're trying to cut the red tape in this office and we believe these face-to-face sessions with taxpayers help do just that," Bullock added.

Bullock reminded those taxpayers who are unable to meet with his representative on January 13th that they can still get their questions answered quickly by calling his TOLL-FREE tax information number in Austin. That number is 1-800-252-5555.

The Lubbock office, headed by Donald F. Paxton, serves Lubbock and surrounding counties.

Health Systems Meeting Tonight

South Plains Health Systems will hold a public meeting at the Lighthouse Electric building in Floydada tonight (Thursday, January 13) at 7:30. Purpose of the meeting will be to give the people of Floyd County an opportunity to discuss the quality and availability of local health services with members of the health planning team from South Plains Health Systems, a designated health planning agency for the federal government.

Good Turnout Hoped For

As the population of the United States has grown older, wealthier, better educated and more concerned about providing for the poor, demands for better health care have increased to an almost alarming and overwhelming extent.

It is estimated that the American wage earner spends ten per cent of his annual income for health care. National expenditures have increased ninefold in the past thirty or thirty-five years to pay for the highest quality and most sophisticated care available anywhere in the world. Yes, as quality and quantity of health care has risen, so too, has the cost. Some economists contend that expenditures in this field cannot continue to grow at such an alarming rate without seriously disrupting the nation's economy.

Physicians, hospital administrators, health insurers, local, state and national governments have been working to improve health care. Because there has been no concerted effort to coordinate the programs of health care providers, health services are not always delivered in the most efficient and economical way possible. Nor have these efforts and escalating expenditures resulted in adequate care for all segments of the population.

In enacting the National Health Planning and Resources and Development Act (Public Law 93-641) of 1974, congress expressed its recognition of the need for system-wide planning for health care delivery in the United States. Congress, at that time, also expressed the principle that planning should be done by organizations which more nearly represent and incorporate the interest of local consumers and the providers of health care.

In 1976, the secretary of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare designated a network of approximately 204 federally funded health system agencies across the nation to carry out the intent of the 1974 legislation and to bring health care planning down to a regional and local basis. To implement the legislation, there has been established in Texas a system of twelve agencies, designated to represent a new organizational approach for regional planning and development. Most of these agencies, including the South Plains Health Systems, Inc., are now non-profit private corporations.

South Plains Health Systems, Inc. covers a 15-county area including Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Motley, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Dickens, King, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, and Garza. Approximately 342,500 people living in these counties are being served by the agency. The board of directors is made up of citizens from each county in the designated system. John Peck of Floyd County serves as a member of that board.

During a recent interview, Peck brought this newspaper up to date on what the agency is planning for Floyd County. He told our reporter that on Thursday, January 13 at the Lighthouse Electric building in Floydada South Plains Health Systems, Inc. will hold a public meeting so that citizens right here in Floyd County can have an opportunity to identify priority health needs and from the information gathered during the meeting here and through 14 other such meetings in the region, South Plains Health Systems, Inc. will collect and analyze data to be programmed into a regionally coordinated plan to improve access to good health care on the South Plains.

Such a plan will, hopefully, help the providers of health care lower costs, increase their accessibility and coordinate services.

The idea of regional planning is a good one. This publication hopes that when the "Speak Up" meetings are held by the South Plains Health Systems, Inc. that we will have a good representative turn-out by Floyd County Citizens. We here in our own area can best determine what our needs are in the health care field, and we are finally getting a chance to do so. If you can't attend the "Speak Up" meeting, get in touch with Peck and let him know your community's problems. South Plains Health Systems, Inc. is open to your suggestions and ideas.

Lady Horns Breeze By Whirlettes 66-35

Coach Marsha Sharp said it was "...one of the team's better performances since I've been in Lockney..." after her Lady Horns defeated Floydada 66-35 Friday night in the District 4-AA basketball opener for both teams.

The Lockney girls were always ahead-16-8 at the end of the first quarter, 39-18 at halftime, 54-28 starting the final period.

Beverly Barker scored 30 points, Tammie Carthel 17, Sheila Hrbacek 11 and Karla McCarter eight for Lockney, while Kim Curry and Tracy Puckett shared high-point honors for the Whirlettes, scoring 10 each.

The Lady Horns made 22 of 31 free throws (Floydada sank nine of 11); Lockney had 22 field goals (Floydada made 13). Floydada committed 22 fouls, Lockney 13.

Floydada tried three post guards against Barker--two fouled out and another had four fouls. "Barker was just too strong for them inside," Coach Sharp said. When Barker wasn't scoring inside, Carthel and Hrbacek were hitting from the outside (Carthel averaged 80% on field-goal attempts for the night, prompting Sharp to comment: "If she continues to shoot that well, it will be a big factor in district play.")

And the Lockney guards played well "...as usual..." Sharp said. No one on the Lockney team committed over three fouls.

"I thought we played good control ball," Sharp said. "We slowed down Floydada's running and forced them outside." The Lockney coach said the young Whirlettes had trouble bringing the ball down against Lockney's press. "I felt we did a lot of things well, and we didn't make very many mistakes," Sharp added.

The Lady Horns have a key district game coming up Friday at Tulia. The contest starts at 6:30 p.m.

Floydada won the junior varsity game 34-29. Stephanie Turner and Cindy Frizzell led Lockney in scoring, with 12 and 10 points respectively. Jody Nance scored four for Lockney, and Lupe Gonzales added three. Guest topped Floydada with 16.

The Lockney jayvees led 9-6 at the end of the first quarter, and it was tied at 17 at halftime. Floydada held a four-point advantage (25-21) after three quarters.

Cotton Prices Are Lower

The United States Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Marketing Service reported cotton trading was moderate to slow during the week ending January 7, according to Paul R. Dickson, in charge of the Lubbock Cotton Classing Office.

The Lubbock Cotton Exchange's Spot Quotations declined approximately $25.00 per bale from the previous week. The base price for grade 41, staple 34, mike 3.5 through 4.9 was 62.35 cents on Friday, January 7, down 475 points from the previous Friday.

