Charles Stenholm Congressional Candidate

Charles Stenholm of Stamford, Texas has authorized this newspaper to announce his candidacy for U.S. Congress to seek the office now held by retiring Omar Burleson.

In his announcement statement, he says, "Today I am announcing my candidacy for the United States Congress from the 17th Congressional District of Texas.

Our district has been fortunate to have had Omar Burleson as our Congressman for the past 31 years. Following his retirement at the end of his current term, Congressman Burleson will return to us as the same good man that he was when he went to Congress years ago.

I began to consider running for the office following Congressman Burleson's August retirement announcement. What I firmly believe after much thought these past weeks is that the voters in the 33 counties that make up this district can do something unique for the country—we can send a man to Congress who is aware of urban problems and at the same time has an agricultural background that qualifies him to represent the people whose livelihoods depend on the land.

All of us in the district 1) school teachers, 2) small businessmen, 3) oil and gas producers, 4) bankers, 5) private and public employees, 6) farm & ranch people—are dependent upon our basic source of wealth, which is the land. Food, fiber and energy production provide us either directly or indirectly with our livelihood. This is true whether we live on our farms, in small towns, or in our large cities. What helps food, fiber and energy producers helps us all; what hurts them hurts us all.

The value of agricultural and energy producers to the well being of our district and the nation has increased over the years. At the same time, however, the number of Americans engaged in this production has decreased. What is even more important, the voice of this important segment of our community has also decreased in Washington where the laws, ruled and guidelines are written that regulate the economy where we all make our living.

These facts make the 17th Congressional District very important. We can project our way of life by sending a man to Congress—someone who has grown up in this area; someone who has been involved in both agriculture and energy production; someone who can attempt the hard job of convincing Congress that we in rural America need to be heard.

We cannot separate the problems of farmers, ranchers, independent oil and gas producers, and all of those other vocations in our district from the problems of other areas of our economy. Businessmen, manufacturing people, consumers, agricultural and energy producers, and Senior Citizens share these same basic problems: Costs of production and cost of living are rising every day because of inflation; government regulations that have no relation to the needs of the country punish producers and consumers instead of encouraging production, initiative, and peace of mind.

With the wholesome basics of life that I enjoyed growing up in this area, I am convinced that we must fight to regain those qualities we once had and want to have again. God willing and with your support, we can accomplish these goals and when I am elected your continued support will always remind me of where I am from."

Eating Out On Rise In Floyd County

Residents of Floyd County are eating out more frequently than in former years, according to a recent survey.

As a consequence, they are spending considerably more in restaurants, eating and drinking places and in fast food emporia.

The changing pattern shows up in a comparison of their current expenditures with those of 15 years ago. In the past year, the figures indicate, the total spent for outside eating amounted to $506,000 more than was spent 15 years ago. In good part, this was due to inflation.

The findings are from the new, copyrighted "Survey of Buying Power," released by Sales and Marketing Management.

Commenting on the trend, it states that "rising personal income, a dramatic surge in the number of working wives, greater accessibility of restaurants, the proliferation of fast-food outlets, increased popularity of vacation trips, even the high price of food at the supermarket—these are some of the factors making more Americans do more of their eating away from home."

In Floyd County, the survey indicates, the total spent in the past year in eating and drinking places was over $1,037,000. It was above the 1961 figure of $531,000.

Related to the local population, it represented an outlay of $260 per household. Fifteen years earlier it was only $140 per household.

Changing lifestyles have been chiefly responsible for the shift to eating out, according to the Labor Department.

It notes that the great majority of American families no longer consist of a husband who is the only breadwinner, a wife who is solely a homemaker and two or more children.

Today, it finds, half of all households are made up of single men and women or married couples without children. And, in the households of married couples, half of the wives go to work.

As a result, they eat out more often.

At the present time, $1 out of every $3 spent for food is going to restaurants.

Ten years ago, only $1 of every $5 went that way.

by Jim Huggins

IN "FAMILY WEEKLY," the supplement to the Plainview Daily Herald last Sunday, in the "Ask Them Yourself" section, there was a question for—and answer from—John L. Ferguson, Arkansas State Historian. Ferguson is a cousin of Hall, Carl, Les and James Hall Ferguson of Lockney.

JOHN E. HUGGINS talked to Gregory "Pappy" Boyington at the Confederate Air Force "AIRSHO 77" week before last in Harlingen. The CAF airshow features aerobatic performances by professional pilots and the Air Force Thunderbirds, as well as re-enactments of major World War II battles by planes of the Confederate Air Force. Cousin J.E. and Burl Starkey of Lockney flew down to South Texas Friday, October 7. J.E. said they didn't have the re-enactment of the atomic bombing of Hiroshima, which stirred quite a controversy when they did it last year (complete with a mushroom-shaped cloud).

AND GREGG TAYLOR is starting for the New Mexico Military Institute football team at offensive tackle. Gregg, who started for the Lockney Longhorns at that position the previous three years, was at the football game Friday night (like everybody else). He said the NMMI team had lost a couple of games this year but they should be 5-0.

FROM THE WATER, INC. newsletter, October 4, 1977:

ABUNDANT '77 HARVEST IN PROGRESS

It's that time of year again when the agricultural productivity of the High Plains really begins to manifest itself. For awhile, it was the combines in the fields harvesting grain sorghum or corn. Now the attention is turning to the cotton fields and overflowing trailers are beginning to back up at area gins.

And, the crop cycle is beginning again for wheat, so many farmers have just about finished planting their winter wheat crops.

Once again, as it does every year, the High Plains harvest points out that American agriculture is a renewable resource. Annually, agricultural products, many from the High Plains region, make significant contributions to the American economy and our high standard of living. Too often, these contributions go unnoticed and unrewarded.

Sharon, Terri Kinard Attend

MOD Regional Meet In Dallas

Sharon and Terri Kinard have just returned from a two-day March of Dimes regional meeting in Dallas. Volunteers from Texas and Oklahoma gathered there to discuss ways to expand programs to reach the public with more information about birth defects prevention.

