OFFICIAL MEMORANDUM

BY DOLPH BRISCOE Governor of Texas

GREETINGS

Veterans Day will be observed by all citizens of Texas on November 11, 1977.

The men and women who served in the uniform of our Country have made a major contribution not only to the preservation of America's freedom but also toward the attainment and preservation of freedom throughout the world.

The gallant Americans serving in today's armed forces continue to demonstrate the unselfish willingness of our Nation to meet the challenge of those forces wishing to defeat through armed conflict the cause of individual determination.

The Nation and the free world are eternally grateful for the contributions of American veterans to the advancement of the cause of an honorable world peace.

THEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby call upon all citizens to observe Friday, November 11, 1977 as VETERANS DAY, and ask that the day be observed with appropriate ceremonies in honor of those who have borne the burden in defense of our freedom.

I further call upon all citizens and business firms to mark this day with the proud display of the flag of the United States as a reaffirmation of our national unity, a rededication of our support to our Nation in her defense of the cause of freedom, and, especially, our recognition and appreciation of our newest generation of veterans whose willingness to serve the national purpose is in the finest tradition of our great Nation.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 14th day of Oct., 1977.

Longhorns Tangle With No. 3 Idalou Friday

The Lockney Longhorns face quite a chore Friday night—they'll be out to upset the third best (according to both UPI and AP polls) class-AA football team in the state of Texas, the Idalou Wildcats.

"We'd like to have a big home crowd, and we expect a lot of effort from the team," head coach Jim Warren says.

"It would be terrific to beat Idalou, and that's just exactly what we plan to do." Nobody else has been able to do it this year—the 'Cats, 9-0 for the year, have shut out four opponents (New Deal, 26-0; Petersburg, 10-0; Morton, 37-0; and Olton, 36-0) and defeated two others by sizable margins (Cooper, 47-18; and Tulia, 34-7). They had a tougher time with three other opponents, beating Tahoka by "only" 40-31, Abernathy by 22-12, and Floydada by 17-6.

The victory over the Whirlwinds last week guaranteed the Wildcats a play-off spot, but they could still be forced to share the district 4-AA title with Tulia. If the Longhorns and the Hornets win Friday, both Idalou and Tulia would wind up with 3-1 conference records, and the 'Cats would represent the district in the playoffs because of the earlier victory over Tulia. So it's the last game of the season for the Longhorns, but the Wildcats get to play after this one until they lose.

They're led offensively by tailback Larry Murphy, fullback, Ricky Hobbs, and quarterback Paige Burelsmith. The Wildcats use the Slot-I offense, Coach Warren says, and they're primarily a running team. They're capable of throwing well, according to Warren, but they haven't had to do it much this year.

The game starts at 7:30 at Mitchell-Zimmerman Field.

FRED CARDINAL

Fred Cardinal Seeks

Re-Election To

Sheriff's Office

Floyd County Sheriff Fred Cardinal this week announced his candidacy for re-election as sheriff of the county subject to the May Democratic Primary.

Cardinal, who has been in law enforcement some 12 years, and sheriff for a little over a year made the following statement concerning his re-election:

"If re-elected I pledge my best efforts to maintain law and order in our county, to work with county and district law officials in a cooperative spirit. I also want to thank everyone in advance for their vote and influence, and would appreciate the opportunity to again serve as your sheriff of Floyd County."

Jack Lackey Seeks

Commissioner

Re-Election

JACK LACKEY

Commissioner of Precinct 4 in Floyd County Jack Lackey this week announced his candidacy for re-election subject to the May Democratic Primary. Lackey has been commissioner now for one term.

In his announcement statement Lackey said: "I think I have been a good Commissioner. I feel that I have learned much about the county's operation in the past four years and I would appreciate your supporting me for another term. I will continue to vote as a conservative in this day and time when we are trying to hold down taxes, yet maintain good management of our county's business."

Holland, Carthel, Lee Win Contest

T.L. Holland, 117 West Kentucky, Floydada, was the first-place winner in the Beacon football contest last week. Holland missed only four games.

There was a tie for second place between W.L. Carthel, Box 708, Lockney and Loyd Lee, Box 35, Lockney. Both Carthel and Lee missed five games and were exactly right on the tie breaker—Lockney the winner, 35 points scored. They split the second and third place money and get $5 each.

Seven other contestants missed five games, but all of them missed the tie breaker total score by at least a point. Dale Galloway guessed 36 points in the tie breaker section (but he picked Abernathy to win). Others who missed five games were Boyd Lee (again), Dorothy Holland, Juan Garcia, David Turbeville, Sheree Cannon, and Roy Saucedo.

Everybody missed the Tahoka-Slaton upset, and the Plainview Coronado tie. Other toughies were (aerial winners listed first) Denver City Roosevelt, Friona-Dimmitt, Snyder Dunbar, and Spur Crosbyton.

There is one more chance to enter the contest this year. The final contest of the season appears in the November 6 (last Sunday) edition.

40 BALES OF COTTON were dumped along FM 2286 between Sterley and FM 378 north of Lockney Tuesday morning after the cotton burst into flames while being transported from the Co-op Gin at South Plains to Plainview Compress. Damage to the truck hauling the bales was slight and there were no injuries. Lockney volunteer firemen responded to the fire call. (Staff Photo)

Family History

Workshop Tuesday

Persons interested in writing a family history to be included in the Floyd County historical book are invited to a workshop Tuesday.