Demand was moderate, Dickson said. Prices paid growers for cotton seed ranged from $85 to $112 per ton, mostly $94 to $105.

Grades 42 and 43 were predominant in classings at Lubbock this week. Grade 42 accounted for 15 percent and 43 made up 24 percent. Bark reduction was assigned to 49 percent of the samples classed.

Predominant lengths were staples 30, 31, and 32. Staple 30 was 26 percent 31 accounted for 35 percent, and 32 was 23 percent.

Mike readings in the desirable 3.5 - 4.9 range amounted to 33 percent of the total. Mike 3.3 - 3.4 was nine, 3.0 - 3.2 accounted for 16 percent, 2.7 - 2.9 claimed 18 percent, while 2.6 and below was 22 percent.

About 39,000 samples were classed by the Lubbock Cotton Classing Office during the week. Season's total stands at 874,000 compared to 671,000 on this same date a year ago.

Cinnamon Lady Poem

Andrews Ward teacher Doris McLain wrote the following poem to the Cinnamon Lady (Edna Patton) upon her retirement last week. Doris read the poem just before Edna received a money tree of appreciation.

Doris poem reads, "It's kind of tough to have to leave So many folks you've learned to know, And have them grip your hand and tell How much they hate to see you go!

It's kind of tough to say goodbye To friends you've seen day after day It's hard to break the happy bonds You've made along the way!

But it is farewell to a friend May life be mighty good to you In spite of pounds you've made us gain You'll find our friendship always true

And now it's my chance to return A favor for which I took a poll What else would be more appropriate Than your very own cinnamon roll!"

Mrs. Wood Honored
On 90th Birthday

Mrs. Walter Wood was honored with a reception in Fellowship Hall of the Baptist Church at South Plains Saturday afternoon, January 8th. The occasion marked Mrs. Wood's 90th birthday. Friends and relatives called between the hours of 2 and 4 p.m. and were registered by Mrs. John Smitherman.

Red and white were used in table decorations and carnations, the January flower, in white and red, formed the centerpiece. Mrs. James Teague, and Mrs. Mike Wood of Lubbock and Mrs. Glen Wood of South Plains served refreshments.

A resident of Floyd County since 1909, Mrs. Wood was born January 8, 1887 in Bosque County. She and Walter Wood were married in 1908 in Sweetwater. Mrs. Wood, the former Kate Hazelwood, came to Floyd County in November of 1909 with her husband, by simply drawing the shortest of two straws. She was born January 8, 1887 in Bosque County and married Walter Wood in 1908. The couple took their honeymoon in a covered wagon through New Mexico and back to Amarillo and Plainview. They decided to draw straws to make the decision where they would live and Mrs. Wood drew the shorter of the straws. They went to Plainview where they lived a short time then to Floyd County, settling first in the Sunset Community, what is now South Plains, then to the Cedar Hill Community and later back to South Plains where Mrs. Wood still maintains her home. Her husband died in 1958.

Mrs. Wood has broken a family record for longevity in her family, and her continued prayer is "Lord, keep me loving and believing as I grow older." Her desire through these years have been to help those around her find happiness. It she could do this, she was content.

Just a few of Mrs. Wood's pet sayings are: "Make the most of today, and you won't have to worry about tomorrow."

"If you have something to do, don't put it off until tomorrow."

"If the Lord accepts our excuses, then people have to; but be sure the Lord accepts them."

"If religion is anything, it is common sense."

"Live your religion, actions speak louder than words."

"The women set the moral standards of our world - they're no better than our women demand."

"The Lord gave you a brain and expects you to use it."

"If something worries you, do something about it - if you can't put it behind you," (although she didn't always do this).

"You have to live with yourself first."

"We are to take care of what the Lord gave us and try to improve on it."

"Our lives are made up of a bunch of habits, it is up to us to weed out the bad ones."

"When some one hurts you or wrongs you, to try for revenge is to put yourself on their level."

"Wouldn't that be hair in the butter" is a favorite little saying.

"If a thing is old, that is a sign that the Lord must still have a use for it."

Mrs. Wood says that if she

NEWS 'N' NOTES

(by Sharon Hillis)

Consumers can be better buyers by learning to identify examples of "puffery" in advertising.

Some ads play on an emotional appeal or make confusing claims that may not be useful when trying to make a rational purchase. It may be hard to distinguish "puffery" from hard facts necessary for informed purchase decisions.

First, look for qualifiers—phrases like "up to" or "can be"—are typical of advertising that almost promises big things and always leaves an out for the manufacturer. Listen carefully to what advertising is actually saying.

Try to find examples of ads that appeal to the consumer's attitudes and beliefs. The transfer technique works by associating a product with something commonly held as good or popular such as motherhood, picnics, helping your neighbor or the American way. The bandwagon appeal promotes a product by advertising that "everyone wants one, and don't you too." The plain folks approach allows the buyer to identify with the common, everyday people in the commercial.

Watch for words like "comparable value" or "compare at." Products may be compared with similar but not identical items sold in other stores. Before buying, check the real price and quality of a comparable item.

Beware of "buy three—get one free" or "two for the price of one." The honest dealer offers a legitimate deal, but the unfair seller may raise the regular price of the item, eliminating or reducing any savings on the free item.

Special offers are another way consumers can be misled by advertising. One technique is the "bait and switch" game. The dishonest seller will offer a popular item at a very low price to get shoppers into the store. Once the consumer has taken the "bait" and is inside the store, the seller informs him that the advertised item is all sold or not really what the consumer wants. The switch comes in trying to persuade the consumer to buy a higher-priced item—the one the store really wanted to sell in the first place.

Merchants can legally call attention to a more expensive item, as long as they give the choice of buying the advertised special. It is illegal, however, for a store to advertise an item if it is not intended to be sold.

When listening to and reading advertising, take time to be aware of what it is saying or implying. Learn to shop around and compare before buying.

If you do suspect that some advertising is misleading or false, report it to the Attorney General's Office, Consumer Protection Division, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711.