"Protecting the unborn and the newborn from birth defects is the aim of the March of Dimes," says Mrs. Kinard. "Efforts by the voluntary health agency are targeted toward the day when all children can be born free from the threat of physical and mental handicaps.

"Volunteers play a key role in achieving this goal," she adds. "In addition to planning and carrying out health education and community services, we also help raise funds for these services."

The March of Dimes supports medical service programs that improve the quality of maternal and infant health care and make it more readily accessible. Funds also go toward research into birth defects prevention and genetic counseling.

"Throughout the country, doctors, nurses, scientists and other health professionals team up with March of Dimes volunteers seeking to insure that all babies get what they deserve—a healthy start in life," Mrs. Kinard adds.

Floydada Wins Contest, Too

Well, folks, the Floydada people even won the football CONTEST last week. Treva Hambright, 815 W. Missouri, Floydada, took first prize, and Dorothy Holland, 117 W. Kentucky, Floydada, won second. W.L. Carthel, Box 708, Lockney, won third place in the contest, but he had to pick Floydada to win the game to do it.

All the winners missed four games, including the 17-17 tie between Colorado and Kansas, in the regular section of the contest, and all picked Floydada to win in the tie breaker section. Treva was closest to the total score with a guess of 35 points. Mrs. Holland guessed 26 points in the tie breaker, and Carthel guessed 25.

Juan Garcia of Lockney finished just out of the money with four misses and Floydada, 24 points in the tie breaker. T.L. Holland of Floydada also missed four and picked the correct winner in the tie breaker. Holland's tie breaker total guess was 20 points. Another Lockney entrant, Roy Saucedo, missed four but picked Lockney in the tie breaker.

Honorable mention went to Homer Ragland Junior of Lockney, who missed five games, to Lockneyites Sherree Cannon, Darryl C. Dennis, Dale Galla-way and Dora Garcia, and to Jim Curtisinger of Lubbock, all of whom missed six.

With harvest nearing completion, farmers may have little to celebrate, despite generally abundant yields, because of low prices. What the public doesn't realize was well stated by U.S. Rep. Jamie Whitten of Mississippi during a visit to Lubbock. "Let the purchasing power of agriculture fall and the rest will soon tumble," he said. Surely, the American public will awaken to this fact without a food and fiber crisis on the magnitude of the energy dilemma.

Wedding Vows Repeated Saturday By Becky Bertrand, Larry Fawver

Wedding vows were repeated Saturday evening, October 15 in the First United Methodist Church in Floydada by Becky Bertrand and Larry Fawver, Rev. James Smith, pastor, performed the 6 o'clock double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Bertrand and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Fawver all of Floydada.

A heart shaped candelabra holding an arrangement of white and red gladioli and white palms was the focal point for the wedding scene. At either side were alter arrangements of white and red gladioli and jade foliage. Large palms of matching foliage was in the choir loft and also placed in front of the pulpit where a brass vial candelabra held a unity candle centered in an arrangement of white and red mums. Bridal aisles were marked with hurricane candelabra decorated with garlands of white mums and red satin bows.

Mrs. C.L. Record of Lockney presented organ and piano selections and also accompanied soloist, James Race of Lockney as he sang "Color My World," "Welcome To My World" and "Love Me Tender."

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of illusion silk bombazine and lace. She was the fifth granddaughter to wear the wedding dress purchased by Mrs. P.F. Bertrand for her first granddaughter to wear at her wedding 17 years ago.

Fashioned with a fitted bodice, the gown was accented with a scalloped neckline and long tapered sleeves ending at petal points over the hands, and closed with self covered buttons. The bouffant skirt was embellished with lace appliques and fell into a three tiered chapel length train. Her lace trimmed illusion veil descended from a capulet accented with pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white butterfly rose buds and stephanotis, showered with baby's breath and streamers of white lace and satin. A red pixie carnation corsage was later removed from the bridal bouquet and worn on her traveling ensemble.

The wedding gown was worn as something old and for something new the bride wore a strand of pearls, a gift from her mother. The wedding veil was borrowed from Mrs. Martin Warren, the former Jill Bertrand, and her blue garter was a gift from Nesa Jackson.

Nesa Jackson was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Penny Bertrand, sister of the bride, and Debbie Bertrand, her sister in law. They wore carnation red floor length gowns fashioned from chiffon, and carried a long stemmed butterfly rose bud wrapped in white satins.

Tammy Bertrand of Canyon, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Leslie Jo Francis of Carrolton, niece of the groom, and Michael Bertrand, Canyon, nephew of the bride, were ring bearers.

Brooks Carroll, Floydada, was best man. Ushers included Bruce Francis, Carrolton, brother in law of the groom, Richard Bertrand, Canyon, Jeff Bertrand, Floydada, brothers of the bride, and Mark Montandon, Lockney, the bride's brother in law. Serving as groomsmen were Mac Warren, Lubbock and Tony Green, Lockney.

Following the wedding a reception honoring the newlyweds was held in the church fellowship hall. The bride's table laid with white net held a pyramid arrangement in a silver epergne of white pixie carnations, white gladioli and baby's breath. Mrs. Mark Montandon and Mrs. Billy Hinkle served the four tiered cake decorated with cascades of red candied carnations and punch from crystal appointments. Red colored water flowed from a fountain on

Mrs. Blum served a most delicious refreshment plate to guests which included Mrs. Taekett, Mrs. Freeman and Mrs. Raymond Irby. Members attending were Mrs. Lide, Mrs. J.A. Arwine, Mrs. Ned Bradley and the hostess, Mrs. Blum.