Annabel Bramlet of Lockney is in charge of the writing workshop and she and some helpers will be at the museum in Floydada from 9:30 to 6 Tuesday to assist persons with their stories.

Deadline for stories to be mailed or taken to the museum is Nov. 20, so everyone should be getting their stories ready.

Any resident (past or present) of Floyd County who did not receive information about the historical book through the mail should contact the museum in Floydada. The information will be sent as quickly as possible.

Floyd Voters

Approve Four

Amendments

A few Floyd voters turned out Tuesday to vote on the State's seven Constitutional Amendments and approved Amendments 1, 2, 3, and 7. State voters approved five Amendments, turning down 5 and 6.

Big news in nearby Hale County was the vote against hail suppression 1,732 to 1,416.

It appeared there would be a run-off election between Bob Simpson and Bob Price in the State Senate race in the counties north and west of Floyd.

HOW FLOYD VOTED

1. Criminal Appeals Court Expansion-Approval 267; Against 165.
2. Veterans' Land Fund Increase-Approval 226; Against 200.
3. Denial of Bail-Approval 365; Against 64.
4. Historical Property Tax Relief-Approval 204; Against 231.
5. Authorize Marketing Approval 198; Against 225.
6. Authorize Electronic Funds Transfer-Approval 146; Against 280.
7. Expand Judicial Commission Powers-Approval 209; Against 204.

Evidently the people who voted absentee did not have time to study the Amendments and just to be safe voted against all of them.

HERE'S what you've been waiting for, gang...now you can get your Sunday Beacon on Saturday again, instead of Monday (if you get your mail on a local route) or Sunday (if you have a post-office box). Starting next edition, we'll print the Sunday paper on Friday evening instead of Saturday afternoon like we've been doing during football season. I realize that football season is still here, and if the Longhorns beat Idalou Friday night, we'll have an "Extra" edition so you can "read all about it."

DANNY CLARK got "player of the week" mention in both the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal and the Amarillo Daily News for his 300-yards plus game last Friday. Way to go, Danny!

YOU KNOW, lots of pretty good backs go a whole season and don't gain 300 yards...

I WOULD LIKE to express my appreciation to the City Council for their prompt attention to my request for safety signs installed on S.W. 4th street. The signs are lovely and ease the minds of the mothers on the block. We have people being more cautious already and some that still have trouble adjusting their speed. Again we thank you.

Mrs. Sally Reyes

WE ARE STILL AWAITING announcement from the architect who will give estimates on the cost of a new jail or remodeling of present building. I was just wondering how many persons are jailed each month and learned that 45 persons were in the jail in October. Well, not quite 45, two or three entries on the record were jailed more than once for drunkenness.

Cost to the taxpayer is $3.50 per day...a total of $738.50 for the month of October.

On money

A fool and his money are frequently invited places...

Once a man who saved money was a miser now he's a genius...

A successful man is one who can make more money than his wife can spend...

A successful woman is one who can find such a man.

A little girl's thank you note: "Thank you for your nice present. I have always wanted a pin cushion, although not very much."

FOUR PEOPLE WERE INJURED when these two vehicles crashed about 5:30 p.m. Sunday at Lockney. The pickup, driven by Clarence Felton Jr., was struck broadside by the sedan, driven by C.L. Jarrett of Floydada. Both drivers, along with Jarrett's wife and Felton's father, passengers in the vehicles, were hospitalized at Lockney General. Mrs. Jarrett was transferred to a Plainview hospital. All four suffered cuts and lacerations, and Mrs. Jarrett received a broken thumb. The accident occurred in the southbound lane of US Highway 70 near Sun Vue Fertilizer. (Staff Photo)

Cancer Society To Give Away

Afghan

A one dollar donation to the American Cancer Society will give you a chance to win a beautiful off-white handknitted afghan. Mrs. Wanda Hickerson spent some 80 hours knitting the afghan which, when displayed, will cover a full size bed.

The drawing will be held on November 19 at 4:30 p.m. as part of the concluding activities of the Lions Club Arts and Crafts Show in Massie Activity Center. The Cancer Society will also sponsor a cancer information booth at the show. Friends are invited to stop by to learn more about the dreaded disease and its warning signs.

Tickets for the drawing may be purchased from Janie Synatzske (983-3471), Kathy Burke or Wanda Hickerson at Lighthouse Electric, Mrs. Louis Lloyd, or any other members of the American Cancer society's Board of Directors.

DECEMBER WEDDING PLANNED... Mr. and Mrs. John Hayden Moore of Hale Center announce the engagement of their daughter Ann to Rob Cochran, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Jordan of Floydada. The couple plan to be married December 31 in the First United Methodist Church of Hale Center. The bride elect was graduated from Hale Center High School and is attending Texas Tech University. The prospective groom was graduated from Hale center High School and attended New Mexico Military Institute and Texas Tech University.

