Open with Cayuga today

Swiftettes gunning for ninth title

The Nazareth Swiftettes will be looking at something of a mirror-image of themselves Thursday morning when they face the Cayuga Wildcats at 10 a.m. at the Super Drum in Austin in the first round of the Class A girls state tournament.

Cayuga, which is southeast of Dallas, brings a 24-7 record into the tourney. The Wildcats were there once before, in 1975, and are led by head coach Joyce Williams, a four-year veteran at the school which should be familiar to Swiftette cross-country fans who have fought with the Wildcats for the state cross-country crown.

"They run a very deliberate half-court offense and try to work the ball inside," said a coach who played the Wildcats twice this year. "They have a lot of movement on offense, and move-pass—the ball very well. Their real strength is passing.

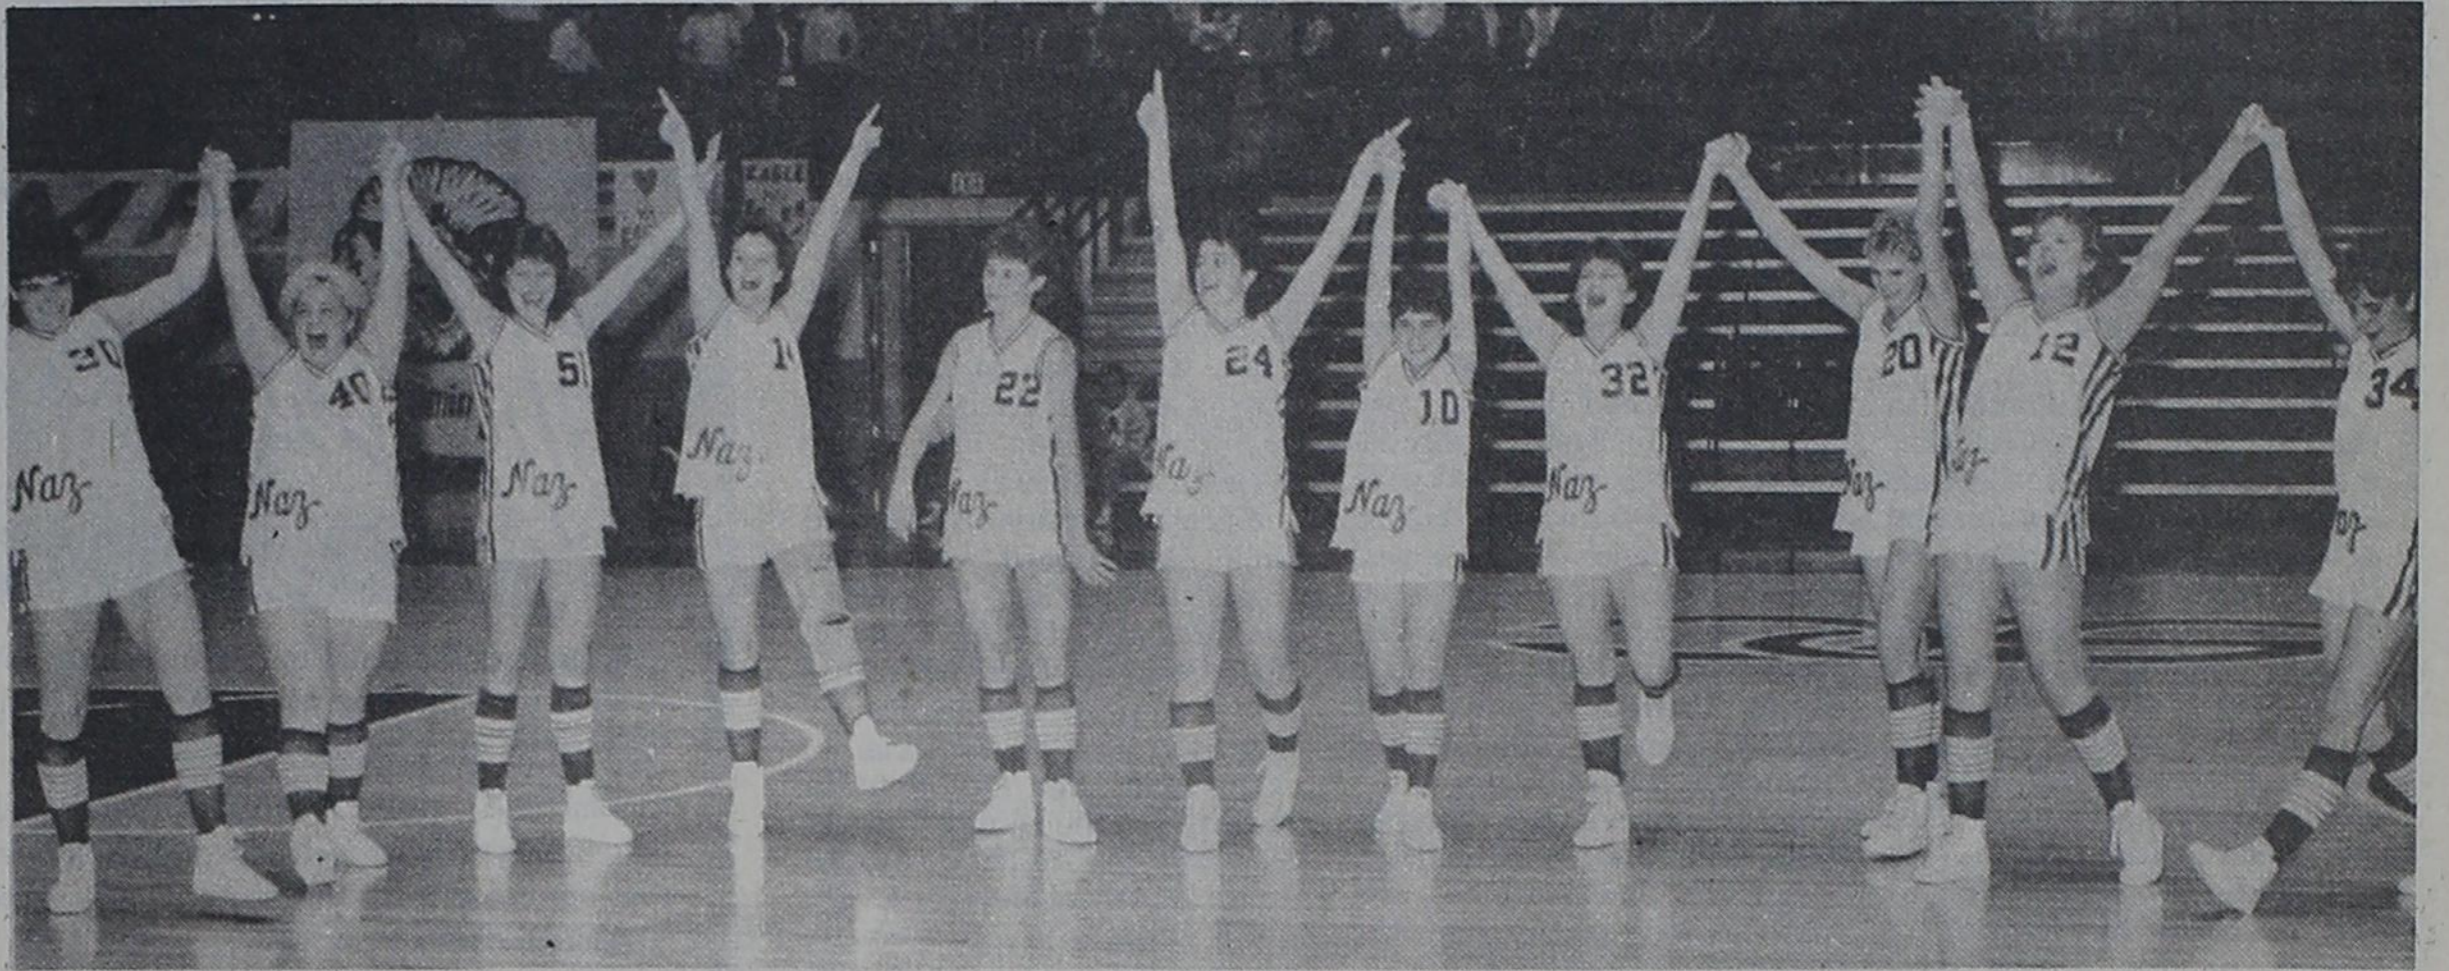

"On defense, they use an aggressive man-to-man throughout the game unless they are really up on someone, then they switch to a zone, but they use a man-to-man full-court press, and that's the real strength of their defense."