Alpha Mu Delta

Guest speaker, Mrs. S.H. Taekett, was introduced by Mrs. Lide and she continued with the program by telling and showing how to make silk roses. She had the material for one already cut and ready to put together. First, she "burned" the edges with a votive candle to make the petals curl. Miramist silk is the material used. She fashioned the petals on a wire stem and then added the calyx and leaves, all of this being secured with glue, thread and florist tape. Then she made a rosebud and added it to the stem and Mrs. Grady Freeman was the lucky lady who drew the beautiful orange colored rose. A salmon colored rose was given by Mrs. Grady Walker and Mrs. Lide was the lucky one in that drawing.

Alpha Mu Delta Chapter of Floydada met October 18, at Plainview Savings and Loan Association with vice president Donna Henderson presiding over the regular business meeting.

INDIRECTLY Floydada was involved in the recent blackout in San Antonio as most of the city officials and their wives were there for the Texas Municipal League. In downtown San Antonio, more than 3,000 officials from cities across the state had gathered for a welcoming reception for the 65th annual conference in the Henry B. Gonzales Convention Center. The reception broke up when it became apparent that it would be some time before the lights would come back on. I understand most of the Floydada group were in their hotel when the blackout occurred, so they encountered few problems other than being in the dark until flashlights were acquired. Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Burns received a call while at the conference that they have a new grandson born to their daughter and her husband. Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hacker of Knox City.

New heating system reduces energy use

By MARIE HARRIS
Herald Regional Editor

The first unit of a hot-water heating system that reduces energy consumption 80 percent is being manufactured in Plainview this week.

Weldon Williamson, former Plainviewan who has returned here to live, designed and developed the system which is adaptable to any geographical location and can utilize whatever fuel source is available. He has the patent on the grate and engineers on his staff design the installation schematics.

Williamson is president of the business, Ecology Heating, Inc., and Texana Davis, who has lived in Plainview off and on since 1957, is his partner and vice president.

MANUFACTURING is being done by Clinton Thrasher, brother of Mrs. Davis, at Thrasher Welding, 2501 Lancaster St. The entire system will be on display within the next two weeks.

Williamson, in the masonry business 22 years in Floydada, Plainview and Farmington, N.M., has been designing and building fireplaces several years. He could see no reason why a fireplace should not adequately heat a home. Two years of research resulted in a safe, economical fireplace-furnace, hot-water heating system.

By combining a thermostatically controlled hot-water heating system with a fireplace, Williamson designed a system that will heat almost any home for 25 hours after consuming fuel for but two hours each day.

OTHER HEATING systems require additional fuel consumption each time the thermostat is activated and during cold weather will light and re-light many times daily.

To eliminate the need for continuous fuel consumption, due to temperature variances, Williamson installs a large insulated storage tank underground. Here hot water is stored and maintains a 195 degree temperature. Even though the fireplace is not in use when the thermostat activates, hot water stored in the tank will begin automatically its circuit through the pipes leading to the registers in whatever zone of the house requires heat to close the activated thermostat. Yet the opening of the thermostat does not require additional fuel consumption to raise the heat level and close the thermostat.

Because of the unique bypass system installed in each individual heat zone, only the registers in the zone requiring heat are activated. This further reduces waste by helping to hold the reserve tank temperature at the 195 degree level.

EVEN IN sub-zero weather, the fireplace-furnace, hot-water heating system will heat an entire home at 72 degrees for 24 hours a day regardless of the size of the home.

