

$1 1/4-Million School Budget Adopted

TAX RATE UNCHANGED

Lockney school trustees adopted a 1977-78 budget of $1,250,349 and set a tax rate of $1.55 per $100 assessed valuation, same as last year, during a special called meeting Monday night.

$1.40 of the $1.55 per $100 tax rate goes for maintenance, while 15 cents goes for debt service. Last year the figures were $1.35 for maintenance and 20 cents for debt service. The assessed tax roll for Lockney Independent School District is approximately $36,300,000.

"GOOD FINANCIAL SHAPE"

Anticipated revenue from all funds is $1,203,875. This means the school district will be operating under a deficit budget. The deficit is due, Supt.

John Peck says, to capital outlay (the major items are the new tennis courts, stadium repair and one new school bus) in next year's budget. But, the superintendent says, "...we're in good financial shape. The deficit will not be a hindrance—the surplus will take care of it." (The amended 1976-77 school budget, also adopted Monday night, shows an estimated August 31 fund balance of $346,533.) Also, the school will receive an $11,000 reimbursement from federal funds on the tennis courts, plus donations from Lockney Tennis Club and others.

The 1977-78 budget is slightly more than eight percent above last year's budget of $1,156,081. The biggest increase, some $31,000 is in teachers' salaries— this with two fewer teachers than last year on the staff. (Attrition has accounted for the staff reduction— no teachers have been laid off or fired.) Expenditures include $13,920 for State Compensatory Program, a new math assistance program at the junior-high level.

Of the $1,203,875 anticipated income next year, $18,000 will come from "non-revenue sources" (sales of equipment, donations, etc). Of the remainder, the state of Texas will furnish $638,358, or about 54 percent and $547,517, or about 46 percent, will come from "local and intermediate sources."

AIDES POSITIONS TO BE FILLED

Peck reported to the board that several aides positions need to be filled in the immediate future. These include one Plan "A", two State Compensatory aides (college background preferred) and two aides to be hired in federal programs. Peck said that applications on file will be used for selected aides.

FEDERAL PROGRAM BUDGETS

The school trustees also adopted Title I Regular and Title I Migrant budgets for 1977-78, subject to approval of funds by the government. (The Title I Regular funds are already approved.) Title I Regular budget is $71,798; Title I Migrant budget is $58,670. Money for these two programs comes entirely from federal sources.

FIRST CORN reported in the Lockney area came to Providence Farm Supply elevator Monday afternoon. Pictured dumping a later load of the grain are (left to right) Warren Mathis, owner of the elevator; Glenn Graves, assistant manager; Joe Nance, manager; Herbert Smith and Norman Smith, producers of the first load. Corn Harvest Starts

The first load of corn reported harvested in the Lockney area this year arrived at Providence Farm Supply about 2 p.m. Monday. Herbert and Norman Smith were the producers. The 20,000-pound load tested 20.5 percent moisture, according to Providence Farm Supply manager Joe Nance. Yield was about 8,000 pounds per acre, from Pioneer 3780, a fast-maturing variety.

Warren Mathis and Tommy Sherman also cut some corn in the Providence area Monday. The first load was four days earlier than last year's. It is estimated that the corn harvest will be "in full swing" in the area in another 10 days to two weeks.

Lockney AFS Student Returns To France

Michel Lacaille, AFS student, departed from Albuquerque, New Mexico July 23 by plane for Dallas, where he joined a group of AFS students for a 13-day bus tour of the USA. They stayed in Huntsville, Alabama and then in New Jersey for several days. He toured points of interest including New York City. He departed July 8 and arrived home in Epouville, France, on July 10. Before leaving Albuquerque he had stayed with the C. L. Records, his host family this past school year, in their home in Colorado. He went backpacking with Breck, attended the Rio Grande Raft Races at Creede, and visited points of interest in that area and made many friends there. He has written several times since leaving that he really misses all of the Lockney people and hopes to return for a visit as soon as he is permitted to do so under AFS rules. He is currently working for the post office department until school starts there in September. The Record family wishes to express their sincere thanks to all of the people of Lockney who had any part in making this an enjoyable year for Michel, especially for all of the financial support that the community provided. "It was one of the most enjoyable years of our lives and one that we won't forget," the Records say.