Holiday Spirit Costume

COLLEGE STATION. Capture the holiday spirit with fashion fantasies and favorites, says Beverly Rhoades, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Popular fabrics include suede-type cloth, cashmere, challis, velvet, and handspun polyester. Express your feelings in tailored, peasant, fantasy or soft, feminine creations. They're all great this season.

Plaits and tucks make a strong fashion statement for holiday dressing. They go in all directions and appear everywhere. They decorate sleeves, collars, and jabots. Crystal or knife plaits radiate into beautiful long or short dresses and skirts. Shirring, ruffles, trims, lace and embroidery also provide interest, especially on yokes.

Colors range from winter whites to shaded pastels, to the brightest brights. Brights in combination make the biggest splash.

Styles include peasant dresses and blouses, cowl-necked blouson sweaters, and ankle-tied soft pants. The holiday scene will show butterfly or cape sleeves, drawstring or pleumed blouses, tiers, and the victorian look.

Prints generate fabric interest and have special appeal when several print de-

Penseroso Discusses Book, Sees Portraits

Because of the Thanksgiving holiday conflicting with regular club meetings, II Penseroso Junior Study Club has met twice recently in one week.

The October 27 meeting was held in the home of Sheryl Bybee, with Kay Martin serving as co-hostess.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Douglas Degge who discussed the book Let My Children Go, which was co-authored by Ted Patrick. Mr. Patrick is a "deprogrammer" of young people who have become involved in religious cults. A lengthy discussion followed Mrs. Degge's program.

Door prize was won by Lisa Mosley. Her gift was all the making for caramel apples.

A guest at the meeting was Mrs. Benny Cates. Members present were Cindy Turbeville, Barbara McCormick, Jackie Holt, Cheryl Teeter, Jan Duvall, Lisa Mosley, Cheryl Bradley, Susan Flippin, Judy Jackson, Barbara Cawley, Gayle Jackson, Sharon Kinard, Anita Bigham, Sherry Race, Brenda Elam, Kay Martin, Sheryl Bybee, Debbie Stennett and Betonia Belt.

Sharon Kinard was hostess for the club's November 3rd meeting. Co-hostess was Trenea Aston.

Mary Lois Montandon of Aiken, a well-known local artist, was present to show some of her portrait oil and pastel pictures. Mrs. Montandon told the group that interest in art is quite high presently and many more people are training themselves because of access or well-qualified teachers through short schools and workshops. Books on art techniques and improved materials that will age well have also encouraged potential artists to develop their skills, according to Mrs. Montandon. She did a pastel portrait of program chairman Lynda Gant during the program and answered questions from the group.

Roll call was answered with each member's favorite painting and artist. The business session was conducted by first vice president Anita Bigham.

Refreshments were served to guests Adeena Widenor and Jeanette Workman, and members Susan Flippin, Jessie Johnson, Betonia Belt, Sherry Race, Jackie Holt, Anita Bigham, Gayle Jackson, Kay Martin, Judy Jackson, Sheryl Bybee, Brenda Elam, Trenea Aston, Barbara McCormick, Lisa Mosley, Lynda Gant, Linda Terrell, and Mrs. Montandon.

NEWS 'N' NOTES

(by Sharon Hillis)

"CLOCK" THE HOLIDAYS

Win the race against the clock this holiday season. Plan ahead and use these few time management ideas to make your holiday relaxing and enjoyable.

Start a notebook or calendar with plenty of space to plan for each day in the holiday season. As soon as activities are scheduled, write them in and set priorities. Try to obligate no more than 40 per cent of a day. Take into account if you are early or a late starter.

Put harder tasks first. Offer yourself an incentive or special reward at the finish of hard tasks—something to look forward to, and encouragement to get through with work. Take advantage of odds and ends of time to do small tasks, working from a list of short-time jobs.

Center holiday activities on the family. Involve family members in addressing cards, making and putting up decorations and shopping. Give family gifts rather than individual gifts and save shopping time and money.

Make gift-giving fun. Collect wrapping supplies and keep them in a set place that all family members can use. Keep boxes or containers if the gift may be returned. Shop by newspaper and telephone to locate items on your gift list. Set a limit for the amount to spend for each gift and stay within that limit.

Consolidate family schedules. go together as a family to special programs, to see Christmas lights and to buy a tree. Make this holiday season the time of your life.

NON-COOK CAN BAKE TURKEY

Even the non-cook can bake a turkey with the help of an oven cooking bag. A turkey of any size, or turkey pieces, will bake to moist perfection in the confines of the bag.

There's no basting, no stove grease to clean up, and the bird will come out of the oven a delicate golden color.

When you've chosen the turkey, choose the cooking bag the right size for the bird.

The roasting pan is also important. It should be at least two inches deep for all the liquid that cooks out of the bird.

To cook an 8 to 10 pound turkey, shake 1 tablespoon flour in a 14" x 20" oven cooking bag and place in roaster. Put 1 slice onion and 3 stalks chopped celery—with leaves—in the bag. Rinse thawed turkey in cold water and pat dry.

Season cavity with salt and pepper. Stuff body and neck cavities lightly with your favorite dressing, allowing 1/2 cup stuffing for each pound of bird. Close body cavity with skewers.

Brush entire surface of turkey with melted butter or margarine and season with salt and pepper. Place turkey in bag. Close bag with twist tie and cut six 1/2-inch slits in top.