Stuffed pork chops are a perfect cure for those post-Holiday cooking blues. Pork is plentiful in Texas markets with supplies now at their seasonal peak. The peanut stuffing also provides a protein boost to the tasty main dish, while an alternate stuffing contains both protein-rich pecans and plentiful Texas rice. Add the tangy taste of a Texas citrus fruit salad to enhance flavor and provide important vitamins.

Oyster Harvest Is On

Harvesting of oysters in the coastal waters of Texas is in full swing, and purchasers of the delicacy should have no qualms about eating them, provided the oysters come from certified sources, says the Texas Department of Health Resources.

State health authorities are asking the public to help eliminate the troublesome and dangerous traffic in "bootleg" oysters by buying only those shellfish products known to be produced under the Texas Department of Health Resources certification.

The reason for concern is that bootleg oysters may have come from waters of questionable quality, have been opened under unsanitary conditions, stored in unclean containers without adequate refrigeration and peddled by spurious dealers from house to house or at roadside stands.

Consumers are urged to insist on knowing the source of the oysters offered for sale and to refuse them if they were not harvested and processed under the certification program. Legitimately canned or packaged oysters can be quickly identified by a certification number issued by the Department of Health Resources. On gallon cans, the number is embossed in the metal on the side of the can. On smaller containers, such as jars, the certification number is printed on the lid.

Shellfish (oysters, clams and mussels) if contaminated, can present a high potential health hazard to the consumer because (1) of the shellfish's ability to filter and concentrate pathogenic microorganisms and toxic substances present in the environment, (2) shellfish are packed whole and alive and are often consumed either raw or only partially cooked, and (3) harmful substances can be introduced into the shucked meats if this operation isn't carried out in controlled sanitary surroundings.

All water-borne diseases, including typhoid fever, gastroenteritis and infectious hepatitis, can be transmitted by contaminated oysters. But the risk can be virtually eliminated if consumers refuse to buy uncertified products.

Processors and consumers are reminded that the Texas Shellfish Sanitation Law of 1965 makes it unlawful for any person to take, sell, offer, or hold for sale, any shellfish (oysters, clams or mussels) from an area declared by the Director of Health Resources to be polluted. The law also specifies that it is unlawful to sell, offer, or hold for sale, any shellstock or shucked shellfish which have not been handled and packaged in accordance with specifications fixed by the Commissioner of Health.

The State Health Department's shellfish activities are carried out by its Shellfish Sanitation Control Division. The program is evaluated by the federal Food and Drug Administration to determine if the program is conducted to assure that consumers receive only quality products.

The Department's certification program includes the classification of oyster growing waters in accordance with their ability to produce safe, edible shellfish, and a continuing processing plant inspection program designed to assure sanitary processing and packaging.

This is a big undertaking. Texas has more than a million and half acres of estuarine waters which are surveyed and classified. Almost 80 per cent of these waters—1.2 million acres—are open for oyster harvesting. These oyster waters—covering 3,359 tidal shoreline miles—extend from Port Isabel near the southern tip, to Sabine Lake adjacent to Port Arthur.

In a normal year, about 80 per cent of oyster production comes from Galveston Bay, which contains 341,000 acres of oyster waters. And, the heaviest concentrations of oyster plants are found in the Galveston Bay area.

Sampling procedures are used to determine if coastal waters meet the strict standards prescribed for oyster production. A total of 430 bacteriological sampling stations are located along the coast—160 of these stations in Galveston Bay. Some also double as sampling stations for such things as heavy metals, radioactivity, pesticides, marine toxins, oil and hydrocarbons.

Each of the processing plants—which may vary from 70 to more than 100 depending on the availability of oysters—is inspected at least once a month to determine that water supply is safe and adequate, sewage disposal is present, and that all food contact surfaces are acceptable. An evaluation also is made of cleaning procedures, bacteriological levels, refrigeration, attention to health of personnel and plant records for sources of shellfish.

Your Department of Health Resources is hoping that all residents enjoy these bountiful gifts from the sea and it is working constantly to ensure the highest quality possible.

Copeland, Floyd County members, South Plains Advisory Council on Aging, have announced that a Public Hearing on the needs of older Americans in Hale, Floyd, and Motley Counties will be held January 21, 1977, at 2:00 p.m., at the Hale County State Bank, 201 West 6th Street, Plainview, Texas. C. L. Abernethy, former County Judge, Hale County, and Chairman of the South Plains Advisory Council on Aging, will preside. Mrs. Betty J. Shannon, Director, South Plains Regional Office on Aging, will present information regarding the establishment of an Area Office on Aging. The general public, representatives of the Older Americans group, and interested agency personnel are urged to be present.

Mrs. Shannon stressed that citizen input is vital in determining local priorities so that future funds may be expended in the most efficient way possible.

Sen. Bentsen Introduces Jobs Bill

Washington, D. C. — Senator Lloyd Bentsen Tuesday proposed a legislative program that would prevent the sudden sharp increases in U.

S. unemployment that have occurred in recent years. The Employment Tax Credit Economic Stabilization Act would award a five percent tax credit for every potentially unemployed worker a business hires or retains on the payroll. It is designed to reduce unemployment and, by lowering business costs, to reduce inflation as well.

Bentsen, who has urged President-elect Carter to support the measure, said it will be the prime focus of joint hearings into employment problems of small business to be held in late January by the Joint Economic Subcommittee on Economic Growth and the Select Committee on Small Business. Bentsen and Senator Gaylord Nelson will chair the hearings.

"For the past 30 years government has made it more and more expensive for businesses — particularly small businesses — to hire people," Senator Bentsen said.

"Steadily increasing payroll taxes and growing Federal regulations have caused payroll costs to skyrocket."

"I think it is time government provided businessmen with an incentive to hire people instead of continually adding obstacles that make it harder to create jobs," Bentsen said.

The Employment Tax Credit Economic Stabilization Act proposed by the Senator is a modified version of legislation he first introduced in November, 1975.

The credit is phased in when unemployment rises and phased out when it falls.