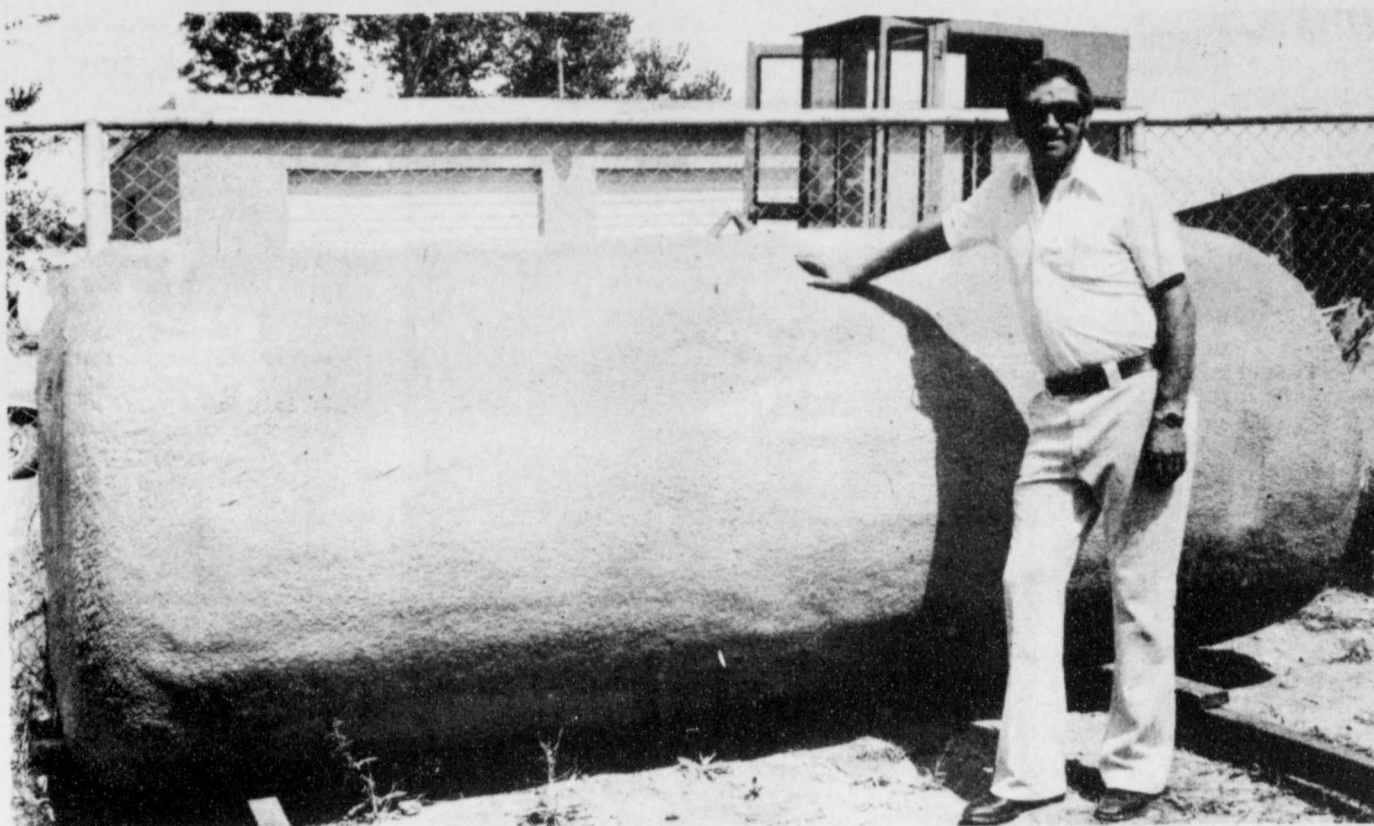

The system also supplies hot water for domestic use. The 500 to 1,000 gallon storage tank will furnish enough hot water for households without increasing fuel consumption.

In event the heating system is not in use for weeks or months at a time, a small auxiliary unit automatically activates, bypassing the basic fireplace system, and supplies the home with adequate hot water.

THE SYSTEM is ideal for remote areas, said Williamson, as it is easily adaptable to any fuel — electricity, wood, coal, butane, natural gas, or fuel oil. With limited design alterations, the system is capable of operating efficiently even in areas where no electricity is available.

The fireplace heating unit can be installed easily in present homes as well as in new construction. An existing fireplace can be converted to the system with a minimum of expensive changes. The system is flexible enough to be compatible with many commercial heating systems now used.

Average unit price of the entire fireplace-furnace, hot-water heating system varies from $1,500 for mountain cabins and resort homes to $3,000 for large urban homes of 1,600 square feet or more. ## HOME BUYERS SHOULD NOT "WAIT 'TIL NEXT YEAR"

COLLEGE STATION—The average cost of a new single-family home has increased more than 100 percent in 10 years, and this trend is likely to continue, says Kenneth E. Graeber, economist in real estate with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. His information is based on recent U.S. Department of Commerce reports.

Given population and inflation trends, Graeber projects an average home appreciation rate of 8 percent annually. "If the trend continues, homes selling for $35,000 today might sell for $63,000 in 10 years," contends the Texas A&M University System specialist. "Many families have postponed purchasing a home in hopes of saving up to buy or build their 'dream' home. However, inflation may prevent these individuals from ever owning their own home," notes Graeber.

Studies indicate that buyers of similar income levels who previously owned homes pay 20 to 30 percent more for homes than buyers who previously rented. "This is, in part, due to an accumulation of equity in the first home which can be reinvested in the next," points out the economist.

"Other individuals have postponed purchase until interest rates decline. Any benefits gained by waiting for lower interest rates could be offset if homes cost increased."

"A properly selected and cared-for home will remain one of the better investments for most families," contends Graeber. "The motto of 'Wait 'Til Next Year' might best be reserved for football."

NEWS 'N' NOTES

(by Sharon Hillis)

September to March is apple time and October is National Apple Month.

"Apples that break into pieces when cooked are usually best for applesauce." The best baking apples keep their shape. Tart apples are good for cooking; sweeter apples are better for eating raw.

For a main course, try Apple Stuffing with Roast Port Shoulder or Sweet Potato-Apple Casserole.

Apples also make exciting salads and desserts to perk up fall meals.

APPLE STUFFING (makes 4 cups)

1/4 cup butter, margarine or bacon
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup chopped celery
4 cups diced, tart apples
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup sugar
4 cups small bread cubes
Melt fat in large frypan. Add onion, celery, and apples. Sprinkle with salt and sugar. Cook, turning occasionally, for 8 to 10 minutes or until apples are lightly browned. Add bread cubes and toss gently to blend ingredients.

HOW TO USE: Pork shoulder with apple stuffing, sprinkle the inside of a 4-pound boned fresh pork shoulder with one teaspoon salt and pepper, as desired. Spread with stuffing. Fold meat over stuffing and skewer. Place on rack, skin side up, in a shallow baking pan. Bake at 325 degrees (slow oven) for about 2 1/2 hours, or until meat is tender and the juice is no longer pink.

SWEET POTATO-APPLE CASSEROLE (makes 6 servings, 1/2 cup each)

1 can (18 oz.) sweet potatoes, drained
1/2 cup sweet potato liquid or orange juice
1 can (20 oz.) apple pie filling
1 teaspoon grated orange rind, if desired
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1 cup bread cubes
2 tablespoons butter or margarine melted

Arrange sweet potatoes in a 2-quart casserole. Blend remaining ingredients except bread cubes and fat. Pour over sweet potatoes. Mix bread cubes with fat and sprinkle over apples. Bake at 375 degrees (moderate oven) until liquid is bubbly and bread cubes are lightly browned.

CARROT-APPLE SALAD (makes 6 servings, 1/2 cup each)

1 large carrot, shredded
3 cups diced apples
1/2 cup raisins
1/2 cup salad dressing or mayonnaise
1 tablespoon lemon juice, if desired
1/8 teaspoon salt
Combine ingredients and mix well.

CABBAGE-APPLE SALAD (makes 6 servings, 1/2 cup each)

2 cups shredded cabbage
2 cups diced apples

2 tablespoons slivered almonds, toasted
1/2 cup salad dressing
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
Combine all ingredients and mix well.

APPLE SPICE MUFFINS (makes 12)

3/4 cup milk
1 egg, beaten
1/4 cup melted fat
2 cups unsifted flour
1/2 cup sugar
1 tablespoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup finely chopped apples
1/4 cup raisins
Add milk to egg; stir in fat. Mix dry ingredients thoroughly; stir in apples and raisins. Add liquid mixture and stir just until most of the dry ingredients are moistened. Do not overmix; batter should be lumpy.