The Wildcats' field general is Sherri Wisenbaker, a 5-8 guard who is averaging about 14 points a game. She is joined by 5-6 wings Regina Cunningham and Vicki Allen, and posts Linda Allen, 5-7, and Nancy Kimbrough.

"Wisenbaker and Linda Allen seem to be their best two players," the coach said. "Their wings are adequate, and Kimbrough is alright, but you have to shut down Linda Allen and Wisenbaker, and you can't keep putting those two players on the foul line, because those two players are excellent free throw shooters."

Meanwhile, Nazareth Coach Sandy Oliver is looking forward to leading her first team to the state tournament.

"Some of the pressure is off of me now because we're going to state," Oliver said after

SWIFTETTE CELEBRATION—Nazareth Swiftettes Mona Heiman, Sheila Acker, Barbie Steffens, CeCe Kern, Rachel Huseman, Gail Birkenfeld, Stephanie Brockman, Traci Hill, Kelly Schilling, Annette Schmucker and Missy Brockman gather at mid-court Saturday at the

Texan Dome at Levelland to celebrate their Region I-A championship. The Swiftettes breezed past Vega, Motley County and O'Donnell to claim their tenth regional championship and another shot at the Class A state championship.

Saturday's regional final win over O'Donnell. "Of course, there's a lot of work between now and Thursday, but I feel good about our chances down there (Austin). I think our team's past experience will be invaluable, and I think my past experience down there will be invaluable. I've had to do a lot of preparation the last two years when Joe (Lombard) had to come back and coach the boys during the regional tournament, so it will be a lot of the same for me.

"I really relaxed after Tuesday (Nazareth's win over Sudan in the Area championship) because I thought Sudan might have the second-best team in the region, then I got here and saw the other teams in the tournament and really felt better. Of course, you never know about the state tournament and the teams you play down there, but I know we've played several people down there that three or four teams in our regional tournament could have beaten."

Oliver feels the Swiftettes will have to work hard to claim their ninth state tournament.

"There were a lot of questions when Abernathy beat us (ending the Swiftettes 69-game winning streak), but we have put things together since. We probably don't have as much talent as we have in the past, but a lot of heart made up for the lack of talent, plus a lot of hard work. There's no doubt we're going to have to work hard to win the state championship this year."

Cox and Don Sheffy. Absent was Harold Hyman. None of the four have filed for public offices before, and the quartet will be vying for the three positions on the board.

City ballots full, school races open

Four persons have filed for the three positions available on the Dimmitt City Board of Aldermen, with all three incumbents opting not to file for re-election this year.

Joyce Hunter, Ann Armstrong and David Behrends have all decided not to run for re-election to the board, which was without any prospective candidates until two days before last Wednesday's filing deadline for the city offices.

Don Sheffy, Harold Hyman, Ann Cox and Wayne Proffitt have filed for the seats on the Board of Aldermen. The names will appear on the April 5 ballot in that order. The candidates drew the names for ballot order Monday morning.

In Nazareth, Councilman

Carroll Gerber will be challenged by Jerry Lange for the available seat on the City Council. Mayor Tom Hoelting has filed for re-election.

In Hart, Ronnie Truelock will face no opposition on the ballot in his attempt to regain his seat on the City Council.

March 5 is the filing deadline for positions on the Dimmitt, Hart and Nazareth school boards.

In Dimmitt, Sara Hill is the only person who has filed for the three positions that will be available. Incumbents Fred Bruegel, Jr., Stanley Nelson and Deanne Clark have indicated they won't seek re-election.

No one has filed in the Nazareth school board race, where the terms of Louis Huseman and Hubert Backus expire. Backus was appointed to the board last year to fill the unexpired term of Rita Book.

In Hart, incumbents Weldon Davis and J. D. Myrick have filed for re-election to the school board.

Cox, in a prepared statement Monday, said she chose to run for Alderman "because it is an important part of the city's government. Everyone thinks Dimmitt needs this or that but they just sit back and let someone else do the job.

"I'm proud to have been raised in Dimmitt. I hope each youth that leaves or remains in Dimmitt will have the same satisfaction. We are a strong town. Together, we can build for the future, but we can't wait for the future—we have to plan for it today."

We can thank our lucky stars, and the Roosevelt Eagles, that the Bobcats got to play their area championship game Tuesday night in Levelland, instead of somewhere in the Land of Enchantment.

The Eagles, runners-up of District 3-AAA, had to go into a different time zone to play their bi-district game against Canutillo, champion of District 4-AAA.

Now, Canutillo is as far west as you can go in Texas. If you were a crow and were to fly straight north from Canutillo, you'd go over Albuquerque and cross the Continental Divide west of Denver. If you were to fly straight south from Canutillo, you'd go right over Chihuahua, Chihuahua, Mexico.

The Roosevelt-Canutillo bi-district game was played in Carlsbad. If Canutillo had won, then the Bobcats would have had to play Canutillo Monday or Tuesday night for the area championship — probably in Carlsbad or Hobbs. But, luckily, Roosevelt won the game in overtime and saved us a trip of more than 400 miles on a weeknight.

If you ever get the urge to go to Canutillo and look around, go to Dodge City, Kan., or Pueblo, Colo., instead. They're closer.

Cats ease, Swifts breeze into region

Using a strong first half, the Dimmitt Bobcats eased into Friday's 3A regional tournament in Lubbock with a 68-66 win over Lubbock Roosevelt, while the Nazareth Swifts overcame a sluggish first quarter to post a 70-36 win over Spade to jump into the 1A regional tournament Friday in Levelland, in two area playoff games Tuesday at Levelland's Texan Dome.

The Swifts will play Claude Friday at 2 p.m. at the Dome, with the semifinals at 9:30 a.m. Saturday and the finals at 7 p.m. Saturday, while the Bobcats play at 7 p.m. Friday at the Lubbock Municipal Coliseum, with the finals Saturday at 1:30 p.m.

The Bobcats used an almost-perfect second quarter, when they shot 10-of-11 from the field and forged a 40-30 halftime lead, to provide the margin of victory over an Eagle team that stormed back from a 13-point third-quarter deficit to leave the Bobcats shaking their heads and holding their breaths as Roosevelt's Jim Miller missed three 15-foot jumpers in the last 22 seconds, any of which could have tied the score.

"We played super in the first half," said a relieved Dimmitt Coach Kenneth Cleveland after the area game. "Pat got 10 jillion points (22 in the first half on 10-of-11 shooting), and it's not his fault we didn't play well in the second half, but we played poor defense and didn't hit our free throws (the Bobcats were 16-of-30 from the line, matching their field goal percentage for the game at 53%).

"I guarantee you, if you don't play well and you don't hit your free throws, you don't go to Austin, and we're going to have to play better than this. We let Roosevelt score way too many points, but they played super. We've just got to start hitting at the end."

McDonald ended up with 27 points in the game, which looked like a repeat of the earlier Nazareth contest, where the Swifts pulled away from the

Dimmitt woman dies of asphyxiation

Law enforcement authorities are investigating the death of an 18-year-old Dimmitt woman and the near-asphyxiation of a Dimmitt man Tuesday morning.

According to Justice of the Peace Marshall Young, Rachel Lara and Jessie Lara were found inside a car that was parked in a shop building at the Rafter 3 Feed Yard, six miles west and 1 1/2 miles south of Dimmitt, at 6:30 a.m. Tuesday by a Rafter 3 employee.

According to Young, the car's ignition switch was on, the gas tank was empty and the battery was run down when investigating officers arrived at the scene.

Young pronounced Rachel Lara dead at 7:20 a.m. Tuesday and ruled death by asphyxiation.

Jessie Lara was listed in critical condition at High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo Wednesday morning. Jessie Lara was an employee at the feed yard, Young said.