Employers receive a tax credit amounting to five percent of the wages of all workers hired over an "employment base," which rises and falls automatically according to the level of unemployment. Unemployment of seven percent or higher triggers a 90-percent base. Any employer, for example, who had 100 people on his payroll for the previous 12 months would be entitled to the credit for all workers over the base of 90.

The "employment base" would be 95 percent when unemployment falls to six percent and a 100 percent base would be established when the unemployment rate is five percent. In the latter case the business would be eligible for the tax credit only by expanding the size of its workforce. When unemployment reaches four percent the tax credit would be phased out.

A recent study at the University of Iowa, commissioned by the Economic Growth Subcommittee, concluded that if the employment tax credit had been established in the fall of 1975 over 2 million more people would have jobs today, and inflation would be almost 2-percent lower.

"What we are talking about here is a solid, workable program to combat cycles of unemployment in this country and to do this by providing incentives through our free enterprise system," Bentsen said.

"By approving the employment tax credit Congress will lessen the need for emergency action every time the economy goes sour and increase the availability of productive work for the American people," Senator Bentsen said.

Wheat Acreage Reduction Due to Sluggish Markets

AUSTIN -- After experiencing slow markets and lowered prices in 1976, wheat farmers in Texas have planted five per cent fewer acres for the 1977 harvest, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has reported.

Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service estimates that 6,150,000 acres have been seeded for the winter crop. Based on December 1 conditions, statewide production is expected to total 98,400,000 bushels, down from the 102,400,000 bushels of 1976.

Reductions in acreage are virtually statewide with some 50 per cent reductions reported in both South Texas and the Coastal Bend. One exception is the Edwards Plateau where 10,000 more acres have been seeded than last year.

Nationally, winter wheat seeding has also decreased by three per cent from a year ago. Total U.S. production is being forecast at 1,328 million bushels, eight per cent below the 1976 crop.

Farm Cash Receipts Up But Profits Remain Slim

AUSTIN—While total cash receipts increased to $6.4 billion for Texas agriculture, dollar figures alone do not tell the whole story when talking about 1976, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said in his review of the year.

"The credit side of the ledger may look healthy, but when you consider that costs have also steadily increased during the year, profits begin to look very slim for most farmers," White explained.

Total farm parity for 1976 wound up at 66 percent, the lowest for the ratio in 43 years. "In fact, with few exceptions," White said, "prices for farm products remained under parity during the entire year."

Hope for marginal profit farms this year lies in the possibility of Federal measures to bolster supports for several commodities, especially grain. Farm groups across the state are pressing for changes in agricultural policy that will give some stability for their operations.

"While no one wants to return to the days when the Federal Government was in the business of buying agricultural surpluses, a realistic, flexible support system must be made available when needed," White emphasized.

Cotton was one bright exception for farmers this year, with the three million bales produced in the state commanding some of the highest prices ever paid for the natural fiber. With average year-end prices at 65 cents statewide, cotton also appears to be one of the best profit-positioned commodities for 1977.

The story is glum, however, for livestock, which account for two-thirds of the state's agricultural income. Calf and fat cattle prices remained a third to a half under parity while cattle feeders reported losses of $50 to $100 a head during the year.

Poultry and hog prices have also been reduced throughout 1976.

Milk prices, on the other hand, have been holding up and dairymen reported a good year.

Prices averaging $3.40 per hundredweight in Texas were down for the sorghum crop, which totaled 318 million bushels in 1976. Lowered production of wheat due to poor weather conditions was offset by record national harvests as well as sluggish export markets which have created the same "burdensome surpluses" of the 1960's.

Rice farmers also have tons in storage with little interest from the usual foreign buyers.

Good harvests elsewhere have held farm prices low for the Texas corn crop, up almost 50 million bushels this year to 161 million bushels.

Prices Published

AUSTIN—Information concerning prices received as well as paid by Texas farmers is now available in a recently issued publication, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has announced.

Included in the publication are the average prices received by farmers for major Texas crops and livestock from 1960 to June, 1976, generally at the point of first sale.

Prices paid by farmers are shown for 303 production and living items in 1974 and 1975.

The free publication is available by writing the Texas Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

Tax Form Due From Farmers By Monday

Farmers who have not filed their 1976 declaration of estimated Federal income tax must file and pay that tax by Monday, January 17. The sole exception to this rule is if they file their income tax return and pay the total tax due by March 1, the Internal Revenue Service said today.

Farmers are defined as those persons who earned at least two-thirds of their 1976 gross income from farming. IRS Publications 225, "Farmer's Tax Guide," and 505, "Tax Withholding and Declaration of Estimated Tax," provide additional information and are available free at local IRS offices.

FU Says Politicians Not Qualified To Decide What's Best For Farmer

In a time of plunging farm prices and increasing cost of production, issues of agricultural policy in this new year will undoubtedly come to critical turning points. With a new administration in Washington and a new farm bill slated for draft to replace the expiring 1973 act, agricultural policymaking is top priority among those collective voices which speak for the farmer.

Already, agriculture commissioners from 11 Midwest and Plains states have gathered in Denver in order to determine what requests should be made of Agriculture Secretary-designate Bob Bergland. Among them was Texas Agriculture Commissioner John White. The meeting, however, turned out to be a political exercise in futility as the eleven state leaders agreed that agriculture is in "dire straits" but could not agree on specific immediate recommendations.

At the core of the meeting was a vote to request Bergland to raise wheat price support loans from the present disastrous level to one 50-cents higher and closer to cost of production. But six of the commissioners, including White, voted against requesting a modest $3 per bushel level.

"The biggest mistake of that meeting to begin with is the fact that politicians and political appointees have no business deciding what is best for the farmer," said Jay Naman, President of the Texas Farmers Union. "Most of the state commissioners are so far removed from the working farmer, that there is no way for them to know the economic reality of bankrupt prices for sweat-grown commodities," Naman continued. "It is rather the place of a well-respected group of farmers themselves who work from a grass-roots level of communication with their neighbors to send policymaking messages to the lawmakers and NOT a politician-to-politician system."