Allow enough room in the oven so that the expanded bag will not touch the oven sides, walls or racks.

Cook at 350 degrees for 2 1/2 to 3 hours or until thermometer reads 185 degrees. Allow the turkey to "rest" for 20 to 30 minutes—it will cool some, the juices will "set" (that is, they will not be as free-flowing), and the bird will carve better.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Dartha Westbrook

Last week was very busy at our place. Monday morning the residents enjoyed making halloween cookies for our refreshments for the party Halloween night. Our party was at 6:30, and we had lots of little ghosts and goblins visit us. They were so cute in their costumes, and the residents treated them with candy. I think everyone had a good time. The employees enjoyed dressing in their costumes, and the boss kept every-thing going as the "Clown," and I do mean "clown!"

Thanks to all the visitors who made this a real treat for our residents. I would like to especially thank the Alpha Mu Delta Club for the lovely door decorations they made for Halloween. They have asked to make holiday decorations for our doors, and this really does brighten up the rooms. We also enjoyed the decorated pumpkin for the lobby.

Dorothy Neff won the prize for the best costume. The judges were Sam Baker, Sue Moore, and Edd Walters. Thanks judges, you made a good selection.

Tuesday we did manicures and I know somebody read my column, because I had help. Shirley Varner came out and between us, we did nineteen manicures. Thanks so much Shirley, that surely does help.

Thanks to Cristy Rainey's Sunday School class for the cookies they sent out for the exercise class.

We appreciate the Baker family for treating the employees with candy.

Thursday our Bingo winners were Pearl Carrick with four games, Hope Hammonds, Agnes Anderson, and Clara Williamson with two games, and Ray Reed, Annie Carr and Willie Stambaugh with one game each.

We had a very enjoyable week, and you who visited made it more enjoyable. Thanks!!

Cattlemen Cooperate With Deer Program

LUBBOCK—For Edwards Plateau farmers and ranchers who maintain co-existing livestock and deer herds three factors contribute to the success of this co-existence.

Those three factors are grazing rotations, maintenance of herd size and supplementary energy feeding programs.

Dr. Fred C. Bryant of Texas Tech University's Department of Range and Wildlife Management determined those factors in his research in the Edwards Plateau region, around Sonora, Texas.

The research was directed at examining forage competition in the Edwards Plateau region between the Spanish goat, a new introduction to the region, the Angora goat, sheep and white-tailed deer. Bryant's study was begun in August of 1975 and information on the diet composition of the animals was collected monthly for a year. The study area was in a pasture grazed regularly by cattle, sheep and goats for 12 months and then rested four months. Deer grazed it regularly.

He found that livestock and deer compete with each other for three types of grazing including pasture grasses, certain weeds and browse or low-growing bushes and trees.

Bryant suggested that, since grass is highly nutritious at its immature stage, management which increases its availability, such as grazing rotations, would be very favorable to the deer and livestock alike.

Bryant, however, found that new grass growth was mostly unavailable as a forage for deer because all types of livestock eat it as soon as it is produced.

Sheep were found to be the livestock group which competes most heavily with deer for weeds, which Bryant said are the most nutritious forage available to deer. He said ranchers could reduce this competition, again by using grazing rotation systems.

"This, or any type of management that fosters good grass production seems to help reduce sheep's use of weeds as a forage by changing their forage selection or by decreasing their access to these weeds which are valuable to the deer as forage," Bryant said.

Both types of goats were found to be the deer herd's heaviest competition for browse, particularly in winter or dry months when deer rely on this forage most heavily. Bryant suggested a reduction in goat herd numbers might be essential if the rancher-farmer wants to successfully maintain a healthy deer herd.

He said brush control can be used with deer herds, as long as large areas are not cleared and if the clearing is done in irregular patterns so as to provide the deer with adequate cover.

Bryant found that one of the most serious problems in deer herd management was in over-population of the deer herd itself. Bryant recommended that deer herds should be reduced to at least one deer to each 15 to 25 acres.

Deer were found to be most compatible with cattle as far as forage competition. He said, however, that overstocking of cattle could also result in a substantial reduction in deer forage.

Supplementary feeding programs were found beneficial for all types of animals during certain times of the year. Bryant said a rancher might want to provide deer herds with high energy type feeds, such as corn or oats, during hot, dry summers and dry autumns and winters.

This supplemental feeding for deer, he said, was only recommended to ranchers who want to intensively manage deer. He said this feeding program would also mean an equally intensive "harvest" program to control deer herd size.

"Feeding a poor deer herd that suffers from overpopulation is really ignoring the problem," Bryant said.

Sheep were found to require extra energy particularly during December and January. Bryant suggested a rancher could provide this by feeding energy-high feeds from August to October, to provide extra fat, or by improving range conditions by using grazing systems and proper stocking. He said the latter system is obviously the cheaper.

Bryant said low energy levels were most noticeable in goats, particularly Angora goats, from November to March. He said low dietary energy levels in Angora goats have been found to cause them to abort their young. Supplemental feeding may be necessary, he said, but proper stocking and grazing management could also be a partial solution to this problem.

Bryant presented his findings at the Angora Field Day held at the Sonora Research Station near Sonora on Nov. 9.