Services for Rachel Lara will be at 3 p.m. today (Thursday) in the First Baptist Church in Hart with Rev. Roger Velasquez, pastor of Pentecostal Church of Hart, officiating. Burial will be in the Hart Cemetery, under the direction of Foskey Funeral Home of Dimmitt.

She was born in Plainview, Aug. 8, 1967, and moved to Dimmitt four years ago from Hart. She was employed at Town and Country Convenience Store in Dimmitt as a clerk. She was a member of the Primera Iglesia Bautista Mexicana Church.

Survivors include a daughter, Crystal Nicole of the home; her mother, Sara Lara of the home; a sister, Elida Lara of the home; eight step-sisters and two step-brothers.

On the Go with Mary Edna Hendrix, 647-3343

Congratulations to Tobin Touchstone of San Diego, Calif. He will be on "Joker's Wild" Thursday, Feb. 27 at 11:30 a.m. on Channel 4 from Amarillo. Tobin will be on the program for six days, so be sure to watch. Tobin is married to Angela Ross and he is the son of Ann Touchstone of Paducah and Truman Touchstone of Dimmitt and the grandson of Oleta Walser.

Oma Dee Heard took her grandson, James White, to Canterbury Villa on Thursday morning where he sang "Jesus Loves Me" for the residents at the Nursing Home. Others singing were: Oma Dee Heard, Debbie Annen, Irene Carpenter, Zelma Smith, and Mary Edna Hendrix. Irene Carpenter brought the devotional.

Jo Gregory was hostess to the Thursday Bridge Club that met at the Senior Citizens Center for lunch and a fun day of bridge. Johnnie Vannoy won high score and Loranell Hamilton won second high. Others playing were: Bernice Hill, Cleo Forson, Elizabeth Huckabay, Louise Mears, Ferne Dickey, Edith Graef, Era Hickerson, Faun Welker and Oleda Schumacher.

Kathleen Foster celebrated her birthday by inviting a friend in for lunch and Kathleen and her mother, Gladys Leeth served a birthday cake.

The 65th Annual Session for Panhandle Pastors' and Laymen's Conference was held at Wayland Baptist University in Plainview on Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 17 and 18. Some who attended from Dimmitt were Rev. Ken Cole, Milton Bagwell, Richard Young and a few members from the choir, Oma Dee and Tammy Heard, Mauzee Youts, Irene Carpenter, Sandra Bagwell, and Mary Edna Hendrix, who sang several selections with the "Caprock-Plains Area Choir" on Tuesday evening. Oma Dee took us in her van and Richard had a sack lunch for everyone to enjoy eating along with all the fruit and vegetables that Oma Dee furnished.

The Conference theme was "Revive Us Again" and some of the speakers were: Floyd Bradley from Plainview, Carlos McLeod from Dallas, Paul Powell of Tyler, Charles Davenport of Tulia, and Larry Heard from Idalou. Some who brought special music were: Kim Broadstreet of Tulia, Paul and Christy Newberry of Floydada, Fred Wilmer of Lubbock, Sylvia Ruiz of Plainview, Joe Bolin of Amarillo, Jennie Lynn Hodges of Plainview, and several special choirs: "Sounds of Praise" from Crosbyton, "Rejoice" from Wayland Baptist University and "Heart-song" a BSU singing group from West Texas State University in Canyon.

We visited with Clyde and Nancy Vaughn from Tulia at the conference. They were my parents' neighbors for several years. Dr. Forman from Tulia was also singing in the choir. We visited with Larry Heard after the service. He is Dan Heard's cousin.

"Good Morning America" devoted their entire program (two hours) on Friday morning giving a "Tribute to Texas" during the Texas Sesquicentennial Celebration. All during the program they played "The Yellow Rose of Texas."

Prince Charles from England cut the huge birthday cake with 150 candles (made by the Colonial Bakery in San Antonio) in Austin and Gov. Mark White made a talk.

Dave Murray, the ABC Weatherman, was in Lubbock where he reported the weather from the Ranch and Heritage Headquarters at Texas Tech. Alvin Davis, president of the Heritage Center, made a short talk.

Tom Landry and his wife, Alicia, from Dallas were interviewed by David Hartman, as well as Luci Johnson Turpin from the LBJ Library in Austin.

Steve Fox, a correspondent for ABC showed several pictures along the Rio Grande River from El Paso to Laredo where the river flows into the Gulf of Mexico. They also showed some members of the Border Patrol. They mentioned Ron Stewart and the Texas Rangers from Waco, Lloyd Bentsen, who is 92 and the father of Senator Bensten, and Charlie Dunn, a bootmaker.

They showed several pictures of Billy Bob's nightclub in Fort Worth and talked with Rep. Jim Wright, the House Majority Leader. They showed scenes from the Livestock Show in Houston and interviewed Lewis Field, the Rodeo World Champion and Char-mayne Jamer, the World Champion Barrel Racer.

They interviewed Charles Long with the Alamo and the Mayor of San Antonio, and they showed pictures of the beautiful Azaleas in Tyler. They interviewed T. Boone Pickens from Amarillo in Beaumont and mentioned Willie Nelson and Kenny Rogers as the talented singers from Texas.

Pat George, the Fashion Editor with "Good Morning America," presented some Texas Fashions. All in all, a lot of good publicity for Texas and the Sesquicentennial!

I met Jeannie Dixon last Friday. She and her husband own and operate "The Hamburger Station" — a good place to get a hamburger.

Cyndi Marsh and two of her friends from Tech, Jim Bob and Rae Ellen Salazar, were in Dimmitt on Thursday visiting Cyndi's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Marsh. They visited the museum and were interested in everything especially the windmill. Jim Bob and Rae Ellen are from El Paso and had not seen a windmill. I turned it on but the wind did not cooperate — you know it takes a strong wind to turn a windmill.

Ysleta Ball drove to Amarillo and took her aunt Ura Ysleta Ginn out to eat on her birthday.

Melanie and little Michael Fant were guests in the home of her parents, Bryce and Darlene Dowell, and grandparents, J.O. and Florence Carpenter.

Irene Carpenter went to Lubbock with the Dowells to take Melanie to the airport and while they were in Lubbock, they visited Darlene's sister and family, Kay and Leroy O'Brian and Teena.

Friday, Tammy, Alicia and Oma Dee Heard visited in Plainview with Tammy's grandmother Nadine Roach. They also visited with Joy Baker and Joy's mom, Ruthie Burrows, from Sayre, Okla.

Dan and Oma Dee went to Amarillo to the Dinner Theater Saturday night. They enjoyed a delicious meal and saw a very good comedy "Captains Outrageous." This night out was a gift to the Heards.

P. L. Hoyer returned home Saturday night after spending three weeks in St. Anthony's Hospital at Amarillo. He had surgery and will be confined at home for awhile.

Steve McCord, missionary from Taejon, South Korea was a weekend visitor in Dimmitt and guest speaker at First Baptist Church Sunday morning.

Debbie, his wife, and young daughter Mindy Lee, were unable to accompany him as Debbie is expecting their second child early next month. Steve directs church education in over 20 churches in the Taejon area. Taejon is a city of 800,000 people about 100 miles from Seoul, South Korea. After April 1, the McCords will be in Richmond, Va., where he will be a resident missionary helping to introduce newly selected missionaries to their work. Steve and Debbie were staff members at First Baptist Church from January 1980 to August 1981, when he was called. (Continued on Page 3)

Sometimes the desire to run out the door and chuck it all is overpowering when we are confronted with the mess of an after-dinner table!

Sometimes, insight lets us see that our lives are quite a mess too. In fact, things seem such a jumble, that our reaction to this truth, if acknowledged, is, "What's the use?"

Well, of course, the only thing to do with the dishes is to take them to the sink, put them in hot water, and wash them with a good cleansing agent until they shine.

Less obvious, perhaps, is what to do with a messed-up life. We invite you to seek an answer in church this week. You are sure to find there the Power who will help you with your problems, a power who cares immeasurably for your soul.

"Casting all your care upon him, for he careth for you." 1 Peter 5:7

"And the crooked shall be made straight, and the rough places plain." Isaiah 40:4b.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

An emporium of good ideas ...