Such a message to the new administration will in fact be formulated when the Texas Farmers Union convenes its annual state-wide convention in Amarillo, January 21-22. During that time, the organization of almost 10,000 family farmers will officially adopt its 1977 policy, the result of several months of work from county level to a policy drafting committee and finally to the entire body of delegates. It is that policy which will be placed on the desks of congressmen, legislators, administrators and all other agriculture policymakers.

Several of those congressmen and legislators will attend the TFU convention, among them Senator John Tower, Congressman Jack Hightower, Texas Senator Max Sherman and others.

"The Texas Farmers Union takes great pride in its history of protecting the family farmer," says Naman. "Our 1977 policy will be a complete and comprehensive statement on behalf of farmers concerning almost all farming and rural matters. Its adoption lies at the heart of what we think will be our biggest and best convention in this most important year for agriculture."

Mr. Carter. It will also cripple Mr. Carter's ambitious legislative projects in the field of health care. There just isn't any way he can propose new spending legislation while the American people are looking a massive budget deficit right in the face.

One of the major worries of the American taxpayer is a return to a sharply higher inflation rate in coming years. Piling new spending programs on top of the $75 billion deficit will make it almost impossible to balance the budget anytime during the Carter term of office unless tax increases are imposed.

The President-elect made a campaign commitment to begin a national health-insurance program in 1977. The first phase of the program was to consist of catastrophic health insurance plus coverage on child and maternity claims. The new Health, Education & Welfare Secretary, Joseph Califano, has already begun hinting that any health legislation in 1977 will be modest compar-

President-elect Carter has made a favorable impression on just about all "power groups" with the cabinet appointments since his election. But, a major problem looms before Mr. Carter which could have the effect of sinking most of his legislative programs in the first year of his term and possibly the next two years. It is the Ford deficit.

The meeting of the cabinet appointees two weeks ago at Sea Island, Georgia, was really a briefing on the very grim budget outlook because the Carter administration will inherit a $50 billion deficit. With even a very modest package of tax cuts and government work projects to reduce the number of unemployed, this deficit could easily balloon to $75 billion.

The net result of such a huge deficit, no matter what the reason regardless of all the explanations by the Carter administration blaming it on the Ford administration, is serious embarrassment for

The Commission on Postal Service today announced plans to hold a public hearing in Oklahoma City in order to hear comments from mail users and recipients.

The hearing will be held on February 2 and will be one of a series of hearings held by the Commission in 18 cities across the country. Site of the Oklahoma City hearing will be in the Federal Court Room, Fifth Floor, Federal Building, 200 N.W.

The Commission on Postal Service was established by Congress this fall to study postal problems and report to Congress and the President with recommendations by March 15, 1977. The legislation establishing the Commission directed it to look into five specific areas: rates and ratemaking, Federal subsidies, current and future levels of service, future costs and revenues, and electronic mail.

Persons wishing to testify at the Oklahoma City hearing should notify the Commission as soon as possible at the following address: Commission on Postal Service, 1750 K Street, N.W., Suite 801, Washington, DC 20006. Individuals testifying for themselves are to bring three copies of their testimony with them to the hearing.

Organizations and businesses will be required to file 15 advance copies of their testimony at least 10 days before the hearing. Those copies should be mailed to the above address.

Commissioners David Johnson, general executive vice president of the American Postal Workers Union, and Gaylord Freeman, Chicago banker and chairman of the Commission, will conduct the Oklahoma City hearing.

The Commission has seven voting members who were appointed by the President and Congressional leaders. In addition, the Postmaster General and the Chairman of the Postal Rate Commission are ex-officio members of the Commission.

In addition to Mr. Johnson and Mr. Freeman, the voting members of the Commission are: Rose Blakely, Washington, D.C. businesswoman; James Rademacher, president of the National Association of Letter Carriers; Kent Rhodes, chairman of the board of Reader's Digest; Hobart Taylor, Jr., Washington, D.C. attorney; and Paul Krebs, former New Jersey Congressman.

The Floyd Philosopher
 Says Men Now Having A Hard Time
 Laughing At Women's Fashions

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm sends us a fashion note, we guess you could say.

Dear editor:

For years, before women announced they have brains too, men have been poking fun at the vulnerability of women to fashion.

If some guy in Paris with a hard-to-pronounce name—and the harder the more authoritative he is—says women's skirts are to be short, women flock to the stores to buy short ones, excusing those who know how to use a pair of scissors. If the guy the next year says skirts are to be long, women rush to buy long ones, including those who find scissors won't work this time.

To a lot of men, this being a slave to fashion was hilarious. "Let some fop in Paris or New York tell women what to wear and they fall in line like sheep going over a cliff or swallows returning to Capistrano," they said.

The joke has now played out. On account of men's vests.

A year ago a man was fully dressed, from the President to Emperor of Japan, up and down, if he had on a two-piece suit. Then some fashion designer—you reckon it was a woman with a wicked sense of humor?—declared men will now wear vests. Like women and swallows returning to Capistrano, men complied. Even in the summer time.

I first noticed this when President Ford last year showed up at a press conference wearing a vest. At the moment I supposed it was a bullet-proof thing, ordered by the Secret Service, but no, I was informed, a bullet-proof vest is worn under the shirt and has little chance of catching on generally, besides it itches. What he was wearing was a genuine, fashionable vest, the kind you see the groom wearing in wedding pictures 50 years ago.

Well sir, it wasn't long before more and more vests started showing up, even on the hard-nosed reporters covering the President. Men everywhere rushed to get on the fashion bandwagon, you might say with woman-like obedience.

My only reaction to this is regret; regret that years ago, due to a lack of far-sightedness, I threw away a perfectly good vest. I've still got the pants and coat.

Yours faithfully,

Plant Trees On Arbor Day

COLLEGE STATION--Arbor Day coming up Jan. 21 signals the time for Texans to beautify home landscapes and communities by planting trees.