Credit Union Receives

Thrift Honor Award

For its success in stimulating savings, the F.C.S. Federal Credit Union, Floydada, was presented a Thrift Honor Award by Examiner Loyd E. Lovel according to Ray Motesenbocker, Regional Director of the National Credit Union Administration.

The Federal credit union experienced a monthly rate of growth of 2.6 percent in share accounts, which was above the average for Federal credit unions of similar size.

Chartered in September 1966, the credit union primarily serves employees of Floyd, Crosby, Dickens, and Hall County School Districts who work in these respective districts. As of August 31, 1977, its 744 members had $795,954 in savings. Bob

L. Alldredge is president of the credit union and Nina Copeland is treasurer.

The National Credit Union Administration conducts its Thrift Honor Award Program to provide an incentive for Federal credit union officials to encourage members with small accounts to save regularly as part of their family financial management plans. Lawrence Connell, Jr. heads up the administration which is responsible for chartering, supervising and insuring Federal credit unions. There are approximately 13,000 federally chartered credit unions. State chartered credit unions may also be insured under the federal program.

Dramatized by Marian DePew Ostrander, with a cast of professional adult actors, the touring National

Local Officials Key To Industrial Growth

COLLEGE STATION—The economist in business development for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service points out that the local officials should make the first step.

"Support for any new economic development can be encouraged simply by a letter from the mayor or some other elected official inviting the company to the community," suggests the business economist.

The industry then sends its representatives for a sampling of the present wage rates, labor market and possible production rates. These representatives will also assess the value the political leadership places on the offered economic development.

The industry is further interested in the local business climate as a future promoter and co-worker in their economic efforts.

"Recognition of the needs of the industry as well as those of the community increases the chances that both will be pleased with their ultimate choice," notes Floyd.

Pottergate—Corruption in Amarillo

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) — It started in December 1974 with a routine arrest. An Amarillo attorney was charged with driving while intoxicated.

For the most part the Panhandle political problems sparked by that arrest have been overshadowed by the capital murder trial of millionaire Cullen Davis. But local newsmen who have been watching the simmering scandal have dubbed it, perhaps inevitably, "Pottergate."

The DWI charge against the prominent local lawyer was dropped one month after it was filed. Instead, he paid a $152.50 fine for "no driver's license."

Three weeks later 16 members of the errant motorist's law firm made a $510 political contribution to Potter County Attorney Kerry Knorpp — who handled the case. But the contribution was the only one reported by Knorpp and 1975 was not an election year.

Pottergate was underway. Knorpp and two lawyers from the firm were indicted for bribery. Subsequent grand juries indicted the county attorney on a misdemeanor grand jury tampering charge and five counts of stealing almost $6,000 from the county treasury.

Allegations began to fly around the yellowed walls of the Potter County Courthouse.

The grand jurors asked State District Court Judge George Dowlen for help.

"The grand jury requested I convene a court of inquiry that would go into just why our system was such that it would be possible for someone to steal money as easily as this apparently had been done," Dowlen said.

The judge tapped Hugh L. Russell, a local attorney who would later become part of the Davis defense team, as special counsel to the court of inquiry.

But prior to the first session of the special court the commissioners summoned Russell to a closed-door session.

During that 45-minute meeting County Judge Branch A. Archer resigned to fill a vacancy on a misdemeanor court bench.

Special counsel Russell became County Judge Russell. On Sept. 1 Dowlen issued the oaths of office to Archer and Russell. Within a quarter-hour, Knorpp filed complaints alleging the commissioners had violated the open meetings law.

Several weeks later the commissioners renamed Archer and Russell to their new jobs. In the interim, Knorpp was suspended with pay from his post pending his trial.

Amidst the charges and counter-charges, the court of inquiry, now with Amarillo attorney Jim Durham as special counsel, resumed its work.

Pottergate grew. A county commissioner allegedly used county equipment for his private business. That same commissioner, Bob Hicks, was also accused of awarding county contracts to his private company, a violation of state law.

The county barn has been padlocked pending an inventory of equipment on hand. More than $50,000 in surplus property was reportedly stored without inventory by the sheriff's department.

AA Bi-Di strict Game Set In Plainview

Idalou, which captured the District 4-AA playoff spot, will meet the 3-AA representative—Littlefield, Muleshoe or Friona—Friday, Nov. 18 at 7:30 p.m. in Bulldog Stadium in a bi-district game.

The announcement was made today by Chamber of Commerce Sports Committee Chairman Bud Cason. Idalou proposed Plainview as the site and the three coaches from 3-AA agreed.

Idalou, 9-0 and ranked third in the state, finishes the season at Lockney Friday while Littlefield is at Dimmitt, Muleshoe plays at Morton and Friona is at Olton. If all three win, a coin flip will be needed to decide who goes to the playoffs.

If Littlefield loses and the other two win, Friona would represent the district by virtue of having beaten Muleshoe. Any one team could win the title outright if the other two lose.

Idalou is coached by Tom Ritchey; Littlefield by Jerry Blakely who has had a team here against Floydada in the past few years. Muleshoe by Don Cumpton, formerly an assistant at Tulla; and Friona by Lonnie Phillips who directed Hart to three titles in four years and played here twice in bi-district.