DESIGNER WALLPAPER, custom-sewn draperies, hand rubbed wood work, an isolated master suite, and a raised-beam ceiling. Sound familiar? For the prestigious at heart.

WATCH THE GOLFERS tee-off from the patio swing or take in a movie beside the corner fireplace. Snug, but roomy 2 bedrooms and bath and an additional master suite for yourself, not to mention the double garage and street appeal.

MAYBE you need 4 bedrooms, more bathrooms, more closets, more room for the kids ... but not "more payments." Try this one on for "size"?

REMEMBER arched windows, patio doors, and the colors rust and cream?? Then add an entry, 3 bedrooms, an oversized bath, oversized closets, a view of the CCRA, and a picture perfect price.

PERHAPS easy terms, easy payments, and an easy to-live-in floor plan suits you. 2 bedrooms, fenced yard, storm cellar, extra storage and a workshop. Sound$ "easy" enough??

BRAND NEW EVERYTHING!! Brand new paneling, brand new carpet, new ceiling fans, counter tops, cabinets. Specially coordinated interior designs. Storm windows, storm doors, and fully insulated for economy. 3 bedrooms, large den, and a garage. Or 2 bedrooms, a big back yard, and a corner lot. Pre-arranged financing on these brand new packages.

THINK FAST on this marvel!! Landscaped and quiet. Lots of sunlight, storage, and wood work. Living room, den, recreation room. Everything from pantry to parlor.

AND DON'T FORGET that 2 bedroom just a walk away from the Senior Citizens Center, caring neighbors, and cash income ... now being fully renovated.

OUR CONGRATULATIONS to Steve and Gloria Garcia and a warm welcome from your new neighbors. A special thanks to Henry and Linda Ramaekers for their unwavering confidence and our appreciation to Joe Josselet for his persevering expertise. And to all for making our first big idea happen ...

Castro County Sesquicentennial Quilt block winner

Langford wins county Quilting Bee

Claudine Langford of Dimmitt was recently named the Castro County winner in the Texas 1986 Sesquicentennial Quilting Bee and displayed her quilt Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum in Canyon.

The Quilting Bee is co-sponsored by the museum and the Texas Agricultural Extension service.

The Quilting Bee is the final event in the 1985-86 Panhandle wide Sesquicentennial Quilting Project. Quilt block competitions have been held in the top 26 counties, with local quilters entering their own special quilt blocks designed to represent a specific characteristic of each quilter's own county.

The top blocks were chosen in each county by panels of judges. Entries were evaluated on overall appearance, workmanship, originality of design, adherence of theme, appropriateness of material and use of color.

The first-place blocks arrived in Canyon at the museum, where they will become part of a queen-size Sesquicentennial Quilt. Each county will have a block and the remaining four blocks will represent the museum, the Extension service, the Sesquicentennial and the Panhandle.

Grand Opening!

CAROLYN CURTIS STATES:

I am the manager of your new Pat Walker's Figure Perfection Salon in Dimmitt. I am a Pat Walker's graduate and really believe in the Pat Walker's program.

With the encouragement and support of a friend, we called for our FREE courtesy visit. After only one treatment I felt so much better and was encouraged that I would be able to reach my goal, which was to get down to 120 lbs. I lost 25 lbs. and 38 inches in FOUR MONTHS, and have gone from a size 16 to 9 Jr. I met my goal, and you can, too!

The food plan was easy for me to follow and the products were an aid in my weight reduction. I particularly enjoyed the lemon drink in the mornings.

My family is excited with the progress I've made. Mother calls me her "little girl" again, and my husband compliments me, and my daughters are worried that "Mom" will get smaller than they are.

Hulsey to run for TSHL

Poppy Hulsey of Dimmitt has announced she will be a candidate for the Texas Silver Haired Legislature.

The TSHL will consist of 116 elected representatives, with four from the Panhandle.

The Panhandle is divided into three areas, with area residents voting in the south area including Swisher, Castro, Parmer, Deaf Smith, Briscoe, Hall, Oldham, Wheeler, Gray, Donley and Collinsworth counties.

One representative will come from this area.

Voting places for the May 30 election will be designated for each town. A voter must be registered to vote in Texas and be 60 years of age or older as of Jan. 1.

Hulsey came to Tulia as the bride of W. K. (Kirk) Hulsey 45 years ago. They have been engaged in farming and ranching, an operation begun in the early 1890's by his grandparents. They are the parents of four children and have hosted two foreign exchange students, a boy from New Zealand and a girl from West Pakistan.

She was the editor of the Swisher County History Book, "Windmilling" and was named "Woman of the Year" by Tulia Chamber of Commerce in 1977. She was presented the "distinguished Service Award" in 1979 by West Texas State University. She is currently serving on the private Industry Council of the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission for the Tulia Industrial Foundation and is representing Swisher Electric Cooperative, serving as a consultant.

"Some of the issues we are addressing in this campaign include displaced workers, older workers and job training," said Hulsey. "My participation in this program gives me knowledge that I think I can use as we seek solutions to older Texans' problems."

Mar. 14 is deadline for ordering trees

March 14 is the deadline for ordering trees from the Running Water Soil and Water Conservation District office in Dimmitt, according to District Technician Lilly Nicholson.

"Some species of trees are already sold out, and the closer we get to the deadline the fewer varieties there will be available. We will try to have a few extra trees, but everyone that wants a special variety should place their order as soon as possible," Nicholson said.

All of the small seedlings (1 to 3 ft.) can be ordered over the phone, but no less than 30 potted or 50 bare-root trees can be ordered in that size.

The one-gallon potted trees require payment in advance, and are $5 each with no minimum order.

35 species have been available in the past, but several have sold out.

RWSWCD is ordering both hardwood and evergreen seedlings, and anyone may order the trees.

To order trees, call the district office at 647-4324 or go by the office at SW Third and Bedford in Dimmitt.

SWIMMING UPSTREAM is easy, compared with trying to get the ball upcourt against the Nazareth Swiftettes' full-court press, as the Motley County Lady Matadors (dark uniforms) learn during second-quarter action in the Region 1-A semifinals game Saturday morning at Levelland. Swiftettes, from left, are Mona Heiman, Gail Birkenfeld, Annette Schmucker and Traci Hill. Nazareth's trapping tactics forced a traveling call against the Lady Matadors on this play. The Swiftettes won the game handily, 73-40, en route to their 10th regional championship in 11 years.

Babbling Brooks

By JOHN BROOKS

Not that many years ago... I was a fat kid trying to learn how to swim. At the time, there was only one place in Dimmitt to swim, and just two people to teach you, Kenneth and Libby Cleveland.

I was 10 years old — old enough to be deathly afraid of the water. Since I had almost drowned three years before and an uncle pulled me out of a swimming pool, my fears were compounded.

Kenneth and Libby were extra-patient with me. They didn't have to be, because there were a lot of other kids who were willing to learn, but they saw I had a problem and chose not to ignore me, but to work with me.

Since I looked like a buoy out in the ocean, they taught me how to float, because that was easy. It was easy, and I eventually became a little less afraid, and finally kinda began to swim.

Then came the big test. It was the last day of the lessons, and I decided I wanted to jump off the diving board. Kenneth had already gotten out of the water and dried off, but that didn't make me any difference — I wasn't jumping into that deep pool unless he was out there waiting for me.

"Okay, John, I'll do it," Kenneth said, "but only if you jump." "Okay, Coach, I'll do it." So Kenneth grabbed an inflated innertube and plunged into the water, then swam out to the middle.

I walked to the end of the diving board. And I panicked. "Come on, John," Kenneth and Libby urged. But I wouldn't go. I stood up there for 10 minutes while Kenneth shivered in the water, but I wouldn't do it.

Kenneth didn't say a word about my not jumping. But he did mention that he was proud I had worked up enough courage to try to learn to swim.

Kenneth and Libby have been patient with a lot of other kids over the years. This is his twenty-third basketball season in Dimmitt, and he's seen all kinds of changes — in kids, basketball and life — but he's not changed that much. He's still patient with every one of them, still trying to teach them the lessons they need to learn to play basketball like he tried to teach me how to swim, and he's out there in that gym every day waiting to help anyone just like he was out there in that pool trying to cajole me off the diving board.