Fill greased muffin tins two-thirds full. Bake at 400 degrees for 20-25 minutes until golden brown.

APPLE COFFEECAKE (makes 9 servings, 3 by 3 inches each)

1/2 cup light brown sugar
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 to 3/4 cup sugar
1/4 cup shortening
1 egg
1/2 cup milk
1 1/2 cups unsifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 cups thinly sliced apples
Blend together the brown sugar, 2 tablespoons flour, butter or margarine, and cinnamon. In another bowl, combine sugar, shortening, and egg; beat thoroughly. Stir in milk.

Mix 1 1/2 cups flour, baking powder, and salt thoroughly; stir into egg mixture just until smooth. Spread half the batter in a greased 9-inch pan; cover with half the apples; top with half the brown sugar mixture. Repeat. Bake at 275 degrees for 45 to 50 minutes or until cake is set. Note: if preferred, put all the batter in pan at once. Arrange the apples on top of the batter and sprinkle with brown sugar mixture.

FLOYD DATA

Charley Berry was called to Lubbock Methodist Hospital Sunday evening when Jerry Don Haley of Muleshoe was a patient for surgery. Haley was injured Friday evening while operating a cotton stripper on his farm when the sleeve of his overalls became entangled in the machinery. His arm was almost torn off, according to reports from Berry. Haley's wife had just left the field when the mishap occurred and when she returned she found evidence of the accident and learned that her husband had been taken to the hospital in Muleshoe by a Mexican farmer, then transferred to Lubbock. Mrs. Haley is the former Barbara Surratt, nee of Berry.

LOCAL, AREA, AND STATE T.S.T.A. OFFICERS... met Tuesday night in R.C. Andrews Cafetorium for the annual T.S.T.A. banquet. Local NEA representatives are (l to r) LaVada Garrett and Mrs. Sunny McDonald, along with state T.S.T.A. president Mrs. Virginia Stacy, and district president-elect Janice Posey.

Low prices being offered for the huge 1977 cotton crop have prompted farmer-elected Directors of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. to call for a 1978 cotton set-aside requirement equal to that expected for feed grains.

The action came at an October 12 meeting in Lubbock. The Board also instructed its staff and officers to seek a "cottonseed target price" or some other workable means to alleviate depressed cottonseed prices.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has declared a 20 percent set-aside on wheat in 1978 and talk is that a 10 percent to 15 percent set-aside will be announced for feed grains. All regulations of the 1978 farm program have not been developed but it has been made clear that producers who fail to comply with set-aside requirements in effect on any crop will be ineligible for loans or payments on all crops.

The set-aside requirement on wheat, for example, means a farmer who plants 100 acres of wheat in 1978 will have to set aside and devote to conserving uses 20 percent of that amount, or 20 acres of his "normal cropland acreage." Otherwise he would be declared out of compliance on all program crops. However if he plants no wheat in 1978 he will have no set-aside requirement.

"If there is a set-aside on feed grains and no set-aside on cotton," commented J.D. Smith of Sudan, a Director and former PCG President, "there will be a danger that some farmers will plant all cotton and no feed grains in order to utilize their total acreage."

This additional acreage in cotton, Smith reasons, could lead to a surplus cotton supply at the end of 1978 as burdensome as the current feed grain surplus.

Should USDA unexpectedly decide against a feed grain set-aside, PCG will not push for a cotton set-aside. The thinking of the PCG Board is that if set-aside requirements are the same for both crops, each will compete for land on factors other than the desire to avoid complying with set-aside regulations.

Producer returns on cottonseed this year aren't enough to cover ginning charges, a situation made even more dismal by lint prices often below production costs.

Government cottonseed price supports, effectuated through loans on cottonseed products, have been tried and found wanting in the past. If instituted now at a level high enough to help producers, most agree that cottonseed meal and oil would be priced out of the market and wind up in government stocks.

PCG therefore will urge USDA to devise a more direct approach to support prices. Discussed were two possibilities, a target price for cottonseed similar to that in effect for cotton lint, or a program that would operate in the same manner as the current price support system for wool.

Surprise Tennessee Trip Enjoyed By Floydada Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Freeman kept a diary on their "surprise" Tennessee trip because as she said "we would miss mentioning all the beautiful sights." The Floydada couple were invited on the trip by their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Webb of Sweetwater.

All left Sweetwater the morning of October 1, lunched in Greenville and reached the state of Arkansas that afternoon. They stayed overnight in Carlisle, Ark., and arrived in Tennessee the next day enjoying the drive along the beautiful tree lined highways along the rivers. They touched the state of Georgia, then back into Tennessee to Chattanooga, criss crossing into the two states sightseeing.

The foursome enjoyed a tour of Rock City, Ga., including the famous Lover's Leap where legend says that a young Indian was tossed over by his own tribe in dispute of his love for a young maiden from another tribe. It is said she was forced to watch the scene, and torn with grief she leaped from the cliff to follow her loved one in death.

In Sweetwater Tenn., the travelers were told of the Lost Sea. They toured the caverns and took a boat ride on the large nearby lake seeing rainbow trout that were at least 30 inches long, weighing some 10 pounds each. The lake was so clear you could see the bottom at all times, the Freemans said. Driving through the Smokeys, they went to North Carolina and spent a night at Cherokee, North Carolina in the Smokey Mountains. Out of the Blue Ridge Mountains, they found foliage beautiful for this time of the year with the different autumn colors in the trees.