ACCO SEED won the men's baseball league title late Tuesday night by defeating Providence 5-4 in a game that ended around midnight. We'll have full details on the tournament in Sunday's paper.

NOW DON'T LAUGH at me, gang, but I was really sad when Elvis died Tuesday. Presley brought in "my kind of music" back in the fifties when I was a teenager. Elvis, along with Buddy Holly, Little Richard, Chuck Berry, Eddie Cochran and Fats Domino were the basis for just about all the popular music you hear today. Without them, there probably wouldn't have been any Beatles or Stones; there probably wouldn't have been any Willie or Wayland, either, at least as we know 'em today.

OF COURSE, rock and roll music just about died, in my opinion, when the Beatles broke up. Elvis's death just finished it off.

THEY CALL IT "ROCK" NOW, not rock and roll, and it just doesn't seem the same to me. Of course, it could be I'm just getting old.

Horns Scrimmage Cooper Tonight

The scrimmage starts at 6 p.m. Head coach Jim Warren reports that the new home bleachers should be ready— if they're not, Lockney fans will join Cooper in the visitor's stands.

Junior High Home Rooms To Be Posted At School

The Lockney Junior High School home room list will be posted on the front door of the school beginning Monday.

Parents of students who are new in Lockney or who were not attending local schools last May are reminded to pre-enroll their children before school begins on August 25 (next Thursday).

School principals will be in their offices from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 4 p.m. Pre-enrollment of new students will ease the confusion of opening day.

Hallmark Named Superintendent

W. H. (Dub) Hallmark was named new superintendent of Lockney schools Tuesday night. Lockney Independent School District board of trustees made the decision after executive session in which they interviewed two applicants for the superintendent's position. Two other applicants (including Hallmark) had been interviewed Saturday night. There were 18 applicants for the job, and three others which came in after deadline the previous Tuesday.

Hallmark has been principal at Lockney Junior High for the past eight years. The junior high principal's position will be discussed— and possibly filled— at the next regular meeting of the school board on September 12. Board president Tom Duvall said it was the feeling of the board that the position should be filled from within the local school system.

Hallmark was assistant football and head track coach at Lockney High School for one year (1968-69) before taking over as junior high principal here. Before that, he was a teacher-coach for six years at the junior-high level at Big Spring, and prior to that taught elementary school in Amarillo. Originally from Hamlin, Hallmark graduated from Hamlin High School in 1955. He has BS and MEd degrees from North Texas State University in Denton and additional certification from Texas Tech University in Lubbock.

Hallmark and his wife Peggy, a Lockney school teacher, have two sons, Brent, age 10, and Todd, seven.

Hallmark is a life member of TSTA and a member of Texas Association of Secondary School Principals.

Hallmark replaces John O. Peck, who had been superintendent here for five years. Peck has accepted an assistant superintendent's position with the Plainview school district.

Police Investigate Alleged

Swindle, Obscene Phone Calls

Lockney police have issued warning of an alleged swindle operation by a man who drives a "big black car," shows a sheaf of books and papers and delivers a religious-sounding talk to elicit "donations" to an unidentified organization.

The police learned of the apparent swindle when a Lockney woman had second thoughts after giving the man a check for $27.63 following a fast-talking spiel Sunday in which he left the impression that he represented a religious group (although he didn't mention the name of a specific organization).

The woman, who lives alone in Lockney, called police Monday. She described the alleged swindler as a "clean-cut white man" who drove away in a big black car after making out a check for $27.63, which she signed. The woman later notified police that her personalized checkbook was missing.