Fortunately, he's been a lot more successful teaching kids to take the basketball plunge than fat little swimmers like me to take the diving plunge.

I guarantee you he couldn't have done any of what he's done without Libby.

Now, with some luck, he's going to do something this weekend that has been accomplished by very, very few people — win 700 basketball games. If the Bobcats win the regional championship, it will be Ken's — and Libby's — 700th win as a varsity basketball coach, with 665 of those wins coming in Dimmitt.

Kenneth probably would have done well wherever he had gone, but I don't think Dimmitt would have been as well off if he had gone somewhere else. The man is respected by his peers, and that might say more than anything else can say about the man. In some places people jeer, but that's because they're jealous. In other places, people he has seen at basketball games but has never really met come and shake his hand and say 'hi,' just because they know him for what he is.

He's earned their respect — and if the Bobcats win the regional championship this weekend, he will have earned it 700 times.

About the same time I was a fat little swimmer, I was also a fat little third baseman, all bat and no arm, struggling through the minor leagues, spending afternoons in the back of a car going from field to field to try to hit more balls than I let go by me in the field.

Usually, coaches tried to hide their worst fielders in the outfield, but I was too slow — I was born with a piano on my back. I also had a very weak arm. Some people have a "lollipop" arm — I had a box full of all-day suckers for an arm.

My bat was good, though, and the coaches had to play me. One of my teammates was a pretty good ballplayer — even though I was a grizzled veteran and he was a rookie, he was one of my closest friends on the team, and had all the tools. Usually, I'd bat fourth and he'd bat fifth. Unless I got lucky and hit the ball so far I could waddle all the way around the bases and score, he was assured of someone getting on base so he could advance the waddler, er, runner.

Johnny Hampton would usually hit the ball far enough for me to at least rumble to third, and sometimes I'd put on a big burst of speed and actually score. One time he passed me — I had started from second, he had been the batter — so my run didn't count.

This week, Johnny will be looking for his first regional championship in his rookie year as a head coach. Tell ya what, Johnny — you win this weekend, and I'll help ya find that tuxedo shop on Guadalupe next weekend in Austin.

Twenty-nine residents of the community, representing 20 homes, met at the community building Tuesday night and formed a Community Crime Watch. Deputy Frank Valdez of the Castro County Sheriff's Department presented the program, assisted by Fidel M. Reyes Jr. of the Hereford Sheriff's Office, and Glen Snitker, deputy. The community was divided into four zones. Lee Bradley will be the Community Coordinator; Roger Sanders the Zone Captain for the southwest part of the community; Gerald Elkins the Zone Captain for the southeast part of the community; R. V. Bills the Zone Captain for the northwest part; and Matt Gilbreath Zone Captain for the northeast part of the community. Signs will be posted on the highways that our property is being watched and machinery and personal property will be marked.

Gale and Verna Sadler were honored at the annual Recognition Day Chapel at Wayland Baptist University recently. Gale was named recipient of the Master of Business Administration award from the Division of Business and Verna was presented the Business Administration award. She is a senior and has been named to Alpha Chi National Honor Society and has been on the dean's honor roll throughout her career at Wayland.

Rev. Bentley and Kathy Gwyn and Holly attended the 65th annual session of the Panhandle Pastors' and Laymen's Conference at Wayland in Plainview Monday and Tuesday.

Hershel and Retha Wilson, Verba Sadler and Teeny Bowden attended the funeral services for Mrs. Minnie Simpkins at Lee Street Baptist Church in Dimmitt Saturday morning. She and her family moved to the Sunnyside community in 1941. Her husband, Walter, farmed the Dwight Axtell place. He died in 1943, but J.B. and Buck Raper, her older sons, continued to farm the place for several years. Mrs. Simpkins would have been 92 April 1.

Winston and Judy Waggoner and Molly Gay, Mike and Michele Bell, Zachary and Michael, Rick and Susie Bell, Caleb and Kacie, and Coby and Connie Gilbreath attended the Bobcat-Borger game Tuesday night at the Tascosa Gym in Amarillo. Rick and Susie Bell bought a new double-wide mobile home from the factory and moved to their lot this week. Some work was done on it this week, but it will be a week or two before it will be ready for them to move into. Mike and Michele, Zachary and Michael will move into Dimmitt during the spring break. They have purchased a house in town.

Verba Sadler played with the Hereford Bluegrass Group at Canterbury Villa in Dimmitt Saturday afternoon. She and Ezell hosted the group for a chicken fry in their home Saturday night.

Erin Bridges was on the Springlake-Earth sixth grade "A" Honor Roll for the last six weeks and Christy Gwyn was on the "B" roll. Brannon Byers was on the seventh grade "B" roll.

The Sunnyside Volunteer Fire Department met Monday night at the community building. Rev. Bentley Gwyn became a new member. They responded to a barn fire southwest of Sunnyside recently but the Springlake Fire Department and neighbors were already taking care of the situation.

my Grisham, in Rotan Sunday afternoon.

R.V. and Bess Bills kept their grandchildren, David and Angie Bills last Sunday through Wednesday while Larry and Debbie were in Dallas where he was honored by the National Grain Sorghum Producers Association for winning the Irrigated Division yield contest for his 144.78 bushels per acre of DeKalb 69 corn. He received two plaques, one trophy, $500, and a trip to Hawaii in December.

We Salute Two Golden Days

THERE ARE two Golden Days in the week about which we should never worry; two carefree days, kept sacredly free from fear and apprehension.

One of these days is yesterday.

YESTERDAY, with its cares and frets and all its pains and aches; all its faults, its mistakes and blunders, has passed forever beyond our recall. We cannot undo an act that we wrought, cannot unsay a word we said. All that yesterday holds of our life is in the hands of God Almighty. Save for the beautiful memories that linger like the perfume of roses in the heart of the day that is gone, we have nothing to do with yesterday. It was ours and now it is God's.

And the other day that we do not worry about is tomorrow.

TOMORROW with all its possible adversities, its burdens, its perils, its large promises and poor performances, is as far beyond our mastery as its dead sister, Yesterday. The sun will rise in splendor or behind a mask of weeping clouds, but it will rise. Save for the Star of Hope that gleams on the brow of Tomorrow, shining with tender promise into the heart of Today, we have no possession in that unborn day of grace. Tomorrow is God's day. It will be ours.

There is left for ourselves, then, but one Day in the week — Today!

Any man can fight the battles of Today. Any woman can carry the burdens of just One Day. Anyone can resist the temptations of Today. It is only when we willfully add the burden of those two awful eternities, Yesterday and Tomorrow, that we bread down.

Therefore, we think, and we do, and we journey but one day at a time — Today.

Dutifully we run our course and work out appointed task on that one Day that is Ours.

God takes care of Yesterday and Tomorrow.

Essay, poster contests set

Essay and poster contests for Dimmitt school students are currently underway to help promote beautification in Dimmitt. The contests are being sponsored by the Education Committee of the Mayor's Council for City Beautification.

EDC $ SIGNS

You will recall that a gas contract dispute threatened to shut down the Goodpasture Plant in Dimmitt last November.

The situation was created when the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission handed down a ruling which prevented Goodpasture from contracting with outside suppliers for natural gas.

The regulation gave Cabot Corporation, the existing gas supplier, the right to be the sole transporter of gas to the Dimmitt plant. When Cabot insisted that Goodpasture sign a five-year contract that was unacceptable to the Company, Goodpasture refused and Cabot threatened to terminate the supply of gas to the plant.

At the time, the rule was described as a well-intentioned action by a Government agency that resulted in a negative effect.

Recently, Goodpasture received a 7-C permit from the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission which allows the company to transport its own gas to the Dimmitt plant. The permit, granted this month, allows Goodpasture to buy gas at the market price and ends its dependence upon a sole supplier.

The fact that this problem has been resolved is good news for our community. Goodpasture, one of our most important industries is continuing to operate and for that, we are grateful.

The poster contest is for students in grades one through six, and the essay contest is for students in grades four through eight. The posters and essays should deal with keeping Dimmitt litter-free.