In Charlotte they went to see the PTL Television Net-

Studded tires on four wheels give a driver added control under icy conditions.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,

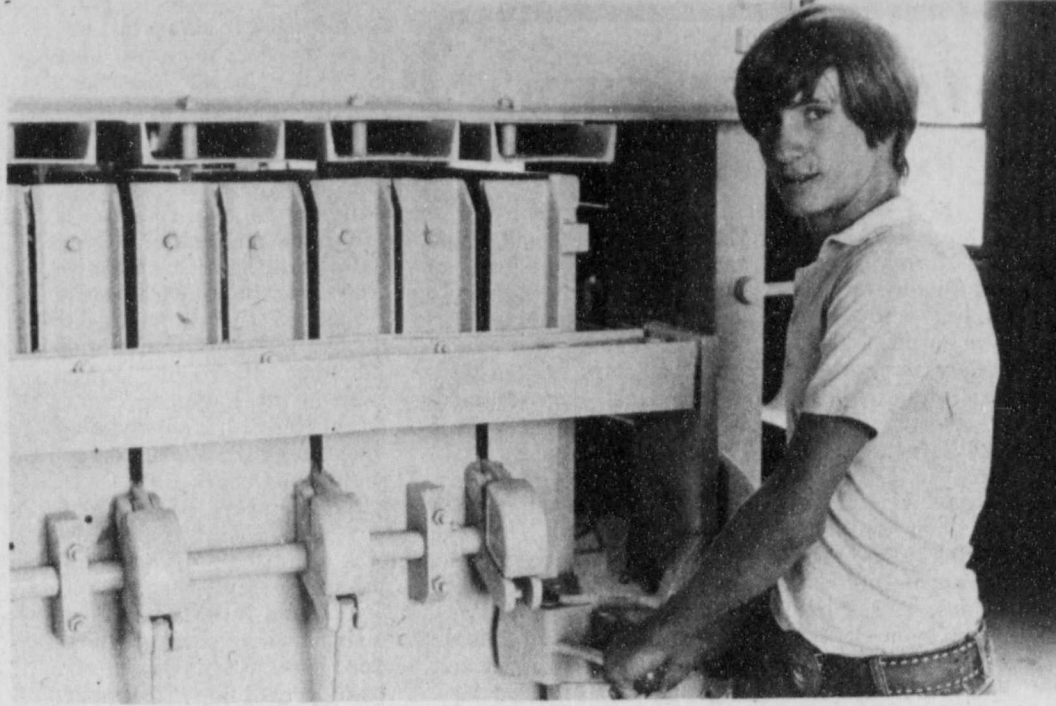

"I'm getting very weary of hearing doctors, lawyers, accountants, architects, engineers, et al, bleating about how 'advertising will degrade our profession,' or that 'we can't advertise because that's not ethical.' Advertising is a respectable occupation—no less (nor more) honest than any other American profession or business practice. When I break a leg and the bone is set improperly, I don't blame 'medicine.' I blame the physician. Don't use advertising itself as a whipping boy. That's a cop-out. If the professions can't police their own colleagues, keeping out the charlatans while still allowing free speech and honest public communications, they have no one but themselves to blame. The advertising industry will not be their crutch."

The week long seminar was held for 36 selected Texas Agricultural Extension Service employees who counsel with farmers and ranchers on financial matters. Topics included financial statements and accounting rules, record keeping systems, making cash flow projections, investment analysis and forms of business organization. The seminar was put on with financial assistance from the G.R. White Charitable Trust.

TIME FOR SOIL SAMPLING

Any farming operation requires planning, and this is particularly true when it comes to applying fertilizer. Fertilizer applications should be based on a soil test and fall is a good time to take soil samples for testing. Containers and instructions for submitting soil samples are available at the county Extension office. Based on a soil test, a sound fertilization program can be developed for the coming crop year. Such a program will be increasingly important in the months ahead. Under present economic conditions, low yields are not profitable, and fertilization, at least with nitrogen, is generally necessary for profitable yields. Yet, the need for plant nutrient and its potential profitability should be closely evaluated.

For additional information on fertilizer use in Floyd County, producers should review the result demonstrations. Various fertilizer rates were used on different crops to determine the highest profit potential, and these studies merit close evaluation.

With current high production costs, uncertainty about farm prices, and other risks in crop production, farmers must study their fertilizer needs more closely than ever to make sound management decisions.

Texans Increase PCP Use

People label this drug fad everything from "angel dust" to "goon" but it can mean trouble no matter what you call it, the Texas Medical Association says. Phencyclidine (PCP) normally is used as an anesthetic for animals but lately people have been smoking, snorting, eating or injecting it to get a cheap high. The drug has risen from obscurity to fairly wide use in Texas in less than three years. Often sprayed on marijuana leaves and smoked, PCP is supposed to produce a mellow experience but it can be unexpectedly vicious. National news reports show several people have died while using it and others have committed murder. Apparently PCP hallucinations are as unpredictable as LSD trips. Both can cause short or long-term psychological problems.

Even low or normal doses may produce fright, confusion, anxiety or other symptoms lasting anywhere from hours to years. One reason the drug is so unpredictable is that "bathtub laboratories," also called "pig outfits," make most of it and quality varies. To make the situation even more confusing, many times dealers often say PCP is THC, the active ingredient in marijuana, a Texas Department of Public Safety (DPS) official says. Because of its bad reputa-

Mrs. R.E. Patterson returned home Saturday from a 5-day stay in Central Plains Hospital, Plainview.

Rev. and Mrs. John Jenkins were gone Thursday and Friday for the funeral of his brother-in-law, Amos Norris of Sweetwater, a retired public school principal and Texas Company employee who passed away on Wednesday. Services were Friday in Trinity Baptist Church in Sweetwater, Tx.

Mrs. Henry Bollman went to Canadian, Tx. Saturday and attended a genealogical workshop which was the last workshop of the Wagstaff tour sponsored by the Hemphill County Historical and Genealogical Society. It was held in the W.C.T.U. building in Canadian from 1:00 till 5:00 p.m.