Chamber officials are hopeful of getting 4-A champion Petersburg here on Nov. 19 against Vega or Kress with the latter two teams to meet for the 3-A title Friday in Kress. Vega reportedly wants to play in Hereford.

More than two and a quarter million disabled veterans will receive larger Veterans Administration checks next month, reflecting a 6.6 percent increase in compensation payments, Jack Coker, Director of the Waco VA Regional Office, said today.

The increase results from recent Congressional action signed into law by President Carter on October 3.

In addition to 2,251,714 disabled veterans, Coker said increased payments also will go to 246,800 widows and children of service personnel who died on active duty or veterans whose deaths were service connected.

The compensation increased will total $358.4 million in Fiscal Year 1978. The compensation rate was hiked a year ago, Coker noted.

The new rates mean veterans will receive monthly checks ranging from $41 for those with a ten percent disability to $754 for those 100 percent disabled. Additional monthly payments are made depending on the size of the veteran's family.

The basic rate of VA Dependency and Indemnity Compensation for widows and widowers of veterans under the new law will range from $277 to $708 monthly, based on the serviceman's or veteran's rank. As with compensation, VA makes additional DIC payments according to the number of dependents.

Coker said the legislation also eases qualifications for VA's so-called "wheelchair home" grants. This is a one-time payment of up to $15,000 to help certain disabled veterans confined to wheelchairs to buy, build or alter homes.

VA estimates some 690 veterans will be affected by the new provisions and that grants may total $17 million. Coker urged veterans or dependents with questions to contact the nearest Veterans Administration office.

VA telephone numbers are listed in the "U. S. Government" section of the directory or can be obtained from local operators.

Carter Energy Bill To Hurt Texas Farmers

WASHINGTON—Congressman Jim Collins, a member of the House Conference Committee on Energy, today warned his colleagues that the already hard pressed American farmer could expect nothing but more trouble if Congress does not change the Tax section of President Carter's Energy Bill. "By choosing to increase taxes on gasoline, diesel fuel, oil, and natural gas the Carter Administration is forcing the American farmer to bear the major burden of its energy conservation program," the Congressman from Dallas said. "Costs for fertilizer and pesticides will rise dramatically, thus greatly increasing the costs farmers will have to face. At a time when a farmer can only get $1.23 for a bushel of corn that cost him $2.10 to produce, these federally mandated cost increases are inexcusable."

Collins noted that studies done by Iowa State University demonstrate that agricultural production would only decrease by 5 percent from current levels if the President's bill is enacted. He also pointed out that the impact of doubled fuel costs on food prices would be no more than a 13 percent boost, of which the farmers' share would be little or nothing.

"The President's tax bill will have an even more severe impact on the Texas farmer than farmers in other regions of the country," Collins declared. "Besides increased production costs, Texas farmers, like the rest of Texas residents, will have to pay an estimated 25 percent of the total nationwide tax burden imposed by the entire Energy Bill."

The Third District Congressman stated that he planned to ask the Energy Conference Committee to agree to a special exemption from the energy conservation taxes for oil and gas used in the manufacture of agricultural chemicals. The Senate passed a similar amendment last week, however, it

The Floyd Philosopher
Wonders How People Who Have Cut Down On TV Watching
Now Spend Their Time

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm examines TV watching this week, more or less.

Dear editor:

People who think everybody — not just kids but everybody — is watching too much television these days have been greatly encouraged by the latest figures on the size of the audience the tube is now attracting.

According to a survey just released, since March of this year both day and night TV viewing has dropped 3.4 per cent per month. The anti-TV people are elated.

This got me to thinking. What are the people who've cut down on their TV viewing now doing with their time? Has it improved them any?

I can't tell any difference.

I know they say it's more ennobling at the close of day to watch a sunset than Walter Cronkite, but while there's been no survey made, I doubt if sunset watching has gone up as TV watching has come down. Furthermore, if some more are watching sunsets, despite the fact it may lead to nothing more than bad poetry, is it any less irksome to have the view interrupted by an incoming jet than it is to have Walter Cronkite interrupted by a commercial for false teeth? Not to mention some of the more outrageous ads.

On the other hand, it may be that TV watching has come down because lots of sets have blown a tube and the owners are saving their money to apply on their utility bills.

Still other people say TV watching has come down because the programs have gotten worse. I doubt it. Programs already were as bad as they could get. It's said that TV producers design shows to appeal to the minds of 12-year-olds. This is wrong. TV shows are produced by people with 12-year-old minds.

Finally, other anti-TV people say cutting down on TV watching gives us a chance to enjoy the pleasures of the lost art of conversation.

I have listened to some of that conversation. Turn on the set. Let's see what's on tonight.

Yours faithfully,
 J.A.

Texas Beef Producers Strive To Meet Growing Demand

AUSTIN—If you are one of the millions of Americans who love a good hamburger, you shouldn't have to worry about shortages in 1977, says Agricultural Commissioner Reagan V. Brown.

Brown reports that the state's cattle feeders have increased the number of cattle and calves in feedlots by eight per cent over 1976. He says that as of Oct. 1 there were 1,570,000 head in feedlots statewide. The majority of those, some 1,070,000 head, were located in the Northern High Plains, he added.