Prize-winning posters will be displayed in Dimmitt businesses during March to advertise this year's CUFUPU campaign, and should be no larger than 22" by 28". The student's name, grade and homeroom teacher should be printed on the back of the poster.

Older students are encouraged to write an essay of no more than 100 words. The prize-winning papers will be read on KDHN radio during CUFUPU Week, Mar. 17 through Mar. 22, and will be printed in the Castro County News during March. Students may turn in their essays to their homeroom or English teachers by Wednesday, or to the Dimmitt Chamber of Commerce by next Friday. Posters should also be turned in to the schools by next Wednesday.

"The poster and essay contests are one way to get students involved in the MCCB's efforts to remind everyone to help improve Dimmitt's appearance," said Education Committee Chairman Susan Hanners.

Same old story-- Naz takes region

It was another typical day at the office for the Swiftettes at the Region I-A Tournament at the Texas Dome in Levelland last Friday and Saturday as the Swiftettes knocked off Vega, Motley County and O'Donnell to claim their tenth regional crown and the accompanying ticket to the Super Drum in Austin and the Girls State Tournament, which the Swiftettes have claimed eight times.

All fans could do was compare this year's annihilation of opponents with that of previous years as the Swiftettes won their three games by an average of 24 points and were pressured only briefly in the finals, which they won 57-37, while getting to rest everyone during Friday's 45-15 win over Vega and Saturday's 73-40 shellacking of Motley County.

None of those three victims had lost a game by such commanding margins as they did in the regional tourney as the Swiftettes usually made things final by halftime.

The final game was the most typical as the Swiftettes, who led by two, 15-13, with 5:50 left in the second quarter over the Eagles, went on an 18-1 scoring spree to forge a 33-14 halftime lead.

"We got up on them early (11-3 in the first quarter) and then kind of sat back," said Nazareth Coach Sandy Oliver, who is leading the Swiftettes to the state tournament for the first time as head coach this year. "We were ready to play, but we knew we couldn't sit back because of the way they had come back against Wheeler Saturday morning. We realized that we had to keep building up the lead on them."

The Swiftettes didn't employ their full-court press in the first quarter of the final game, "but we changed that to start the second quarter," Oliver said. "We put the press on and started to push the ball up the floor more. We felt O'Donnell was tired because of their close ball game Saturday morning (when they beat Wheeler 52-51). We were a little more fresh because we had been able to rest our players some during our game Saturday. No question, though, both teams were drained by the end of the game (Saturday night)—I think you could tell from the number of fouls — but it's tough to play three games in two days."

Nazareth couldn't score in the last two minutes of the first quarter as the Swiftettes saw their eight-point lead dwindle to two, 11-9, by the end of the first quarter. It wasn't a two-point game for long, though, as the Swiftettes forced seven turnovers in the last 5:50 of the first half to help account for 18 points while O'Donnell could manage just a free throw during the stretch.

"The press had so much to do with that," Oliver said, "plus pushing the ball up the floor, forcing a faster tempo. They just couldn't respond."

O'Donnell didn't score a field goal from the 6:33 mark in the second quarter until there were just 14 seconds left in the third quarter as the Swifts extended their lead to as much as 30 points, 44-14 on a Sheila Acker field goal with 2:58 left in the third quarter. O'Donnell scored just six more points from the field for the rest of the game as the Swiftettes outscored the Eagles 50-22 from the floor.

Saturday morning, Oliver let her starters take it easy as much as possible as the Swiftettes raced to a 73-40 win over Motley County in the regional semifinals.

GAIL BIRKENFELD puts defensive pressure on Motley County's Tammie Brown in the second quarter of the Nazareth Swiftettes' Region I-A semifinals game Saturday morning in Levelland. The Lady Matadors became the 26th victim of Nazareth's suffocating defense as the Swiftettes posted a lopsided 73-40 victory en route to the Region I-A championship.

Motley's crew had 19 turnovers in the first half, compared to just seven for Nazareth, as the Swiftettes jumped to a 17-4 lead in the first quarter while holding the Matadors to just one basket and a pair of free throws, and claimed a 35-10 halftime lead before Oliver decided to almost totally rest her starters during the second half.

Even without the normal scorers, the Swiftettes outpointed the Matadors 35-30 during the last two quarters.

One huge difference was in rebounds, where Nazareth enjoyed a 35-16 edge, including a 21-7 margin through three quarters.

Cats ease, Swifts breeze into region...

Much of that edge came from the free throw line, where Roosevelt was 22-of-27, 81%.

In the last three minutes, with the Bobcats clinging to a 62-56 lead, Roosevelt marched to the line three times and hit six free throws, converting all one-an-one efforts, and added baskets by Miller and Mike Carmichael, while the Bobcats made six-of-eight attempts, including the winning free throws with 57 seconds left by Danny Martinez.

Those two charity tosses, which made the score 68-66, were the last points scored by either team, although there were plenty of chances. Jeremy Warren missed the front end of a one-and-one with 39 seconds left, while James Alexander grabbed the last of Miller's three misses with seven seconds left and was fouled. Alexander missed the free throw, but Roosevelt couldn't hit a basket in their last chance down the floor.

In the first quarter, the Longhorns, 21-6, stayed even with the Swifts, established a quick 4-0 lead, and never trailed in the opening period. Chris Schmucker brought the Swifts into a tie at the end of the quarter with a 14-foot jumper just inside the lane with 2 seconds left.

In the second quarter, the Swifts went on a 6-2 tear to go up 22-16 in the first three minutes before the quicker Longhorns penetrated for a basket to close the gap back to four, 22-18, then grabbed a point on a free throw, before Nazareth started using its bigger inside game to begin its run away from the Longhorns.

The drive was keyed by Billy Steffens, who had nine of his 15 points in the second quarter as the Swifts mounted a 33-21 halftime lead.

"Billy Steffens had a tremendous first half," said Nazareth coach Johnny Hampton. "We finally quit fouling in the second quarter — we had Spade in the bonus three minutes deep in the game, and that hurt us because we couldn't be aggressive. "We had planned on going to our halfcourt offense at the beginning because of their quickness, and their quickness hurt us. They hustled, and we didn't hustle for a little bit early, but I think we came out a little nervous.

"But Billy came out and shut down (Mike) Reed, and Reed had been their top scorer and rebounder. As a whole we didn't play well, but Billy really played up to his level."