"Trees have long been appreciated for their beauty and by-products such as lumber and cooling shade. But trees have proved they are worth much more," says Everett Janne, a landscape horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Majestic oaks, pecans, cedars, pines and elms are being used to combat noise and air pollution and as protection from erosion."

"Our ancestors realized the permanent beauty of trees and their value to each coming generation. Such a thought should be kept in mind when planting a tree this Arbor Day," says the Texas A&M University System specialist.

The tree to be planted should be selected for the climate and soil of the area, emphasizes Janne.

"Arbor Day comes at prime planting time for trees, when cool, moist soil allows roots to become established before top growth begins. This enhances the chances of successful permanent plantings of oak, cedar, bald cypress, Deodar cedar and similar species," adds the horticulturist.

Don't Mix Electricity and Water, Warns UL

Much too often we hear about someone being electrocuted in the bathtub because a carelessly placed connected electrical appliance fell in the water. And much too often it will be a child. Water is an excellent conductor of electricity, and so is the human body under the right conditions.

While many people know this, they may be confused because many electrical appliances must use water—coffee percolators, washing machines, dishwashers—to name a few. These products are designed to be used with water. Yet, the important thing is that the electrical energy never comes into contact with the water when the product is used in accordance with the manufacturer's instructions.

Perhaps the best way to understand how electricity and water can become dangerous is to study the illustration from Underwriters Laboratories.

A connected electrical appliance carelessly placed near water, may accidentally fall into the water. The electrical current will travel through the water to a person's hand in the water. If the person is touching a metal, grounded object, such as a water faucet, they can receive a severe electric shock—possibly fatal.

UL engineers warn that while some electrical appliances are designed to be used with water, many are not. The user should carefully read and follow the instructions and caution markings covering the product's proper use and care.

Unless specifically designed and intended for such use, never dip or submerge any electrical product into water. When products are intended to be cleaned with water, be sure to unplug them before cleaning, and follow cleaning instructions.

Do not use electrical appliances in such a manner that they may be accidentally dropped in water in the kitchen, in the bathroom, or the laundry room. Remember then, while some electrical appliances use water, or are even used in water, most should never be dipped or submerged in water.

Farm-facts

A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News

Compiled From Sources Of The TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
John C. White, Commissioner

Oink, Oink . . . Wheat Acres Decline . . . Crop Reports On The Way.

Texas hog producers apparently see some dangers ahead in expanded pork production as they are planning to cut back on sow farrowings during the first half of this year.

The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes that from now through May, Texas farmers intend to farrow 91,000 sows. This is two per cent less than the same period a year ago.

The December-February quarter is expected to show an increase of four per cent from a year ago, but the March-May quarter is expected to see a decline of nine per cent compared to a year ago.

Nationwide, by comparison, U.S. hog producers intend to farrow 6.1 million sows through May. This would be an increase of five per cent from a year ago.

As of Dec. 1, the inventory of all hogs and pigs in Texas was 850,000 head. This is nine per cent more than a year ago, but is ten per cent less than two years ago.

The number of market hogs totaled 731,000. This is 11 per cent more than a year ago. The breeding herd was 119,000 head. This is two per cent less than a year ago.

Across the nation, hog and pig numbers totaled 55,100,000. This is 11 per cent more than a year ago. The number kept for breeding, at 8,000,000, is five per cent more than a year ago.

The 1976 pig crop was 19 per cent higher than a year ago, which explains some of the reason for the drop in prices for hogs to producers.

A STEADY SIX-YEAR INCREASE in wheat acres nationwide has come to an end. But there still will be plenty of wheat.

The Texas winter wheat acreage expected for harvest in 1977 is now estimated at 6,150,000 acres. This is down five per cent from last year.

Based on Dec. 1 conditions, production is expected to total 98,400,000 bushels; this would be down five per cent from last year, but is still close to the 100 million bushel production for Texas that has been exceeded only twice since 1866.

Wheat seeding is complete in the state. Too much rain in some parts of the state prevented some farmers from completing planting. Cold weather has also reduced growth and has reduced the quantity of forage available for pasture.

Winter wheat acreage for the nation is set at 55,800,000 acres. This is a three per cent decline from last year. Based on Dec. 1 conditions, this would produce 1,438,000,000 bushels, which is about twice the amount that would normally be used in this nation.

CROP REPORTS coming out in the near future include the Jan. 17 annual crop summary. On Jan. 21, look for the prospective plantings for 1977 as of Jan. 1 intentions.

April 14 will be the date of the prospective plantings for 1977 based on April 1 intentions. May 10 is the date for the winter wheat production based on May 1 conditions. And June 8 is the date for the winter wheat production forecast based on June 1 conditions.

TO MARKET, TO MARKET... Pork is now plentiful throughout the state, but producer intentions may indicate that cutbacks in hog numbers are in the offing in response to price dips. Texas farmers report intentions to farrow 91,000 sows during the six-month period from December 1976-May 1977, a two per cent decrease from the same period a year earlier, according to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

Male-female roles focus of UT study

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — How children learn "proper" male-female roles in the home is part of a study being made by two University of Texas psychologists.

The study by Profs. Janet Spence and Robert Helmreich has import regarding society's changing assumptions about the psychologies of masculinity and femininity, and about male-female roles.

Their early research has shown that persons are more effective human beings if they have both masculine and feminine personality characteristics. The UT scholars believe children can grow up to have more options as adults if child-rearing practices regarding male-female roles are kept flexible.

The use of one cup containing the fruit of the vine in the Lord's Supper is taught by example, command and inference.