"Traditionally, Texas cattle raisers pride themselves on their choice, grain-fed cuts of beef," said Brown. "But nationwide, consumer demand for hamburger is expected to reach 11 billion pounds this year."

It is evident Texas cattlemen are well on the way towards keeping Texas No. 1 in feedlot production. Current intentions for the fourth quarter of this year are to market 980,000 head, a 14-per-cent increase over 1976. Brown noted that marketings for the July-September quarter were up four per cent from the same quarter in 1976. In addition, 348,000 head were marketed during September, an increase of eight per cent.

"We expect the moderately higher prices we have experienced in the third quarter of this year to continue into the fourth quarter and on into 1978," Brown remarked. "We need to see Texas cattlemen receiving profits that are proportionate to the effort that goes into producing this great quantity of beef."

ACCIDENT CONTROL

A basic principle of "product safety" is that equipment designed to be operated by people must not be incompatible with common human characteristics, conditions of use, or even conditions of misuse, notes the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Texas Food and Fiber

by Reagan V. Brown, Commissioner
Texas Department of Agriculture

For the past 75 years farmers in the 17 southwestern and western states, the "reclamation states," have been tilling their fields and harvesting and selling their crops under the hovering dark cloud of the 1902 Reclamation Act. This Act had an important role in the winning of the west by turning the semiarid rangelands into rich farms irrigated by so-called "federal" water. However, the kicker—and sticker—in the Act limited the use of this "federal" water to 160 acres, or a quarter section for a man and his wife.

Since passage of the Act three quarters of a century ago, the "reclamation states," which include Texas, have become the home of huge farms of thousands of acres and large agri-business conglomerates, producing much of the food which graces the tables in America and in foreign countries.

A federal suit filed in 1975 by National Land for People Inc., a group of small California farmers who charged that the Department of the Interior had never enforced the 160-acre provision of the 1902 law. The federal court has agreed, and now Interior Secretary Cecil Andrus, a not in the good old U.S. of A.

One encouraging aspect is that hearings will be held on Nov. 16 in El Paso before definite enforcement action is taken. This will at least give farmers in that area a chance to speak out. The Department of Agriculture will be represented at the hearings, and we intend to point out the fact that the old reclamation law is just no longer valid in these days of mechanized agriculture.

There's no question about it, the old law should be changed. And I guarantee I will do all I can to help bring about that change.

Growers Reveal Gross Receipts

Gross receipts from cotton, grain and livestock production in the 25 counties represented by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. (PCG) at Lubbock came to more than $1.6 billion in 1976.

PCG officials compiled the total from a report by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service in Austin. The report shows that farmers received $1.59 billion in sales of the three commodities plus $37.9 million in payments under disaster provisions of the cotton, feed grain and wheat programs.

The PCG estimates that the value of cotton lint and seed in 1976 made up more than $675 million of the area total. Comparable cash receipts in the 25 counties surrounding Lubbock in 1975 were $1.4 billion, of which $47.6 million

Farmers To Lose ?

—By PAUL HARVEY

American are the world's most efficient farmers. This had to do partly with the evolution and mechanization of farming in the United States.

Elsewhere in the world, whenever farmers accumulate enough land to justify mechanizing, some dictator emerges promising to redistribute the wealth — to take the land away from the big landowners and give it to the peasants.

And wherever the dictator accomplishes this, the peasants remain peasants, each with a parcel of land too small for anything more than back-breaking subsistence.

America's factory farms, on the other hand, are so efficient that each American farmer can feed his own family plus 50 other people.

Surely our Government would never sabotage the efficiency by limiting each farmer to no more than 160 acres....

What'll you bet?

In the Imperial Valley of California the courts are in the process of limiting each individual farmer to 160 acres.

They would give all farmers 10 years to sell off any lands in excess of 160 acres and the Bureau of Reclamation will set the price.

Imperial Valley farmers have been informed that confiscated lands must be sold for the price those lands brought before there was water available.

Obviously, $2,000-an-acre land could be force-sold for $400, wiping out the investment of generations, spending mortgaged farmers into bankruptcy.

How can the government do such a thing?

The Carter Administration believes that ownership of Western lands irrigated with water from federal reclamation projects must be restricted. That the big farms must be broken up in favor of small "family farms."

In this valley 160 acres is no longer — if it ever was — an economically sound farming unit. Banks will not finance 160-acre farming units.

or a similar synthetic clean them with a cloth dampened in mild suds.

1. Don't dry wet boots on a radiator. Stuff them with paper and let dry naturally.
2. Use boot trees to help your boots maintain their shape.
3. Cushioned insoles inside your boots can keep your feet warmer, drier, and generally more comfortable. With the chlorophyll foot filters on the market, you won't have to worry about odor, either. The filter as well as other boot care products can be found at Kinney Shoe Stores.

Deadline Set For Pesticide Certification

AUSTIN—Texas agricultural producers who intend to use Environmental Protection Agency restricted pesticides should plan on becoming certified applicators by the first of next year, says Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown.

Brown explained that it will probably be that long before certificates will be required to purchase and use the restricted ingredients.

"The EPA plans to give manufacturers 45 days to design new labels for restricted chemicals and retailers will also be given time to relabel stocks on hand," Brown said.