Police officer Ronnie Ballew said the man had not been seen before in this area. Police have requested that anyone seeing such a man attempt to get the license tag number and report immediately to the police department, telephone number 652-2416.

OBSCENE PHONE CALLS

Police also have been investigating several obscene telephone calls to Lockney residents. Four persons have reported receiving numerous calls in the past week. The first few phone calls to each number have involved "heavy breathing" but in later calls the caller has used "foul language." No threats have been reported. The caller is believed to be a white male adult. Anyone who receives such telephone calls should report them to the police, who are trying to establish a pattern to the calls.

Cloud Seeding Elections Aug. 20 And 23

Elections to determine whether cloud seeding operations may be continued over all or portions of seven South Plains counties will be held August 20 and 23.

Petitions calling for the elections were circulated in the central South Plains counties by Citizens for Natural Weather, a group of more than 4,000 farmers opposing the weather modification activities of Atmospherics Inc. of Littlefield and Plains Improvement Association of Plainview.

Voting will be done in the following counties on August 20:

- Swisher, all precincts except Vigo Park.
- Randall, Precincts 2 and 3.
- Lamb, all precincts.
- Hoekley, Precincts 32, 33, 44 and 46.

Elections have been set for August 23 in these counties:

- Bailey, all precincts except Three Way.
- Castro, all precincts.
- Floyd, all precincts but those near Goodnight, Baker and Dougherty.

Polls in all counties will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Earlier, in Briscoe County, voters voiced their opposition to weather modification by a margin of 430 to 3.

Voters in each election will be able to vote only on the proposition affecting the company which operates over their precinct. Some precincts may vote on both propositions, while others within the same county will vote on both.

Although the elections are called against specific companies, the results will be binding for any company for a period of two years.

In counties where negative votes result, no company operating weather modification programs could be issued a permit for a period of two years after the election in target area precincts and not until a future election changed the results in operational areas.

The controversial issue has been raging on the South Plains for more than seven years.

Tea For Teachers Sunday

There will be a back-to-school teachers' tea Sunday in the Lockney Junior High School library. The come-and-go affair, from 8 to 9 p.m., will offer a chance for new teachers in the Lockney school system to get acquainted with old teachers.

The tea is sponsored by Athena Junior Study Club, Virginia Owens, educational chairman; Barbara Mathis, co-chairman.

NOTICE:

Lockney ISD school tax office will be closed all day Friday, August 19.

Grain Sorghum

Target Price

Correction

Grain sorghum target prices for 1977 will be $3.75 cwt. This is according to USDA's latest calculation and is down from the $4.02 level earlier expected by GSPA.

The drop comes as a result of USDA using the average of 1974 and 1975 cost of production instead of 1975-76.

The dramatic increase in cost of production in 1975 and 1976 will boost 1978 target prices to about $4.27 cwt., USDA sources indicated.

Under the new 1977 farm bill, grain sorghum targets will be set in relation to the cost of production. This is a result of years of work by Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board and Grain Sorghum Producers Association in studying production cost and GSPA initiating legislation in 1973 that required USDA to do an in-depth study of production cost.

The old method of figuring grain sorghum support levels was in relation to the nutritional value of corn. Under that formula, grain sorghum would have been only $3.39 cwt. in 1977 and $3.58 in 1978. The change raises grain sorghum targets by 36 cents in 1977 and 69 cents in 1978 more than if they were still tied to corn.

THEY'RE FRIENDLY and they need a home...The Roland Watson family, who live southeast of Lockney, bottle-fed these two puppies after their mother died when they were born last January. Now, though, they're getting too big to keep, and the Watsons are trying to find a good home for the "Heinz 57 Variety" pooches. Pug and Prissy are pictured with the Watsons' 13-year-old foster son Joe Harlowe. Anybody interested in providing a home for the dogs may call 6523153 to see if they qualify.