"He took the CUP" (cup is from the Greek word "Poteerion")
 "Poteerion — a drinking vessel", Robinsons Greek-English Lexicon, page 611.
 "Poteerion — a drinking vessel" Thayer's Greek-English Lexicon, page 533.
 Many other lexicographers also say "Poteerion" means a literal drinking vessel.
 "and gave thanks and gave IT"
 "the vessel containing the drink", Robinson, page 582
 "to them saying, Drink ye all OF" ("of" is from the Greek word "ek")
 "ek - out of", Thayer, page 189
 "pino ek (drink out of) - with a genitive of the vessel out of which one drinks."
 "Thayer, page 510, Many translations say "Drink all of you OUT OF it"
 "IT"
 "the thing out of which one drinks-the vessel out of which one drinks. Matt. 26:27"
 Thayer, page 189 and 510.
 "for THIS"
 "the contents of the cup" verse 29 "this fruit of the vine", Smiths Bible Dictionary, page 1778 (See #3 on "Metonymy" below).
 "In Matt. 26:27 poteerion (cup) means a literal cup, while 'outo' (this) refers to the contents", Dr. A. T. Robertson, a Greek Scholar.
 "is my blood of the new testament . . . Matt. 26:27 the fruit of the vine represents the blood which made effective the New Testament.

The use of one cup containing the fruit of the vine in the Lord's Supper is taught by the use of Metonymy.

Metonymy—"a figure of speech in which an object is presented to the mind NOT BY NAMING IT but by NAMING SOMETHING ELSE that readily suggests it."
 (Williams' Composition & Rhetoric, page 220)

- The object named (cup) is NOT the thing suggested (fruit of the vine)
- There is a REAL OBJECT (cup), not an imaginary one, named.
- BOTH the THING NAMED (cup) and the THING SUGGESTED (fruit of the vine) must exist.
- (a) Paul named "this cup" (1 Cor. 11:26-27) to suggest its contents, the fruit of the vine.
- (b) Since the object named is NOT the thing suggested, "cup" is NOT the fruit of the vine.
- (c) BOTH the cup (which is named) and the contents (which are suggested) MUST EXIST.
- (d) The cup (which is named) MUST CONTAIN the thing suggested (the fruit of the vine.)
- (e) Since ONE CUP was named, the CONTENTS OF ONLY ONE CUP is suggested.

Some Pet Travel Tips From 4-H

CHICAGO—Taking the family dog along on a car trip this summer? To keep him happy and healthy, follow these suggestions from young people in the national 4-H dog care and training program:

- Don't let pet stick his head out the window of a moving car. Eye irritations or injuries may result.
- In hot, humid weather don't leave pet alone for a long period of time in a locked car. He could suffer heat prostration.
- Take along pet's own feeding dishes, favorite blanket and toys. He'll feel more comfortable and "at home" with familiar objects.

- Stop frequently to provide water and exercise.
- If vacation plans call for out-of-state or foreign travel, check with local veterinarian to see what inoculations or health certificates are necessary.

Following these pet travel tips can make a summer vacation more pleasant for all concerned, say boys and girls 9-19 enrolled in practical 4-H dog care projects.

Under the supervision of the Cooperative Extension Service, nearly 165,000 4-H'ers nationwide are learning-by-doing how to feed, care for, train and groom their pets. To follow basic rules for animal health. And to act as responsible dog owners, considerate of neighbors and obedient to local pet licensing and control laws.

For outstanding achievement in the dog care program, Purina Dog Foods Group, Ralston Purina Company, offers 4-H members a series of awards through the National 4-H Service Committee.

Six national winners are awarded $800 college scholarships, and 18 sectional winners receive expense-paid trips to the 55th National 4-H Congress, Nov. 28-Dec. 2 in Chicago.

One 4-H'er in each state can earn a transistor radio, and up to four 4-H'ers per county are eligible for medals of honor.

Purina Dog Foods Group recently provided each state 4-H office with a set of 73 color slides, "Joining the 4-H Dog Care and Training Program." Additional slide sets may be purchased from the National 4-H Service Committee, 150 N. Wacker Drive, Chicago, Ill. 60606.

More information on the 4-H dog care program is available from county extension agents.

Psalm 118:8 is the middle verse of the Bible.

Under a recent U.S. Department of Agriculture proposal Texas would lose two of its five members on the Cotton Board while other states would retain current membership.

Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. has filed objections to the USDA plan and has submitted an alternative proposal which PCG officials say will give Texas and other major cotton producing states more equitable representation.

The Cotton Board, made up of cotton producers appointed by the Secretary of Agriculture from nominations made by each state's certified cotton interest organizations, approves budgets and is otherwise responsible for the financial affairs of Cotton Incorporated (CI). CI carries out approved cotton research and market development activities financed by producer contributions on each year's production.

Currently there are 20 Cotton Board members. Each of the 14 cotton producing states is entitled to one Board member plus an additional member for each million or major fraction of a million bales of production above one million, on average, for the years 1961-65. This has given Texas five members, California and Mississippi two members each and each of 11 other states one member.

The new proposal calls for using the same formula but would figure average production on the most recent five years instead of on the 1961-65 period. Average U.S. production for the first five years of the 1960's was over 14.9 million bales. For 1971-75 the average came to about 11.4 million.

Texas production averaged about 30 percent of the national total in the earlier period and about 29 percent in the latter.

"These figures do not justify cutting Texas representation on the Board from the current five of 20, or 25 percent of the Board, to three of 18, which is less than 17 percent," points out PCG executive officer Donald Johnson.

PCG isn't objecting to using the most recent five years of production in determining Board membership. But PCG proposes that each state have one Board member plus an additional member for each one-half million or major part of one-half million bales of production above an initial 500,000.

This would increase the size of the Cotton Board from 20 to 26 members. Texas, with 1971-75 average production of 3.3 million bales, would have six members. California, averaging 1.8 million, would have four. Mississippi's 1.6 million average would entitle it to three members. Arkansas, with just over a million bale average, would have two, and other states would continue to have one member each.

The Cotton Research and Promotion Act does not set a limit on the size of the Cotton Board. It says each producing state shall have at least one member and that "to the extent practicable" each state shall have representation on the Board in proportion to its relative production.

PCG contends that the USDA proposal "moves away from rather than toward" compliance with the law.

The PCG plan has been approved by all other cotton producer organizations in Texas and has the support of several other states, Johnson says, but USDA's reaction is not yet known.