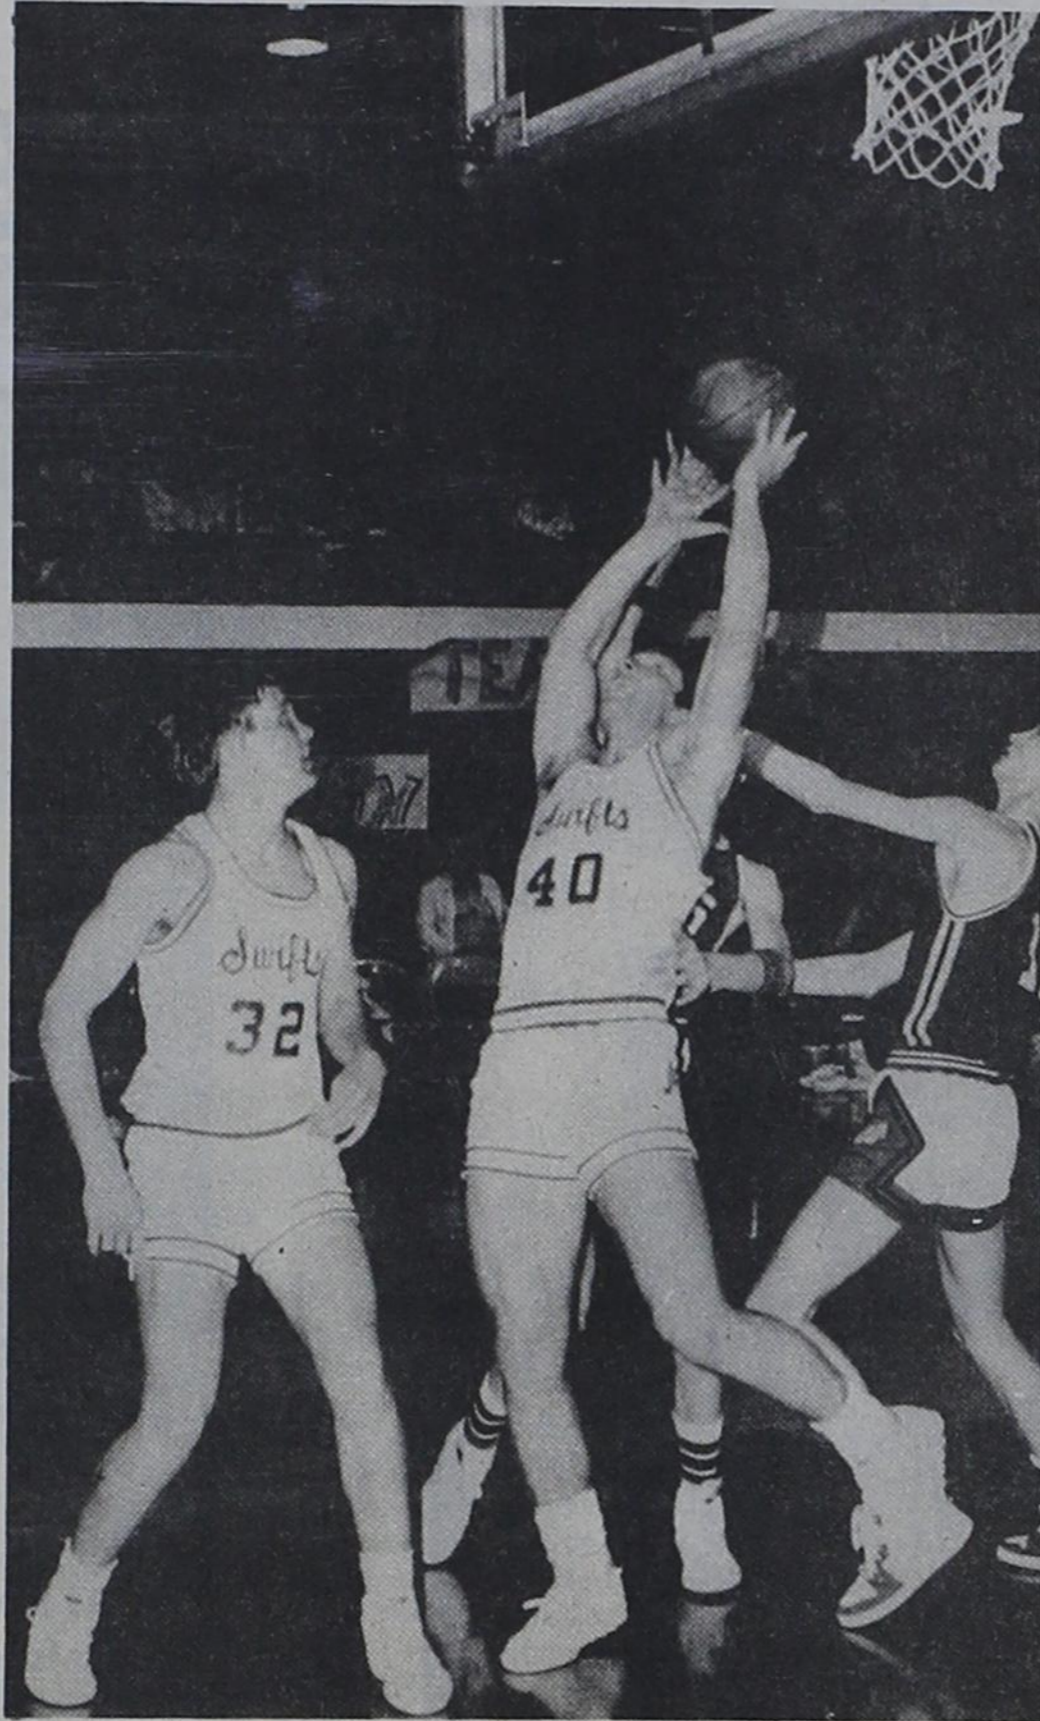

Kevin Hoelting, Randy Leavitt, Billy Steffens and Kenny Kern, came to the front in the second quarter when Silverton got just one rebound while the Swifts pulled down 11.

The REAL Bobcats were out for a while last Friday at the WT Fieldhouse in Canyon as Dimmitt destroyed Dalhart, 95-56, to claim the bi-district championship.

"I hate to say we scored 95 points and didn't play well, but we didn't play well, and the kids know that," Dimmitt coach Kenneth Cleveland said. "We sure didn't play well in the first or third quarters. But Pat (McDonald) played well, Woody (Glass) and Jeremy (Warren) played well, but the rest didn't really play up to their potential.

"But we won, and I'm always happy with a win."

There was really no doubt about the win as the Bobcats forced turnovers the first two times Dalhart had the ball, the first of 29 turnovers that stymied the Golden Wolves throughout the contest. The Bobcats forced 12 turnovers in the second quarter, when the Bobcats outscored the Wolves 29-13 to claim a 44-23 halftime lead, and established as much as a 25-point lead during the quarter.

NAZARETH'S BILLY STEFFENS (40) outreaches a Silverton Owl for an offensive rebound Thursday night in Bi-District action at Tulia, while Kevin Hoelting (32) looks on. Steffens had eight points in the Swifts' 73-35 playoff victory.

Thursday, the Swifts breezed to a 73-35 win over Silverton for the bi-district championship at Tulia by using their dominating inside game that accounted for 44 points, 11 blocked shots and a 34-12 rebounding edge.

"We played well against Memphis in our last practice game and that carried over through the first half of this (bi-district) game," Coach Johnny Hampton said. "I thought we played really well in the first half, and then played our subs a whole lot during the second half.

"Hopefully, we can play better than this, but we did play well tonight."

Nazareth's inside force told the story early, as the Swifts outrebounded the Owls 9-2, and blocked two shots. The inside difference, featuring

First champions will be honored

The team that started it all for the Nazareth Swiftettes will be the Class A Honor Team at the Girls State Tournament in Austin this weekend.

The 1977 Swiftettes, who beat Maypearl, 61-26, and May, 73-54, were the first state champions from Nazareth, and will be honored during halftime of Saturday's Class A championship game, which begins at 9:30 a.m.

Most of the Swiftettes had been in Austin the year before when Nazareth fell to Neches in overtime in the state semifinals. The 1976 team was the first team to make the Austin trip. The 1977 team started a 16-game winning streak for Nazareth's girls in the state tournament which will be on the line when the Swiftettes take on Cayuga today at 10 a.m.

The team included forwards Glenda Gerber, Doretta Ramaekers, Ladonna Brockman, Marlene Huseman, Michelle Acker, Karen Schulte, Rachele Pohlmeier and Cheryl Hartman, and guards Ladonna Brockman, Cindy Schacher, Dianne Hochstein, Rosemary Schulte, Colleen Gerber, Lynora Braddock and Germaine Pohlmeier. Coaches were Cathy Wilson and Beverly McDaniel Schulte.

"A few won't be there, but as far as we know most of the team members will be there," Beverly Schulte said Monday. "Hopefully, Jim Peggram will be there, too. He has been school principal during all of the state champion teams, and we hope to include him in the recognition."

More about Swiftettes...

Friday, the Swiftettes picked up their offensive output in the second half while keeping Vega throttled en route to a 45-15 win over the Lady Longhorns in the first game of the regional tournament.

The Swiftettes were sluggish early, trailing during the first four minutes as Vega established a 3-0 lead, but Heiman, who had a game-high 17 points, hit seven points in the last four minutes of the first quarter to give the Swiftettes an 11-3 lead at the end of the quarter.

The teams had a 6-6 standoff in the second quarter as the Swiftettes settled for a 17-9 halftime advantage before Nazareth went on a 16-0 third quarter rampage, shutting out the Lady Longhorns for over nine minutes and racing to a 33-9 lead by the end of the third quarter.

Traci Hill started the third-quarter onslaught with two quick baskets, before Missy Brockman hit a basket with 10 seconds left in the quarter. Kelly Schilling ended the massacre when she hit a basket on a lob inbound pass from Heiman with a second left in the quarter.