CLOUD SEEDING: ITS RISKS AND DANGERS AFFECT CROPS & HEALTH

"The cloud was coming up nicely and I could almost smell the rain. But then one of those cloud seeding planes started working on it and it went away." That's the way one dryland farmer expressed an encounter with cloud seeding. Many others have similar stories accumulated over seven years of cloud seeding in this area.

Cloud seeders say they suppress hail and increase rain. There are many meteorologists who say otherwise . . . that they don't suppress hail and the seeding interrupts the rain-making cycle of the clouds.

In the counties of this area, weather watchers totaled up the figures and showed that during the years of cloud seeding this area's rainfall has DECLINED about 45 inches.

Evidence that cloud seeding DECREASES rainfall comes from five American experiments, according to the Tri-State Natural Weather Association. These five randomized experiments were conducted with unchallenged reliability over a number of consecutive years with considerable care and foresight. The results are a decrease in precipitation due to cloud seeding and the estimated decreases amounted to 53%.

While meteorologists bicker about cloud seeding, they generally agree on one thing: that cloud seeding disrupts natural weather patterns and affects the weather as far as 150 miles downwind. In effect, a few people who are willing to spend hundreds of thousands of dollars are "messing with the weather for their own selfish purposes" and affecting all the people in this area.

CLOUD SEEDING IS DANGEROUS

The hazy, unscientific approach to cloud seeding has developed without adequate controls, causing real dangers, both economic and physical. Our agriculture depends on being able to consistently predict natural weather trends from year to year, and cloud seeding upsets this ability.

Personal safety may be a factor overlooked in cloud seeding, since scientists agree that clouds, after they are seeded, change and develop even more violent reactions as they move downward.

The chemicals, silver iodide, can affect the ecosystem adversely as it combines with other substances in the atmosphere, such as lead from auto exhausts, to form poisons that settle on grasses which are eaten by animals and possibly passed on to the dinner table.

Silver from the silver iodide can concentrate in various organisms and thence to man, causing a build-up in the human system to a toxic level and possible respiratory or gastric ailments and cancer.

Cloud seeders say these possibilities can't be proved. But statistics are more dramatic in showing these dangers than they are in trying to prove that cloud seeding causes more rain, or decreases hail.

FRIGHTENING STATISTICS

Statistics are our first warning of danger. Not too many years ago, saccharin was regarded as a good sweetener. Today, it is being controlled because statistics show it increases the chances of bladder cancer. Similarly, the spraying of poisonous chemicals into rain clouds may be proven later as dangerous and flagrant pollution.

In 1966, the year of heaviest cloud seeding in southern Pennsylvania, the death rate from lung diseases reached the highest number since vital statistics have been kept, according to the Pennsylvania Department of Public Health. This fact was reported by the Tri-State Natural Weather Association in a recent article in Acres, U.S.A.

The article also said that silver iodide crystals combine with auto emissions to create other serious poisons.

THE FUTURE?

And what of the future? Management of the clouds for weather purposes could later be organized into taxing districts, like we presently have for rivers, lakes, irrigation and drilling . . . levying taxes on all of us for this district management of our clouds!

WHAT CAN YOU DO?

If you feel as we do . . . that cloud seeding should be stopped, . . . you can help.

First, be sure to vote.

Second, call all your friends, urge them to vote.

Third, on election day, pick up friends and neighbors and take them to the polls, or remind them to vote.

Fourth, between now and election day, talk about cloud seeding, learn about it and be sure everyone realizes there are risks which affect us all, and that we have the opportunity, by voting, to settle the cloud seeding issue. State agencies have indicated they are interested in what the people have to say about cloud seeding. Let's take this opportunity to vote, and take a big step toward resolving the problems of cloud seeding in this area.