HIGHWAY SAFETY

DRIVING IN FOG
If you're in a fog about what to do when you're out driving in one, here's some advice from the experts.

If you are driving on a high speed expressway and thick fog rolls in, get off as quickly as possible. You'll be safer from rear-end collision on lesser roads.

MUCH DENSE FOG is merely a fine accumulation of mist on your windshield.

Turn on your windshield wipers. Much "dense fog" is merely a fine accumulation of mist on the windshield and you'll probably find that much of the fog is not as dense as you thought it was. If your wipers streak, squirt washer fluid on the windshield. This should wash away any oily accumulation. If streaking continues, replace the rubber refills the next time you're in a service station.

Turn on your lights even in day fog. Without them your car is invisible to anyone coming from behind at high speed. In addition, your headlights will help other motorists "see" you.

Many drivers have asked what speed to drive in a fog. Here's a good rule of thumb: If you can see six car lengths ahead and no more—20 to 30 mph maximum. If you can see two car lengths and no more—10 to 15 mph maximum.

Remember, driving safety is up to you.

As It Looks From Here

Omar Burleson, M.C. 17th District, Texas WASHINGTON, D.C. With this first release of the year and the beginning of the 95th Congress, perhaps it is well to explain again that this is not meant to be a professional effort. The purpose is an attempt to maintain as close as possible a relation between a large Constituency and their Representative in Washington. Not long ago, the 17th district was composed of 12 counties and 290,000 people. The Congress was not continuously in session as it has been in the last several years and continue to be almost constantly. Today there are 33 counties with approximately 467,000 people which makes it impossible to keep the sort of personal relationship which exist under our system of representative Government. The purpose in the past has been an attempt to discuss those things not usually a matter of daily mention in the news media. It is intended to be a background of events, either past or present, and opinions of what may occur in the immediate future.

The Congress has just opened with its usual ceremonies and, until now, all time has been consumed by caucuses of both political parties and general organization.

Probably at no time does the flower of "Reform" bloom more fully in the Washington garden than at the present. The snow seems only to nourish it. Some of the buds which appeared two years ago have faded but others take their place. It seems that the term "reform" is assumed to be for the better, but some might be more correctly defined as just change. At the beginning of the last Congress seventy-five new Democrats were conditioned to the idea that there should be many changes and that experience is an excuse for control and authority. In this Congress just beginning, another 47 new Democratic Members have arrived. More changes are demanded - some good - some probably not so good. There are not many things which cannot be improved upon and the best system has some faults about it. Times demand change but not necessarily alone for the sake of change.

The Congress is very much like a corporation. In fact, it is the biggest corporation in the world and represents over 200,150,000 people who are affected by what it does. It should have the most experienced and dedicated individuals to be found anywhere to conduct the affairs of the Nation. It is called "representative" because Members come from every corner of the Nation but with wide varying interests. To arrive at legislation those interests many times must be legislatively compromised in order to achieve anything. None can have his own way entirely.

Probably at no time in our history has the Congress faced more challenges than at the present time. The incompatibility of inflation and recession at the same time creates unprecedented problems - coping with one can easily further complicate the other.

No matter how long one may have served in Congress, or how imbued with zeal the newly elected may feel, all face a most consequential year. People deserve and expect the most dedicated efforts at coping with the challenges ahead. Scrutiny and observation should and will be intense. Stakes in our performance during the months and years immediately ahead will be enormous.

THE SOUTHERN NEW YEAR'S blackeyed peas are actually beans and are called "cow peas" in the north because they are fed to livestock. Marilyn Haggard, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, points out.

Those of us who bought under the buy-now-pay-later plan have suddenly realized that it is now later.

Two Training Workshops Set For 4-H Leaders

Two 4-H training workshops for 4-H leaders are set in early February at the Texas 4-H Center at Brownwood, and they are open to Floyd County 4-H leaders, according to Sharon Hillis, county Extension agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

One workshop deals with clothing projects only and is scheduled for Feb. 23. The workshop will include an overview of 4-H clothing projects, teen fashion and fabric trends for this spring, a session on metrics, thread and embroidery, and a session on clothing care.

Instructors for this workshop will include Extension clothing specialists Becky Culp and Marlene Odle and Janet Byrd with Coats and Clark of Stamford, Conn. A second leader training workshop is set for Feb. 5-6 and is designed for 4-H leaders in gardening, automotive and public speaking as well as clothing projects.

The clothing session of this workshop will be a repeat of the workshop conducted Feb. 23. The gardening segment of this workshop will be conducted by Extension horticulturists Sam Cotner and Dr. Jerry Parsons and will include basic information on gardening as well as ideas for gardening projects, such as container gardening, herb gardening, vegetable seed identification, vegetable judging and setting up a county 4-H vegetable show.

The session for those interested in automotive projects will be conducted by Extension agricultural engineer Henry O'Neal and will include discussions on the availability and use of literature and training aids and planning and conducting activities and exploring opportunities related to automotive projects. Extension 4-H and youth specialist Lanny Bullard will conduct the workshop for leaders interested in public speaking projects. This workshop is designed to help improve communication skills, including speech preparation, secrets of good grammar and good delivery.

Sharon Hillis said interested 4-H leaders should register with the State 4-H Office for the first clothing workshop no later than Jan. 26 and by Jan. 28 for the other four training sessions.

Further details on each of the two workshops are available at the County Extension office.

Water, Inc., President J. W. Buchanan of Dumas said the non-profit organization has served the High Plains well during its 10-year life. "Through the efforts of Water, Inc., residents of the High Plains are acutely aware of our problem and are better educated about water needs than most people in other sections of the state." Water, Inc. is a non-profit organization which seeks alternative water resources for the High Plains area. The organization's public education efforts are supported by donations from more than 2,200 members.

Buchanan said of the annual meeting, "This is the one opportunity for all of our members to gather and show their support for the Water, Inc., cause. With the legislature in session and a revision of the Texas Water Plan likely, it is important for residents of the High Plains to steadfastly exhibit their solid support and unity so that Austin can't help but look favorable upon our needs."