The three daughters of the John Cox's were their dinner guests on Sunday. Nova and Freddie Ivey arrived from Mansfield, Tx. on Friday. Wanda and Max Marble and sons, Larry and Marlin, came from Hart, Tx. on Sunday, and Marjorie and Mel Holcomb of Lockney.

Mrs. Rebecca Truett has been recuperating from an illness at the home of her sons, John Perry Truett of Plainview.

ion and because it is cheaper to make than some drugs, PCP also is said to be cocaine, mescaline, LSD heroin or other drugs. A federal Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) official says many dealers themselves do not know that the "THC" or other drug they offer is really PCP.

But many people buy PCP on purpose. Within the last three years, PCP has become increasingly popular in Texas, the DEA official says. He estimates that PCP easily is one of the top illegal drugs used by people with advanced schooling, including college. In fact, these educated people, ranging in age from the mid-teens to the early 30's, seem to be the major group using the drug. The DPS official pegged high school students as the major users. Both stressed that PCP is not used solely by any particular group.

There is no antidote to completely counteract a bad trip on PCP, also known by names including "hog," "wobble," "superweed," "superkools," "crystal joint," "killer weed," "goon," "lovely," "magic mist," "sheets," and "angel dust." However, some medical treatment may be possible. Drug crisis centers and emergency rooms often can handle PCP patients.

Ancient writers advised anyone stung by a scorpion to sit on a donkey backwards.

When I was a little girl, I used to think that God lived in the steeple of Grandfather's church. I believed, too, that Grandfather had a marvelous monopoly, a private pipeline connecting him with those upper regions.

When I told him, Grandfather hugged me close and chuckled. "Child," he said, "You can't shut God up in a church or in one man's heart. He's everywhere — in whispering winds, the wild goose's call, in winter's purple clouds and scarlet leaves of fall. Wherever you see beauty — you see God."

Not long ago I went back to that little town and visited the church. It looked just the same. The white spire gleamed in the sun, piercing the blue summer sky. Wide doors stood open and inviting, and a gentle breeze wafted faint strains of an anthem to me. I remembered Grandfather's words, and a prayer of thanks rose in my heart for his church. Silently I prayed too for all the landmarks of God — His churches that spread across this land, symbols of His might and glory.

The Floyd Philosopher Begins To Doubt How Much A High School Diploma Meant In The Old Days

Editors note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm this week discusses the Panama Canal Treaty or high school diplomas. One or the other, we aren't sure which.

Dear editor: Some outfit in Washington is trying to trap me but I'm not going to fall for it. I'll explain further along.

As you know, there's a great hue and cry these days about the meaninglessness of a high school diploma.

Some people are saying the public schools all over the country have fallen down in their duties, that kids are coming out of high school with a diploma in their hand although they can't read and write.

"Schools used to be better than that," the critics are saying. "Why, when we went to school a high school diploma meant something."

There's the truth in this, of course, but something has come up that makes me wonder just how good an education the older generation really got in high school.

It's the big to-do over the Panama Canal

Treaty. Some Senators and Congressmen say it gives the U.S. the right forever to use the canal ahead of everybody else and to defend it against all enemies. Others say no it doesn't.

Even the men who negotiated the treaty now disagree on what it says, the American negotiators saying it says one thing, the Panamanian negotiators saying it says another.

There you have it. Middle-aged and older Senators and Congressmen and diplomats and officials from both countries are having trouble reading the treaty, yet ever one of them has a high school diploma.

So, when that outfit in Washington sent me a copy of the canal treaty I caught on immediately to what they were up to. It's none of their business whether I have a high school diploma or what school I got it from.

A copy of the treaty is here on my desk, if you'd like to test your education, Editors Huggins and Tooley.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

HALLOWEEN SAFETY

Keeping kids safe on Halloween doesn't have to be such a difficult trick if you treat them right and follow these six suggestions.

1. Use only fireproof paper or cloth for their costumes.
2. If your children will be out trick-or-treating after dark, be sure they're wearing light clothing or have some reflective tape on their costumes.

TREAT CHILDREN WITH CARE on Halloween.

3. Use flashlights, not candles, to light jack-o-lanterns.
4. Give trick-or-treaters at your door individually wrapped snacks such as Planters® Peanuts and Baby Ruth® and Butterfinger® snack bars. Factory-wrapped treats let you know no one could have tampered with them.
5. Make sure children travel in groups, and that the younger ones go out with an adult supervisor.

6. Keep corn husk decorations away from any fires and spray them with fireproofing liquid.

These simple precautions can help your entire neighborhood have a happy Halloween.

As It Looks From Here

OMAR BURLISON, M.C.
17th DISTRICT, TEXAS

WASHINGTON, D.C. — ALTHOUGH THERE IS NO VISIBLE GAIN TO BE ACHIEVED, the U.S. Government is being urged from within and without to "normalize" relations with communist China. This "normalizing" would be accomplished on the severe terms of the People's Republic of China.

THESE TERMS WOULD INVOLVE our withdrawing recognition from Taiwan and nullifying the defense treaty which we have had since after the close of World War II. This would be the first time a friendly Nation was denied U.S. recognition.

NO ONE HAS ANY CONVINCING ARGUMENT as to why we should appease communist China. There is no evidence that China, if unappeased, will turn its policy inside out and seek re-alignment with the Soviet Union. This is one of the arguments advanced but either China needs close relations with us to counter the Soviet threat or it doesn't. If it does, it need not require the United States to humiliate itself by sacrificing a friendly small nation.

SOME SOURCES IN AND OUT OF GOVERNMENT want to use the term "deregognize." Nationalist China as a softer approach than simply turning our back and repudiating agreements. This term has been used in the State Department in talk of getting out of your treaty obligations and throwing Taiwan to China's ## hungry communists.