Jana Walker finally made Vega's first two points in the second half, hitting a short jumper a minute deep in the fourth quarter, but the Swiftettes owned a 24-point lead, 35-11. Nazareth reeled off 10 unanswered points before Walker finally scored again to cut the margin to 32, 45-13.

FAST CLIP—Seniors Kelly Schilling (20) and Mona Heiman cut down the Nazareth Swiftettes' 19th regional championship net at South Plains College's Texan Dome in Levelland Saturday night after defeating O'Donnell, 57-37, in the title game. Moments later the 20th net came down, symbolizing 10 regional championships in the last 11 years.

Ex-husbands leaving wives, kids in need

(EDITOR'S NOTE—The story about these two ladies, Marie and Karroll Kaye, is real. Their names, however, have been changed to protect them. Karroll has been fighting for child support for her two children for the past three years, and has received less than one-third of the money she is owed. Marie has received only one check, for half of one month's support, over the past five years. This is a story about their fruitless fight and strings of broken promises they have faced to receive the money they need to support their children—jfb.)

Karroll Kaye and Marie each have a problem. Each suffers from it independently, but their problem is the same—when they were divorced from their spouse, their ex-husbands conveniently forgot about the court-ordered child support.

And, despite constant phone calls, letters and personal haranguing, nobody is doing a whole lot of anything to help them out, despite state and national government reports to the contrary.

"There's a lot of talk, but it's all a bunch of bull," said Marie, who, like Karroll Kaye, is a Dimmitt housewife. "I am owed, right now, over $24,000, but I never got anything for five years until I got a check for half of one month's support in December, but I haven't got anything since, and they say he's been laid off where he lives (in another state), and they say they can't go after the back child support. They (officials in the state where the husband lives) says it's up to the State of Texas to go after the back support, but the State of Texas hasn't done anything yet."

Meanwhile, Marie feeds a family of three minor children on a less-than-$200 allotment of food stamps and Supplemental Security Income, plus money from odd jobs, like babysitting.

She's not able to work, but hasn't been able to collect disability payments that, according to Marie, were denied three times by Social Security but were ordered to be paid by a federal judge. She has not received a Social Security check since September, 1979. Her husband left her shortly after that, but she has not received a Social Security check since 1979.

Neither of the women can afford a private attorney, they say, and they have been appalled at the amount of paperwork they say they would have to do to qualify for free or reduced-cost legal services.

"This one lady gave me so much baloney on the phone that I just gave up," Marie said. "She told me all of these things I'd have to do, things to fill out, I just said 'forget it.'"

"I've thought about leaving, I've thought about a lot of things, but I don't know what to do. I truly believe there's nobody out there who wants to help me. The State of Texas and the state where my husband lives, well, neither one seems too interested in getting the back child support. I need it, and the states need it, but they're not going after it. He's supposed to pay all of the medical bills, but he hasn't paid, and I sure can't afford to pay it.

"If he's working for the federal government, you know he can afford to pay what he owes, at least what he's supposed to pay right now. Some of the year he gets laid off, but he gets unemployment, but he won't pay it.

"I've been to everybody I know, from the county attorney to the state attorney general. I guess maybe the President will do something. But he's kind of like everybody else—they talk about helping women like me, who have been deserted by their husbands, and whose ex-husbands have deserted their kids.

"I'll write to the President. But it won't be for me, and it won't be to get him. It'll be to help these kids. That's what's bad—they've forgotten about their kids."

Karroll Kaye's ex-husband, meanwhile, lives in Castro County, has a steady job and, according to Karroll Kaye, has not been having to pay rent or make any large payments since he has remarried, and his new spouse also works.

"I haven't gotten a full child support check since, well, I don't know when," Karroll Kaye said. According to Karroll Kaye's records, she is owed over $4,000 in back child support, but has received no promises on when that might be paid to help support her two children. She is currently receiving very little aid from any government source, and is not living with anyone who supports her or her children at the present time.

"I've tried to work with him any way in the world, just so he will pay me what he's supposed to," Karroll Kaye said. "He has all kinds of rights—he can see the kids any time he wants to, and anytime he has wanted to see the kids, then he gets to see them. I don't make any outrageous demands of him, and he hasn't made any outrageous demands of me, but he just won't pay me."

According to Karroll Kaye, her former spouse has threatened to go into court to get the support payments lowered, but has not done so. Meanwhile, she has tried to get local and state officials to help her get some of the back payments, but her efforts have been fruitless so far.

"I went to some people here, and they told me I would have get a private attorney, so I called the state attorney general's office. They beat around the bush for a long time. They finally told me they would go after him (her ex-husband) in March—I think so I will vote for Jim Mattox (state attorney general). I don't know why they're waiting until then, but they say they can't do anything until March."

For Marie, her husband's employer wasn't too hard to find, once someone looked in the right place.

"I couldn't believe he was working for the government," Marie exclaimed after learning her husband was employed by the US government. "I guess they don't keep any kind of records on federal employees, either that or they didn't look too hard for him.

"What really irks me is the state keeps complaining about how it's going broke, needs money and everything. If they just went after my back child support, the state has $9,000 coming to it out of that $24,000, but they just keep dragging their feet."

you can buy with your credit card on the easy-payment plan. Many of the products are billed as "not available in stores." (Does THAT tell you something?)

I was about to throw a packet away the other day when I decided to see just how many of these inventions I couldn't live without.

The packet was from that well-known purveyor of electronics, home furnishings and cookware — my friendly oil company. I can't get my tires aired up at their stations anymore, but I can get all these things that are less useful and more expensive by just signing my name to the order form.

One of the clever things they offered was a pup-tent that you blow up. It's held upright by inflatable "frame tubes" that run along the edges. Just think — no tent poles! Looks good, you think. Lightweight. Handy. But wait.

I'd never buy a tent without subjecting it to the Boy Scout test. Have you ever camped out with a bunch of Scouts? They seem to know by instinct what the weak point of a tent is — where a single, well-aimed blow can bring the tent crashing down around its occupants. Have you ever tried to crawl out of a collapsed, zipped-up tent at 3 in the morning?

Now, the air valves for this keen tent are on the outside. And, as you know, the people trying to sleep are generally on the inside.

I'd give that tent about 12 minutes tops after dark in a Scout camp.

Another feature of this tent, the brochure said, is that "four rugged plastic pins hold the tent in place — no other equipment needed."

Now, really. There's no such thing as a rugged plastic pin. I'd give these pins about 18 minutes in a healthy West Texas windstorm, then it would be every man for himself.

Another brochure in the packet offered a nifty home treadmill exercise machine for just $150. It's described as "the perfect exerciser." (How many "perfect exercisers" do you have stashed away in the storage shed or attic?)

Then there was this easy-to-use, versatile car waxer and buffer. It uses terry cloth bonnets to wax and buff your car. For only $80 you can get this gadget with a 1/2-hp motor that will do the same job as a $10 attachment to your electric drill will do. You can try it for 21 days free, then you can study the circular buff-marks in your car's paint from now on — also for free.

One of the most fascinating things in the packet was a combination telephone, lamp, clock, radio and alarm — all in one.

Now, think about it for a minute. Where would you put it? If it has a radio, clock, lamp and alarm, you'd probably want to put it next to your bed, right? Do you really want to use the telephone in bed?

I seldom call anyone after 9 at night. I think people are entitled to their privacy. But do you remember that last computer-puncher who called you at 11 p.m. on an 800 line out of Kansas City to ask you questions about your health and accident insurance? I don't like to get that kind of call anywhere in the house late at night, but least of all in my bedroom — especially while I'm listening to the telephone-radio or reading by my telephone lamp.

I may be simple, but to me a phone is a phone, a lamp is a lamp, an alarm clock is an alarm clock and a radio is a radio. Not only do I not need all these things in one plastic box somewhere in the house, I'd be afraid my friends would see it and realize that I'm an easy touch.

As I said, many of these gadgets aren't sold in stores. It's probably because you're more likely to buy them from a colorful brochure than if you saw them on the shelf in direct light.