Three important reasons why wheat and other small grains in Floyd County need nitrogen at planting or a short time afterward are:

1. For early grazing.
 2. To help decompose residual straw.
 3. For high production.
- Sufficient fall growth for early grazing cannot be expected without adequate nitrogen at planting. The advantages of planting early and favorable growing conditions can be lost because nitrogen fertilization is delayed until the condition of the stand can be determined. To establish a good uniform stand requires some nitrogen and most soils are deficient in this nutrient. There are several options that will meet the nitrogen requirement during the fall growing period:

1. Apply the total requirement before planting.
 2. Apply a small amount at planting followed by top-dressing soon after planting.
- Another condition affecting fall nitrogen fertilization is the amount of straw from the previous crop. The bacteria and other microorganisms needed to decompose the straw require nitrogen and can use soil and applied nitrogen thus reducing the amount available to plants. Since the 1976 crop produced above-average amounts of straw in some areas, it may be necessary to apply a higher proportion of the total nitrogen requirement in the fall. The general rule has been to increase the nitrogen rate about 20 pounds per acre for each ton of undecomposed straw. However, a portion of this nitrogen is recovered during the final stages of decomposition so that as much as half of this may be available during the spring months. This means that about half of the extra nitrogen could be deducted from the late winter top-dressing.
- The evidence available shows that nitrogen at planting is essential for early grazing and high production.

ade. In 1965, he points out, the industrialized nations—U.S., Canada, Western Europe and Japan—had about 45 per cent of the world's textile equipment. By 1975, this total had dropped to about 33 per cent, with the two-thirds share claimed by the growing textile industries of the developing nations and Communist countries. Troxler points out that these changes have caused disruptions, as evidenced by the current Multifiber Arrangement (MFA) negotiations. "Many nations, particularly in Western Europe are calling for tighter import controls on textile products from developing nations to moderate the disruptions that have occurred," he notes.

Cotton Prices Slide

The large cotton crop now shaping up has been a major factor in the recent slide in cotton prices, but in the long run it should benefit American cotton producers, say economists at Cotton Incorporated.

Cotton consumption in 1976-77 was hurt, they point out, by tight cotton supplies, which caused some U.S. mills to substitute cheaper and more available synthetic fibers in some products.

Therefore, say the analysts, the larger supplies expected from the 1977-78 crop will be needed for cotton to recapture fiber market share.

The analysis is contained in the August issue of the COTTON SUMMARY, monthly publication of Cotton Incorporated, the fiber company of American cotton producers.

M. Daniel Troxler, associate director for demand economics, says the weakened cotton market has resulted primarily from two factors:

—The excellent cotton production prospects in almost all northern hemisphere cotton-producing countries.

—A deterioration of business conditions in the world's textile industry.

"As long as world crop production prospects remain so favorable," he notes, "and textile business weaker, it is unlikely that U.S. cotton prices can generate any degree of strength. In fact, if growing conditions in the United States for the last half of the season are as favorable as they have been in the first half, the abundant harvest is likely to put further pressure on prices."

However, says Troxler, "the 1977-78 crop will be needed to meet consumer requirements for textile products during calendar year 1978 and beyond."

"Although business conditions in many parts of the world have been poor and are likely to remain slow for the immediate future, conditions that lead to serious economic recession are not apparent. The world textile industry has drifted downward during the past 12 months, but improvement is likely over the next 12 months."

As of now, say the Cotton Incorporated economists, U.S. cotton producers are expected to harvest about 13.5 million bales of cotton this year. "At this level of production, textile mill concern about cotton supply and price uncertainties will be moderated, and U.S. mill use should increase by 300,000 bales," says Troxler.

On a worldwide basis, cotton consumption in 1977-78 is projected to be 62 million bales, a million-bale increase over 1976-77 consumption. This compares with expected world production of 64.6 million bales.

The current situation, says Troxler, points up the increasing importance of the export market for U.S.

cotton and the need for American cotton producers to have a sound understanding of foreign cotton demand.

An important part of this understanding, he says, is an awareness of the dramatic changes that have occurred in the world textile industry over the last dec-