Private applicators who want to be certified under the program can attend approved training sessions conducted by county extension agents or obtain approved study materials and follow the instructions for certification under the home study option.

Commercial applicator training and certification sessions are being scheduled throughout the state and information about sessions can be obtained from the Texas Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711 (512-475-6133).

A NEW KIND OF PROTECTION

Engine and power train are warranted for 2 years or 1500 hours, it's standard equipment

In addition to other provisions of the John Deere Agricultural Equipment Warranty, John Deere warrants the engine and power train of THE NEW IRON HORSES as follows: the engine pan, block, cylinder head, rocker arm cover and timing gear case, and all parts enclosed within, and the clutch, transmission, differential, and final drive housings, and all parts within, plus drive axles, will be repaired or replaced as John Deere elects, if a defect appears and is reported to a John Deere dealer within 24 months after date of delivery to the original purchaser, provided the tractor hasn't been used more than a total of 1500 hours. How's that for putting our money where our mouth is.

Dry Weather Aids Harvest, But May Cut Crop Yield

AUSTIN—Harvesting of Texas crops proceeded ahead of schedule in September and October due to hot, dry weather, but the lack of moisture may cut yields considerably, reports Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown.

Grain sorghum production, estimated that 131.7 million hundredweight (cwt.) as of Oct. 1, is down 20 percent from last year. Average yields are down over a hundred pounds per acre, Brown said, especially on the High Plains where moisture stress is hindering some late fields in reaching full maturity.

Moisture stress is also expected to cut peanut yields 75 pounds per acre, Brown added. Present estimates predict this year's production to be 437.9 million pounds, a drop of six percent from 1976.

This year's corn harvest, stated Brown, is expected to total 168 million bushels, down from the 1976 crop of 180 million bushels. Brown noted that dry, windy days on the High Plains have helped to lower grain moisture levels in that area.

Total production of both rice and sweet potatoes are down, Brown said, with yields some nine percent lower than last year.

Brown noted that revised figures place upland cotton production at 4.8 million bales, up 45 percent over 1976. In spite of a drop in average yields, he stated, the increased acreage devoted to the crop will allow a record harvest. Present estimates put production of soybeans at 18.75 million bushels, more than double last year's crop. In addition, pecan production is expected to double the 1976 total of 20,000,000 pounds.

"In spite of some reduced yields, we still expect Texas to retain the No. 1 spot in the traditional crops," Brown commented.

The cooperation and encouragement of the teachers, Mrs. Copeland, Mr. Watson and Mrs. Galloway and Mrs. Dennington in Dougherty is indicative of the fine school system in Floydada and Dougherty.

As It Looks From Here

WASHINGTON, D.C.—A FRIEND WHO RETIRED FROM CONGRESS a few years ago had this advice for us who expect to soon retire: "Space yourself. Don't get a haircut and mail a letter all on the same day."

THIS IS CONTRARY TO THE ADDICTION of most Americans who want to save time. Mostly, it seems we value saving time more than the way we spend it. Those of us who have lived on a schedule of appointments, committee meetings and the like for years, probably have the subconscious feeling that failure to conform to time-tables is not only a waste of time but is almost sinful.

SEVERAL MONTHS AGO, AN OFFICIAL OF THE FRENCH GOVERNMENT flew from Paris to Washington on the Concorde. He was very proud to report to House Speaker Tip O'Neill that he had saved four hours by using the French supersonic plane. Speaker O'Neill then asked him what he had done with the four hours he had saved and the official's silence remains.

IT HAS TAKEN THE ACCUMULATION OF A CENTURY OF WISDOM to build this airplane which can span the ocean in about three hours, the same approximate time to fly from Dallas to Washington on conventional jets. This remarkable Concorde is noisier, uses more fuel to carry fewer people in less comfort from one continent to another and with greater expense. We, of course, call it progress and it is. It saves time as do the microwave oven, speed reading, and other marvelous inventions and developments—all to save time.

MOST OF US ARE BUSY PEOPLE and are always trying to find time for more things since we are geared to school bells, alarm clocks and appointments. Actually, however, time may not be really saved. The time-savers of one sort or another merely allow us to do more in the same number of minutes, leaving us with full schedules and the need to find more ways to save more time. If an official or businessman can turn a two-day tip into one day, well and good, but it also might mean two-one day trips. People who learn to speed read likely do not spend less time reading, but, rather, read more in the same time.

COME TO THINK OF IT, THERE IS NO WAY we can bank our minutes. The best we can do with the most sophisticated machinery is to redistribute those minutes. Either we spend more and more energy processing ourselves through our busy days, doing more and more in the same amount of time or we throw away our "free" time as if it was something we didn't need.

IT IS NOT THAT ANYONE WANTS TO GO BACK to the oxcart, wooden wash-tubs or a pulley and bucket at the well, but it does seem deserving to give some thought as to how we are pushed on in the name of the clock. We have to ask ourselves does it really save time—our time? Is it going to cut down unpleasant time or pleasant time? And, what do we do with the time we save?

SOMEONE HAS SAID, "The secret of life is enjoying the passage of time." WELL, ULTIMATELY, TIME IS ALL WE HAVE and the idea is not to save it but to savor it.