THE U. S. DEFENSE TREATY WITH TAIWAN

IS, like all treaties, a part of the Supreme law of the land. Even if there was a policy to abandon our agreements on defense with the Country, it at least should be done by lawful method which would be formal abrogation, but it seems that people who favor appeasement towards Red China simply seem to want the United States to crawl away from its commitment by announcing "de-recognition." Incidentally, this is contrary to the spirit injected into the Panama Canal issue. The Carter Administration spokesman say the treaty with Panama is not an act of weakness but rather expresses sympathy of a large and powerful Nation towards smaller nations. If we are to gain respect in Latin America by giving the Canal back to Panama, how could we be respected anywhere in the world for sneaking out the back door on Taiwan. It is proper to ask if those nations in the Far East would have any confidence left in us if we went this route. If we abandon an ally which we really created in the first place, would those nations in the Middle East whom we are asking to take grave risks to preserve peace, be willing to rely on us? It is important to assess what we gain by trying to win Red China's affection. More likely, we would gain her contempt by such a policy.

WILLIAM JAMES SAID PEOPLE DO NOT RUN because they are scared but are scared because they run. If this sort of an appeasement policy towards Red China should be carried out, Americans would have reason to be scared.

V A News

VA Administrator Max Cleland, himself a triple amputee, today expressed pride in his agency's efforts to increase employment of handicapped persons and urged all elements of the Veterans Administration to redouble their efforts "to accord our disabled citizens their full rights."

Noting that National Employ the Handicapped Week will be observed from 2-8 this year, Cleland said he was pleased that the agency afforded "excellent opportunities for advancement" for its 12,499 handicapped employees.

"The number of promotions, awards and commendations earned by our handicapped employees is indicative of the effectiveness of these individuals in the performance of their jobs," he said.

He pointed out that in the past year 1,627 handicapped VA employees received promotions, 344 earned salary increases for high quality performance, 52 received outstanding performance awards, 447 received individual or group awards and 95 were awarded special commendations and citations.

Cleland said the wide range of jobs held by handicapped VA employees "illustrates the kind of opportunities we can open up to them and shows that their abilities are not lessened by their handicaps."

For example, he said, 26 percent of the agency's blind rehabilitation specialists have various handicaps. Twelve percent of VA appraisers, construction analysts, counseling psychologists, laundry machine operators and maintenance foremen are also handicapped.

Cleland said, "handicapped individuals make up 5.6 percent of VA's more than 222,000 employees and I intend to see to it that we continue to offer such individuals an affirmative program of employment."

"They have amply demonstrated that, given proper training, they can perform as capably as out-able-bodied personnel," Cleland said.

DEAR ABBY

(Reprinted by Request)

DEAR ABBY: Last summer you wrote something that virtually saved my life — and maybe the lives of many others. I had just gotten my driver's license and that column really opened my eyes. I think about it every time I turn on the ignition in my car.

I am enclosing it. Please run it again. And run it every year for those kids who may have missed it.

Loves Life At 18

Dear Loves: Seldom has a column made such an impact as the one to which you refer. I shall repeat it with pleasure:

PLEASE GOD, I'M ONLY 17

The day I died was an ordinary school day. How I wish I had taken the bus! But I was too cool for the bus. I remember how I wheeled the car out of Mom. "Special favor," I pleaded. "All the kids drive." When the 2-50 bell rang, I threw all my books in the locker. I was free until 8:40 tomorrow morning! I ran to the parking lot, excited at the thought of driving a car and being my own boss. Free!

It doesn't matter how the accident happened. I was goofing off — going too fast. Taking crazy chances. But I was enjoying my freedom and having fun. The last thing I remember was passing an old lady who seemed to be going awfully slow. I heard the deafening crash and felt a terrific jolt. Glass and steel flew everywhere. My whole body seemed to be turning inside out. I heard myself scream.

Suddenly I awakened; it was very quiet. A police officer was standing over me. Then I saw a doctor. My body was mangled. I was saturated with blood. Pieces of jagged glass were sticking out all over. Strange that I couldn't feel anything.

Hey, don't pull that sheet over my head. I can't be dead. I'm only 17. I've got a date tonight. I am supposed to grow up and have a wonderful life. I haven't lived yet. I can't be dead.

Later I was placed in a drawer. My folks had to identify me. Why did I have to look at Mom's eyes when she faced the most terrible ordeal of her life? Dad suddenly looked like an old man. He told the man in charge, "Yes, he is my son."

The funeral was a weird experience. I saw all my relatives and friends walk toward the casket. They passed by, one by one, and looked at me with the saddest eyes I've ever seen. Some of my buddies were crying. A few of the girls touched my hand and sobbed as they walked away.

Please, somebody...wake me up! Get me out of here. I can't bear to see my Mom and Dad so broken up. My grandparents are so racked with grief they can barely walk. My brother and sisters are like zombies. They move like robots. In a daze, everybody! No one can believe this. And I can't believe it, either.

Please don't bury me! I'm not dead! I have a lot of living to do! I want to laugh and run again. I want to sing and dance. Please don't put me in the ground. I promise if you give me just one more chance. God, I'll be the most careful driver in the whole world. All I want is one more chance.

Please, God, I'm only 17!

4-H ENCOURAGES FAMILY INVOLVEMENT

Some say that the American family is in trouble and is full of generation gaps. 4-H may have a solution to some of these family problems, says Assistant County Extension agents, Laura Jacobs and Birch Lobban. While the primary mission of 4-H is to serve youth between the ages of 9-19, it also has a successful family program.

In fact, 4-H can touch families from the cradle to the grave, adds Jacobs and Lobban.

The evidence of this involvement can be seen at livestock shows, county and state fairs, and other 4-H events where the entire family gets into the act. Sometimes there is criticism of too much adult involvement. However, in a day and age when many are concerned about the deterioration of the family, help from Mom and Dad can strengthen family ties.

As children grow into the teen years and the proverbial generation gap threat develops, 4-H can keep teens and parents interested in common goals. The father and son roping together or the mother and daughter preparing an exhibit can transcend potential generation gulfs.

Yes, 4-H is a family affair, and that's the way it should be.
